J's Jottin's

By J.E.

We at The Cisco Press want to encourage all registered voters in the Hospital District to come out and let their wishes be known in the Rollback Election Saturday. Vote for what you think is best for this town and the area. Remember - people in many parts of the world are denied their right to express an opinion on anything. Don't let neglect cancel your right.

Weather forecasters are predicting some rain by Saturday - but it looks like it's already raining by presstime Tuesday. We'll take it anytime we can get it! The winter grain crop is gone - pastures are so the cattlemen are having to feed hay to their stock. Fortunately the cattle prices are still high.

Rain now would really cut down on fire hazards in the area, including a critical situation on pasture fires.

A letter of renewal to The Cisco Press came today from Archie Chamness of Granbury, Broker Owner of Associate Realtors of Granbury, Texas. Chamness says: "Enjoyed keeping up with what goes on around the Cisco area, as we lived there for fourteen years, and have many friends there."

Regional 9-1-1 Implementation Is Underway

With the beginning of fee collection in January, implementation of a 9-1-1 system has begun in the West Central Texas Council of Governments' region, according to Sue Smith of Abilene, WCTCOG 9-1-1 Director.

"Residents in 12 regional counties will see the first $.50 per month per customer line fee appear on their January telephone bills," said Smith, "with the remaining five counties phased in during February, March and April." Both Eastland and Callanan Counties are among the counties where the fee begins in January.

System activation will occur approximately 24 months after the beginning of fee collection with assistance from state surcharge funds, a pool of funds collected for this purpose from a surcharge on customer bills in the state's largest counties since last July. "Policy across the state has been to collect fees for a planned time period, while the 9-1-1 system is being installed, so that when the system goes on line, all initial costs are paid," stated Smith. "With the help of approximately $450,000 in surcharge monies," Smith continued, "our regional system can start operations in the black." To cover ongoing costs, the $.50 fee will continue after the system begins operation.

During the implementation phase, many telephone switching offices will be modified, equipment purchased and field-tested for each answering point, call-takers trained, and in many places, rural addresses developed for individual citizens.

Smith stated, "9-1-1 can help to save lives and property and we are excited about the prospect of this service being available in all rural areas of our region."

The Eastland County Commissioners will hold special meetings with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., to phase in the service as smoothly as possible. The first such meeting will be on Feb. 1, and will deal with a data base for the County.

The County will need to be totally mapped before the sophisticated system planned for Eastland County can be activated.

quite like a first-hand account. I defy anyone, no matter how cynical, to read through the assorted stories without a bit of mist in their eyes. For all the people and families, varied as their lifestyles were, have one special thing in common: someone cared enough about them to want to preserve the story of their life.

This is the stuff of which historical writing is made - the grassroots material, the bedrock of research. Name any Eastland County incident, and probably some new material relating to it can be located in the History Book.

Roy Lee Smith says that he is very pleased with the quality of these Family Histories. He says he feels that people understand why he had to cut the size of each story down to approx. 500 words, in order

Mainline Denominations Could See New Growth

(Editor note: The following article was written by Dr. Joseph Stamey, Professor of Philosophy, Chairman, Department of Philosophy, McMurry College, Abilene, Texas. He is a former resident of Cisco. The article was entitled: "Mainline Denominations Could See New Growth.")

Recent publications by sociologists of religion may give hope to those in mainline Protestant denominations. A much discussed book is American Mainline Religion by Wade Clark Roof and William McKinney (Rutgers University Press, 1987). Roof and McKinney document membership decline in mainline groups. Most affected are the "liberal" denominations - Episcopal, Presbyterian, and U.C.C. Also affected are the "moderate" churches - United Methodist, Disciples of Christ, American Baptist, and Lutheran.

"Conservative" churches - Southern Baptist, Assemblies of God, Seventh Day Adventist, Nazarenes (as well as "others" including Jehovah's Witnesses and Mormons) - have grown. There is some question about lumping these "conservative" groups together as nonmainline. Southern Baptists have been a part of the Southern and Southwestern mainline for a long time. Their current internal "holy war" may show that some Baptist leaders do not like some consequences of being a mainline denomination.

Mainline denominations, as sociologists describe them, are those that represent the values of the affluent majority of modern societies, the middle and upper middle classes. Some of them, including Methodists and Disciples of Christ, began as sectarian groups appealing mainly to the poor, those alienated from the mainstream of society's economic, political, and cultural leadership. As their membership became affluent, these groups affirmed mainstream values and became more tolerant toward other religious groups.

Joe E. Barnhart's Jim and Tammy (Prometheus Books, 1988), sheds light on this process, explaining the Jim Bakker phenomenon as a result of the growing affluence of some American pentecostals who respond favorably to a version of their tradition that no longer condemns material prosperity and a lavish life style.

Methodists will remember Wesley's fear of what would happen as Methodists became affluent through conversion to disciplined living. His concern was that if Methodists "became mainline" they should "take responsibility" for Christianizing the values and practices of society rather than regarding their members as "exploiters" of social patterns for prestige and selfish gain.

This concern is shared by thoughtful persons in conservative denominations today. According to Barnhart, Jim Bakker is a horrible example of what Wesley did not want Methodists to teach and practice. Nonmainline groups have been authoritarian toward their own members and exclusive with respect to other groups. Usually they have rejected participation in major areas of society's cultural and political life.

Roof and McKinney destroy the myth that large numbers of members have left mainline denominations to join conservative groups. Rather, the cause of membership decline is twofold. Mainline members tend to belong to "responsible" socioeconomic groups (middle class and upper middle class) with society's lowest birthrates. Also, as members of the socially, culturally, and politically involved segment of society, they tend to give less time and energy to church participation and more to professional and public service activities. Large numbers of the children of mainline members dropped out of church participation entirely during the 1960's in favor of secular involvement in work and community.

Some sociologists believe that some of these drop-outs and their young adult children are now beginning to return to their mainline traditions, seeking a deeper spiritual orientation in the nonauthoritarian setting of the liberal or moderate denominations. The challenge to the mainline denominations may be to present a message and programs that will draw on their religious heritage, clearly biblical and Christian in interpreting the liberating power and claims of Christ, while preserving the tolerance, inclusiveness, and concern for society's good that have marked the religious mainline.

Boris Slutsky To Open Abilene Philharmonic's Season

Lavishly praised by critics and audiences in both the United States and Europe, the 24-year-old internationally known pianist, Boris Slutsky, will open 1990's half of the Abilene Philharmonic's fortieth season at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, January 27 in the Abilene Civic Center.

Since coming to the U.S. from Russia and becoming an American citizen in 1977, Moscow-born Slutsky has appeared at Carnegie Hall, the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the Phillips Collection in Washington, D.C., in concert with the Baltimore and Utah Symphonies and the Orchestra della RAI di Milano. Other performances included Canada, Spain, and Italy. In addition, Slutsky repeatedly has won top competition prizes throughout the world. In 1985 he was the only American among winners of the International Bach Competition in Toronto and last year was winner of the San Antonio International Competition.

For Abilene and West Texas, he will join the orchestra as guest artist in the lyrical and popular Chopin Concerto No. 1 which, after its first performance by the composer in 1832 was hailed as showing "an abundance of original ideas of a kind to be found nowhere else - a part of that which we have so long sought in vain."

In addition to performing, Slutsky also serves on the faculties of the International Institute of Music in Taos, New Mexico, and the Hebrew Arts School in New York.

Rounding out the January 27 concert, the orchestra and Musical Director-Conductor George Yaeger will perform Rachmaninoff's familiar Symphony No. 2 plus "Poems of the Sea" by the American composer of Swiss birth, Ernest Bloch. Bloch's work is known for its rhapsodic and melodic qualities and is described in Grove's Dictionary of Music as "heavily laden with combinations of color which match his subject in glowing intensity."

The work will anticipate and pay tribute to the Philharmonic Guild's Thirtieth Anniversary Ball, "Jewels of the Sea," scheduled March 10 at the Civic Center.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained by contacting the Abilene Philharmonic Association, Inc., 310 N. Willis, Suite 108, (915)677-6710, or at the Civic Center Box office (915)676-6211, 1100 N. 6th St. until curtain time on the day of the concert.

A Thought For The Day.....

There is good reason why our doors are always open to persons seeking factual information about funeral service. Today, because of increased longevity, many persons reach maturity without any personal contact with a funeral home...But vague stereotypes and myths do seep into their consciousness. We at the Cisco Funeral Home want them to know the truth about a modern funeral establishment and believe that answering ANY and ALL questions openly and clearly, at a time when the questioner is not emotionally involved, is the way to do so. We are always available for counsel if one wishes to make arrangements in advance. We also have many brochures and pamphlets available that you might wish to take home with you.

Our doors are always open. Please feel free to stop by anytime. We welcome your questions and comments.

Direct Deposit Makes Sense

Direct deposit of Social Security and supplemental security income (SSI) benefits makes even more sense than ever before, thanks to recent advances in the direct deposit program. Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene, said recently.

All financial institutions involved in the direct deposit program are now required to have computer facilities to allow electronic transfer of benefits. In addition, benefit payments which cover more than one month can now be sent by electronic transfer rather than by paper check.

This insures that payments will be made quickly and safely to Social Security and SSI beneficiaries, Hammons said.

To switch from paper checks to direct deposit, call Social Security at 1-800-234-5772. Have available your Social Security claim number and a check or account statement from your financial institution.

The Abilene Social Security office is located at 142 South Pioneer. The office is open 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Eastland Manor News

December was a very busy month for everyone, with everyone getting ready for Christmas. Everyone pitched in and decorated our home which turned out pretty I thought. We all were reminded of the fact, unity brings strength.

Many residents decorated their doors with Christmas cards they received, which made the doors look pretty.

On December 18 at 7:00 p.m., the staff Christmas party was held in the dining room. Each staff member brought a covered dish or dessert which complimented the smoked turkey provided by the home. Many of the staff members were present to enjoy the door prizes and the white elephant gift exchange which was a lot of fun.

On December 21 at 6:30 p.m. the residents Christmas party was held. Many family members and friends were present. Eastland Manor Rhythm Band entertained accompanied by Edith Wampler on the piano. The residents played Christmas carols, spirituals and one of their favorite country western songs, but most of all we thank God for the birth of Jesus.

Santa Claus was so busy that our own W.T. Lewis of Eastland Manor filled in for Santa by handing out gifts. Everyone was treated to an assortment of goodies brought by family members and friends.

We appreciated all of you who caroled, visited, brought gifts, sent cards, or whatever you did to make Christmas a joyous time for our residents. The residents thank you also. I would like to name all of you, but I am afraid that I might miss some one, so I will just say thanks to all of you.

The residents birthday party was hosted by the ladies of the Church of Christ. They served an assortment of baked cakes and homemade candies and punch. Birthday honorees were Eva Turnbow, Norma Burke, Daisy Smoot, and Henry Dreinhofer. Family night was omitted due to the holidays, but we are looking forward to seeing all of you in 1990.

Employee of the month was Audry Millican. She was given a certificate of merit by our administrator, Gregory Tinz. Our residents appreciate her well rendered services. Audry received a $10.00 bonus.

Our newest additions to Eastland Manor's family are Nora Ballinger, Henry Dreinhofer, Clemma and Luda parsons. We welcome them and hope they will enjoy their stay here.

Each Sunday the Church of Christ brings communion service for the residents. On Sunday evenings Harmony Baptist holds church services. Thanks to everyone who came through Eastland Manor's doors, for your caring spirits, because there is always someone who would love to see you at a nursing home.

I am wishing all of you Happy and Prosperous New Years.

Low-income households may be eligible for energy assistance

AUSTIN—Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying heating bills this winter through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services Commissioner Ron Lindsey.

Lindsey said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in December. Other low-income individuals may request an application by calling the toll-free number 1-800-252-8060 during the enrollment period of Jan. 22 through Feb. 28.

Eligibility is limited by gross income and resources. Aid is available for a one-person household having less than $589.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $781.49 for households of two persons, $973.49 for three, $1,165.49 for four, $1,357.49 for five, and $1,549.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for heating is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy provider.

People receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy provider business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy provider. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Jesus heals a withered hand:

And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall on a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore is it lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Declaring there was method in his madness, Gov. Bill Clements last week set the special session for Feb. 27, which will run over the last two weeks of the March primary campaign.

But the confusion was stabilized a bit when a federal appeals court postponed court-ordered new elections for state district judges.

Why is it madness? Because instead of campaigning back home, legislators will be in Austin voting to restructure public school financing and judicial elections.

Clements knows exactly what he is doing. With no place to hide and little time to explain, every vote cast by lawmakers will be noted by voters back home.

No one, not even veteran observers, is willing to predict how this is going to turn out. Perhaps the membership of the Legislature will be altered irreversibly.

Decade's Realignment

The losers? It's difficult to predict, but more Democrats face primary challenges than Republicans. As liberal Democrats push conservatives and moderates out, the Republicans pick up strength in November.

The winners? The ones who vote right — the way folks back home want them to — liberal or conservative, Democrat or Republican.

Few have ever doubted that Clements, a lame-duck, had the guts to call their hand in such a manner, but he was pushed into it by two expensive court orders.

Nevertheless, he must be getting some small measure of satisfaction, for not so long ago a handful of state senators held his feet to the fire and forced a tax hike down his throat.

It will be interesting to see what strategy those senators serve back.

But beyond court orders and political grudges, Clements has dumped all the chips on the table and dealt the cards.

It's the last and biggest installment of the rapid voter realignment that has occurred in Texas in the 80s.

Texas will sail into the 90s a true two-party state, and we will find out in March which party will be steering the ship.

Lewis' Ethics Memo

House Speaker Gib Lewis drew a Republican opponent, Fort Worth businessman Edward Gore, and all eyes are watching that race.

Lewis sent a memo to fellow House members urging them not to be stampeded by media pressure overdoing legislative ethics as a campaign issue.

"I strongly support a reasoned, balanced approach to ethics reform," Lewis said in his memo. "However, strengthening the ethics laws is a difficult assignment which requires a meticulous, detailed analysis."

His opponent intends to use the ethics issue against Lewis in the campaign.

Lewis went through this same scenario last election, which didn't stop him from winning a fourth term as speaker.

Mattox Reverses Stance

After Attorney General Jim Mattox reversed himself and asked the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to stay a ruling that state district judges in nine urban counties run in non-partisan elections in May, the court agreed.

The elections will proceed under current state laws.

Clements, who had earlier asked Mattox to seek the stay on behalf of the state, blamed Mattox for wasting time.

Republican Camp

Some regular party Republicans are upset with what they see as a dirt probe of Clayton Williams by his gubernatorial opponent, Kent Hance.

Hance said he hired Gary Maloney, a national party official, to investigate Williams' claims that he created 100,000 jobs for Texans, and that Maloney dug up dirt on his own regarding Williams' drinking and brawling.

Williams is sticking to his guns about his entrepreneurial boast. The other stuff apparently happened in younger days.

Meanwhile, Hance announced that former Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North, a key figure in the Iran-Contra scandal, will appear at two of his fund-raising events in February.

Democratic Camp

Those interested in the aftermath of the workers compensation wars are watching the Pasadena-Galveston senatorial race, where incumbent Chet Brooks is challenged by labor's Rep. Lloyd Criss.

Labor union bosses and trial lawyers, angered that Brooks broke a stalemate against them in the recent special session, are apparently determined to defeat Brooks.

But Brooks, dean of the Texas Senate, is hard on the campaign trail, backed by no less than former state Sen. Babe Schwartz, a power himself.

Nevertheless, the area is rife with oil refineries and other industrial plants with high labor union membership.

For the aficionado, this remains the race to watch.

Other Highlights

State Sen. Craig Washington, D-Houston, will resign his seat Jan. 23, the same day he will be sworn in to replace the late U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland. Clements set Feb. 13 for the special election to fill Washington's seat.

Midland oilman Robert Holt, a former part-owner of Ruidoso Downs, is reported in line to be the next Department of Public Safety chairman, which would automatically seat him on the Texas Racing Commission.

Actors, singers, dancers and technicians can compete for the 100 coveted positions. The nationally acclaimed musical drama plays nightly except Sundays from June 13 through August 25, 1990, beneath the cliffs in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon. Rehearsals begin May 20, 1990.

The summer production offers the opportunity for a cast to perform before record full houses every night while drawing a salary.

In celebration of "TEXAS" 25th birthday, this cast and crew will have the opportunity to again entertain 100,000 visitors from every state and nearly 100 foreign countries with a series of special festivities. Anyone, 18 years or older, may tryout for "TEXAS." Additional hospitality crew positions are also available.

On Saturday, January 20, 1990, the first audition will be held in Huntsville at Sam Houston State University in the Main Stage of the University Theatre Center from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. with dancers at 4 p.m.

Dallas is the setting for the next audition, scheduled for Sunday, January 21, 1990, on Southern Methodist University campus in Room F-108 at the Owens Fine Arts Center from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. with dancers at 2 p.m.

Tempe, Arizona, is the site for auditions on Sunday, January 28, 1990, at Arizona State University from noon to 3:30 p.m. with dancers at 2:30 in the Gammage Auditorium Building Orchestra Rehearsal Hall, Room 311.

University to audition in Music Building, M.B. No. 1, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. with dancers at 3 p.m.

Auditions at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Oklahoma, follow on Sunday, February 11, 1990, in the Band Hall, Room 118, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. with dancers at 3:30 p.m.

The last auditions are held in Canyon on Saturday, February 17, 1990, from 11 a.m. through 5 p.m. with dancers at 4 p.m. in Mary Mopdy Northern Hall at West Texas State University.

To audition for "TEXAS", men and women MUST bring a picture and reference.

All voice ranges are required, and singers should bring one prepared number of their choice. An accompanist will be furnished or a singer may bring his own. Since singers also fill minor speaking roles, each should also prepare a one to two minute memorized scene or monologue.

Actors and actresses are required to memorize any scene, not to exceed three minutes, that will accentuate outdoor voice and presence and are also required to perform a short vocal number.

Men and women with ballet or modern dance training are auditioned in a group. Dancers should wear appropriate workout clothing. Musicians need experience in string bass, acoustic guitar, banjo, accordion or violin.

"TEXAS" blends a colorful history with spectacular sound and light, hundreds of unusual props and the talent of these 80 performers.

Indians perch on rocks, cowboys ride the range, and even a real train crosses the prairie. A realistic storm sends shivers through the audience as a thunder roars and lightning strikes.

Noted for its highest average attendance of any outdoor drama in the United States, "TEXAS" filled the theatre in 1989 with average nightly crowds of 1,620 persons.

Produced by the non-profit Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., "TEXAS" has welcomed over two million people to the production since its beginning in 1966.

Written by Pulitzer Prize winning author, Paul Green, the show is directed by Neil Hess, who offers expert instruction and valuable exposure to the gifted cast that come from all over the United States.

For an audition brochure, reservations or more information on "TEXAS" call 806-655-2181 or write P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015-0268.

Bullock Report

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that a representative from his agency will be in Eastland on Wednesday, January 17 to answer questions about Texas taxes and assist taxpayers with paperwork and problems.

"I don't want to see state taxes turn into a burden for folks who can't get to a field office. Our visits are a service we're happy to provide to Texas taxpayers," Bullock said.

B.J. Bonham, enforcement officer in the Abilene office, will be at the Eastland County Courthouse, Room B-10 (Social Security Room) from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. The public is welcome and there is no charge.

"I'm sending my employees out to help people with questions, filling out forms, and working out problems on a local, one-on-one basis. There's some things you just can't do as well over the phone or through the mail," Bullock said.

Big Country area taxpayers who can't attend the courthouse workshop can still get individual tax assistance by calling the Comptroller's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-252-5555, form anywhere in Texas.

The Abilene office, headed by James Martin, serves Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Concho, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Mason, McCullough, Menard, Mills, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, San Saba, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor and Throckmorton counties.

Guest Slot

by Ferrell Newton
(ED. NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Newton recently visited Germany and this is their account of the traffic.)

I have always considered myself a very average, late middle-aged American male, no more faint-hearted nor no braver than any other. Now I am convinced I qualify for some kind of medal for valor because I survived an experience that tries men's souls - coping with German traffic.

I was chauffeured around Germany by my mild-mannered and unassuming son-in-law, Michael Haley. Now, Michael had a typical small town mid-America background, and I had no idea his experiences of driving on German highways would turn him into a combination of A. J. Foyt and Chuck Yeager.

The revelation began when Mary, Michael and Leah met us at the Frankfurt airport with their car, an innocent-looking Volvo 4-door sedan. We loaded the luggage, fastened our seat belts and entered the nightmare world of German traffic.

Not far from the airport we entered Autobahn A5, and the race was on. I know you have probably heard about, or maybe even have experienced first-hand, the fact that there are no speed limits on German autobahns except in extreme cases. Unless you have experienced the thrill of entering the autobahn at a remarked that we were lucky it was about noon on Christmas Eve so the traffic was light. I thanked the Lord for this and all other small favors.

We traveled north on A5 toward Bad Vilbel and home at a leisurely pace with about 80% of the traffic passing us in the left hand lane. You know the feeling you get when nearly all the traffic passing you, one of a leisurley wrong; the inside ring registered 148 KM, and that meant the 80 was MPH. From then on my bravery began to be apparent.

I was relieved when we turned off the autobahn and entered the village streets. My relief was short-lived, however; these streets are where driving skills and bravery become even more essential. The streets in some places are only 3/8 of an inch wider than two cars and you are expected to negotiate the narrow places at the same speed at which you left the autobahn - wide open. To make a long story short, we made it home due to Michael's driving skills and my bravery.

On Christmas night we decided to drive to downtown Frankfurt to see the lights and other sights. You realize that Frankfurt is a city older than any of our American cities, and many of the streets were laid out before the modern automobile was designed. It was on this trip that I learned some of the basic rules of German traffic and added a battle star to my medal for valor.

Did you know? You always start on yellow after a stop signal...

You always pass the car in front of you regardless of how far you have to go.

You always pass the car in front of you regardless of how far you have to go.

You always signal the driver in the other car with a hand signal that is considered offensive in polite society.

U-turns are permitted anywhere in the street regardless of signs.

After the conditioning we had received in city traffic, Michael deemed us ready for an extended road trip. On Wednesday we loaded into that Volvo that I now considered a cross between a Sherman tank and an Indy 500 racer. We headed for Wachtelsbach, Fulda and the East German border. This trip was primarily along Autobahn A66.

An autobahn can best be described as one of the world's premier roadways, usually consisting of three lanes going each direction. The quality of the construction and maintenance on these roads is equal to our interstate system before we ran out of money for maintenance.

The thing that is unique about the German system is the caste system that has evolved that determines the use of the lanes. To use the two right hand lanes no special status is required except that the foot on the accelerator must be the heaviest part of the body. But to use the inside lane, you must have large veins in the forehead that almost burst when your speed drop below 160 KMH or 100 MPH. You must drive one of the powerful prestige cars with the Mercedes or BMW label. You must have developed the uncontrollable urge to pass every car ahead of you. You must look down your bulbous nose at anyone driving a lesser car.

Once in a while a lesser car will venture into the left hand lane. Even if it is travelling at the required speed of sound, the pack of Mercedes and BMWs will soon put it back in its place on the right. Michael dared to put the Volvo in the left lane a few times, and I even opened my eyes while in the left lane - bravery in the presence of peril.

A new element has been introduced into German traffic that may have a far-reaching and devastating effect. This is that after so many generations of discipline, orderliness and attention to detail, the Germans have discovered a way to vent all their frustrations and thumb their noses at convention. That way is to jump in their cars and arrive at their destination without much time elapsing. I was in the midst of it, and thanks to my bravery and Michael's skill, I survived.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Do you, or could you get me the history of the Famous Horned Toad that was removed from the corner stone of the old Courthouse? I was born and raised there. I'm a daughter of the late R. A. Parker and would like to know more about the frog.

I moved away from down there quit a few year ago. I am a sister to the Lillie Hozard who still lives down there close to the lake.

If you can help me, I would appreciate it. Think I would be interesting to know more about it.

Thanks

Wedding Bells

Luther - Basham

Over the Bay of Lake LBJ, Leslie Ann Luther and Darrell Basham were united in marriage on Saturday, July 1, 1989, at 6:00 p.m. in the Chapel at Horseshoe Bay.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Skaggs and Mr. Jim Luther of Burnet, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Basham of Eastland.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Cal Skaggs and her father, Jim Luther.

The Reverend Larry Smith of Eastland performed the evening ceremony surrounded by the beautiful view of Horseshoe Bay and arrangements of peach alstromeria, roses, spider mums and garland.

The bride wore a formal gown, designed by Illisa of New York, of ivory silk. The fitted bodice was beaded with crystal and pearls. The skirt was bordered with alencon lace encrusted with pearls, and swirled to a cathedral train with cascading scallops.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of silk call-lillies and in her shoe was a six pence given to Darrell by the late Miss Verna Johnson.

The matron of honor was Tina Brandon, sister of the bride, of Rockwall. Bridesmaids included Tracy Rhine of Fairfield, Lesley Cozby of Lampasas, Sue Hensley of Dallas, and Delaine Vittitow, sister of the groom of Austin.

The attendants wore gowns of Hunter Green iridescent taffeta. The bodice was slightly fitted with a basque waistline attached to a gathered tea length skirt. The attendants carried a single silk calla-lilly.

The best man was Shannon Housson of Austin. Groomsman included Don Reid of Bedford, Blake Mahan of Lubbock, Lowell Lowrance of Fort Worth and Rick Vittitow of Austin.

The groomsmen wore black tuxedos designed by Bill Blass, accented with black bow ties. The groom's tuxedo was also a Bill Blass design distinguished with tails and an ivory bow tie. The groom and his attendants wore white rose boutonnières.

Mrs. Betty Skaggs, mother of the bride, was ushered into the wedding by her son, Jim Luther of Burnet. She wore a gown of gray silk enhanced with Mary McFarland pleats. The two-piece evening gown featured a peplum jacket and a skirt flowing gracefully to tea length.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Darlene Basham, was ushered by Richard Cunningham of Austin. She wore a lovely plae aqua gown of silk jacquard. Her tea length gown featured a drop waist with a two-tier ruffled skirt with matching shoes and bag. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Candlelighters were Monica and Stacie Basham, cousins of the groom, of Austin. They wore beautiful gowns of Hunter Green iridescent taffeta. The gowns featured off the shoulder puff sleeves, and a fitted bodice with a point peplum attached to a tea length skirt. Monica and Stacie wore corsages of peach alstromeria.

Michelle Willard, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a very pretty dress of peach taffeta. Michelle carried a silk basket, made by Darlene Basham, dropping silk rose petals down the aisle.

Hatley Vittitow, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. He was handsomely dressed in a black tuxedo with peach accents.

Mrs. Jerianne Green gracefully played the "Theme from Somewhere in Time," as the groom and attendants entered the chapel. As the bride was escorted by her fathers, the "Wedding March" was keyed precisely. Jerianne accompanied Miss Shawn Kelly, as she sang "One Hand, One Heart" during the lighting of the Unity Candle. Also, Shawn beautifully sang "Doubly Good to You," and "One to One." The ceremony ended as the wedding processional was played.

The wedding reception followed at Horseshoe Bay Yacht Club. A buffet dinner included everything from a Steamship-Round, marinated chicken, vegetable and fruit trays, to a platter of broiled shrimp elegantly surrounding a Swan Ice Sculpture. The Big Band Music, for dancing during the reception, was provided by David Perkoff and The Little Big Band of Austin.

After cutting the cake, Shannon Housson toasted the newlywed couple, then they danced their first danced to the "Theme from Ice Castles."

As the joyous evening came to an end, the bride and groom tossed away their bouquet and garter, and rushed to their limousine on their way to a wonderful honeymoon in Hawaii.

On the couple's return from Hawaii, they now reside in Denver, Colorado.

Darrell is the Corporate Sales Manager for Hyatt Regency-Beaver Creek in Colorado.

KOKOMO NEWS

Hasn't the warmer weather been nice? Now, if we could just get some rain it would be even nicer. Let us all pray for rain.

There sure has been a lot of flu viruses going around the area, and several from our community have been hit with it too. It has been a hard thing for me to get rid of. Almost a week after the fever has gone, I still am rather draggy and somewhat congested.

Joyce Eaves spent a few days in the hospital at Eastland, coming home on Sunday morning. WE hope that she is feeling a lot better now.

Bro. Jim Gillespie of Stephenville was the guest preacher at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday. Mrs. Gillespie accompanied him. Our other visitor was Jeanna Grice of Gorman.

Bro. Clarence Wilson was ill with the flu virus. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Recent guests of Mrs. Albert Hendricks were Micheal Bultriss of Texas State Technical Institute of Waco, Billy Eppler of Plano and Edward Eppler of Atlanta, Georgia.

While visiting, Larry Campbell, a representative of Mr. T.A. Birdsong, took the boys on a tour of the old Barton Eppler estate which is now owned by Mr. Birdsong. The boys were very thrilled.

and excited to get to go back to their grandparents old homeplace where they spent summer vacations.

Other guests of Mrs. Hendricks were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wood and Dawn of Odessa, Mrs. Floyd Wood of Eastland, Mr. & Mrs. Nathan Mearse of Odessa, Velma Bennett of Gorman and Bro. Joe O'Neal.

Mrs. Neal Gilbert and Glenn of Houston have been visiting with Mrs. Berneice Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gilbert and Floydene in Gorman while here for Glenn to be enrolled at Tarleton State University for the coming semester.

Mark and Margaret Eaves of Arlington, Randy, Deliah and Christopher Lewis of Ennis and Bill and Paulette Black, D'Ann, Jamie and Megan of Cleburne were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Eaves during the Christmas holidays. Kris Brown of Carbon also came by for a visit.

Joyce and Delmon Eaves spent New Years' Eve in Ennis with the Randy Lewis family and had the privilege of baby sitting with Christopher on New Years' night. Joyce and Delmon spent New Years Day in Arlington with Mark and Margaret Eaves.

POEM

The Promise by Bob Harbin

As we cross the chilly Jordan
And our life will be no more
Will there be someone to lead us
Or will we go there all alone.

In my house are many mansions
The Lord has told us so
I go to prepare a place for you
To be with me forever more.

The trials and troubles of this world
Suddenly seem so small
When we cast our eyes on Jesus
Life seems so worth while.

Let our light so shine for Jesus
That others may see
That His mercy and His goodness
Is with a person such as me.

Effects of drugs on driving: Over-the-counter drugs can cause serious problems for the driver. As I have previously mentioned, non-prescription drugs can cause drowsiness and this affects driving in a serious manner. Some of these are: Antihistamines (Benadryl), cold preparations (Nyquil), and any medicine that induces sleep such as Nytol. Many people are unaware that over-the-counter sleeping aids contain Diphenhydramine which is the major component in Benadryl. Be cautious in consuming non-prescription drugs and mixing them with driving.

Eastland County Resource Assoc. Members Meet

The Eastland County Resource Association members Jan. 9 heard reports on work for the needy. Director Corrie Cowley reviewed some of the activities in December, saying this had been a very active month.

The County Resource Association is a group of citizens attempting to meet critical needs not covered by other agencies. The group works in cooperation with the Department of Human Services and the Multipurpose Center, including the Clothes Closet and County Food Pantry.

A report from Becky Boswell, Treasurer, stated that generous contributions had been received in response to an appeal which went out by letter in early December. She added that more funds could certainly be used, however. Persons wishing to help may still mail contributions to the ECRA at 210 S. Lamar, Eastland, 76448.

Corrie Cowley reported that the Children's Travel Fund was used to help four families in December. This is a fund which assists chronically ill or disabled children to go to medical facilities for treatment.

The money used from this fund is reimbursed by government agencies to the County Resource group, so it is actually a revolving fund.

On other assistance in December, a County Resource Association voucher was used to purchase propane for a needy family during the severe cold spell before Christmas. Other vouchers were used for a utility deposit and utility payments.

There was news from the Food Pantry - Lois Robinson, volunteer worker for the Pantry, reported that generous people had kept it well-stocked, right on through the severe weather and Holiday season. A lot of people had been served by the facility, which is located at the Multipurpose Center on North Lamar.

"Of course we would like to continue to keep a good supply of canned goods," Mrs. Robinson said. "Right now we could also use household cleaning supplies, such as soap and the like."

Mrs. Robinson reported that meat is usually in short supply at the Pantry. But recently four large roasts were donated, and then distributed to needy families.

Lois Robinson also discussed the up-dating of the list of resources available for people in the county. She is gathering material on this right now, and as soon as the new list is available it will be published in the Eastland County Newspapers.

Any Church or Organization which has not been contacted on the up-dating-but which has help available - may call Corrie Cowley at 629-1813 or Viola Payne at 629-1707.

Before the meeting ended January 9 the group made plans to give assistance to a disabled person in the city. This help had been recommended by staff member of the Department of Human Services.

The next County Resource meeting will be Tuesday,

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry Wilson

Chucks Burgess Wins at Palo Pinto

Before I report on this tournament there's some bad news from T. P. & W. officials concerning Trinity River Fish.

Tissue samples from Trinity River fish collected during 1987 and 1988 revealed concentrations of the pesticide chlordane that exceeded warning levels established by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department researchers.

River studies biologists Roy Kleinsasser and Gordon Linam of the department's Resource Protection Division said fillets of nine of the 41 fish collected from the river and its tributaries were above acceptable levels.

Chlordane has been used for termite control, as an insecticide for homes and gardens and as a control for soil insects a complete ban on sales in the United States was initiated in April of 1988. Chlordane is a persistent pesticide and elevated concentrations have often been correlated with urban and suburban runoff.

Inquires concerning the health risks of eating fish should be directed to the Texas Department of Health.

Seven members of the Eastland County Bass Club met at Lake Palo Pinto Sunday January 13. Members present included Jimmy Johnson, Sherry Johnson, Gary Horton, James Schuman, Tim Freeman, and Chuck Burgess. One guest Tim Jones was also present.

Conditions at the lake were less than favorable with water temperature in the main lake at 46 degrees backed up by a stiff north wind. Water temperature at the hot water outlet was some better checking in at 64 degrees.

At the 4:00 p.m. weigh in few fish were caught and even fewer that were 14 1/4 inches or longer. First place with 2 fish was Chuck Burgess with 3.44. Second place went to Steve Pennington with 1 fish 1.94 pounds. Steve also won big bass honors for a combined winning of $61.00.

Congratulations to all these ladies and gentlemen, just lasting til 4:00 p.m. makes them all winners.

The next E.C.B.C. meeting will be held February 1, 1990 at 7:30 p.m. Once again the meeting will be held at the Eastland National Bank. If you haven't joined yet make plans to attend. The 1990 year will end in September this year so you don't have any time to lose.

And ladies don't forget new for 1990 a separated division just for you. Of course yall are welcome to pay to fish in both divisions and show the men how it is. A special meeting of current and prospective women members will be January 27, 1990 at 12:00 noon at Eastlands finest eating establishment "The Crossin'". For more information contact Jackie Maynard at 629-3550 or Carlotta Wilson at 629-3255.

During our cooler months most area clubs attempt to fish tournaments on power plant lake hoping for some warmer water temperatures. The warmer temperatures do help quiet often but one factor many overlook that can offset this plus factor is current. The current in these lakes is of course created from the running of the power plant to cool down operations.

The fish in these impoundments become very current oriented. When there is a lack of current the fish seem to really slow down. One trick to turn the possibility of slow current and slow fishing in your favor is to contact officials at the facility you plan to fish ahead of time. Many have scheduled days of generation and this might help you schedule on a better weekend.

Fishing is a sport the whole family can join in together and experience the thrill of "Fishing Outdoors."

AARP News By Roy Cartee Health Issues And Views

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, you have talked about the changes in Medicare are there any new features?

ANSWER: Yes, Most of us hate to do the paperwork necessary to let Medicare know we have been to the doctor. Effective September 1, 1990, physicians will be requested to submit to Medicare the claims for their Medicare covered patients. So you will not be required to fill out the forms after that date. Another news feature: Doctors are prohibited from referring their patients for tests in clinic in which the doctors have a financial interest. Laboratories will be requested to disclose ownership arrangements involving QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, is there a limit I can earn before I start losing Social Security Benefits?

ANSWER: Yes, Social Security Benefits for workers aged 65-69 will be reduced by $1 for every $3 earned over $9,300. This is an improvement over the current limit.

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, I received a copy of my 1989 Federal Income Tax Form and noticed that it still contains a line for payment of the Surtax on the Catastrophic Medicare. What do I do?

ANSWER: The 1990 Federal Income Tax Forms and Instruction Booklets were printed prior to the repeal of the Catastrophic Act in November. Since the Supplemental Premiums has been eliminated beneficiaries should disregard H the reference to the Surtax on the Federal Income Tax Forms.

QUESTION: Throughout 1989 I paid the $4.00 a month basic Catastrophic Premium. Now that Law has been repealed will I get this money back?

ANSWER: No, The basic $4.00 a month premium you have paid since January 1989, has been used to pay for the benefits in effect during that year and therefore will not be refunded.

Many changes have been made in regard to Medicare. If you have additional questions write Roy V. Cartee, 900 Avenue H, Cisco, Texas 76437.

Olden Extension Club News

The Olden Extension Club met Jan. 9, 1990 at 2:00 p.m. at the Olden Community Center. We had eleven members present.

President Dois Hodges called the meeting to order. Vice president Rena Kirk led the creed, prayer, and pledge of allegiance. Hilda Squires read the minutes and called the roll. Vanitta Arnold gave the treasurer's report.

Janet Thomas installed the officers for the year 1990. The theme of the installation was "The Will," which consists of the hub, spokes, and the rim. The hub represents the chairman; the spokes represent the officers; and the rim represents the members. All these people working together will make the club go forward.

Dois Hodges presented

Hazel Barron a gift for being the first president of the Olden Extension Club.

Maedell Meredith, Council delegate, gave a report on the Council meeting. Rena Kirk gave an up-to-date report on the sale of the cook-books.

It was decided to change the February meeting to Tuesday Feb. 20, 1990.

Janet Thomas brought the program "Keeping Positive an Upbeat Attitude," which was interesting and uplifting.

Rena Kirk, Vanitta Arnold, and Dois Hodges were hostesses. The table was colorful and attractive. Jane Davidson and Hazel Barron will be hostesses for the February meeting.

Correction For Eastland County History Book

Concerning an error in the History Book.

On page 667 there is a picture of a School House. The book says, Upton School, but that is a mistake. The name of the school was Union School. A lot of people around here went to school there years ago, including myself. I went there until I got in high school. The school was located about 7 miles East of Eastland on Lake Leon Road on South Side. People that brought books, can just mark through Upton and put Union.

Q. Sometimes I get so angry at my husband. If I blame or accuse, it makes matters worse. How can I handle these strong feelings and try to save my marriage?
A. With your permission I would like to quote something from I Love You, Let's Work It Out by David Viscott, M.D.
"During stressful times in a relationship, the natural inclination is to vent emotions destructively. Give your partner and your relationship the benefit of the doubt. Allow a little more time before you react. You lose nothing by being quiet and allowing the madness around you to go its own way.
Find yourself in all the confusion.
Let your calmness be the island of reasonableness that brings both of you back in balance.
If you go with the turmoil, it will surely get worse.
Expect the situation to improve.
Remember, it takes time to heal.
Look for evidence that there is still good between you. Nurture it by welcoming the positive feelings that arise.
Let negativity float past you. Do not attract it to you by resisting or holding on to it. Don't play hurt. Don't be a container for anger.
Keep your best self company in the face of abuse and accusation. Let the answers come to you.
Decide what is best for you as you listen, but do not react while you are deciding.
Implement your decision in peace. Be patient.

Letter To The Editor

I understand if we vote, for the rollback, in this election, we will save a few tax dollars, especially businesses. I also understand about the ten minutes to another hospital, which in reality is twenty to thirty minutes unless you're fortunate enough to be in a car and ready to leave when the need arises. I supplied ambulance service to this community for many years and I know the importance of time in a medical emergency. When the hospital closes we also lose the ambulance service it provides. Could the city, or would the city, provide ambulance service to our town. Federal and State regulations make ambulance service expensive to provide. Special medical training is required for drivers and attendants. Working out of the hospital, allows these people to do other work until they are needed for ambulance duty. I believe the hospital and ambulance as it is now costs less than it would to operate the ambulance service as a separate operation. Remember, a portion of our current tax will remain for debt service. We need to stay with a system that works for the health of ourselves, our neighbors, and our pocketbook. Vote against the rollback.

Young Men Turning 26 In 1990

Young men who will turn 26 in 1990 will be reaching an important milestone, according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on January 1, 1990, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1982 will be turning 26 and will no longer be eligible for induction should a draft be reinstated. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Selective Service State Director Harold D. Doyle warned that, with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain benefits such as federal student aid, job training, and most federal employment in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon.

Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state-supported colleges and universities, state employment, and permission to practice law. Doyle points out that men age 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison, or both.

Over 14 million men, age 18 through 25, are currently registered with Selective Service. Over one million of those registered are from Texas.

WORD of GOD

Jesus heals a woman afflicted 18 years:

And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

Our son was hit by a car in 1987. The prognosis was grim but today he is a healthy teenager. We are firmly convinced that the efficient, effective primary care he received locally is largely responsible for the health he enjoys. Who can say with certainty that in his case--that of a massive closed-head injury--that forcing him to endure a 15-60 minute ride before receiving care would have made no difference? We are grateful that we did not have to make such a choice. Because E.L. Graham Hospital was open and in operation, we did not have to gamble with our child's life.

On December 19, 1988, I suffered a heart attack and was taken to the emergency room. The staff, along with Dr. Ayres Cermin, took over and got me stabilized so that I could be transported to one of the hospitals in Abilene. I am thankful for the service at E.L. Graham and feel that if it had not been there, I very well might not be here.

Cisco Elementary School Update

All the teachers and students came back to school after the Christmas holidays with great enthusiasm.

PTO bought a new laminating machine for the school. It arrived during the holidays and is now in full operation. The teachers and Mrs. Zarate, librarian in charge of lamination, think it is wonderful!

We also got five new computers for our computer room - that makes 19. Children are learning so much because of the computers.

On Wednesday, Jan. 17, Ms. Dinah Zike, a well-known Texas educational consultant, will be at our school to give a seminar titled "How Parents Can Help Their Children To Be More Successful In School." It will be at 2:30 p.m. in the elementary cafeteria.

The sixth grade science classes have been making projects. These are applications of principles learned in the classroom. Their project was in four parts: a written report, a poster, the project itself, and an oral explanation. These were lined up in the halls at school and lots of fun and learning going on. Mr. Jon Denison is the sixth grade science teacher.

In December four teachers from Cisco Elementary attended the third annual Special Educator's Conference at Abilene. Pat Deitiker (Resource 3-6), Ruth Stewart (Resource K-3), Mary Schustereit (Early Childhood), and Jeanette Morren (Speech) found the conference to be very interesting and informative.

Susan Watts, our elementary PE teacher, went to Austin in December to serve on a state resolution committee for ATPE (Association of Texas Professional Educators). She is immediate past president of the local unit.

The ATPE organization greeted teachers returning from the Christmas holidays with the sign "Have A 'Souper' Year" and several crocks of soup for lunch. Many teachers expressed appreciation.

Mrs. Schustereit and Dianne Carlile have been decorating a wall outside their door with beautiful seasonal themes. The "Halloween Scene," "Best Dressed Turkeys," and "Stockings Hung by the Chimney with Care" have been added to the enjoyment of students and teachers passing by.

The resource teachers, Pat Deitiker and Ruth Stewart, and Title I reading teacher Irene Hunt have been happy with the results of students using the "Herman Method for Reversing Reading Failure" by Renee Herman.

The special educators appreciate the aides that work with the programs. Hellen Torres works with Irene Hunt in Title I reading. Joyce Coleman works with Pat Deitiker in resource (3-6). Hattie Weathers works with Ruth Stewart in resource (K-3). The aides working with Mary Schustereit in Early Childhood are Dianne Carlile, Dixie Crosby and Rhea Autrey.

Because of their dedicated services, the special programs are highly successful, working with students in small groups or individually.

Ruth Stewart, resource (K-3) teacher, has recently started writing a public service newspaper column entitled "Rescue Line for Women."

to get all these in.

A native of Eastland County, he was particularly interested in preserving these accounts. There's a lot of information here that sheds light on events - giving a new deminsion to history, Smith says.

"The book tells of the life of the pioneer, the joys and sorrows," he notes.

"Ron Bailey and the Book Committee were great help in getting this all together. There's no way I can give enough credit to them. But I would also like to say that without the Eastland County Newspapers there would have been no book. There was no way we could have paid for the publicity O'Brien gave us."

Smith adds that editing this book didn't finish him off at all - he is ready to receive more family histories for a future book, Volume 2.

"It'll probably take about five years to get this together, but the time to start is now," he says. "Send family histories of around 500 words - one photograph - to the 200 North Walnut address in Eastland. We want to include those people who did not get into the first Volume."

Chairman Ron Bailey says he is also pleased with the book - it took a long time but was worth it. He says he didn't do some of the tedious work the Committee members got into - that mainly he went to outlying Communities and encouraged people to write up the stories. He recalls a first Committee meeting in October, 1986, and in 1987 he began soliciting.

"When it got down tot he nitty-gritty, Roy and Wanda Smith really worked at it," he remarks.

The Smiths also say the same thing about Bailey, I might add.

"One thing I enjoy about a book like this - 25 years down the road I know it will be enjoyed even more," Soil Conservationist Bailey says. "Ifeef like if we hadn't gotten this history together, much of it would have been lost forever."

Persons wishing to order copies of the Book may write to Roy Smith at 200 N. Walnut, Eastland Texas, 76448. The price is $72.50 plus $5 for shipping and handling. Books are also available at the Eastland Telegram office.

Board Of Regents Authorize Additional 12 LVN Students

The Cisco Junior College Board of Regents authorized the administration to seek approval to add 12 more students to its Licensed Vocational Nursing (LVN) Program in Abilene. The action took place in the Board's regular January meeting.

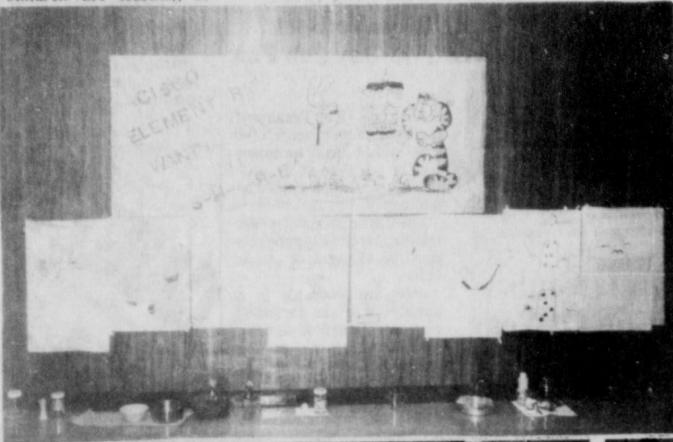

Carroll Scott CJC administrator who supervises the Abilene programs, explained "The additional students, to begin as early as May, will help relieve the serious nursing shortage."

The Abilene LVN program currently trains some 75 nurses annually. The most recent previous addition was in the Spring of 1989 when students became able to receive clinical training at Hendrick Medical Center.

Other matter coming before the Board included reports on the December reaffirmation of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, an update on a statewide junior college insurance consortium, and consideration of the use of the college's Rockwell property by the Cisco Veteran's of Foreign Wars.

The Board also dealt with routine personnel matters. The next scheduled meeting of the Board of Regents is February 12, 1990.
