

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Himalayan Tahr Family

"I feel sorry for ordinary goats," said Mr. Himalayan Tahr.

"So do I," said Mrs. Himalayan Tahr.

They were usually called Mr. and Mrs. Wild Goat, or Mr. and Mrs. Tahr—not by the people of the zoo—but by each other.

It was more simple a name than their best name which they had decided they would only use for best occasions.

"Just as people save their best clothes for best occasions, so will we save our best name," said Mr. Tahr.

"We haven't any best clothes to put aside and take out and wear only when there are parties."

"Not only have we no best clothes but we have only the one costume to wear all the time, but we haven't any parties to which we are asked or to which we would go if we were asked."

"That is so," agreed Mrs. Tahr. "Really, my dear, we are superior to people in many ways."

"Take just the one matter of clothes. I often hear people who come to the zoo complain that they haven't the right dress to wear to some one's party, or that they have worn the same dress so many times they are ashamed of being seen in it again."

"Now, we don't mind wearing the same costume all the time."

"We don't grumble as people do. We are contented with having one very superior costume."

"It does for all occasions, too. We are always, according to Tahr standards, suitably dressed."

"We don't feel too much dressed up in the morning or too overly dressed for the evening."

"People are always talking about having something suitable for every day and something suitable for Sundays and so on and on."

"They actually worry about these things. Yes, they actually worry about them."

"It does seem silly."

"Yes," said Mr. Tahr, "but then you and I are worth while."

"I am something worth while—to be as I am, or as you are, my dear," he added hastily.

"That's so," his mate agreed. "It is fine to be as I am—or rather as you are," she added as quickly as possible.

"And the little goats are such precious little dears," continued their mother.

"You mustn't call them precious little dears," said their father, "for people will think, if they hear you, that you mean that your children belong to the deer or the antelope family."

"I only meant to be affectionate in my way of speaking of them," said Mrs. Wild Goat, or Mrs. Tahr.

"True," said Mr. Wild Goat. "Still it would be safer to speak of your dear little wild goats."

"I will in the future," Mrs. Wild Goat said.

"We came from India," said Mrs. Wild Goat, "but our children were born in this fine zoo. They have never known the wild life among the rocks and forests of India. Ah, the experiences we have had would make their little horns and their thick purple hair rise on end."

"I don't know that it would actually do all that," said Mrs. Wild Goat.

"Very nearly," her mate answered.

"They don't know how quick we were when running from danger," continued Mr. Wild Goat, "but it does my wild goat heart good to see that they are bright little goats and can run well, too. Ah, but they're safe in the zoo, just as we are, and they will never know the terrible dangers we have passed through."

"But not that we are safe it is nice to think of them," said Mrs. Wild Goat, "for we both had many narrow escapes climbing and running over those rocks and crags, way, way off in that foreign land."

"Yes," said Mr. Wild Goat, "that is why I am sorry for ordinary goats. Neither they, nor their grandparents have had adventures like the Himalayan Tahr family have had."

Famous Obelisk

The obelisk in Central Park, New York, is thirty-five centuries old. As the Standard Guide to New York remarks: "It was old when Moses read its inscriptions in honor of the Egyptian sun god." It stood before the temple of the Sun at Heliopolis, near Cairo, where it was erected in the sixteenth century B. C. by Thothmes III. In twelve B. C. Augustus Caesar carried the obelisk to Alexandria. Here it and two others were erected before the temple of the Caesars. In 1877 it was presented by the khedive of Egypt to the United States, and brought to America by Lieutenant-Commander Goringe, U. S. N. It was erected in Central park in 1881. William H. Vanderbilt bore the expense of removal, which was $102,570. The obelisk is a monolith of syenite from the granite quarries of Syene, Egypt. The shaft is 69 1/2 feet high, 7 feet 9 inches by 7 feet 8 1/2 inches at the base and weighs 448,000 pounds.

Saltcellar in Use as Table Ornament

The word "saltcellar" is a combination of "salt" and "cellar," assimilated in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries to "cellar," meaning a storeroom. There are two types of ancient saltcellars, the large ornamental "salt," which during the Medieval ages and later, was one of the most important pieces of household plate; and the smaller "salt," actually used and placed near the plates or troupers of the guests at table, and termed "trouper salts."

In Corpus Christi college, Cambridge, there is a salt vat, or cellar, that once belonged to Archbishop Parker. It is of gold and silver and is beautifully carved, standing about five inches high. The Bishop Fox salt vat at Oxford is another famous piece. In ancient times the large ornamental "salt" acted as a dividing line at table between the high-born and those of more lowly origin, whose allotted place was "below the salt."—Dearborn Independent.

FORMER EUROPEAN MILITARY ATTACHE MAKES MOVIE EPIC

Immediately upon signing with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio to direct "The Merry Widow," which is coming to the Palace Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Erick von Stroheim secluded himself "somewhere in Southern California" to write the adaptation and continuity of the film version of the famous stage play. Von Stroheim left town, giving no address, with co-adaptor and scenarist Benjamin Glazer, his assistant, Edward Sowers, two stenographers and a mass of research data.

In transposing "The Merry Widow" presents one of the most significant and interesting combinations effected for the screen. The title suggests picturesque romance, and in the hands of a man of the genius of von Stroheim, all its rich possibilities are realized. The title role, in which Miss Murray is co-starred, furnishes this piquant actress with the best role of her career, and enables her to imbue "The Merry Widow" with the charm and vivacity it needs.

Now, before you read any further, let us explain just what this sale means to you and also to us. We want you to KNOW that we mean what we say in this ad. The prices we will put on our merchandise mean the prices as they are before they come into our house. We are not including clerk hire, rent, insurance, spoilage and breakage, interest on investment, delivery or any other expense that we have.

PRICES DOWN DOWN DOWN SHATTERED!

THE GREATEST VALUES IN GROCERIES

Ever Offered to the People of Snyder and Scurry County

Have you ever heard of a grocery Store selling everything in their house at just what it cost them? Well this is what we are going to do. We are going to sell you any piece of merchandise we have in our store, except flour, at JUST WHAT IT COST US. This sale begins

SATURDAY, APRIL, 17

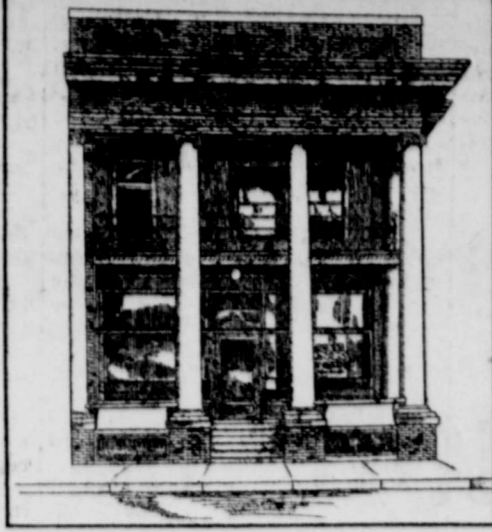

And continues until our stock is reduced to the level we want it. This is not a money-raising sale, but one to reduce our stock and overhead cost. All our merchandise is of standard quality and as good as can be bought anywhere.

I have put on many sales during my business career in Snyder and I am sure there is not one who can say that I have ever misrepresented anything. You who are not acquainted with the grocery business cannot be expected to realize what it means to carry as large a stock of merchandise as we now carry. What we want to do is cut our stock down then in the future, order as we need it. You can readily see how this would curtail expenses a great deal, therefore putting us in position to sell you groceries at a cheaper price. We are not quoting prices in this ad as it would consume too much space. Also, we do not feel that it is necessary because everything that we sell will be sold as we have stated—at wholesale price. This is the chance that comes once in a lifetime, good people, so don't fail to get your share of this high-class, standard merchandise.

If you don't think you're getting it at cost, ask to see the Invoice. We'll show you.

Safe Farming

REDUCE THE COTTON ACREAGE!

It looks like now that the carry-over on the 1925 crop will be large. All indications now point to a good yield on the acreage planted. Therefore, we may expect a low price for our 1926 crop. Col. Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas Safe Farming Association, says: "If there is not a very substantial acreage reduction this year, we are headed for 10-cent cotton this fall." We believe it imperative to reduce the cotton acreage in this section by at least one-fourth. It will be suicide to increase.

The problem of reducing the cotton acreage is not an individual proposition, rather, it is a problem for the whole Southland. But you should reduce your acreage, first, and then, ask your neighbor to do likewise. Do not be a seech on the balance of the farmers, who are reducing, by planting an increased acreage and thus secure the benefits of their safe farming.

In the name of all that is high and holy where does the town and city schools get their money, but from the farms and farmers to a great extent. Take the farming interest out of the whole country and the whole country will go bankrupt in a few years and if this is true and it is, then let us do just as our bankers have advised, that is, make a living at home, stay at home, board in our own kitchens and have our own schools.

CONDRA FOR SHERIFF.

To the Voters of Scurry County, Texas: Dear Friends: I am again in the race for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of your county.

Most of you already know me and my record of the past. To those who do not know either me or my record, I wish to say that my policy is simply justice and fairness—without bias or partiality to any, either high or low.

I firmly believe in the doctrine of law and order. I believe that all laws, regardless of preference,

Bro. B. A. Moores, the pastor of the Methodist church, filled his regular appointment Sunday and preached Sunday and Sunday night.

The Sunday School was very well attended. There were 75 present, collection $1.97 and 11 Bibles. There should have been several times that number of Bibles, but we have gone away from that good practice. Let's form a Bible reading circle.

The trustees of the Crowder, Bethel and Turner School district with a number of the patrons from each school met at the Carrell home to discuss the problem of consolidating the three school districts and building a good building at a central point so that each school could be easily reached by trucks, after lots of talk and an agreement was made and the petitions were secured and in three days sufficient names were secured to put the consolidation project over with a good majority.

This is a movement in the right direction as it should and will result in better schools and school work, and indeed why should not the children of the country schools have as good school advantages as should be strictly enforced. If I should be elected to the office sought, I promise faithfully to do my full share in these matters. I fully realize the fact that an officer cannot fully enforce the laws without the co-operation of other officers, and especially the citizenship. If the people care to support me with their votes first, and after that with their co-operation, I will undertake to do the rest.

I am a native Texan, and have resided in this county sixteen years. Thus, you see, I am one of you. I thank you, in advance, for your support.

Respectfully submitted, L. T. (Tom) CONDRA. (Political Adv.)

Insurmountable obstacles seemed to be in the way. Improvement! Seemingly impossible! But the Lee organization set to work on the problem. Ideas were presented to perfect the fabric. Many were discarded. At last one seemed feasible. Experiments. Tests. New machines. More tests. Months of research. Months of disappointment. Then, a discovery. A new Lee discovery! Apex Lee fabrics. This time with the New Lee Fabrics, a sensation in the industry. New fabrics with 50% more strength, 50% more wear. The Wellington Leader suggests that the overworked bank clerk gets only three months in the year off as holidays. Well, we will not worry about that neither will the clerks, for when there will be only one or two days in each week when banks will have to open for business. And when we have holiday for every work day in the year, we will all have to carry our money in our pockets and the banking business will become obsolete, for the reason they will have to close on every holiday and every day in the year will be a holiday.—Claude News.

CIRCULAR ADVERTISING.

Have you ever noticed what the average person does when they receive a piece of "direct advertising" through the mails? If you have not, observe the next person you see opening a batch of letters containing on and a half cent stamps. Mr. Business Man, when you open your batch of mail, how do you dispose of the score of letters you receive daily from companies wishing to interest you in their products? If you are like the majority of the persons we have observed, you will give it a quick glance, observe what it is and with a sweep of the arm shove it and all similar letters and circulars received by mail, into the wastebasket. You are no different from the millions of other persons who receive advertisements. But when you glance at an advertisement in a newspaper, do you consign the entire paper into the wastebasket? Of course you do not. You read the entire paper and your attention is attracted more than one time to the advertisements on that page. It keeps bobbing up before your eyes and each time it flashes you see something different and if you are interested in the item mentioned some certain statement which impresses you will cause you to peruse the entire advertisement sometimes even unconsciously, but the impression remains nevertheless. Several persons will no doubt read the same copy of the paper, while the piece of direct mail advertising which you consign to the wastebasket with a sneer is only half-way read by one person. This should be evidence that newspaper advertising is the most profitable and the most desirable.—Paris News.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia's greatest merchant, declared that the best way to advertise is every way, and the best time is all the time. Mr. Wanamaker was a very large advertiser.

Capital and Industry

There is a very close relation between Capital and Industry. Capital remains unused without Industry; and Industry has to depend upon Capital to give it usefulness and power.

The bank is the connecting link between these two factors. It is the distributing point for the liquid wealth of the community.

You help yourself and you further the usefulness of this bank through co-operation.

Let us know if there is any way we may serve you.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN.

"My idea of a quiet neighborhood," says P. M. Bolin, "is one where every fellow tries to live within his income."

Of course we are a peaceful nation. Can't you tell by the government reports which show that only 67 per cent of all our annual appropriations are for war purposes.

Rev. Dodson says "Modern girls are just like autos—they may be painted up pretty and then have nothing to brag of under the hood."

Too many people would sooner borrow trouble than to pay back the money they owe.

"Man has learned to fly like a bird," observes Will Clark, "but he'll never be able to imitate a bird when it comes to sitting on a barbed-wire fence."

The girl of today seems to take care of her complexion by keeping it in dust-proof boxes.

"Now that the women wear such short skirts," observes Pope Strayhorn, "it may help them in running for office."

Tom McMillan shows he is a real philosopher when he declares that "Most of us ought to be thankful that the prayers of our enemies are not all answered."

TIMES-SIGNAL SIGNALS.

Everybody on a political machine wants to blow the horn and nobody wants to buy the gas. But free political advertising never did buy paper or pay printers.

Wealth may not bring happiness, but most of us are willing to take a chance with it.

Amateur gardeners around Snyder are now busy getting the hoes in shape so their wives can do the work a little later on.

Don't look for trouble unless you are sure you know what to do with it when you find it. It might get the best of you.

Many a fellow who is thrown on his own resources falls back on those of his friends—his dad in particular.

Here are two questions no sensible Snyder man will try to answer: "Who settled the coal strike?" or "How old is Ann?"

A bunch of western railway employees sent a carload of imaginary smiles to President Coolidge which the president received with imaginary enthusiasm.

The Snyder man who says a woman can't keep a secret probably never tried asking one of them her age.

We are around again to the season of the man with the hoe and the politician with the hokum.

We've also noticed that the unemployment situation picks up considerable activity when the boss steps in.

The federal government has called in all $10,000 bills. Snyder residents getting any of them in change should not forget to mail them in to Washington immediately.

Mussolini is up against the acid test now. He has ordered that there shall be no more automobile petting parties in Rome.

Since the Tower of Babel there has been nothing to compare with the debates in congress on what to do for the farmer.

We know of one Snyder business man who confides his financial troubles to his wife—when ever she asks him for money.

SAYS FORD AIRPLANE GREAT SUCCESS.

Joe Strayhorn was at Dallas the latter part of last week, getting instructions concerning the Ford airplane. Mr. Strayhorn says that the Ford airplane is just as simple and practicable as the famous "Tin Lizzie," and will really sell for less.

Mr. Strayhorn has his parking place ready, and will probably receive a car load of the machines in a few days. The large lot with the tall board fence and which contains about a third of a block of land, will be used as a place of starting and landing until Mr. Strayhorn can build a larger place.

Mr. Strayhorn says that a number have offered to place orders for the machines, but he has not booked any orders yet, and won't book any until he can get further orders from the manufacturer. He says that the new plane will be capable of making 90 miles an hour with perfect safety. In other words, one could leave home in George Wilson Goss of Wichita Falls. Combination tubing drainer and puller. This invention aims in its objects to arrange said valve opening means in such a manner as to unseat the valve on the upward stroke of the traveling valve, to thus overcome the excessive weight of the fluid bearing on the valve.

Porter M. Travis of Sherman. Luggage carrier. This provides a device with means for fastening the same securely in position so as not to mar the paint or otherwise injure the automobile; to prevent rattling or vibration and to evenly balance and consequent safety and ease of riding.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

The Whirlwind Club. Tuesday, March 13, the Whirlwind Club met in the high school auditorium.

The house was called to order by the president. The secretary called the roll and after the reading of the minutes the following program was given:

Piano Solo—Margaret Dell Primm.

Early Life of Edgar A. Guest—Lewis Bennett.

"The Brown Wheel"—Lois Houghs.

Edgar A. Guest as a Newspaper Editor—James Halcomb.

After the program there was a few minutes of business and a program selected for the next meeting before the house adjourned.—Reporter.

$100 GREW TO $335,000 WHEN PROGRESS CAME

The other day we ran across a list of the original stockholders in the Ford Motor Company, with the amount of stock subscribed by each. The figures are said to be approximately correct and, perhaps, they will interest you as much as they did us:

Henry Ford $25,000

Alex Y. Malcolmson 25,500

John S. Gray 10,500

John W. Anderson 5,000

V. C. Frey 5,000

Horace H. Rackman 5,000

John F. Dodge 5,000

Albert Strelow 5,000

Horace E. Dodge 5,000

James Couzens 2,400

C. J. Woodhall 1,000

C. H. Bennett 5,000

Miss R. V. Couzens 100

Of this sum only $28,000 was paid in cash.

Ford put in his car for stock and let Malcolmson have $25,500 worth of stock for guaranteeing $7,000 worth of bills. The Dodges paid no cash, but agreed to furnish materials for the amount of their stock. Most of the others put up notes, in whole or in part.

Gold Mine Failed.

Strelow sold out for $25,000 to Couzens in order to invest in a gold mine in British Columbia. Had he stuck, his stock today could be sold for $50,000,000. The gold mine was a failure.

Malcolmson sold to Ford for $175,000. His stock, it is estimated, would today be worth $250,000,000.

Bennett, Woodhall and Frey sold out soon after, Malcolmson, Bennett and Frey each receiving $25,000 for their stock from Ford and Couzens. Ford bought Woodhall's stock for $5,000.

Miss R. V. Couzens, sister of James Couzens, took out $335,000 from her investment of $100.

James Couzens took out $39,500,000.

The Gray estate sold its stock for $26,250,000 after drawing dividends of $10,355,075.

The investment of Rackham and Anderson, attorneys, yielded each of the $17,435,750.

The Dodge Brothers took out a total of $34,871,500.

MEETING AT SCARBOROUGH ST. CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The friends and brethren of the Church of Christ are especially invited to hear our brother, D. L. Hukel in the series of meetings now running in our building on Scarborough Street.

Brother Hukel is a very earnest, able preacher, and we are having a great time in the meeting. The public generally are cordially invited to be with us. Bring your friends. They will be pleased if they love the simple gospel of Christ, told in a kind, plain way. The meeting runs through week. These subjects will be used: "Hold Fast," "Vigilance," "Which Side Are You On?" "Encouragement," "Journey of Life."

S. A. RIBBLE, Minister.

Is Rain Water Soft?

Yes, but not as soft as the water we use to wash your clothes in.

We have been trying for the past year and longer to get a water softening plant. Now that we have it we want to tell you about it, or better still come down and we will show you why it is impossible to turn out pretty white laundry work with hard water.

Beginning Monday, April 19th we will give the first fifteen ladies visiting us a gallon jug of the best shampoo water you ever used in your life.

"HOW MUCH FIRE IN HELL FIRE?" Is hell a place of real fire and brimstone? Mr. Burbank said he could not believe in a God who would send men to a burning hell, but is a penitentiary a necessity or not? Maybe, God must have a penitentiary in the spiritual and unseen world. If so, how much real fire is there? Next Sunday night at the Methodist church the subject will be, "How Much Fire in Hell Fire?" At 11 a. m. the subject will be "The Higher Life; or, What Entire Sanctification Is Not."

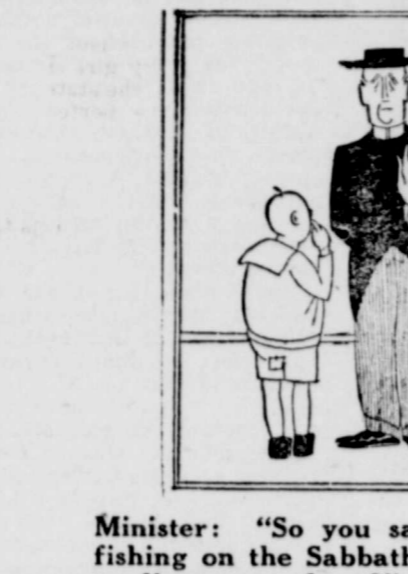

No subject is of more importance to Christian people than the question of the higher life. The average Christian doesn't amount to very much, there surely must be a far higher and a far better life than the majority of Christian people are living. Come out and hear these sermons next Sunday. Two good messages and a hearty welcome at "The Church of the glad hand," next Sunday. Won't you come and be with us? B. W. DODSON, Pastor.

DORCAS CLUB

The Dorcas Club met in regular session Thursday morning, April 15. All the members were present except Gladys McCollum. We were very sorry she couldn't be here. Miss Roten gave us a recipe for drop biscuits. We made them and she seemed very pleased with the result. A sample apron and cap were cut out.

Miss Roten basted a hot pan lifter and gave every detail for making it and the cup towels. The next meeting will be held on Thursday morning, April 15. Visitors are welcome.

We are very glad indeed to have Miss Hays back with us again. We have greatly missed her.

Our attendance has been very good this month but could be improved upon.

The young people of the community planned to go to Dunn with their play last Friday night. Because of the declamation Friday night in which Dunn was interested and because Dunn did not receive our letter telling them that we were going we could not go.

Mrs. Johnston and Miss Hays feel that the disappointment was too keen and therefore suggested that all go to the Canyons north of Fluvanna to eat their lunches that had been prepared to carry to Dunn. After wetting the appetite by climbing the sides of the canyons a splendid lunch was served to Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Farrow of Fluvanna and the following from here: Mrs. Johnston, Elizabeth Hays, Floy Lewis, Raye Morgan, Mary Terry, Jewel Ramsey, Bamma Carye, Margaret Carroll, Paris McPherson Reid Bates, Dave Morgan and Lester Lewis. Anyone doubting the quality of the sandwiches may ask Reid Bates about them.—Reporter.

CANYON CLUB

Last but not least Club met again last Thursday. Most of our club girls had their hot pan lifters, aprons, caps and bungalow aprons done, which our adult leader and demonstrator examined and praised very highly, which pleased us very much.

We lost our secretary and one of our club girls, Misses Ethel and Cassie Watson, who moved back to Ellis County. We were very sorry to lose them from our club.

Pauline Lee was elected secretary in Miss Ethel Watson's place.

Our demonstrator took all of our pictures with our aprons and caps on. Don't you know its a sight for sore eyes.

- 2 teaspoonful baking powder.
- 1-3 cup sugar.
- 2 eggs.
- 1-2 cup milk.
- 3 teaspoonful melted butter.
- Mix dry ingredients together; beat eggs light; add milk, and add dry ingredients; mix well; add butter; place in well greased pan. Place fruit in rows on batter.

NO. II.

- 1 egg beaten.
- 1-2 cup sugar.
- 4 teaspoonful milk.
- 1-2 cup flour.
- 1-2 cup melted butter.
- Mix all together. Pour over any kind of fruit desired, and place in hot oven.

Pour No. II over No. I. The above recipe has been tested by Mrs. Lynn Henderson of the Pleasant Hill community. A number of guests had the pleasure of eating some of the coffee cake and they declare that it was delicious.

KITCHEN OORNER

Twenty-six women in Scurry County have entered the "Kitchen Contest." The contests will be over and the kitchens met and judged by May 1. Miss Laura Belle Roten, our County Home Demonstration Agent, suggests that these women might use the following list in checking up their work in these few days that are left before the contests ends:

- 1 Clock.
- 2 Wheel tray.
- 3 Shelf or space for cook books.
- 4 Space for keeping household accounts.
- 5 Memorandum pad and pencil.
- 6 Scissors.
- 7 Can containing twine and cord mark outside of same.
- 8 Work stool. Most excellent one can be made from high chair.
- 9 Rack for tea towels and dish cloth. Space near sink for regular cleaning agents, brushes, etc.
- 10 At least two lamps with reflectors, one over sink and other convenient to stove. Arrangement of furnishings may alter this however.
- 11 Have built-in ironing board fastened to wall. Have space for irons, etc.
- 12 Closets for brooms, mops, dust pan, etc.
- 13 Have long handled dust pan.
- 14 Use one-half gallon bucket for garbage, which has been enameled inside and out. Cover with a loose fitting enameled lid.
- 15 Drain pipe from sink should carry waste water to garden or to orchard.
- 16 If oil stove is used legs may be removed and stove placed on platform. The platform may be used for drawer space to store things which are seldom used.
- 17 Second-hand linoleum may be used, makes a splendid and inexpensive floor covering. First, put lots of newspaper on the old floor. Over this place the linoleum. Cover seams with brass carpet banding. Apply at least three coats of a good floor paint, allowing each coat to dry thoroughly before applying next coat. After the third coat is dried, cover the surface with a good floor varnish. This is a most practical floor covering and is very attractive when the finish corresponds with the woodwork.
- 18 Don't forget the correct height working surfaces for your cabinet, stove, table, etc. The sink should be raised several inches higher than the other working surfaces previously mentioned.
- 19 Glass panels may be placed in the outside doors to admit more light.
- 20 Roller curtains may be made of bleached or unbleached canvas. They should be plain or, with some colored banding or design, however, simplicity should be the keynote at all times.
- 21. A potted plant, either parsley or some flower, will add much to the attractiveness of the kitchen.

22. A calendar is another essential convenience. I should not be too large or too conspicuous. 23. Place equipment that will be used most frequently close together in order to save steps.

AN INTERVIEW WITH A SCURRY CLUB GIRL

A Times-Signal representative had the pleasure of interviewing a little girl who is a member of one of the Scurry County girls' home demonstration clubs, last Saturday morning in the office of our County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Laura Belle Roten. Fannie Lee Woody of the Pleasant Hill community told of her club work.

"I have set one hen on mixed eggs, but I am anxious to have a setting of full blood chickens. Mother has a lot of chickens and I help her care for them."

"I have made my club cap and apron, a dresser scarf, bungalow apron and cup and hot pan lifter. I have worked to improve the looks of my room, too," she said. "I have embroidered pillow cases and dyed my draperies. I have made a hot bed and all by myself. She assured the representative. "I could easily do it after watching mother make hers," she said. "And I have planted tomatoes in it. I have also planted flowers and I have set out a peach tree. I help mother cook. I like to make drop biscuits." She explained that it did not take as much time to make drop biscuits as the other kind of biscuits and more milk could be used.

Fannie Lee stated that she had come into town Saturday for Miss Roten to assist her in making a poster on "A Well Dressed Club Girl." However it seemed that Fannie Lee had some splendid ideas of her own concerning a well dressed club girl.

"I would suggest that a girl should have both wool dresses and dresses that would launder nicely, too," she said. "I think simple dresses made on straight lines are best. Oxfords are the kind of shoes for her, certainly not high heels. Cotton or linen hose are appropriate with school dresses. I think that every girl should wear bloomers, too," she stated, "so that she might have perfect freedom while running and jumping at play. Her hat should be simple and of a color that would bring out her hair and eyes."

"Miss Roten has told us that we are judged by our hands, whether or not they are clean, and by our shoes, whether or not they are polished. She tells us, too, not to point up like a sign board. She always tells us that the best way to be pretty is to have a pretty soul."

"A girl should eat some fruits, vegetables and meat. We must each have one quart of milk each day," she said. Maybe this is one reason why Fannie Lee prefers drop biscuits.

"Oranges and tomatoes are good for our teeth," she said. "I have always said that the best girls in my county clubs like their work," declared Miss Roten. Then Fannie Lee must surely be one of the best for she has truly shown her interest in the club work.

"Mother knows that I can do lots of things better just since I've been in the club work," Fannie Lee declared. Fannie Lee is a member of the first club organized in Scurry County, the "Scurry Club," of the Pleasant Hill community. Mrs. Hardy Scarborough is the efficient adult leader of the club. Miss Roten meets with them twice each month and Fannie Lee declared that the club members so enjoy and look forward to her being with them. She helps to see that our home work is not all drudgery but professional work.

GREAT FILM SPECTACLE. "THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD" SOON TO BE SEEN HERE.

Mighty photodrama, based on terrible catastrophe of 1889, is acclaimed as remarkable screen masterpiece. Cast is distinguished one.

Regarded by all, by reason of its greatness and originality, as one of the most powerful film spectacles ever produced, Fox Film's picture of "The Johnstown Flood," ranked with the greatest disaster of the world, comes to local picture devotees next Wednesday and Thursday as the feature attraction at the Palace theatre.

"The Johnstown Flood," filmed under the direction of Irving Cummings, is rich with dramatic value and swift action. It has, as a background, the events attending the awful calamity of 1889 when on May 31, the dam that fed millions above Johnstown, Pa., holding an overloved capacity of water caused by torrential rains, gave way and the unleashed water swept the entire Conemaugh Valley, carrying thousands of human beings to destruction.

George O'Brien heads the large cast of film stars who are seen in the production. Florence Gilbert, charming heroine of the popular Van Bibber sensation, serves as a foil for the athletic star. Janet Gaynor, new screen sensation and 1926 Wampus Baby Star, is seen in a feature role with Anders Randolph, Paul Nicholson, Paul Panzer, Walter Perry and George Harris in the chief supporting cast.

Tales of the Old Frontier

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)
THE AMERICAN WHO DISCOVERED PIKES PEAK

Although Pikes Peak, the most famous mountain in America, is named for Lieut. Zebulon Montgomery Pike, who first saw the "Grand Mountain," as he called it, November 15, 1806, he failed to conquer its rocky sides. That was first accomplished on July 17, 1829, by Dr. Edward James, a member of Maj. Stephen H. Long's exploring expedition.

Neither was Pike the original American discoverer of the scintillating of the Rockies. That honor belongs to another explorer whose name is almost forgotten and whose right to fame has been passed by. He was James Pursesley, a Kentuckian. As early as 1802 Pursesley was trapping in the Spanish territory across the Mississippi and he preceded Lewis and Clark, the famous explorers of the Louisiana Purchase, in some parts of the Upper Missouri country just as he preceded Pike in the Colorado Rockies.

About 1804 Pursesley joined a trading expedition bound for the country of the Mandans. Arriving there he was sent with a few companions to trade with the Kiowas. But the Sioux drove the Kiowas and their white friends into the mountains at the head of the Platte river and the Kiowas, wishing to open trade with the Spanish at Santa Fe, dispatched Pursesley and his men ahead to interview the governor for them. It was on this trip from the headwaters of the Platte to Santa Fe that Pursesley looked upon Pikes Peak, and so far as there is any record he was the first white American to do so.

After arriving at Santa Fe, Pursesley was detained by the Spanish and virtually held prisoner for nearly two years. While there he met Lieutenant Pike, who had been brought there under escort of Spanish troops because his exploring expedition had ended in a trespass upon Spanish territory. At this time Pursesley told Pike of having found gold in what is now South Park, Colo., north and west of Pikes Peak. He had carried away several nuggets in his shot pouch, but, becoming doubtful that he would ever reach civilization where he could use them, he had thrown the precious metal away.

Nothing to Worry About

To hear some young women talk they would be very choosy in selecting a husband. When it comes to domestic ability, men are not so finicky, if we may believe this parper found in Judge: The ceremony over, the wife began to weep copiously. "What's the matter?" asked the new husband. "I never told you that I don't know how to cook," sobbed the bride. "Don't fret," said he, "I'll not have anything to cook. I'm an editor."—Capper's Weekly.

Wrong Kind of Cushion

A camel has its limit of endurance, the old saw concerning the ultimate straw and the broken back will testify. Mrs. North also had her limit, which was finally reached when an argument, about which little could be understood, continued with unabated fury for two hours in the Smith household next door. Calling to Willie Smith, who was playing in the back yard, Mrs. North asked the seven-year-old shining light of the warring Smiths: "What is all the row about, Willie?" "Oh, mamma put her cushion on daddy's chair and he sat down on it," replied the small boy. "Why, that is no cause for such an argument, is it?" "Sure it is! It was mamma's pin cushion!"

Sugar From Linen

There is now in Germany a manufactory which turns out daily 1,000 pounds of pure white sugar made from old linen. An understanding of the process helps somewhat to dispel the unpleasant feeling we experience on hearing of the fact. Clean old linen is vegetable fibrin, and, when treated with sulphuric acid, it is converted into dextrin. This is washed with lime water, then treated with more acid, and it changes almost immediately, and crystallizes into glucose or grape-sugar, which is so highly valued in the making of rich preserves and jellies. The process is said to be economical, and the sugar is found to be chemically the same as the
