Motor Buel Is Killed By Hit-And-Run Driver

Edward Watkins, Filling Station Employee, Jailed After Accident Monday Night; Funeral Service For Buel Today.

Buel, aged about fifty, was fatally injured by a hit and run driver Monday night at about four miles north of Artesia, as he attempted to re-inflate a flat tire. Buel, who was here, died about four hours after being taken to the hospital. He was killed from loss of blood and from a fractured spine.

John Jones, employed in the garage of the Guy Chevrolet Co., was the driver of the car which was the scene of the accident. Jones said he drove by the car before he learned of the accident. Turning around he saw the injured man, then he stopped and drove into Artesia.

It is believed that he fled the scene of the accident four or five minutes after the accident. He said the rear end of the Buel car was flat and he had been stopped on the edge of the pavement. Buel was taken to the hospital after the tire was struck and he was killed several feet, landing on the back of his head.

The car ran over the spare tire beside the parked car and the marks made on the Buel car, the truck with dual wheels, was believed to have been heading toward Roswell. It was reported that the driver of the truck was seen coming upon the scene of the accident, but that he observed what kind of a car it was.

The Robinson lease consists of 640 acres and two producing wells, the Robinson No. 1 and No. 2. Mr. Carper plans to develop the lease further this winter.

Prospects Good For A Winning Football Squad

Fifty-five Candidates Out For Practice; Nine Lettermen Are Back; First Game Is With Roswell Next Friday.

Chances for a winning team are more promising this year than they have been for many years; the reason is that Coach Maudsley has more material to work with and train. Fifty-five men have reported to practice while there are only enough suits to accommodate forty. Nine lettermen reported back from last year, two more lettermen from other schools and several boys who showed promise last year are candidates for the first team. They are: E. Conner, R. Johnson, C. Tidwell, J. Richards, J. Graham, A. Irby, L. Shearman, B. Haines, C. Lapsley, J. V. Lankford, P. Womack, R. Garner, L. Gordon, and O. Woodside. The average weight of the boys is 150 pounds and they are very speedy.

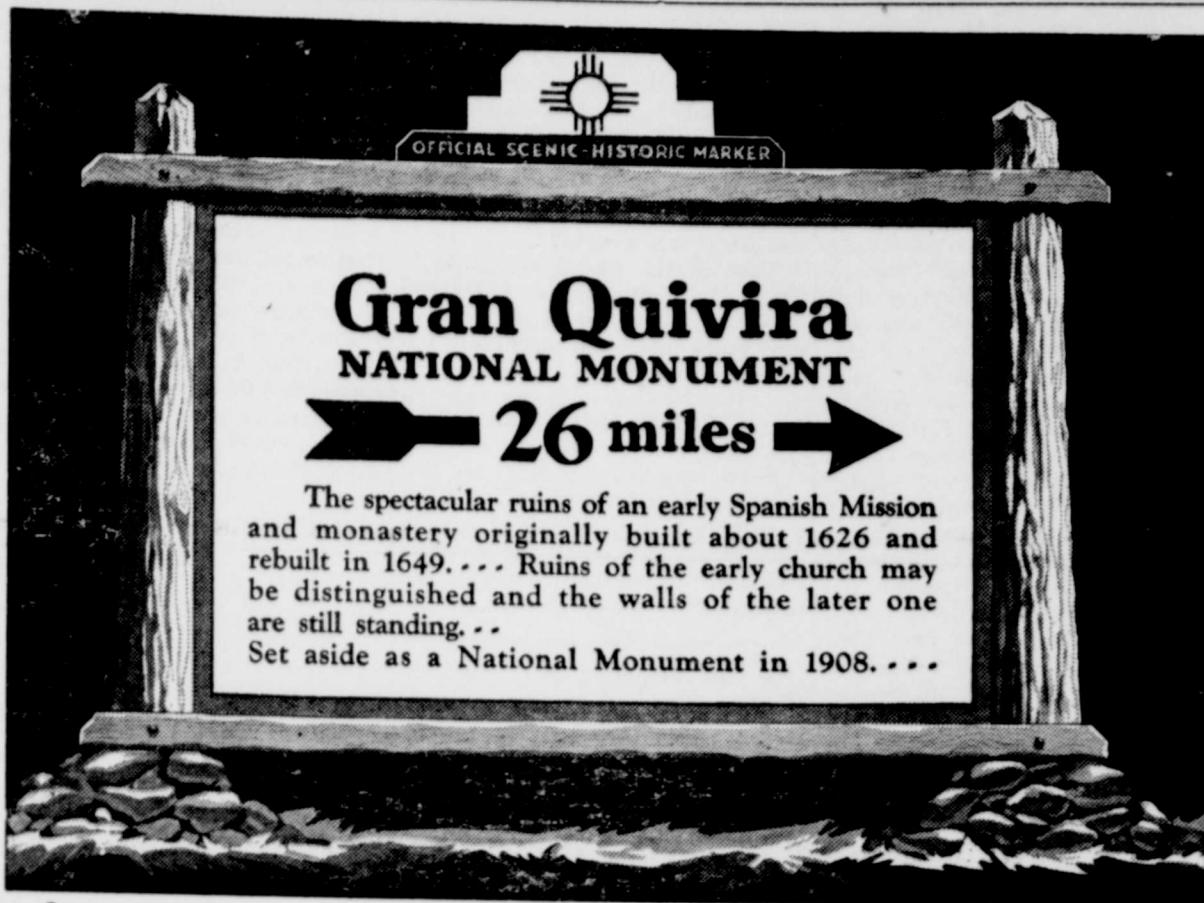

The practice from three to five each school day afternoon, giving most of their time to perfecting plays. According to Coach Maudsley a captain will be appointed before each game. Johnson will call signals and do most of the punting and passing.

Loving Woman Is Held Following Shooting Affray

Gevarra Dies In Carlsbad Hospital After Being Shot Sunday In Home of Mrs. Franco As He Attempts To Enter.

Everista Nunez Franco, twenty years old, was held in the county jail at Carlsbad Monday following coroner's inquest over the body of Anacrancon Gevarra, nineteen years old, whom she admitted shooting to death in her Loving home Sunday night.

Franco died Monday morning in a Carlsbad hospital of bullet wounds in the back of his head and shoulder.

Mrs. Franco told sheriff's officers she shot Gevarra as he attempted to tear the screen from the window at her home.

She said that she had warned him to stay away, and that he had made several advances toward her on other occasions. Her husband was working on night shift at the time of the shooting.

The husband had told sheriff's officers before that the youth had been annoying Mrs. Franco while he was on night shift.

"Babe" Campbell, undersheriff, said that the bullet wounds in the body indicated that Gevarra was leaning over in conversation when the first shot hit him. It evidently spun him around and the second shot entered the back of his head.

Everista Nunez Franco, twenty-year-old wife of a United States Potash company refinery employe, Monday was free after a coroner's jury at Carlsbad declared her killing of Anacrancon Gevarra, nineteen years old, "justifiable homicide."

The jurors found that the bullet wounds in the youth's body confirmed Mrs. Franco's story that he was leaning at the window when she fired the fatal shots.

PEOPLE WILL SPEND IF—SAYS ALVAN MACAULEY

The way to induce people to spend more of their money, and thus accelerate business activity and reduce unemployment, is to give them something they want more than money, according to Alvan Macauley, auto magnate.

"Business men," he writes in the Rotarian Magazine, "who sell bread or meat or soap or shoes have as a group come through the depression years with respectable sales totals and with steady employment for their forces. People even in lean years of uncertainty want these staples more than they want money. Business men who sell less essential articles have a less consistent record."

"It seems self-evident of the United States, and likewise of the world, that it will entirely emerge from depressed conditions when manufacturers and merchants are offering for sale things which so attract the general public that the desire for these things overcomes the inordinate prudence which long guided every income-earner to save just as much as he could against a possible personal catastrophe. Depression and unemployment cannot until then be completely shaken off."

"So it is squarely up to you and to me and to the entire class of individuals who manage industries and business," he urges. "The problem is a direct challenge to our ability, to our ingenuity, to our qualifications as business men. If we can offer for sale products which people want so much that they will dig into their cash reserves to buy them, we shall pull us all out of our troubles, reemploy our laid-off personnel, resume dividend payment, spread prosperity once more."

"The American automotive industry is as good an instance as any," continues Mr. Macauley. "We were all of us making as good cars as we knew how, and selling them at as low prices as we thought possible, back in 1929. Yet we were prepared to go neither fast enough nor far enough. Despite the better cars at lower prices, it was not till the 1934 and 1935 models that automobile makers generally had products which the public wanted more than money."

BRANDING DANGEROUS CARS

In a European country, the cars of motorists convicted of flagrant violation of traffic laws are painted with an emblem, as a warning to other drivers. It is said that this practice, newly started, has caused an appreciable decline in dangerous driving, as motorists naturally want to avoid the embarrassment and publicity the emblem gives them.

A great many thousand American motorists should have their cars so branded.

The worst class of offenders consists of those who push the throttle to the floorboard as soon as they get out of sight of a traffic officer. Excessive speed—and there are times when fifteen miles per hour is excessive—is responsible for more deaths than any other driving violation.

Passing on hills and curves and "meandering" through traffic are also potent causes of death, injury and destruction. On a myriad tragic occasions, a driver has tried to save a needless minute—at the cost of a life.

Driving on the wrong side of the road, jumping traffic lights, passing at intersections—are practices dear to the heart of the Dark Angel. They help keep our morgues and hospitals full to capacity.

Yes, it might be a good idea to adopt the branding practice in this country. A suitable emblem would be a skull and cross-bones.

PRESSING PROBLEMS

Caring for the destitute transient is the pressing problem confronting the local business man and merchant at the present time. Many are coming to the valley in search of cotton picking. Others are not interested in securing work, evidently figuring they will be fed along with the others who really want to work. There is no longer any sort of a welfare organization to investigate the merits of the claims of the transients, although the Chamber of Commerce has done some investigating on its own initiative.

When the transient comes to your door, asking for money to buy groceries for his family, the average man does not have the time to look into the transient's case. We give him money instead. But too many cases like we have had the past week becomes burdensome. There ought to be a limit to charity of this sort.

GROWING BETTER

The volume of business transacted here has practically doubled within the past eighteen years. Not only has business increased, but the quality of merchandise sold here is much higher than in the period of time named above. The number of autos found on the street is not an index of the general conditions, of course, but the number of autos are supposed to indicate something of the community activity. An old timer told us the other day he had passed up Main street lots of times in the middle of the day eighteen years ago and had seen only one vehicle on the street. Now you are lucky if you get a parking place between Roselawn and Fifth street.

Artesia has always been a good Saturday night town and judging from the recent Saturday night crowds, all former records are threatened.

Republican strategy, according to observers, calls for only a few formal speeches by Governor Landon. He will travel about the country and make informal appearances. Many speeches will be made by Colonel Knox, a much more impressive radio speaker. The Roosevelt campaign has not really gotten underway yet—the president apparently feels that it would be a waste of energy for him to do a great deal before October. His tour of the drouth section, however, gave him a chance to be seen and heard.

When it appeared doubtful if Congressman J. J. Dempsey would be renominated for congress by the democrats, the republicans hailed him as an outstanding statesman. Now he is a peddler of asphalt road oil to be looked upon with suspicion.

Mark Corbin: "As our part in the Cuarto Centennial, I think we should rig up at least three floats. With the floats we could depict that part of New Mexico history from statehood to the present time. The first float would be properly decorated and would represent the state politicians coming down to the valley as conquistadors (get your dictionaries if you don't believe we know how to spell it) to see the natives. The next float would depict the natives receiving the politicians or conquistadors, and the third float would represent the conquistadors returning to Santa Fe with the vote of the natives, while the natives examined the promises made by the visitors. Each year thereafter could be depicted by the three floats, the most noticeable thing being that the natives are becoming more suspicious and less cordial and the promises becoming thinner."

How English Is Spoken

We begin with box, the plural is boxes, But the plural of ox is not oxes. One fowl is called goose, and two is geese.

Yet the plural of house is never called neese. One is called mouse, a lot is called mice. The plural of man, as you all know, is men.

So why should the plural of pan not be pen? A cow in the plural may be called cows or kine, But is vow, if repeated, is never called vine.

One is called a foot, more are called feet, But boot in the plural is never called beet.

If the singular is this and the plural is these, Why ought not the plural of kiss be called kees?

One may be that, three would be those, Yet hat in the plural would never be hose.

The masculine pronouns are he, his and him, Why not say in the feminine, she, shis and shim?

Banks Have Confidence To Loan

—when business men have confidence to borrow.

This bank is in a strong position to make loans whenever individual business plans and related business conditions warrant them.

From many quarters come reports of improvements in general business conditions for the nation as a whole. As such gains become more prevalent and firmly established the opportunities for successful undertakings will increase. At the beginning of such a stage in business it is important for business men to take stock of the future.

This bank is continually studying national and local business information and is always ready to discuss plans and conditions with its business neighbors. If it develops that a loan is justified, we will make the loan.

Tuberculin Tests

Tuberculosis Survey Plans
 Endorsed by state and local health authorities, medical societies and leaders in health and education, the annual "Early Diagnosis Campaign," sponsored throughout New Mexico by the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association, is getting underway, under the slogan: "Fight Tuberculosis with Modern Weapons" two phases of the tuberculosis problem will be emphasized:

(a) Anticipating tuberculosis among youth of high school and college age by examination with the tuberculin test and X-rays.
 (b) The discovery of tuberculosis in its early stages and the need for going to the doctor promptly when symptoms are first apparent.

"In contrast to the association's annual Christmas Seal sale appeal for funds, the early diagnosis campaign is a strictly educational effort," explained Ruth Connelly, executive secretary of the state association. A single phase of the tuberculosis problem is selected for emphasis by the National Tuberculosis Association, and the affiliated tuberculosis associations throughout the country endeavor by every legitimate publicity avenue available to them to bring this message to every man, woman and child.

In New Mexico we shall use pamphlets, posters, demonstrations and articles in newspapers and two specially printed pamphlets, "On Your Guard" and "Robber of the Prime of Life" will be distributed. Either may be secured free of charge from local tuberculosis associations or from the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association, Box 1089, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Approval for the campaign and offers of cooperation have already been received from leading health and educational authorities in the state.

EAST TEXAS FIELD DECLINES

AUSTIN—Engineers reported at a monthly hearing of the railroad commission Friday that bottomhole pressures in the east Texas oil field had declined on an average of three and one-half pounds per square inch in the last month.

Testimony on well-spacing regulations was postponed because data was not completed.
 A report showed that pressure on September 10th had dropped to 1,183 pounds. The commission reported that 6,002 wells had been completed in the first eight months of the year.

Mottled Enamel

This sounds like a disease of dishpans. It is not. Actually it is a disease of human teeth.

If you are more than eight years old you need not be afraid of this disease; unless you have young children. The teeth are affected before they come through the gums by fluorine in the child's system. When they erupt instead of looking smooth and glossy and translucent they have a dull, chalky appearance. Later they show a characteristic brown stain and often pitting of the surface. The dentists now call this disease chronic dental fluorosis.

In twenty-five states, of which New Mexico is one, there are so far known to be 335 districts in which the children's teeth become mottled. These teeth are disfigured for life. The dentists hint darkly that fluorine in the system may perhaps damage other organs as well as the teeth.

Since the fluorine gets into the system in the water which the child drinks, the prevention of mottled enamel is usually a matter of public health. Any community water supply which contains more than one part in a million of fluorine is likely to cause trouble. There is some evidence that sodium fluoride in drinking water is more dangerous than the same amount of sodium fluoride in food. But the two dangers are likely to occur together in the same community.

Some townships have been able to solve the problem by getting a new water supply. Chemists are now engaged in research to discover a practical method by which fluorine can be removed from drinking water. Until that can be done families with young children will be well advised to make their homes in communities where the water contains no fluorine or at least less than one part per million.

MOUNTAIN FRUIT CROP MOVING NOW

The mountain fruit crop has started moving to market, the bulk of the crop, however, will not be harvested for a few days. Some early fall pears and apples are available locally as well as cabbage, but the best of the crop will not likely move before October. Much of the crop will be moved out by truck, the mountain fruit has gained favor with Texas and Oklahoma truckers.

The apple and pear crop is somewhat spotted on the eastern slope and a fair to good crop is the prospect from Elk west, while on the west side of the mountains report a bumper crop. Sidney A. Mauldin, manager of the Fairmont Fruit farm at Mountain Park, says both the quality and quantity of his fruit is good this year.

V. L. Gates has recently harvested a good alfalfa seed crop on his farm east of Artesia. Mr. Gates had a field of alfalfa seed, about forty acres, that produced approximately 20,000 pounds or 500 pounds to the acre.

Graziers To Meet In Roswell 26th

Members of the Southeastern New Mexico Grazing association will hold their annual election of officers in the district court room, Roswell, September 25, 1936. F. R. Carpenter, director, division of grazing, department of interior, Washington, D. C., will attend and discuss the administration of the Taylor grazing act with members of the association. This is probably the most important meeting of the association since its inception September 1933, and it is expected the entire membership will attend.

On Saturday, September 26, Mr. Carpenter will hold an open meeting to hear protests and recommendations to the administration of the Taylor grazing districts. The meeting will be open to all stockmen. Fence and trespass matters will be considered as well as problems effecting New Mexico grazing districts in general.

The state committee representing advisory boards of the various districts will hold an executive meeting during the two-day session.

ALBUQUERQUE—New Mexico stockmen will meet with grazing service officials and will be given a chance to voice their protests relative to the Taylor grazing act at Roswell, September 26, J. E. Stablein, acting regional grazer, said Monday.

The meeting will be in conjunction with the meeting of the southeastern New Mexico Grazing association, district No. 6, to be held in Roswell September 25th. All stockmen including those of districts No. 4, 5 and 6, are being urged to attend, Stablein said.

DANCES AND OTHER AMUSEMENTS

Will YOU be the One? to Injury this Child?

Naturally you would not deliberately injure an innocent child and would do everything within your power to avoid running down a person with your car but such accidents DO happen somewhere every day . . . children are killed at street crossings as a result of careless driving.

Artesia wants no child fatalities, or any other kind, as a result of carelessness on the part of motorists. If your child is hurt or killed, it will undoubtedly be because some driver was guilty of careless driving and did not take into consideration the irresponsibility and impetuosity of your child. If you hurt or kill a child it will probably be because you did not observe the traffic rules as you should.

Fast and reckless driving is dangerous. Let everyone of us check up on our driving, and see that our car is driven in such a manner that we have instant control over its operation at all times. School time is a mighty good time to start driving with care. Give this important matter some serious thought and make sure that YOU will not be the one to cause the injury or death of a school child.

Shined shoes—bookstraps—pencil boxes—home work—"ear-and-neck inspection"—lunches! These words spell school days' return to mothers all over the country—and not the least of these is lunches!

Although some schools maintain cafeterias, others serve milk or soup, and some are close enough so that the young ones may come home at noon, the larger number of children must carry lunches. That's where these tips come in!

Packing the Lunch

Select a lunch box that can be kept clean—scalded and aired daily. All foods not in containers should be wrapped separately in waxed paper before being put in the box. Put heavy things on the bottom, but try to place them in the order in which they will be eaten. Clean pill boxes with holes punched in the top make salt and sugar shakers. Save screw top jars for puddings, or tie waxed paper over custard cups for containers. Provide a vacuum bottle if possible.

LUNCH BOX RECIPES

Brown Bread Sandwiches
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
24 slices Boston Brown bread
2 tablespoons orange juice
1/4 cup butter
1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates

1/3 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift white flour, baking powder and salt together. Add whole wheat flour. Mix dates through dry ingredients with finger tips. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, then beaten egg. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Add vanilla and beat until well mixed. Drop by teaspoonful two inches apart on well-oiled baking sheet or inverted pan. Peanut-Butter Rice Timbale

1 1/2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/4 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

School-Age Notes

Boys usually prefer cardboard lunch boxes they can throw away; girls like the "fancy" ones of lacquered metal. . . Be sure you serve two vegetables every day—these in addition to the starch requirement. Apple sauce and gingerbread are quick and easy—apple sauce comes canned, and gingerbread is easy to make. Paper napkins and waxed paper are necessities for lunch-box packers.

BUSINESS GAINS

A business census survey for New Mexico released this week shows a substantial increase in most types of service businesses.

The survey reveals the fact that the number of laundries in the state has nearly tripled since 1933, when there were only ten establishments in New Mexico. Now there are twenty-seven.

Barber shops have increased from 248 to 257 in the past three years; shoe repair shops from 98 to 115; photo studios from 21 to 26, and jewelry stores from 15 to 26.

SOCIETY

WOMAN'S CLUB OPENS ON WEDNESDAY WITH SPLENDID PROGRAM

The opening meeting of the Artesia Woman's club was held at the club house Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. John Lanning and Mrs. J. Hise Myers were hostesses of the afternoon. Floor baskets of gorgeous dahlias decorated the club home.

Mrs. Jeff Hightower, club president, asked the cooperation of every club woman in making this an outstanding year for the Artesia club. Mrs. J. M. Story, chairman of finance, has also asked the cooperation of club women in every club project of the club this year in order that the entire club debt may be paid off.

Mrs. Frank Wilson, chairman of Welfare committee, has made a request for the women organizations in our city to each appoint one member to meet with her and form a welfare committee, in order that every person in need may be cared for. Any person knowing of anyone in need are requested to notify Mrs. Wilson as soon as possible.

Mrs. John Lanning, chairman of the program committee, presented the year books for the year and announced the theme of "Progress" is to be used throughout the year. Mrs. W. C. Martin was speaker of the afternoon, she gave an intensely interesting talk, using for her subject, "Progress Through Vision." She stressed that club women must first see something to do and then set about doing it, if the Woman's club is to be a service club for our homes, our city and our nation.

Mrs. Doris Deter Welborne presented two artists, Shirley Bartlett, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martlett, and Master Lewis Story, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Story, in three violin numbers. Lewis played "Twilight," by Foiml; Shirley played, "Dorse Espagnol," by Pabst, and the two as a duet, "Humoresque," by Doorals. Raymond Bartlett was at the piano.

Club women are requested to telephone members of the membership committee of any prospective member in order that they may be added to the club roll before the next meeting. Mrs. J. D. Atwood, national chairman of American citizenship, will be guest speaker at the next regular club meeting. Mrs. Atwood is a talented speaker and one who really knows her subject. She has accepted speaking engagements in many states of our union since becoming a national chairman. The local club is very fortunate to be able to have her as guest speaker this year. Club women are permitted by a special motion to bring a guest to hear Mrs. Atwood on October 7. The Roswell Woman's club are also invited to be our guests on this occasion.

The state convention will be held in Las Cruces October 15, 16 and 17. Delegates will be elected at the next meeting. This will be an anniversary celebration, marking twenty-five years of federated clubs in New Mexico. Mrs. J. B. Atkeson, organizer of the local club, has been issued a special invitation to attend the anniversary celebration. Mrs. J. O. Seth, state president, who is touring the South Sea Islands with our national president, Roberta Lawson, and a group of other club women, will return in time to preside at the state convention.

Miss Mary McCaw, chief operator of the local Mountain States Telephone Company, left Saturday for a two weeks vacation. Miss Linna McCaw and Miss Merrill Bradley drove with her to Odessa, Texas, Saturday for an overnight visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. May. Miss McCaw will visit the May family and expects to join them in a visit to the Texas Centennial.

"Emerge gently from matter into spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth."

C. E. Notes

(Wayne Rowland, Reporter)

Due to the fact that the scheduled leader, Laurent Gordon, was absent, Sunday evening's program turned out to be a group discussion. The topic discussed, under the leadership of the Rev. Massie, was amusements or pastimes for young people. The meeting was enjoyed by all. Those present gained information which will probably prove its value in days to come.

Our president, Cecil Fletcher, will be in charge of C. E. next Sunday evening. Let's show him what a crowd is.

C. E. Gossip
C. E. Starts at 7:00 o'clock. There aren't two C. E. meetings as there are two shows, therefore, be on time so there will be no danger of your missing out on any of the first only performance.

Chester is good at making excuses. If there is any doubt in your mind, ask him why he can't be leader Sunday.

Bird, our new secretary, said she wouldn't mind if you came to C. E. instead of waiting outside.

Which two girls spent their weekly allowances for food, such as grapes, hamburgers, etc., and went "Rollin'" out to the city limits to devour it. (catch?)

Bo Bradshaw said he used to snore so loudly that he would awaken himself but now he sleeps in another room.

Bettynelle Lanning had hardly gotten out of C. E. when someone called sweetly, "Bettynelle dear, here I am." (She was probably very much disappointed when she found out it was only her mother).

Eighteen Oil Tracts Net State $9,704.53 At Monthly Lease Sale

The monthly oil and gas lease sale held at Santa Fe on September 10th by the commissioner of public lands was an unusually interesting sale and attracted more bidders than any previous sale held the past twelve months. Bidders on the first ten tracts offered ranged from one to ten. Tracts 9 and 10, consisting of 160 acres each appear to have been the most popular and most sought after leases, the latter netting the state a total of $2,402.11 or approximately $15.13 per acre. Only two of the twenty tracts offered failed to sell at the time of the sale. The sale netted $9,704.53 including $90.00 filing fees.

The results were as follows:

Tract 1, consisting of 2,240 acres and located in twps. 5 and 8, ranges 31 and 32 was purchased by the Continental Oil Co., of Ponca City, Oklahoma, for $246.40. Tract 2, consisting of 2,600 acres and located in twps. 8 and 9, range 31, was sold to W. S. Patterson of Santa Fe for $321.00. Tract 3, consisting of 968 acres and located in twps. 11, 12 and 13, ranges 32 and 33, sold to Cary F. Butcher of Midland, Texas, for $631.00. Elida Man Killed In Auto Accident

J. B. Foster of Elida was in a serious condition at Portales Monday from injuries received in an automobile accident east of Portales Saturday which took the life of his companion, William Holcomb.

Holcomb, 21-year-old Elida filling station employe, died in the Portales hospital Sunday. He suffered a severe head injury when the machine driven by Foster, struck loose gravel at the edge of the pavement in turning out to pass a truck and overturned five times.

Foster, 45, and the father of seven children, had both legs crushed and suffered severe shock. His eleven-year-old son, Billie, the only other occupant of the car, escaped with minor hurts.

SUIT FILED IN LEA COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Lea county commissioners and W. S. Moss, contractor, were made defendants in a suit filed Sunday by C. M. Askew of Hobbs, asking cancellation of a contract awarded Moss for the construction of a $185,000 county courthouse at Lovington.

Askew, designating himself as a taxpayer and Lea county citizen, alleged the contract was illegal in the action, filed in the Lea county district court at Lovington.

Demos To Wage Short Campaign

Candidates and leaders of the democratic party held a council of war at Santa Fe Tuesday and decided to wage a short but strenuous campaign prior to the November election.

Democratic State Chairman John E. Miles said following the meeting of nominees and county chairmen that the democratic campaign would not extend "over five weeks."

The meeting authorized Miles and his division chairmen to set the date for launching the campaign as well as naming the groups of speakers to tour the state. Miles said these decisions would be made in the near future.

Financial matters and political conditions were discussed at the meeting which was addressed by party leaders, including Senator Carl Hatch, Governor Clyde Tingley, Representative J. J. Dempsey and the other candidates, and Clinton P. Anderson, state finance chairman, and S. A. Jones, Clovis, national finance chairman for New Mexico.

Plant Flower Bulbs In Fall

It will soon be time to plant bulbs for blooming next spring, says A. B. Fite of the New Mexico State College. While emphasis should be placed on the importance of having good, fertile soil for best results with flowering bulbs, care must be taken not to place the bulbs in contact with manure that is not thoroughly decomposed and well mixed with the soil. Unless such decomposed fertilizer is available, it would be better to mix the manure with the top soil only and the plant food will be leached down with the irrigation water.

Jonquils, paper-white narcissus, tulips, crocus, hyacinths and iris can all be planted in the open for spring blooming in practically all parts of the state in the latter part of September or first week in October. Bulbs that have been left in the ground through the summer should also be lifted, divided, and replanted at this time to insure quality blooms in the spring. Too often the taking up and replanting is neglected until the middle of winter; then, when the bulbs are spaded out, they are found to be so far advanced in growth of both tops and roots that it is impractical to molest them.

Deep preparation of the soil is essential and the bulbs should be gotten into the ground in plenty of time to make a good root growth before the ground freezes. If annuals are growing on the ground where bulbs are to be planted, as soon as they are killed by frost, spade up the ground and plant the bulbs immediately, and if it is not now occupied, preparation for the bulbs should not be delayed.

COL. KNOX TO VISIT STATE

SANTA FE—Final arrangements for the visit of Colonel Frank Knox, republican vice-presidential candidate, to New Mexico have now been completed. Colonel Knox will enter the state on September 23rd at Gallup, at 10:30 a. m., accompanied by National Committeeman Cyrus McCormick and Republican State Chairman George R. Craig, who will join him at Winslow, Arizona.

Colonel Knox will make a ten-minute stop at Gallup, and will make a rear platform address there. The next stop will be at Grants, in Valencia county, at 12:27, where a ten-minute stop will be made and the vice presidential candidate will also speak. A thirty-minute stop is scheduled for Albuquerque on arrival at 2:40 p. m., where Colonel Knox is expected to deliver one of the important statements of his itinerary in the state. He will arrive at Lamy at 4:55 p. m., to be met there by a Landon-Knox sound truck and a large caravan of automobiles which will accompany him to Santa Fe, where the main address of his visit will be delivered at St. Michael's gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Hobbs Oil Worker Killed On Monday

Charlie Kyle, 28, of Hobbs, was almost instantly killed, and John McNew was seriously injured late Monday when a dynamite blast exploded prematurely. The tragedy occurred at an oil field location south of Eunice in Lea county.

Kyle was terribly mangled by the blast but survived for about thirty minutes, dying a few minutes after being taken to a hospital at Eunice. McNew, a teaming contractor, suffered severe lacerations and contusions about the head and is in grave danger of losing his eyesight as a result of the explosion.

Witnesses report that the men were engaged in digging the pit on a new oil well location. Four rows of dynamite charges had been set in the pit and the two victims were firing the fuses. The two center rows had been fired and they were returning on the outside charges when the first charges fired started to explode.

Kyle, almost directly over the exploding charge, received the full force of the blast. McNew, blinded and stunned by the explosion and flying rocks, ran from the pit and workmen near the scene caught him.

CONTRACTS ROSWELL-VAUGHN HIGHWAY

The state highway commission Friday awarded contract for 16.893 miles of top course, surfacing and oil processing on the Tatum-Roswell highway, U. S. 380, to Armstrong & Armstrong, Roswell, for $72,650.50.

Cook and Ransom, Ottawa, Kansas, was given the contract for top course, surfacing and rock asphalt coat on U. S. 285 between Roswell and Vaughn. The bid was $91,362.55.

Scout News

One of the first steps in the Unit Organization Campaign (includes new troops, new Cub Packs, and new Sea Scout Ships) of the Eastern New Mexico Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is to make a "Boy Fact Survey" of boys between the ages of 11 and 21. These surveys are being made through the cooperation of school authorities and are now under way in Eddy, Chaves and De Baca counties. Surveys made some time ago in Curry and Roosevelt counties showed that over eighty per cent of the boys wanted to be Scouts. Surveys in the other counties of the area, namely: Lincoln, Lea, Otero, Guadalupe, Quay in New Mexico and Farmer county, Texas, will be made in the near future. Donald W. MacKay, president of the Eastern New Mexico Junior College and rural chairman of the Boy Scout council, is in charge of the survey.

The post office department profits about $252,000 a year from money orders which are never cashed.

Many Exhibitors At Roswell Fair

ROSWELL—Three weeks before the opening of the fourteenth annual show, directors of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held in Roswell October 7, 8, 9 and 10, were playing checkers with the space in the exhibit buildings in order to accommodate the exhibitors who had already made reservations. And this despite the fact there is much more space available since the erection of additional buildings last winter.

"But we're going to take care of every community which gets its reservation in at once even if we have to erect another building," said H. A. Poorbaugh, president of the fair. "And we'll have plenty of space for the exhibits of individual farmers over the state who want to compete in the classified sections. We're offering substantial cash premiums on apples, grains of various kinds, and vegetables. And our additional barn space make possible a much better livestock show this year."

John Hall, director in charge of the rodeo each afternoon, and Johnnie Mullins, arena director, say the competition in all events this year will be keener than ever before because of increased purses and payment of final money in three main events. The entire entertainment program is on a larger scale.

hours and after officers had checked the number of all trucks leaving the local refineries. According to evidence obtained by local officers Watkins, driving a Ford truck, is alleged to have loaded his truck at the Pecos Diamond Refinery plant about 9:00 o'clock.

Investigating officers said Watkins' truck showed a dent in the right fender. Mud, presumably dropped from the truck's fender at the scene of the accident, corresponded with the mud found on the truck fender, as did wooden chips from a wooden wedge.

Watkins made no statement at the time of his arrest except to deny any knowledge of the accident. Officers testifying at the inquest held at the office of W. H. Ballard, justice of the peace, yesterday morning and conducted by J. O. Walton, Carlsbad attorney, for District Attorney George Reese, said it might have been possible, but not probable that Watkins hit the unfortunate man and never knew it.

After hearing the evidence presented at the inquest the jury rendered a verdict the deceased had met his death at the hands of a hit-and-run driver, whose identity was unknown. Sheriff Dwight Lee said here yesterday a preliminary hearing for Watkins might be held here today. Watkins is in the county jail at Carlsbad and the oil truck is in the custody of officers here.

The Buel car, a model A Ford coupe, was stopped on the edge of the pavement with the dimmers on. Lights could be seen both from the front and rear of the car. Buel was found lying about eight feet in front of his own car. He had been knocked about fifteen feet, Dwight Lee, sheriff, said. Evidence was also found where the truck driver had attempted to throw on his brakes. The Buel car had been knocked off of the jack and had apparently rolled three or four feet.

County Ranchers To Meet Saturday

Eddy county stockmen will meet at the county courthouse next Saturday at 2:00 p. m., to discuss the Taylor grazing act, it was announced at Carlsbad Saturday.

The group will gather to discuss protesting the act, and the activities of its administration, livestock men said.

Organizations are being formed in Hope, Artesia, Roswell and other communities for the same purpose, it was learned.

Eddy county stockmen recently circulated a petition asking for a change in the policies of the Taylor grazing act administration, saying it was unfair to the smaller stockmen, and "operated for the benefit of big stockmen."

RANGE CONDITIONS GOOD

Range conditions of this section are described as fair to good. Additional moisture within the next month will insure winter grass and weed crop. Some lambs contracted for October delivery are expected to be moved within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Baird and family returned the first of the week from a visit with relatives and friends at Houston, Texas. They stopped for a brief visit to the Centennial at Dallas.

Dawson Co. Well Is New Prospect

No new developments were reported this week on the Ray Albaugh, et al., No. 1 Robinson, prospective pool opener in northwest Dawson county, Texas, other than later bailing tests indicated that water was exhausting. According to some reports, less than a quarter-bailer of water showed the last time the bailer was run to the bottom. A thousand feet of oil is standing in the hole. It is probable that the well will be drilled deeper, but plans of operators have not been definitely announced. Total depth of the No. 1 Robinson is 4,964 feet in lime. It is located in the center of the northwest quarter of section 46, block M, E. L. R. R. survey.

R. H. Henderson No. 1, Lum Daugherty test, west of the Henderson pool in Winkler county, Texas, threatened to blow out when it struck gas from 2,863 to 2,865 and 2,880 to 2,885. The oil zone has not yet been entered, according to reports. The test is drilling ahead below 2,920 feet in lime. It is located in section 33, block 74, public school land.

Tingley Prepares To Start Campaign

SANTA FE—With the phrase "Get the Job Done" as his slogan, Governor Clyde Tingley this week was preparing to make an active campaign for re-election.

"A lot has been accomplished in the past two years," the governor said, "but there's still a lot of work to be done for New Mexico. And I think the promise to 'Get the Job Done' is the best one that I can make to the voters of the state."

The governor said he expects to visit every section of the state during the next six weeks—making numerous short trips out of Santa Fe so that he can spend considerable time in the office, with several longer tours to be made to distant sections of the state.

Commenting on the republican campaign which is already well underway, the governor said that "the opposition is out, and wants to be in so badly they're promising everything except the moon, and they'd promise that if they could get their hands on it."

Here and There

Chicken Thieves Stay Away

The other night L. R. Buck heard a noise in his chicken yard and ran out to see what the commotion was about. Out in the middle of the yard he saw the thief, a bold one who did not pay any attention to a positive command to throw up his hands. Mr. Buck approached the thief, coming as close as he dared and then cracked down. The thief fell on being shot just as anybody would and when Mr. Buck started to see who he had shot, his brother, Eugene Buck, who is visiting here, placed a restraining hand on his shoulder with these words: "It looks like you've killed a man, better send for some of th neighbors before you do anything about it."

So Mr. Buck sent for his neighbor, Glen O'Bannon. An examination of the thief revealed that it was only a plucked dummy with a hole shot through the top of the hat.

Monday Mr. Buck bought the drinks. The moral of the story is: "Stay out of Buck's chicken yard."

Fish Story

We art not up on telling fish stories, but we heard a prize one last week about a big fish caught at the mouth of Rocky that did not get away. Instead, according to the story, the lucky fisherman, a Carlsbad man, took him home. The fish was supposed to have weighed 104 pounds and was approximately six feet long and the story is unverified, so you can believe it or not.

Mexicans Celebrate Independence Day; Festivities at Carlsbad

Mexican residents of Eddy county are celebrating independence day at Carlsbad this year. The day was not observed here. Yesterday marked the start of the festivities, commemorating the 115th anniversary of the independence of Mexico from Spain. Three days of festivities are planned, including a barbecue, fake bull fight, dancing and athletic sports.

A number of Mexican families from this section of the county are at Carlsbad enjoying the festivities.

Up to Sunday approximately 126,000 people had visited the Carlsbad Caverns since the first of the year.

Ranchers To Be Subsidized Soon

Eddy county ranchers will be interested in the news that the federal government plans to subsidize livestock raising in New Mexico.

Eleven other states, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, are included in the program.

The money will be given ranchers for contouring, developing springs and seeps, building earthen pits for reservoirs for holding rainfall, water spreading to prevent soil washing, reseeding depleted range land with crested wheat grass, rodent control, fire guards and the elimination of sage brush.

Local Ginnings

Cotton harvesting operations are expected to be well underway within another week. A total of 318 bales have been moved to gins of this district since the report last week for a season's total of 412 bales. Last year at the corresponding period not a single bale had been ginned in this trade area. Rains on the Cottonwood and in the Lake Arthur community have delayed picking operations to some extent. The labor supply is adequate for the present needs. A price of sixty to sixty-five cents is being paid laborers over the district.

Following is a report by gins: Lake Arthur gin..... 9 Cottonwood gin.....140 Association gin, Espuella..... 52 Farmers gin, Artesia..... 79 Association gin, Artesia..... 66 Association gin, Atoka..... 66 Total.....412

The week under review shows the effect of constantly increasing hedge sales in the market. Ginnings are increasing daily and perhaps half or more of the crop is being sold as ginned but this cotton is not being priced by the mills or other buyers in the final markets hence the only market support must come from speculators and at present levels speculation is lacking. From this reasoning it is our firm conclusion that sales made on market bulges are best, for the present.

A Cattle Grading Demonstration At Jones Ranch Sept. 22

A cattle grading demonstration will be held Tuesday, September 22, at the Eli Jones ranch (formerly Ned Shattuck's), in the Queen community, it was announced by Fred A. Barham, county extension agent, yesterday. J. K. Wallace, Washington, D. C., and Dr. W. L. Black, state College, will be present and conduct the demonstration.

Jones will furnish barbecue and coffee and persons who plan to attend are asked to take a basket lunch.

All stockmen of this district know Wallace and Black, as they have held many demonstrations in Eddy county during the past several years.

Barham said stockmen and their families are invited to attend.

Republicans Win Maine Election

PORTLAND, Maine—Republicans swept Maine offices Monday in a state election featured by a 5,000 vote victory of Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., for a second term over Governor Louis J. Brann.

The record balloting in the traditionally republican state also saw the party's candidate for governor and three U. S. representatives win by much larger margins.

The republican victory, which observers studied closely for possible portents in the nation-wide November poll, ousted the democrats from four years of state control. Democrats had held two of the congressional posts besides the governorship.

The senatorial vote with only seven precincts missing, gave White 157,861 and Brann 152,876.

Secretary of State Lewis O. Barrows (Rep.) won the governorship by 43,000 votes over F. Harold Dubord (Dem.) who two years ago lost a senatorial campaign by only 1,200.

The vote in the same precincts gave Barrows 172,000; Dubord 129,064.

Although republican leaders contended that the returns pointed to the party's gains in November, democrats called attention to Senator White's loss plurality.

Maine is traditionally republican, they pointed out.

Preliminaries In The Rural Electrification Project Are Started

Preliminaries connected with the proposed rural electrification project to serve this district are making progress. Maps have been drawn for the project, known as the Central Valley Rural Cooperative Electric Co., by Clifford Smith, artesian well supervisor, showing the location of all wells, either shallow or artesian wells and symbols have been added to the map showing location of the farm houses.

In the proposed area to be served by the electrification project are 300 dwellings, five gins and over 100 wells. The estimated power needed is 3,000 horsepower to cost between $300,000 to $400,000.

Have YOU Been Fooled?

The answer to that question should determine how you will vote on November 3. Only by answering it fairly in their own minds can the people of New Mexico decide intelligently whether a change in state administration is desirable for their own best interest. Partisan sentiment or affiliation must not influence the people's decision, if they are to do full justice to themselves in reaching a sound conclusion, and a proper determination of how they will cast their ballots.

The Republican party in New Mexico and many Democrats—those who retain their regard for true Democratic principles—believe

The Tingley Administration Has Deluded and Deceived the People

In proof of that charge let the record speak for itself. Compare the 1934 platform and promises of the Tingley candidates with their actual performances—and remember it is virtually the same group that seeks re-election on November 3. Here is some of the record:

PROMISE—

Strict economy and no increase in cost of government or of the tax burden in the state. Continuance of Seligman financial policy.

"In order to remove all appointive boards and commissions, as far as possible, from the influence of politics, we recommend that in the future a policy of continuation of such boards and commissions for the entire terms of appointment as designated and prescribed by legislative action shall be adhered to."

"We declare for the fullest and most unrestricted expression of political preferences in election at all times WITHOUT INTIMIDATION OR COERCION."

"In appreciation of the fact that the Democratic party has throughout its entire existence continuously aided those engaged in the occupation and activities commonly classed as labor, we pledge ourselves to strengthen our present labor laws."

PERFORMANCE—

Highest appropriation of all time by the legislature. Largest public payroll and greatest increase in bureaus and boards in New Mexico history.

Killed non-partisan judiciary bills in legislature and have placed a "reprimanded" Supreme Court Justice, tried for juggling public funds, on the ticket for re-election.

Tingley disregarded the promise by wrecking the Child Welfare bureau, putting in political boards at State College and the Spanish American Normal school and ousting for political reasons well-qualified, efficient and honest school and department heads who would help to build the Tingley political machine.

No other administration in New Mexico ever approached the "vote right or starve" tactics employed by Tingley in all state department in state and federal relief, both direct and work. Full proof of this will be given during the campaign.

The Tingley-controlled legislature killed every bill or amendment offered in fulfillment of this promise. Not one piece of labor legislation was passed and the state labor commissioner who sought to have the pledge kept was fired for his honesty by Tingley.

That is only part of the Record. More will be published later. Watch your paper for it!

Dawson Co. Well Is New Prospect

No new developments were reported this week on the Ray Albaugh, et al., No. 1 Robinson, prospective pool opener in northwest Dawson county, Texas, other than later bailing tests indicated that water was exhausting. According to some reports, less than a quarter-bailer of water showed the last time the bailer was run to the bottom. A thousand feet of oil is standing in the hole. It is probable that the well will be drilled deeper, but plans of operators have not been definitely announced. Total depth of the No. 1 Robinson is 4,964 feet in lime. It is located in the center of the northwest quarter of section 46, block M, E. L. R. R. survey.

R. H. Henderson No. 1, Lum Daugherty test, west of the Henderson pool in Winkler county, Texas, threatened to blow out when it struck gas from 2,863 to 2,865 and 2,880 to 2,885. The oil zone has not yet been entered, according to reports. The test is drilling ahead below 2,920 feet in lime. It is located in section 33, block 74, public school land.

Tingley Prepares To Start Campaign

SANTA FE—With the phrase "Get the Job Done" as his slogan, Governor Clyde Tingley this week was preparing to make an active campaign for re-election.

"A lot has been accomplished in the past two years," the governor said, "but there's still a lot of work to be done for New Mexico. And I think the promise to 'Get the Job Done' is the best one that I can make to the voters of the state."

The governor said he expects to visit every section of the state during the next six weeks—making numerous short trips out of Santa Fe so that he can spend considerable time in the office, with several longer tours to be made to distant sections of the state.

Commenting on the republican campaign which is already well underway, the governor said that "the opposition is out, and wants to be in so badly they're promising everything except the moon, and they'd promise that if they could get their hands on it."

Chicken Thieves Stay Away

The other night L. R. Buck heard a noise in his chicken yard and ran out to see what the commotion was about. Out in the middle of the yard he saw the thief, a bold one who did not pay any attention to a positive command to throw up his hands. Mr. Buck approached the thief, coming as close as he dared and then cracked down. The thief fell on being shot just as anybody would and when Mr. Buck started to see who he had shot, his brother, Eugene Buck, who is visiting here, placed a restraining hand on his shoulder with these words: "It looks like you've killed a man, better send for some of th neighbors before you do anything about it."

So Mr. Buck sent for his neighbor, Glen O'Bannon. An examination of the thief revealed that it was only a planted dummy with a hole shot through the top of the hat.

Monday Mr. Buck bought the drinks. The moral of the story is: "Stay out of Buck's chicken yard."

Fish Story

We art not up on telling fish stories, but we heard a prize one last week about a big fish caught at the mouth of Rocky that did not get away. Instead, according to the story, the lucky fisherman, a Carlsbad man, took him home. The fish was supposed to have weighed 104 pounds and was approximately six feet long and the story is unverified, so you can believe it or not.

Mexican residents of Eddy county are celebrating independence day at Carlsbad this year. The day was not observed here. Yesterday marked the start of the festivities, commemorating the 115th anniversary of the independence of Mexico from Spain. Three days of festivities are planned, including a barbecue, fake bull fight, dancing and athletic sports.

A number of Mexican families from this section of the county are at Carlsbad enjoying the festivities.

Up to Sunday approximately 126,000 people had visited the Carlsbad Caverns since the first of the year.

Ranchers To Be Subsidized Soon

Eddy county ranchers will be interested in the news that the federal government plans to subsidize livestock raising in New Mexico.

Eleven other states, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, are included in the program.

The money will be given ranchers for contouring, developing springs and seeps, building earthen pits for reservoirs for holding rainfall, water spreading to prevent soil washing, reseeding depleted range land with crested wheat grass, rodent control, fire guards and the elimination of sage brush.

Local Ginnings

Cotton harvesting operations are expected to be well underway within another week. A total of 318 bales have been moved to gins of this district since the report last week for a season's total of 412 bales. Last year at the corresponding period not a single bale had been ginned in this trade area. Rains on the Cottonwood and in the Lake Arthur community have delayed picking operations to some extent. The labor supply is adequate for the present needs. A price of sixty to sixty-five cents is being paid laborers over the district.

Following is a report by gins:
 Lake Arthur gin----- 9
 Cottonwood gin-----140
 Association gin, Espuella----- 52
 Farmers gin, Artesia----- 79
 Association gin, Artesia----- 66
 Association gin, Atoka----- 66

The week under review shows the effect of constantly increasing hedge sales in the market. Ginnings are increasing daily and perhaps half or more of the crop is being sold as ginned but this cotton is not being priced by the mills or other buyers in the final markets hence the only market support must come from speculators and at present levels speculation is lacking. From this reasoning it is our firm conclusion that sales made on market bulges are best, for the present.

A Cattle Grading Demonstration At Jones Ranch Sept. 22

A cattle grading demonstration will be held Tuesday, September 22, at the Eli Jones ranch (formerly Ned Shattuck's), in the Queen community, it was announced by Fred A. Barham, county extension agent, yesterday.

J. K. Wallace, Washington, D. C., and Dr. W. L. Black, state College, will be present and conduct the demonstration.

Jones will furnish barbecue and coffee and persons who plan to attend are asked to take a basket lunch.

All stockmen of this district know Wallace and Black, as they have held many demonstrations in Eddy county during the past several years.

Barham said stockmen and their families are invited to attend.

Republicans Win Maine Election

PORTLAND, Maine—Republicans swept Maine offices Monday in a state election featured by a 5,000 vote victory of Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., for a second term over Governor Louis J. Brann.

The record balloting in the traditionally republican state also saw the party's candidate for governor and three U. S. representatives win by much larger margins.

The republican victory, which observers studied closely for possible portents in the nation-wide November poll, ousted the democrats from four years of state control. Democrats had held two of the congressional seats besides the governorship.

The senatorial vote with only seven precincts missing, gave White 157,861 and Brann 152,876.

Secretary of State Lewis O. Barrows (Rep.) won the governorship by 43,000 votes over F. Harold Dubord (Dem.) who two years ago lost a senatorial campaign by only 1,200.

The vote in the same precincts gave Barrows 172,000; Dubord 129,064.

Although republican leaders contended that the returns pointed to the party's gains in November, democrats called attention to Senator White's low plurality.

Maine is traditionally republican, they pointed out.

Preliminaries In the Rural Electrification Project Are Started

Preliminaries connected with the proposed rural electrification project to serve this district are making progress. Maps have been drawn for the project, known as the Central Valley Rural Cooperative Electric Co., by Clifford Smith, artesian well supervisor, showing the location of all wells, either shallow or artesian wells and symbols have been added to the map showing location of the farm houses.

In the proposed area to be served by the electrification project are 300 dwellings, five gins and over 100 wells. The estimated power needed is 3,000 horsepower to cost between $300,000 to $400,000.

FARM INCOME DECLINE

WASHINGTON—Bureau of agricultural economics reported today cash income and government benefit payments of New Mexico farm production had declined $37,406,000 in 1934 to $36,000,000 in 1935.

Most of the decrease is due to less cash income from livestock, other income and payments have declined slightly.

Have YOU Been Fooled?

The answer to that question should determine how you will vote on November 3. Only by answering it fairly in their own minds can the people of New Mexico decide intelligently whether a change in state administration is desirable for their own best interest. Partisan sentiment or affiliation must not influence the people's decision, if they are to do full justice to themselves in reaching a sound conclusion, and a proper determination of how they will cast their ballots.

The Republican party in New Mexico and Democrats—those who retain their regard for true Democratic principles—believe

The Tingley Administration Has Deluded and Deceived the People

In proof of that charge let the record speak for itself. Compare the 1934 platform and promises of the Tingley candidates with their actual performances—and remember it is virtually the same group that seeks re-election on November 3. Here is some of the record:

PROMISE—

Strict economy and no increase in cost of government or of the tax burden in the state. Continuance of Seligman financial policy.

"In order that the highest reputation and general standing of our Courts shall be maintained we favor a non-partisan judiciary."

"In order to remove all appointive boards and commissions, as far as possible, from the influence of politics, we recommend that in the future a policy of continuation of such boards and commissions for the entire terms of appointment as designated and prescribed by legislative action shall be adhered to."

"We declare for the fullest and most unrestricted expression of political preferences in election at all times WITHOUT INTIMIDATION OR COERCION."

"In appreciation of the fact that the Democratic party has throughout its entire existence continuously aided those engaged in the occupations and activities commonly classed as labor, we pledge ourselves to strengthen our present labor laws."

PERFORMANCE—

Highest appropriation of all time by the legislature. Largest public payroll and greatest increase in bureaus and boards in New Mexico history.

Killed non-partisan judiciary bills in legislature and have placed a "reprimand" Supreme Court Justice, tried for juggling public funds, on the ticket for re-election.

Tingley disregarded the promise by wrecking the Child Welfare Bureau, putting in political boards at State College and the Spanish American Normal school and ousting for political reasons well-qualified, efficient and honest school and department heads who would help to build the Tingley political machine.

No other administration in New Mexico has approached the "vote right or starve" tactic employed by Tingley in all state departments in state and federal relief, both direct and work. Full proof of this will be given during the campaign.

The Tingley-controlled legislature killed every bill or amendment offered in fulfillment of this promise. Not one piece of labor legislation was passed and the state labor commissioner who sought to have the pledge kept was fired for his honesty by Tingley.

That is only part of the Record. More will be published later. Watch your paper for it!
