Time Running Out On Those Wanting Family Story In Book

Time is running out! We so want your family story in our history book of Coke County--old or new. Everyone who has ever lived here is a part of the history.

August 15 has been set as the deadline for getting your free 500 word story, along with one picture, in to the committee. You may leave the copy at the Judge's office in the Robert Lee County Courthouse or at the City Hall in Bronte.

Many of you may feel that you cannot write a story--just tell your history on paper--it's easy. You may write it in legible long hand and someone on the Book Committee will proofread it and type it. Don't let that stop you from writing about your family. If you have questions or need help, please call Dorothy Heaner, 473-6861 or Bonita Copeland, 453-2698. Some suggestions for your story that might be helpful are: facts about your family or members of your family, where natives of Seymour. They have a daughter, Marti, who is fourteen years old and will be in the eighth grade this fall. The Styles have lived in Boyd, a small town about forty miles out of Ft. Worth, the past ten years. Rick has been employed by Delta Airlines at D-FW Air-Terminal for fifteen years. Kay is a registered nurse and has been attending college and is classified as a junior, majoring in secondary education.

The Styles are presently renting a house in Robert Lee.

Newspapers
Ben Oglesby Jr. bought the Bronte Enterprise in July 1948 from Ed Nunnally and Exton Talley. He later purchased the Robert Lee Observer from Ulmer S. Bird, Feb. 1, 1965 and published both papers until his death June 23, 1982.

Mr. Bird was owner and publisher of the Observer for two years having bought the paper from John H. King in 1962. A.J. Kirkpatrick had sold the paper to King in 1960. The newspaper was first established in 1889 and was called The Rustler. The name was changed in 1904 to be called the Robert Lee Observer.

D.M. West was the editor and publisher of the Bronte Enterprise for many years before Nunnally and Talley became owners in November 1945.

Mrs. Ben Oglesby has continued publication of both papers since Mr. Oglesby's death.

Mrs. Add (Joan) Davis will continue as managing editor of the Observer with Mrs. Marie Hester working part time in the office. Personnel in the office of the Bronte Enterprise will continue for an indefinite period of time. Eddie Alexander, printer, has been working in the Enterprise establishment for more than 32½ years. Connie Bryan has replaced Jane Webb during the summer months but will return to college in August. Virginia Basquez, has been proofreader of the publications for the past year, but will now be employed at the First National Bank August 1. Editor Pat Oglesby plans to help the Styles throughout the adjustment period.

"THANK YOU"

Simple words of "THANK YOU" can hold volumes of feelings unable to be adequately expressed in person. May I say "THANK YOU" to everyone who helped in anyway to support the Robert Lee Observer and make it possible to continue publishing the home town paper.

A special THANK YOU to special people who gave of themselves in times past in helping Ben and myself--Joan Davis, Chuck Naidl, Marie Hester, Jewell Wallace, Mary Prine, Jerry McCutchen and Sue Millican. Each had a part in making the home town paper successful.

To the advertisers and businesses a hardy "THANK YOU" for your steady support through the years.

Kay and Rick Styles, new owners of the home town paper, will need your help in making your paper an outstanding home town paper to be proud of.

May God Bless All!
Mrs. Ben Oglesby

FINAL WEEKEND FOR "OLE COKE COUNTY"

OLE COKE COUNTY, HOME OF THE RABBIT TWISTERS will play its second and final weekend tonight and tomorrow night, Friday and Saturday, July 29-30. Pre-time entertainment begins at 8:00 p.m. with choir numbers and Indian children at play, and braves and maidens riding horseback on the dam. At 8:25 p.m. the flag is raised, and the play starts at 8:30.

Both performances last week in Mountain Creek Amphitheatre, Robert Lee, were well attended, and laughs from the crowds indicated they liked what they saw and heard. A good sound and light system contribute to enhancing interesting and well performed scenes. Ninety-five Coke County actors do their parts well.

Coke County Pageant Association, Inc., which sponsors the production, has been pleased with having numerous groups of 20 or more who are admitted for $3 each. Children 5-12 $2; adults $4.

Some comments concerning the show have been: "Lots of variety;" "Good acting;" "History-packed with a flair!" The weather is pleasant, the concession stand has very good food, programs are free, and the situation is home-folksy and casual.

Don't miss the last two performances: Friday and Saturday of this week.

Mt. Creek Golf Club News

There's one member of the Club who is a happy man--Calvin Sparks hit a hole-in-one while qualifying for the Member-Guest Tournament on July 15. The rare shot happened on #9, a 124 yard hole, witnessed by Raymond and Cathryn Covington, Doug Parker, Robert Vaughan, Frankie Gartman, and Carla Walker.

It was hot on Mountain Creek Golf Course on Sunday afternoon, both the weather and the competition. Sixty players entered the ABC Tournament while the mercury sizzled at around 103 degrees.

Ronnie Baker sank an 18 foot putt on the last hole to win the tournament for his team. Tied going into the tourney wrap-up, his putt was a straight shot and hung on the lip of the cup before dropping.

City Savings Association of San Angelo provided prizes for the tourney, with caps and pens going to every entry.

Big winners in the contest were:

1. Ronnie Baker, Elsie Adams, Stan Adams, and Charles Schoc-kert-64.
2. Mike Davis, Delbert Fustes, Jackie Walker-65.
3. Tom Selby, Robert Wink, Bill Jones-66.

The first 3 places were awarded golf balls by the sponsors.

Fourth place was claimed by Calvin Sparks, Eugene Ischer, and Bucky Sparks with 67. A grill scraper donated by John Kick went to them. He also donated the key chains for the Booby prized for the high-scoring team of Bob Boone, Sherman Williams and Roy Tinkler.

Other contests during the tourney included the longest drive on #7, Doug Phillips, closest to the hole on #9, Gaylon Hall, and the longest putt on #4 green by Harvey Wink.

These winners claimed golf balls from City Savings.

Brave the heat, Members, and come out on Thursday evenings at 6:00 p.m. for the 'Members Only' mini-tournaments. It's good tournament practice and fun for all!

Visiting over the weekend in Austin were Mr. and Mrs. Dave King of Edity. They celebrated their second wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. King's daughter and husband, Gwen and Harry Anderson.

Some major appliance manufacturers now encourage home repair by supplying step-by-step manuals and specially packaged repair parts. These companies often provide a toll-free number that consumers can call to get help in diagnosing problems and performing repairs. But not all manufacturers are responding to do-it-yourselfers' needs, says Mary Clayton, a home economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Some companies do not recommend home repairs because of concern about potential liability due to injury or accidental death of the do-it-yourselfer. Manufacturers also note that customers may spend more money in the long run, if they repair the appliance improperly and then need a follow-up call, says Clayton.

Sims Comments On Changes For Dove Hunting

State Senator Bill Sims today released these comments on a proposed dove-hunting rule change by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission.

"I have serious doubts about a proposal that will come before the Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission in the near future. The Commission is scheduled to consider a plan that would split the state's current two-zone dove hunting season into three zones. "I can't for the life of me figure out why.

The proposal would create a huge V-shaped central zone beginning at the intersections of Interstate Highways 10 and 20 near Kent. The northern boundary would follow Interstate 20 northeastward through the Dallas-Fort Worth area and then along Interstate 30 to Texarkana. The southern boundary would follow Interstate 10 to San Antonio and then U.S. Highway 181 and State Highway 361 to Port Aransas.

"Everything south of the central zone would fall into the Rio Grande zone, everything north into the panhandle zone. These two zones would meet in the far western part of the state, split by Interstate 10 to a point near El Paso.

"Opening days for the three zones are Sept. 1st in the Panhandle, continuing with Sept. 3rd in the central zone and Sept. 17th in the Rio Grande zone. The Panhandle zone would have a 15-bird daily bag limit and the other zones would have 12-bird limits.

"The proposal is being pushed as a way of giving dove a chance to mature as they migrate from north to south.

"My first and most obvious objection to the plan is that it would cause a nightmare for enforcement officials. By following highways rather than county boundaries, the plan would split 37 counties into two zones each. Reeves County in the trans-Pecos area would be split into three zones, for example.

"That tangled web is further complicated by a special four-day white-winged dove season provided in part in the Rio Grande zone. During a couple of two-day periods prior to the opening of the regular Rio Grand season, hunters in this special sub-zone would be allowed to take up to 22 birds per day. Because of all these different bag limits, I expect a lot of game wardens to go prematurely gray.

"Another major problem---many landowners in the old north zone have already sold dove hunting leases to begin Sept. 1st. However, several of these counties, Medina for example, have been placed in the Rio Grande zone and the season will not begin there until Sept. 17th. I wonder what the hunters will want to do if they've already paid good money for leases beginning Sept. 1st. Many of these leases were made at least a year ago.

"These problems may be secondary to the real issue. What bothers me most is that the proposal can't do what it is supposedly intended to do, which is to allow for maturity during the birds' migration. There's no way a dove can mature in 3 days, let alone migrate all over the state in 2 weeks.

"Because the boundaries run through or near almost every major metropolitan area in the state, it looks suspiciously like the plan's real purpose is to give city hunters a longer season without coming out and admitting it.

"I urge all interested hunters, landowners and conservationists to contact the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Austin to express disapproval of these proposed regulations. Inquiries should be made to Mr. Ron George at TP&WD, phone number AC 512-479-4800 or by writing the Department at 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744. I can also be contacted at my Austin office, phone number AC 512-475-3494.

"This proposed plan would not be beneficial to either the game or the hunting public. Whatever its purpose, it clearly isn't what it claims to be."

Each fall and spring the Texas Agricultural Extension Service sponsors camps for Texans over 55 at the State 4-H Center in Brownwood. For $68.50, older Texans can enjoy three days and nights of fun-filled activities and learning experiences in natural surroundings, but with all the modern conveniences. This fall, five Extension "Octoberfests" are scheduled for October 4-7, 11-14, 18-21 and November 1-4. Feature presentations, "how-to" learning experiences, unlimited recreation and social activities will be offered at the Octoberfests.

A--Unmarried spouses of service personnel who died on active duty and of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities are eligible for GI loans to acquire a home.

Q--Are pension benefits still available for surviving dependents of a deceased veteran? What are the requirements?

A--The surviving spouse or children of a deceased veteran who meet income limitation requirements may receive pension benefits if the veteran had at least 90 days of service, at least one day of which occurred during wartime, and was separated from active duty under other than dishonorable conditions.

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, has long been recognized as a serious health threat to adults, but only recently has its occurrence in children been noted, says Dr. Mary An Shirer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For years hypertension was thought to occur in children only as the secondary result of other diseases, such as heart disorders.

However, recent research reported by the Texas Department of Health stresses that primary hypertension, or high blood pressure with no obvious cause, is probably the most common type of hypertension in children as well as adults, and affects about 2.4 percent of children ages 3-15, says Shirer.

IRR BEGINS AUGUST 1ST

Ranchers from throughout the nation will gather at the Convention Center here for the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) which begins August 1 for five days of educational sessions and ranch tours.

Over 100 internationally renowned speakers from 25 states and South Africa will be on hand to share their expertise.

Headline speakers who will address the opening day general session at 1 p.m. August 1 are Dub Waldrip, National Cattle-

Changes In Brucellosis Program Given

Some changes in the Texas brucellosis program which will allow for more freedom of movement of cattle, along with changes in procedure for establishing a certified free herd, have been approved by Commissioners of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

The changes were approved at a recent Commission meeting in Austin.

Present for the commission session were newly-appointed commissioners Mrs. Mary Nan West of Batesville, Laurence Bostick of Brookshire and Robert Bartlett of Canton.

Three changes relate to movement of cattle and include:

1. In a consignment in which there is a vaccinated animal that is a suspect on the brucellosis test will now proceed in this manner: In such a situation, negative cattle in a consignment in which there is a vaccinated card test positive but rivanol or complement fixation negative suspect, may move.

2. In a non-infected herd of cattle which has been adult vaccinated, those animals that are card test negative at the time of movement may move without restriction.

3. A change was made relating to testing requirements from a C state or area or within the Texas C area. This change would allow movement of non-vaccinated cattle if they are tested negative within 30 days prior to movement and either be from a herd in which all test eligible cattle have been together for at least 120 days and have been subjected to one negative test as a herd within the previous 365 days, or be from a non-quarantined herd and have been subjected to a negative test not less than 60 or more than 365 days before the test for movement.

Changes in procedures for establishing a certified free herd concern both dairy and beef cattle operators.

For dairy herds, the Commissioners made the change to require a minimum of four consecutive, negative milk ring tests conducted at not less than 90-day intervals. Previously, three negative tests were required.

Regulations also were changed to make it easier to establish a certified free herd of cattle originating from a certified herd as follows: All or part of a certified free herd purchased and moved directly to premises without other cattle may qualify without a test.

A proposed change yet to be approved by commissioners relates to movement of cattle to slaughter from a quarantined herd without testing of that herd, when the cattle are to be sold exclusively for slaughter. This regulation, however, must conform to federal rules--and at present federal rules require that all cattle from a quarantined herd be tested.

man's Association president; U.S. Representative Tom Loeffler (D-Texas); Dr. Cas Maree, animal science department chairman, University Pretoria, South Africa; Dr. Fee Busby, range science department chairman, University of Wyoming; and Dr. Arthur Hansen, chancellor of the Texas A&M University System.

Participants have their choice of any or all of seven different concurrent sessions beginning at 8:45 a.m. August 2 continuing thru 5 p.m. August 5 in beef cattle, sheep and goats, ranch family business management, wildlife, grazing management, marketing and computerized ranching. Ranchers can attend talks in any of the sessions. Special registration rates favor ranchers and spouses. Several sessions will be repeated.

Perhaps the most important news to ranchers who have not yet made plans to attend is the IRR registration will be available in the Convention Center lobby throughout the week. The four ranch tours, however, are closed except for a few scattered seats which coordinators expect to fill early in the week. Registration information is available thru the San Angelo Convention Bureau (915-653-1206).

A special feature of the IRR will be panel and individual discussions concerning the much talked-about Savory Grazing Method, a grazing system that has attracted widespread attention throughout the Southwest.

The IRR's basic purpose is to offer the most practical comprehensive training available in all areas of ranch operation, according to coordinators Dr. LeRoy Hoermann and Dr. Larry White with the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Uvalde and Robert H. Kenning, farm management specialist with the San Angelo A&M Center. All are affiliated with the Texas Agricultural Extension service, the main IRR sponsor.

"Our objective is to bring together the finest minds in the ranching industry so that everyone can benefit from the assembled expertise and interchange of ideas," the coordinators explain. "Ranchers are urged to bring their wives, ranch managers or foremen because there's just too much information generated here for one person to absorb."

Many past participants have compared the two previous conferences with Texas A&M's animal science curriculum, which is recognized as one of the nation's best, for its superb instruction, versatile program, and outstanding speakers.

This year a special "discussion session" was created to allow participating ranchers to visit informally one-on-one with certain speakers for more in-depth discussions of specific problems.

FALL GARDENING TIME--It's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, potatoes, squash and pole beans can be planted during the coming weeks as well as so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens and carrots. Get the land in good shape and apply a complete fertilizer. Watering is critical to get crops up during hot, dry weather.

Work-at-Home Scheme King Is Arrested At San Antonio

D.C. Strader, Postal Inspector in Charge, Fort Worth, and Edward C. Prado, United States Attorney for the Western District of Texas, San Antonio, announced that Allen Louis Chavis, age 45, San Antonio, Tx., and Lambert Daniel Slisz, age 43, New Braunfels, Tx., were arrested on July 19, 1983, after a federal Grand Jury at San Antonio returned a 20-count indictment against the two men on Monday, July 18, charging them with mail fraud.

Chavis was arrested by Postal Inspectors at San Antonio and Slisz was arrested by Postal Inspectors at New Braunfels. According to Assistant United States Attorney Mitchell Weidenbach, who is representing the Government in this case, Chavis and Slisz made an initial appearance before U.S. Magistrate Jamie C. Boyd who set bond at $100,000 for Chavis and $50,000 for Slisz.

Both are in custody in lieu of bond. The indictment, which is the result of a lengthy investigation conducted by Postal Inspectors, charges that between 1978 and now, Chavis and Slisz, together doing business as Homeworkers Job Opportunities (HJO), New Braunfels, Tx; and the American Fidelity Company (AMFICO), New Braunfels, Tx. used the mail to defraud people who were seeking employment addressing envelopes at home.

It is alleged by the indictment that the defendants induced victims to send a deposit/application fee to their firms in order to earn a specified income, knowing the representations and promises made in literature mailed to victims were false. After payment of the initial fee, homeworkers learned there were additional expenses required in order to participate.

Slisz was charged with 7 counts of mail fraud and Chavis was charged in all 20 counts. In addition to operating HJO and AMFICO with Slisz, Chavis was also charged with operating other work-at-home promotions under the following names:

American Association of Home Income Programs (AAHIP), San Antonio, Tx.

The American Home Income Association (AHIA), San Antonio and Boerne, Tx.

Bond Industries/CPP (Bond), Kendalia, Tx.

Financial Advisors Services, San Antonio, Tx.

Consolidated Industries, San Antonio, Tx.

Keystone Homemaker Program, a Division of Wealthco, San Antonio, Tx.

Promotions operated by Chavis and Slisz have been the subject of civil actions taken by the U.S. Postal Service in the past. In 1980 False Representation Orders were issued against AAHIP, FAS, and Consolidated Reliance Agency, San Antonio, Tx. HJO was the subject of a FRO in February, 1981. Tri-Co, Boerne, Tx., which was operated by Chavis, was discontinued by a FRO in March, 1981. In March and October, 1982, FRO's were issued against AHIA and Bond.

Mr. Strader explained that false representation orders are civil actions which forbid the postmasters at the offices of address from delivering mail to the addressees. They are issued by an administrative law judge after presentation of evidence which indicates false representations are being made to induce victims to send money through the mail to order products, programs, or services.

Chavis' work-at-home promotions have also been the subject of civil actions brought by Attorneys General of several states for allegedly violating their states deceptive trade practices statutes.

If convicted, the defendants could face up to five years imprisonment and/or a fine up to $1,000 for each count of indictment.

New WTU Power Station Being Built

The estimated cost of West Texas Utilities Co.'s Oklaunion Power Station, now under construction in North Texas, has been reduced by $127 million.

The announcement was made Friday by Durwood Chalker of Dallas, chairman and chief executive officer of Central and South West Corp., WTU's parent company, at a presentation before the Utility and Telecommunications Securities Club of Chicago.

The reduced cost estimate results primarily from being able to negotiate better contracts in today's market with manufacturers and suppliers for practically all of the equipment needed for Oklaunion, Chalker said. The cost had been estimated at $525 million a year ago, but now is estimated at $398 million.

The Oklaunion Power Station will have a net generating capacity of 640 megawatts and will be the first power plant in WTU's system to burn coal as a boiler fuel. The plant is scheduled for completion in December 1986 and will be in full operation before the summer of 1987.

It will be owned jointly by WTU and two other CSW subsidiaries, Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co. WTU will own 55 per cent of the plant and will be the operating partner.

LOVING COUNTY WITHOUT A BIRTH IN '82

Loving County was one of the 23 counties in which no births occurred in 1982, and no deaths were reported there either, reports the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health.

Statistics can be a bit misleading however, for every county in Texas had one or more deaths of its residents. One Loving County resident died, but not inside the far West Texas County.

Babies were born to residents of all 254 counties, but some of these births took place in adjoining counties because there are no hospitals in the counties of residence. Several of these births occurred in other states.

In addition to Loving County, counties having no births within their boundaries also included Coke and Sterling counties.

The Pony Express, which has lived in legend for more than a century, lived in fact for less than two years.

Sunday, July 10, visiting two former Texas teachers living in the Eldorado Canyon.

T. Paul didn't discover his unwelcomed guest until one day later as he was showering. This leech was buried up along the waist line, helping himself to Texas blood! Jerking him out, Paul placed him securely in a jar for further examination. After losing an entire night's sleep with fever and bodily aches, Paul, assisted by Derwood and Sandy Coalson, was taken to a doctor, who diagnosed the case as Colorado tick fever. He explained that this hard-shelled wood tick, common to this area, carried a virus. Aspirin, rest, sleep, and good food was prescribed, the best prescription T. Paul said he ever had.

Now, only a week later, Paul is convinced that the visit and beauty of the drive up Eldorado Canyon justifies all unpleasant-tries. The first several miles have been made into a state park, filled with many campers. The Barron's friends, Betty Wanier and Betty Reed, live in a picturesque setting at the end of the canyon, where land is privately owned. Down this narrow canyon, the South Boulder Creek flows from the snowy heights above. This visit afforded a noted and scenic drive where Pauline saw the old, attractive swimming pool, which she enjoyed in 1925 as a student in the University of Colorado.

Among the cabins and lodges dotting the mountain sides, one is very famous--the attractive one where Mamie and Dwight Eisenhower spent their honeymoon. Pauline also noted the place between two tall mountains, where formerly tight-rope walkers entertained visitors on Sundays. At many points the Barrons observed men scaling the walls of those, high, rugged mountains. This canyon is popular, since it offers three levels for climbers: beginning, intermediate and difficult.

This breath-taking drive and visit cost a $30.00 doctor bill, but Paul thinks it is worth it all, the tick bite, too!

50 YEARS AGO

Brother and Sister Shannon drew a 99 year sentence along with Bailey and Bates for their part in kidnaping that Oklahoma City millionaire oil man, while that cigarette-sucking Kathryn Kelly, daughter of Mrs. Shannon, boxes the jaws of Federal officers for shoving her around a little too fast to suit her, from the court room to the elevator, while her own 15 year old daughter and her father, who got loose from her mother years ago, looks on and bows their head in shame--and caused her machine gun husband, shackled head and foot, to get a knot put on his head with the butt of a pistol. Compare that picture of 20th Century civilization with that of our smilin' President, unable to walk without assistance, asking only the cooperation of the people to lift this country out of its troubles--Humanity on the stage of action is a great moving picture within itself. Watch 'em, boys--it's a free show.

Posted--all persons caught hauling wood, driving stock, or otherwise trespassing my pasture without me knowing about it will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. John Saul, Robert Lee.

They are going to pull a good one over at Bronte next week on Thurs. and Fri., Oct. 26 and 27. A big Rodeo and Race meet is coming off--purses will range from $2.50 to $22.50. The most unique thing will be the Nanny Goat milking by ladies. Men will do the roping and the ladies the milking. There will be all kinds of carnival attractions and the price to see it all is 15 cents and 35 cents.

Mrs. A.J. Taylor left Sunday for Stanton where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Evans.

Walter McDorman is reported doing nicely with his broken leg from the gin accident. An operation was performed and they put silver plates around the bone to hold them together.

Nova Porter was hostess to a number of young folks at a party in her home Friday night.

Coaches Hold Camp In Kan.

While in Kansas, the group were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Ruff. Ruff, former girl's basketball coach at Robert Lee, is now engaged in a family farm operation, mainly growing wheat, plus corn for ensilage through irrigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Schooley recently were in Aurora, Missouri, to care for their grandchildren. Their son-in-law, Ward Simon, had eye surgery. This was the second surgery two months. At last report he was doing well. Jennifer came home with her grandparents.

Service organization members from the Womens Clubs, Lions Club, Masonic Lodge, or Order of the Eastern Star are asked to consider this important service.

Also, any adult in the community who will consider driving the van will be welcomed.

This is not a full time job, just a portion of two days a week plus one Thursday per month for a few hours.

The van will be used to transport persons for medical, recreation and to conduct business and shop in Robert Lee.

The current schedule is Tuesdays at 1 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. to and from the Old Recreation Hall; every Friday morning to doctors office, pharmacy, city and utilities offices, bank, post-office, courthouse and shopping areas including grocery stores. Also, every third Thursday to the Recreation Hall for noon luncheon and games. The driver will be welcome but not required to stay for the recreation time on Tuesdays or the one Thursday per month.

The present van driver is hired for part-time work and lives in Bronte.

The driver is not paid by Concho Valley Council of Governments or Coke County. She is paid by Green Thumb, an organization that hires the elderly with headquarters being Farmer's Union in Waco.

We have three Green Thumb workers in the county assigned to the elderly programs in different aspects. Green Thumb will not employ any more.

If more information is needed please contact Judge Denman or Margaret Martin.
