SANTA FE WARNED OF RABID DOGS

SANTA FE — Dog owners continued today to swamp veterinarians for anti-rabies inoculations for their pets following disclosure that the city faced a rabies epidemic.

A special meeting of the Santa Fe City Council and County Commission today was expected to put in effect an existing city ordinance calling for the quarantine of all dogs.

Three of the city's veterinarians they planned to take the anti-rabies inoculations themselves after handling three dogs diagnosed as having rabies.

An 11-year-old girl, Susan Gans, and a 7-year-old sister, Barbara, remained under observation by city veterinarians. Susan showed unusual symptoms, although a physician said as far as he knew the person actually been bitten by rabid animals. He warned city officials, however, that quarantine was necessary since said the city was "on the brink of an epidemic."

Mason said a wildcat killed in the city last month was the chief suspect for causing the dogs to contract the disease. Two of the dogs died after being put under observation and a third was killed after observation.

Eddy County GOP Announces Complete Slate For Offices

Ed Hartman of Artesia, chairman of the Eddy County Republican Central Committee, today announced that the GOP by yesterday had filed a complete slate of county candidates, with the exception of posts of county clerk and sheriff and a few lesser offices such as surveyor and justices of the peace.

Vilas P. Sheldon, an Artesia geologist, has filed for the State Senate on the Republican ticket and will oppose Gene Lusk, Democratic incumbent. Sheldon ran against Lusk for the Senate four years ago and lost to his opponent.

"The entire slate of Republican candidates will be running to win," Hartman said, "and under the circumstances surrounding the state and national scene and with the caliber of men composing our county slate of candidates, I believe the Republican ticket will stand an excellent chance of winning the election in Eddy County."

Don Jensen, Artesia realtor, has filed on the GOP ticket for Post No. 2 on the County Commission.

The Republican candidacy for Post No. 1 in the State Legislature is filled by Jay Ogden of Loving, who will be opposing Virgil McCollum or Slick Shafer, of Carlsbad, for Post No. 3, a new post in the Legislature. Nine members attended the meeting which was held in the church parlor.

NM COLLEGE SYMPHONY TO APPEAR HERE

The University of New Mexico Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Jack Stephenson, will present a concert at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, March 20.

The 60-piece symphony is traveling over the state presenting programs before student and community groups.

The concert is being sponsored jointly by the Community Concert Assn. and the Parent-Teacher Assn. groups of Hermosa, Park, and Central Schools.

The community concert board will provide supper for the group and the three P-T-A organizations will provide housing for the orchestra.

"We deem it a rare privilege to be able to appear for both students and adults at an evening performance and we deeply appreciate the courtesy extended to us by the Community Concert Assn. as well as your well-organized Parent-Teacher groups in Artesia," said Stephenson, when told of the plans for his group.

The morning following the evening concert the group will play for a student group in the schools.

NMMI Student Riot For Cause Still Not Known

ROSWELL — Three firemen aboard a city fire truck answered a routine grass fire call in the New Mexico Military Institute last night and drove into a hornet's nest of rioting cadets.

Firemen escaped unscathed and the city's big bumper truck came out with "cuts and bruises." There were no injuries.

George Gruling, NMMI publicity director, said, "We haven't been able to pin down the cause of rioting." He said several windows were broken by rocks in a section of barracks not occupied.

Gruling said tension has been building up among the cadet corps because of a tightening of discipline.

One institute source said firemen used fire hoses against the cadets as the cadets moved toward the fire truck in the quadrangle. The cadets blocked the truck from getting through the quadrangle.

Damage to the truck was caused by rocks hurled by cadets who were rioting inside the quadrangle as the firemen tried to gain entrance through a sally port to the grass fire on the parade grounds.

Observers said more than 450 cadets of the institute's student body participated in the spontaneous, hour-long outburst. There are 512 students in school.

Finder Returns $227 In Wallet

Vera Adkins of 703 Washington yesterday turned over to police a billfold containing $227 which was found at the postoffice.

Police returned the billfold to its owner, Mrs. Sam Watson, who lives on West Grand Ave. here.

Hermosa School officials have reported the disappearance of a Safety Sally from the school.

Man Reverses Plea In Larceny

One of four Artesians charged in connection with a theft of gasoline from Maico refinery here yesterday changed his plea to guilty. Clay Briggs, 1106 W. Main, who was charged with grand larceny, appeared before Judge John Ellicott who bound him over for district court with bond set at $1,000.

Three others are charged in connection with the theft of 985 gallons of gasoline. They are George Wallace Adams, Floyd Howard and J. D. Howard, all of Artesia. All four originally pleaded innocent to the charges.

GOP Can Relax, But Demos To Slug Out Primary Vote

SANTA FE — The entry of a dark horse third candidate into the Democratic contest for governor had the politicians trying to figure out the angles today.

And, in another follow-up to yesterday's hectic filing day, Ingram B. Pickett, one of Gov. John F. Simms' opponents for the nomination, said U. S. Sen. Clinton Anderson had urged him Sunday night "to think it over" before getting into the race.

Republicans, without any primary election opposition in their ranks, were able to sit back blandly and wait for fireworks in half a dozen Democratic contests, including the 39-year-old Simms' bid for renomination.

Robert F. Stephens, Santa Fe publicist familiar in legislative halls as a lobbyist, made the Democratic race for governor a three-way affair. Although Stephens played it straightaway with a statement blasting Simms followed by a television appearance last night, both Pickett and Simms supporters sought to place him in the others camp as a diversionary tactic.

Pickett, ailing at home today, said he felt Stephens would take some Pickett votes, "but not one from Simms."

Although Pickett called Stephens "A Simms stooge," the governor repeated that the only candidacy for governor he was sponsoring is his own.

Asked about report that he and Sen. Anderson talked by phone about his probable entry into the race, Pickett confirmed that Anderson called him late Sunday night.

"He didn't want me to run," Pickett said.

He called the conversation "a friendly chat," said Anderson did not want to see a primary fight, and asked Pickett to think it over, inasmuch as Democrats figure to be in a tough fight this fall.

"That's Sen. Anderson's privilege to be for John Simms," Pickett said. "It was a friendly chat, but we just don't agree on things. Why, I wouldn't be trying to get Clinton on the ticket with Gov. Hariman as the vice presidential candidate if I was mad at him, would I?"

The slate of unopposed Republicans can relax through the primary campaign while the Democrats slug it out at considerable cost. The Republican ticket is headed by Edwin L. Mechem, who in November will try to become the first ex-governor ever to come to the governorship.

The GOP candidates for Congress are Ralph Carlisle Smith, respected leader at Los Alamos, and State Rep. Forrest S. Atchley of Union County.

EGYPTIAN DISCUSSION CONTINUES

JERUSALEM — Advocates of a preventive war against the Arabs stood rebuffed today in Israel's Parliament but the clang of mounting Middle East tensions continued to reverberate through out most of the world.

Israel's nationalist Heruth party was defeated 66-13 last night on a motion of no confidence in the government of Premier David Ben-Gurion.

The Heruth wants Israel to attack before Communist arms shipments can tip the balance in the Arabs' favor.

The Premier told a stormy Parliament session Israel will not start a war. But he warned that recent events had increased the danger of a second Arab-Israeli conflict.

Arab leaders continued their top-level conference at Cairo. Informants said their chief aim was to bring Jordan's British-trained Arab Legion into the Arab military lineup.

Meeting at Cairo are King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, President Shukri al Kuwattiy of Syria and Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. Coordination of Arab defenses against Israel was described as the second objective of the conference.

Pressure for bringing Jordan into a close military alignment with the three big Arab states was stepped up after last week's dismissal of British Lt. Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb as commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Israel feared the ouster of Glubb and other top British leaders of (Continued on Page Four)

Twenty Artesia Students To Leave Thursday For Santa Fe Performances

Twenty band students of the Artesia Junior and Senior High School Bands will leave Thursday at noon for Santa Fe, where they will perform before the American Bandmasters' Convention.

The twenty students, seventeen of whom were members of the All-State Band which performed in Santa Fe in January, will reappear under the direction of top college and university band conductors. They will present a program Saturday morning before the convention.

Then, Saturday night, they will join forces with the U. S. Air Forces Band, under the direction of Col. George S. Howard, to play a public concert.

"This is indeed a rare opportunity for these youthful musicians because membership in the group is by audition and the group is highly screened," said school officials.

The opportunity is a multiple one, moreover, because the American Bandmasters Assn. represents only the finest and best known band conductors in the United States. The membership of the group is by invitation only and then the prospective candidate must pass a rigid examination before being admitted.

James Harper, Lenoir, N. C., band director, is the president. One of the past presidents was John Philip Sousa, who was also one of the founders of the group.

Cole Honored, Faces Vote Unopposed

Fred Cole of Artesia, Democrat candidate for re-election to the State Legislature, said today that he feels doubly honored by the turn of events in the final hours of filing by the two parties yesterday.

"I feel honored that the Democrats did not see fit to put an opponent in the field against me in the Democratic primaries," Cole said. "I believe this constitutes approval and endorsement by the democrats of the work I have carried on in the Legislature," Cole said.

"I also am honored that the Republicans chose to place against me their top man in the county, a man who is the Republican county chairman and who, until recently, was considered a likely GOP choice for governor, Ed Hartman of Artesia," Cole said.

Commenting on the Republican slate of candidates for the Legislature, Cole said he believed the Republicans have picked competent men for the posts, any of which, if elected, would be good legislators, but said he did not believe they would stand much chance of winning over the Democratic candidates.

Democratic candidates for the three legislative posts from Eddy County are Cole, who is unopposed in the primaries for Post No. 2; Virgil McCollum and Slick Shafer, running for Post No. 1; and Drew Cloud and Denny Moore, for Post No. 3.

Storm - Dumped Snow Puts Out Forest Fire

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A storm dumped half an inch of snow on a raging, wind-driven forest fire in southern New Mexico last night, enabling 430 men to bring the blaze under control.

E. S. Bliss of the Forest Service fire control office in Albuquerque said the fire was brought under control at 8 a.m. today.

The fire fighters, who had been rushed to the scene from Ft. Bliss and Mesquite Indian Reservation, stood by for what Bliss said would be "a tremendous mop-up job."

The fire had burned 800 acres of forest land in Curtis Canyon, Lincoln National Forest, 10 miles west of Mayhill. Bliss said previous reports that 1,300 acres of timber had been destroyed proved to be in error.

The blaze, which had been considered extremely serious during the winds which blew in gusts up to 50 miles an hour, was within three miles of a disastrous 1951 forest fire which blackened 23,000 acres of forest land.

Bliss said Fritz Menninghaus, assistant ranger at Mayhill and fire boss, did "a splendid job" in controlling the fire.

DAR Discusses McCarran Act

Mary Griggs chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Hollis G. Watson.

The group voted to donate two books to the library, one in an appreciation of a book review given by Mrs. S. P. Yates at the Washington birthday tea.

"Flowering New England," by Van Wyck Brooke, and the other is to be a historical novel.

Members voted to aid in the Red Cross drive this month.

Miss Alma Sue Felix led the program on the McCarran-Walter act. She said the act is being attacked by politicians trying to gain support of minority votes and left-right groups. When the bill was drawn up more than 1000 persons representing all groups testified before it was drafted. It took 5 years for the bill to be completed, it is 300 pages long, and was revised six times before it was passed.

Walter said this of the bill: "The aim of the opponents of this law is not to better its execution or revise its provisions, but to destroy it. The issue thereby raised is clear—Are we to have an immigration policy—impossible of fulfillment based primarily on the desires of Europe? Are we to have a policy which is based primarily on what is good for America?" By this system (in this bill) the number from each country is determined by mathematicians not politicians, Miss Felix said.

Miss Felix urged all DAR members to write their congressmen not to revise the bill.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Tom Donnelly, Mrs. John Cochran Jr., Mrs. R. L. Collins, Miss Felix, Mrs. Paul Francis, Mrs. Harold Kersey, Mrs. Jack Knorr, Mrs. W. I. Tremblay Jr., and Mrs. Justin Bradbury, members, and Mrs. Knoelder of Clovis a guest.

AF Emphasizes Intelligence In Recruiting

With the national security now resting squarely on the U.S. Air Force's ability to intercept enemy A-bombers and to dispatch retaliatory raiders to any point on the globe, new emphasis is being placed on Air Force intelligence activities, according to Sgt. J. W. Knapp, local Air Force Recruiter.

"The Air Force is interested in obtaining qualified young men who desire training in the intelligence career field," Knapp said.

Airmen in the intelligence field work to prevent strategic, tactical, or technological surprise from any source, and to give a sound basis for air preparedness planning. In addition, they help support the planning and conduct of air operations.

Some of the more specific intelligence specialties include message coding and decoding, interception of foreign radio traffic, language translation, aerial and ground photo interpretation, and technical analysis of foreign aviation developments.

Regular Air Force specialist schools are made available to airmen in basic training who qualify through aptitude tests for the intelligence field. Upon graduation from the schools, intelligence specialists are assigned to Air Force activities throughout the world and receive rotated assignments to fully qualify them in their duties.

According to the U.S. Employment Service, Air Force intelligence specialists qualify as civilian cryptanalysts, topographical draftsmen, interpreters, investigators, aerial photographers, radio operators, translators — all depending on the intelligence specialty worked in.

If you're saving for a comfortable future . . .

Where you save does make a difference

As more than 15,000,000 Americans already know, there are important advantages to putting your savings in insured Savings and Loan Associations . . .

Excellent returns from your money is one advantage.

Modern, efficient, forward-looking service is another.

And, of course, your money is safe because in insured Savings and Loan Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government.

No wonder Americans are now putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else!

Save where your savings really work for you. Put your money in an insured Savings and Loan Association where you get excellent returns. With 34 billion dollars of assets, these Associations are a great force in encouraging thrift and home ownership.

The nation's most popular place to put savings account dollars is in insured Savings and Loan Associations. Not only do you get excellent returns here, but your money works for your community and helps it to prosper.

This sign identifies us as a member of The Savings and Loan Foundation Inc., a nationwide organization of insured Savings and Loan, Building and Loan and Home-Store Associations which sponsors this message in Life, The Saturday Evening Post and U. S. News and World Report.

SAVINGS RECEIVED BY MARCH 10TH WILL EARN 4 MONTHS' DIVIDENDS ON JUNE 30TH.

Dons Bag Their 51st Straight And 25th Win In Season Play

The Associated Press

San Francisco's Dons have their first unbeaten regular season in the bag, the National Invitation Tournament has its 12-team field wrapped up and the NCAA needs but one more entry.

The Dons, defending NCAA champs, bagged their 51st straight and their 25th of the season last night, walloping St. Mary's (Calif) 82-49.

Only the 1953-54 Kentucky club ever had been 25-0 in a regular season before.

Coach Phil Woolpert's crew will open NCAA Tournament play against UCLA—the last team to beat them—at Corvallis, Ore., on March 16.

While the Dons clinched an automatic NCAA berth a while back with their second straight California Basketball Assn. crown, the spot reserved for the Big Seven champ was claimed just last night by Kansas State. The Wildcats smacked Kansas 79-68 to avert a possible four-way tie.

K-State, overcoming a 10-point deficit as Fritz Schneider scored 36 points for a Kansas fieldhouse record, hadn't defeated Kansas since 1952.

Kentucky was sent to the NCAA for a record eighth time yesterday as the Southeastern Conference substituted the runner-up Wildcats for champion Alabama, which has five ineligible four-year men. Both Kentucky, only three-time NCAA champ, and K-State have first-round byes along with Iowa, Houston, Utah, UCLA and San Francisco.

The remaining NCAA berth goes to the winner of the three-way playoff for the Ohio Valley Conference title, which gets under way at Louisville tonight. Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky get it rolling with the winner facing Morehead (Ky.) for the crown tomorrow night.

Regional eliminations begin on Monday in the NCAA Tournament.

The NIT, which hasn't announced pairings for the March 17-24 battle in Madison Square Garden, closed its entry list with St. Louis yesterday. The Billikens wound up in a tie for second in the Missouri Valley with Oklahoma A&M, picked by the NIT Monday after the Aggies closed their season with an 18-8 record by smacking Bradley 74-40 last night.

Reigel Boosts Total Points To 1,008 In Season

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP)—Bill Reigel of McNeese State College, of Lake Charles, La., boosted his season total to 1,008 points for 29 games and retained his position as the nation's No. 1 collegiate basketball scorer.

Reigel hit for 43 points against Centenary in the first game of the NAIA district playoff at Shreveport to maintain a comfortable lead over Joe Miller of Alderson-Broadus College of Philippi, W. Va., who has 928 points in 29 games for a 32.0 average. Third was Chester Webb of the Georgia Teachers, Statesboro, Ga., with 813.31.

Both Reigel and Webb will appear in the NAIA national tournament opening at Kansas City Monday.

Hobart Loyal of Austin College, Sherman, Tex., took over the free-throwing leadership with 58 conversions in 67 attempts for an .866 percentage. The best field-goal percentage was owned by Jim Litsch of Southwestern Oklahoma State of Weatherford, with 152 connections on 240 shots for .633.

In the team competition West Virginia Tech of Montgomery, W. Va., still showed the way as the No. 1 scoring outfit in the NAIA. The team has scored 1849 points in winning 13 while losing 5 for a game average of 102.7.

Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N. Car., claimed the best team field-goal percentage—.527.

C. Director Supports Miler

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, Santa Fe's controversial miler who is fighting a lifetime suspension from the courts, has the director of the AAU All-State basketball team chosen after the state tournament at Raton, Max Shirley, chairman of the state AAU has announced.

Four Falstaffers, three Sellers, two Clovis and one Las Vegas players were named on the squad.

Elton Tuttle and Don Heathington led the balloting for the Carlsbad players. Dave Mayfield and Walter Neville were the other Falstaffers to make the squad.

Bobby Sweeney, Pete Alarid and George Rinaldi were the Sellers named while Bruce Davis and Pete Griggs were chosen from the Gateway auto quintet of Clovis.

Ernie Abreu, former Highlands University's star, was chosen from the Stevens Oilers of the Meadow City.

Carlsbad defeated the Sellers in the finals last weekend to unseat the Santa Fe team as state AAU champion.

L. A. Rams Sign Two College Players

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speedy Tommy Runnels of North Texas State has signed a contract to play for the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League, the club announced today.

The 185-pounder has been clocked at 10.1 seconds.

Also signed today was Dick Kaekmeister, 210-pound center and linebacker from Central Michigan College.

Record Total Of Horses Are Eligible For Elusive Triple Crown Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—A record total of 107 horses are eligible to take a crack at the elusive Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown this spring, including most of the early favorites for these 3-year-old classics.

This was disclosed today after nominations for the three ancient stakes were released at Louisville, Baltimore and New York, and conditions are such that racing may get its first Triple Crown champion since Citation in 1948.

A year ago, only 79 of the nominees were eligible for all three races, and Swaps, the Derby winner from Rex Ellsworth's stable, was not among them. Nashua, second in the Derby, then went on to win the Preakness and the Belmont.

The D. & H Stable's Needles, winner of the Flamingo at Hialeah; Ellsworth's Terrang, who copped the Santa Anita Derby; and C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who is in winter training in South Carolina, head the list of Triple Crown candidates. The list contains 100 colts, and a line filly, Lady Swords, owned by Sam E. Wilson Jr., of Texas.

The $125,000—added Kentucky Derby at a mile and one quarter will be raced May 5 at Churchill Downs, and 169 horses—fourth largest number in history—were nominated. The $100,000 Preakness May 19 at Pimlico, at a mile and three-sixteenths, drew a record 176 nominations; 132 were named for the mile and one half Belmont at Belmont Park June 16, also a $100,000 affair.

Labua, Sullivan Seek Prestige In 10-Rounder

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Jackie LaBua and John L. Sullivan of England, both aiming for a shot at Joey Giambra in April, square off tonight in a 10-round middleweight bout.

Both also are out to regain prestige after recent losses.

Sullivan, 23, on his second American tour, lost his first outing on this trip to Rocky Castellani in Madison Square Garden, New York, Feb. 24.

LaBua suffered close losses to Gil Turner in his last two starts. Sullivan fought five fights in the United States and Canada. He lost the first, a split-decision to Gordon Wallace at Toronto.

His overall record is 36 knockouts in 64 victories, 16 losses.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Red Murff, 33-year-old Dallas right-hander purchased by the Milwaukee Braves for $40,000 last fall, pitched his first two innings in a Braves intrasquad game yesterday and found it tough beginning.

Murff opened on the mound for the team coached by Fred Haney and was nicked for one run in the first inning and three more in the second. The four runs came on five hits. Murff also gave up one walk.

Murff escaped as the losing pitcher when his mates came back to slug out a 15-10 victory over a team coached by Charlie Root.

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Abilene Christian College, national intercollegiate champion, is coming up with what may be its greatest track team of all time this season.

The Wildcats go to Laredo Friday to flex their muscles for the first time this year in the Border Olympics and they'll be aiming at dethroning North Texas State as college division champion.

Paced by national sprint champion Bobby Morrow, ACC's squad is big and talented. Other top men are hurdler Ken Fannon, quarter miler James Segrest and distance runner Paul Johnson.

Morrow holds the 100-yard dash record of the Border Olympics at 9.5. He also is co-holder of the 220-yard dash record at 20.5.

Swaps-Nashua Rubber Match Is Race Highlight

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—The earliest and longest consecutive stand of horse racing in Maryland history will be held at Bowie starting tomorrow.

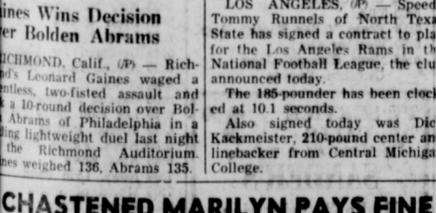

The 34-day meeting is likely to be highlighted by a rubber race between last year's 3-year-old leaders, Nashua and Swaps. Both are entered in the $100,000 added John B. Campbell Memorial Handicap on April 7.

The only earlier opportunity for Nashua and Swaps to come together is in the $100,000 Golfstream Park Handicap March 17. The renewal of their feud, in which each scored a victory, isn't too promising in Florida, however, since Swaps isn't due to arrive there from California until early next week.

Golf Ball Price Upped At Retail

NEW YORK (AP)—It will cost you a little more every time you lose a golf ball or chop one up in the rough this season, but the folks who sell them don't think the raise in price is excessive.

The wholesale price on top-grade golf balls was increased from $8.65 a dozen to $9.50 by the principal manufacturers this spring. That lifted the cost from $13 to $14.75 a dozen when you buy them at the pro shop—a retail increase of approximately 15 cents a ball.

"That's only the third price rise in 25 years," said Vincent Richards, one-time tennis star who now is in an executive of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co. "The cost of the balata we use for covers has increased 100 per cent in the last two years. Rubber for cores and windings also has gone up and so have labor costs."

Two Homers Fail To Save TCU from SMU

By The Associated Press

Two home runs weren't enough for Texas Christian Tuesday as it bowed to Southern Methodist in a Southwest Conference practice baseball game, 5-4.

Wednesday, Texas A&M takes on Sam Houston State at College Station in another practice game involving a conference team.

Southern Methodist won in the ninth on a single and three errors. The Ponies had tied the score in the seventh on four straight walks.

Jack Freeman and Bob White of the home team hit round trippers and SMU's Bryan Bush got another.

The winning pitcher was Don Presley, a sophomore who relieved starter George Moore in the seventh. Presley allowed only one hit.

The loss went to Ken Wineburg, who came on in the seventh for Don Campbell. Bob McDaniel started for the Frogs but was relieved in the sixth.

In London, the House of Commons scheduled a debate today on the British reversal in Jordan. Informed sources in the British capital said Prime Minister Eden's government would cut off its financial and military aid to Jordan if that kingdom violates its 20-year defense pact with Britain or launches aggression against Israel.

Jordan's ambassador to the United States told Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., in Washington the firing of Glubb was a "personal matter." He said the action would have no effect on Jordan's policy of its relations with any nations. The envoy, said Glubb was removed "because we felt we were no more in need of his services and there was no need to keep him on."

Diplomats at headquarters of the United Nations in New York termed the Middle East picture grave and getting worse. Western leaders were reported to be considering calling an emergency meeting of the U. N. Security Council.

The Israeli Foreign Office charged Egypt was "massing fighting forces inside the Gaza Strip and the Sinai Peninsula" and accused Egyptians of three new truce violations.

The Israeli city of Haifa scheduled the most extensive civil defense tests ever held in the nation for next Monday and Tuesday.

The Premier said Israel had to make preparations "because we know the Arab states were bent on a second round — but we always hoped, and still hope, it can be prevented."

"If war should break out against our will," he added, "I have not the slightest doubt that we will stand up and win."

He declared the moral responsibility for a new conflict would fall on the Soviet Union because of continued shipment of Communist arms to Egypt and on the United States because of its refusal so far to grant Israel's request for 50 million dollars in arms for defense.

We Know Who's Guiding This One!

This Week In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress took a personal interest in President Eisenhower's decision this week to seek a second term nomination but it didn't forget about other problems of its own.

Committee and floor activity centered on such items as a proposed new elections law, the Senate's lobbying investigation, farm legislation, foreign policy, a big western water project and highway and housing bills.

LOBBYING — While a special Senate committee went ahead with its inquiry into campaign contributions proffered by a Nebraska lawyer-lobbyist, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas came up with proposals for a new elections law.

Johnson, with bipartisan backing, suggested tightening up requirements for reporting and publicizing campaign gifts and expenses. And, to encourage broader public support of political campaigns, he proposed a federal income tax deduction of up to $100 for individual campaign gifts.

The special committee, meanwhile, developed conflicting testimony on the activities of John M. Neff, whose rejected offer of $2,500 to Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) during the Senate gas bill fight inspired the inquiry.

Robert K. Goodwin, Iowa's GOP national committeeman, swore Neff offered him $2,500 and then $100 for the campaign of Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). Neff denied contacting Goodwin a second time, and said he made no money offer but the Iowa Republican leader insisted Neff had done so.

FARM — Senate floor activity hinged on the big farm bill, drafted by the Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee. The measure provides for Eisenhower's "soil bank" plan but also calls for a return to higher, rigid farm price supports — a move strongly opposed by the President who two years ago won enactment of a flexible support system.

Voting on the farm bill begins next Thursday.

FOREIGN — The Senate's farm debate was interrupted several times for partisan discussion of Secretary of State Dulles' optimistic testimony last week on the U.S. position in world affairs.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) contended Dulles had failed the Foreign Relations Committee a "fairly story." But Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said Fulbright is fearful Dulles has been so successful Democrats will lack for a foreign policy campaign issue.

UPPER COLORADO — The House passed a controversial Upper Colorado River bill to authorize water and power development in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico.

The bill was returned to the Senate which last year approved a larger project.

HIGHWAYS — The House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill to raise an additional $13,700,000,000 during the next 16 years to help finance federal-state highway construction.

HOUSING — Eisenhower's housing aides submitted a program to authorize 70,000 new public housing units in the next two years.

Shortly before the filings were shut off at 5 p. m., an unexpected development barred Lt. Gov. Joseph M. Montoya from winning renomination unopposed.

Timothy P. Woolston of Albuquerque, who announced months ago that he would file for attorney general, filed instead against Montoya. Immediately, a politically unknown from Santa Fe, Oliver C. Smith, also filed. This could benefit Montoya by putting up two "Anglo" names to divide the votes of the Spanish name.

Counting the races for governor and lieutenant governor, the Democratic ticket features six contests.

For Congress retiring Atty. Gen. Richard H. Robinson is contesting the veteran incumbents, John J. Dempsey and Antonio M. Fernandez. Two nominations are at stake in the three-man field.

Tom McGrath of San Miguel, a perennial candidate for state auditor who of late has been connected with an old age pension group, filed for the nomination for auditor against incumbent J. D. Hanah.

For land commissioner, former Gov. and former Commissioner John E. Miles and retiring State Sen. Murray E. Morgan of Alamogordo squared off in what is likely to be a lively battle for the Democratic nomination.

But the biggest turnout—a veritable Coxey's Army—was for the Democratic nomination for the Corporation Commission. That six-year, well-paying job is considered a bargain with the unusually low filing fee of $150.

The incumbent is John Block Jr. of Espanola. He is seeking renomination. The Democrats opposing him are Floyd Cross, Truth or Consequences; W. Rex Meador, Estancia; David A. Calderon Jr., of Roswell and Santa Fe; Dee Sturges, Albuquerque; Mrs. Eveline Robinson, Los Alamos; and H. R. (Ray) Rodgers, Albuquerque. Meador and Rodgers are both former state Democratic chairmen.

For the Republicans, the 1956 primaries will be an enjoyable reversal of 1954, when they had their own primary fights and Simms was coasting unopposed to the nomination.

Pickett, the six foot, 10 inch corporation commissioner who has feuded loudly with the Mountain States Telephone Co. over the years, will wage a campaign on the basis of "the people" versus what he terms Simms' "special privilege" administration.

Last fall Pickett led opposition which defeated a utility amendment. One of the provisions of that amendment would have required a corporation commissioner to resign if he chose to seek another office. Pickett's commission term has four years to go, and he can retain it while opposing Simms.

Simms' other opponent, Stephens is 56, a Santa Fean since 1939, and formerly with the liquor industry and later with a used car dealers' association. He said he is convinced Simms would be beaten next fall and he decided to oppose Simms to save the Democratic party from going "down in defeat under the false leadership of this tool of the special interests."

Simms indicated he would waste no time in getting down to serious campaigning. He will wage the type of campaign, he said, that will take him into the precincts, to meet the voters in person and get their support.

Chamber Board To Meet Monday

Paul Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager, announced today that there is to be a meeting of the executive board of the Chamber Monday noon at Cliff's Cafeteria with one-eleventh of the total membership invited to set in at the meeting.

Scott reminded Chamber members that the Chamber banquet will be March 15 at 7 p. m. at the Veterans Building and urged members to mail in their checks for tickets.

Scott said that March 13 is the deadline for getting extra tickets to the function, or for returning un-used tickets.

Arabia Requests Jet Airplanes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Saudi Arabia was disclosed to have asked to buy a small number of jet planes from the United States in addition to 18 more tanks.

Officials who reported this said the request has not received U.S. approval. They indicated it would get the same "most careful scrutiny" promised for all Middle East arms requests in a Feb. 18 State Department announcement lifting a two-day embargo on such shipments.

The 1955 Legislature increased from three to five per cent the filing fees for state and district offices. Part of the money goes to counties, the balance to the general fund.

New Dirksen-Bricker Measure Loaded With Endless Trouble

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and a number of backers are itching for years to get a constitutional amendment limiting the power to make foreign treaties and executive agreements.

Slipped down before when President Eisenhower opposed them, they're trying again.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), with Bricker's blessing, now proposes a constitutional amendment which, at first glance, seems almost pointless. Read closely, it looks loaded with trouble.

The Constitution from the beginning has had a provision against a president's making a treaty unless two-thirds of the Senate approve.

But a president can make foreign agreements without Senate ratification. Eisenhower has done it. So have his White House predecessors. An agreement can have the effect of a treaty but when it is called by the name of agreement it doesn't need two-thirds Senate approval.

Still, Congress has some control over that too. If money is needed to carry out an agreement, Congress can refuse to vote the money.

Bricker has said he doesn't worry about Eisenhower's doing anything wrong. But he and his supporters argue that unless even tighter restraints are written into the Constitution the country may run into bad days.

The reasoning goes like this: Someday, deliberately or stupidly, a president may make and the Senate may approve a treaty or agreement injurious to the nation or its citizens.

Bricker's critics argue that he and those who go along with him seek to lamper with the Constitution, may do more damage than good, and hamstring the President's handling of foreign affairs.

Bricker first made his suggestion in 1951 when President Truman was in the White House. The proposal came to a vote in February, 1954.

Almost at the last moment Eisenhower came out flatly against Bricker's plan. The senator's support weakened. The Senate defeated his amendment.

In 1955 Bricker started plugging again. This week Dirksen produced his version of the Bricker idea. The Senate Judiciary Committee approved this one without hearings and passed it on to the Senate for action.

Under the Constitution, as it stands now, if the Supreme Court had to decide whether a treaty was in conflict with the Constitution, it could consider the Consti-

Cullins Reaches Second Place In College Exam

Don Cullins, Artesia High School senior, has been awarded a certificate of merit by the Merit Scholarship Fund, which conducted a college entrance board examination in Carlsbad in February. Young Cullins was the only Artesia student eligible to take the test, school officials said today.

The national examination is held in order that businessmen and organizations may provide scholarships to worthy students. It is administered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J.

A certificate of merit, such as Cullins received, indicates that the student did not achieve a score high enough to qualify for a scholarship but that he placed within a second category.

Cullins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Cullins, 806 W. Dallas.

Rare Lung Infection Strikes Victim Suddenly

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
The word laryngotracheobronchitis is almost a sentence in itself, but the disease it stands for is no joking matter. It is an acute respiratory infection.

Grave Outlook

The outlook for a victim of this infection is grave. Pneumonia develops as a part of the disease instead of becoming a complication. While laryngotracheobronchitis can occur at any age, it usually attacks infants and children. Fortunately, it is relatively rare.

It Strikes Suddenly

Most cases occur in late winter or in early spring. The disease strikes suddenly. Sometimes it might attack during a cold, but usually the victims have been in apparent good health.

At the onset, the patient will become flushed and excited. He will breathe only with difficulty. He may cough almost constantly, but will be able to bring up little despite the heavy secretions which threaten to block his throat. Swelling also serves to obstruct breathing and his fever will be high.

Easier Breathing

A doctor should be summoned immediately. He may have to perform a tracheotomy to permit easier breathing, and he will prescribe antibiotics and sulfonamides right away.

Humidity in the sickroom should be kept high—about 80 per cent—but the temperature should not be permitted to rise above 75 degrees. This can be accomplished best with special vaporizing devices which raise the humidity without permeating the room with steam. Generally, steam vaporizers or boiling water in a pan or pot will overheat the room.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. K.: I use a sun lamp daily. Can any harm come from it?
Answer: It is doubtful that any harm can occur from short daily exposure to an ultraviolet lamp or sun lamp. However, excessive exposure to the lamp can cause chronic skin disorders.

Higher Livestock Prices Bring Increase In State Farm Index

LAS CRUCES (AP)—Higher prices for most livestock brought a 3 per cent increase in the index of prices received by New Mexico farmers for all farm products in the month ended Feb. 15, the Agricultural Marketing Service has said.

It also reported that live weight of all livestock slaughtered by commercial slaughter plants in January was 6,782,000 pounds, a 13 per cent increase over December and 16 per cent more than January, 1955.

The index of prices stood at 235 per cent of the 1910-1914 average, which was 12 per cent below one year ago.

The AMS said prices of most grains were unchanged from a month earlier. Milk and egg prices declined seasonably during the month. Egg prices at 48 cents per dozen were down three cents from a month earlier, while wholesale milk at $3.60 per hundred pounds was down 10 cents from mid-January.

Hog prices at $12.30 per hundredweight were up $1.30 from the preceding month but still $5.20 below one year ago. Calves at $17.40 per hundredweight were down 20 cents from a month earlier and $1.10 below a year ago.

Cattle slaughtered commercially in New Mexico during January totaled 5,200 head, compared with 4,500 head in December and 4,400 head killed in January, 1955. Five hundred calves were slaughtered—the same as January last year.

The number of hogs slaughtered in January came to 8,200 head, which the AMS said was 5 per cent fewer than December's slaughter but 17 per cent above the slaughter a year ago. Sheep and lambs slaughtered amounted to 2,200 head, compared with 1,700 head in December and 2,400 head in January 1955.

Gruenther Next Chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff? See Drive to Popularize Benson, Agriculture's Boss

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—Gen. Albert M. Gruenther, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, is expected to be the next chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff. In that post, Gruenther would succeed Adm. Arthur W. Radford, who has been President Eisenhower's principal military adviser since shortly after Ike entered the White House.

Presidential intimates say that there is no man on earth—soldier or civilian—who is esteemed more highly by Mr. Eisenhower than the modest, hard-working Gruenther. However, these associates of the President contend his feeling for Gruenther transcends friendship; they say the President believes the general has the ability to solve the big problems which still plague the United States high command.

Topmost among these problems is the controversy over guided missile production, dramatized by the recent resignation of Trevor Gardner as Air Force secretary in protest over what he called the American "lag" in manufacture of intercontinental weapons. Gruenther is known to have made an intensive study of missile warfare.

General Gruenther

● BENSON'S POPULARITY—The Republican national committee reportedly will launch a new "campaign" soon to popularize Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson. Plans are said to be underway to have a number of GOP congressional leaders go out of their way to "endorse" Benson at future campaign talks to public gatherings.

The reason: The GOP high command is worried that this year's depressing farm-price situation will cost the party a large number of farm belt votes this November.

The national committee also intends to spend large sums of money in coming months for advertising in midwest newspapers and farm publications on the merits of the Eisenhower-Benson farm program. Benson himself can be expected to increase the number of public appearances he makes. Newsmen anticipate that he also will start holding regular weekly news conferences to get his views across to the public.

● ASSEMBLY DELAY—The United Nations General Assembly, which opened its 1955 session in September, probably won't meet this year until sometime in November—after the American elections.

That's the word from Washington sources who say that UN officials recognize the dangerous situation that could be caused were the Assembly to meet during this autumn's political campaign.

Pointing up this danger is the almost certainty that the Assembly will be asked again to admit Red China to the UN and injecting this issue into a political atmosphere would do neither the United States or the UN any good.

There also is a chance that the 1956 Assembly session will not be held at the UN building in New York. There is some support for holding the meeting in Rome so the Italians could celebrate their admission to the UN by playing host to the organization.

● WHIP CRACKING—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson may not find quite the smooth sailing this session that he did last year in maintaining party unity on thorny legislative issues.

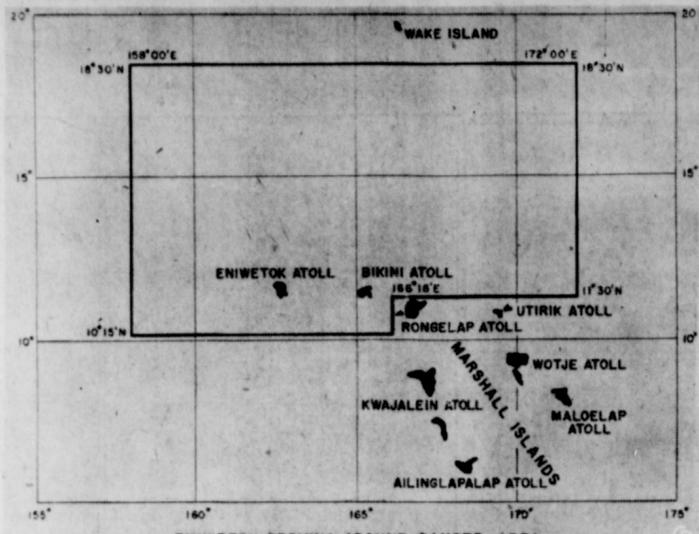

Part of this will stem from the fact that 1956 is an election year and legislators are less likely to compromise their views if they believe it will cost them votes.

In addition, some Democratic senators are bristling over their belief that Johnson used high-handed tactics in pushing passage of the controversial natural gas bill which he strongly favored.

A good many northern Democrats feel that Johnson, by giving top priority to the gas bill, deprived them of effectively using "big business giveaway" charges against the Republicans in the election campaign.

Miracle Of Moisture Comes To Pass And Threat Of Dust Bowl Is Removed

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was late into January, the plowed earth had turned to powder, and all through the Southwest farmers waited with dread for the high winds that soon must come.

There had been no moisture since October in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, eastern Colorado and eastern New Mexico where the dust bowl was in the 1930s.

And so weatherman, crop experts and farmers knew that barring some miracle of moisture, the dust storms would come back possibly with all the rage of those in the 1930s.

If you came in to the Southwest in late January from California the drought seemed most ironic. There was far too much water in California. Houses, barns and livestock had floated off on the flood.

Coming up into the barren mountains of Arizona there was plenty of snow where it wasn't needed. And the snow continued until you came out of New Mexico's mountains and down on to the plain.

It was as if some giant snowstorm had sprinted up the Pacific slope, hurdled the Continental Divide, stumbled down the eastern side and sprawled, exhausted, before it could deliver its moisture where it was needed most.

You drove for flat mile after mile along the plowed earth and had to look closely to spot the green fuzz of wheat it is so thin this wheat, that cattle could not pasture on it. If you were through this country in the winter five years ago you knew there was a drought on then. But the fields in 1951 were green by comparison and cattle grazed on the wheat land.

The trees that struggle to grow along the highway tell the observant traveler that there is a land of high winds-winds that howl from late February to far into the spring. For these trees are all bent to the north by the southwest winds.

Put the two together—that unprotected soil, and the strong winds and they mean dust storms.

All through the high plains leading up to Amarillo, Tex., grain elevators shoulder into the sky, waiting for a wheat crop that may never come in.

"Most people around here are looking for some old-fashioned dusters," the man in the filling station at Amarillo said.

A farm couple from Clovis, N. M., was boarding a train to go to a daughter's place in Oregon. For eight years, the farmer said, he had been trying to raise wheat.

This year was worst of all. He had planted his wheat in the dust and there had been no moisture. He was going off to see his daughter and just wasn't going to worry about it.

It was the same all the way into Oklahoma. No rain since October, no snow to amount to anything. That was what the people were saying.

Then that miracle of moisture came to pass.

Eastern Colorado and western Kansas were hit by a beauty of a snowstorm—the kind that ties down the loose earth and lets the moisture soak deep into the soil.

Then it came the turn of the parched and blistered Texas Panhandle. Snows almost beyond description, snows that beat anything in the memory of the Panhandle people.

In the wheat capital of Wichita, Kan., farmers were dancing in the streets to use the phrase of a dairy company executive.

Farmers were sure that for this year, at least, they had it made.

It was the same story driving down through Oklahoma toward Dallas. The storm made travel due east from Kansas unwise. Snow was falling all the way, and covering the grain fields.

Earlier in the year west Texas cattlemen had been hollering for federal aid. The snow and rains made them forget all about it.

It is still too soon to say whether the grain belt has been spared disaster. The Texans said that even with all the snow, it did not necessarily mean that the wheat had been saved.

There was, however, a new and optimistic outlook at the exit to the wheat belt, whereas here had been nothing but gloom and pessimism at the gateway.

As they tell you privately, whether the dust bowl is held back this year, next year or the one after that, a day of reckoning must come. The history of this country in World War I was repeated in World War II. The demand for

Representative Hits Farm Bank

DENVER (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson's proposed soil bank program was attacked as "an insult to the intelligence of American agriculture" yesterday by Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC).

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, spoke before a one-day national farm and ranch congress here shortly after Benson addressed the same meeting.

Benson said the soil bank plan is not a cure-all. But he insisted it would "increase farm income, reduce surplus stocks, cut excess production, reduce storage costs and conserve soil, water and timber resources."

Forty-Six Lives Lost In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—French military operations and nationalist terrorism left 46 dead in Algeria Monday by unofficial count. Twenty of the dead were Europeans.

French authorities said at least 110 rebel terrorists and suspects were captured.

The heaviest military action occurred near the Moroccan border where rebels holed up in villages fought off French military patrols. After the fight 10 rebel bodies were found. The French suffered four wounded.

Two European mine employees were found with their throats cut south of Bone. In the same area a missing Moslem soldier in the French forces was found hanged on the edge of a forest.

wheat was immense, and land was planted to grain which should never have been broken by the plow.

Much of this high plain area is semi-desert, a region of little moisture and shallow topsoil.

High Court Affirms Desegregation Rule Applies Also To Universities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday upheld a decision that the ban on racial segregation in public schools applies also to tax-supported colleges and universities.

The decision was given by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Greensboro, N.C. It ordered the admission of three Negroes to the University of North Carolina.

University officials appealed to the highest tribunal to reverse the District Court and to reverse its own decisions of May 17, 1954, striking down segregation of white and Negro pupils in public schools.

The Supreme Court's action Monday in affirming the lower court was taken without the customary hearing of arguments. The high court simply issued an order which read:

"The motion to affirm is granted and the judgment is affirmed."

The court noted in its order that it was acting "per curiam," meaning the full court itself was speaking rather than one of its members speaking for the court.

The Negroes involved in the case were admitted to the university last fall. They are Leroy B. Frasier Jr., Ralph K. Frasier and John L. Brandon, all of Durham, N. C.

The special court in ordering the Negroes admitted cited the Supreme Court's holding in the 1954 school segregation cases that "in the field of public education the doctrine of separate but equal has no place."

The university said in its appeal it asked overturning of the 1954 segregation decisions "because it is not within the power and authority of this Supreme Court to amend the Constitution; that power is given only to the people to their elected representatives and the states which ratify the Fourteenth Amendment. It stands that it would abolish segregation in public schools, the court further erred in overruling its own decisions in overruling the decision of the highest state courts, that equal facilities meet the requirement of equal rights under the Fourteenth Amendment. The special court said the decision by the Supreme Court with public schools only was not hotly debated that separation of races on the college and university level is unlawful.

"We think," the special court said, "that this contention is out of merit. That the decision of the Supreme Court was based on facts before it is true, but reasoning on which the decision was based is applicable to the on the lower level."

The three Negroes asked the Supreme Court to affirm the decision of the special court hearing of arguments. The court did.
