

Labor Office Is Opened At Garrison Motor

M. S. DeManche, veteran Texas Employment Service agent, has established an office in the Garrison Motor Co. building to assist in directing custom harvest crews to wheat fields where they are needed in Sherman County. Mr. DeManche is working in close cooperation with County Agent Ernest Goule in directing the program.

At present the county is in need of experienced drag type combine operators and tractor drivers.

With favorable weather conditions, harvest will probably be in full swing by the middle of next week.

R. L. Baskin delivered the first load of wheat to Stratford Monday. R. C. Buckles, Herbert Folsom, and James Cameron sent loads of wheat to town a short time after the first load from the Baskin field arrived. Early wheat tested 61 with a moisture content of less than 14 percent.

W. E. Pleyer delivered the first load of wheat to Conlen Monday. It tested 61 with a moisture content of 13.90.

Edward Harland delivered the first load of wheat to Texhoma Monday. The wheat was of a similar quality of that described in the first loads at Stratford and Conlen.

A. N. Slay Laid To Rest Wednesday

Funeral services for A. N. "Bert" Slay were conducted at the First Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon by Rev. M. E. Upchurch, pastor.

Mr. Slay died early Tuesday morning in an Amarillo hospital. He had been in ill health for almost two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Slay moved to Stratford 11 years ago and were engaged in the furniture and appliance business until about two years ago when Mr. Slay's health failed. Several times during the last few months Mr. Slay thought he was sufficiently regaining his health to return to the business world. Each time his health failed before he could complete plans to reopen a business.

Mr. Slay was born in Clay County, Texas in 1895. During his young manhood he worked as a mechanic. Later he devoted his efforts to sales promotion.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, Fred Slay of Amarillo, and A. N. Slay, Jr. of Oakland California, and one daughter, Mrs. Boyd P. Foster of Dallas, Texas.

Burial was made in the Stratford Cemetery under the supervision of Wilson Funeral Directors.

HEATING ELEMENT GIVES OUT ON STAR MACHINE

A heating element on the Star's Linotype burned out this week. Part of the type was set on the machine in the Texhoma Times plant. The Times machine, acting like a temperamental child, has acted up in a grand way.

Clover 4-H Club Adopts Goals

Clover 4-H Club girls met in the club room in the courthouse at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Goals for the year were adopted. They include: having an outing, setting up an exhibit at the fair, making candy and selling it at the rodeo, having a report in the newspaper after each meeting, entering the baking show, give at least one party, develop leaders, take part in the dress revue, and to go on a 4-H club tour.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Henry Bachman, the adult leader.

Dorothy Bachman, Mary Janice Boren, Beth Walters, and Miss Lucile King, home demonstration agent, were present at the meeting.

The club girls made a buddy burner.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for your many acts of kindness during the illness and passing of our loved one, Mrs. A. N. Slay and family.

Need Combines And Trucks For Harvest

Warm dry weather continues over the Texas Wheat Belt. Sherman County will need more combines and trucks as harvest develops into full swing the latter part of this week and the first of next week.

There is an adequate supply of men, machinery, and trucks in all areas where the harvest is now in progress. Additional out-of-area combines and trucks will be needed when the harvest gets underway in the Northern Panhandle.

Collin County — 35 percent of the grain has been harvested. Weather is clear and no shortage of men or machines is anticipated.

Hardeman County — 75 percent complete, and should finish this week. Ample equipment and workers.

Cottle County — 75 percent of the acreage has been harvested averaging about 15 bushels per acre. Adequate number of combines and trucks are now in the county to meet future demands.

Childress and Collingsworth Counties — 60 to 65 percent complete. Harvest operations continue in full swing.

Donley County — Yields are far better than had been expected, averaging from 16 to 18 bushels per acre, from the 12 percent that has been harvested. Weather is hot and dry.

Hale, Floyd and Briscoe Counties — Approximately five percent complete. Should enter into full scale operations. Adequate men and machines at this time. Completion date estimated June 28 to July 1.

Swisher County — Scattered thunder showers over the northern half of this county up to 4 of an inch last night will keep the combines out of the field until this afternoon or tomorrow. Adequate combines and trucks are standing by to meet the early demands.

Harvest should get underway in the Northern Panhandle of Texas by the middle of next week. Condition of the wheat remains unchanged.

CCC Establishes New Storage Standards

Additions to the standards and regulations for the approval and operation of storage facilities handling price support commodities have been issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation. These new standards resulted from a review which has been in progress since July 1, 1951.

One of the new requirements provides that the building and its facilities meet stricter specifications that vary with the product to be stored. A warehouse to be eligible must be operated under a Federal, State or local license, or if not licensed must meet all other CC requirements for storing and handling price support commodities. The financial statement of the operator must show a net worth of not less than 4 percent of the total value of the commodity to be stored. The warehouseman must have satisfactorily complied with CCC instructions and with the regulations of the licensing authority.

The standards also provide that approval will not be given if cases involving fraudulent or dishonest acts are pending before any local, State, or Federal authority against the warehouseman.

The inspections and recommendations are to be made by State and county PMA Committees and final approval will be by the commodity office in the area. Many changes have been made in the requirements for surety bonds. One of the principal ones is an increase in the minimum requirements. Warehouses storing grain, beans, dry edible peas, rice seeds, cottonseed, cotton lint or cotton are to be inspected at least twice each calendar year, and warehouses storing processed commodities at least once each quarter.

Ross Writes Of Life On Battleship Iowa

G. L. Ross, a fireman serving aboard the battleship Iowa, writes his brother, Frank Ross, of his experiences. Ross was a veteran of World War II and enlisted in the Navy after the outbreak of the Korean conflict.

— Bomb line Korea.

Today we leave the bomb line (battleground) and proceed to Sasebo via Pusan South Korea.

As you have read we have been up and at them, swash-buckling up and down, with a boom here and a boom there.

We have been above the battle line which is a round the 38 degree latitude parallel, harassing and disrupting just about every thing we could find to shoot at.

Korea is a very mountainous country with high ranges of mountains all along the coast, which until the past few days had quite a little snow on them.

It has been a lot warmer up here than I expected, just chilly most of the time, although I imagine it has been cold as hell in the hills.

The action on the land has been very slow or reasonably so up until now.

There will probably be another big push any day now.

They are holed up in tunnels, caves, and dugouts, which we have been blasting at every opportunity.

They say one of the anti-personal shells, speaking of big ones, that burst about ground level. So you can imagine the effects, since they spread out about 800 yards.

A branch of the main railway running into Siberia follows near the coast here and is responsible for a big part of their supplies.

We have been blasting it every opportunity. They build back and we hit them again.

One day at a place we blasted repeatedly, the shell fragments hardly had time to cool before they were out with trucks picking up the ruins. We let fly with the 5-inchers and sent them on their jolly way. It was a rail tunnel. They seem to be numerous.

We were shot at a few times by field pieces, which have a range of around 13 miles, and we have obliterated a few.

We have been knocking them out at around 20 miles. That is anything we spot. We have helicopters spotting for us, and when on deck, we can see the copter thrashing around over there, spotting while we are letting fly.

I wasn't topside at Woonsan Harbor but have been at other times and places. We have been close enough to see a man if he was out. And when close to the battle line the artillery can be heard.

The British destroyer Concord was hit the other day.

Well, well, here we are in Sasebo harbor. Arrived this morning and so here I sit since I have the duty and have to stay aboard.

I didn't set foot at Pusan, Korea. Everyone said it was unspeakably filthy, and there was nothing there to see any way. They would not let men on liberty past the base gates into the town, too dangerous.

The people look just like Japanese and are racially the same. If you remember, Korea was where Japan's expansions first started, many years before they attacked us in 1941.

While we were in Pusan we had the President of Korea on board and several military dignitaries visited us.

The country has quite a store of natural resources undeveloped to a large extent, except the northern part which the Japanese developed to an extent.

Japan is helping herself. I suppose no place in the world has reached the depths of degradation, as the East in general, (exclusive of Japan.) I think the dominating factors responsible for the situation in the East, has been their religious and political philosophy, and their isolation, for so many centuries from the outside world.

Their religions are very different from Christianity due to the fact they are based to begin with on superstition, and idol worship with its roots in mythology.

Rev. John Reaves could tell you more about it than I can, although I have read a great deal relative to the subjects. Just trying to give you my impression of the situation on this side of the world. It takes many centuries for a race to develop to a degree of civilization as we know it.

Right now Japan with the generous assistance of the U. S. is making ends meet and according to what I read is having trouble getting raw material and finding markets for its manufactured goods.

There are approximately 84 million people here with a combined area of twice California, and only 16 percent farming land on which they use human fertilizer, which renders anything unfit for consumption by man. The Japanese are immune to the effects to a certain extent.

In other words the disease germs grow into the vegetables grown on the soil.

They have good electric trains which are used by the majority of the people, the rate is approximately one cent a mile and there are many trains running continuously.

God forgive me but the oriental people have an odor unsurpassed by anything I have ever sniffed on this green earth, and its every where.

Exemptions Are Required For Voting

Young men and women becoming 21 years of age since January 1 who desire to vote in the election this year should secure exemption certificates at least 30 days before the July 26 primary. Those residents over 65 years of age should also secure their exemption certificates. Previously residents in counties of less than 10,000 population were not required to secure these exemptions. The new election law does not make any provisions for the counties which are sparsely settled.

P. O. Box Rents To Advance In Price

Post Office box rents will advance in price on July 1, according to an announcement made this week by Assistant Postmaster General Osborn A. Pearson.

Mrs. Sallie V. McAdams states that the increases at the local post office will be as follows: 45 cent boxes will be changed to 60 cents; 60 cent boxes will be changed to 75 cents; 75 cent boxes will be changed to $1.00; and $1.00 boxes will be changed to $1.50 per quarter.

Gross receipts of the Post Office for 1951 were $10,809.89.

Finders Not Always Keepers

The old rhyme, "Finders keepers — losers weepers," is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes difficult to define the rights of a finder in court, and much confusion on the subject exists in the mind of the public generally. Confidence men have many times taken advantage of such confusion to "fast talk" unwary individuals out of large sums of money.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts — and finders — for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely "mis-laid." In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily, through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstance. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later, even though he fails to do so. Such property is "mis-laid."

Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

But when articles are left on a train or bus, in a public hotel room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owner's return would be the proprietor or other person in charge. Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to this custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place is found is private or semi-private, or a place used by the general public.

Every month or so we see a newspaper item telling how some gullible person has learned the intricacies of the shady game known to police as "pigeon drop", at a cost of several hundred dollars. This confidence racket has many variations, but generally runs something like this.

A pair of smooth operators side up to their intended victim on a down town street. Strangers to each other, they have just found a billfold containing a large denomination bill or a large check, say $1,000. They want to split the find, but neither has the money to buy out the other's interest. Now, if the victim can get hold of some cash, they are willing to split three ways, or even to give him more than one-third.

When the sucker produces the money in anticipation of a quick return on his investment, complications develop. One of the confidence workers may have consulted a fictitious employer in the absence of the victim. Now the billfold, its contents and the victim's money must be left in the employer's custody a few days in case the owner appears. Then the division is to be made. He takes the money to turn it in to the employer — just up the street a few doors — and disappears. His co-worker also judiciously takes his or her leave.

Numerous twists, not too credible in print, but all sounding very plausible when suggested by a fast talking confidence man, invariably have but one

Easy Does It

FRUIT AND BERRY stains can usually be removed if you get to them immediately. Soap on washable materials will set the stain, so sponge with cool water. Chlorine bleach may be used, followed by rinsing well or pouring water from a height of 3 or 4 feet. On fine or colored fabrics with berry or fruit stains, use glycerine or soapless shampoo, rubbing lightly. Let stand for a few hours, then apply a few drops of vinegar for a minute or two. Rinse well.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Rhubarb-Strawberry Roll (Serves 8)
 2 cups diced rhubarb
 1 cup sliced strawberries
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 cup water
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 cup sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 cup shortening
 2/3 cup milk
 1 egg, beaten
 Sweeten rhubarb and strawberries with the 1/4 cup sugar. Place water and 1/4 cup sugar in a pan 7x11 inches. Cook 5 minutes. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening. Add milk and egg stirring only until well blended. Roll on floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Spread with fruits. Roll. Cut in 1-inch slices; place in hot syrup. Bake for 25 minutes in a hot (450°F.) oven. Serve warm with cream.

Non-washable fabrics with fruit and berry stains may be sponged carefully with cool water. Follow this with a sponging with 10 percent acetic acid solution.

Egg stains are fairly common, but their treatment is simple. Scrape away as much of the egg as possible with a dull knife, then sponge with cold water. If stain still remains sprinkle with pepsin powder. Work in and let stand for half an hour. Rinse thoroughly. Use the same treatment on all fabrics.

Rust is a common stain and often causes much distress. For cottons repeated treatments of boiling water poured on the material stretched over a pan, followed by lemon juice on the stain, rinsing and then keeping in the sun to dry will yield results.

Insect Control In Gardens

Miss Lucile King, home demonstration agent, recommends a 5% DDT dust for the control of the following insects in the flower garden:

Pill Bugs or Sow Bugs; these pests are not true insects and are light gray to slate colored, fat-bodied creatures. When disturbed they often roll into a ball. They feed on roots and tender stems near the ground.

Slugs and Snails; are grayish, slimy, legless, and soft bodied, about 1-2 to 2 inches in length. Some species have shells and leave a slimy glistening trail. Slugs and snails eat large holes in foliage and they may completely destroy the young plants.

Caterpillars; are the immature stages of butterflies and moths. Some caterpillars, such as the "wooly bears," are covered with long conspicuous hairs, while others are entirely naked. They are all chewing insects with voracious appetite and may eat away large amounts of foliage.

Lawn Management

If you're moving or building a new home, and you have to start from the beginning with your lawn you'll be interested in these methods for getting the kind of lawn that will look beautiful and be easy to care for.

Miss Lucile King, home demonstration agent, gives these for keeping your lawn in good condition, use fertilizer at the right season, that's when the grass becomes thin or unthrifty. A commercial fertilizer of 5-10-5 or similar analysis is good. That means 5 per cent nitrogen, 10 percent phosphoric acid, and 5 per cent potash. A good standard is 20 pounds to each 1,000 square feet.

If you distribute the fertilizer by hand, Miss King suggests you divide the fertilizer, distribute one part as you walk the long ways of the area, and broadcast the second as you walk crosswise of the area. This insures a thorough and uniform coverage.

Miss King thinks soil tests to find out the need for lime or other soil nutrients is a good idea.

Mowing methods are important, this promotes spreading of the grass plants. The kind of grass you use will determine the height of mowing.

Watering is the maintenance practice most often done incorrectly, she says, so this should be studied for your own situation and locality.

Aspermont, Texas

June 13, 1952.

In the primary election in this county in 1940 I was defeated by a small margin in the run off primary by G. Ross Turner for the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector of this county. I supported him for his second and third terms in the office. Later in 1944 I was elected to the office of County Judge and served in office with him during the year 1945 until he resigned on December 31, 1945, on account of his wife's health conditions. His record as an officer is without blemish during the five years he served. I most heartily endorse him to the fullest extent.

Grain Is Food; Keep It Clean

All farmers producing wheat should be advised of the new Food and Drug Administration regulations so that they will be able to maintain the proper market value of their wheat. This new program that will start very shortly will affect all handlers of the wheat crop including the farmer.

Wheat is human food and must be handled as food. Elevator operators hereafter will be forced to examine very carefully all deliveries of wheat by the farmer for signs of insect infestation and rodent and bird contamination. Wheat that does not meet certain standards cannot be sold as food therefore the value will be reduced to the feed value of wheat which is far below the human food value. Here are some of the Food and Drug Administration requirements for wheat as a human food:

- (1) Wheat cannot have more than 3 weevil exit hole kernels in 100 grams of wheat (1-4 pt.). Under the U. S. Grain Marketing Standards wheat could have as high as 60 weevil cut kernels and still grade U. S. No. 1.
- (2) Wheat cannot have more than an occasional rat or mouse excrement pellet.
- (3) Wheat cannot have but an occasional bird pellet.
- (4) Wheat cannot have an excessive amount of any kind of filth. Much of the filth in wheat originates on the farm and in the county terminal elevators. The Food and Drug Administration has no jurisdiction over wheat stored on the farm however the Administration does have jurisdiction over wheat at the county elevator level and from there on through to the finished flour and bakery products. Regulations that will apply to insure sanitary raw materials for processing into human food will be strict and farmers should prepare themselves against financial losses not heretofore a primary consideration in determining the market value of wheat.

Here's what to do:

- (1) Keep the rats and mice out;
- (2) Keep the insects out;
- (3) Keep the birds out; and
- (4) Be alert for any other source of filth.

County agricultural agents and PMA personnel are in a position to advise farmers of steps that should be taken in preparation and care of food grains stored on the farms.

TIMELY TIPS

1. Oranges are on the plentiful food list for June. While plentiful serve often as oranges are an economical source of Vita-

- min C.
2. Vitamin C is not stored in the body so get it in the diet each day.
3. The filling for the Orange Chiffon Pie is delicious served in sherbert glasses lined with vanilla, chocolate, or lemon wafers.

RECIPE of the week

Orange Chiffon Pie
 1 1/2 cups orange juice
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 1 cup whipping cream

Sprinkle gelatin over the orange and lemon juice. Let stand 5 minutes and stir until softened. Add sugar, and place over hot (not boiling water) until thoroughly dissolved. Remove from fire, and when cool place in refrigerator until the consistency of honey. Whip until light, fold in whipped cream. Pile into cooked pastry shell and place in refrigerator until icy cold before serving.

Simplify Food Preservation

Since gardens are now in production, many families are canning or freezing the surplus to use later. Miss Lucile King, home demonstration agent, gives some timely suggestions on how to simplify this food preservation job.

First of all she says, "Get ready for the job." You will want to get the latest information on food preservation from the agent. Ask for B-175, Frozen Foods, How to Freeze, How to Cook; and B-194, Home Canning. Study the instructions for the method you intend to use for conserving the fruits or vegetables you have.

Plan your work ahead of time. Decide how much can be done in the time you have, do not plan too much and decide what household jobs you can do the day before. For example, dinner or supper could be planned and partially cooked.

Miss King emphasizes the importance of having all equipment ready before time to use it. See that the height of the working area is comfortable and set up work space if needed. Organize every step of procedure, from washing the containers and products to putting the food in the canner or freezer.

Here are four steps that will help to simplify any job. First, list all details necessary to the work to be done then question each detail. Next, eliminate, combine, rearrange and simplify each detail. This leads to the plan for procedure. Miss King says the last step is most important, put the plan to work and use it until a better plan is

Secure Angus Breeding Stock

Duard Lamb, Bill Buckles and R. M. Buckles visited ranches in central and southern Texas last week and secured some registered Angus breeding stock.

They visited the Hayes Angus Ranch at Kerrville, Texas and looked at their $53,000.00 herd sire.

They also visited the Essar Ranch near San Antonio where Duard Lamb secured an FFA club calf and R. M. Buckles bought two herd sires and two cows which had been bred to their $33,000.00 herd sire, Prince Sunbeam 558.

At Fredericksburg, Texas they attended the Aberdeen-Angus field day. They looked over ranch operations, watched demonstrations, and listened to talks of Angus breeders during the barbecue hour.

The Sin of Greed

Lesson for June 22, 1952

GREED is not modern. The only modern thing about it is its forms. The Tenth Commandment is easy to dodge if you go by the bare words, like a shyster lawyer. Suppose your neighbor is a bachelor, lives in a rented apartment, has neither manservant nor maidservant, and no cattle of any description. Nothing you can covet! But wait a minute... It says here, "Thou shalt not covet — a thing that is thy neighbor's." That covers everything he has. You can covet his reputation, his job, his girl; you can covet his insurance, his money in the bank, his watermelons. "Anything" covers a great deal of territory. And any sort of coveting is still sin. Greed in the fourteenth century B.C. and the twentieth century A.D. are all the same thing at heart. And "at heart" is where greed begins.

Dr. Foreman

Something for Nothing THE ESSENCE of greed, of covetousness, is wanting something that does not belong to you, without wanting to give anything in return. If I have eggs for sale and you buy a couple of dozen, you are not covetous for wanting the eggs and I am not greedy for wanting the money. It's fair exchange.

Of course, if I charge you too much for the eggs, then I am covetous, to be sure. Or if you want to sneak the eggs out of my henhouse before day, then you are covetous. But buying and selling are neither one sinful. If you have worked for a week and want your pay, that is not greed. If you have rented a house and the landlord wants his rent, he isn't greedy unless he is charging you too much.

The profit motive is not wrong if the man who takes the profit has given fair value in return. The profit motive is dead wrong if all the profiteer thinks about is the profit, without ever a thought of service.

The gambler, the tax "fixer," the sports "fixer," are trying to get something for nothing, and that is the very essence of the sin of greed.

Selling What Ought Not To Be for Sale

SOMETIMES greed reaches the point where the greedy man will sell what ought never to be sold. There are things in this life that are priceless, literally; they can never be tagged with a price-mark. But the covetous spirit will eat out a man's sense of values till he begins to put price-marks on priceless things. There are always buyers, alas!

After the American Civil War, some business men came to Robert E. Lee, who had lost everything he had but his reputation, and offered him what was then a tremendous sum if he would just let them use his name as an officer of their company.

"You won't have to do any work," they said. "All we want is the use of your name." "It's not for sale," said Robert E. Lee.

Another thing that should never be put on sale is the simple doing of duty. True, honest work should be fairly paid. But that is not the point at the moment. Take this Skipper Carlsen of the Flying Enterprise. When he came into port after that famous voyage in which he stuck with his ship till the last hour before Davy Jones took it down, he was due a certain amount of salary, no doubt, and he had well earned it. If the company paid him a bonus besides, we should all be glad. But Captain Carlsen turned down offers totaling around $100,000, from radio and television people, just for letting them use him as advertising. No sirs, said Carlsen in effect, what I have done, I did in the line of duty. I'm not selling myself.

So it is with convictions, or with love. They should be priceless; when they are sold, they become worthless. Greed destroys their value.

Out of the Heart

THE TENTH Commandment shows plainly what is true of both evil and good alike. Right and wrong do not consist simply in right and wrong actions. Back of the action is the attitude. Back of the act is the mind, the motive, the desire.

Stealing begins in coveting; adultery begins in lust; murder begins in anger or in contempt. The laws of man can never reach beneath the surface. Even when motives are involved, they are exceedingly hard to prove. But God sees the heart. And he will finally judge us by what he sees there.

Short Tin Supply

The sum total of all tin mined within the jurisdiction of the United States in 1949 amounted to only 68 long tons—51 in Alaska and 17 in Colorado. Yet the gaping jaws of American industries must be fed more than 70,000 tons of tin a year. The supply comes across long sea lanes, the National Geographic Society notes, from Asia, Africa, and South America.

take care of our veterans in the Korean War. This legislation is long past due, and we are all pleased that it has passed the House and is on its way to passage in the Senate. The delay in this much needed legislation was caused by the many abuses to which the veterans and the American taxpayers were subjected under the original GI Bill of Rights. The process of uncovering and weeding out some of the features of the old GI bill that permitted unwarranted raids upon the public treasury consumed long and tedious hours in the Committee. We hope that all of these avenues of abuse have been closed, although we surely realize that success in this particular field is going to depend a lot upon the veterans and the schools. The vote in the House was 361 yeas, one nay, and two answering present. The one nay vote was cast by General Devereux, a Member from Maryland. General Devereux is certainly not entitled to any criticism for his vote because it was not cast against the bill as such, but was a protest as to the manner in which the bill was brought up before the House. General Devereux has perhaps as illustrious a career as most any veteran of the United States. You will remember him as the commander of the garrison on Wake Island. He is on the Veterans Affairs Committee and is an outstanding and able member who definitely has the interest of the veterans at heart. His protest was because the bill was brought up under what is known as a "suspension of the rules." When a bill is brought up in this manner, the debate is limited to twenty minutes to the side and the bill cannot be amended. There are two amendments that I think should have gone on the bill, and General Devereux and I are in agreement on these two particular amendments. The bill contains a provision that would permit tax maintained institutions to charge veterans as much as $31.00 per month without being subject to the penalties against exacting excess charges from veterans. In many states this could result in a non-veteran going to school free while a veteran would be required to pay $31.00 per month out of the money that he receives with which to obtain an education. The money is paid directly to the veteran under this bill, rather than to the schools, as it was under the old GI bill. I certainly do not feel that a veteran should be charged $31.00 a month in order to go to the same school that a non-veteran can attend for a much less amount. We hope to obtain a correction of this measure in the Senate. The controversial matter that arose concerning the bill was the so-called Springer Amendment. Mr. Springer is from Illinois and is a member of the Veterans Affairs Committee. He is an excellent man and an able member of Congress. The amendment that he proposed was to pay the money to the schools rather than to the individual veteran, in somewhat the same fashion as provided in the old GI bill. Mr. Springer was most sincere in his efforts and had some very able and telling arguments in support thereof. I opposed this amendment for the reason that I basically believe that the veteran should be allowed to attend to his own business, to make his own arrangements, and to go to the school of his own choice. The bill is designed to help veterans and is not intended as a federal aid to education measure. Some of the provisions relating to GI housing also need clarification in order for the veterans to obtain the full benefits intended. Most of us feel that the corrections can be made in the Senate without delay and that these boys will begin to receive these benefits to which they are so richly entitled and which have been withheld from them too long.

Three Republicans Have National Political Strength

So far as the Republicans are concerned, the ending of the primary season finds the situation about as the forecasters expected. In pledged delegates, Eisenhower and Taft, are to all practical purposes, on an equal footing. Taft has a few more than his chief rival but the lead is too small to be significant. Neither man has anywhere near enough to assure nomination. Only one other active candidate can now be taken seriously. That is Governor Warren, who would have a good chance in the unlikely event that Taft and Eisenhower cancel each other out. Stassen is far weaker than he was four years ago. From the point of view of the political writer, the Democratic situation is extremely interesting. The only candidate who has shown any ability to attract a national following is Kefauver. He has amazed the old-line professionals, who were certain that his balloon would collapse ignominiously. Instead, he has only one minor setback in Florida, and even there he made a better showing against the popular Russell than was anticipated. If proven public sentiment meant a thing, he would be a cinch for the nomination. But the top Administration brass wants no part of him and the chances are that they'll be able to stop him at the convention, something they couldn't do in the primaries. Potent powers within the party are behind Averill Harriman. But, politically speaking, he is a question mark. He has never run for office. He is quiet, undramatic figure who has, so far as anyone can now see, no public following of any size. There is a very real possibility that the Democratic convention will be deadlocked, and will finally choose someone who is rarely if ever mentioned now, such as Speaker of the House Rayburn. Many Republicans still seem to feel that it's all over but the shouting, that their man, whoever he is, is practically a cinch to defeat any available Democrat. This, of course, was also felt in 1948, and the more objective political observers think that those who still hold it may be due for a painful awakening. The Democratic candidate will run on the Truman platform. The President, regardless of how badly his prestige may have slipped, will be the biggest force at the convention. All of the possible candidates have endorsed Mr. Truman's so-called "fair deal." That is true of Kefauver, who has leaned over backward to avoid criticizing the President and his program. It is true, to slightly varying degrees, of Russell, Kerr, Harriman and Stevenson. The Administration is making its strongest bid yet for labor backing, as witness the President's action in the steel crisis. And it has been given the unequivocal endorsement of Philip Murray and other labor leaders. People who want to unseat the Democrats often make the dangerous mistake of considering only the Administration's political liabilities, and disregarding its political assets. The Democratic platform of 1952 will be so far as basic principles are concerned, much the same platform with which Mr. Truman ran to victory in 1948 when almost no one gave him a chance. From the Republican viewpoint, overconfidence could be politically suicidal. According to the 1950 Census, there are 100 women to 98.1 men in the U. S. ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years. This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers . . . the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that! Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this . . . together with its unequalled response . . . the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile. . . and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be! But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier . . . and your control five times greater . . . than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds. Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved" . . . restful chair-high seats . . . big, wide-opening doors . . . big windows that let you see more. It's true . . . until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today? CHRYSLER THE FINEST CAR AMERICA HAS YET PRODUCED

Grasshopper Control

Grasshoppers can be controlled successfully by the use of new insecticides or the old poison baits. The best time to control grasshoppers is while they are small and concentrated in small areas or hatching areas. The following chemicals have been used very satisfactorily for controlling hoppers: Aldrin used as a spray on the vegetation infested by the hoppers; chlordane and toxaphene have been used satisfactorily on the vegetation infested with hoppers. For mixing these sprays be sure to follow the instructions given on the container.

Do not spray vegetables that are ready to be used for table service. It takes a very small amount of any of these insecticides to treat an area such as a yard or garden and is quite inexpensive compared to the cost or waste that will result.

4-H Group Home From Round-Up

The delegates and adult leader from Sherman County that attended the 4-H Round-Up at College Station returned home Wednesday of last week.

Recognition for achievement and entertainment were the primary objectives of the 1952 Texas 4-H Round-Up.

The first planned activity was held Monday afternoon, June 9, which included a visit to spots of interest on the campus of Texas A. & M. College. On Monday night an outdoor party for all 4-H members was held at the "Grove" and at the same time Chancellor and Mrs. Gilchrist honored all 4-H leaders with a reception at their home on the A. & M. Campus.

Tuesday was the big day. Sixteen judging and demonstration contests were held to pick the state winners in as many different 4-H fields of work. The delegates to the Round-Up and the leaders participated in the program which formally opened the 1952 State Meeting and heard Dr. G. C. Baker, Jr., Chaplain Southern Methodist University, discuss "Tomorrows Honors." Periods were devoted to group discussions and recreation for the 4-H delegates following the general meeting while the adult leaders conferred on "How to be a Better 4-H Leader."

The afternoon session featured Captain Don Lawrence, Department of Public Safety, with a special program on firearms. At 2:00 P. M. a tour of the A. & M. College Campus and the new agricultural facilities was made. A tea honoring all 4-H members who won state and national a-
