The "Men of Bataan," only 22 out of 50, have returned home to us, but it is fitting and proper that we show in our feeble way our appreciation of what they and others who have not come home have done for us, by their heroic delaying action, an action which greatly hastened the final victory.

Everybody's Business

Everybody's business is nobody's business.
That has always proven to be the case.
Those things, which could and should be done but which are no particular person's job or task to do—well they are not done.

But for those particular jobs, which become the definite and specific of one person to do—usually are accomplished.

Every community needs workers, community and civic workers. Every community needs those willing to give of their time, their energy, their talents and their ability.

It is something we owe our community. As we have said before—we can't continue to always be taking out and never putting anything back.

Then too it is a well known fact we can always find time to do those things, which we want to do.
And the honest thing to do is refuse to accept a task or the responsibility for a job, if we don't intend to do it.

In Artesia there are a number of things, which need attention; many which can and should be done but they are delayed from day to day, week to week and month to month. Chances are they never will be done. And the reason is—there is no one particular person assigned to do them.

Every community needs one person to give his time, energy, talents and ability to get those community jobs done, which need to be done. Those communities, which have provided this, move ahead and accomplish more things.

But all of us have an obligation and a duty and a responsibility to our community. Some of us endeavor to pay this debt we owe society. Others have never learned that this task and duty comes ahead of some of our personal pleasures and our personal affairs. And that is a lesson we need to learn if we really want to aid and help our community to grow and expand.

Because we must carry this civic load and perform these civic duties until we do have someone to definitely perform all these jobs for us.—O. E. P.

New Industries

Considerable thought is now being given new industries for New Mexico.

Every now and then someone comes along with the idea that we need more industries.

Industries make for payrolls because they provide jobs. They are a fine thing for any community.
But they are particularly fine for New Mexico and states in the Southwest area. Fine because of the freight rates, which are far too high.

But the fact does remain that now we ship the cotton back east; they make it into garments and clothing; then we ship it back west. And the buyer pays the freight both ways to and from the east.

All of that could be eliminated if the products were made here. In other words the products can be made where the raw materials are available cheaper and sold cheaper than they can after double freight rates have been added to the cost.

We have the raw products, both cotton and wool, which are made into clothing. We have the demand for the clothing. We have the labor.

What we perhaps do not have is capital to put in the plants and get them operating.
But it is worth going into, checking thoroughly;
and doing something about it.

We have been pretty foolish for a long time because we shipped the raw products in the industrial land in the east, paying the freight for this and then shipped the manufactured items of clothing back to the consumer and paid freight on this.

It is all worthy of a little serious thought and consideration.—O. E. P.

Greatest Need

The greatest need for Artesia remains places for people to live.

During the past week some of the old faithful, who have been looking for rent houses or for apartments in order to bring their families here have been to the Advocate office.

Several new ones have called to see if any homes were advertised for rent.

This has been going on for the eight months that have been here. It has prevailed for four or five years, so we are told.

And the biggest job we have facing us as a community, and it is the responsibility of the community, is providing places for folks to live.
We must provide these places if we expect to expand, grow in population and develop.—O. E. P.

Talk Early

The time to demand from the politicians and from those, who will seek public offices, the things we need, want and to which we are entitled, is now or before too long.

The time to make the demands for those things to which we are entitled is when they are seeking our support.

And when we as a community decide what we need and want most and then stand together—we will get them. As we have stated before, too frequently we sell our vote for a mess of pottage. Far too often we accept something personally when our community needs something far more important.

Artesia and Eddy County have not received all that we want, are entitled to have, all we need and we should have. We will get it when we talk loud enough and long enough. And the time to start talking is when the politician starts talking to you.—O. E. P.

On An Equal Basis

State Game Warden Elliott Barker and his department have been handicapped during the war because of a manpower shortage, by way of enforcing the game laws, but an effort was made this season to take better care of the big game areas.
However, a bad situation existed.

When we were going deep into the mountains to make camp the day before the season opened, we heard several shots and even saw two men run and hide as our car approached them on the trail.
Of course, we cannot swear that the shots were at deer, or that the two men were running from a shot buck or doe, but we had our suspicions.

The morning the season opened, we were quite certain the deer had been shot at before hand, for they were wild and many had dropped over the rim of the mountains beyond our camp.

We sincerely hope that another year Warden Barker and his deputies will be able to keep the thing in line better, so that all hunters who try to hunt according to the laws and gentlemen's rules will have an equal chance with the others, especially such as those in a neighboring camp, in which about a half a dozen bucks appeared before the sun was an hour high opening day.—A. L. B.

Keep Main Street Clean

From time to time we have deplored the fact that Main Street continues to be dirty, in spite of the city's efforts to keep it clean. And the blame is largely on the shoulder of those who should make an effort to keep the city's principal street clean and inviting—the merchants themselves.

Well, it now looks as though we are going to have a clean Main Street, one way or another, for members of the council are threatening to make it a misdemeanor to sweep store dirt and trash into the street. Councilman Fred Brainard is at this time figuratively scratching his head by way of wording an ordinance to that effect.

As it now stands, the city street sweeper cleans up about 3 o'clock in the morning, and then the merchants sweep out at 8 o'clock, undoing all the good the sweeper has done. This condition maintains even on Sunday mornings—of all days.

So here's a tip to the Artesia merchants on Main Street: Sweep from front to rear, thus helping to keep the city cleaner, or expect a new city ordinance, which will have teeth in it and will help you get the new habit.—A. L. B.

Food Movements

Perhaps one of the strongest arguments, which could be advanced for the construction of a highway across the mountains west of Artesia to link with the highways beyond, is for the movement of food stuffs.

Some mention, of course, has been made of this. Yet we have been emphasizing the beauty of the highway; its scenic attractions; and the ideal climate and changes, which it will provide for the traveler.

These are good points.
And a highway extending west across Texas, into New Mexico, across the Pecos Valley, west across the mountains has many values. It should be built. It will bring travelers into this part of the state who have never seen southern New Mexico.

Yet we only wish we might total the figures on the pounds of fruits, vegetables and livestock, which has been moved out of these mountains to the table of the American family during the last five or ten years.

If we had those figures we expect they would be amazing.
And when we would see the income from these sources we perhaps would agree that it is not a question of whether we can afford to build the highway but we would be convinced we can't afford not to build the highway.

For years this area has been producing food for the American table yet they have always faced the difficulty of getting these products to market.
Now we need these foods. From all appearances we will continue to need them.

We construct highways for something, which looks as a wealth producer in a short while. Yet over the years we have come to know that the earth is our real source of wealth and income. We know that what we produce in the soil and from the soil is the most reliable and dependable source of income.

In the years past and the years to come the fruits vegetables and livestock produced in the mountains west of Artesia will amount to more than all the wealth realized from other sources of income.

For that reason alone we should construct the highway.

Enthusiasm is running high. Interest is growing in the construction of this super-highway. And when sufficient of us speak out and demand that highway—eventually it will be built.—O. E. P.

It is going to be interesting to watch the outcome of some of the efforts of unions to force ex-service men to join their organizations and pay dues in order to work. Most of these boys were sold on the idea that they were fighting for that very American privilege.

Up and Down Main Street

CAUSE FOR PRIDE
UP AND DOWN MAIN
KEEP UP FINE WORK

Artesia is proud of its students;
its high school; their participation in various events and always proud of the clean cut fight made by the various athletic teams. This year they have not always had the pleasure of seeing their team win on the gridiron but they have seen them fight. They have been proud of them. And often times during the year the loss has been considerable softened by the pride, which could be taken in the high school band and their performance.
We believe this was the case when Roswell appeared here. Roswell was winning and did win the football game but those loyal supporters of the local grid squad took pride in their band. They were loud in their praise in contrasting the two musical organizations.
Roswell had a fine band and yet the Artesia band made a better appearance and did the better job not only of playing but of parading as well. And their feature stunt of having the drum major twirl their lighted batons on the darkened field scored a decided hit. With this act under way and the band swinging into their school song students just spontaneously started singing that song. It was very effective; very fine; and very unusual. Such stunts are frequently staged by the college teams and the college bands yet for a high school organization to do the same thing—we feel the members of the band and its organization deserve a real pat on the back and the director deserves to be commended for the fine job he has done and is doing.
The organization, we feel sure, will continue to grow and to improve and to bring even greater pride to their school and to their city.

this week.

There is no question 'but what a band provides something at a football game. They add color and music and just about complete the picture for a grid game. As a rule we take these groups and the pep squads for granted. We don't see the long practices and the hard work they put in to make their part in the program the success that it is. We go out to see the grid game, forget this is part of the show and give our attention to the football players. Certainly these players deserve all the attention they receive but we still have plenty to give a hand to the other groups. We feel Artesia has just cause to be proud of its school band and the job, which is being done. We believe the public appreciates the work and efforts of J. Bub Farrar and the members of his organization. And as parents we should give every bit of encouragement we possibly can lend to the musical organizations and to those participating in the school program.
There are perhaps those students, who are qualified to play in the band yet who are not doing so.
Maybe they are not participating in athletics and they could take part in the band. It is our duty, we say, to encourage them and to help see, if that is possible, they join in these programs. It is our duty as parents and school patrons to aid and assist them in any way that we can in seeing they have the instruments and the equipment they need; they have practice periods; they have places to practice and that they continue the fine job they are doing. And we feel sure we are more than glad and willing to do that very thing.
We feel sure that every bit of help and assistance we give to Director Farrar and the members of the band will pay dividends in giving greater reason to be even more proud of our high school band.

Coupla gals were discussing a whodunit, currently running in one of the popular mags and one of them asked the other her opinion as to whodunit.
"Oh," replied the other, who takes the line of least resistance in everything she does, "I never try to solve the mystery. I just wait and let the author tell me who is guilty."

Sounds as though she might have been the young woman who recently went to work in one of the local drug stores, but she wasn't.
At any rate, a gal went in to buy some magazines and asked the new clerk, "Is Liberty here?"
"Liberty who?" she replied. "I just started to work and don't know all the girls."

And, of course, you've probably noticed the young fellow, so happy to be out of service and home, and so anxious to let the world know about it that he wears a shirt with a discharge patch, alongside of which is a discharge botton.

"A little boat to go home in,"
is all that Pfc Victor Boesch wants from Santa Claus. Boesch, now "living at the port of Casablanca," writes the Kansas City Star that he has been "sweating out" the process of returning home for 45 days. Declaring that he has been a "good little boy for a whole year, I have the good conduct ribbon to prove it," the homesick warrior asks Santa Claus to forget the little trinkets (like the hand grenades he got last year) and just send a "little boat."

First Choose Young, Tender, Fat Turkey

As New Mexico homemakers talk turkey, Miss Edith Woodard, nutritionist of the Extension Service, comes up with timely tips on roasting techniques.

Mr. and Mrs. Sug Hazel returned from a deer hunting party in the northern part of the state empty handed. Sug reported that the checking station in Magdalena said that only 7 per cent of the hunters in that area were getting their bucks.

Assortment Yule Cards Now Fairly Large, Complete

After considerable delay and numerous orders, a fairly large assortment of Christmas cards has now been secured and is in stock at The Advocate.

These cards are now available to those who may desire to purchase Christmas cards or order them and have their names printed on their cards.

There are cards from three different large manufacturers and the assortment is varied and will at the present time provide cards for almost any desire.

It is expected, however, there will be a real increase in the sale of Christmas cards and since time is getting extremely short for ordering cards once again, pleas are being sounded for all desiring cards to make their selection now.

One large company halted all orders for Christmas cards as of No. 10. One other company will not accept any orders after Dec. 1. This latter company has already greatly reduced the list of cards they have available with those particular numbers either exhausted or sold out.

It will be impossible for The Advocate to purchase and secure any additional cards at this late date.

Those desiring cards are urged to call now before the present supply and assortment is exhausted.

WOOL PRICES STAY PUT FOR A WHILE

Prices ranchers get for wool will stay near present levels through early 1946, a USDA spokesman says.

What happens after June, 1946, however, depends largely on whether government support is continued.

Farmers Will Discuss Postwar Ag Problems

Farmers and ranchers in every New Mexico community will meet to discuss postwar agricultural problems and community conservation needs between now and Dec. 15, Chairman C. V. Hemphill of the State AAA Committee said.

In connection with the meetings, voters will elect AAA committeemen to administer many government farm programs. Eligibility to vote is restricted to farmers participating in the agricultural program, sugar program, or federal crop insurance program.

About 15,000 farmers and ranchers are eligible to vote in community elections, Hemphill said.

Voters in community elections will choose 405 community committeemen and 135 delegates to county conventions. The delegates will elect three-member county activities in each county. "Too much emphasis," Hemphill pointed out, "cannot be placed on the increased responsibility committeemen will have in the coming year. Many grave problems lie ahead for agriculture, and it's important that capable leaders be elected. We hope every farmer will cast his vote for the man he wants to represent him."

THANKSGIVING 1945

Today sees our armed forces victorious everywhere. Our enemies in the Pacific, driven from the lands they had enslaved, surrendered in their own homeland. The European war had already ended. The promise for tomorrow is a happy one.

All of us, a united and victorious America, on this Thanksgiving Day, 1945, humbly raise our thanks to God for the strength and courage given to combat our enemies. May we continue in the faith, courage and self-sacrifice which sustained us in war, as we build a better world in Peace.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
613 West Main.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 25, 1945. The Golden Text is: "We know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." (11 Corinthians 5:1). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of Heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He giveth to all life and breath, and all things;" (Acts 17:25,25). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our theories make the same mistake regarding the Soul and body that Ptoimey made regarding the solar system. They insist that soul is in body and mind therefore tributary to matter. Astronomical science has destroyed the false theory as to the relations of the celestial bodies, and Christian Science will surely destroy the greater error as to our terrestrial bodies." Visitors always welcome.

HEALTHIEST ARMY — Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, Surgeon General of the Army since 1943, entered the Medical Corps a First Lieutenant in 1912 and advanced to the grade of Colonel by 1939. He served with Field Hospital No. 3 in Vera Cruz in 1914 and had two tours of duty as Chief of the Surgical Service at Sternberg General Hospital, Manila, P. I. From 1936 to 1941 he served as Chief of the Surgical Service at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, and later held the same post at Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington, D. C. In 1942 he was assigned as Commanding Officer of Percy Jones General Hospital at Battle Creek, Michigan, and appointed to the rank of Brigadier General in 1943. That same year he was appointed Surgeon General with the rank of Major General. Gen. Kirk is a native of Maryland and received his medical degree from the University of Maryland. Recently Gen. Kirk was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

HOG PRODUCERS GET THE GREEN LIGHT
Hog producers can go ahead with their 1946 production plans. The Department of Agriculture has suggested a national goal of 52,000,000 spring pigs, about the same as last spring's production. Farmers also have USDA's assurance that the price of good and choice butcher hogs will be supported at $12 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, from Oct. 1, 1946, to Sept. 30, 1947. The present support of $13 at Chicago will continue until Sept. 30, 1946. Because of short supplies and heavy demand, USDA specialists don't expect hog prices to go down to support levels very soon.

DEMAND FOR FARM LAND IS HIGH
Despite inflated prices, many returning veterans, war workers, and other are going back to the land. Although there are only a million and a half farms and full-time farm jobs in sight, the USDA predicts that as many as 2,500,000 men may seek farms and farm jobs during the next five years. Farms become available at the rate of about 160,000 annually.

SOFT CORN MAY BE LIVESTOCK FEEDING
Large supplies of corn, in combination with hay crop, a near-record production, and a strong winter are expected to fill feed bins. More cattle will probably be in the Eastern Corn Belt year and about the same in the Western Corn Belt. Western state. Poor and small production of hogs point to some drop in feeding in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas. Lamb feeding is expected to drop slightly this year.

Someone's coming to call

A neighbor of yours will drop in some time soon to tell you about Uncle Sam's last great loan . . . the Victory Loan. He's volunteering his time and effort to do this important job for our country; and you can help him a lot by checking to find out when he's coming, so you'll be sure to be home.

He's hoping you — like every patriotic American — will say, "I know Victory Bonds will help to care for our wounded . . . to bring our boys back home . . . and I know Uncle Sam will pay me back $4 at maturity of my Victory "E" Bonds for every $3 I put in. You bet I'll buy my share!"

Are Enthusiastic Over Revival of Little Theater

A small but enthusiastic group of local people took steps at a meeting Friday evening for revival of the Artesia Little Theater, which did not function during the war years.

It was decided at that time another meeting will be called for 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, Nov. 29, at the city hall, when officers will be elected and committees will be named, so the group can become active as soon as possible.

Miss Ethel Cave, who was elected temporary chairman Friday evening, said those who attended expressed the hopes a number of other local people will become interested in the Artesia Little Theater, not only those who like to act, but those having ability in costuming, designing, make-up, directing, and the like. In other words, Miss Cave said, dramatic ability is not necessary to enjoy the activities of the organization.

The small size of the crowd out Friday was attributed to the big game season and a football game at Carlsbad, rather than lack of interest.

Mrs. Haralson's Pupils Of Fifth Grade Visit The Advocate Plant

The Artesia Advocate was host Monday morning to a splendid group of young Americans, 26 fifth-grade pupils from the room of Mrs. Winifred Haralson, with their teacher.

The youngsters were shown the finer points in the operation of a newspaper, the linotype machine, the presses, and more things than many realized existed, in their interesting school work project of finding out "what makes things tick."

In their many years in newspaper work and many times playing host to groups of boys and girls, neither Orville E. Priestley, publisher, nor A. L. Bert, editor, has seen a finer behaved and more attentive group of youngsters, they agreed.

Woman's Club Will Work Out Program for Boys and Girls

A meeting, which can mean much to the boys and girls of Artesia and which promises to help prevent delinquency of youth here if the suggested program is carried out, has been called for 7:30 o'clock Friday night, Nov. 23, at the Woman's Club.

At this time the boys and girls of Artesia are being invited to meet with several members of the Woman's Club to formulate plans and work out an activity and recreation program for the young people of Artesia.

The success of such a movement, of course, will depend on the response of the boys and girls for the meeting to formulate plans and the cooperation given once the program is formed and launched here.

Preliminary plans for such a meeting and such a program were made at a meeting held last week by Mrs. E. J. Foster, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. E. A. Metzger, Mrs. C. R. Blocker and Mrs. Clyde Parrish. They discussed many phases of the proposed program and then called the meeting of the young people for Friday night.

The program, which it is hoped might fill in and provide the activities until the youngsters can have their own Teen Canteen, would be sponsored and supervised by the members of the Woman's club.

Many ideas are expected to be suggested here at the meeting on Friday night for a program. It has been suggested, however, that and amateur night, game night, one-act plays, picnics, and hikes could be among those things to be arranged and carried out.

The movement here of the Woman's Club has been highly approved by civic and community leader and they declare it can be the beginning of a fine program for the boys and girls of Artesia. They emphasized the need of the young people to respond to the plea to attend the meeting and to join with the adult leaders, who have agreed to supervise such a program and to work with them in carrying out a program in Artesia.

The success of the movement, they declared, will rest on the co-operation of the youngsters and the parents.

'Falling Plane' Is Meteor, Seen on Saturday Evening

Extensive search Saturday night and Sunday morning in this area by civilian and Army fliers to the southwest for an airplane, believed to have fallen in flames, was useless, for the "falling plane" was a meteor, probably of unusual proportions, which is believed to have fallen as a meteorite near Ciudad Chihuahua, Chihuahua Mexico, according to Dr. H. H. Nininger of Artesia, one of the nation's ranking authorities on meteors and meteorites.

From telephone, telegraph, and postal communications, Dr. Nininger has learned that the heavenly body, which was seen by a number of persons in and near Artesia—leading to the report of a falling plane—was seen also by persons far north of Roswell, south to Pecos and west into Arizona.

Protracted calculations from the more accurate reports shows the "falling plane" was a meteor, which fell to earth in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

One of the best reports was from the pilot of an American Airlines plane, who was just off the southwest corner of New Mexico, and who logged the flight of the meteor and declared it fell southeast of him in the neighborhood of Chihuahua City. He logged it as having been visible for 13 seconds.

Dr. Nininger said that the body was seen at about 15 degrees west of south from Artesia, which would cross a line with the pilot's observation near the Mexican City. The time 5:28 o'clock Sunday evening.

The great distance from here, he said, would give the appearance of movement of only a mile or two through the atmosphere.

Eligibility to Legion and Auxiliary For Men and Women Is Explained

(As more and more men and women of the armed services come home, the question of eligibility in the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary comes up with more frequency. It was the subject of a discussion at the November meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in Artesia, but hundreds of women—as well as men—who are interested were not privileged to hear it. As a service to them, the following article from National News, the organ of the American Legion Auxiliary, is reprinted in part.)

Eligibility to membership in the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary was extended to large new classifications of individuals upon the surrender of Japan. Many questions regarding eligibility are being asked. The most frequent of these are answered in the following series of questions and answers.

What is the official wording in the Congressional charter regarding eligibility of members of the armed forces?

"That no person shall be a member of this corporation unless he... shall have an honorable discharge or separation from such service or continue to serve honorably after the date of cessation of such hostilities as determined herein."

Does the above section serve to make all present servicemen and women eligible immediately to membership?

The national judge advocate has ruled that the signing of the surrender pact by General MacArthur on behalf of the United Nations and the Japanese representatives on Sept. 2, 1945, and the president's pronouncement to that effect, is the proper date in conformity with the Legion's charter, and members of the armed forces following that date do not have to await discharge from the service to join the American Legion.

Why the victory over Japan date for the cessation of hostilities?

Although due to same federal statutes, and the desire of the government not to make any pronouncement technically entitled "cessation of hostilities," the signing of the surrender pact with the Japanese is directly comparable to the signing of the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, and as that earlier date is basic to eligibility of Legion membership, the Sept. 2, 1945 date is likewise basic, according to the opinion of the national judge advocate.

Are women eligible to membership in the Auxiliary without a discharge from service or membership in the Legion?

Women still on active service with the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard became eligible to membership in the Auxiliary on Sept. 2, 1945. They do not have to await discharge from the service to join the Auxiliary, nor is it necessary that they first become members of the American Legion. They are eligible to the Auxiliary in their own right, on the same basis as women who served in the armed forces between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918.

Who certifies to the eligibility of women still in the service and what form is attached to their applications to prove they are eligible?

No certification of eligibility or special form is necessary. The unit is the judge of its own membership. The applicant's own statement that she is in the service, date of enlistment, her service number and service address should be sufficient proof of eligibility.

Are mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters of persons still serving with the armed forces eligible for Auxiliary membership?

They become eligible as soon as the son or daughter, husband, brother or sister, or father in the service becomes a member of the American Legion. If the service relative is not a Legion member they are not eligible.

Are women members of the family of a man serving in the armed forces of nations allied with the United States in World War II eligible?

They are eligible provided that the man is eligible to the Legion and becomes a Legion member. To be eligible for Legion membership he must have been a citizen of the United States at the time he entered service.

What is the status of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of persons who entered the armed forces between Aug. 14, 1945, when Japan agreed to accept the surrender terms, and Sept. 12, 1945, when the actual surrender took place?

They are eligible as soon as the service person becomes a member of the American Legion.

Will women members of families called to active duty after Sept. 2, 1945, become eligible?

No. Such persons are not eligible to Legion membership and therefore the women of their families cannot become members of the Auxiliary.

What is the eligibility status of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of persons who lost their lives in war service?

They are eligible for gold star membership and a place of honor awaits them in the American Legion Auxiliary.

A man serves honorably in World War II, then dies before becoming a member of the American Legion. Are the women of his family eligible to the Auxiliary?

Yes. The death of a veteran does not deprive his mother, wife, sister, and daughter of the right to Auxiliary membership. His war service won that right for them and it continues after his death regardless of whether or not he was a member of the Legion. If the veteran is living he must be a Legion member to establish eligibility for the women of his family, but when death makes it no longer possible for him to become a Legionnaire, they are eligible to the Auxiliary.

used furniture dealers in Clinton, Ill., were loading household goods they had purchased, when a library table drawer fell out. A large amount of currency spilled on the ground. The Wrones summoned the county judge, the state attorney, and a deputy to count the money. Then they told the officials to hold the $1126 for the former owner of the library table.

In Kirksville, Mo., the decorative coat of arms planned for the draperies at the Ann R. Still Memorial Convalescent Hospital couldn't be more appropriate. While planning the decoration of the hospital, where many mothers and their babies come as patients, the committee was stumped when it came to selecting a design for the draperies. Following the suggestion of one member that they trace the Still family coat of arms, the committee was convinced after Father Martin Doherty of Cervais, Ore., Catholic priest and author, gave a ride to a hitch-hiking soldier bound for Washington state. Seeking to help the soldier, hospitable Father Doherty invited him to spend the night at his home before he resumed his journey. Next morning the soldier was gone. So was Father Doherty's car. It turned up later, near the Washington town for which the soldier was heading.

A Salt Lake City jail inmate serving a 90-day term for drunkenness was a handy man to have around. City Commissioners ordered a pardon for him because he worked so diligently on the janitorial staff at the public safety building. City Prosecutor Roscoe W. Irvine recommended the pardon and wrote, "He is the best janitorial worker we have had. I not only recommend a pardon but that he be employed by the city."

In Spokane, Wash., an aged pensioner picked up a ring from the sidewalk, noted the dime store size of the large stone and dropped it in the pocket of his worn coat, where it remained forgotten for days. Casually showing it to a friend later, he learned a woman was advertising for a lost ring. He collected a reward. Mrs. M. W. Fairweather, the owner, identified it as her diamond ring worth $2500.

Dean Bethel, with a Navy discharge in his pocket, decided to surprise his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bethel, and drop in on them unannounced. It was a big day for Mom and Pop, because brothers Paul and Howard, just discharged from the Army, were also hurrying home to surprise the folks. All three sons arrived on the same day.

 "Thanksgiving" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Societies and Churches of Christ, Scienties, on Thursday, November 22, 1945.
 The Golden Text is: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks." 1 Thesalonians 5:16-18.
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of His holiness." (1 Chronicles 16:29).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech." Visitors always welcome.

No shaking at the grate

WHEN YOU USE Natural Gas

THE TIME is November. You get up on a cold gray morning and the house is cold as a tomb. You tackle the cold gray furnace or stove and shiver and shake while you shake down the ashes to start a fire. The ashes fly through the air and you cough and sneeze. You coax the fire into burning, and shiver and shake until the house gets warm. The appliance has an enormous appetite and you keep adding fuel all day long. The more fuel burns, the more ashes you have to shake down.

It's a different story when you use Natural Gas — whether with a gas-fired furnace, space heaters, floor furnaces or gas-fired radiators. With Natural Gas you get instant heat. You don't have to keep adding fuel to the fire. There's no shaking the grate and emptying ashes. There's no cleaner fuel than Natural Gas. Your house is not filled with smoky odors. With Natural Gas you get a consistently even room temperature. There are no extremes from too hot one minute to too cold the next.

Mail Delivery Extension Calls for More Sidewalks and Street Lights

With all indications pointing to a new federal building for Artesia and indications that one or two more city carriers will have to be added to the city delivery service, pleas are being sounded for the installation of more street lights and city sidewalks here.

Regulations, of course, Postmaster J. L. Truett stated, require that sidewalks and street lights be installed before residential delivery service can be inaugurated in any one section, area or part of the city.

Postmaster Truett stated that several changes are being contemplated and that it will be necessary soon to restrict the city routes. At this time indications are that at least one new carrier and possibly two, may be added. However, in order that certain sections of the city can be served, it is going to be necessary for sidewalks to be laid and for street lights to be installed.

Postmaster Truett has already conferred with city officials and they have assured him of their complete and full cooperation in the installing of street lights.

In many residential districts, sidewalks, however, have not been laid and this must be done to be able to make city mail delivery. The laying of the sidewalks also will result in an improvement in the city, as well as an improvement in the appearance of the city.

Besides the laying of sidewalks and installing street lights, it is hoped there will be considerable interest here in re-marking or marking of city streets and in repairing damaged street signs.

All of these improvements will not only make it possible for increased mail delivery service but they also will make for an improvement in the appearance of the city, it was explained.

Stout Tells

call police when they encounter anything out of the ordinary. It is not a case of calling the jail, phone 198, if it is an emergency, but rather of telling the telephone operator — central — that an officer is needed at once at such and such a place. The operator will do the rest — locating a city or county officer within a short time.

Turkey Day

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) Jerry Dublin, who was elected honorary captain for the season by the Bulldogs Monday afternoon, will be the game captain.

Coaches Thompson and Green will start the boys off at basketball practice officially next Monday, although some of the candidates started working out this week Monday. Coach Thompson will have the first three days of next week to select his "B" team, and Coach Green will devote the final two school days of the week to selecting a varsity squad.

The Bulldogs will play 15 games the coming season, of which eight will be at home, besides the district tournament Feb. 11-15. Three of the games will be prior to the Christmas holidays, all at home. Last season, the Bulldogs won 12 of 17 games, including the tournament.

New uniforms have been ordered for the squad and it is hoped they will be here for the first game, which will be against Hope Dec. 14.

Deer Summary Story Crowded out, Held Over to Next Week

Although it was the intention to run a summary of the deer season and a list of successful hunters in this issue, the story has been held back until next week because of the time element involved in coming out a day early and a heavy run of news and advertising.

Postponement of the story until next week will give late-season hunters a chance to report their success.

The heaviest deer reported killed by local men were 202 and 200 pounds respectively by Charles Grayson and Boone Barnett.

Hope to Clean Up Remaining $1700 For The War Fund

With some $1700 still needed to reach the War Fund quota of $12,700 and with some $250 of this in sight, hopes are still entertained that the goal will be reached here.

Chairman Hollis Watson declared on Tuesday that the committee now has more than $11,000 in the bank and they have some $250 they expect to receive. However, he explained, "We Don't know where we are going to get the remaining $1450, but we still hope that we can secure it."

He emphasized the fact that many cities have encountered considerable trouble raising their War Fund quota this year, but that he felt Artesia and North Eddy County will reach their goal if the same fine cooperation is given this year as was given last year.

If every individual and every firm, he explained, who donated last year would contribute this year, the goal would be reached, because some $1,400 was raised here last year.

Of the total goal of $12,700, some $7500 goes into the War Fund to provide entertainment, services, amusements and extras for the boys in service and especially those in occupied countries. Funds in this $7500 also are used by various war relief agencies to aid and help families of servicemen, to aid the war victims in war-torn countries, and to meet other causes.

Some $3200 of the funds goes into the operation of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs in this district. These funds, of course, make it possible for these organizations to operate and function here.

The remainder, it was hoped, might be raised to assist in the organizing and putting into operation here a teen canteen to aid and help all of the boys and girls in this community.

Anyone who has not made a contribution to the War Fund or anyone, who may desire to increase his gift, is invited to send or give this check to Chairman Watson or to Chairman J. D. Smith at the Southwestern Public Service Company or to Cochairman A. P. Mahone.

George F. King, home service secretary, who was ill and whose report was read, disclosed that nine workers recently took a 20-hour course under him, after he had been at El Paso at a special school. He reported there had been 250 hours of volunteer time given to his office, which handled 241 cases for the Army and 43 for the Navy in the last three months. During November, up to the time of the meeting, 26 cases had been handled, the report said.

Mrs. Herbert Aid, knitting chairman, said 80 workers had spent 2660 hours knitting. At this time, she said, 50 pounds of yarn is in process of being made up.

Chairman Watson, speaking in behalf of the chapter, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Virgil Millsaps, former chairman of the staff assistance corps, who resigned, for the splendid work she did and the great amount of time she devoted to the Red Cross.

George King

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) He came to the United States in 1904 and shortly afterwards became a naturalized citizen of his adopted country, which he served in World War I. He was attached to Squadron A as a sergeant in the Air Corps at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

On Aug. 23, 1908, Mr. King and Leota E. Martin were married at Gatesville, Tex., and to them were born the four children mentioned as surviving.

Mr. King entered the postal service as a rural carrier in 1914 at Ireland, Tex., where he rode horseback or used a cart. After an interruption because of the war, he returned to the postal service at Hamilton, Tex., where he served until transferring to Artesia in 1923. He served the Post Office Department 28 years, of which 17 were out of the Artesia postoffice.

He was active as a carrier until retiring last July 31, when he figured he had traveled 228,000 miles out of the local office.

Mr. King became home service officer of the North Eddy County chapter of the Red Cross in 1930, which office he held until shortly after his retirement from the postal service, when he took a special course in El Paso and was made home service secretary a part-time paid job, furthering the work he had been doing for 15 years, during which he helped hundreds of people with home service problems. He was especially busy in his Red Cross office during and since World War II.

He also served as adjutant and service officer of Clarence Kepple Post No. 41 of the American Legion, in which he did similar work to that in his Red Cross post. Mr. King was commander of the American Legion Post at Hamilton, Tex., before moving to Artesia.

Abbreviations, of both single words and phrases, were common in ancient writings and inscriptions.

C. W. Keys Plans Men's Store in New Building

Another new business planned for Artesia is a modern high-class men's furnishings store to occupy the west storefront of a two-story building which will be erected just east of the L. P. Evans Store.

C. W. Keys, son-in-law of Mrs. L. P. Evans, this week announced plans for the building, the west half of which he will occupy with a new men's store.

Keys said he will carry exclusive lines of both men's clothing and shoes.

Construction of the building will start as soon as possible, Keys said. It will be about 50x80 feet, divided into two 25-foot stores, and will be built along modern lines and will conform somewhat with the L. P. Evans Store building.

Keys said it is impossible to estimate when the building will be completed and he will be ready to open his men's furnishings store, but that construction will be hurried along as rapidly as possible, consistent with good workmanship.

The interior furnishings will reflect the most modern trend.
