Tuesday's Vote Is A Landslide For Democrats

Eddy County Gives Demo Approximately Four To One Vote; Roosevelt Gets Biggest Electoral Vote Since 1820.

Incomplete returns from Eddy county indicate the democratic party got its biggest majority in history Tuesday with an average of approximately 3,000 votes for each candidate on the state, national and county ticket. The vote in the county gave the democrats nearly a four to one lead over the (Continued on last page, column 5)

COLDEST WEATHER

Tuesday night the thermometer dropped to the lowest mark of the season with a reading of eighteen above zero. The coldest night followed a cold north wind with a reading of twenty-five degrees Monday night. So far as known the freezing weather caused little or no damage to autos or water pipes.

Bank Deposits Reach High Mark $856,000 On November Second

Deposits of the First National Bank touched a six-year high mark Monday when they reached a total of $856,000, the highest since 1930. The rapid crop movement has augmented the local deposits. Officials of the First National said they anticipated the deposits would run over the million dollar mark before the close of the year.

State Officials Sweep In On the Demo Landslide

Normal Republican Counties Turn Democratic; Dempsey Leads Ticket; Returns Slow in Many Rural Precincts.

ALBUQUERQUE—The pluralities of the entire democratic state ticket swelled to constantly more imposing figures yesterday as unofficial returns from more than half the state's voting districts were tabulated.

Riding the crest of a flood of democratic voting which swept the entire state almost without exception, the triumphant democratic ticket was increasing its lead hourly.

Counties normally classified as republican strongholds—principally in northern New Mexico—were slower to report their returns but in the face of a trend which was so indisputably democratic, observers predicted the late report would cut few, if any, inroads into the democratic sweep.

Rep. J. J. Dempsey, democratic incumbent, was leading the way for the entire ticket in his stride toward reelection. Dempsey's margin exceeded slightly that given to President Roosevelt, based on a tabulation which included eight precincts less than that of the presidential count.

In 430 of the state's 904 precincts, the congressman had 69,482 to his opponent's 36,343, a margin of 33,139.

The president had 69,169 votes in 458 precincts, compared with 35,354 for Alfred M. Landon.

Senator Carl A. Hatch also was piling up an imposing lead in his race against Ernest W. Everly, republican, for the long term senate seat. Hatch had 68,590 in 455 precincts, against Everly's 37,772.

Fred Barnes Is Killed In Car Crash Sunday

Runs Into Lumber Truck, Parked On Hiway 12 1/2 Miles West of Artesia At Early Hour Sunday Morning.

Fred Barnes, about thirty years old, employe of Dr. Loucks Garage, was instantly killed and Doc Miller his companion was painfully hurt when the car, a Model A Ford coupe, driven by Barnes, crashed into a lumber truck parked on the Artesia-Hope road about twelve and a half miles west of here at 1:15 Sunday morning. The truck, headed north, was parked on the right side of the highway without lights of flares, according to testimony heard at the inquest Sunday afternoon. The Ford coupe was completely demolished by the impact of the crash, the coupling pole of the truck ran through the cowl of the car and the protruding lumber took out the windshield glass and bent the top of the car against the back part of the seat.

How Miller escaped with his life is a mystery. He sustained a cut knee and a bruised head. B. P. Riffe of Mayhill, driver of the truck, was alleged to have been repairing a tire at the time of the accident. Barnes was headed for Artesia and was traveling the jog in the highway which runs in a northward direction.

Riffe was charged with involuntary manslaughter following the coroner's jury inquest Sunday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict the deceased met his death by driving into the back end of a parked lumber truck, about twelve and a half miles west of Artesia, the truck had neither flares nor signals burning at the time of the accident. The verdict was signed by Joe Clayton, E. R. Conner, G. E. Key, M. A. McLean, Ch

FOLLOW DELAWARE'S EXAMPLE

Delaware is a small state—but it has big and worthwhile ideas. One of these ideas is its annual motor vehicle inspection campaign conducted under complete state control. Delaware pioneered this idea. During two recent weeks 24,000 cars were examined and approved. Thousands of other cars were found defective and orders to correct mechanical hazards were issued. Defective foot brakes proved the most serious cause for rejection, with bad lights second.

In addition, during last year alone the state removed 530 antiquated vehicles and sent them to a well deserved rest on the junkpile. It is of great interest that, according to Delaware's secretary of state, there has been an almost complete "right about face" in the public's attitude toward these inspection campaigns. At first, drivers were antagonistic—now the great bulk of them appreciate the value and necessity of inspections and are eager to cooperate.

Every state should adopt the Delaware plan—and keep it up year in and year out. Some states have carried on sporadic, badly organized inspection campaigns, with inadequate facilities, and little good has resulted. Other states have conducted campaigns in which drivers could have their cars inspected or not, as they chose. Such campaigns are a waste of time—the drivers with defective machines stay away from the inspection stations.

The mechanically dangerous car is directly responsible for hundreds of deaths and thousands of injuries annually. Its elimination is essential if we are to reduce the ghastly automobile accident toll.

HUNTERS COMPLAIN

Every deer hunting season numerous hunters returning from the vicinity of the Oliver Lee pasture return and complain bitterly of the treatment received at the hands of the special deputies appointed to patrol the pasture.

Part of the pasture, it seems, has been posted and in numerous instances hunters not familiar with the topography of the mountains have inadvertently wandered over into the posted lands or the game preserve, as it is sometimes called. When caught without a special permit the hunters have been faced with a stiff fine in an Otero county justice court, but in every instance known here hunters beat the case if an appeal to a higher court is taken.

According to our understanding Mr. Lee hold a lease on several hundred acres of federal and state lands and calls it a game preserve, the same being posted legally. But a hunter may hunt if he pays the fee, otherwise he faces the wrath of the special deputies and of a justice court in Alamogordo, which always finds the defendant guilty.

If the pasture is to be a game preserve in the true sense of the word, hunters say they would have no complaint to make, but they have never liked the attitude of the deputies or of posting the mountain lands and opening to a few who are willing to pay the price of a permit.

DISCOVER YOUR POWER

There are in all of us, hidden reservoirs of power and of ability whose existence other people do not suspect. Perhaps we ourselves do not know that they are there. Perhaps we do not know that we have them, but we go along comfortably without using them. We don't want to be bothered to dig down and find them. We hate to make the effort. Oh, what's the use! We're having a jolly good time as it is. Being bigger, or doing something that the world calls better takes effort, even if it is only the effort of being different.

Then, perhaps just out of pique, to show that you can do what somebody says you can't, you make the effort. And the surprising result is this: you discover that the real satisfaction is not in showing somebody else that you can do a thing, but in showing yourself what you can do.—Anon.

ON RATS

The average housekeeper of this county may be inclined to dismiss the presence of a few mice in the house, and the average farmer may look upon the rats in his barns as an evil not to be banished but when you think of the enormous loss inflicted upon the people of this country by these rodents it would seem that everyone do his and her part to drive these pests away.

It is estimated by the U. S. Biological Survey that rats cause an annual loss of $200,000,000 each year in this country. They do enormous damages in the homes, stores, factories and also ravage the barns on the farms.

A CLEANER CITY

When Artesia fully recovers from Hallow'e'n and the garbage cans are back in place, there ought to be a better observance of the sanitary law relating to the collection of garbage. Such cooperation has been urged by city officials for a cleaner, healthier place to live. Proper garbage receptacles should be provided and garbage placed in the receptacle. If the garbage collector fails to collect garbage at reasonable intervals, the fact should be reported to the city clerk's office.

What has become of the old fashioned man who thought that woman suffrage would merely give married men two votes?

One thing in favor of cold weather: There is a decline in the number of fish stories that parade the nation.

The rising prices of stocks should not tempt the man who lost his teeth trying to hold on a few years ago.

The difference between bankers and farmers is that they have different ideas in regard to surpluses.

This is a good time to begin to avoid the cool weather scourge, the common cold.

Lots of failures feel qualified to operate their neighbor's business, says an exchange. And too, lots of people feel that fate has been unkind to them. They feel they should be occupying a better position in life than in reality they are. Too much time is spent in wishing and not enough in doing.

The story is told of a cow-puncher who went in a dry goods store and watched a customer buy some night shirts. The store proprietor turned to the cowboy after making the sale and said: "How about selling you some night shirts?"

"Don't need 'em," the old boy replied, "because I don't stay up much at night."

We did not know until the eleventh hour last week that The Advocate was running for anything or that the Blocker gravy train had been making regular runs from Santa Fe and Carlsbad without ringing the cash register.

For your information the Blocker gravy train is not run in competition with the Santa Fe system. It is supposed to haul only good old country gravy, the kind that makes greasy spots for the tailor to clean up. The train has no modern equipment, a locomotive especially designed to burn political hooey as a fuel is used on the train and the gravy cars are equipped with open gravy bowls. The rule is that all workmen are required to wear bibs to protect their vests. Every precaution is taken to insure the gravy reaches here steaming hot, as cold gravy is unappetizing. The Blocker gravy train motto is "Don't spill the gravy" because

Payments Under New Farm Plan

Payments of grants to farmers under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation program will be going forward within a few days, says W. A. Wunsch of the New Mexico State College. Checks covering these payments will be sent from the regional disbursing office at Denver direct to the treasurers of the county associations and the producers will be notified by the county secretary when the checks are available.

The applications for payment for the farmers in three counties in New Mexico have been received in the state office, and the auditing work on these applications has been completed.

The county committee in each county should make every effort to complete the adjustment of the soil depleting acres and productivity indices as no applications for payment can be audited before this information is on file in the state office. It is expected that within a few days applications for payment from ten counties will be available, as the counties have reported that all the work in connection with compliance has been completed.

The producers should bear in mind the fact that this is a voluntary program and no one will receive payment unless he makes application for such on prescribed forms thru the county committee. Producers who think they are entitled to pay and have not made applications, should contact their secretaries in the county extension agent's office and fill out and sign the proper forms.

CATTLEMEN TO MEET

There will be no set program for the executive board meeting of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association to be held in Santa Fe at the Hotel La Fonda the evening of November 15th at 7:00 o'clock.

All standing committees will be given an opportunity to make their reports and the time given for discussion of those requiring same.

The meeting will be given over to discussion of the more important questions which will come before the annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association to be held at El Paso, January 12-14, 1937.

On November 16th the cattlemen will meet with the State Tax Commission to discuss tax valuations for livestock for the coming year.

that represents the tax payers money.

Old "Gravy Train" Blocker has been begging to go deer hunting in the hills, but we have his request under advisement as we are afraid it is just a camouflage to get to sell the deer some new horns for ten dollars that could be bought from any good fusionist for eight dollars. The reason we don't want the deer to pay more than eight dollars is that it would cost the taxpayers hundreds and hundreds of dollars and we can't stand that because two years from now Caswell Neal, the brilliant auditor and attorney from Carlsbad, might make more than a thirty-two minute audit and find the deer had spent millions and millions of dollars needlessly.

One quart of milk supplies about the same amount of bodily energy as 9 eggs, or 1/4 lb. beefsteak, or 4/5 lb. chicken, or 6 1/2 oranges, or 2 lb. potatoes, or 3 lb. string beans. All of these foods build health and are important in the diet. The comparison merely brings out the essential part milk plays in contributing fuel or energy to the diet.

MILK, as an all-round food, is one of the most essential of our everyday foods. Milk gives you much for little. In choosing your foods, be sure that milk is among the first on the list.

For health, milk is conceded to be the almost perfect food. It contains practically all the elements that the human body needs: minerals, vitamins, proteins, sugars and fats—all necessary for building a healthy body and for warding off disease.

The form in which milk is taken is not important. Some persons like it cold. Others take it when they are ready for sleep and prefer it hot. Still others like it better when it is flavored with cocoa or chocolate or used in soups, sauces or desserts.

Milk should not be regarded as a beverage; it is a food. Sip it slowly; get the flavor out of it. Don't use it merely to quench thirst, and don't drink it rapidly. The gastric juice of the stomach causes milk to curdle shortly after you swallow it. If milk is drunk rapidly digestion is likely to be slow and difficult.

Children especially need plenty of milk. Rest has no charm for them. No healthy child will stay parked while awake. He waits a minute or two perhaps, and then he is an acrobat again. An active, growing child must have fuel and building material for his body. Give him good, fresh milk—a quart a day if you can. And give the grown-ups a pint a day. For underweights and convalescents, a quart. For expectant or nursing mothers, a quart.

Milk has unsurpassed food value. To take milk regularly is the surest and easiest way of making certain that you give your body the variety of food materials it needs to keep you in good physical condition.

Those who enjoyed this delightful occasion were the Misses Bette Cornett, Florine Muncy, Bonnie Rowland, Betty Nell Lanning, Marjorie Rowland, Ruthie Martin, Vivian Haldeman and Ruby Rowland and Dean Martin, Meredith Lindsey, Robert Cornett, Olin Woodside, Wayne Rowland, Cecil Fletcher, Chester Lapsley, Sammy Buchanan, Marshal Morris, Lawrence Coll, Ed Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Massie and the hostess Mrs. Walter Graham.

SOME AUTO SUGGESTIONS

Idiot!—I had the right of way and you know it!

Whatcha staring at—can't a guy stop and fix his car?

Why don'tcha look where you're going!

Bill Holman, the widely-known cartoonist, has given some suggestions for the prevention of automobile accidents. His advice, appearing in a new booklet on the traffic problem published by the Travelers Insurance Company, is as follows:

- Check the wheel—make sure that a loose nut isn't holding it.
- Be sure the Miss in the motor is sitting beside you.
- Don't race trains to crossings. If it's a tie you lose.

- For jaywalkers every year is leap year.
- Be sure the only crank in the car is in the tool box.
- A pedestrian is a man who missed the payments on his car.
- If you must have a blowout have it at home.
- A bird at the wheel is worth two in the ambulance.
- Beware of green drivers on red lights.

WASHINGTON—Bureau of Agricultural Economics Saturday predicted world cotton production in 1936-1937 season will amount to about 29,100,000 bales, a new record.

Performance, Beauty and Safety Mark Chevrolet's Completely New Cars

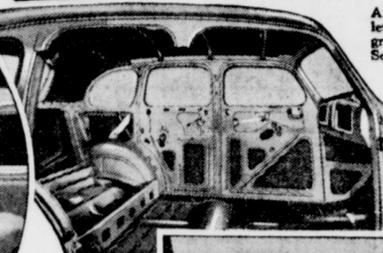

Chevrolet's 1937 engine is completely new, but adheres closely to time-proved Chevrolet engineering principles. It is of six-cylinder valve-in-head type, smoother, more powerful, more economical, and lighter.

A representative model from Chevrolet's new line, typifying its beauty and grace—the Master De Luxe Sport Sedan with trunk. Note the distinctive "speed line" extending back from the side of the hood.

Beauty and utility mark the new Chevrolet instrument panel. The windshield is of greater area, with narrow corner posts, affording better vision.

Luggage capacity in Chevrolet's new trunk models has been greatly increased, as has interior luggage space in other models.

Unisteel construction joins the floor, cowl assembly, panels, and Turret Top of Chevrolet's all-steel body, to form one integral structure, welded in all joints, and reinforced and braced for permanent silence and safety.

New power, economy, durability, safety and comfort, coupled with striking new beauty, characterize Chevrolet's new models for 1937. They are offered in two series, Master and Master De Luxe, virtually identical in appearance.

Chevrolet's fully-enclosed Knee-Action is furnished at no extra cost on the Master De Luxe models; and new Synco-Mesh transmission, and safety plate glass all around at no extra cost. feature all models of both series.

Here's a Fine Red Fruit

A SUPREME COURT judge in Virginia has just ruled that the tomato is a fruit. He based his ruling on the dictionary definition which describes it as a "South American herb widely cultivated, usually as an annual, for its fruit," and excused a man from jury duty on the ground that he was busy picking tomatoes. A Virginia statute exempts from jury duty "any fruit grower while actively engaged in harvesting his crops."

Their evidently take pride in their farm products in the Old Dominion, and they're right. For what could taste better than almost any dish in which the tomato plays a dominant part? Tomatoes play prominent parts in many dishes with which everyone is familiar, but how about their role in the following recipes?

Tomatoes the Stars

Tomato Timbales with Cheese Sauce: Combine the contents of a No. 2 can tomatoes, one slice onion, one-half bay leaf, three whole cloves, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar and a few grains of pepper and cook gently for a few minutes, then press through a sieve. Add one-half cup soft bread crumbs and two slightly-beaten eggs, and turn into buttered timbale cases or custard cups and set in a pan of hot water. Bake from thirty to forty minutes in a 375 degree oven, or until a knife comes out clean. Turn out and pour over them a very rich cheese sauce. Serves four.

Oriental Onion and Tomatoes: Peel twelve large white onions, cut in halves crosswise, and lay in baking dish. Melt four tablespoons butter, add one cup sieved canned tomatoes, one-fourth cup strained honey, salt, pepper and a few grains of paprika, and heat to boiling. Pour over onions and bake until tender—about an hour to an hour and a half—in a slow, or 350 degree, oven. Serves six.

GOLDEN PHANTOMS

Fascinating Tales of Lost Mines

BY EDITH L. WATSON
© W. N. U.

AZTEC GOLD

MONTANA Espanosa (the haunted or horrible mountain) is the name of a mountain long known in Mexican stories. There the gold once lay in nuggets larger than a man's head, and Montezuma's slaves toiled at the work of lifting out this precious weight.

Legend tells that a certain class of criminals was taken to "Frightful mountain" for judgment. Here the accused was instructed to lift a great golden nugget of such huge size that only a veritable Samson could budge it. If the accused were guilty, he could not manage to take up the vast lump of gold, but if he were innocent, the load became light and he could juggle the enormous weight with ease.

From the location given in ancient stories of this mountain, it has been decided that Santiago mountain, in Texas, must be the place. It certainly answers the description as far as location goes, but so far the most hopeful treasure seekers have not been able to find a nugget even as large as a baseball, to say nothing of the size of a man's head.

Howard Stroup drove over to El Paso Friday and returned Monday with Mrs. Stroup and baby daughter, who have been visiting her parents in the city.

W. C. Marable, Artesia farmer, returned Friday from Hot Springs where he took a series of baths for rheumatism. His condition is still far from satisfactory, according to reports.

LAMB FEEDING

Official estimates say that between 35,000 and 40,000 lambs will be fed in the valley this fall and winter. Approximately 9,000 sheep have been shipped from Roswell by Bond and Baker and about 12,000 lambs will be moved from Lovington this week.

The double-barred cross is the symbol used all over the world to designate tuberculosis warfare. It is not to be confused with the "Red Cross" used by the American National Red Cross as the two organizations are separate and distinct in constitution, purpose, and administration. From 1910 to 1920 the two organizations united at Christmas time in the promotion of the Seal sale. Since 1920, however, the sale of Christmas Seals has been the function of the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated state and local associations. These seals are "Health Seals" and are sold to raise funds for the prevention of the spread and development of tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease. To reduce this death rate the state tuberculosis association promotes tuberculosis testing surveys to discover early cases.

Want To Keep My Vitality

I Eat BREAD FOR FOOD ENERGY

YOU can look no better than you feel. No under-nourished woman has vitality. When tired and hungry eat bread or other wheat flour products for quick energy. Bread is one of the most nourishing foods and it provides helpful carbohydrates for building up vitality and energy.

The desire for buoyant carriage, vibrant good health and sustained vitality is natural to every woman. To achieve this you must be properly nourished.

The eating of more bread at meals—and between meals—is the result of modern woman's new attitude toward diet. She eats bread with everything—it is the good companion of other foods.

C. E. Notes

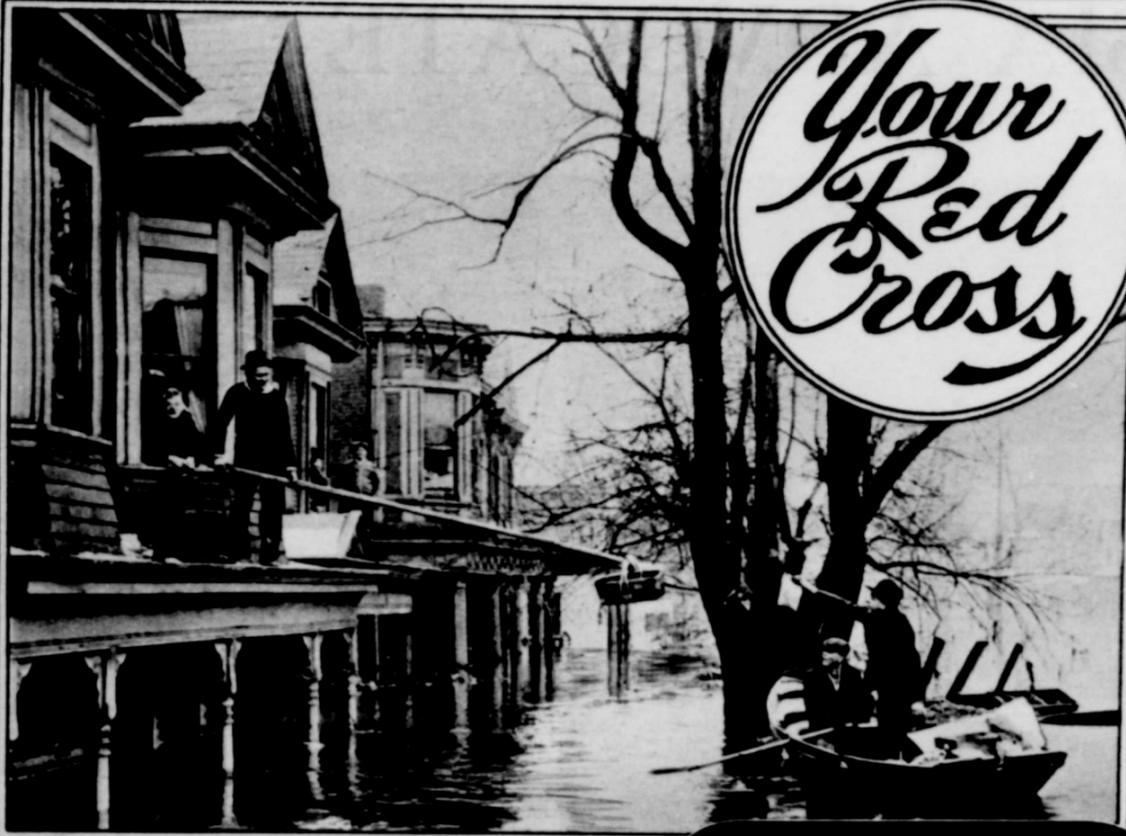

(Wayne Rowland, Reporter) Sunday evening's meeting turned out very successfully with Dean Martin, our leader, presenting a very interesting topic, "The Liquor Situation." Most of the old faithful bunch were present. The meeting was the best we have had for several months. If everyone will cooperate (as Cecil would say) this will continue. Let's have a bigger and better meeting next Sunday evening.

C. E. Jests Why is it necessary for some of us to wait outside until C. E. starts? Wayne dropped his chewing gum on his song book. He shut the book, thus sticking the pages together, but he was very downhearted when he turned to the front page and read: This book dedicated to the First Christian church by J. W. Bradshaw. Turn in C. E. jests to the reporter, please.

PONDS MUST HAVE DEPTH TO WITHSTAND DROUGHTS

It's capacity of a pond that counts, and depth is an important part of capacity that often has been overlooked.

During the five months, May-September, 200 head of cattle will drink nearly an acre-foot of water—325,850 gallons—at the rate of about ten gallons of water for each animal daily. The Department of Agriculture has found that in the Great Plains in this same period four to five times as much water may be evaporated from a reservoir.

In constructing reservoirs or ponds for livestock, a depth of double a season's evaporation loss is a safe rule, says the Soil Conservation Service.

From April through September average evaporation from ponds in the Great Plains runs from five feet in western Texas to a little less than three feet in the Dakotas and Montana, according to fifteen to thirty years of records kept by the Division of Dry Land Agriculture. In the dry summer of 1934, evaporation losses reached nearly six feet in southwestern Kansas. Figures for the drought summer of 1936 have not been completed, but they will be much above the average.

Evaporation losses in 1934 showed these increases over the fifteen-year average: twenty inches at Hays, Kansas; sixteen inches at North Platte, Nebraska; fifteen inches at both Colby and Garden City, Kansas; twelve inches at Dickinson, North Dakota; fourteen inches at Lawton, Oklahoma; thirteen inches at Dalhart, Texas; twelve inches at Tucumcari, New Mexico, and lesser increases at other points in the drought areas.

Evaporation losses may be reduced by locating stock ponds and reservoirs, if possible, so they will be protected from hot, drying winds by steep slopes or trees. But the greatest saving of water is made with a pond of minimum area and maximum depth. Record of southwestern reservoirs show those more than twelve feet deep go dry much less frequently than those shallower.

TEACHERS SELECT ALBUQUERQUE FOR 1937

Albuquerque Saturday was selected as the 1937 convention city by the New Mexico Educational Association, balloting at Albuquerque.

Roswell was second in the vote, and Santa Fe third.

This was the closing business of the conference, which saw J. W. Wilferth of Springer elected president without opposition, succeeding J. R. McCollum.

Other officers named were: Herbert Prather, El Rito, vice president; Ed Martin, Deming, treasurer; C. O. Prevost, Silver City, and Adolfo Gonzales, Albuquerque, executive committee.

The association passed resolutions urging the non-partisan selection of judges and commending Tingley and Rodgers.

Cotton Grades Are About Same

The report on cotton classed from the southwest irrigated section, which includes the states of Arizona, New Mexico, California and Texas, district 1 (that section of Texas west of the Pecos river), indicated an increase in percentages of shorter lengths of staple, and a decreased percentage of extra white grades classed this week, compared with last week. The cotton classed this week from New Mexico shows more than 3.7 percent strict middling extra white and better grades and only 12.3 percent was white good middling and better this week. Also, 56.6 percent was white strict middling and 9.3 percent was white middling. Spotted grades constituted 18 percent of the cotton graded this week. The staple lengths of cotton classed were as follows: 1 and 1-1/32 inch was 61.5 percent; 1-1/16 to 1-3/32 inch was 33.8 percent.

All cotton classed this week and to date has been tenderable with exception of a small percent of cotton from Arizona.

MORE TRENCH SILOS

Looking forward to the preservation of an extra supply of the 1936 feed crops in Curry and Roosevelt counties, the extension division of the New Mexico State College has recently put on a series of silo meetings throughout the two counties, encouraging the farmers to construct trench silos in which to store some of their abundant feed crops. This year's feed crops are good, and it is hoped that enough silos will be constructed to not only save for the present needs but enough additional for an extra year's supply. It is known that well-preserved silage will keep for several years.—The Earth. Typewriters for Rent—The Advocate.

Milestones of American Genius

Longfellow memorial erected in Washington, D. C., in 1909; William Couper, sculptor.

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

OF all Americans whose written words have been deeply engraved on our national mind and heart, none has so strong a hold on popular affection as Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. The work of the great poet was diffused with a gentleness that heightens its beauty.
He was in a profound sense American. It was the folk story of his native land that inspired him most eloquently, in immortal narrative poems like "The Courtship of Miles Standish," "Hiawatha" and "Evangeline." The everyday affairs of his everyday New England world are reflected in little masterpieces that have become a part of our national tradition, like "The Village Blacksmith" and "The Children's Hour."
Longfellow was born at Portland, Maine, on February 27, 1807, into a comfortably fixed family. His life had the serenity one finds in his songs. After graduating Bowdoin College, he traveled for a year, then filled the chair of modern languages at the same college. As soon as he found economic independence in writing he gave up teaching to devote himself only to poetry.
Unlike the poets of tradition, Longfellow attained immense popularity and a comfortable income in his own lifetime. He was always accessible to aspiring young men, and his career was of a piece with his work in its noble lines.
When he died at the age of 75—in Cambridge, Mass., where he had passed most of his mature life—he had won himself a permanent place in our history. Wherever an American Hall of Fame exists, there the benign features of Longfellow are to be found. Poet, humanitarian, patriot—his memory is honored in tablets and monuments throughout the land.
The one shown in the illustration was erected by the Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Memorial Committee at the intersection of Connecticut and Rhode Island Avenues in the national capital.

Eddy County Farm News

Substantial progress is being made on measuring the lands of the farmers who are cooperating in the soil conservation program over the county, Fred Barham, county agent, reported here yesterday. Only about twelve farms remain to be measured, Mr. Barham reports. Measuring and tabulations on the various farms will be completed within the next few days.
Fifty-five range applications have been submitted to the county agent's office for participation in the range conservation program. Ranger Wiltbank has been in the county several days checking the carrying capacity of the various ranges. He has averaged about one ranch per day, but expects to make better time with the examination of the smaller ranches.

Tuesday's Vote—

republican ticket and the republican-fusion ticket. Although the 1932 vote in Eddy county gave the democrats a better percentage of votes, more votes were cast in 1936 than in 1932. Dennis Chavez led the county ticket in 1932 as a candidate for reelection as representative with 3,608 votes to 718 votes for his opponent. H. M. Dow of Roswell, candidate for lieutenant governor, led his republican opponent by a vote of 4,313 to 931 or better than four to one. Incidentally Mr. Dow led the state ticket while Dwight Lee, candidate for sheriff, left the county ticket with 4,490 votes to 884 votes for his fusion-republican opponent, Fulton Baker.

While the democratic ticket carried in Chaves county, the democrats did not fare so well as in Eddy. Dow, candidate for lieutenant governor, led the ticket in his home county, Chaves, and J. J. Dempsey, candidate for congress, was running second. The race was close between Tingley, democratic candidate for governor, and Jaffa Miller, republican candidate.

National Results

Today the president seems certain to have 523 electoral votes out of a total of 531. Just two states, with eight votes stood on Landon's side, Maine and Vermont. The nearest approach to the unanimity of the electoral college was in 1820 when James Monroe had only one vote cast against him.
Democrats were likewise winning the majority of places in congress. They are now practically sure of at least 300 seats in the house. They will also hold seventy-five seats in the senate.

Another significant thing connected with Tuesday's election is that it is apparent James Farley, national democratic chairman, is a good guesser. Monday, Mr. Farley stated that the democrats would lose only two states, Maine and Vermont. For a time it appeared that Mr. Farley had missed his guess as New Hampshire Tuesday night, but switched to the Roosevelt column on later returns.

In 1932 Roosevelt received 472 electoral votes to 59 for Hoover. Tabulations completed last night gave Roosevelt a popular vote of 24,628,442 to 15,423,055 for Landon. Mississippi gave Roosevelt the largest majority of any state with 21,683 votes for Roosevelt to 713 for Landon.

NEW CONTINENTAL OIL STATION BUILDING

Construction of a new washing and greasing building for the Continental Oil Company service station at Main and First streets is now under way.
The new building, which will cost several thousand dollars, will be of white glazed brick, with buff tile interior. Recent rapid expansion of Conoco trade in this area has necessitated erection of the new building, and these additional facilities will enable the company to materially improve its service to Artesia motorists.
Local labor will be employed.

FIFTH HAY CUTTING

Practically all of the fifth cutting of hay was finished before the recent cold weather set in. Considering the season the quality is fair. Choice hay is selling for approximately $12.00 per ton and better.

LOW TEMPERATURE

A cold norther Monday evening which swept the Pecos valley sent the government thermometer down to a new low of the season. The coldest reading Monday night was twenty-five above zero. Quite a bit of ice was reported over this area Tuesday morning. At one place in Kansas the mercury dropped fifty degrees in twelve hours.
Prevailing cold here killed practically all the remaining vegetation.

A Heart Attack Is Fatal To Joe Caston Friday

A heart attack proved fatal to Joe Caston, aged 45, well-known oil field worker, Friday. Mr. Caston died Friday shortly after the noon hour as he was working between two beds in the Caston home about five miles east of here. He was dead when the attending physician, Dr. H. A. Stroup, arrived at the Caston home about an hour after the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Caston, a native of Texas, moved with his family here from San Angelo, Texas, about eleven years ago and during his residence in this locality made his home in and near the Artesia oil field.

He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and seven children, Mary Jo, Henry, Bettie Lou, Clemence, Evelyn June, Lowell Thomas and Roberts Caston, all of Artesia; two sisters, Mrs. S. M. Winston of Miles, Texas, and Mrs. A. W. Bishop of Beaumont, Texas, and a brother, H. R. Caston of Leonard, Texas. Mrs. W. H. Johnson and son Weldon Johnson of Robert Lee, Texas, mother and nephew of Mrs. Caston, were among the out of state relatives to come here on receiving news of Mr. Caston's death.

Plans for holding the funeral at the First Presbyterian church Monday were abandoned and the body was shipped back to Bront, Texas, near where the funeral services will be held and burial made.

Better Health Campaign Is Sponsored By Palace Drug Store In Artesia

Lloyd C. Thompson, national director of the Physicians' Expansion Bureau, this week announced completion of plans to start a "Better Health" campaign in Artesia under the sponsorship of the Palace Drug Store. Plans were made by Thompson to initiate the health campaign following a series of conferences with some of the physicians of Artesia, he said.

Mr. Story states that this health program dovetails in with his ideas of the practice of ethical pharmacy and that he desires the messages to indelibly implant on the minds of the people of this vicinity the fact that modern medicine can conquer virtually every ill of mankind if treatment is begun soon enough. The importance of frequent physical examinations by a medical doctor is stressed in a series of health talks which will be released each week through the columns of The Artesia Advocate, according to Mr. Story.
A goal which the bureau has set before it, according to Mr. Thompson, is "to eliminate eventually every form of medical quackery and malpractice."

BORAH TRIUMPHS
BOISE, Idaho—Re-election of republican Senator William E. Borah, who already has spent thirty of his seventy-one years in the United States senate, appeared a certainty yesterday as incoming returns reared a rising toll for Idaho's "Lone Wolf" amid a simultaneous rush to Roosevelt.
Idaho Republican State Chairman C. A. Bottolfsen conceded defeat of all candidates of his party, except Senator William E. Borah.

Milestones of American Genius

OF all Americans whose written words have been deeply engraved on our national mind and heart, none has so strong a hold on popular affection as Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. The work of the great poet was diffused with a gentleness that heightens its beauty.
He was in a profound sense American. It was the folk story of his native land that inspired him most eloquently, in immortal narrative poems like "The Courtship of Miles Standish," "Hiawatha" and "Evangeline." The everyday affairs of his everyday New England world are reflected in little masterpieces that have become a part of our national tradition, like "The Children's Hour" and "The Village Blacksmith" and "The Ropes." Longfellow was born at Portland, Maine, on February 27, 1807, into a comfortably fixed family. His life had the serenity one finds in his songs. After graduating Bowdoin College, he travelled for a year, then filled the chair of modern languages at the same college. As soon as he found economic independence in writing he gave up teaching to devote himself only to poetry.
Unlike the poets of tradition, Longfellow attained immense popularity and a comfortable income in his own lifetime. He was always accessible to aspiring young men, and his career was of a piece with his work in its noble lines.
When he died at the age of 75—in Cambridge, Mass., where he had passed most of his mature life—he had won himself a permanent place in our history. Wherever an American Hall of Fame exists, there the benign features of Longfellow are to be found. Poet, humanitarian, patriot—his memory is honored in tablets and monuments throughout the land.
The one shown in the illustration was erected by the Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Memorial Committee at the intersection of Connecticut and Rhode Island Avenues in the national capital.

vote of 55.
Lon D. Merchant of Capitan, cattleman representative up for reelection in Lincoln county, defeated John Downing of the northeast portion of that county, 85 votes to 26.
Hal Hamill, incumbent sheepman member of Hope and Eddy county, defeated Wm. Muldrow of Carlsbad for that seat, 48 to 9.
The three representatives re-elected were nominated by the group showing approval of the administration of the act, while the defeated candidates were nominated from their representative counties by the protesting licensee members of the stockmen's association. Judges for the election were: John Lusk, Ed Downing and Ed Pruitt.

CAVERNS VISITORS CONTINUE TO BREAK RECORDS THIS YEAR

Crowds continue to go through the Caverns and every month of the present year has set a new record never before equaled in the history of the national monument. A total of 8,993 people went through the Caverns in October, 1936, making 141,452 visitors for the first ten months of the year and a total of 808,872 visitors since the establishment of the Caverns as a national monument. The visitors were from forty-eight states, the District of Columbia and twenty-two foreign countries.

Eddy County Farm News

Substantial progress is being made on measuring the lands of the farmers who are cooperating in the soil conservation program over the county, Fred Barham, county agent, reported here yesterday. Only about twelve farms remain to be measured, Mr. Barham reports. Measuring and tabulations on the various farms will be completed within the next few days.
Fifty-five range applications have been submitted to the county agent's office for participation in the range conservation program. Ranger Wilbank has been in the county several days checking the carrying capacity of the various ranges. He has averaged about one ranch per day, but expects to make better time with the examination of the smaller ranches.

republican ticket and the republican-fusion ticket. Although the 1932 vote in Eddy county gave the democrats a better percentage of votes, more votes were cast in 1936 than in 1932. Dennis Chavez led the county ticket in 1932 as a candidate for reelection as representative with 3,608 votes to 718 votes for his opponent, H. M. Dow of Roswell, candidate for lieutenant governor, led his republican opponent by a vote of 4,313 to 931 or better than four to one. Incidentally Mr. Dow led the state ticket while Dwight Lee, candidate for sheriff, left the county ticket with 4,490 votes to 884 votes for his fusion-republican opponent, Fulton Baker.

While the democratic ticket carried in Chavez county, the democrats did not fare so well as in Eddy. Dow, candidate for lieutenant governor, led the ticket in his home county, Chavez, and J. J. Dempsey, candidate for congress, was running second. The race was close between Tingley, democratic candidate for governor, and Jaffa Miller, republican candidate.

Chaves county, former home of Miller, gave Tingley 3,622 votes to 2,922 for Miller.

National Results
Today the president seems certain to have 523 electoral votes out of a total of 531. Just two states, with eight votes stood on Landon's side, Maine and Vermont. The nearest approach to the unanimity of the electoral college was in 1820 when James Monroe had only one vote cast against him.

Democrats were likewise winning the majority of places in congress. They are now practically sure of at least 300 seats in the house. They will also hold seventy-five seats in the senate.

Another significant thing connected with Tuesday's election is that it is apparent James Farley, national democratic chairman, is a good guesser. Monday, Mr. Farley stated that the democrats would lose only two states, Maine and Vermont. For a time it appeared that Mr. Farley had missed his guess as New Hampshire stayed in the Landon column Tuesday night, but switched to the Roosevelt column on later returns.

In 1932 Roosevelt received 472 electoral votes to 59 for Hoover. Tabulations completed last night gave Roosevelt a popular vote of 24,628,442 to 15,423,955 for Landon. Mississippi gave Roosevelt the largest majority of any state with 21,683 votes for Roosevelt to 713 for Landon.

NEW CONTINENTAL OIL STATION BUILDING

Construction of a new washing and greasing building for the Continental Oil Company service station at Main and First streets is now under way.

The new building, which will cost several thousand dollars, will be of white glazed brick, with buff tile interior. Recent rapid expansion of Conoco trade in this area has necessitated erection of the new building, and these additional facilities will enable the company to materially improve its service to Artesia motorists.
Local labor will be employed.

FIFTH HAY CUTTING

Practically all of the fifth cutting of hay was finished before the recent cold weather set in. Considering the season the quality is fair. Choice hay is selling for approximately $12.00 per ton and better.

LOW TEMPERATURE

A cold norther Monday evening which swept the Pecos valley set the government thermometer down to a new low of the season. The coldest reading Monday night was twenty-five above zero. Quite a bit of ice was reported over this area Tuesday morning. At one place in Kansas the mercury dropped fifty degrees in twelve hours.
Prevailing cold here killed practically all the remaining vegetation.

A Heart Attack Is Fatal To Joe Caston Friday

A heart attack proved fatal to Joe Caston, aged 45, well-known oil field worker, Friday. Mr. Caston died Friday shortly after the noon hour as he was working between two beds in the Caston home about five miles east of here. He was dead when the attending physician, Dr. H. A. Stroup, arrived at the Caston home about an hour after the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Caston, a native of Texas, moved with his family here from San Angelo, Texas, about eleven years ago and during his residence in this locality made his home in and near the Artesia oil field.

He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and seven children, Mary Jo, Henry, Bettie Lou, Clemence, Evelyn June, Lowell Thomas and Roberts Caston, all of Artesia; two sisters, Mrs. S. M. Winston of Miles, Texas, and Mrs. A. W. Bishop of Beaumont, Texas, and a brother, H. R. Caston of Leonard, Texas. Mrs. W. H. Johnson and son Weldon Johnson of Robert Lee, Texas, mother and nephew of Mrs. Caston, were among the out of state relatives to come here on receiving news of Mr. Caston's death.

Plans for holding the funeral at the First Presbyterian church Monday were abandoned and the body was shipped back to Bront, Texas, near where the funeral services will be held and burial made.

Better Health Campaign Is Sponsored By Palace Drug Store In Artesia

Lloyd C. Thompson, national director of the Physicians' Expansion Bureau, this week announced completion of plans to start a "Better Health" campaign in Artesia under the sponsorship of the Palace Drug Store. Plans were made by Thompson to initiate the health campaign following a series of conferences with some of the physicians of Artesia, he said.

Mr. Story states that this health program dovetails in with his ideas of the practice of ethical pharmacy and that he desires the messages to indelibly implant on the minds of the people of this vicinity the fact that modern medicine can conquer virtually every ill of mankind if treatment is begun soon enough. The importance of frequent physical examinations by a medical doctor is stressed in a series of health talks which will be released each week through the columns of The Artesia Advocate, according to Mr. Story.
A goal which the bureau has set before it, according to Mr. Thompson, is "to eliminate eventually every form of medical quackery and malpractice."

SCHICK TESTS

Approximately 150 pupils in the Central and Junior high schools were given the Schick test by Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer, and Mrs. G. C. Kinder, school nurse, Tuesday. Toxoid was administered to a number of pupils.
