Easter Observation To Begin In Union Good Friday Service

Perry Keenly Optimistic Over 1953 Drillers; Bauman Reports To Camp

Keen optimism over the 1953 Artesia Drillers shaping up in spring training at McAllen, Texas, was evident this week as Mgr. Earl Perry reported a ball club already ahead of the 1952 squad which finished the season in fourth place for first division honors.

Perry in a telephone call Wednesday gave the word all Artesia fans have been waiting for — Big Joe Bauman, Longhorn league home run king, will be with the Drillers at first base again this season.

First exhibition games will be started by the Drillers this week-end at McAllen. Artesia was to have played its first exhibition on Thursday and a second one today.

Perry said the Drillers will return home late the night of April 13 or early the morning of the 14th.

Their first home exhibition game is slated for April 14 in Artesia against Clovis of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Perry reported 19 men now in spring training at McAllen, including the hard-hitting Bauman.

Bauman's contract will be returned by Tyler, Texas, of the Big State League April 7 or 8, Perry said. Tyler has already given permission to Artesia to enter Bauman in spring training.

Area Firemen To Meet Here Monday Evening

If Artesia is going to have a big fire this year, Monday night would be a good time for it.

Between 100 and 125 firemen of the Southeastern New Mexico Firemen's association will be in the city for their quarterly convention.

Beginning with a dinner at 7 p. m., in the Artesia fire department building at Fifth and Texas, the convention will feature a give-and-take session with exchange of ideas and criticism, if any, of various department methods.

Firemen from Capitan, Carlsbad, Epinec, Hagerman, Hobbs, Loving, Ruidoso, Lovington, Walker Air Force Base, Dexter, Thayer Apartments, Lake Arthur and Orchard Park will be on hand for the occasion.

Discussion session following the dinner is designed to air problems met by different fire departments so that other departments may benefit from the experience.

Current events in fire fighting with latest information on battling particular types of fire will also come in for attention.

Planned to wind up the evening is a film program with subjects ranging from color movies of a trip down the San Juan river by Jack Frost, Artesia geologist to Colorado wildlife film as well as a fire fighting movie.

Several Artesia city officials will be guests of the fire department for the occasion.

Lamb Is Named IPAA Contact Representative

Raymond Lamb, Wilson Oil Co., Artesia, has been appointed one of four New Mexico contact representatives for the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

His appointment was on recommendation of state officers of the organization. His and similar appointments are designed to make IPAA more accessible and to promote its field contacts.

Beaty Elected Officer in Band Fraternity

Joe Beaty of Artesia has been elected secretary of Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity at Eastern New Mexico university.

According to Floren Thompson, instructor in music and faculty advisor to the fraternity, Beaty and other officers will hold office during the 1953-54 school year.

Artesia baseball fans who still have accounts outstanding with Artesia Baseball Club will give the Drillers a spring training boost by settling their accounts, Mgr. Earl Perry said this week.

"Spring training expenses are heavy and we are faced with buying two more pitchers, involving roughly $1,000," Perry said.

"We're going ahead with training—I'm counting on the fans to hold up the financial end."

Artesia is now drilling three hours a day at McAllen, Perry said.

"The way the team is shaping up, we're going to have a dandy defensive ball club," Perry declared. "We're progressing very well, and I want the fans to know I'm well pleased with our 1953 club."

Tentative line up set by the Driller manager for this week-end exhibition games is:

Les Mulcahey, catcher; Bauman, first base; Joe Calderon, second;

In that line-up are three Drillers from the 1952 aggregation.—Bauman, Hatier, and Haley.

Calderon at second is a top defensive ballplayer with a fast style of play which should pull in more than Artesia's share of double plays, Perry believes.

DiDigiattamasso at third is a rookie, the Driller pilot said, "but he's a flawless fielder." "The Giant," as Perry calls him, further builds Artesia as a defensive club, but is weak in batting.

Joe Fortin in left consistently has been hitting 400-foot balls throughout training, the manager reported.

On the pitching staff are Fred Parker, who played B and C ball with Temple and Odessa in 1952; Len Kuyie, Bob Pressley, Paul Doyle, Frank Fernandez, Fidel Alvarez, and Ken Foster of Artesia.

Foster, Perry noted, has been (Continued on Page Eight)

Easter Seal Campaign Slated To Close in County Sunday

The future of crippled children throughout North Eddy county is in the hands of contributors to the 1953 Easter Seal campaign, F. M. McGinty, president of the North Eddy county Crippled Children's Society, said today as three more days remain in this year's drive.

"Help and hope to thousands of crippled children in clinics, treatment centers, special schools, convalescent hospitals, and numerous other vital Easter Seal facilities depends on the citizens of North Eddy county," McGinty said.

He urged residents of North Eddy who have not already participated in the 1953 campaign to make their contributions before the ends of the drive Easter Sunday, so that the society's goal is reached.

"North Eddy's crippled children may face curtailment of important treatment and training unless public spirited citizens who have not participated in the 1953 appeal contribute as generously as possible," McGinty said.

"We must not let crippled children in our area down," McGinty declared. "We must guarantee that they receive the specialized services they need to grow up to lead happy, useful lives. Sufficient Easter Seal contributions can mean victory over a crippling handicap for hundreds of our own children. We cannot possibly fail their urgent plea."

The chairman at the same time asked North Eddy residents to inform him of any crippled children in the area who may need help.

"As Easter Seals bring our message to so many homes this month," McGinty said, "we find it appropriate to reaffirm our purpose of offering help to every crippled child we can reach and to continue helping those who need our assistance."

"Of all contributions received in Artesia during the current campaign, 91.7 per cent will remain in our state."

Red Cross General Campaign Opens With $3,000 as Quota

Opening of a general Red Cross campaign seeking $3,000 in North Eddy county was announced this morning by Clayton Menefee, North Eddy Red Cross chairman.

More than 3,000 letters containing an appeal for funds are being mailed to North Eddy residents this week-end, Menefee said.

The general campaign seeks to complete a drive for $4,705, he added, of which about $1,700 has already been raised in an advance gifts drive chairmanned by Hollis Watson.

servicemen, veterans, dependents of servicemen and veterans, and dependents of deceased veterans.

Part of the local budget is also set aside for disaster relief.

Menefee also pointed out that North Eddy county's money going to national Red Cross headquarters will make up a portion of the national budget item of $7 million to collect and process whole blood into gamma globulin, a new weapon against paralysis from polio.

Enclosed in appeal letters being mailed this week-end is the 1952 report for Red Cross activities in New Mexico during the year. It points out that 46,387 people in the state are enrolled as members in 37 chapters.

Slow Progress In Selling Lots At Hope Reported

Sale of lots in the petticoat addition at Hope Thursday had reached $4,150, well in sight of the $5,000 goal needed for Hope to start drilling its water well.

Mayor Ethel Altman reported on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Altman said promises have been received this week for nearly the entire $850 balance.

Progress in selling the lots which will finance a $50,000 water program for the town of Hope is forging ahead, but only slowly, representatives of Hope's petticoat government reported this week.

So far about $2,500 has been raised toward the $5,000 down payment the petticoats must pay up before Hope's $50,000 loan will be released for use by the federal housing administration.

FHA requires that Hope raise 10 per cent of the loan—$5,000—to protect the government in case a dry hole is drilled on first attempt to provide the community with a water well.

If the $5,000 is raised and a well brought in, the government will then release the $50,000 loan.

With that loan Hope's petticoat government will complete its well and build a distribution system throughout the community.

To raise the down payment, the petticoats are selling large lots in the petticoat addition. Price is $100 each. So far about 25 have been sold.

When water is made available through the well, it will be brought to the edge of the petticoat addition so that property owners wishing to build will have water service.

Mayor Ethel Altman, the Hope town board, and many leading citizens of the community, including publisher W. E. Rood, may be contacted for more information about the lot sale.

Senior High FTA Chapter Visits ENMU Classrooms

Artesia high school chapter of the Future Teachers of America left Artesia March 26 for Eastern New Mexico university, invited to attend a joint meeting with the college FTA and Portales high school FTA that night. The group, consisting of 14 members and two sponsors, Mrs. Nina McCarter and William Trenfield, was welcomed by a reception committee at the university. They attended a meeting with Mrs. Treva N. Ottjes, the ENMU president of FTA, presiding. Secretary was Mary Lois West, a former Artesia student and the college FTA president for next year. After the business meeting, a demonstration was given on the correct and incorrect methods for a would-be teacher to apply for a position. Punch and cake were served and every one formed a circle and sang songs under the direction of Joe Carroll, a college FTA member. Friday the group was served in the cafeteria and was escorted around the campus to various classes. A session was held at 10 a. m. with a short talk by Miss June West, a teacher at the university. In the afternoon, the group again toured the campus and visited classes. At 3:30 they were ready to leave Portales for Artesia. Everyone who made the trip had many favorable comments about the hospitality of the college FTA chapter and all other people on the ENMU campus.

"I am setting out below what the applicable statutes are and it should be noted that the statutes are to be strictly complied with by all parties. I am also attaching to this memorandum a copy of a dance permit, which must be secured by each of you as required by stature through the justice of peace in your precinct . . .

Five quotations from applicable statutes are attached, with the general warning that either the sponsor of the dance or the sheriff shall appoint a police officer with all powers of the sheriff to keep the peace at each dance within the district.

Penalties for not maintaining a peace officer at dances are set out, and penalties to be assessed upon failure to keep the peace, after arrest by the special officer, are also set forth.

Hanagan pointed out that "This matter is called to your attention due to the fact that in the past, many people running

FROM YOUR CONGRESSMAN Dempsey Believes Eisenhower Team Fails to Deliver Its Promises

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY Congressman from New Mexico WASHINGTON, April 2.

Congress, starting its Easter recess today, left behind it a mounting friction between its majority leadership and the Eisenhower administration. During the nearly three months of the new administration the members of Congress on both sides of the aisle have been forced to the conclusion that the change for which the people voted last November is not taking place.

The principal weak spot thus far developed is the department of state. At least that department under guidance of Secretary Dulles has engendered the bulk of the friction that is now growing to considerable proportions between the President and the legislative branch of the government, more particularly with members of the President's own party in the Congress.

The spirited and unreconcilable opposition that was spearheaded by members of the Senate majority to confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen as ambassador to Russia was the principal incident that has built up in the minds of the Congress and of the people a serious doubt whether the pledges of the new secretary of state to "clean up the department from top to bottom," are to be carried out.

The ultimate confirmation of Bohlen—with 11 Republicans and two Democrats opposing—was not an expression of confidence in Bohlen or in Secretary Dulles. Statements made by members of the Senate indicate clearly that, while they did not agree with the position taken by the President and the secretary of state in insisting that Bohlen be made ambassador to Russia, they deferred to the President's expressed desire.

In view of Bohlen's close relationship with the Acheson regime, it was difficult for the Senators to understand why the President and Secretary Dulles were so insistent that he be confirmed. In the Senate debate, Bohlen's part as a top-notch aide in working out the dubious Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam agreements, was stressed and particular reference was made to the campaign repudiation of those agreements by the President.

The action of Secretary Dulles in so strongly espousing Bohlen was not reassuring to the Congress and most certainly did not inspire confidence among the people of the country. This, coupled with his sponsoring of Alger Hiss for head of the Carnegie Foundation, and his recent action in clearing the loyalty record of John Carter Vincent, then retiring him on a more than ample pension, has cast a shadow of doubt over the State Department and considerably weakens the position of the administration. That certainly cannot be construed as a victory for the President, despite the final Senate vote on Bohlen.

I had shared the hope of many others that the new state department would get away from the ideas and policies of the thoroughly repudiated Acheson regime. The record up to now indicates that apparently is not going to happen. It is hard to understand why the President and the secretary of state took the position that Bohlen was the only man fit for this important job. If Bohlen is the only one of 158 million Americans who can serve as Ambassador to Russia, this nation is in a sad plight.

Reports Reveal Activities Game Wardens Follow Through 'Slack' Winter Months

What does a game warden do in the winter months?

The following paragraphs were taken from the monthly report for February of District Deputy Game Warden Tom Holder of Taos:

"From Feb. 1 to Feb. 9, the weather was extremely mild and a lot of fishing took place on the lower Rio Grande from the Taos Junction bridge to Rinconada. I spent a lot of time patrolling and checking fishermen. Along the upper Rio Grande, little to no fishing was encountered.

A few good catches were checked, mostly made by anglers who are familiar with the river. The best catches were taken on wet or dry flies with a No. 14 hook or smaller. The hard luck fishermen were asking if and when the Rio Grande had been stocked; I must have answered this question 100 times. Fishing in general has been very slow, probably due to excellent natural feed conditions.

During the month, we had extremely bad weather with cold and storms. After the weather changed, fishing slowed down and I devoted most of my time to checking big game areas. I worked the Costilla, Questa, Red River, Tres Ritos, Eagle Nest, and Taos country. In these particular areas, deer are very plentiful and lots of time was spent checking for violations. The only evidence of illegal hunting I found was at the lower end of Red River Canyon near Questa.

I found the tracks of two men who were, without a doubt, illegally hunting. The main roads are all blocked which prevents poachers from traveling and, of course, makes it easier for me to keep tabs on things. In the Tres Ritos area above La Junta, I found a yearling doe that had been killed and partly eaten by two coyotes. This is the only evidence of coyote damage I have observed in the past three years.

Between Eagle Nest and Red River, John Mutz of Red River reported damage to deer by stray dogs. These dogs prowl deer areas between Eagle Nest and the top of Red River Pass. I have spent some time watching for these dogs, but to date, I have been unable to locate them.

During the month, I also had a couple of beaver damage reports which I investigated and reported my findings to Tom Rayburn, in charge of beaver control.

Considerable time was spent checking and patrolling bird areas in the Taos Valley. Several coveys of quail and a good many pheasants survived the last hunting seasons. During the month, we have had a heavy concentration of migrating ducks in the Valley. In one large grain field I saw an estimated seven to nine thousand ducks.

During February, I also interviewed most of the license vendors and had them sign applications to sell licenses. It was a tough deal because lots of the vendors live in the back country and the roads were a real problem. In some places, roads are nearly impossible and hard on cars.

The past few days, I accompanied John Brewer to the West Vermejo via Costilla and checked game and fish areas in that part of the district. No evidence of illegal hunting or fishing encountered. Lots of elk sign in this area."

DAV Takes Over Mat Card, Brings El Paso Men Tonight

Artesia Disabled American Veterans, now promoting their own wrestling matches after severing relations with A. J. Stribling of Roswell, will present their next to final card of the season this evening at 8:15.

Signed for tonight's bout by the DAV are Ray Valadez vs. John Tolos, and Pedro Escobar vs. Bobby Coleman. All four wrestlers are from El Paso.

DAV is also seeking to arrange a wrestling prelim for tonight between George Munday of Roswell and Don Johnston of Artesia.

The veterans' organization, which with Stribling began its current wrestling season this winter, severed relations with the Roswell promoter this week after disagreement over quality of cards.

Artesia DAV members expressed doubt as to the caliber of wrestlers in recent fights. Final decision was reached by the DAV after viewing the card set-up by Stribling for this week's match.

Wrestling is being sponsored by the veterans organization as a method to meet its share of obligation due on the Veterans Memorial building fund.

The match scheduled for a week from tonight on April 10 will be the last of the current season.

Walker Judo Exhibition Team Gives 115th Show in Artesia Appearance

When the judo exhibition team from Walker Air Force Base made its appearance here last Friday night, it marked the 115th exhibition of the judo experts.

Always a popular show, the exhibitions have been made before large and small audiences—from demonstrations for groups of four people to the vast audiences of television stations at El Paso and Fort Worth.

The judo and physical conditioning program at Walker is under the guidance of T-Sgt. John Hodge.

Physical conditioning plays a large part in the mental and physical abilities of crew members who fly the bombers at Walker. It teaches better coordination of the mental reflexes, and eases somewhat the physical strain of long flights in aircraft.

Conest judo is a part of the physical conditioning program because it stretches muscles, quickens the mental reflexes and relaxes the participant.

Last week, Headquarters, Strategic Air Command announced that T-Sgt. Hodge would be one of two members to represent the Air Force in the national AAU judo tournament to be held in California in May.

The exhibition team is composed of all Air Force personnel. The youngest members are "fledglings"—Air Force youngsters. There is one married couple on the team, Sgt. and Mrs. Herman Face. They put on the "boy meets girl" act, with the girl usually tossing the young man around—and down. The team averages 12 exhibitions a month, and is building up interest in judo and physical conditioning in the southeast New Mexico area. Exhibitions are slated in the near future in Hobbs, Albuquerque, Portales and Clovis.

Our Only Real Hope

EASTER SEASON arrives again and Sunday we will recall the event which we commemorate as Easter.

Easter brings us our only real hope of eternal life. It is the Easter season which gives us the final proof there is life after death.

It was on this morn' more than 1,900 years ago that Christ, who had been tried, doomed to death, and crucified, arose from the grave to ascend to heaven—proof for all times that man does live hereafter.

The events which led up to Christ's death, are not a pretty story but there is no more beautiful story in all history than the story of Christ's resurrection.

And that story is the climax of all of our religion and our belief as Christians.

There is no occasion during the church year which is so well observed and celebrated as the resurrection of Christ. This observance starts prior to Easter with the Lenten season. On Friday, the dark day and dark page in our Christian religion, the observance really gets underway. It was on this day so many years ago that Christ carried His cross to the Hill of Golgotha. It was there between two thieves He was crucified dead. He was removed from the cross and laid in Joseph's tomb. It was from this tomb on Easter morning He arose from the dead.

Down through the years we have continued to observe and to celebrate this occasion.

And on this hinges our religion. Those who may doubt life after death, the skeptics and the "doubting Thomases" are given this experience of Christ to bolster their faith and to convince them of the fact that life does not end with death on this earth.

No other faith under the sun has this example of life after death. No other religion offers convincing proof that when we die we do live again and there is life after death.

But despite this proof we still have those who refuse to accept this truth or if they do accept it, it is only for a little while when the Easter season is upon us.

And they go to church on Easter if they haven't been before during the year and if they do not go any more until another Easter arrives.

They soon forget the meaning of Easter. They forget the true meaning of Christmas. They go along perhaps convinced they would not remain long in the community if the churches were not there, but do nothing to insure that the churches remain in their community.

They argue about the church members, they condemn those backing and supporting the church with some few exceptions. They talk about people belonging to church for business reasons or for some other reason. They not only refuse to attend but they refuse to contribute to the support of the church of their own choice.

For more than 1,900 years now the message of Christ's birth, His life, His death, and His resurrection has been preached and yet less than half of the people of our own nation are active members of any church.

But Sunday more people will attend church than have attended church in many months—perhaps more than since last Easter.

THIS LAND OF ENCHANTMENT—

Convict Due to Leave Prison Three Months Before Escape Now Has Three Years to Serve

CONSIDER THE MISFORTUNES of W. M. Foster.
A Lea county jury convicted him of breaking and entering in 1950. He was given a five to seven year sentence.

Until he got restless last October, Foster was doing all right. But his itchy feet took him right out of the Los Lunas prison farm. While free, he assaulted a railroad man. Again captured, he was given a three year sentence on top of the original five to seven.

Foster didn't think this quite right, and so appealed. The judge didn't think it was right, either, and reduced the term to three years instead of five to seven.

Then prison officials started figuring. With the lesser sentence and time off for good behavior, Foster should have been a free man last summer—three months before he escaped.

Prison Warden Morris Abram couldn't figure all that out. He turned it over to the attorney general.

The attorney general's opinion was definite: Foster should have been freed months ago.
But he should never have tangled with that railway man. The attorney general says he'll have to serve out the second three-year sentence.

A POPULATION OF 35,000 for Lovington is seen by a Southern Union Gas Co. spokesman, reports the Lovington Press.
A. J. Green, manager of SU's Carlsbad district, said "I would say that Lovington will be a town of from 20,000, possibly to 35,000 within the next 15 to 20 years."
"I am not predicting for the company," he added, "but I have kept figures through the years upon which I have based our proposed growth. Lovington certainly has gone almost straight up the chart."

SOCORRO COUNTY IS GO-

ter. But maybe that is better than not attending at all and perhaps the day and time will come when the Easter message will convince us of the need of faith and a religion and church of our own and we will put our talents, our ability and our money behind the church and its program in a world which needs the message of peace, brotherly love, and understanding more than anything else.

Where Is Money Going?

WE ARE TOLD we do not have sufficient ammunition in Korea. We are told we do not have sufficient planes in Korea and that our jet fighters do not compare with those of the Reds. We are told we do not have sufficient food supplies for the South Korean armies. We are also told we have no civil defense program.

After more than two years of war and after pouring millions into this so-called "police action" we seemingly are less prepared today than we were back in 1950.

What are we doing—merely fattening the pocketbooks of those who encourage war for personal profit? It begins to look that way.

It appears to us that President Dwight D. Eisenhower is correct in his proposed plan to clean out the Pentagon building. If there are those not qualified, not able and lacking the "know how" to get the job done, then it is time we get someone who can.

Regardless of what the Army Chief of Staff may say we are still inclined to believe the statements of General Van Fleet, who was actually engaged in the war in Korea. He wasn't a casual visitor as General Lawton Collins has been.

No one has denied that the group of pilots who have fought in the skies over Korea were telling the truth when they contended before Congressional committees we needed not only more planes but better planes.

And even the Chief of Staff admitted the food situation was not good.

It is about time America have the truth. There are those urging President Eisenhower to give Americans the whole truth. We have been getting half truths ever since we started the Korean war.

We will continue to get half truths—half truths not only about spending on the defense program but about spending of taxpayers money everywhere just as long as we do not demand the whole truth.

It is time for American taxpayers to demand an accounting—an accounting from every group from the lowest to the highest in this nation spending the taxpayers' money.

They have become so accustomed to spending our money without answering our questions they are spending their own money. And they act and spend as though they were fully convinced there is plenty more where this came from.

When we start asking enough questions we will get the whole truth.

Competition Builds

FAVORING COMPETITION in the American tradition of free enterprise is something we have to give vocally, but as Fred Phelps, Monday night's Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker pointed out, we're afraid of it when it comes down to the local level.

Take any kind of store, set it in the middle of a desert, spend $100,000 a year on advertising, and you still can't build volume. Phelps pointed out. Take the same store, put it in a thriving shopping center, and it will grow.

When several businesses handling the same or similar lines of merchandise offer the same merchandise at similar prices but under different labels, there is no competition, no selection. Even though a community may have these several different stores, there is still no real competition.

But let a store handling a different line, in a different price range, come, and all will benefit, for the community's selection of merchandise is widened. Consumers have a wider selection.

Anyone who has ever accompanied a woman on a shopping trip knows that's important.

Phelps pointed out other truisms—an advertiser, for instance, advertises not only his own business but his community, also.

His program of unity in competition, of realizing that our competitor does help us, is something to seriously study, and to act on.

SLOW DOWN

You're still breaking the law if you drive faster than 60 miles an hour in New Mexico.
If the new traffic code bill approved by the Legislature is signed by Governor Mechem, the new speed limits ultimately will be 70 miles per hour in the daytime and 60 at night. But if—and when—the measure is signed it won't be in effect. That doesn't come until mid-June.

The constitution says bills that don't bear the emergency clause or appropriate money aren't effective for 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

You might also remember that you can be killed just as dead legally as you could at an illegal speed.—Hobbs Daily News-Sun.

COACH FIRING
A bit of a tempest is being stirred up at the University over the firing of Football Coach Dudley DeGroot.

Some students, especially some members of the football squad, are loudly critical of the University's action. They are talking of taking a petition to Gov. Edwin Mechem asking that DeGroot be reinstated. Criticism of the action has not been confined to students and the governor, has received a number of telegrams protesting the dismissal of the coach.

The governor is quoted as being critical of the University's

NEW MEXICO EDITORS ARE SAYING—

Government Paternalism Aids Cattle Industry, Natural Optimism Remains on Top All Along

MAY PAY OFF LATER

More paternalism in government has had an immediate effect on beef cattle prices, admits an official of the New Mexico beef producers' organization.
Government has agreed to buy beef to supply its school lunch program, and with a slightly strengthened market in sight any way, that boost is believed to be of value right at the moment.

Price to be paid for the beef is to be 90 per cent of parity, and that is better than the market has been for several months. That is also good news to the producers.

Other factors are also working in favor of an improved market, and New Mexico ranchers believe that with a few good rains a better year is in prospect. Two major factors are that fewer cattle are going to market now than several months ago when it was glutted, and which brought an other drop in an already sliding price structure. Smaller supplies of beef in storage also may affect the market, according to the New Mexico viewpoint.

Rains, however, are still one of the big elements to count on, for that would mean a smaller production cost to the rancher, and perhaps would allow him a small profit even though the market does not respond to the stimulants that are expected to make it pick up.

The prospects, however, do not compare with the optimism that is generally expressed. In spite of the fact that they took a terrific beating the past year, cattlemen have not let it get them down, and their natural optimism has remained on top all along. That is typical of the industry, and maybe there will be a payoff for it further on.

THOUGHTS IN PRINT
United Nations Becomes Top Tourist Attraction—1,000 Tour Every Day

The United Nations is now New York's No. 1 tourist attraction, Newsweek reports:
The long granite-floored corridors echoed to the click of high heels as visitors in groups of 20—with men out-numbered five to one—set out from the main floor every 10 minutes behind pretty, blue-uniformed girl guides. More than 1,000 persons a day have taken the $1, one-hour conducted tours since they were introduced last October. This makes the U.N.—in or out of session—the chief rival of Rockefeller Center (about 1,400 a day) as a tourist attraction in New York.

The theatrical producer is a bum—or is he? A contributor to the New York Times does a little deflating:
For years I have been sickened by the flowery tributes scattered in the paths of so-called "great" theatrical producers who just happened to become associated with shows that later proved to be hits.

The producer does not write, stage or direct the play. He does not adapt lyrics. If the presentation is taken from a book. He does not compose music, arrange orchestrations, conduct the orchestra, create or direct any of the musical numbers, songs, or dances. He does not design sets, costumes or lighting. He does none of the acting, seldom provides money to finance the show and rarely provides the theater.

In the last analysis, the so-

ATHLETIC POLICIES

The issue is clear but may be obscured in the heat of emotionalism and personalities.
The University administration decided some months ago to adopt a policy of athletic de-emphasis. The school is a member of the North Central Association. This association sets up certain rules for its members to follow if they are to remain in good standing. The athletic policies adopted by the University follow these rules. If the administration is to be honest it must follow the rules or withdraw from the association and lose the benefit of affiliation with that accrediting agency.

Coach DeGroot has expressed his opposition to the de-emphasis policy. That is his privilege, and it is only natural that a coach would not feel kindly toward a program that would weaken his squad. But in our opinion, Coach DeGroot, or any other coach, ought to go along with the policies of his school or resign.

Gov. Mechem is quoted as saying that he believes the University has gone too far in its athletic de-emphasis program. It is our understanding that Gov. Mechem, himself, has been critical of the amount of money the University spent on its athletic program in the past. It is our understanding that the board of regents appointed by Gov. Mechem supported the de-emphasis program.

The governor is quoted as saying that he doesn't want to "mess with" the DeGroot controversy. We think that the regents and the University administration ought to be able to handle the matter without any necessity of the governor's "messing" in it.

They probably could handle it better if the governor would say simply and without further comment that he appointed them to do the job and is leaving it up to them.

There are more important things than football in a University program. —Albuquerque Tribune.

A FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT ORDER HAS DIRECTED A RIO ARRIBA COUNTY RANCHER TO STOP BLOCKING A ROAD TO OIL AND GAS LEASES IN THE LARGO CANYON AREA.

According to reports from the area by oil transport drivers, E. H. Kaime set up a tent, spread his bedroll in the middle of the road, and made the oil men pay a toll to use the road.
Oilman Tim B. Lowry of Illinois filed a complaint, claiming Kaime closed and locked a gate on the road last Wednesday, causing $10,000 damages to Lowry to date.

COFFEE TALK—

'Blitz' Paint Job May Be Given Health, Welfare Center as Stunt

COUNCIL OF SOCIAL AGENCIES may be the recipient of a blitz paint job for its North Eddy County Health and Welfare Center at 408 W. Texas.

The consideration comes from the Chamber of Commerce, where its special events committee under chairmanship of Chuck Baldwin is considering some publicity stunts to put over a "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week," which is being readied for April 13-20.

The thought is that it will interest folks at least in the paint-up phase of the work.
The clean-up promotion may include gathering a bunch of civic wheels to sweep Main street or some such strictly-for-show stunt.

The belief is that Artesia, which has been called the cleanest community in New Mexico by state and federal health authorities, should seek to protect its reputation, and to, perhaps, become ever more worthy of it.

NORTH EDDY COUNTY Game Protective association in cooperation with the state game department strung one seine 80 yards long in the Pecos river at Boiling Springs to catch fish for its Rough Fish Roundup.

When that 80-yard net—that's 240 feet—was gathered in Sunday it had 287 gar during one haul—that's better than one per foot, and even just that single haul will probably save fishermen a lot of grief with tackle, not to mention saving game fish.

Incidentally, the number of tagged carp planted in the Pecos by the North Eddy GPA is constantly increasing, and the plantings have been carried on all the way from the bridge at Lake Arthur clear down to Lake Avalon. While the first carp, caught Sunday, was worth about $7.60 altogether, some are worth as much as $25 and there are reports of one or two sponsors with $50 ready to invest in good fishing.

EARL PERRY SOUNDS highly enthusiastic about the 1953 Drillers, agrees everyone who has had a chance to talk to Artesia's manager since spring training opened in McAllen, Texas, in the Rio Grande Valley two weeks ago.

The boys, says Commodore Perry, are in excellent mental attitude, highly important during the arduous spring training. It's a good team, says the Drillers' manager, as the 1952 fourth-place Drillers team which finished last season.

PERRY, INCIDENTALLY has a man who, according to the best understanding of the telephone line between Artesia and McAllen, sounds as if it spells his name DiDizantamano.

Perry calls him "The Giant" else "my alphabet boy." It's interesting to see what that name at the loudspeaker comes up with this summer.

Giant, incidentally, is a sterling fielder who Perry is now using at third base. He handles himself as have few other infielders. Perry's experience, but as with nearly all such highly developed men, he's weak elsewhere—in the batting department.

FROM ALL INDICATIONS Artesia has a completely new civil defense. No one knows as much about it, nor does anyone seem to know how you can get about finding something as about it.

For instance, there was a spotter and alert test in these parts last Friday. Police formed Mayor Altman at Hogue's home, and a sister of his, Mrs. L. Snow, who has been reported they spotted the test plane in plenty of time.

It was never reported from Artesia—there's no spotter system. Even police didn't know how to call to alert the Artesia spotter system that there would be a plane fly over.

Oh, well, we've only got two fisheries here and no enemy could possibly be interested in trout fishing. NuMex produces about 30 per cent of the state's gas and during the last war supplied New Mexico air bases with the best aviation gas. Who would want to bother anything as good as that?
