Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

Wonder drugs, vitamins, electric blankets, thermostat heating and cooling and better foods (including Metracal and Geritol) have extended mankind's breathing and heart-beat time greatly since the turn of the century.

But are people really living any longer than before?

That's the question which the entire country is asking these days. Sure people continue to breathe and their hearts continue to hammer away long after the three-score-and-ten mark, but are they living?

Thousands are not. Many of them are downright burdens on their younger kin—sons, daughters, brothers, sisters or what have you. And the oldsters who are thus forced to keep on living after they have passed their earning days are unhappy. Many of them regret that they can't die and thus get themselves off the necks of their relatives. That's putting it bluntly, but such is the case!

Many "solutions" to the problem have been offered. Some work. Some don't. Or maybe some plans that work perfectly for one family fail in another. Stashing the old folks away in some kind of a commercial home has been one way of solving the problem if (1) the oldsters themselves have enough money to pay for the stay-away home, or (2) the children pay for the upkeep of Mom and Dad in their later years. This second plan, many of the old folks know works a hardship on their children.

There's also the system of chucking the old folks into a back yard cabin or putting them into the guest room at a son's or daughter's home. And then their children become a baby sit with their grandchildren. Frequently the oldsters just get in everybody's hair, including their own.

Of course these days they have a nice name for these folk from another generation: Senior citizens. It sounds much better than "old man" and "old lady." But the senior citizens have problems even if they do have a fancy new name.

What brought one all this discussion was this: Sunday, we visited King's Manor at Hereford for its open house, along with the Dean Bishops and the J. Frank Peerys. And there I talked with a lot of the residents in this above-65 home. I did that while the speechifying was going on (I've heard speeches and don't care for any right now—not, of course that the speeches at this dedication were not good; I'm sure they were fine—speeches as speeches go.)

But I found the old folk themselves very interesting. Some, I'm sure are very happy in the almost-elaborate surroundings of that beautiful new home for the elderly. Some, I felt, were whistling in the dark and wished they were back in Podunk where they came from. But, then, it's always like that, old or young.

This home for the senior citizens got going after one Larry Moore of Green Bay, Wisconsin, offered Methodism a going mink farm near Green Bay. The

Judge Sets County Court for Jan. 7

County Judge Glen Williams announced Thursday he has set a term of county court for next month to open on January 7.

A new jury commission is to meet Monday to draw a panel for the January term.

Judge Williams said a list of cases to be tried is being prepared and will be turned over to County Attorney Karl Lovelady and to Sheriff Dee Clumments for checking before a court agenda can be made up.

He did not say how many cases are on the schedule, but criminal nature, although indicated a "considerable number" is on the tentative list. Some of the defendants, he explained, may not have been arrested, and for this reason, a complete list of cases scheduled has not been made.

Eleven are Fined In Justice Court

Eleven persons paid fines in justice court as a result of weekend law violations, ranging all the way from running a stop sign to speeding, blotter of Justice Joe D. Vaughn revealed Wednesday.

Three drunks paid $20.50 each in fines and costs. Four speeders had fines and costs in the same amount and a driver who "ran" a stop sign also paid the court $20.50.

One person paid a $16.50 fine and costs for having no driver's license, but the heaviest fine was assessed against a truck driver with an overwidth load. His fine was $40.50.

Mahon 'Worried' Over Farm Ills

Congressman George Mahon says party platforms are "well and good but when I go into committee I vote for what I believe to be the best interests of my county."

The congressman spoke in Muleshoe Wednesday to the Lions club and afterward staged a "talk-it-over" session with a number of farmers to get their views on what you consider we should do with the farm program.

He explained that he wanted "not to tell you folks about the farm program, but to get your views on farm legislation." He said he was "not completely happy with the farm situation," adding that "cotton is definitely becoming more and more of a problem as the surplus continues to grow."

He said he favors an increase in defense spending, but he thought "it should be within reason." War and war-associated costs now account for 79 cents out of every tax dollar, he said.

He said Congress "has been down in Russia because of Amer-

The judge said "most" of the cases to be heard will be of a "routine" civil cases also may be aired at the January term.

Many of the cases have been on the county docket for some time. "We hope to dispose of a lot of cases during this term to bring all our county records up to date," the judge said.

Hicks is Named Tax Assessor in City Schools

Muleshoe school board has named George Hicks, Muleshoe, as tax assessor-collector, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gupion. The Gupions will retire December 31, Superintendent Neal B. Dillman said Thursday.

From 1950 until 1957 Hicks was a partner and manager of a tractor sales firm in Muleshoe. He was an unsuccessful candidate on the Democratic ticket this past spring for county judge.

The board at its meeting this week expressed its appreciation for the 13 years of service which Mr. and Mrs. Gupion have given as tax assessor-collector.

The board set up dates for re-employing school personnel for next school year. The superintendent's contract will be acted upon by the board at its next meeting January 7.

Contracts for principals, coaches, cafeteria management and bus foremen will be acted on February 22. March 11 is the date set for acting on teachers' contracts, band director's contract and secretaries.

Teachers and administrators to serve on the textbook committee to select newly-adopted textbooks for next year were announced by Dillman. The list includes: Paul Durham, vocal music in grades 4, 5 and 6; Leona Patterson, Texas history for grade 7; Marv Lancaster for Algebra I; L. R. Steall for Algebra II; Greta Paul for senior high school plane geometry; F. M. Dobbs for senior high school physics. To Ann Mickie (See HICKS, page 7)

Boy Errs, Freedom Date Postponed

There's a 16-year-old Muleshoe lad who is not coming home for Christmas.

Instead he will spend the holidays — and see the new year in — at the state home for boys at Gatesville.

And it's all because he "did something wrong" this month, just before he was to have been released from the school. County Judge Glen Williams said Wednesday. His release was postponed for a month.

"I visited the boy once at Gatesville since he was put there last summer," Judge Williams said, "and he seemed to be getting along fine. Then he tripped up and got in trouble again, I'm sorry he can't be home for Christmas now."

Ticket Sales to Start For Chamber Dinner

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet January 10 are to go on sale next Thursday, Carroll Pouncey, manager, said today, and since space will be limited, persons who desire to attend the banquet were urged to buy their tickets early. Only 250 seats are available for the dinner.

Directors have been sent tickets by mail. They are asked to return the tickets by next Thursday or indicate they intend to attend the banquet.

Meantime, arrangements for the big event were nearing completion. R. L. McMillon, past president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, and Abilene insurance executive, will be the guest speaker.

McMillon is in great demand as a public speaker and is noted for his wit and the down to earth message he brings.

"We feel fortunate" Chamber president Frank Ellis said, "in securing the services of Mr. McMillon for our annual banquet."

The banquet, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the high school cafeteria, with the meal prepared and served by the cafeteria staff.

Entertainment will be furnished by Paul Durham, Muleshoe

He takes over the post being vacated January 1 by veteran west Texas jurist E. A. Bills who is retiring. Judge Boone is presently county judge in Lamb county.

First case to be tried in the new term of court doubtless will be the Karl L. Lovelady case, Jack Young, district attorney said. Twice postponed when one of his defense attorneys was unable to attend court here, the case, first of two district court cases lodged against the Bailey county attorney, is expected to be the first called for trial by Judge Boone.

A new jury panel will be called.

'Army's' Fund Makes Progress

Bailey County's campaign to raise $1,500 for the Salvation Army Service Unit Thursday neared the one-third mark, Elizabeth Thomson, treasurer, reported.

She said response had been "real good" to the Army's first annual fund drive here, and many solicitors are reporting their collections for the organization.

Letters went out to several hundred persons last Saturday asking for subscriptions, and some of these already have been returned with remittances, she said.

The organization is planning (See ARMY'S, page 7)

He is now pastor of the Altura Presbyterian Church in El Paso. Mr. Boles, who has a wife, three sons and a daughter, will move his family to Muleshoe early next year and will start his pastorate here January 17.

'63 Boost Tagged at $250,000

Through the efforts of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Bailey County grain farmers have been handed a $250,000 Christmas present, Jack Little, president of the Bailey County GSPA said Thursday. The 9-cent per cwt. boost in price support for grain sorghums, gained through the association's effort, will up the county's 1963 income by a quarter of a million over the lower level previously established.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman originally had announced that the 1963 grain sorghum crop would be supported at a national average of $1.91 per cwt., two cents below this year's level. Corn supports on the other hand, were left unchanged at $1.20 per bushel.

LAYOUT PRICE CUT
In addition, the secretary had announced a cut in diversion payments participating farmers would receive for taking at least 20 per cent of their feed grain acreages out of production.

Little explained that the change in Freeman's original plan came about as a result of GSPA's efforts which will result in a $10 million boost for Texas farmers. The 9 cent hike has been scored as a result.

Freeman said in Washington that the new price support was set to stabilize continued levels of feed grains and livestock production after a re-appraisal of expected level of farm income from feed grain production.

NEW LEVEL IS $2
The 9-cent boost raised grain sorghum price support payment and loan rate on a national level from $1.91 to $2. This figure about 5 cents per bushel raise in price, and is the highest level in years.

Putting it another way, based on this year's grain sorghum crop of 207,000,000 bushels for Texas, the price hike should gross an additional $10,350,000 for Texas farmers with a normal yield for the 1963 crop.

Charles Daniel, ASCS officer here, said the likely local price support rate probably will be $1.98 per cwt. The base acreage is 164,000 acres as based on the 1959-60 level. A total of approximately (See GRAIN, page 7)

'Rally' Boosts Running Water Draw Project

By RAY MARTIN

CLOVIS — It may be as late as 1970 before the proposed six county-two-state Running Water Draw control project can be completed, but Clovis and Curry County, N.M. are "go" right now.

This was revealed at a rally in Holiday Inn here Friday night when soil officials, bankers, farmers, business men and chamber of commerce officials got together (Picture on page 1-B) er for an informal discussion. They were guests of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce.

Purpose of the meeting, Flip Calhoun of Plainview told the gathering "is to see if we can't speed up the program a bit and get it given a high priority rating on the state list of projects. Calhoun, who is chairman of the Hale County Soil Conservation board, has been one of the leaders in the program which would involve a half-million acres of land, scattered along the draw all the way from Clovis to Plainview.

(Muleshoe and Bailey county are "isolate" observers of the project but are not included in the program since Running Water Draw runs east and west several miles north of Muleshoe. However, this county is interested in the overall program since the proposed detention dams also would help prevent flash floods in this area.)

Plainview has a vital stake in the program since "Running River Draw runs all the way through our town," Mayor M.B. Hood told the group. "We stand to benefit greatly from such a program; it would prevent floods such we suffered in Plainview in 1951 and 1962."

Roscoe Snyder called the program one "well worth while to every county along the project," adding, "I can't see how we can allow this proposition to pass us (See RALLY, page 7)

Mrs. Joe Cooper of Seymour played wedding marches and traditional selections. She also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kubala of Seymour as they sang duets.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gilbert Rod of El Campo, sister of the bride. She wore a street length dress of regal blue peau de soie designed with fitted bodice and brief sleeves. She wore matching mits and shoes dyed to match her dress. Her arm bouquet was of white carnations.

George L. Jesko of Amarillo was his brother's best man. Altar boys are nephews of the bride, Wayne Rod of El Campo and Stephen Musil of Wichita Falls.

Ushers were Joseph S. Musil of Stamford and Emory B. Musil of Wichita Falls, brothers of the bride, and Alfred Hoffman of Pryor, Okla. and C. W. James of Hereford, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal wedding gown of white chantilly lace over white slipper satin, which she designed and made. The fitted bodice featured a boat neckline and long sleeves extending to points over her hands. Tiny self covered satin buttons closed the bodice back and sleeve openings. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and gladiolus centered with a gladiolus corsage.

For something old she wore a wooden rosary from Czechoslovakia that belonged to her late grandmother, Mrs. Frances Musil. She borrowed a necklace from her mother and wore a blue garter made by Celia Patton.

Mrs. Musil, the bride's mother, wore a sheath dress of aqua silk shantung with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Jesko, wore a blue bolero suit with black and blue accessories. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

Mrs. Bill Nichols of Arlington registered guests at the reception in the home economics cottage of Stamford High School. The registration table was decorated with two blue carnations in bud vase and wedding book.

The serving table was covered with a white hand crocheted cloth over white satin and centered with bouquets of bride and matron-of-honor flanked by white tapered candles.

Fruit punch was served from crystal bowl by Mrs. Emory B. Musil. A three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Joseph S. Musil.

The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Ed Haisler, Mrs. Henry Hejl and Mrs. Frank Simaichl all of Seymour. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. A. C. Musil, Mrs. H. V. Culp Jr., and Mrs. Anton Foyt.

For a wedding trip to Ennis and Austin, Mrs. Jesko wore a gold colored wool suit with black accessories and the gladiolus corsage from her bouquet.

The couple are at home in the Lazbuddie community where he farms and ranches. She is a graduate of Stamford High School and the University of Texas, where she majored in home economics. Before becoming home demonstration agent of Parmer two years ago, she served in the same capacity in Baylor County more than four and one-half years.

March of Dimes Helps Youngster With 'Assist' from Coincidence

Kathy Anderson is too young at 18 months to understand coincidence. This is the story of how it tipped the balance in a life-and-death battle for her—hopefully, in favor of life.

The first child of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of Grundy, Va., Kathy was born in December, 1960 with spina bifida—a severe birth defect in which the spinal column fails to close completely. Its cause is unknown and there are too few specialists in its treatment.

Mrs. Anderson had been sent home, uncertain of her baby's future, while Kathy remained in the hospital. The doctors were undecided on the next move.

Helpful Neighbor Phones

Ten days passed. Then the Andersons' telephone rang. It was a neighbor who had just read a magazine story about Linda Breese of Columbus, Ohio, the 1961 March of Dimes Poster Girl.

The article in the monthly publication of the Loyal Order of Moose, told how Linda, also a spina bifida victim, had undergone an operation at Children's Hospital in Columbus, and was now making steady progress under a program of treatment and rehabilitation at the March of Dimes-financed Clinical Study Center there.

Mrs. Anderson, whose father-in-law is a Moose member, read the article for herself and promptly called her family physician, Dr. Thomas McDonald. They agreed on an immediate call to the Breese family, 200 miles away.

Mrs. Breese confirmed the story. She also praised the skills of Dr. Martin P. Sayers who had performed the operation on Linda and of Dr. William O. Robertson, director of the March of Dimes-supported Center.

With Dr. McDonald making the arrangements, Kathy was soon taken to Columbus for surgery by Dr. Sayers. The operation was successful, but Kathy then began to develop hydrocephalus, or water on the brain, which frequently accompanies the open spine condition. Dr. Sayers inserted a plastic tube which drains the excess fluid from Kathy's head into her body to be absorbed. Kathy went back home to Grundy in February of 1961 after spending a month at Children's Hospital, but she's been a regular visitor since.

Faithfully each month from March through October, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson drove 650 miles, round trip, between Grundy and Columbus, leaving home at midnight to reach Children's Hospital at 8 a.m. and returning the same afternoon.

Kathy Checked Closely
This enabled Dr. Robertson and all the other members of the Clinical Study Center's medical team to keep a close check on Kathy in the important early months and to act promptly on any changes in her condition.

Now that the critical stage is past, the Andersons must make that long auto trip only once every three months. But it doesn't seem so long to them now because it leads to hope for Kathy's future.

Despite her continued improvement, Kathy's problems are far from over. Says Dr. Robertson:
"Kathy is a cheerful little girl who seems to be responding well to much of the treatment we are prescribing for her. However, like most children with severe birth defects of the central nervous system, she has complications which we can't fully correct because we don't know enough about them yet."

Centers Fight Crippling

The expert medical team at the March of Dimes-supported center in Columbus and those in more than 50 other centers are working to improve diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation techniques to help make possible nearly normal lives for the victims of crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Jim and Barbara Anderson can only hope that the work of Dr. Robertson and his associates will bring a promising future to Kathy. But they can personally endorse his diagnosis of their daughter's condition.

"She's a lively, happy baby who loves to have people around her," says Mrs. Anderson. "We try to keep her from getting spoiled but it's not easy. What can you do with four grandparents who have only one grandchild to fuss over?"

Christian Church Family Night Supper Held

A Christmas party was given in the First Christian Church Tuesday night. The devotional was presented by Mrs. Joe Pat Waggon.

The group sang Christmas carols which featured the Junior Choir directed by Mrs. Davy Aylesworth and Mrs. Neal Ray Arnold.

Santa Claus paid his visit and distributed candy, nuts, fruits, along with his good cheer.

The meeting room was decorated and a huge Christmas tree was beautifully trimmed.

A sandwich supper and drinks were served by the women of the church. Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. Harry O. Hubbard, Veneeta, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koistra, Lubbock.

Program Carries Yuletide Spirit

Wesleyan Service Guild met in the home of Mrs. W. H. Elrod Monday evening for their Christmas program.

Mrs. Fred Johnson gave the meditation, using the scripture reading from the second chapter of Luke, followed by the story, "The Little Star."

After a short business meeting, the singing of carols and the exchange of gifts began the social hour. Childhood Christmas time reminiscing concluded the program.

The following members attended: Mrs. Ray Edwards, Mrs. Jim Burkhead, Mrs. Arnold Gross, Mrs. Lois Schoenberger, Mrs. Barbara Burton, Mrs. Maurine Ivy, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Harden and the hostess, Mrs. Elrod.

Prayer Week Held In Sudan Church

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Sudan met daily last week for its Week of Prayer for Missions, and preparation for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

"God's Gift, The Light of the World" was the program theme throughout the Southern Baptist Convention.

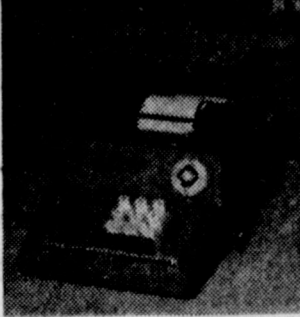

Mrs. Homer Morris, Mission study chairman, was in charge of the program. Those attending the meeting and participating on the daily programs were Miss Ruby Mince, Mrs. Homer Morris, Mrs. Willie Hazel, Mrs. L. F. Meeks, Mrs. Halbert Harvey, Mrs. John Butth, Mrs. Waymon Bellar, Mrs. R. E. DeLoach, Mrs. Dexter Baker, Mrs. Raymond Harper, Mrs. Oscar Vinson, Mrs. J. P. Arnold and Mrs. John Burnett.

Reception Slated For J. O. Allison

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Allison will be honored with a reception in observance of their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Christmas Day.

The event is to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Allison, 611 West Third Street. Friends of the couple are invited to call between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m.

Muleshoe Church Gives Blankets For Algerians

First Methodist Church has shipped 35 blankets to Denver to be sent by Church World Service Center to Constantine, Algeria, the pastor, Rev. J. Frank Peery, said Thursday.

It's part of a 650,000 blanket appeal for the 1.3 million Algerians who are suffering in the bitter winter weather.

A second shipment will be sent from the Muleshoe church next Tuesday.

The Algerian government recently banned the Communist party. Thus CWS is assured that the blankets actually will reach the Algerian needy folk.

First shipment of blankets was made November 26 when an Air France cargo liner took off from Boston with 30,000 pounds of blankets. A major share of the first emergency load was contributed by The Methodist Church which provided $25,000 for the purchase of new blankets from a Massachusetts woolen factory.

Mr. Peery said the 650,000 blankets "will meet only the minimum needs of the people who have lost all their possessions." He said churches across the nation are asked for 1,300 tons of warm clothing also to be distributed in Constantine and Batna areas by Christian Committee for Service in Algeria.

Freddie Locker Honored On Seventh Birthday

Freddie Locker was honored with a party on his seventh birthday last Tuesday at his home.

Boys who helped him celebrate the occasion played football and other games then presented Freddie a football, helmet, cars, boats, racers and other gifts.

A white birthday cake with pink candles centered the serving table with party favors. The candles were lighted and blown out by the honoree and refreshments were served.

Freddie is a first grade student.

Memorial Honors State Pioneers

"I'd like folks to know that granddaddy helped to pioneer this land." These words accompanied a check from a cattleman to the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation for a memorial to be placed in the outdoor theater in Palo Duro Canyon, the first phase of which is nearing completion, according to Mrs. Ples Harper, drama project.

"These words are representative of the feeling of many descendants of the founders of the Panhandle," Mrs. Harper said, "and in response to it a uniquely suitable and enduring plan has been formulated to commemorate the memory of those first comers."

"On the blueprint of the theater — of which, incidentally, 5 rows of the concrete seating platform have already been poured — a handsome entrance promenade is designated, which everyone must use in passing from the ticket office to the seating area. This promenade is flanked by a huge map of the Panhandle, marked with historical sites and cattle brands. On other great tablets will appear the memorial names, by county, with the occupation of the person memorialized and the year in which they settled there."

"In addition to these memorials, which will represent a gift of $500, many other gifts or memorials of greater or lesser amounts may be donated," Mrs. Harper said. "A garden club or group of people from one area interested in gardening, might wish to underwrite all or part of the cost of landscaping the approaches to the theater, others the building of the concession stand, dressing rooms, lighting or what have you. Also, there will be seats, each costing $200, on which a donor may wish to have his name or that of one of his forebears inscribed. Plaques will be permanently attached to each unit donated, with the name of the donor or that of the person memorialized. Thus, the theater itself will incorporate within its structure, symbols of the history which will be dramatized on the stage."

Decorator Tips

If you're planning a fall color-lift for your walls, here's some helpful advice from Ellen Leham McCluskey, A.I.D., one of America's top interior decorators who recently completed work on the restoration of the White House State Library. She is head of her own firm and President of the American Institute of Decorators' New York Chapter and Chairman of these organizations' National Cultural Relations Committee.

On decorating in general she says, "Keep it simple. Keep it uncluttered. Don't try complicated color schemes just because they're fashionable unless you're very, very sure of your color-sense. Bright colors and experiments should be confined to pieces you can change if they don't work out."

"The non-professional can't go wrong and will avoid a lot of tears afterwards if she sticks to either pastels or very deep tones in her wall colors. It's the bright, pure colors that can turn out to be terribly disturbing if you make a mistake."

"Let vibrant color take over in accessories like pillows, one bright-hued painted chair, flowers, books and oil paintings. Too many varieties of color in the house make the atmosphere jumpy."

Mrs. McCluskey thinks dark walls are wonderfully elegant, but warns that one must always use two coats, preferably three, over the primer. This should not be white but as close to the cover coat as possible. She feels that this method ensures the proper richness dark tones demand and has a practical aspect, too, because if you go a little wrong on the first coat, you can always rectify it.

She has some recommendations for those who hire professional painters, too. "Have him mix the shade you want about a tone lighter than you think it should be, particularly with yellow and blue, the most volatile of colors. One wall reflects on the other and the color will always appear darker in the final result."

Seeing the true color can best be accomplished with two tricks. "First, see that the color is painted on a piece of sealed wood. Otherwise, the shadings on the mixing stick may affect it. When he tries out the color on the wall for you, cut a large hole in a piece of newspaper and hold it up partially covering new color. This way you'll be able to judge it all by itself without being distracted by the existing wall color. Try this first in daylight, then close the blinds, put on the lamps and look at it again. Different lighting, as you know, can drastically change color properties and you have to be sure you enjoy your home in the evening as well as during the day."

"One more thing. Insist that all the paint for an area be mixed at the same time so you're sure color will be uniform."
Lastly, Mrs. McCluskey underscores the advice of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association by stressing that only the best quality paint be utilized.

BIRTHDAY HONOREES
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry and son of Lubbock, were guests of Monday evening in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Meeks. The occasion honored both Mr. and Mrs. Perry with a birthday dinner and fellowship.

Twelve Jailed, Blotter Reveals

Twelve persons have landed in the Bailey county jail during the past week, the sheriff's blotter revealed Thursday.

Of this number, two drunks, two vagrants and one for fighting were jailed for the police department. Three were held for the Texas Highway patrol on charges of aggravated assault.

JP CANNOT TELL A LIE
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Justice of the Peace Alice Truman bumped into the rear of a car while driving down a busy Tucson street.

When a city policeman arrived, Mrs. Truman said, "It was my fault. You have no choice but to give me a ticket."

Mrs. Truman was permitted to pay her fine in the Municipal Court rather than in her own justice court.

To avoid extradition to the U. S. Samuel Insull left Athens on March 15, 1934, disguised as a woman.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said Wednesday the administration plans to push its program for an early, substantial tax cut.

He made the statement at a news conference, in the face of objections from some leading members of Congress.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the tax-writing House ways and means committee, has said there is no economic justification for an early tax cut.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democrat, of the Senate finance committee, backed Mills.

Kennedy told his news conference he will enlarge on his proposals which he has said should take effect, at least in part, as of Jan. 1 — in his speech Friday night before the Economic Club.

But he said the details should wait until he sends the program to the new Congress in January.

Kennedy disclosed he will confer Wednesday with Mills.

Mills already has been visited by Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Mills has taken the position that the economy does not seem to be deteriorating. Others, including Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, have argued for a tax cut on the grounds it would spur business and strengthen the national economy.

Questioned whether Mills' reaction would dissuade the administration from its tax-cutting plans, Kennedy suggested that the questioner read the whole of Mills' interview in the U. S. News and World Report. It was in this interview the chairman expressed his feelings on the tax cut idea.

Read in its entirety, Kennedy said, the interview given by Mills and the views of his administration do not seem to be "so very far apart."

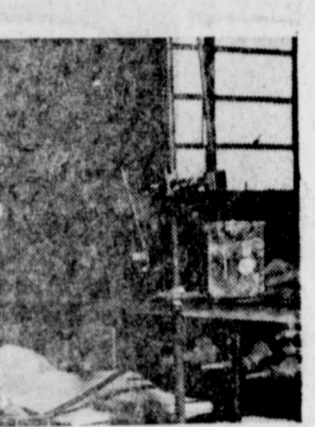

The need for tax reduction, Kennedy said, is not a question of an immediate emergency or of a business recession in the next three or four months. The problem, he said, is one of accelerating long-term economic growth to a rate which will produce full employment and avert the possibility of worldwide deflation.

"I am hopeful that the Congress will give this problem very close attention," he said, adding that the administration intends to go ahead with its request for rate reduction and reform.

High-ranking administration officials have been quietly visiting Democratic leaders of the House and Senate to talk about taxes.

Besides Fowler's visit to Mills in Arkansas, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has talked with Senator Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma Democrat, at the senator's ranch home.

Kerr is the No. 2 Democrat on the finance committee, the Senate's counterpart of ways and means. The Chairman, Byrd, was out of the country at the time, two weeks ago. It is understood that Byrd also was consulted later.

YOUNG TEXAN FOR DECEMBER — Notre Dame freshman Joseph J. Davay of Burkburnett has been named "Young Texan of the Month" for December by the over 200 Texas Optimist Clubs and the Troy V. Post Foundation. His exceptional high school scholastic record brought Davay three scholarships to state schools and a West Point appointment. He chose, however, to enter Notre Dame at a pre-medical student. As a result of his selection as "Young Texan of the Month," Davay will receive the Troy V. Post Award, the state's highest youth recognition honor. Davay was chosen from hundreds of nominees from across the state by a panel of notable Texans headed by Governor Price Daniel.

Women Report Bureau Meeting From Atlanta

Mrs. Morris McKillip called the Bailey County Farm Bureau office, Wednesday, from Atlanta, Ga., where she and Mrs. Elvon DeVaney are attending the National Farm Bureau Convention. They represent the ladies committee of the Bailey County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. McKillip first reported that the 8 degree temperature there this morning was not what they had expected down south!

In reporting how the State of Texas has done, she said Texas won second in membership. Georgia was first.

Texas was runner-up in the Southern Region Talk Meet.

Texas won the Citizenship award.

There are approximately 200 people from Texas attending the convention. About 138 delegates attended the Texas Breakfast on Monday morning.

Mrs. McKillip attended the Presidents and Women's Committee Banquet and reported on the activities of the Bailey County Ladies Committee for 1962. She was introduced by the General Assembly along with the chairman of the other states.

Due to illness in the family of C. H. DeVaney, president of Texas Farm Bureau, Mrs. Elvon DeVaney has served in the capacity of her mother-in-law.

News of the resolutions voted upon will be given later. They reported that they have enjoyed the whole convention very much.

The program is being proposed under the new federal law 566 which permits counties, cities, soil conservation districts and land-owners to enter into co-sponsored agreements to build a series of detention dams. Soil conservation and the prevention of flooding would be the chief aims of the program, although recreational benefits would not be overlooked. Curry county and Clovis has acquired 3,000 acres at the headwaters of the draw as a city lake site.

The project actually would be two projects, since the law permits only 250,000 acres to be included in any one program. The Running Water Draw, as a result, has been divided into an "upper" and "lower" project. Curry county, N.M., and Parmer county, Texas, would be included in the upper program, with Lamb, Castro, Swisher and Hale counties in the lower portion.

MANY ON FILE

New Mexico State Engineer Jack Koopler said 73 similar projects have been filed at Santa Fe since Public Law 566 was passed, but already seven of these projects have been approved and are now under construction. "I want to pledge my complete support for the program," he said, "and I urge that all right-of-way problems be cleared immediately as the first step in procuring such a program."

Curry, Hale and Parmer county commissioners have agreed to go along with the program, but support by Lamb and Castro county commissioners has not yet been secured. Calhoun said he and other interested promoters of the program will meet this week with Castro county board to present the program.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

H. G. Wells, Tulsa, a state representative, pledged his support to the program, saying "I hope I can help to procure funds for the 'planning' activities which are the first phase of the program."

He said: "I realize that it is difficult to get appropriations, but I firmly believe that this is one money item which should receive top priority and I promise my full support of the entire project."

Calhoun told the men "We have made great strides since the program was launched last March, but we want to go forward as fast as possible and get this badly needed program under way." He admitted that a stack-up of such projects at the state office "May delay our program six to eight years, but we hope we can get it going faster."

As a means of speeding the project, it was suggested that trust funds be set up and that temporary agreements from the land owners be procured as soon as possible.

MANY ON PROGRAM

Others who appeared on the program to back the Running Water Draw project included C. L. Abernathy, county judge of Hale County; Bob Spencer, Clovis Chamber of Commerce manager; Phil Crystal, Curry County Farm Agent; H. N. Kaapp, work unit conservationist at Clovis; A. L. Black, Friona; Ted Waldhouser, mayor of Clovis; C. L. Evans, Wade Mills, Castro county; Ed Larsen, Lamb county; and J. B. Wheeler, vice-president of Hale County State Bank.

Wheeler pledged full support of the program, saying, "we believe this is one of the most worthwhile projects ever undertaken in this area, and we are heartily in favor of it." Wheeler is president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

The project basically would include "10 or 12 detention, earthen dams along the route, including one major lake." Flooding, Calhoun said, would be prevented by "impounding the water during rainy seasons and letting it out gradually during the dry seasons. Lakes would maintain 5,000-acre foot levels at all times, however."

He said the project, when completed, would be of untold benefit to this area for 100 years.

Khrushchev ran because he knew that the United States was not just bluffing, and that we had the power to back up our views." The congressman said there are faults in our government, but "we must believe in our country and do our utmost to right any wrongs. After all, our country has far more good points than bad."

Ray's--

(Continued from page 1) Methodist Church for northwest Texas accepted after Methodism in general had been afraid the farm might prove to be a "white elephant." Hereford, ever eager to get everything possible for Hereford, went after the home. The Northwest Texas conference of Methodism, incidentally now owns the milk farm, and the $40,000-per-year net which the farm kicks in is a nice "endowment" for the home. Although owned by Northwest Texas Methodists, it is strictly non-demonstrational.

Rev. Don R. Davidson, Lazbuddie has been carrying the ball for the project. It's not a home for the sick although later they hope to add a wing for ailing oldsters. It's now for able-bodied oldsters who want comfortable place in which to live at fairly reasonable fee. It's not cheap, but neither is it completely out of the price range of many more-or-less modest income folk. If they can pay their way, well and fine; if not, apparently, the home lets folks work out part of their fees. One couple told me that they wash breakfast and lunch dishes in the cooperative kitchen to pay part of their keep.

There are single rooms for widows or widowers and very nice apartments for couples. Couples can either eat at the co-operative dining room or they can cook in their apartment. Tenants furnish the rooms or apartments themselves. Of course all bills are paid except telephone. Everything has been planned for these senior citizens. For example, handrails run the length of the hall on both sides, and the halls are carpeted. Nursing facilities are offered. The dining room is not the usual institutional dining room; instead it is furnished with family-sized maple tables and chairs. There are three parlors which also are furnished in pretty early American style. And there are $1-a-night guests rooms for visiting kin.

Methodism is building such homes throughout the nation. One is to be built in Carlsbad, N.M. for instance. Eventually these homes will solve the problem for many oldsters although doubtless the cost will keep many away. King's Manor, will solve the problem for many. Eventually there will be a saturation point in part-time jobs for residents who can't pay all their own way. After all there are only so many jobs available around any kind of a home. Maybe by the time that point is reached "sponsoring" churches and SS classes will be able to provide the cost.

But to me the most important thing about the King's Manor sort of project is the fellowship of people of similar ages. Here the older folk live in home-like apartments in the congenial atmosphere of older companions. For many old people, friendship is their greatest need. King's Manor provides that companionship. And it is in that area, I believe, that such homes offer their greatest benefits. Maybe that sort of thing is the answer to what to do with retired people. Anyway, I believe it's a long step in the right direction. As I said, I believe most of the people are happy at King's Manor, already full except for one room.

As one of the old fellows put it: "I never had it so good—beautiful living quarters, good meals, and real good friends who are old enough to speak the same language I speak. I'll be here until I die."

Grain--

Texas produces about one half of the world's supply of grain sorghum, with the 32-county area of the Texas Panhandle producing about 60 per cent of the Texas production. The Golden Spread production is one third of the annual world supply.

Negotiations for amendments to the new farm bill passed recently by Congress were started two weeks ago by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) when a Golden Spread delegation confronted the lawmakers face-to-face in Washington, D. C.

Headed by Bill Nelson of Amarillo, executive vice president of GSPA, the delegation primarily was objecting to the reduction in diverted acreage payments to farmers on ground idled by the new farm legislation. Other key men assisting Nelson were R. G. Peeler of Hereford, a member of the Secretary's Food Grain Advisory Committee, and Elbert Harp of Abernathy, president of GSPA.

MANY ORAL HASSLES After days of verbal hassles with officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, several members of the delegation returned home. Nelson stayed on, returning to Amarillo this past weekend. Among other things, Nelson said he was trying to get the USDA to make amends for its ruling under the new farm bill that payments for acreage diverted from grain sorghum production would be slashed nearly in half.

20 PERCENT LEVEL

Last year's emergency grain program provided payment of 50 per cent of normal production up to 50 per cent of acreage diversion. The new farm bill, however, provided for a reduction payment of 20 per cent of normal production up to 20 per cent acreage diversion and 50 per cent payment between 20 and 40 per cent diversion. Nelson said the drop in diversion payments meant a loss of about $17 million to the Texas grain growers from last year's program.

"We didn't think the program was fair to the grain sorghum grower and we were just trying to get something done about it," said Nelson.

Secretary Freeman's announcement of price support change Monday came on the heels of the Texas delegation's visit to the nation's capitol. The GSPA and the Nebraska Grain Growers Association were the only two farm groups objecting to specific articles of the new farm bill's feed grain program in the Washington meetings last week.

The new USDA ruling, Secretary Freeman's office announced Monday, would provide a national loan rate level boost on grain sorghum from $1.62 to $1.71. A direct price support payment of 29 cents per hundredweight, as already provided in the farm bill, will be paid to the grain farmers through local ASCS offices. This is termed as certificate payments.

Warning Issued: Look for Toys' Safety Label

AUSTIN — It is ironic that the Christmas season, despite the festive atmosphere, is among the most potentially hazardous times of the year. Most often the agents of tragedy are the very things intended to bring pleasure—the gifts, the lights and the gaily decorated tree.

But State Health Department safety experts report most tragedy is avoidable when ordinary discretion is used in selecting presents and decorations.

Almost all young children tend to taste-test their toys. This is why the lead poisoning death rate among children of the United States is about 60 per year. Most manufacturers use safe paint on toys, but some still do not. Safely painted toys or children's furniture can be identified by the legend: "Conforms to American standard Z66.1-1955 for use on surfaces which might be chewed."

Some plastic toys are so flammable that the slightest contact with a lighted cigarette or match will set off a blaze. Certain types of plastic will burst into flame even at a distance from fire. Others may break with razor-sharp, jagged edges.

Most American toy manufacturers use unbreakable, nonflammable plastics, but lowest imports are not always so safe. It pays to be selective.

Manufacturers have been asked to cease making dolls and stuffed animals with eyes a toddler can pull off and swallow or stuff in his nose or ear. Meanwhile Mothers should remove such eyes and embroider new ones in their place.

Projectile-type toys such as pellet guns, darts, etc., inevitably cause their share of serious injury and deaths. It is mere common sense to accompany these gifts with strict enforcement of safety rules.

As for tree decorations, if the box doesn't say "flameproof," don't buy it. Use only decorative lighting carrying the Underwriters Laboratory tag of approval. And make it a habit to pull the power cord from the wall outlet when you leave home. This is important because insulation failures and overheated circuits could develop while you're away. To keep the tree from drying out so quickly, try standing it in a pan of water throughout the holidays. Be sure to add water

SERVED HIM RIGHT
BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — A certain father here took note of the fact that one of his three daughters was receiving seven letters each week from the same boy. One afternoon, when he was alone at home, he spotted one of the notes on a table. "Now what do you suppose these kids find to write about so much?" he thought, and, yielding to temptation, he opened the letter and began to read.

"I'd come to see you more often," the boy had written, "but your nosy old father is always snooping around spying on us."

Why Not Income Tax Deductions For Farmers for Entertainment?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but you can't blame him for trying.

Dear editor:
The trouble with us farmers is that we're a little slow about catching on to a good thing.
For example, take entertainment as a business deduction on your income tax.

As I understand it from reading the newspapers recently, the economic well-being of this country is based on one business man taking another business man out to dinner and being allowed to take the expense off his income tax. While they're eating, one of them sells the other a big order, and business booms.

I don't understand this, but if they say it works, it's all right with me. What I'm interested in is figuring out a way where a farmer can work up some entertainment expense to come off his income tax.

Now I recognize it would be hard to convince the Internal Revenue Service how, if my neighbor invited me over for a meal and charged it up to expense, it'd help either one of us produce more. I'm going to work about the same, whether I eat in or out.

But entertainment is important to a farmer. Going up one row and down another day after day, requires a break; without it a man could get stale and farm production would fall off dangerously and the national economy head for a tailspin. Therefore, I would like to see the Internal Revenue Service set up some rules allowing entertainment expense deductions for farmers. Keeping farmers happy and producing is as important to the national economy as keeping business associates well-dined and ordering more merchandise. I have worked out a few.

For example, going into Muleshoe after five days of hard work on a farm around here is a legitimate form of entertainment, lots of ideas exchanged, lots of goodwill created, and ought to be deductible on a farmer's income tax. Like big business men, we wouldn't want to be bothered with a lot of record-keeping on what we spent in town and what for, just a simple, honest report like: Trip to town Saturday afternoon, $8.95, ought to suffice.

Or take television. Watching T.V. after a hard day's work in the field certainly ought to be a legitimate farm expense, including the cost of the set, repairs, electricity, etc. It seems to me setting a production just as much as taking a manufacturer of T. V. sets out to a night club is a boon to the production of T. V. sets.

Why, the more I think about it, I believe even subscribing to The Muleshoe Journal ought to be a legitimate entertainment expense for farmers. Let's get to work on this

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lumpy' Batting Gets New Life

COLLEGE STATION — The old type cotton batting that flattened out and became lumpy under use may again become popular due to a new chemical treating process.

USDA scientists report that the process, developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, makes padding hold its shape and remain resilient through long use.

The treatment, in which a latex compound is added to the chemical solution to prevent lumping and unevenness, is not yet ready for commercial use. However, several cotton batting companies are making plans for extensive testing and evaluation of the material.

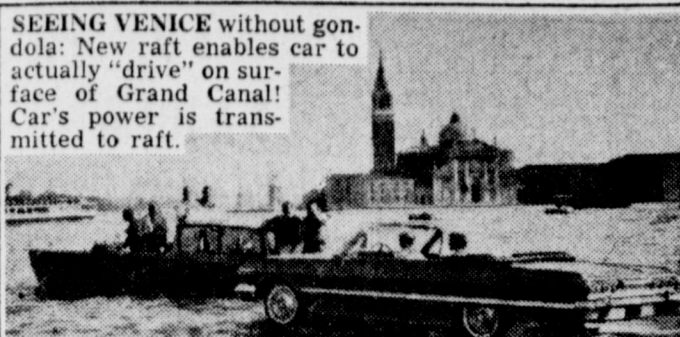

The problem of applying the chemical to the batting, which contains 60 percent cotton lint and 40 percent textile waste, was a major one. Researchers learned that they could spray it onto a fine web of fibers and then put the webs together in layers to any desired thickness. They also found that they could mold the batting into desired shapes during the drying and curing processes. This allows them to form padding that fits smoother and gives a neater appearance on furniture and automobile dashboards.

The scientists anticipate a renewed use of cotton in fine upholstered furniture, mattresses and seating material for automobiles and airplanes due to the new process. They say that in addition to holding its shape well the new batting is less expensive than synthetic fibers and foam rubber.

Weather Slows Cotton Harvest

Sample receipts are back to normal according to W. K. Palmer, Officer-in-charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office. Classing totals were small over the past week due to bad weather. With the help of the excellent harvesting conditions that have prevailed for the past few days sample receipts are back to 25,000 - 30,000 per day.

Classing totaled only 56,000 samples at the Lubbock office. The Lamesa office reported 3,200 samples classed. The Brownfield office classed 9,000 samples. The three offices reported a total carry-over of 19,000 samples.

To date 792,000 samples have been classed for the South Plains. At this time last year 1,294,000 samples had been classed. A total carry-over of 73,000 samples was reported at this time.

Strict Low Middling accounted for 33 percent of the cotton classed. Middling Light Spotted and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted accounted for 24 and 22 percent respectively. Other percentages were: Middling 2 percent, Low Middling Plus 5 percent, Low Middling 10 percent, and Low Middling Light Spotted 2 percent.

The average staple length for the week was 15-16 of an inch. The percentages of the various staple lengths were as follows: 7-8 inch 1 percent, 29-32 inch, 20 percent, 15-16 inch 65 percent, 31-32 inch 12 percent and 1 inch and longer 2 percent.

The micronaire readings continued to decline this week. The amount of samples reading 3.4 or below increased 6 percent this week with a percentage of 31 percent. The range of 3.5 - 3.9 accounted for 40 percent. Twenty-nine percent miked 4.0 or better. One percent of the samples classed was wasty.

Purchases totaled 52,000 bales for the week ending December 7, according to H. A. Poreet, Secretary of the Cotton Exchange. This compares with 87,500 bales reported for the same period last year.

Cotton price quotations were unchanged this week. Middling 1 inch quotation is 32.30. This compares with 32.85 for the same week last year. Some of the Lubbock quotations are: Middling 15-16 31.30, Middling 31-32 31.80, Strict Low Middling 15-16 30.00, Strict Low Middling 31-32 30.30, Middling Light Spotted 15-16 30.30, Middling Light Spotted 31-32 31.00, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15-16 29.50 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31-32 29.75.

MOUNTING OF THE GUARD

Augusta Ga. (AP)—With the command "Sound the Adjutant's Call" and the short, snappy response of the band, Ft. Gordon has revived an old, colorful Army tradition—the formal mounting of the guard.

From the First Training Regiment, the 36 members of the guard mount wore winter greens with trousers bloused over spit-shined boots. They were armed with rifles and wore helmeted liners.

This formal guard mount will be a weekly event in a continuing salute to customs of the U. S. Army. Such traditional ceremonies have almost become lost in the shuffle of space age progress, a Ft. Gordon spokesman said.

WHEN?

The Presidential Commission appointed by President Eisenhower to study the railroad work rules ("featherbedding") problem made its report to President Kennedy at the end of last February, after 13 months of work.

This Commission, let it be recalled, consisted of 15 men of the highest standing in their fields—five representing the public, five the railroads, and five the operating unions. The recommendations made reflected the unanimous views of the public members who, of course, held the balance of power.

The majority found, in substance, that the present rules system is outmoded in many fundamentals — because the rules and practices were largely adopted before modern technology, and hence are obsolete. Three policy principles were adopted by the majority: 1. The Nation is entitled to a safe and efficient rail system; 2. Employees are entitled to a sound and equitable pay structure and conditions which promote efficiency, safety and security; 3. Management should be accorded reasonable opportunity to install technological improvements, and that, where improvements in technology leading to greater productivity adversely affect employees, adequate provisions must be made for their welfare.

In specific matters, the report endorsed union proposals in some cases. In others, it accepted the carriers' suggestions. In still others it came up with new ideas of its own.

The railroad industry accepted the recommendations in toto, even though it disagreed with some of them. The unions took precisely the opposite track, and still hold to it. Their position is that the old work rules must be maintained, with little or no change, even though they are completely out of step with the operating procedures of today.

This brief review is worth while now—for cost of featherbedding is estimated at half a billion dollars a year, at a time when the industry as a whole is fighting for its life as a private enterprise. When will the unions realize that the real interests of railroad workers—to say nothing of the over-riding public interest—can only be served by a prosperous, progressive industry which is allowed to make the most of modern knowledge?

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are. You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chain-supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the careful attention to upholstery and finish. Albino Baboon Draws Attention

By HENRI JONKER

WINDHOEK, South West Africa (AP)—A white baboon has drawn the attention of superstitious natives and scientists to his herd in the Volkrans Mountain near here.

The colored people living near the mountain home of the baboons speak with awe of the white animal among his dark gray herdmates.

Scientists are also interested, firstly in the "status" the white baboon has evidently acquired among the other baboons, and secondly in the fact that albinos are found more frequently among South West African animals than among others.

The Africans who have seen the white baboon of Volkrans noticed that although it was still half-grown, all the others, including the full-grown ones which have a strict hierarchy, showed "respect" for the little albino. They claim that the herd always maneuvers in such a way that the albino cannot be harmed.

The albino's mother also appears to be particularly careful with him.

Dr. W. J. Steyn, director of the Windhoek Museum, is planning an expedition to the Volkrans Mountain in order to study the white baboon's way of life and the other baboons' reaction toward him, before trying to capture him for a physical study.

plain TALK...

ABOUT ANHYDROUS AMMONIA

Before you decide not to make a plowdown application of anhydrous ammonia on your cotton and grain sorghum land this Fall, hoping that the price will drop in the Spring, there are some very important considerations you should take into account. They all boil down to this: EVEN IF YOU WERE ABLE TO SAVE MONEY ON THE PRICE OF AMMONIA, IT WON'T COVER THE LOSS OF YIELD, (10% OR MORE) YOU WOULD GET BY PLOWING DOWN NOW. WAITING CAN ALSO ADD TO YOUR COST OF SPRING PLOWING AND IRRIGATING.

LET'S LOOK AT THE FACTS ABOUT PLOWDOWN We all know, of course, that the residue turned under with Fall plowing is a storehouse of plant nutrients. But these nutrients are not available to the growing plant until, through bacteriolysis, the residue is decomposed. Decomposition restores the nutrients in the residue to a useable form readily available to the new crop. This takes time. Nitrogen in the form of anhydrous ammonia speeds up the process and assures more complete decomposition by planting time.

TIME, TEMPERATURE AND MOISTURE Time, temperature and moisture are very important in the decomposition process and have a direct bearing on the question of when anhydrous ammonia should best be applied. The correct conditions are more likely in the Fall and early Winter. This means that, given adequate ammonia now, in December and January, the decomposition process can be nearly completed before hard Winter sets in, and is finished quickly when the soil warms up in the Spring.

SOIL CONDITIONING Now let's compare the condition of soil which has had a plowdown application of anhydrous ammonia with soil on which only the traditional Spring preplant application is made. When the seed goes into the ground, if ammonia was not applied in the previous Fall in time to decompose the residue, much of this residue will still be there in the Spring. The young plant, during its critical early growth, must share the Spring-applied nitrogen with the bacteria at work on the residue. Not only must it share the nitrogen, but the young plant is also denied the other nutrients in the undecomposed residue from the previous crop. With decomposition completed, the ammonia applied at preplant time is then totally available to the crop as well as that which was applied in the Fall.

Why wait? Experience proves you will produce more, make more money by applying ammonia now. Apply Shamrock Nitromite and pay later on Shamrock's Farm Credit Plan.

OTHER COST FACTORS With decomposition complete by Spring, the soil itself is in its best physical condition for plowing, seed bed preparation and for taking in and storing water. These factors contribute to lower production cost.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND The high producing farmers who have accepted Fall application of ammonia as standard practice tell us there are many other cost factors involved which have an effect on profits. They say, for example, that since men and equipment are freely available in the Fall, they find Fall application costs less in time and money.

Many good farmers also say they think it's worth money to them to be able to handle application in the Fall so that when the critical time for pre-plant comes they can have some flexibility instead of getting caught in a shortage of applicators and transportation facilities which usually occur when everybody wants until the last minute to apply ammonia. They say plowdown now avoids a lot of risks and uncertainties while assuring next season's crop of an abundant supply of essential plant nutrients during its critical early growth.

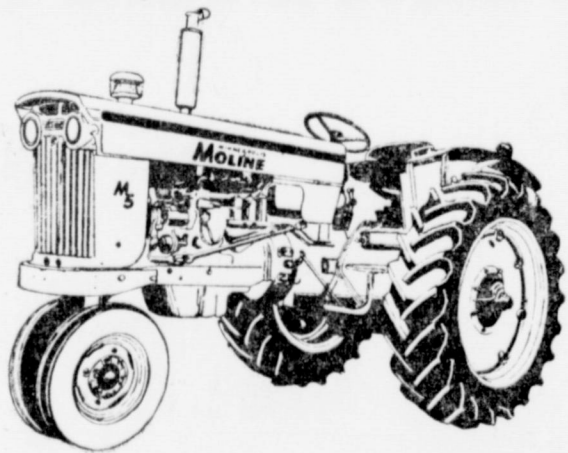

NITROGEN — THE MAGIC INGREDIENT The key to decomposition of residue and the resulting increase of nutrients available to new plants and improved soil condition is nitrogen. The fertilizer which supplies the most nitrogen per pound, and gives the farmer more for his money, is anhydrous ammonia.

APPLY NOW — PAY LATER Ask your Nitromite dealer about the Shamrock Farm Credit Plan. He has the equipment, manpower and the finance plan to meet your needs for the application of ammonia now. Give one of them a call today. He's ready to help you put nitrogen to work in your soil with SHAMROCK Nitromite.

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP)—Ninety-year-old Harold Magruder is a firm believer in the old adage "you are only as old as you feel."

He rarely misses a day driving to the post office and his bright yellow car is usually filled with flowers from his garden. They go to the sick and shut-ins, church, community and school organizations and, sometimes, he makes a round of the business offices and leaves a post on each desk.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — After a four-year test, Texas' May-June primary election set-up may be on its way out.

A cursory check of legislators at a recent gathering here found among the big-city members who had Republican opponents, for a return to the August-September primary system.

Growth of the Republican party in Texas means that Democrats now face hard campaigns, in many districts, in the fall months, in addition to the strenuous spring campaigns. Many legislators are talking seriously about moving the primaries to August and September. This, so voters won't have to be whipped to voting moods twice in a year.

There is some strong resistance to returning to the old way, however.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo, a member of the special election law revision committee, said a change like this would require a complicated revision of the code that would be almost impossible to accomplish during a regular session.

Kazen represents an area in South Texas where thousands of migrant farm workers, who leave home for the summer and fall, have had their first chance to vote in the primaries under the May-June system.

Some legislators would block a change because so many school teachers are at home to vote in May, but are in colleges or on trips in the summer. The late Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, who pushed for the change to spring primaries, once said that August run-offs worked a real hardship on candidates like himself, since many of their best financial backers were out of state during the summer.

POLL TAX CONTROVERSY

The Texas Election Study Committee heard many divergent opinions on the requirements for a voter registration law during its public hearings in the senate chamber.

Main point of discussion was whether or not a literacy test should be required if the poll tax system is abolished.

League of Women Voters, represented by Mrs. Maurice H. Brown of Waco, did not approve of a literacy test. Mrs. Brown said her group recommended a uniform registration plan for all voters, and offered the committee a draft of a bill which calls for permanent registration.

Several witnesses, including Isaac Satterfield of Marshall, a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, advocated a literacy test.

Senator Kazen spoke out against it. He said since no literacy test now is required, he saw no reason why it should be necessary. "The only reason for a literacy test is to keep someone from voting," Kazen retorted.

Roy R. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO, said his organization opposed any discrimination against a person's national origin, financial status or educational background. The AFL-CIO also advocated a permanent registration plan, under which a voter would have to re-register only if he failed to vote in a two-year period.

PARK OFFER WITHDRAWN

Just four months after the State Parks Board jubilantly announced that Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Wheatly of San Antonio had given the state a 4,788-acre ranch in Blanco County, the Wheatlys withdrew their offer.

Reason, according to Mrs. Wheatly, was that the couple has learned that existing state parks need at least $5,000,000 to serve the public, and "we have no assurance that our ranch could be properly developed."

The Wheatlys made the gift offer in July with the stipulation that the Parks Board obtain a legislative appropriation of $250,000 to improve and develop the ranch which runs along the Pedernales River. Board planned to ask for $600,000.

Mrs. Wheatly said their offer will not be wasted if the publicity surrounding the episode makes the public aware of the inadequacy of the state parks system.

Meanwhile, puzzled board officials were hoping to persuade the Wheatlys to change their minds before the deed to the ranch is returned.

LIVESTOCK EQUAL PEOPLE

Texas has as many head of livestock as it does people.

According to an estimate by the Texas Animal Health Commission the livestock population is 10,000,000.

State Health Department estimated that the people population reached 10,000,000 last summer. An audit of the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners showed that there's more than one veterinarian for every 10,000 head of livestock. During the 1962 fiscal year, 1,184 vets renewed their licenses, 78 took exams to become veterinarians, and seven took out reciprocal licenses.

There are 8,700 medical doctors licensed to practice in the state, or one doctor for every 1,150 persons.

ENROLLMENT DOWN

The much-publicized firing of Dr. Rupert Koeninger from Sam Houston State College's sociology department may not be the reason, but enrollment there, which increased by annual leaps of 500 in 1959, 1960, and 1961, increased only 215 this fall.

Increase rate for Sam Houston State was about four per cent. Average increase for all state colleges was nine per cent.

Major crime in Texas was way below the five per cent nationwide increase for the first nine months of 1962, according to an FBI report. A survey of crime in 12 representative cities showed an increase of only 0.29 per cent over the same period last year.

Report is a tabulation of murders and non-negligent homicides, forcible rapes, robberies, aggravated assaults, burglaries, larceny over $50 and auto thefts.

Total major crimes in 12 Texas cities amounted to 49,747 offenses for the first nine months of 1962, compared to 59,599 for the same period in 1961.

Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco and Wichita Falls are the cities referred to.

The FBI warned merchants to be alerted to the shoplifting trend as the Christmas shopping season progresses. They also cautioned shoppers against leaving packages unattended in unlocked cars or in plain view in locked cars.

TAX PROPOSALS

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy recommended that the state abandon the ad valorem tax as a source of revenue in 1968.

The state property tax, which once was a primary source of income, now comprises only four per cent of the state's total tax take.

Commission stated that under the current system of assessment, the tax is "so patently inequitable that there can be no reasonable argument for retaining it as a part of the state's revenue system without a substantial change."

LVN PROGRAM

The Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners brought the total of vocational nurse training programs in the state to 114 when it accredited Deaf Smith County Hospital School of Vocational Nursing at Hereford and Groom Memorial Hospital School at Groom.

Licensing of 781 new vocational nurses as a result of October examinations brought the total number of licenses to 26,507 for women who have qualified since the Vocational Nurse Law went into effect on September 7, 1951.

TRANSITION GOVERNOR

A suite of rooms in Austin's Driskill Hotel has become the seat of "transition government" for Governor-elect John Connally.

He works four days a week in a suite which, appropriately, is titled the Caucus Room.

In this office, just six blocks from the Governor's office which he will take over on January 15, is a staff of fifteen persons.

Connally's administrative assistant, Bill Fowler, says their present task is to send out 18,000 thank-you letters, study applications and recommendations for the 278 appointments the new governor will make to state boards and commissions in 1963.

In what amounts to a cram course in state operation, Connally is conferring with officials of state agencies and members of the legislature.

Most of the mail flowing toward his desk already is addressed to "Governor" Connally.

NO INAUGURAL TICKETS

A ticket-less inaugural of Governor-elect John B. Connally and Lt. Governor-elect Preston Smith is the order for January 15.

William C. Long, general chairman of the Austin Inaugural Committee, emphasized that all inaugural functions will be open to all Texans without admission tickets.

The formal inauguration will be conducted under direction of the Legislature at noon at the Capitol.

Preceding it will be a dedicatory prayer breakfast at 8 a.m., to which the public also is invited.

Following the inauguration ceremony, there will be an Inaugural Parade on Congress Avenue, featuring military units, high school bands and civic floats.

A massive reception in the Capitol building is scheduled for the same evening. Entertainment will be provided in the Senate and House chambers.

BATTLE SURE

The issue of drawing new boundaries for Texas' legislative and congressional districts appears headed for star billing when the lawmakers convene in January.

In an Associated Press poll of Texas lawmakers, 71 per cent who replied said they thought redistricting would be in the top 10 issues of the session.

Thirty-seven per cent said it would be one of the top five controversies.

BUSINESS FLIGHT

The Muleshoe men made a flight to Laredo, Falcon and Austin last Sunday.

Piloting the Cherokee was Sam Damron with Ray Daniel and Cecil Winegart as passengers.

Damron said as they left Muleshoe, the sky was overcast and they flew at a 1,500 foot altitude near Littlefield where a weather bureau report gave a 2,500 foot ceiling. They climbed out through a break in the clouds cover and leveled off, continuing the flight at about 9,500 feet with puffy, white clouds below creating a pretty scene.

They made their first landing at Laredo and after spending some time there, flew to Falcon. They later returned to Laredo to refuel then flew to Austin where Damron and Daniel both attended to business.

On the return trip, they had overcast skies and flew at 3,000 altitude with a 25 knot head wind. They reported a pleasant flight.

NEW STUDENTS

Robert Peters, Roy Locker, and Delbert Garner are new students at the Muleshoe Flying Service. All three are taking dual under Morgan Locker and are making progress rapidly.

MULTI-ENGINE

Bill Jim St. Clair flew to Lubbock last Thursday and took a flight test for multi-engine rating. St. Clair passed the test and is now licensed in that category. He and Herb Griffiths then flew to Lubbock where they attended a football game.

GROUND SCHOOL

Ground school courses are slated to begin at the airport the first week in January. The course will include all phases of training for Private ratings and instrument flying.

Classes will be held at night for the convenience of those who would like to take the course.

NEW HANGERS

A new Marine type T hanger is being erected on the concrete slab where a tornado demolished a hanger in 1958.

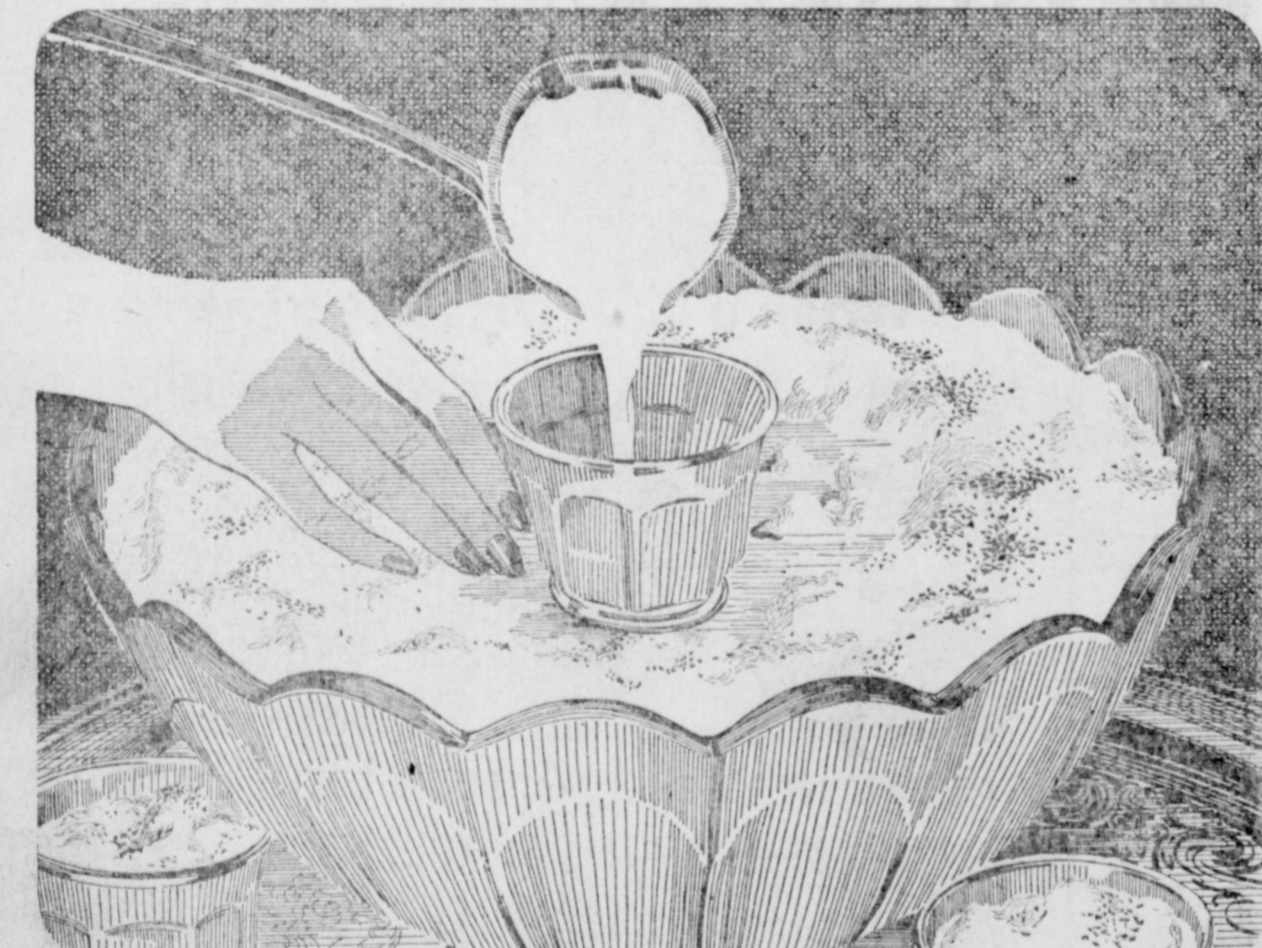

The all modern designed hanger will house four planes and will be 56 by 56 feet square. This type hanger has no wasted space and factory-built doors open on all four sides.

When completed, the Muleshoe Flying Service will have space for 19 airplanes.

Three Way Sets Welding Course

By MRS. JACK LANE
THREE WAY — A farm welding short course for adult farmers will be held December 17-21 under the sponsorship of the Three Way Young Farmer Organization. The announcement came this week from Harold Carpenter, reporter for the Three Way FFA, and was released by Jack Sharp, teacher of Vocational Agriculture. R. L. Cates, graduate of metallurgical engineering, will do the instructing in the course. He is employed by Forney Welding Company, especially to instruct classes of farm welding. Many welding short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Cates, and all have met with outstanding success, according to a Forney company representative from Littlefield.

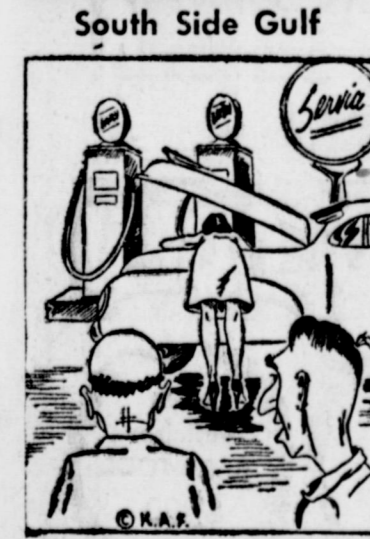

The short course at Three Way is slated to begin December 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of five will be held each subsequent evening at 7:30 p.m. During the dates the short course is in progress, Cates and a Forney representative will be available to assist farmers with their individual problems on their farms, according to Jack Sharp. Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call Jack Sharp, Joe Sowder, or Dutch Powell. An entry fee of $5 will be charged.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Henderson, Vickie, Debra, Ronnie and Randall, formerly of Sweetwater, have moved into the Stegall community. Perry is employed by Conrad Williams and they live where the Virgil Holley's lived. The Holleys have moved on Judge Glen Williams place.

Howard Hunter, Odessa, has accepted the call at Hicks Chapel Baptist Church as their new pastor. The church will have its annual Christmas program Sunday night, December 23.

ALARMING MISTAKE
 TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When fire engines answered an alarm in downtown Tucson, Arizona Daily Star staffers Ted Craig and Charles Burkhardt offered a quick explanation for the false call.
 They had seen a young woman, letters in hand, reach up and pull the alarm, thinking that would allow her to deposit the letters in what she thought was a mail box.

Beavers Thanks
'Early' Patrons
 Postmaster Spencer Beavers expressed his appreciation today for your excellent cooperation so far on his 1962 "Mail Early for Christmas" Campaign. He said, however, that only by stepping up all Christmas card and gift package mailings immediately, will it be possible to process and deliver your cards and gifts
 by Christmas Day.
 The postmaster said further,
 "It looks like the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, far exceeding the many thousands of pieces of mail that were dispatched and delivered in the pre-holiday season of 1961."
 5 The postmaster continued,
 "Let's not disappoint a single friend or loved one at Christmas time by putting off our Christmas mailings to the last minute."
 He offered these good suggestions that are easy to follow —
 Be sure your return address and the recipient's name and address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards.
 Always use zone numbers. Avoid abbreviations of state and city names.
 Try to bring your parcels to the postal windows before 10 a.m.
 or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.
 to avoid the noon hour rush.
 Pack your Christmas gifts in strong corrugated cartons. Use plenty of stuffing material to insure safe delivery. Seal packages with heavy paper adhesive tape and tie them with good, strong cord. Be sure to ask about parcel post size and weight limitations when you go to the post office to buy stamps.
 Speaking about stamps, the Postmaster said, "Use the colorful new 4 cent Christmas stamps on all your Christmas cards. By sending your cards First Class mail, they will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on the Christmas card envelopes.

 Secure free labels at the Post Office which read, "All for local delivery" and "All for out of town delivery." Then, separate your Christmas cards into two bundles, thus expediting handling and delivering of them at the Post Office.
 Beginning December 4, service windows at the Post Office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Count Starts
For Directory
 Census-takers are at work in Muleshoe, gathering information for a new city directory, under the supervision of Mrs. Gene English. She says businesses, homes, schools, hospitals and churches in Muleshoe city limits are being contacted. Working with her are Mr. and Mrs.
 Major Wood.
 The nose-count started on American Blvd., with the census-takers moving south from that starting point, Mrs. English said.
 Latin-American areas are being contacted by Rev. Roque Puente, and the Negro section by Hilltop teachers, Mr. and Mrs. F. D.
 Harris.
 Mrs. English has used for cooperation of all citizens in Muleshoe to make the directory as complete and up-to-date as possible.

TRYING TO SAVE MONEY
 CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP)
 —Although Ohio had snow earlier than anticipated this season principal Robert Health of Preston School reported only one problem in his area:
 "Too many mothers tried to squash this year's shoes into last year's boots."

FLYIN' HIGH — It's Bernis Johnson of Lose Angeles. Steel Dust was too tough Cleburne, aboard a maverick called Steel for Johnson, who finished out of the money Dust in this action during the second go-around of the National Finals Rodeo in (AP Wirephoto).

Frost May Hurt
Feeding Values,
College Warns
 COLLEGE STATION — Jack Frost has already visited many sections of Texas and frost or freezing weather has stopped all warm season plant growth in these areas. Johnsongrass and sorghum sometimes develop a high prussic acid content after frost, and if grazed by livestock can cause a lot of trouble, reports Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

 Certain chemical changes occur in the first-wilted plants, and are responsible for the prussic acid development, Patterson says. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how soon a veterinarian can get to it, Patterson explains.
 Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry. If it is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after frost if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.
 Frost-wilted plants may also be used for silage. Generally, points out the veterinarian, enough prussic acid is lost in gaseous form during the ensiling process and as the silage is removed and fed to make it safe for livestock. Animals should not be allowed to self-feed from a pile filled with frosted Sudan or sorghum. If there is any doubt about the silage, it should be tested. This can be done by a veterinarian or by feeding the silage to one or two inferior animals.

 Patterson suggests a visit with a local veterinarian or county agent for more details on questions relating to the grazing or harvesting and storing of frostwilted plants.

State to Issue 'Atomic' Permits

AUSTIN — Early in January Gov. Price Daniel and Dr. Glenn Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission will meet in the Senate Chamber at the Texas Capitol where each will sign an important legal document.

The document will be a formal contract between the federal government and the State of Texas. And it will be full of the legal words and phrases usually found in such contracts.

But boiled down to its essence, the signed contract will mean that any Texas firm or individual who finds it necessary to use radioactive materials in their business or profession will deal directly with the State Department of Health for license and supervision, rather than with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Thus will end months of tedious negotiations which began back in 1959. That was when the United States Congress amended the original Atomic Energy Act and gave states permission to set up radiation control programs of their own, provided they could convince the AEC they could handle the job.

It was in April of 1961 that the Texas Legislature accepted the challenge and passed the Texas Radiation Control Act. This law named the Texas State Department of Health as the state's official radiation control agency.

The same state law gave the health department the right to set up a program of licensing and registering all radioactive materials and all radiation producing equipment as a means of safeguarding against dangerous human overexposure.

Such a program was worked up by the department's radiation control engineers, and approved by a 9-member Radiation Advisory Board that Gov. Daniel had named earlier. Members of the board are experts in medicine, hospital administration, industry, labor, insurance, agriculture and public safety.

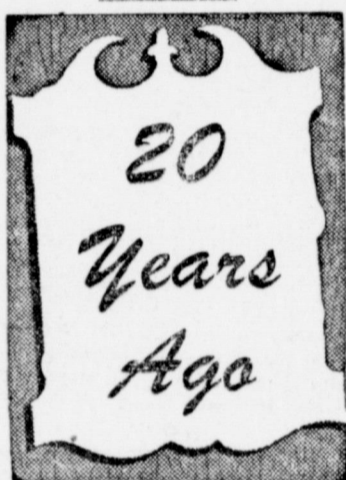

A written prospectus of the program was formally submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission on November 5. The AEC was asked to act on it promptly so the final contract could be signed early in January.

If the January deadline is met—and there is every indication that it will be—Texas will become the fifth state to assume the regulatory function. Kentucky, California, Mississippi and New York already have similar working arrangements with the AEC. An aggregate of 569 radioisotope licenses have already been issued in Texas by the AEC. Subsequent licenses will be issued by the state Department of Health in a valid exercise of state responsibility.

After the Governor and Dr. Seaborg sign that document in January, Texans will be talking to Texans.
