

VFW POST BUYS WOLF PARK FOR DEVELOPMENT

Deal Closed Wednesday for $10,500 For Snyder Landmark—Post To Make County Center

Cherished dream of the Scurry County Memorial Post No. 3281 of Veterans of Foreign Wars was a long step nearer realization Wednesday when announcement was made that Wolf Park had been purchased from the Wolf estate.

Deal was closed between R. M. (Bushy) Hedzes for the VFW and attorneys for the Wolf estate. Consideration was $10,500.

Property consists of 36 acres of land lying along Deep Creek, three blocks north of the square and two blocks west. Two houses, plus several outbuildings, are included in the transaction.

Wolf Park, as the property has been familiarly known for many years, had been utilized for fair grounds for many years. It was the scene for many picnics and other outings during the past 40 years. Scurry County Rodeo Association used the grounds for two seasons for its annual rodeo performances before purchasing its own property in Northeast Snyder.

Walt family had owned the tract of land for nearly 50 years. The Times was informed.

VFW officials announced shortly after the deal was closed that definite program of improvement had not been worked out, however, stated that a county recreational and park center would be developed over a period of year by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the group.

Several money-raising projects for benefit of the park development had been promoted by the VFW during recent months. A nice sized cash payment was made, and the balance financed for retirement by monthly installments, VFW officials told a Times reporter.

Maize Bringing $3.15 as 75 Per Cent Harvested

Combine maize continued to come to Snyder buyers in good quantities this week as the market price topped $3.15 per 100 pounds Wednesday. About 75 per cent of the crop had been harvested, the buyers estimated.

Seventy-eight cars of maize had been shipped out of Scurry County shipping points Wednesday. The Times learned in a check with buyers and railroad officials. No doubt quite a bit more grain had left by truck, or was being stored by the producers. The 78 cars totaled about 7,400,000 pounds, which brought to farmers approximately $243,750.

Shipment of wheat from county points had about been wound up for the year, buyers said. Total of 110 cars had been shipped Wednesday. Amounting to about 185,000 bushels, the wheat brought to producers in round figures $348,300.

Area grain business looked good when the maize and wheat revenues were totaled to look like $592,050.

Fall Revival Opens at First Baptist Church

Fall revival of the First Baptist Church, in which Pastor E. K. Shepherd will do the preaching, will begin Sunday at the local church. M. H. Roe will direct the musical program during the series of services, which are slated at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

Rev. Shepherd has announced as features of the meeting the following special night: Monday, family night; Tuesday, Brotherhood night; Wednesday, young people's night; Thursday, Training Union night; Friday, Sunday School night; Saturday, W. M. U. night.

Attendance goals for Sunday at the First Baptist Church are 400 in Sunday School and 100 in Training Union, Pastor Shepherd says.

New arrivals at Snyder general Hospital since last week's report in The Times have included: A nine-pound 14-ounce son for Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sterling Jr. of Ira, who has been named Richard Allen. A daughter, who has been named Brenda Kay, for Mr. and Mrs. Louis Z. Ashley Jr. of Dunn. The little baby tipped the scales at six pounds 12 ounces. A daughter for Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davis of Loving, New Mexico. Linda Sue weighed seven pounds five ounces when she discovered America.

Cotton Ginnings Pass 4,800 Bales In Scurry County

Approximately 4,800 bales of 1947 cotton had been ginned in Scurry County gins through Wednesday, a check-up by The Times revealed. This reflected a decided jump in the volume of cotton coming in over the previous week.

Cotton is opening fast in all sections of county. Splendid weather has been a material factor in harvesting, growers report.

Although in a few instances area farmers have had a little difficulty in securing pickers, the county has been fortunate in getting a good supply of transient Mexican pickers and others so far.

Most county growers have been paying $1.75 per 100 pounds for boll pulling. Reports from other parts of the state have been that pickers have been scarce, and that they were demanding up to $3 per 100 for picking.

Picking crew manager, who usually contracts to haul cotton to the gin, is being paid 25 cents per 100 for hauling.

Bicyclists Warned to Move Off Sidewalks

City officers were this week issuing warnings to boys and girls who ride bicycles in the city limits to keep off the sidewalks. Chief of Police Simon Best declared that punishment would be meted out to riders who persisted in the practice of riding on the city sidewalks, which, he said, endangered pedestrians.

Best pointed to the traffic ruling that bicyclists must ride on the left side of a street, facing traffic. Boys and girls who bring their wheels to town and park them were asked to use the lawn around the police station as parking place for the vehicles instead of the sidewalks in front of business houses.

Soil District Leader Be Named at Dunn

Hoyt Murphy has called a meeting of the Dunn, China Grove and Hermleigh land owners for the purpose of electing a new Soil Conservation District supervisor. The meeting will be held at the Dunn School house Thursday night, October 9 and all land owners are eligible to vote.

The vacancy is created by the expiration of Murphy's term. An agricultural film will be shown and subjects of general conservation interest will be discussed.

Representatives were in attendance from the Colorado and Sweetwater plants of the concern as well as Snyder business men and public officials.

Snyder Tigers to Meet Post Squad Here Friday Eve

In their third straight non-conference football game of the current season, Snyder High School Tigers will face the Post High School Antelopes Friday night at Tiger Stadium. Game time is slated at 8:00 o'clock.

A good turnout of local citizens is expected to see the home team in action, school officials declared this morning.

Coach Tommy H. Beene told a Times reporter yesterday that the Bengals would face the Garza County boys with an altered line-up in the backfield because of injuries and illness.

Dick Land will assume the blocking back post in the absence of Billy Don Burk, who is out with a knee injury and a bruised foot. Robert Pruitt will take the left halfback berth of Dennis Everett, who has a serious sinus infection that probably will require surgery. Jack Gorman will play fullback, and Willie Martin right halfback.

Charles Bird, Coach Beene announces, may replace Billy Tom Deffebach in the starting line-up. Beene declares that the Friday night customers will see plenty of 2000 football. He would make no predictions on the outcome of the tussle.

In a telephone conversation with Coach Bing Bingham of the Antelopes, Beene reported the visitors would be in good shape. Bobby Johnson, who attended Snyder High School last year, is said by Bingham to be his star defensive player. Johnson plays left end.

Probable starting line-up for the Tiger-Antelope engagement looks like this:

Pos.	Snyder	Post
L. E.—Blakely	Johnson
T.—Mullin	McMullough
L. G.—Longbottom	O'Connell
Center—Bird	Holly
R. G.—Bynum	Smith
R. T.—More	Stelzer
R. E.—Richardson	Ingram
Q. B.—Martin	Hill
L. H.—Pruitt	Hester
R. H.—Dick Land	Benne
F. B.—Gorman	McLout

Officials for the game will be Ike Jay, Tony Grubbs and Donald Havins.

MAHON, ON EUROPE TOUR, SAYS TRIESTE NOW POWDER KEG OF WORLD TROUBLES OF TODAY

This is being written from the city of Trieste, a town of about 300,000 on the shores of the Adriatic sea. I am here in Trieste with a congressional sub-committee charged with making a study of our foreign aid program. I had hardly heard of this city prior to the war, and that is probably true of most Americans. It is now one of the danger spots of the world.

The place belonged to Austria before World War I and to Italy after World War I. The city and a small bit of land surrounding the city have now been set up as a free state which is to have a governor appointed by the United Nations. The city of Trieste is only five miles from Yugoslavia.

At the conclusion of the war, Yugoslavia and Russia demanded that the city be made a part of Yugoslavia—America and Britain refused to agree as most of the people in the city are Italians, and the free state was finally agreed upon. A force of 5,000 American troops and a similar number of British troops occupy the city of Trieste.

The city is the dividing line which separates Russia and Yugoslavia from the western world. It may be our first line of defense against Russian aggression. In addition to maintaining our troops here, we are spending about $800,000 per month to help feed the people of the area. A ship load of American wheat arrived recently and there are no signs of starvation here. The port was heavily bombed during the war. Our government's supporting a program to make the place self-sustaining.

During the stay of our committee in Trieste, treaty provisions have gone into effect setting up the new state, and ratification day has been celebrated. It has been a very precarious time for American and British military forces. The commanding general of the Yugoslav Army served notice upon our military headquarters that his army, contrary to the provisions of the peace treaty, was marching into the city of Trieste at 10:00 o'clock at night on Ratification Day. Our forces manned the roads to the city

FIREMEN WILL BUY IRON LUNG FOR AREA USE

Demonstrations of Life-Saving Unit Slated to Give Public View of Machine in Operation

Purchase of an iron lung for use of Scurry County people was definitely in the picture this week as officials of Snyder Fire Department were checking up on merits of three different types of respirators.

Fire department members have been negotiating for a machine for some time. It was learned by The Times Tuesday. Numbers of other towns of the area, including Hamlin, Post and Colorado City, have already purchased the machines. The fire department proposes to bear the major burden of expense of the equipment, which sells for approximately $1,400.

Tony Holcomb, who is taking a leading hand in the movement to buy the equipment, said that demonstration of the Blanchard unit had already been held in Snyder. Demonstration of the Mullikin unit will be held within a few days, Holcomb said. A public demonstration of the equipment is slated in downtown Snyder, probably on the north steps of the courthouse.

Decidedly different from the earlier respirators, the new one contemplated for Snyder is a portable affair which may be rushed to the scene of an accident or the bedside of a stricken person. The unit may be operated on 110-volt household current, on six-volt car battery or by hand, Holcomb explains.

The contraption is a metal hood that fits over the chest of a victim, leaving the arms, head and lower portions of the body exposed. Respirations may be regulated handily, it is stated.

Purchase of the unit would provide emergency treatment for victims of polio, drowning, shock, pneumonia and other respiratory troubles. Further announcement about the public demonstrations will be made in other issues of The Times.

National Guard Company Passes Inspection Rites

Snyder's National Guard Troop A, 124th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron officially was recognized as a military organization Thursday night when initial inspection for the unit was staged at the armory in the old NYA building half a block south of the city hall. Captain F. A. Standish, inspector general, from Fort Sam Houston, made the inspection and witnessed the swearing in of 16 enlisted men. Two officers, Captain Dawson Moreland and Lieutenant Doyle Bynum had officially been recognized as leaders of the squadron.

Full-fledged drive for recruits for the company is underway now, under direction of Moreland and Bynum. Roster of 110 men is goal of the National Guard unit, Captain Moreland informs The Times. Armory for the motorized cavalry unit had been undergoing repairs for several weeks. Storage facilities for small equipment was completed last week.

Major equipment for the company is expected to arrive within a few days, Moreland declares, when actual drills will begin in earnest.

Young men of Scurry County interested in becoming members of the Moreland or Bynum for application blanks, or they may be secured from the Chamber of Commerce office in the bank building.

Lions Club Gives $275.30 to School Tiger Band Fund

Members of Snyder Lions Club who failed to attend the Lions-sponsored box and pie supper at the school auditorium Monday evening had a cookie auction all their own at Tuesday's regular club lunch, con in the Manhattan dining room.

Cookies sold by Bill Schiebel and M. H. Roe netted $83 as a feature of Tuesday's gathering. This fund, added to the $192.30 raised Monday evening, totaling $275.30, will be given as a Lions Club contribution to the Snyder Tiger Band fund to purchase the larger instruments for the recently reorganized musical group.

Slight Price Drop For Commodities Shown by Survey

For the second consecutive week, the Associated Press weighed wholesale price index of 35 commodities dropped, declining to 190.13 Friday, compared with 192.1 the week before and 144.05 a year ago, in a report to The Times. The average 1926 price equals 100.

It was the largest weekly drop since May.

The grains and cotton component took the biggest tumble, hitting 220.7 against 228.41 the week before. The food component was next, standing at 159.21, down from 161.04 a week ago.

Other components losing ground were industrials and livestock. The non-ferrous metal component was unchanged.

Sole gainer of the week was the textile component, advancing to the year's high of 223.89, compared with 222.07 a week ago and 149.86 a year ago.

Individual commodities declining were corn, wheat, oats, cotton, eggs, coffee, butter, hogs, lambs and linseed oil.

Gaining were rubber, turpentine, cocoa, flour, lard, cattle, rye, wool and cotton cloth.

After regaining consciousness the lineman was unable to explain why he fell from the power pole. He was not shocked, he stated.

Good Prices Put County Farmers In Driver's Seat

Scurry County's cotton farmers are sitting in the driver's seat and prospects are now that 1947's cotton crop will be the biggest for several years. With the staple bringing close to the highest prices in cotton raising history, income from this year's crop should go a long way toward helping the old sock of the average Scurry County cotton raiser.

The Times finally has gotten some of its stand-by cotton crop observers to come forward with estimates on the 1947 crop. Some prognosticators say 25,000 bales, while the more conservative ones predict around 22,000 bales.

At any rate, even the 22,000-bale crop would be nearly 5,000 bales more than last year's production.

Considerably more acreage in the county is planted to cotton this year than for several seasons, which will account for most of this increase in production. Probably 55,000 to 60,000 acres is seeded in cotton this year. This acreage would mean that average yield in the county is about one-third of a bale per acre.

Outlook for the cotton crop 45 days ago was indeed bleak. The crop had grown to about 10 inches in height on the average, and was "starving to death" for rain. Three weeks ago most of the county received from one to two inches of moisture, which really brought out the cotton. Most producers were doubtful if the rain would do much good—but the results have been surprising in every instance. Bolls that were on the stalks filled out and have matured in regular fashion. New crop of bolls was put on, and with killing frost staved off for several weeks, the crop in the area will be twice as good as the most optimistic growers believed possible three weeks ago.

Quality of the staple from the Scurry County cotton is better than average, cotton buyers tell The Times, and therein lies a peculiar dilemma for the buyer. He explains that because many mills of the country had set up their production machinery for poorer grades of cotton, the demand for the better grades being produced has been affected—that is, the buyer is not willing to pay the premium for the strict middling grade that ordinarily would be paid under normal conditions.

At any rate, Scurry County's cotton farmer is sitting in the driver's seat again. It's a happy day.

County Folks Plan To Attend State Fair Opening Saturday

"In every way it will be the greatest State Fair ever held," promises W. H. Hiltzberger, general manager. "Exhibits, livestock and agriculture shows, big new features and the nation's finest entertainment are the best ever seen in the Southwest."

From all sections of the Texas empire will come elaborate agricultural displays to grace the mammoth Agricultural Building. ### Steadily Declining Prices for Cotton Recorded as Crop Harvest Climaxes

Scurry County cotton producers were concerned over the report that cotton prices in spot markets declined steadily and lost about three-quarters of a cent a pound during the past week, according to the Department of Agriculture in a release to The Times. Spot markets were more active. Mill buying increased a little.

Demand continued strong for most light weight textiles with prices firm to higher. Domestic mill consumption during August was 711,000 bales. Ginnings to mid-September were 1,552,000 bales. Those ginnings were considerably higher in grade but the average staple length was shorter than to the same date last year. Stocks of cotton in mills and in public storage are at very low levels. Picking and ginning made good progress in most areas. Labor for picking is reported to be scarce in many sections.

Prices for middling fifteen-sixteenths in the 10 spot markets average 31.60 cents per pound on Thursday, September 25, as compared with 31.89 cents a week earlier and 37.57 a year ago. Prices declined steadily during most of the week. The basis or spread between December futures and spot prices narrowed and was about "even" at the end of the week as compared with 15 points a week ago. Future prices tended to weaken under hedge pressure.

Reported sales in the ten spot markets totaled 226,000 bales for the week as compared with 198,400 last week and 172,500 a year ago. Some cotton is being withheld from the market by farmers. Mill buying increased a little principally for prompt delivery with the demand mostly for the medium to higher grades and staple lengths fifteen-sixteenths inch through one and onesixteenth inch. Merchants and mills are not stocking cotton to any extent. Reports indicate that the first shipment consisting of 15,000 bales of cotton exported to Germany under the plan for exports through regular trade channels has left this country and another 10,000 bales is expected to be shipped by the end of September.

Domestic mill consumption totaled 710,600 during August, according to the Bureau of the Census. This compares with 677,500 during July this year and with 655,500 during August last year. The average daily rate of consumption during August was 33,800 bales. This is the smallest daily rate for any August since 1940 with the exception of August 1945. The daily rate for August 1947 was about 10 percent higher than for July but 13 percent smaller than for August last year. The 10-year (1937-46) average increase in daily consumption in August over July was three per cent.

Stocks of cotton in mills at the end of August were reported at 1,154,300 bales. This is the smallest quantity in mills as of the end of August since 1940. At the August rate of consumption mill stocks were equal to only about one and one-half months supply. This short supply is probably reflected by trade reports of premiums being offered for prompt delivery. Stocks in public storage at the end of August were also at very low levels. According to the Bureau of Census these stocks totaled only 833,100 bales the smallest in many years.

Ginning through September 15 this year totaled 1,552,000 bales as compared with 1,255,300 to the same date last year. Ginnings this year to mid-September were a little over 13 percent of the indicated production with about 15 percent to the same date last year. Cotton ginned through September 15 this year was substantially higher in grade but somewhat shorter in average staple length than last year. The grade index of ginnings this year was 100.4 (Middling White-100) as compared with 98.9 last year. The number of bales of strict middling and higher ginned through mid-September this year is considerably larger than total ginnings of those grades from last year's small crops. The average staple length of ginning this year was 32.5 thirty-seconds of an inch as compared with 33.0 thirty-seconds last year. The shorter length this year is probably the result of dry weather during July and August in the central and southwestern sections of the belt.

Combination Dishes Stretch Food Energy

Combination main dishes for Snyder and Scurry County homes offer a two-way economy, especially important for low cost meals when food costs are up, reports Miss Mary Louise Pehl, county home demonstration agent.

Such combinations as macaroni and cheese, spaghetti and meat sauce, rice and meat stew, or creamed eggs on toast are familiar examples.

The economy in such dishes is that the inexpensive cereal foods "stretch" the meat, cheese or eggs and make them go farther in serving the family. Miss Pehl points out that the more important economy, however, is the other way around—the meat, eggs, milk or cheese stretch or build up the nutritive value of cereal foods.

The protein in grains or cereals is not complete. To be fully useful for growth and body repair grain protein can be reinforced with animal protein.

If cereal foods such as bread,

Winter Legumes For Soil Building Need to Sow Soon

Here's some information that's considered pretty important by Extension Agronomist E. A. Miller of Texas A. & M. College, county agent Oscar Fowler informs Snyder and Scurry County farmers. Mr. Miller wants to see Scurry County farmers plant the variety of winter legumes that is best adapted to our own area. We all know that we cannot plant just any type of soil building crop at random and expect it to come through in good shape. Fowler gives here a list of legumes that have proved themselves to be very popular in specific areas and this information is based on actual experience of farmers as well as experiences of research men at substations of the Texas A. & M. College Agricultural Experiment Stations.

And on the Rolling Plains... hairy vetch, hubam and Madrid sweet clovers are very promising; alfalfa has done well in that section on some sub-irrigated soils.

Then last... the High Plains and the Pecos and El Paso Valleys, where alfalfa under irrigation takes all legume popularity votes.

On the better types of Texas soils Fowler recommends 200 to 400 pounds of super-phosphate per acre, or its equivalent, while on the light, sandy soils and oil fields, it will take 300 to 400 pounds 0-14-7 commercial fertilizer per acre to get the job done.

"Yes, son, regularly."

Enrollment in Snyder Schools Reaches 1,135

This year there are 94 students transferred from other schools, M. E. Stanfield, superintendent, reports, and 144 are coming in under contract which makes the total enrollment in Snyder School 1,135.

Teacher strength is up three, with a faculty totaling 37.

The School Administration Club, which will meet on October 7, at 7:30 p. m., will stage a banquet and business session.

The banquet will be given by the homemaking girls, who will serve the banquet. The counties to be represented will be Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher, Howard and Scurry.—S. H. S. Tiger's Tale.

She—"Why don't we get a taxi?"
He—"Darling, you're beautiful. Is a taxi no one would see you, but on the street car I can show you off to everyone."

MEN NOT WORRIED MUCH BY STYLE CHANGES IN FASHION

While women's skirts go up and down like an elevator, you may be glad to know, daddy, that the present drape trend in men's wear in Scurry County will stick for awhile.

No need to make over or replace your wardrobe on that account. Local merchants find the men of Snyder and the county pretty well secure.

For instance, in a preview of what will be chic for spring, the low roll one-button double-breasted suit will be just ducky for Scurry and Borden Counties. This is a typical drape shape item.

But as for bi-swing sport coats and bi-swing back suits—nuts! No merchant in this sector figures many men will try out in the sports numbers next spring. No local merchant expects a rush for bi-swing suits. A gabardine top coat, for example, will help bill you as a well dressed man next spring. There is very little enthusiasm over covert top coats.

Now about suit materials. A majority of the style conscious vendors think you will be pleased with chevots and shetlands, in herringbone patterns.

Scurry County's 3,475 men folks, as many have already ascertained, find there still isn't enough suits, shirts, underwear and shoes to satisfy everybody. But there will be plenty of overcoats available in the local stores—even if you can't get all the things to go under them.

Local merchants aren't quite sure, either, whether you will buy a new spring suit outfit after looking at the price tags. Right here is where the male will need a nice little pep "huddle" in the form of the good sales talk.

Snyder B Team Beats Lubbock in Thursday Game

Coach Tommy Beene's next year's Snyder Tiger football players showed up beautifully last Thursday evening at Tiger Stadium when they trounced a strong Lubbock B eleven to the tune of 19 to 7.

Carl Voss, Max Coffee and Billy Sims scored for the locals. First marker was chalked up when Voss received the initial Lubbock kick-off and ran about 75 yards for pay dirt.

Robert Pruitt, wingback, and Glen Holmes and Billy Joe Middleton, ends, turned in good jobs on the defense that snared Lubbock's try for scores.

The junior players, who have been working hard to gain the basic fundamentals of football since the start of the school term, gave promise of some mighty good material for next year's squad, Beene said.

A piano solo, "The Bells of St. Mary's," was played by Marianne Randals. Eleanor Erwin told the financial arms and gave statistics on the money the girls have taken in since September 1. A student councilor, Opal Ikard, told the guests of the Scouts' charity fund. Jo Alyce Goss concluded the program by giving a review of the outside activities.

County Members To Attend Farm Bureau Meeting

Scurry County Farm Bureau members are planning to attend a regional meeting at Big Spring, Monday according to C. P. Williams, county president.

A series of 23 Farm Bureau district meetings will be held in Texas on September 29 through October 14, it has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, president of the state organization.

In order that more farmers will be able to attend and take part in the discussions, two meetings have been scheduled for the District 6 area. One will be held in the Hotel Settles at Big Spring on Monday, October 6; and the other will be held in the Oactus Hotel at San Angelo on Tuesday, October 7. The meetings will start at 10:00 a. m., and C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, state director, will preside.

Texas Farm Bureau will attempt to get a cross-section on the thinking of farmers with reference to continuation of the national farm program, which is in jeopardy at this time, a farm-to-market road plan, and many other critical issues.

"Unless farmers make a determined fight for the retention of the farm program, it will be discontinued after 1948," President Hammond warns. "There was a move on the part of Congress during the past session to eliminate all price supports and AAA payments for soil conservation," he said, "and it is necessary that we rally all the support possible from our members if we are to retain our farm program."

The Farm Bureau expects to enlist the counsel and support of other groups interested in a rural road program, in formulating a plan that will provide for a source of revenue, type of roads, allocation of funds to counties, who shall determine type of roads, who shall be responsible for the location of roads and the like next session of the legislature for enactment and have it ready to place before the action into law.

"The road plan should be completed and ready to present to candidates for public office during the 1948 election campaign," Hammond declared. Farmers should vote for candidates who will support their farm-to-market road plan, he continued.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mullins of Snyder talked with their son, Lance, from Bridgeport, Connecticut this week.

County Schools Need Health Plan Says State Man

Every Scurry County school should have a definite school health program. Situations such as, the kind of drinking water, arrangements for the school lunch, the lighting, seating, ventilation and cleanliness of the school room and the personal practices of the teachers and children are the basis of the school health program, said Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer in a special release to The Times this week.

Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and of its community. From early childhood to early manhood and womanhood, most children are enrolled in schools and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day for approximately half the days of the year. The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught and the information and understanding that they acquire of themselves are factors which operate to develop attitudes and behavior conducive to health, happy and successful living.

Schools alone, however, cannot enable children to attain all the desirable goals of individual and community health. Considering the magnitude and multitude of the diverse and continuing efforts that must be made to satisfy the health needs of children, it is fortunate that many people and groups, in addition to schools, are greatly interested in promoting health. Parents have a prime responsibility.

Physicians, dentists, nurses, health officers, social and welfare workers and their official organizations, such as medical, dental and nursing societies, health departments and voluntary health agencies are all rightly concerned with health activities in their communities.

Sherry Chaney of Loraine is visiting this week in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Taggart.

Merkel Holds to Top Spot in Grid Game Averages

As the football situation in District 8-A began to take shape, the Merkel High School Badgers clung to the first rung spot in averages for teams of the district, with two wins and no losses. Practically all the games played thus far by the teams of the district have been non-conference affairs.

Two conference games face teams of the district this week-end. Merkel and Lorraine, holding top spots in averages thus far, will meet for football battle, and a couple of old Fisher County rivals, Roby and Rotan will tangle—the latter game will not count in the district standings, however, but is an extra game for the two teams.

Snyder and Colorado City shared the cellar positions with two losses in as many engagements this season. All-game standings for District 8-A teams follows:

Team	P	W	L	Pct.
Merkel	2	2	0	1.000
Lorraine	3	2	1	.667
Roscoe	3	2	1	.667
Rotan	3	1	2	.333
Roby	3	1	2	.333
Snyder	2	0	2	.000
Colorado City	2	0	2	.000

Last week's results follow: Merkel 30, Hamlin 0. Roscoe 6, Lakeview 0. Stamford 14, Rotan 12. Anson 56, Roby 0. Ballinger 32, Colorado City 0. Lorraine 18, Robert Lee 7.

BIGGER PRIZES POSTED IN CLUB BOYS' EXHIBIT

Boys to Be Sent to Fort Worth Markets, Where Animals Will Be Sold in Regular Form

Greatly increased prizes for winners in the annual fall Club Boys Show sponsored by the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association, are slated, officials of the organization told The Times Wednesday.

Expense paid trips to the Fort Worth cattle markets also were voted at the business meeting of association directors last week. The trip will be made at the close of the fall show, when the boys will be taken through the Fort Worth stock yards and packing plants.

A membership drive was conducted this week in the county by officials of the association, when about $1,400 was raised in the "first go-around," Billy Boren, secretary-treasurer, reported. Other memberships and donations will be secured when more are contacted.

Membership in the association was raised this year from $5 to $10 in order to provide the upper prize list and pay the expenses of the boys to Fort Worth. No auction at the close of the show will be held, as in previous shows, but the exhibit stock will be shipped to the Fort Worth market and sold through regular channels. This decision was reached by the directors in order to give the boys actual cattle business experience.

Memberships secured in the drive so far include: Snyder National Bank, Patterson & Hill Barber Shop, Charles C. Miller, Army Store, Joe Graham, Stinson Motor Company, City Cafe, D. & D. ### Feed County Soil For Fatter Crops, Agent Is Urging

"Feed the land and fatten the crops." That's the slogan which Oscar Fowler, county agent, would like to see in operation on every farm in Scurry County.

Fowler brings the slogan to attention now because it's time to "feed the land" with winter legumes, which help furnish soil fertility that feeds the crop all year.

Winter legumes can be planted, says Fowler, as soon as there is enough moisture in the soil to work it properly. Legume seed that has been inoculated has produced the best crop of green manure. Fowler says that proper seed inoculation is a necessary phase of legume growing. If the producer wants to get the most benefit from his winter cover crop, fertilization is just as necessary, says the county agent, in areas where soils and rainfall will make good use of the fertilizer.

On the better types of Scurry County soils Fowler recommends 200 to 400 pounds of 20 per cent super-phosphate per acre, or its equivalent, while on light, sandy soils and old fields, it will take 300 to 400 pounds of 0-14-7 commercial fertilizer per acre to get the job done.

Shipment of 30,000 pounds of super-phosphate was received for Scurry County farms by the AAA office this week. Fowler labels winter legume growing one of the biggest steps in the current 7-Step Cotton Program which thousands of Texas farmers are carrying on in the state. The 7-Step Program, a balanced, cotton farming plan, includes "soil improvement" and inoculated, fertilized legumes, turned under preceding cash crops, is a money-making soil improvement step. The agent is urging Scurry County farmers to obtain their legume seed, fertilizer and inoculant and be ready for legume planting when soil moisture permits.

A Hobbled Crow? Wife (to drunken husband)—"I suppose you expect me to believe that you came right home from the office?" Husband—"Sure did (hic), straight as the crow flies." Wife—"So I see. Stopping frequently for a little corn."

Turn and Turn About Is Fair Play

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"There is no work so exciting, so fascinating, so profitable as to make good Mother Earth your partner."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"WHEN I was honorably discharged after four years of service," writes a man from one of New York state's big cities, "I found readjustment very hard. I had risen to the rank of captain, and had had interesting duty overseas. To come back to our upper flat, in a quiet block, and begin to look for work was disheartening. I am 44. My old firm, a supply firm for big machinery, had been absorbed, and I was offered only half my former salary and much less than half my former responsibility. My wife advised my refusal, saying that we could wait for something better. That was two years ago.

"Meanwhile she had become interested in a woman who had patented a certain type of children's garments. After Adele had been with her a year, this woman died leaving the business and a half-interest in it to my wife, who had befriended her to the extent of a small loan in the beginning. This means that Adele is now the head and part-owner of a business employing five or six assistants, with a bookkeeper, sewing machines and all the setup of a small concern. Her profits run to as much as $600 or $700 a month.

"After consultation we decided to buy a farm, 17 miles out of town, and I put all my savings into that. My two daughters, my mother and I run this place. Adele pays the bills and comes home once or twice a week. My health and nerve condition are perfect now and I love farming, but the place does not pay for itself. It calls me to have my wife settling down perhaps twice a month to discuss expenses and write a check for me.

He Does the Housework.
"In fact, the whole situation calls me. Jane and Pam are only 7 and 9, not old enough to be of much assistance. I help with breakfast, wipe dishes, sweep porches, drive the girls to school and stop on the way home to market. It isn't a man's life, yet I don't know what to do to change it. My wife has her city friends, her dates, her clubs, new clothes, theatre trips. She has lately met a young actor who is producing three plays for summer stock, and has parts in them all. When she comes home she listens to the children, is enthusiastic over newly-laid eggs and sauce from our own fruit trees, is always nice to my mother—and off she goes again.

"I said I was straightened out. It's not quite true. This life is ideally restful for me; I love it. But crowds, responsibility, competition in business, still confuse and exhaust me. I know I am unfit to seize the reins, become the breadwinner again. Yet to be free—while she is working—to cut flowers for my mother, help the children with homework, saw up a fallen tree for firewood seems like play. Am I losing her respect by sinking into this groove? We have 200 acres here but only six under cultivation. I could get a good price for top farm land. Shall we sell, move back into the city, and shall I brace myself to enter the fight again?"

Dear Frank, I say in reply: Yours is not the only home that has been turned topsy-turvy by the war. Among all the wreckage your problem is so simple, and has been so completely solved, that it cannot be ranked as a real situation at all. Women accept the status you find so galling, and rejoice in it, and men and women are not so differ-

"He had been a captain. . ."

Protective Pectin Film for Foods Made From Peelings

A new protective coating for meat and other food products has been developed at the western regional research laboratory of the U. S. department of agriculture. It is made from citrus peel, apple pomace and other fruit and vegetable waste products. According to the department's extension service review, the soluble pectinate material can be made by a simple method. The pectin from waste fruit products is treated chemically so that

FARMING PAYS

A man who has long been accustomed to supporting his family naturally hates to stay home and do the housework while his wife earns the bread. As a result of the war's dislocations, however, many self-respecting men find themselves in this position.

Frank had been an executive of a machinery company before the war. He entered the army and gained a captain's commission. When he returned to civilian life he found that he could get only half his former salary at the company. His wife, Adele, meanwhile had inherited a little business from a friend, and was making substantial profits.

Adele and Frank decided to buy a large farm near the city. Frank and the two little daughters now live on the farm, while Adele spends most of her time in the city with the business. This would be all right, except that Frank cannot make the farm pay, and he is annoyed at doing household chores.

Miss Norris advises him to make the best of the situation, which is by no means a difficult one. Frank is working only six acres of the 200 they own. With a little assistance and some enterprise, Miss Norris tells him, he could earn a very good living from this large acreage.

ent but what you can make it a success, too.

Put That Land to Work.
If you have 104 acres of top farm land still unutilized, you are doing your country and, incidentally yourself, an injustice. Get some government bulletins, the advice of your county agriculture agent, and a man to help make all that land profitable. Without in the least abandoning your help to your mother, you can get a business started there that will satisfy your very soul. For there is no work so exciting, so fascinating, so profitable as to make good Mother Earth your partner. Chickens, wheat, prunes, walnuts, berries—the world cannot get enough of them, and plain dairy cattle pay fine dividends right from the first.

You are making the mistake so many wives make. You are trying to live Adele's life instead of your own. Let her work out her own solution, and concentrate on yours. That she is the chief moneymaker now is a postwar accident. Evidently she is happy in her work, and successful—and why not? Make your end of it equally fascinating and successful. Build a breakfast porch, paint a room here and take down a partition there, revel in the society of your mother and your girls. Whatever Adele may think now, yours is the better chance for permanent building and planning.

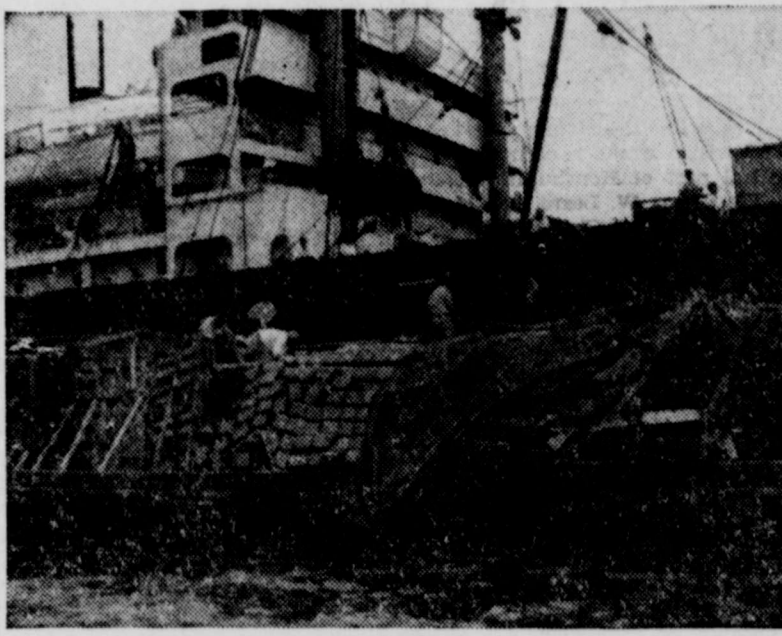

You were lucky in the war years to obtain rank, get high pay, have interesting work and come home uninjured. Then came Adele's turn for a little luck; she made herself invaluable to a business partner and was rewarded. But never forget that for years Adele—with all this ambition and capability pent up inside her—was doing exactly what you find so humiliating: caring for home and babies, dusting, cooking, marketing and asking you for money enough to meet the bills.

Fewer New Businesses

New businesses incorporated throughout the country in July amounted to 9,041, a decline of 24.6 per cent from the total of 11,987 recorded in the corresponding month of last year, Dun and Bradstreet reports. Thirty-eight states, or more than two-thirds of those reporting, listed fewer incorporations than in July, 1946. New York, with 1,947, continued to report the largest number of company formations, although the total was 31.8 per cent below that of July, 1946.

PISCATORIAL DYNAMITE . . . Brand-new industry in eastern Canada, started just a year ago, the trapping of 800-pound tuna is called the most thrilling commercial fishing industry in America. At Hubbards, Nova Scotia, a unique colony of 100 men has been established to snare the giant fish for canneries. Picture shows a boatload of "elephants," as the Nova Scotia fisherman calls the big tuna.

AMERICAN MUNITIONS EN ROUTE TO GREECE . . . Cases of shells, grenades and land mines are shown as they were loaded from a lighter aboard an army transport in New York harbor. They were part of the military supplies being sent to Greece to help the Greek army defend the little nation in the event of attack.

1947 STYLES FOR D.P. KIDDIES . . . Children are pretty generally accepted as being universally interesting, particularly so if they're as cute as this pair, who are a couple of displaced persons living in a camp at Hanau, Germany. Here, they are modeling the latest thing in D.P. children's petticoats and pants, made from American Red Cross hospital bedside bags and ditty bags. D.P. camp workers are converting them to clothing—enough for an outfit for every child in the 411 camps.

GRAIN PRICES BOOST LIVING COSTS . . . Department of agriculture economists attributed soaring food prices, now at all-time high level, to high income, coupled with tremendous demand and prospect of small corn crop. Samuel Williams, a miller at the department's Beltsville, Md., experimental farm, is shown with bags of corn and wheat, retailing for $3.85 and $2.95, respectively, per bushel. These peak prices will cause poultry prices to continue rising.

TO WORK WITH LEPERS . . . Miss Margaret Haven of Chicago, 53-year-old telephone operator, left her job, home and friends, to work in the Molokai leper colony in the Hawaiian islands. She said she wanted to share the good health God gave her with someone else.

ACCUSES MIDDLEMEN . . . Housing expeditor Frank Creedon told a special congressional investigating committee that unnecessary profits taken by middlemen in the building materials market are forcing up cost of homes.

MOTHER INSTINCT . . . When Jesse O. Price of Los Angeles, owner of Susie, the black cocker spaniel, bought a recently born pig, the dog, which might have heard about how valuable pork is these days, took over as mother. The two became fast friends.

IMMORAL LENGTHS . . . Dr. A. Powell Davies, pastor of the All Souls' Unitarian church at Washington, D. C., assailed new long skirts as "immoral" and "moronic" because they waste material being converted by world's suffering people.

OUTSIDE LOOKING IN . . . Abdulah Kamel Eid, Egyptian national and University of Oregon student, was escorted out of U. N. security council meeting after his outburst: "Long live Egypt! Down with Britain!"

DEFENSE SECRETARY TAKES OATH . . . It was a historic occasion when James V. Forrestal, formerly secretary of the navy, took his oath as the nation's first secretary of national defense, in which capacity he will preside over the unified armed forces. Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U. S. Supreme court administers the oath to Secretary Forrestal. Ranged behind the two are ranking members of the nation's military set-up.

SUGGESTS 49-STAR FLAG . . . G. David Bollinger of Washington, D. C., is shown with his suggested design for the American flag, which, he believes, incorporates the spirit of the motto "E Pluribus Unum." Motivation for the sketch was the possible admission of the Territory of Hawaii as the 49th state, which event would necessitate a change in the nation's flag. Bollinger suggests the 49 stars be combined to form one big star. His idea is being considered by government officials.

QUITE A TRICK . . . Any port in a storm was the way this jet black cat was thinking when it was chased by a dog in Dorchester, Mass. With no tree near, it scrambled up this 20-foot concrete light pole. It was a spectacular feat—with claws.

KANGAROO AND FRIEND . . . "Digger," the albino kangaroo at London zoo, is honored with a distinguished visitor in Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, who is shown here cavorting in a dignified way with the rare animal. The kangaroo was presented to Churchill, who turned it over to the zoo. He also passed on a lion, "Rota," given him by an admiral in Africa.

Congressman Mahon Says Germany Is Big Problem for Ruling Countries

In a previous report I made reference to England where food is scarce and where life is hard for the British. From London our congressional committee on foreign aid proceeded to Germany for three days. This was not time enough to see much but one of our sub-committee will spend three weeks in Germany.

Generally speaking, Germany after the lapse of two years since V-J Day is still a nation of rubble and ruin. It hardly seems possible that places like Berlin, Essen and Frankfurt could be rebuilt within a decade. Some progress is being made in clearing the rubble and reestablishing business and industry, but Americans who have not seen the war damage in Germany cannot possibly visualize what German cities look like. At long last the German people know with complete certainty what war is like.

Here is one of our difficult problems in Germany: Russia and Poland have control of pre-war breadbasket of Germany. The United States and Britain have joint control of the industrial heart of Germany, but our area is far from being self-sufficient in food. Under our agreement with Russia, the Potsdam agreement, Germany was to be operated as an economic unit but Russia has refused to live up to the agreement. Under the law of nations an occupying power must prevent starvation in the area occupied. We can escape this responsibility by pulling our troops out of Germany, but if we stay we must maintain order and prevent starvation. I've pulled out of Germany, I'm sure that the vacuum would be filled by the Communists, which would mean that the full industrial capacity of the Ruhr would be at the disposal of the Russians. I saw hundreds of German farms. I went into some of the farm homes and walked over some of the fields. The farms are extremely well cared for and, generally speaking, they have not suffered war damage. Fertilizer and equipment are needed, but otherwise I doubt that there is much room for improvement of European agriculture. The farmers apparently use every foot of ground to the best advantage. This year the crops are short because of the severe drought. Some of the Irish potatoes which were being harvested in Germany were little bigger than marbles.

German coal production is the key to economic recovery, and coal miners are being given extra food rations to encourage output of coal. I visited a mine, talked with the miners and tasted some of the rations.

If the coal and industrial production in the British-American zone can be sufficiently increased, this will enable the Germans to export enough to get the money to make up the deficit in food. That is the objective now being sought—to help the people help themselves. There is no evidence of happiness in Germany. Indeed, there is little for these defeated people to be happy about. Yet they have no one to blame for their misery but themselves and their leaders. The people are not inclined to be friendly or to smile at passersby. Perhaps I mistook a state of hopelessness and bewilderment for unfriendliness.

Rarely do you see a man or woman on the streets of a German city who does not carry a satchel or small handbag of some kind. They are black marketeers, trading and trying to devise means for getting food and other necessities. We went into some of their homes in the basements and bomb shelters of their devastated cities where conditions are the worst. Their cupboards were almost bare. Of course, there are variations of misery among the people. Some of them live better than others. The people who live on the farms are in far better position than the rest of the population.

Prior to the war many of the nations of western Europe relied on Germany for coal and steel and heavy machinery. Germany's neighbors are now in difficulty because these products are no longer available to them. How to permit the revival of Germany without encouraging the future rebirth of German militarism is the big question. The French are very vocal in opposing the revival of German production. America and Britain are trying to work out a level of industry for Germany which will enable Germany to become self-supporting without becoming a menace to the peace of the world. Of course, the Big Three have not yet made substantial progress on the peace treaty with Germany and until the treaty is made, makeshift policies

Plenty of Life in Them.

"Have you any children?" demanded a house-renter. "Yes," replied the other solemnly, "six—all in the cemetery."

"Better there than here," said the landlord, consolingly; and proceeded to execute the desired lease.

In due time the children returned from the cemetery, where they had been sent to play, but it was too late to annul the contract.

Presence of flea hoppers in cotton can be detected by looking for small, blackened, dead squares, less than a fourth of an inch in size.

Boy Scout Council to Be in U. S. Roundup

Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will again participate in the nation-wide Round-Up, Snyder District Scout officials state.

The purpose of the Round-Up is to promote and encourage an inter-district program for the Scouts and Cubs and to extend the program to the many boys desiring to become members.

Scout officials point out the importance of character development and citizenship training especially as today's boys will be called upon to lead the nation in a few years.

Abstraction

A teacher was attempting to explain to the class the difference between abstract and concrete, and was doing her best to make the explanation very simple and clear. Now, she said—"Concrete is something you can see," and "Abstract is something you can't see."

A little boy looked quite enlightened, so the teacher ventured to test her explanation. "George," she said, "give me the explanation of something concrete."

"My pants," was George's reply. "Correct," said the teacher, gratified, "and now something abstract."

"Yours," said George.

TEXANS in WASHINGTON

This is one of a series of articles prepared for The Times on Texas members of Congress in Washington, in which the backgrounds of the representatives in the national capital are presented. Read the entire series from week to week.

By Tex Easley, AP Special Washington Service.

A second Texan soon will be in a top spot at the State Department—where this country's international relations in a troubled world are handled.

He is Robert A. Lovett, a native of Huntsville, one of the two under-secretaries of state.

The other under-secretary of state is Will Clayton of Houston.

The world's largest private cotton exporter before the war, Clayton is conceded to understand the intricacies of international monetary and trade problems as do few other men in this or any other country.

He is a free trader, and in the face of strong opposition both here and abroad he is fighting for revival of international commerce through the lowering of tariff barriers.

Lovett qualifies as an authority in domestic economics—but his services to the nation so far have been in the sphere of military and naval aeronautics.

He was a pilot in World War I. He made night bombing raids against German U-boat bases on assignment with the Royal Air Force. He won his French wings flying land craft with that ally, and he took over, in 1918, as commander of the first U. S. Naval Air Squadron.

Between wars, Lovett rose to high rank in private business. He became a partner of Brown Brothers, Harriman and Company in New York, after beginning as a clerk in 1921 in the National Bank of Commerce. He was a director of the Union Pacific Railroad, and an executive of several other rail lines and insurance companies. He was made a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Boys Club, the Presbyterian and Babes Hospitals, all in New York.

More or less as a hobby during the time, the early-day war pilot retained a keen interest in aviation. For example, he helped finance a plane entered in the Schneider Cup Races.

At the time Hitler was beginning to build up a fighting air force, Lovett toured Europe and observed what was going on there as well as technical advancements in all types of aircraft.

When World War II broke abroad and was threatening to engulf this country, they turned to him for advice.

On December, 1940, he came to Washington as a special assistant to the Secretary of War. He was appointed assistant secretary of war for air on April 19, 1941—which, incidentally was his 22nd wedding anniversary.

An outstanding achievement, of sufficient importance that the War Department makes note of it in an official biography of the Texan, is the fact that when this country was starting almost from scratch to build a formidable air force he persuaded aircraft manufacturers to pool their plans, experience and other facilities in the production of long range bombers.

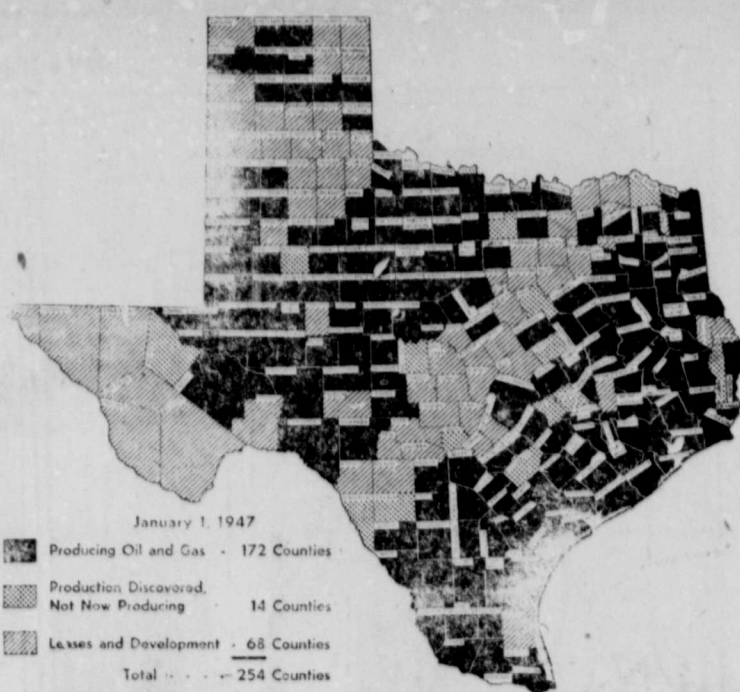

Born September 14, 1895, the new Under Secretary of State was a son of Judge and Mrs. Robert Scott Lovett. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Yale in 1918, then studied law and business administration at Harvard.

Lovett and his wife temporarily making their home at the Mayflower Hotel. They have a son and also a daughter, both grown.

Will Clayton is not a native Texan, but Houston long has been home to him.

Born on a cotton farm near Tupelo, Mississippi, February 7, 1880, Clayton moved to Jackson, Tennessee, at six, and at 13 left school to begin work in courtrooms as a stenographer and clerk. He had learned shorthand at nine—and still uses it to jot down many an official telephone conversation.

After a brief period of employ-

IMPORTANCE of the oil business to Scurry County in dollars and cents this year is difficult to estimate, but it will run into several hundred thousands dollars.

In this map prepared by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, Scurry is shown as one of the 172 oil producing counties of the state.

County Cotton Better Grade Than in 1946

Agriculture Department reported Wednesday that cotton ginned through September 15 in Scurry and adjoining counties was considerable higher in grade but somewhat shorter in staple length than cotton ginned in the corresponding period last season.

Early ginnings this year contained more than twice as much good middling and strict middling.

ment in Saint Louis, he went to New York in 1896 as secretary in a cotton trading firm. He soon knew the business thoroughly, and with Frank E. Anderson, established the Anderson-Clayton Company in 1904. They set up business in Oklahoma City, but later moved the headquarters to Houston.

Shortly before the United States got into World War II, Clayton had come to Washington to serve in various roles before being appointed to his present position. He was formerly with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was an official of the Export-Import Bank, and was Assistant Secretary of Commerce. In World War I he served on the War Industries Board.

More Light Aids In Production of Eggs by Pullets

Experienced poultrymen are all familiar with the custom of using lights in the hen house to boost egg production. County Agent Oscar Fowler declares:

Some of you may be asking why those lights boost egg production. One big reason, of course, is that it lengthens the working day of the pullets, gives them more time to feed and water and to produce more eggs.

Research men of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and state agricultural experiment stations have found that the electric light stimulate a gland—called the pituitary gland—and when so stimulated, the gland causes the pullets to lay more eggs.

The Department of Agriculture is recommending that poultrymen turn lights on early in the morning, just strong enough to get the birds off the roost and keep them off. Then in the evening, dim your lights for 15 minutes so they can roost before the lights are out completely. Understand, now USDA isn't saying that lights will make your birds lay more eggs during a year, but they will help keep your production on an even keel.

Millenium Finally Came.

It happened during the rush for gasoline ration coupons and the scene was an American high school. The white-haired teacher at the table looked up and grinned at the man standing before her, application in hand.

"Well," she said, "after all these years, I'm finally able to give you an 'A'!"

County Agent Asks Farmers to Clean Up Rubbish on Premise

County Agent O. M. Fowler today warned Scurry County farmers to dispose of rubbish accumulations promptly. "Otherwise," the agent said, "the waste material may dry out and become ideal tinder for a discarded match or stray spark."

Many farmers, burdened with farm chores, are apt to let piles of rubbish, leaves and grass lie around for weeks, the county agent stated. "Disposal of this waste should come under the heading of farm 'house-cleaning'. Not only are the piles a definite fire hazard, but they are unsightly and often breed disease."

"Because of the fire hazard that is always present around such piles, farmers should keep approved fire extinguishers handy," Fowler added. "Extinguishers are also a must in the kitchen and barns for once a fire gets out of hand a farmer's life work can be wiped out in a few minutes."

The shrike, or butcher bird, impales its victims on a thorn or fence barb before eating it.
