

Robinson Dies Heart Attack Capitol Home

Senator Is Found Dead In Bathroom — Capitol Funeral Friday—Body Shipped To Little Rock Arkansas For Burial.

WASHINGTON.—Senator Joe T. Robinson, democratic leader since 1922 and the president's chief senate adviser, died suddenly yesterday in his capital apartment home.

Robinson's body was discovered at 8:15 a. m. (EST) by the family's negro maid, Mary Jasper.

Coroner A. Magruder MacDonal said his death was due to heart disease.

Doctor George W. Calver, capitol physician said Robinson apparently had left his bed about midnight and had gone to the bathroom where he fell face downward.

Calver said Robinson, who was sixty-four years old, had suffered several heart attacks in recent months.

The physician said that when Robinson made the address which touched off fiery senate debate on the court issue he became very pale and apparently cut his address short.

Robinson died as he lived in the thick of the battle. His death left the field clear for aspirants for appointment to the U. S. Supreme court vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Justice Van Devanter.

It was common talk that Roosevelt intended to give the post to Robinson.

A state funeral will be given Senator Robinson in the senate chamber Friday. Then the body will be placed aboard a special train for Little Rock, Arkansas, where funeral services will be held and burial will be made Sunday.

W. P. A. FORCES CUT
Fourteen administrative employees of the district WPA office at Roswell were discharged yesterday on orders from the state office it was announced. At the same time eight administrative workers were let out over the state because of the reduced WPA budget.

At Roswell the cut left only Henry Johnson, Frank Donahue, district engineer and Bertha Benke, operations department clerk on the pay roll.

The local WPA setup was not disturbed here, although many believe the WPA forces will be gradually reduced over the state.

Mrs. John McCann and her guests Mrs. C. C. Tetts, of Kilgore, Texas, and Miss Jimmie Ruth Brown of Coleman, Texas, drove to Cloudford, Tuesday.

Hopper Invasion Northeastern N. M. Definitely Checked

The grass invasion of New Mexico, more particularly the northeastern part of the state has been checked and farmers and ranchers believe they have been checked and farmers and ranchers believe they have the "back" of the invasion broken to the extent that little or no damage will be suffered in future weeks.

In Union county, residents there fought the hoppers along a fifty mile front. One thousand workers composed an army that carried the hopper death battle over 175,000 acres of land Sunday and at the conclusion of the day, many were confident the danger of the hoppers developing wings and spreading from that area had passed.

Motorized squads carried the attack that spread 750,000 pounds of poison over that county.

Prevailing dry weather over most of the middle west and threat of damage from the grass hopper and locust, had a stabilizing effect on farm commodity prices.

Reports here indicate the hoppers, which never made a serious threat were diminishing in numbers.

Sportsmen Meet To Perfect New Mex. Game Association

One Hundred Attend The Meeting
Tuesday Evening, Membership
Of 119 Secured.

PRIMARY OBJECT IS TO CONSERVE WILD LIFE

Organization plans of the New Mexico Sportsmen's Protective association were completed at a special meeting of the association Tuesday evening at the Legion hut with the adoption of by laws.

Interest in the newly formed association is very gratifying as evidenced by the fact that 100 sportsmen attended the meeting. Boone Barnett, secretary reported a membership of 119 had been secured.

Officers of the association were elected at a meeting of the organization on July 3 and include S. A. Lanning, president and Boone Barnett, secretary.

Plans have been made to extend the association to other communities of the state and to make it state wide in its scope.

Its primary objective is to conserve the New Mexico wildlife as far as possible and the cooperation of the organization is pledged in that end in the by laws adopted Tuesday evening.

Briefly the objects of the association as set forth in the by laws are: Development of greater opportunities for outdoor recreation, protection of national parks, forests, public lands and public waters from commercial development or uses incompatible to public interests, to foster and encourage promulgation and protection of game, and protection of the rights of others.

To strive to obtain non-political administration of conservation departments and to obtain the recognition of wildlife as a public resource and to use the resources of the association to protect the rights and privileges of the members.

Provision is also made to change the by laws by a majority vote of the members present, after having been notified fifteen days in advance. The annual dues are $1.00 per year per member.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Basel of San Angelo, Texas stopped here the first of the week to look after their farming interests on the Cottonwood while en route to San Diego, California where they will vacation for a few weeks.

WELL SPACING

A question of whether the theoretical or actual acreage of subdivisions in the southeastern oil fields will prevail in the proration of oil production by wells will be put before the state oil conservation commission at Santa Fe, Thursday.

State geologist Glenn Macy, said the subdivisions of sections of land are by practise considered as 40 acres, four to a 160-acre section. Present regulations call for only one well to each 40 acres.

In some instances, Macy said actually there is less than 40 acres in the subdivisions, and the question will be whether the well on less than 40 acres should be allowed the same production as one on less than 40 acres although each is one subdivision.

Oil Stocks Above Ground Too Low Says Commission

Shortage of Stored Oil Is Seen By Some Students of the Oil Industry.

COMPACT STATES WANT SUPPORT OF ROOSEVELT

SANTA FE.—The interstate oil compact commission adjourned late Tuesday recommitted to its policies of mutual regulation of oil production, and armed with comprehensive figures on current crude oil stocks as a basis for establishment of future state allowances.

Dominating the results of the meeting was the general conclusion among representatives that the nation's stock of crude oil in storage above ground was far too low. It was regarded as certain that this will have important bearing on forthcoming production.

Storage stocks of crude were reported at 308,000,000 barrels on May 1 by the federal bureau of mines, which conducted a survey financed by congressional appropriation for the first authoritative determination of stored oil reserves.

Of this amount, the bureau reported that nearly one half—or 135,500,000 barrels—could be estimated as the potential gasoline content. About 188,000,000 barrels constitute "old" crude in storage as of a year ago.

Col. E. O. Thompson of Texas, chairman of the commission, characterized the federal report "a milestone in the regulation of production to market demand" for oil. The survey, in operation for the past year, will be completed in three or four months.

Thompson asserted there appeared to be about 50,000,000 barrels in storage less than what "some students of the situation think necessary" to the industry.

Representatives of the compact states—Illinois, New Mexico, Texas, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma—which constitute the largest oil producing states in the country, went on record urging President Roosevelt to lend his official support to obtain congressional ratification for a renewal of the compact, which expires in September.

Texas will set its production figures July 19, while the other compact states will determine allowances within the next two weeks.

It was also learned this morning that another boy scout Landis Ed Feather, joined the camp bound contingent this morning making thirteen local scouts to attend from here. E. B. Bullock, past president of this area, drove up with the boys.

Mrs. R. M. McDonald who recently left with Mr. McDonald for Dallas and other points in Texas has undergone a major operation at the Scott and White hospital in Temple, Texas. Word has been received that her condition is splendid and that she is doing very nicely.

109 DIE IN HEAT WAVE

Friday's heat wave, which swept all of the nation but the Rocky mountain states took a toll of 109 lives with the season's high temperature shattered in many places.

Showers Benefit Scattering Areas

Artesia was the center of another hard shower, which fell here Thursday afternoon, sweeping in from the northeast. Like the shower that fell here on July 3rd, last Thursday's rain fell over a comparatively small territory, extending about six miles to the north and five miles to the south. A light sprinkle fell in the Cottonwood community and the farming section southeast of Artesia. The moisture extended only about a mile west of the city limits.

The precipitation measured approximately three quarters of an inch or .73 of an inch and with the rain on July 3rd made about an inch of moisture for this locality.

Hail accompanying the rain last Thursday afternoon hit the farming section northeast of Artesia again, wiping out about 130 acres of cotton on four farms. Farmers estimated at the time that the cotton hit by the hail would be a total loss.

Scattering showers continue to fall over a wide area to cool the mounting temperatures and to green the ranges. Saturday afternoon a quarter of an inch of rain fell in the Hope community and a light rain fell in that section again Sunday evening with a light sprinkle here. Sunday afternoon rains fell over a wide scope of country west of here and a heavy shower covered a twenty mile strip of territory from Dexter to the range north of Roswell.

Old timers say the Sacramento mountain section has had more moisture during June and up to the present time that at any period in the past twenty years.

Valley Farmers To Feed Large Number Lambs

Prospects Good That The Number Will Be Increased This Year. Livestock and Ranges In Best For Several Years.

Pecos Valley farmers may feed over 50,000 lambs for market this fall. Official estimates made last year at the close of the feeding season said there were approximately 50,000 lambs fed out in the valley and according to the present outlook the number to be fed out this fall and winter may be slightly increased.

Sheepmen are said to have contracted several thousand head already at prices ranging from seven to seven and a half cents per pound, the latter price has been paid in some instances where lambs are to be delivered to the farm. W. Leslie Martin said yesterday he had contracted 2,000 head of lambs to feed out this fall and winter.

According to reports Crawford and Smith of Carlsbad will feed out 10,000 head. E. P. Malone of the Upper Cottonwood, Roger Durand of Artesia and O. B. Berry of Dexter are also among the farmers who are said to be contemplating the feeding of lambs in the feeding season.

One feature of unusual interest to the feeding project is that farmers generally will use more local grown feed in their lots this year due to a larger row crop for the valley. Lambs for feeding will also be turned to feeders in better flesh than usual due to the best range condition seen here in years.

A forecast of the range conditions of the state, issued last week by the department of agriculture says the range over the state is in the best condition for several years. Timely rains have aided ranges in practically every section and local ranges are greener than they have been in the past fifteen years.

Animals in all sections of the state are making flesh satisfactorily and losses in both the lamb and calf crop have been light as a result. Reports over the state say that considerable interest has been shown in contracting the lamb and calf crop for future delivery, but trading has been light thus far.

Trading in the calf crop has been light thus far with one sale of mixed calves of E. E. Jernigan reported sold to Joe Nunn, local cattle buyer, for six and a half cents. Ranchers are offering calves for eight cents. No livestock shipments have been sent to market from this point during the past week.

News dispatches from Kansas City, Missouri Monday stated farmers sold two million dollars worth of livestock on the market that day at the highest price levels in seven or eight years. On that date receipts were estimated at 18,000 head, the largest of the season and the second largest of the year.

Mrs. Boone Barnett and two daughters, Billy Sue and Betty, Mrs. A. G. Glasser and Annie Laurie Roberts are spending the week on the Ruidoso.

OFFICIALISM OVER ALL!

Two of the provisions of the law now pending in congress proposing the establishment of seven additional regional "electric authorities" of the TVA order, should be known to every citizen who has faith in our democratic system and in honorable government.

The law provides that no person may be appointed as director, administrator or member of one of the authorities "unless he professes belief in the wisdom and feasibility" of the scheme. It provides further that no private utility company, whose business may be appropriated by one of the authorities, may apply for an injunction unless it puts up a bond sufficient to pay all damages suffered by the government or any other interested party in the event the case is decided against the utility.

As Paul Mallon, well known Washington columnist, points out, "by legislative fiat it is proposed to command allegiance to the law and to prevent suits against the law."

Thus methods used widely in Russia, Germany and other dictator-ridden countries to command allegiance to a dictator's will, are openly proposed in the United States! If this bill passes, private property may be confiscated or its value and income depreciated, and the owner will be helpless. Officialism will become his lord and master, politics his daily bread.

ADVERTISING FOR THE PROFESSIONAL MAN

Professional men have taken a rather peculiar view of advertising in general, the objection is usually based on the ethical code of the particular profession. As a result "quacks" are cashing in today the same as they did in the less enlightened age. Many have felt that there is a happy medium that might be applied to the majority of professional men. Through the use of various forms of advertising media, the so called "quack," is able to ply his profession and often get from five to six times more for his services than the fee charged by the professional man, who believes any form of advertising is unethical. Instances have come to light where the highly advertised "quack" can charge six to seven times the fee charged by his less noisy opponent and get by with it, in fact make his patients like it.

Of course it would be a difficult matter to stop fake practices and fake operations of the unscrupulous, but nevertheless an intelligently directed advertising campaign or publicity campaign by those in position to give unquestioned professional service would have a wholesome influence on the rackets.

OIL MEN SOLVE OWN PROBLEMS

By intelligent thinking and cooperation the oil fraternity has been able to solve its own problems without any government interference. In the light of chaotic conditions that have existed in the past, this is a remarkable accomplishment and indicates beyond a doubt the oil men can think collectively as well as individually.

Four years is a comparatively short period so far as records of time go, yet in this short period the oil industry has made the most complete recovery of any other industry. Marketing conditions have been stabilized, wages have been increased and working conditions bettered. Today the oil industry points the way toward a higher standard of living for its employees as well as shorter working hours. What this industry has done others can do with an intelligent analysis of the problems peculiar to the industry.

MISREPRESENTATIONS

The price of a half fare bus ticket proved the means of landing a thirteen year old girl in the juvenile court in a large city recently. Twenty-four hours before her apprehension by juvenile authorities for stealing from a ten cent store, this child had heard her mother tell a bus driver that she was eleven years of age. While the mother saved a small amount of money by misrepresenting her daughter's actual age, this proved to be the most expensive ticket she ever purchased for an example of dishonesty was set which the child was not slow in adopting.

Government officials will probably taboo flying for publicity after the search for Amelia Earhart in the Pacific ocean last week, especially in view of the fact that there is no particular objective in making this sort of flight. This phase of aviation has all been pretty well pioneered and aside from making front page stories for the dailies, such flights can not be said to contribute anything to the industry.

NO MORATORIUM ON 1936 TAXES

County Treasurer Harry Christian recently pointed out that the state tax commission's extension of the tax moratorium has no effect on 1936 taxes which became delinquent May 1 of this year.

"Many people have come to pay up under the impression there would be no interest or penalty on the 1936 taxes," said Mr. Christian. "But the moratorium granted by chapter 127, laws of 1937, and recently extended until July 31, covers only taxes for 1935 and prior years."

APPEALS FOR SAFETY OF McMILLIAN DAM

The Carlsbad City council last week passed a resolution designed to appeal to federal sources for the permanent and more substantial rebuilding of McMillian dam.

The resolution points out that the dam in its present condition is a menace in times of flood and that since a break occurred during the recent high waters that only temporary repairs have been made.

It requests the United States Reclamation service to make an investigation of the dam and determine its safety from a flood standpoint to the community.

The resolution is to be presented to the United States Reclamation service and also to Senators Chavez and Hatch, to Representative Dempsey and to Governor Clyde E. Tingley.

Ex-California residents last week were the first to hear the news that Mae West had been married many years ago and broadcast it.

C. J. Dexter is much concerned over the lack of flag displays here on special occasions. On flag day, June 14th, there were only two or three flags displayed and about the same number on July 4th. However Dexter isn't very observant, for while thinking about the California climate as he walked up the street the 4th, he passed a store with a window full of flags and did not even see the display.

An old country girl came to town and she secured a job in a florist shop. A fashionably-dressed woman came in and asked for dozen roses. After she made the purchase, she inquired: "Will you be here next Wednesday, young lady?" "Yes mam, yes mam." "I shall want some flowers for my daughter; she's coming out on that day." "She'll have the best in the shop," the old country girl replied. "And may I ask please mam, what's she in for?"

Lea County Towns Have Light Taxes

Hobbs will get through this fiscal year with little or no property tax—Eunice, also in Lea county, with none at all—something decidedly unusual for a New Mexico town—stated Chief State Tax Commissioner Ben D. Luchini at Santa Fe last week following his return from a budget hearing.

A budget for the expenditure of a total of $50,670 was approved for Hobbs. For the last year the budgets for the two towns, Hobbs and New Hobbs, was $41,762. The increase is explained, said Luchini, by the fact that the population of the consolidated town is much larger than the combined population of the two separate towns last year.

Of the $50,670 only $45,000 is contemplated to be raised by a property levy, said Luchini, and perhaps that can be avoided. This item is for police and fire protection and, he said, an effort is being made to get the school district to assume it in consideration of the protection the schools get.

Eunice's budget was approved for a total of $8,160. Not a cent of property tax is required to raise the amount; it comes from the occupation tax, liquor license fees, police court fines and various other sources.

Luchini said that Eunice does not have to take advantage even of the 1-cent municipal gasoline tax to produce the budget amount.

SOCIETY.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS MONDAY

In spite of the hot weather and its uncontrollable inconvenience the members of the Legion Auxiliary stand loyal in their attendance of their meetings and the interest of the group seems undaunted. Monday afternoon saw a large attendance at the "Trophy and Award" program which was led by Mrs. William Linell. This subject embraced such a multitude of ideas which Mrs. Linell handled very skillfully by forming it into a concise report with the topics of most interest to this particular group given the more prominent place. Under membership citation Mrs. Ben Pior, president of the fifth district, offered the award of six table-spoons to the unit who was first in turning in their quota of membership to this district. This award was won by the Artesia unit. Other awards of particular interest that four naval print plates, five dollars and two dollars and fifty cents for first and second places in the annual Fidae essay contest, the same amounts for the Poppy Poster contest, four baby spoons, twenty-eight pins for new members, and a fire prevention plaque presented to the Legionnaires by the unit.

A lovely lullaby was sung by Miss Joan Wheatley accompanied by Miss Virginia Gates, at the piano, as the musical selection for the afternoon's program. The unusually musical clarity of tone marked the singer's number with real pleasure for the listeners. Miss Wheatley is musician who has shown a decided artistic development along her line in the past few years.

The business meeting of the unit, presided over by Mrs. John McCann, president, was marked by the election of new officers for the 1937-38 year. A slight change of the nomination committee met with the approval of the unit and the officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Irvin Martin; 1st vice president, Mrs. E. N. Bigler, 2nd vice president, Mrs. J. A. Reed, treasurer, Mrs. William Linell, secretary, Mrs. Harold Hamill; chaplain, Mrs. J. H. Naylor; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Mable Bunting and historian, Mrs. John Lively. The committee in charge of the Fireman's banquet reported a clearance of $24.25. The Fidae chairman, Mrs. Howard Whitson, made a short talk on membership bringing to the attention of the unit of the new record set in this year's membership. Seventeen thousand were added to the roster this year which is more than twelve thousand ahead of the 1931 record. Mrs. Jess Truett reported on the Past President's Parley luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Albert Richards July 2nd, at which time the members of this group marked two dozen cup towels with the customary insignia of the unit. Mrs. Prothro who represents the White King company sold coupons, the proceeds of which were turned over to the unit.

The Junior organization was invited as guests of the unit for this mid-summer meeting and six small guests attended along with four other guests, Mr. J. H. Whitaker, Mrs. C. C. Tetts of Kilgore, Texas, Mrs. J. H. Jones of Belen and Miss Jimmie Ruth Brown of Coleman, Texas. Thirty members and eight officers completed the attendance for the afternoon. Following the program the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. William Linell, Craig Cornett, S. A. Lanning and H. A. Stroup served light refreshments to the group as they indulged in a bit of social chatter and visiting.

MRS. T. T. FLINT ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

Others included Miss Kitty Flint, Mrs. Arthur Paton, Mrs. Nevin Baird, Mrs. Howard Whitson and Miss Virginia Woods.

The luncheon was served in the dining room where the guests were seated about a large linen spread table centered with a crystal bowl of gladiolas. Other vases of gladiolas added to the charm of the characteristic ranch home, where the guests enjoyed the attractively served meal and the social chatter of friends and relatives who meet together so seldom.

MR. AND MRS. BAIRD AT HOME SATURDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Baird were at home to a number of friends honoring Mrs. W. E. Flint of Lovington with a picnic supper served on the lawn at eight o'clock. The Young Matron's group met at the home of Mrs. V. S. Lowery in spite of the very inclement weather which affected their attendance some but not to any great extent. The study for the afternoon was "The Beginning of Missionary Work in Korea," and was led by the chairman of the group, Mrs. Howard Stroup. Mrs. E. J. Foster gave a review of an article on "Worship and Meditation" and Mrs. Herman Dick Jones assisted Mrs. Stroup in presenting the main theme for the day's thought.

Homemakers' Exchange of Helpful Household Hints and Recipes

Conducted by ELEANOR HOWE

Ice Cream Cone Clowns: Place a ball of ice cream on a butter cookie and with raisins or tiny gumdrops make eyes, nose and mouth in the ice cream. To make the clown's hat, place a cone jauntily on top of the ice cream. Add a ruff of whipped cream around the clown's neck.

Amethyst Ice Cream: (Serves 6.) Made in the still freezer of the marvelous new ice refrigerator this delicious ice cream is velvety-smooth and crystal-free. And it freezes in only 1 hour. Recipe: Scald 1 cup light cream and to it add 1/4 cup powdered sugar and 2 tablespoons light-colored honey. Chill. Then add 1/4 cup grape juice and 1/4 cup pineapple juice. Beat well. Fold in 1 cup whipping cream (whipped) and pour into freezing container of still ice cream freezer. Cover and surround with mixture of 3 parts ice and 1 part rock salt. Place in modern ice refrigerator and freeze for 1 hour, stirring once.

Ink may be removed from fingers in a very simple fashion. Simply moisten the finger, rub the head of a kitchen match (not a safety match) on it, and the spot will disappear.

BAKING POWDER PARKER HOUSE ROLLS that you can make at the drop of a hat! Mix and sift together 2 cups general purpose flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut in 1/4 cup shortening. Then store this mix in one of the new streamlined ice refrigerators, remembering that the air-conditioning chamber of this amazing new refrigerator provides moisture which will prevent rapid drying out of the mix. Then when the menu calls for a hot bread just take the mix out of the refrigerator, break it up with a fork and add 1 egg slightly beaten and approximately 1/2 cup milk. Roll dough 1/2 inch thick and cut with round cutter. Spread 1/2 of biscuit with melted butter and fold over the other half. Let stand about 20 minutes, then bake in a hot oven (450°) approximately 12-14 minutes.

At a small cost a tinsmith will make a vertical partition in your galvanized cleaning bucket; thus divided, it is possible to have both soapy and clear water in the same bucket and so save many trips to the sink.

Have you ever been kept awake at night by the dismal wailing of your lonely puppy? The solution?—Just fill a quart fruit jar with very hot water, replace rubber and lid, wrap in several thicknesses of newspaper and place in the puppy's bed. He will snuggle up to the hot water bottle, give a sigh of contentment and go to sleep.

When members of a family are scattered and it is difficult to keep up correspondence with everyone, just start a "family chain letter." The oldest member writes a letter and sends it to the next oldest who adds his contributions and sends both letters on; each member of the family adding a letter in turn. Then, as soon as a letter has been read by every member of the family, it is withdrawn from the envelope, a new one is added and the chain goes on.

Milestones of American Genius

ROBERT EDWIN PEARY

In a generation when commercial and political success were the goals of most men, Robert Edwin Peary devoted himself to the hazardous life of extending man's knowledge of the world in which he lives. His discovery of the North Pole marked the apex of his career of exploration. It was touched, unfortunately, by bitterness because of the alleged earlier discovery of the Pole by Dr. Cook.

Peary was born on May 6, 1856, at Cresson, Pa., but spent most of his youth near Portland, Maine. Even as a boy he showed the persistence in reaching the top which ultimately, after twenty-five years of hardship, brought him literally to the top of the world.

He was educated at the local public schools and at Bowdoin College, where he took an engineering course. After graduation he entered the Navy, joining the corps of civil engineers. It was while serving in this corps that he came across an article describing the inland ice of Greenland. He developed the theory that this ice cap might make an accessible route to the North Pole. Finally, in 1886, he persuaded Navy officials to grant him a leave of absence to explore the region. From that time on, until he achieved his goal, he had but one purpose—to conquer the Arctic wastes and arrive at the Pole.

Six trips were made with rigorous hardships and deep discouragement. Between trips he faced the even more difficult task of raising money for continuing the explorations, and securing government permission to leave with another expedition.

The seventh attempt was begun in July, 1908, and was successfully completed on April 6, 1909. Peary returned from the Pole to find that Dr. Cook had just announced his own supposed discovery of the Pole before Peary. It was a bitter blow. But before Peary's death, Dr. Cook's claims were proved without foundation, and to Peary went the well-deserved honor of having been the first man to reach the top of our globe. In recognition, he was made a Rear-Admiral.

At his death in February, 1920, Peary was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. The distinctive memorial shown above was erected on his grave. Another memorial has been projected at his birthplace. In the thrilling story of American exploration, his name is forever engraved.

JOIN THE ICE-CREAM-FOR-PICNICS MOVEMENT!

ICE CREAM on a picnic? Why not? Here's a recipe that guarantees velvety-smooth ice cream and the equipment recommended lends itself to easy "tooting."

Strawberry Ice Cream: Soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in 1/2 cup milk. Heat together 1 1/2 cups milk and 2 cups whipping cream and add soaked gelatin. Stir until dissolved, then add 1 cup sugar, 2 beaten egg yolks. Blend carefully, remove from flame and add 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons vanilla extract. Pour into freezing container of modern ice cream freezer. Assemble and cover. Then pack with mixture of 3 parts crushed ice and 1 part rock salt. Turn crank slowly, but steadily for about 5 minutes or until difficult to turn; then remove cover and dasher and fold in 1 cup crushed strawberries. Replace cover and replenish ice and salt. Modern ice cream freezers are compact and light so that they fit in the car easily and the ice creams made in them stay frozen beautifully, while en route to your favorite picnic spot.

Kernels From An Old Nut

John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said in a recent address at Kalamazoo, Michigan:

"We are prone today to decry the immorality of youth, when we learn that seventeen percent of all crime is committed by persons of less than voting age. Rather, however, we should look upon the truth of this situation which is to be found in the failure of parenthood to train the youthful minds into paths free from criminality. Today, there are in America over 4,300,000 criminals actively at work, plundering, marauding and murdering. There is an aggregate of over 1,300,000 serious crimes each year, which means that every twenty-four seconds there is a felonious infraction of our laws including in addition over 14,000,000 minor robbery, assault, arson or murder, crimes are committed each year, not including traffic and liquor law violations. Each setting sun leaves its final glow over a country supposed to be the most enlightened in all the world; yet each and every day witnesses a total of thirty-six deaths at the hands of murderers. Our greatest crime in America today is the toleration of crime—toleration of the conditions existing throughout the nation which help to create a national crime bill estimated at fifteen billions of dollars each year." That is a serious indictment. The worst part of it is that these conditions exist because we are willing that they should. Ask most any man of the street the cause of these conditions and he has a ready answer—"it is the fault of somebody else." We art all "Alibi lkes." If, instead of offering alibis, every one of us would give serious consideration to his own responsibility for these conditions, with a view to correcting them, the record would be a different one with surprising quickness.

"Life" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Societies and Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 18th.
The golden text is: "Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him." (Luke 20:37,38.)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses." (1 Tim. 6:12.)

Playing THE GAME

by Lawrence Hawthorne
 Whatever the game, and whatever the odds,
 The winning is all up to you;
 For it isn't the score, and it isn't the prize,
 That counts when the playing is through!
 In the great game of Life, it's the purpose to win,
 And the courage to fight to the end,
 That determines for you what degree of success
 Will be scored to your credit, my friend.

The best you can do may not be quite enough
 To defeat your opponents today;
 But you never can lose, and you never can fail,
 If you "put all you've got" in your play;
 And the greatest reward that your efforts can bring
 Is the fact that you stood to the test—
 That you played a clean game, and you fought a good fight,
 And you always were doing your best!

Operators Hear Problems Discust At District Meeting

About fifty oil men, royalty and lease holders and members of the Independent Petroleum association attended the district meeting of the association held at the Artesia hotel Friday evening. Van S. Welch, New Mexico vice president of the association presided.

Those attending were served a four course banquet on the roof garden before the program, in which Russell Brown of Washington, D. C., general council for the association was the principal speaker. Mr. Brown gave a brief history of the association and of the efforts of the association to aid the industry. Two outstanding accomplishments in which the association had a major part was cited by Mr. Brown as worthy of support. One was the securing of a duty on imported oil. In 1929 he said the government and many individuals had the idea that the nation should conserve its natural resources by importing foreign oil and thus saving our domestic supply. The association pointed out that the logical solution to the conservation problem was "progress in oil exploration."

A duty on imported oil caused imports to drop from over 300,000 barrels daily to a low of about 135,000 barrels daily.

In 1933 another problem appeared in over production and ten cent oil, a ruinous price. Along with the ten cent oil 700,000,000 to 800,000,000 barrels of oil were stored. Then the association he said began to try to balance the supply with demand and a noted improvement in the marketing condition was made in a three months period. The efforts to balance supply with demand brought about proration agreements and interstate oil compacts with result the industry has stabilized marketing conditions through its own efforts. Efforts to balance supply with demand resulted in the passage of the Connelly hot oil act, which seeks to regulate oil shipments between states.

Mr. Brown also told of the efforts of the association to prevent harmful legislation to the oil industry, particularly with reference to the elimination of the twenty-seven and a half percent depletion clause from the annual income.

C. E. Buckner, executive manager from Tulsa, Oklahoma reviewed briefly the organization plans and stressed the practical value of a closer cooperation. He said the Artesia meeting was the 26th district meeting held by the association this year. Twenty-eight district meetings of the association are scheduled in the oil states.

Dr. E. H. Wells of Socorro, president of the New Mexico School of Mines, reviewed briefly the history of oil legislation and proration in New Mexico, beginning with the conservation law of 1912.
