Community Banquet To Be Held May 13th

Friday, May 13, has been set as the date for the annual Community Banquet. The Robert Lee-Silver Lions Club and the '64 Study Club are the co-sponsors for the event, held each year to recognize and honor members of our community for their outstanding service and dedication to community work.

Highlight of the banquet will be the awarding of the prestigious Lion of the Year and Citizen of the Year merit awards.

The Lion of the Year is selected by Lions Club Members based on the year's accomplishments. Lions have long symbolized service the world over.

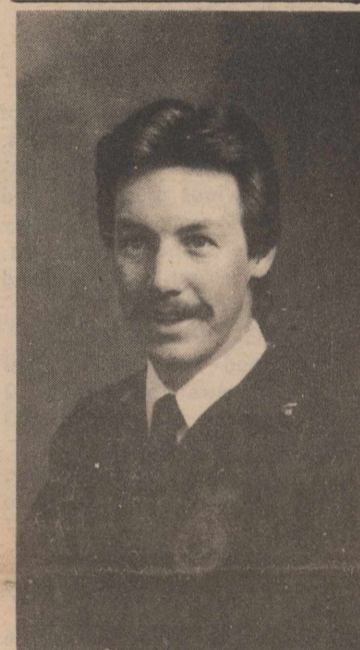

Community service groups nominate individuals for the Citizen of the Year award; nominees are narrowed to three persons and another round of balloting occurs for the finalist.

The idea for recognition of community service was actually born in May, 1971 when a local group of citizens, aided by the BCD, honored Dr. John D. McDaniel for his 21 years of dedication to our community.

The next year, in July, 1972, the Lions Club and the BCD began an annual affair to "give credit where credit is due." The Board of City Development was disbanded a few years later and the '64 Study Club took up its banner of service.

This community-wide event will take place this year on Friday, May 13, at 7:00 p.m. in the local high school cafeteria. The banquet is open to the public; ticket price is $4.00 and maybe purchased from any Lions Club or '64 Study Club member. Tickets will also be available at the door preceding the dinner.

FB Insurance Gives $150 To Fire Dept.

The Robert Lee Fire Department received a check for $150.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Zula Radde, Box 458, Sterling City, Texas.

The money will be used for their loss prevention program.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Robert Lee Fire Department in their program.

'64 Club Ladies Attend Program In San Angelo

Denim skirts, jeans, boots, toe tapping, clapping, lots of food and a fantastic musical program was the menu for the evening when seven members of the '64 Study Club and one guest attended the "Family Pops Hoedown-83" last Saturday evening in the San Angelo Coliseum.

The main floor had over a hundred tables for eight decorated for the occasion and reservations for lucky patrons who brought ample food and drink and were ready for a good time. Others sat in the chairs above and ate and had a marvelous view of the panorama below.

The '64 group had a stage side table and a chance "to see it all".

Entertainment, provided by the symphony, was light classical songs of the 40's. They accompanied the Twin Mountain Tonesmen, the GTE Singers, and the Angelo Dance Repertory Theater.

Those attending from the '64 Study Club were Mary Ivey, Irene Newell, Lucile Bryan, Nancy Allen, Opal Jacoby, Pauline Vaughan, Ruby Jones, and guest, Mildred Sparks.

SMALL TOWNS

Several versions of the following "Thanks For Small Towns, People Who Live There" have been printed in the last few years, but Pam Conner at KRUN passed on this version, first borrowed from the North Dakota Union Farmer.

"You know you're in a small town when:

The runway of the airport is terraced.

The polka is more popular than disco on Saturday night.

Third Street is on the edge of town.

Every sport is played on dirt.

The editor and publisher of the newspaper carries a camera at all times.

You don't use your turn signal because everyone knows which direction you are going.

You were born on June 13 and your family received gifts from the local merchants because you were the first baby of the new year.

You speak to each dog you pass by name and he wags at you by name.

You dial a wrong number and talk for 15 minutes anyway.

You are run off Main Street by a combine.

You can't walk for exercise because every car that passes offers you a ride.

You get married and the local paper devotes a quarter page to the story.

You drive in to the ditch five miles out of town and word gets back before you do.

The biggest business in town sells farm machinery.

You write a check on the wrong bank and it covers for you.

Pickup trucks on Main Street outnumber cars three to one.

You miss a Sunday at Church and receive get-well cards.

Someone asks how you feel, then listens to what you have to say.

Thank God for small towns and the people who live in them.

In addition to classroom hours, students will be required to complete a certain number of clinical hours in the hospital emergency room, operating room and in obstetrics. Students must also make at least five ambulance runs.

The cost of the course is $85.00 plus books. Students successfully completing the course and becoming licensed may be eligible to continue in the Emergency Medical Services program for paramedic training.

For more information, contact the Emergency Medical Services Department at 235-8441 ext. 20.

IT'S A FACT!

An estimated 468,000 children ages 3-5 have vision problems. A young child can't tell you when he or she has one.

The National Society to Prevent Blindness, now in its 75th year, suggests that it's up to parents to have a youngster's vision checked—before school age. A primary concern is the eye condition amblyopia (lazy eye).

The affected child has a weak eye that won't do its part, and the child favors the other eye. Undetected and untreated, amblyopia can result in permanent reduction of vision or even blindness in the weak eye. It is easily detected at an eye exam, and can be effectively treated if found before age six.

To learn how to take care of your child's eyes, contact your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Lake Spence Fishing Report

Mountain Creek Golf Course will again sponsor a "members only" mini-tourney, to be held on Thursday afternoons after 5:30 p.m. and run through the summer months. The series of play provided a lot of fun for the club last year. It gave some tournament experience and practice to newer players and also allowed members to become better acquainted. Many of the meets finished with refreshments or covered dish suppers and involved members of the players' families.

On Thursday, April 28, twenty players teed off after work. Gary Williams-Judy Blair topped the field for first place with a 34. A 36 score by Bob Morgan-Kerry Gartman took second and Robert Vaughan-Jackie Walker shot a 38 for third place. Bill Blair-Ernest Ybarra also managed a 38 total.

Jeff Webster refreshed the group with chips and dips. Heart O'Texas Savings & Loan Association played host to a large turnout of 70 golfers when they sponsored an ABC Tournament on Sunday afternoon, May 1.

Though red clouds of dust hung in the air, the wind never got up and it was a great day for golfing.

Gary Williams, Bob Boone, Jack Jacoby, and Tommy Ringo blew everybody out of the saddle with a sizzling score of 60. Second place went to Frank Pitrich, Red Smith and Gary Ray who had a 65. Also shooting a 65 for third were Bud Thetford, Wayne McCur, and Sid Burns.

In the drawing of golf balls, winners were Dennis Weaver, Robert Wink and Roy Tinkler.

Next scheduled play will be the Thursday afternoon Club tourney on May 5. A short business meeting will be held at that time and members will join in a covered dish supper.

'64 Study Club Gives Program At N-Home

Members of the '64 Study Club chose the month of April to bring a program of enjoyment to the residents of the Nursing Home. Believing that the experiences of Pauline Coalson Barron on The North Slope of Alaska would be enjoyable, they invited her to show her slides.

Mrs. Irene Newell, president of the '64 Study Club, was on hand to introduce Mrs. Barron to a group of about twenty-three people. Her slides, revealing primitive life of the Eskimo people, living in one-room houses with Coleman stoves for heat, melting hunks of ice for their water, fishing in ice holes, and bringing the caribou on snowmobiles proved interesting to guests and friends of the nursing home. Many of these residents were early settlers in this county, who like the Eskimos lived without indoor plumbing, could not refrain from laughter as Pauline explained the daily chore of carrying out the "honey bucket". To many of them, however, the Twin Otter, which flew in twice per week on a small icy runway, seemed out of place on the snow-covered tundra, only fifteen miles from the Arctic Ocean.

Many of the guests showed thanks and appreciation by remaining after the show to ask questions and to express their gratitude for a very unusual program.

Work Day Sat. At Paint Creek

The Paint Creek Cemetery Association will sponsor the annual workday on Saturday, May 7, announced Mrs. Zera Fields. All those who can are urged to help out or donate to the upkeep of the community cemetery.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

Question: Are there different types of skin cancer?

ANSWERline: There are three main types of skin cancer, classified according to the cells involved. These are basal cell, squamous cell, and melanoma. More than 90 percent of all skin cancers fall into the first two classifications. Basal cell cancer occurs more frequently, but grows more slowly. It rarely spreads, but if left untreated can extend to underlying bone. Squamous cell cancer occurs less often, but is a greater danger because of rapid spread. These two types of cancer can appear on almost any area of the skin, but most commonly they develop on exposed parts of the body face, neck, forearms, and the back of the hands. Squamous cell cancer and melanoma skin cancer appear very much alike, showing up either as a pale, waxlike pearly nodule that may eventually ulcerate and crust or as a scaly, red sharply outlined patch. Malignant melanoma is a virulent form of skin cancer, which spreads rapidly. Melanomas are usually dark brown or black in pigmentation. They begin as mole-like growths that increase in size, change color, become ulcerated and bleed easily from a slight injury.

Question: Is chemotherapy replacing surgery and radiation in the treatment of cancer?

ANSWERline: At present surgery and radiation are the methods most often used in treating cancer. Chemotherapy ranks third. In some cancers all three of these are used. A fourth method under intense investigation is immunotherapy. In this method, attempts are being made to stimulate the body's complex self-defense system, so that it will recognize and reject a foreign substance, such as cancer. Immunotherapy is producing good results in some cases of melanoma, and is being tested on a variety of other cancers including leukemia and breast cancer. Much more work is needed for immunotherapy to become a major cancer treatment.

Facts From The U.S. Food And Drug Administration

Avoid These Medicine-Taking Mistakes

Following a few simple rules and precautions can help you get the safest, most effective use of the medicines you take.

Always read the labels on both over-the-counter and prescription drugs for special storage instructions. If the label says "Keep in a cool, dry place," the bathroom may be too warm and steamy. Some drugs must be stored in the refrigerator.

Pill boxes are only for temporary storage. Drugs carried in pill boxes for a long time may lose their strength or become too strong. Some pills, such as nitroglycerin, should never be carried in pill boxes.

A prescription drug is prescribed for you and you alone. Never let anyone else take it, even if his symptoms seem to be the same as yours.

Always read the label before you take a medi-

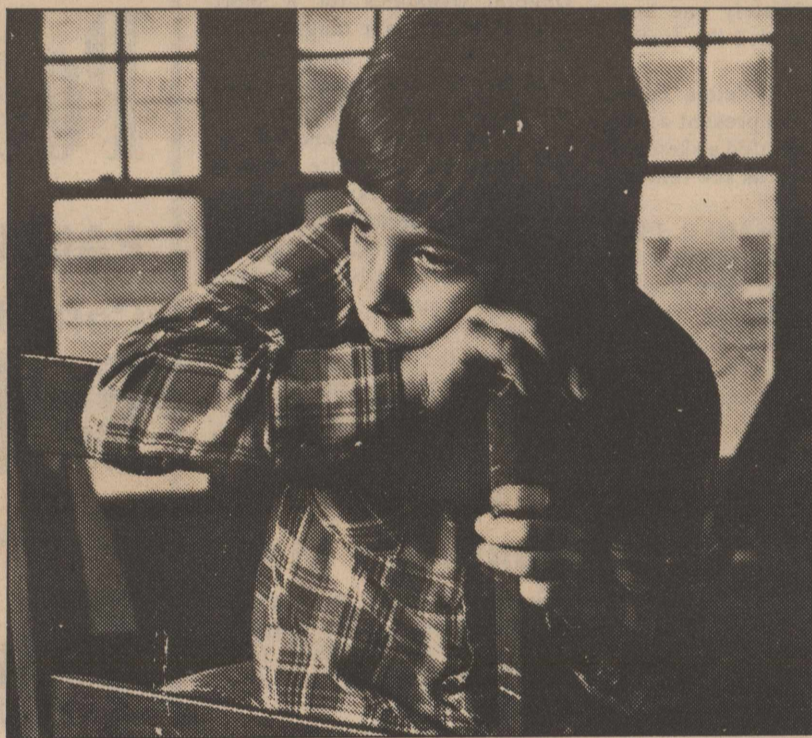

Clean out your medicine chest regularly. Throw out old medicines, particularly prescription drugs.

Medicine bottles and drugs often look the same. Never take medicines in the dark.

Always buy safety packaging if you have children or children visit your home. Medicines cause more accidental poisonings among children under five than any other chemicals.

Know what precautions you should take. For instance, if the expected reaction to medicine is drowsiness or dizziness, you shouldn't drive or operate machinery.

The scars of an abused child can stay with us all his life.

In any way you can think of, the effects of child abuse are devastating.

Each year, over one million American children suffer from child abuse.

Over 2,000 of those abused children die.

And, for many of those who live, the effects of an abusive childhood may influence their entire lives. And ours.

Many teenage drug addicts and teenage prostitutes report being abused children. So do juvenile delinquents and adult criminals.

Because we pay to respond to those problems, we are all the victims of child abuse.

Yet child abuse can and must be prevented.

The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse is a private, charitable organization that knows how to prevent child abuse.

But we need your help to do it. We need money. We need more volunteers. Send us your check today, or write for our booklet.

And, remember, if we don't start somewhere, we won't get anywhere.

Help us get to the heart of the problem.

Juanita Barger Is Honored At Reception On Eightieth Birthday

Juanita Barger, a native of Coke County, was honored by the First Baptist Church of Robert Lee with a reception on Sunday, May 1, at eight o'clock in the Fellowship Hall.

The occasion was to celebrate her eightieth birthday. She was introduced by her pastor, Roy Epperson, who praised her for her many dedicated services to the church and community.

He then presented her with a money tree, the green leaves of which were ones, fives, and tens, a love gift from her many friends.

In the center of the tea table was a beautifully decorated cake, which was served by Mrs. David Key. The punch was poured by Mrs. Weldon Fikes. David Key and Bryce Fikes were her students the first year she taught in Robert Lee. Also, decorating the table was a pot of lovely orchid mums, a gift from the TEL Sunday School class, which Miss Barger teaches.

The artistic money tree was made and decorated by Mrs. Zera Fields and Mrs. Finnell Smith. Approximately one hundred people attended the festivities.

Juanita's sister, Velma Lovell of Irving, who was present at the celebration, presented a sketch of Miss Barger's life as she remembers it.

"The morning of May 2, 1903, ushered in a winter storm. Fruit and young crops were frozen. Mr. C.M. Barger's corn was, as he said, "half lag high" and green on May one but lay blackened on the ground the morning of May 2.

Mr. Barger could easily remember the date of that late freeze because his daughter Juanita put in her appearance on that same frigid morn.

She was a hefty, healthy, and happy baby-bald until she was eight years old-always an individual. She missed her calling by becoming a teacher instead of a comedienne.

She attended Pecan, Edith, and Green Mountain schools and when she was seventeen, she readied herself to go to Summer Normal at West Texas State College. Not having the necessary funds, she nerved up and went to ask Mr. Andrews of the Edith community for a loan of one hundred dollars, in order to go to school.

She neither had a job nor collateral for backing, but he didn't seem to mind. He at once wrote out the check and handed it to her saying, "Now you get a good education." She did! She took her teacher's exam and qualified for a certificate. For the next several years, she attended summer sessions and taught school in the fall term.

She did most of her work in West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon but did attend both Sul Ross, at Alpine and Texas Tech, at Lubbock before going to Daniel Baker at Brownwood, where she got her B.A. degree.

Juanita Barger

She taught at Valley View, Edith, Water Valley and at a rural school near Brownfield before coming to Robert Lee, where she taught until World War II. Then she went to Dallas where she joined the "Rosie the Riveter" game and worked for General Dynamics for a short time. After that she taught in the Dallas system for many years, until her first retirement, which she decided was for the birds.

So it was off to Abilene, where she attended graduate classes and taught for a year. Then came the second retirement but it also was short. She was called to teach in a private Baptist school in San Antonio, where she stayed for three years. She had served in the Texas schools for some forty three years."
