Silverton

The poultry industry is assuming large proportions not only in the county but, also, in the corporate limits of Silverton. At the same time the spirit of civic pride among home owners is creating beautiful lawns of grass and flowers for the aesthetic sense and thriftiness is stimulating the growth of vegetable gardens for the table.

But chickens at large and lawns and gardens and flowers do not mix. The hen wins every time. While she is the fowl that is laying the golden eggs and keeping down debts, she is destructive when not penned, and she does not confine her depredations to her own premises.

The community has a hog law and it is observed. There is a stock law that prohibits the running-loose of cows and it is seldom breached. There is a chicken ordinance providing for the confinement of poultry but it is almost universally violated, and its observance seems to be the exception.

Town or city life brings its inhibitions, its restraints. Town lots are small homesteads, and the resident is only one long stride from trespassing upon another's domain. Much grievance is being displayed by citizens over the damage that is being done by their neighbor's chickens, and the damage done by the chickens is worse than that caused by the grazing of stock. The fowl is not content with surface pecking but finds the most tasteful morsels in the succulent roots below. Complete destruction is the result; the tender plant is destroyed and the diligence and hopes of some man or woman are ended.

The breach of the chicken ordinance is manifestly unfair. Chicken owners are not only breaking the letter of the law but are violating the principle of the golden rule and of neighborliness. Without cavil, this law should be enforced, but first of all it should be observed and respected without the use of legal command. It will cost only a small amount of money and labor to pen the chickens, and they will do as well or better if confined where the kind and amount of food may be properly gauged and closest sanitary measures applied.

Keep your chickens at home and make your neighbor smile again. You can't serve chicken and city beautification at the same time, unless the chicken is served for dinner.

Labor saving machinery is coming more and more to be recognized as one of the important factors in reducing the cost of production on farms, and is playing an important part in increasing farm profits.

Chevrolet Looks for Record Spring Sales

DETROIT, April 15.—All monthly production records in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company were broken in March, when the company produced 147,274 cars and trucks. A factory statement explained that this figure was considerably in excess of preliminary production schedules and was made necessary to more fully accommodate an increasing demand for the new car, Chevrolet six.

The March performance enabled the company to exceed all records for the first quarter of the year, with a total of 354,701 units as compared with 342,184 for the first three months of 1928.

In preparation for what promises to be the biggest Spring business on record, the manufacturing division is operating on the heaviest schedule ever undertaken by the company.

Discuss Plans for Developing Castro County

Need for County Agent Shown at Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

DIMMITT, TEXAS April 11.—Last Thursday evening the Annual Castro Chamber of Commerce Banquet was served to the largest number ever attending. Many out-of-town visitors were among those present. Almost every community in the county was represented, as were Tulia and Hereford.

M. R. Avery acted as toast-master and the following speakers made addresses: C. O. Byrnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, County agent Martin of Swisher county, M. B. Oates, agriculture agent for the Ft. Worth & Denver railroad, Mr. Evans, Extension Dept. A. & M. College, Secretary Arnold of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce and the secretary of the Tulia Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Tracy of the Scott-Tracy Hardware of Tulia.

The greater part of the meeting was given over to the discussion of the need and benefits of a county agent. Those present from Tulia vouched for the fact that the county agent there was largely responsible for the present income of one million dollars a year now enjoyed in Swisher county from the sale of cream. Messrs Oates and Evans were both of the opinion that Castro county should act now and get on the list of counties waiting for State Aid before the money becomes available.

The Dimmitt orchestra furnished music for the evening.

The banquet was served by the Methodist ladies. Many complimentary things were said about both the music and the food.

Chautauqua High Class But Brings Deficit

The chautauqua, which was presented here April 3 to 6 at the Palace theatre, furnished some rare treats in high class entertainment. The troupe was brought to Silverton by public spirited business men of the city who personally guaranteed the amount necessary to secure the billing. However, the receipts were insufficient, leaving considerable deficit, which the guarantors had to make up from their own purses.

Card of Thanks

Words cannot express our thanks and appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us and our dear wife, mother and sister during her long illness, by our many good friends and neighbors, both far and near. Then when God called, she said, "I am ready to go," and we do thank you one and all for your sweet words of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings.

"May God Bless Each", is our prayer.
—W. E. Burleson and children,

New Road Contracts to Be Let Soon

Road contracts amounting to $3,500,000 and covering 316 miles will be let April 23 and 24, according to the State highway department. Among the counties sharing this work and the highway numbers affected are Hale, No. 9; Foard, No. 28; Cottle, Nos. 4 and 8; Hall, No. 5; and Childress, No. 4.

WHAT SORT OF FATHER ARE YOU?

What sort of father are you to your boy?
Do you know if your standing in good?
Do you ever take stock of yourself and check up?
Your accounts with your boy as you should?
Do you ever reflect on your conduct with him?
Are you all that a father should be?
Do you send him away when you are wanting to read?
Or let him climb upon your knee.
Have you time to bestow on the boy when he comes,
With his questions—to tell him the truth?
Or do you neglect him and leave him alone.
To work out the problems of youth?
Do you ever go walking with him hand in hand?
Do you plan little outings with him?
Does he ever look toward to romping with you,
Or are you eternally grim?
Come, father, reflect! Does he know you today?
And do you know him as you should?
Is gold so important to you that you leave
It to chance that you boy will be good?
Take stock of yourself and consider the lad.
Your time and your thoughts are his due.
How would you answer your God should He ask,
What sort of father are you?
—Petersburg Journal

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE JAMES SHAFER

"Within our home a tender bud
With perfume, Oh, so sweet,
Had captured our affection
And made our joy complete.
Scarcely more than one short year
Has passed,
Since first that flower grew,
His life and love a blessing
To all of them he knew.

"And then the chill wind came along
And nipped this tender flower,
Before we scarce could think of it
He left this earthly bower.
The Gardener who planted him
Transplanted him above,
To blossom in a spot more fair,
And nature with his love.
"He could not cultivate as well
As He who cares for all—
Altho of course we did our best,
How short our efforts fall!
How beautiful that spot must be
Where flowers like him combine
To make unfading happiness
And never cease to shine."

Power Rate for Dimmitt Is Cut

Reduction of 25 Per Cent Received; High-Line Promised by June 10th.

DIMMITT, TEXAS April 11.—Judge J. R. Kelso, of St. Louis, president of the Texas Utilities Co., and J. B. Scott, of Plainview, general district manager, were in Dimmitt last Thursday to meet with the City Council. Their company has voluntarily reduced the rate to the city from 25 to 30 per cent. This will be of great benefit when the city installs a water pump. This is a very welcome announcement.

Fred Oberthier, Jr., who accompanied them, also, stated that the new high-line would probably be in operation by June 10th.

Powell Gets Contract For New Filling Station

QUITAQUE, TEXAS, April 16.—Contract for the new filling station to be erected on Main Street, immediately east of the Quitaque Feed & Hatchery Company, has been let to S. R. Powell, and work on the structure is to be started at once.

C. W. Kinslow, of Memphis, Texas Company agent at that point, is constructing the filling station and will operate it when completed. Light faced brick will be used, and a most attractive station is planned. Total cost is estimated at slightly over $4,000.

Hatchery Busy

The Silverton Hatchery, which has a capacity of 24,000 eggs in incubation, is kept busy filling local orders for baby chicks. Dr. J. J. Breaker, the manager, states that he has bookings for two or three weeks ahead all during this season. Hatchings are turned out regularly twice a week, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Quitaque—R. L. Gant has opened a new drug store here under the name of Quitaque Drug Company.

Canyon—Drilling for oil 15 miles from here has again been started. A depth of 3,500 feet is planned.

West Texas C-C Man Is Soliciting Members

J. E. Biggs of Amarillo, in charge of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was a visitor in Quitaque on Wednesday of last week, in the interest of his organization. Assisted by Joe Head, president of the Quitaque Chamber of Commerce, approximately 25 members of the regional organization were secured in Quitaque by Mr. Biggs.

Enthusiasm over the coming convention of the organization, to be held in El Paso in May, was expressed by Mr. Biggs, who stated that strong hopes were being held by officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce that President Herbert Hoover would attend the annual meeting.

In the hurried compilation of those who placed in the interscholastic meet at Quitaque some errors were made. It was Eural Vaughan, instead of Cecil Vaughan, who was second in the broad jump, first in discus, second in 220 hurdles, and first on the 220 yard dash.

Eural was a heavy score maker for Silvertton in a department where points were hard to get, and the News takes much pleasure in getting these honors where they belong and where they were earned by dint of hard work.

In commenting upon this program the president of General Motors said: "By striving always for something better, something better will result. As a matter of fact, I think that this spirit has a great deal to do with the tremendous prosperity that this country is enjoying."

QUITAQUE ORDINANCE INVALID

Quitaque's fire ordinance became invalid as result of that city's trial case against J. W. Lyons in county court here Monday.

Mr. Lyons had moved a wooden tabernacle into a zone at Quitaque which the city officials claimed was covered by their fire ordinance. The defendant dissented, and the city charged him with violation of the ordinance. Judge C. D. Wright of Silvertton was counsel for defendant, and he presented to the court the plea that the ordinance was invalid, in that the attempted amendment had repealed the entire previous measure and itself became effective without an enforcement clause. This position was upheld by the court, and verdict was rendered in favor of Mr. Lyons.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. M. JENNINGS

FOR APRIL 21, 1929.

GENERAL TOPIC—Comfort God's People.

SCRIPTURE LESSON—Isaiah 40:1-11.

1. Comfort ye, comfort ye people, saith your God.

2. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem; and cry unto her, that warfare is accomplished, that iniquity is pardoned, that she has received of Jehovah's hand for all her sins.

3. The voice of one that says, Prepare ye in the wilderness: the Lord is about to come, and he will level a highway for himself.

4. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the uneven ground shall be made level, and the rough place shall be a plain.

5. And the glory of Jehovah shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken it.

6. The voice of one that says, Cry, and shout, and be glad, because the Lord is about to come, and he will level a highway for himself.

7. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the breath of Jehovah bloweth upon it; because the grass withereth, and the flower fadeth, because the breath of Jehovah bloweth upon it.

8. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever.

9. O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up a high mountain; O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength, lift it up, not be afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, your God!

10. Behold, the Lord Jehovah will come as a mighty arm, and his arm will rule for him; his reward is with him, and his recompense before him.

11. He will feed his flock like a shepherd, he will gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and will gently lead those that have their young.

Time:—About B. C. 70, those who ascribe this chapter to the second Isaiah date it between B. C. 550 and B. C. 500.

Place:—According to common belief, this chapter was written in Jerusalem; according to the belief of many modern ones in Babylonia.

GOLDEN TEXT:—As he whom his mother comforteth, will I comfort you.—Isaiah 63:9.

INTRODUCTION

"A passage of such moving beauty, (Isaiah 40), of such eloquence, of such glowing magic words, that one stands awestruck at its melody. Few passages of Holy Scripture have been so honored among men of later days. Handel's Messiah has wedded to them strains of music of almost unearthly beauty, and many who have not read them have heard them peep out from a great organ or winged upon the magic of the human voice."

The fortieth chapter of Isaiah is one of the most magnificent passages in this superb book. It is one of the most eloquent, wise, and inspiring pieces of writing in all literature. It had a wonderful message for the Jewish people. Its message to the people of our day and our land is equally noble and uplifting.

ISRAEL AND GOD'S COMFORT

We like to call the Holy Spirit the Comforter, because comfort is one of the most appealing words in our language, and the divine power that can bring it must be the very fullness of God. It is a word of the broadest significance, is comfort.

Not simply speaking of soothing words to the disappointed child, or words of hope to one bereft; in a larger sense it is putting strength into weak hearts—"strengthening aid." The English word comfort is a joining of the two Latin words meaning "with" and "strength."

We understand the name Comforter, as applied to the Spirit, as meaning, The Strength-with-us, or our Strength. And effective comfort must always have strength back of it.

"True comfort is the consolation, relief, rest, peace, strength God gives in work, need, stress, trial, suffering, suspense."

DIVINE COMFORT PROMISED. Chap. 40.

"The promise and assurance of God's comfort in all the fullness of that word's meaning, are remarkably voiced in this fortieth chapter of Isaiah. It is one of the great, outstanding chapters of the Bible; one of the supreme masterpieces of religious literature. That the prophet was able thus to magnify God at a time when many of his countrymen were finding it difficult to keep the faith at all is evidence of his true inspiration. His thought and language take on an added sense of inspiration for us Christians, so plainly is he prophetic of our Christ."

THE GOOD SHEPHERD FORE-TOLD. v. 11.

This Lord who comes, an almighty monarch (v. 10), is at the same time a gentle, tender-hearted Shepherd. Love distinguishes him, as well as power. The chapter is taken as Messianic by all four evangelists, and how applicable is this word (ver. 11) to the Jesus who would claim, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth," and likewise name himself the Good Shepherd and tell about it in the appealing parable." (John 10:7-18). In the 23d Psalm ("thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me") the rod is the club with which the shepherd defends his sheep from attacks; with the staff he tenderly helps them over rough places, or lifts them from the hole into which they may have stumbled.

"PREPARE YE THE WAY." v. 3.

"Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of Jehovah." The world is full of places which are not ready for God. They are crowded with impediments to the true religion: worldliness is rampant, sin is mountain high, injustice is a wide morass, social conditions and individual hearts need to be reformed. This is the urgently needed work of missions, evangelism, and the churches everywhere. This very verse prophesies the work of John the Baptist, preparing Christ's way by his preaching in the wilderness of Judaea; Matt. 3:1-3.

"MAKE LEVEL A HIGHWAY." v. 3.

"Make level in the desert a highway for our God." "Cyrus is to prepare the way of the Lord and to help make straight in the desert a highway for Israel's God. Cyrus is to level the mountains and raise up the valleys. After him comes Alexander, making straight in the desert a highway for the coming of the Christ. Down from the north comes Attila, the scourge of God. Huns and Vandals dim the glory of classic Rome, but as the glory of pagan Rome fades away a new day begins to dawn over the ruins of the Coliseum and Nero's palace. Christ's day is coming. A thousand years go by and Napoleon appears. Republican France is the pioneer of a democratic Europe. The mountains of Bourbon monarchy are brought low. The valleys of common humanity are exalted. Napoleon makes straight in the desert a highway, not for God immediately, but for the common people, God's favorites. This is supernaturalism, and the Hebrew prophets saw it from afar. Or if we may not see it, we may feel it. Haig had been leading the British armies, and things can never be the same in Europe or America after the world war. Mountains are coming down and valleys are coming up."—Rev. Charles Carroll Albertson, D. D.

GOD'S WORD SHALL STAND. v. 3.

"The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand forever." Here is the Christian's permanence and assurance: he rests secure in the word of God. And by the word we mean the Word, the recorded word, the Bible. That Book, the Word of our God, shall stand forever. "What a history it has had! Thru what fire and water and blood it has passed! No other book has ever been so hated by bad men, and so abused by good men. It has been put under the ban of excommunication, has been criticised and ridiculed and burnt. Every possible resource of diabolic wrath has been exhausted in the attempt to destroy it, and yet it has gone marching steadily on. Every century has produced its quota of opponents; school after school of destructive criticism has arisen, each boasting of some new discovery, or the finding of some fatal flaw, that would destroy its power. But the critics pass away, their dogmatic assertions are proved fallacious, and the grand old book gains added might."

CHRIST'S TRIUMPHAL RETURN.

"The raising of Cyrus for the deliverance of God's people from bondage was a marvelous display of divine wisdom and power. But still more wonderful was God's glory manifested in the raising of Jesus for the salvation of the race. One more unveiling there will be this side of heaven, when he comes to reign, King over all and blessed forever. That a shining forth of his glory there will be that day! What a triumphant advent! 'And all flesh shall see it together.' The cross was reared upon an eminence, and Christ was 'lifted up' in redemption where the multitudes might gaze upon him. He is still being 'lifted up' in the foolishness of preaching, and His gospel, as a mighty lodestone, is every drawing hearts and magnetizing them. Once more, in the last days, He shall be 'lifted up' and from His pavilion of clouds—glorious, as the sun shineth in His strength—He shall draw all men unto Him."—David James Burrell.

"SAVIOR LEAD US"

"Savior, like a shepherd lead us. Much we need thy tender care; In thy pleasant pastures feed us, For our use thy folds prepare."

Tells How Prize Winning Car of Hogs Are Grown

College Station, Texas, April 13.—A well-balanced ration, plenty of fresh water at all times and no special pampering—that, in brief, is the recipe given by Fred Hale, of A. & M. College of Texas, for the grand championship honors for carload lot of hogs carried off by the car of fifty animals exhibited by the Experiment Station recently at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth.

"While a good, well-balanced ration is very essential, it is not the only requirement in feeding out a prize lot of hogs", Hale pointed out. "The health of the animals may play an important part in their thrift. No unusual amount of labor is necessary in the process of feeding, but the animals must be situated in clean quarters, of course, and the feeder must be able to recognize when they are not in a thrifty condition and quickly find and remedy the cause. The prize winning lot of Experiment Station hogs were fed in self-feeders, free choice style, and consequently did not receive any special pampering. They simply received a well-balanced ration of grain sorghums, tankage, cottonseed meal and salt, and had plenty of fresh water at all times."

Quitaque Hatchery Is Making Record

Leads Seven States in Per Cent of Hatch Among Users of Smith Incubators. 60,000 Eggs Hatched Out.

QUITAQUE, TEXAS, April 15.—With over 60,000 eggs already hatched out, and 37,000 eggs now hatching, the Quitaque Hatchery is showing a most encouraging increase of business, according to Chester Hawkins, manager. Interest in the poultry business as a most important side line to farming operations in the Quitaque community is increasing daily. Mr. Hawkins says, predicting that returns from poultry and eggs will soon form one of the most important items of local farmers' incomes.

Incidentally, the local institution is making an enviable record among the hatcheries of the seven Southwestern states equipped with Smith Incubators, having maintained a hatching percentage so far this season of 84 per cent, leading the district. The Quitaque Hatchery was second in the district last year for the full year's operations, but expects to maintain first place lead when the 1929 season closes.

Epworth League Had Good Attendance

Quitaque, April 16.—There was an attendance of over fifty at the Epworth league institute held here during five days of last week, under direction of J. R. Shewbert of Abilene, secretary of the league conference.

Participating in the school were leaguers from Matador, Roaring Springs, Flomot and Silvertown. There was a regular attendance of nine from Silvertown, headed by Rev. Marvin Brotherton.

Quarterly Conference for Methodist Sunday

The second quarterly conference will be held at the Methodist church here Sunday night, April 21, with Presiding Elder M. M. Beavers in charge. Rev. Beaver will preach at the evening service hour, and the business session will follow. A full report from each member of the conference is expected.

Methodist in Need of Larger Building

The need for a new Methodist church building is being generally discussed among its membership. The Sunday-school attendance is gradually increasing, and with the present attendance of a little over one hundred the old building is too crowded for properly posting the classes and curing undivided attention of class members on account of noises and other attractions that prevent close application.

Even under normal growth of the church and its Sunday-school the coming need for a larger building is recognized to be imperative, and sentiment toward that end is slowly crystallizing.

Dimmitt Schools Will Be Made Adequate

By Majority of Three to One Improvement Bond Issue Is Voted.

DIMMITT, TEXAS, April 15.—Dimmitt placed its face to the future, indorsed the school improvement program, and assured the district a first class public school system when its citizens voted the bond issue overwhelmingly last Monday, by a vote of three to one.

A spirited campaign was carried on by personal touch and through the press by the Parent-Teachers Association and other fostering clubs of the community.

With the bond money available within a short time, the crowded conditions of the school rooms will be eliminated through the construction of additional class rooms, and a larger teaching force will be employed.

Basing their claims for a favorable vote upon the health, happiness and education of the children, proponents of the bond issue swept to an easy victory, and the opposition failed to show its expected strength.

The school board actively supported the measure, making a valid plea that Dimmitt should have as good a school system as others of the state with a like population, and was elected for another term.

Sunday Show Bill Vetoed By Moody

Greenville Court Bill Also Killed by Governor Dan Moody.

AUSTIN, April 12.—Gov. Moody has vetoed the Sunday moving picture show bill and the measure which proposed to create a court of civil appeals at Greenville. The picture show bill would have repealed a portion of the Sunday Blue Laws, which have been on the statute books for many years to allow showing of theatres on the sabbath after 1 p. m. Most cities are now disregarding the law proponents of the repeal stated.

Another measure which would have permitted a co-insurance clause to be inserted in policies on cotton, grain and other products in the process of shipping or storing also met with executive disapproval and was vetoed. The governor said he thought the measure might undermine faith in fire insurance underwriters.

The motion picture measure was blue-pencilled because he believed it invalid, the governor explained. He declared the measure, as written, would have legalized operation of theatres on Sunday in any incorporated town unless a city council by ordinance prohibited acts allowed by the bill. Citing statutes covering this phase, the governor maintained the legislature could not authorize a city council to pass an ordinance suspending a general law.

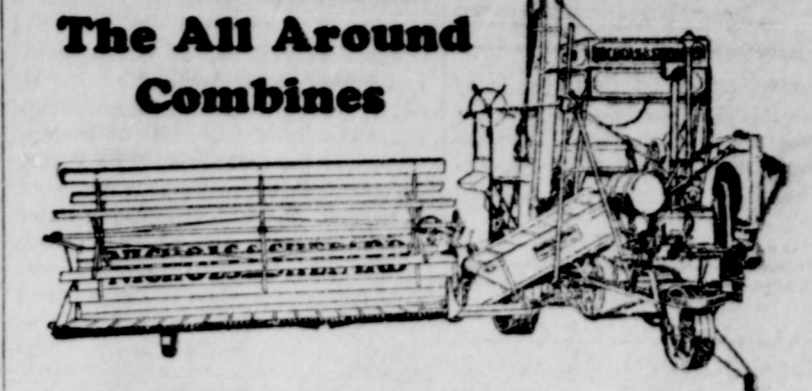

In refusing to sign the Greenville court bill, the chief executive said that he did not agree that the necessity existed for another court at the present time.

THE TOWN DOCTOR SAYS

MANY TOWNS ARE LIKE SOME MERCHANTS—

They spend much time and money trying to attract new business when they are not getting all there is to get out of the business they already have.

There is, in the advertising business, what is called the "Golden Triangle" of every mercantile establishment. It is that space in front of the store where people pass and can see the store entrance and the windows. It is the vital point in every retail business; for no merchant can sell his wares (excluding mail order and telephone orders) unless the people come into the store. The advertising to reach the area so named is what is called "Point of Purchase" advertising. Its purpose is to stop the passerby, which is the one big reason for show windows and window displays. Thru this medium the merchant attempts to attract attention, then create a desire to enter the store. American people buy by eye—what the eye doesn't see the heart doesn't fancy.

Towns are exactly like stores in this general respect. If a town got all of the business from the traffic it already has, it is ten to one that it would never have to spend any money or additional business. But as long as there are towns, and the people in them remain human, they will probably continue to go out after more customers when they have not got all there is to be had from the traffic they already have.

Let us take automobile traffic as one angle of revenue or business for a town. Every strange automobile that passes thru your city is worth a goodly sum—much more than most people think—but you must stop the car and get the passengers out of it, if you are going to get their business. Twenty per cent of those people who tour by motor car are in the market for and can be sold a new location. Every motorist can be made to be the cause for more motorists coming to your town. An analysis of this means of town income shows many surprising facts, chief of which is first, that very few towns recognize the business that can be had from it.

One morning a few years ago I left Chicago very early for points east. To save time and avoid traffic I took a back road, but much to my chagrin I encountered a freight train whose engineer evidently had no place to go and was in no hurry to get there. The half hour that I was delayed I never regretted, for while waiting there I saw that which was to me, and always will be a picture in life of wonderful significance.

Just inside the fence from where I sat lay a calf of less than six months of age, lazily dozing in the morning sunshine. The morning was warm and the flies were more than numerous. Around the calf were many goslings, one of which was some five feet or more away, lazily sunning himself with eyes half open, but occasionally rousing sufficiently to pick off a fly that came unsuspectingly close enough. Another little fellow had settled himself directly adjacent to and up against that which soon would be someone's veal steak, and was fast asleep. Had the calf moved, one little duck would have been no more. Two other little little downy ones with much vim and quacking endurance were chasing their fool legs off trying to run down, overtake and devour elusive insects that were far too clever for them—but there was another little duck standing at that portion of the reclining calf's anatomy where swish of tail and toss of head failed to disturb him, picking hundreds of flies off the calf's back—in other words, taking advantage of an opportunity.

To me the calf was a highway, the flies were motorists, and the goslings were towns, each in a true-to-form stage of wakefulness, activity and resourcefulness.
