Cutting Sweet Sorghum For Hay
Section 1B, SRB-601-Texas, provides that land planted to sweet sorghums will be considered as conserving acreage, provided a strip one rod wide is left standing alternating with each five-rod strip cut green for hay.

Many farmers are reluctant to leave sweet sorghums on the land after seed maturity because they do not want a volunteer crop of sweet sorghums the following year. Accordingly, it has been decided that the one-rod strip may also be harvested for hay, provided a substantial growth (12 inch stubble or more) is left standing.

War Crops

The following varieties of peas and beans are considered "War Crops": Peas - Alaska, Bluebell, First and Best, White Canada, Alderman, Perfection, Surprise, and Thomas Laxton; Bean - Peas and medium white, Great Northern, California beans have assured of price support by the Secretary of Agriculture. They will not earn a soilbuilding payment under soilbuilding practice No. 26, and they will not be considered conserving crops. They will not qualify for the twenty per cent provision.

Wheat Replacement

The definition of acreage planted to wheat has been modified to when all or any part of any wheat acreage totally destroyed by any cause beyond the control of the operator may be considered as not having been planted to wheat if it cannot be reseeded and is later replaced by other acreage of seeded or volunteer wheat with prior approval by the county committee.

The purpose of this provision is to make it possible for farmers in areas where acreage has been totally destroyed by any cause beyond the control of the operator. Causes determined to be beyond the control of the operator are flood, worms, wind, hail, and insects.

This rule may be applied to a farm only where prior approval in writing is granted by the county committee.

Any acreage replacement by any equal acreage must be seeded to another crop or summer fallow—the acreages originally seeded to be totally destroyed.

Since prior approval must be obtained, the producer should make written request to the county committee. A form for this purpose may be obtained at the county office.

This replacement provision as relates to volunteer wheat must be requested and approved prior May 15, 1942.

MRS. LEMONS CLUB HOSTESS

The 1925 Study Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lemons as hostess.

Mrs. Bundy presided at the business session, committee reports were reviewed. Mrs. Douglas, delegate to the District Federation convention in Lubbock gave an interesting report. She reported that the club reports revealed that all are following a steady course of study—are actively engaged in defense work and are investing heavily in war bonds and stamps.

Many clubs open meetings with a salute to the flag. Many have contributed their building funds into war bonds.

Women are urged to keep up their study for they must be depended upon to keep up the morale of the people, also to sew, plant victory gardens and war gardens.

Charles Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche, predicted a decision to follow this war that would make the one that followed World War I sink into oblivion. He also predicted a Utopia for the privileged. Another prediction he made his listeners was that they were seeing the last era of prosperity in their lifetime.

Program leader for the afternoon was Mrs. Douglas. Those who took part in the program were Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. M. A. Graham who brought an interesting story on Benjamin Franklin.

Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. W. T. Haley were present Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

NEWS from the BOYS IN SERVICE

ELMER STINSON left Wednesday for Amarillo where he expected to be accepted into Navy service. He will serve as an electrician and will be given foreign service.

BEN BINGHAM and Ray McWilliams have volunteered for army service and are stationed temporarily at Fort Sill.

WILL LEE, of Quitaque, who is now serving with the army visited in Silverton Tuesday. He is home on a short furlough.

JIMMY CLINE is here for a 3-day leave from his work in the medical corps. He is stationed at El Paso. The rest of his outfit was shipped out recently and he had his clothes on the train, but five minutes before they pulled out, he was handed a transfer and remained in El Paso.

JACK HAYNES, U. S. Marine, writes that he hasn't seen the Briscoe County News for six weeks. He has been on maneuvers in the desert in California. He now has a corporal's rating.

J. B. MERCER WRITES Mrs. John Bain from Tacoma, Washington.

Dear Ethel: It has been so long since I have heard from you. I thought you might have moved until I read the Briscoe County News today.

I sure enjoy the column on the boys in the service. It gives me a chance to find out where some of my buddies are.

It looks as if they will make National Guards out of us for that is all we do now. We walk 7 hours a night for two nights and are off one night to catch a little sleep.

The weather is sure cold out here for it either rains or comes one awful frost every night.

What part of the service is John Edd and Tarzan in at the present? I read of them some time back but can't remember now.

I found a transfer of the 30th Infantry and will send it to you. It makes a nice sticker for a windshield or will stick to wood or any metal.

Well Ethel I'll bet I out weigh you now (ha ha) I weigh 168 lbs. that is 26 lbs. Uncle Sam has put on me. I sure feel good these days and have an abundance of energy and one large appetite after another.

It would be a treat right now to eat a meal at "Johns Cafe" only I am afraid I would have to get a double order.

There really isn't any thing of interest although we had a company dance some time ago and I met some awful cute girls from Seattle. Naturally they thought a Texan would be a cowboy.

Your friend,
J. B. Mercer

L. B. LOUDERMILK, of the U. S. Navy, writes his Dad that his four year enlistment will be up about April 7. His letter was very indefinite, because of censorship, but it is quite possible that he will be home for a few days' leave before re-enlisting.

ANOTHER LETTER this week from Homer Sanders says that he was successful in his application for officers training. He is being returned to Virginia where he will take some intensive training, after which he will be eligible for a commission.

J. S. LONG writes us even when he is on leave. Here's one from Amarillo: "Dear Roy: Just a line to tell you if any of the boys around Silverton who have as many as 20 hours college credit or one year, can sign in the Navy as Aviation Cadet now. I'm trying to get some good men in the Navy from Silverton so send them up."

DON W. TERRY, former band instructor, is stationed in San Diego. He enlisted recently as Yeoman, 3rd class.

County Agents News

A lot of people have been selling their iron but the reports are that not enough iron has been received. The government officials expect to get 1/2 ton per farm. If you have not sold yours, find your buyer and you will be paid well for your time. Steel brings less than cast, and good pieces should be saved. It is not the intention to get farmers to sell pieces that may be used. Cull before you sell.

Cotton Seed

Some people are still testing their cotton seed. The germination of some seed is very low. Try to learn, by testing how much to plant. Owing to the limited supply of seed for planting the 1942 crop all precautions should be taken to insure a satisfactory stand of plants and a production of a good crop with a minimum amount of seed. A half bushel of cotton seed with a fairly high germination will be ample for an acre or more of land provided the seed are properly treated. However the seed have a good germination if the rate of planting is to be reduced. Experiments the past few years have shown that one of the best materials to treat cotton seed is new Improved (5%) cerasan, used at the rate of 1 ounce per bushel of seed. (This treatment usually increased the germination from 50 to 75% and reduced seedling diseases considerably. Such treatment not only increases the germination but helps the plant get a better start. This is the year when we should use all precaution to make the seed plant our crop until we get a stand. Seed are hard to buy. If you have seed to sell you shouldn't have any trouble, farmers are looking for seed.

Tomatoes

People that are having trouble getting their tomatoes to stick fruit during hot weather, should try to get the Parter-Variety. This tomato has proven to be the best for hot dry summer days.

Mrs. W. T. Haley left Monday evening for Amarillo where she will visit in the home of her son Benett. Mrs. Haley will have dental work done while she is there.

SPENCERS RESIGN

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Spencer recently resigned their positions at Haylake to become effective May 22nd.

Jake has taught five years at Haylake and one year at Silverton. Mrs. Spencer has taught at Haylake the past four years. They taught at Flomot before coming to Silverton.

Haylake has enjoyed much prestige under the supervision of the Spencers. Their school was the first standardized rural school in Briscoe County. Jakes softball team won three consecutive pennants, and the whole County respected the play of the Haylake men's team which seldom lost a game.

The Spencers have announced no plans for the future, but intend to leave Silverton about May 25th.

VEGETABLE GARDEN NEEDS ATTENTION

The vegetable garden should have immediate attention.

The recent moisture should put the soil in excellent condition for planting. Prepare ground carefully, spading and taking out all weeds, breaking lumps and pulverizing.

In moderate weather plant beets, lettuce, mustard, spinach, onions, radishes, chard, turnips, cauliflower, peas, beans and successive sowing of peas.

Dill, thyme, sage and other herbs may be sown in small adjacent beds. It is interesting to plant herbs in a patterned garden plot, the gray green foliage of plants lending itself well to "the knot garden" as such places are called.

Strawberries, raspberries and blackberries may be set out now, when weather moderates. Do not fail to plant a few berry-bearing shrubs that birds like, such as the Indian currant (black-bush), agave, red and black haw, dogwood, elderberry, Indian wahoo and sumac.

If flower beds have not already been prepared for plants and seeds get in shape quickly now. Look over the lawn for bare spots. Rake and sow grass seeds.

Put to order bulb beds and perennial borders. Divide and transplant Fall-flowering perennials, fertilize soil and replant.

If roots of trees or hedges are crowding other plants or are robbing the soils generally, cut roots back.

Plant deciduous nursery stock as soon as received.

Do not allow roots of plants, trees or shrubs to become dry or be exposed to the air.

This year Easter week will be a good time to sow seeds of annuals. Likely there will be no killing frosts or freezes after plants come up, if planted at that time.

Plans are in the making, and most entries are in for the annual 4-H and FFA Project Show to be held here Saturday, April 11, according to an announcement made by Lem Weaver and Victor Harman. Weaver is in charge of the 4-H Club work and Harman is the FFA supervisor.

Much emphasis is being put this year on dairy cattle, although of course there will be entries from every type of stock—dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens. Reports and statistics coming from Swisher County show that dairying is an industry that has been sadly overlooked in this county. The dairy check per year in Swisher County has proven to be larger than the wheat check for the same length of time.

Here are a few of the FFA boys who will exhibit their stock at the show:

- J. D. Nance Chester White Sow
- Wiley D. Nance Hampshire Sow
- Rex Holt 2 Rambouillet Ewes

Merchants are offering prizes for the best showings in every division and the Lions Club is giving $10 in defense stamps to exhibitors. The prize money is expected to be above par this year, and there are more entries than usual.

These boys are the base of our coming stock and farming industry. You will be doing them a grave injustice if you do not attend their show. You too, will see stock that if shown in Amarillo or Lubbock, would be prize winners there. Plan now to attend.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

McNutt Lashes 'Disciples of Despair,' Calls for All-Out Attack on Tokyo; Pan-American Solidarity Increases; R.A.F. Reverses Tide in Malta Battle

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

LABOR:

Picture Complicated

The labor situation, in the other big battle which had centered in Washington, the fight over whether the 40-hour week should be retained or not, had complicated the New Deal picture tremendously.

On the one hand Secretary of Labor Perkins and the White House itself had been found apparently unwilling to scrap the 40-hour week, while Thurman Arnold, of the attorney general's staff, had issued the most bitter statement against labor unions as obstructing the war effort that had come out of Washington since the New Deal started.

Now, the unions were wholeheartedly against the move to end the 40-hour week, claiming that the only benefit their workers had from it was the extra half-time pay for the usual eight hours of overtime weekly, while business already was being accused of getting huge profits for its share of the war-time boom in industrial activity.

Congressional leaders were found urging, against business, that all profits over 6 per cent be recaptured for the government, and at the same time highly divided over the 40-hour week.

Tremendous mail was being received on the subject, convincing many congressmen that a definite nationwide campaign to have the 40-hour week thrown out was in progress.

One official high in the War Production board stated that the 40-hour week through overtime payments was adding 8 per cent to the cost of all war contracts.

'ATTACK TOKYO':

Pleads McNutt

Lashing out at "disciples of despair," Paul V. McNutt, social security administrator, had urged an "attack on Tokyo" as the "real defense of America."

He said: "America's defense does not begin at wading depth on Coney Island, nor on the sun-drenched sands of San Diego.

"America's defense begins with the attack on Tokyo. It is when flames roar through Yokohama

PAUL V. MCNUTT

"More Leathernecks, fewer bottlenecks," and the factories of the Ruhr are blasted and broken that Wichita, Kansas City and Omaha will be secure.

The leathernecks of Wake Island taught the Japs what it costs to lick only a few hundred marines. What this nation needs is more leathernecks and fewer bottlenecks."

BRITISH:

Gain Air Strength

The report of a British-German air fight around Malta, where the British had been taking a beating since the war began without giving in, had been a signal for the fact that the British R.A.F. had been steadily gaining strength.

In this assault, British Hurricane fighters and anti-aircraft gunnery had brought down 12 bombers and two fighters in a 24-hour assault on the island, the biggest bag in the war so far.

Most significant was the fact that the "ack-ack boys," the gunners on the island, were credited with knocking the two fighters and 8 of the 12 bombers out of the air.

The other four planes shot down were fighter-bombers, similar in plan to our "medium attack bombers," and they were all bagged by the R.A.F. fighting squadron.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

New York: One of the most definite reports of the sinking of a U-boat off the coast was reported by General Drum, who said that a patrol bomber returning after a photographic mission had seen a submarine, had dropped four depth-bombs and that the oil and debris which littered the sea made it definite that the submarine had been sunk.

LATIN-AMERICA: Grows More Solid

Historians, pointing to the fact that 21 Latin-American nations either have declared war or have broken relations with the Axis, as compared with 13 in the last war, had expressed the belief that Chile would be the next one in, and that Pan-American solidarity was on the increase, boding well for hemispheric unity in the post-war period.

However, as President-elect Juan Rios had reached the threshold of his office following the election, Adolf Hitler had cabled him expressing the hope that "German relations with Chile might become even closer."

Chile and Argentina, at this point had remained the only two still maintaining relations with the Axis.

Hitler was quoted as cabling: "I take this opportunity to express the desire that the relations of sincere friendship between Germany and the Republic of Chile will be preserved during your term as president, and if possible, become even closer."

Yet, by contrast, most Latin-American observers took this as a hint that relations were on the point of being broken.

JAPS:

Warn Aussies

The Japanese, apparently trying to undermine Australian confidence and trying to build up a lack of unity within the continent, were putting out "warnings to Australians" before they had tried a landing.

The grim determination of the Australians to defend their country, plus the appointment of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the supreme command, was ample assurance that Japanese propaganda would fall on barren soil.

As the invaders of New Guinea were moving across the difficult and almost impassable terrain between Salamaua and Lae and Port Moresby on the southern coast, with prospect of a bitter battle at the end, they issued the following warning:

"Australia stands at the crossroads. She must choose between freedom and the fate of the Dutch East Indies.

"Japan has no territorial aspirations, and wants Australia to become a partner in the eastern Asiatic prosperity realm.

"Australia, with a population of only 7,000,000 cannot defend her long eastern coastline.

"The countries, Japan and Australia, economically supplement each other. One way leads to the end of Australia's existence and the other to wealth and peace," said the Japanese.

At the same time the Japs showed evidence of being jittery over possible attacks by American planes from Alaska via the Aleutians, Adm. Koyzo Nakamura having told the Japanese people in a broadcast:

"Fears that the United States in the spring will embark on surprise attacks on Japan by submarines and aircraft are unnecessary.

"The Americans have no adequate base."

European centers had placed little importance on the signing in Moscow of a renewal of the pact between Japan and Russia on the subject of fishing rights off the Siberian coast.

Refusal of Russia to have signed would have been viewed as a practical declaration of war. But few European observers took the signing of the pact, in existence for many years, as any special sign of friendliness.

London: The Times has reported that German heavy industry is paying Adolf Hitler a personal tribute of $12,000,000 a year for his own use, and that Hitler devotes a portion of this to buy support.

Philadelphia: One convict was killed and others injured in a riot at the penitentiary. The riot was started over a shortened ration of sugar in the convicts' coffee.

Everybody Lends Hand to Defense of Australia

There is no city in Australia that can quietly sit back with the assurance that it will not be bombed by Japs. In the picture at the left, Melbourne city employees are doing their Australia-day task, erecting an ARP sandbag barricade outside of their working premises. Right: Members of the anti-aircraft battery man a height and range-finder at an action station in Darwin, Australia. The men work stripped to their waists.

Mississippi Digs Out of Tornado's Wreckage

Homes were leveled and rolled together as so much paper by a tornado which swept through Mississippi and laid low farm buildings and towns in its wake. In the upper picture convicts from a nearby prison remove a great store of hay which fell upon livestock when the wind played havoc with it, at Berclair, Miss. Lower picture was taken at Grenada, Miss. The wind that caused this damage just missed a hospital which stood near by. Note the spectators, standing about in dazed wonder.

To guard against the possibility of a Nazi invasion of England this spring, this "sea fort," somewhere in the "Northern Command," stands ready. The fort is heavily manned. Its big guns point out over the narrow sea towards Europe. The picture shows men of the garrison during gun drill.

Washington Digest

Administration Worried By Specter of Inflation

Idle Dollars Source of Concern as Secretary of Treasury Studies Methods to Prevent Spiraling of Prices.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

At the great pillared building next to the White House, on whose classic roof the soldiers walked night and day, they have almost forgotten the red letter day in their history, March 15—when the greatest harvest of taxes ever collected poured in the vaults of the United States treasury.

In his office overlooking the park Secretary Morgenthau is already deep in another problem. He knows that his tax collecting venture of 1942 was a failure in one respect. It left 97 billion dollars rattling around in the nation's pocket and only 69 1/2 billion dollars worth of things to spend it on.

In spite of tax increases, defense bond sales and a tendency of some people to put something in the bank the experts say there will be left about 20 billions of dollars with no place to go. That is a prescription for inflation, for idle dollars will compete for scarce goods. Some inflation we are going to get no matter what is done to stop it. That means higher prices where they will hurt and the prospect of the bump that follows the boom when the things that go up have to come down.

You could see how worried the administration was when the President, who has had a lot to say about spiraling of wages and prices but has never actually done anything to stop wage increases, admitted at a press and radio conference recently that a plan for putting a ceiling on wages was under study.

Mrs. Roosevelt had let the cat out of the bag in her column and the President couldn't very well deny the soft impeachment. Regulation of wages is one partial check on inflation. Another is an iron-bound price control so tight that people just couldn't use their money to bid up costs. Another is taxation so heavy there wouldn't be any more money to spend than there are goods to buy.

None of these extreme courses is likely to be taken. But there will be higher taxes. Mr. Morgenthau is worrying about that now. Trying to work out an equitable levy.

There will be some price control. There will be increased effort to sell defense bonds. There will be more rationing, some pressure to keep down wage rises. But there will be some inflation.

The result will be to bring the war home. But what will really make the American people aware that we are in a period of sacrifice is not paying more for what they get but not being able to get the things we are able to pay for. Some things can't even be rationed because there won't be anything to ration when the army and navy get what they need.

Lines! Assembly and Otherwise

I remember learning in school that a straight line was the shortest distance between two points. Easy to define, hard to draw without a ruler.

The next lines that interested me were the ones on the gridiron. Then there was World War I and there were the "front lines." And as a private then the other line which interested me most was the mess line.

Very important. It was much later that I heard about assembly lines. Mass production I heard about at the same time. Assembly lines and mass production were the things that were putting America first as the world's business man. They were the things that gave our workmen and our farmers and our clerks and newspaper men and firemen all a chance to go to work in gas-buggies while some of our counterparts in Europe and Asia still walked, or drove oxen.

Assembly lines. The Second World War came along and America was way behind its enemies in preparedness, in production of war materials. We had led the world making nice things, things that made life easy. We were way behind when it came to making death easy.

The other day I was invited to take a trip to California with other newswriters to see something else. It was just before the last draft drawing. But it had to do with conscription for military service—conscription of the assembly line. That ingenious institution which has been used to turn out the nice, friendly peacetime gadgets has been adapted to turn out a huge, unfriendly wartime machine, the "B24," area bombers, the biggest thing ever made on an assembly line. Made that way not because it was cheap but because it was fast.

People had been saying that we could only make planes on an assembly line we would soon catch up with and pass the Axis which has been making planes while we were still saying we didn't have to worry about Europe's wars. But, the said, planes were too big, or too complicated to turn out this way. As usual, however, American genius which made typewriters and electric boxes and flippers and radios found a way to make the big bombers by the same method.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

The army has no ants in its camps, according to the construction division of the office of the quartermaster general. A new simple metal anti-ant shield does the job. In 1941, the industrial output of the United States for war needs was 21 per cent and for civilian needs, 79 per cent. In 1942, the war output is 53 per cent and that for civilians is 47 per cent.

The United States army has been snowed under with applications for commissions from those who want to serve in the national divisions. The Moros, fiercest fighting native Philippine tribes, resist Americans until the last. They have sworn to join with the thur's forces and fight the to the death.

ROY W. HAHN

LAST NIGHT I was reading in some magazine about how not to grow old, how to look young without acting foolish and so on and it had a chart with a bunch of questions that were supposed to show whether you were mature in age, I checked the questions and then looked up the answers and I was mature to the extent of 90 years. They had another chart on things one liked to do and I found that I was immature to the extent of ten years. What does that make me? I asked Orlin Stark one time how old he thought I was and he said from the way I figured my account, that I either should start to school next year or the year after, but that if I didn't just want to go to school, I could get by fairly well as a juggler.

A CONSCIENTIOUS objector is male of fighting age who objects to getting shot at. Lou Ayres (Dr.

Kildare) has always been one of my favorite movie stars but no more. When a man will let an invader come in his home, maul his women and kill his children and makes no resistance because he is against bloodshed, then he is no longer a man and should have died unborn. That is a rough idea of what the average American thinks about conscientious objectors.

PERSONALLY I DON'T think there is such a thing, any more than there is a man who can come face to face with death and still maintain that there is no God.

I WAS TALKING with Wilson McCurrian, of the Kerr Paper Co. in Amarillo. Mack is A-1 in most ways now, and from what he says will be 1-A too before long. Anyway, he says that in our promotion of bonds and stamps, that we overlook the biggest one of the two, the stamps—and I think he is right.

HE TRAVELS ABOUT 1,000 miles a week and said that he had never been offered a stamp for change anywhere. Well, we went to Kirks for coffee, and he had his first offer, Mrs. Kirk was in the midst of a session of mixing and selling defense cocktails and while we sat there she sold about three dollars in stamps.

WELL THAT WAS $3 that was extra bond money—I wonder what it would amount to if every cafe in the U. S. put $3 in stamps every day? And then take in every business house in America and see what you have. . . MILLIONS! And it is millions that doesn't interfere with the boys that buy the $1,000 size. Already they say that about 65% of the bonds are being bought by us small fry in the small denominations.

I PERSONALLY know an old boy of pretty small income who got sold early on the idea of buying 25c stamps. He showed me the other day that in January he bought two $25 bonds, one in February, one in March, and has another well on the way. And they were bought with 25c stamps.

MR. MERCHANT—if you are not handling stamps, and if you have a retail business—then YOU ARE NOT doing your bit.

NOW TO GET on to the tire shortage—I have solved that too, and I will make myself a little mint. I owe it all to the little woman, name of Barb. In the first place I have never liked rice pudding. She, being a dutiful wife, has never served that dish since the first time—till today.

SHE READ SOME new way to build one of these puddings, using coffee, cocoa, tapioca, milk, syrup, eggs, cream, and I think, a bit of old shoe leather (of course the formula is secret as yet). And of course, some rice too. She had baked it in the oven and when she was taking it up she burned her hand and dropped the pan. The darn thing jumped on the floor and bounce—I wish you had seen it.

WELL, OF COURSE I saw possibilities right away. Barbara still thought the stuff was food and put it out for the dog. The dog was nonchalant, to say the least. So she tried the hens. They'd peck that pudding and their heads would snap back like it was a rubber band. I finally got my way and rescued the pudding. Took it out and strapped it to my hind tire just as a test. This afternoon I took it down and crossed and re-crossed the railroad tracks, and finally as a supreme test I took it over Tom Bomar's paved street. It has never so much as crumpled.

I AM BUILDING a mould, and the last of the week she is going to have rice pudding again. I will have her bake it in a 600 x 16 size and as far as I know the tire problem will be solved. With a little more experience, I am sure that we can produce a tire that will be absolutely infallible and guaranteed against any normal road hazard.

THIS RICE PUDDING, that has turned out to be a boon for the whole motoring public can be made at a nominal cost in any home. It is also another proof that syrup can be used as a successful substitute for sugar. As soon as we hear from the U. S. Patent Office, you may obtain the formula from Barb.

DID YOU SEE the cartoon today of the thin man? It was captioned, "I would rather be as thin as I am than to be as fat as I would be if I were as fat as I am thin." Reminds me of "I went to sleep and dreamed that I was awake and woke up and found that I was still asleep."

WEAVER SAW ME yesterday and said "Save me some space." The grasshoppers and green bugs are just eating up everything in sight. Got to get 'em stopped." Weaver's official title is Lem Weaver, G.B.G.E.E.B.S. That stands for Green Bug and Grass Hopper Eradication Expert. You can guess what the BS stands for.

JUST SWITCHED THE radio on. The Administration has persuaded Congress to recess for two weeks, while it strengthens its position in regard to the 40-hour week, overtime pay, etc. I wonder how many boys will be killed in that two weeks. . . while they recess!

To clean enameled woodwork, melt one-half cup shaved soap in two cups of boiling water. Whip to a lather and apply with a sponge to a small space at a time. Wash, then wipe off the suds with a dry cloth and quickly rinse with a clean soft cloth. Proceed until all the woodwork has been cleaned. This method helps prevent streaking.

When you have many children's clothes to make, you can save time and effort if you use a sort of factory method. Cut out three or four dresses at a time (using different materials if you like). You can finish them in a variety of ways.

Scratches on furniture may be concealed by rubbing with good furniture polish, with lemon oil, or with linseed oil. Scratches on mahogany may be retouched with a little stain of the same color.

Disconnect electric iron as soon as you have finished with it, thus preventing fires and the burning out of iron.

If you have trouble with the sugar in fruit or berry pies, try this: Put only half the required quantity of sugar in the pie at first. Mix the rest with half the quantity of water and boil it three minutes. When the pie has baked about 20 minutes, pour the syrup into the pie through a paper funnel stuck through one of the steam holes.

CHRIST AND LIFE AFTER DEATH (EASTER)

Lesson Text—Mark 12:24-27; 1 Corinthians 15:50-54... Golden Text—But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.—1 Corinthians 15:57.

V for Victory! By that sign have many peoples indicated their confidence in a victory to come. It is well to have a victorious outlook, but it is even better to be able to look back to victory already attained.

He is the Lord of the living, not of the dead; those who, even though they may have left this world, have only laid aside the corruptible body for the incorruptible. They are victorious, even as we are, over death.

The Sadducees, a rationalistic sect of Christ's day, denied the resurrection, and so they were much distressed by His plain teaching of that truth.

That is precisely what is wrong with the modernists of our day—they misinterpret God's Word, and they deny His power.

Then Jesus turned to them and in place of their fantastic "supposing" story He spoke of three real characters from the books of Moses which they taught. He said that God still calls Himself the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, because though they had long been in their graves, they were still alive.

Whether we shall tarry until Jesus comes and be transformed without dying, or whether we shall await His coming for a time among those who sleep, there will come that trumpet sound, and in the twinkling of an eye we shall be clothed upon with incorruptible bodies like unto His glorious resurrection body.

When Satan after a long struggle finally had Christ's body laid away in the tomb, he thought he had the victory, but just then came his great hour of defeat.

"Up from the grave He arose, With a mighty triumph o'er His foes."

"Death could not hold its prey," for it sought to hold one stronger than itself—the Lord of Life Himself. He had broken the bonds of sin by His sacrifice on Calvary; and since it was sin (the violation of the law) which brought death in the first place (Gen. 2:17; 3:17-19), there was now a complete victory over both sin and death.

The one who knows Christ need no longer fear death. For him it is not a leap into the dark, or going as a trembling wayfarer into an unknown land.

Such a hope has a splendid practical application, which Paul stresses in verse 58. With victorious assurance the believer stands steadfast and unmovable at the center of life, while always abounding in the joys and duties which come at its circumference.

We trust that it is your possession by faith in Christ. If not, make it so on this resurrection Sunday!

Toasted Bunnies Parade for This Easter Dinner! (See Recipes Below)

Easter Time

As gay as red tulips with food as fresh and appealing as spring itself is the Easter dinner menu I have planned for you today.

With Easter on the wing, winter is definitely on the way out, and our thoughts naturally turn to lighter foods and delicate, pastel table settings.

Grind apple and orange, leaving skins on. Combine cranberry sauce with fruits and lemon juice. Add to gelatin. Pour into molds and chill until firm.

Crusty, fragrant honey rolls are a gracious addition to your Easter dinner. No need to worry about food shortages when excellent rolls such as these are minus sugar and only a small amount of fat and one egg.

Method I. Peel new potatoes and wash thoroughly. Cook them in boiling water for 10 minutes. Add enough rich milk not quite enough to cover, and finish cooking potatoes. Be careful not to burn potatoes, stirring often, or cook in double boiler.

Method II. Boil new potatoes in their jackets. Cool and peel. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, blend in 2 tablespoons flour, and add 1 cup of milk. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thick. Add potatoes to this, season, and heat through.

Easter dinner with the traditional leg of lamb, peas and mint jelly touches demands a distinctive and at the same time a harmoniously flavored dessert. Almond flavoring is perfect foil, guaranteed to please, in this creamy, quickly prepared ice cream. No sugar required!

For the Easter bunny you may use day-old sliced white bread. Cut the bread with a bunny-shaped cookie cutter. Spread all sides of the cutouts with sweetened condensed milk, then roll in dry, shredded coconut, broken fine.

Rolls though leftover go over well even the next day. You can slice, toast and butter them. If you like them whole, simply put in a covered casserole with a few drops of water and allow a few minutes to heat through.

Dessert? This is easy. Spoon the ice cream on vanilla wafers, top with another wafer, more ice cream until all is used. Chill for an hour or so and serve sliced with a dab of whipped cream if desired.

For you would like expert advice on your cooking and household problems, write to Lynn Chambers, Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

WE AMERICANS
by T. G. Craft

We Americans have enjoyed the blessings of our Democracy for more than one and half century. In our America, we felt safe and secure from the ravages of war and the marauders of international banditry and brigantry. Now the entire world is at war, and our nation is the only Democracy left that is strong enough to fight the international bandits whose ruthless designs seek to destroy our America and all nations of justice and freedom. It is now our war, as well as, the war of other Democracies.

Our objective is to win the war and make secure the Democratic order in the whole world. But let America take note that this war cannot be won by making speeches; criticizing the governments, debating long and furiously petty questions of Democratic procedure; wrangling over political positions and preferment, focusing our time and energies upon profits and powers, and absorbing our strength in trying to maintain the peace time status quo.

We Americans will soon realize that this war will demand the best that every individual can contribute toward ultimate victory. Our vast reserves of gold, silver, farm products, and many other resources will not win this war for us. It will take unceasing toil and long hours on the farm, and in the factory to supply the necessities of a modern war. We Americans must make up our minds that this is now our war. It will be America that will win this war or lose it. Yes it is our war from now on. We can lose it, if we do not throw our entire resources and labors into our all out goal for victory. Yes, America, it is your war; our war from now on.

This war is not a show, nor a game at which the crowds sit and watch the dramatists perform for us. In this war, the crowds cannot do their part by paying the gate fees and then rooting for their side. No, in this war, we are all actors and actresses on the world stage of conflict and war. We all must perform; must take our places and do our part. It will challenge every one of us. There is no place for the complacent and indifferent citizens. Remember Americans, that Hitler and Tojo know that if they lose this war what will happen to them and their people. Therefore, both Germany and Japan are going to throw every man and woman, together with all their combined resources into the winning of the war. Let us, who are Americans realize now and for all time that we have a hard long task on our hands in the winning of this war. We must remember from now on that this is not England's war; it is not the Dutch's war; it is not China's war; it is not India's war; IT IS OUR WAR! We will win or lose this war. The Democracies are looking to America to win the War. They will help, but Democracy is gone from the earth if we do not save it by being victorious in battle.

We Americans, might as well make up our minds that money and property will mean nothing to us if we lose this war. This is no time for our people to think of personal security. If the nation survives, it will be through the entire efforts and sacrifices of all the people. Most of us will not have much of the nation's resources when our war debts shall be paid, but if we can have our institutions we so much love and cherish, we shall have the greatest blessings. No man will be a devoted citizen to his country in these days who will seek to enhance his own security at the price of our sons and fathers who will give themselves in battle for the security and safety of this nation. We will show our loyalty in trials.

Let America get set for a long war. You and I will be some years older when this war shall have ended. We will have to conquer our enemies, and retake from lands that they have taken from the Democracies before this war is over. We must yet prepare and fight an offensive war before this war will end. The end is not in sight. We cannot afford to drive ourselves into complacency by wishful hoping. Remember America, we will have to conquer our enemies. This is a fight unto death. The strongest will survive.

We in our generation have not known anything about sacrifices. The depression came upon us and sorely afflicted many of our citizens. In this war, we will have plenty, but we must divide our bread and meat with England, Russia, India, China, and others. We will be interested in seeing that our own expected army of ten million men; eight million in England; ten to fifteen in China and as many in India do not grow hungry. We will have to supply these men with guns and munitions of war. A tremendous task for any nation. But we shall have to maintain and feed first of all our army; then help feed and clothe the Allied armies.

Our government will see to it that millions of our citizens be inducted into the armed services. But we do not need all our people in the armed forces. The home front must go forward to provide for the army in the battle lines; to keep supplies and foods for the soldiers; to care for children; the aged; the sick; to educate the children; to make Christians worthy of the name through the church life, and to provide the nation with citizens who will be trained to take up the task of Democratic living when this frightful nightmare of horror shall have ended. We need some body to keep up the lines back home; the lines at the front will be maintained. We Americans must win this war, and We will under God!
