Local Boys Become Scouts

Mr. Wilson turned pledged himself and his boys to co-operation with the committee for the carrying out of Scout work.

At the talk, "Co-operation with Parents" W. W. Wilson, chairman of the Boy Scout committee. An impressive candle lighting ceremony was used, after which the boys received their badges and chartered. The boys pledged allegiance to the Oath and laws.

The service ended with the Scoutmaster's address. The boys are taking their Scout work seriously and deserve the support of parents in their work. The Scout work teaches the boys to be better, and more citizens of the world. Let's help them.

NO RAIN

Invest is over in many parts of the county. The hopes of residents in a section, only a few sprinkles of moisture have failed to date this year. A very small portion of the county is still hanging on, with many signs of a crisp. The western portion of the county, and Swisher is gone, and no amount of rain will recall the wheat there. Some signs of rain are still visible in the east of town last week.

SNAKE BITE SEASON SUGGESTS CAUTION

Austin, April 20.—Spring fever, that seasonal malady which accompanies the first warm days and early blossoms, has become more or less of an epidemic, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, reminds the citizens of Texas with some suggested precautions.

The most outstanding symptom of spring fever is the urge felt by both old and young to get out into the open as often as possible. While people are getting all the benefits possible from contact with Mother Nature, Dr. Brown urges the use of common sense precautions.

"Some of the glamour has been taken from the swimming hole by the modern pools," Dr. Brown said, "but it is more than offset by the sanitation and safety devices which promote health and save lives. Swimming now can be learned by everyone, without the needless sacrifice of lives and without the constant threat of typhoid fever which is a hazard of every out of the way swimming place.

"With the first excursions into woods and fields in quest of wild flowers, everybody should remember that about 75 per cent of snake bites occur on the lower extremities. Snake bites could be prevented to a large extent by wearing boots or heavy leggings and being cautious.

"If one should be bitten by a rattlesnake, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction. Apply a tourniquet above the wound and make cross-cut incisions over the fang marks. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The most dangerous fluid is fartherest away from the wound; its absorption must be prevented as it is the source of the systemic poisoning. Release tourniquet every 10 or 15 minutes for about a minute at a time. "Obtain the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment."

Finley White's Agricultural Briefs

The last two weeks has let Briscoe County get by without too many sand storms and with a few "sprinkles" and with clouds hanging around. I'm sure we all feel a little better.

Wheat Measuring

The men who are going to measure the wheat land this year started this week. We have tried to get out notices to all of those who signed an application last fall to be sure and have your reduced acres staked off as well as your acres sowed to wheat. This must be done before the men start measuring your wheat.

If you have one-half an acre or more too much wheat when your wheat is measured you are out of compliance and cannot draw any money on this year's crop. The same thing applies to any one who is short one-half acre or more. You must have seeded at least 54% of your base and not over 95% of it.

New Program News

We are expecting the work sheets for the new farm program to be here the latter part of this week. If they come in we will be ready to start on them the first of next week, and figure out just how the new set up will fit your own individual "pistol."

Tanning Demonstration

Wednesday was the first day of a two-day hide-tanning and harness-making demonstration being held at True Burson's farm. We will have a full report of it in next week's paper.

Wind Erosion

Those of you who have not finished plowing your blowing land to qualify for the erosion money had better keep busy at it—because if you are too long at the job they might take the money back and you will be left holding the sack.

Mrs. A. Heard and daughter Annette and Johnie Freeman of Fort Worth were guests at the home of Mrs. Heard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Brown over the week end.

REMEMBER WHEN YOU HAD THOSE HIGH SCHOOL WORRIES?

That Junior Senior Banquet Tuesday night must have been a Tuesday. There's two high school senior boys working part time at the News office and here's a few ramblings overheard while they were, well not working, but while they were in the shop:

Harley is rather bashful it seems and after helping most of the boys get dates, almost got left out himself. He helped Worth get a date with Mary Jo, and lo, and behold, along comes another bigger and bolder, but surely not better looking senior, and Worth's date is no longer legal and binding. "Some day," says Worth, "She's just going to want another date with me and see what happens." The future doesn't look so bright for Mary Jo, according to that. And I expect that goes for 'Red' too.

Foust, being experienced along social lines, picked his girl, put her on the spot and had a date in practically no time at all. He has the same way about him that Clark Gable has, don't you think so girls? A real break for Wynona, thinks Worth to Foust.

Multiply these two little romantic splurges with the number of Seniors, and what have you? And another thing maybe these two News Office shiels will do a little work when this stuff blows over.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Weekly Program—Sunday
10 a. m.—Bible Study.
11 a. m.—Preaching.
11 a. m.—Communion.
8 p. m.—Preaching.
Monday
3:30 p. m.—Ladies Bible Class.
Wednesday
8 p. m.—Prayer Meeting.
"No Room for Christ" will be the theme for Sunday morning discussion. It is not because men do not believe that Christ is the son of God that they do not make room for him in their lives, but it is because they crowd him out for the pleasures of Satan. Friendship with the world is enmity with Christ. If we have no room for Christ in this world he will have no room for us in this place he has gone to prepare.
Robert E. Gulley, minister.

No Perfect Crime
A Heavenly 400
Fighting Over Rivers

President Roosevelt, in another "opening speech of the 1936 campaign," addressing 20,000 Young Democrats of Baltimore and the nation on the radio, suggested that youth should begin work at eighteen and "old age" stop work at sixty-five.

Arthur Brisbane

For wages, but no man would want to stop real work until death, except that six months to look around this side of the grave might be acceptable. Goethe finished the second part of "Faust" when he was past seventy-two; and one of the ablest French writers, starting a new prose style, wrote nothing until at eighty-six he wrote the Life of St. Louis at the request of the king's widow. Within half a century 25 years have been added to the average lives of old men; nobody would want those years wasted.

In the murder of an unfortunate young woman, New York detectives think they see, at last, "the perfect crime," one in which the perpetrator cannot be identified.

Fortunately, there is no perfect crime, except in the imagination of the criminal or the detective story writer, because criminals are dull, cannot keep their mouths shut, are vain, boast and the electric chair gets them. Also, they jump when a hand is laid on the shoulder; that helps detectives, and criminals are betrayed by fellow criminals.

Bishop Stewart, Episcopalian, of Chicago, thinks immortality may be limited. "Only those who have a definite relationship to God through the spiritual life may be eligible for immortality, and other souls cease to exist upon death."

This important suggestion of a celestial "four hundred" will appeal to many that might not care to meet, in heaven, the cave man with low forehead, protruding jaw, the bushman with a vocabulary of 150 words, or all the repentant thieves, murderers and trust magnates.

It is conceivable that selection of the celestial few might be postponed a few million years, until real civilization shall have begun. This is the poison gas age.

Rivers have played an important part in the world's history and in wars. The Tigris and Euphrates, creating fertile Mesopotamia, and the ancient Nile, with its rich valley, regularly coated with Nile mud, made the first civilizations possible.

Men fought through the ages about those two rivers, and today rivers still cause war. In Europe the Rhine border may cause a repetition of the big war. In Africa, the Blue Nile, fed by Ethiopia's Lake Tana, breeds bitter hatred between England and Italy.

Charles Lamb tells of a Chinese gentleman whose house burned and of a pig so marvelously roasted that thereafter pigs were locked in houses, the houses burned for the sake of the roast pig.

That is recalled by a lady under arrest in Pensacola, Fla. Sheriff Gandy charges she tried twice to wreck a passenger train to kill her husband, the engineer. It is alleged that the plot failed because the wrong spikes were pulled from the rails. Sheriff Gandy thinks the lady wanted to collect $3,000 in life insurance.

An African savage who gave all his ivory tusks for a gun was found later in the bush, on his knees, praying to the gun not to shoot him. He did not know how to use it.

This country is equally ignorant about using youth and its enthusiasms.

A Frenchman says truly "American digestion would improve if Americans made more and better sauces."

Voltaire, another Frenchman, said the same thing of England long ago. He found that England had many religions and only one sauce, whereas France had many sauces and only one religion, and he preferred France.

The new Zeppelin, in spite of engines out of order on her return from Brazil to Germany, kept on her way at 50 miles an hour, fighting winds over the Mediterranean. That is one advantage of a dirigible—she stays up. The heavier-than-air plane with engine trouble comes down.

Russia has a genuine "youth movement" with one-third of all workers under twenty-three years of age, 43 per cent of them girls. Russia has 173,000,000 population, nearly half of it born since the Bolshevik revolution. Populations and history change rapidly. Extreme youth might control the whole of Russia but for the fact that it is already controlled by Stalin, of middle age.

"Hunger Marchers" Parade in the Capital

ABOUT six hundred men and women, members of the recently organized Unemployed Workers' Alliance, staged a big parade of "hunger marchers" in Washington, shouting demands, singing and waving banners. They sought to present a petition to President Roosevelt in the White House but the best they could do was to obtain an audience from Secretary Marvin McIntyre for a delegation headed by David Lasser, president of the alliance.

Lasser declared after spending 30 minutes with the President's secretary: "Mr. McIntyre gave us a lot of nice words, but nothing substantial. If nothing is done to give these people jobs there will be a hunger march on Washington next summer in which hundreds of thousands will take part. We are tired of Mr. Roosevelt's promissory notes."

Lasser and his delegation also called on Vice President Garner at the Capitol and got even less satisfaction from him.

"The jobless feel that we have been sold out by the Democratic party," Lasser declared. "I resent that," snapped the Vice President, reddening. "I have been in politics for 40 years and I don't think anybody has ever been sold out by the party."

The marchers carried banners and placards with such inscriptions as: "Give the bankers home relief; we want jobs!" "Slaves will not be killed." "We demand employment insurance." "Pass the Marcantonio bill," this being a 6 billion-dollar relief bill introduced by the New York city representative.

Labor Says Industry Is Arming for Conflict

BEFORE the senate subcommittee on labor appeared spokesmen for organized labor with charges that there is a great movement of machine guns, tear gas and police clubs into industrial centers for use in contending with strikes and attendant disorders. The first witness to tell the story of the arming of industrial plants for conflicts with labor was J. P. Harris, a steel worker from Portsmouth, Ohio. In support of his assertions came a mass of data compiled by the senate subcommittee investigating committee and presented at the hearing by Heber Blankenhorn, an employee of the national labor relations board.

At one point Harris testified that he knew the Wheeling Steel corporation at Portsmouth was "arming," a statement that brought from corporation officials at Portsmouth an assertion that company police were armed to protect property against "thieves and firebugs, and they will continue to be armed."

At another point in the hearing three were being circulated that the Ford Motor company was "shot through" with spies, hired to report on the activities of labor.

Maryland Young Democrats Hear Mr. Roosevelt

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, attended Easter services at St. Thomas Episcopal church, after the First Lady had witnessed the Knights Templar sunrise service at the Arlington amphitheater. Next day the President went to Baltimore where he addressed the Maryland Young Democratic club.

Mr. Roosevelt accepted an invitation to speak before the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution which opens in Washington April 20. He also will deliver an address on April 25 at the Jefferson banquet of the National Democratic club in New York city.

Death of James M. Beck Is Loss to Nation

SUDDEN death, due to a coronary thrombosis, came to James M. Beck at his residence in Washington, and all informed Americans mourn the demise of this public spirited citizen and eminent authority on constitutional law. Though he was a sturdy and conscientious opponent of the present national administration, leading officials in Washington united with the Republicans in declaring that in his death the nation had sustained a great loss.

Mr. Beck was not only one of the foremost lawyers of America but for more than three decades was a public man of distinction, holding numerous offices at Washington, and an influential place in the counsels of the Republican party. Born in Philadelphia in 1861, he first held office as United States attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania, as a Democrat. He left that party on the silver issue and was made an assistant attorney general by President McKinley. In 1921 Mr. Harding appointed him solicitor general, an office which he filled with distinction. He then served three terms in congress, where he was one of the best debaters, and retired in 1934 because he thought congress had become a "rubber stamp." Since then he had been prominent in the legal attacks on various phases of the New Deal.

Richard Yates, former governor of Illinois and former congressman, died in Springfield at the age of seventy-five years. The son of the Civil War governor of the state, Mr. Yates was for many years a picturesque figure in Illinois politics and an influential member of the Republican party.

League of American Nations Proposed

IN THEIR formal acceptances of the invitations of the United States government to the forthcoming Inter-American peace conference, three of the Latin American nations have proposed that a league of American nations be formed to preserve peace in the western hemisphere. The suggestion comes from Presidents Alfonso Lopez of Colombia, Jorge Ubeo of Guatemala and Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic. They believe the proposed league would be not only a means of preventing war in the New World but also would be an effective adjunct to organizations working to preserve peace in all the world.

Congressmen Working on Taxes and Relief

CONGRESS settled down to earnest work that would clear the way for early adjournment, the two chief matters under consideration being taxes and relief.

Democratic members of the house ways and means committee worked in executive session to draw up the new revenue measure which they expect will yield about $790,000,000 in additional taxes during the next year. The minority members stayed away, scornfully asserting their presence was useless because the preparation of the measure was utterly partisan. Representative A. P. Lamneck of Ohio, Democrat, was insistent on his plan to raise $500,000,000 by a flat 20 to 22 per cent tax on corporation income.

Harry L. Hopkins, head of the WPA, appeared before a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee, also in executive session, to urge compliance with President Roosevelt's request for an additional billion and a half to finance relief in the 1937 fiscal year. Various committee members at once demanded that Mr. Hopkins tell what had been done with the $4,800,000,000 granted last year. The committee extracted from Mr. Hopkins a reluctant promise that relief funds will not be spent hereafter on projects not approved by congress, these including especially the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy tidal power experiment.

Hagood Given Command of Chicago Area

FOLLOWING a conference with Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, who was removed from command of the Eighth corps area for criticizing WPA methods, President Roosevelt took the soldier back into his good graces and appointed him to the command of the Sixth corps area with headquarters in Chicago. He will replace Maj. Gen. Frank McCoy and the assignment takes effect May 2. General McCoy is transferred to the Second corps area at New York to succeed Maj. Gen. Dennis E. Nolan, who is retiring.

Calles Is Expelled by Mexican Government

PLUTARCO ELIAS CALLES, former president of Mexico and for long the most powerful figure in that republic, was forcibly exiled to the United States, together with three other once prominent citizens, by the Mexican government, which declared their presence there was dangerous to the welfare of the country.

Summarily ousted with Calles, who for 11 years ruled Mexico with an iron hand, were Luis Morones, former minister of labor and leader of the regional confederation of workers and peasants; Luis de Leon, former minister of the interior and agriculture; and Rafael Melchor Ortega, former governor of Guanajuato.

The four men were, by order of President Cardenas, placed aboard a plane at Mexico City and taken across the border to Brownsville, Texas. From there they took another plane to California.

Leftists charged that Calles and his associates were fomenting agitation against the Cardenas administration. This Calles denied, adding: "A state of anarchy exists in Mexico and communism is spreading with government help."

Spanish Parliament Ousts President Zamora

SOMETHING new in Spanish history took place in Madrid. The parliament, by a vote of 238 to 5, ousted Niceto Alcala Zamora from the office of president of the republic. This action, accomplished by a coalition of Socialists, Communists, Left Republicans and ten minor groups, was taken on a Socialist motion that the president had acted illegally in dissolving the last parliament before the elections and that therefore he should be expelled from office.

Diego Martinez Barrio, speaker of parliament, was made temporary president to serve until elections are held.

Black's Lobby Committee Wins Court Decision

SENATOR BLACK'S lobby committee won a considerable victory in the District of Columbia Supreme court when Chief Justice Wheat refused to enjoin the committee from using the telegrams from and to William R. Hearst which had been seized. The judge held that the court had no jurisdiction over the committee, and said he could not see that the freedom of the press was in any way involved. Said his honor: "I have not been informed yet of any case in which any court has assumed to dictate to a committee of the senate what it should do and what it should not do, and I do not feel that I have any right to inaugurate any such principle as that."

Elisha Hanson, counsel for Mr. Hearst, announced that he would appeal from the decision, and it was certain that the case would ultimately be taken before the United States Supreme court. Continuing its investigation, the Black committee heard the testimony of Fred G. Clark of New York, national commander of the Crusaders. Mr. Clark denied that the organization had ever engaged in lobbying, and declared that it had assailed the methods of lobbyists in a national radio broadcast.

Japanese Arrest Five Mongolian Officials

HEADQUARTERS of the Japanese army in Manchukuo announced that five Mongolian officials high in the service of the Manchukuo government had been arrested on the charge of being secret agents of Soviet Russia and would be court-martialed. One of them is Lin Sheng, governor of Northern Hsingan province. It was asserted that the officials were accused of conniving with the Russian government and of supplying to Russia and Outer Mongolia military information which was used advantageously by both of Manchukuo's neighbors in recent frontier clashes.

Eleven Persons Killed in Air Liner Crash

FLYING through a fog on its way to Pittsburgh, a Transcontinental and Western air liner went far out of its course, plowed through the forest seven miles southeast of Union City, Pa., and smashed into a granite wall on Chestnut Ridge. Nine passengers and two pilots were killed. The stewardess, Miss Nellie Granger, managed to drag one man and the sole woman passenger from the flaming wreckage, bound up their wounds, ran four miles to a farmhouse from which she telephoned to Pittsburgh the news of the disaster, and then returned to the scene to care for the survivors until a rescue party could arrive. The pilots were flying on a radio beam, and it was believed their radio failed.

Tangle of Diplomatic Rivalries in Europe

MUSSOLINI'S African adventure and Hitler's Rhineland doings and future intentions, tangled together, have created a situation that seemed to imperil the formal friendship between Great Britain and France. The British were insisting that Italy be curbed, that her use of poison gas in Ethiopia be taken up by the League of Nations and that peace negotiations between Italy and Ethiopia be opened quickly to forestall any attempt by Premier Mussolini to sign a settlement which might rise from ruins of Haile Selassie's Ethiopian empire. Foreign Secretary Eden indicated the British were determined to make peace progress "before we leave Geneva."

Lesson for April 26

JESUS LOOKS AT WEALTH AND POVERTY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 16:19-31. GOLDEN TEXT—The rich and poor meet together: the Lord is the maker of them all.—Proverbs 22:2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Story of a Beggar Man. JUNIOR TOPIC—Which Was the Rich Man? INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Money Cannot Buy. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How Can We Make Our Social Order Christian?

The topic as given by the Lesson committee is hardly a fair statement. The supreme message is the presentation of contrasted lives and destinies as expressed through the accidents of wealth and poverty. Lazarus was not entitled to heaven because he was poor, neither did the rich man reach the place of torment because he was rich. In this lesson two worlds are unveiled before us, disclosing extremes of character and conditions of persons. In this world we see a rich man reveling in luxury and a poor man in sore affliction begging at the rich man's gate. In the other world we see the same men in reversed positions. These lives were intended to be representative.

I. The Contrasted Lives (vv. 19-21).

1. The rich man (v. 19). He seems to have lived in a mansion secluded from the common people. He was clothed in costly raiment. He was served the richest food that could be provided. His sin was selfishly to indulge his appetites without consideration for others.

2. The beggar (vv. 20, 21). He was laid at the rich man's gate with the hope of getting at least the crumbs from his table. The rich man gave him no consideration. The dogs of the street were more kind to him than the rich man. Though destitute and helpless, the man's name is most suggestive. "Lazarus" means "God is a help," indicating that a godly life shone through his poverty. Worldly condition is not a sure test of a man's position in the sight of God. All rich men are not wicked and selfish, neither are all poor men godly.

II. Their Contrasted Deaths and Burials (v. 22).

1. The beggar. He was found dead and his body was hurried off to a pauper's grave. No notice was taken of his death by the world. Doubtless the only loss to the world was that he was no longer to be seen at the rich man's gate.

2. The rich man. He also died. His gold could not bribe the messenger of death. Doubtless a costly funeral was held, attended by those who moved in his social class, the officiating priest pronouncing great eulogies over him.

III. Their Contrasted Destinies (v. 23).

1. The beggar. He was at once carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom. The souls of believers are especially cared for at the hour of death (Phil. 1:23). They go immediately to be with the Lord.

2. The rich man. Though he had an elaborate burial, he lifted up his eyes in hell being in torment. When the veil of futurity is lifted, we see the positions of these men are reversed. The poor man is in the company of just men made perfect because of his life of godliness on the earth, and the rich man is stripped of his purple and fine linen and cast into hell with all wicked men, because while on earth he lived only for selfish ends.

IV. The Reality and Fixedness of Life Beyond the Grave (vv. 24-31).

1. The cry for mercy (v. 24). Dives, which is the Latin name for "rich man," was now willing to claim relationship to Abraham. He was keenly conscious and the appetites which controlled him while on earth were still with him. Part of the torment of hell will be the cravings of appetite and lust with no means of their gratification.

2. Abraham's reply (v. 25). This reply cast the matter back upon the man's memory. He said, "Son, remember." The lashings of a guilty conscience will be most real in hell.

3. Their fixedness. Human destinies are fixed during this life. When one passes out of this life he enters into a condition unchangeable.

4. God's Word is the all-sufficient light (vv. 27-31). Dives now requested that Lazarus go on an errand of mercy to his brethren. He regarded the testimony of a spirit of more value than the Word of God. Many today are more willing to trust the rappings of a ghost than the sure Word of God. Abraham declared that God's Word is sufficient, that those who rejected Moses and the prophets would not repent though visited by one who had risen from the dead.

Prehistoric Bones Found in Southern California

Bits of bone have furnished scientists with evidence that man may have roamed southern California in the glacial epoch—nearly 25,000 years ago. Prehistoric remains of an Imperial elephant, largest of all land mammals, and what appeared to be a human being were unearthed by WPA workers, digging 12 feet below the surface of the Slauson avenue drain, Los Angeles. In a closely assembled group were fragments of tusks, two teeth, and parts of a large vertebra. Near by were smaller bones, including a skull.

Bad Elimination Makes It Easier to Catch a Cold

With the right sort of food and proper exercise, constipation might be rare, but in actual living conditions, how few manage to escape it. Mr. Clyde Martin, of Opa, W. Va., recently wrote: "If I let myself get constipated," he explains, "and my system filled with impure matter, I feel bloated, take cold easily, and feel out of sorts in a lot of ways. I will take about two good doses of Black-Draught. It seems to cleanse my whole system and I feel like doing my work."

Attended the Panhandle Press Association meeting at Amarillo Friday and Saturday. The Panhandle editors are a mighty friendly bunch of men and made me feel like a life-long Texan instead of one of only a few months standing. Several noted speakers were on the program and all of them remarked on the loyalty of the Panhandle editors to their territory.

J. C. Estlack, editor of the Donley County Leader, was made President of the Association for the coming year.

Country boy in town: Ordered a T-Bone steak without consulting the menu. And was relieved of $1.25 when I passed the cash register. It would have resulted in a bad case of lock jaw if I had seen that price first.

A mixture of something and something fell from the skies Monday night. It has the appearance of cement on the side of a car. I think it was rain. On the other hand it might have been the first of that proposed erosion work of covering the fields with some mixture to prevent blowing.

We have several happy boys in the town that have passed their Scout requirements and were made real members of the Boy Scouts of America Wednesday night. And by the by, I wonder if the scribe has forgotten how to write.

I jiggled into a meeting of the City Council Monday evening. They should be called Council of Confidence men of Silverton. They almost talked me out of my clothes before I got away. If Whiteside had been there too I reckon I'd be walking down the road talking to myself this morning.

"There has been some criticism of Governor Allred for his steadfast refusal to summon the Texas Legislature into a special session to enact more taxes for financing old-age pensions in Texas. While there may be much for which to criticize the old-age pension law as it now stands—there is no basis for criticism of Governor Allred's attitude toward a special session at this time.

"A business man sets no price upon the article he sells until he knows the cost. No legislature can be expected to enact a just and sensible tax to finance old-age pensions in the state of Texas until it knows just how much money will be necessary to finance these pensions.

"The cost of a special session of the Texas Legislature is approximately $100,000. Allred's refusal to multiply this cost is a sensible and laudible stand. There is sufficient revenue in the state treasury from the liquor tax to pay immediate pensions. When the amount necessary to discharge the obligation of the old-age pension is determined, it will be time to summon the legislators. But not until then."

SIDELIGHTS

By Marvin Jones
Member of Congress from Texas

In the light of publicity given to some of the AAA benefits, which are in effect the farmer's tariff, it is interesting to note some of the vast benefits enjoyed by large industrial companies under our tariff system.

The Aluminum Company of America in 1934 had earnings of twelve million dollars. Their tariff protection is sixty percent. When the tariff on aluminum was doubled in the Tariff Act of 1922, they did not give labor any increase in wages whatsoever.

Among the large companies manufacturing products many of which enjoy a tariff protection are the United States Steel Corporation, the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, the Eastman Kodak Company, the General Electric Company, the American Cast Iron Pipe Company, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the Continental Can Company.

All of these companies do business running into millions of dollars and some of them into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Many of their products are protected by tariff rates varying from twenty to fifty percent.

AAA Payments
Some of the AAA benefit checks were large. I assume, however, that they were made according to formula and on an acreage or unit basis. The Department advises that in many instances the large owners had many tenants who participated in the benefits.

Millions of checks were paid to several million individual farmers in the United States within a limited time. If any of the payments were not made according to formula—in other words, if anyone was given more than his pro rata share, then those who are administering the act are subject to criticism, provided such an unfair allotment was intentional.

Whether or not the program as a whole can be justified will not depend on the merit or demerit of a few of these payments but upon how the program as a whole was handled. It cannot be denied that the increased purchasing power of the farm and ranch has caused business to improve all over the country and in every line. It is difficult to see how the Southwest could have sustained itself without these payments.

I have no objection to any of the facts being made known and I understand the Department has none. In truth, I should like for the full facts to be made known all along the line.

The Tariff Wall

But alongside these facts should be disclosed the tremendous advantages gained under the tariff system by the above-named and other companies. Certainly the largest of the AAA benefit checks did not compare in any way to the tremendous benefits enjoyed by the big industries behind the protection of the tariff wall!

I am not arguing the merits or demerits of either the farm or the tariff program. If there had been no tariff system, then no farm program would have been needed. Standing on the same level, the farmer could have looked after his own interests. But so long as we have a tariff system, certainly we should have a farm program.

Let the full facts be known as to both.

Keeping Poultry Records

Found Good Judgment

The poultryman who is progressive should by all means keep some simple record of his poultry enterprise. Such records will enable him to determine whether or not he should expand or contract his operations. Certainly no one wants to continue his poultry operations if some other farm activity will return more for the labor. On the other hand if the poultry flock is a paying proposition he may want to expand his activities. Poultry records also furnish a basis to study business. It will enable the poultryman to compare his results with those of his neighbors and also with results for previous years.

Poultry record keeping will arouse an appreciation of the size of that part of the farm activity. Since the income from the poultry flock comes each week the grand total is not realized unless some record is made. Poultry products also constitute much of the food budget and should be included among the income. Another advantage of record keeping lies in the fact that if records are kept the farmer will do a better job of caring for his flock.

Early Poultrymen

The popularity of the American class of fowls began with an exhibit of especially attractive barred Plymouth rocks by D. A. Upham of Winstonsville, Conn. at Worcester in March, 1890. For a long time Mr. Upham was erroneously credited with having originated the breed, but it is now well established that the stock was brought from England by some of the earliest settlers of Plymouth. The White Plymouth Rock is of similar origin. The first man in the New world to begin poultry keeping and the service of poultry keepers as a full-time business was Isaac K. Felch of Natick, Mass., who began in 1876, and for fifty years was actively engaged in promoting poultry culture in every part of the United States. Long before 1890 he was known as "the Father of Poultry Culture in America."

Plenty of Scratch Feed

It is a good practice to feed an abundance of scratch feed especially during the developing period, according to an authority at the North Carolina State college. This will build a good frame and develop vitality for the egg-laying period. An excess of animal protein fed during the developing period will bring the birds into lay before they are fully matured, and an abundant feeding of scratch will retard this early production and aid in building a large, healthy body.

O. K. to Feed Chicks

Time was when poultry experts advised withholding all feed from baby chicks until sixty to seventy-two hours after they had left the shell. The New Jersey agricultural experiment station now recommends that they be fed between twenty-four and forty-eight hours after leaving the incubator and always as soon as they are placed under the hover, regardless of age. Warm water and a hard grit, preferably sand, should be provided when the chicks are placed under the hover, the station advises.

THE WORLD AT ITS WORST

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

Very Distant
It was a birthday party given by a wealthy young farmer, and one of the guests noticed a somewhat lonely looking and shabbily attired man in a corner of the room, and walked over to him.
"I was introduced to you," he said, "but I didn't catch your name."
"My name," replied the other, "is Burton."
"Oh, then you are a relative of our host?"
"Yes," was the reply. "I'm his cousin twenty thousand pounds removed."—Answers Magazine.

Who'd Be a Teacher?
Teacher was instructing the infant class in the story of Lot's flight, and said: "Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city, which was about to be destroyed. Lot and his wife got safely away. Now, children, have you any questions to ask?"
At last a little boy ventured to inquire: "Please, teacher, what happened to the flea?"

"Twelve Stories Up"
By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter.

GOING UP! Take the next car, please! It's an indoor aviator who's come to tell us his tale of woe today—Distinguished Adventurer Edward T. McCrann, one of the best doggone elevator pilots that ever answered a buzzer.

Ed jumps around almost as fast as that elevator he used to drive. When I first heard from him he was living in New Haven, Conn. Two weeks later, when I had occasion to communicate with him he had moved to Washington, D. C.

It's five years since Ed has run an elevator, and he still remembers it as one of the most monotonous jobs he ever had. It was just the same old trip, from morning to night. The same old buzzer ringing and the same people getting on and off in the same old building in Hartford. Only once did anything of the ordinary occur—but Ed admits that that occurrence relieved the job of all of its monotony for a few minutes.

It happened about 7 o'clock on a June evening in 1929. Nearly all the tenants were out of the building. The superintendent came up from the basement and started looking over the elevator. He said there might be something wrong with it because he had heard a rasping sound in the shaft that shouldn't have been there.

Elevator Man Goes Up on Top of His Car.

One look at the top told the story. Some workmen had been doing a job on the inside of the shaft. They had strung a wire to furnish them with light, and had left it behind when they finished. That wire tangled with the main cable, way up at the top, just where the cable came out of the heavy grate that supported the motor. The super asked Ed if he'd ride up on the top of the elevator to the top of the shaft and unfasten that maverick wire.

Ed was just a high school kid then. He was lean and active, and the job didn't look any great shakes to him. He consented readily. After all, it was something to break the monotony of that everlasting up and down trip. The super got into the car and dropped it down below the door level. Ed climbed on top, and up they went to the top of the shaft, just above the twelfth story.

The super ran the car slowly as they neared the top. When it got close enough so that Ed could reach the dangling wire he yelled, and the super stopped the car. The car halted just even with the twelfth floor. Ed reached up and began untangling the wire.

The superintendent opened the car door and stepped out onto the twelfth floor. "Hey, Ed," he called, "I'm going down the hall for a screw driver. I'll be right back."

Ed yelled, "All right," and went on with his work. The wire was fastened a little higher than he'd thought. He grabbed the grating under the motor and lifted himself up.

His toes were barely touching the top of the car and he was straining his arm to reach the end of the wire when he heard someone enter the elevator below him. Thinking it was the superintendent he paid no attention. He made another lunge toward the wire—caught it.

And then, to his consternation, the motor began to whine and the car dropped away from under him, leaving Ed in a panic, clinging to the iron grating with both hands.

By the time Ed's presence of mind came back to him the elevator was halfway down the shaft. He started to yell, but he was so close to the motor that he couldn't be heard above its noise. The elevator went clear to the bottom and stopped. The door clanged open and someone walked out. Then everything was quiet except for Ed's cries. What had happened? Could it be possible that the superintendent had forgotten all about him? Ed yelled again. The sound echoed hollowly in the long shaft. Then silence—the dead, eerie silence of an empty building. And Ed hanging by his fingers 12 stories above the ground.

"The seconds," he says, "seemed like years. Try as I might I couldn't get my mind to working. It was racing like mad trying to figure a way out, but it never found one. There just wasn't any."

"The grating was greasy and I could feel my fingers slipping—slipping. Suddenly I heard steps in the hall and yelled again. It was the superintendent coming back with the tools. He must have guessed what had happened when he heard me and saw the elevator door was closed. He yelled something to me but I was so scared I couldn't make out what he was saying. My fingers slipped a little more. Then I heard him racing down the stairs."

Superintendent and Elevator to the Rescue!

Again Ed's fingers slipped. He tried to hang on with one hand while he got a fresh hold with the other—and almost lost his grip altogether. It seemed like years—seemed as though he was holding on with nothing but his finger-nails, when finally he heard the elevator start upward and knew that if he could hang on just a moment longer he'd be safe.

"There were tears in my eyes," he says, "as that car came shooting up toward me. My body was covered with sweat, and I can't say if it was cold sweat or hot. My hands slipped again as the car came on. 'I didn't have the courage to look down—didn't know how close the elevator was—when at last, my clawing fingers lost their hold on the grate. I shut my eyes as I started falling. A prayer ran through my mind and—'

And then Ed came to a stop with a thud—safe on the top of the car, about six feet from where he had started.

When Ed got off the top of that elevator cab he was limp as a rag. It wasn't until next day that he found a solution to the mystery of the moving elevator. A doctor on the twelfth floor came out in a hurry and, seeing the cab without an operator, ran it down himself.

He had heard Ed yell, he said, but paid no attention to it. "And if you could feel one hundredth of the horror I felt as I hung in that dark shaft," says Ed, "you'd realize why I shiver just a little bit, even now, when somebody mentions that doctor's name."

Success

It is said that a man can successfully lie with his eyes, but not with his mouth. The face is such an index of character that the very growth of the latter can be traced upon the former, and most of the successive lines that carve the furrowed face of age out of the smooth outline of childhood are engraved directly or indirectly by mind. There is no beautifier of the face like a beautiful spirit. The want of mind lowers all the powers of the body; but so does an evil and debased mind which is still more wonderful.

Find Castaway

A Robinson Crusoe was discovered by the crew of the French windjammer Toiosa, on Rinca island, 100 miles north of the Strait of Magellan, South America. He was clothed in goat skins and uttered guttural cries, though he led them to a natural spring when they indicated they wanted water. The man appeared to be of Nordic stock, either Scandinavian or German, or possibly British. He is considered to be a shipwrecked sailor who has lost the power of speech, probably through never having spoken to a soul for many years.

OVEREATING AND FAT ARE CALLED
'VICIOUS CIRCLE'

A "vicious circle" makes fat people fatter by increasing their appetites as their weight goes up.

This conclusion is reached in a thesis written for a master of science degree in dietetics at the University of Iowa by Miss Letta Houser, who studied a group of 40 persons ranging in weight from 124 to 322 pounds.

"I found," she said, "that these persons have no more preference for rich foods than persons of normal weight and no greater propensity for nibbling between meals than ordinary individuals."

"But when the normal and obese groups were fed the same foods, those persons overweight always ate up to 20 per cent more, regardless of what was served, or the manner of its serving."

Miss Houser also discovered that both groups developed larger appetites when the entire meal was served at once rather than in courses.

She included a study of personalities of overweight persons in her research and concluded there is a tendency among them "toward emotional instability and submissiveness to the will of others—which, she said, may explain why fat persons are popularly regarded as jolly."

"There remains, however," she said, "a question as to whether this is a cause or effect of obesity."

Speed Demons

Passengers claim that the slowest railway service in the world is that between Buenos Aires and Tucuman, Argentina, the fastest train on the line covering the 40 miles in eight hours.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

When serving lettuce be sure that no water is on the leaves when french dressing is added. The water will spoil the dressing and the oil will not adhere to the lettuce. Do not put dressing on lettuce until it is to be served.

Soap improves with keeping, so when the stores offer sales of soap, it is economy to buy a quantity of it if you are able to store it in a cool, dry place.

Cold roast beef toughens if cooked for any length of time in hot gravy. It is better to heat gravy and pour over the meat when ready to serve.

When papering a room cut off the left-hand selvage on rolls before you begin to paste. Leave right-hand selvage uncut. The overlapping method of papering is far easier than trying to place two edges together.

Do not add dressing to a salad until just before salad is to be served. If salad greens are allowed to stand in dressing for any length of time, they will wilt.

Gelatin for fruit desserts should be whipped until the consistency of whipped cream, thick enough to prevent fruit settling to bottom of mold.

Don't keep gas stove burners turned on full after foods begin to boil. Turn burners down and keep down gas bills.

You can't kill plant lice with a poison. You must dose them with some kind of liquid that will smother them to death. Kerosene emulsion or tobacco dust will do this.

Smuggler Uses Novel Wiles in Trying to Ship Live Calf

A novel attempt at smuggling took place recently on the Belgium-Holland border when a motorcyclist and a sidecar passenger arrived at the customs office. The passenger, whose face was concealed by his hat and coat collar, had nothing to say when questioned. Whereupon the suspicious inspector removed the "gentleman's" headgear and discovered that he was a gentle little calf.—Collier's.
