THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

New Mexico voters will be asked to pass on five constitutional amendments September 21st. Considerable controversy has been provoked over amendment No. 1, which would permit state officers to hold officers more than two terms. Outside of the controversial No. 1 amendment, the average voter does not know what the other for a wedding present." four are about. In order to pass intelligently on each constitutional amendment, voters should study the proposals from all possible angles. For your information, the five proposals are listed below:

1. To permit state officials of the executive departments to hold office more than two consecutive 2-year terms.

2. To permit county officials to hold more than two consecutive 2-year terms.

3. To permit absentee voting.

4. To permit issuance of $1,250,000 building bonds for state institutions (before the next general election.)

To raise legislators pay to $10 per day A sixth proposal, adopted by the 1937 legislature, will not come up until the 1938 general election, according to a ruling by the at- Raleigh, North Carolina, got this torney general's office. IMPROVEMENTS

We sometimes grow impatient with the progress our community and state makes. To us improvements are inaugurated too slow. Things done are too common place, but to the resident who once lived among us, the change the community has undergone seems re-

In the past fifteen years many new industries have developed, particularly the natural resources. In this period, New Mexico has taken her place in the production of petroleum, potash and dry ice or carbon dioxide. Two of these natural resources are rare, both have been discovered as a result of the search for oil. There are possibilities that another native mineral, sulphur may be developed in commercial quantities, if and when the demand justifies.

New Mexico, rich in historical events, is also becoming a mecca for tourists and the demand of the tourist is bringing better highways. Unfortunately the demand for better highways to serve as arteries of trade for the new industries and for the tourists has handicapped the entire state because modes of travel have improved faster than our highways.

To improve our highways, to serve a modern demand, is therefore a major problem, more especially in southeastern New Mexico, a section of the state that supplies the bulk of the revenue in the form

Drivers Licenses

New Mexico may sell over 200, 000 drivers' licenses next year, it was forecast last week by John Bingaman, state commissioner of revenue. The new act, which provides that every driver of a motor vehicle must have a license, will go into effect on January 1. Members of the state police force will test fitness of applicants for li-

Bingaman said his estimate of some 200,000 licenses was based upon operation of a similar law in Kansas, where two or more drivers' licenses were issued for than 100,000 automobile licenses Either rose bushes have thorns, have been issued in New Mexico this calendar year.

Fee for operators of private cars will be $1,00, while professional drivers will be required to pay

TALKS ON DISTRICT ROTARY CLUB ASSEMBLY

J. S. Ward, president of the Artesia Rotary club, made a report on the recent district conference held at Silver City at the program hour Tuesday. One thing of interest mentioned by Mr. Ward in his report was the fact that Rotary had been redistricted and that the former 42nd district, serving west Texas and eastern New Mexico, had been changed to the 115th district. D. I. Clowe, club secretary, made a supplemental report, telling of some of the high lights of the conference as well as Arba Green, another local delegate to the Silver City conference.

Visitors at the luncheon Tues-day included: J. R. Ogden of Carlsbad, S. W. Jolly of Roswell and Bill George of Clovis.

MEMBERSHIP INCREASES

Membership in the New Mexico increased to 200, officers reported Monday, a gain of approximately fifty members within the past week. Plans have been made to or-ganize the association in other arts of the state.

"Much the same conditions apply to stocker and feeder cattle. Eastern states do not raise enough of these classes to meet their needs, especially when feed conditions are good like they are at present, and it looks like there will be something of a scramble to secure stocker and feeder cattle this fall."

"Yes," repeats Mr. Reid, "the cattleman in the middle west and southwest seems to be in a position that comes only too seldom in a lifetime to secure fine prices for his stock. He is about the only one who has the supply, and unless something not now in sight interferes with demand, good prices seem a certainty."

BETTER GRASS VARIETIES AIM OF PASTURE RESEARCH

Single grass plants in a pasture do not get much attention because there are so many of them, but a pasture is the sum of the individual plants in it as surely as a crop of corn is the sum of all the corn plants in the field. Farmers seed the more productive strains of wheat and other cereals. But generally they overlook the point that there probably is as much difference in bluegrasses, for example, as there is in wheats. One plant may produce several times as much feed as another, and if all the bluegrass plants in the pasture were as good as the best of them, that kind of pasture might well a longer season This is roughly the idea back of federal and state pasture research. P. V. Cardon, in charge of pasture plants for the United States Department of Agriculture, points out that grass breeding has lagged behind, while cereals have improved by selection of desirable single plants and by the crossing of varieties to combine the best fea-

Local 4-H Club Achievement Day

The county 4-H club girls will hold their county achievement day at the Chamber of Commerce building in Artesia, August 21 from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Each girl will be represented by an exhibit of something she has made, baking sewing, etc.

The girls who win the trip to the state encampment August 29 to September 3 will be chosen at this time. The girls will be chosen according to leadership, interest in the club, willingness to cooperate, and achievement.

The program: 10:00 a. m.-Bobby Wood, Odessa Traylor, Maxine Bunting and Margaret Buckner of Hope will give a demonstration on table service and setting.

3:00 p. m.—The sewing club girls will model the clothes they have made, in a style show. The public is encouraged to attend this exhibit and show the girls you are really interested in the things they are doing in the 4-H Miss Katherine Whitchurch, county extension agent, will be in charge. Arba Green, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, will help arrange the exhibits.
