

You Wouldn't Know Corduroy

"But this can't be corduroy!" That's a typical reaction at yard goods counters to the new prints, weaves and textured surfaces now appearing in this old favorite among cottons.

Finer, lighter weights, wide color ranges and many special effects made possible with printed corduroy account for the recent introduction of this once mundane material into the drawing room. This season, corduroy can be found so fine it's translucent and so soft it can be treated without bulk.

Traditional treatments have been abandoned in the corduroy prints. Designers have simply used the characteristic pinwale as a basic surface and gone on from there.

Brush-stroke techniques, high style print effects, off-beat colors, large and small scale designs—all are used to achieve new fashion significance. Textures are produced by cross-cutting the ribs to achieve pique or waffle weave effects, by appliqueing designs on the surface and by alternating cut and uncut pile to make velvety stripes in any desired width.

LADIES NIGHT

The 20-30 club will have ladies night tonight, beginning with dinner at Cliff's Cafeteria at 7:30. After dinner a short business meeting will be held and then members and guests will adjourn to the Elks club for a dance. Music for the dance will be furnished by Jimmy Furlow's Western Band.

Corduroy bedspreads, couch covers and draperies present a real opportunity to the home decorator.

If you like modern, there are vivid harlequins or stylized mobiles. If you're a traditionalist, the silk print florals are for you. Or, you can choose designs with Oriental inspiration, combining prints with solids in hot pinks or cool greens.

my new york

BY MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—If you are coming to Manhattan this summer, of course you will ride the ferry to Staten Island. If you don't, you're crazy. The almost endless ride, past the Statue of Liberty with the salt air in your nostrils and the fabulous New York skyline fading in the afternoon mist, may be the best entertainment we can offer you.

When you do it, however, don't lose yourself too completely in dreams, or reveries about the boy you almost married but didn't. Take a good look around you at the Port of New York. It's one of the largest, most fascinating, most eye-opening operations in the world.

To begin with, we have more than 600 miles of frontage on navigable waterways. Using these daily are nearly 200 deep-water vessels, which in a good year will bring some 22 million tons of imported foreign cargo to the shores of New York. In addition to these Big Berthas lumbering in and out of port, there are on hand about 2,500 tugs, barges, lighters and floating derricks, which busy themselves criss-crossing around the Upper Bay like so many beetles.

THERE ARE ABOUT 250,000 persons employed directly in and around the port, and another three and a half million at adjacent shipyards, oil and metal refineries and assembly plants whose businesses are interwoven with the port's. The oddest thing about the port may be that it really is a combination of ports. On hand are four rivers, four straits of the Harlem and East rivers, eight large bays and two kills just west of Staten Island. The harbors have changed little in physical nature since Henry Hudson sailed through them in 1609, or Giovanni da Verrazano in 1524, depending on which bit of history intrigues you most.

There are fish in the New York bays these days but not nearly so many as in Hudson's day. Then, it was common to catch 500 or 600-pound sturgeon, and for a while the sight of a whale in the Upper Bay was far from rare. Those, of course, were the days before the water was thick with silt; when the island was crowded with trees and ducks and herons swarmed over the harbors by the thousands.

NEW YORK'S PORT has about 200 piers which will accommodate deep-water ships. There are 12 railroads on hand with storage areas and marshaling yards available, and over by Brooklyn's Gowanus bay, there's a grain elevator pier where 4,000 tons of grain can be loaded on a ship every eight hours. Incidentally, if you happen to count, say, 300 vessels in port here on a busy day, it's no record. Back in 1802, somebody checked up one afternoon and found 661 ships on tap.

Speed, of course, is the great factor these days in the cargo trade; it costs two to three thousand dollars a day to care for a cargo ship, so it is preferred that they be kept busy. They like to sail in, unload and re-load as quickly as possible, and be off again to Genoa or Hong Kong. The top vessels in the business are known as C-3 ships; they cost just under $4 million and can move along regularly at 18 to 18 knots. Few, rusty old tramp steamers limp slowly along the ocean lanes these days. Every extra day at sea costs an owner money.

The Port of New York Authority, now 30 years old, supervises each year about 10,000 sailings out of New York. It knows its business. So—when you are sailing to Staten Island, don't hold your breath in panic when it seems as if all the assorted vessels are heading for a central spot in the bay, where they all will crash head-on and sink. This is organized big business. The romance of the sea still is here, but you have to dig to find it.

GRIM VIEW—This scene of devastation greeted President Eisenhower yesterday as he flew over flood-ravaged New England. This aerial view shows home which crashed into rampaging river during the height of the flood. Masses of debris pile against the walls of nearby buildings. The president pledged immediate federal disaster aid to the stricken region. (International Soundphoto)

So, You Are the Club Reporter

So you are elected reporter for your club, sorority or church organization. You are proud of the job and want to give your organization better publicity than any other in town. You may have your eyes on a job as stringer, to use a journalistic term, for a newspaper in a distant city. Or you may have the urge to write serious articles for magazines. Or, on the other hand, you may have had the office of reporter "wished on" you and feel that you have no training or talent for the position.

In either case, it can prove to be both exciting and educational and rewarding. Everything that happens will take on a new meaning as possible source for news of your group.

News gets its name from something new, a recent occurrence or something that will happen in the near future. And that is the first job of the reporter: to get the news to the paper while it is new. Send in advance notices a day or two before the meeting or special program. Then follow this up with a full account of what happened. Call in the afternoon following a morning get-together, or the next morning of a night meeting.

Important Points
Watch for what we call the Four W's in the newspaper world. What was it? Where did it take place? Who was there? When did it take place? And add to that one H for How did it happen—or what took place on the program.

Get these important points in the lead paragraph and at least some of them in the first sentence. If new officers are elected or installed that is more important than routine business. A guest speaker can be included in the lead paragraph if the speaker is important or has something new to bring to the group.

Projects being planned and time set are more important than the routine business. Get this in near the first of your story and follow up with business and guests and next meeting. Give full names of all persons mentioned.

But most important of all, get the story to the society editor while it is news.

Showers and birthday parties, bridge parties, farewell parties all make news but may not be set far enough ahead to give advance notice and are not for the calendar. If you are a reporter of a regular club, sorority or church organization you probably will not feel obligated to report activities not in line with the routine of meetings.

But "everybody's business is nobody's business" and it is a nice gesture for a publicity chairman to report showers or parties given for a member of your club or church group. You were selected because the members thought you capable and talented in writing and gathering the news. In other words, they may have noticed that you have that sixth sense, a "nose for news." So try to give publicity to honors that come to individual members, as well as your club as a whole.

Pictures
Pictures are important when a shower is to be given for someone in your group. Notify the Society desk far in advance, or as early as you know that pictures will be needed. And every effort will be made to have them taken. They add much to your publicity and are invaluable for scrapbook clippings.

Large groups do not make good pictures, so explain tactfully to the members or guests present that the honor guest, hostess or officers are needed for the publicity picture. Get full names of those in the pictures and give to photographer.

Wedding pictures are not made until the ceremony takes place and the wedded couple often goes out of town on a honeymoon, leaving the story of the wedding to come out much, much later. Friends or relatives can help by getting the details and turning in the story soon after the wedding.

Out of town reporters may be on the search for engagement pictures and wedding pictures long ahead of time, so that when the time comes the pictures will be available and the story in detail. Engagements and weddings of Hagerman, Hope, Mayhill and Lake Arthur, Loco Hills and near-by Artesia are wanted. These are all a part of the community. Notify your Advocate correspondent in advance and turn in story and pictures to her.

But the important thing is to get it in the paper and get it in while it makes news.

Colors Brighten Child's Room to Be Gay Play Site

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeature Writer

Color is the most important consideration in decorating a child's room, says Beatrice West, decorator, color and design consultant. Miss West suggests that parents re-doing a child's room should keep in mind that bright, clear colors are preferred. Youngsters are less inhibited about color than adults, she says. She explains: "Parents have helped create the vogue for pink and blue toys for babies. Give a baby the choice of pink or red and he'll choose the red everytime. Primary colors always appeal to children. Tastes change as they grow older due to associations and their personal likes and dislikes."

THE 7 OR 8-YEAR-OLD has definite color ideas and smart parents should encourage them. As they approach high school and college age they begin to like more sophisticated color combinations and tones that are grayer than when younger, she says.

Miss West chooses versatile furniture that is interchangeable and not limited to any one room to continue its usefulness as the family grows in size and affluence. Furniture that may be painted to fit in with the color scheme as the child grows is a good investment. Beds that double as sofas are good too.

Be practical in the choice of rugs and fabrics. Fiber rugs or combination cotton and fiber rugs make excellent floor coverings as they are sturdy, easy to clean and reversible.

Do-it-yourself ideas make a child's room reflect his personality. Pictures he can paint himself not only decorate a room but encourage a child's individuality. A bedroom designed by Miss

WHEAT VARIETY ADDED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Department has added Blue-jacket wheat to the list of varieties designated for a 20-cent bushel discount in 1956 price support rates because of inferior milling or baking qualities. The discount will apply in New Mexico among other states.

Buffaloes have hollow, permanent horns. Deer antlers are solid and are shed annually. Antelope shed the outer sheaths from permanent cores.

West recently was planned for two girls about 9. She chose wearable materials and rugs guaranteed to stand up under the youngsters' active lives, all sealed to the long-term needs of growing children.

COLOR SCHEME of the room is black, turquoise, white and yellow. Walls were papered in a gingham wall paper of turquoise and white, yellow cabinets on the walls provide space for desk, bookcase and storage. Chairs were painted yellow. Beds were covered in yellow denim, although Miss West used a white organdy dust ruffle which she says all young girls adore.

Original children's paintings in brilliant colors for the walls were done to order as a project in a Louisiana school by children from 8 to 12 years. Miss West was found that this native and primitive art appeals to parents just as much as to the youngsters.

The floor was covered in a soft-textured so-called waindrent fiber rug in a salt and pepper mixture of black and grays, completely soil and weather resistant.

Party, Luncheon And Afternoon Tea Dips And Spreads Add Spice To Appetizers

CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
FOR SNACKTIME: Men dip you like to serve and the Club is all ears. Maybe be dips are a comparatively re- innovation. Well, newcomers may be, but they seem to be to stay.
 back into American cook- ing of the early part of this century—including Fanny Farmer, a dip in sight. But open any new edition of a general cook book and you are sure to find the most popular of the dip made with a base of avo- cado and comes to via Mexico. Us- ually called Guacamole, it is sea- soned in various ways. Another popular dip has cream cheese as a base and it, too, is combined with other foods in fascinating array.

 Here's a version of the avocado dip we like to serve with tiny frankfurters. We heat the frankfurters on the spit of our electric rotisser- ie or we simmer them in water just until they are hot through.
 And here are interesting ad- ditions to made to a cream-cheese base; use it as a dunk for pretzels. The avocado dip may also be ac- companied by pretzels.
GUACAMOLE, SOUTHWEST STYLE
INGREDIENTS: 1 medium-sized or large avocado, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder.

METHOD: Cut avocado in half lengthwise; twist halves in op- posite directions to separate; remove seed. Strip off peel. Mash avocado very fine with a fork; mix in lem- on juice, salt and chili powder. If the avocado is medium-sized it will probably make 3-4 to 1 cup; if it is large it will probably make 1 1/2 cups and you may wish to add more lemon juice, salt and chili powder.
MEDITERRANEAN PRETZEL DIP
INGREDIENTS: 1 teaspoon coarse- ly chopped garlic, 1 small can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets, 2 table- spoons cider vinegar, 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon capers (chop- ped) if desired.

METHOD: Mash garlic in mortar with pestle, or on waxed paper with flat part of heavy knife blade, un- til it is a pulp. Add anchovies with their oil to garlic and mash again to a paste. Stir in vinegar. Have cream cheese at room temperature; gradually beat mixture. Stir in chopped capers if used. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. Serve with pretz- els so that guests can dip them into the cream-cheese mixture.
DEEP SOUTH DIP
 Talking of dips reminds us of an appetizer course in one of the most delightful of recently published cook books, "Jesse's Book of Creole and Deep South Recipes" by Edith Euiard Watts and John Watts (Viking). Jesse presided as "chief cook and bottlewasher" for Mrs. Watts' family, and their five children for over 40 years and the cook book is a homey but intrigu- ing collection of regional recipes. Included, too, are some Key West recipes that come from Watts' side of the family.

 The cook book opens with Jesse's Showy Shrimp Buffet. For it a cab- bage is hollowed out and filled with Roquefort Shrimp Sauce. Then shrimp (cooked in specially sea- soned water) and shelled are pin- ned over the outside of the cab- bage bowl with white toothpicks; between the shrimp shiny black olives are impaled the same way. Around the cabbage—whose pretty green foliage is left on—go golden crisp potato chips. When the shrimp runs out, guest use the potato chips to dip in the sauce. You can, of course, make your own Showy Shrimp Buffet with these general directions. But if you want Jesse's actual recipe, you'll have to get hold of a copy of the Watts' book. It might be you could borrow it from your local library; these days many libraries throughout the country keep adding new cook books to their shelves.

METHOD: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, cornmeal and 1-4 cup sugar; cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir slightly beaten egg and 1 tablespoon milk together. Mix all at once into dry ingredients. Pat mixture into baking pan (7 by 11 inches). Arrange peaches in two rows over dough. Sprinkle peaches with 1/2 cup sugar. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Mix beaten egg yolk with 1-4 cup milk and cinnamon; pour over peaches. Continue baking for 5 to 10 min- utes longer, or until custard is firm. Cut in pan and serve warm.

Chuck Roasts
Lead Weekend Shopping List
 By The Associated Press
 By the nation's food stores picked chuck roast as their attraction this weekend.
 Chuck has been a popular spe- cial in recent weeks, in part be- cause other cuts have gone up in price at wholesale. Reductions on chuck roast this weekend will be up to 10 cents a pound.
 Other beef items mentioned as being by a number of markets are prime ribs, boneless cross- roast, steaks and hamburger.
 Picnics will be offered by stores at reduced prices, as will be pork chops. Pork chops usually will cost more than a pound.
 You'll find an occasional special deal on shoulder roast. Scattered stores will be having chickens at slightly lower prices.
Eggs Higher
 Eggs are going higher—again. At most stores, prices will be up to four cents a dozen on large and A whites. Butter prices are unchanged nearly everywhere.
 The American Meat Institute considers pork items espe- cially attractive right now. It re- ports that prices have fallen all along the line. Live hogs are run- ning 30 per cent lower than a year ago, wholesale prices are down from 16 to 35 per cent, and retail prices are down from 10 to 20 per cent, the institute observes.
 It notes that this year's pork chop crop is shaping up to well above eight million pounds, an increase of 11 per cent over last year.
 "The specific pork cuts in the Chicago retail markets," the institute adds, "rib end loin cuts are around 25 per cent less than a year ago. Smoked picnics are 17 per cent less, sliced bacon is 13 per cent, and center cuts and whole hams 10 per cent less."
 Chicken supplies promise to be abundant. Hatcheries produced over 124 million birds last year, up 12 per cent over July, 1954, and a new record for the industry. This month's production is expected to be higher than the month last year, too.
Potatoes Plentiful
 Potatoes, eggplant and caulif- lower head the list of best buys in vegetables. Produce special- ists also say that onions, peppers, mushrooms and cabbage are attrac- tively priced.
 Melons came down a bit in price this week but are considered high nevertheless. Among specialties described as "moder- ately" priced are lettuce, celery, corn, cucumbers and sweet potatoes.
 Apples and watermelons are among the best buys in fruit. Also of mention are peaches, cantaloupes and Honeydew melons. Apples—mostly of the cooking vari- ety—are moderately priced.
 The first prunes are arriving in markets from the north- west. Prices are rather high.

Our Responsibilities

A good many of the problems we face in this old world are of our own creation although we usually seek to avoid and dodge this.

We refuse to face up to certain issues, certain conditions and certain responsibilities.

As a result of that we are often times groaning and complaining about how we are mistreated; about the failure of politicians to do the things we want done; and moaning about our bad luck.

A great deal of the good luck enjoyed in this world is luck that we create. We can have either good or bad luck but usually the individual is responsible for the kind of luck he has.

As citizens, however, in our community, our country, our county, our state and our nation we register many complaints about our public officials and office holders as well as the manner in which our government is operated. There is no question but what there is room for improvement and certain complaints should be registered.

We know as a people our tax bill is too large; there is too much waste and extravagance in public office; and that business methods and practices should be adopted.

But when we are too busy to go vote and afraid to become interested in politics because we are fearful it may cost us some business—then we are merely dodging or evading responsibilities which citizenship imposes on us. It is also true when we refuse to vote, take part in government affairs and assume our duties then we sacrifice any right to criticize.

We have the same feeling regarding the individuals, who have a break in their marriage; who fail to provide; who do not assume their duties to keep their jobs; and who are always complaining.

We have always felt it is a real tragedy for a couple, the parents of one or more children to be divorced. The fact is we think they have sacrificed that right when they brought youngsters into the world. They need to think a little more about their youngsters than spending so much time feeling sorry for themselves. After all they brought the children into the world and the world should see they take care of them.

But individuals should accept responsibilities they assume when they are married; when they bring youngsters into the world. They should assume responsibilities of their job and their work. Much of the unhappiness we think we have today will vanish when we do assume these responsibilities.

counts owed by patients, thus far uncollectible. Those accounts, Lennon said, had been turned over to collection agencies. Collections thus far in August have been $10,638.

but the present bank balance of the hospital is only $20,727.

"The financial situation out there is growing steadily worse," exclaimed William H. Yeager. "This council wants to know why."

10 RN's On Staff
Lennon explained that the hospital now has 10 registered nurses and the highest professional standing ever.

"Since the salary of one registered nurse is as much as that of two or three other employees," he said, "the wage cost has risen. We have considered using nurses aides instead of practical nurses and saving expense that way. Also our utilities costs are up. The air conditioners use a lot of electricity."
Mayor Yeager repeated that he considered the situation had gotten "clear out of hand."

Neil Watson, city attorney, suggested cutting the staff to accord with the 40 per cent of capacity operation.

To this, Lennon agreed that "if you want to cut costs to the bone regardless" the hospital could be operated at a lower cost.

Councilman George Ferriman interjected "it's not what we want to do so much as what we have to do" to make ends meet.

After it was brought out that there is no county hospital in Eddy county for indigent patients, the council passed the motion appropriating the $5,000. It was arranged that Mayor Yeager and City Atty. Watson attend the meeting of the hospital board at 4 p.m. next Tuesday to get a fuller insight into the problem.

Remember When...

50 Years Ago

Monday, Sept. 4th, Artesia third term of school will begin. The prospects for a successful session are most flattering. The enrollment is large and strong, but arrangements have been made to handle the students.

The Kemp Lumber Co. has purchased the yard of Dyer & Sons at Texico and Milton Brown, of this place has been put in charge.

Artesia's ten thousand dollar brick school house is beginning to present an imposing appearance.

Labor Day is the day you don't labor—that it, nobody but newspapermen who don't deserve any rest.

25 Years Ago

Officials of the Artesia Properties Co., owners of the Artesia Hotel, held a directors meeting here Monday and discussed routine matters.

A new unit, a Dubbs Universal Cracking Plant, will be added to the Malco Refinery plant to cost approximately $150,000. Malco officials announced here Tuesday. This will increase the output of the plant several hundred barrels daily.

Mrs. C. Bert Smith is in Waukegan, Ill., with her daughter, Mrs. Edson Jones and family. Mrs. Smith will go to the market in Chicago for the Baldwin store.

10 Years Ago

The Pecos River ceased to flow Monday, the first time in 20 years, according to the observations of E. P. Bach, who has been a resident of this community for 30 years.

The Artesia Auto Company announced this week the opening of the new body works and paint shop, on which much work has been done in recent weeks.

The approaching marriage of Miss Mary Jo Sears to Lt. Thomas E. Vandiver, Sept. 1, was announced on Wednesday afternoon at a beautiful appointed tea given by Mrs. J. E. Roberts and her daughter, Miss Mamie Sue Roberts.

Texas Golfer Looks Best in Women's Meet

By KEN ALTYA

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—The field was down to eight from the original starting list of 104, but picking a winner in the 55th Women's National Amateur Golf Tournament was still a risky business going into this afternoon's quarter-final round.

Yesterday's double round over the rolling Myers Park Country Club course's 6,413 yards produced no earth-shaking surprises as it set up this schedule for today:

Mrs. Scott Probasco, Chattanooga, Tenn., vs. Anne Quast, Marysville, Wash.

Jane Noyon, Indianapolis, vs. Barbara McIntire, Toledo, Ohio; Willey Smith, St. Clair, Mich., vs. Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. H. S. Covington, Orangeburg, S. C., vs. Pat Lesser, Seattle.

Of the eight, chunky little Miss Riley emerged as the tournament-tested, battle-hardened competitor, one perhaps the least likely to succumb to the pressure of late rounds. Two years ago she was runner-up to Mary Lena Faulk, now a professional.

WEST GRIDDERS LOSE
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Big Bob Craven, halfback from Owensboro, Ky., led the East to a 20-14 victory over the West last night in the seventh annual "All-American" high school football game. The West has yet to win.

Elderly Couple Lose Everything—

The neat grass lawn is a mass of mud and asphalt tossed up from the street.

"This was a beautiful place," said Mrs. Dery. It was the little red-brick home she and her husband occupied for 20 years had a view of the nearby French River and a bridge that crossed it.

But last Friday night the North Grosvenor Dam half a mile upstream burst. She and her husband escaped with their lives—and that was about all.

Now, over the door of their once cozy home hangs a neat sign. It says, "This building is declared unfit for occupancy by order of the health officer. It is not to be reoccupied without permission of the health officer."

The Derys were not trying to reoccupy it. They are living now with a daughter.

They were only trying to clean it up, Dery in slacks and tee shirt; his wife in wrinkled trousers and a sweater. They were just one of 300 families forced to evacuate their homes in North Grosvenor Dale—a village near the Massachusetts border a few miles above the more spectacularly damaged Putnam.

"Putnam," said Dery. "All I hear is 'Putnam' and the damage there and the need for help."

"I'm not complaining, understand. But what about North Grosvenor Dale and the other places you don't hear so much about?"

At 62, with your job gone, your savings run out, and your house a wreck, the outlook is rough.

Dery carried another chair to the lawn. "I'm willing to do my part," he said. "But it would be nice if the state government, the federal government—somebody—would help."

That was one family. There are 300 in similar circumstances in this one village alone.

Police Sgt. Victor Blanchard took a newsman on a tour of the area.

The floodwaters were dirty. The flooded homes carried the fetid odor. Some never will be reoccupied.

Some are being cleaned. They reek of chlorinated lime.

The sun now was setting. Mrs. Dery took a long look at her ravished house and the junk on the lawn.

"Let's go home," she said to her husband. Home now was with the daughter.

Vote—

ent at the discussion and the roll call vote on passage of the ordinance. His presence brought the number of councilmen at the meeting to six, or the required three-fourths majority of the eight-member council necessary for a bond ordinance passage.

Study Made
In addition to Campbell, who made the adoption motion, the councilmen voting for the ordinance were: Clarence Key, George Ferriman, Harry Gilmore, T. E. Johnson, and Joe Alvarado. Councilmen absent were J. J. Clarke, Jr., and Clayton Menefee. Also present for discussion of the ordinance were Mayor William H. Yeager, City Atty. Neil Watson, City Engineer Doug Fowler and City Clerk Tom Ragsdale.

Action was taken after Councilman Ferriman reported that he had made a study of the Lucas, Eisen and Wackerle offer and found it in line with propositions of other bond houses.

The bonds, of $1,000 denomination, are to be retired from revenue of the water and sewer department over a period of 21 years. Interest rate paid averages approximately 3 1/2 per cent.

As approved, the $160,000 bond issue is added to the $471,000 improvement and refunding bond issue of July 1, 1952, of which $454,000 still is outstanding.

Payments Set
The ordinance provides for principal and interest payments to be made semi-annually on March 1 and Sept. 1 of each year. It stipulates that the city must maintain water and sewer rates at a level sufficient to pay operating expenses and meet the payment schedule of the two issues. A sinking fund must be established and amounts deposited adequate to cover the bond payments. Also, insurance to the full insurable value of the water and sewer systems is to be carried.

In another action, the council passed a resolution placing city employees under Social Security, as provided by a law passed by the Congress will not be necessary," reported James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, as he outlined the steps already taken or planned.

The Red Cross, meantime, boosted its disaster appeal goal from five million to eight million dollars as it faced growing reports of damage.

It said at least 702 homes were demolished and more than 14,000 heavily damaged by last week's flood. Its latest count showed 10,562 families homeless and dependent on charity for survival.

E. Roland Harriman, national Red Cross chairman, said the "needs continue to grow in the disaster affected areas," and urged chapters throughout the country to consider as "rock bottom" the fund goals assigned them earlier.

The agency reported "virtually a deluge of gifts" to its disaster fund had followed appeals by Eisenhower and other officials, but stressed that the need is growing.

Eisenhower made a new appeal yesterday, saying donors should not wait to be asked by the Red Cross but "should seize the opportunity to force upon them more than they can use."

More Bodies Found

Five more bodies of flood victims were recovered yesterday in Hartford, Conn., and large numbers of persons still were unaccounted for in Pennsylvania and Connecticut. That threatened to raise still higher the storm's death toll, which was revised downward slightly yesterday to a new figure of 176.

Not even a good guess was available of the total overall material damage from the rains and floods which Hurricane Diane brought on last week.

Eisenhower approved the government relief program in a brief Washington stopover en route from Philadelphia, where he addressed the American Bar Assn., to his vacation headquarters in Denver.

The White House put no ceiling on the cost figure, but indicated the Army Engineers alone have up to 100 million dollars that can be diverted to flood relief. The engineers will handle the bulk of the direct work—removing debris, clearing and patching bridges and highways, and repairing other damage to public property.

Over-all supervision will be handled by the Federal Civil Defense administration. Director Val Peterson said every government agency has been directed to find out what it can do. He said he could not estimate the cost.

Some congressional leaders indicated they thought the cost could be held to about 80 millions, but the White House indicated it might even go over 100 millions.

To aid farmers, the Agriculture approach platform in front of the building. It was explained that obtaining the federal government's share of the cost of the urban project depends on strict adherence to regulations decreed by the highway engineers.

The problem of unsightly weeds on vacant lots and along streets and alleys was presented. City Attorney Watson cited a city ordinance empowering the city to have weeds cut on private property if owners refuse to do so and to place a lien on the property if necessary to obtain cost of the work.

WT-NM Leaders Defeated Again, Remain in Tie

By The Associated Press
Amarillo and Albuquerque, tied for the top of the West Texas-New Mexico League, took their second drubbing in two games Wednesday night.

Ablene beat Amarillo 4-2, and Plainview trounced Albuquerque 13-8. In the other games, Pampa, in third place, beat El Paso 7-1, and Lubbock downed Clovis 6-5.

At Abilene, Ed Knapp withstood a tough first inning in which Amarillo got both its runs, to go on to victory.

Boys Ranch Group To Visit Artesia

Twenty-five boys from Boys Ranch near Socorro will be guests of the city tomorrow at a luncheon at the Country Club shortly after 1 p.m.

The stop here is one of several of a tour on which the boys are being taken. The luncheon, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will have presiding Tom Brown, Sr., a member of the Boys Ranch board of managers. Invitations have been sent to all civic clubs requesting presence of a representative as a guest.

Mean Thief Takes Posies From Grave

A new definition of the "meanest thief" was given in a report to police by Mrs. G. R. Gray, who lives on S. Twentieth st.

As has been her custom, Mrs. Gray recently has placed flowers in a vase on the grave of her husband in Restlawn cemetery.

Each time, she reported, someone has stolen the fresh flowers from the vase and she has found the grave unadorned.

department designated all of New Jersey and Connecticut, and 29 counties in Maryland, New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, as emergency areas eligible for special loans. The Farmers Home Administration has 121 million dollars available for loans at 3 per cent interest.

For businessmen, the Small Business Administration has 15 million for 3 per cent loans and another 35 million at higher interest rates for small concerns which can qualify. The Commerce Department also is surveying damage to business in the area.

Surplus food from the Agriculture department, technical aid from the Public Health Service and the Food and Drug Administration, emergency water supplies and surplus blankets and clothing also are being made available.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency is studying the need for new homes and is preparing to speed up the handling of loan insurance and mortgage purchases to help.

Director Arthur S. Fleming of the Office of Defense Mobilization ordered procurement agencies to channel what contracts they can into the disaster areas, to relieve unemployment and help put business back on its feet.

Artesian Well—

Well, at the Advocate and let's toss the idea around in print.

It's surprising how ideas can suggest themselves. This is a story about a temperate lecturer who gave a young couple an idea. The speaker was pounding on the table. "Who makes the most money in town?" he asked. "The loon-keeper. Who's wife wears the best clothes? The salt-keeper. Who drives the best and newest car in town? The saloon-keeper. And you pays for all this?"

"I'll tell you," he shouted, "the poor besotted wretches who drinks the rotgut liquor sold at the saloon."

At the end of the lecture the nice young couple approached the lecturer and thanked him for his talk.

"You have made up your minds for us," they told him. Pleased and flattered, the lecturer said, "And it means that you are going to give up drinking, my dear."

"Oh no," exclaimed the pretty little wife, "we're going to open a saloon."

See what we mean about getting ideas?

The hippopotamus of the Nile River, often thought of as a harmless creature, can be without apparent provocation.

Hit-Run Victim Protects Driver

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Police learned the power of a woman scorned, but they won't tell her name. Her boy friend won't prosecute.

Someone reported a hit-and-run accident. A young woman was lying in the street. Questioning disclosed it wasn't a hit-run case, exactly.

She had followed her boy friend, who drove another young woman home in his convertible. While he was saying good night to the other woman, No. 1 picked up rocks and smashed the lights, windows and instrument panel of his car. As he returned, she grabbed the convertible top and began ripping away. He drove off while she was still ripping. She was knocked down.

Many botanists believe the man in the Bible was a lichen.

Attack Won't Halt Work at Arsenal

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—If an enemy attacks the Rock Island area, 6,500 employees of the Rock Island Arsenal will burrow underground and pass up evacuation, Capt. Charles R. Fish of the arsenal staff says.

He told a conference of Civil Defense leaders that "production of war material in the shops must not be curtailed in time of war."

The arsenal is situated on an island in the Mississippi River.

There are about 877 million head of cattle in the world, about 18 per cent more than before World War II.

Orioles Spoil White Sox Chance to Pull Out Ahead

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

One thing was crystal clear today in the foggy American League pennant chase. If the Chicago White Sox could manhandle the pesky Baltimore Orioles like the other three flag contenders, they might be leading the loop by four or five games.

As it is, Chicago was knocked out of first place yesterday when they split a double-header with the Orioles for the second day in a row.

Back into the No. 1 spot went the New York Yankees after Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle socked back-to-back homers in the ninth

Unearned Run In 2nd Game Is Win Margin

An unearned run in the bottom of the first inning here last night proved to be the margin of victory for the NuMexers as they squeezed by the Odessa Eagles 6 to 5 to split a twin bill. The Eagles topped Artesia 9-6 in the first game.

Although the Eagles topped NuMexer Hurier Siff for 10 hits in the nightcap, they were able to convert but half of them into runs.

NuMexer Catcher Bob Boyd came in to score in the bottom of the first frame after Eagle Pitcher Whitney Landens walked him and Boyd stole second, went to third on a fielder's choice and then scored with two away on an error at second.

The Eagles knocked Tommy Buford out of the box in the second inning of the opener when he gave up seven runs on seven hits.

Cubs Lose Again
In the National League, Brooklyn widened its first-place gap over the Milwaukee Braves to 12 1/2 games in a home run display that sank the Chicago for the second straight day 9-5.

The New York Giants evened their two-game series by downing the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1, and the Pittsburgh Pirates made it two straight over the Cincinnati Redlegs 4-2.

Milwaukee and Philadelphia were idle.

True, the four-game split with Baltimore left Chicago only half a game out of first place, but those are contests gone into the record book. Had the White Sox swept the series, as Manager Marty Marion had hoped, Chicago would be ruling the roost today by 1 1/2 games.

In 20 meetings with Baltimore, the Yankees have won 18 games from the cellar-dwelling Birds.

On the other hand, Chicago has won only 10 of 18 games with Baltimore. Cleveland, in third place a game behind the Yankees, has done almost as well, winning 15 of 18 from the Orioles. The fourth-place Boston Red Sox, 4 1/2 games behind New York, are 11-5 with Baltimore.

Pierce Coasts In
In the opener yesterday, Southpaw Billy Pierce coasted in, copying his fourth in a row and 11th of the year. Dave Philley's eighth homer was the lone Baltimore tally. But Bill Wight scattered nine Chicago hits in the nightcap, and Chicago's sole run came on Sherm Lollar's homer in the ninth, his 15th.

Al Smith slapped his 18th homer in the first inning to get Cleveland away fast against Boston and Frank Sullivan. Bob Avila led off the sixth with his 10th home run. Mike Garcia held Boston to seven hits, blanking Ted Williams.

Steve Gromek looked like a winner for Detroit as he limited the Yankees to one hit in seven innings. Al Kaline had blasted a two-run Detroit homer in the first inning off Whitey Ford. But the Yanks, beaten Tuesday by Detroit, got one run back in the eighth on three singles. Berra and Mantle wrapped it up in the ninth. Relief pitcher Bob Grim was credited with the victory.

Neat Whitewash
Arnold Portocarrero engineered the Kansas City whitewash of Washington, a neat three-hitter. Hector Lopez had three singles and batted in three. Runs. Vic Power's 16th homer and the fourth for Joe Astroth accounted for the other runs.

Brooklyn round-trippers, two by Frank Kellert, and the 28th for Roy Campanella and No. 22 for Gil Hodges made it easy for Russ Meyer to defeat the Cubs.

New York got eight-hit twirling from Lefty Doodle, and Wayne Terwilliger and Ray Katt slugged successive homers in the second inning off Tom Poholsky. Alex Grammas' first homer of the season spoiled Liddle's chances for a shutout.

Dick Hall was the star for Pittsburgh as he tossed a six-hitter at Cincinnati and hit a home run, his first. Preston Ward's fifth homer in the sixth accounted for the other three Buc runs.

WOMAN WINS SHOOT

New Mexico Lobos Start Season With Few Experienced Gridmen

ALBUQUERQUE — "We've got a tough three weeks ahead of us when we start football practice next week," Lobo Coach Bob Titchenal said today.

The Wolfpack mentor, who has sent out 50 "invitations" for the start of the Lobo football practice a week from today, said inexperience will be the toughest obstacle.

"We've got to start from scratch at a few positions and our new split-T formation will require a lot of practice," Titchenal said.

The Lobo coach said he doesn't know exactly how many boys will report for varsity workouts next week, but he's hopeful that most of the returning squadmen and lettermen will be on hand.

Some of the players are expected to arrive here over the weekend. Titchenal expects to issue uniforms next Tuesday and will suit out the squad in game suits Wednesday for press pictures. Physical exams are also scheduled Wednesday, Titchenal said.

Titchenal said the Lobos will practice twice daily until school gets under way in mid-September.

"Well also have a lot of our practice sessions at night," Titchenal said. "We've got six of our 10 games under the lights this year."

The Lobos have only 16 days to get their new split-T formation in order before they play host to the New Mexico Aggies Sept. 17. The following week the Lobos play their first Skyline conference game at Colorado A&M, a team the Lobo coach rates as one of the toughest in the league.

Baker's Rally Wins Decision In Layne Bout

WEST JORDAN, Utah. — Bob Baker, No. 2 heavyweight contender from Pittsburgh, rallied in the late rounds last night to gain a split decision over Utah's Rex Layne in a fight that probably didn't help the fistic careers of either.

Baker, who had everything to lose and nothing to gain against a boxer who has been up and down the fight ladder in recent years, probably lost some prestige in gaining only a split decision—and his desire for a crack at Rocky Marciano's crown undoubtedly received a setback.

Layne, who lost twice previously to Baker, needed a win to project himself back into the heavyweight limelight.

Layne, 20 1/2, moved out fast in the early rounds and built up points on the surprised Baker, who weighed 210 1/2. But Baker swarmed all over Layne after being staggered in the fifth round and gained the nod.

Colts Run Over Rockets in 15-3 Victory Rampage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Angelo Colts, Longhorn league leaders, pasted 17 offerings by the Roswell Rockets last night to win a 15-3 victory.

In the other games, Artesia, in second place, divided a twin bill with Odessa, Odessa taking the first 9-6 and Artesia the second 6-5. Hobbs beat Midland 9-8 and Big Spring edged Carlsbad 1-0.

San Angelo got off to a fast start with five runs in the opening frame, two of them homers by Herman Charles and Ben Lott. The Colts racked up six more in the ninth, topped by Elias Osorio's second homer with two on.

'World' Stars Spice Canada's $26,800 Open

MONTREAL — The biggest money tournament in Canadian golf, the $26,800 Open, gets under way today with a starting field of 132.

The presence of the last two winners in the "World" tournament at Chicago, with its $50,000 top and guarantees for $105,000 in exhibitions, has added spice to this tournament.

Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C., "World" winner Aug. 14, has re-joined the pro circuit, and playing along with him in practice rounds yesterday was the 1954 "World" champ at Tam O'Shanter, Bob Toski of Livingston, N. J. Both were absentees from the Canadian Open in Weston, Ont., last week.

There is a strong feeling among the galleryites that Arnold Palmer, the winner at Weston, is still the man to beat.

Budge and Kramer Predict U.S. Victory Over Aussies

By ORLO ROBERTSON
FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — Take it from two former amateur tennis kings with the big game: the United States will retain the Davis Cup against the challenge of Australia starting tomorrow, perhaps by a margin as big as 5-0.

That was the prediction today of Don Budge and Jack Kramer as the draw was made for the two opening singles matches tomorrow on the famed Stadium Court.

Secretary of State Dulles will draw the names of the opposing players out of the huge coveted cup.

Budge and Kramer, now professionals but themselves one-time defenders of the international trophy, made their predictions after numerous workouts with Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, the pair who brought the cup back to the United States last December after a five-year sojourn in Australia.

Powerful Serves
"The U. S. will win because Trabert and Vic have been working against players with powerful serves and the big game such as Don and I have," said Kramer.

"By contrast the Australian practices have been with team substitutes. They would have been much better off if they had retained the aid of such Australian stars as Fran Sedgman and Don Mills."

Kramer said he looked for Americans to win by at least "perhaps by as much as 5-0."

Budge declined to predict a margin of victory but said he was confident the Americans would win the doubles — considered the point in the five-match competition.

"I liked the way they looked against us yesterday," said Budge whose service still is considered one of the most powerful in the history of sport.

Seixas Improves
Bill Talbert, non-playing captain of the U. S. team, was expected to go all the way with the 31-year-old Seixas and the 25-year-old Trabert.

Talbert was toying with the idea of naming 22-year-old Hamilton Richardson for one of the singles berths until yesterday. Then he "produce or else" match, Seixas whipped the former intercollegiate champion from Baton Rouge, La., 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. That settled it for Talbert.

"I was very much impressed the way Seixas played," said Talbert. "Not his game so much but his attitude. He saw he had to go and do it. I haven't seen him look as well since the Challenge Round in Sydney last year."

Meantime, the Aussies captain Henry Hopman, refused to say right out and announce his pick but indicated it would be Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, a pair of veterans at 20, in the singles and the unbeaten combination of Hoad and the flashy Rex Hartwig in the doubles.
