BIG CHICKEN FEAST HELD AT SCOTT BROS. RANCH

The Young Men's Bible class of Snyder gave a chicken fry last Friday evening at Scott Bros. ranch, near Abilene.

Those who attended were: Mr. J. L. Martin, teacher; A. C. Pruitt, John Speers, F. A. Cady, J. G. Hicks, Theodore Yoder, Joe Herrington, R. D. Martin, J. M. Brooks, J. P. Nelson, Herman Barby, W. C. (Nobs) Warren, Geo. Avery, R. P. Jones, Max Knox, Herbert Hughes, Ray Studevant, Dave Black, Clyde Shull, Randolph Patton, Hal G. Young and Henry Rosenberg.

The result of this party seems to have been fatal to a few Mrs. J. L. Martin, teacher, has contracted chickenpox, R. P. Jones, chickenpox, while Hal G. Young contracted the more serious of all chickenpox, caused from eating too much chicken livers and gizzards. F. A. Cady was awarded the grand prize which will be presented to him in solemn ceremony for being the champion chicken eater of West Texas; he was also declared by all present as being a full fledged chicken eating Methodist.

This class has started a series of entertainment which will be put on from time to time. An old fashioned hay ride is the next in a week or two—one of those kinds your mother and father use to go on.

Every young man, married or single, is invited to attend this class. It is non-sectarian, even though it is affiliated with the Methodist church, all religious denominations being invited.—Reporter.

SNYDER FOLK ATTEND LEAGUE GROUP MEETING

D. P. Yoder, Cecil Morris and Miss Lida May attended the Orient group meeting at the Sweetwater District at Sylvester Sunday. They report that there were some eighty young people present at the meeting, and that much interest and enthusiasm were retained throughout the program, and looking at the family reunion, they report a fine time and a real vacation.

ATTENDED FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bell returned last Thursday from a trip to New Mexico, attending at the family reunion, looking at the country, and returning a fine time and a real vacation.

To The Sunday School Teacher

You remember in last week's issue I admonished you to study Christ as a Teacher and pattern after Him.

Christ Studied.

Christ studied the Scriptures until He knew everything that was in them. He commanded you to study or "search the Scripture for in them you think you have eternal life and they which testify of me." Jno. 5:39.

Christ studied other things beside the Bible. He studied the vegetable, mineral and animal kingdoms. He studied man, the crowning effort of His creation more than anything else, because the soul of man is worth more than all the world. He knew every trait of character that was in man.

The lesson that I want to impress upon you is, to not only study the Bible until you know it doctrinally, historically and geographically, but study other things, too. There are so many books that will help you so much in your work. Almost every denomination now has a regular study course of books for teachers and officers that any teacher can become an efficient and skilled teacher if they are willing to sacrifice the time, and do some good hard studying.

Study your Bible every day, but study the teacher training course with it. The important office that you fill demands the very best effort that is in you. You may be a very good teacher or officer and never take the teacher training course but you would be a better one if you will take it.

The doctor, the lawyer, the preacher or the literary teacher must equip themselves in order to do skillful work in the public or else fall by the way.

The cry comes up from almost every pastor and general superintendent. How can we get trained teachers?

One writer has said: "If you do not take time and put forth effort to become a skilled teacher tomorrow you will be killed to do so today."

A Comparison.

The literary teacher attends school until he is absolutely master of the books that he is supposed to teach in the secular school. Then he takes a special course on theory and practice in teaching until he is master of all the sciences and arts of presenting and interpreting the thoughts of men to the thinklife of the class. He deals with the mind or intellect alone of the boy or girl. He goes no deeper than the interpretation of the thoughts of men. The Sunday School teacher may go before his class with a well prepared lesson, but not being skilled in the presentation of the truths that are contained in the lesson he is to some extent hampered and the class draws a comparison between his weaker power of presentation and that of his skilled secular teacher and the result is: The efforts of the Sunday School teacher will fall below their real worth and the cause suffers less.

The day school teacher reads above deals with the mind only. The Sunday School teacher goes through the mind, and with Bible in hand and its content in his mind and heart, he enters the domain of the soul and interprets not the thoughts of men, but the

SCURRY COUNTY AHEAD.

Judge Fritz R. Smith, Ivan and Orville Dodson, Pat Bullock and the Times-Signal man drove over to Lamesa Monday afternoon, and we are going to say that the difference in the crops of Scurry County and the part of Dawson County that we saw as we owe it to the people of Scurry County to make mention of it.

From the crop out to Lamesa the crops are small and are generally in need of moisture. Feed in some fields was twisted and in many it was actually parched, while practically every field of cotton showed the bad effects of the drought.

Dawson is one of the best counties in the Plains, but prospects on this side of Lamesa look bad. We were told, however, that most of Dawson County was in fine condition and that it was believed that in the aggregate the county would produce an average crop.

A FINE BIBLE LECTURE.

Judge Combs, Mayor of Abilene, delivered a fine lecture at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The Judge spoke from Corinthians where Paul expresses his implicit faith in Christ and the resurrection, and brought out many strong and convincing proofs that Christ was the Son of God, and that He died and was resurrected. The speaker also gave undeniable proofs of the inspiration of the New Testament, some of the proofs being taken from such eye witnesses as Peter and testimony from such men as Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. His lecture was well attended and has occasioned many highly favorable comments.

Christ had a passion for souls. I will not attempt to tell what Christ sacrificed, when He left the realms of eternal bliss to come down to this sin-cursed earth to restore lost souls. No, I could not portray the beauty, the glory and the grandeur of that city, the walls of which are jasper, the gates of which are pearl, and the streets of which are pure gold, the builder and maker of which is God.

I would not attempt to describe to you the perfection of the inhabitants of that place. If I could exhaust every descriptive term in every dialect upon earth it would then aspire to the verbiage of heaven's inhabitants for a little conception of the home that could not hold Christ when He saw a lost world. He had a passion for every soul in your class. Have you a like passion? I see you in the garden of Gethsemane. "A man of sorrow and acquainted with grief."

I see the sweat as it were great drops of blood coursing its way down a visage more marred than down that the prophet had ever seen. He had a passion for lost souls.

Have you a like passion? I see Him with a lacerated, bleeding back, with a crown of thorns pressed down upon His brow. He stands before the false accusers, and without a word of defense, He listens to the unjust death sentence that is passed upon Him.

I see you ponder upon Golgotha's hill, the cost of a lost soul. I hear the pitiful cry of a son to His father: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

He the Great Teacher had a passion for lost souls. Will you pattern after Him?

E. C. DODSON.

BELL COMMUNITY.

May I pull the rope and ring some items for the Bell community?

It is with much interest this writer has been reading the news from each community over the county. Scurry County certainly furnishes some good writers.

SECOND ANNUAL ROUND-UP AT RANCH EXPERIMENT STATION, AUG. 17-18.

The Agricultural Experiment Station of the A. and M. College of Texas announces the Second Annual Ranchman's Round-Up to be held at the ranch experiment station, located in Sutton and Edwards Counties and approximately 6 miles from Sonora, on the Sonora-Rock Springs highway, on August 17 and 18.

The purpose of this meeting is to bring together the ranchmen and citizens interested in the sheep and Angora goat and cattle industries.

A brief, concise report of each project carried out at the ranch experiment station will be made, giving the latest results in each case, so that ranchmen may have the benefit of the most recent knowledge in these several lines.

Texas leads all other states in the Union in the production of wool, and as well in the production of mohair. The ranch station is located in the heart of the wool producing region of Texas, seven Routes surrounding the Sonora station producing one-fourth of all the Angora goats produced in the United States.

The ranch station is studying animal diseases, particularly the diseases of sheep and goats, including the so-called "deficiency diseases," which require a full understanding of the grower expects to avoid losses from this source. Studies are also being made of insects and parasites affecting the sheep and goat industry. Other detailed studies are being made of range vegetation, the preference of animals for certain vegetation, and the carrying capacity of the range when properly stocked. Range feeding problems and problems and methods of breeding for increased quantity and quality livestock products are being studied including grades and shrinkages on wool and mohair fleeces, the results being recorded and digested with a view of their utilizing our ranges in the production of livestock and livestock products.

Everyone, including ranchmen and business men and their families is invited to be in attendance at this meeting. Camping facilities will be available at the ranch experiment station headquarters. An interesting and instructive program is under preparation, and announcements concerning the meeting fully will appear in the press from the date of the meeting.

TWO SCURRY COUNTY CITIZENS DIE IN PISTOL DUEL LAST TUESDAY

W. S. Reed, farmer and fruit grower, and D. Ware, a tenant on Mr. Reed's farm, were killed in a pistol duel between the two men on the Reed premises near Camp Springs, a settlement about 12 miles northeast of Snyder, about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Full details of the shooting may never be known. It seems that they had been at outs for several weeks, but the two men, whose homes were only a few rods apart, met between Mr. Reed's barn and the Ware residence, and after exchanging a few words the shooting began. Mr. Ware, who lived only a few minutes after being shot, made no statement. Reed lived something like an hour after the shooting and made a statement that Ware shot first and shot him in the back. Reed states that after being shot he fell, but rolled over and fired two shots at Ware, both taking effect in Ware's body. Reed was shot through one hip and passed through his body near his heart.

Ware leaves a wife and thirteen sons, and Reed leaves a wife and several children, all married.

W. S. Reed had been a resident of the Camp Springs community for a number of years. He was a successful farmer and owned one of the finest orchards in this part of the county.

Mr. Ware had lived in different parts of the county and was said to have been strictly honest in his business methods. He was about 70 years old and Reed was about 65.

SCURRY COUNTY'S TON LITTER WEIGHED TUESDAY

DRIVES CAR INTO DRUG STORE.

J. M. Gardner, a young man from Abilene, and his wife parked their car, a Studebaker roadster, in front of the Warren drug store last Saturday night. They were served cold drinks, and thought they were going to back out from the curb and shake the dust of Snyder off their feet. The big motor was set in motion and the gears meshed ready to go. The driver shot the gas to the motor and let in the clutch. But instead of the gears being in forward low, the reverse were in forward low. Like a flash, the car climbed the curb, leaping over the top steps like a jackrabbit, right through the front door and clear into the store. The two swinging half-doors were knocked into splinters and one side of the main door jams knocked out of line. The upright marble wall of the soda fountain was knocked several inches out of line. Mrs. Gardner had the presence of mind to "kill" the motor and pull the emergency brake, stopping the car just as it was within an inch of a glass show case in the center of the room.

Just as the car was stopped, the young man fell over from fright. Mrs. Gardner recovered the car out of the store, and after changing a tire and making good the damage sustained, the couple drove away. The front of the building and the fountain were somewhat damaged, but the car was scarcely scratched.

In Her Own Time and Way

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

"NANCY? D'know as I can spare her today—had my mags all set for soap makin'."

"Oh yes, you can," said Mitty Quarles. "What's a day more or less? To you and soap I mean."

"You mean four?" Sister Crandall protested. "Nancy's got some few of her ma's things left, and she's so handy, I judge she can make plenty more; don't seem there's any hurry about settin' out."

"Shut up! Don't you ever da'r talk that way again in my house," Sister Crandall cried. Nancy laughed provokingly.

"Now, where does your house happen to stand? This happens to be mine when papa dies, otherwise it would a-been spent like all the rest, long, long ago."

"You'll stay at home for that miss—speakin' sacrilege of your only parent," Sister Crandall exploded.

"Now you see what I have to put up with, Cora," Sister Crandall snivelled to the Quarles girl, who was inviting quilters for the morrow.

"Can't," said Nancy. "Furthermore, shan't. You know why, Daddy has such a little time to live—not a year maybe—if I leave him to—those other—Lord!"

"You'll not," from Byck: "You'll do what I say, unless ye want'er c't yourself drowned or dead," dropping into local vernacular.

"Maybe if ye try it, that's what'll happen to you," Nancy returned, suddenly surging violently away from him.

"Glancing eagle-wise about she saw possible salvation, darted up the slope, almost to the top, slipped out of her heavy skirt, made a running leap that landed her six feet up the trunk of a hickory sapling, and swarmed up it to the very top.

Inside a minute she was in water to her knees. Swinging her feet seaward across the swirling she brought it within grasp of Byck. "Climb on! Quick!" she adured him.

"Climb on! Quick!" she adured him. "Never mind who rides before." Five minutes later when they had won to safety, Byck said sulkily: "You saved me—now you've got to take care of your property."

"I mean to," Nancy interrupted, "but in my own time and way."

When Rex was taking an examination in first-year geography, he came across this question: "Tell something of the form and size of the earth." The teacher was astonished to read on his paper this answer: "In form it is round, and its size it is big."—Capper's Magazine.

THE NEW WAR

American farmers in 1776 struck telling blows for Liberty. They were the first to take the field against the hordes of King George, and the lessons of Concord and Lexington were heeded by the entire nation.

"By the rude bridge that arched the flood Their flag to April breeze unfurled, Here once the embattled farmer stood And fired the shot heard 'round the world."

Today in 1926, the 150th anniversary of our great Republic—a still greater war looms before the American farmer. But the enemy of today is the Middleman, who robs both producer and consumer. Nor is he less subtle than King George and his corrupt court were in their day.

Let us show the spirit of 1776! Let us join in the Farm Labor Union of America and show that we will no more submit to economical tyranny than the farmers of '76 would submit to political tyranny. Come in, we need you and you need us. SCURRY COUNTY FARM LABOR UNION (By C. N. von Roeder, Sec.-Treas.) Route 1. Snyder, Texas

With a good general rain in August, Scurry County will produce its best crops in many years. Feed is practically made, and there is very little cotton that is really suffering for want of moisture.

Yes, Scurry County is going to hold an agricultural exhibit and poultry show in Snyder in December. Webb and Merritt, the champion wolf hunters and dog fanciers, declare that there will be a dog show along with the other exhibits, too.

Our readers will remember the Times-Signal stating that the Fergusons would not resign as they voluntarily agreed, and that this paper gave as its reason for so thinking was the fact that so far they never have done what they agreed or promised.

Yes, the Fergusons quit. They quit just like the people of Texas thought they would quit. And there are some folks who will continue to vote for them. But how they can do such a thing is more than this editor can understand.

We invite our readers to read this issue carefully, and all, and see if you don't think it a mighty good issue for a dull season. News is mighty scarce these days, but the Times-Signal's news-gathering force, which includes its excellent country correspondents, managed this week to gather up a lot of mighty interesting news.

The awful tragedy at Camp Springs, Monday, again shows what often comes from an uncontrolled temper. Men, when in their normal moments, should think of what comes from moments of high passion and thereby be on their guard. We have always believed that there is a better way to settle difficulties than by killing one another.

We see where some of Texas' largest cities are making arrangements to segregate the negroes from the whites. We thought Snyder had a movement started in that direction. Has the proposition failed utterly? or have the people lost interest in this very important movement? Negroes are better satisfied in exclusive negro districts, and so are the better class of whites better satisfied when negroes and whites are segregated.

The Times-Signal now has a correspondent from the Bell community. The writer did not send in a very lengthy communication the first time, but it was well written. We wish to thank the writer for sending in the newsy notes. We want to thank every one of our old correspondents who are staying "right in there," although the contest is over. We want a good writer from every community in the county, as we intend to make your paper, the Times-Signal, a better paper from week to week and from year to year, and realize that it will never become a real "county paper" until the entire county is represented in its columns each week. The editor would like for the writer from Bell community to call at the Times-Signal office, enroll with our other writers and get stationery and stamps.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE

Circus coming folks. And it is the Carl Hagenbeck-Great Wallace Circus, with Buffalo Bill's Wild West, so the small boys and girls, and even the adults of Snyder are happy. The Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus will give two exhibitions, afternoon and night, in Sweetwater on August 20, 1926.

Advertisers in billboards and lithographers, have covered this county with the bright and gay posters that depict the wonders of the big show. Additional advertising men will arrive within the next week, as the circuses believe in advertising and posters. In the old days the circus bills were made to catch the eye and frequently the show did not have what was advertised. But all that is changed now, and no longer do the big circuses advertise something that they do not carry. "Truth" in advertising is one of the slogans of the Hagenbeck organization.

When the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus comes here the circus patrons will find under the "big top" everything that has been advertised, and when the bills read the "world's largest wild animal show" that is just the real facts. The Hagenbeck reputation on both sides of the Atlantic for trained animals is established, and this year more wild animal acts are carried than in past seasons. Big feature acts gathered from the four corners of the globe, are what make the Hagenbeck-Wallace a real circus in every way. Heading this great galaxy of stars will be found the world's greatest riding clown, "Orrin" Davenport, and the Riding Davenports, the premier act of the circus world. "Orrin" is the best little clown of the sawdust ring, and he will prove a joy to the kiddies, whether their age be six or sixty.

A total of five hundred performers, 200 wild animal actors; 400 domestic animals, and 50 clowns, not counting the thoroughbred horses take part in the performance, which is offered in three rings, a steel arena and on the Roman hippodrome track. One of the 1925 innovations will be the presentation of "Arabia" said to be the last word in spectacles.

EVANGELIST BANKHEAD DISCUSSES VITAL SUBJECT.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the revival services at the tabernacle. The great subject of "Church Finance" was discussed at length Sunday morning and the church appreciated practical lesson very much. In his usual eloquent manner Evangelist Bankhead pictured the "Great Day of Wrath," Sunday night. It was not overdrawn but was in harmony with the Bible teaching on the subject. The attention of the public is called to the following list of subjects: Friday morning, "Doubt and Fear," Friday night, "Confession and Baptism," Saturday night, "Influence of Sin," Sunday morning, "Duties and Qualifications of Elders and Deacons," Sunday night, "What Is Man?"

These discussions will be beneficial to anyone who will hear them. Come to these services which close the meeting.

Help Us Make It Better

The Times-Signal is a good paper—that is what our readers say—but the editor knows that there is room for improvement.

The Times-Signal is your paper, dear reader. It is the only business in Snyder that really belongs to the people, and it will be no better than the business men help the editor to make it. We get about NINETY PER CENT of our business from the Business Men, and the better their support, the better we can make your paper.

The remaining TEN PER CENT comes from our faithful subscribers. Now, Mr. Subscriber, we want your name on our list. Our advertisers will not advertise—and we can't blame them—unless your paper reaches the people, and not then, unless the people read it. We must, therefore, have the readers and the news in order to get that NINETY PER CENT Business.

Then, speak a good word for your HOME PAPER, and if possible, get your neighbors to subscribe.

PASS IT ON

After reading this issue of the Times-Signal please hand it to a neighbor that is not a subscriber and kindly ask him or her to become a regular subscriber. We need them and they need the paper.

The Real Asssets

Character and Reputation are assets that are essential to credit standing at the bank.

When a man has established himself as a consistent bank depositor, with a reputation for wise borrowing and businesslike methods, he has also established a foundation for credit, and his banker's interest in his affairs.

Character and Reputation are the real assets that go to make up the credit standing of our depositors.

try and control our temper from now on as it does not pay us to be angry.

"When I have lost my temper, I have lost my reason, too; I'm never proud of anything which angrily I do.

When I have talked in anger and my cheeks were flaming red, I have always uttered something, which I wish I hadn't said. In anger I have never done a kindly deed or wise, but many things for which I should apologize.

In looking back across my life, and all I've lost or made, I can't recall a single time when I'm very paid."

Trace "Teetotaler" to Top Used in Gambling

Perhaps you have seen the little "put-or-take" tops for purposes of petty gambling. They are not new, for they used to call them "teetotums." A teetotum had four sides, and each side had a letter to signify the disposition of the gambling stakes should this side fall upward.

"A" for aufer, meaning to take away; "D" for depono, meaning to put down; "N" for nihil, meaning nothing; and, the most important of the four symbols, "T" for totum, meaning all (that is, take all). The top thus took its name, "teetotum," from the most coveted side upon it.

It is an easy transition from "teetotum" to "teetotaler," for the latter word may have been influenced by the form of "teetotum." "Teetotaler" has "total" for its basic element and was expanded to "teetotal" by a "playful elaboration"—that is, by repeating the initial letter for emphasis.

The original phrase, in an anti-alcoholic sense, was "total abstinence," and this was given the nickname of "teetotaler" by one Preston, an agitator for the temperance workmen in 1833, when he spoke of "tee-tee-total" abstinence from intoxicating beverages. Of course, the expression was probably colloquial before he so used it, but he may be said to have established its significance permanently. — The Mentor Magazine.

Cycle of Collecting From Cradle to Grave

The first seven years of his life he collected noise, scariations, measles, abrasions, freckles, the fidgets, curiosity, vitality and dirt.

At the age of eight he collected beetles, spiders, locusts, a boat owl, a live eel, a garter snake and a renoustrative family.

At ten he collected climbable trees, falls, assorted lumber, the neighbors' ill-will, a gang, black eyes, a bicycle, poison ivy, his father's pipe and a sudden nausea.

At twelve he collected a broken leg, a sweetheart, and a suspicion that all was not well with the universe.

From thirteen to eighteen he collected foreign countries, obscure dreams, and two prep schools with all appurtenances and adjuncts.

The next four years he collected college, friendships, autographed champagne bottles, headaches, romantic moments, a heart broken in four places, and a certainty that something was wrong with the universe.

At thirty-one he collected himself, not enough money and a wife.

A few minutes ago he collected alphabet blocks, balls of mechanical toys, rubber balls, a bear, a duck, a monkey, and a dollar watch, and piled them in the corner for the night.—Kansas City Times.

Only Half Tried

"Mother," said Bobby, "did you tell father that I wanted a radio set?"

"Yes, dear, but he said he couldn't afford it."

"I knew he'd say that. What did you do then?"

"I told him how much you desired it and argued in favor of it, but 'twas no use."

"Argued! Oh, mother, if it'd been something you wanted yourself you'd gone into 'sterics and then you'd got it."—Boston Transcript.

From a West Window

"We have a liking for a house that faces the west," says E. E. Kelly, in the Garden City (Ga.) Herald, and he gives his reasons, as follows:

"East fronts may have their advantages, but with the coming of twilight there is a feeling that a happy or a contented day has ended all too soon. To sit on an east porch in the twilight is for those to enjoy who live in memories; but the home that faces the sunset has about it a pervading atmosphere of youth and hope. The fading sunset light and the slow coming night shortens the hours of darkness for

Founder of Quebec

A beautiful monument to Samuel De Champlain, the French navigator who founded Quebec in 1608, has been erected on the shore of Lake Couchiching at Orillia, Ont. That town is near the site of Chaguanu, the village of the Huron Indians, where the great explorer passed the fall and winter of 1615. The monument is erected to mark the spot where the white race first entered what is now the province of Ontario, and to serve as a "symbol of good will between the French and English-speaking people of Canada." It was not many years ago that another memorial to De Champlain was erected on the shore of the beautiful lake that bears his name, at Crown Point, N. Y.

Familiar Line

Just a short time ago they put a new warden into San Quentin and on almost his first day on the job one of the prisoners extended him a slight courtesy which quite delighted the newcomer.

"The prisoner happened to be 1899, but when the warden asked, 'What's your number, my man?' the answer was:

"I never can get it right. It's either 1899, 1898 or 1896."

"My goodness!" exclaimed the warden, "you must have been a telephone operator."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

His Belief

"Ah, doctor!" greeted Mrs. Piffleholder. "I should like to ask you a question."

"As many as you like, my dear madame!" gallantly replied old Doctor Pillsbury.

"Well, then, doctor, is profanity equal to medicine for the treatment of rheumatism? My husband seems to think it is."—Kansas City Star.

Hardwoods for Finish

Those hardwoods most commonly used for standing finish are oak, birch and gum; for floors, oak, maple, birch, beech and sometimes tulip are used. Cypress, walnut, sycamore and chestnut are a few of the other domestic woods used for finishing.

Worth No More

She was reading palms at the assembly dance. He strode up and presented his dainty white palm.

"I'll take two bits' worth of character reading, my little maid."

"I'm sorry, but there's only 15 cents' worth of character there."—Boston Beano.

FLUVANNA NEWS.

Church Affairs.

The outstanding event of the past week was the Baptist revival meeting. As previously announced the pastor, Rev. A. D. Leach, was assisted by Rev. Sam Malone of Abilene, who did the preaching, day and night; over a period of eight days. Attendance and interest was good from start to finish. This was made more evident by the results; the tangible example of which was 17 professions of faith and 18 additions to the Baptist church, seven of which were by letter or statement. We understand that the preacher received a free will offering of about $115, as an expression of appreciation of service rendered. He, in turn, donated $10 of this amount to the building fund of the local church.

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches will begin a union meeting at the tabernacle next Sunday, August 15. Rev. J. B. McReynolds of Post is to do the preaching. While this meeting will be under the auspices of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches, the fact that it is union in character makes it abundantly evident that the doors will be wide open to all church people, and all are urged to attend and work for the salvation of souls and the building up of the cause of righteousness among us.

Weather and Crops.

Concerning the crop condition, as in many other matters, there is a difference of opinion among our people. Some think we are needing rain again; others think we will be better off without rain for a while yet. Anyway "Old Sol" is expending a good deal of energy in his effort to give us a real good warming up. Every day from August 2 to the 9, inclusive, brought a maximum temperature ranging from 102 to 107, according to a self-marking thermometer kept by the writer.

Mr. L. M. Melton reports that last spring he bought and planted 28 lbs. of black-eyed peas; from which he has already gathered 300 lbs. of threshed peas and expects to harvest at least 700 lbs. more. At the wholesale price of 6 cents this will mean a handsome income of $20, besides a lot of good, substantial eating direct from the patch. Surely it pays to diversify.

Visiting.

John Collier, a former citizen of this community but now of China Grove, spent some three days, including Sunday, here visiting old friends and attending the Baptist meeting. He expressed much pleasure in the fact that he was meeting many old friends again. He says he is keeping up with Fluvanna affairs by reading the Fluvanna News each week.

Mr. Grisham of Runnels County, and father of Mrs. L. W. Perry of this place, recently spent a few days visiting the Perry family and attending the meeting.

J. L. Daugherty and wife of Lamesa, on their return from a visit to Bell County, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Guest of Bell County, and Ben Thompson and wife of Coryell County, were accompanying Mr. Daugherty on his return trip, hence, were also visitors among us. George Dannie Lee, Lena Fay and H. P. Seabourne of Brownfield are visiting their sister, Mrs. J. N. Bley, for a few days.

Orna (Buster) Deer and wife are the proud parents of a daughter—their first born—who arrived last Saturday. Both mother and baby are said to be doing fine. Miss Deer is not exactly a visitor, since she has evidently come to stay.

I Thank You.

To all of those kind friends who, without my solicitation, cast their votes in my favor in the recent correspondents' contest, I wish to express, as best I can, my heartfelt appreciation and thanks. I would like to write each one a personal note, but this is impossible since I do not know who voted for me. At the same time I wish to thank the generous editor for his part in offering such splendid prizes and conducting the contest so fairly. Furthermore, I wish to thank the entire force in the Times-Signal plant for their very kindly dealings with the undersigned and his "copy." To voters and printers, all, read Numbers 6:24-26.—Jas. H. Tate, Cor.

IT'S HOT!

Can you improve good cooking by the use of ICE?

The answer is: You certainly can. Every experienced chef knows that much of his success depends in the manner he keeps his food before it is cooked.

And he knows the only way this can be done is by proper refrigeration — By keeping food at all times in a well-iced refrigerator.

The safe plan is to ice regularly, all the year around. You will find ICE pays for itself by the food it saves.

MEMORIES PAL OF YOU.

"Pal, we miss you though gone memories still remain. Of a noble lad you were, Pal, and you will always to me be the same.

Memories, Pal, were pleasant though sorrow it came. You were taken, Pal, though I am still fighting life's game.

Back in the old home town, Pal, and friends after friends I see, But there's a longing for the old pal that means so much to me. Though gone you are not forgotten, and of all the friends that may be,

There can never be a truer and nobler Buddy than the Buddy you were to me."

The Folly of Anger.

Anger is excessive emotion of passion aroused by a sense of injury or wrong. Anger is an enemy to mankind; it should be avoided at all times. When one lets anger get away with him it often causes heartaches. Anger never does a kind, worthy or decent deed. It will never gain us friends but often enemies. It even sometimes causes murder. It will make us do and say things that we are sorry of afterwards. So let us

Smart New Rumble Seat For Sport Roadster

Rumble seats are justly popular. They add a smart, rakish touch to roadster lines, and increase the carrying capacity by two passengers.

That Dodge Brothers Sport Roadster now provides this convenience, will be welcome news to thousands.

Like the main seat, it is deeply upholstered in gray Spanish genuine leather, and the seat back is high and well-pitched, providing unusual comfort.

When closed, the rear compartment is absolutely waterproof, even in rainiest weather.

Ample space is provided behind the main seat for golf clubs, suit cases, tennis rackets and similar luggage.

Brilliant pheasant green lacquer body and hood, strikingly in contrast with the tan top, black fenders and full special equipment, complete a general color scheme of exceptional dash and charm.

Detroit—Any story of the new Essex all-steel coach is fundamentally the story of the $10,000,000 body factory which produces the car. What the Hudson Motor Car Co. has done in the manufacture of Essex bodies is to make craftsmen of machines; this is literally the fact. Giant machines do in a fraction of a minute work that the most highly skilled artisan, craftsman or artist could never hope to equal, from the standpoint of beauty and accuracy. The plant devoted to making the bodies expresses the industry's top mark in design and execution.

stamping machines. Upon them are formed the component parts of the body, which are so accurately made that they fit without question. Their union into a rigid whole is accomplished with a speed and uniformity almost beyond belief. A cowl, a door, or the corner of a body is fashioned on a giant press. The whole cowl is brought into being with one apparently effortless motion of a press that is exerting a force of 400 tons every time its plunger descends. The machine and the dies may represent $100,000 worth of ability to manufacture with speed and exactness—an investment made with the certainty that the completed plant would function with the greatest precision and the highest attainable speed.

accepted, perhaps there are no human body-builders. But the machines certainly are body-builders in every sense of the word. For the first time in the history of American industry, body-building has been made primarily a series of steel-stamping processes; for the first time, too, the bodies are being made on a 100 per cent progressive assembly system, already employed to such advantage in the manufacture of engines and chassis.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. The Junior Christian Endeavor at First Christian church last Sunday, elected officers as follows: Redney Glasscock, president; Emory Smith, vice-president; Francis Boren, secretary-treasurer. Other committees to be appointed next Sunday. We invite all boys and girls in Snyder under the age of twelve years, who do not attend any junior society at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoons, to join our society. We are trying to make it a very profitable hour for all who will come.—Francis Boren, Secretary.

country to marry him is. No Snyder man who ever tried to get a big meal in a little kitchen on a hot day ever blamed his wife for using a can-opener. The average young man never knows how dear his girl is until he gets to where her bills come in his name. Since there is as much sickness among old married people as there is among boys and girls how can you blame it on kissing? Any Snyder married man can tell you that before he was married he hated it if his socks wrinkled at the ankles but after he got married he didn't care if they didn't have either heels or toes. Money is talking as loud as ever did, but its list of speaking acquaintances seems to be growing smaller. A woman can be narrow-minded and still have a hard time squeezing into a Morris chair when she sits down. We heard a Snyder woman say recently that moths are no more plentiful than they used to be but that with present styles it only takes one moth to eat up a

TIMES-SIGNAL SIGNALS. The old days were those in which the Snyder man who happened to get a little too much liquor didn't have to take a friend along to identify him at his own door. The only things worth while that ever turned up are those things you turn up with your own efforts. Harry Thaw may not be crazy, but it's our guess that the girl who is chasing him all over the

A woman can paint her face and be decent, but a man can't get his nose painted without having to do a lot of explaining. A Snyder man never realizes what a big boob he is until he goes into a big city store with his wife on a shopping tour and the first place she stops is the underwear department. When you see a man kicking a stray dog you can bet he is the kind of fellow whose wife and children hate to see him come home at night. In spite of his 90 years Uncle Joe Cannon goes to his law office every day. Maybe that's how he got to be 90 years old. Find the cause for ever wrinkle in the average Snyder man's face and you'll find it was put there through worrying over something that worry couldn't prevent.

THANKS. I wish to thank each and every one who helped me in winning the nice rug in the Signal contest. Each vote was highly appreciated and many thanks to our editor. MRS. ED. TAYLOR.

North Pole Sees Only One Sunrise Each Year At the North pole there is but one sunrise and one sunset a year, says the San Francisco Chronicle, using data from the United States naval observatory. "Within a distance of about four minutes of arc from the North pole the sun rises and sets once a year. At a slightly greater distance the sun's upper line can be seen to rise above the horizon and then shortly disappear below it 12 hours later, before rising to stay. "The number of sunrises in a year varies from 305 at a short distance south of the Arctic circle to one at the pole, increasing with the distance from the pole. At the pole there is twilight from sunset at the autumnal equinox to about November 14, and again from January 29 to sunrise at the vernal equinox. "At a short distance from the pole there are a number of days between the continuous darkness and the continuous twilight on which there is twilight for part of each 24 hours, the number of such days increasing with the distance from the pole."

Rich Quartz Crystals Found in California Transparent rock crystals are highly valued, and Riverside county, California, discovered some very fine ones, usually from its gem mines. Formerly the world's demand for these pure crystals was supplied mainly from Brazil and Madagascar, until a large and fine supply of them was discovered in the Golden state. In the Old Green Mountain mine, in Calaveras county, amidst the gold-bearing gravel of its ancient lava-capped river bed, were found in 1897 a huge lot of enormous quartz crystals, 12 tons of which were sold in one year alone. One titanic crystal found here was surrounded with 47 smaller crystals and weighed over a ton. Some weighed 90 pounds each, and one was 19 by 15 by 14 inches. Most of the larger ones were sent to New York and there cut by special machinery. One of them, cut into a perfect sphere, without a flaw in it, is valued at $5,000. Another is in the Morgan collection in that city. Those from El Dorado county are sometimes prized more highly because they have "phantoms" in them—various enclosed minerals, often of fantastic form.

Test of Environment A scientific professor, seeking to satisfy himself as to how much monkeys are affected by their environment, placed a monkey in a children's hospital, not allowing it to associate with other monkeys until it was four years old. This monkey, isolated from its kind, cannot laugh or cry. Even when freshly cut on the hand he held under his nose he will not cry. Neither can he scream, as wild monkeys do. Nevertheless, he has all the movements and gestures of the ordinary monkey, and also the same disposition to cut capers, such as ringing bells, tearing things to pieces and generally making a nuisance of himself. This monkey sucks his thumb, just as many children do, and scientists say wild monkeys never have been known to do this.

Trail of Small Change A Westerner recently spent a week in a New York hotel. He tipped the boy who carried in his grips, then tipped the elevator man, then the water boy, then the chambermaid, then the head waiter for getting him a table, then the waiter who took his order. He paid the hat girl a dime for his hat three times a day after meals; he tipped the bell boy who brought him a paper.

Properly Placed Miss Eliza Leslie, the sister of the noted artist, had a relative who was a sea captain. He was on his way to the Orient, and suggested to Miss Leslie that he should bring her back a dinner service, painted to her design. She agreed with pleasure, and proceeded to draw a magnificent coat of arms to go on every piece. In order that there should be no mistake, under the design she printed in large letters, "This goes in the middle."

Mind Is a Garden Your mind is not at all like a machine—all ready-made and automatic. Ask any doctor and he will make this plain to you. No, your mind is more like a garden. It is the use you make of it that counts. You can grow these fine plants in your mind-garden—courage, initiative, imagination, will-power, kindness, knowledge.

Friendship Perfect friendship is that of good men who resemble each other in virtue; for these, as good themselves, are equal in their desire of good things for one another, and they who desire good things for their friends, love them especially for the sake of these things. For they value them for what they are and not for something accidental. The friendship, therefore, of these men endures as long as they are good, for virtue is something stationary. And each of them is good in his way and also in relation to his friends; so good men are both good absolutely and useful to each other.—Aristotle.

Qualified The animal trainer having been taken ill, his wife reported for duty in his stead. "Have you had any experience in this line?" asked the proprietor of the circus, doubtfully. "Not exactly in this line," replied the woman; "but my husband manages the beasts all right, doesn't he?" "He certainly does." "Well, you ought to see how easily I manage him!"

Antedated Jazz "Blue" songs had a vogue in the southern central states many years before jazz was known. The nature of the song is all that the name implies and is in the same category as the "spiritual" and the "jubilee" heard so frequently through the South.

OUR TRIP TO A. AND M. OR AGGELAND.

Miss Vivian Davidson of Camp Springs, one of the girls who attended the farmers' short course at A. and M. College, College Station, gives the following review of the trip: "Twenty-six 'peppy' Scurry County girls, five boys and Pat Bullock, county superintendent, and our county-home demonstration agent, Miss Laura Belle Roten, started from Snyder on Sunday, August 1, to spend a few days in Aggeland. We sang songs and gave yells as we waited for the train at Snyder and then all the way to Sweetwater. We ate breakfast in a cafe in Sweetwater, then took the train for Fort Worth. We had our lunch with us and ate it at Balrd. After 'singine' our way to Fort Worth we rested for awhile and then went to Morrow's Cafe where we had a very delicious supper. We took a Pullman at Fort Worth and did not see much of the country from there to College Station, as we slept most all of the way. On Monday morning we awoke and ourselves switched out on a track in College Station. The great hustle and jam caused by the anxious girls in getting ready to get off in time for breakfast was soon over but it seemed like hours and hours to us. After breakfast we went to the registration building where we met Mrs. Baird of the Semi-Weekly Farm News, who asked if she might take our pictures for her paper. She complimented us very highly and said that we were the largest number of girls from any county that she had seen. We waited until almost dinner before we got our rooms but then we unloaded our suit cases and went to dinner. We shall never forget standing in the sun in that large crowd, waiting for our meals, but when we did get in we forgot all about that and soon succeeded in clearing the tables very nicely. We then went to the assembly hall at 2:00 o'clock to organize for the week's work. At 3:15 we heard a wonderful lecture on 'Dye instead of buy.' 'After resting and eating supper we went to a picture show which was very interesting. These picture shows and inspirational meetings furnished us amusement for the rest of the evenings of the week. During our visit in Aggeland we heard four excellent lectures a day. One of the most interesting ones was on 'How to Entertain,' which was given by Miss Helen Swift. We learned how to really entertain our friends at our homes and at parties. We also had a party of our own that afternoon. We played games and had a wonderful time. 'Another very interesting lecture was on 'Meeting the Public' by Mrs. L. P. Chamberlin. She explained to us how people always remember us by the way we looked and acted the first time they saw us, and how successful a clean, neat-looking girl always is. She told us that a girl who deliberately attracts attention to herself attracts attention a real woman should never want. These are some of the things that we should pay attention to: 1, Charm of manner; 2, personal cleanliness; 3, a pleasant speaking voice, and 4, a pleasant expression. Another thing that we should never forget is, according to Mrs. Chamberlin, 'The principles of right never change. Truth, honesty, and virtue are always the same.'

'We heard this woman speak about forty-five minutes, but we learned to love her very, very much. The girls all declared that they could sit in those terribly hot rooms and listen to her all day and never grow tired of it. She made us live up to and practice the things that she told us about. This one lecture was worth the time and money spent on the whole trip.

'Miss Ella Bandelin spoke to us on 'Posture.' She was the Brazos County nurse and she gave us helpful exercises and positions in which to stand and carry ourselves.

'In the lecture on 'Making an attractive room,' and 'The girls' own room,' we learned how to make our room airy, sunny, clean and restful. We studied the suitable wall papers, curtains, floor-rugs, ceiling, furniture, and decorations. We learned that 'simplicity' is the keynote to good design. These are some of the points to be remembered: 1, cut out borders are not good; 2, do not crowd our rooms, nor dressers, piano, nor tables; 3, do not use crepe paper flowers; 4, use dull, velvety-looking furniture, rather than shiny; 5, use dull, natural colors.

'Some of the many good lectures were on 'Landscape Gardening,' 'Refrigeration in the Home,' 'Poultry for Profit and Pleasure,' 'Fire Preventions,' and 'Texas Wild Flowers.'

'Each morning after breakfast all of the club girls and boys, about 1,200 in number, gathered in Guion Hall where they had a pep meeting and heard a short, interesting talk each time. These meetings were broadcasted each morning.

'We had two or three hours a day to rest in our rooms. We met many other club members, and learned to love them all. This made us want to go to the college next year more than ever.

'On Thursday evening Miss Roten and Mr. Bullock took the Scurry County boys and girls to the interesting home of Dr. Asbury, a professor in the college. On entering the living room we were simply "wonderstruck." The walls and ceiling were covered with beautiful pictures. Good, cold water and electric fans were as plentiful as the pictures and they added greatly to our pleasure as Dr. Asbury explained the history of each picture to us. There were something near three hundred pictures in the three rooms, among them a picture entitled 'Creation,' which shows the earth from the beginning of time down to modern times; 'The Conqueror' was a war picture; Dr. Vinel's 'Mona Lisa,' 'George Inness' pictures, and the 'Cathedrals of Europe' were especially interesting. One ceiling was centered by Raphael's 'Madonna of the Chair'; the remainder of the entire ceiling was covered with 'Madonnas.'

'Dr. Asbury told us of a play that he is writing. He has taken the characters from the old Alamo days; he had tiny little wooden people fashioned from clothespins and dressed up as he intended to have his characters dressed in the play. They were on a pretty little stage which he lighted to show us the effect.

'After breakfast Saturday morning we toured the part of the campus which we had not seen.

In the museum we saw hundreds of skeletons of babies, calves, dogs, cows, and other things. We saw one of the Egyptian mummies and caskets. We also saw mounted calves with two heads, and many other things too numerous to mention. We visited the cotton manufactory where Mr. Bagwell explained the machinery to us and showed us how the bales of cotton were made into cloth. Many of us brought pieces of material home which we had seen made before our very eyes, as souvenirs. The florist shop was indeed a beautiful place. On the shady lawn we, too, ate a large watermelon and took pictures.

'The Scurry County girls and Miss Roten enjoyed a banquet at the mess hall Saturday noon. The manager of the mess hall of the Aggeland Hotel visited us and gave us an interesting talk.

The communities of Fluvanna, Canyon, Pleasant Hill, Hudd, Plainview, Camp Springs, Crowder, Dunn, Ira, Hornleigh, Blandford, Emory, Crook, Woodard, Blaine, Lamb Hawkins, Vivian Davidson, N. E. Browning, Evelyn Glavin, Marie West, Opal O'Donnell, Opal Kelly, Pauline Trussell, Pauline Nail, Lela Mae Westcott, Blanche Beardon, Lois Tamplin, Gladys Lilly, Shirley Helms, Johnnie Forshey, Clara Eads, Mesdames Roy Taylor and Fred Williams.

Miss Roten said that she was asked by several people from other counties over Texas, just how Scurry County was able to get the money to bring so many girls to the short course. (It will be remembered, too, that Scurry County had more girls in attendance at the short course than any other county.) To this Miss Roten declared that she would reply, 'Why our Chamber of Commerce furnished one-half of the expense, and the people of our communities furnished the other half. Of course, there were some donations by 'team' acceptors.'

And Miss Roten declared that she and each girl joined in expressing their appreciation to the Chamber of Commerce, to those who gave the donations, and to those who assisted in any way in making it possible for them to attend the short course.

The Times-Signal joins our Scurry County citizens in expressing our appreciation of the large interest, short course. We realize that this has brought honor to our county and we are justly proud of our home demonstration club girls and Miss Roten who is aiding them in doing their good work.

LYNCH DAVIDSON READY TO ENTER RUN-OFF "IF NECESSARY"

HOUSTON, Texas.—That he might actively enter the run-off campaign "if it is considered as necessary," was the declaration of Lynch Davidson, third man in the recent gubernatorial poll, late Tuesday night.

"If the Fergusons are not convinced Texas is tired of their rule, let us turn out final evidence of this fact, August 28, and obliterate them for all time from the political arena of Texas."

"I have made the statement several times I would like to have those who supported me in the recent primary throw their support to Mr. Moody," declared Mr. Davidson, "and I reiterate this most positively now."

"A sacred duty rests with the people of Texas today," said Mr. Davidson, "to impress on the Fergusons they are to be allowed no longer to muddy the political waters or further mess up the governmental affairs of Texas."

Mr. Davidson indicated he was anxious to refrain from taking any further interest in politics at this time, but stated most emphatically he would spare no effort to bury "Fergusonianism" under an avalanche of disapproval when the run-off primary is held.

NOTICE TO COAL TRADE

August is the last month we have to get our coal on summer price. I have some coal coming in that is not sold yet. When you buy coal stick to the old reliable Chandler. It costs no more than other so-called No. 1 coals, and $3 a ton less than Alabama, and as I have handled the Alabama coals I find that they are no better than Chandler. So, for heat without soot get Chandler.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Cockles and Buddy

The clock in the dining room was striking the hour.

One. Two. Three. Four. Five. Six. Seven. Eight. Nine. Ten. Eleven. Twelve. It was midnight. And oh, it was very quiet. It was just the time for the Cockles of the Cuckoo to be about.

Puts Away His Own Little Suit. They had gone to call on Buddy. They came, just as they had come to his house, walking on their tip, tip, tip-toes, very, very, very quietly.

You know the Cockles dress in little shell suits, w. w. c. make them look like little sea mollusks, or muskies or shellfish as far as their costumes of shell are concerned.

Their happy little faces wrinkle up into funny little smiles and they all look so dear and funny and jolly and lovable that if ever you saw them you could not help but love them.

Buddy is a good deal younger than Maggie, and the Cockles know that at such a late hour they had better not awaken him.

They knew that even as a special treat they had better not disturb him at midnight.

They sat around the fireplace in Buddy's house and they warmed their little feet before the ashes and the bright coals of Buddy's fireplace.

"We'll take him the bundles soon," said the biggest Cockle of all to the smallest Cockle.

"Soon," said the smallest Cockle. Then the Cockles spoke of Buddy.

"I've heard he plays 'elevator,'" said one Cockle. "He jumps up and down on a board and makes believe that he is going up and down in elevators in big buildings."

"I've heard," said another Cockle, "that he pretends he is telephoning by using two spoons, one for a mouthpiece and one with which to hear."

"I've been told," said a third Cockle, "that he helps make beds and carries the soiled clothes and puts them in the big basket."

"I've heard," said a fourth Cockle, "that he puts away his own little suit after he has undressed."

"And he sings," said a fifth Cockle.

"And recites," said a sixth Cockle. "And thoroughly enjoys himself," said a seventh Cockle.

"Hush," said the biggest Cockle of all, "we mustn't awaken him with too much noise."

"Shall we take the bundles now?" said the smallest Cockle of all.

"Oh, yes," said the biggest Cockle of all.

Then all the Cockles got up, and carried each one of them, a little bundle until they had reached Buddy's room.

There was Buddy fast asleep, and every little Cockle felt the most wonderful glow of happiness as they looked at him.

They formed themselves into the Bundles? a great heart as they gathered about him and then they scattered the contents of the bundles all over the room.

And the bundles? They were filled with the Secrets of Continual Happiness—for Buddy—beloved by the Cockles of the Heart family. (© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

Philadelphia Home of First American Bible

The first Bible printed in America came from the press of Robert Aiken, a Philadelphia patriot who emigrated from Scotland in 1763.

The original issue appeared in 1777 and consisted of the books of the New Testament. At that time there was a scarcity of Bibles in the Colonies due to the break with Great Britain.

Subsequent issues of the edition were made in 1779 and 1781, and in the latter year Aiken preferred it to Congress in the hope that it would be adopted by the Continental Congress as the official Bible of the United States.

Congress approved the idea and agreed to buy a quantity of the Bibles, and also recommended their purchase to the citizens of the United States. Aiken, however, never received a cent from the government, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and although he lost considerable money on his undertaking, never pressed his claim, believing that as long as the treasury was in such a condition that the government could not afford even to clothe its soldiers properly, he should not insist on payment.

Little Thrift Sermon

Misfortune finds it hard to spank the man with money in the bank, and thus it's well to cultivate and carry out the saving trait.

A habit is a clinch to make and very difficult to shake; so pick one that is sure to pay—and start to save—begin today.

He has of sense a good amount who banks upon a bank account, for dollars wisely laid away increase in value every day.

To bank your cash is very wise, for then it grows and multiplies; your balance ever is best, when boosted up by interest.

The man who never saves a cent is always broke, or badly bent; and then he's up against it right whenever trouble looms in sight.—By the Columnist of the Tifton (Ga.) Gazette.

Old Travel Maps

Motorists who use the ingenious strip maps of today, which are a cross between a map and a picture, probably imagine that the idea is an extremely modern thing. Invented in response to an equally modern demand, says the Wall Street Journal. But one user thereof was started the other day on coming across an exactly identical treatment of important highways in Great Britain, dating back some two or three hundred years.

Instead of being in any wise crude or incomplete, the older strip maps were more detailed and explicit than the modern. Each milepost was indicated by figures and landmarks along the route were noted in such useful phrases as: "A large stone," "An oak tree," "Narrow gate into a meadow," etc. Nor were any of the inns or branch roads omitted.

Inherited Mentality

According to a new theory on the mode of inheritance of mental traits there are at least five pairs of hereditary characters that have to do with the passing on of intelligence. If both parents are persons of high intelligence and possessed of all five pairs of these characters, their children will also average very high.

If they are idiots, having none of the pairs of characters, their children also will be idiots. Intermediate conditions representing people of good average intelligence, but not geniuses, will produce a mixture of offspring types, with occasional exceptional children, and once in a while also offspring of low mentality.
