The first home game for the Bulldogs will be on Saturday, Oct. 13, against Tularosa.

Although the Bulldogs' old archenemies, the Carlsbad Cavemen, whom they have met either in Carlsbad or Artesia each year for a number of years on Thanksgiving, were not to meet on "Turkey Day" and the Thanksgiving game this year was scheduled against Lovington here, it appears now as though the Bulldogs will meet Roswell there on the holiday, because of it being advanced a week by President Roosevelt.

Probably the Artesia-Roswell game, scheduled for Friday, Nov. 24, will be moved up to Nov. 23, the new Thanksgiving Day, and the game on Nov. 30 against Lovington

ANENT LAST WEEK'S EDITION

Many compliments have come in regarding last week's issue of The Advocate and we are not above making mention of that fact, for size quiet organ music, choral and the entire force is proud of the achievement of putting out a passable two-section sheet a day early and with an increased circulation of 2,000 copies.

For the benefit of the subscribers at a distance, who received the regular Thursday issue and did not see the sheet we distributed free on Wednesday, hence do not know what went on here, we will briefly tell about it.

The 2,000 copies, carrying current stories of the celebration, were distributed free at the barbecue at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with a boy at the end of each barbecue serving table. And they were grabbed up with enthusiasm in short order.

Work on the tremendous task did not begin any earlier than for a regular issue, but it did continue practically day and night until it was accomplished. In fact, two members of the force worked straight through Tuesday night of last week and two others caught only two hours of "shut-eye.

Then, with the second edition and four pages of the first section remaining as it was for the special advance publication, the remaining pages were somewhat remade, with the addition of more news and the "rehashing" of other news and the regular subscription list was served as usual on Thursday. In the great rush some news was overlooked, as was to be expected, such as the fact Charles Morgan, active member of Clarence Kepple Post, American Legion, was elected department vice commander at Lordsburg, a slight we would have been up in arms about a few years ago when we received the same honor in another state. But Charley has said nothing, as becomes a gentleman, and we hereby salute him both for that and his election to that important Legion office.

GRACIAS, MI AMIGOS

Sure, it's a whole year off, but what about the celebration next

Undoubtedly the Central Valley Farm & Livestock Association will have its third annual barbecue about a year hence, and we hope it does.

And as nothing can stand still-it must go forward or backward -long distance plans should be made for next year's blow-out.

It is none too early to begin plans, not necessarily active plans, but a bit of figuring and looking ahead, both by the association and the city.

THE MOSQUITO SITUATION

Artesia the last couple of weeks has been overrun with mosquitos, something which seems almost impossible in desert country. And it seems to us that the citizens of Artesia largely are to blame. It is true rains left the bogs to the east of town full of water, making first-class breeding places for mosquitos, which east winds blow into town. But we believe the citizens have been negligent with their disposal of tin cans and about allowing buckets and other things which preaching by the pastor until the at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. will hold water to remain by the fences or garages. An empty tomato can which catches an inch or two of rain water

Cotton acreage planted for the highway history. It covers thou- tured from synthetic material and Mexico has reached a new high as applications for inspection have been received on 3,065 acres, according to the Extension Service. This is in comparison to 2.217 acres on which applications were received for the crop year 1938. Each year the New Mexico State College and U. S. Field Station cooperate with the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association by supplying foundation seed. This year, 1,384 acres were planted with foundation, or Elite, seed for the production of registered, or blue tag, seed, while 1,681 acres of registered seed were planted for the production of certified, or red tag, seed. This is in comparison to 1,302 acres planted for production of registered seed and 915 acres planted for the production of certified seed during the crop year of

The Extension Service says this indicates that the cotton acreage reduction under the agricultural conservation program has stimulated the use of better cotton seed. With present cotton prices, the grower must produce the largest net return per acre possible, which can only be done by planting the highest quality seed.

Acreages by counties: Eddy, 421 acres of Elite, 245 acres of registered; Chaves, 521 acres of Elite, 380 acres of registered; Dona Ana, 297 acres of Elite, 986 acres of registered; Luna, 77 acres of Elite, 70 acres of registered; Otero, 24 acres of Elite; Roosevelt, 24 acres of Elite; Sierra, 20 acres of

OUR INTERESTS AND THE FARMER'S INTERESTS

This is a farm bank with its roots thrust deep into the soil of this section. Our interests and the farmer's interests are bundled together in the same sheaf.

Whatever helps good crops and good prices, anything that helps the farmer to greater profits means an increase in this bank's business and

Farmers, therefore, find in this bank a thorough understanding of their needs and problems and a willingness to cooperate in every possible way that will advance their interests.
