Carter preparing for statement on troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter cleared his schedule today to work on tonight's speech dealing with a brigade of Soviet troops in Cuba, a controversy that Cuban President Fidel Castro contends Carter invented to bolster his own political image.

So he would have more time to devote to his speech, Carter postponed until Tuesday a scheduled afternoon meeting with President William R. Tolbert, Jr. of Liberia.

Carter worked Sunday on the speech, apparently with his wife, as they wrapped up a weekend at Camp David, Md. The administration, meanwhile, maintained its virtual silence on the issue.

Carter returned this morning to the White House, where he will make the nationally broadcast speech at 9 p.m. EDT. He made the 65-mile trip from Camp David by limousine instead of helicopter because of rainy weather.

The president's public schedule of activities today showed no meetings planned with foreign policy advisers.

He scheduled the address after negotiations with Soviet officials apparently had broken down, with the Russians refusing to budge on Carter's insistence that they change the "status quo." Those talks resumed unexpectedly Sunday.

The Soviets say the force — which U.S. officials say has 2,000 to 3,000 soldiers, 40 tanks and artillery and armored personnel carriers — has been stationed in Cuba since 1962 with the full knowledge of previous American presidents and is not a combat brigade.

"I challenge Carter to explain to the U.S. people and the world public opinion the truth and to say when this post was established in Cuba, Castro said Sunday in an interview on CBS' "60 Minutes" program.

Carter said in his Sept. 7 address that the troops likely have been in Cuba "for some time, perhaps for quite a few years." Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has said former President Nixon was unaware of the situation.

The brigade's presence recently was revealed by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and has become a sticking point in the Senate's consideration of the SALT II arms treaty with the Soviet Union.

Castro charged Carter "set up this comedy" to sabotage the recent summit of non-aligned nations in Cuba and "to overcome the difficulties that Carter is facing for his re-election."

He said he would not set up a meeting with Carter, but would "have no objections" to contact with Carter or other officials if Carter initiated such action.

Castro, asked in the CBS interview Sunday about U.S. assertions the crisis was not artificial, said he would not explain to the United States the nature of Cuban military facilities.

"We are a sovereignty. The United States has no right whatsoever on Cuba, no privilege whatsoever," Castro said. "If I go down low and give an explanation on the nature of these military facilities, I will be questioning Cuba's right to take any defensive measures it deems pertinent."

However, Castro repeated his assertion that the Soviet military presence in Cuba was unchanged since the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

"If President Carter tomorrow says that there has been a change in the number, the nature or in the function of the Soviet military personnel in Cuba since 1962 — he will be telling a great lie," Castro said.

"I'm not denying that there's Soviet military personnel in our country. I'm saying that it is exactly the same military personnel organized in the same way as 17 years ago," Castro said.

Pope bringing U.S. message of peace

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — Pope John Paul II left for the United States today on his pastoral mission for peace and reconciliation, highlighted in Ireland by repeated calls for an end to sectarian strife.

His first stop is Boston on the six-day visit.

An Aer Lingus Boeing 747 carrying the papal entourage took off from Shannon Airport in the west of Ireland, 19 minutes behind schedule at 1:49 p.m. local time, 7:49 a.m. It is due in Boston in midafternoon.

The pope told the Irish in an airport departure statement: "I thank all the people for the warm and loving reception in which they manifested their keen sense of humanity and their lively faith."

In a final open-air Mass in nearby Limerick, the pontiff urged Roman Catholics to resist growing pressure for the church to liberalize its stand against abortion and divorce.

Only hours before he spoke, terrorists in Northern Ireland refusing to heed the pope's call for peace, raked a British Army Land Rover with gunfire, forcing it to crash and slightly injuring two troops.

The pope departed from Shannon Airport, west of Limerick across the River Shannon, where he had heliported after celebrating Mass in Limerick. Thousands wept openly as the papal helicopter lifted into a leaden sky, a light drizzle falling over Limerick, the multitude singing "The Rivers of Babylon."

"It is very nice that the rain comes on the last day of my visit," the pontiff said with a grin as he stood on a rain-slicked airport tarmac after delivering a papal benediction in Latin.

A choir sang the liturgical ballad "A Derry Air" — "O Danny Boy" — in farewell as the pope, dressed in white cassock and a scarlet cloak, blessed, shook hands and embraced scores of well-wishers gathered on the tarmac.

After a final papal benediction and a gesture of embrace from the steps to the Aer Lingus flagship, dubbed "St. Patrick," the green, blue and white Boeing 747 flew off to Boston.

"Among those waiting to greet you on the other side of the Atlantic will be many of our brave," Irish President Patrick Hillery told the pope in a farewell address at the airport.

Cardinal Tomás O'Flaich, primate of all Ireland, told the pope that while he was here Ireland was "a whole people on pilgrimage and a whole nation at prayer."

"Pope John Paul will have no respite, America waits," said the commentator for the live coverage on the Irish television broadcast as the helicopter neared Shannon Airport.

The Polish pontiff addressed an estimated 400,000 Catholics from Ireland's traditionally conservative southwest who gathered at Limerick's race track.

The Mass at Limerick was cut short after communion, a priest announced, because the pope "is very tired" and "has a long journey ahead of him." A flight of pigeons was released to mark the end of the ceremony.

The pontiff has put in extremely long days during his Irish tour. He has delivered six major speeches and a score of minor addresses while criss-crossing Ireland over a total distance of about 780 miles. Of the pope's 52 hours in Ireland, about 39 have been filled with public or semi-public activities, leaving him about 13 hours for rest.

The pope then entered his crowd-touring vehicle, a big yellow compartment carried on the back of a truck.

The crowd cheered wildly as the pope walked on the race turf to the simple covered altar. Then the deeply religious country folk sat in the stands with their hands clasped as the pontiff told them:

"Abortion, as the Vatican Council stated, is one of the abominable crimes. To attack unborn life at any moment from its conception is to undermine the whole moral order which is the true guardian of the well-being of man."

He said of divorce that "the stability and sanctity of marriage are being threatened by new ideas and by the aspirations of some."

"Divorce, for whatever reason it is introduced, inevitably becomes easier and easier to obtain and it gradually comes to be accepted as a normal part of life..."

"Pray, pray not to be led into temptation. Now is the time of testing for Ireland, this generation is once more a generation of decision."

"The very possibility of divorce in the sphere of civil law makes stable and permanent marriages more difficult for everyone," the pope said.

In Odessa hearing, DOE offers information 'justifying' WIPP

By RICHARD MASON
Staff Writer

ODESSA — Officials of the U.S. Department of Energy during a public hearing here this morning presented information which they said would justify the location of a nuclear waste repository in southeastern New Mexico.

Officials addressed the topics of transportation of the wastes, conflicts with energy and mineral resources and potential contamination of West Texas water supplies.

The hearing began this morning at 9 a.m. at The University of Texas at the Permian Basin, and centered on the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant proposed for construction near Carlsbad, N.M.

The DOE is conducting this hearing and others on the draft environmental impact statement for the project. Comments raised in the hearings will be included in the final environmental impact statement.

D.T. Schueler, an official with WIPP in Albuquerque, said today the WIPP project will only contain military-produced transuranic waste and that the project will not be licensed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

"The scope of the project has reverted to what originally was conceived by the department."

"THE LICENSING of the facility has been dropped," Schueler said. "There is no process through which the NRC can currently license such a facility," he said.

The original draft environmental impact statement released in April proposed locating highly radioactive spent fuel from commercial nuclear reactors at the WIPP facility.

Schueler said experiments with high-level radioactive wastes would be conducted at the facility. Those wastes would be removed when the plant was sealed.

Schueler added, however, that the equivalent of NRC licensing is available to the state of New Mexico.

The WIPP official said New Mexico would be included in the "consultation and concurrence process" for the proposed plant.

He characterized the environmental impact statement as a decision-making and legal document which would confine the DOE to agreements contained in the final document.

"We do not have to develop the best site," Schueler said. "Only the most suitable site must be identified. The Los Medanos meets that criteria."

LOS MEDANOS IS the name of an area 25 miles southeast of Carlsbad, N.M., where the DOE plans to build WIPP.

Under questioning from panel member Dr. John H. Cumberland, Schueler said the DOE could make unilateral changes on the project's scope even after the final environmental statement has been completed.

The decision on licensing or not was made by Congress — not by the DOE, Schueler said.

Robert Jefferson, an engineer with Sandia Laboratory in Albuquerque, N.M., maintained risks in transporting nuclear material had dropped substantially since the decision this summer to delete storage of spent fuel rods at the WIPP site.

Jefferson said further that existing legislation would provide insurance coverage of up to $560 million in the event of an accident.

Jefferson said a federal Emergency Management System has been established to deal with any accidents resulting in a spill of radioactive material.

IN ADDITION, THERE are state agencies which can deal with any (See DOE, Page 2A)

Panamanian flag now flying on Ancon Hill in Canal Zone

BALBOA, Panama (AP) — President Arnaldo Rojo raised the Panamanian flag over Ancon Hill this morning, symbolically taking control of the Panama Canal Zone from the United States, which officially surrendered the area at midnight Sunday.

The 650-foot hill just inside the former Canal Zone long has meant to Panama America's 76-year occupation of the 466-square-mile area. Vice President Mondale stood beside Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo as the flag climbed the 150-foot pole and a presidential band played the national anthem. Five other Latin American heads of state and other dignitaries stood around the base of the flagpole for the brief ceremony.

The giant flag, which will be floodlit at night, will be visible for miles, including from ships waiting in Panama Bay to enter the canal.

The summit of the hill was shrouded in fog just before the ceremony began, but cleared in time to permit a clear view of Panama City, the bay and the canal. "It is a view few Panamanians have ever seen," Rojo told Nicaraguan junta member Violeta Chamorro.

In Panama City below, firecrackers popped, sirens wailed and horns honked as thousands of Panamanians paraded into the zone for a giant rally at Albrook air field.

Changes in school policy keep the question of student discipline alive

EDITOR'S NOTE: Changing ideas in a changing society make school discipline one of the more complex issues facing schools today. This is the second of a six-part series examining the problem and possible solutions.

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

In the battle for better discipline, teachers are on the front lines. Building principals, front office administrators and the school board take a secondary role in the face of the enormous responsibility placed on teachers to control students so they can teach them.

But teachers have been chafing under a series of changes in discipline policies spawned by court cases — changes designed to protect the rights of students.

Teachers are allowed to spank a student "with the approval and sanction of the building principal," Manuel Carrasco, director of elementary education for MISD, said, but the punishment usually is administered by the principal or his assistant.

"The cool-headed approach is much better" in paddlings, Carrasco noted. "Kids are human beings and have their own feelings about things."

Some teachers contend they are not allowed to discipline children because of a timidity on the part of the school administration.

"We get as much backing from the administration as they feel they can give with the backing they get from the central office," one high school teacher put it carefully.

BUT "A LOT OF TEACHERS and administrators don't feel they have the backing. They are afraid and take the easy way out."

"They don't do anything," the teacher added.

With more teachers more concerned about unruly students, a form of backlash has been in the making.

House Bill 8, passed in the last session of the Texas Legislature "at the urging of teacher groups, sets up a procedure to allow a teacher to remove an "incorrigible student" from her classroom for the remainder of the year.

"House Bill 8 has provided us with a new challenge to meet," according to Carrasco.

Teachers technically have had the right to remove unruly students, but under guidelines set out in the new legislation, a teacher now has a way of making sure a serious problem gets serious attention within three days of her initial report.

Teachers still can send unruly students to the principal's office for a little face-to-face counseling as they always have, Carrasco noted.

But in the event traditional methods don't work, the law requires a meeting with the parent, student, teacher and principal within three days "and hopefully the same day" after the teacher has notified her principal she wants to invoke her rights under HB 8, he said.

MISD guidelines for the law, drawn up by a committee of teachers and administrators, require the teacher to fully document the student's incorrigible behavior to "prevent a 'shoot from the hip' kind of thing," Carrasco said.

"Teachers and principals are human beings," he said. "We get to the point we're tired of it."

PROCEDURES OUTLINED under the bill, however, strengthen the position of the teacher by allowing her to trigger the legislative mechanism and giving her a right to appeal if the principal disagrees with her.

The mechanism also insures the rights of the student by guaranteeing him or her a hearing; it also involves the parent with the problem early on.

"It (the new provision) should create a better understanding between the teacher, principal and parent," Carrasco noted.

The Midland district took a step toward increasing that understanding two years ago when it adopted a new district-wide discipline policy for elementary schools, based on the premise that the key to good discipline is consistency.

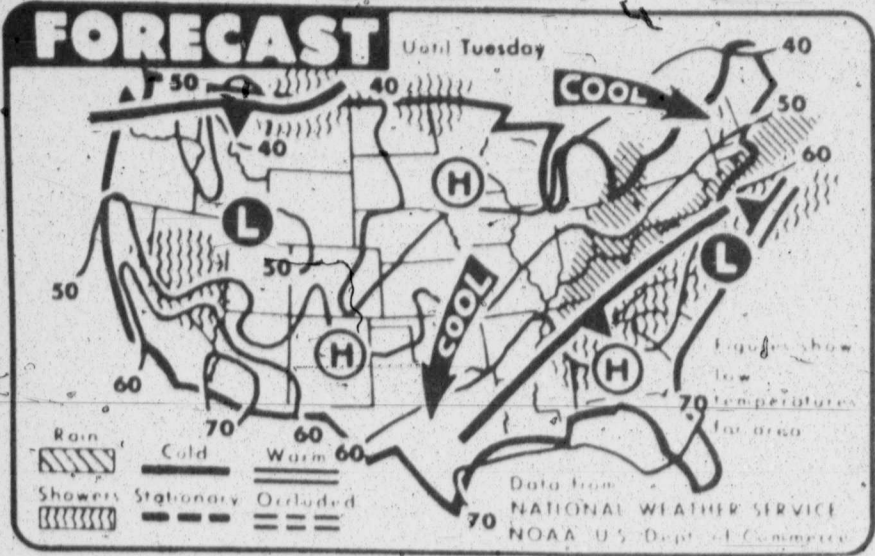

The Midland cluster program allows kindergartners through third graders to stay in their neighborhood schools, but buses fourth through sixth graders to two different schools during the next three years.

The elementary discipline handbook was adopted to cut down on confusion when rules change from school to school, Carrasco said.

"Before the cluster program, everybody took care of their own," he

October bringing the Basin cooler weather — for now

The beginning of October should bring cooler weather to the Permian Basin, but don't break out the firewood yet, the weatherman said today.

Skies should be fair, but temperatures cooler tonight and Tuesday, according to the National Weather Service office at Midland Regional Airport.

Low tonight should be in the low 50s, with Tuesday's high expected to be in the still-pleasant mid-80s.

Teachers have new recourse for punishment with HB 8 noted. In the pre-cluster days, elementary discipline ordinarily could be handled with consistency throughout the student's elementary career without trouble.

Student handbooks given to each student or his parent at the beginning of the school year standardize rules within all the elementary schools.

Principals still have the leeway to determine exact punishments for individual students based on circumstances at the time, but minimums and maximums are spelled out in the handbook.

THE HANDBOOKS ARE helpful in a number of ways, Carrasco pointed out. Punishments can be explained to both students and parents in terms of written policy — "If you do this, this is the consequence."

While some policies in the book may need revision this year, Carrasco said, (the ban on candy and soft drinks put an unexpected damper on a number of holiday celebrations at some schools) "generally it's been very favorably received."

Despite the handbook, as well as despite district policies and attitudes on allowing students to "develop as individuals," there comes a time in discipline when somebody has to tell a kid "this is the way it will be period. Somebody's got to lay the rules and enforce them. If it's not the parents, we sometimes have problems."

Primary responsibility for "laying down the rules" is given to teachers, who are told to individualize their instruction to keep all their students interested and busy.

But some instructors — even veterans of the profession — contend individualizing can only go so far within the framework of a classroom.

ANOTHER TOOL given elementary teachers this year was a pre-school training session in discipline techniques.

The program, part of the schools' regular inservice training, marked the first time in recent memory that formal teacher training in discipline had been offered districtwide, although discipline guides and other material have been available on an individual basis.

One Midland elementary school teacher, leaving the session which stressed the LEAST method of discipline — a program based on doing the minimum necessary to control student behavior — acknowledged the training should be helpful.

"With as little as we're able to do, anything will help," she said.

Priority is assigned to pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter and Mexico's President Jose Lopez Portillo have agreed to give high priority to the issue of air and water pollution shared by their nations.

The two men decided Saturday to work toward an agreement that would "lessen or eliminate environmental damage in the future," a joint statement said.

Such a pact would help U.S. and Mexican officials deal with the aftermath of disasters like the Mexican oil well blowout that spilled a large oil slick in the Gulf of Mexico and tarred Texas beaches. There currently is no international agreement establishing financial responsibility for such incidents, Carter has acknowledged.

Discussions also will focus on U.S.-produced pollution that crosses the border into Mexico, officials stressed. Mexican officials are said to be concerned about air pollution from border cities like San Diego and pollution from the Colorado River.

The 90-minute session Saturday at the White House covered topics ranging from the Middle East, Cuba and SALT II to prospects for U.S. purchase of Mexican oil and cross-border sales of electricity.

The meeting marked the end of two days of talks, which Carter described as "delightful." Lopez Portillo expressed "profound satisfaction" with his second U.S. visit during Carter's presidency.

A joint statement said the two men "agreed on the need for both countries to prevent actions on one side of the land or maritime boundary from degrading the environment on the other side."

Both advised their administrations to give the matter a "high priority" and asked their negotiators to determine whether an anti-pollution agreement is "possible or appropriate," the statement said.

The statement said the two leaders also "paid special attention" to the migrant worker issue, agreeing to try for more accurate figures on the numbers of Mexicans who cross the U.S. border illegally. Carter said he had asked state governors to protect the rights of those immigrants, the statement said.

Greeks push for more ties with Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis arrived in Moscow today to begin what Greek diplomats called a "definite push" for expanded ties between his NATO nation and the Soviet Union.

Karamanlis, the first Greek Premier to visit the Soviet Union, was met at Moscow airport by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Minister of Culture Pyotr Demichev, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

During his visit, Karamanlis and Soviet officials will sign a joint communique outlining Greek-Soviet relations, as well as broad agreements covering trade, technical cooperation and political ties, Greek sources said.

However, Greek diplomats emphasized that Greece has no intention of abandoning its traditional ties with the West or its membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Nonetheless, NATO officials are expected to watch the Karamanlis visit closely, especially in light of a recent Soviet-Greek agreement to allow Russian ships to undergo repairs at a shipyard on the Greek island of Stryos.

While Greece remains a member of the NATO political alliance, it pulled out of the organization's military force in 1974 to protest the invasion of Cyprus by Turkey, also a NATO member.

The Communist Party newspaper Pravda noted the visit by putting a photograph of Karamanlis on page one. In an accompanying story, Pravda said the Soviet Union welcomes the Greek premier and hopes his visit will promote "the further development and strengthening of the traditional friendly ties between the U.S.S.R. and Greece."

Pravda sees no real reasons for alienation

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda declared today that there are "no objective reasons for alienation between the people of the Soviet Union and China and even less for hostility and confrontation between them."

But the statement by the Communist Party newspaper said the outcome of the current Moscow talks on normalizing relations with China will depend on how much Peking's upbeat official statements are reflected in "concrete and practical" negotiating positions.

The Pravda commentary followed an official greeting to China's leaders by the Soviet government, warmer in tone than an anniversary greeting last year. Pravda printed the greeting Sunday, but there appeared to be no congratulatory message from the Soviet Communist Party to China's leading party.

DOE defends proposed nuclear waste facility

Jefferson said. Jefferson acknowledged, however, that no process exists for awarding damages for illnesses which might develop in the area of a nuclear accident up to 30 years after an accident.

Some critics contend there is a carcinogenic lag of up to 30 years after exposure to radiation.

"This is a problem that hasn't been resolved," Jefferson said.

Jefferson alluded to a recent incident in which leakage problems occurred while nuclear wastes were being shipped in Nevada.

He said, "most accidents involve low level wastes, not the type that will be involved in shipments to WIPP."

Wendell Weart, a WIPP official from Albuquerque, poo-pooed the notion that West Texas water supplies would be contaminated by radioactive leaks from the WIPP site. Weart contended plutonium would take 100,000 years to reach the Pecos River.

Train wreck fatal to two

KHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A freight train plowed into the rear of another freight early today, killing two men and scattering 22 cars along the Schuylkill River in Upper Providence Township, a Conrail spokesman said.

The victims were carried to Montgomery Hospital in Norristown but their identities were being withheld pending notification of relatives, spokesman Gary Fulton said.

The rest of about eight crew members were not injured, he said.

Roversford policeman Sgt. Severon said it appeared the second train knocked the last two cars of the first train off the track and then plowed under the other cars.

Train cars were strewn about, with one car landing standing on end.

"The engine of the second train was just torn into a thousand pieces," one witness said.

Conrail officials had no immediate comment on the cause of the crash, but witnesses said it appeared the second train plowed into the rear of the first train as it was waiting for a signal to enter a tunnel.

The accident disrupted commuter service on the Reading line, with commuters being bused between Roversford and Phoenixville, officials said.

"WE TRIED TO ASSURE ourselves the site would provide integrity for the plant for a quarter of a million years," he said.

Weart said there were two areas of concern over hydrology at the site. These included aquifers above the plant location and aquifers below.

"Even after 100,000 years, we won't see any plutonium appearing in the Pecos River," he said.

It's unlikely aquifers below the WIPP site would be contaminated, Weart said.

The only potential that does exist for contamination involves the upper-level aquifers which empty into the Pecos River.

Weart said the DOE will be conducting additional tests on ground water flow in the vicinity of the WIPP site.

"We will be doing trace tests to get a handle on the permeability (in the aquifers) that may exist. We think the results we have now are valid."

Officials from both the state of Texas and the state of New Mexico were scheduled to make presentations at the hearing this afternoon.

Officers frustrated in hunt for missing 2-year-old child

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Law enforcement officers say they are becoming increasingly frustrated by the lack of progress in their search for a 2-year-old boy and the babysitter believed to have abducted him.

Despite numerous unconfirmed reports of sightings in several states, authorities said today that they had no solid clues as to the whereabouts of Jamie Moksheski and his 15-year-old babysitter.

"It's unbelievable. We have nothing on it," said detective Sgt. Terry Rorick of the El Paso County Sheriff's Department. "It seems like most of the spotters are calling from New Mexico and here in Colorado."

Jamie, who suffers from severe asthma, and Letha Rose Kingsbury of Cheyenne, Wyo., disappeared Tuesday after leaving his parents' rented mobile home in Colorado Springs to buy candy at a nearby store.

The search has been extended to Texas, Wyoming and Arizona, where the girl is known to have relatives.

A kidnap warrant was issued for Miss Kingsbury by El Paso County.

Miss Kingsbury was taken into the Moksheski home on Sept. 20, the day she was released from the El Paso County jail after serving 45 days for prostitution under the alias of Jo Ann Ferguson, 18.

Charles Moksheski, Jamie's father, said he saw the girl wandering along a highway near Colorado Springs. He said that when he stopped, she told him she was orphaned and homeless.

Moksheski took the girl into his home to care for his ailing wife, Vera, and their four children in exchange for room and board.

UAW overwhelmingly approves new contract

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union rank and file have overwhelmingly approved a new three-year national contract with General Motors Corp., the nation's No. 1 automaker.

Approval came by better than a 2-1 margin, with 72 percent in favor, the union announced Sunday night with 152 of 154 locals reporting.

The union put the tally at 129,374 in favor and 51,391 against.

UAW president Douglas Fraser and vice president Irving Bluestone said GM had been formally notified of the ratification.

The announcement came after two weeks of voting on the pact reached by UAW and GM bargainers Sept. 17, about five hours before a midnight national strike deadline.

The two UAW officers said 75 percent of the production workers who voted and 61 percent of the skilled workers approved the new agreement.

The contract provides for hefty pension increases and will grant most workers a 10 percent pay boost each year.

It also extends automatic recognition to the union in new plants, continues the traditional 3 percent annual pay increase and enhances the current cost-of-living allowance in the third year.

The contract with the strike target company — which was GM this year — is generally considered the pattern-setting agreement for the industry.

The union is negotiating with Ford Motor Co. on a contract and has set Oct. 1 as the strike deadline.

The union ruled Chrysler Corp. out as a strike target when negotiations began, Fraser said he realized the union's responsibility to consider the No. 3 automaker's dire financial picture, but said the UAW couldn't deal with Chrysler on a specific contract until settlements were reached with GM and Ford.

Americans await pontiff's arrival

Some spend the night in Boston Common to get a spot

BOSTON (AP) — Despite a chilling mist and the threat of steady rain, scores of spectators, the vanguard of an estimated 2 million people, kept an all-night vigil near the Boston Common, waiting for a spot to see Pope John Paul II at the start of his tour of six U.S. cities.

Officials predicted the pope's visit would more than double Boston's population as special trains and buses carried in pilgrims. Much of the city — groomed and draped with papal flags — was closed, late Sunday, to most traffic.

Teams of police and National Guardsmen began clearing the specially-marked motorcade route earlier in the weekend.

An afternoon papal Mass at the downtown park, once the spot where Puritans pilloried and hanged Quakers, was expected to attract between 400,000 and 1 million people — and at least one demonstration — to this city of 640,000. Another 1 million people were expected to line the 20-mile route of the pope's motorcade.

Cold, rainy weather did not deter many who waited through the night for the Common, roped off by police Sunday, to re-open at 7 a.m.

"We wanted to have the experience first hand. It's something you can't grasp on television," said Wayne

Bates, 19, who with Jim Standing, 17, set up camp on a street corner within sight of the red carpeted altar.

Standing and Bates, arrived equipped with sleeping bags, doughnuts and fruit juice. They planned to stay awake until the Common opened.

"We'll sleep when we get the spot we want," said Standing.

Black state legislators said they would lead a march from the city's Roxbury section to the Common to protest Friday's shooting of a black high school football player in predominantly white Charlestown.

Darryl Williams, 15, was paralyzed from the neck down in the shooting. Three white youths were arrested Sunday in connection with the incident.

"We could not in good conscience allow the person who is responsible for peoples' moral and spiritual lives to be unaware of what is happening here," said state Rep. Mel King, protest leader.

King, who said he believed the shooting was racially inspired, said the demonstrators would carry banners in hopes that John Paul would read them.

After the pope's visit to Boston, he will visit New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Washington and Des Moines, Iowa. Cardinal Humberto Medeiros, the leader of the 2 million-member Boston Archdiocese, and first lady Rosalynn Carter were to greet the pope at the airport.

His Boston schedule included a motorcade through the city's predominantly Italian-American North End, South Boston and predominantly Irish-American Dorchester, and a prayer service for 2,000 New England priests.

The Mass on Boston Common was scheduled for 5 p.m. The pope was to spend the night at the cardinal's residence, then leave Tuesday morning for New York.

A security force of 10,000, including National Guard, state troopers and local police were mustered to provide security. The papal visit touched off a controversy over who would pay the bills when it was announced last month.

After the American Civil Liberties Union protested city plans to pick up half the costs for a $140,000 platform and altar at Boston Common, abortion and birth control advocate Bill Baird went to federal court for an injunction against the Mass.

His move was blunted when archdiocese officials announced the Church would pay all costs. Another Baird challenge, charging that the archdiocese was giving preferential treatment to Catholics by reserving 20,000 spaces around the altar, was dismissed when a U.S. District Court judge ruled the Church had the right to select participants in the service.

He will receive communion, despite bumper corn crop

NAZARETH, Texas (AP) — A bumper corn crop and an invitation to receive communion from Pope John Paul II made for a dilemma for farmer Jerome Brockman, a church deacon in this West Texas town.

Should he help his brother with the harvest? Or should he kneel before Pope John Paul II, one of 10 farmers selected to receive communion from the Polish prelate at a rural mass in Iowa during the Pope's forthcoming visit to the United States?

The dilemma was solved by a little prodding from Brockman's wife.

"I just told him that I'd kill him if we didn't go, that's all," said Margaret Brockman.

Brockman, along with nine other American farmers whose number includes a Southern Baptist, was selected by the National Catholic Rural Life Conference to receive communion from the pope at an outdoor mass Thursday near Des Moines.

"To be perfectly honest, I wasn't going to go at first," Brockman said. "I even called some other people I thought might be interested in taking my place. My brother and I have about 500 acres of corn this year, and it looks pretty good. I just didn't think it would be fair to leave him here to do it all."

Brockman has no intention of turning the trip into a vacation. "Yeah, we're going, but we'll be coming right back to finish the harvest," he said Saturday. "From what I've heard about this outdoor mass, I'm figuring that one day might be about all the excitement we can handle." Brockman's life in his town and his service to his church span nearly 50 years, and the Iowa celebration will mark his second anniversary as a deacon.

American view of pope very positive, poll says

By Evans Witt

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have high hopes for Pope John Paul II's visit to this country, even if they are not happy with the spending of public funds in connection with his visit, a special Associated Press-NBC News poll says.

The public in general has a very positive view of the pontiff, although there is substantial disagreement with several official church positions.

The poll found 38 percent of those interviewed said the pope's seven-day visit to United States will have a positive impact on religion in this country. Five percent predicted a negative impact and 37 percent said it would have no impact or were not sure.

Among Catholics, 74 percent foresaw benefits from the visit, 3 percent foresaw problems and 23 percent either saw no benefits nor problems or could not say.

The traditional and constitutional division between church and state is reflected in the public opposition to spending public money in connection with the papal visit. While most of the cost of the visit is being defrayed by private donations or church funds, government money is paying for police protection and some facilities. Lawsuits have been filed in several cities challenging such uses of funds.

Overall, 24 percent approved of spending government money on the visit, while 69 percent disapproved. Seven percent were not sure.

Even Catholics opposed such spending, by a 58-36 margin. The special AP-NBC News poll is based on telephone interviews with 1,600 adults across the country Sept. 24 and 25. Twenty-eight percent of those interviewed — 449 respondents — said they were members of the Roman Catholic Church.

Fifty-six percent of all those questioned said they approved of John Paul II's stewardship as leader of the Roman Catholic Church. Only 7 percent disapproved and 37 percent were not sure.

Seventy-nine percent of the Catholics approved of the pope's work in his first year in office, 6 percent disapproved and 15 percent were not sure.

Among non-Catholics, 46 percent approved of his work and 46 percent were not sure. Eight percent disapproved.

Both Catholic and non-Catholic Americans tended to disagree with several official Roman Catholic Church positions.

All Americans approve of divorce, even when there are children involved, by a 65-25 percent margin. Catholics approved by a similar 63-28 edge.

Americans overall approve of ordaining women as priests and ministers by 57 percent to 35 percent. However, Catholics split, with 46 percent favoring female priests and 48 percent opposing such ordinations. The remainder were not sure. With the 6 percent margin of error implicit in the figures for Catholics, that can only be said to be an even split.

Catholics say the church should approve of artificial methods of birth control. Sixty-six percent support such a change and 27 percent oppose it. By a 76-19 edge, they add that it is possible to use such methods and still be a good Catholic. The rest were not sure.

By a 53-40 edge, Catholics said priests should be allowed to marry. On the subject of abortion on demand, Catholics divide, with 50 percent in favor and 45 percent opposed — a statistically insignificant difference. For non-Catholics, the split is wider and is significant — 54 percent in favor and 40 percent opposed to abortion on demand. The remainder were not sure.

As with every sample survey, the results of the AP-NBC News poll can vary from the opinions of all those with telephones across the country because of chance variations in the sample.

The papal schedule

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Here is a schedule of activities for Pope John Paul II in the United States today, the first of seven days in the United States:

'Lest they be judged'

The equivocation of the Senate Ethics Committee toward Sen. Herman E. Talmadge's financial misconduct, even though disguised in tough language, doesn't seem to have surprised either the American media or public. That this should be true is a measure of the continuing disillusionment with Washington.

Through subpoenaed records and the sworn testimony of the senator's chief aide, the committee found that the Georgia Democrat had deposited more than $10,000 in campaign contributions in a secret bank account for his personal use, and embezzled $43,435 from the U.S. Treasury by making false claims for Senate expenses, and had funneled almost $40,000 through his secret bank account during just two years, 1973-74.

Two lesser charges were dropped because of insufficient evidence.

All of this was judged to be "reprehensible" by the Ethics Committee, which "denounced" Senator Talmadge's handling of government funds for bringing the Senate into "dishonor and disrepute."

Actually, despite these sharp words, the committee didn't exactly chop down on a bullet. One must understand the special jargon of the Senate to know that this denunciation was not really what it was meant by the senators to seem.

Where the Ethics Committee failed was in its 5-1 vote against censure, which is generally recognized as a sort of senatorial excommunication — a denunciation with teeth and a challenge to the voters. Censure has been invoked only twice in modern times: against the late Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., for allegedly converting testimonial dinner funds for his personal use, and against the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy for ruthless investigative tactics. And the Senate's presiding officer during the Nixon years, Vice President Spiro Agnew, was forced to resign without benefit of censure or denunciation for his alleged acceptance of kickbacks.

Senator Talmadge promptly hailed the committee's failure to censure him as a complete vindication and once again blamed everything on mere "errors in my office."

Only Sen. Harrison Schmitt, R-

N.M., voted for censure. And, although a post-Watergate cynicism may accommodate to the anti-censure vote by all the Democrats on the Ethics Committee, one can only marvel at their being joined by the likes of Republican members, Jesse Helms of North Carolina and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon.

It remains to be seen whether the Justice Department, which is now studying the evidence against Senator Talmadge, will charge him with federal crimes. But, we can assume he has escaped the more severe Senate punishment meted out to others for similar or lesser crimes because he is simply more popular than his former colleagues in sin. He's a noted Southern bourbon, one of the good 'ole boys, and a Capitol Hill mover and shaker as Agriculture Committee chairman and second ranking Democratic member of the Senate Finance Committee.

Under these circumstances, senators adhere more eagerly than usual to the biblical injunction against passing judgment lest they be judged:

It appears we must look to Georgia's voters to deal with Senator Talmadge when he comes up for re-election next year. But then, the picture comes to mind of "Huhman" on the stump at some rural barbecue, snapping his suspenders and railing against the Yankee press and other conspirators.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Explosives smuggled by pilots

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Federal investigators have uncovered chilling evidence that Chile's state-owned airline, Lan Chile, has been used to smuggle explosives to terrorists in the United States and elsewhere — apparently at the direction of the Chilean secret police.

The smuggling was done by Lan Chile pilots, taking advantage of the informal exemption that airline pilots enjoy from strict customs searches. The explosives would be in small quantities in envelopes carried by the pilots, who were afraid to incur the wrath of the secret police by refusing.

The explosives used in the bombing assassination of exile leader Orlando Letelier in Washington, D.C., three years ago were brought in by Lan Chile pilots, confessed assassin Michael Vernon Townley told investigators. And Townley's getaway was arranged through the Chilean airline.

Much of the investigation was based on Townley's statements, though not everything he said was accepted as reliable. Townley told Assistant U.S. Attorney Eugene Propper the explosives he used in the remote-control bomb, which killed Letelier as he was driving to work past the Chilean Embassy, had been "placed in envelopes and sent as correspondence through friendly Lan Chile pilots."

Townley told investigators that on the day of the assassination he "contacted a Lan Chile pilot, who agreed to sign a voucher for a one-way ticket to Santiago" for Townley in a false name. The ticket was paid for by Lan Chile's private account.

In his public testimony, Townley gave the impression that the smuggling operation was the result of "friendly contacts" he had cultivated with Lan Chile personnel.

But government sources told our associate Dale Van Atta there was a lot more to it than that. They said the pilots were afraid to turn down requests by Townley and other secret police agents. The same fear of reprisal led Lan Chile executives to cooperate in their government's secret campaign of terrorism abroad, the sources said.

For example, a New York official of the airline, Fernando Cruchaga, arranged car rental and credit for Townley in a false name. Meetings between Townley and Chilean secret police agents to plot the Letelier murder were held in Lan Chile's executive lounge and office at Kennedy International Airport. And on at least three occasions a Lan Chile employee spied on meetings between Letelier and a United Nations official, Gabriel Valdes.

Townley also told federal investigators about the Chilean airline's involvement in terrorist missions in Paraguay, West Germany and Mexico.

So far, the investigators have uncovered no evidence that the Cuban secret police, "reformed" by President Augusto Pinochet in the aftermath of the Letelier assassination, are still carrying on their illegal activities.

But the evidence unearthed in the Lan Chile investigation has officials concerned that other state-owned airlines may have been used for similar terrorist operations.

PENSION BONANZA: As a farewell gesture of his buddies, Matt

CHARLEY REESE

Florida businessman has idea that 'grows on you'

By CHARLEY REESE
Sun Belt Syndicate

ORLANDO, Fla. — How would you like to send the following message to Congress:

"Since you are no longer able to find any solution to the daily problems which we all have, and since most of you have been in office many, many years, we, the American people, ask you to admit defeat. We, the voters of the United States, find it necessary to ask you...to either (1) resign, or (2) announce that you will not seek re-election to public office again. Please."

The author of that message, R.D. Wiseman, a whimsical Orlando businessman believes millions of Americans would like to send it and he and a group of his friends are determined to spread the word.

They want to form a committee with groups in every state which has only one purpose: to urge voters to vote against incumbents.

Wiseman's idea may not be original — most aren't — but he may have just the right combination of humor and non-ideological calmness to pull it off. Wiseman isn't political and isn't really angry. Irritated would be a better description.

"I was thinking the other day," he mused, "that there is nothing wrong with our country except the politicians. We are probably in the best shape — physically, financially, morally and spiritually we ever have been. We've got a fine, bright young generation and it's just a shame they have to live under the stigma these characters have created.

"There's no way an incumbent can wiggle out of it. They've wasted billions and billions of our dollars. They're either part of the problem or they're too ineffective to solve it so the only thing to do is get rid of all of them."

"If you start saying, 'Well, this guy is pretty good,' or 'I like that one,' you'll end up right back where you started. Nope, you've got to vote them all out and start over. You can't tell me that in a country of 220 million people, you can't find 600 or so who aren't better than the ones we've got."

I'm inclined to think Wiseman has a point. The political shock effect of a massive defeat of incumbents would probably do more to reform politicians than even the Second Coming.

I can assure you the loss of experience would be a benefit, not a disadvantage. Most of the experience is nothing more than practice in bamboozling the public.

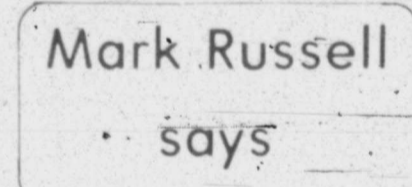

When a politician says he's learned the ropes, he really means he's located the most generous lobbyists, mastered the little parliamentary tricks used to fool the folks back home, and sampled all the wonderful fringe benefits of being a congressman.

It is a big myth that being a legislator is a tough job. The incumbents themselves are prima facie evidence that no great amount of brains or judgment is necessary to sit in the high halls of Congress. What is tough is keeping the people back home from finding out the truth.

A colleague of mine swears a Kansas freshman once confided to a close supporter, "Why this job pays $31,000 a year — in salary alone." Of course, many a raise has been voted since.

It is ridiculous, when you analyze it, that the Congress should vote itself such a plush life. We ask our sons and daughters, when they join the armed services, to undergo considerable hardship and sacrifice in the service of their nation. Congressmen, who are already in the top 5 percent of the population in salary alone, scream bloody murder when even a small perquisite is threatened.

By golly, Wiseman has an idea that grows on you.

Some unsolicited advice to a few GOP candidates: Ronald Reagan — since age is a problem, start doing cereal commercials and try to get a guest shot on The Muppet Show.

John Connally — Governor, I respectfully submit that you remind people of a Mississippi gambler holding a poker hand. Start campaigning in a 1964 Chevy and try to get an endorsement from the Osmond family.

Howard Baker — Your big drawback is that appearance of innocence. Start playing poker on the Mississippi. Dark glasses would help, and try to get an endorsement from Robert Vesco.

Robert Dole — What's with this Mr. Nice Guy stuff? We liked you better as a gut fighter. Get out your hatchet and try to get an endorsement from Frank Rizzo.

Jerry Ford — What is this coy routine? Put away your clubs and get into the fight. I know you can get tough with Carter. Your slogan could be "Nobody let in 3,000 Russians at Nixon's pardon."

INSIDE REPORT:

Carter's decision on Cuban affair dwarfs past choices

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The fate of both Jimmy Carter's beleaguered presidency and U.S.-Soviet relations depends on whether the president sticks to the tone he himself sounded in this steely, closed-door rebuke of the Soviets on Sept. 20. "They're lying."

Such straightforward talk is unusual by President Carter. He was not in a word-mincing mood as he outlined his hopes and fears that day before congressional leaders and administration officials. Six days earlier in another private White House briefing, he had used a similar phrase: "They lied to us."

Such talk, however, could prove misleading as the showdown over the Soviet combat brigade approaches. Nobody knows whether he will follow national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski's advice and order a balanced buildup of U.S. power in response to Moscow's intransigence, or whether he maneuvers out of the crisis with a face-saving gesture, as the State Department would prefer.

This time, Carter cannot pick evenly between Brzezinski and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance as he did in his bifurcated Annapolis speech in June 1978. This time he must choose.

Some of Vance's lieutenants — and probably Vance himself — are counselling super-caution. Vance's Soviet expert, Dr. Marshall Shulman, was not at all happy when Vance laid down even the limited stricture to the Kremlin that "the maintenance of the status quo" is unacceptable. To Shulman, even that cautious formulation restricted U.S. freedom of action to back down, in case the Soviet Union should refuse to change the status quo.

Shulman's inside counsel to Vance to risk nothing with Moscow that might upset the SALT II timetable was the exact opposite of the mood in the Cabinet Room when Carter and the congressional leaders assembled Thursday morning. Carter described what one White House aide called the "unrelentingly tough attitude of the Soviets" toward the U.S. demand. Sen. Jacob Javits, the Senate's single strongest Republican supporter of the new Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT II), responded with a surprising appeal to postpone Senate consideration of the treaty.

Carter flatly rejected Javits' proposal to shelve SALT II until the Russians remove their combat troops from Cuba. Nevertheless, there are clues pointing to a hardening presidential attitude.

Carter was furious when Under Secretary of State David Newsom, in a background briefing for newsmen, suggested the Soviet brigade might be in Cuba "to demonstrate large unit tactics and field maneuvers to Cuban soldiers," not for combat. That argument made it seem the administration was looking for a way out.

"Jimmy Carter is a patient man who is losing his patience," one of Carter's senior aides, not associated with foreign policy, told us. That implies — but does not guarantee — the president will line up with Brzezinski if the Soviets continue to stonewall. The aide guesses this will be Carter's course.

Brzezinski has presented Carter and the National Security Council (NSC) with options to force a Soviet retreat: a buildup of U.S. naval forces in the Caribbean; breaking off U.S.-Soviet talks on demilitarizing the Indian Ocean and on force reductions in Central Europe; highly visible offers of the sale of Western arms to communist China. Eventually, if there is no Soviet backdown, Washington could clamp down on U.S. exports of high technology desperately wanted by Moscow.

That is only the start of what Brzezinski wants. Spotting the contradictory advice that Carter has received from Vance and Brzezinski ever since he became president, Brzezinski is making a strong case for Carter to go beyond the Soviet combat brigade in his answer to Moscow and demand new restraints on Cuba's worldwide subversive role.

The Brzezinski NSC staff was angry with the State Department's Sept. 15 answer to questions about why another OSA-class vessel was being towed from the Soviet Union to Cuba (it is now traversing the Canary Islands). Not to worry, said the department, a "routine" transfer of military equipment. To the Brzezinski apparatus, that official State Department reply undermined the formal U.S. protest to the Kremlin last December over the dispatch to Cuba of Soviet arms, including MIG 23 aircraft.

Contradictory advice has marked every step of Jimmy Carter's foreign policy course; with the president more often than not siding with Vance's State Department. The importance of how he reacts in the days ahead to the expected Soviet refusal to remove its combat brigade from Cuba dwarfs past choices.

Boldness could redeem the U.S., however belatedly, in the struggle with Soviet power; to much caution will confirm the U.S. failure of will. Almost incidentally, Carter's slender chances for a second term will hang in the balance.

The DaVinci Trans-America floats over Nebraska farmland as its four occupants try to be the first to complete a transcontinental balloon flight. The balloon was photographed from a private plane near Lorton, Neb., about 40 miles south of Omaha. (AP Laserphoto)

Balloon hovers over Midwest

COOK, Neb. (AP) — The clear nylon bubble was suspended, hovering almost motionless in the warm, sopory haze over Cook. There was little activity in the balloon, the four adventurers aboard taking a Sunday rest like the earthbound populace below.

The flight command center at St. Louis, Mo., said the balloon, attempting a non-stop flight across North America, crossed into Iowa about 20 miles south of Omaha at 8 p.m. Sunday and was to reach Burlington, Iowa, early today.

Aboard the 100-foot high helium Da Vinci Trans-America are Fred Hyde, of Prairie Village, Kan.; Vera Simons of McLean, Va.; Rudolph Emselman of Boulder, Colo.

and NBC-TV cameraman Bandy Birch.

The four lifted off Wednesday from Tillamook, Ore., in their attempt to be the first to fly across North America non-stop in a balloon.

Via ground-to-air mobile telephone, co-pilot Hyde told The Associated Press the ride was "a little bumpy" over Topeka, Kan., earlier in the day.

He said the crew had adjusted to "life in this 10-foot box."

"We have passed the 100-hour mark and if we can stick it out till tomorrow morning, we will have broken the endurance record for balloon flight. I think the record is 136 or 137 hours," he said.

Criminals' rights, accountability among Supreme Court's topics

By RICHARD CARELLI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued scrutiny of governmental power and accountability and the rights of persons suspected of crime could highlight the Supreme Court's new term.

As the nine justices returned to the bench today, a partial agenda already existed. Before starting its three-month summer recess, the court agreed to hear and decide 79 cases sometime before next July.

In the weeks and months ahead, the court will add almost 100 more legal controversies to its 1978-79 hopper. Some likely will focus on arcane points of law, but others could yield decisions affecting the legal rights and lives of all Americans.

To be argued soon after the term begins is a case testing whether the Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration may impose new standards for worker exposure to benzene, a cancer-causing chemical.

The standards, which would affect more than 600,000 workers and initially cost industries up to $500 million, were drawn up in 1977, but struck down last year by a federal appeals court.

The lower court said OSHA was obligated to justify the standards on a cost-benefit basis. Government lawyers told the justices the ruling "may well preclude the secretary (of Labor) from regulating many of the other carcinogens present in the workplace," affecting millions of workers.

Government regulation at the local level is at issue in a case from Schaumburg, Ill., in which the court has agreed to resolve whether communities may bar door-to-door soliciting by charities that don't put at least 75 percent of the proceeds directly to charitable purposes.

Here are some other questions to be answered by the justices this term:

ACCOUNTABILITY

—Can federal prisoners who claim they suffer unconstitutionally cruel and unusual punishment sue the government for damages? A lower court said "yes." But to agree, the Supreme Court once again would have to dent the so-called doctrine of sovereign immunity.

—Can government-appointed lawyers who defend penniless criminal defendants be sued by their clients for negligence? A lower court said "no."

—Can anti-war activists cleared of riot incitement charges in 1973 sue two of their federal prosecutors and an FBI agent? A lower court said the "Gainesville 8" could file such a suit even though the three defendants live in Florida and the lawsuit was filed in Washington, D.C.

—Can the father of a young girl murdered by a convicted sex offender out on parole sue the state officials who paroled his daughter's killer? California courts said "no."

POLICE PROCEDURE

—Can a police conversation held within earshot of a criminal suspect be portrayed as an interrogation and be ruled in violation of the suspect's Miranda rights? A lower court said "yes."

—Can police officers who obtain a warrant to search a public place because they suspect one person who works there of dealing in drugs search everyone who happens to be at the public place? Lower courts said "yes."

—Can an arrest, like a police search, be invalidated because the arresting officer failed to get a court warrant? Lower courts said "no."

FREE SPEECH AND FREE PRESS

—Can the federal government always require U.S. armed forces members to obtain approval before circulating political petitions? Two lower courts said "no."

—Can trial judges close entire criminal trials to the public and press?

Last July, the high court broadened the power trial judges had to exclude the public and press from traditionally open courtroom proceedings. But confusion has arisen over whether the July ruling applied only to pretrial hearings in criminal cases or to entire trials as well.

Appeals from Virginia and New York offer the potential for clarification. Neither appeal has been granted or denied review, having arrived during the summer recess.

Davis trial testimony continues

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Isaac R. Sustaita, 33, returns to the witness stand today to help attorneys defending Cullen Davis bolster their claim the millionaire was framed on murder solicitation charges.

Sustaita began his testimony Friday, but the trial recessed for the weekend before he was finished. He said he stopped to change a flat tire in a motel parking lot Aug. 18, 1978, and saw three persons, including two he identified as Davis' ex-wife Priscilla and karate teacher Pat Burleson.

Defense attorneys say those two persons conspired with the state's key witness, David McCrory, to frame Davis. The Fort Worth industrialist is on trial accused of masterminding an aborted scheme to have his divorce judge murdered. McCrory, once a friend of Davis, says Davis asked him to hire a "hit man."

Instead, McCrory went to the FBI. Davis was arrested Aug. 20, 1978.

In an interview outside the courtroom, Davis branded McCrory a "pathological liar." He accused prosecutors of grooming McCrory extensively before the witness took the stand and said defense attorneys weren't going to such lengths.

McInnis jury hears recordings

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — For the first time in three attempts, a jury has heard tape-recorded conversations in which Hidalgo County District Attorney Oscar McInnis allegedly asked a jail inmate to arrange the hired murder of a friend's ex-husband.

District Judge Joe B. Evins threatened to eject any noisy spectators from the prosecutor's disbarment trial Friday as nine recordings were played.

Lawyers for the State Bar of Texas say the tapes support their allegation that McInnis violated professional standards by trying to get inmate Daniel Rodriguez to obtain a "hit man" for the slaying. The intended victim, Noe Villanueva, was not killed as Rodriguez reported the alleged plot to law enforcement officers.

Criminal murder conspiracy charges against McInnis were dismissed in state and federal cases after judges ruled the tapes inadmissible. However, those rulings did not apply to the disbarment case, which is a civil proceeding and governed by different law.

Explorer, field projects reported

Texland-Rector & Schumacher of Fort Worth spotted a 3,650-foot wildcat in Crosby County, and Ward and Winkler counties have gained field projects.

The new wildcat is No. 1 Everett Williams, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 13, block 4, WCRR survey and eight miles west of Kalgary.

The site is 5/8 mile east of a 2,952-foot failure and 3.5 miles northeast of Energy Reserve Group No. 1 Williams, a Clear Fork oil discovery in Garza County which was completed through perforations from 3,311 to 3,323 feet.

HOWARD WELL

Tucker & Baumgardner of Midland completed the No. 1 Black Bass three miles east of Coahoma in the Coahoma, North (Fusselman) field of Howard County.

The operator reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 196 barrels of oil, gravity unreported, through 1 1/4-inch choke and perforations from 8,852 to 8,860 feet. The pay was acidized with 1,500 gallons, and the gas-oil ratio is 953-1.

Total depth is 8,950 feet and 4.5-inch casing is set on bottom.

Wellsite is 467 feet from north and 2,173 feet from west lines of section 41, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey.

WARD PROJECTS

Monsanto Co., operating from Midland, No. 1 Christy is to be drilled in the Shawnee (Delaware oil) pool of Ward County, 7.5 miles south of Poyte.

Scheduled to 8,300 feet, it is 1,980 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 63, block 34, H&TC survey and 5/8 mile northeast of the pool's discovery.

Hissom Drilling Co. of Midland spotted a pair of projects in the Quito, West (Cherry Canyon gas) pool of Ward County, seven miles north of Barstow.

The No. 1 Arco-Goodie is 1,980 feet from northeast and northwest lines of section 226, block 34, H&TC survey. It is contracted to 6,700 feet and is one location west and slightly north of production.

Hissom Drilling No. 1-A Caroline H. another 6,700-foot project, is 1,500 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 225, block 34, H&TC survey and seven miles north of Barstow.

 Superior Oil Co. No. 1-Santa Fe, drilling 5,300 feet in dolomite.

GLASSCOCK COUNTY
 Texas Pacific No. 7-Frank Schuettner, drilling 7,825 feet in line and shale.

HOCKLEY COUNTY
 De Lovelady No. 1-Hodges, drilling 4,230 feet in anhydrite.
 Marshall-R Young No. 3-Vivian Dopson, 10 1/2 feet, plugged, and abandoned.

HOWARD COUNTY
 Marshall-R Young No. 1-Wilcox, drilling 1,301 feet in redbeds.
 Tom Metcalfe No. 1-Kim Unit, drilling 2,100 feet, set 13 1/2 inch casing at 322 feet.
 Estoril Producing Corp. No. 1-Mildred Cree, drilling 2,300 feet in anhydrite and salt, set 12 1/2 inch casing at 322 feet.

IRION COUNTY
 Getty No. 1-D Winterbottom, 10 1/2 feet, testing, will be dropped from report while pumping.

The site is one location east and slightly north of gas production.

Each of the projects also will test for oil production in the Cherry Canyon.

John L. Cox of Midland No. 1 George Sealy is a new 3,500-foot test in the Magnolia Sealy, Northwest (Yates 3400 oil) pool of Ward County, 5 miles northeast of Poyte.

It is 1,980 feet from south west lines of section 66, block F, G&MMB&A survey, and one location southeast of production.

WINKLER TRY

Monsanto Co. No. 2-21-36 University will be drilled in the Apollo (Brushy Canyon oil) pool of Winkler County, three miles south of Wink.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 36, block 21, University Lands survey. Slotted for an 8,600-foot bottom, it is one-half mile north of the field's only well.

MOTLEY GAINS

A.G. McCarver of Midland has completed the No. 1 C.B. Calloway as the 10th producer in the Roaring Springs, West (Permo-Pennsylvanian) field of Motley County.

The operator reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 65 barrels of 40.4-gravity oil and 21 barrels of water, through perforations from 4,187 to 4,210 feet, after an acid treatment of 300 gallons.

Total depth is 4,320 feet and 4.5-inch casing was set at 4,219 feet, the plugged back depth.

Wellsite is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 502, J.E. Haywood survey, two miles east of Roaring Springs.

COTTLE GAS PRODUCER

Gus Edwards Co. of Abilene has completed the No. 1 B.J. Taylor in the Steccott (Atoka gas) field of Cottle County, to extend the field one-half mile east of production.

Operator reported a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 13 million cubic feet of gas per day, with a gas-liquid ratio of 88,000-1.

Gravity of the condensate was 64 degrees.

Production was through perforations from 6,220 to 6,226 feet.

Drilled to a depth of 6,347 feet, 4.5-inch casing is set at 6,346 feet and is plugged back to 6,303 feet.

The new well is 660 feet from south and 1,838 feet from east lines of H&GN survey No. 111, two miles southwest of Chalk.

Wildcat scheduled

Crown Central Petroleum Corp. of Midland announced location for a 3,800-foot wildcat in Crane County.

The prospector, 13 miles southwest of Crane, will be drilled as No. 1 Ludeman.

Location is 4,650 feet from northeast and 660 feet from southeast lines of section 4, block 1, H&RC survey.

The drillsite is 5/8 miles northwest of the Tubb discovery in the Horsehead Crossing multipay area.

The field produces from the Tubb at 3,508 feet and from the Clear Fork at 3,800 feet.

The new test is 2.5 miles north of shut-in Clear Fork oil production.

Field work announced

Southland Royalty Co. of Midland spudded its No. 1-32 Henderson as a one-and-three-eighths-mile southeast outpost to the Howard Draw, North (Queen gas) field of Crockett County.

It is one mile east of Grayburg-San Andres production in the Howard Draw multipay field and is drilling below 1,435 feet in line.

Location is 990 feet from most northerly line and from most easterly west lines of section 52, block UV, G&S&F survey, 13.5 miles northwest of Ozona.

Scheduled depth is 1,650 feet. Ground elevation is 2,473 feet.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates, Inc. of Midland will drill the No. 8 Williams in Crockett County, three-quarters mile southeast to the eight-well Ecklaw (San Andres oil) field.

Wellsite is 1,290 feet from south and 990 feet from west lines of section 39, block OP, G&S&F survey, 14 miles north of Ozona.

Contract depth is 1,500 feet with ground elevation of 2,532 feet.

IRION PRODUCER

The Sugg (Ellenburger oil) field of Irion County has been extended five-eighths mile north with the completion of Belco Petroleum Corp. of Midland No. 2-114 Ela Sugg.

On 24-hour pumping potential it made 15 barrels of 48.5-gravity oil and four barrels of water, through perforations from 8,775 to 8,815 feet after 2,500 gallons of acid and 15,350 gallons fracture solution.

Scheduled as a wildcat, it drilled to 9,230 feet, where 5.5-inch casing is set, and plugged back to 8,930 feet.

Gas-liquid ratio is 1,050-1.

The well is 1,980 feet from the south and 810 feet from east lines of section 111, block 14, H&TC survey, 11 miles north of Barnhart.

UPTON STEP-OUT

Avance Oil & Gas Co., Inc. of Midland filed application to drill the No. 1 Shirk as a one-half-mile stepout to the McCamey multipay field of Upton County.

The location is 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 15, block 3, MK&T survey, six miles north of McCamey. Contract depth is 2,600 feet.

CHAVES COUNTY

Paul Slayton of Roswell No. 1 Union has been completed as the second well and a location east-southeast extended to the Comanche (San Andres) field of Chaves County.

The operator reported a pumping potential of one barrel of oil, gravity not reported, and one barrel of water, with gas-liquid ratio not reported.

Production was natural through perforations from 1,266 to 1,307 feet, after drilled to total depth of 1,322 feet, where 1.5-inch casing is set and plugged back to 1,318 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 14-11-26E, 12 miles north of Union.

Only two companies left in Baltimore Canyon area

By PETER MATTIACE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Now there are only two left in the Baltimore Canyon.

However, industry officials are still optimistic they will find more oil and gas off the mid-Atlantic coast despite Exxon's announcement last week that it had its fourth dry hole and was giving up on the area for now.

"The drilling will slowly continue," said Henry A. Hill, regional exploration manager for Conoco Inc. "It takes a while for people to assimilate information, to go back for budget money and go back to explore the new drilling rights."

There will be ups and downs in the Baltimore Canyon," Hill said. "It is now one of those 'downs' in the Baltimore Canyon Trough, an area the U.S. Geological Survey estimates may hold as much as 1.02 billion barrels of oil and 13.5 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

Exxon, which was the first to start drilling off New Jersey 18 months ago, said it spent more than $343 million in lease purchases and $80 million in drilling in the area. It will take its leased semi-submersible rig to the Southeast Georgia Embayment area off the Georgia coast.

"We haven't given up on the Baltimore Canyon. We're disappointed, that's all," said Exxon spokesman William Smith. "There's a shift of priorities. We want to take a shot down there."

Exxon's fourth hole was drilled about 70 miles east of Atlantic City. It joins Shell, Mobil, Conoco, Houston Oil & Minerals and Gulf in abandoning the mid-Atlantic area, at least for now. Only Texaco and Tenneco remain.

Exxon's failure was the 15th dry hole off the mid-Atlantic states and signals the end of drilling in the once-promising Great Stone Dome geological formation between 63 and 84 miles east of Atlantic City.

"That big structure has been very disappointing," Hill said. "Now we're looking in areas around the dome. That's where Texaco is working."

Wildcats, strikes reported in Basin

Operators have announced wildcat operations in Pecos, Sutton, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Concho and Runnels counties, and discoveries have been finalized in Tom Green, Runnels and McCulloch counties.

PECOS EXPLORER
 The Petroleum Corp. of Delaware, operating from Midland, spotted location for a 10,800-foot wildcat in Pecos County, 11 miles southeast of Bakersfield.

It is No. 1 Fey, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 25, block C-1, G&S&F survey. It is four miles east of the Block A-2 (Ellenburger) field which produces at 10,583 feet.

SUTTON RE-ENTRY
 William Perlman of Houston will re-enter the former L. E. Scherck and W. J. Carey of San Angelo No. 1 Annela Stites, 6,512-foot wildcat failure in Sutton County, 13 miles east of Sonora.

Hole will be cleaned out to 6,000 feet for tests as a wildcat.

The project is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 67, block B, HE&WT survey. Ground elevation is 2,285 feet.

It is two miles southeast of the depleted Headquarters (Strawn 6000 oil) pool and one and five-eighths miles northeast of the depleted Sonora, East (Strawn gas) field.

STONEWALL TEST
 A 6,600-foot wildcat has been spotted in Stonewall County by N. P. Energy Corp.

It is No. 1 Porter, five miles southwest of Aspermont and 2,500 feet from south and 1,792 feet from east lines of section 182, block 1, H&TC survey. It is one and three-quarter miles northwest of the Frankirk, Northwest field.

FISHER WILDCAT
 A Midland firm, W. T. George Exploration, Inc., announced a 6,600-foot wildcat in Fisher County, 10 miles north of Roscoe.

Slated as the No. 1 Beaver, it is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 268, block 3, H&TC survey and 2.5 miles southeast of the one-well Bernecker (lower Strawn oil) pool. It also is 1/2 mile south of a 6,572-foot failure.

NOLAN AREA
 Westchase Petroleum Corp. of Houston No. 1 Shuff is a 6,300-foot wildcat 10 miles southeast of Sweetwater in Nolan County.

The location is 600 feet from north and 2,000 feet from west lines of section 95, block 21, T&P survey and one and three-quarter miles south of the Lake Sweetwater (Strawn oil) pool and separated from it by a 6,018-foot dry hole. It also is two and seven-eighths miles north of the EVB (Palo Pinto oil) area.

CONCHO TESTER

A 2,250-foot wildcat operation will be drilled six miles west of Eden in Concho County by John R. Thompson Operating, Inc., of Abilene.

It is No. 1 Blanche Kendrick, 1,800 feet from south and 867 feet from west lines of W. L. McBride survey No. 72 and 1/2 mile south of the depleted Speck, Southeast (King oil) pool and one location southwest of a 2,252-foot dry hole.

RUNNELS WILDCAT

ACR Exploration, Inc., of Abilene No. 1 Carrie Clayton is a 4,200-foot wildcat in Runnels County, three miles northeast of Benoit.

It is 467 feet from north and west lines of section 137, ETRR survey. Elevation is 1,183 feet.

It is one location south of the Clayton, South (Gray gas) field and one location northeast of the Loco Rico (Dog Bend, Gardner A. and Gray oil) pool.

RUNNELS STRIKES

A pair of discoveries have been reported in Runnels County, one by James K. Anderson, Inc., of Dallas and the other Stroube, Reiff & Lewis, also of Dallas.

Anderson completed No. 1 O'Dell as an Odom lime gas strike two miles west of Wingate for a calculated absolute open flow of 4 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 5,263 to 5,271 feet. The pay was acidized with 2,500 gallons.

The discovery is one and one-quarter miles northwest of the depleted Harkins (Gardner) field and 1.5 miles southeast of the Fort Chadbourne multipay pool.

The Odom lime was topped at 5,253 feet on ground elevation of 2,056 feet.

Wellsite is 467 feet from north and 1,873 feet from west lines of John Earley survey No. 419.

Total depth is 5,340 feet and 4.5-inch casing is set at 5,336 feet.

Stroube, Reiff & Lewis (originally filed by Stroube Production Co., Inc., and G. C. Reiff, Inc.) No. 1 Joe Ash was completed as a lower Fry oil discovery six miles northwest of Norton.

It completed on the pump for a daily potential of 40 barrels of 46-gravity oil and 30 barrels of water, through perforations from 4,779 to 4,781 feet after a 250-gallon acid job. The gas-oil ratio is 500-1.

The lower Fry was topped at 4,776 feet on ground elevation of 1,913 feet. Other tops include the Noodle Creek lime, 2,630 feet and the Odom lime, 5,040 feet.

Total depth is 5,300 feet, 4.5-inch pipe is set on bottom, and plugged back depth is 4,880 feet.

The strike is one and one-eighth miles east of the Pearl Valley (lower Gardner) field and one location northeast of the pool's depleted Jen-

With Exxon's failure, the industry's focus returns to Texaco's semi-submersible rig Ocean Victory, now working on its third well about 106 miles east of Atlantic City.

Texaco is drilling only 1.5 miles south of a 15,025-foot well that recorded two "significant" strikes of gas at different levels about 13 months ago. Its second well came up dry about 1.5 miles west of the strike.

Actually, Texaco is now working on the Tenneco lease, about 6,100 feet northwest of the spot where Tenneco reported a major strike of both gas and oil at separate levels in May.

The industry's new promised land is near the edge of the Outer Continental Shelf in more than 445 feet of water.

Tenneco's leased semi-submersible rig soon left its strike to let Texaco explore the area and moved 75 miles to the southwest to drill new territory.

Still, two rigs now float where there was once more than a half-dozen.

"That's typical of every oil field. We call it a 'play,'" Hill said. "In the first flurry of activity, everyone drills their best prospect. But there will be drilling there next year and the year after that."

ings and Bronte sand pays.

Wellsite is 1,600 feet from southwest and 2,200 feet from southeast lines of T.S. Munce survey No. 466.

TOM GREEN REOPENER
 Tucker Drilling Co., Inc., of San Angelo No. 1 Pugh Park has been completed to reopen the Mount Susan (Strawn sand 5350 oil) pool of Tom Green County, near the Christoval city limits.

The operator reported a daily flowing potential of 39.4 barrels of 38.1-gravity oil, plus 19 barrels of water, through a 30 1/4-inch choke and perforations from 5,346 to 5,406 feet. The pay was acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 20,500 gallons.

The reopener is one location southwest of the original discovery, American Trading & Production Co. of Midland No. 1 Tom Green County which was completed in 1955.

Location for the No. 1 Pugh Park is 921 feet from north and 5,344 feet from east lines of J. Zerback survey No. 1827.

Total depth is 5,741 feet and 4.5-inch casing is set at 5,500 feet. Plugged back depth is 5,416 feet.

MCCULLOCH DISCOVERY

C&R Co. of Odessa No. 1 Bratton Ranch Co. has been finalized as a Strawn oil discovery in McCulloch County, nine miles northeast of Brady, and locations for four offsets, all to be drilled to 900 feet, have been slated.

It finalized for a daily flowing potential of 30 barrels of 36-gravity oil and five barrels of water, through an 1/4-inch choke and perforations from 720 to 726 feet, after 1,000 gallons of acid and 5,000 gallons of fracture solution.

The gas-oil ratio is 633-1.

The Strawn was topped at 720 feet on ground elevation of 1,641.6 feet.

Total depth is 760 feet and 4.5-inch casing is set at 757 feet.

Wellsite is 1,545 feet from north and 1,258 feet from west lines of GH&SA survey No. 1, abstract 452.

C&R will drill No. 3 Bratton Ranch one location west of the strike and 1,545 feet from north and 841 feet from west lines of GH&SA survey No. 1.

C&R No. 4 Bratton Ranch is a southeast offset, 1,962 feet from north and 1,258 feet from west lines of GH&SA survey No. 1.

No. 5 Bratton Ranch is one location east of the strike and 1,545 feet from north and 1,675 feet from west line of GH&SA survey No. 1.

The No. 6 Bratton Ranch is one location east and slightly south of the opener and 1,545 feet from north and 2,092 feet from west lines of GH&SA survey No. 1.

Stockholders approve merger

HOUSTON — Pennzoil Louisiana and Texas Offshore, Inc., (Plato) announced the approval of the merger of Plato into a Pennzoil Co. subsidiary.

W. A. Hoover, president of Plato, said the holdings of Plato's public stockholders will be converted into cash at the rate of $4 per share.

The merger represents the last step of a plan announced in March which was designed to resolve the various uncertainties facing Plato.

Approximately 90 percent of the outstanding shares were voted in favor of the merger.

Johnston's No-Roach — the modern, scientific formula that's proven effective. Simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around the baseboards, behind cabinets, inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere cockroaches may be found breeding. It dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills cockroaches, ants, silverfish, and all crawling insects. Best of all, it continues to kill these pests for months. Buy No-Roach at Piggly Wiggly, Furr's, Foodway, M-System, 7-11, Parkway, B&W, Walgreen's and all food stores. Dist. by Winn Dixie, Ft. Worth.

Clements raps White

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements said Attorney General Mark White should stop threatening lawsuits against SEDCO and Pemex over the oil spill that soiled Texas beaches "and let these issues cool."

Clements said if White would back off, "I feel confident Mexico will assist in the oil spill clean-up and in meeting the damage claims."

In his first Capitol news conference since returning from an overseas agricultural trade mission, Clements said, "The beaches are clean, and the environment has been protected — the inside waters of the Laguna Madre have not been damaged."

"Turning a disaster like this into a political circus serves no purpose," said Clements, apparently reading from a prepared statement.

He noted that in his absence White had been talking about suing SEDCO, the international oil well drilling company founded by Clements, and Pemex, the Mexican national oil monopoly.

Al Zertuche, above, is proud of his excellent stock at Al's Garden Center. Outstanding decorator tropicals, fall bulbs, and multi-trunk trees are among the outstanding values at Al's — 2007 N. Big Spring.

Al's Garden Center for bulbs

It is getting close to the time for tree planting. Survey your need for trees after last year's winter-kill and plan your purchases at Al's now. New trees are arriving. See the pinon, multi-trunk youpon and oaks.

A good item found at Al's, and hard to find elsewhere is the wooden trellis.

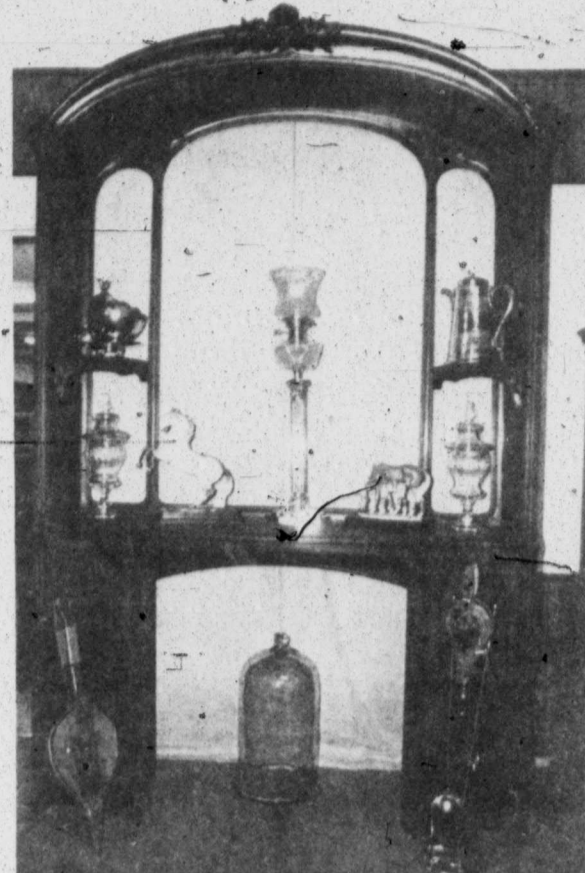

Al's Garden Center has a rainbow variety of fall bulbs now for your selection. Daffodils, hyacinth, crocus, tulips, anemones, Dutch iris, ranunculus. Get yours now while stock is complete.

Al is selling his Harvest Gold potting soil for a ridiculous price — 1/2 peck sack for 30¢, regularly 67¢. See also the palm baskets and wicker baskets with plastic liners.

For hedges or accent plants, Al has dwarf youpon which, when mature, reaches one to one-and-one-half feet in height. These are in two gallon containers.

New vigorous house plants are numerous at Al's Garden Center. Come in and see: Large Aloe Vera, $1.47. Marble Queen ivy, 4 inches, $1.69. Fluffy Ruffie and Boston ferns, Ming Oralia, 3 inches potted, 59¢. Rubber plants, 6 inch pots. Giant Leaf Pothos, 6 inch pot, $4.99. Eight inches, $7.29. Ficus, 3 foot, $10.49. Seven foot, $37. Six foot False Oralia, or 4 foot Norfolk Pine, either, $37.

For all your plant needs, inside or out, and the things needed to keep them well-fed, insect-free, and happy are found at Al's Garden Center. See them all at 2007 N. Big Spring.

Breakfront has rare collection

The wonderful world of Breakfront is beginning to change its atmosphere — a breath of Christmas is in the air! Great things are in store for the shopper who thinks Christmas is truly special, and who knows how to keep the Holiday as it should be kept: with new additions to the traditional (trove each year: future heirlooms for untold joys in years to come).

In the meantime, Breakfront is a good place to go for gifts for the truly special ones. Old things, lovingly kept or restored. New things, exquisitely designed and executed. Expensive things: Old cut glass, the player piano with Tiffany glass front. The refreshingly reasonable: pierced tin lanterns. Museum reproductions.

Amtrak pledges improvements

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak is pledging an all-out effort to improve passenger service, with new emphasis on making trains run on time and improving the food sold aboard them.

Where the railroad has concentrated in the past on "moving trains," there now will be equal emphasis on "moving people," Amtrak president Alan S. Boyd said.

Boyd said service improvements will range from improving roast beef — which he said sometimes tastes like sawdust — to making reservations centers more efficient.

New cars and locomotives will be acquired to replace ancient equipment and expand the system, Boyd said. Amtrak currently is overtaxed, which contributes to long delays, he said.

Amtrak also plans to initiate its superliner, or double-decker trains, early this fall, he said.

More than 2 million riders have boarded Amtrak trains in each of the last three months, reflecting the energy crisis and rising gasoline prices, Boyd said. Ridership in August, for example, was up 34 percent over August 1978.

Boyd's vow to boost Amtrak's reputation came in conjunction with announcement of a personnel shakeup he said was being made in response to a Congressional mandate to plan ahead.

That mandate was in the form of legislation giving Amtrak spending authorization for three years rather than the usual one year.

An Amtrak spokesman, who asked not to be named, said, "In the past, it's been like living on death row and going to the governor each year for a reprieve."

Boyd said the three-year authorization "will give Amtrak the resources it needs to rebuild the nation's rail passenger system."

"I don't want to give the impression that as of Oct. 1, there will be no more equipment malfunctions," he said, but passengers will see "continued and steady improvement" beginning next month, when the new funding legislation takes effect.

The Senate approved the authorization Tuesday and the House is expected to act as early as Friday, Boyd said. The authorization is for $912 million in capital and operating funds in fiscal 1980; $985 million in fiscal 1981 and $329 million for capital expenses only in 1982.

Candidates should help cover costs: Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is urging that presidential candidates help cover the cost of Secret Service protection and that former President Nixon reimburse the government for improvements to the California estate he owned until recently.

Both the House and the Senate approved a direct Wednesday urging the Secret Service to encourage candidates to pay air fare for agents accompanying their campaigns.

The government spent $1.1 million in 1976 to cover the costs of Secret Service agents on various candidates' campaign planes.

Critics say the agents' contribution to the cost of those planes often is as important to the candidates as the protection they provide.

The directive to the Secret Service was included in an $8.3 billion Treasury Department and Postal Service appropriations measure. Compromise legislation worked out by a House-Senate conference committee was approved without debate by both houses.

Another portion of the conference report urged that Nixon repay the government for some of the $702,321 in improvements made to his former estate at San Clemente. Nixon has sold the property and purchased a 12-room New York City condominium for a reported $1 million.

Both the House and the Senate approved a resolution saying "it is the sense of Congress" that Nixon should reimburse the government either for the original cost of the improvements or the amount by which they increased the value of the estate.

The resolution does not have the force of law.

General Service's continues abuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scandal-ridden General Services Administration has largely failed to correct problems uncovered by internal audits and is letting widespread abuses continue, says the chairman of a Senate committee investigating the agency.

As the panel's hearings continued today, Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., its chairman, said he would demand answers from GSA's new administrator and inspector general on what is being done to stop corruption.

Administrator Rowland G. Freeman III and Inspector General Kurt Muellenberg were testifying as the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on federal contracts continued its investigation of purchasing procedures by the government's landlord and supply agency.

"By and large, the GSA has not corrected many of the substantial problems that have evolved," Baucus said in a telephone interview Wednesday. "They could certainly nail it down more firmly."

The senator said GSA has for the most part failed to institute effective internal safeguards despite the recent glare of public attention.

On Wednesday, chief GSA investigator William Clinkscales disputed Baucus' claim of inaction.

"I wouldn't say there is no abuse in the agency, but it is less than before (the investigations)," Clinkscales said. "There have been many meaningful reforms."

For more than a year, the GSA has been the subject of a major investigation into fraud and waste that by some estimates has cost the government more than $100 million a year.

The investigation has resulted in the indictment of 115 former and present GSA officials, contractors and other government employees. Of those, 89 defendants have pleaded guilty or been convicted on fraud charges.

Another 25 have not yet been tried. One government official was found innocent.

In testimony Wednesday, the GSA's chief auditor, Howard Davia, said financial safeguards are so lax auditors

Bill and Ann Muller's toy factory makes 'em plain, simple, sturdy

By HANK BURCHARD
The Washington Post

It happens almost every day at Bill Muller's toy factory on the Virginia Eastern Shore. Vacating families, numbed by the schlock sold in the beach trade, go into shock when exposed to Muller's plain, simple, sturdy, unpainted wooden toys.

Ann Muller runs the front of the shop, after a fashion. The signs say "Please Touch," which includes the new toys on the shelves as well as the ones put out for the children — and their parents — to play with. The only admonition in her repertoire seems to be "Take your time," and she seems to have no end of it herself so far as children are concerned.

HE RAISED his voice above the whine of the band saws in the back of the shop and the clatter of the toys in the front of the shop that three children were failing to destroy.

MUCH OF their business is done by mail order, which is just as well, because the drop-in customers play hell with the work schedule, if any.

ANN MULLER doesn't do the same thing any of the time — her patterns

"Which ever end you like," Muller told him. "It goes sideways, too." That puzzled the boy, but Muller offered no more. Mark started sliding the car along upside down, which seemed to please its maker.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE

Touch of High Life

By Alfred Sheinwold

Today's hand teaches no great lesson since you're unlikely to face such a problem in actual play. Call it a touch of high life.

If you're the average low-life, you ruff the opening lead, cash the top clubs and ruff a club with dummy's low spade. Ruff a diamond, ruff a club in dummy and cash the ace of spades.

You now have three spades to West's two. But you must ruff yourself down again before you can knock out the queen of spades, and then you and West each have one trump. He leads a fourth diamond to force out your last trump, and then West's last trump takes the setting trick.

STYLISH PLAY

You can avoid this sad fate by high-style play. Ruff a club in dummy with the king and another club with the ace so that you can then lead dummy's low spade. You then have four trumps to West's three. He can take the queen of spades, but you ruff his diamond return, draw his last two trumps and run your trumps to make the slam.

ANSWER: Bid four hearts. If you bid only three hearts and partner passes you will feel sick. You could hardly have a better hand for your notrump response, and even if partner has a minimum opening bid there is likely to be a fine play for four hearts.

More oil spill spinoff

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — First it was "Tar Baby" T-shirts. Now the world's largest oil spill has inspired a record.

Local singer and songwriter Amy Quates said she and three musicians, billed as "Slick Chic and the Tar Babies," recorded the "Mexican Oil Slick Blues" after the song enjoyed such a good reception at the hotel dining room where she performs.

Accompanied by marimbas and other south-of-the-border sounds, she sings:

"I've got the Mexican oil slick blues
This black crud all over my shoes

If only somebody wiser put that hole in the ground

We'd have more oil in the pumps and less crude floating around."

Adverse weather has prevented capping the blown-out well in the Bay of Campeche about 500 miles south of here. Tarballs and patches of sticky oil from the spill washed up on Texas beaches last month.

The 26-year-old singer said she was encouraged to write the song to capture the frustration of hotel and restaurant employees, whose business dropped off when the dirty beaches caused tourists to leave the area.

Texas Electric TIPS help keep home electric bills down.

Saving energy—and energy dollars—in your home can be as simple as using energy wisely.

For example, make sure filters are kept clean in your furnace, air conditioner and clothes drier. This ensures units are operating efficiently. And using less energy.

For additional savings on heating and cooling, keep drapes closed for extra insulation on overcast winter days and hot summer days. But on sunny winter days, open them to let the warm sunshine in.

And, turn off ALL appliances when you're not using them. When you stop and think of the many ways you use electricity, you'll see what an energy saver this can be!

For more information—and a lot more tips—get the TIPS booklet from Texas Electric. Just call Texas Electric or ask for the booklet on the comments section of your next electric bill.

At Texas Electric, we're trying to help you keep your electric bill down.

IMF may change number of dollars in world trade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Seeking to reduce the turbulence in world money markets, the International Monetary Fund appears ready to endorse a plan to reduce the amount of dollars in the international financial system.

U.S. Treasury Secretary G. William Miller and other finance ministers on the IMF's powerful Interim Committee are expected to approve in principle a plan to establish a so-called substitution account for dollars held by IMF member governments.

The committee meets here today, one day before the 138-nation IMF opens its four-day annual meeting. It is the first time the U.N.-sponsored financial organization is meeting in a Communist country.

Details of the substitution account would be worked out over the next several months to be ready for final approval next spring. If all goes well, the account could be in operation as early as mid-1980, IMF officials say.

Niles B. Winter

SAN ANTONIO — Niles B. Winter Sr., 81, of San Antonio and formerly of Midland, died Sunday in a San Antonio hospital.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Newbie W. Ellis Funeral Home Chapel with Dr. Ray Riddle of First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Winter was born May 6, 1895, in LeCompton, Kan. At an early age, he moved with his parents by covered wagon to Vici, Okla. He attended elementary school there and high school in Woodward, Okla. He also attended Oklahoma University.

Winter entered the U.S. Navy during World War I. Upon discharge from the Navy, he began work with Atlantic Refining Co., working in Shreveport, Pecos and San Angelo.

He came to Midland in 1937 and retired as regional manager of Arco (formerly Atlantic Refinery Co.) in 1960.

Winter moved to San Antonio from Corpus Christi in March of this year.

Survivors include a son, Niles B. Winter Jr. of Georgetown; a daughter, Mrs. Winfred D. (Shirley) White-side Jr. of Corpus Christi; a brother, Leland S. Winter of Oakwood and five grandchildren.

Now Nader defends the FTC

By JEFFREY MILLS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as the Federal Trade Commission is taking its lumps on Capitol Hill for alleged over-regulation of business, it is being defended by its one-time No. 1 critic, consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

The consumer champion, who loosed a group of college students known as "Nader's Raiders" on the FTC a decade ago, says the agency's current political problems result from changing the practices he criticized bitterly in 1969.

"The FTC has become more vigorous in law enforcement of corporate rip-offs and business monopolies," Nader said in an interview. "This explains why the rip-off artists are chasing the cops through Congress."

"It is precisely because the FTC is beginning to take its job seriously of protecting consumers that Congress is trying to hamstring it in its investigations."

Nader's assessment contrasts strongly with statements by many witnesses during the recent FTC hearings before the Senate Commerce Committee's subcommittee on consumers.

"Business is over-regulated," testified Jeffrey Joseph of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the world's largest business federation.

"The cost of compliance with government rules imposes a heavy, wasteful drain on the nation's economy. The FTC, as an agency which enforces a number of open-ended statutes, is recognized as one of the more notorious regulatory agencies in government today," Joseph said.

The Senate subcommittee has held four days of hearings, with two more scheduled this week to include testimony both for and against the aggressively pro-consumer FTC. More than 40 witnesses will have been heard in one of the most extensive rounds of congressional oversight hearings on any federal agency.

Nader has not testified, although he and his student investigators had a major role in making the agency far more conscious of its statutory authority to regulate business for the protection of consumers.

"The little old lady on Pennsylvania Avenue" was what the agency was called in the 1969 book, "The Nader Report on the Federal Trade Commission." Three students who spent a summer investigating the agency wrote the book under the direction of Nader, who wrote the preface.

Nader called the FTC then "a self-parody of bureaucracy, fat with cronism, torpid through an inbreeding unusual even for Washington, manipulated by the agents of commercial predators and impervious to governmental and citizen monitoring." He said it was "systematically not enforcing the law" that is supposed to protect consumers against unfair business practices.

Nader now says, "The FTC is finally giving the taxpayers their money's worth."

Bike wreck injures man

Midlander Dwain Epting, 42, was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit at Midland Memorial Hospital early today following a motorcycle accident about 1:09 a.m. today.

Epting, 3207A W. Wadley Ave., suffered a skull fracture, broken ribs and numerous scrapes and cuts after he apparently lost control of his motorcycle in the 1500 block of North Big Spring Street, officials said.

Epting was northbound on the cycle when the right side of the rear fender struck the street curb, according to police reports.

The motorcycle struck a utility pole as it continued past the curb on to the sidewalk, police said.

Epting was wearing a helmet at the time of the accident, officials said.

Midlander inhales gas

ODESSA — A 21-year-old Midland man, John Castleberry, was in fair condition this morning in Odessa's Medical Center Hospital after reportedly inhaling hydrogen sulfide gas at a lease in Ector County Saturday.

Castleberry was in the hospital's intensive care unit today, according to a hospital spokesman.

He was admitted to the hospital Saturday after an accident at the Sally Ratliff lease, officials said.

GOP drives are geared toward Teddy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Republican presidential candidates say they are already gearing their campaigns toward the possibility that Sen. Edward Kennedy, and not President Carter, will be the Democratic presidential nominee.

One of the GOP hopefuls, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, predicts Kennedy will win the nomination, while others do not rule Carter out.

The candidates gave their assessments during speeches and news conferences here at the weekend convention of the National Federation of Republican Women.

"I really believe the emerging Kennedy candidacy will rearrange the Republican furniture in the months to come," Dole said. "I don't see anybody else but Kennedy on the Democratic side. I think President Carter is a political basket case."

Dole said a Kennedy candidacy would require a Republican nominee who could match the Washington experience of the Massachusetts Democrat and debate him forcefully on the issues.

He said the possibility of a Kennedy candidacy would reshape the race because most tests in the polls until very recently have matched Republican contenders against Carter.

Senate Minority Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee also said the Republicans should be prepared for a Kennedy candidacy, but he was one of the ones who did not count Carter out.

"The Kennedy phenomenon is remarkable in American politics," Baker said. "There is no mistaking there is a fascination for Kennedys in the American political arena."

Cowboys not deluded by easy Bengal win

By RICHARD VINCENT Sports Writer

IRVING — An yes, the Dallas Cowboys did it to the Cincinnati Bengals in Texas Stadium Sunday afternoon.

But before you concede the Super Bowl to your beloved Cowboys, you better hear from your heroes because as far as they're concerned, there's a long tough road ahead.

First, listen to Bob Breunig, the soft-spoken linebacker who played a whale of a game Sunday.

"I think the consistency (of the defense) was much better today (Sunday)," said Breunig. "I think we definitely took a step in the right direction. We are not where we want to be yet, but if we continue to go in this direction, we'll be okay."

Now, take in what veteran linebacker D. D. Lewis had to say.

"We haven't reached all our goals yet," said the 11-year vet from Mississippi State. "but we are at the beginning of it. So, I would say in two more weeks we should be playing top level ball. We may not look like we are that physical, but the intensity is there and we are taking people on. It's just a matter that our defense is so coordinated that it looks like we're not taking people on, but we are. We are doing a number on people. We are not a 'blow and go' defense like Pittsburgh. But we are a physical defense. I guarantee you we are. You ask any running back in the league how rough we are."

Thank you D. D. Now taking the podium will be the big blond from Hawaii, Mr. Larry Cole.

"We're getting better," said Cole, "but we are not there yet. Once you gain confidence you can stop the run then you are more alert on the pass and confidence builds confidence and that is what we are after. We feel like we have to pressure the passer 30 percent of the time. If we do that over the year we are going to become effective."

Obviously, Larry was effected by the intense heat Sunday afternoon, because the Cowboys put on perhaps their finest rush against the pass this season. And the pressure resulted in two pivotal Dallas interceptions, not to mention several sacks.

According to head coach Tom Landry, the game was a welcome departure from last Monday night's loss to Cleveland.

"This was the first game that we had the good feeling," said Landry. "Our offense played well, the defense was strong and we had a good kicking game. Everything just seemed to click today."

"We had one letdown by the defense in the third quarter, otherwise we were strong," continued Landry. "Dorsett also ran well and this helped open up our offense. This game gives us confidence. It was a key game for us in that respect since we haven't been playing well lately and we've been making a lot of mistakes. So this has to build up our confidence."

Cleancut Roger Staubach also saw promise in the Cowboys' impressive effort against the Bengals, a team much better than their 0-5 record indicates.

"This is the first time this year we've had running enough to be able to wait for the passing game," said Staubach, referring to Tony Dorsett's 119 yards of rushing.

And when Tony D. moves like he did Sunday, why heck, no defense in the league can stop the Cowboys.

Now, for one last comment, let's go the Rhino himself, Randy White, who wanted to set the record straight about the Cowboys' forward wall.

"The main thing going into this game was putting some pressure on the quarterback, because we haven't been too effective here lately and we've been hearing a lot of flak about it. Our main goal was to extinguish all the talk about not having a pass rush. I think our whole defensive line played together and stuck together and we put some pressure on (Cincinnati quarterback Ken) Anderson."

Overall, the Cowboys were impressive, yet, you must believe them when they say there's still a long way to go.

Cowboys return to Super form

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Although the Cincinnati Bengals can't be confused with the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Dallas Cowboys will take Sunday's 38-13 pounding of the Bengals as a sign they are back on the Super Bowl track.

There was an honest-to-goodness pass rush, which had been missing, three interceptions that led to touchdowns, and a tough-running Tony Dorsett, who gained 119 yards.

"This game gives us confidence," said Cowboy Coach Tom Landry. "We were losing some confidence after that Monday night game."

Dallas took a 26-7 thumping from Cleveland Monday night and hadn't played particularly well in three victories, resorting to fourth-quarter Roger Staubach come-from-behind passes for victory.

Rookie cornerback Aaron Mitchell, safety Randy Hughes, and rookie lineman Bruce Thornton intercepted passes and the Cowboys cashed them for touchdowns.

Hughes ran his interception back 68 yards to set up the first of two Scott Laidlaw touchdown runs, and Mitchell logged his 36 yards to put Dallas in position for the second of two Staubach touchdown passes.

Hughes said, "The defense as a whole didn't play as well as we're capable, but we'll get better."

Mitchell said, "It was like a dream... I wanted to score bad, to take the pressure from the offense and for my own sake too."

Defensive end Larry Cole said the Cowboys, "talked all week" about improving the pass rush. Dallas got to Ken Anderson three times and rookie Jack Thompson once.

Pirates finally win it

By FRED ROTHENBERG AP Sports Writer

Pittsburgh's veterans and Philadelphia's cagiest pitcher sent the Pirates to the National League East Division title and eliminated the youthful Montreal Expos after a marvelous chase on the final day of the regular season.

The Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 on the heroics of 38-year-old Willie Stargell and 36-year-old Bill Robinson Sunday, but needed the three-hit magic of Steve Carlton of the Phillies to finally force Montreal to call it a season.

"Hey, we voted Carlton a full play-off share, didn't we?" kidded Pirate catcher Steve Nicosia after he learned that Carlton and his Philadelphia mates had blanked the Expos 2-0.

"This is a thing of beauty. I'm so proud of these guys," said Stargell, who slammed his 32nd homer of the season and added a sacrifice fly one day after making a costly throwing error and striking out three times in a tough loss to the Cubs.

The Saturday loss put the Pirates and Expos even in the loss column. If the Expos could have won Sunday, they would have then made up two games against Atlanta today. Now the only one whose season will continue is Pittsburgh, which begins its NL championship series Tuesday night against the Cincinnati Reds.

The last time the Pirates won the NL East, in 1975, they succumbed to the Reds in three straight games.

"I'm very happy. I thank the good Lord. But now our work really starts," said Robinson, whose two-run single cemented the Pirates' 98th triumph of the season.

"We're good. Cincinnati is good... If we get the pitching, we'll win it," said Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner.

He's certainly got the relief pitching in lanky Kent Tekulve, who nailed down the victory for his 31st save, tying the team record he set a year ago. It was also his 93rd appearance, two more than the previous Pirate

Beware of stalking Jennings

The 43rd Texas Seniors Amateur golf championships got underway today with qualifying rounds in the five-day tournament and, if you are looking for favorites, don't forget Dick Jennings, reminds tournament director Bill Potts.

"Dick just won the World Senior championship at Broadmoor," informs Potts.

Of course, Jennings has been a familiar face on the West Texas Amateur circuit for years. The Plainview golfer was a regular at the popular Odessa Pro-Am for years and has been a consistent challenger and previous winner of the Men's West Texas.

Also in the field are a couple of other two-time champions... A.J. Clayton, winner in 1973 and 1976 and runnerup in 1974 and Frank Guernsey, 1974-75 winner and 1977 runnerup, not bad track records for the event.

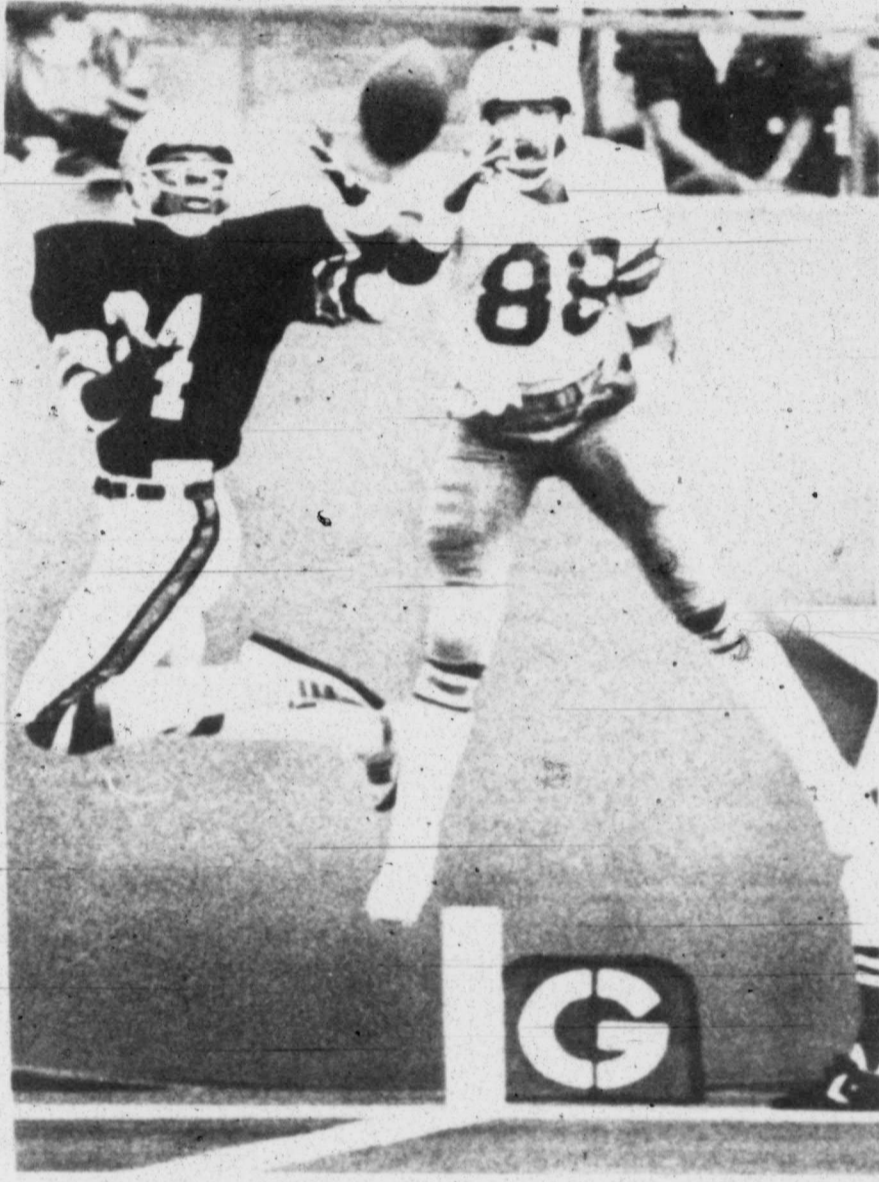

Midland challengers include M. W. (Buddy) Branum, Walter A. Loeker and Walter C. Hubbard while Roy Peden, Kermit, is another West Texan who ranks as a darkhorse.

The golfers vie for 31 championship berths today. All entrants with eight handicaps or less are required to qualify. The exception is defending champion Trombley.

Medal play begins in the title flight Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. and then title flight play will begin at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, 8:30 a.m. Thursday and all finals will tee off at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Play in the lower flights will be match.

After Wednesday's second round, the title flight will be trimmed to 16 and after Thursday, it will be just eight survivors in the final round.

Pittsburgh salutes game opponent

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Amid their postgame champagne celebration Sunday, the Pittsburgh Pirates took time to salute the Montreal Expos.

"It's got to be hard to lose after the season they had," Dave Parker said after Pittsburgh won the National League East title with a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

"Montreal has great personnel, and they made us earn it," Parker added.

The Pirate victory, coupled with the Expos' 2-0 loss to Philadelphia, ended the best big-league season Montreal has ever had.

Had the Expos won Sunday, they would have had to visit Atlanta for a make-up doubleheader Monday. They would have had to win both of those Atlanta games just to tie Pittsburgh.

"They fell short," said Pirates third baseman Bill Madlock. "But they are going to be a team to be reckoned with for a long time. They've got the pitching, the defense, the speed and the hitting."

Willie Stargell, drenched with champagne, toasted the Expos and the entire National League East.

"We've got to congratulate all the ballclubs. Chicago battled us today. The Mets and Cardinals battled us. And today Philadelphia beat Montreal."

"And the Expos, they never gave it to us. They made us earn it. That's the way you want it to be."

Oilers bruise Browns, 31-10

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers threw away their old come-from-behind script, rested Earl Campbell and unleashed rookie defensive end Jesse Baker Sunday. The result was an early lead the Oilers never lost, three touchdowns by Campbell, one and one-half sacks by Baker and a 31-10 victory over Cleveland.

The Oilers defense, which entered the game with 19 quarterback sacks, pilfered the Browns' backfield five times for 52 yards in losses. Baker got one saak outright and shared another with middle guard Curly Culp. The rookie from Jacksonville (Ala.) State now has eight sacks to lead the Oilers in that category. Elvin Bethea led the Oilers eight sacks for the entire 1978 season.

Cleveland got on the scoreboard with a 46-yard field goal by Don Cockroft in the second quarter and the Browns trailed 24-10 at the half on a 46-yard pass from quarterback Brian Sipe to Dave Logan to set up a one-yard touchdown run by Sipe 34 seconds before intermission.

Roger Craig, left, and Roy Hartsfield became managerial casualties as baseball season ended Sunday.

Hartsfield, Craig fired

BASEBALL — The San Diego Padres fired Manager Roger Craig and called a news conference for Monday to announce his successor. In his first season as Padres manager in 1978, Craig guided the club to a fourth-place finish in the National League West and a 84-78 record, its best ever. This season, the Padres finished fifth with a 68-93 mark.

Roy Hartsfield, manager of the Toronto Blue Jays since their inception into the major leagues in 1977, was fired following three straight last place finishes.

TENNIS — Bjorn Borg won the inaugural $200,000 European Open Tournament by defeating Adriano Panatta 6-2, 6-2, 7-5. In the doubles... No. 1 seeded Martina Navratilova defeated eighth-seeded Wendy Turnbull 7-6, 6-4 to win the $100,000 Atlanta Women's Classic. In doubles, the Turnbull and Betty Steed defeated unseeded Ann Kiyomura and Anne Smith 6-2, 6-4.

Victory Pecci defeated Eddie Dibbs 6-3, 6-4 and Jimmy Connors beat Guillermo Vilas 7-5, 6-3 in the semifinals of an international tournament. John McEnroe beat Peter Fleming 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 to win a $175,000 San Francisco open tennis tournament.

GOLF — Nancy Lopez Melton won the $150,000 Dallas Open with a 14-under-par 274 after a final-round 2-under-par 70 on the Bent Tree course to boost her 1979 earnings to $193,752, erasing her previous LPGA season total high. Sandra Post finished second, carding a final-round 67 for 276, and former Furman University collegiate star Beth Daniel, who made up a lot of ground with a 6-under-par 66, took third with a 278.

Japan's Yoshitaka Yamamoto birdied four of the first nine holes and shot a final-round 6-under-par 66 for an eight-stroke victory in the $90,900 Hiroshima Open golf tournament.

AUTO RACING — Alan Jones, driving a Saudia Williams FW07, defeated defending champion Gilles Villeneuve of Canada in a start-to-finish duel to win the Grand Prix of Canada for Formula 1 cars, earning his fourth victory in the last five events on the Grand Prix circuit.

Rick Mears put himself in a commanding position to reach his first national championship when he turned in a record-breaking victory drive in the IndyAtlanta Classic at the Atlanta International Raceway. Mears, who started the 150-mile Indianapolis car race on the front row, averaged a record 182.094 mph for the victory. He finished more than a lap ahead of Gordon Johncock, who ran out of fuel on the last lap.

Sam Ard of Asheboro, N.C., led a five-car freight train at the finish as he won the rescheduled Autumn 150 National Championship Late Model Sportsman race at Martinsville Speedway.

TRACK — Daniel Bautista of Mexico bettered the world record for the 20-kilometer walk by clocking 1 hour, 18.49 minutes.

Swashbuckling Bucs sack Bears, 17-13

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The game plan, Coach John McKay admits, wasn't exactly to go out and win the first five games of the season. That, in fact, is as many games as the Tampa Bay Buccaneers won last year with basically the same team. At this stage, however, the Bucs look like the giant-killers of the National Football League.

They are the only unbeaten team. They beat the Chicago Bears 17-13 Sunday, while the other previously unbeaten — the Cleveland Browns, Pittsburgh Steelers and Miami Dolphins — were losing. But McKay shouldn't forget what happened to the Washington Redskins last year, though. The Redskins got off to a 6-0 start and couldn't hold on long enough to make the playoffs.

Young quarterback Doug Williams engineered Tampa Bay's latest victory, throwing an eight-yard touchdown pass to Isaac Hagins with 5:08 left in the game, erasing a 13-10 deficit.

Eagles 17, Steelers 14—Philadelphia moved to a 17-7 lead on 1-yard TD runs by Leroy Harris and Wilbert Montgomery and a 48-yard field goal by barefoot kicker Tony Franklin, then held on to hand Pittsburgh its first loss.

The Steelers had gone ahead in the first quarter on a 7-yard scoring run by Sidney Thornton, but two Terry Bradshaw interceptions and a pair of lost fumbles helped keep Pittsburgh off the scoreboard again until late in the game.

Bradshaw capped an 80-yard, six-play drive with a 37-yard scoring toss to John Stallworth with just 1:12 left. "I really can't tell you how I felt coming off that field today," Eagles Coach Dick Vermeil said, "but I was excited and happy for my team, our coaches and our entire organization."

Jets 33, Dolphins 27—Richard Todd threw a 71-yard scoring bomb to Wesley Walker with 2:21 left to play that gave the Jets the cushion they needed to beat previously unbeaten Miami. Walker's only reception of the day gave New York a 33-20 lead, and Miami cut the final margin to six points when Bob Griese found Nat Moore in the end zone from 6 yards out on the final play of the game.

Tom Newton had a pair of 1-yard scoring runs for New York, and the Jets got the first six points of the game when Donald Dykes blocked a George Roberts punt and Johnny Lynn found it in the end zone with less than two minutes gone.

Raiders 27, Broncos 3—Oakland ended a three-game losing streak by holding Denver to one field goal, a 19-yarder by Jim Turner in the second quarter. Raiders tight end Dave Casper, returning to the starting lineup after missing part of pre-season over a contract dispute, made a couple of key receptions. He caught one TD pass from Stabler, a 28-yarder, and helped set up one of Jim Breech's two field goals with a 42-yard reception in the fourth period.

Rams 21, Cards 0—Cullen Bryant and Wendell Tyler each scored on 1-yard runs to give the Rams a 14-0 halftime lead, and the Los Angeles defense held St. Louis to 82 yards rushing for its first shutout of the season. Vince Ferragamo, substituting late in the game for Rams starter Pat Haden, threw a 27-yard touchdown pass to Billy Waddy. Haden had injured a finger in the fourth quarter.

Chiefs 24, Seahawks 6—Ted McKnight scored on runs of 23 and 84 yards, and rookie signal caller Steve Fuller tossed a 3-yard scoring pass to Mike Williams as Kansas City crushed Seattle. McKnight's 84-yarder and the Fuller TD aerial came in the fourth quarter as the Chiefs blew the game wide open. McKnight finished the game with 147 yards on just 12 carries.

Chargers 31, 49ers 9—Dan Fouts threw for 251 yards and two touchdowns, helping to keep the Chargers atop the AFC West, a game ahead of Denver and Kansas City. Fouts completed 26 of 34 passes with one interception. The lone bright spot for winless San Francisco was the 89 yards rushing by O.J. Simpson, who went over 11,000 yards rushing in his career.

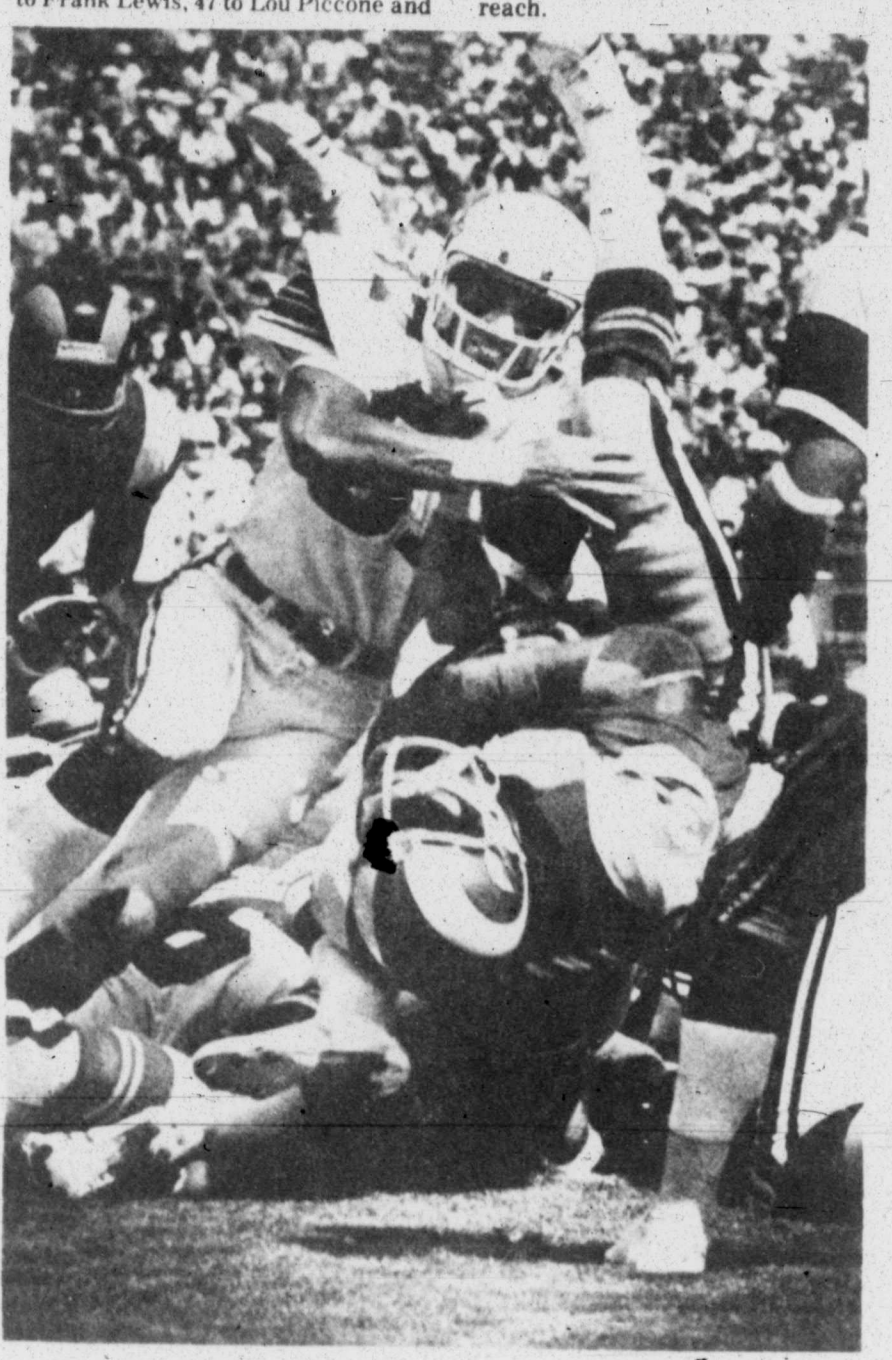

Redskins 16, Falcons 7—Mark Mosely kicked three field goals, the longest 53 yards, and Joe Theismann passed for 233 yards to lead Washington to its fourth victory in a row. John Riggins scored Washington's only touchdown on a 1-yard plunge in the second quarter. That score was set up in part by Theismann's 41-yard pass to Danny Buggs, who had 10 receptions for 134 yards.

Vikings 13, Lions 10—Rick Danmeier kicked a pair of field goals and Chuck Foreman scored on a 2-yard run for Minnesota. Foreman's touchdown with 2:03 left in the third quarter snapped a 3-3 tie, and Danmeier's 31-yard field goal gave Minnesota a 13-3 lead early in the fourth quarter. Detroit cut the gap to three points when Jeff Komlo connected with Rick Kane on a 10-yard scoring pass later in the final period.

Bills 31, Colts 13—Joe Ferguson threw three touchdown passes to rally Buffalo from a 6-0 deficit and hand Baltimore its fifth straight loss. Ferguson had scoring aeriels of 24 yards to Frank Lewis, 47 to Lou Piccone and 9 to Reuben Gant. In all, Ferguson passed for 317 yards, and Lewis caught three of his passes for 120 yards.

Saints 24, Giants 14—Chuck Muncie ran for two touchdowns and Garo Yepremian extended his record of consecutive field goals without a miss to 18 as New Orleans kept the Giants out of the win column. The Giants pulled to within three points, 17-14, in the fourth quarter on an 11-yard scoring pass from rookie Phil Simms to running back Ken Johnson, but Muncie's second TD, a 3-yarder with 41 seconds left, put the game out of reach.

record he set last season.

THE EXPOS, the surprise leaders in the division much of the season, had never finished better than fourth place. This year, they fell two games short of the top spot.

"We pushed the Pirates to the limit and they were equal to the challenge," said Larry Parrish. "If we had won our 95 games last year, we would have won the division by five games."

"We all said the race would go down to the last day and our predictions were right," said Ellis Valentine.

"But our performance just wasn't there."

Greg Gross cracked a run-scoring double and Bake McBride hit a sacrifice fly for the Phillies.

Braves 7, Reds 2—Phil Niekro, who was seeing 20-20 before the game, was looking even better following Atlanta's victory over the Reds, Niekro, who matched his brother, Phil, for most victories in the NL, ended the year with a 21-20 record.

Astros 3, Dodgers 2—Joe Niekro, 21-11, kept pace with his older brother when rookie Dan Heep's sacrifice fly in the eighth scored Jeff Leonard and broke a 2-2 tie.

Mets 4, Cards 2—The Mets, winners of four straight over St. Louis, remained at 99 losses. Elliott Maddox singled in 39 runs with two out in the ninth and circled the bases on a three-base throwing error by catcher Terry Kennedy.

Padres 5, Giants 3—Gene Tenace's 20th homer, a two-run shot in the 10th inning, carried San Diego past San Francisco.

Battered Packers face talented Patriots

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The New England Patriots, a team Bart Starr says may have the best talent in the National Football League, will showcase their skills on national television for the second time this season tonight.

Perhaps unfortunately for Starr, the Patriots' opposition will be Starr's team, the Green Bay Packers, 1-3 and in their worst physical shape of the season.

Criticism of Starr, in his fifth year as Packer coach and general manager, has been building. The club had been expected to challenge for the National Conference Central Division title.

The Patriots lost 16-13 in overtime to defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh in ABC's first Monday night NFL telecast this season, and since then have beaten the New York Jets 56-3, Cincinnati 20-14 and San Diego 27-21.

Anybody here remember owner of Oakland A's?

By BLACKIE SHERROD
Dallas Times Herald

Many of you grizzled oldies remember Charles O. Finley. Oh, sure you do. He was on all the seismographs.

Rambunctious ole Charles O. baseball's answer to the Boeing wind tunnel.

The unhappy warrior who wore more managerial scalps on his sash than any owner in history. The rapid-fire recordholder of all time. Eighteen managers in 18 seasons; try that little dandy on your history books.

Charlie O., white of hair, black of eyebrow, heart and deed. The leader in backalley transactions, forever seeking to peddle a pig in a poke. Ambush was his idea of a good clean joke. A man whose word was a good as his disappearing ink. A partner who ran to the courts as a schoolboy would flee to his mama's skirts.

This was an owner who inspired such fanatical loyalties among his players that when a federal judge left a gate unlocked, they all fled like thieves, pockets stuffed with the table silver. This was a boss who inspired these memorable words from former employee James Piersall: "If Finley got hit with a car, I would back my car over him. He is the rottenest individual I have met in my whole life." and Piersall ain't exactly spent his whole life in a monastery.

BASEBALL MISSES Charlie O. Finley, much in the way it would miss a carbuncle on its starboard buttocks. He dropped from sight during the off-season.

HERE WAS a man who thrived on firing managers, even as Count Dracula kept shuffling at the expense of other throats. Just to show his almighty perseverance, by gum, Charlie fired three of 'em twice.

But just here in the last half-dozen years, Charlie has been beaten to the punch. Three managers, in that short span, have walked out on him!

Dick Williams started the whole nasty business when he steered Oakland to their second straight World Series triumph in 1973, and handed Finley his resignation while the Series was still in progress.

CHUCK TANNER managed a year for Finley and then asked for a release, so he could take the Pittsburgh job. Finley said no. He asked for, and received, compensation from Pittsburgh — player Manny Sanguillen and $100,000 cash. You can't fault Finley for that; it was good, hard business. Still, the fact that Tanner wanted out, must have stung the old goat.

And then last season, perhaps the unkindest cut, Bobby Winkles had the A's five games in front of the American West division in late May when he simply walked out! He, too, had had enough of Finley's insulting dominance and he decided no job was worth it. And, mind you, Winkles needed a job! That really must have scored on old Charlie O.

This week, Finley has only to look at the standings to re-open his own wounds. Here was Williams at Montreal and Tanner at Pittsburgh, fighting gloriously for the flag. And John McNamara, another manager he fired, guiding Cincinnati. Of four National League teams that were locked in the final struggle, three are managed by Finley's embittered alumni. It's almost enough to make a man keep his mouth shut.

Publicized shootouts only target practice

Three of the weekend's most publicized shootouts turned out to be little more than target practice for Texas, Nebraska and Notre Dame.

While top-rated Southern California and No. 14 Ohio State had to rally for last-minute triumphs over No. 20 Louisiana State (USC 17-12) and No. 17 UCLA (Ohio State 17-13), the other matchups between members of The Associated Press Top Twenty were really mismatches.

Fourth-ranked Texas put the clamps on Missouri's offense, holding the fifth-ranked Tigers to 164 yards in a 21-0 triumph. Sixth-ranked Nebraska trailed No. 18 Penn State 14-0 after one period but erupted for a 28-14 halftime bulge and pasted the Nittany Lions 42-17, the most points against a Joe Paterno team since 1966, his first year as head coach.

And No. 15 Notre Dame, facing its third straight Big Ten power, crunched seventh-ranked Michigan State 27-3 as Vagabond Ferguson rushed for 162 yards and moved past the legendary George Gipp into second place on the school's all-time rushing chart.

Meanwhile, runnerup Alabama walloped Vanderbilt 66-3, third-ranked Oklahoma pasted Rice 63-21 — Oklahoma's offense meets Texas' defense in two weeks — No. 8 Houston trounced West Texas State 49-10 and No. 9 Washington buried Fresno State 49-14.

THE ONLY other Top Twenty team to have it easy was No. 13 Arkansas, a 33-8 winner over Tulsa. Tenth-ranked Purdue was hard-pressed to turn back Oregon 13-7. No. 11 Michigan shaded California 14-10, No. 12 Florida State downed Virginia Tech 17-9, No. 16 North Carolina State edged Wake Forest 17-14 and No. 19 Southern Methodist was knocked off by Tulane 21-17.

Texas rolled to an 18-0 halftime lead over Missouri on three of John Goodson's four field goals and a 1-yard run by Jam Jones, who finished with 142. Missouri has been a second-half team all season, but Texas Coach Fred Akers explained that "we're a second-half ballclub... and we pride ourselves on that fact."

Tim Hager, getting his first start, rallied Nebraska from a two-touchdown deficit with scoring passes of 11 and 70 yards to Junior Miller in the second quarter. Before the period ended, Kenny Brown dashed 16 yards.

San Patricio polo season comes to end

SAN PATRICIO, N.M. — The San Patricio Polo Club recently ended its season here with the Sherman Memorial Circuit Championship Tournament at the Robert O. Anderson Sunset Ranch.

The club held nine tournaments at New Mexico sites during the summer under the direction of president Buddy Fort of Midland.

The Midland team composed of Fort, Oscar Bermudez, Juarez, Mex., and Roe Babers of Portales, N.M., won the final game by a 7-5 margin over a team from Roswell, N.M.

In the earlier Silver Dollar tournament, trophies were won by Jim Yarbrough and Carlos Galindo of Midland.

One event is left for the club. A benefit game for the Girl's Club in Roswell will be held in San Patricio in October.

to put the Cornhuskers ahead and Andra Franklin added a 5.5-yard touchdown run. "We can explode any time," said Miller.

Notre Dame's Ferguson rushed for 167 yards, including touchdowns of 24 and 48 yards in the third period, as the Irish stamped Michigan State's 10-game winning streak. His second TD came on fourth-and-one.

"It was an off-tackle play and suddenly everything opened up," Ferguson said. "Tim Foley took his man out, and when the linebackers went with the outside flow I just cut back in and blew it out. You don't think big run. You just stay with the ball and let it happen."

SOUTHERN CAL trailed LSU 12-3 with 10 minutes left, but Charles White, who rushed for 185 yards, plunged across from 4 yards out and the Trojans pulled it out on Paul McDonald's 8-yard pass to Kevin Williams with 32 seconds left.

Alabama got two touchdowns apiece from Steadman Shealy and Job Jones in crushing Vanderbilt, while Oklahoma's Billy Sims rushed for 103 yards and three touchdowns — all in the first half — against Rice.

Backup fullback David Barrett scored three times in the second period as Houston drubbed West Texas State, while Tom Porras scored one touchdown and passed for another and Joe Steele scored twice in Washington's rout of Fresno State.

Sophomore Wally Jones rushed for 156 yards and scored on a pair of 2-yard runs — including the tie-breaker with 4:37 left — as Purdue downed Oregon. "I don't think you can be up for every game," Coach Jim Young said in the wake of last week's emotional win over Notre Dame. "Jones is our blocker, but today he was our best runner, too."

Michigan trailed Cal 10-0 at halftime, then came from behind on 3-yard touchdown runs by Stanley Edwards and Lawrence Reid. Jimmy Jordan's 18-yard pass to Jackie Flowers broke a second period tie as Florida State defeated Virginia Tech.

Tom Jones of Arkansas, Bert's younger brother, threw a 38-yard touchdown in his first starting assignment and led the Razorbacks to scores on two of their next three possessions against Tulsa. Calvin Murray's 34-yard run triggered Ohio State's comeback from a 10-0 halftime deficit and the Buckeyes overtook UCLA on Art Schlichter's 2-yard pass to Paul Campbell with 46 seconds left.

NORTH CAROLINA State quarterback Scott Smith scored twice but the Wolfpack needed Nathan Ritter's 41-yard field goal with 5:13 remaining to turn back Wake Forest. And Marvin Christian, who scored Tulane's first touchdown on 14-yard run, bolted 19 yards to break a 17-all tie with 1:22 to play as the Green Wave handed SMU its first setback.

Outstanding individual performances were turned in by: — Iowa's Dennis Mosley, who rushed for 229 yards and three touchdowns as the Hawkeyes trimmed Iowa State 30-14.

— North Carolina's Amos Lawrence, who gained 209 and tallied twice as the Tar Heels crushed Army 41-3.

— Utah State split end Ken Thompson, who caught nine passes for 184 yards and a school record four touchdowns as the Aggies overpowered Utah 47-21.

Smiles despite empty seats

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — His stadium had nearly 40,000 empty seats, but Michigan Athletic Director Don Canham still couldn't help smiling Saturday as attendance was announced at 61,143 for his brainchild — a battle between popular Slippery Rock and Shippensburg.

"I'm just as pleased as I can be," Canham said. "Everybody I've talked to is having a ball here today."

"I see no reason why we can't make this an annual affair. I don't know if it would always be these same two teams, though. I was thinking maybe next year we could bring in two of the good southern teams — say, maybe Grambling and Southern University."

"Or maybe we could have Slippery Rock back again to play one of Michigan's small college teams — like, say Ferris State."

Shippensburg freshman fullback Steve Moskowitz scored on touchdown runs of 75 and 63 yards and halfback Eric Payne scored on runs of 6 and 25 yards to lead the Red Raiders to a 45-14 victory over The Rock.

In addition to the fans, 12,000 high-school band members also were on hand.

Canham said expenses for both teams, including air travel and room and board in Ann Arbor, was guaranteed by the University of Michigan Athletic Department. In addition, Shippensburg was reimbursed for the revenue it would have generated had the Pennsylvania-Confederation game been played in Shippensburg as previously scheduled.

Holmes no longer Mr. X

By WILL GRIMSLEY
LAS VEGAS (AP) — Larry Holmes can quit worrying about being boxing's "Mr. X."

They know him now. They know him from Bangkok to Bangladesh, from Boston to British Columbia. They know him for what he is — a true heavyweight champion of the world, worthy of the bejeweled belts that graced the bellies of Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Rocky Marciano and Muhammad Ali.

He has earned his merit badges. He has silenced the critics and scoffers. He has proved he can fight. He can take a punch. He can look defeat squarely in the eye and defy it. He can win with class.

Let's have no more stuff about the unknown heavyweight king who drives up to the curb in a taxicab and nobody gets out. No more malarkey about the paper champ, filling in until somebody comes along worthy of succeeding the inimitable, indomitable Ali.

Let nobody ever whisper again that there is a touch of dog behind that magnificent 6-foot-3, 210-pound facade.

Any doubts about Larry Holmes' being the best fist fighter in the world in the unlimited weight division was dissipated last Friday night in the old Roman glitter and grandeur of Caesars-Palace, while much of the world watched or listened on TV and radio.

Fighting his 32nd fight as a pro and in the fourth defense of his World Boxing Council title, the 29-year-old onetime car washer, mill worker and lowly sparring partner faced one of his most hazardous tests in powerful, hard-punching Earnie Shavers, who had knocked out 56 of his 58 victims, half of them in the first two rounds.

In the seventh round, Shavers started a swing at Sahara Boulevard, routed it around Desert End and landed it flush on the champion's jaw.

Holmes hit the canvas like a stricken mule and lay there momentarily looking blankly into the ring lights. Most mortal men, having received such an awesome shot, would have rolled over and waited for the count.

Not Holmes. He shook the fog out of his eyes, hung on desperately and survived the round. Four rounds later, he beat a bloodied and battered Shavers into submission. Referee Davey Pearl mercifully stopped the bout at two minutes of the 11th round.

Twins' Koosman closes out with 20th

By SCOTT PAPILLON AP Sports Writer BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — When the Minnesota Twins traded for veteran left-hander Jerry Koosman last winter, Manager Gene Mauer refused to predict how many games he might win.

Jerry Koosman reaches magical plateau.

Gorman Thomas got two of the hits off Koosman, but also had the dubious distinction of tying the American League record for strikeouts when he was caught looking in the eighth.

It's like your first baby, your first marriage. Your first 20. But that doesn't make the second time anything less. It's not something you do everyday. It was my last shot of the year and I gave it my best.

Koosman's shutout was preserved by rookie John Castino in the ninth inning after Ray Fosse had tripped with one out. Jim Wohlford hit a hot smash down the third base line, but Castino snared the ball and lunged to tag out Fosse, who was caught off third.

It was the first time the Brewers had been shut out in 214 games since Ron Guidry of the New York Yankees stopped them 9-0 on Aug. 9, 1978.

"He's made difficult plays all year long and he's made the impossible plays possible," said Koosman of Castino, who is a prime rookie of the year candidate.

White Sox 6, Mariners 1 — Ken Kravec, 15-13, hurled a five-hitter and Thad Bosley knocked in three runs with two singles for the White Sox, who dealt Mike Parrott his 12th loss.

Tigers 5, Red Sox 1 — Jack Morris of the Tigers permitted seven hits in posting his 17th triumph against seven losses. Tom Brookers, Champ Summers and Ron LeFlore collected homers off losing pitcher Bob Stanley, 16-12.

Yankees 9, Blue Jays 2 — Jim Spencer and Bobby Murcer led the Yankee attack as reliever Ron Davis boosted his record to 14-2. Spencer drove in three runs with two home runs and Murcer knocked home four runs with three hits. After the game the Blue Jays announced that Manager Roy Hartsfield had been fired after three losing seasons.

Angels 11, Rangers 5 — Bobby Grich, Carney Lansford and Don Baylor slammed homers to give California a 7-0 lead. Grich hit a three-run blast and Lansford homered with one aboard. Winning pitcher Chris Knapp, 5-5, scattered six hits in the first six innings.

Indians 6, Orioles 5 — Dell Alston's RBI single in the 11th brought home Ron Pruitt, who had walked and advanced on a sacrifice to give the victory to Sid Monge, 12-10. He worked five innings of four-hit shutout relief, while Dave Ford, 2-1, took the loss.

A's 6, Royals 5 — Dave Revering's triple drove in two Oakland runs in the ninth for the victory, making Brian Kingman, 8-7, the winner. Dwayne Murphy and Dave Chalk hit solo homers for the A's.

Not many Brooks Robinsons come along in this league. The Twins are lucky to have the next one. Castino was also part of the Twins' five-run fifth inning. Roy Smalley singled with the bases loaded for two runs off loser Gary Sorensen. Castino, Rob Wilfong and Danny Goodwin also drove in runs.

Recipes '79 deadline nears

It's time to dig up that favorite recipe for The Midland Reporter-Telegram's annual recipe contest and cookbook section, "Recipes '79."

Deadline for entries is Friday. Winners will be announced in "Recipes '79."

This year's edition will be published as a tabloid supplement to the newspaper Sunday, Nov. 4. It will feature scores of recipes submitted by readers.

Valuable prizes and cash awards for winning entries will be given in each of six categories. Watch the newspaper for details to be announced. The categories will be:

- (1) Salads; (2) Meats, Fish and Fowl; (3) Cereals, vegetables and side dishes; (4) Breads; (5) Cakes, and (6) Pies.

All entries will be judged by a panel of professional home economists not connected with the newspaper. The judges will select the three best recipes in each category.

Entries should be typewritten and all measurements and instructions clearly stated. Any recipes that are unclear will be disqualified.

Each entry should be clearly labeled at the top with the entrant's name, address, telephone number, the name of the recipe, and category entered.

Send entries to: "Recipes '79," The Midland Reporter-Telegram, P.O. Box 1650, Midland, Texas, 79702.

Will you fit fall fashions?

Ms. Mildred Huseman can, thanks to Pat Walker's reducing system.

Ms. Huseman's story: "A nice dressy dress," I said to the saleslady. She looked me over and said 'Well, let's see if we have anything to fit you!' Hurt? Yes, I was hurt. The truth was the saleslady was right. I was very overweight and unhappy about my appearance. My clothes did not look good on me and I never felt pretty.

Then I discovered Pat Walker's. I have lost 47 pounds and 60 1/4 inches and I'm not through yet.

I enjoy buying clothes now, I get outside to do yard work, our family goes boating, my husband and I have joined a square dance club. I am enjoying life. Thank you Pat Walker's."

Bokassa's silent palace houses remnants of his reign

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERENGO, Central African Republic (AP) — Ex-Empress Bokassa's imperial palace is silent and desolate, but a guard of scruffy, undisciplined soldiers and 20-foot walls protect the lavish furnishings and extensive imperial wardrobe from looters.

The soldiers lounge in the shade near the iron gates of the palace, in the heart of a lush tropical forest 50 miles southwest of the capital of Bangui, keeping out all outsiders except those with special authorization from the new government.

The emperor's extensive retinue and domestic staff have fled into the bush or are under arrest.

Electronic devices that once guarded against intruders are broken and loose wires trail along the ground. Two of Bokassa's Mercedes limousines still stand on the parade ground in the middle of the compound, but all his other elegant cars have disappeared.

Debris is scattered across the compound. Faded and broken imperial symbols hang from lamp posts. The huge swimming pool looks as though it was abandoned months ago and a dark green slime covers the bottom.

When Bokassa was ousted in a coup Sept. 1, angry crowds broke into the compound. But soldiers prevented them from looting the palace as they looted villas, stores and businesses in Bangui suspected of belonging to the emperor or his beautiful 26-year-old empress, Catherine.

Bokassa was granted political asylum in the Ivory Coast after the French government barred him from France. But the government that succeeded him may seek his extradition to face charges ranging from taking part in the massacre of 100 schoolchildren to embezzling millions of dollars in government funds.

The couple's huge wardrobes are crammed into numerous cupboards in the royal apartments. She left behind more than 60 pairs of high-fashion shoes made in France and Italy. His 160 expensive, tailor-made suits and uniforms hang alongside the gold-embroidered white robes Lanvin of Paris made for his 1977 Napoleonic-style coronation.

Soldiers escorting a party of reporters snickered and laughed at the huge velvet-covered chandelier and the former French army sergeant and his wife shared.

In the monumental bathroom, dozens of bottles of costly perfume and shaving lotion stood on shelves.

"Well, he was the emperor, after all," said one of the escorting soldiers with a shrug.

French troops removed Bokassa's files a week ago from the throne room on the opposite side of the parade ground, where the emperor presided over meetings of the imperial cabinet. But they apparently overlooked his small private office next to his bedroom. There, in a drawer of an imitation Louis XVI desk, reporters found a big folder labeled "private correspondence with foreign chiefs of state."

In the folder, there was a labeled file for each country, including all the big powers and nearly all African countries including South Africa. The biggest file was labeled "France."

The correspondence with South Africa was particularly significant because of reports from diplomats in Bangui that Bokassa was secretly subsidized by the white-minority government there. Some reports said he may have received as much as $200 million from South Africa since he seized power in an army coup in 1965.

Bokassa had no diplomatic relations with South Africa but an official South African representative attended his coronation.

In the living room, filled with imitation Louis XV furniture in red and gold, the reporters found one of the ivory-encrusted ebony canes, weighing about four pounds, with which Bokassa is alleged to have killed some of the schoolchildren in the April 19 massacre.

The soldiers — apparently on explicit orders from the new government — refused to allow the visitors to inspect the extensive palace kitchens.

Fluoride necessary

Dear Dr. Solomon: We moved last year to a community that doesn't have fluoridated water. There seems to have been quite a debate about this, and it isn't yet settled. Quite a few people feel that fluoride isn't all that safe. I'd like to know if there is anything in this. And I'd also like to know what you think about fluoride supplements for children. — Betsy H.

Dear Betsy: Although over half of the American population now has fluoridated water, there is still a good deal of misunderstanding about what fluoride is and what it does.

Fluoride is found throughout nature — in the soil, in water, in plants and in animals. It isn't some strange chemical that may have unpredictable effects on the human body. Any normal diet has fluoride in it. In fact, the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences classifies fluoride as an essential dietary mineral.

The most important function of fluoride — at any rate the most important one we know of definitely — is to build strong teeth. Fluoride may also play a vital role in bone formation and maintenance and help prevent osteoporosis later on in life, but this is an area in which more research is needed.

The amount of fluoride in the soil and in natural waters varies a great deal from region to region, and in many places there isn't enough. Fluoridating the public water supply simply means adding enough of the mineral to bring the content up to the ideal strength, which is one part per million — as you see, a very minute amount. Numerous and thorough studies have shown that this reduces children's cavities by more than 50 percent — and that it presents no hazard.

Basically, it's just like adding iodine to salt in order to prevent people from getting goiter. In fact, salt fluoridation can be one method of ensuring that everybody gets enough fluoride. It's used in Switzerland and a number of other countries. And some experts are suggesting salt fluoridation for areas in the United States where there is no central water supply.

If you were to get much too much fluoride over a period of time, that could be bad for you. But the same is true for other minerals you need — or for practically anything. The first indicator of an excess of fluoride is a slight mottling of tooth enamel.

Since your community's water is not fluoridated, you should check with your doctor about supplements for your children in the form of tablets or drops. He will know how much fluoride there is in the local water and therefore how much supplement is desirable.

DEAR ABBY

Better watch bedside manners

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the newlywed signed FRUSTRATED, who couldn't wait for her husband to be released from the hospital to have sex, reminded me of a similar incident.

Years ago, when I was on night duty at a hospital, a woman patient rang her bell and asked if I'd mind standing guard. — RETIRED RN, MILWAUKEE

DEAR RETIRED: At least she ASKED. DEAR ABBY: I was once in the same predicament as FRUSTRATED; and my husband and I were ready to climb the walls. Then we spoke to his doctor, who wrote my husband a "prescription" and gave it to the head nurse. (We still have the "prescription" in our scrapbook.)

One nurse entered our room out of curiosity, but we felt justified in telling her to stay out — that it was doctor's orders that we were not to be disturbed for two hours.

There were no problems once the word got around the nurses' station. Sign this... SAVED BY USUAL PRESCRIPTION

DEAR ABBY: As an RN in a Houston hospital I have seen some mighty strange goings on. I recall a complaint from a woman who was sharing a double room with a pretty young girl who had broken both legs in a skiing accident. It seems that the girl (with both legs in casts, yet!) had frequent visits from her husband, during which time they carried on as though they were in a private room. When I confronted the young girl with her roommate's complaint, she said: "If she's such a prude, she can turn the other way." — TRUE STORY

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the frustrated newlywed reminded me of my days as a young intern at St. Joseph's Hospital in Syracuse, N.Y.

"I'll never forget the 82-year-old patient who had a young woman visiting him. I went into his room to tell him that visiting hours were over. At first it appeared that he was alone, then I discovered that they were BOTH in his bed! (I was more embarrassed than they were.) — NEW YORK M.D.

DEAR ABBY: In my 16 years of private nursing, I cannot count the number of times I've been embarrassed when I've walked into private, semi-private and ward rooms to find people with the same views as FRUSTRATED.

I am not totally without sympathy, but I think the patient's health should be cared for at the hospital, and his romantic needs elsewhere. A hospital is not a hotel. If a patient is well enough for marital relations, and wants to get his $98-a-day's worth, perhaps he should be transferred to the nearest Hilton. — MARY IN DULUTH

U.S. tax money keeps rolling in, but bureaucracy can't spend it

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money, money everywhere and not a cent to spend. That was the situation confronting most of the federal government today — the first day of the new fiscal year — because of an impasse between the Senate and House over abortion and Congressional pay raise. The tax money is rolling in as usual, but government agencies have no legal right to spend it. That's because the two houses have not agreed on a resolution to authorize continued spending at last year's levels. Legislation actually appropriating money under a new 1980 budget is still far from final passage, but it is not unusual for new appropriations bills not to be in place in time for the start of the new budget year each Oct. 1. Those situations usually are resolved by passing a continuing resolution authorizing temporary spending authority.

The new wrinkle this year — one which makes the situation potentially more serious — is that the Senate killed the continuing resolution late Friday.

The sticking point for the Senate was that the House version of the continuing resolution authorized a 5.5 percent pay raise for Congress and top federal employees and also imposed severe restrictions on federal spending for abortions.

The Senate balked at both provisions and killed the spending resolution shortly before midnight Friday. By that time, the House had recessed for a week-long vacation.

New law makes it easier to go broke, harder to collect

By The Associated Press

Starting today, Americans in most parts of the country who seek relief from debts in bankruptcy court will be able to keep more of their property as they make a fresh financial start. The Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 generally makes it easier to go broke and, in some cases, makes it harder for creditors to collect the money they are owed. Personal bankruptcies already are on the increase, although they have not reached the peak they did during the 1975 recession.

In the 12 months that ended June 30, individuals filed 196,976 bankruptcy petitions — up from 172,423 the previous year. In the recession year of 1974-75, there were 224,354 personal bankruptcies.

Thousands demonstrate against nuclear power

By The Associated Press

Thousands of people across the nation spent their weekend demonstrating against the use of nuclear power, saying it threatens the environment and their lives. But there were some rallies in favor of increased use of nuclear power.

The weekend's events were climaxed Sunday by about 1,200 persons who walked past the gates of three nuclear plants at Snelling, S.C., and called for their shutdown.

That theme was repeated at rallies in Zion, Ill., Richland, Wash., and Springville, N.Y., south of Buffalo. Some of the protests were aimed at facilities used to store nuclear wastes.

In Concord, N.H., anti-nuclear activist Tom Hayden on Sunday denounced tactics suggested for this week's takeover attempt of the Seabrook nuclear power plant.

"Non-violence has worked extremely well for the nuke movement, and it's no time to switch to tactics which could lead to violence," said Hayden. He and his wife, actress Jane Fonda, met for three hours with about 60 environmental activists.

And in Jefferson City, Mo., a rally that drew about 1,000 persons to the State Capitol on Sunday was a "clear message" to the state Legislature that many Missourians want limits on the growth of nuclear power plants, said Mark Haim, spokesman for Missourians for Safe Energy, which organized the rally.

The South Carolina march was part of a three-day rally called by the Southeastern Natural Guard, a coalition of anti-nuclear groups.

Among those who spoke at the rally was Howard Morland, who wrote an article on the H-bomb which courts blocked The Progressive magazine from publishing for a time.

In New Mexico, people rallied for and against nuclear power. At Church Rock on Saturday, state officials spoke to about 250 persons attending a rally called to emphasize the economic importance of uranium to the state.

But at Loving, about 300 people heard Harvard professor and Nobel Prize winner George Wald say "there is no form of nuclear power that we can live with."

In Flagstaff, Ariz., National Guard troops began storing 20 tons of radioactive tritium on Sunday in a bunker at an Army ammunition depot. Gov. Bruce Babbitt had ordered the gas seized from the American Atomics Corp. plant in Tucson on grounds the plant was not safe.

About 50 demonstrators greeted the tritium's arrival by National Guard convoy Saturday, chanting "We don't want it here!"

18,000 walk picket lines at schools

By The Associated Press

Striking teachers in Jefferson Parish, La., voted to support their five-week strike despite an ultimatum from school officials, while teachers in Jasper, Ala., were going back to their classrooms today for the first time in three weeks.

More than 18,000 teachers walked picket lines today in California, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania in strikes affecting more than 350,000 students.

Some 3,000 teachers are on strike in Jefferson Parish, where school board President Andy Valence set today as the last day teachers could go back to work with amnesty.

"It's just more blue smoke that they're blowing around about having to negotiate a fair and equitable settlement," Charles Iannello of the Jefferson Federation of Teachers said Sunday after teachers voted to stay on picket lines.

The dispute is the longest of this year's teacher contract battles.

In Jasper, the first teacher walkout in Alabama history ended when 600 teachers voted Saturday to return to work. Several businesses agreed to guarantee a loan to be used to rehire 42 teachers fired in a cost-cutting move.

In Illinois, a settlement was reached Sunday in the strike at Elk Grove Village, in suburban Chicago, but elementary teachers in Calumet City voted to strike after contract negotiations broke down. And Evanston high school teachers said they would strike Tuesday if a contract settlement were not reached.

State mediators withdrew from contract negotiations in Indianapolis, where teachers have been on strike since Sept. 4.

Tritium gas buried in concrete bunker

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — More than 6.5 million tiny tubes of radioactive tritium gas seized from a Tucson manufacturer have been buried in a concrete bunker at an Army ammunition depot.

Nuclear experts supervised Army National Guard troops Sunday as they placed the tritium in underground vaults at the depot 12 miles west of here.

"That's it. We sealed up the bunker and are going home," said Darrell Warren of the Arizona Atomic Energy Commission. "There were no complications at all."

Warren said what had appeared Saturday to be a small leak "turned out to be a pocket of gas."

"It was gone before we got there this morning," he told a reporter. "We left it there overnight and found no more than a background reading."

The radioactive material, more than $300,000 worth, had been conveyed by truck across central Arizona in a high-security operation.

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock prices fell sharply for the second straight session today. Analysts attributed the drop to worries about rising gold prices and interest rates and the ailing dollar.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial issues was off 7.59 to 870.99 at noon.

Declining issues led those advancing on the New York Stock Exchange by a 3-1 margin.

The price of an ounce of gold broke through the $400 barrier and hovered near the $415 level in Zurich and London today, while the dollar was mixed.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Charity becoming major industry in United States

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - It is full, and as part of the American ritual, industry is distributing United Way payroll deduction forms to its employees, the easier for them to make their charitable contributions.

More too: That while Americans gave $39.6 billion last year, charity is in trouble, its expenses rising, its contributions not keeping pace with economic growth. And that government is usurping its role.

Bakal says charity has remained a sacred cow because so little is known about it. Many, for example, think business is its main support, whereas individuals are said to account for 84 percent of donations.

Corporate donations, he says, have languished near 1 percent of net income, or just 20 percent of the tax-allowable 5 percent limit.

This book is going to hurt the image of business. It will hurt charity too, Bakal expects some of his sources no longer will speak to him. He believes that some are "terrified" by publication.

Readers might be appalled, but the book is in the telling story of 400 charities, Bakal covers America - health, wealth and culture - with anecdotes, interviews, and personal experiences in a manner reminiscent of John Gunther and his "Inside" books. His comments are incisive.

He doesn't like how charity conducts itself - not just the United Way but the likes of the Red Cross, and Catholic, Protestant and Jewish charities. His exposition - "not expose" - spares nobody he said.

And so, he was asked, what would you have in its place?

"Government," he replied. Here, he said, we have vital community needs serviced by begging. Should we have to depend on comedians to raise money? Would such procedures do for fire and police services?

It was suggested to him that governments often have worse records for the delivery of services. What of the freedoms that might be lost? Won't a government-bureaucracy encompass old evils and add more?

Regulation, he conceded, might be the answer. Charity, he said, may be the biggest industry, but it isn't regulated and sometimes not even made accountable. People don't know where their money goes, he said.

In contrast, he observed, corporations are monitored, their finances are scrutinized; they issue public reports. People who invest in bonds and stocks know what they're getting into.

"It isn't so with charity," he said.

The chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, Donald C. Platten, said that the prime lending rate has "not quite yet reached the peak." The prime - charged by banks on loans to their best corporate customers - now stands at 13 1/2 percent and has been rising steadily in recent weeks as the Federal Reserve tightens credit in an attempt to stem inflation.

Louisiana Land & Exploration was the NYSE's most active issue at noon as takeover rumors continued to swirl around the firm. It rose 1/4 to 46 3/8, with a 138,000-share block trading at 45 1/8.

The NYSE's composite common stock index was off .54 to 61.70 at noon. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down 7.2 to 224.46.

Big Board volume came to 12.08 million shares in the first two hours of trading, compared to 14.11 million shares that had changed hands by noon Friday.

Man arrested in burglary

MIDLAND (AP) - Police officers following footprints from the scene of an alleged burglary to a nearby house about 11 p.m. Sunday arrested a 19-year-old man, officials said.

Two-and-one-half cases of beer were reported taken from La Bonita Bar, 404 N. Lamesa Road, about 10 p.m. Sunday, according to police reports.

Officers investigating the report said entry to the business apparently had been gained by someone prying loose a sheet of tin next to an air conditioner.

In a separate incident, four stained glass windows valued at $1,350 were taken from a residence in the 1200 block of West Illinois Avenue, police said.

Entry to the residence apparently was through the rear door, police said.

Continental Airlines initiated a new flight from Midland-Odessa to western Mexico this morning, according to Charles Logan, Continental regional director for this area.

The flight features a mid-morning departure and an evening return from Acapulco Wednesday, Saturdays and Sundays.

Flights to and from Puerto Vallarta and Manzanillo are featured Tuesdays and Fridays, and flights to and from La Paz and Los Cabos are offered Mondays and Thursdays.

Trailer damaged in Sunday fire

A fire Sunday at 501 E. Illinois Ave. caused heavy damage to a trailer parked behind Carter's Furniture Inc. fire department reports indicated.

Trash in the trailer was the fuel that fed the blaze, according to reports. How the fire was ignited was not known, officials said.

Five firefighters responded to the blaze, which, according to reports, also caused damage to a utility pole and a telephone cable located near the trailer.

Escape of nine inmates reported

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) - Nine inmates described as dangerous slipped away from the maximum security unit of Caddo Correctional Institute early today, the sheriff's department said.

Four were captured within hours, as four dozen deputies, prison guards and state police officers searched the area for the other five, Caddo Parish Deputy Bill Dick said.

The inmates reportedly escaped through a "solar screen" gate that allows sunlight to filter through, but Dick said officials were not sure how they got out.

"We're still investigating," he said.

The inmates were not believed to be armed.

Gold prospectors flocking to forests of New Mexico

By NANCY SALEM
Associated Press Writer

Prospectors with gold fever are pouring into national forests in New Mexico, staking claims, cranking up dredges and reopening old mines as the price of the glittering metal skyrockets.

Less ambitious gold hunters are wading into the state's rivers and streams with gold pans. And the even less adventurous are flocking to jewelry stores, where the demand for gold trinkets is up.

Gold, the precious metal that sold for as little as $35 an ounce 10 years ago, touched a record-shattering $400 Friday.

"I've got gold fever. Everybody has a secret desire to go out and find gold," said Albuquerque panner Pat Kohl, who owns a rock shop where sales of gold pans and mining equipment jumped 200 percent the past few months.

Ms. Kohl said her pan usually comes up empty, but "There's always that feeling deep down inside that this time I'm going to find it. It's a thrill. It gets in your system."

Ron Eveleth, a mining engineer at the New Mexico Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources, said most prospecting in the state is done on federal land. The reason is economic: miners don't have to pay a production royalty to the federal government, but the state asks for up to 12.5 percent of a miner's or company's take.

Old mines are being reopened at Mogollon in Catron County, Steeprock in Grant County, Cerrillos in Santa Fe County and Oregon in Otero County.

And Eveleth said exploration is continuing at a near-panic pace around the rest of the state.

It doesn't appear there's much more gold to be found. Eveleth said the little bit left behind in the state's old mining areas is worth enough now to warrant reopening the mines.

The gold rush of 1979 is young, so new miners are still busy exploring and testing.

Eveleth said established mining companies, such as Kennecott Copper Corp., are cashing in on soaring gold prices.

"Companies that produce copper, silver and other metals have been getting gold as a by-product all along," Eveleth said.

He said the rise in gold prices has offset increased mining costs, making gold a lucrative by-product for Kennecott and others.

The hunt for new veins of gold is centered in the Carson National Forest in northern New Mexico.

Chuck Brandt, the forest's mining specialist, said prospectors are busy exploring and staking claims. He said

Few students 'well-armed' consumers

By LOUISE COOK
 Associated Press Writer

Information can be a shopper's best weapon in the battle against inflation. How well-armed are you?
 Here are some of the questions in a recent survey on economics and consumerism conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress among 17-year-old high school students.
 The answers are below, along with the teen-agers' responses. A panel of experts which reviewed the results of the government-financed study concluded that the youngsters were not well prepared for their roles as consumers. And several panel members said that the adult population at large probably knows even less than the students in several key areas.

1. Is it legal: (a) To advertise a $4,000 car at $90 per month without including credit terms? (b) To keep merchandise that you got in the mail even though you did not order it and do not pay for it? (c) For a chain store to charge different prices on the same items in different neighborhoods? (d) For supermarkets to raise prices on the day welfare checks are issued?
2. Which of the following statements are true? (a) Advertising may help increase sales and lower prices for a new product. (b) Companies that advertise more always produce better products. (c) Production costs are less than advertising costs for some items.
3. Which is the best buy: (a) A four-ounce bag of potato chips at 22 cents? (b) A six-ounce bag at 28 cents? (c) An eight-ounce bag at 48 cents? (d) A 20-ounce bag at $1?
4. True or false: A service contract is always a good investment when purchased for the life of the appliance.
5. Which of the following is the largest single deduction from the average pay-check? (a) Federal income tax. (b) State tax. (c) Social Security. (d) Sales tax.
6. Who is most likely to benefit financially during a period of rapidly rising prices? (a) A person on a fixed salary. (b) A homeowner with a long-term mortgage. (c) An individual on a fixed retirement income. (d) A person who has loaned $10,000 at today's loan rates. (e) Someone who owns a paid-up life insurance policy.
7. What is the cost of a bottle of soda if a six-pack costs $1.20 including a five-cent deposit on each bottle?
 Now the answers.

Fear continues to stalk Miami housing complex

MIAMI (AP) — More than a year after the brutal slaying of an 81-year-old blind man, his neighbors hide behind an iron fence and barred windows. Armed guards patrol the corridors of their low-income complex.
 "People were scared... I think I aged 20 years," said 74-year-old Alice Mandy, who has lived in Claude Pepper Towers since the public housing project opened in 1970.
 The murder of Juan Amechazurra on May 21, 1978, has made some people chronically uneasy. It doesn't seem to matter that two young men were convicted of the murder and sentenced to prison for 25 years each.
 What matter most are memories of the crime and the vivid description by a county medical examiner: "He was viciously beaten. It's one of the worst things I've seen happen to an old man. It looks like he suffocated, drowned in his own blood."
 Amechazurra was killed by two men who ripped out a screen in the window by the front door, reached around, opened the door and burst into his apartment. He was found face down in the bed. His white cane was leaning in a corner of the blood-splattered room.
 Most of the 166 apartments at the complex have windows on the open corridor.
 "I used to close all my windows in the front. It used to be so hot, especially at night," Mrs. Mandy said. Now two of her windows are barred so she can open them for the breeze.
 After the murder, U.S. Rep. Claude Pepper held an emotional public hearing to denounce violence against the elderly. The U.S. Labor Department spent $255,000 to hire guards to patrol crime-plagued Dade County public housing projects.
 Pepper, a Miami Democrat, persuaded Congress to appropriate $30 million to fight crime in public housing. At the housing project named after him, about $240,000 is being spent for the iron fence, steel window grates and an electronic telephone entry system. Some residents say that has made them feel safer — but at a price.
 "Look what happens at other places," said Margo Lagos, 84. "This is not a bad place. It's a good place. But it's not as cheerful as it once was. People keep more to themselves... My friends tell me, 'Margo, you're...'
 "We rented a small apartment and had to pay $130 a month," Mrs. Mendez said. "Here now it is $66 a month. Around the building is a dangerous zone — all Miami is dangerous, but around the building is bad. I don't walk around any more."
 really in jail now behind that fence," Zoe Mendez, 67, and her husband moved out after the murder, but returned a month later.
 Ruth Perlmutter, administrator of Metro Adult Day Car Center, said

Former U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Andrew Young Sunday said he plans to support Jimmy Carter for re-election in the upcoming presidential campaign. Young, in a Nassau news conference, said he feels Carter will win despite poor showings in polls. (AP Laserphoto)

Three white youths held in Boston school shooting

BOSTON (AP) — Three white youths are under arrest in the shooting of a black high school football player that has sparked tighter security at Boston schools — and a protest aimed at Pope John Paul II.
 Black state legislators planned to lead a protest march today from the city's Roxbury section to the Boston Common where the pope was to celebrate the first Mass of his U.S. tour, said Rep. Mel King.
 Extra police will guard school buildings for the re-opening of classes Tuesday. School Superintendent Robert C. Wood said. Schools were closed today because of the pope's visit.
 "We want to send out the message that we will not tolerate any violence," said Chuck Wexler, a spokesman for Police Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan.

Wood appealed to students to return to school and assured parents "every step humanly possible will be taken to assure the safety of all children, in the schools and as they travel the streets of the city."
 However, the citywide Parents' Advisory Council called for a system-wide boycott of Boston's public schools on Tuesday unless the city administration can guarantee the safety of youngsters.
 Council co-chairman Pat Corcoran claimed 50 percent of the parents backed the boycott. "We are still not sure about the safety of our children," she said.
 Wood said extra monitors will ride buses in the Charlestown section, where the shooting took place Friday. He said Sunday some buildings already were under surveillance, but did not disclose the locations.
 Meanwhile, Darryl Williams, 15, of the Roxbury section, was in critical condition and on the danger list at City Hospital, paralyzed from the neck down and unable to breathe without aid.
 Jordan announced Sunday the arrests of three teen-agers on charges of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. The three were being held on $100,000 bail pending arraignment Tuesday.
 Mayor Kevin White said Friday the shooting was "apparently racially motivated." The FBI entered the investigation "in connection with possible violations of the federal civil rights act."

 The shooting was "not racial, in my opinion," said police Deputy Superintendent William MacDonald. King disputed the officer's opinion.

Tractor company picketed

By The Associated Press

Picket lines went up at Deere & Co. plants in Illinois and Iowa today, shutting down the company which was the United Auto Workers' strike target among major farm implement makers.

"We're too far apart to get a settlement tonight," said UAW spokesman Pat Greathouse after talks stalled at midnight Sunday. "Our committee voted to reject the final offer by the company."

Negotiators for the two sides, meeting for the weekend in Moline, Ill., were in agreement on pensions and wages. Greathouse said, adding, however, that "the union wanted a more extensive settlement than the company was willing to give."

Contracts with Caterpillar Tractor Co. and International Harvester also expired at midnight.

Picket lines also went up early today at Caterpillar's four plants in the Peoria, Ill., area as members of UAW Local 974, voted to strike in defiance of a union plan to continue working if a walkout was called at Deere, the target company.

Eight of nine Caterpillar locals planned to stay on the job, but leaders of the ninth and largest, Local 974, approved a walkout. The executive board's vote Sunday was 10-9, with some officials saying they did not believe union members wanted to walk off their jobs.

The Peoria local, with 23,000 members, is the most powerful of the Caterpillar locals, representing more workers than the other eight combined.
