LOST CHORDS OF FAITH ARE STRUCK AGAIN

Music of Improvement in All Lines of Endeavor Beats Tattos on Deflated Eardrums.

The lost chord is being sounded again. It practically disappeared for three or four years, but Scurry County can hear it plainly this twenty-fourth day of November, A. D. 1933. It is the chord of faith.

Call it what you will. As it beats on long-deflated eardrums, it mingles with higher cotton prices, higher feed prices, new cars, debt paying, increased business, heavy buying.

Incline your ear and catch some of this new music. Merchants report November sales that remind them of "parity price" days.

Covered Dish Dinner Is Feature At Meeting of Art Guild In Joyce Home

Mrs. Ixon Joyce's home on Twenty-sixth Street made a lovely setting for the Art Guild covered dish dinner Monday evening. An autumn color scheme in shades of yellow was effectively carried out in beautiful cut flowers—bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. Yellow chrysanthemums made attractive table centers.

The dinner, consisting of roast pork, baked sweet potatoes with marshmallows, stuffed celery, cranberry sauce, fruit salad, rolls, individual pumpkin pies and coffee, was served buffet style.

Club members answered to roll call with a Bible quotation on thanksgiving, and a one-act play entitled "Lady Fingers" was given by members and was directed by Mrs. Charles Owens. The play, a social satire, was unusually well given, and portrayed a social gathering of the wives of boss and employees. Mrs. Ixon Joyce played the part of Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Herman Deak was Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Willard Jones was Mrs. Harper and Mrs. J. C. Smyth was Mrs. Landon. Both Mrs. Harper, somewhat of a snob, and Mrs. Landon, of an unaffected type, were eager to make an impression on the boss' wife so that their husbands might get the promotion that was in view. Of course, the husband of the unaffected one received the raise, but in the course of the gathering Mrs. Harper was made to feel that perhaps being a snob was not the best thing after all.

Those present were the following: Mmes. Joe Caton, associate member, and Alfred McClain, a guest; Mary DonE, Bonnie Gary, Hattie Herr, Gertrude Herr, May McClinton, Overa Jones, Blanche Mitchell, Ellen Joyce, Erma Owens, Loyce Pratt, Ardith Row, Omah Ryan, Aileen Smyth, Mary Ruth Spars, Jessie Stinson, Elizabeth Ward and Leola Williams, members.

Methodist Church Ends Fiscal Year With Outstanding Financial Record

The Snyder Methodist Church made an exceptionally good report at the close of its fiscal year on November 9, during the Northwest Texas Conference at Clearendon several days ago.

Rev. S. H. Young, pastor, who was returned here for his third consecutive year, states that all finances were paid in full. Added to the regular financial program were $800 worth of improvements to the church building and parsonage.

The church training program likewise made a good record in the better organization of its training program of work. It made a net gain of 17 in its membership.

The church carries a mission special of $400 per year, supporting a worker in Korea.

A cotton patch of 59 acres just east of Snyder, sponsored and worked by men of the church, has proven very profitable. More than $100 in cash was received from the government when 20 acres were plowed up. Eleven and a half bales have already been marketed from the patch, and about three more are expected.

The new conference year is beginning with heartening prospects for another growing 12-month period, the pastor stated yesterday.

Rev. Young, in addition to being for the past eight years secretary and treasurer of the conference board of finances, which handles funds for superannuated preachers, was named at Clearendon as director of religious education for the Sweetwater District.

Millions of Garments and Barrels of Flour Disbursed Through Red Cross

In the largest relief operation of its kind ever undertaken, the American Red Cross in the last year distributed among distressed families 104,000,000 garments and 10,400,000 barrels of flour, processed from government surplus.

According to Lee T. Stinson, county chairman, the benefits from this program have been felt in nearly every county in the United States. Altogether, the chapter leader added, the food and clothing needs of 25,000,000 individuals, representing a fifth of the country's entire population, were partially met by this heroic task, at a cost of $655,000,000 to the National Red Cross.

Of the total amount distributed, the following came to this county: 128,000 barrels of flour; more than 2,625 48-pound sacks of flour; more than 9,500 ready-made garments; and 12,500 yards of piece goods.

Mr. Stinson points out that this 1932-33 assistance was supplemented in 1930 and 1931 by more than $20,000 in cash and supplies from the Red Cross, bringing the total to more than $30,000 for this county.

"We will show our appreciation in the Roll Call this year," Mr. Stinson said, "by obtaining and passing our goal of 100 members."

No civilization can permanently endure under firm security for the few, and for the many perpetual insecurity and dread.

Scurry County's Oil Production Limited

Texas and Uncle Sam have told Scurry County that she may produce so much oil—and no more.

West Texas was cut from 122,213 barrels daily to 119,848, a reduction of 2,365 barrels, under fixation of the Texas railroad commission, acting according to federal government allocation of oil production.

The Mitchell-Scurry and East Howard fields are allowed to produce 1,375 barrels daily. Most of these are shallow pumpers.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

Money Is Still King.

Judging from support of revivals that have been held here this year, Snyder people think a lot more of their pocketbooks than they do of their souls.

No Gridiron Depression.

Judging from the crowds that are attending football games in all parts of the country this season, the depression on punts is not nearly so great as it is on pants—and other wearing apparel.

Better Baby Bees.

A cotton oil mill at Rotan is financing the purchase of baby bees for 29 Fisher County 4-H Club boys who will feed them for show and sale at Sweetwater next spring. Snyder is not far from Sweetwater, either.

If You Have Eyes to See—

Those who have eyes to see will not argue about improvement of conditions this season. Bank deposits are picking up, and new cars are becoming almost as thick as they were in the good old days. What is more encouraging, many fine people have stopped giving ear to the sordidness who knock from morning until night.

We All Want the Same Thing.

The principal reason why the government is finding it difficult to get its farm relief program into operation is that it has different ideas about doing the same thing that we want to do. Uncle Sam might accomplish even more remarkable results if he could somehow convince the pull-backers that he really knows what it's all about.

Where One Dollar Counts.

Scurry County is not forgetting that she received upwards of $30,000 from the Red Cross during the past three years. During the same period, the county remembers, she sent only slightly more than $500 to the national chapter. A dollar invested in a Red Cross membership reminds of the ancient saying, "Large oaks from little acorns grow."

Our Telephone Increase.

Snyder should stick another feather in her cap since learning that she ranks second in phone increase among towns served by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in West Texas. Only Lubbock has put in more telephones within the past year than Snyder. The desire to talk has evidently come into being with the desire to help prosperity return.

What Farm Relief Means.

"The whole idea of farm relief, a representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration told county agents and others at A. & M. College several days ago, "is to take 43 million acres of good American farm land out of production for the good of the farmer and the nation. If production is merely shifted from one cash crop to another, the aim of the act is defeated."

Our Senator, Tom Connally.

Unless the complexion of the senate investigation of Huey Long's election tactics is radically changed, Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the investigators, will have a hard time convincing his Texas constituents that he isn't really trying to keep the Louisiana political boss out of deservng hot water. We imagine that young Joe Bailey, who has announced for the Connally place, will help unravel the details.

More Cotton Than Last Year.

Many farmers are reporting that they are harvesting more cotton, in proportion to the acreage, than they did last year. Those who have their stingers out for something to gripe about should stop to thank God for giving the county two of the best crops on record in consecutive years (1932 and 1933) when we needed them most. There is a possibility that 35,000 bales will be recorded this year after the plow-up.

A New Football Era.

Unless a miracle happens, Rotan will be the 1933 champion of football district No. 9-B. Snyder will probably be tied for second place with Roscoe. It will be a hard tumble for the fans who have been accustomed to winning teams. But there is little doubt but that the tumble has taken some cockiness out of Snyder gridiron heroes. In the long run, the drop to a runner-up team should add something worthwhile to the home town football destinies.

What Our "Big Men" Do.

A fair example of the shenanigans pulled during good times by our "big men" came to light during a senate investigation. One president of a huge railroad system owned the railroad terminal personally. So he assessed a charge of a penny a wheel against all traffic that came into the terminal, collecting from Getting Ready for Christmas.

Christmas, 1933, should be the most glorious holiday period that Scurry County has observed in several years.

For the first time since 1928, the pendulum of prosperity is swinging upward instead of downward as a Yuletide season approaches.

The first preparation for this new season of giving and celebrating should be a preparation from within. We should remember the humility and the sacrifice of Him whose birthday we celebrate at the Yuletide.

Snyder is splendidly attending the preparation from without. She is planning an elaborate celebration that it will make it easy for folks to catch the old-time Christmas spirit.

Her streets and her courthouse will be lighted and decorated to the heart's and eye's content. Her store fronts will be suggestive of the holiday season, and her show windows will gleam with fresh merchandise, attractively arranged.

Santa Claus will come, and there will be candy for the kiddies, kind words for everyone.

Most important of all, there will be a remarkable spirit of "peace on earth, good will to men"—of hospitality as Snyder dishes it out at her best.

Snyder town is getting ready for Christmas, and she invites everybody within driving distance to help her do the job up brown.

Snyder town is getting ready for Christmas, and she invites everybody within driving distance to help her do the job up brown.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

THE FARMERS' REVOLT.

If more serious trouble in the Middle Western farm states result from President Roosevelt's rejection of the governors' price-fixing demands, it will not be difficult to place the blame. It will rest quite squarely on false friends of the farmers who are telling them they are not getting a fair deal from the administration at Washington and urging them to press their strike by every means, including violence, if necessary, to gain their ends.

In Missouri, Milo Reno has been calling for an uprising of the masses. From the Des Moines headquarters of the Farmers Holiday Association orders have been issued to members in 21 states to strike.

At Appleton, Wisconsin, a strike leader urged his followers to use every weapon at their command, and exclaimed: "When I said weapons, I mean weapons." In several states shipments of milk and other products are being held up on the highways. There have been numerous bombings of cheese factories and pitched battles between strikers and farmers who are trying to transport their products to market.

Governor Langer of North Dakota, disgruntled with his reception at the White House, repeats the absurd remark that "the farmer is the forgotten man." At the same time Secretary Wallace was announcing an extension of the liberal plans for loans to farmers on corn withheld from the market, and it was intimated that the scheme might soon be applied to wheat as well. The administration is about to invest $50,000,000 in hog products for relief of the poor. In addition the processing taxes should yield $350,000,000 to corn and hog producers.

The administration, as President Roosevelt says, is doing everything possible for the farmers, and he is right in refusing to put any more burdens on the treasury and the consumers for the benefit of a single industry which is now the most highly privileged in the country.—The Philadelphia Public Ledger.

For background depression clouds clarified a hang-over with the buildings of commerce, industry and finance. Let's examine the present design. . . In the upper right corner the sunshine of prosperity obliquely its rays; the four types of workers typify a common determination. It will be noticed all workers are in step except the businessman, a well known fact. . . Heigh ho, for high speed designing! Agriculture seems content to carry scythe and snath on left shoulder, with a strong right arm getting the swing of the thing. Only fading clouds hint of the last three years of hell, panic, or what you care to call it. . . And the human thing to do was accomplished by NRA-ing 400,000,000 letters without a cockeyed eagle splashed across one-half of every letter. . . I think you will admit the dear old fellow is designed that way. . . Mr. Farley really did a gracious thing in approving the sketch, the Bureau of Engraving okayed a blunder, and criticism has only endeared the stamp (to collectors and others).

Doubtless the most important decision of some time was recently made in Washington, when Russia was recognized by the U. S. formally and with an emphasis of finality. From the land of vodka and Russian pancakes came one M. Litvinoff to confer with sympathetic Mr. Roosevelt. . . Pot-bellied Litvinoff is a shrewd Russian, having been a high-notch salesman; he had a brief case full of data to add prestige to his conversation. . . Many say it is silly not to recognize 160,000,000 people and a wavering government, yet the same clique shimmers about handing over liberal credit. . . Some time ago Roosevelt ordered units of the fleet to the Atlantic (to soften Jap sentiment); now he announces propaganda and religious settlements have somewhat been clarified. Although not so hot, we now recognize the U. S. S. R. This probably will not prove to be the wisest policy two years hence, although Washington might as well cuss in a diplomatic way with the Russians as any other nations. . . In the near future watch for interesting developments.

Smith—"What are you cutting out of the paper?"
 Jones—"A report of a man who got a divorce because his wife went through his pockets."
 Smith—"What are you going to do with it?"
 Jones—"Put it in my pocket."

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the busy, harassed who will find every human soul parallel with the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

Founder of Modern Business. When Jesus was 12 years old His father and mother took him to the feast at Jerusalem.

It was the big national vacation; even peasant families saved their pennies and looked forward to it through the year. Towns like Nazareth were emptied of their inhabitants except for the few old folks who were left behind to look after the very young ones. Crowds of cheerful pilgrims filled the highways, laughing as they made their way across the hills and under the stars at night.

In such a mass of folks it was not surprising that a boy of 12 should be lost. When Mary and Joseph missed him on the homeward trip, they took it calmly and began a search among the relatives.

The inquiry produced no result. Some remembered having seen him in the temple, but no one had seen him since. Mary grew frightened; where could He be? Back there in the city alone? Wandering hungry and tired through the friendless streets? Carried away by other travelers into a distant country? She pictured a hundred calamities. Nervously she and Joseph hurried back over the hot roads, through the suburbs, up through the narrow city streets, up to the courts of the temple itself.

And there He was. Not lost; not a bit worried. Apparently unconscious that the feast was over, He sat in the midst of a group of old men, who were tossing questions at Him and applauding the shrewd common sense of His replies. Involuntarily His parents halted—they were simple folks, uneasy among strangers and disheveled by their haste. But, after all, they were His parents, and a very human feeling of irritation quickly overcame their diffidence. Mary stepped forward and grasped His arm.

"Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us?" she demanded. "Behold thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing."
 I wonder what answer she expected to receive. Did she ever know exactly what He was going to say—did anyone in Nazareth quite understand this keen, eager lad, who had such curious moments of abstraction and was forever breaking out with remarks that seemed so far beyond His years?

He spoke to her with deference, as always, but in words that did not dispel but rather added to her uncertainty.
 "How is it that ye sought me?" He asked. "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" His father's business, indeed, as if that wasn't exactly where they wanted Him to be. His father owned a prosperous carpenter shop in Nazareth, and that was the place for the boy, as He very well knew. She was on the point of saying so, but there was something in His look and tone that silenced her. She and Joseph turned and started out, and Jesus followed them—away from the temple and the city back to little Nazareth.

SCHOOL HEADS AT COLORADO

Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent, told a number of West Texas teachers and school officials at Colorado Monday evening that the New Deal he inaugurated for the rural child is really working. He was principal speaker on the program that included A. A. Bullock, state rural aid chief, and Miss Sue B. Manna, deputy superintendent in district No. 9. All speakers outlined phases of the new educational program.

A number of Scurry County school people attended the program at 7:30 o'clock, and the banquet at 6:00 o'clock that was served by the home economics department of the Colorado High School.

Red & White In Southwest Meet With This Area

Among more than 300 Red & White executive store operators and their families that attended the five-state meeting at Abilene Monday and Tuesday were several from the Snyder branch.

Following were local representatives: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Taylor, Harold Brown, Errol Taylor, H. A. Smith and Derroll Turner of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Scott of Dunn; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Market of China Grove; John Stavelly and Wallace Jones of Phivanna.

Delegates from Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico heard such speakers as Fredrick J. Nichols, merchandising director of the National Cash Register Company; Herbert T. Webb, national Red & White advertising manager, Chicago; Otto Goldstein, head of the system's coffee supply department, Dayton, Ohio; J. D. Perry, Red & White field representative.

Webb, before presenting the advertising program in picture form, discussed the principles of advertising, saying it must be inviting, enthusiastic, impressive and in itself a form of news. Goldstein emphasized quality and fair prices as merchandising factors and stressed the importance of advertising.

A banquet and dance were held for visitors Monday night.

HEFTY SCORES IN GRID GAMES

District 9-B shifted in a single week from light-laced scores to heavy pointage.

After an era of 6-6 tie games, three favorites rolled up several touchdowns to down their opponents decisively. Rotan practically clinched conference honor by a half game margin, barring ineligibility, when she beat Merkel, 34 to 0. It was the crippled Merkel team's second game of the week. Passes and a field goal were used for practically all Yellow Hammer scores.

Haskell came to life and won from the lowly Stamford Bulldogs, 27 to 0, while Snyder was taking an easy victory from Anson, 31 to 0.

Most of the squads have two more conference games, but some have only one.

Roscoe took the Hamlin Pipers to a thorough lacing, 34 to 0, in a Friday game. Hamlin was never able to pass the 35-yard stripe.

Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, a former resident of Snyder, came here from the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Austin. She is visiting in the home of her son, Darwin Whitmore, and attending to business here. She will possibly be here until the first of the year.

Cotton Seed

UNTIL JANUARY 1ST, we will sell Watson Big Boll Mebane Cotton Seed for 50c Per Bushel.

We planted the Block Seed this year and the seed that we are offering, if sold by Watson Seed Company, would be the same as their pedigreed seed. We used every precaution possible in ginning these seed, to keep them pure, by having the rolls dumped and all loose seed cleaned up around the gins, and then letting one-half of the first bale go over into the seed house. We also ginned from six to ten bales at a time.

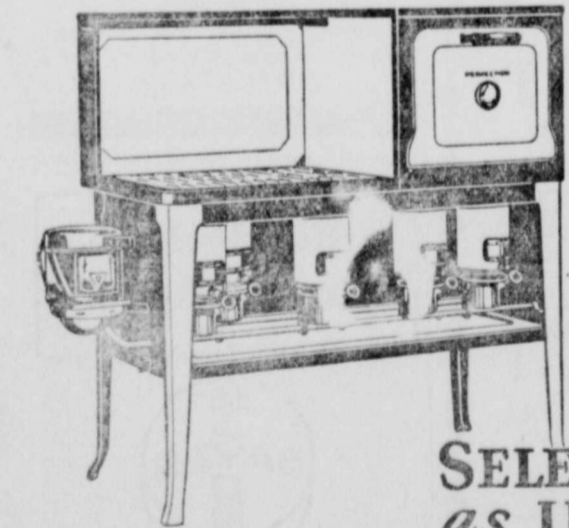

We believe this is the best cotton for this country that you could plant. It is a big boll cotton, easy to pick, short joints, makes a good yield and a good turnout. Staple 15-16 to 1 inch.

We refer you to Lee Cotton Co., Joyce & Sons, Andy Logan, Bird Rodman, Sidney Johnson, M. T. Casey, Thomas Eckles, Dave Denson, Bill Brooks and many others who planted Watson seed this year.

Until January 1st, we will sell these seed in the bulk for 50c per bushel. After then, they will be higher.
