By SANKY TRIMBLE
ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—Air Force scientists tonight take a literal shot in the dark in a new series of upper-atmosphere research.
At approximately 20 minutes after ground sunset, the Cambridge Air Force Research Center will fire an Aerobee rocket at nearby Holloman Air Development center designed to probe some of the secrets of dawn and dusk.

Just what can be expected, Air Force spokesmen are not willing to say.
The project has drawn more publicity than the Air Force cares about. It started when a British scientist announced in London that the U. S. Air Force would attempt to create artificial moonlight.
The Air Force has done its best in subsequent publicity concerning the event to knock down any expectations that tonight's tests will be spectacular.

Basically, the experiment involves the introduction of sodium vapor at an altitude of between 40 and 70 miles above earth. The Aerobee rocket, equipped with special mechanism to fire two containers of metallic sodium pellets dispersed in thermite, will be launched from the southern New Mexico desert if weather conditions are "near perfect."
It conditions are not such that clear observation can be had both from the launching site and from the main observation post atop 8,000-foot Sacramento Peak some 14 air miles distant, then the tests will be postponed for 24 hours.

In effect, the test is purely a scientific one with not military application at this point. Main purpose is to test the accuracy of scientific beliefs that a layer of natural sodium hangs in the thin atmosphere.

Round-Clock Guard Set Up Over Family

SANTA FE (AP) — Threats against the life of Gov. John F. Simms and his family are being investigated by state law enforcement officers, a reliable source said today.
The governor refused to comment on the reported threats although a round-the-clock watch has been put into effect at the mansion, the informant said.
The informant declined use of his name.

Mansion Guarded
The Santa Fe New Mexican reported the fact that the watch at the mansion had been extended the past few days and also that officials were investigating some sort of threat.
No officers contacted would either confirm or deny the threat report.

Both Simms and State Police Chief Joe Roach declined to comment on the report that a 24-hour watch by State Police officers has been set up.

Routine Duty
In the past, one officer has been assigned to the governor's mansion at night but the assignment has been considered routine.

Youths Sent To Springer In Rape Case

Two youths—one from Artesia and the other from California—were found guilty in the rape of a 15-year-old Artesia girl here a week ago. Both have been sentenced to indeterminate terms in the Springer Industrial School District Judge Roy C. Anderson.

The pair, Paul Lopez of Artesia and Woodrow Salsbury, were charged with the rape of the young girl as she was en route home from a ball game here on Sept. 30. ## Peron to Be Put Into Internment ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Aparative sources said today Juan Peron, Argentina's toppled dictator, would be interned on a ranch in interior Paraguay. This would meet demands by the new Buenos Aires government, which accused Peron of making political statements in exile.

The informants said Peron probably will be sent to a ranch near town of Villarica, 105 miles southeast of Asuncion. This would keep him away from the capital, which is just across the Paraguay river from Argentina.

Speculation Rises in Britain as Famous Escort to Princess Margaret Comes Home

LONDON (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend returned to England today amid increasing speculation that a statement soon will settle whether he is to marry Princess Margaret.
He arrived for almost a month's vacation from his job as British air attache in Belgium. "Do you intend to see Princess Margaret?" he was asked. "I am not answering questions like that," he responded. He made the same answer when a reporter asked if he expected a "startling announcement to be made in the next week or two."
Princess Margaret is due in London tomorrow from Scotland. The pretty sister of Queen Elizabeth II has not met Townsend publicly for three years but

Decision Must Be Made Prior To Nov. 13

The question of whether Artesia will have a team in the Longhorn — or any other — League next baseball season was left dangling last night after directors recessed the annual NuMexer club stockholders meeting.

As meetings go, last night's session was below par for the course with no action taken on at least three major issues which had been scheduled for discussion.

A pre-meeting threat by Club president Steve Lanning to quit the organization regardless of decision to continue the club, died aborting as did the question of possible sale of the club to Artesia trucking firm head James Ferguson. (Continued on Page Four)

Artesian Is Injured In Crash

A 19-year-old Artesian youth was in serious condition in a Carlsbad hospital today following a head-on collision on U.S. 285 about three miles north of the Cave City.

In Memorial hospital was Bobby Branch, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Branch of 307 North 12th St. Hospital authorities said he suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, a broken jaw, and injuries to his right arm.

Also taken to the hospital in serious condition was Tommy Buchanan of Roswell, driver of the other car.

Both accident victims were expected to live despite the seriousness of their injuries.
State Policeman W. E. Jimmerson who investigated the accident along with sheriff's officers, said Buchanan was driving north when he collided with Branch's car coming from the opposite direction.
Both vehicles were totally demolished in the collision.

Eisenhower Picks Up Reins of State

Boys Learn Hard Way on Thin Line Between Prank, Vandalism

There is a very thin line between schoolboy prankishness and vandalism, Juvenile Officer J. D. Josey said today.

And for a group of young Artesians, that line is crossed — and dangerously, too — when they removed much-needed stop signs from city intersections. The so-called exuberant pranksters also knocked down several other signs during the past few weeks.

This week, at least two of them are learning the hard way — after school hours — that such actions are costly as well as dangerous.

The juvenile officer has placed the pair to work each afternoon after school digging post holes on city property, in preparation for a fence to be constructed.
"Every boy is entitled to blow off a little steam once in a while," Josey said, "and we recognize that when occasionally we let an over-enthusiastic prankster off with a lecture.

"But when the pranks become dangerous to others, then we must drive home a lesson the boys won't forget for a while."
With the ever-increasing traffic problem in Artesia, Josey said, there is more need than ever for traffic control and removal or destruction of stop signs could easily lead to a major and ever possible fatal automobile accident.

"That put this stunt out of the realm of a prank," Josey said, "and the boys are going to shed a little sweat learning what is fun and

Tanks and Rifles Ring Area

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Non-strikers returned in force today to resume piston ring production in the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry under protection of National Guardsmen. The troops were under order to prevent any recurrence of last Wednesday's riot.

The influx of workers was slowed because guardsmen checked each car coming out the foundry parking lot.
A skeleton force of 84 workers got the foundry ready yesterday. Manager Chesley Juda said the doors were opened today "to any one who wants to work."

The production force of the foundry before the strike started July 25 was 260 workers. About 100 persons, including supervisors, were in the plant a week ago when

It was also quiet at Hagerstown headquarters of Perfect Circle, and at Richmond, where the firm has two small plants. The three plants have operated since the CIO United Auto Workers struck in a contract dispute nearly 12 weeks ago. Guardsmen patrolled there also.

Dog Bite Victim Needs Immediate Attention

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

KEEP an eye on your pet dog these days.

While children are usually bitten by strays, household pets are not absolutely immune to rabies even though they have been inoculated. However, inoculation does protect the great majority.

Even if your dog seldom leaves the yard, you can never tell when it might become diseased.

First Symptom

The first symptom of rabies is a change in behavior. If the dog becomes morose and irritable, it is a good idea to keep the youngsters away from it. And you'd better give it a wide berth yourself.

If the animal is rabid, it will soon become excited, wandering aimlessly, snapping and dripping saliva from its mouth.

Any dog bite, even if you don't believe the animal is rabid, requires immediate attention.

Use Plenty of Soap

Wash the wound thoroughly with plenty of soap and running water for about 15 minutes. This will help clean away much of the animal's saliva, lessening the chance of infection.

It is important that you take the victim to a doctor because you don't want to take chances with anything as serious as rabies. A physician probably will wash the injured area with green soap and water and then with an antiseptic solution such as one of the quaternary ammonium compounds.

Vaccine Treatment

If untreated, rabies is always fatal. Therefore, if you have any reason to suspect the dog had rabies, or if the animal cannot be located, I strongly urge that vaccine treatment be started on the victim immediately.

This is especially important if the bite is on the face or head. Since the deadly virus reaches the brain through the nerves, the closer the wound to the brain, the quicker symptoms develop.

From Eight to Ten Days

While the time before symptoms of rabies appear may vary from a week to several months, it is usually about eight to ten days.

Every effort must be made to catch the biting animal. Keep it chained and under observation for two weeks. If it is rabid, it probably will die within ten days. If it has shown no rabies symptoms by this time, it is generally safe to halt the administration of vaccine treatments.

Should the dog die or be killed, the head should be sent to the Board of Health for examination.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. For some time I have been bothered with ringing and buzzing in my ears. Is there any cure for this condition?

A. Answer: Buzzing and ringing in the ears may be due to a number of causes, such as anemia, kidney disease, high blood pressure, accumulation of wax in the ear, infection in the tube connecting the ear with the mouth, and nervous disorders.

It would be advisable to have a physical examination made to determine the cause of your condition, so that proper treatment may be administered.

BY MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks about: Every now and then I try to pry the cash customers with a late news flash, today's is that if you come to East 60th street this autumn you will discover that the eight pillars which blocked your view of the Copacabana's floor show so beautifully are gone. In years of saloon-hopping, I have grown to love and love those pillars, but owner Jules Podell, an unsentimental man, has just spent a quarter of million dollars to rip them out. It was an interesting task for Weinberger and Weisshoff, consulting engineers—because the Copacabana is situated right under the Hotel Fourteen, and the big, fat posts had to be removed without having the hotel drop in on patrons' laps.

Monte Proser generally is credited with having made the Copacabana the nation's best-known night club, but Podell is carrying on skillfully. If there are any complaints lodged against it, the worst may be that seldom do you see a new, up-and-coming young acts there, as you do at, say, the Angel or Bon Soir. The Copacabana is the home of the big name, Sinatra, King Cole, Joe E. Lewis, et al, are the customary headliners. This makes for top-drawer entertainment—along with food that cut higher than the average saloon cuisine—but it makes one wistfully for bright new faces occasionally.

MANHATTAN CONTINUES to maintain its reputation for having the best and worst of everything. Harlem police the other day picked up an ex-convict accused of operating a dice game for children 15 years old—and of using loaded dice, at that. Now—can you community honestly claim a lower soul than that? . . . It's been long and shaky summer for the Broadway theater. Half a dozen shows that looked like long-run hits dropped by the wayside, and some others just passed Labor Day by the skin of their teeth. However, as almost always, things are looking up. Many bright prospects are in view. The incoming musical everyone is talking about is Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pipe Dream. Figures.

New Yorkers, who are aured to anything in the way of climate had a rough time with July and August this year. Most uncomfortable in recent memory. . . . Audie Murphy, the most-decorated soldier has a new record. This department waited 20 minutes for him for interview, or two minutes longer than it waited for Celeste Holm. I figured that a man who had killed 240 other men was worth waiting that long to talk to, but he never showed. Such is fame.

MET A MAN today who's envied by other mortals. He's Ray Berper, a big, bespectacled, affable man who owns the famous Whyte restaurants—the downtown one on Fulton street is nearly 50 years old—and who, for kicks, travels around with the Brooklyn Dodgers ball club. "I used to work out with them in spring practice," he said with a grin, "but I discovered I wasn't quite cut out for it. Finally, my taking trips with them—I went to work in a fruit may when I was 10 and I never DID have any ambition to be a big-league player."

He became friendly with Branch Rickey when the Mahatma of the Dodgers and held their spring training in the early 1940s at Bear Mountain, where a pal of Ray's operates the Bear Mountain inn. The players and officials started dropping into Whyte's to dine if ways thought ballplayers ate in the Automat and frugally pocketed the difference in their expense vouchers, and now he knows them. Loves them, too. He thinks Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe are better than a vaudeville team, when they start cracking wise at each other, and feels Preacher Roe, the pitcher, is one of the all-time great storytellers.

It was in baseball's interest that he once opened Whyte's on a day night, which is virtually sacrilege. Rickey was leaving Brooklyn and wanted to give a party for all his friends in a hurry. "That's 1950," Ray remembered. "Branch said to expect 200 if they did pennant—it was the last day of the season—and 100 if they did not. Sister hit a homer in the 10th for the Phils . . . and 100 came to a farewell party."

INDIAN FRIEND HONORED
ALAMOGORDO. A newly authorized million-dollar foundation has been named the Chester Faris Educational Fund of the Fecarilla Apache Tribe of New Mexico. The Tribal Council selected the title to honor Faris, a long-time Indian friend who is now in semi-retirement in Albuquerque.

Then Start a Little Early

ALL predictions point to a continuation of good business with a record Christmas business.

Merchants and business people, of course, are looking forward to enjoying that Christmas business but they are not exactly looking forward to the long hours of hard work and all of the rush that will prevail during the 15 to 20 days before Christmas.

A lot of that could be eliminated, of course, with the encouraging of buying of yuletide merchandise or regular merchandise prior to Christmas and prior to the time those little notices '10 more shopping days until Christmas' start to appear.

After all, probably 50 percent of the merchandise, which is purchased for Christmas, is regular merchandise. It includes articles and items of clothing; it includes television and radio sets; it includes mechanical refrigerators; it includes electric appliances; it includes furniture for the home; it may include a new automobile.

A great deal of this merchandise is available now. It could be bought now and it could be put up because after all, it is not too many days now until Christmas if we get to thinking about it.

Merchants and business people could help build up this business and help create this business by advertising and urging the shoppers to do some of their Christmas buying now not only to avoid that last minute rush but at the same time to have a complete selection from which they can choose the items or articles they want.

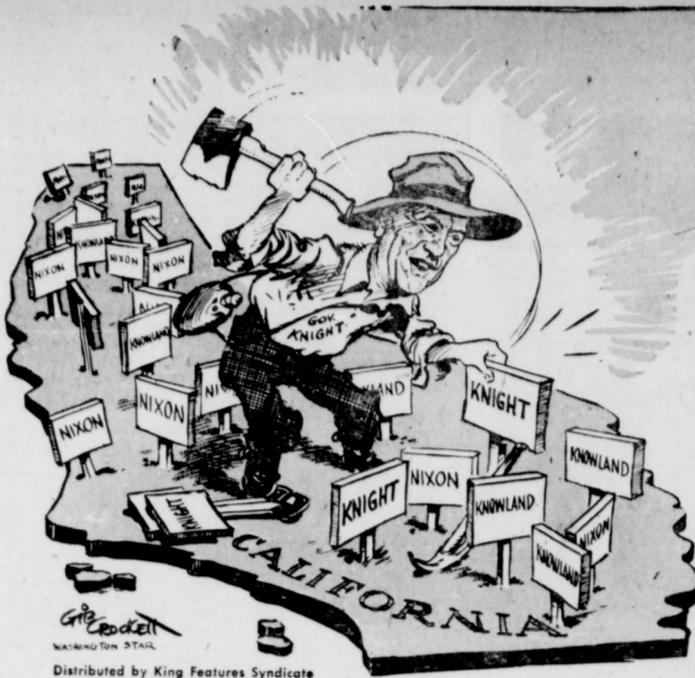

Christmas is a wonderful season but most of us spoil it having to work too hard and then having to take Christmas day to rest. Most of us have other problems that come up at Christmas time.

We can help push holiday merchandise sales now by urging the people to do some of their Christmas buying now in our advertising and by keeping them advised and informed regarding the merchandise that would make outstanding Christmas gifts.

By so doing we are definitely doing the shoppers a favor and certainly we are not only helping our own sales but at the same time we are doing work that can be done now far easier and that will not have to be done during the Christmas rush.

Some day a great deal of the Christmas shopping will be done long before Christmas but we are going to have to help teach the buying public the advantages to be gained by shop-ment have been cautiously worried to give newsmen and other observers a clear understanding that they may see nothing at all. An Air Force spokesman said today, "We don't know what is going to happen; we're firing the rocket to find out."

An Air Force announcement said the experiment—despite the advance publicity—is not designed to produce the appearance of a large cloud covering a great portion of the sky or an artificial moon. The narrow column of vapor may be made visible by the emission of the characteristic yellow sodium light and also by scattered sunlight from the cloud. The visibility of the cloud from the ground will depend on the efficiency of the process producing the sodium light. The yellow light may be so feeble that it can only be detected by sensitive instruments, or it may be bright enough to be seen with the unaided eye."

Best estimates from scientists conducting the tests are that the glow—if any glow is visible from the ground—will be visible for ten to 15 minutes, providing winds aloft are fairly normal. High winds will reduce the length of time the glow may be visible.

The specially designed Aerobee rocket will carry relatively simple instrumentation. This will include two sodium vaporizers, a camera, photoelectric cells and radio and radar equipment to telemeter information from the rocket back down to ground recording stations.

This is the second such experiment by the Air Force on the sodium problem. A test last January was described as a failure because the second vaporizer in-

The big issue, that of whether there shall be an organized baseball club here next year was also tabled for further discussion.

But the directors, who recessed the meeting until a special call in the future, have little time left to make a decision. The verdict must be in the hands of the Longhorn League home office prior to the tandem series failed to fire as anticipated.

The Air Force has announced that photographic records made by rocket-borne cameras will be made available for public study and used by the press after analysis and security review. This is expected to take several weeks. The Air Force also has said it will require security clearance of photographs taken and stories written by press representatives who witness the firing tonight.

However, neither Simms, Richard Everett, his administrative assistant nor Roach would deny there had been some sort of threat.

THINGS HAPPENING LICKETY-SPLIT ALL OVER

WORLD EVENTS have been taking place so fast since Labor Day the most important. Many undoubtedly will have an effect on weekend it's difficult to keep track of them. Here are some of the coming Big Four foreign ministers conference later this month.

Artesian is Awarded Job Promotion By Southwest Potash Co.

V. A. Zandon, Mill Superintendent, Southwest Potash Corporation, recently announced the promotions of George Martz to Assistant Mill Superintendent, John Shackelford to Mill Shift Foreman and Carlos Bennett to Mill Maintenance Foreman.

Martz joined Southwest in July, 1952, as a Mill Shift Foreman and served in that capacity until his recent promotion. Before joining Southwest, he was employed by the American Smelting and Refining Company in its refinery at Monterrey, Mexico. While with AS&R, he served in the capacity of Assistant Refinery Superintendent in charge of that section of the refinery devoted to the extraction of arsenic, tin and antimony.

Martz is a graduate of Tufts College, Mass., holding a B. S. degree in Chemistry. He is a veteran of World War II, serving over 3 years in the U. S. Coast Guard.

The Marts and their four children, Robert, Jack, Tom and Kathleen, live at 1203 Runyan, Artesia, New Mexico.

Shackelford joined Southwest in September, 1952, as a Mill Operator 1st Class and served in that capacity until his recent promotion. He attended both the University of Missouri and Missouri School of Mines, graduating from the latter with a B. S. degree in Business Administration. He is a veteran of World War II, serving over three years in the Army Air Corp. The Shackelfords and their daughter, Judith Anne, reside at 1009 Edwards, Carlsbad.

Bennett has been employed by Southwest since December, 1952, as a Maintenance Man in the Mill

Department. He attended the Alabama School of Trades and has wide and varied experience in all types of plant maintenance. Prior to joining Southwest, he worked for Stearns-Roger Manufacturing Co.

The Bennetts and their two daughters, Ann and Carol, live at 1808 W. Tansil, Carlsbad.

Safeway Co. Suit Hearing Cancelled

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—U. S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Hatch has cancelled a hearing into the Safeway Stores suit against the state of New Mexico.

He said he will consider the briefs and call for oral arguments only when he feels them necessary.

The hearing was scheduled for yesterday.

Safeway is contesting a New Mexico statute against limiting the number of advertised items that may be sold to a customer.

Judge Hatch said he will give both parties 10 days in which to submit briefs and will allow them an additional 10 days for rebuttals.

American Oil Firms Finding Europe Is Expanding Market

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—American oilmen are re-discovering the Europe from which Columbus sailed to discover America.

While atomic and solar energy are being harnessed economically, oilmen say, Europe is going to need more oil as a quick source of the energy it demands.

American oil companies, in addition to shipping oil to Europe, have invested 750 million dollars in plants there since the war, multiplying its oil refining capacity eight times. Jersey Standard Oil's house organ, The Lamp, says this year will see 26 catalytic cracking and reforming speed up output. It predicts that within the next 20 years oil consumption there will double.

Economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York say consumption of energy from coal, oil and water power is equivalent to 18,000 pounds of coal a year for each person. In Europe per capita energy consumption is equivalent to 5,600 pounds a year. But it is rising fast in Europe because of the striking increase of late in the standard of living there.

Europe has higher real wages now. Autos and motor scooters multiply on its roads. With this new prosperity has come a desire to substitute machinery for manual labor—a yen which used to be considered chiefly American.

European farmers now look more favorably on mechanization. Factory owners have put in power equipment, thereby raising productivity, and thus hiking their profits and the pay of their employees.

Europe still gets 68 per cent of its energy from coal and 10 per cent from hydroelectric plants. Oil provides 20 per cent, with natural gas making up most of the rest.

Atomic energy is likely to be developed commercially in Europe before it is here because the costs of older forms of energy are higher there. But in the next 10 years, Jersey Standard believes, the atom will satisfy only one fourth of Europe's increased demand for electricity. Three-fourths must come from increased consumption of the conventional energy sources.

American oilmen busily observing Oil Progress Week right now may be comforted to hear that the New York bankers think that in the next 50 years the fossil fuels will still be the world's dominant source of energy.

The Library of Congress in Washington was burned by the British in 1812 and other fires in 1825 and 1851 destroyed much of the collection of books.

EVACUATE FLOODED MEXICAN CITY

FLOOD-TRAPPED for more than 20 days, residents of Tampico, Mexico, wait their turn to use small boats that have become the principal means of transportation in some of the main thoroughfares. Some 60,000 persons were reported still stranded as American and Mexican rescue units, facing the threat of a new storm, sped to their aid. Helicopters, 14 of them from the American transport Salpan, are being used in evacuating flood victims to high ground.
