Two Check Forgers Are Believed To Be Working This Way

Officials of the First National Bank and local officers have issued a warning relative to the activities of two alleged check forgers who are said to be heading up the valley. Two men pose as machinery salesmen working the rural territory and if a sale is made take a small check as down payment. Amounts of the checks are often raised, it is alleged, and some times other checks are forged after the crooks get the signature of the purchaser.

These men have been working west Texas, the most recent scene of their operation is said to be in the vicinity of Pecos, Texas, and Tuesday were said to have been headed for the Pecos valley.

Italy and Germany, the world's great Fascist powers, proclaimed a European "Fascist triumvirate" yesterday by formally recognizing the insurgent government of dictator-resignate Francisco Franco in Spain.

BIG CHRISTMAS GIFTS

NEW YORK—Several hundred million dollars will be swept into the pockets of workers and shareholders in American industry before the end of the year by a golden tide of wage boosts, extra dividends and Christmas bonuses.

A survey over the week-end showed wage increases totaling upwards of $100,000,000 annually for more than 1,000,000 workers in steel, motor, textile, meat packing and rubber industries.

Thousands of shareholders in seven big corporations will get about $162,000,000 from the year-end shower of extra dividends and workers nearly $25,000,000 in bonuses.

These figures will be augmented by pay and dividend increases from the treasuries of scores of smaller corporations.

It is expected to continue. It was pointed out in business quarters that wage increases tend to become infections, as indicated by the spread the last few days from steel to other industries.

Auto Accident Fatal To Mrs. Hinkly Saturday

Is Instantly Killed When Car Overturns Dexter Curve; Body Shipped to San Antonio, Texas, for Burial.

Mrs. H. F. Hinkly, aged 60, wife of Dr. H. F. Hinkly, physician at the CCC camp west of Lake Arthur, who have made their home at the Artesia hotel for several months, met instant death in an auto accident at a curve in the highway at Dexter Saturday night, while en route home from Roswell. Mrs. Hinkly was killed instantly when the car driven by Dr. Hinkly failed to make a sharp curve in the highway, known as "dead man's curve." Traveling alone, Dr. and Mrs. Hinkly are said to have left Roswell about 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening. Dr. Hinkly was driving about thirty miles an hour when he attempted to negotiate the curve and in attempting to apply his brakes his foot is believed to have slipped from the brake pedal and to have struck the accelerator, causing the car to jump ahead and go over the side of the road. The car overturned several times. Mrs. Hinkly's head was crushed from the impact with the windshield and her legs were broken. Dr. Hinkly escaped with a few scratches and bruises on his head and legs.

Dr. and Mrs. Hinkly had been with the CCC camp west of Lake Arthur since January, coming here from San Benito, Texas. The body of Mrs. Hinkly was carried to Roswell and from there shipped to San Antonio, Texas, for cremation and burial there. Aside from her husband, Mrs. Hinkly is survived by a son, Edward Hinkly of San Benito, Texas, and one sister, Mrs. Burlingame of Long Beach, California.

Stroke Is Fatal To Mrs. Buck, Pioneer Woman

Dies Yesterday Morning After Illness of Almost A Week; Three Sons And Daughter At Bedside When End Comes.

Mrs. L. R. Buck, aged 73, wife of L. R. Buck of the Cottonwood community, pioneer resident of southeastern New Mexico, passed away at the Buck home yesterday morning after suffering a stroke of paralysis last Thursday morning. She never regained consciousness and never spoke during her last illness. Members of the family realized from the time of the fatal stroke, that her passing would be only a matter of time. She was stricken last Thursday while en route to the Noah Buck home. About three months previous she suffered a light stroke, but apparently experienced little ill effects from it.

Mrs. Buck, a resident of this section for more than thirty years, first lived in the Roswell vicinity before moving to this section where she has since resided with her husband on the Cottonwood. Mr. Buck has resided in this section since 1888.

Surviving Mrs. Buck are a husband, four sons, W. F. Davis of Shattuck, Oklahoma; O. B. Davis of Ringling, Oklahoma; Otho Davis of Oiltown, Oklahoma, and Chas. Davis of Los Angeles, California, and one daughter, Mrs. Freeman Morris of Shattuck, Oklahoma.

All members of the immediate family were at her bedside when the end came, except one son, Chas. Davis of Los Angeles, California, who was unable to make the trip here on account of ill health.

It was announced yesterday that funeral services would be held this afternoon at 1:00 p. m., from the Church of the Nazarene, with the Rev. E. L. Askins, pastor, officiating. The body will be taken to Roswell for burial.

Many Renters May Own Land In A New Plan

WASHINGTON—A huge plan to lift part of the nation's 2,800,000 tenant farmers and sharecroppers into the ranks of independent land owners appeared yesterday to be headed for congressional action.

Secretary Wallace and a committee named by the president to draft the program face the situation.

In 1880 there were 3,000,000 American farm owners and 1,000,000 tenants. Last year tenants numbered 2,800,000—a gain of 180 per cent—while owners total 3,900,000—an increase of only 32 per cent.

The oldest reason for this trend government experts said, was the tobacco and cotton crop system of the south with large plantations and need for cheap labor.

The depression of 1920 and the crash of 1929, with their foreclosures and liquidations, converted many farm owners into tenants.

Finally, some critics asserted that reduced acreages, of important crops under federal farm adjustment programs added to the number of shifting, jobless tenants.

Gov. Tingley Asks Short Session Of State Legislature

Governor Wants Regular Session To Wind Up Its Work In From Thirty To Forty-Five Days; Program Is Ready.

SANTA FE—Because of the likelihood of a special session of the legislature to enact correlated legislation with federal laws that may come from congress, Governor Clyde Tingley said Monday he will ask the state legislature to wind up its work in the regular session in thirty or forty days.

"If a second session is necessary," he said, "we don't want the two to cost more than one regular session would cost."

In an effort to expedite the regular session the governor will have a program of legislation ready to lay before the solons on the opening day, he said.

Two laws already under consideration are a new port of entry measure and social security legislation. "The port of entry law will be made suitable to the farmers who seem to have been the only ones adversely affected except for a few tourist complaints," he said. "And so far as tourists are concerned the law won't affect them at all."

The new social security law will remodel completely the public welfare law and bring it up to date, he said. "It may even have to be amended after congress adjourns to coincide with any changes made in the federal law," he said.

"There should be no increase in taxes," the governor said of that subject. He said he would call for greater economies in operation of state departments and "unnecessary luxuries in departments and institutions will be dispensed with." Particularly he will watch out-of-state travel expense.

The governor said a program of secondary road construction for next year now is being worked out and he added he would take up with the state's congressional delegation the proposal of obtaining more federal funds for the program.

About school construction, the governor said his plans were to ask WPA officials to give first consideration in new projects throughout the state to rural school buildings so that "during the next two years we can complete the program of remodeling or replacing all old rural schools."

Well Plugging Crew Now At Work on the Old Brown Oil Well

A well plugging crew operating under the direction of the Pecos Valley Water Conservancy District, which has plugged several abandoned artesian wells in the south end of the basin recently moved to the old Brown oil well, six miles southeast of Artesia. Clifford Smith, well supervisor, said he anticipated the plugging of this well which has been flowing salt water for several years would be a difficult task. The well has subbed several acres of land and has flowed untamed for some time.

Another plugging crew is working in the vicinity of Dexter. Mr. Smith also announced inspection of wells was underway at the present time. It will likely take all winter to make a thorough inspection of all wells in the basin, he said.

BLAST KILLS MANY

SAINT CHAMAS, France—One of France's biggest powder factories blew up Monday, killing an estimated thirty-five persons and injuring more than 200.

Local gendarmes who made the estimate of the casualties described a series of terrific explosions which shook the entire town and could be heard ten miles throughout the countryside.

The first thunderous blast in one of the storehouses sent a column of smoke and flames roaring into the sky.

Before trapped workers in the factory had time to run for their lives, the gendarmes said, a shower of flaming timbers struck the roofs of other storehouses and the factory itself, causing quick successive explosions.

Within a few minutes the buildings were a pile of flaming ruins. A few of those injured who were not knocked senseless staggered from the burning buildings and collapsed.

Ross Conner, Resident of This Section 30 Years, Dies In Wickinburg, Arizona, Sunday After Brief Illness.

Ross Conner, aged forty-eight, of Wickinburg, Arizona, and a former resident of Artesia, died Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock after a short illness, according to word received here. While it was known that Mr. Conner was in ill health, his death was unexpected and was a shock to friends and relatives here. A brother, Abe Conner, accompanied by his wife and son Jack, left for Wickinburg Sunday on receiving the sad news. The death of Mr. Conner was due to kidney and bladder trouble.

Mr. Conner, a member of a pioneer eastern New Mexico family, had lived in this section for thirty years before moving to Arizona two years ago. During his residence in New Mexico he engaged in the ranching business except for a short time he was associated with his brother, Ed Conner, in the operation of the City Market, and for the time spent as city marshal and deputy sheriff. For a number of years he operated a ranch in the Estancia valley and was operating a ranch near Wickinburg, Arizona, at the time of his death.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Following the plan of last year, there will be a community Thanksgiving service on Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving Day. The service will be held at the Methodist church with ministers of the several churches taking part, and with lots of congregational singing on the program. In view of the probability that places of business will be open later than usual, it was thought wise to place the time of the service at 8:00 o'clock.

Start making plans now to be present and let us come together as a community for a great service of Thanksgiving and praise.

Watch for further announcement in The Advocate next week (Wednesday).

DISTRIBUTION OF TALENT

The economist views education uniquely. At least Professor Thomas Nixon Carver does.

Professor Carver says that the bad distribution of wealth is mainly due to the bad distribution of human talent, and that the most constructive program for improving the distribution of wealth would be an educational program for improving the occupational distribution of human talent.

Common laborers receive low pay because so many men are fit only for the crudest kind of manual labor. Restriction of immigration is reducing this evil surplus. Disagreeable common labor, such as the collection of garbage, already commands a wage that is comparable to that paid in genteel occupations.

If there were just enough competent men in every type of human activity, the scale of pay in each line would be approximately the same. The best in each occupation would get the same high income and the worst would be on an equal, but lower, basis. The ideal educational system, therefore, should seek to train men as fast as it can for those lines in which talent is rare. It should discourage men from training for work in which the competition is already keen.

College professors, untrained in economics, sometimes resent receiving salaries that do not compare favorably with the incomes of delicatessen merchants. Instead of berating the system that permits this inequality, they might determine that their sons shall train for the proprietorship of delicatessen stores.

Right now, mass education is effecting a noticeable change in the salaries that high school and college graduates can command. It is not uncommon for a college graduate never in his life to make as much money as a comparatively illiterate carpenter or structural iron-worker. A newspaper editor recently confessed that in the immediate years ahead the army of chronically unemployed would more largely consist of college graduates than of common laborers. The college men are crowding to suffocation the fields that seem to befit their dignity. Wages in these lines not only are low, but jobs are unobtainable at any wage.

We may conceivably see the day when the top men in all work will receive approximately the same pay. Meanwhile the world will pay a premium for talent that is scarce. Judgment, discretion, courage, initiative, and leadership are some of the uncommon qualities today. To increase their supply is one of the foremost tasks of an educational system.—Exchange.

WILL YOUR NAME BE NEXT?

The past summer was one of the worst on record in the matter of automobile accidents and deaths.

And the most dangerous driving months are still to come—the months of rain and ice, and few daylight hours.

Every season sees better, more scientifically designed highways—and yet accidents grow worse, both in number and severity. Every year sees stronger, more easily controlled, and mechanically safer cars—yet the carnage grows.

It is true that a percentage of accidents can be directly attributed to mechanical failure of automobiles, or to road conditions. This percentage marks but a very small part of the total of crashes. The human element is responsible, and alone responsible, for the great majority of accidents, minor or major.

Worst menace of all is the driver who attempts to push the throttle through the floor-board—who operates his car at excessive speeds. And excessive speed is a flexible term—there are times when fifty is safe, and fifteen too fast.

Then there are the drivers who pass on hills and curves, who hog the centerline, who allow their car to wander to the wrong side of the road—and drivers who commit a thousand and one driving errors that may save a minute, and may also send themselves and others into eternity.

You see many headlines like: "Five Killed When Cars Collide." You read the names of the victims, go on to other articles and forgot all about them. Next time you see such a headline just reflect that your name, or the name of a friend or loved one, may be in the next similar list of corpses. Then it won't be so easy to forget.

SPORTSMANSHIP NECESSARY TO GAME PRESERVATION

Sportsmanship is necessary to the preservation of our game. Game laws passed for the protection of the game bird, migratory waterfowl, etc., may help, but will not prevent the extinction of certain species of birds and animals now afforded some protection. Good sportsmanship is essential therefore in the propagation of game. Good sportsmanship means that the hunter observes the rules and regulations for the good of game. It means the hunter stops when he gets his bag limit. It means the hunter does not shoot game birds, game animals or waterfowl out of season.

Officials have recently called attention to the fact that quail are scarce in some sections of the country because the greedy or thoughtless hunters have killed quail during the dove hunting season, which falls a few weeks earlier than the quail season. Of course hunters could be prosecuted if caught shooting quail out of season, but catching the guilty ones presents the big if.

State game officials will probably be either forced to make the quail and dove season the same time or else close the quail season altogether. In either event the arrangement will not be as satisfactory as the present one.

Disregard of the game laws is definitely on the increase and unless violations are reported the selfish hunter will ruin a sport enjoyed by all.

WARS

The only redeeming feature of the Spanish revolution is that it gives the newspaper headline writer an opportunity to spread a streamer across the front page. Aside from the human interest in any sort of war, the conflict brings death, poverty, bloodshed, headaches, and debts. Ten years from now students of Spain will wonder what the fight now was all about. If the human race had the foresight to look at least a decade ahead wars would be forever ended.

But that's the trouble in trying to kill off the fellow who does not agree with you. Such a short-sighted theory always takes its toll.

If you do not want your car stolen, take the key out of the switch when you park your automobile. Cars are frequently stolen where all precautions are taken, but a car with the key ready to go is a temptation too great to pass by with a few stranded transients. Officers point out that a car with a tank half full of gasoline will provide a way for the traveler to go a hundred or a hundred and fifty miles. When the gas is exhausted the transient simply abandons the car and proceeds on his way. He may travel several hundred miles in this manner and still keep the few dollars he may have.

"People's judgment of the value of public and private works are at best very fallible. Of both public and private works of an earlier day a large part has become obsolete. If we could tell what of our proposed work will best endure and what will be ephemeral, great waste of public and private money and effort might sometimes be saved."—A. E. Morgan, Chairman, Tennessee Valley Authority.

Mrs. Newlywed: "I think it must be his teeth."

Mr. Newlywed: "Then I'll phone for the dentist and have him pull them out. It's a shame for the little fellow to have to suffer so."

Jones: "Wonder watch? Never heard of that before."

Little Girl: "Keep off the grass."

lonely road. Suddenly from under the hood came a terrific knocking. The car came to a stop.

He: "Heck, I wonder what that knock is?"

She: "I think it's opportunity, baby."

He had one arm upon the wheel. Quite joyful was his ride. The other arm was wrapped around the "sweetie" by his side. A copper yelled "use both your hands"

In a voice that carried far. "I can't," that loving swain replied. "I have to steer the car."

Lots of times a man is wrongfully accused. You would not call a man a bigamist, for instance, who supports his wife and his son's wife.

A republican told us the public admired Washington for his ability in pitching a dollar across the Potomac river and that they must have admired Roosevelt still more in throwing four billion dollars clear across the continent.

Notes on local celebrities: Old Hollis Watson sure likes most any kind of oysters and is said to be an expert oyster fisher, that is of one kind of oysters. Dick Clowe is a hard hitter when it comes to playing golf. He broke six inches off his driving stick. Perl Morris has advanced a new reason why the WPA boys did not vote for Landon, but we will let him tell it.

Jack Kennedy says he is going to dress in red the next time he goes deer hunting so his wife can find him, but then he might have trouble with the bulls.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE GASOLINE AND MOTOR OIL

ON DISPLAY at all Buick Showrooms

SENSATIONAL is the fervor with which the American public has taken to its heart the brilliant motor cars offered by Buick this year.

Indeed, the sweeping success of the 1936 Buick program flatly challenged us and our great parent General Motors to a momentous decision.

Should we continue this amazingly popular line of cars into next year, perhaps the prudent thing to do—or should we dare broad improvement upon their spectacular excellence?

We felt there was only one right answer to that question, the bold and progressive answer—and that's why insiders now forecasting 1937 are already saying: "It's Buick again!"

That's why on top of $15,000,000 recently spent re-tooling and re-equipping Buick's great plant, we appropriated and are now spending $14,500,000 more.

That's why every car in the 1937 Buick line—the SPECIAL, the CENTURY, the ROADMASTER and the LIMITED—is a triumph visibly and intrinsically outranking anything we have ever done.

Each has more beauty for dazzling style, more power for breath-taking action, more room for full-family comfort, more downright "road-command" for safety and pleasure.

See them—then you'll know why Buick's soaring sales curve is headed for yet loftier altitudes next year.

YOU'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES!

You can afford the new Buick. It's easy to buy and thrifty to own. With all its quality, its phenomenal performance and stunning style, prices start as low as $765 and up list at Flint, Mich.

General Motors terms to suit your liking. Safety glass included. accessories extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Only Two Men Who Believe War Will Not Come To Europe Soon

PARIS—The only two men in Europe who don't believe that war will come (Bernard Shaw said it first) are Adolph Hitler and Benito Mussolini. That makes it easy for Mussolini, France now declares, to assert that the future of world peace rotates around an axis whose hubs are Rome and Berlin, so long as those two gentlemen are convinced of the pacific earnings of the only democracies left in Europe, they can keep on chiseling.

On the assumption that "gratitude is a vivid sense of favors to come," France is not astonished by the ingratitude of Mussolini toward herself. The facts that ex-Premier Laval handed the Duce a big slice of Africa, sided with him for months in his preparations for the Ethiopian war, that France fought off sanctions so long and so hard that they had no success as hindrances to his victory, mean little to Italy today when she says that if France high-hats her, she can also high-hat France. France expected no more.

At the same time, under the present regime here, Italy isn't going to get any more favors. The doublecrossing by which Italy agreed to France's neutrality proposal for Spain and then proceeded to fight Spain's rebels' war for them, with planes, tanks, personnel and staff organization, has put a terminus to whatever "co-Latin" feeling might have existed here in the past, as far as the government in power is concerned.

French republicans do not like the idea of the possible appearance of similar Italian intrusion in fighting a local civil war, although it is clear that many Frenchmen today would welcome both Italian and Nazi help to overthrow Leon Blum. Frenchmen are "conservative" in a dynastic sense, and it is no forgotten here that during France's great revolution herds of the best-blooded Frenchmen then existing did not hesitate to attack their own country under the banners of the "army of Coblenz." It has long been asserted that among these "Coblenz patriots" were the ancestors of Colonel Casimir de la Roquette.

When Mussolini, therefore, announced the beginning of a new era in Europe, with the old Versailles and league arrangements wiped off the slate, France could take it. She knew what was in the Duce's mind already. But one thing in Mussolini's Milan speech has set all Paris ironically chuckling. That was the plain ultimatum which the Fascist leader gave to Great Britain. Behind the chuckle was the fear that, again, Great Britain would accept the immediate fact and let the future go. Will Britain allow Signor Mussolini to dictate the terms under which Britain may continue to use the Mediterranean route to India, or will she not? France would like to know the answer.

It is a rather new and striking thing for France to be able to feel that intrinsically she is right, as far as her European relations go. For years France was the brake on the wheels of progress toward peace, particularly her attitude toward Germany, and Britain wasn't slow in telling her so. Now, while the present government no doubt regrets that French intransigence halted the early steps toward disarmament, there is a sort of satisfaction in knowing that Britain, taking Italy's and Germany's part in the past, is now wringing a painful hand that has been thoroughly mangled.

Paris is aware that one thing which Count Ciano learned in Berlin was that Germany appreciated Britain's friendship and would do nothing to hinder it, just now. This was rather a bitter pill for Italy to swallow, but it seems clear that Hitler has a much more realistic sense, these days, of the possible power of Britain than the flamboyant Duce.

What France is asking—France having long since swallowed the idea that Britain still carries a big stick in European affairs—is what Britain's reaction will be to the Mussolini thunder. Will she take it? The future of democracy in Europe may depend upon this response. Maybe, France fears, Great Britain doesn't realize that this is true.

Artesia Loses To Portales 13 To 0

The hefty Portales squad won a thirteen to nothing victory over Artesia Friday afternoon, at the high school field, using power-house football to score a touchdown in the second and fourth quarters. The Artesia team never seriously threatened to score and were kept on the defensive practically all of the four quarters. The poor punting displayed by the local lads was largely responsible for the style of playing the team was forced to use. A few passes were completed, but in the main they were unsuccessful, due to a heavy Portales backfield. Portales missed a chance for at least another touchdown by fumbles.

The Bulldogs are pointing to their closing game with Carlsbad Thanksgiving at Carlsbad. The two teams are rated about equal, according to current dope.

The starting lineup:

ARTESIA	Pos.	PORTALES
Johnson	qb	Spence
Womack	fb	Landers
Haines	hb	Briggs
Conner	rf	Bousman
Irby	le	Willis
Lapsley	lt	Haynie
Stuart	lg	Landers
Robertson	c	Click
Garner	rg	Cardin
Richards	rt	Tyson
Tidwell	re	Powell

Substitutions: Artesia: Shearman for Haines. Portales: Ellison for Willis, Prices for Landers, Burke for Cardin, Neeley for Powell.

POTASH OUTPUT

The American Potash Institute announced Monday that potash deliveries within the continental United States, Canada, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Hawaii during the third quarter of the calendar year 1936 amounted to 93,327 tons of actual K2O. This was equivalent to 170,456 tons of potash salts.

Constituting this total were 133,461 tons of muriate, 9,843 tons of manure salts, 18,281 tons of sulphate, 7,268 tons of Kainit, and 1,603 tons of sulphate of potash magnesias. These figures include salts of domestic and foreign origin, exclusive of importations of potassium nitrate.

Number Farmers Move Frequently

More than one out of every six farm operators in the United States on January 1, 1935, had operated the farm they occupied less than one year, according to a United States summary of the 1935 federal farm census released recently by Director William L. Austin of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. There were 1,197,204 farmers who had first begun operation of their farm less than a year before the census date, as compared with 1,005,211 farmers who had been working the farm reported upon less than one year on April 1, 1930. This group includes those who have moved from one farm to another in the year next preceding January 1st, 1935. Every state in the union except Kansas shows an increase in the number operating the farm enumerated, for less than one year. States showing the largest number were: Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Georgia, each of these states showing an increase of more than 10,000 over the number reported in 1930.

The number of farm operators in the United States who gave a report for the date of beginning operations on the particular land occupied on January 1, 1935, was 6,677,242, or 98 per cent of all operators. Of the total reporting, 18 per cent had been operating their farm less than one year, 26 per cent less than two years, 44 per cent less than five years, 60 per cent less than ten years, and 72 per cent less than fifteen years. The number of all operators who had operated their farm fifteen years or more shows an increase of from 1,596,159, or 26 per cent of the total reporting in 1930, to 1,905,648, or 28 per cent of the total in 1935.

For the United States, exclusive of the south, 11 per cent of all farm operators had been working their farms less than one year and 35 per cent fifteen years or more. The corresponding percentages for the western states were 13 per cent and 23 per cent, and for the southern states 25 per cent and 23 per cent. Among the individual states the range in the percentage of operators with less than one year occupancy was a high of 34 per cent in Georgia and a low of 5 per cent in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. For those who had been on their farm fifteen years or more the highest percentage, 46, was reported in Maine and the lowest, 16, in Mississippi.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK IS BEING OBSERVED HERE

National Book Week is being observed over the entire nation this week and in keeping with this the local library board has joined with the local librarian in setting aside Friday as Library Day in Artesia.

Mrs. S. E. Ferree, who has served as president of the library board for more than ten years, and her entire board, composed of the following: Mmes. B. D. Buckles, Ella Bauslin, Ballard Spencer, T. S. Cox, F. G. Hartell, C. O. Brown, Will Ballard, Arba Green, Effie Wingfield and Mrs. Ella Hewitt, librarian, also Miss Glenna McLean, assistant librarian, will be hostesses to students of the junior high school throughout the day Friday.

The children, formed in groups, accompanied by a teacher, will visit at each hour of the day from 9:00 o'clock in the morning to 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Each group will be prepared to give some form of entertainment. Both new and old books for boys and girls of their ages will be on display. Through this medium it is hoped that junior boys and girls will be encouraged to use the library and through informal lectures they will become more familiar with the public library.

The public is invited to visit the library especially this week and volume or volumes which they might care to donate will be gladly received throughout the week. Artesia citizens might take advantage of this invitation and observe just how crowded and how inconvenient some of the arrangements are at the present time, maybe the question which is being asked by many, "Why not a community club house with new quarters for the library in Artesia?" will become a more popular question.

Visit your library this week, take those volumes which you do not have room for on your shelves or that you have finished with.

A light refreshment course was served by the hostess, Mrs. Dean.

The regular meeting was held at 2:30 with Mrs. Hightower in the chair. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. G. U. McCrary, who had charge of the Stunt Day program which was repeated again as a benefit Monday evening at the Central auditorium and which netted a satisfactory sum to the club. A vote of thanks was also extended to all who took part and especially to those who were not club members.

Mrs. I. L. Spratt, hostess of the afternoon, introduced Miss Dorothy Gilmore, who rendered two lovely violin numbers, with Mrs. Spratt at the piano. Mrs. Leslie Martin was guest speaker and gave as her contribution to "Progress Through Appreciation of Literature" an intensely interesting report of "The Brownings" (Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning, beloved poets) by Osbert Burdett. It was a pleasant hour for those who heard Mrs. Martin and a rare treat with club members who were not present may consider their loss.

PEARSONS COMPLIMENT GUEST AT DINNER SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pearson were host and hostess Sunday at a beautifully appointed dinner, served at noon, complimenting Mrs. Pearson's cousin, Lawrence Nelson of Rock Island, Illinois.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Guy, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pearson, Mrs. Laura Watson, Mrs. Selma Thompson, Oscar Samelson, Mr. Nelson and the host and hostess.

Methodist church folks met at the church Wednesday evening, November 11th, for a church social, welcoming their new pastor, the Rev. John S. Rice and family.

A warm welcome was extended by Dr. H. A. Stroup in behalf of the board of stewards, by Mrs. Reed Brainard from the missionary society, by Dr. Edward Stone from the Sunday school, and by Harold Hannah from the Epworth League. The Rev. Rice, who came to the church here from Tucumcari, where he served the Methodist church there for the past four years, responded in a pleasing manner.

During a social hour which followed, Mrs. H. A. Stroup was in charge of appropriate games which included both old and young. Members of the missionary society served light refreshments to a large number who were present on this occasion.

CHURCH WELCOMES PASTOR AND FAMILY

Mrs. D. A. Miller was hostess Friday at the Artesia hotel when she entertained members of the Bridge of the Month. A delicious one o'clock luncheon was served in the Coffee Shop.

Those enjoying the games of contract which followed on the mezzanine floor were: Mmes. Earl Bigler, Howard Whitson, L. P. Evans, Kenneth Williams, C. J. Dexter, Charles Morgan, Miss Catherine Ragsdale and the hostess. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. Bigler and second high to Mrs. Morgan.

Happy Birthday To You!

THE breath-taking moment of every birthday party is the cutting of the cake—and the best cake that can be baked is none too good for the "birthday child." It looks as if the chocolate birthday cake idea had taken hold—for celebrants from 7 to 70 are demanding chocolate cakes. For the little folks mothers make individual chocolate sponge cakes, frost and decorate them and adorn them with a candle—a tactful way of disposing of that juvenile "second helping" problem.

Chocolate Birthday Cake
 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
 2 eggs or 3 egg yolks, unbeaten
 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
 1 cup milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Sift flour once, measure, add soda, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased deep 9-inch layer pans or three greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Spread your favorite chocolate frosting between layers

Fifty-Five Amateur Musicians Compete In Broadcast Yesterday

Approximately fifty-five amateur musicians competed in Artesia's first trades day and amateur broadcast staged here yesterday. Sound equipment of Lloyd Lee was used and a temporary stage was erected on the lot across from the L. P. Evans Shop for the use of the contestants. Forty-four dollars in prize money was awarded the winners in the various events. The prize money was made possible by donations of the business men and the Chamber of Commerce. Musicians from Hope, Lake Arthur, Hagerman and Dexter competed.

The Hope high school orchestra won the grand prize of $15.00 for renditions of several numbers over the microphone. James Holland of Dexter won first prize in the vocal solo contest, rendering a cowboy song with a guitar accompaniment. Wayne Adams of Lake Arthur won second prize with a cowboy song. A girl octet from Lake Arthur, composed of Alto Evans, Mary Bell Moots, June Moots, Lucile Richards, Emily Tice, Annie Jo Pate, Ruth Walden and Mabel Mills won first in a vocal number and second in tap dancing. The Sadler sisters of Hagerman won first in a vocal duet. Ruth Ford of Hagerman won second in a vocal solo. Bertha Mae Lawing of Hagerman won second in a violin solo. Dorothy Gilmore of Artesia won first in a violin solo. Coleman West of Artesia and J. S. Holland of Dexter won first in a string duet, with a guitar and violin. ## Cotton Staple Lengths Gain

The report on cotton classed from the southwest irrigated section, which includes the states of Arizona, New Mexico, California, and Texas, district 1 (that section of Texas west of the Pecos river), indicated an increase in percentages of longer lengths of staple in California and New Mexico, and an increased percentage of spotted grades classed this week in Arizona and New Mexico.

The cotton classed this week from New Mexico shows that 18.4 per cent was white good middling and better. Also, 46.1 per cent was white strict middling, and 13.2 per cent was white middling. Spotted grades constituted 21.8 per cent of the cotton grades this week. The staple lengths of cotton classed were as follows: 15/16 and 31/32 inch was nearly 6 per cent; 1 and 1-1/32 inch was 19.1 per cent; 1-1/16 to 1-3/32 inch was 67 per cent, and 1-1/8 inch and longer was 7.9 per cent.

These reports will be issued weekly throughout the active ginning season and may be obtained free upon request. This report does not include American-Egyptian cotton ginned.

N. M. Land Office Funds Increase

SANTA FE—State Land Commissioner Frank Vesely announced last night that distributions from the public lands department to state funds in October reached $351,823.17 which he said was a new high record for the department in any month.

The total diverted to the income funds was $191,330.55, while $109,995.52 went to the permanent funds of the institutions. The state lands maintenance fund received $50,386.54 while $150.56 was diverted to the commissioner's sales expenses.

Total income of the various funds was $239,163.18, which, less the 20 per cent maintenance sum to the land department, left $191,330.55 for distribution to the income fund.

"I interpret this as a sure indication that business conditions throughout the state are improving—and improving on a sound basis," Vesely said.

He described the state agricultural college as "the most fortunate" of the state institutions, attributing this to seven oil wells now producing on college land and three more now being drilled.

Expressing hope that the University of New Mexico would be the next institution to "become lucky and get in on this liquid gold," Vesely said prospects are favorable, with drilling now going forward on university land which is surrounded by oil producers in the Monument area.

Mrs. S. S. Ward and daughter Miss Jack expect to leave Monday with another daughter, Mrs. Guy Reed Brainard and young son, Stephen Ward, of Henderson, Texas, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ward, and also Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Brainard, and who is returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake returned Friday from Scipio, Indiana, where they spent the summer on their farm near Scipio. Mr. Blake planned to return earlier this year but had to stay he said to help Jim Farley hold the election. When he arrived here he was quite surprised to read in The Advocate that he had returned about ten days previous.

Eddy County Farm News

Measuring of farm land under the new soil conservation act has been practically completed in Eddy county, except the verification of the acreage, Fred Barham, county agent, announced here yesterday.

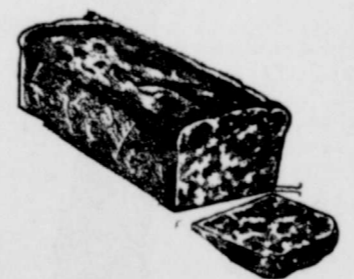

Failure of the producer to cooperate with the supervisor has caused considerable difficulty in getting an accurate check on all lands supposed to be under the new program, Mr. Barham said. A new supervisor will make a recheck on some of the measurements and it is vitally important that the farmer or producer cooperate in giving needed information. Approximately 35,000 acres in the county will be under the new plan in 1937.

Seventy-five applications have been submitted to participate in the range program of Eddy county. The above applications cover approximately 800,000 acres. Two-thirds of the applications submitted have been checked by the range examiners. Ranchers should submit applications at once, if they contemplate cooperating with the plan and have not yet made application.

Four experimental plots of winter vetch in the county are coming along nicely, Mr. Barham reports. The experimental plots in north Eddy county are located on the farms of Martin Yates and Jack McClure. If winter vetch can be grown successfully it will solve the green manure problem.

An additional 3,000 acres in the county have been planted to alfalfa, Mr. Barham reports, which indicates farmers are taking more interest in soil building crop. Alfalfa acreage now amounts to approximately 11,000 acres against 8,000 in 1935.

Big Shipment of Cattle Leaves the Pens Week End

One of the largest cattle shipments to be loaded out of the local pens were shipped out Saturday and Sunday. In a four-day period a total of 1,438 head were loaded out to feed lots and to market beginning with a shipment of 117 cattle sold by J. P. Parks, Hope rancher, to Joe Nunn. The 117 head were in turn sold to L. B. Merrell, Clovis cattle buyer, who shipped the cattle to Seymour, Texas. Saturday the Flying H ranch northwest of here, shipped 425 cattle to grass and pasture at Littlefield, Texas. Saturday and Sunday a total of 677 head of cows and calves, principally from the Jernigan ranch, were shipped to market and to feed lots. Out of the 677 head, 510 calves were sold to Armstrong and Armstrong of Roswell, who shipped to pasture and feed at Seymour, Texas.

Sellers of the 677 head included: Alvie Jernigan, 38; Chas. Hepler, 12; Ross Middleton, 9; J. P. Bell, 77; C. R. Parker, 53; Arvil Jernigan, 42; E. E. Jernigan, 446. This herd of cattle was driven through to the Santa Fe pens here without the loss of a single cow or calf. In another shipment were thirty-three head belonging to R. L. Cole of Hope and 126 head belonging to Cy Bunting, also of Hope.

Four cars of cattle bought from the Tom Runyan ranch on Lower Penasco and the Sol Van Cleve ranch at Pinon were moved out yesterday, two cars going from Lakewood and two from here. Triplett and Son were the purchasers. The cattle were consigned to Galesburg, Illinois, where they will be placed on pasture.

Judge N. C. Doering, sage of the Cottonwood, who was in to pay his respects to The Advocate yesterday, says the cotton crop will be short in his vicinity this year due to the early September freeze.

Vernon Bryan and Messrs. and Mmes. C. R. Blocker and W. C. Martin drove over to El Paso, Texas, Saturday to view the Printers Progress Special, a train load of modern printing machinery, sponsored by the American Type Founders.

Jerry Chestnutt of San Angelo, Texas, vice president of the Republic Production Co., was a business visitor here yesterday.

Southern Eddy county gins have turned out a total of 10,808 bales, according to tabulations completed yesterday.

Promotion

A county commissioner who is a very good friend of mine once accused me of "promoting." He suspected me I think of trying to wring money from the taxpayers just for the fun of it. To the charge of promoting high expenditure as an end in itself I plead not guilty. But I confess that I am a promoter. My hobby is high standards. In public health administration second best is never good enough. A slip in technique may mean an epidemic. Important industries, as for example milk production, may suffer serious loss through an error in judgment or a careless analysis. Knowing how to talk to a child and to the child's parents makes all the difference between persuading and failing to persuade into the ways of health and the prevention of sickness and death.

The greatest enemy of high standards is the thing called patronage. It makes no difference whether the "influence" that pulls strings is political, avuncular, or derived from the most unselfish desire to do someone a good turn. Whenever an appointment is made for any other reason than merit, standards are let down.

I repeat patronage is our greatest enemy but low salaries comes next. We live in a competitive social system. If New Mexico pays second class salaries someone else will get the first class service. I am afraid it is true even today that all of the brightest students graduated from our New Mexico colleges do not stay at home.

Officials Predict Much Activity In N. Mex. Oil Area

Heavy drilling activity in southeastern New Mexico during the next eighteen months is forecast as a result of the official visit of Hale B. Soyster, Washington, D. C., chief of the oil and gas leasing division of the federal government and a party of division officials who made an airplane inspection of the eastern New Mexico and west Texas oil field Saturday, and a more careful survey of the Hobbs field by car Sunday.

Members of the party included Mr. Soyster, John M. Alden, Tulsa, mid-continental supervisor for the oil and gas leasing division of the federal government, and Thomas J. Taylor and Ernest A. Hanson of Roswell, district federal engineers of the same service.

The government men seemed very much enthused over prospects of the eastern New Mexico oil fields, particularly the Hobbs field, says the Hobbs News.

Object of the official inspection tour was described by Hanson as "an inspection to review progress made in gas and oil development in the last twelve months with special reference to the development of the field."

The party made a tour of the oil fields in two airplanes loaned for the occasion by the Oil Well Drilling Co., and the Trinity Drilling Co. Accompanying the official party were Hugh Johnston, district superintendent of the Continental Oil Co., and E. N. Coolinton, petroleum engineer for the Continental. They covered the Wink, Odessa, Artesia, Andrews, Maljamar fields and all the Lea county fields.

World Wool Prospects

Stocks of raw wool in the United States during the remainder of the present wool-marketing season (to April 1, 1937) probably will continue to be much below average, and the carry-over into the new season may be smaller than a year earlier. Stocks of apparel wool held by dealers and manufacturers in the United States on September 26, totaled 125,940,000 pounds, secured basis. This represents a decline of 20 per cent as compared with the same date in 1935.

Domestic mill consumption of wool for the final quarter of this year is likely to be considerably smaller than in the same months of 1935. Consumption for the entire year 1936 is expected to show a substantial decline as compared with 1935, but will be well above the average of recent years. Consumption of apparel wool by United States mills from January through August of this year was 8.5 per cent smaller than in the same months of last year, but was larger than in the corresponding period of any previous year since 1923.

Wool prices advanced in the Australian markets after the middle of September, but through the first week in October the advance was largely offset by the decline in the exchange rate of the British pound. Japan remains out of the Australian market, but is buying rather heavily in South Africa and wool prices in that market are reported to be higher than in Australia.

The recent currency changes in France and Italy may result in some readjustment of wool textile activity in the principal foreign consuming countries. The devaluation of the franc is expected to improve the competitive position of France in the export markets for manufactured wool products and may enable the French industry to regain some of the export business in wool textiles lost during recent years.

GEOLOGISTS SEE POTASH FIELDS

George Kroenli, secretary of the New Mexico Geological Society, addressed a joint meeting of the New Mexico and West Texas societies Saturday night at Carlsbad on the Permian potash deposit.

Bill Burnet, who accompanied eastern scientists on an archeological tour this summer, spoke on archeology.

About fifty members of the two state societies were registered for the two-day convention at Carlsbad.

Half of the group went through the United States Potash company mine Saturday morning, and the rest went through the Potash Company of America mines.

RED CROSS AID TO MORE THAN 500,000 DISASTER VICTIMS

Large Urban Areas Devastated As Elements Hit 20 States East of Mississippi

"The number of disaster victims assisted by the Red Cross during the fiscal year ended June 30 was more than four times the number aided in the previous twelve month period." Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman, said in commenting on highlight of the annual report just issued. "Over 13,000 families were given food, clothing, shelter and medical care, and thousands of homes were rebuilt or repaired by the Red Cross to enable them to carry on."

Pointing to the many-sided problems created by the wide variety of types of disasters which occurred during the year, Admiral Grayson said, "The Red Cross sent hundreds of trained workers into 39 states to meet the many exigencies of catastrophes which included earthquake, epidemic, explosion, fire, hurricane, ice lock, landslide, refugee relief, shipwreck, tornado and typhoon. The Red Cross took charge at the scenes of 105 domestic disasters of major severity."

The report emphasized the marked value of Government-Red Cross cooperation when disaster strikes giving as example the flight of Army bombing planes which dropped Red Cross food to marooned refugees at Renovo, Pennsylvania, during the Spring floods. More than 10,000 persons were rescued from the second floors of homes in Wilkes-Barre and Kingston through Coast Guard-Red Cross cooperation at the height of these same floods.

"Government agencies and relief groups were of invaluable assistance to Red Cross relief forces at all times," Admiral Grayson stated.

The complete resources of Red Cross leadership, training and disaster experience were brought into play by the Spring floods and tornadoes which took so heavy a toll of life and property in eastern and southern states this year, the annual report reveals. The Red Cross aided 77,000 families in 14 flooded states east of the Mississippi and 6,000 families in 6 tornado hit states south of the Mason-Dixon line in this one operation.

"Never before have as many metropolitan centers borne the brunt of attack by wind and water within a single year, challenging Red Cross preparedness and efficiency by so wide a variety of pressing human problems," Chairman Grayson said.

In its work of relief to disaster sufferers the Red Cross expended in excess of $5,200,000 for the year. The report points out that this figure does not include assistance given in 27 lesser disasters with a total of 2,000 persons aided, and adds that additional millions will be used to "clean up" Spring floods and tornadoes.

"Numerous local disaster situations occurring during the year were met by Red Cross chapter funds and manpower," Admiral Grayson said. "In each major relief operation undertaken the great army of Red Cross volunteers aided trained workers, with the task of rehabilitating those without resources who had suffered losses."

"The Red Cross disaster relief service is one of many Red Cross activities supported by the American people through membership at the time of Roll Call, held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving."

Meat Outlook

As a result of the severe drought of 1936, total meat supplies will be smaller in the calendar year 1937 than in the preceding year and possibly as small as in 1935. The reduction will be most pronounced in pork and in the better grades of beef. As further improvement in consumer demand for meats in 1937 is in prospect, the general level of livestock and meat prices in 1937 is expected to be higher than in 1936 and higher than for several years.

Even under favorable conditions for feed production in 1937, 1938, and 1939, it hardly seems probable that total slaughter supplies will reach a level equal to the 1930-34 average before 1940. With such a feed-grain production in the next few years, and if livestock production is in the reduced volume as now appears probable, the position of livestock producers in general will be relatively more favorable than that of cash-grain farmers.

Ready for Your 329th Thanksgiving?

Exactly 328 times has this country sat down to its Thanksgiving feast, if you reckon from the Pilgrim colony's celebration in 1607. It's 314 times if you start with the Pilgrim's first feast. In either case that's a lot of feasts to have passed beneath the belts of the nation!

Yet our 329th Thanksgiving feast, looming before us on November 26th, will be greeted with cheers and cheers just the same, and will inspire, as always, the country's cooks to greater efforts. Cherish, maintain tradition, but let the new ways with food help you attain it, with the following Thanksgiving tips to help along the good work.

Rice makes a specially delicious stuffing for the bird, bringing out the flavor of the meat; it stays just right, not too dry, not too moist, and is good as a leftover too. To make mushroom and rice stuffing: Fry about 3 tablespoons onion in 2 tablespoons mazaola until tender, add 6 fresh mushrooms (broken) and 1 1/2 cups raw rice; simmer until rice is golden in color. Then add 4 cups soup stock (canned soup may be used), 2 teaspoons salt, and 1 tablespoon poultry seasoning. Cover and steam 20 minutes, then remove from fire, add 1 beaten egg and mix well. Add chopped celery if desired. Cool, stuff fowl. When fowl is stuffed, rub outside carefully with pastry brush dipped in mazaola, and continue to do so at intervals; this prevents burning or sticking, and gives a beautiful brown color.

Platter-Garnish
For decorating the platter (and to eat later), glazed apple rings: Core McIntosh apples, but do not peel. Cut into 1/2 inch slices. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a skillet and add 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water and 1/3 cup of white karo; cook to boiling. Put apple rings in syrup and simmer slowly until tender. Remove apples to platter, garnish with jelly.

For roast goose, pork or game you will like broiled grapefruit segments; they're new! Slice or segment peeled Florida grapefruit; sprinkle with a little salt and place under broiler for a brief period, just until fruit is tender; then serve around platter with fowl. For duckling, the same idea is good, only use sliced Florida oranges.

Sweet potatoes or Acorn squash are favored vegetables; they're both extra-good when split and filled with apple sauce! Make your apple sauce, adding a dash of nutmeg and a little lemon juice.

Salad Suits the Meal
When your dinner is a feast the salad should provide a contrast. No

TWO-IN-ONE OAT SEED WOULD PLANT WEED TOO

A peculiar double seed combination of a grain and a noxious weed has been identified in seed oats harvested in Oregon. Cereal specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture found that with many of the oat seeds there was a seed of the Napa thistle, a common weed in Oregon, tightly held against the oat seed by the folds of the oat seed husk.

The Napa thistle belongs to the same family as the dusty miller, cornflower, and bachelor button of cultivated gardens. The thistle seeds are light and often are carried long distances by the wind.

The probable explanation of the double seed combination, according to T. R. Stanton of the Bureau of Plant Industry, is that the thistles ripened and began scattering seed just as the oats came into bloom. Thistle seed lodged between the outer and inner husks of the oats which were just forming, and the oat developed with the weed seed imbedded in the soft tissues.

Quack grass is another weed with light seeds which sometimes embed themselves in oat seeds where they cannot be removed by ordinary seed-cleaning methods. Farmers and seedsmen should be on the watch for such combinations, the cereal specialists say, and should not plant seed that would be likely to grow into a competing combination of grain and weed.

heavy salads when the meal is a big one, but something light, juicy and tart enough to "freshen your tongue." Most welcome is a simple mixture of endive, chicory or lettuce, and juicy grapefruit segments, with a bit of green pepper or pimiento for contrast. The grapefruit, of course, is alkaline in reaction, and just what is craved in the middle of a big meal. For a good French dressing for your simple "dinner salad," just combine some of the juice of the grapefruit (about 2 tablespoonsful) with 6 tablespoons cooking oil, add 1/3 teaspoon paprika, 2/3 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, and mix well. If you like, add a little onion juice or Worcestershire, horseradish or minced chives. For a golden dressing, mix the yolk of an egg with the dressing.

HARD WORK

Continuous strain from daytime use of eyes is doubled when this student tries to read her school book in light that is inadequate for easy seeing.

This might be the same student reading the same book, in the same chair... yet she reads comfortably because adequate light protects her eyes against eyestrain.

COMFORT

The Only Difference Is The LIGHTING

Why is one of these girls squinting over her book, while the other is reading in perfect comfort?

Both probably have normal eyesight... The seeing task is the same in each case. The difference is in the amount of light falling on the book! The girl on the left is straining her eyes under less than five footcandles of light... while the girl at the right enjoys comfortable reading with better than 30 footcandles.

Now, thanks to the world's largest research laboratories, the lighting in your home can be measured just as accurately as a thermometer measures temperature! Held under your reading lamp, the scientific new Light Meter tells instantly how much light you are getting, how much your eyes need for easy seeing without eyestrain.

Just phone, and we will make this free Light Meter check-up in your home. This Measured Lighting service is free to all our customers.

Romance and Ann

By ALICE DUANE

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service

ANN DUGAN was young and romantic.

Spring and Ann had possession of the Dugans' garden.

In the garden, but not in possession, was a youth of about Ann's age. He was never in possession, so far as Ann was concerned. He was the first, after Ann, to acknowledge that fact. He had been in love with Ann, perhaps, since their first year together in high school. He had known the fact, and declared it, the day they were graduated. Now, after three years at college—he was surer than ever of his feelings toward Ann. But he was no surer of Ann.

"But Carl," she said, looking pathetically at him out of the corner of her long eyes, "how on earth can you expect me to tie myself down to a promise to marry you after you have finished college—another whole year—and then get established in business?"

"But hang it, Ann," said Carlton Pratt, "I don't see why you can't. It isn't as if I was far away. I've been home every week-end this winter just in the hope of getting a date with you, and I've been left high and dry most of the time, too. And it isn't as if you'd gone to college like most girls, though goodness knows I'm glad you didn't. I like you best just as you are. Only—"

"Only you think I ought to stay away from parties and just sit here and think about you and wait for you till you come bravely, romantically back from college to claim me. Now, Carl, wouldn't that be silly? If you were going away to a crusade or something, some sort of exciting adventure, I'd wait for you."

"You would? Do you love me, Ann?"

"Oh, Carl, how can I tell! I mean, it would be so exciting to wait for you to come back a hero and claim me. Don't you see? Nothing ever happens to you—nothing exciting to me. Oh, don't get peeved." Ann straightened up and leaned forward in the long chair. "I mean, you make a good frat and we all get steamed up over that. And then you take honors in psychology, and we get all steamed up over that."

"I worked hard for you, Ann."

There was a dogged, hurt tone in Carl's voice.

"Oh, of course, Carl," said Ann impatiently. "I know that. I appreciate all that."

Six or seven hours later Ann, and the spring night, were in possession of another garden. The only other person in that dreamworld was the good looking young man beside her. "Listen Ann," he said; "dear little Ann." The man's lips brushed her cheek. "To think this is the third time we've met. But you'll marry me, won't you, Ann?"

"But Stephen," breathed Ann. "I don't—I mean, you don't really know me. How can we be sure?"

"A thousand years, Ann—or a few seconds. What does it matter?" "Excuse me," said an excited, rather harsh voice behind them. "Oh, Ann! Is that you? Sorry to disturb you—but this dance is mine."

"Why Carlton Pratt! How dare you?" said Ann.

What happened then happened so quickly that Ann never quite knew how it all came about. But Carl, a moment later, had Ann in his arms and the dapper Stephen Van Dyke was prone on the ground where Carl had thrown him. Excited dancers were crowding from the house, and two strangers were fastening handcuffs on the prostrate figure. One of them showed Carl a string of pearls. "Here they are, mister," he said.

Explanations, of course, Carl was the hero of the hour, and Ann blushing shared the hour with him. Later, when they were alone, she said. "But how did you know he was a crook, Carl?"

"I didn't exactly," said Carl. "But I've met him a couple of times and I hated him because you seemed to like him. And I'd heard of these robberies, of course. He'd get acquainted with people and then steal their jewelry. And tonight I had a hunch the thief would be at the dance, he was a sort of Raffles, you know, a gentleman burglar. And I saw Van Dyke going into the garden with you. The detectives had come with me. I followed you, and what I heard him say to you about a thousand years and all that rot made me see red, so I told the detectives I thought he was their man. Well—he was. Can you forgive me, little Ann?"

Ann shuddered in Carl's arms. "Don't call me that, just say Ann, rather crossly, as you usually do. Only now, Carl, I'm in love with you, you know."

"Ann darling."

"Carl," said Ann softly, "what was the news you were going to tell me this afternoon?"

"Well—" Carl hesitated. "Ann, it isn't very exciting. Only I've been offered a job at college after I am graduated, teaching in the psychology department. It means we could get married next year at commencement. Could you wait, Ann?"

"You silly," said Ann. "Of course."

WOMAN KEEPS RIGHT TO WORK

Thumbing her way through the night, one well preserved woman kept her right to work for her living, it was learned at WPA headquarters from Mrs. Moe Mosley, until recently sewing project supervisor at Carrizozo.

Sixty-five years is the age limit at which women may apply for old age pension in New Mexico. One enrollee on the Hondo sewing project was taken off the project because she appeared that age.

Hearing the news in the afternoon, she started down the road to Carrizozo, 44 miles away. Picked up by a passing truck, she arrived at the county Relief and Security office before closing time, swore she was only 64. Nor could any birth record be turned up to confirm her.

As she was physically able to do the work, RSA recertified her. Further successful hitch hiking, now late at night, took her by 6:30 a. m., to the local labor office.

After a two hour wait she was reassigned to the Hondo sewing project, reported for work that same day. Her next pay check was for the full amount; nothing docked because she had missed no time.

Last year the Red Cross reached 10,000,000 homes with check lists of accident hazards in a nation-wide program to reduce the incidence of home and farm accidents. This year home accident fatalities were cut by several thousand according to statisticians. A similar campaign has been launched this year through Red Cross chapters.

Recovery of Pipe from Test Well Over Two Miles Deep New Oil Feat

Recovery of several thousand feet of pipe from a test oil well at a depth of more than two miles, thus establishing a world's record for such operations, was announced recently at Ponca City, Oklahoma, by Continental Oil Company officials, who explained that this extraordinary feat was performed at Conoco's Hebert No. 1 well at Abbeville Prospect, Louisiana.

Drill pipe three inches in diameter was employed in the Hebert well. With one exception this well is the deepest ever driven, descending to a depth of 11,732 feet below the earth's surface. Recovery of the pipe, however, only proved feasible to a depth of 10,907 feet. The deepest well in the world, a dry hole located in Upton county, west Texas, was drilled to 12,786 feet.

Recovery of pipe at such depths was not the only world's record shattered during the operation, Conoco officials stated. Recapture of 3,658 feet of pipe at a depth of 7,540 feet in a single trip outdistances all previous performances in this type of work. Nearest comparable effort in oil history was recovery of 4,018 feet of two inch tubing in a single trip.

The entire recovery job was performed within a period of nine days, officials said, and represented a considerable saving to the company since none of the recaptured pipe was in any way injured.

Shortly afterwards the American Molasses company in New York announced he would become executive vice president of that firm.

LAMB FEEDING UNCERTAIN

Information available early in November does not give any definite indication as to whether the number of lambs to be fed during the 1936-37 feeding season will be larger or smaller than the number fed during the 1935-36 season, neither does it give any certain indication as to how the 1936-37 supply of fed lambs will be distributed over the marketing period.

This uncertainty results from a number of unusual conditions, among which are: First: The delayed movement of both native and western lambs this year, caused by the rather slow development of the lamb crop in all areas. Second: The forced movement of sheep and lambs from the northern plains drought areas and the lack of information as to where these went, and the disposition to be made of these lambs. Third: The large number of lambs still remaining in the states west of the continental divide. Fourth: The small movement of Texas lambs relative to the large lamb crop in that state, and uncertainty as to the final disposition to be made of these. Fifth: The indicated relatively large number of native lambs still to be marketed.

On the basis of the records of shipments of feeder lambs inspected at stockyards markets, into the corn belt states during the four months, July to October, the number of lambs to be fed in those states as a whole will be smaller this season than last. The total of such shipments was smaller this year than last and below the five-year average. Most of the decrease was in the movement to the states west of the Missouri river. While the total shipments into the eastern corn belt is somewhat smaller than last year, three of the states had increases, and the number of native lambs still on farms was apparently large. The total feeding in this area may equal or exceed last year.

Fascinating Tales of Lost Mines

SNOWSLIDE ON SLATE MOUNTAIN

IN OCTOBER, 1840, thirty men made a party to hunt for gold. They traveled as far as Slate mountain, near Red Cliff, Colo., and here they were successful in their search. The diggings were rich, and before long they had taken out about $100,000 worth of ore.

Snow came early to the region, and provisions would soon give out. No man wanted to leave the diggings, so at last, lots were cast to decide who should make the trip, and one "Buck" Rogers was the chosen one. Taking $500 in dust, he started out on the 26th of November for town.

It took him a week to get there, as the weather was stormy and made traveling slow. But at last he reached town, and here he forgot his mission and celebrated his arrival in a spree that took him six weeks to recover from, and cost all the money he had.

Stricken by his conscience as sobriety dawned, Rogers started back to the mine for more gold. He felt as if some terrible thing had happened—and so it had, for when he reached Slate mountain he found that a snowslide had swept over mine and men, and nothing remained to show that 29 human beings had lived and perished there.

Rogers had kept some information about the place in a notebook, and this fell into the hands of an old miner, who went to Slate mountain with the idea of finding the mine. He had to dig about here and there, for the snowslide had covered the whole countryside and changed its appearance, but at last he came on a tunnel, fragments of tools, human bones, and pieces of ore, all thrown together by the force of the slide.

The miner, satisfied that he had found what he was hunting, covered up all evidence of his discovery, and went back to Red Cliff, intending to get an outfit together before uncovering any more. Two weeks later he was killed in a drunken row.

A man named James Fulford, who had heard the story, went to the old prospector's cabin and there found some papers which gave directions and locations. He outfitted at once and went out, heading for Slate mountain. A month later he was seen in the hills, and said that he would soon return to town. Then snow set in again, and he was apparently caught in a storm on his way in, for his body was never found.

And neither was the mine.

Ready-to-Wear Clothing

Since 1840 milady, milady's daughter and milady's great-grandchildren have shopped more and more constantly for their clothing in ready-to-wear stores and shops, selecting, according to the Jeanes in which they lived, hoop skirts and swirling drapes, hobble skirts and modest sheaths. For it was in 1840 that the manufacture of women's ready-to-wear apparel was begun in this country.

Red Cross Potential Life Savers Number Nearly 2,000,000

First aid and life saving certificates issued by the American Red Cross since the start of the service 26 years ago now number 1,888,702. During the past year the Red Cross qualified 222,693 persons in first aid and taught water safety and rescue methods to 80,961.

This army of First Aiders and Life Savers is one of the great safety factors in the nation. They are trained to give immediate first aid at the scene of accident, thus saving many lives and preventing permanent injury. Red Cross training includes skill in treating for shock, splinting fractures, checking arterial bleeding, applying artificial respiration, towing drowning persons to safety, and in the safe handling of boat and canoe.

State Farmers In Washington

J. R. Ogden of Loving, member of the State A. C. P. committee, and W. A. Wunsch of the Extension Service, left November 13th for Washington, D. C., to represent New Mexico farmers at conferences being held there by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to develop the 1937 farm program. G. R. Quesenberry, director of extension, announced recently.

The two men went to Washington at the call of George E. Farrell, director of the western division of the AAA. In Washington they, along with representatives of farmers from other western states, will assist in working out details of the general provisions for 1937, especially as they will apply to New Mexico.

The ground work for the 1937 program was laid in the community and county and regional meetings held in October, at which the recommendations of farmers for the 1937 program were assembled. These recommendations from the western and other regions have been assembled in Washington, and the general lines of the new program are being developed from them.

Every effort is being made to complete the plans for the 1937 program for early announcement to farmers. Another goal in the formulation of the 1937 program is to simplify it wherever possible, in order to reduce the "paper work" required in the 1936 program and earlier AAA programs.

LIVESTOCK VALUATION

Chief State Tax Commissioner Byron O. Beall said the valuations probably would be released in about a week.

Seminole Well Is Showing Gas

Amerada No. 1-A Averitt, southwest offset to the Walsh and Adams discovery in Gaines county, Texas, showed one and a quarter million cubic feet of dry sulphur gas on a drill-stem test taken early Friday morning. Total depth was 4,940, with a wall-packer set at 4,920. The testing tool was left open several hours, and after cleaning itself of drilling mud, the well blew gas and showed no oil. Crew is now coming out with drill-pipe and will drill ahead, according to word from Midland, Texas.

The drill-stem test of the Amerada well gauged only the lowest gas showing logged, that from 4,927 to 4,936. It had also shown gas from 4,886 to 4,890 and from 4,896 to 4,917, but no test was made as to the size of these shows. It is to be presumed that the gas from the upper shows would amount to around 12,000,000 cubic feet daily, since the Walsh and Adams well struck that much in a similar horizon at 4,910.

Location of the No. 1-A Averitt is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 228, block G, W. T. R. R. survey. It is being drilled in the quarter-section obtained from Walsh and Adams by the Amerada Petroleum Corp. Geophysical findings which indicated the presence of a structure in the area was substantiated by the many gas horizons logged in the Yates section by the discovery gasser.

Red Bluff Dam Now Has 20,000 Acre Feet Water

Storage of water at the Red Bluff dam is now approximately 20,000 acre feet, says the Pecos, Texas, Enterprise. This represents a gain of about 10,000 acre-feet during the past thirty days with the rate of storage increasing steadily.

It is estimated that the normal flow of the river will impound 50,000 acre feet by March 1, the first date when irrigation of lands in the district will be needed. This figure does not allow for any flood water.

Total acreage in the district for the coming year is estimated to be 20,000 acres. Thus it is seen that at least two and one-half feet of water per acre will be available for use during the dry summer months when needed most.

It was also announced that Judge J. E. Starley of Pecos was named general manager of the Red Bluff Water Power Control district. Judge Starley will perform the same duties as the board of directors have heretofore performed.

(Wayne Rowland, Reporter)

"Morals of the Movies" was the subject discussed Sunday evening. Florene Muncy had charge of the discussion. That information about a show should be known before you see it so as to see the right kinds was the decision finally made. If the proper types of pictures are seen, they are educational. An interesting meeting is the right description for Sunday evening's C. E. meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Elder are going to change C. E. some and aim to put it over in a big way. We are all willing and will, to the best of our ability, help them as much as possible.

C. E. Jest's Vivian Haldeman enjoyed a very soft seat Sunday evening. What flavor chewing gum was that?

We were all sorry to hear that Bo Bradshaw was absent Sunday. (Absent-minded).

Who were the fine young gentlemen on the back row?

Chester Lapsley had just run into a tree. Policeman: "Have an accident, sir?" Chester: "No, thanks, just had one."
