Bad Leg Injury Received in Crash By Charlie Byrd

An automobile and truck accident which occurred late Wednesday afternoon just in front of Carden's Service Station, north of the Snyder square on Avenue S, put Charlie Byrd in a local hospital with a crushed right leg.

According to eye witnesses, the accident occurred when Byrd, going south and driving a 1939 Ford touring with a light trailer behind, attempted to pull in the driveway at Carden's Station.

A truck just behind Byrd's car, driven by T. Kennedy of Lubbock, rammed into the side of Byrd's automobile and knocked the vehicle against the service station gasoline pumps. Two pumps were bowled over by the terrific impact.

The truck driver got out of the truck with scarcely any injuries, while the other occupant of the truck, L. L. Light of Lubbock, suffered only a slight foot injury. The truck is owned by J. L. Kennedy of Lubbock.

Late Wednesday night reports from Byrd's bedside indicated he was resting easy.

BOOSTERS OF LAMESA TALK RODEO ON TRIP

Wednesday Morning Visitors Given Hearty Greeting by Citizens of All Parts of County

People from a dozen Scurry County communities joined Snyder citizens Wednesday morning at 9:45 o'clock in welcoming Lamesa's delegation of rodeo trippers to the city.

A convoy of automobiles, led by R. G. Dillard, Chamber of Commerce manager, met the Dawson County goodwillers west of the city limits.

Introductory remarks by Dillard were followed by the welcome address to the Lamesa group, given by Pat Bullock. "Since we have no keys to the city," he said, "you Lamesa folks can do anything here you think you are big enough to do. We're going to attend your rodeo June 19-20, and will expect to see you here for our county rodeo in August."

In extending an invitation to Snyder and Scurry County people, and especially cowgirls of the county, to attend the two-day Lamesa Rodeo June 19-20, Raymond Lee Johns, secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, states $650 in cash prizes will be given away each day of the roundup.

Bill Boyd, president of the Lamesa Rodeo Association, said in his talk a special hand-made saddle will be given away as first prize to the winning cowgirl entrant.

Feature of the musical program given by the visitors was woven around numbers given by Hop Halvey of Lubbock and his Drug Store Cowboys. A Lamesa trio of cowgirls gave some roundly-cheered cowboy songs.

In addition to the cowboy and cowgirl regalia worn by the Lamesa trippers, the group brought along a regular cow pony in a trailer. The animal had on the hand-made saddle that will be given to the winning cowgirl entrant.

Halsey stated in his speech that "Scurry County as a whole is cordially invited to the Lamesa Rodeo without reservation. In return, we plan to send an unusually large delegation of Dawson County people to your Scurry County Rodeo in August." Philco sound equipment for Wednesday morning's festive occasion was furnished through the local Bryant-Link Company store.

Jerry Slovacek Wins Model Plane Award at Abilene

Youthful Jerry Slovacek, ace modeler of the local model plane club, won the Fisher's Jewelry trophy Sunday afternoon in the Abilene Model club's first invitation gasoline model plane contest of the season.

He flew a Comet Clipper, powered with an Ohlsson "60" motor, for a three-flight average of 71 seconds. An Abilene model builder, L. M. Baker, took the second award, an identification bracelet embossed with the National Aeronautic Association emblem, also offered by Fisher's Jewelry Store.

Baker lost to young Slovacek by only one-third of a second on the three-flight average. Only two prizes were offered at Sunday afternoon's meet.

Misting rain delayed the start of the contest, but modelers took off from a board runway in accordance with 1940 rules of the National Academy of Model Aeronautics. Official flights required a motor run of not more than 20 seconds and an unassisted take-off.

Although rain and muddy field cut attendance to a considerable degree, 10 models qualified for entering.

In addition to Jerry, other Snyder attendants included Joe Slovacek and "Slim" Turner.

1940 ACREAGE IS LARGEST IN AAA HISTORY

Increased Number of Farms Pledge Participation in Government Program This Year

With an estimated 40,000,000 acres of crop land and 85,000,000 acres of range land signed up under the 1940 AAA program, the county agent's office stated this week that participation in the program by the nation's farmers and ranchers will be the largest of any year since the Triple A plan was put into effect.

Latest reports indicate that more than 414,000 Texas farms will operate under the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1940, an increase over the 1939 participation of nearly 4,000 while approximately 1,200 additional ranches will practice range-improvement measures under the Range Conservation Program, bringing the number of ranches cooperating to 26,100.

To these farmers and ranchmen will go the greater portion of the $89,000,000 available to Texas for full participation in the AAA program. George Slaughter, chairman of the state committee, pointed out recently. Full cooperation requires planting within soil-depleting acreage allotments and earning the maximum available for soil-building and range-improvement work by adopting specific conservation practices.

In the range program the entire payment is made for conservation work done, while in the farm program part of the payment is made for soil-building work and part for taking a portion of the cropland out of soil-depleting crops.

Supervisors in Soil Program to Meet at Courthouse Friday

"In getting underway with farm program compliance work Monday," the county agent's office states, "we plan to complete this phase of the 1940 AAA program just as soon as possible in order that Scurry County may be among the first West Texas counties to be in line for 1940 benefit payments."

Wolcott Continues Breaking of Records at Princeton Meet

The eyes of track fans were on the state of Texas Saturday as athletes from the longhorn country won three of the seven events in the seventh annual Princeton invitation track meet, with Fred Wolcott of Rice accounting for two of the victories, one with a world record bettering performance.

Snyder lad skinned the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.5 seconds, beating the recognized record of 22.6 set by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935. He also was timed in 22.3 at the 200 meter mark, surpassing Owens' 22.6 record.

In the 120-high, he was timed in 13.9. This bettered the meet record of 14.3 set by Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist in 1935, and also the recognized American record of 14 seconds flat established by R. D. Osgood of Michigan in 1937.

In view of the un-American influences cropping up in various sections of the state and the increasingly grave conditions abroad, Snyder is expected to cooperate 100 per cent Friday in observing American Flag Day.

Local Legion officials join hands with city officials in requesting local merchants and business men to put out flags in front of their stores Friday in commemoration of the event.

"Flag Day," President Roosevelt stated Monday, "should be an event of special import to every American citizen this year. The flag is not an image, or a graven image of marble or iron, but a living, waving symbol of the most glorious republic on earth today."

Development on the county's highway front centered this week around seal coat work that was started by the contractor, Ernest Lloyd, on U. S. Highway 84 from the Nolan County line toward Hermleigh.

Seal coat work on Highway 84 from the Garza County line toward Snyder is progressing nicely, contractor representatives reported Wednesday.

A crew of workmen, under the supervision of G. R. Austin, maintenance foreman, has placed guard rail posts on Highway 84 from Snyder to Hermleigh preparatory to putting up guard railing. Guard rails will probably be placed at all curves on Highway 84 from the Nolan County line.

Dirt work is coming east toward Highway from the Borden County line that is under construction.

Contractors on this west county gap project, handicapped by lack of water, were said to have benefited from week-end rains, since they constructed dams across several creeks, and in this way obtained water sufficient for several more days' work.

The old Ira field has been continuously producing since 1923, when Colonel "Mexia" Humphrey drilled the first well on the Moore land in Section 116. Humphrey's No. 1 Moore is still producing.

The Sharon pool's three other completions for the week follow: Coffield & Guhrle's No. 4 First National Bank of Snyder, Section 130, Block 97, H. & T. C. Ry. Survey, completed for flow of 125 barrels daily after shot of 675 quarts, with total depth of 2,240 feet;

Mudge Oil Company is slated to move one location east of their No. 2 Mrs. Alva Johnson well to their No. 3 location in the next few days.

Ordovician Oil Company has completed a fishing job in their important west extension test, No. 1 Jack Burney, northwest corner of the southwest one-fourth, Section 146, Block 97, that could have been rather serious.

Most of County Gets More Rain Since Last Week

Jupiter Pluvius showered some of his choicest rainfall across most of Scurry County from last Thursday night through Saturday night and Sunday, and left only two or three "dry" spots in the county.

Rainfall from Thursday night through Sunday put much-needed moisture in the ground from Fluvanna east, and swung south to Snyder, where 1.68 inches precipitation was marked up, covered the county east to Midway and Camp Springs, and gave Hermleigh and Byron about an inch and a half of rain.

Dunn and Ira communities reported good rains, with about two and a half inches received at Dunn from Thursday through Sunday.

Wind and hail accompanying Saturday afternoon's cloud left a strip of hail-beaten territory northwest of Snyder, which was about two miles wide and four miles long.

The R. G. Davenport Ranch in the southeastern part of Fisher County and southwestern part of Fisher County reported a hail storm so intense Saturday afternoon about 100 jack rabbits were slain by the frozen pellets. Limbs were torn from mesquite trees by a high wind, but small property damage was reported.

Snyder Baseballers Seeking Fourth Win

The two groups of guests were invited to beem and embroider dish towels for the honoree instead of hearing the usual fine arts program.

Refreshments were served from the dining table, decorations for which emphasized a bridal note. The table was a lovely crocheted cloth in a lace design. The centerpiece, miniature bride and bridegroom in a setting of white orange blossoms and bells, was placed on a reflector and surrounded with layers of pink and white tulle. The punch bowl was in a setting of double larkspur and greenery.

Hanging above the table was an arrangement of silver and white wedding bells. White tapers in crystal holders and flowers in a crystal bowl decorated the buffet. Mmes. R. C. Miller Jr. and Warren Sturgeon poured punch and assisted in serving the cookies.

Guests were invited into another room to view the shower gifts, which were arranged to advantage, and to register in the bride's book. Evelyn Pollard, sister of the honoree, was at the register, where 50 guests left their names.

CHINA GROVE CLUB MET

The China Grove Home Demonstration Club met June 4 in the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson. The 13 members and Miss Rabel responded to roll call with useful suggestions.

"Bathing Center" was the topic on the program discussed during the afternoon. "A daily bath is essential to absolute cleanliness and grooming," Miss Rabel told the club women, "and pleasant thoughts, cheerfulness and thoughtfulness of others will do much to make a person beautiful in the eyes of others."

"The teeth should be examined and cleaned twice a year by a reputable dentist," the club women were advised. "The teeth should be brushed after each meal. A teaspoon of salt or baking soda or a mixture of the two used dry or dissolved in a glass of warm water makes a good dentifrice. A little salt and soda in water is an excellent mouth wash and a precaution against bad breath."

The club members were told to drink six glasses of water a day to give the internal bath. Correct posture is essential to be beautiful, it was pointed out by the speaker. One cannot look smart without correct carriage of the body or correct pose.

Always keep hands and finger nails in good condition. It is also very essential to care for the hair in a proper way.

A good way to be well dressed is to be clean. Miss Rabel showed the club women a very useful hat and shoe rack. She showed some very attractive bath mats and towels that were very useful and cheap.

Some games were directed by the recreational leader after the demonstration by Miss Rabel.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at the home of Reta Smith. Everyone is urged to attend.

Mrs. Galyean, who is employed at The Fair Store, wore a navy blue sheer frock with navy and white accessories for the service.

Misses Martha and Ze'da Mitchell of Lubbock are here spending a month with their grandmother, Mrs. J. K. Mitchell.

Winters Guest Is Honored at Party

Marjorie Ragan of Winters was honored at a game party given last Wednesday evening at the Tommie Spence home. Hostess for the party was Dorothy Nell Walser, whose guest Marjorie has been during her visit in Snyder.

"I didn't mean that," she said, when the laughter was stilled. "I want you to be happy."

"I shall be, if you are. Or content, at any rate. Of course being here with you like this is a little disconcerting. I keep thinking—That's enough of that. I'm glad we've had this time together. You won't keep on trying to avoid me as you have done until now? We have something left. Oh, anything I may say will sound asinine, but we can be friends, can't we?"

"There's no question of that." Her voice was not quite steady. "After all the years we've known each other, the fun we've had."

"I hope so. I don't want to lose you entirely. If there's ever anything—if you need me or—" He broke off with an embarrassed laugh. "Skip it. We'd better get back to the others. They're probably thinking things which aren't true. This slow-motion progress may appear a little incriminating when viewed from the heights."

She laughed and lengthened her stride to match his. The irritations of the day no longer lay like a weight on her spirits. It seemed incredible, now, as glowing from the exercise she climbed the slope at Todd's side, that she had allowed Aunt Flora to annoy her, that in her unreasonable disappointment she had been so easily led astray. She was eager to be with him again, to make her partial apology complete. As they approached the lake, she broke away from Todd and ran ahead.

"Wait a minute!" he called.

She did not reply. A chorus of voices greeted her. She made laughing replies but her eyes flew to John. He rose, at her approach, from the pile of blankets on which he had been sitting with Ellen Janeway and her guest, little Julie Lelange from Charleston. His face brightened as his eyes met hers through the ruddy glow of the fire. She went to him, smiling.

CHAPTER X

Kitty Cameron lifted her eyes from a magazine as Gay spoke to her at the door of her dressing-room.

"Hello!" she said. "Have you just returned? Where's John?"

"Here." Gay drew him forward. "Yes, we've just returned."

"Hello, John! Come in. There's a photograph of the 'Gabriella' in 'Town and Country,' Gay. Todd has sold it to Tony Merrill."

"Has he?" Gay kissed her mother. "When, it's hot in here. May I raise a window?"

"Let me." John lifted a sash behind taffeta curtains, letting a stream of air into the softly lit, fragrant room. Lights bloomed through the dusk. A few stars shone. At an angle he saw a freighter moving slowly on the dark surface of the river below, trailing a brighter wash of churning foam.

"Er-r-r!" Kitty Cameron sat up and leaped forward to reach the fur coverlet folded at the foot of the chaise-longue. "You come in here glowing like mountain climbers and proceed to freeze me out."

"You invited us." Gay dropped into a chair beside the chaise-longue. "You're a hot-house blossom, Kitty. Where's Robert?"

"Playing hand-ball at the club." Gay's mother lay back against cushions, under the fur coverlet. "He's distressed about his waist-line. Sit down, John, but not in that chair. This is the only one Robert really trusts." She gestured. Peach-colored chignon in a fan of tiny pleats fell back from her rounded arm. Her long, very deep blue eyes moved from John to Gay. "You must have enjoyed the country. I expected you yesterday. What have you done to make yourself look so blowsy, Gay? Your face is as red as a tomato."

"Couldn't you have said as red as a Christmas rose? You have no poetry in your soul. She looks as though she would have, doesn't she, John? Look at her. Peach-blossoms and spun-glass and as practical as a garden rake."

"Rake?" her mother queried, laughing. "I don't demand a great deal of filial respect but aren't you carrying matters a little too far?"

"Much too far," John said. His laughter mingled with the feminine laughter chiming in the dainty luxurious room. He relaxed in the chair, which looked fragile but was comfortable, and lit a cigarette.

"Thank heaven, there's a little chivalry left in the world." Kitty Cameron's sparkling glance rested upon John for a moment, then turned to Gay. "But you haven't answered my question. As a parent I demand to know what you've been up to, John's ears are purple."

"We drove in with the top down, or rather John drove, and we couldn't find ear-tabs or a tipper."

Kitty Cameron shuddered. "Haven't you any sense?"

"It was marvelous, except that John has a mania for speed which I've never suspected. It was certain we'd spend his last night here in a magistrate's office."

"Are you leaving tomorrow?"

"Tonight, Mrs. Cameron."

"Must you, John?" Gay's eyes clouded. The brightness dimmed out of her face.

"Must, Gay. I've overstayed my leave of absence by one day already."

"The late sleeper, then."

"Yes," he said, and was silent. "Oh, that's really too bad." Kitty Cameron's expression was distressed. "I expected you to stay over the week-end, at least. If I'd had any idea—"

"What have you been up to, Mother? Gay asked. "You've no idea how guilty you look."

"It's Robert," she sighed, then led. "I learned long ago that

She laughed and lengthened her stride to match his.

surprises are usually not appreciated."

"Has Robert planned a surprise for us?"

"He has made arrangements to take us for dinner and dancing at the Heron Club."

"That was dear of him," Gay said slowly, "but—"

"I told him he should consult you. Well, don't think of it again. Robert will be disappointed and what he'll say to the others—But that's his predicament."

"The others? Is it a party?"

"Ten, I believe. Tony Wales and her fiancé and Peter and Connie Belmont and—"

"Gay's eyes met John's in dismay. "We should have stayed in the country," she said.

"Robert wanted to do something for you, Gay," Kitty Cameron's tone held a faint rebuke.

"I appreciate that. But John's last night—A party!"

"You've never shown any dislike for parties," her mother said mildly. "On the contrary—But you needn't. Robert was letting off steam. He was so incensed yesterday when your Aunt Flora was here. She has the ability to stir up antagonism in even Robert's genial soul."

The laughter, the gaiety had gone out of her voice. John saw that her contentment was shattered. She glanced at him guardedly, wondering, he knew, what effect further discussion of their situation would have upon him. He smiled, but, studying her expression, he knew that he had failed to reassure her completely.

"I know how it irritates you to be questioned," she said, obviously choosing her approach with care. "But under the circumstances, Gay—"

"We have no definite plans."

"Then you won't be married this winter?"

"No," Gay said and was silent. "But I thought—You told me—"

"That Dad was wangling a place for John in the research department at Johns Hopkins," Gay said evenly. "Wasn't he successful? I should think that considering what his father did for the hospital, there should be no question of a refusal."

"There will be an opening at the first of the year."

"But I am not free to accept it, Mrs. Cameron," John said. "I'm obligated until October."

SPURTRIPPERS EXTOL RODEO ON VISIT HERE

Boosters Greeted by Largest Crowd At Snyder on Their Rounds—Seminole Also Here

Spur's Rodeo trippers, advertising their second annual rodeo June 14-15, attended a blitzkrieg run into Snyder from Sweetwater late Friday afternoon 18 minutes ahead of schedule, but were met at the city limits with the largest convoy of automobiles that intercepted them during their entire tour.

In welcoming the rodeo trippers to Snyder, Judge Jim Cloud emphasized the "degree of friendliness that has always existed between Spur and Snyder." "We feel," he said, "that for every Snyder person we send to the Spur rodeo, we will have 15 from Spur for the Scurry County Rodeo."

R. G. Dillard, Chamber of Commerce manager, gave a brief talk over the public address system the Spur trippers brought with them and Jimmie Billingsley was introduced to the visitors.

In extending Snyder and Scurry County people an invitation to attend Spur's second annual rodeo, the Dickens County visitors stated Snyder had the largest crowd on hand to welcome them of any town visited in the tour.

Opal Etheredge of Hermleigh was announced by Chamber of Commerce officials as Snyder's cow girl sponsor for the Spur Rodeo.

Miss Etheredge, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Etheredge of Hermleigh, will ride in both Friday and Saturday performances.

Hardly had the Spur group left town enroute to Rotan than a delegation of Seminole good willers stormed Snyder advertising Seminole's forthcoming rodeo June 14-15.

New Members Added To Trappers Group

Scurry County ranchers expressed this week a considerable amount of interest in the Scurry County Trappers Association, which was formed several days ago in Precinct No. 2.

H. E. Greenfield of Dermott, president of the organization, states a number of new members have been secured the past few days by the Scurry County Trappers Association.

Services of a recognized trapper will probably be secured in the near future to stamp out coyotes, bob cats and other predatory animals in Northern Scurry County. If sufficient interest is shown, trapping activities may be carried to other parts of the county.

Crowds Listen to Quartet Program Monday Evening

Residents of Hermleigh, Pyron, Snyder, Strayhorn, Ira and other communities were attracted to Hermleigh School auditorium Monday evening for a two-hour concert given by the Vaughn Quartet of Lawrenceburg, Tennessee.

The concert, given under the sponsorship of the Hermleigh FFA chapter, was one of the first of its kind to be presented in Scurry County in recent months.

Featured during the two-hour program were gospel songs, popular songs and those ever-old musical numbers of other days. Highlight of the evening's entertainment was built around a solo, "Old Man River," given by Chalmers Walker, bass singer, and a saxophone number given by the Vaughn songsters.

"W. B. Walbert, baritone singer and manager of the Vaughn Quartet, gave some roundly-applauded humorous numbers, as did Le Roy Carver, first tenor; Taylor Helton, second tenor; Walker, bass singer; and Doc Dooley, pianist. Dooley also gave two piano solos.

Monday evening's concert, coming on the heels of the T-P Sunshine Singing Convention that was staged at Snyder Saturday and Sunday, marked the second appearance of the Tennessee singers in West Texas. Part of the concert proceeds went into the Hermleigh FFA chapter treasury.

The Vaughn singers, Walbert states, may be heard over Station WFAA, Dallas, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10:15 to 10:30 p. m., Saturdays from 10:45 to 11:15 a. m. and Sunday nights 8:30 to 9:00 p. m.

W. B. Stanfield of Snyder was the second oldest person registered last Tuesday night at the annual Old Settlers Reunion of West Texas, held at Post under the sponsorship of the Post Rotarians.

Augmented by visitors from Snyder, Pluvanna, Lubbock, Tahoka, Ruby, Rotan and several other points, the turnout for the event was the largest in the past several years.

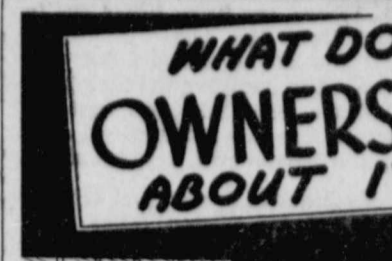

Lively old time dances formed the major event of the evening's entertainment after speeches were made by several old timers. Alvin Elkins of the Polar community demonstrated the famous "jig" dance that has been a popular routine of many modern dances.

Dr. J. D. Davis of Roby, who has been present at every reunion, gave the response on behalf of the old timers, following the welcome by O. D. Cardwell. Other talks were made by J. F. Maxey of Graham and by George Elkins of Folar.

Oldest pioneer registered at the Post gathering was J. H. Babb, a Post resident for many years. In addition to Stanfield, other Snyder attendees included Pete Brady and Scott Lovelady.

ONE MILLION Texans

One million Texans would have to find other means of livelihood if the Texas petroleum industry were to shut down tomorrow.

Steady employment, good working conditions, reasonable working hours and fair wages are the industry's responsibilities to its workers and their families—a million Texans in all.

It must maintain production, find and develop new fields, meet competitive markets for its products and pay its total expense bill of 750 million dollars a year, which includes its payrolls.

The Texas petroleum industry now has to pay 97 million dollars a year in taxes to Federal, State and local governments before it can consider wages and employment.

When expenses must be cut to satisfy increasing tax demands, employment suffers, and with it, the buying power that employment creates in our State.

More Rules on AAA Parity Payments to Farmers Released

In addition to the practices that tend to defeat the purposes of the agricultural conservation and parity payment programs, the county agent's office lists the following provisions that are applicable to all AAA regions:

"If a tenant is settling his obligations under a rental contract or agreement supplemental thereto, pays or renders cash, rent, or a share of the crops, or any service of value, aggregating in value in excess of the rental customarily paid in the community for similar land and use;

"Thereby diverting to the landlord the whole or part of any payment the tenant is entitled to receive, there shall be withheld from the whole of any payment with respect to the farm made.

"There shall be withheld from the landlord whole of the payment with respect to all farms under the program, provided, however, that where the tenant is renting for a share of the crops only and the tenant's share is 60 per cent or less, only the landlord's payments shall be so withheld or recovered."

Skillful efforts of Byron Jordan, drilling superintendent, resulted in the broken jars being fished out in good time. The test was drilling at 2,260 feet and is expected to pick up the pay horizon any hour. Completion of the Ordovician west extension test as a producer will open up the Sharon pool in great style.

Northwest of Snyder, and 12 miles north of the Sharon Ridge field, Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 J. Wright Moore test, to which this paper called the oil fraternity's attention last week as a possible producer at 3,975 feet, hit the shale breaks at 3,941 feet after drilling through a long siege of solid, hard lime.

This important wildcat test, located in the center of the north-west quarter, Section 334, Block 97, H. & T. C. Ry. Survey, should begin to show something interesting by tonight (Thursday).

Major companies have leased a stretch four miles wide and over 20 miles long, running north by west and a little east of south from above this test to below the old Dibble test in Section 155, where gas was encountered in 1931 at 3,975-4,000 feet.

Picking up of the pay horizon in the Moore test would immediately open up oil play that will carry Scurry County to the front as a potential oil producing area of major proportions.

O'Daniel Favors Transaction Tax For Security Plan

(Editor's Note—This is another in a series of brief articles by Boyce House analyzing the tax plan of each candidate for governor for paying social security.)

A transaction tax is favored by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to pay old age pensions and other features of social security.

A tax of 1.6 per cent (the rate would be less if the state ad valorem tax is not abolished) would be levied on "the amount of the actual value passing from one person to another," and "transaction" is defined as:

"Any dealings of every kind whatsoever between two or more persons wherein or whereby professional, business, personal, mechanical, industrial, commercial, engineering, scientific, publicity or any other services of whatsoever kind or nature are done or performed, or wherein or whereby any right, title, interest, estate, right of enjoyment or right of possession in or to any tangible or intangible property of any description passes or is, or may be fixed, determined, changed, effected, modified, increased, diminished or affected."

Main exemptions from the tax would be: Salaries, wages and professional fees; first sale of farm, ranch or dairy products by the producer; charity organizations; religious organizations; transactions between the state of Texas and another state or the United States government and transactions based upon interstate commerce.

In announcing for re-election, the governor quoted from his first message to the Legislature when the transaction tax was submitted: "I believe that this will give the broadest base from which to secure this revenue. A transaction tax, such as I recommended, is applied alike to every line of business and industry."

Objections raised by those opposing are that it taxes newspaper advertising but exempts fees of lawyers; that it would give a new advantage to chain stores as their merchandise would be obtained from headquarters in another state and so would be interstate commerce and, therefore, subject to only one tax, which would be on the final sale across the counter; that the business man would have to set up an elaborate bookkeeping system.

6,500 SINGERS AT T-P CONFAB DESPITE RAINS

All-Day Musical Program Sunday Attracts People from Several States to Local School

Despite a slow falling rain that muddied dirt roads Sunday morning, 6,500 people from Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and as far away as Lawrenceburg, Tennessee, stormed the city for final day sessions of the T-P Sunshine Singing Convention.

Opening T-P convention sessions, with J. Lawrence Deavers, president, presiding, were held Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Saturday night and Sunday sessions were held in Snyder School's spacious gymnasium.

Highlight of Sunday's gospel song festivities was a 45-minute broadcast Sunday afternoon, 2:30 to 3:15 o'clock, direct from the convention hall over Station KXOX, Sweetwater.

Sunday afternoon's broadcast marked the first time in T-P convention history, and in the history of Scurry County, such a feat has been accomplished.

The broadcast, made possible by the radio station, Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and Scurry County singers, featured some of the South's outstanding broadcasts.

In giving the convention's official welcome Sunday afternoon to T-P Sunshine attendees, Jim Cloud emphasized the fact that "music is the song of the soul, and when conveyed through gospel channels, leaves a living message written on the heart. The word 'music,' he stated, 'must have itself been created in paradise.'"

At Saturday night's business session Wade Willis, singing deputy sheriff of Abilene, was named convention president to succeed J. Lawrence Deavers, Snyder. Dewey Niedeken of Snyder was named vice president and M. Shroy of Abilene was selected convention secretary.

Opening number at Sunday morning's session was led by M. O. Patrick of Hermleigh. President Deavers presided at all sessions.

Featured convention quartets included the Vaughn quartet of Lawrenceburg, Tennessee, Stamps-Baxter quartet of Dallas, San Angelo, Lubbock, Abilene, Caddo and others.

The Chamber of Commerce, local sponsor of the T-P convention, registered through B. G. Dillard, manager, and Christine Jones, assistant, Texas attendees from Fort Worth, Dallas, Denton, Odessa, Brownfield, Lubbock, Abilene, San Angelo, Sweetwater and numerous other points. Especially large delegations of singers from Hobbs, Roby and Rotan in Fisher County attended.

J. Lawrence Deavers, retiring convention president, states special thanks are due Jerry Chapman, Ruth Shipp, Louise Edman, Louise McDowell, Mayme Lou Stokes and Opal Kite for acting as ushers Saturday afternoon, and to John Jay Boren, Charles Boren, Neil C. Burnett, June Jones, Tommy Major and Douglas McClain for the excellent service given Saturday afternoon as guides.

Sound equipment for the two festive days of the convention was furnished exclusively by Gulf Oil Corporation through E. F. Sears, local dealer. Special thanks are due him

Snyder General Hospital

Two babies, a boy and a girl, were born in the local hospital this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Stovall of Gall are announcing their sixth and a half pound son, Billy Gay, who was born at 8:17 o'clock Tuesday night. The eight pound three ounce daughter of the F. W. Mufgords arrived Wednesday morning at 5:00 o'clock.

Remaining from previous weeks are Wayne Key of Eunice, New Mexico, accident victim of three weeks ago, and Mrs. Stewart Cooper surgery patient. Mrs. B. V. Blair of Haskell, who was a medical patient several days, was gone from the hospital yesterday.

In the hospital late Wednesday besides the two babies and mothers were the following other new patients: Dr. A. C. Leslie, J. O. Stinson, Mrs. Owen Morton, Mrs. J. E. Goodman of Hermleigh, all medical; George Gibson, accident while working with a construction company crew; Mrs. Dalton Conway of Westbrook, surgery.

Figures compiled early this week show the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce will stay well within its allocated budget of funds for taking care of the convention. Snyder and Scurry County singers and those interested in gospel music contributed $39.50 toward convention expenditures.

Carefully rechecked figures show that 95 per cent of all expenditures made by the Chamber of Commerce and county singers for the T-P Sunshine convention went to local business firms and merchants.

Great Egg Market Offered by Surplus Commodities Plan

Produce buyers and egg dealers in this trade territory who have surplus eggs to sell were advised this week that the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation will receive and consider offers for the sale of fresh eggs.

The Texas Extension Service at College Station reported Monday that the FSCC will be interested in fresh, first grade eggs only, and warns dealers against trying to sell this government agency rotten, or unsuitable, produce.

Dealers are advised to contact the FSCC at its Chicago office, 506 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, according to George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman for the A. & M. College Extension Service. He added that grading of fresh shell eggs in Texas is handled under the direction of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture for the State Department of Agriculture.

Offers may be submitted by letter or telegram and are to be made in lots of 400 cases of 30 dozen each, McCarthy explained.

Bullock Presents Platform in Race For House Place

- 1.—Reduction of cost of State Government by eliminating needless employees and boards.
- 2.—Opposition to tax remission in local cities and districts that does not apply to the state as a whole.
- 3.—Full payment of Old Age Pensions, Teacher Retirement obligations and Aid to Indigent Blind and to Crippled Children.
- 4.—Prohibit any state official from running for any office other than the one to which he has been elected while serving as a state official.
- 5.—Tax on natural resources first choice to pay social security obligations. Will support any reasonable tax measure necessary to meet this obligation, sales tax included. It must be paid.
- 6.—Close cooperation with other members of the Legislature and the Governor of Texas in order that something may be accomplished in the next Legislature.

Having worked in Austin for some four years I know from actual experience that from 10 to 25 per cent of the employees in practically all departments are not needed. In my opinion there are too many overlapping boards which we do not need. The taxpayers are overburdened with needless employees.

Thousands upon thousands of dollars have been remitted in taxes to wealthy cities like Houston etc., thus causing the burden to be heavier on the people on the farm. No tax has even been remitted for West Texas. I shall oppose any effort to remit taxes in local areas at the expense of the rest of the state.

I shall cast every vote and lend every effort to the immediate passage of legislation that will pay to the Old People, the Crippled Children, the Indigent Blind and the Teacher that which the people of Texas said should be paid and should have been paid more than two years ago. The legislature in the past has been able to find money to appropriate for the eradication of ticks in East Texas and for the control of this and that, but have utterly failed to see the human side and human need and have utterly failed to heed the demands of people concerning social security.

Obligations is tax on natural resources. However, I shall support any reasonable measure, be it a sales tax or some other kind that will meet this obligation. If I cannot have my choice I shall go with the majority and work for the tax that will raise the money. The social security obligation must be paid. It shall be my purpose to work with, not against, the other members of the legislature and the Governor of Texas in order that constructive legislation may be passed and our obligation to the old folks and others be paid in full. It is not the purpose of the legislature to squabble and array one group or individual against another. As I see it, it is the duty of each member to work in harmony in order that the job may be done in the shortest time and at the least expense possible to the taxpayers of Texas.

To Scurry County Voters:

In taking this method of soliciting your vote, I want you to consider this a personal message from a friend. I want to stand by my duties of office, but at the same time let you know I'll be counting on your vote. I offer you my record as a public official, and will appreciate your vote with a very grateful heart. Your friend—Charles J. Lewis, candidate for County Clerk. 1p

Work on Legion Hut Nearing Completion

Speed with which interior work at the Legion Hut was going forward Wednesday indicates the new structure being erected four blocks west of the square on 25th Street will be practically completed by Saturday night.

Henry Rosenberg, Will Layne American Legion Post commander, states the local post's first meeting in the new hut will be held Thursday night, June 29, at which time program arrangements for the hut's formal dedication will be mapped.

Since a date will be set at the June 20 meeting for formal dedication ceremonies, every ex-service man and his lady in this county are urged by Elmer Louder, post adjutant, and other Legion officials, to attend the gathering.

The Wade Winstons and Harrie Winston have as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winston and children, Pat, Blok and Terry, of St. Joseph, Missouri.

Sam Nations Enters County Sheriff Race

Sam O. Nations, former deputy sheriff and former Will Layne Post American Legion commander, announced this week his candidacy for sheriff of Scurry County.

Nations resigned of his own accord January 1 as deputy under Sheriff John Lynch, and has since been engaged in farming activities in the Pyron community. He served one year as deputy sheriff.

"In announcing my candidacy for sheriff," Nations said, "I have no axes to grind and no favors for friends. I believe I can make the county voters a good officer, and will contact everyone possible between now and the July 27 primary."

Snyder Golfer Goes To Tourney Quarters

Bill Horton of Snyder, Abilene city golf champion, lost in the quarter-final round of the Texas Amateur Golf Association tournament held in San Angelo last weekend. Horton dropped his match one-up to Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth, tourney winner, after exhibiting the most beautiful putting in the entire three-day meet.

More REA Lines for Colorado Unit Run
Surveying work was completed Friday by the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative of Colorado City for 20 additional miles of rural electric lines that will serve Mitchell and parts of adjacent counties when completed, a cooperative official stated while here.
The proposed high lines would serve some 300 subscribers, farm families, mostly, who are evidencing a drastic need of electricity and the convenience it brings to the rural home. A segment of the line would serve residents in the southern edge of Scurry County, information received from REA officials shows.

What Men Will Die For

There has grown up among the younger generation in America a belief that war is somehow imposed upon a nation for the financial benefit or personal aggrandizement of profiteers and politicians. That doctrine has been preached by many popular writers in the past 20 years, until it has become the fashion to sneer at such slogans as "making the world safe for democracy."

The very word "Liberty" has lost its meaning to a generation which has never been threatened with the loss of all that liberty means and has meant to Americans. The subtle subversive propaganda of those who seek to undermine our American system has convinced great numbers of young folks that somehow they have been deprived of rights and privileges which, they are led to believe, would be theirs under some Utopian scheme of government whereby a paternal state relieves every citizen of all responsibility.

They have yet to learn, these deluded young people, that where there is no responsibility there can be no liberty. The German people have learned it, the Italians, the Russians, have learned that in surrendering their personal responsibilities to the Government they have surrendered their liberties. And those who look on complacently while they see free peoples brought into slavery to dictators are simpletons if they believe that there is no danger that Americans may face the prospect of similar enslavement.

No American wants to plunge this country into war to fight other people's battles. Every American worthy of the name wants to build such barriers against aggression as will prevent any other nation or power from depriving us of our most precious heritage. When our liberty is threatened, it is no time to count the cost of defense. Free men can survive poverty. They cannot survive slavery.

The WTCC Forges Ahead

Probably no other organization has kept a closer watch on the pulse beat of West Texas through the years than has the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Abilene. The vital forcefulness of the organization is aptly typified in the words of a certain Washington member of congress from a northern state, when he said last week: "If we don't hear from the WTCC way down in Texas, we believe we have the freight rate provision of a certain bill safe from changes."

Possibly some of the outstanding policies upon which the WTCC operates are best illustrated by the preamble to the Declaration of Policies the organization adopted at the 22nd annual convention in Big Spring recently. Excerpts from the preamble follow: "New and undeveloped territories are very often exploited by older and more developed regions, and densely populated commercial areas do not grant producing rural areas consideration commensurate with their economic importance."

"From fundamental reasons such as the above has sprung the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to serve as a voice for the nation's newest undeveloped rural area. The organization, now in its 22nd year, composed of 169 affiliated towns, with around 5,000 members, is the only organization which continuously and constructively studies our territorial problems and champions our common causes."

Going into the Declaration of Policies, the WTCC lists in a concise method the organization's work program which, through the local Chambers of Commerce in each West Texas city, will carry it to a new and brighter place during the current year in this commonwealth's economic sun.

Editorial of the Week

GROWING UP

The United States is growing up, coming suddenly to an unwhished-for maturity. It is like a strong and lusty child who has enjoyed an idyllic childhood, not without its bumps and disappointments, but carefree and happy.

Suppose that boy, irresponsible and carefree, suddenly meets within a year the death of both parents. The burden of the family falls on his shoulders. Playtime is over. Now he must think, and accept responsibility. Now he is a man.

Something like this has happened to the United States during the past generation. We lived in the world, but secure from its bumps and troubles. Even when the World War came, with its momentary gravities, it seemed like an episode, something that came by chance and whose repetition was not to be expected or feared.

But after the 10-year party we staged in celebration, the depression came. A generation grew to maturity knowing no other circumstances. And now comes another war, not like the other war, but deeper, more basic, more fundamental, a war so deeply grounded that whatever its outcome it is certain to change the world.

What this will mean to the United States we do not know. But we are like the boy whose parents died. We know that new responsibilities are coming to us, and coming fast. Our "parents," the oldtime orderly world of economics and politics which prevailed before 1914, are "dead." A new life is in the making.—The Sweetwater Reporter.

We can do anything we want to do if we stick to it long enough.—Helen Keller.

Character is the real foundation of all worthwhile success.—John Hays Hammond.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

That shelterbelt work is rapidly going forward on the High Plains of Texas is evidenced by a report given out last week by W. E. Webb, state director of the Prairie States Forestry project, showing that recent tree planting in 32 Northwest Texas counties has resulted in 350 miles of shelterbelt trees being planted. . . . The state director declares that concentration of tree belts is highly important in developing farm and community stability, and results in greatly reducing erosion by soil and wind.

While shelterbelt work has not yet been extended to Scurry County, pointers on how to successfully care for trees on farm and ranch assumes an unusual degree of importance, since the AAA has a special provision in this year's farm program allowing farm owners helpful sums where they plant certain kinds of protective trees. . . . In fact, as one official put it, "The Triple A organization is acting as a shock absorber for those portions of Texas not in the shelterbelt area, and is willing to pay farmers for planting the right kind of trees."

South America is highly interested in Texas History, an inquisitive young Brazilian informed University of Texas authorities last week. . . . Having mastered English in the last three years and read two U. S. history texts, the youth wrote President Homer P. Rainey that he has given up trying to find anything about historical Texas in the newspapers. . . . "They have too much of economics and Hollywood movie stars, and too little of Lincoln, Washington and the other brave and great men who helped to make America," the South American youth stated in his letter.

In conjunction with WPA field crews, University of Texas geologists are excavating one of the nation's largest known meteor craters, a 600-foot-wide pit eight miles southwest of Odessa. . . . Digging into the virgin layers of subsurface formations in the crater, crew men are piecing together fragments of the past that will, when completed, be a story as thrilling as anything fiction can offer. . . . Meteorites are known to contain some of the most valuable minerals man has discovered to date, but are not found in large enough deposits to justify their commercialization.

Keen observers of national policy trends say the public will not be overly much surprised if the government sponsors a patriotic bond-selling campaign in the near future. . . . This course has not been yet decided on, but bankers, for example, believe the chances are better than ever that such a move may be forthcoming. . . . Since the U. S. Government is well experienced with U. S. Savings Bonds, the treasury could get underway with such a campaign on short notice. . . . This course would seem, observers state, a logical one to pursue, since further security selling to banks will inflate present high deocits still further.

Evidence that the world is going through some mighty turbulent days is reflected in plans economists of the State Department are working on for some type of Pan-American Customs Union—just in the extreme case Germany over runs France and England, and sets up a Berlin-controlled Europe federation. . . . The State Department feels collective trade bargaining by all countries of this hemisphere would be the only possible way we could avoid dictation of trade terms by Germany, if the iron fist of the Nazis crush the remaining life lines of the Allies. . . . Although difficult to achieve, Key State Department officials believe some form of Pan-American Union can be created if the United States puts up enough money.

J. Frank Doble, one of the Southwest's most colorful tale tellers and soldier of yesteryear's historical trails, hit upon a widely accepted idea last week when he emphasized the fact the scrubby mesquite cluttering Texas from the Panhandle to the Gulf provides excellent ornamental building wood when polished and finished. . . . Although lumber mill officials and others admit that polished mahogany cannot excel properly finished mesquite wood, the native trees of West Texas have been cut over so closely during the past 25 years that suitable stock of large proportions is very difficult to obtain.

Hailed as one of the most brilliant achievements in the world of research during 1940, announcement last week of surgical "darning eggs" by Sidney Smith Jr., University of Chicago undergraduate, fired scientists with the possibilities offered where surgeons have to deal with severed veins and arteries. . . . Smith's recently developed "darning eggs" are in reality tiny rods as small as one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter that are slid into cut arteries to support the tubular walls until stitches can be made with black silk thread. . . . When clamps are removed from the sewed-up blood conduit, circulating blood harmlessly dissolves the rod within 15 seconds.

Smith's "darning eggs," slated to pay an important part in future operations where a blood vessel has been severed, are made by melting sugar in hot pans, pouring the melted substance into rubber molds for cooling and then covering the resultant rods with a non-irritant oil lotion. . . . Smith's creation, which fills a very definite gap in improved surgery of the body's pipe lines, won for him a badly needed university prize.

"Just like a man—with his superior air—he'd keep telling me any gasoline is the same as any other. But I argued there couldn't be much to lose, as long as they give you the Conoco Mile-Dial perfectly free.

"They certainly wouldn't tease you to take a thing that strictly counts up the mileage from their own gasoline, unless they're awfully sure of themselves. So I steered to the first Conoco station and in half a second the Mile-Dial was on the dash. Looks smart. Free, too.

"The total mileage on your speedometer goes on the Mile-Dial, so you know the start of your test. And you know the amount of your gasoline, by starting with just a full tank of Bronz-z-z. Then going along buying your 10 gallons more, or maybe 8, or 15 let's say, your Mile-Dial keeps count.

"Let's look. I'm up to 53 gallons. And... wait a second... it's 928 miles since starting this test of Conoco Bronz-z-z. Now watch this flip of the Mile-Dial. There!—it says better than 17½ miles from a gallon of Bronz-z, with a car this big. And do I hear any pooh-pooh?

"Even Henry won't say it's just luck any more, after all the different driving tests he's kept doing with this Mile-Dial... Luck?... It's just bad luck using mixed breeds of gasoline when Conoco Bronz-z-z is game to let you dial its true mileage. A smaller car like yours might even beat 17½.

"If you're a consumer that wants 36 inches in a yard, and real facts on everything, you certainly want the true count of mileage from your open-face Conoco Mile-Dial..."

Get your own certified Mile-Dial today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station... FREE. There's a heavy demand—go now. Continental Oil Company
