Clayton Dam Project Is Aired At GPA Meeting

Governor Says Controversy Helpful to State Interests

Gov. John F. Simms said today that the one group supporting the construction of Clayton Dam and another group opposing it, "the debate could continue endlessly without clear-cut results."

Simms said he personally does not know whether the dam was a wise project. "That appears to be a matter of judgment," he said in a talk before the annual convention of the Game Protective Assn., where Clayton Dam issue was in for major going over.

Didn't Inspect

Simms said he did not go to Clayton yesterday to inspect the dam from what he had read inspected. He had to stand in line to look at the dam. "And if I inspected it, I am sure that I would have seen."

Simms agreed that the dam does constitute an issue. He went on: "The democratic way of life is served by officials who have courage to make decisions and stand by them, as long as they are right; and by citizens who are courageous enough to challenge their officials and to criticize them out loud, when they think they are wrong."

Debate Helpful

The feasibility of the Clayton dam probably will never be settled to the satisfaction of everyone concerned. What I say to you is that the controversy of this nature is often helpful than harmful and that the state's interests are not suffer for very long if the citizens remain vocal and aggressive and make their views known."

Simms noted that at the request of the GPA members he had had an investigation "of the dam."

Stowell Driver Killed Instantly

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Roswell man, Sidney F. Pilson, died instantly last night when his car went out of control near Roswell and crushed him.

Pilson, 43, was listed as the driver of the car which was involved in the accident on speed. It struck four miles south of Roswell on U. S. Highway 285 at 8:40 p. m.

The northbound car skidded on a patch of ice, crushing Pilson's head, hanging from the car. A widow, who was with him, was crushed as she came to rest after over-

State Game Department Director Avoids Subject

Homer C. Pickens, director of the State Department of Fish and Game, skillfully avoided any controversial subjects in his hour long speech before delegates of the GPA convention, held in Artesia this morning.

GPA Leader Cites Facts and Figures On Clayton Work

Hugh Woodward, director of the New Mexico Game Protective Assn., tied into the State Game Department today, declaring the state's sportsmen were not advised sufficiently about plans for the controversial Clayton Dam project.

In a 34-page talk prepared for delivery at the annual state GPA convention, Woodward, an Albuquerque attorney, said:

"We have researched our file of these weekly department newsletters for the purpose of determining what information was released to the public by the department as to the Clayton Dam."

Wanted Information

"What we sought was the information which the department had given out as to the location of the dam, its prospective cost, what studies had been made to determine whether there were any alternate feasible with comparative costs, how much land would be acquired (the number of New Mexico citizens who would be served by the expenditure, the purposes which the proposed dam would serve, the cost of the land, cost of the dam and cost of the total project."

"So far as we know no representative of the department or of the Game Commission has, at any time discussed with any of the officers of your organization any of these important facts. The information contained in the department's press releases is very meager."

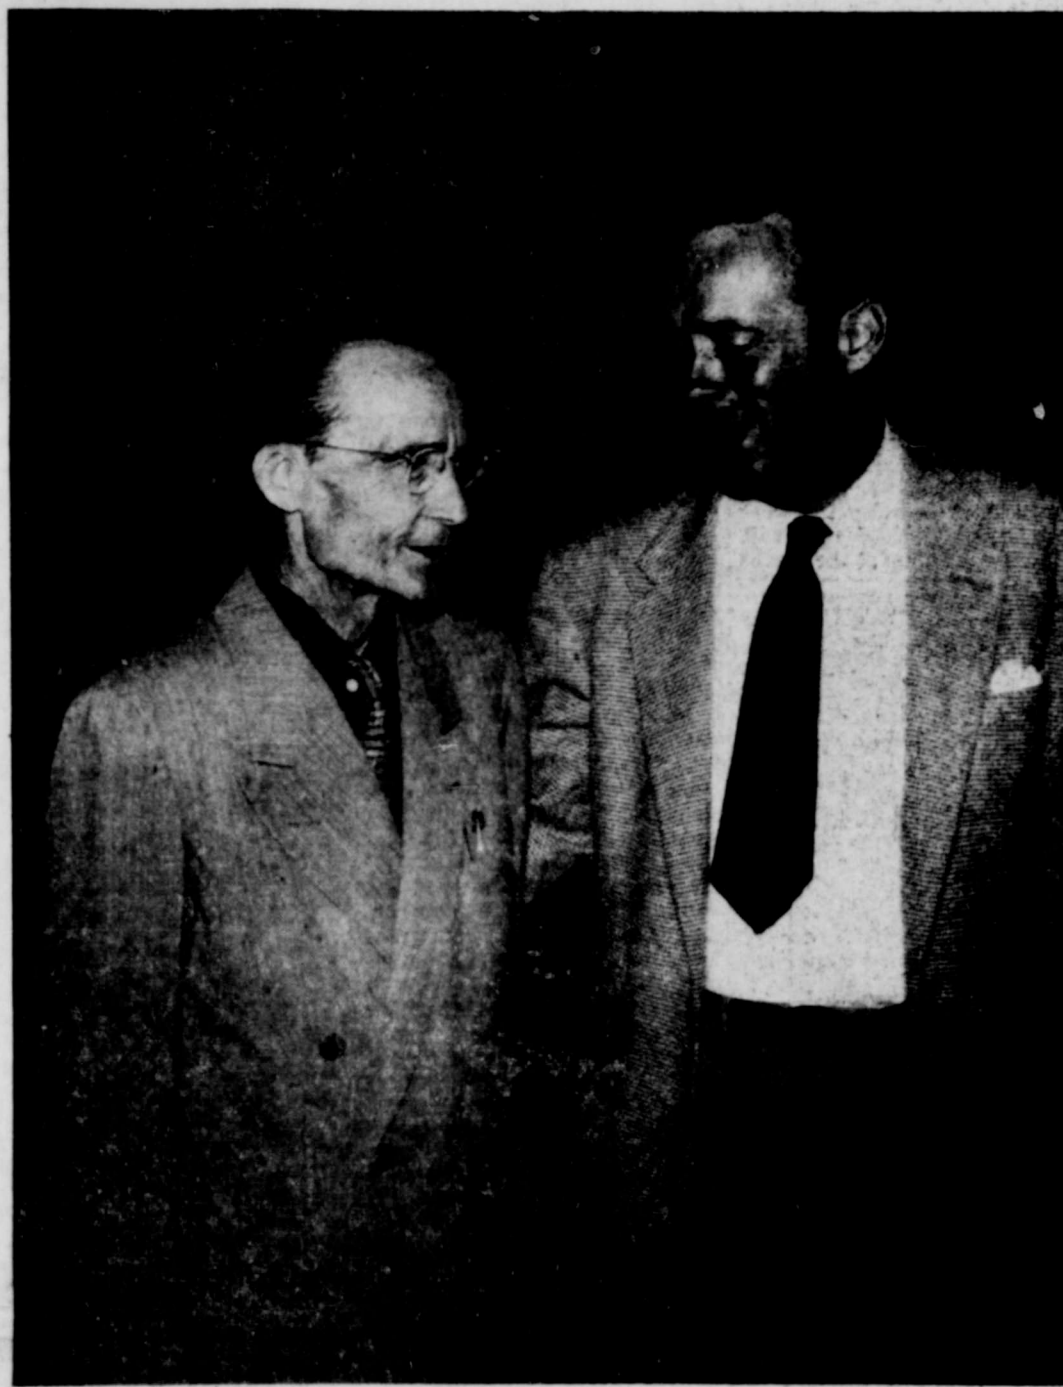

Poor Location

Woodward also struck at location of the dam and its cost. He said relatively few New Mexicans and few out of state sportsmen would use the reservoir, located about seven miles northwest of Clayton, in Union County.

He said New Mexicans probably would use better and larger fishing spots already handy to the area, like Eagle Nest and Conchas Lakes and streams.

"How many people in New Mexico will be served by the Clayton dam?"

Crowbar Found In Truck Seen Near Scene Of Triple Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Police trying to crack the mysterious slaying of three boys found today an iron crowbar which they said was stowed with something resembling blood. Hair was stuck to it.

The bar was uncovered, Sheriff Joseph Lohman reported, in a truck in which two brothers said they slept Monday night near a spot in Robinson Woods where the nude bodies of the brutal slaying victims were found.

CHICAGO (AP)—The owner of a truck containing a collection of stained tools was cleared today of any connection with the brutal slaying of three grade school boys.

The three grade school boys, nude, strangled and beaten bodies were discovered Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff's police took the truck to their station in suburban Morton Grove for a minute examination. The bar was discovered during the search.

Russia Demands Full-Scale U.N. Disarmament Debates

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia demanded today a full debate on disarmament in the U.N. Assembly Political Committee, without waiting for disarmament decisions by the Big Four foreign ministers.

Arkady A. Sobolev, permanent Soviet delegate to the U.N., made the demand in the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission.

He accused the commission of attempting to delay a report on disarmament debates of its big-nation subcommittee. Further delays would be harmful, he said.

"It has been alleged that discussion of disarmament here would interfere with or prevent discussion by the Big Four ministers," Sobolev said. "But disarmament was a major topic of all the general policy statements in the assembly. Every member of the United Nations has the right to debate this subject."

The Big Four foreign ministers meet at Geneva Oct. 27. The Disarmament Commission subcommittee — composed of the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Canada — recessed sessions here Oct. 7. They were deadlocked over disarmament plans, especially on U.S. insistence that President Eisenhower (Continued on page four)

Moved Fast To Spike Implied Dishonesty In Newspaper Story

New Mexico's genial young governor, John F. Simms Jr., made his first appearance in Artesia this morning since he took office as the state's chief executive.

Looking rested and refreshed despite a heavy schedule of tours and speaking engagements around the state, the governor stepped from his plane at Municipal Airport to be met by a welcoming committee led by Tom Brown Sr.

The elder Brown, state Democratic chairman headed the small welcoming group which included Buster Mulcock, Mrs. Brown and Tom Brown Jr. State Police officers Bill Allen and Steve Lindsey were on hand to escort the governor during his stay here.

Smiling and chatting affably with newsmen, Simms said he had been looking forward to the opportunity of visiting Artesia for some time and had eagerly grabbed at the chance to speak here at the GPA convention.

Texas to Pay Higher Cotton Picking Scale

SANTA FE (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today wired Gov. John Simms that new surveys of cotton picking rates are to start this week in West Texas, including Texas counties adjoining New Mexico.

A week ago today Simms wired Mitchell a protest over what Simms called discrimination against New Mexico growers he said must pay Mexican nationals more than they are paid in adjacent Texas counties.

Simms had asked that Texas either be required to make new wage surveys and determinations or that the present levels in New Mexico be suspended.

The law requires that proper wage rates be paid as soon as surveys determine the true prevailing rates. Mitchell said. There is no attempt to discriminate against New Mexico growers, he informed Simms, "and we are without authority to waive payments in the Artesia area because other surveys are pending."

One of Simms' statements was that growers in the Artesia area would have to pay $2.45 a hundred to the Mexico cotton pickers, while the rate was $2.05 in several West Texas counties.

Simms said that under that law, Eddy County could establish such a body and levy a half mill tax to create funds for flood control work of a small nature.

"They've had nine bad floods in Albuquerque this year," the governor said, "and I think Bernalillo county is now going to set up a flood control agency under the permissive laws and attempt some sort of check dam construction in the Sandias."

On other matters the governor said that he had moved quickly to spike any inference of dishonesty in bids for equipment for the new state prison.

AWOL Airman Is Found Hanged Near Cloudercroft

ALAMOGORDO (AP)—An AWOL Holloman AFB serviceman was found late yesterday hanged to a towering pine tree in a canyon along State Road 83 near Cloudercroft.

A pair of cheap handcuffs had fastened together the hands of A. 2/C Roger L. Williamson, 19, San Antonio, Tex. One of the cuffs had been broken from the hand it bound in a struggle.

In the young airman's pockets was a court summons in a suit for $280 damages, the result of an auto accident in San Antonio during a recent leave.

Williamson had been missing since Oct. 4 when his car was found parked by the highway about 60 yards from the tree on which he was found hanged.

A coroner's jury returned an open verdict pending medical examination.

Lt. Col. H. P. Burke, Holloman medical officer, said today an autopsy showed the airman's death was "due to strangulation."

Burke said, "As far as we can determine, there was no sign of foul play and our present presumption is that it was suicide."

Phillips Plans 15,000-Foot Oil Drilling

SANTA FE (AP)—Phillips Petroleum Co. plans to try for the deepest oil well ever drilled in the Devonian structure in New Mexico.

The company's application for approval of a deep unit agreement of 7,928 acres in southwestern Lea County was heard by Warren Mankins, Oil Conservation Commission examiner. Mankins took the case under advisement.

He said Phillips plans to go 15,000 feet on a well about five miles west of the Lynch Field in Lea County. The firm is hoping to strike oil at around 14,500 feet, he said.

This would be the deepest Devonian well drilled in New Mexico. Sinclair hit oil at about 13,600 feet in the Devonian for the deepest so far.

Chavez, McClellan Deny They Requested Air Force to Supply Special European Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Chavez (D-NM) and McClellan (D-Ark) say they have not asked for special government planes to fly them and their wives home from Europe.

Chavez said he would leave Naples, Italy, for Madrid today and "my arrangements were made before and they stay as they are. I have requested nothing."

Asked whether he planned to fly home on a special plane or a scheduled airliner, Chavez told a reporter "Good night, sir," and hung up the telephone.

A Chavez aide in Washington, asked why it was necessary for Chavez to return to the United States in such a hurry, replied that the senator had made some speaking engagements before leaving. He said he did not know what they were.

The Pentagon said that the Air Force may buy commercial transportation when Air Force planes are not available, but only on request. It said there was no request in this case. By commercial plane, the cost for the three senators involved and their wives would have been less than $3,000.

And an aide of Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said in Washington he knew of no such request by his senator. Stennis himself could not be reached immediately.

All three legislators are members of the Senate Appropriations Committee in Europe on committee business. The Defense Department said yesterday it is sending two big four-engine transport planes to bring them home, at an estimated round-trip cost of $20,000.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert T. Ross said the special trips had to be ordered when the senators were reported unable to wait two or three days for government planes due on "regular scheduled missions."

One of the two government planes took off yesterday for Madrid, where it was due to pick up McClellan and Stennis Sunday.

The second is slated to leave here Monday for Paris to fetch Chavez.

Reached in Naples, Italy, last night, McClellan said "there is not a word of truth" to the reported request for special service.

That Survey Is Needed

ONE of the first jobs of the New Mexico Economic Development Commission is to be a survey of the state to determine what New Mexico has and what it can offer.

A good many have argued that this should be the first task of the state organization. They have emphasized that we need to know what we have, what we need and what we can provide as a state before we go out to invite others to come into our communities and into our state.

New industries are fine because they mean new payrolls. However, when we duplicate the industries, the firm or the business concerns we have—that is not good. That means we divide the business and the result is that the old concerns and the new ones merely divide the business.

It is to our advantage as a state that we have industries, manufacturing and business concerns that are prosperous, that are growing, that are expanding. We need those having good payrolls, increasing these payrolls, able to meet their obligations and their responsibilities.

And only concerns, which are prosperous, doing a good business and growing are able to do that. When we divide the business in a community or in the state we frequently destroy this prosperous condition and the result is bad instead of good.

In many towns, cities and communities in New Mexico we have had local people with local capital provide the needs. They have erected the new buildings; put in the new businesses and even industries and have helped to meet the need and the situation.

New Mexico for the most part is not an industrial state. We perhaps do need certain industries to provide jobs; greater payrolls and to meet some of our needs. We have certain raw materials that can be processed much cheaper and better here than they can be elsewhere.

The proposal of the State Economic Development Commission to have the local communities make their own surveys and to make a study of these surveys certainly should be a way to find out what we need, what we can provide and what we should do.

We believe this is tackling the problem in the right way and that we can eliminate a lot of wasted effort and energy by carrying out this program before we get started in other ways to help bring new industries to our state.

er's "open sky" plan be adopted as a prelude to disarmament.

Under that plan, the United States and the Soviet Union would exchange aerial reconnaissance and defense blueprints to prevent surprise attack.

Sobolev told the commission—composed of the 11 Security Council members and Canada—that everybody agrees on the necessity of measures to avert surprise attack.

That closeness of agreement on the necessity of reducing armed forces, and the necessity of continuing inspection make it desirable to open the disarmament debate here, Sobolev said. He said there was now a definite possibility of reaching agreement.

He blamed the United States for blocking progress in the closed subcommittee sessions.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, listened intently. Harold E. Stassen, his deputy in the subcommittee talks, is accompanying Secretary of State Dulles to Paris for preliminary Big Four consultations.

Sobolev's statement unveiled some of the mystery behind his request last week for an urgent meeting of the commission.

my new york

BY MEL HEIMER

Mimi Benzell
The hat was terrible.

NEW YORK—The theater was the Ziegfeld, only recently peddled by Billy Rose to TV interests (except for his apartment upstairs, complete with sliding-panel view of the stage), and it was an SRO audience. The house lights darkened, the pit orchestra played the overture and presently, as one might expect, the curtain went up and a skillful, funny, highly professional musical comedy was presented.

The only catch was, it was 10:30 a. m. When it was done, I walked out into the pastoral scene of Sixth avenue in the 50s, with secretaries rushing to delicatessen for lunch, and discovered it wasn't far past high noon. It was a heck of a time to see a musical comedy.

Actually, the show was Merry Oh-h-h!, and the only people seeing it were the dealers and salesmen, and their wives, for O—m—l—e, an automobile company which shall be hibernated. The reliable company which shall be hibernated. The reliable company which shall be hibernated.

One grew a little uneasy when the talented children onstage paused and breathlessly sneaked in plugs for the car, but otherwise one couldn't fault the show. A lot worse have lasted a lot longer on Broadway. Maybe it's because they are shown at night, the way it's supposed to be.

LATER, THE SCENE was the ornate Cotillion Room of the Pierre, where, as three boys in T-shirts and dungarees (they turned out to be singers-dancers) lay on the carpet and looked up at the ceiling, waiting their turn to practice, you watched the most harassed woman of the year go through a rehearsal.

Her name was Mimi Benzell and when she came over after a little while and flopped on the banquette seat next to you, you could see she was haggard, nervous and angry, and that there were dark fatigue circles under her eyes. At that, they seemed to enhance her delicate good looks. What was bothering Miss Benzell most was a purple hat. She held it up, swore in her face.

had any objection to the manner in which the bids were presented and his main objection was that he would have liked to have had a few more days to work on the bids.

The governor said that the manner in which the bids had been prepared had legal precedence and that he had obtained a legal opinion from a law firm which also represented the newspaper which originally attacked the bids.

Simms, who was in Raton yesterday and will speak at Highlands University in Las Vegas tomorrow, said that he will be in the air all of Monday night enroute to New York where he will put his signature on 9,000 bonds being issued by the state. He had planned to leave early Monday but was subpoenaed as a witness in the trial of a motorist accused of following too closely behind Simms' car several weeks ago during a state highway safety drive.

This afternoon, after being guest of honor at a GPA luncheon at city park, the governor was scheduled to make an appearance at the Pecos Valley Home and Ranch show and to be heard over Radio station KSPV.

He was to return to Santa Fe late this afternoon.

Dam?" he asked. Then he added: "Assuming that not many people will drive by a lake the size of Conchas or leave such productive lakes as Eagle Nest, Maxwell Lakes, Floresheim Lakes, Charette Lakes and Salt Lakes to drive a much greater distance to reach Clayton Lake, in New Mexico, Clayton Lake will serve Union County and northern Hardin County."

Cites Population

He said Union County's population of 7,372 and Harding County's population of 3,013 hardly made the 175-mile prairie reservoir economically feasible. In addition, he said that last year 2,324 licenses were bought in Union County, and 1,045 of them were non-resident fishing licenses.

He compared that to 28,739 licenses bought in populous Bernalillo County last year, 10,092 in Colfax County, 8,580 in Chaves, 6,818 in Dona Ana, 11,406 in Eddy, 5,912 in Grant, 8,719 in Lea, 10,799 in San Miguel, 9,411 in Santa Fe and 9,381 in Sierra.

He said of the total revenue from licenses sold in New Mexico last year, totaling $744,522.85, Union County contributed $12,428.50 toward that fund used to promote fishing and hunting in New Mexico. As for the expense, he said: "At this time, the cost already paid and estimated is $409,339.36."

Then he quoted from a letter written by State Comptroller Dan Smith. Woodward said Smith notified him costs up to Oct. 7 were $44,444.85 for land acquisition, $8,804.51 for a boundary fence and signs and $15,307.40 for preliminary costs of construction of the dam.

Summarizes Costs

He followed that with a summary of costs supplied by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service as of Oct. 12. The Federal Agency, he said, listed an estimate of dam construction cost, including preliminary cost and cost of engineer

He and his deaf mute brother, Herman, were picked up for questioning after a forest ranger reported seeing a panel truck bearing the name "Rohlfie" in Robinson Woods Monday night.

Herman and Edward were held without charge for lie detector examinations.

The brothers live with a daughter in suburban Glen Ellyn, about 12 miles southwest of Robinson Woods.

Lohman said both brothers denied knowing anything about the killings and said they had not seen any bodies either Monday night or when they left the woods Tuesday morning.

Edward said he and his brother slept in the truck, that they often picked up or slept in the woods. Edward is 47, his brother 52.

Seven other persons, one a California girl, were questioned in other parts of the investigation. Four men were seized last night when they visited undertaking rooms where bodies of two victims, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11, lay on view in their coffins.

Funeral services for the third slain boy, Robert Peterson, 14, were held yesterday.

Despite intensive police work, the mystery of how and why the boys met death, apparently late Sunday night, remained unanswered.

There was a new eye-witness story, by Mrs. Margaret Crimmins, 48, a waitress, who told police she saw three youngsters who looked like the victims, accept a ride from a motorist at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, at a Northwest Side intersection.

Four of those in custody for questioning were among some 5,000 persons who visited the Schuessler boys' wake.

Police said they are Robert R. Thibodeau, 24, a stock handler; Joseph P. Renz, 25, a shipping clerk; Clark G. Lupton, 21, a student.

He recalled that his comptroller after a special audit, concluded the transactions checked appeared to be proper and in order. Praises GPA

Simms said he has held a lifelong interest in hunting and fishing. "I believe New Mexico has made tremendous progress in recent years in the development of our wildlife resources and the preservation of our outdoor recreation areas. One reason for this progress, I believe, is the fact that the Game and Fish Department has had an energetic and militant outfit like the GPA looking over its shoulder every time it made a move.

"Another reason undoubtedly the fact that for many years elected public officials have had the good sense to keep the Game and Fish Department out of the realm of political patronage."

He said that shortly after his own inauguration he pledged to "that my administration would lay the hand of political patronage on their department. I have kept that promise."

Simms praised the GPA for "vitality important work" and strongly urged that it "remain militant, keep a chip on its shoulder, continue to debate the issues which concern it, and in the analysis, stand up and be counted."

The men said they did not know the youngsters, but came to the undertaker's to say prayers for them.

Key to Romance?

SIGNIFICANCE is speculated in Britain into the fact that Dr. Geoffrey Fisher (above), archbishop of Canterbury, and Queen Elizabeth and other members of the royal family will dine together Oct. 19. Bulldogs Meet Hobbs Tonight In First District 4AA Tilt

Artesia Has Light Edge Over Eagles

Artesia's bulldog squad tangles with Hobbs here tonight in the first district conference game of the season. And Coach Reese's team goes into the battle with slight favorites over the eagles.

Workouts during the week whipped the eager Artesians into shape for tonight's game. They intend to run the win over to five last Friday night. Bulldogs edged the Farmington Bulldogs 20-19.

The Smith boys have been working particularly hard this week on defensive defense—the basic formation Hobbs is expected to use tonight.

In the previous six games this season, only Alamogordo shifted the much-used T formation offensive action against the Bulldogs.

Artesia is going with a light edge over the Eagles. The game isn't considered wide enough to make it any sort of a cover for the Bulldogs.

Wes Santee Says Hitch in Marines Hasn't Hurt His Mile Running

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee won't be any less effective in the 1956 Olympics because of his hitch in the Marine Corps.

In fact, it may help.

"I haven't been running the mile at all since I've been in the Marines," said Santee before heading back to Quantico, Va., today.

"We've been running strictly distance races down there, but it has kept me in real good shape."

The gangling University of Kansas graduate certainly looked like money in the bank last night in the Olympic Carnival in Madison Square Garden. He ran the mile in 4:05.2—his fastest ever in the Garden and sixth fastest indoors.

"I think I might have done a little better," he said. "But it's only the beginning of the season. Anytime are without eyes."

College Grid Play Goes Into Second Session

College football heads into the second half of its 1955 schedule this weekend, and most conference championships and the big New Year's Day bowl games are far from settled. But the men are a lot of light is beginning to filter through the shadows.

One of the major games tomorrow involving conference rivals brings together Oklahoma, perennial champs of the Big Seven, and Colorado, both undefeated. Oklahoma is favored, although if there is any Big Seven team with a chance to beat them out of an Oorang Bowl assignment it's Colorado.

Maryland, which is expected to represent the Atlantic Coast Conference in the Orange Bowl, will have a scrap on its hands against once-beaten Syracuse in another big battle of the day.

Michigan, the nation's No. 1 team just ahead of Maryland, has its eyes on the Rose Bowl. However, the Wolverines have a bit of business this week with Minnesota in the Big Ten Conference scramble.

Wisconsin, tied at the top of the Big Ten heap with Michigan, must knock off Ohio State Saturday to remain in the running.

Clemson got the weekend rolling yesterday with a 28-14 Atlantic Coast Conference decision over South Carolina. The victory, decided in the first period when Clemson's Joe Padgett scored twice, put the Tigers in a first place tie with Maryland with a 2-0 record.

There are five big games on tonight, and one will be watched with interest, although it has no bearing on conference or bowl bids. UCLA, a favorite for the Pacific Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl job if it can get past Washington later, goes outside the brotherhood to meet Iowa of the Big Ten.

Washington, a winner over Southern California, takes on Stanford tomorrow and should win without too much difficulty.

Auburn, winner over Georgia Tech and with the Southeastern Conference and Sugar Bowl peaking over a far-off horizon, picks on a patsy—Furman.

The Southwest Conference championship may not be settled for another few Saturdays, with Baylor, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist still in the running. However, Baylor meets Texas A&M tomorrow, and the winner may wind up a favorite for the title, and a Cotton Bowl date Jan. 2.

In the other four top attractions tonight, Texas Christian plays Miami, Denver goes against Brigham Young, unbeaten Boston College meets Marquette and Oklahoma A&M tackles Detroit.

Perhaps the South's best Saturday game is Pitt versus Duke, the unbeaten Atlantic Coast Conference team that edged Ohio State a week ago.

Notre Dame, which lost to Michigan State last Saturday, will try to recoup national prestige against dangerous Purdue. Michigan State and Illinois, however, have perhaps the best game in the Midwest this week.

Navy should be able to blow down important Pennsylvania, while traveling at only half steam, but Princeton and Cornell figure to have a tough Ivy League battle.

Denver Tangles With Brigham

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denver's Pioneers, whose chances to repeat as champion are dead, sends a drastically revised lineup against Brigham Young University at Denver Friday night in the opener of a decisive weekend in the Skyline Conference football campaign.

Junior quarterback Bob Wegelin has been named starting quarterback. He takes over from Jimmy Bowen, the No. 1 signal caller all season, who's been dropped to the No. 3 spot. In No. 2 is a converted halfback, Al Yanovich. Until this week, Yanovich has been performing at right halfback all season.

Bowen's demotion followed Denver's 27-7 loss to Utah last week. That was the first time Denver had been held under three touchdowns since Thanksgiving of 1953.

One of the season's decisive games takes place at Salt Lake City Saturday when the Utah Redskins, unbeaten in the league, entertain the once-beaten Wyoming Cowboys, needing a victory to stay in contention for the championship. Utah is favored.

Colorado A&M, unbeaten in three league games, tries for No. 4 against Utah State, loser of one conference game in three starts. With only placings in the second division at stake, the New Mexico Lobos meet Montana's Grizzlies at Missoula Saturday. New Mexico was blanked in its two previous conference starts while the Montanans hold only a victory over Brigham Young in four league games.

Alabama has had 55 first team players selected on the All-Southern and All-Southeastern Conference squads since 1925.

Trotting Champ Beaten in Finale

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Quick Chief, winner of the Cane Futurity and the Little Brown Jug, two of harness racing's top pacing events, ended his 1955 campaign last night by getting beaten in the $12,400 Westchester Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

The black 3-year-old colt, a 1-to-5 favorite, was nipped at the wire by Irish who came through with a brilliant stretch run. Driven by Edward Cobb, Irish paced the mile in 2:03 1/5 and paid $14.90.

Quick Chief closed out the year with 13 victories in 20 starts and earnings of $95,397. He finished second three times, third once, fourth twice and fifth once.

READY FOR RICHEST - - - By Alan Mavor

THE GARDEN STATE, THE WORLD'S RICHEST RACE, WILL BE RUN FOR THE 3RD TIME AT CAMDEN, N.J., OCT. 29—THE 1 1/4 MILES AROUND TURNS IS A REAL TEST FOR JUVENILES—THE WINNER WILL GET OVER $150,000 FOR ONE MINUTE AND 45 SECONDS OF RUNNING, OR $1,438 A SECOND OR $538 A STRIDE.

A SEVERE CASE OF PNEUMONIA FELLED THE COLT WHEN HE WAS 3 DAYS OLD. OXYGEN AND PENICILLIN SAVED HIM AND FROM THE INJECTIONS OF THE LATTER HE GOT THE NAME 'NEEDLES'.

NMMI Cadets Can Upset Adams in Conference Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Mexico Military Institute, rarely a top contender for honors in the New Mexico Conference race but often a spoiler, this week has a chance to throw the league battle into a turmoil.

The Cadets, even at 1-1 in league play, will take on front-running Adams State of Alamosa, Colo., in NMMI's backyard at Roswell.

An Adams victory would virtually assure the Colorado team of at least a share of the title, while a Cadet victory would throw it open for about four teams. NMMI, rated a darkhorse when the race started, has pulled one upset this year in stopping defending champion Panhandle A&M of Goodwell, Okla.

Adams moved into control of the league with a 19-14 licking of the Aggies last week. If they can get past NMMI, they will have only Highlands of Las Vegas to meet in league competition.

Highlands, now just one game back of Adams, plans to stay close this week against the winless Arizona State (Flagstaff) Lumberjacks. Highlands whipped New Mexico Western 27-21 last week, while Arizona lost its fourth straight, 7-0 to non-conference LaVerne.

Western and the Aggies will go out of the conference for their competition. Western of Silver City will take on Eastern Arizona Junior College from Thatcher, while the Aggies will host Ottawa (Kan.) University.

Underdog Cuban Logart Shooting At Welter Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Isaac Logart, a 22-year-old welterweight who comes from Kid Gavilan's home province of Camaguey and hopes to follow in his countryman's footsteps, makes the jump to the big time tonight against experienced Gil Turner at Madison Square Garden.

The young Cuban, latest idol of the metropolitan area's Latin-American set, is a 9-5 underdog.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the 10-rounder at 9 p. m. EST.

Logart has 13 brothers and three sisters. He once fought a main event for $1.50 in Cuba. Tonight he not only will get a chance to crash the national spotlight but he'll pick up a check of around $3,000.

"This is my big chance," he said. "All the time I want to fight in the Garden like Kid Chocolate (his idol) and Kid Gavilan. I show I belong. Maybe I get chance for the title."

He is raring to go but so is Turner. Gil, now 25, was only 22 when he was knocked out in 11 rounds by Kid Gavilan, then the welterweight champion. That was his first defeat after winning 31 straight. He'd like to get even with Camaguey even if the opponent is Logart and not Gavilan.

Although he is ranked as the No. 10 middleweight contender, the windmill puncher from Philadelphia said he is aiming for another shot at the 147-pound welterweight crown. Logart is the eighth-ranked welter contender.

Turner's record is 48-9-1 with 33 knockouts. Logart, winner of four of his last five fights, has a 38-5-4 record. He has stopped 18 foes.

Nineteen District Prep Games Slated Across State Tonight

By ROBERT GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roswell and Highland of Albuquerque clash in Roswell tonight in one of the most important games of the New Mexico high-school football season.

Riding on the vital game is the likely championship of Dist. 2AA, a lot of prestige and the desire to establish a "first."

The meeting tonight between the Coyotes and Hornets will be their first football encounter in history. Both are unbeaten in New Mexico—though each has taken a licking from a Texas team. Roswell is at 5-1, while Highland has 4-1.

Highland needs only a victory over Roswell to take the district championship—the first step in its defense of the state Class AA title it won last year. Roswell would need still another decision, over Clovis, before it could cinch the crown.

The game is rated about a toss-up. They have played only one common foe—St. Mary's. The Hornets beat St. Mary's 42-6, Roswell did it by 30-0.

While that game sits at the top of the schedule, the long football weekend got started on one of its more important runs last night.

St. Mike's ran over St. Mary's 19-0, piling up 248 yards on the ground. Don Gonzales and Bob Benavidez led the rout as the Hornets strengthened their position atop the 1A standings. They need only a victory over Belen to cinch it.

Nineteen other district games, the heaviest load of the season, crowd the schedule tonight and tomorrow. Going on the line are four unbeaten records and at least four district championships.

Las Cruces, the only remaining undefeated member of the big schools' loop, puts its record on the line against Burgess, Ariz., tonight. The Bulldogs are at 5-0 for the season and are generally considered the most likely candidate to advance to the finals of the Class AA playoffs.

A couple of district games—in addition to the Roswell-Highland battle—add interest to the Class AA slate. Farmington could wrap up the 1AA title—and is expected to—against Valley. The Scorpions have lost only one in six starts this year, while Valley has won only one.

In the other one, Hobbs and Artesia will tangle in the first Dist. 4AA game of the season.

Artesia rules as a slight favorite. Albuquerque and Carlsbad meet in the Duke City in a prime cross-district battle. Albuquerque holds the slight edge in this one, but the Cavemen have given signs of shaking the lethargy that marked their early season play and could make it interesting.

Santa Fe hosts Las Vegas in the other game involving a Class AA team.

Ray Riojas Whips Philly Slugger

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ray Riojas, 135, turned slugger last night to win a unanimous 10-round decision over Boland Abrams, 134, of Philadelphia.

The victory set up a Nov. 8 meeting here for Riojas with Orlando Zuleta, the world's sixth-ranked lightweight.

Riojas, Texas lightweight champion, crowded his more experienced opponent from the opening bell to win despite a late-round comeback by the slender Philadelphia.

Price Pegging Is Most Touchy Business Matter

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The delicate question facing business today is where to set prices. And price news—whether to "fair trade," consumer reaction to price hikes, the prospects of another dose of inflation—is all over the lot this week.

The question is delicate because the urge to raise prices is strong just now with many a manufacturer—and because the power of the consumer to pick and choose in many a competitive market is unquestioned.

The conflict has had a spectacular outburst in the battle between the old-line merchants and the discount houses.

"Fair trade" conflicts pop up sharply this week. "Fair trade" is the practice, backed by laws in many states, of a manufacturer setting a fixed retail price for his products. Retailers are told they mustn't sell for less.

Two big electrical appliance manufacturers have been having trouble with this practice. Westinghouse has abandoned list prices on some of its electric housewares as unworkable. General Electric is stopping efforts to enforce its "fair trade" contracts in Indiana, awaiting a court ruling on the validity of the state's law. An adverse ruling in Michigan caused GE to drop the pricing practice there.

But Ronson Corp. of Newark, N. J., says it will step up efforts to enforce "fair trade" pricing of its products: lighters and electric shavers.

The price question is to the fore in other ways this week, too. The new auto models are coming out almost daily now. And most of them carry higher "suggested" price tags than last year. It's up to the dealer to decide how much of this to try to pass along to the motoring public.

In steel centers there's talk of higher prices on some steel products. The price went up at the time higher wages were granted last summer. But steel mills say that didn't cover all their increased costs.

What consumer resistance can do is being pointed out this week at the meeting in San Francisco of the National Coffee Assn. A survey said to represent 11 million households, showed 23 per cent cut their coffee buying when the price soared.

It's doubt over which way the public will jump that makes the pricing question so delicate for businessmen just now.

NEBRASKA MARE WINS

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The $1,000 stake for five-gaited mares in the American Royal horse show last night went to Shannondale, a 6-year-old owned by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Long, Norfolk, Neb.

Student voluntarily undergoes sunken "coffin" training.

FOLLOWING a demonstration for newsmen at Stead Air Force Base near Reno, Nev., the U. S. Air Force suddenly decides to reconsider "torture" training methods. Veteran instructors of the escape and survival course resisted the decision, however, and several ex-POWs who had been through the course agreed that the training was valuable. The course includes admittedly painful and exhausting exercises, such as shown in the above photos taken at Camp Stead. (International Soundphotos)

MARCH OF EVENTS

Scarcity of Scientists, Engineers Seen Serious

Soviet Training Future Savants of Rapid Rate

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—Look for the federal government to take the lead in a new move to spur the call for trained scientists and engineers.

The nation's colleges and universities have long lagged in the demand for such men, but beyond occasional warnings that America may fall behind in the arms race, the government has done little thus far.

Washington

The fellowships and scholarships offered to prospective scientists have failed to produce the numbers of men needed to keep pace with today's march of science. However, now, say the experts, Russia has actually taken the lead in training engineers and scientists.

Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss warns this could lead to "a national calamity, imperiling our security and freedom a generation hence."

Strauss recently quoted Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen Dulles as having reported that "between 1950 and 1960 Soviet Russian will have graduated 1,200,000 scientists and engineers, compared with about 900,000 in the United States in our present program."

● CAUGHT SHORT—Senator Milton R. Young (R), North Dakota, had a shutter bug's field day on his recent trip to Russia. The senator was allowed complete freedom in photographing the Soviet scene with his movie camera and as a result is the proud possessor of some wonderful shots.

However, Young is still moaning about the big one that got away. When he was invited to a Kremlin reception, the legislator was quite surprised that there was no objection to taking the faithful camera along.

Young poised himself for an orgy of photographing Nikita Khrushchev, boss of the Communist party, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, and other Red big-wigs at play. Just as he was ready to start rolling, Young made a frightful discovery—no film!

● BLAME THE HURRICANES!—Got troubles? Blame them on those recent hurricanes which hit the United States. You'll be right in style.

Even the Department of Agriculture is doing it, and quite legitimately, in connection with a sudden buildup of mosquito and house fly populations in many storm-swept states.

Says the department: "Severe flooding in many areas of Massachusetts contributed to severe infestations of mosquitoes and house flies. Mosquitoes have been numerous and annoying in the Norfolk area of Virginia."

"They have appeared in great numbers throughout the Rio Grande valley of Texas after floods caused by hurricanes."

The department went on to say that some Delaware counties in the path of the big hurricanes have the heaviest infestations of mosquitoes of any time in the past 10 or 15 years.

Other states plagued by hurricane-inspired insect hordes were listed as Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Florida.

For once there was no promise of any immediate offer of federal assistance to help the states attack this particular aspect of the post-hurricane problem.
