Delays, maneuvers, debate jeopardize SALT in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if President Carter succeeds in severing SALT II from the furor over Soviet troops in Cuba, the treaty still faces an uphill struggle in the Senate.

The timing and outcome of the chamber's debate are clouded by procedural delays, parliamentary maneuvering, filibusters and stormy debate over issues ranging from whether Soviet compliance with the treaty terms can be verified to demands for sharp increases in defense spending.

The Senate's Democratic leaders want to begin floor debate this year to avoid entangling the treaty in the presidential and congressional contests of 1980.

But majority leader Robert C. Byrd says that timing would hold only if the pact clearly has the 67 votes needed for ratification.

On Tuesday, Byrd's Republican counterpart, minority leader Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, said that as of now there are probably fewer than 60 senators prepared to vote for the treaty.

And there are conflicting predictions as to when the treaty will reach the floor.

Baker said it might be as early as late October, with debate limited to a month or less.

But Sen. John Tower of Texas, chairman of the Senate Republican conference, said debate might be put off until March or April.

Senators opposed to linking SALT to Cuba held the Senate floor for more than an hour in debate today. They urged that the pact be considered on its own merits and called on the Senate to ignore what they called minor sideshows.

Sen. Donald W. Riegle, D-Mich., said attempts at linkage are "nonsense, if not worse." He said that any senator who would see the treaty defeated and thereby run the risk of accelerating the development of nuclear weapons "ought to have his head examined."

Senate Democratic whip Alan Cranston of California said he thinks it would be wise to admit that Carter erred in saying a month ago that the status quo in Cuba was "unacceptable."

"Nonetheless, I think a case can be made that by our actions the status quo has been changed," Cranston said.

The airing of opinion was organized by Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., who said "the current frenzy over Cuba should not, in my opinion, impact upon the thoughtful and rational analysis which SALT II deserves."

However, Tower, a leading critic of SALT II, called the measures taken by the president "empty of content or tangible result."

"After a month of rationalization, ineffectual posturing, accommodation, hand-wringing and chaos, (the president) has declared that the status quo is acceptable — the troops will remain," Tower said. "Only our perception will change."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said he is prepared to end hearings on the pact and to proceed with the committee's consideration of proposed changes.

But Church also says he believes there is no chance the Senate will ratify SALT II as long as the Soviet brigade is in Cuba.

Senate aides say Church is considering a strategy to permit SALT II's ratification with a reservation stating that the treaty would not take effect until the president certifies the brigade has been withdrawn or dismantled.

Baker, however, said this approach is a "cop-out" that dodges the issue and one he won't accept.

He said it would be far more preferable for the Senate to delay debate until the combat character of the brigade is altered. Baker said that, despite administration pleas, he cannot separate the Soviet presence and increasing Russian "adventurism" around the world from consideration of the pact.

One of the most controversial aspects of the treaty has been whether the United States can verify Soviet compliance with its terms.

The Senate Intelligence Committee's final report on the highly classified verification issue has run into many delays and is not expected to be available to senators before next week at the earliest.

Carter missed a chance to bargain, Hance says

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

President Carter missed "a golden opportunity to bargain with the Soviets on SALT II" in his handling of the Russian troops in Cuba, U.S. Rep. Kent Hance said Tuesday.

The freshman Democratic legislator representing the 19th Congressional District — which includes Midland — criticized Carter's actions toward the Russian troops during a speech given to the American Business Club in Eden's Restaurant.

Carter told the American public Monday night that the U.S. would increase surveillance of military activities in Cuba and bolster the U.S. naval and military presence in the Caribbean area.

Because of Carter's restrained stance towards the Russians, Hance said he doesn't see a chance for SALT II to be passed by the Senate.

The only way to have an arms limitations agreement between the U.S. and the Soviet Union is, for both countries to stand on similar ground, he said. "You can't go on their (Soviets') word alone."

The "verification" clause in the treaty is what worries Hance, he emphasized. When the treaty was written, the U.S. had listening devices and bases in Iran, Hance said.

SINCE THE AYATOLLAH Khomeini's move into Iran and the Shah's hasty leave-taking, those listening capabilities have been reduced to nothing. And Iran was a major base for the U.S., he explained.

"This way we can't verify what the Soviets have. There are indications that if we lost some of our satellites the Russians would be able to put a submarine with nuclear warheads within 4½ minutes of Washington (D.C.)."

"It's important that we have more than just satellites for surveillance," Hance continued. "We need air bases and listening devices."

The Cuban incident is just one in a series of Communist activities in other countries that has put the U.S. on the defensive, he claimed.

"The Shah (of Iran) had a better form of government than Khomeini. He (Khomeini) doesn't spend time on trials or on jail sentences," Hance said, referring to the numerous executions in Iran since Khomeini's takeover.

In Nicaragua, the deposed leader, Somoza, supported the U.S. The Sandinistas, who took over the government, were backed by Communists, Hance contended.

The Nicaragua situation is important to Texas, he added, because of the state's closeness to Central America.

Soviet troops in Cuba should have given the President some bargaining power over the SALT II treaty, but Carter didn't take that chance, he said.

"You've got to come out with something that will give you some negotiating power."

AND CARTER MADE another mistake by not acting earlier on the troop issue, Hance charged. By waiting, "he could get backed into a corner and make a wrong decision."

Right or wrong — that answer won't come about for several months, he added.

Comparing the Cuban incident today with the situation in 1962 when Russian missiles were uncovered in Cuba, Hance said the U.S. defense situation has changed.

"(President John) Kennedy held more cards than Carter has today," the congressman said. "Then we were ahead in defense. Today the Russians are equal with us."

"And if the trend in defense continues, we're going to have problems beginning about 1982 or 1984," he said.

New kind of round-up now on in Tennessee

LOUDON, Tenn. (AP) — All that was missing was a watchful cowboy astride his horse with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans crooning "Happy Trails" somewhere off stage. The last of the tiny snail darters are being rounded up.

The Tennessee Valley Authority began its final push Tuesday to drive the embattled and endangered darter out of the Little Tennessee River Valley forever.

Though the location, Coyote Springs, sounded like a town in a B-grade western, there were no cowboys, no horses. The only Indian sign was an occasional marker identifying the soon-to-be flooded burial grounds of the Cherokeees — before Andrew Jackson drove them west on the Trail of Tears.

Replacing the cowboys with their guns and 10-gallon hats were biologists with fish nets and snorkels. They rounded up 53 of the tiny darters and have about another 150 to find in the next few weeks before the Little Tennessee is turned into a 16,000-acre lake.

The rare three-inch fish that halted the $130 million Tellico Dam for three years is being herded to the bluer waters of the Holston River after President Carter signed a bill last week exempting the project from protection by the Endangered Species Act.

Coyote Springs is the spot seven miles upstream from the dam where a University of Tennessee ichthyologist — fish specialist — discovered the snail darter in 1973. Since then, TVA estimates it has spent about $5 million studying and transplanting the fish.

The ichthyologist, David Etnier, gives the darter a 50-50 chance of surviving in other streams with similar characteristics of the Little Tennessee. But he's still convinced a mistake was made.

Landowners rap Upton water plan

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

RANKIN — Both town and rural folks in Upton County agree they need water to survive — water for their livelihoods.

But they don't agree on the means of getting water to the almost water-dry towns of Rankin and McCamey.

The estimated 4,600 people in the towns of Rankin and McCamey "demanded" creation of the Upton County Water District to get underground water, by condemnation via the eminent domain process if necessary, to keep their towns alive.

But the farmers and ranchers and other landowners living outside the towns will — along with the oil and gas companies — be shouldering the water district taxes to finance exploration, drilling and pumping and piping of the water into the two towns.

And many of the landowners don't want to do that, for they say they'll derive no benefit from their tax money and possibly lose their water rights.

Tuesday night, approximately 75 Upton County landowners presented to the water district board of directors petitions requesting that they be withdrawn from the district.

"THE LANDOWNERS ARE not trying to kill your district, interfere with it, or disrupt it in any manner however you seek that water," said Paul Phy, a Dallas lawyer representing the protesting Upton County Landowners Association.

However, Phy said the landowners, mostly farmers and ranchers around Rankin and in the Benedum and Midkiff communities, "do not feel it is moral, ethical or right for them to be in the district."

While the landowners looked on, Phy read names from more than 90 petitions requesting withdrawal from the district.

"They're not all there," Phy told the water district board. "There's more (petitions) to come...and if you don't take them seriously, you're

Pope speaks out against U.S. society's ills

NEW YORK (AP) — With a mist-shrouded Statue of Liberty in the background, Pope John Paul II urged Americans today to break the "hopeless cycles of poverty and ignorance...of prejudice...of despair" and the "inhuman cycles of war."

"Freedom and justice will bring a new dawn of hope for the present generation as it has done before," he told a crowd estimated at more than 30,000 at Battery Park on the southern tip of Manhattan beside New York Harbor.

Ships sounded their foghorns, police sirens wailed and the bells of Trinity Church in lower Manhattan rang out as the pope reached the Battery following a ticker-tape parade down Broadway.

A steady downpour which had drenched the crowd ended as the pope stepped to the red-carpeted platform, but a stiff breeze remained, ruffling the pontiff's gray hair and blowing the short cape or mozzetta of his white cassock over his shoulders.

A red, full-length cloak known as a mantella was slipped over his shoulders to protect him. The rain started again just as the pope finished speaking. "The choice of day for our meeting is not the best," he told the crowd.

It was the third day of the pope's week-long visit — a day which was scheduled to end in Philadelphia and which included prayers with religious professionals and songs with Roman Catholic school children in New York.

John Paul clapped along as the youngsters sang, then responded to their cheers with spontaneous "Woo-woos" — the Polish equivalent of "Wow" — and "Mmms" of appreciation that lasted for nearly 10 minutes and ended only after prompting by Cardinal Terence Cooke. "We shall destroy the program," the pope said wryly.

He was interrupted by applause six times during his speech to the young people at Madison Square Garden and received a standing ovation of a minute and a-half which caused him to return to the microphone with another reference to schedule disruption: "Cardinal Cooke says, 'Enough!'"

Despite torrential rains, the pope stopped on his way out of New York at St. James Cathedral in a heavily Polish section of Brooklyn. Wearing a red, broad-brimmed hat and protective gray plastic raincoat, an umbrella held over his head by Cooke, the pope got out of his limousine for a brief blessing.

In a New York farewell appearance at Shea Stadium, the pope said to a crowd of 60,000: "Large concentrations of people create special problems and special needs... Above all, a city needs a soul if it is to become a true home for human beings. You, the people, must give it this soul. And how do you do this? By loving each other."

He also made a separate statement, in Spanish, to assure Hispanic residents "that I am well aware of the place that you occupy in American society..." At the Battery, the pope paid special respects to Jewish leaders, saying that Christianity and Judaism are "closely related," and declaring, "Shalom! Peace be with you."

He commended extensive "collaboration" between Jewish and Christian bodies in this country in study and work, including a "common determination to reject all forms of anti-Semitism and discrimination."

Court upholds Sunday Mass

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge ruled today that Pope John Paul II can legally celebrate Mass Sunday on the government-owned Mall between the Lincoln Memorial and the Capitol.

U.S. District Judge Oliver Gasch denied an attempt by atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair to stop the Mass.

Changing attitudes part of discipline problem

EDITOR'S NOTE: Changing ideas in a changing society make school discipline one of the more complex issues facing schools today. This is the fourth of a six-part series examining the problem and possible solutions.

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

If discipline is declining in Midland's schools, part of the blame can be placed on a change in the attitude of students.

When most of today's parents were students, school was the only show in town. Social activities centered around school and what went on after school. Now, as one high school teacher put it, "it's hard for a school dance at the youth center to compete with a big beer bust."

That change is reflected in the number of students who choose to skip an occasional class or two, teachers say, making truancy and tardiness two of the most consistent discipline problems facing the schools today.

Part of the change in attitude is reflected in the increasing number of students who are taking jobs while still in school, either as part of a school-sponsored vocational program or simply as an after-school activity.

WHILE SOME STUDENTS work out of family financial necessity, many just like the freedom the extra money gives them.

Overflowing parking lots surrounding both high schools testify to an affluence that allows the average student a car.

The jobs, the cars and the mobility that go with them, teachers say, encourage students to cut classes, adding to an already serious problem.

Some educators want more careful screening of students entering vocational programs and of the jobs they get once they're in them.

"I question the learning value of cashing in at a store for two years," Darlene Harnes Hicks, a Midland

High School home economics teacher, noted.

"The kids feel the job skills are not as important as the paycheck. It gets back to values, and I think those have to be formed in the home," she said.

REPEATING A POINT made by several teachers and administrators, Mrs. Hicks pointed out many of the students in school today are ones who, in the past, already would have been out of school and working.

"But I'm an educator, and I value education," she added.

"Midland has a good economy and a good job market, but sometime

A small amount of radioactive steam was released from Northern States Power Co.'s nuclear generating plant near Red Wing, Minn. Steam can be seen pouring from the plant's cooling towers about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, three hours after the mishap. (AP Laserphoto)

Radioactive steam within limits

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — Radioactive steam emissions from a ruptured tube at the Prairie Island Nuclear plant apparently did not endanger the environment, although the steam sped into the air for about 27 minutes, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission says.

"The total radiation exposure at the plant's site boundary has been estimated to be less than one-tenth of a millirem, well within permissible limits," Jan Strasma, an NRC spokesman said Tuesday night.

Radiation monitoring teams from the state and plant's owner, Northern States Power Co., detected no increase in radiation around the plant following the rupture, Strasma added.

NRC specialists planned today to run tests inside the facility.

Tests on workers at the site showed readings of between 2 and 6 millirems, said Gerard Goering, superintendent of the NSP's nuclear operation service. Goering said regulations permit up to 100 millirems per week. A millirem is the measure of biological exposure of radiation to human beings.

R.S. Leddick, nuclear projects manager for NSP, said there were about 150 workers inside the plant at the time of the rupture. About 100 of them were moved to another part of the plant, he said, but the plant itself was not evacuated.

NSP engineers at the plant, 28 miles southeast of Minneapolis-St. Paul, detected the leak at 2:14 p.m. in one of two generators at the facility, an NSP spokesman said. NSP said the generator was shut down at 2:24 p.m. and a general emergency was declared at 2:30 p.m.

By 2:41 p.m., work crews had isolated the trouble, a rupture in one of 3,300 nickel-and-chromium tubes in the generator, said Dennis Gilbert, NSP's general manager of power production.

"The plant is cooling down normally," said Gaston Reppell, operations officer from the NRC at the scene.

Strasma said all safety systems in the generator worked as designed.

Frank Ingram, an NRC spokesman in Washington, said, "Steam generator tube leaks are not infrequent at all. But I haven't been able to track down exactly how many have resulted in radioactive being released into the environment."

Minnesota Gov. Al Quie said he decided not to evacuate the area when ground level radiation test results at 5:30 p.m. showed no detectable radiation. Quie said he had no plans to visit the plant site.

Meanwhile, a Virginia Electric & Power Co. official says a report released Monday explaining the accidental release of radioactive gas from its North Anna nuclear power plant last week was incorrect.

The report, prepared by Veeco and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, said operators at the plant used a pencil and paper to hold open a valve control switch that opened when xenon gas was released Sept. 25, exposing four workers to mild but not harmful doses of radiation.

William L. Proffitt, the utility's senior vice-president for power, said Tuesday that Veeco had determined the switch was not blocked until at least several hours after the plant was shut down.

Nuclear secrets 'on public view'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Energy Department admits it allowed eight sensitive documents on nuclear weaponry to slip into public view at a New Mexico facility often visited by people from foreign countries.

The admission came Tuesday during testimony before a congressional subcommittee in which Energy Department officials decried recent and pending publications on H-bomb design as having "serious implications" for national security.

Assistant Secretary Duane Sewell also revealed that a crash review of 2,000 weapons-related documents failed to turn up 19 reports. "We have canvassed the entire DOE complex," he said. "We believe that they have been destroyed."

Sewell's testimony before a Senate subcommittee on energy and nuclear proliferation was related to disclosure last May that an independent researcher, Dimitri Rotov, easily had obtained a highly sensitive report on nuclear weaponry at the Los Alamos, N.M., Scientific Laboratory.

Since that time, said Sewell, the Energy Department has found that at least seven other critical documents were improperly declassified and made available at the facility's library to anyone who cared to ask for them.

Although the department has since ordered thousands of declassified reports locked up pending a complete review of their sensitivity, Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, subcommittee chairman, suggested the damage may already have been done.

Glenn cited a subcommittee staff report which showed that people from "hundreds of foreign nations visited the Los Alamos facility while the sensitive documents and receiptly upgraded reports were on the open shelves."

While neither the Energy Department nor congressional investigators could confirm whether such visitors examined the reports in question, Glenn noted that their numbers included representatives from "such countries as India, Taiwan, the Soviet Union, Egypt, Brazil and Argentina."

The latest disclosures come while the government is still smarting from recent publication by newspapers in California and Wisconsin of a "letter" by Charles Hansen on H-bomb design.

Months earlier, Progressive Magazine had set out to publish a similar account, by Howard Morland, but the Justice Department sought to block publication on grounds national security would be compromised by the article.

Bay City project probed

HOUSTON (AP) — A Nuclear Regulatory Commission official says the FBI has been investigating the South Texas Nuclear Project under construction near Bay City.

Karl Seyfrit, regional director, said the FBI apparently has been looking into a wide variety of things, including possible falsification of construction records.

"My understanding is they have found essentially nothing," Seyfrit said.

Seyfrit said the investigation resulted from a request by U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio for a Justice Department inquiry.

The FBI in Houston would neither confirm or deny the agency was investigating the $2.7-billion project that is being constructed by Houston Lighting & Power and three partners, including the cities of San Antonio and Austin.

Ford disputes Cuba action

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Calling the presence of Soviet troops in Cuba a "destabilizing influence on our Latin American neighbors," former President Gerald Ford said he is "very disappointed" with President Carter's response to the Soviet presence.

Carter, admitting the Russian brigade will remain in Cuba indefinitely, said "in a nationally televised address Monday night that he plans to increase U.S. military capabilities and surveillance in the Caribbean."

Ford, speaking to reporters during a news conference at the Century Plaza Hotel on Tuesday prior to a California Republican fundraiser, said Carter was the first president to be "stonewalled" by the Soviet Union.

He said Carter "has to continue to make Soviet forces there unacceptable."

White says Mexico may pay

AUSTIN (AP) — The Attorney General of Texas says he thinks Mexican President Jose Lopez-Portillo may not have completely closed the door to paying for damage from a runaway Mexican oil well.

Lopez-Portillo said Monday Mexico will not pay Texans for damages from the world's largest oil spill because the United States did not pay when salt water from the U.S. ruined Mexican croplands in 1972.

But Attorney General Mark White said Tuesday he views those remarks as an opening to start negotiations, not the last word on the subject.

"I believe ... there is some linkage with the problem of salinity in the Colorado River," White said.

White admitted the chances for a settlement "are going to be remote" in light of Lopez-Portillo's remarks, but said "I think we have seen, in this salinity thing, hopefully an area of negotiation. I am glad to see we have some possibilities."

Meanwhile, residents near South Padre Island, where the oil slick hit hardest in Texas, are venting their anger not at Mexico but at their own government.

"I can't place the blame on the Mexican government if we have that much weakness in Washington," said South Padre Island Mayor Glen McGehee, who contends government concern for the stricken area has taken a back seat to buying Mexican oil and gas.

"It comes down to the fact that we're nothing but a pawn in the oil and gas negotiations and they'd sell us down the creek to get the price they want," McGehee said.

Tourist officials on South Padre Island claim they lost at least half their normal summer business after the oil hit the beaches in August.

Oil still gushes from the well at the rate of 10,000 barrels a day, but none of it now threatens Texas beaches, which have been cleaned by hand.

Crack in 'sombbrero' delays capping effort

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A crack in a $25 million U.S.-made steel cone forced Mexican oil workers to postpone their latest attempt to control the runaway offshore oil well in the Bay of Campeche that has stained beaches as far away as Texas, an official of the state-run oil company said.

The PEMEX executive told The Associated Press Tuesday that the 125-ton inverted cone was lowered over the rogue Istoc 1 well last week in an attempt to control the gusher. But it cracked under water and had to be returned to Brown and Root, the manufacturer, in Houston, Tex., the source said.

"That cone cost us at least $25 million," said the PEMEX executive who asked anonymity. "It is back in Houston right now being repaired. It was returned right after it cracked."

Run, walk or bike to combat cancer set for Oct. 13

Midlanders interested in participating in the American Cancer Society's fund-raising Run-Walk-Bike-A-Thon Saturday, Oct. 13, should call the ACS staff office at 563-0294.

The event is the ACS's first fund-raising event of 1979-80 campaign.

"Even one person can make the difference in helping to eliminate cancer," said Norm Smith, chairman of the Run-Walk-Bike-A-Thon.

"Through education and events such as this, we will be able to stamp out cancer in your lifetime," he said.

Kick-off time for the event is 8:30 a.m. at Cubs Stadium at Hogan Park.

Smith, an independent geologist who has twice run in the Boston Marathon, will lead the pack of runners, walkers and bikers.

The event's participants will raise funds based on the number of miles they complete. The ACS staff suggests that those entered in the "race against cancer" get friends and neighbors to sponsor them by pledging a certain amount of money for each mile ran, walked or biked by the participants.

Water stations will be set up along the route.

Those interested in running in the event may pick up entry forms at any school office in Midland, at the Central and Alamo YMCAs, or at the ACS office at 601 S. Main St. Completed forms should be brought to Cubs Stadium on morning of the event.

A grand prize will be awarded to the entrant who earns the most money for the ACS.

First-, second- and third-place plaques will be given to the top money-makers in each division.

Proceeds from the Run-Walk-Bike-A-Thon will be used by the ACS for service, rehabilitation and education.

Olton police investigate rare armed robbery

OLTON, Texas (AP) — For the first time in 40 years, police in this West Texas town are investigating an armed robbery, according to Police Chief Ronnie Mitchell.

Two armed, masked men entered Martin's Pharmacy during the noon hour Tuesday, police said. The men forced owner Don Martin into a back room and knocked him out, then fled with $355 and a quantity of barbiturates, police said.

Mitchell said a clerk found Martin when she returned to lunch, and that Martin has been hospitalized with a concussion.

Mayor Ky Gibbens has authorized a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the robbers, Mitchell said.

Police originally had said it was the first armed robbery in Olton's history, but a check of the records indicated there was another one, 40 years ago, according to Mitchell.

Human torsos, limbs found 'prepared for roasting'

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BANGUI, Central African Republic (AP) — President David Dacko says dismembered human torsos and limbs "trussed up and prepared for roasting" were found in a freezer at the villa where Emperor Bokassa I and his cronies partied.

The Central African Republic's new president told this correspondent a judicial commission is preparing an indictment against Bokassa including charges of ritual cannibalism, mass murder, an unknown number of individual killings and embezzlement of millions of dollars in public funds.

"We are asking the government of the Ivory Coast to extradite Bokassa so he can stand trial for his crimes against his country," said Dacko in an interview Tuesday. A French government official assigned to him as a public relations adviser was also present.

Dacko, the first president of the former French colony, was ousted by Col. Jean Bedel Bokassa on New Year's Day 1966. Bokassa proclaimed himself emperor on Dec. 4, 1976, crowned himself a year later, and was ousted by Dacko on Sept. 21 with the help of French troops while Bokassa was in Libya.

The ex-emperor was given asylum in the Ivory Coast, another former French colony on the south side of the West African bulge, after the French government refused to admit him to France. His host, President Felix Houphouet-Boigny, has said he will not surrender him for trial.

Dacko, who was reconciled with Bokassa in 1976 and became one of his advisers, said the human remains were found in a large freezer at a riverside villa in Kolongo, five miles south of Bangui, which Bokassa used for "private parties."

"All of us in his entourage long suspected that he practiced cannibalistic rites," said the president. "One indication of this was that he often talked about the meals he took in secret, at dead of night, with only his most intimate companions present."

Bokassa's close associates either are under arrest or have fled, and no one has claimed publicly he saw Bokassa eat human flesh.

Several members of Bokassa's household staff told friends and relatives before they fled from Bangui that he often ordered all the servants to leave the Kongolo villa when he wanted to be alone with close friends.

"Only those closest to Emperor Bokassa I took part (in the ritual cannibalism), but he had a habit of saying, 'Let's have some mutton,' that all those around him clearly understood." — Honorary British Consul Fred Copperman.

The villa was closely guarded, and a U.S. Peace Corps member who strayed into the area in 1977 was jailed for 10 days. Within hours of Bokassa's overthrow, angry crowds looted it and destroyed part of the building. But they did not get into the locked freezer for 24 hours. By then, the contents had begun to decompose because the electricity had been cut off the day before.

Albertine Kettego, a 16-year-old student at the Pope Pius XII Girls' School, told reporters she identified one of the bodies as that of her uncle, Gaston Wengue, a worker in a local aluminum factory.

"His head, arms and right leg were cut off," she said, "but I recognized the body because of a tattoo on his chest that included his name and that I had often seen before."

She said Wengue was arrested outside the villa on Aug. 11 and was never seen alive again.

Jacob Zumbetti, a teacher at the Rapides Secondary School, said another body in the freezer was that of a mathematics teacher at his school, Jean Robert Massangue, 25. Zumbetti said he was with Massangue when the villa guards arrested him at 5 p.m. Aug. 26. He, too, was never seen alive, Zumbetti said.

The villa also has a shallow ornamental pond surrounded by a solid steel barrier in which Bokassa kept four man-eating crocodiles. The police shot the crocodiles last week, and police sources said human bones were found in the mud at the bottom of the pond.

British businessman Fred Copperman, the honorary British consul and a resident of Bangui for the past five years, said it was common knowledge that Bokassa indulged in ritual cannibalism.

"Only those closest to him took part," he said, "but he had a habit of saying, 'Let's have some mutton,' that all those around him clearly understood."

Construction totals $75.3 million

Valuation on new construction in the city of Midland through the end of September totalled $75.3 million, exceeding the pace set last year, according to a report issued Tuesday by the city's Inspections Department.

Total valuation through the end of September 1978 was $72.6 million.

More than 107 permits for new construction valued at $4.6 million were issued last month, with the largest item a 148-unit apartment complex valued at $2 million.

September 1978 saw a total of $10 million in valuation on new construction on 94 permits, the report indicated.

Building permits this year total 1,153 and lag behind the 1,267 issued through September 1978.

New residential construction on single family houses accounted for an additional $2.1 million. New commercial construction, meanwhile, amounted to one beauty shop and five signs throughout the city last month, totalling less than $23,000.

Alterations valued at $183,195 were made last month to existing commercial structures inside the city limits, while alterations to existing residences totalled another $271,175.

Midland man files charges after shooting

A 33-year-old Midland man Tuesday filed aggravated assault charges with the Midland County District Attorney's office against a man at whom he fired five shots Tuesday afternoon. Midland police said today.

Apparently, all five shots missed the man, police reports indicated.

A warrant was issued by the district attorney's office Tuesday for the arrest of a man who allegedly threatened Eulalia H. Morgan, 1921 E. Hudson Ave., with a knife, police said.

Morgan told police he confronted the man about 4 p.m. Tuesday in the 1700 block of East Oak Avenue because the man allegedly had been harassing Morgan and his family, officials said.

According to Morgan, the man drew a knife and threatened to kill him, police said.

Morgan told police he fired five shots at the man following the alleged threat.

All told, permits for 40 new houses were issued through the Inspections Department for the month of September, exceeding by 11 last September's figures.

Construction on 351 new single family residences had been started in Midland through September. Despite the strong start on single family dwellings, the pace this year through September still lags behind last year's record-setting overall pace.

More than 440 houses were under construction as October 1978 began, according to statistics furnished by the Inspections Department.

Meanwhile, revenues for city coffers this year through September broached the $133,371 mark, about $5,500 less than through the same period one year earlier.

The city earned $13,322 in revenues on the estimated $4.6 million valuation on construction in the city last month.

About $6,000 in that total resulted from building permits. Other services through the Inspections Department produced another $20,000 in revenues for the month.

Voluntarism works

The latest figures on health-care costs don't rate banner headlines, but they do seem to contradict the Carter administration's contention that the hospital and other medical costs continue to soar out of control. In fact, the figures suggest that the private health-care industry now is doing slightly better than the economy as a whole in restraining cost increases.

In July, for example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index showed an 11.3 percent increase over July of 1978. Yet, physicians' services rose 9.6 percent and medical costs overall registered a 9.3 percent increase over the previous year.

Hospital costs, over which the administration seeks direct controls, rose at an annual rate of 13.2 percent during the first six months of 1979. By comparison, the effective inflation rate for the first half of this year was 13.5 percent.

That the rise in the cost of health-care services now trails the rate of inflation is especially significant given the situation just two years ago. In 1977, hospital costs rose 15.6 percent — more than double the inflation rate for that year.

At least some of the credit for this improvement must be attributed to the voluntary cost-containment efforts under way at three-quarters of the nation's community hospitals. Only eight states have enacted mandatory cost-control legislation and even in these states controls cannot account for all of the economies affected.

Apparently, hospital administrators have begun to realize that they must either act themselves to restrain costs or Washington will do it for them. Pressures to economize also have come from insurance companies which pay much of the nation's total hospital bill.

No one is suggesting, of course, that the fight to hold down hospital and other medical cost increases has been won. The battle is barely joined.

It is, however noteworthy that encouraging progress has been made without the mandatory controls the Carter administration continues to seek and Congress yet may grant.

More government controls most certainly are something of which we already have an excess. They definitely are not needed or encouraged in this instance.

Given the dismal record of price controls and the heartening experience of the last year or so, we continue to believe that voluntarism should be given more time to work.

The results might surprise even the skeptics in Washington, D.C.

Key to bright future

Less government regulation of industry and increased productivity are the keys to turning the American economy around.

These were the words of wisdom voiced by Gov. Bill Clements in addressing the 80th annual meeting of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce last week.

He went on to say, after expressing confidence in the American working man, that all Americans must strive "to meet new goals, conquer new frontiers" in order to ensure a bright future.

Commenting on his recent trip to Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, Clements said the journey "reaffirmed in my mind the belief that for all the criticism leveled at our free enterprise system, it is still the envy of the world, and it is high time we quit apologizing for it."

It is good to know that this comment brought a round of applause from his listeners, numbering approximately 2,000.

He said also that he wants to see the government return surplus tax monies to the taxpayer rather than "forever spending every last dime on more government."

That statement should gain a favorable response from most any audience in America.

It is great that the governor speaks out forcefully and effectively on subjects of this nature wherever he goes. We hope he keeps it up from here on out.

IT HAPPENED HERE

30 YEARS AGO (Oct. 3, 1949):

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

A Yugoslav tough returns home

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Anti-communist Yugoslavs in the San Francisco area can breathe a little easier these days. Their tormentor, Tugomir Dzalto, has finally returned home to the dictatorship he served so cruelly — and illegally — in recent years.

Using the diplomatic cover of an attaché in the Yugoslav Consulate in San Francisco, Dzalto was actually an agent of Marshal Tito's secret police. Anti-Tito dissidents and other Yugoslav exiles complained of his intimidation and threats of violence. But his diplomatic status protected him from action by the FBI and the State Department even when his violations of U.S. laws were clear.

Top-secret documents and other confidential sources have given us a picture of Dzalto's methods. They were summarized by the FBI director in a secret memorandum to the State Department as constituting "an abridgement of the constitutional rights guaranteed United States citizens and resident aliens, and are clearly outside the scope of his diplomatic duties in this country."

Here are just three examples of Dzalto's police-state tactics.

The FBI was told that Dzalto went to a Yugoslav emigre's home "to blackmail the individual into furnishing information to Yugoslav intelligence agencies." Though Dzalto had arranged the visit as a social call, he arrived wearing a pistol, which he ostentatiously took off and put on the coffee table as he sat down. He stayed till 5 a.m. and swore the emigre to secrecy by threatening reprisal against relatives in Yugoslavia.

He once confronted a group of Croatian exiles who were handing out protest leaflets in front of an auditorium where a Yugoslav dance troupe was performing. According to the FBI, Dzalto "called one of the protestors by name, pointed his finger at his face and stated, 'Your grave is made' in Serbo-Croatian." The FBI then explained: "The words used by Dzalto are an old Croatian death threat."

Dzalto invited an American citizen of Yugoslav descent to the consulate on the pretext that they had mutual friends in the old country. Once inside the consulate, however, the American was pumped for information on Yugoslav emigres. When the visitor refused to tell him anything, Dzalto threatened him.

Unless he cooperated, "unfortunate" circumstances could eventuate regarding this individual's elderly parents, who still lived in Yugoslavia, "a confidential report states. Worse yet, when the American threatened to tell the FBI, Dzalto shrugged it off, cockily assuring his visitor that "the Yugoslav Embassy in Washington can manipulate the American authorities to minimize the impact of such an occurrence."

Unfortunately, Dzalto's confidence in Washington officialdom was well-placed. Intelligence sources told our associate Dale Van Atta that the FBI "raised hell" about Dzalto with the State Department, to no avail.

On Dec. 1, 1977, the FBI director advised Foggy Bottom that Dzalto "openly and without regard to United

ART BUCHWALD

Who is in charge? Most everyone except Cy Vance

WASHINGTON — Poor Secretary of State Cy Vance. He doesn't have anything to do any more since everyone else seems to be handling our foreign policy.

He was in his office last week and asked his administrative assistant, "How are the Middle East negotiations going these days?"

"We have no idea. They are being handled out of Atlanta by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. They promised to call us if there was a break with Arafat."

"Any news on a cease-fire in Lebanon?"

"We're waiting for Rev. Jesse Jackson to get back from his fact-finding tour of the area. There is no sense in us getting into it if he doesn't approve of the terms."

"What about the Soviet troops in Cuba?"

"Sen. Church of Idaho and Sen. Stone of Florida have taken over that one. They're dealing directly with the President. I called the White House this morning and they put me on hold."

"Okay, brief me on what's happening in Vietnam."

"As you know that's Jane Fonda's area. She wants to recognize Vietnam now, but Joan Baez doesn't want to until some effort is made to solve the plight of the boat people. We can't seem to get the two of them to agree on what our policy should be."

"Have we taken a position on this?"

Art Buchwald

"We're tilting toward Joan Baez, but I don't think we should go public with it as there is no reason to get Jane Fonda upset. It will just harden her attitude and make it more difficult to come to an accommodation with her."

"Who is watching the Rhodesia situation?"

"Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina. He sent his aides over to London for the talks which our people, incidentally, couldn't get into. Helms wants the United States to lift our embargo on Rhodesia immediately. Andy Young disagrees, unless the insurgents have a voice in the new government."

"I'm sorry to hear that. I was hoping to have some input in the Rhodesia problem as it will certainly affect what eventually happens in South Africa."

"I see your point, sir. But as you know the U.S. Secretary of State shouldn't involve himself in foreign affairs unless invited to do so. Helms and Young don't want us meddling there."

"I'm sure there must be some place where the State Department could be helpful."

"We did have China until Nixon went over last week."

"What did he find out?"

"He wouldn't tell us. He said he's saving it for his next book."

"It looks like a long day ahead for me. Is there anything I can do about SALT II?"

"Not until Sen. Sam Nunn of Georgia decides what he wants to do. If we go into the SALT talks at this moment the Senate would have a fit."

"Darn it, Peter, if the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has taken over the Middle East, Jesse Jackson is in charge of Lebanon, Jane Fonda is dealing with Vietnam, the Anti-Defamation League is handling Israel, Andy Young is working on Rhodesia, Church and Stone are dealing with the President on Cuba, and Sam Nunn is directing the SALT talks, how will the rest of the world be able to figure out what this country's foreign policy is supposed to be?"

"We have a committee meeting on that right now, sir. We hope to get a report to you as soon as Brzezinski in the White House reads it."

"Okay, so what am I supposed to do today?"

"Would you like to look over these passport applications, sir? They're from a tour group planning on going to Rio de Janeiro for Mardi Gras."

Mark Russell says

There's only one thing to do with those who cheat on college exams — make them professors.

It takes an experienced eye to catch a cheater, but I'd definitely be suspicious of a student coming into the examination hall with a mirror strapped to his knee.

The professor would always be on the lookout for telltale signs — for example, if the student comes in to the quiz wearing earphones, watch him.

If he answers true and false to an essay question and the Ts and Fs are typed — it doesn't take a professor to detect something is amiss.

Rep. Buddy Temple to challenge Poerner for railroad commissioner

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. Buddy Temple, son of a rich East Texas lumbering family, says he can offer Texans a more credible and aggressive voice on energy than Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner. Temple, 37, formally announced Tuesday he will oppose Poerner in the Democratic primary next May. He said members of the Texas Railroad Commission are "ridiculed and laughed at" when they speak to Washington policy makers about oil and gas. This is because virtually all commissioners for the past 30 years got their jobs initially not from Texas voters but by gubernatorial appointment, Temple said. Poerner, for example, was put on the commission by Gov. Dolph Briscoe when Jim Langdon resigned in January 1978. "They assume if a commissioner is appointed by the governor, he is an errand boy for the energy industry," Temple, of Diboll, said at a news conference. He indicated he would differ from Poerner in his approach to energy problems dealt with by the commission not so much in substance as in style. "I doubt if I would be saying anything that is different. I hope I would be saying it in a more effective way," Temple said. Like Poerner and the other two commissioners, Temple believes the route to abundant energy is decontrol of prices and less regulation of producers.

He said part of the problem is that Americans are "energy junkies" and suggested the nation "ought to let the free market work to the extent possible," even if it means higher prices. Temple said he sees no need for the commission to investigate published reports that the oil industry jacked up an artificial gasoline shortage this summer to jack up prices. Nor, he said, does he see any reason to question data furnished by the industry on oil and gas reserves. "I have seen nothing to suggest that industry data is not reliable," he said. Temple says he will do as commission candidates have in the past and accept money from oil and gas operators for his campaign, which he believes will cost $600,000 by primary day. He figured about a fourth of the $200,000 he said he has raised so far came from oil and gas men. "I don't think it is realistic to think anybody can fund a campaign of the size I am fixing to go into and not take any money from independent oil and gas producers. ... I wish I were in the position many of you all think I am in." His father is Arthur Temple Jr., vice-chairman of the board of Time, Inc., with which the Temple family's Temple-Eastex company merged several years ago.

Balloon crew to remove craft

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The owners of the balloon DaVinci Trans-America have been given permission to remove the craft from the Ohio meadow where it was forced down by a storm, ending an attempt at the first transcontinental balloon flight.

Ray Storn, a Federal Aviation Administration investigator, Tuesday said the balloon could be removed from the site near Spencerville, but said he wanted to talk to crew members before they left Ohio.

The crew planned to call a helicopter to lift the two-ton gondola from the field to a flatbed truck for its return to the West Coast.

Vera Simons, of McLean, Va., was the only one of the four persons inside the gondola to be badly injured when the balloon went down. She was hospitalized with a fractured leg.

Rudolph Engelmann of Boulder, Colo.; Fred Hyde, an eye surgeon from Prairie Village, Kan.; and NBC TV cameraman Randy Birch, sustained only bruises. Victory had appeared certain for the DaVinci and its four adventurers.

who took off from Tillamook, Ore., last Wednesday. It was just four hours from surpassing the distance record for helium-filled balloons of 139 hours and six minutes.

"I'm not sure I want to recreate" the landing, said Engelmann at the Allen County airport early Tuesday before being flown to Chicago for a national television appearance.

"It was a fluke storm. Completely unexpected," he said. "We had just outrun severe squall lines associated with tornadoes out of Indiana and Illinois."

Just when the worst appeared to be over, the crew was surprised by a severe thunderstorm near the western border of Ohio.

"We were at 14,000 feet, really clipping along. But the snow and ice added considerably to our weight and we didn't have enough ballast to compensate for the additional weight. That's when we had to put down," Engelmann said. The crew chose a very dark area for their landing and "hoped there weren't any power lines or houses or people in the way."

Woman's body found strewn along highway

DENTON, Texas (AP) — Sheriff's deputies admit they may have trouble identifying an elderly woman who apparently was killed and cut to pieces.

Texas Highway Department work crews made the initial discovery near Krum, about four miles east of here.

The gruesome discovery prompted a seven-hour search Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff's deputies and Highway Patrolmen. They found parts of her body stuffed in plastic bags and strewn along 17 miles of Highway 380 in Denton and Wise Counties.

They said her teeth and eyes had been removed, possibly to hamper identification.

The remains were taken to Denton County pathologist Dr. Lloyd White for an autopsy.

"It will take a day or two for the pathologist to work on what they have so far, which isn't much," Crawford said.

Crawford said the sheriff's office had no reports of missing persons who would fit the general description of the victim.

Carter dusts off his log-cabin image at country music show

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president, said Johnny Cash, was a country boy who "had a sense of the propaganda value of songs."

Cash was talking about Abraham Lincoln but his words could have applied as well to Jimmy Carter, who was sitting in the front row of Ford's Theater soaking up some friendly television exposure and reminding folks that he, too, is a country boy.

The president served partly as master of ceremonies, partly as prop, partly as "first fan" as television cameras recorded a 2 1/2 hour benefit performance by Cash, Dolly Parton, Glenn Campbell and more than a dozen other country music stars.

The program was recorded Tuesday night for broadcast by NBC-TV Oct. 16.

"I couldn't come at a better time for Carter, his political popularity drooping, Sen. Edward Kennedy nipping at his heels and the fate of his SALT II treaty still clouded despite his stern television address Monday night about those 2,600 Russian troops in Cuba.

This television appearance was all gravy, a golden chance to say some nice, non-controversial things to the nation's growing audience of country music fans and to start dusting off his own log-cabin image for the 1980 campaign.

"When I grew up in Plains, Ga., when we asked for music, we got country music," Carter said as he introduced the show.

"Country music has remained people music," he said. "Today all kinds of people listen (to) and love country music."

Carter wasn't kidding. The audience at the black-tie, $250-per-person event included Carter's Polish-born national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski, his New York-born media man Gerald R. Ford, Boston-accented Thomas P. O'Neill, who is speaker of the House of Representatives and whose wife, Millie, was chairwoman of the benefit, and a Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee.

The program was entitled "A Celebration of Country" but it looked pretty slicked-up and civilized. The band included two cellos and a set of timpani, most of the male performers wore tuxedos and Dottie West wore spike heels and a slinky dress slit most of the way up one side as she sang "I was born a country girl."

Jackson met with President Sadat in Beirut Saturday before flying to Cairo. He asked Arafat then to prepare a document stating what the PLO Executive Committee would like to see in any Middle East peace settlement and to clarify a clause in the PLO charter that calls for dismantling the state of Israel.

The PLO said Tuesday its forces repelled an attempt by seaborne Israeli invaders to land on the Lebanese coast south of the port city of Tyre.

In Tyre, however, an Israeli military spokesman said, "No such thing ever happened."

A spokesman for the PLO's military command said several rubber dinghies tried to approach the Lebanese coast south of the Palestinian refugee camp of Rashidiyet late Monday night, but "withdrew without achieving their mission" when they came under fire from gunboats.

ABC nudges NBC out of first place in latest Nielsen race

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC was nudged by ABC from first place in the networks' ratings race but continued its early-season challenge to the front-runner by listing three series and a movie in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s Top 20 for the week ending Sept. 30.

The showing was particularly significant for NBC, which on some occasions last season did not list a single program among the 20 most-watched shows.

NBC won the ratings race the week before, the network's first No. 1 finish in nearly a year. That was accomplished with a boost from a couple of major motion pictures in NBC's premiere week lineup.

In the most recent survey, NBC placed "Little House on the Prairie" third, behind two ABC shows, "Three's Company" and "Charlie's Angels," and "CHiPs" seventh.

The configuration at the top gave ABC the nod, with a rating of 19.4 to NBC's 19.1. CBS was third at 16.4.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 19.4 percent of the homes in the country with TV were tuned to ABC.

ABC was a runaway winner in the ratings competition last season, and is expected to repeat in 1979-80. NBC, on the other hand, suffered through a dismal prime-time season last year, and summer ratings gave little reason for hope.

The rating for the week's top program, "Three's Company," was 26.2. Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with television, 26.2 percent saw at least part of the show.

In addition to the continuing series, NBC got a boost from a movie, "The Kid from Left Field" starring Garry Coleman, which was 15th in the ratings, and a three-part miniseries, "The Last Convertible."

CBS listed "60 Minutes" in fourth place and "M-A-S-H" No. 5, but lost ground at the bottom of the ratings. Eight of the 10 lowest-rated programs were from CBS, with the bottom five starting with No. 62 "Bad News Bears" and continuing through "Struck by Lightning," "Big Shamus, Little Shamus," "Last Resort" and "Working Stiffs."

CBS did have the week's top-rated new show, "Trapper John, M.D.," No. 9 for the week.

ABC had a bit of trouble with new shows. "New Kind of Family" finished 60th, followed by "Out of the Blue."

Here are the week's Top 10 programs: "Three's Company," with a rating of 26.2 representing 20 million homes, and "Charlie's Angels," 25.5 or 19.5 million, both ABC; "Little House on the Prairie," 25.4 or 19.4 million, NBC; "60 Minutes," 24.7 or 18.8 million, and "M-A-S-H," 24.5 or 18.7 million, both CBS; "Eight is Enough," 23.5 or 17.9 million, ABC; "CHiPs," 23.4 or 17.8 million, NBC; "Monday Night Football," 22.7 or 17.3 million.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE
Earning a Headache
By Alfred Sheinwold
You don't get a headache from what other people drink — or from any foolish fitnesses except your own.
South captured the queen of spades with the king and earned himself a headache by trying the diamond finesse. East won and returned a spade, establishing West's suit.
South had to lead clubs in search of his ninth trick, whereupon East took the ace of clubs and led another spade. The defense thus took one diamond, one club and three spades.
LEAD TO ACE
Instead of finessing South should lead a diamond to the ace at the second trick. Then he returns a club from the dummy.
If East takes the ace, South gets four clubs and needs only one diamond for his game. If East ducks the first club, South wins one club trick and switches back to diamonds to get four diamonds, one club, two hearts and two spades.
South would be safe even if West had the ace of clubs. West would be unable to continue the attack on spades, and South would have time to develop four diamond tricks.
DAILY QUESTION
As dealer you hold: ♠ Q 8 4 3 ♣ Q 10 9 7 4 ♠ K 6 5 10 ♠ J 10
What do you say?
ANSWER: Most experts would bid one heart with this borderline hand, but many would pass. The hand would be a clear opening bid if you had two low diamonds and two low clubs, with the ace and king divided between spades and hearts. A queen is more valuable when accompanied by the ace or king of her suit.

Pope's influence on politics seen in United Nations talk

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—In just a year as pontiff, Pope John Paul II seems to have established himself as a major piece on the chessboard of international politics. His address to the United Nations Tuesday lashing out at the arms race between the two superpowers, pleading for human rights around the world and offering the church's services in solving international conflicts brought near-unanimous endorsement from the 152-member General Assembly despite the diverse ideologies represented here.

But beyond such diplomatic plaudits and the growing attention he is gaining around the world, John Paul is already making an impact on the shape of world politics.

—He has successfully defused a territorial dispute between Chile and Argentina and swayed them away from the battlefield to a negotiating table at the Vatican. Before leaving on his current tour, he personally got the two delegations to meet with him to review progress.

—For the first time, he took the papacy's appeals for peace in Ireland straight to Irish soil. His dramatic pleas last weekend, before hundreds of thousands of devout Irish caught the IRA guerrilla movement off balance and seemed to strengthen the hopes and desires of Irish moderates for peace.

—John Paul's trip to Poland, where he staunchly defended religious freedom, likewise boxed in anti-religious communists. With the world spotlight on them, there is little likelihood of any major new restrictions on religion in the Soviet bloc in the near future. He pressed his offensive in his U.N. speech, charging that religious restrictions create "second- or third-class citizens."

—He also made a first cautious foray into volatile Middle East politics in his U.N. address, suggesting that a comprehensive solution must include "just settlement of the Palestinian question." His statements could add to the growing "tilt" toward the Palestine Liberation Organization in Western Europe, where PLO chief Yasser Arafat has been welcomed by a handful of national leaders in recent months.

Pope Paul VI also made ambitious diplomatic ventures during his 15-year pontificate. They mostly came to nil.

Fourteen years ago, he too stood before the U.N. General Assembly as the first pontiff to address it, and, at a time when the Vietnam War was building and colonial wars were rife, appealed for "no more war."

He subsequently offered to go to Hanoi to seek peace, made approaches to stop the Nigerian civil war and spoke out more than 30 times against the killing in Ireland.

But while the Vatican remained an established stop on the international circuit of world leaders, Paul's appeals generally remained unheeded.

Much of the work by Roman Catholic prelates and the 80 Vatican diplomatic missions was on the grassroots level — through missionaries, food and medical assistance and other traditional avenues of church charity.

Just think, to get a glimpse of him in person" said Beatty, who lives two blocks from the site. "This pope speaks for everybody. He's special. He's different."

Eight weeks of planning have been devoted to the papal welcome, and the city's 1.3 million

Workmen toiled late Tuesday, sprucing up the city to look better than its Sunday best for the pope's third stop on his tour of six American cities. He has already visited Boston and New York, and will also stop in Des Moines, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

Early today, hundreds of eager onlookers were already milling around Logan Circle, scene of the highlight of the pope's 21-hour Philadelphia visit — a High Mass outside the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul.

Philadelphia welcomes pope

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The City of Brotherly Love is holding up a flashing American flag, formed by placards held aloft by 3,000 Catholic schoolchildren, as a greeting today for Pope John Paul II.

The placards were to blink the message, "Philadelphia Welcomes Pope John Paul II With Love" — in English and then in Polish — when the pope steps off his "Shepherd One" charter jetliner at the airport.

Catholics are eager to display their reverence and joy to the Vicar of Rome, who visited twice when he was Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Poland.

The route of the pope's bubble-topped limousine passed through the heart of heavily Italian south Philadelphia. Residents there adorned homes and shops with color portraits of John Paul and hung flags of yellow and white, the Vatican colors, from the streetlights.

But the heart of the celebration is Logan Circle, where the pope was to celebrate Mass between the 115-year-old brownstone cathedral and the majestic Philadelphia Art Museum.

A 36-foot-high cross dominates the platform, which is encircled by 16,000 yellow and white chrysanthemums. A thousand priests were to give communion to the crowd.

Afterward, the pope will dine at the residence of Cardinal John Krol, archbishop of Philadelphia as well as John Paul's friend, confidant and fellow Pole. Krol's parents lived in the same Polish parish where the pope was born.

Police seek truck driver involved in alleged plot

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Authorities tipped to an alleged plot to kill Pope John Paul II today were looking for a truck driver from El Salvador in whose apartment they reported finding a submachine gun and four boxes of ammunition.

A letter to the FBI saying the pope's life was threatened directed the agency to "check out" the Elizabeth apartment of Alberto Roberto Gustave, 36, an FBI spokesman said.

He said that after city police raided the home Tuesday and found the gun, ammunition and an empty handgun box, a regional alert was issued for the missing Gustave.

The spokesman, Michael McDonnell, said no arrest warrant has been issued.

"There has been no violation that we have jurisdiction over. An overt act has to take place," McDonnell said.

It was not known whether the letter was signed. McDonnell said it mentioned the Puerto Rican extremist organization FALN — Armed Front for National Liberation — which has claimed responsibility for a number of terrorist acts in the United States.

Mrs. Stephenson died Sunday in a Burnet nursing home.

She was born Nov. 13, 1905, in Cooke County. She was married to Homer Stephenson on June 30, 1925, in Sweetwater.

Mrs. Stephenson had lived in Sweetwater 54 years. She was a Baptist.

Other survivors include a daughter, two sons, five sisters, a brother, seven grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Talmadge investigation uncovers eight possible federal violations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee said today its 14-month investigation of Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., uncovered evidence of eight possible violations of federal law.

"Should the Department of Justice find evidence leading to the indictment or conviction of any member, officer or employee of the Senate, the committee will take such additional action as is appropriate," the panel said.

In sending its final report to the Senate, the committee reaffirmed its earlier recommendation that Talmadge be "denounced" for "reprehensible" financial conduct.

Talmadge, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, now must decide whether to accept the committee's judgment or fight its conclusions on the Senate floor.

Gordon Roberts, a spokesman for Talmadge, said there would be no immediate comment on the committee's report. Talmadge has previously said the panel's decision to "denounce" instead of "censure" him was a "personal victory."

Although the term "censure" carries no automatic loss of privileges, the Senate has traditionally considered it the severest punishment it can mete out to a member.

There was no indication when Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd might bring the Talmadge issue to the Senate floor.

Among the possible criminal violations listed by the committee were perjury, making false claims against the government, conspiracy to defraud the government, income tax evasion and accepting campaign contributions in a federal building.

The committee agreed Tuesday on the contents of the final 30-page report, and sent its finding to Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti for possible criminal prosecution.

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, the committee chairman, said the report identified various unnamed persons who may have violated federal law.

"We don't specify who may have committed offenses," Stevenson said. "We do identify offenses that may have been committed by members (of the Senate), staff and additional witnesses."

Talmadge, the only senator to testify before the committee, was given a copy of the report Tuesday evening.

The panel's report laid out in detail the conclusions of a 14-month investigation which included allegations that Talmadge converted campaign contributions to his personal use and claimed Senate expense funds to which he was not entitled.

The committee said that between 1973 and 1978, Talmadge's office claimed $43,435 in excess reimbursements from the Senate, and that more than $10,000 in campaign contributions were funneled through a secret bank account and used for non-campaign purposes.

The report said Talmadge "either knew or should have known" about the various acts of financial misconduct in his office.

"By the gross neglect of his duty to faithfully and carefully administer the affairs of his office he is responsible for these acts and omissions," it said.

Paul Wiger scholarship established

The Paul Wiger Memorial Scholarship Fund has been set up at The Midland National Bank as a tribute to the late Midland High School student.

The college scholarship will be awarded to a member of the MHS 1981 graduating class.

Wiger, 17, was fatally injured in a mishap in Midland on Sept. 20. He would have been in that graduating class.

Those wishing to contribute to the scholarship fund may mail their donations to The Paul Wiger Memorial Scholarship Fund, The Midland National Bank, P.O. Box 2097, Midland 79702, or bring their donations by the bank.

Bill Franklin, executive vice president of the bank, is handling the fund.

Wiger was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wiger, 1204 Douglas Ave.

High court upholds decision on Odessa bond election

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court left standing today an Odessa election that approved the issuance of $21.6 million in bonds for construction of schools and an athletic complex.

Originally there were 111 contestants. Eleven presented evidence at the lengthy trial but only Robert Frias appealed the trial court decision upholding the election.

Frias said, however, he was appealing on behalf of 106 others.

The trial judge found there had been no material misrepresentations of fact or misleading statements prior to the Dec. 5, 1978, election.

All three propositions passed by approximate margins of 400 to 1,000 votes out of more than 17,000 votes cast.

The judge also found there had been no illegal or fraudulent votes cast.

The El Paso Court of Civil Appeals said the evidence supports the trial judge's findings.

Frias complained that United for Odessa, a political committee supporting the election, used contributions from several corporations to promote passage of the bond issue.

The appeals court noted that a Texas attorney general's opinion had held unconstitutional that portion of the Texas Election Code prohibiting the use of such contributions. The court said the opinion was based on a 1978 U.S. Supreme Court ruling in a Massachusetts case.

Frias also argued those contesting the bond election should have been allowed a trial by jury.

The appeals court said trial by jury is guaranteed only to protect rights of common law, not statutory rights.

There was no evidence of election fraud, no evidence that voters were deceived and "certainly no evidence" that there was a sufficient number of improper or illegal votes cast to change the results of the election, the appeals court said.

Clements offers substitute energy resolution at meeting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Edwin Edwards says a resolution before the Southern Governors Association urging the Department of Energy to stimulate energy production "has less oomph than I wanted," but he'll support it.

Edwards, host of the conference which votes on the resolution today, earlier recommended urging Congress to abolish DOE, saying the department spent more than $1 billion but only slowed energy production.

Texas Gov. Bill Clements offered the substitute, saying Edwards' proposal was "extreme and unrealistic."

Clements and Gov. Fob James of Alabama drafted the resolution calling on DOE to stimulate "increased domestic production of energy in all forms" and to uniformly step up the conversion from oil and natural gas to other energy sources.

Edwards, a frequent critic of the DOE and President Carter's energy policies, said Tuesday that if DOE Secretary Charles Duncan is "prepared to accommodate the same voices that have brought us to the same deplorable point we are at now," his policies will fail.

Lubbock suit finds religious support

LUBBOCK — In the wake of a suit filed last week by the Lubbock Civil Liberties Union against the Lubbock Independent School District, city ministers aren't unanimously opposed to the issue, according to a newspaper report.

The suit seeks a ban on all forms of religious exercises in Lubbock public schools.

Those ministers representing minority religious groups were the strongest in their opposition to religious activities in public schools, the report indicated.

One Episcopalian minister said he would be "greatly relieved if religious activities were banned" from public schools.

Rabbi Alexander Kline said any prayer in public schools "is a violation of the law — it is unacceptable."

And a Lutheran minister commented that prayer in the classroom "cheapens Christianity."

But a spokesman for the Lubbock Baptist Association said the schools should "by all means, continue with prayer and Bible-reading, as long as it is not mandatory."

Money

'explosive'

HOUSTON (AP) — Police say two "red-skinned" men who spray-painted a surveillance camera in a savings and loan office apparently are trying to remove an indelible red dye from themselves.

Robbery detectives said the men who robbed the Benjamin Franklin Savings office Tuesday grabbed a bag of money that also contained an explosive dye device.

The device exploded as the men were escaping by car.

Detectives said the money was recovered after the bag was thrown from the escape vehicle witnesses said was filled with red smoke.

Jewelry, TV

reported taken

Jewelry and a television set with an estimated total value of $1,500 Tuesday were reported taken from a residence in the 3100 block of West Golf Course Road, Midland police said.

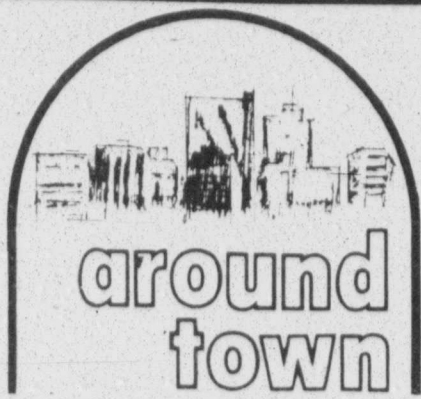

Entry to the home was through a window, police said.

Police are looking for a person neighbors observed leaving the scene of the alleged burglary.

Calorie consumption down, obesity up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the national jogging craze, Americans seem to be living more sedentary lives, preliminary indications of a government survey showed today.

Agriculture Department official D. Mark Hegstead said a national food consumption survey indicates that calorie consumption is down from 1965 even though obesity is becoming more common.

"If further analysis of distributions within groups does not explain what is going on, then we probably have to conclude that there have been rather large decreases in physical activity — shifts to more sedentary work — that the national jogging kick has not balanced," he said.

Because of the decline in calory consumption, it is becoming more difficult for some segments of the population to consume the "recommended daily allowances" for nutrients, Hegstead told a conference on nutrition and the American food system.

The conference is sponsored by Community Nutrition Institute, a consumer group; Food Marketing Institute, a trade association, and Family Circle magazine.

"Indeed, a 'well-balanced diet' by most definitions will not meet the recommended daily allowance for several nutrients," Hegstead said.

He said researchers think daily nutritional needs do not drop as calorie intake falls.

"Yet, the fact is that there is precious little data on this point," he added. "Most of the studies on nutrient needs continue to be done with young adults, usually young men. This is probably the group in the population least vulnerable to nutrient deficiency because of their high energy needs."

Hegstead, administrator of the Agriculture Department's Human Nutrition Center, said other dietary trends indicated by the survey include:

— Consumption of calcium, in most groups and of iron in women of child-bearing age remain substantially below the recommended daily allowances.

— Vitamin C consumption is up substantially in all age and sex groups.

Hegstead said, "We can begin to see some response" to advice by nutritionists to reduce consumption of sugar and salt and increase consumption of fruits, vegetables and grain products.

But he said the increase in obesity, greater use of sweeteners and higher alcohol consumption were discouraging trends.

The Alamo YMCA will be offering a class in child developmental movement, beginning Monday, for four weeks. The class will stress gross and fine motor development.

Classes will be held for children 3 to four-and-one-half years old and four and one-half-years-old to age 5.

The class will meet from 2:30 to 3 p.m. for the younger group and from 3 to 3:34 p.m. for the other group each Tuesday and Thursday.

The emphasis of the course will be basic motor skills. Some areas to be covered are coordination, agility, body awareness, mechanical and postural efficiency and perceptual motor efficiency, said Guy Fish, physical director at Alamo Y.

Fish and Krauss, instructors for the class, said, "the class is success oriented. The children always are made aware of their achievements, while incorrect performances are shown as steps toward the correct way of doing things."

"Through the use of positive reinforcement, the children begin to develop a self-confidence and optimism in their own ability. Therefore, their rate of learning and willingness to learn is greatly increased. If the child perceives himself to be a success, then he is much more likely to do well than a failure-oriented child," they added.

Midland Council of Camp Fire Girls is sponsoring a mini-venture crochet class which begins Friday, if as many as five girls ages 9 to 12 sign up, such as Kelly Wester, left, and Penny Woolard, who are crocheting pot holders and coasters. Additional classes are scheduled Sept. 12, 19 and 26 and each class will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. The fee is $1 per girl, and the classes are for both Camp Fire Girls and non-Camp Fire Girls. The council also has set Oct. 13 as Playday at Hogan Park. For more information on both events or for registering, call the Camp Fire House at 694-7704. (Staff Photo by Mike Kardos)

Bowie School to mark 25th

Bowie School is going to celebrate its 25th birthday at 10 a.m. Friday on the school's patio.

An open invitation is made to all parents, teachers and students, and all ex-students and their parents, to attend this special day.

A "snake" dance, led by the Bowie Bulldog mascot and Ole Mother Hubbard, will bring all students together on the patio, where a birthday ceremony and balloon release will take place.

Former principals will be introduced and a history of Bowie will be given. Each student, approximately 500, will receive a balloon. The balloons will be released with the students singing "Happy Birthday" to Bowie.

Another addition to the celebration will be the serving of birthday cake in the school cafeteria that day to students and adults eating lunch at the school that day.

A birthday card will be signed by each student, teacher and school personnel at Bowie and the card will hang permanently in the school cafeteria.

Parents are urged to make sure their children are in school Friday and plan to join him or her for the special event.

Party fetes seniors

Fuffy Green presented excerpts from Broadway musicals for the Trinity Towers' birthday party. She was accompanied by Doris Bruce.

Clyde Haden was the master of ceremonies, introducing guests, honorees and the program.

Flowers for the party were furnished by the Midland Rose Society. Cakes were furnished by Marie Garrett and the Circle L Sunday School Class of the First Presbyterian Church.

The birthday honorees were Marie Garrett, Mildred Henderson, Stella Barber, Beulah Brown, Nancy Boyd, Dixie Lowe, Ethel Vandling, Emmett Winn, Earl Chriesman, Clare Gorton, Elizabeth Moberly, Velma Haynie, Carol Beach, Kenneth Holmes, Margaret Snow, Cora Southard, Fay Knickerbocker, Pauline Conkling and Dru Kearney.

Guests were Dottie and Tom Cowan, Margaret and Blondie Huggins, Albert Clements, Helen Neely, Susie Noble, Elizabeth Chriesman, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Conkling, Mrs. Bill Craft and Joshua, Mrs. Steve Conkling and Kristen.

Area club tours gin

MIDKIFF — Prior to the regular meeting of the Midkiff Study Club recently, the president called an executive board meeting to vote on two prospective new members. Mary Merket was the hostess. Bootsie Braden called the regular meeting to order. Marilyn Midkiff led the group in the pledge to the flag and the club collect. Eight members answered the roll call and welcomed Mrs. Odis Holiman as a guest. Mrs. Braden reminded members of the Western District board meeting to be held Friday and Saturday at the Inn of the Golden West in Odessa. Patricia Barrett was appointed chairman of the committee to change the Constitution and by-laws of the club to comply with local needs. Mrs. Merket and Mrs. Midkiff were asked to serve with her. After the meeting adjourned, Jack Merket, manager of the Midkiff Cooperative Gin, gave a guided tour of the gin before the operation got in full swing.

Kevin Belknap recites vows with Kay Hogge of Plainview

Mrs. Kevin Belknap

PLAINVIEW — St. Alice Catholic Church here was the scene of the Saturday wedding ceremony that united Kay Hogge and Kevin Belknap, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton A. Belknap, 3703 W. Louisiana St., Midland. The Rev. Edward Chrisman of Fort Worth, former pastor of St. Alice, officiated the candlelight ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hogge of Plainview are parents of the bride. Mrs. Jesse Evans of South Plains was matron of honor, and Susan Hogge served her sister as maid of honor. Mrs. Tim Steele of Wichita Falls was bridesmatron. Jeanne Hogge and Laurel Belknap, sisters of the bride and bridegroom respectively, were junior bridesmaids. Bruce Belknap, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Tim Jett of Dallas, Eska Miller, Ted Steed and the bride's brother, Eddy Hogge, all of Lubbock. Also assisting with ushering duties was the bridegroom's brother, Shannon Belknap of Midland. After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Lubbock at 2303-D 76th St. Mrs. Belknap was formally associated with Joskes of San Antonio as an area sales manager. Belknap is a sales representative with Burrus and Matthews. Both have bachelor of business administration degrees from Texas Tech University. The bride is a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TO

DAY: Taking more initiative will help you to improve your financial security and advance your career. Health is fine. Domestic affairs require greater effort. Your judgment in personal matters may be confused. Romance blossoms, for singles and could result in marriage by year's end. Choose mate carefully.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Friends need a helping hand. Do help if it does not entail cash outlay. Employers expect more from you if you request promotion or raise. Home repairs can boost property value. Family obligations take precedence.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Complete old business before embarking on new projects. Possible to turn quick profit now if you move rapidly to outwit competitors. Get more rest if energy level is flagging.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It is time to free yourself of burden of last few weeks. Revised budget can relieve tension at home. Move to new residence could provide more space, relaxed surroundings.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Plans to resurrect an old project could mean increased profits or promotion. Be grateful for small favors, especially those given by subordinates.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Stick to old business. After-hours activities hold special importance, particularly if you are entering new social arena. Someone you meet could prove invaluable in your future.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Co-worker will be congenial. Perseverance and attention from a mature, more experienced person can help. A financial risk is worth taking. Make plans for a winter vacation but consult your mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You will undoubtedly find new openings, light where there was darkness. Strive to demonstrate your beliefs, principles. Key now rests in your inner voice. Avoid temperamental disagreements.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your working atmosphere should be tension-free. A mid-morning telephone call will bring some cheerful news. Write down original ideas even if you cannot put them into practice right now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Look for an unexpected accent where your circle of friends and their interests are concerned. Money is on your mind. You will know how to put your ideas across forcefully and effectively.

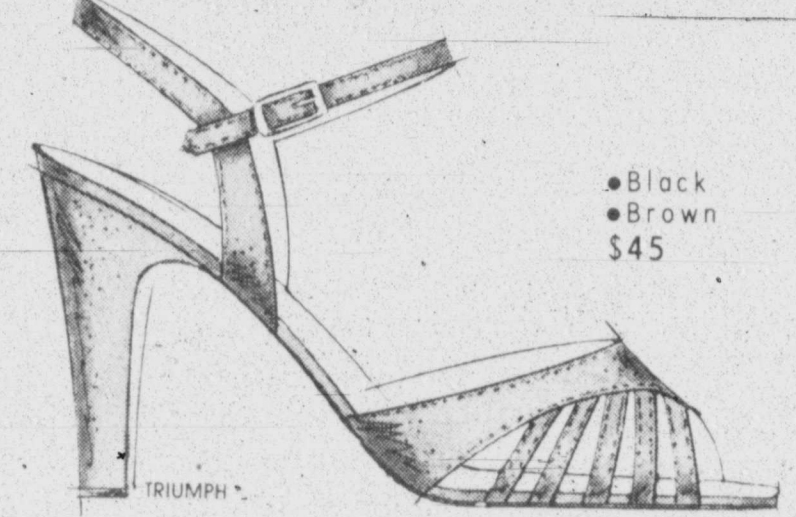

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Co-workers will pitch in to take freedom out of routine work. Follow through on correspondence. Keep tight lid on emotions to avoid arguments. Health requires attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Further financial problem may suddenly reappear. Some behind-the-scenes operations can relieve the tension. An old friend will come to your rescue. Maintain outer calm.

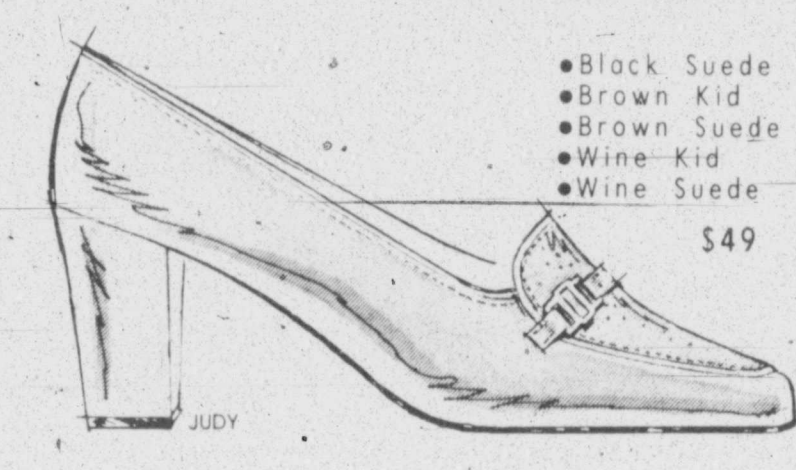

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Money can be a touchy subject. Revised budget may be the obvious solution, but only works if everyone cooperates. Someone may judge you by your choice of clothing and/or personal grooming.

Contest deadline extended, Cash prizes announced

Cash prizes to be awarded in "Recipes '79", The Reporter-Telegram's annual recipe contest and cookbook section, have been announced.

The top prize will be $125, with $25 also to be given the first place winners in each category. Other valuable prizes will be announced at a later date. The deadline for submitting entries has been extended to Oct. 15.

This year's edition will be published Sunday, Nov. 4, as a tabloid supplement to the regular edition.

The categories will be: (1)Salads; (2)Meats, Fish and Poultry; (3)Casseroles, Vegetables and Side Dishes; (4)Breads; (5)Cakes, and (6)Pies.

Winners will be announced in "Recipes '79" Nov. 4. All entries will be judged by a panel of professional home economists not connected with the newspaper. The judges will select the three best recipes in each category.

Readers are asked to submit only one entry per category. Entries should be typewritten and all measurements and instructions clearly stated. Any recipes that are unclear will be disqualified.

Each entry should be clearly labeled at the top with the entrant's name, address, telephone number, the name of the recipe and category entered.

Send entries to: "Recipes '79," C/O The Midland Reporter-Telegram, P.O. Box 1650, Midland, Texas, 79702.

The contest is open to everyone in The Reporter-Telegram's retail trading zone except employees and agents of The Reporter-Telegram and their families.

AMERICAN EXPRESS, MASTERCARD, VISA, BANK FINANCING --- LAYAWAY NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

Used Book Sale slated

Thousands of books are being sorted in preparation for the 12th annual Used Book and Record Sale sponsored by the Friends of the Midland County Library.

The sale will open for an Earlybird Preview at 7 p.m. Friday in the County Exhibit Building on East Highway 80.

Those attending the preview will be charged $1, but admission is free Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday, the hours are 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Sunday the public may purchase books from 1 to 6 p. m.

Not only are books and records available, but jigsaw puzzles, magazines, maps, posters and even a slide projector. The better book section is always popular and features very old books, first editions and classics. Many rare scientific, particularly geologic, books are found in this section.

Hardback books are priced at 25 cents, paperbacks at 20 cents and most magazines at five cents. The better books and other items are individually priced. Sunday is half-price day or $1.50 per yard of books.

The first used book sale was held in 1967 in what is now the periodical room in the library, but was then the gallery meeting room. When the sale outgrew that location it was held in the library garage which now is the audio-visual room.

With continued growth, the sale moved to an empty store on Main Street, but even that was not spacious enough for the usual 30,000 volumes offered. The County Exhibit Building has housed the sale for several years.

The Midland Genealogical Society will be holding its annual garage sale at the Exhibit Building during the book sale. The society has purchased most of the books that occupy the northeast corner of the main floor of the library, making the Midland library's genealogical section one of the best in this section of the state.

Whatever your taste, be it cooking, photography, the psychic, history, medicine, quilting, animals, hunting or just plain entertaining novels, there will be a selection of books on that subject. Make plans to beat inflation and get a year's supply of good reading at the Used Book Sale.

DEAR ABBY

Melting pot grown cold?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You said we should open our doors to the "boat people," because we all came here from other countries and were made welcome, right?

Wrong! When our country was new, we had plenty of wide open spaces and needed help from the immigrants to build our nation.

We needed the Chinese to build our railroads, the Scandinavians to work our forests, the Finns to work in our mines, and the Germans to work in our factories.

We needed the Jews to teach us business, the Italians to teach us how to make wine, and the Irish to teach us how to fight!

I hope I didn't leave out anybody. — AL IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR AL: How about the French who taught us to make love? And the Austrians who taught us to make a strudel? And what did we learn from the Hungarians, the British, the Slavs, the Scotch, the Russians, the Spanish, the Swiss? Readers?

DEAR ABBY: This problem is mine only in directly, but because I love the person whose problem it is, I am asking for your help.

This lovely lady has met with a terrible tragedy. She lost her dog. It wasn't just an ordinary dog, Abby, it was a Shih-tzu, and a more lovable and intelligent dog I've never seen. He was almost human, and my friend couldn't have loved her own baby more.

She placed ads in all the local newspapers, and begged the TV broadcasters to mention it, offering a large reward for its return. (They refused.) She even called a service in San Francisco whose business it is to find lost pets. Nothing has worked.

My friend hasn't been able to sleep or eat since she lost her dog, and I am afraid of what might happen to her. Can you help? — CONCERNED FOR CAROL

DEAR CONCERNED: Only one who has lost a loving pet can know how Carol feels. But she must accept the fact that she may never see her precious dog again, and learn to deal with her grief. I suggest she quit looking for the dog and find a therapist instead.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for CONSIDERING IT — the 64-year-old woman who is considering surgery to enlarge her breasts.

I am 24, and have always had a very small bosom. For years I was ashamed of my terrible "handicap," and wouldn't be caught dead without my padded bra.

Last year I fell in love with a wonderful man and agonized over the fact that one day he would learn the truth about my bosom.

Well, that day came, and never in my entire life have I been so embarrassed! But this sweet and loving man just smiled kindly, and told me that he had suspected it for a long time, but it didn't make a particle of difference to him!

He let me know then, and has everyday since, that he loves me just the way God made me — small bosom and all.

With his love and reassurance, I have thrown away all my padded bras (after 12 years!) and I am no longer the least bit ashamed of being flat-chested.

I hope that CONSIDERING IT will realize how little difference the size of one's bust really makes.

If someone as wonderful as my man loves me the way I am, why should I despise myself?

FLAT BUT FULL-FILLED — DEAR FULFILLED: Thanks for giving all those flat-chested girls a much-needed lift. There 34 AA-cups runneth over.

Opinion asked on prison rule

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Chairman James Windham of the Texas Board of Corrections has asked for an attorney general's opinion on the constitutionality of a new prison rule restricting inmates' rights to voice grievances by petition.

Windham told Attorney General Mark White the rule had been challenged by Rep. Joe Hernandez, D-San Antonio, who has sponsored prisoner legislation in the past.

The new prison rule prohibits "forming an unapproved organization," soliciting members for it or preparing and circulating petitions for the redress of grievances.

It does say specifically that individual inmates have the right to file administrative complaints or lawsuits.

The prison system acted recently to halt recruitment of inmates as Ku Klux Klan members. It also is involved in a class action suit in federal court by and on behalf of inmates who claim a number of prison procedures violate their constitutional rights.

Windham said questions raised by Hernandez for resolution by the attorney general include:

- Is the rule so broad that it would unconstitu-

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Vegetarian diet considered risky regimen for any child

Dear Dr. Solomon: My 11-year-old son has decided to become a vegetarian. He is very active and I am concerned that his diet will be inadequate for good health. Is there cause for concern or can a vegetarian diet provide the nutrients he requires? — Mrs. S.F.D.

Dear Mrs. D.: A strictly vegetarian diet could be a risky undertaking for any child. Such a diet is defined as one that rules out consumption of at least four of the five animal foods — red meat, poultry, seafood, eggs and dairy products. There is no vegetable product that can provide all of nutrients necessary for human growth and development.

Recent studies have emphasized the dangers inherent in a strictly vegetarian diet, particularly the incidence of rickets, a disease caused by nutritional deficiencies. In an editorial appearing in the American Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Assn., Dr. Laurence Finberg, a pediatrician at the Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center in New York City, says the risk of a vegetarian diet may be alleviated by the addition of vitamin D and other supplements. Where these supplements are rejected, however, a strictly vegetarian diet poses serious risks for children.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Why does my physician examine the area under my arms when he examines my breasts? — Cindy

Dear Cindy: Breast cancer sometimes is indicated by an enlarged node in the armpit. During a physical examination, or when you perform breast self examination, the breasts, the area under the arms and the space between the breasts should all be checked. Even if a lump is present, this does not necessarily indicate cancer, in fact, most swellings are not cancer. But the diagnosis must be made by a physician.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I've suffered from arthritis for the past several years, and have just about decided to move to Arizona. I'd like your opinion before I commit myself to such a move. — Mrs. J.K.O.

Dear Mrs. O.: While I have nothing against Arizona, I should warn you that a warm, dry climate — which I assume is what you are seeking — will not affect the course of the disease. However, you may find that a warm climate is soothing and helps you feel more comfortable.

Bill Madlock, left, Pittsburgh third baseman, looks back at loose ball bobbled by Reds' shortstop Dave Concepcion, right, after Madlock stole second in fourth inning of National League playoff game in Cincinnati Tuesday night. The throw came from catcher Johnny Bench too late as the Pirates took a 2-0 win in the opening game of the best-of-five series. (AP Lapsphoto).

Stargell's blast sinks Reds, 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Stargell says he's given out nearly 6,000 gold stars to his teammates for game-winning hits or outstanding plays, but he declined to give himself one for his three-run homer which won the opening game of the National League playoffs.

STARGELL'S SHOT to deep right-center field in the 11th inning Tuesday night boosted the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and gave the Pirates the early edge in their best-of-five series.

"Those stars cost about 25 cents apiece," Stargell said, explaining why he wouldn't award himself one. "At the rate I'm giving them out, they're going to bankrupt me."

The Reds sent rookie Frank Pastore to the mound in today's second game against Jim Bibby of the Pirates. Stargell, as usual, was expected to be at first base, batting cleanup for Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH MANAGER Chuck Tanner usually lets the 38-year-old Stargell take the day off following a night game, but that won't be the case in the championship series. "Stargell's going to play the rest of the way," Tanner said. "He's the Most Valuable Player in the league in my opinion."

Stargell's homer came off loser

Tom Hume after Tim Foli and Dave Parker had singled to open the 11th inning.

"If I hadn't done it, somebody else would have," Stargell said. "I was just concentrating on staying down. Bob Skinner told me I'd been pulling out on the ball."

"So when I didn't see the bunt sign, I just closed my eyes and swung," Stargell joked. "The next thing I knew, the ball was going out of the park."

The Pirates scored twice in the third inning as Phil Garner hit a leadoff homer to right field and Omar Moreno tripled, scoring on Foli's sacrifice fly.

Moreno's speed — he was the National League leader in stolen bases with 77 this season — induced right fielder Dave Collins to try to make a shoestring catch of Moreno's sinking liner. But the ball bounced in front of Collins and got through him for a triple.

"Our game plan was to keep Moreno off the bases," Collins said. "I gambled on the play and it hurt us, but I don't think it cost us the ballgame."

"I did the same thing four innings later on a ball Dave Parker hit, and I made a good play on it."

THE REDS got those two runs back in the fourth inning when Dave Concepcion led off with a single and George Foster followed with a towering home run to the second deck behind left-center field.

Cincinnati starter Tom Seaver allowed just two more singles before leaving the game for a pinch hitter.

"Tom felt he could go on, but it was the last half of the eighth inning and we needed one run," said Cincinnati Manager John McNamara. "We had Tom Hume, who has done the job for us all year."

McNamara said losing the opening game of the series merely meant that "it's down to a four-game series for us."

"It's definitely not over. One team has to win three games," McNamara said.

John Candelaria started for Pittsburgh but left after seven innings because his side started bothering him. Tanner used five pitchers altogether, with reliever Grant Jackson getting the victory and Don Robinson the save. Tanner was prepared to use more hurlers if he needed them.

"We had everybody warming up," Tanner said. "We would have used (Bert) Blyleven if we had to win the ballgame."

McNamara said the Reds have the character to come back from the loss and beat Pittsburgh in its home park.

"This ballclub has got to show somebody something, coming from 10 games behind on July 4 to win the Western Division," McNamara said. "They tried to do it in the 11th inning. They didn't throw in the towel even with two outs."

CONCEPCION STARTED a last-gasp rally with two out in the 11th, singling to right field. Foster followed with a walk and Robinson came in to pitch to Johnny Bench.

Bench walked to load the bases, but then Robinson struck out Ray Knight to end the game.

"When I was in the on-deck circle, I was thinking how great it would be if John got on and I came up with the bases loaded," Knight said.

"I guess you fantasize this situation all your life. I wasn't nervous. I felt really good and I wanted to be in that situation."

Knight and his teammates had one more chance to even things at home today before moving on to Pittsburgh for the remainder of the series.

Angels, Orioles square off

BALTIMORE (AP) — The California Angels, with their pitching staff strengthened and armed with a scouting report that even describes the Baltimore crowds, face the favored Orioles with renewed confidence in the opener of the American League playoffs tonight.

"We just got our pitching back to where it was when we left spring training," California Manager Jim Fregosi said prior to the start of the best-of-5 series that shifts to the West Coast Friday for the third game and any more that are necessary.

FREGOSI SAID Nolan Ryan, Dave Frost and Frank Tanana, who will start the first three games in that order, missed close to 60 starts during the regular season for the Western Division champs, who are making their first appearance in postseason play.

"We lost about 30 games when we scored five runs or more," Fregosi said, "and six when we scored at least 10 runs. We scored more than 100 more runs than the Orioles, but they kept their pitching intact all year."

Baltimore had trouble for ailing starters, too, with Scott McGregor out for a month and Jim Palmer, the first game starter, missing about 14 starts because of various elbow, shoulder and back ailments.

THE ORIOLES held a commanding 9-3 edge over the Angels in the season series, but Fregosi said: "I don't think they can take three of those and win the playoffs. We're going in 0-0."

California's potent attack is led by Don Baylor, a former Oriole who drove in 139 runs while hitting 36 home runs. Bobby Grich, another former Oriole, and Dan Ford each had 101 RBI.

"When we traded Frank Robinson in 1972 to make room for Baylor," said Weaver, "we knew he would be a star and had the ingredients to become the Most Valuable Player in the league."

Baylor was traded to Oakland in 1976, in a deal for Reggie Jackson, and joined the Angels the following year in the re-entry draft.

In an effort to stop the Angels, Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver bypassed 23-game winner Mike Flanagan and opted for Palmer, the three-time Cy Young Award winner who posted a 10-6 record in 1979.

Fregosi nominated Ryan, 16-14, who has lost his last six decisions to Baltimore and has a 5-13 lifetime mark against the Orioles.

AT PRACTICE Tuesday, Fregosi revealed that his scouting report on the Orioles included a section on the record crowds that many observers thought played a major role in helping them to their first division title in five years.

"The crowd probably will be the wildest of the year," the report said. "A guy with a full beard and a white hat will have 52,000 people spelling out 'Orioles' the whole game. It will be a wild and enthusiastic crowd, so be ready."

Landry, Grant knock schedule

DALLAS (AP) — Minnesota Coach Bud Grant and Dallas Coach Tom Landry have a message for National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle about his so-called balanced schedule: do something about it.

"I don't think they did a good job," said Grant in a telephone hookup with Dallas writers.

"It's not fair," said Landry about an hour later at his weekly press luncheon.

"The way the schedule is set up, the fourth-place team will play the same schedule as the first-place team," said Grant. "I don't begrudge Tampa Bay anything but the schedule should graduate down equally."

"I realize the schedule is difficult, but it could be worked out by computer. The way it is right now, a very poor team could get into the playoffs ... and I'm not saying Tampa Bay is ..."

"Tampa Bay is for real. They also have an outstanding schedule the rest of the way, playing teams like the New York Giants twice, San Francisco, New Orleans and Kansas City and the teams in our National Conference Central division. It would be difficult for us even if the schedule was equal because maybe Tampa Bay is better."

Landry picked up the theme, saying it wasn't fair for the best to be playing the best all the time.

"The teams in the middle have a better schedule than the teams that finish first and fourth," said Landry. "Everything seems to penalize the good teams: the schedule and the draft."

"The NFL is doing a good job of equalizing all right, but I hope you don't see teams losing their incentive to be the best."

Because of the long 16-game schedule, Landry said professional football is more mental than muscle.

"It's just a mental game now," said Landry. "I really think we could beat Cleveland when we are capable of playing our game. It's just not possi-

Howard Cosell passes buck to Gifford for big blunder

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Howard Cosell blamed Frank Gifford but Gifford wasn't accepting the charge, at least not by himself.

Cosell pointed the finger at Gifford in a letter to the wife of New York Giants tackle Gordon Gravelle, explaining the mistaken identity calamity during the telecast of the New York Giants-Washington Redskins game Sept. 17.

Cosell, along with Gifford and Fran Tarkenton, were misinformed and identified No. 78, Gus Coppins, as Gravelle.

"First, the mistake was Mr. Gifford's," Cosell wrote in the letter dated Sept. 21, "and even then he committed the mistake because a team official told his spotter that Gordon would be wearing Number 78."

"I don't think it was anyone's fault," Gifford said. "The Giants activated Gravelle that day and that was the number given us. It was my mistake as much as anyone's. I talked to Gordon and said I was sorry."

The announcers chided Gravelle for missed blocks — when it was actually Coppins — and Cosell suggested that Gravelle, who was fined $15,300 for reporting late to the Giants, take another fine and go home.

It triggered an angry response and a threatened suit by Gravelle, who said his wife was hysterical when he called her in California after the game. Gravelle said: "Cosell is a pompous, senile idiot. He's a disgrace to the broadcast profession, the epitome of an arrogant egotist."

The following week Gifford apologized on behalf of ABC to Molly Gravelle, who previously had sent Cosell a letter.

Cosell's letter went on to say: "Second, the tape reveals that never within the entire telecast did I le to concentrate over the full 16-game schedule."

Cleveland shocked the Cowboys 26-7 two weeks ago. Then Dallas bounced back to maul Cincinnati 38-13 the next week.

"I don't know what makes a player want to play," said Landry. "They walk out there sometimes and just can't play."

Henderson does talking on field

IRVING — The more things seem to change, the more they just kind of stay the same.

Consider, if you will, a Dallas linebacker by the name of Thomas Henderson.

That's right, the wild and crazy guy they call Hollywood. He's the dude you could identify even without the number 56 on his jersey.

HENDERSON still plays the same intense type of football he always has, a game of hustle and determination. The type of things that carried him from one of the NFL's best specialty team players to one of the league's finest outside linebackers.

By the way, Henderson turned in a glittering effort on a punt early in the second quarter of Sunday's 38-13 victory over Cincinnati.

Danny White boomed the kick and it sailed toward the Bengal end zone. Out of nowhere and faster than a speeding bullet, Henderson raced to the goal line, paused momentarily then leaped and batted the ball — before it landed — backwards. It was downed at the Cincy one yard line.

Typical Hollywood Henderson.

"Wasn't that great," said Henderson of the play afterward, a twisted smile appearing at the corners of his mouth.

"That's just one of my great plays," added the fifth year-man from tiny Langston College in Oklahoma.

TYPICAL Hollywood Henderson.

Sure, the guy likes to talk. And before the season, he hinted that maybe he was going to try and clean up his act a little.

But would the Cowboys really be as much fun without Hollywood's off-the-cuff comments about anything from the stock market to natural childbirth? Or without his crowd-infecting on-field bravado and macho swagger? Or, and likely most importantly, his incredible gridiron talents?

Probably not.

And let us not forget that the media — perhaps more than anyone else — is responsible for making Henderson the talkative fellow that he is.

He attracts reporters like a horse draws flies. Nearly everything he says is scribbled into notebooks as if it were gospel. To journalists, Hollywood is what is commonly referred to as "good copy."

Commenting on the Cincy game, Thomas said, "We had to come back this week and win. We won big. We beat the spread."

SLOWLY, Hollywood picked up momentum. His next topic, believe it or not, was the Heisman trophy.

"I should've won the Heisman," he said flatly, referring to the recipient of the award during Henderson's senior year — Cincy's Archie Griffin, a man with whom Thomas had several interactions Sunday.

Once over his initial shock, a scribe asked, "Who won the Heisman your senior year?"

Hollywood — knowing full well — paused momentarily, apparently stymied by an unaccustomed loss of words.

Finally, he shot back, "I had 80 quarterback traps."

Talk then got around to other topics, which were a little more germane to what had gone down that afternoon in Texas Stadium.

SOMEONE asked Henderson if it made a difference with rookie Aaron Mitchell starting at left cornerback instead of regular Benny Barnes, who's still nagged with a foot injury.

"I didn't ever think about it," said Henderson. "He's capable. He reminds me of myself in a few ways. He'll take you on."

All right, Hollywood, the kid does like to stick opponents and make them know they were hit, which is one of your trademarks.

But let's be honest. Nobody in this league has your way with words.

Candelaria does job despite injury

CINCINNATI (AP) — John Candelaria may have surprised some people with his performance in the opening game of the National League playoffs, but not his teammates.

"He's played all year not feeling 100 percent, and all he does is get smarter and better," said shortstop Tim Foli after Candelaria, who had not started since Sept. 15 because of an injury to his left side, pitched seven innings of Tuesday night's game.

A quartet of Pirate relief pitchers then held the Cincinnati Reds scoreless until Willie Stargell homered to give Pittsburgh a 5-2, 11-inning victory.

"He's a money pitcher," Tanner said of Candelaria, who allowed two runs and five hits. He held the Reds without a hit through the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. "If it's a big game, he'll get it for you."

Pirates catcher Ed Ott said Candelaria was feeling his aches and pains.

"He was grunting and groaning out there on the mound from the first inning," Ott said.

The Pirates were equally rhapsodic about their bullpen, which shut down Reds' threats in the eighth and 11th innings.

"That's the kind of pitchers we have," Foli said. "When the going gets tough, they all want the ball."

The victory was sweet revenge for the Pirates, who lost to the Reds in playoff competition in 1970, 1972 and 1975.

"It's like a bully who is constantly beating up on you and you say, 'Hey, I belong here, too,'" Stargell said.

Stargell and several other players said they were upset by an article in a local newspaper which compared the two teams.

The article, which Stargell felt was not flattering enough to his club, was placed on the Pirates' bulletin board before the game.

For the Reds, and particularly third baseman Ray Knight, it was an unhappy night.

Knight, who so successfully replaced Pete Rose at third base, went 0-for-5 at the plate and struck out with the bases loaded in the last inning. He also hit into two double plays.

"Tonight I consider myself the goat, but tomorrow I might be the hero," Knight said. "It wasn't a good night for me, but I guess I've had to have had a lot of good nights to be where I am."

Knight admitted he was thinking of being a hero when he came up in the bottom of the 11th inning.

"I guess you fantasize this situation all your life. I wasn't nervous. I felt really good and wanted to be in that situation."

"We were 10 games back and came on to win the division," said Reds outfielder Dave Collins. "Now, we're one game back and I'm sure we can come back again."

"Well, it's down to a four-game season for us now," Manager John McNamara said. "It's definitely not over."

Some of the Pirates also commented on an article which they tacked up on the clubhouse bulletin board. It compared the two teams, and Stargell thought it suggested the Pirates had come out on the short end of the comparison.

For Reds third baseman Ray Knight, it was indeed a long night. He went 0-for-5 and struck out with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th, ending the game. He also hit into two double plays.

"When I was in the on-deck circle, I was thinking how great it would be if John (Bench) got on and I came up with the bases loaded," Knight said.

Pups, Brigade have contests with Odessans

Both Midland and Midland Lee's junior varsity football teams face action Thursday with Odessa Permian and Odessa High.

Midland High's Bullpups will split their 50-man squad and travel to Odessa for a pair of games with Mojo in sophomore and JV tilts. The Midland and Permian sophomores square off at 4 p.m. at the Permian practice field while at 7 p.m. the two junior varsities face each other on the same field.

Midland is 2-2 with wins over Pecos and Monahans while losses have been to Midland Lee and the Greenwood varsity. Permian, meanwhile has beaten Ector, 34-0 and Pecos by the score of 55-8. Midland beat Pecos, 21-19, so it will be a tough test for the Pups. Permian's sophos have a 30-0 win over the OHS sophomores to date.

Lee entertains the OHS JV at Memorial Stadium at 7 p.m. and the Stonewall Brigade stands 3-0 on the season, the same as OHS which has wins over Ector, Monahans and Hobbs, N.M.

The Brigade beat Snyder, 13-0 and then blasted Midland, 35-6 and two weeks ago, beat Fort Stockton, 23-6.

Lee has lost Rodney Hemphill who has been moved up to the Rebel varsity and Pat Shaw, promising cornerback in the first three games, has moved to Angleton. There are some key injuries to some other top players so the Lee may be hurting some Thursday, especially if OHS loads up with juniors.

OU-Texas on tube

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC will telecast nationally the Texas-Oklahoma game at 2:30 p.m. CDT, Oct. 13 from Dallas, the network announced Tuesday.

Texas holds a 43-27-3 edge in this fierce rivalry. Last year, Oklahoma whipped Texas 31-10.

Guernsey holds Senior golf lead

Frank Guernsey might've been good during Monday's qualifying round, but he may've been a tad better in Tuesday's first round of the 72-hole Texas Senior Men's Amateur golf tournament, currently running this week at Midland Country Club.

There are two players at 77 and then an eight-way logjam at 78, meaning Guernsey might have to be even better in days to come. Following today's round, the 32 player championship flight field will be trimmed to the low 16 players. Play also continues in other flights, concluding Friday.

Splendora back gains 393 yards

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ AP Sports Writer Splendora running back Donald Moore has rushed 1,080 yards in four games this season, including last week's 393 against Kountze, so it's a significant statement when Wildcat Coach Red Mitchell says: "He's made me look like a pretty good coach the last four years with his offense but he's a better defensive player. We take him out on offense but he plays every down on defense."

"If you watch us play for one minute, you know we're going to give the ball to Donald," Moore said. "That's what's so amazing. They blanket him and he still performs. He's not real fast but his quickness is amazing. We'll take him to a track meet and after the first 30 yards he'll be ahead by six yards and still lose the race."

Pack braces for Mojo

And now Father Time marches into October, carrying with him an aura of the macabre. It is the month of Halloween, broomsticks, goblins, and witch's brew made of bats and frogs. It is the time for a strong heart, and eyes that can see around the corner.

And for the Midland High football team, it is the month that Mojo comes to town, bringing with it all the frightful things that only October can conjure up. In the past, it has been a dreadful omen for the Bulldogs.

JUST THE mention of Mojo seems to run fear deep into most 5-4A opponents. Or at least, it seems that way when you look at the record of the silky Panther as it strolls untouched through District 5-4A pastures on dark Friday nights.

At the present, Permian seems to be hiding its patented black for the month that suits it best. They have already lost a game, 9-0 to Amarillo High, and that in itself is almost unthinkable at this time of year.

TERRY WILLIAMSON

THERE SEEMS to be a lot of talk going around this year that Abilene Cooper is the team to beat if you are to win a 5-4A championship in 1979. It could very well be true, the Cougs are awesome looking.

IN 1974, for instance, the Bulldogs led 3-0 with only seconds left on the scoreboard clock. Just time enough for a blocked punt which was recovered in the end zone for a Permian touchdown. Fate never works harder than in October.

Abilene Cooper holding No. 1 ranking in AAAA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The closest race for No. 1 in any of the four classifications in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football poll is in Class AA where Childress is pressing No. 1 rated Pittsburg.

Abilene Cooper and La Porte, ranked 1-2 in 4A, both had open dates last week but Cooper still polled 19 of the 20 first place votes for a solid 198-163 lead over La Porte.

City and No. 9 Comanche disappeared after a loss to Stephenville and was replaced by Hallettsville, 4-0.

A week of no upsets among the Class A ranks resulted in only minor adjustments involving the bottom five teams. Fifth ranked Glen Rose and No. 6 Seagraves exchanged places while Dilley, seventh last week, dropped to 10th after an open date.

Midland Lee, 3-0, and San Antonio

The bottom line is that the Bulldogs have started 5-4A play with a loss for five straight years. Now is the time for it to end.

Midland High appears to have the size and speed for the first time in a long while to compete on an even basis with Permian, but they must destroy the hex. The Bulldogs have shown everything necessary to win this year. They have come from behind in the final seconds to beat Lubbock Monterey. They produced a goal line stand at the one-yard line to beat El Paso Eastwood.

THE BULLDOGS have the material to play heads up with just about anyone on any given night. If they believe that they can win Friday, they will. It doesn't seem to be a matter of superior talent this time around. So, it will probably come down to the team that plays the best football — or puts on the best magic show.

It seems certain, however, that Permian must fall before the October mystique will dry up and blow away. Forget Cooper. Permian is the answer to question No. 1 on the first 5-4A exam of evil. There seems to be no other way. You either face your ghosts of time past, or you live with a mounting fear.

The Bulldogs will be playing against more than Odessa Permian Friday. They will be facing their ghost of time past. Now is the time to shoot the silver bullet.

Malavasi surprised over line

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Coach Ray Malavasi seemed almost surprised Tuesday after reviewing the play of his Los Angeles Rams' offensive line in Sunday's 21-0 National Football League victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Both Ryzek and Bain did a good job on that offensive line," Malavasi told his regular Tuesday meeting with the news media.

It wasn't as if he had been talking about two guys who were in the trenches most of the time. He was talking about two guys who wouldn't have been there at all the week before.

Dan Ryzek snaps the ball for punts and place kicks as a member of the special teams. He became the starter at offensive right guard when both Dennis Harrah and Doug Smith were hurt.

Then, during the St. Louis game, left guard John Williams suffered a bruised calf and Bill Bain, who joined the team only that week, went in.

He had been a tackle most of his pro career. "I can play right guard," he told the coaches who then told him to tell Ryzek, whose usual position is center, to move to left guard, so Bain could play on the right side.

So Malavasi's compliments were for two players who hadn't expected to be where they were.

Williams is expected to return to action on Sunday when the Rams play the Saints at New Orleans and so is quarterback Pat Haden, who suffered a bruised index finger in the fourth quarter against St. Louis.

Porker center seeking shot at Heisman

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Arkansas has played three games, so Mike Burlingame figures he's three steps closer to his goal of winning the 1979 Heisman Trophy.

Unfortunately, Burlingame plays center for the Razorbacks and no interior linemen, offensive or defensive, has ever won the Heisman. The only linemen so honored were two-way ends Larry Kelley of Yale in 1936 and Leon Hart of Notre Dame in 1949.

But that's not stopping Burlingame, a 6-foot-2, 233-pound senior from Norman, Okla.

"I figure it's about time for an offensive lineman to win it," he says. "Everyone else on the line has a goal, so I need one, too. Phillip Moon (tackle) wants to be governor, George Stewart (guard) wants to be a quarterback, Chuck Herman (left guard) wants to play on the right side of the line in the pros and Greg Kolenda (tackle) wants to get married. I had to come up with a goal, so I figured I'd set my sights high."

But why the Heisman?
"Oh, I've always thought about it, ever since I was in the fourth grade. Even then I was a center, but I wanted to be a receiver or a quarterback eventually. I used to sleep in the same position as that guy on the Wheaties box—you know, arms outstretched, ready to catch a pass."

Rick Schaeffer, Arkansas' sports information director, doesn't put much stock in the burgeoning campaign so Burlingame lined up his own P.R. committee—Stewart, quarterback Kevin Scanlon and running back Thomas Brown. They've ordered 100 bumper stickers reading, "Holding for the Heisman in 1979—'Game' No. 50."

"We think they'll be a hot item," says Burlingame. "We're giving away the first 100. Then we'll start selling them. We could become another McDonald's and have franchises all over the country. Everyone on the team wants one and most want two so they can send one home to their parents. You know, spread them all over the area."

"Game" even has it all figured out why he's a shoo-in.

"There are so many great running backs they'll probably split up the votes," he says. "I should get all the center votes. Plus, I have some pretty good selling points. I've never been offside and I touch or am around the ball a lot more than any back."

The Heisman could lead to all sorts of good things.
"I won't go on the Johnny Carson show until after the season," Burlingame says. "Coach (Lou) Holtz and I have the same policy on that."

Temple Coach Wayne Hardin has a secret ambition.

"Temple played in the first Sugar Bowl back in 1935 (Tulane 20, Temple 14)," Hardin says, "and it would be nice to go back."

Hardin knows, of course, that the Sugar Bowl isn't really interested in Temple despite the Owls' 3-1 record. The only blemish is last Saturday's 10-9 loss to Pitt and the Owls crushed Drake, which beat Colorado, which beat Indiana, which beat Iowa 30-26, which was one point more than Nebraska beat the Hawkeyes. And Nebraska is coming off an impressive 42-17 mauling of Penn State.

"We have an identity problem, to a certain degree," Hardin concedes, "but it's getting better each year."

Some 10,000 New Jersey high school football players and coaches will attend the Garden State Bowl in East Rutherford, N.J., on Dec. 16 thanks to seven Atlantic City casinos, which have purchased $70,000 worth of tickets.

The participating casinos have purchased lower tier seats to be allotted to each of 200 schools by a committee headed by Robert F. Casciola, assistant vice president of the First National State Bank of New Jersey and former head coach at Princeton.

The distribution of the tickets will be made with the cooperation of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association and the New Jersey Football Coaches Association.

Paul Heinsohn is a 6-6, 245-pound sophomore defensive tackle at Duke. If the last name rings a bell, his father, Tom, is a former star and coach of the NBA's Boston Celtics.

"Paul is going to be one of the premier defensive linemen in the country in a year or two," says Duke Coach Red Wilson. "He plays like his dad played basketball, hard-nosed and rough. He's a mean, ornery rascal."

Clayborn fined by Pete Rozelle

NEW YORK (AP)—Raymond Clayborn's recent locker room confrontations with writers have been giving pro football a black eye, according to Pete Rozelle.

As a result, the National Football League commissioner has hit the New England Patriots' defensive back with a $2,000 fine.

"Sportswriters are a critical link between professional football and the fans whose continuing interest in the game, and the livelihood of its participants, ultimately depends," Rozelle said Tuesday in a statement. "Sportswriters are entitled to player cooperation by the terms of every NFL player's contract."

"Far more fundamentally, members of the media are at least entitled to freedom from physical interference, from threats of bodily harm, and from openly challenging verbal abuse at the hands of players while they are simply doing their jobs."

The commissioner's action was taken mainly as a result of confrontations that Clayborn had with Bruce Lowitt of The Associated Press and Will McDonough of the Boston Globe.

Clayborn first verbally abused Lowitt when The AP writer asked him a question in the locker room following the Patriots' season-opening 16-13 overtime loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A week later, on Sept. 9, the 6-foot-1, 190-pound Clayborn threatened and poked McDonough in the eye after the Patriots defeated the New York Jets 56-3. McDonough, a six-foot, 207-pounder who is 20 years older than the 24-year-old Clayborn, responded by punching the player and the two scuffled before players and writers interceded.

"Conduct of that character goes far beyond a mere failure to cooperate with the media," stated Rozelle. "It brings professional football as a whole into widespread disrepute. It is perhaps most unfair to the vast majority of players who consistently fulfill their obligation of cooperation with the media."

In revealing the fine, Rozelle said he warned Clayborn that similar conduct in the future could subject the player to more serious measures. Rozelle did, however, apparently temper Tuesday's fine after taking into consideration Clayborn's subsequent statements.

Sampson has hope

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Oiler offensive tackle Greg Sampson drove from California to the Oiler training site at San Angelo, Texas, last August in a rebuilt 1946 Chevrolet ready to cruise all the way to the Super Bowl.

Sampson, instrumental in Houston's surge to the 1978 American Football Conference playoffs, had a beard, long hair, a deep tan and a feeling of well-being. He was at the top of his profession on a winning team.

Then it happened. During one of the first workouts, Sampson collided with three other Oiler players, defensive end Elvin Bethea, nose guard Carly Culp and center Curly Mauck.

Sampson felt dizzy and suffered from headaches that wouldn't go away. Finally, prior to Houston's first exhibition game on Aug. 2, doctors discovered a blood clot in Sampson's brain and performed surgery immediately.

Now Sampson's primary goal is to be able to play a round of golf without having to rest for two days afterward. His beard is gone, his long hair has been replaced by a crew cut that partially obscures a crescent shaped scar. He looks pale.

But at least he is alive, a fact he's learned to appreciate.

"Some times people take things for granted and I was one of those guilty people," Sampson told the Houston Sports Writers and Sportscasters' Association Tuesday. "I wanted to achieve more. I didn't appreciate life as it was. Then something like this happens and you realize how lucky you really are. It drops you back to reality."

The reality of Sampson's situation now is that he may never play football again. The headaches are gone and Sampson does not feel physically handicapped other than feeling weak. Still, there is the unknown.

"As much as I would like to play football next season, I have been advised by my physicians to first be able to play a round of golf without having to stay in bed a couple of days afterward," Sampson said.

"I've been told it will take a year for my bone (skull) to heal, then maybe I'll be able to assess my future."

Sampson says he's having a difficult time following doctors' orders to rest.

"I've just been taking a lot of R&R (rest and relaxation)," he said. "It's like coming back from Vietnam or something. I lead quite a sedentary life and that's not much fun when you have been active all your life."

South Korea takes win

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea swept two singles matches against Pakistan in an 1980 Eastern Zone Davis Cup elimination round here today, completing the best-of-five match series with a record of three wins against two losses.

Korea will meet Indonesia in the zone's second elimination round here Oct. 26-28. Indonesia had an opening-round bye.

Cowboy fans hate Cosell, comments

DALLAS (AP)—The Denver Broncos were no match for the Dallas Cowboys in Super bowl XII, but Dallas bar patrons were no match for Denver's when it came to smashing Howard Cosell.

The play originated in a Denver club. The winner of a football pot gets to throw a brick through an old television set while Cosell's face is on the screen during a Monday night football broadcast.

Cosell has never been a favorite among Dallas Cowboy fans, beginning with the game three seasons ago when Cosell told the nation he thought Dallas fullback Robert Newhouse was just an "average" runner.

But things reached a peak in Cleveland two Mondays ago when Cosell said he thought the Cowboys were over-glamorized and over-publicized, and said he hoped the Browns would beat Dallas that night. To add insult to injury, the Browns did just that.

Needless to say, the Viking Bar patrons were in a foul mood Monday as the Green Bay-New England game came on.

Carol Graham won the right to heave a brick at Cosell's countenance.

She grabbed the brick and started to psyche herself up. "Oh, I just hate him!" she declared.

It was decided she would make the toss at halftime, when Cosell narrates the Sunday game highlights.

The first half ended. Bar owner Frieda Houlihan put a sheet of plastic over the screen and hefted a fire extinguisher. "I don't know what happens when you throw a brick through a TV," she admitted.

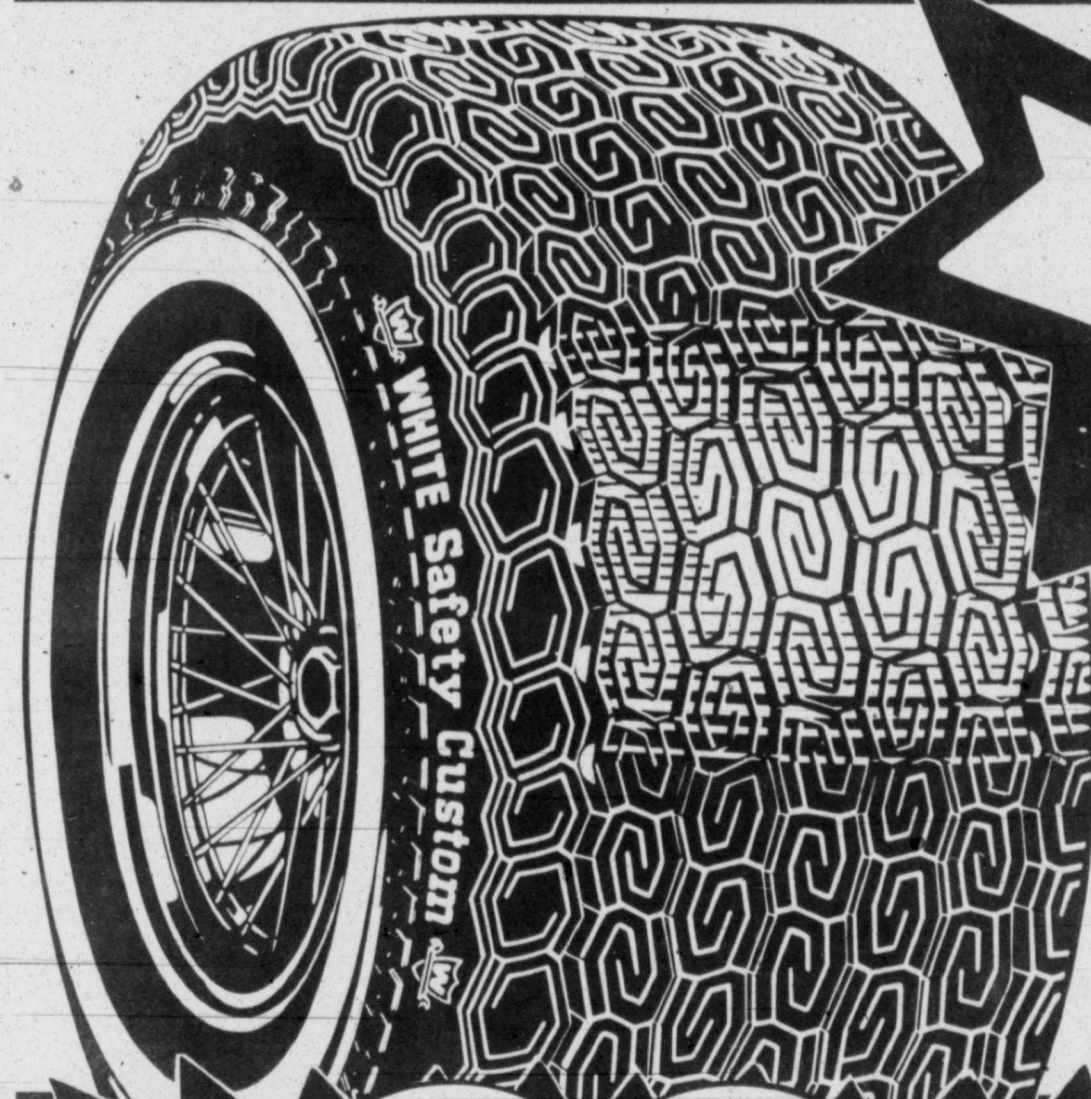

The commercials rolled, then ended. Ms. Graham drew back her arm when a face appeared on the screen, but it was a false alarm—a news insert by local TV anchor Iola Johnson.

"No!" screamed the customers, "don't hit Iola!"

More commercials.

Now! There's Howard! Ms. Graham cut loose—and missed. The brick hit the TV cabinet, not the screen.

Kansas City Royals fire Whitey Herzog

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Whitey Herzog says he's grateful to Joe Burke, who fired him Tuesday, for giving him a chance to become a successful big league manager. But he also believes the way his dismissal was handled was a big factor in the Kansas City Royals failing to retain the American League West title they've held for three straight years under his leadership. "In late August or early September, if they'd either fired me or said I was going to be re-hired, I believe we would be back in the playoffs today," he said. "The way it was, all the uncertainty dragging on and on, there was no way some of those guys (players) could be handled right."

Burke, who hired Herzog away from his job as a California coach in July 1975, ended months of speculation Tuesday by informing him his one-year contract would not be renewed. "A strained relationship has been known to exist between Herzog and owner Ewing Kauffman for years, but Burke insisted the decision was his own. "There was no forced pressure from ownership," Burke said. "But there comes a time when you have to make a decision."

Tired McEnroe arrives

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A tired and unshaven John McEnroe landed in Sydney today just 48 hours before he is due to represent the United States in the Davis Cup semifinal at Sydney's White City Tennis Club. "McEnroe, dubbed 'superbrat' for his on-court temper, brushed past reporters and refused to be interviewed. "I'm too tired," he said, after the 24-hour flight from the United States. But the 20-year-old left-handed U.S. Open tennis champion was on the courts a few hours later practicing with the rest of the U.S. Davis Cup squad: Vitas Gerulaitis, Bob Lutz and Stan Smith.

U.S. captain Tony Trabert dismissed suggestions that McEnroe's late arrival might interfere with his play. "He's young and fit," said Trabert. The U.S. team worked out in a doubles session this afternoon in warm spring sunshine before a small gallery of fans. "We feel pretty good," said Trabert. "The courts are good, we feel pretty confident." Trabert said the fact that the Americans had not played on grass since Wimbledon in June would not bother them.

"I know the fans will disagree because they don't know the reasons why I did it," he said. "And the reasons, I will not discuss. I felt it was time for a change. It's easy for people to criticize who don't know the facts. I know that by not saying why I did it, I'm opening myself wide open for a ton of criticism. But, I'm not going to do anything to hurt Whitey Herzog, the players or the organization. I'll take the brunt of the attack."

Dennis Johnson to sign with SuperSonics soon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Dennis Johnson, star guard for the Seattle SuperSonics, says he will sign a new contract with the defending National Basketball Association champions within two days. "I'll be in the top four of high-paid guards, possibly the top three," Johnson told radio station KYTE Tuesday after a 106-103 exhibition loss to the San Diego Clippers.

"I got exactly what I wanted. I'll be up there where I always wanted to be," he said.

Buck passer

(Continued from Page 1C) mention Gordon's name. My one reference to 'No. 78' was a throwaway line offered in jest — and jest was needed because the Giants' performance was so shoddy as to produce an all-time record low for Monday Night Football. The damage done by the Giants to the NFL through its terrible performance is inestimable. "Cosell then outlined his role as a broadcast journalist. "The task of a journalist is not to be popular with a team or its players or even the league. The task over public airwaves while transmitting to publicly licensed stations is to seek to be honest."

Tal Smith will seek improvement

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros President and General Manager Tal Smith won't be dazzled by big names or gaudy records when he tries to improve the Astros in the off season trade market.

The crafty Smith, who rebuilt the Astros from a last place team to a pennant contender, also said the massive reaches of the Astrodome would keep him from going after some power hitters.

"Our philosophy has been to deal more with the young non-established player that we feel will become an outstanding player," Smith said Tuesday in reflecting on the Astros' surprising second place finish to Cincinnati in the National League Western Division.

"That's been our game plan in the past and we'll continue to use it. Performances change from year to year and we will stand by our scouting reports in not the record book or past performances."

Another factor in Smith's off-season search involves scouting reports on how players from other teams hit in the Astrodome as compared to other parks.

"A lot of players hit home runs in other parks that would be just fly balls in the Astrodome," Smith said. "In 1978, Atlanta had some power hitters but in nine games in the Astrodome they didn't hit a home run."

Smith also noted that Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt, who hit 45 homers last season compared to Houston's 49 as a team, was not a good long ball hitter in the Astrodome.

"Mike Schmidt is a fine player but in 36 games here over the last five years he has hit only three home runs," Smith said.

When Smith took charge of the Astros in August 1975, he finished 43 1/2 games out of first place. When the Astros finished their season in Los Angeles Sunday, they were only 1 1/2 games behind the champion Reds.

Smith would like to add power to the Astros' attack next season but he won't sacrifice his original game plan to win the low-scoring games with tight pitching, timely hitting and aggressiveness on the base paths.

"You can win games 1-0 or you can win them 10-9," Smith said. "If we can add power, we'd like to but I'm not going to destroy what we have now."

Houston became the first major league team in 30 years to hit more triples than homers last season, something a power hitter could remedy.

Nastase takes win

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Illie Nastase of Romania defeated Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 6-3, 7-5 Tuesday night in the opening match of a four-man round-robin tennis tournament.

Nastase took the offensive from the start, moving Vilas from side-trail along the baseline and scoring a number of winning shots from the net. In the second set, he rallied from a 0-3 deficit. Vilas looked strong throughout the 80-minute match, but his shots lacked precision and could not pass Nastase's net volleys.

A later match between Victor Pecci of Paraguay and Jimmy Connors of the United States was postponed until Thursday because of an unspecified shoulder injury to Connors. Connors is scheduled to play his first match Wednesday night against Vilas while Pecci plays Nastase.

The injury forced Connors to abandon the title match of a round-robin tournament in Paraguay Monday night with Pecci winning 5-4 in the first set.

The $20,000 tournament, which ends Friday, is the third and last of a series involving Connors, Vilas and Pecci. Eddie Dibbs of the United States played in the other two.

Odessans dominating 9th, 8th grade play

Odessa teams continued to dominate the 9th and 8th grade football standings going into the fourth week of action Saturday while San Jacinto Green and Goddard Red near a showdown at Goddard Saturday morning in the city 7th grade race.

Odessa Nimitz, yet to be scored upon in three games and Odessa Hood share first place in the 9th grade race with 3-0-0 records while Midland Lee White, Midland Purple and Odessa Bonham are right behind with 2-1-0 readings. Next comes Odessa Bowie (1-1-1) followed by Odessa Crockett (1-2-0) and Lee Maroon (1-2-0). Midland Gold and Odessa Ector share the cellar with 0-3-0 records.

Lee Maroon and Lee White square off at 10 a.m. Saturday and Midland Lee Freshman School while in other games, Hood is at Midland Gold at 10 a.m. Midland Purple plays at Bowie at Odessa at 2 p.m. and in other 2 p.m. contests, Bonham battles with Nimitz at Odessa Permian and Crockett is at Ector to round out the 9th grade slate.

Crockett (2-0-0) leads the 8th grade race while Nimitz (1-0-0) is next followed by Midland Goddard, Midland Alamo, Midland San Jacinto, Hood and Bowie, all with 1-1-0 records. Odessa Blackshear is next with a 0-2-0 reading and Bonham brings up the rear with a 0-1-0 record.

Saturday, Alamo is at Goddard; San Jacinto at Bowie; Bonham vs. Crockett at Odessa High and Bonham is at Nimitz while Hood has an open date.

San Jacinto Green and Goddard Red battle each other in the big 7th grade contest in the Tall City at 10 a.m. Saturday while at 12 noon, Goddard White (1-1-0) plays at Alamo Scarlet (0-2-0) and Alamo Grey (1-1-0) takes on San Jacinto White (0-2-0) at San Jacinto.

Torre signs contract with New York Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — By his own admission, Joe Torre has made a big catch.

"I found a way to stay where I want and extend my contract for more than a year," Torre said Tuesday after re-signing as manager of the New York Mets.

Torre's deal gives him a one-year contract, plus a proviso that the pact may be extended at midseason in 1980 if both he and management agree.

Torre said the signing was a relief for him. Although he was rumored to be in-line for the vacant Philadelphia Phillies' job, he said he "preferred to stay here in New York."

The contract was a matter of convenience for both sides, Torre explained.

"I was set on more than one year," said the 39-year-old manager, "and the club was set on one year. This is sort of an agreement to agree at that point next year, rather than wait and go through a long period of negotiation."

Torre reached the agreement after a meeting with General Manager Joe McDonald and the team's board chairman, Lorinda de Roulet. Torre indicated that he received a pay increase but terms of the contract were not disclosed. Torre reportedly made $85,000 this past season.

"Joe's contract can be willingly extended during the All-Star break next season, providing all parties are agreeable," McDonald said.

Gomez to manage Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Preston Gomez, who had flings at managing the San Diego Padres and the Houston Astros, will manage the Chicago Cubs in 1980.

General Manager Bob Kennedy made the announcement Tuesday and said all the Cub coaches except Peanuts Lowrey, who is retiring, will be retained.

Gomez, 56, a native of Oriente, Cuba, has been a coach with the Los Angeles Dodgers the past three seasons. He will be introduced to the press in Chicago next Monday.

Gomez succeeds Herman Franks, who resigned last week after piloting the Cubs for three seasons. Coach Joey Amalfitano was interim manager for the final week of the season.

Lump sum retirement payments are no problem with an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at First Savings...

PROBLEM: You've just received a lump sum payment from your company's retirement plan. What do you do with the money?

Simple: all you have to do is protect it by putting all or some of it in a tax-sheltered Individual Retirement Account at First Savings and Loan of Midland. You get a tax break, plus the added advantages of protecting that money and earning the current 8% annual interest rate. (effective annual yield is 8.33%.)

By putting that lump sum payment in an IRA, you've protected it from high taxes, its drawing interest daily, its insured up to $100,000, and its a healthy sum to start your retirement.

So, if you're planning for retirement or have just received a lump sum cash payment from your company's retirement plan, come see us "THE FISCAL FITNESS PEOPLE" at First Savings and Loan of Midland. We can help you plan the kind of retirement that takes the worry out of financial matters, and allows your funds to grow the safe, secure First Savings Way. Individual Retirement Accounts at First Savings... the Great Way to prepare for retirement. Remember, the deadline for opening or adding to your IRA is the day your taxes are due.

Sports in brief

PRO FOOTBALL
NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Clayborn, defensive back of the New England Patriots, has been fined $2,000 by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle for "conduct involving members of the news media, including his Sept. 9 interview with Boston Globe writer Will McDonough."
Clayborn threatened and then poked McDonough in the eye after the Patriots defeated the New York Jets 56-3. McDonough responded by punching Clayborn and the two scuffled briefly before other writers and players intervened.
The previous Monday night, after the Patriots' season-opening 36-3 overtime loss to Pittsburgh, Clayborn verbally threatened Bruce Lowitt of The Associated Press, who was trying to ask him a question in the locker room.

BASKETBALL
CHICAGO (AP) — Preston Gomez, who had fings at managing the San Diego Padres and the Houston Astros, was named manager of the Chicago Cubs for 1980.
In addition, Cub General Manager Bob Kennedy said all of the Chicago coaches, except Peanuts Lowrey, who is retiring, will be retained.
Gomez, 36, and a native of Puerto Rico, has been a coach with the Los Angeles Dodgers the past three seasons. He succeeded Herman Franks, who resigned last week after piloting the Cubs for three seasons.
Gomez managed the Padres to three sixth-place finishes in the National League West Division from 1969 to early in the 1972 season, guided the Astros to fourth place in 1973 and was dismissed late in the 1975 season.
NEW YORK (AP) — Texas Rangers bullpen specialist Jim Kern won the Hollaender Relief Man Award as the American League's top relief pitcher.
Kern, a right-hander who appeared in 71 games and hurled 114 innings, was 13-5 with 29 saves and an earned run average of 3.37. He figured in more than half of the third-place Rangers' 83 victories.
Kern, who won the National League Relief title last year over Mike Marshall of the Minnesota Twins, led the American League in saves with 29.
NEW YORK (AP) — Professional baseball has reached an understanding with the Winter League, which will allow any players to participate in winter ball in the Caribbean. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced the agreement today.
The agreement contains all of the provisions and protections of the former contract. A directive had been issued last week prohibiting players from participating until a new agreement was reached.
The understanding was reached with Commissioner Rodrigo Diaz Suro of the Caribbean Professional Baseball Confederation and it covers all major and minor league players, managers and coaches and all Winter League teams.

KANSAS CITY-MO. (AP) — The Kansas City Royals fired Manager Whitey Herzog following the Royals' first division winning season in four years.
Herzog's record with the three-time American League West Division champions was 416-304 through 15 years.

BIRMINGHAM, Miss. (AP) — No-franked Diane Frolbrich defeated Pam Shriver 6-7, 7-6, 6-2 in the second day of first-round play at the U.S. Women's Indoor Tennis Championships.
In other action, Evonne Goolagong defeated Betsy Stove 6-4, 6-2. Martina Navratilova beat Dana Gilbert 6-1, 6-1 and Virginia Wade topped Yvonne Vermaak of South Africa 6-4, 6-2.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Ilie Nastase of Romania defeated Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 6-3, 7-5 in the opening match of a four-man men's tennis tournament.
A later match between Victor Pecci of Paraguay and Jimmy Connors of the United States was postponed until today because of a shoulder injury to Connors. Connors is scheduled to play his first match tonight against Vilas while Pecci plays Nastase.

AUTO RACING
MILAN, Italy (AP) — Italian Formula one driver Riccardo Patrese and the starter of the Italian Grand Prix race, Gianni Restelli, have been indicted for the 1978 accident at Monza track in which Swedish ace Ronnie Peterson was fatally injured, an authoritative Milan court official said.
The official, who asked not to be identified, disclosed that the indictments have been served to Patrese and Restelli, both on manslaughter charges.

HORSE RACING
EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Team Captain, $120, won the $20,000 allowance at the Meadowlands by three-quarters of a length over Coupon Race, $14.80, in a $100,000 purse.
LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Terrence, $23.20, beat TV Hill by 1 1/2 lengths to win the $100,000 feature on opening day at Laurel Race Course.
CHICAGO (AP) — Mr. Inocuous, $14, won the $100,000 Stirling Bid purse at Sportman's Park by two lengths over Toppy.

Trojans seeking improvement each week

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As Southern Cal Coach John Robinson sees it, his task for the duration of this college football season is "How to get 10 percent improvement from Charles White, how to get 10 percent improvement from myself, how to get 10 percent improvement from the entire team."
Robinson's afraid his top-ranked and undefeated Trojans are going to grow complacent.
The Trojans, coming off a dramatic 17-12 victory over LSU, should have an easy time of it next Saturday when they play host to Washington State.

But Robinson, looking back to Saturday night's game at Baton Rouge, certainly isn't sitting back and taking it easy.
"We looked back at the game and said, 'Wow, there are sure a lot of things we could have done better.' We're making some major changes this week, mostly in our practice routine," he said Tuesday at his weekly meeting with reporters.

"I think one of the most important things in playing football, in coaching football, is that you never lose the ability to look at yourself critically."
"We're going to have very intense practices this week," the Trojan coach continued. "The players are probably going to say, 'Hey, I thought we won last Saturday.'"
USC needed two touchdowns in the last quarter, the final one with 32 seconds remaining, to come back from a 12-3 deficit against LSU.

Robinson, whose Trojans had things pretty much their own way in their first three games this fall, said the team finally got its first real test.
"I think teams need tests to grow," he said. "And we certainly got the test we were looking for. Everything was there for an upset. The crowd was absolutely crazy, the noise was astounding and LSU had a good, well-balanced football team."

Pope's visit results in uncommon day for the Common

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Common has seen some uncommon sights since Parson William Blackstone kept his brindled cow on these 50 acres, but hundreds of thousands of umbrellas bobbing in genuflection to Pope John Paul II on a high outdoor altar has got to rank with the uncommonest.

Despite a steady drizzle that turned to a heavy downpour as the papal motorcade made its way along the stately brick buildings of Beacon Hill, the citizens of this "gateway city" — as the pope called it — proved steadfast in their loyalty and oblivious of the elements throughout the impressive ceremony.

In the ghostly ground fog that hid three-quarters of the glass-sheeted, 60-story Hancock building looming over the common, the triple canopied altar, with its lights turned on early and a fringe of yellow chrysanthemums, shone with a silvery sheen in the fast-gathering dusk. Bishops and cardinals in their rich robes seemed to be moving about in a Medieval religious drama.

The same fog must have made the pope's arrival in the United States a sticky business for Aer Lingus pilot Aidan Quigley. Those of us aboard the papal jumbo jet got our first sight of Boston when the runway lights of Logan Airport suddenly appeared at wheel level as we descended from the murk.

The 59-year-old pope, unmindful of the mist, a broad-brimmed red hat upon his head, traveled in an open car for the motorcade through the city, waving as cheering well-wishers greeted him with unfurled banners, flags and flowers. "Viva il papa!" they chanted in the Italian-American North End; "Witamy" — Polish for Welcome — read a few placards elsewhere.

And everywhere there was the roar of thousands of joyful voices, the tuneless notes of bands and bagpipes, songs that gave way to the refrain of "God Bless America" as the pope neared the common.

Despite the heavy weather, which seemed more suitable to the Irish portion of the pope's pilgrimage of peace and love, the turnout on Boston Common, officially estimated at 410,000 was twice the record set by an October 1969 peace rally.

More came to Boston's historic downtown pastureland on this single rainy day than used to show up all during the Christmas season when reindeers grazed in the shadow of Boston's skyscrapers.

Parson Blackstone, an Anglican clergyman who gave his pasture to the city in 1684, certainly would never have recognized the place.

"Christian Love," and "Ban Nuclear Power" banners and placards blended with signs in many languages welcoming the pope. In an ecumenical gesture, followers of the Rev. Sung Myung Moon filled the windows of the headquarters building looking down on the outdoor Mass, and allowed NBC to put a camera crew on the roof.

In keeping with their New England seafaring heritage, the parishoners of St. Mary's of the Assumption Church in Hull, Mass., chartered the Nantasket excursion steamer "Freedom" to cross Boston Harbor in their oilskins and see the pope without the nuisance of getting stuck in a traffic jam.

Pvt. Joe L. Perez

Marine Pvt. Joe L. Perez, son of Maria G. and George Perez Sr. of Lamesa, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

During the 10 1/2-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

A 1979 graduate of Lamesa High School, he joined the Marine Corps in October 1978.

Steve L. Chenault, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Chenault of Andrews, has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

Chenault was awarded the new rating by a "below the zone" promotion board which considered job performance, military knowledge, bearing and self improvement efforts.

Selection below the zone means the individual has been awarded the senior airman rating up to six months before normal promotion eligibility. Competition in this category is reserved for airmen who excel on the job and are recommended by their commanders.

The airman is an administration specialist at Kirkland Air Force Base in Albuquerque, N.M., and serves with a unit of the Defense Nuclear Agency.

He is a 1976 graduate of Andrews High School.

Pvt. Robert D. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hearshall D. Jones of Andrews, recently was assigned as a Morse code intercept operator with the U.S. Army Field Station in Misawa, Japan.

Capt. Ronald D. Ivey, whose wife, Glenda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Linnemann of Rankin, is a member of the Outstanding Crew of the quarters at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene.

Ivey's crew was cited for extraordinary performance during operational training missions. He is an aircraft commander with the 337th Bombardment Squadron at Dyess with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The captain, a 1967 graduate of Rankin High School, received a bachelor's degree in 1971 from Sul Ross State University in Alpine.

Airman Thomas K. Barnes, son of Johnnie F. Barnes of Big Lake, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

The airman will receive specialized training in the transportation field.

Pvt. Crespin H. Luna, whose wife, Norma, lives in Lamesa, recently completed a food service specialist course at Fort Jackson, S.C.

The course trains personnel to prepare and serve food in large and small quantities. Students receive training in baking, field kitchen operations and the operation of an Army dining facility.

His mother, Mrs. Ricardo Luna, also lives in Lamesa.

Eight areas gain sites for wildcats

Eight West Texas and Southeast New Mexico counties have gained wildcat projects.

Union Texas Petroleum Corp. of Midland No. 1-60 Sealy-State is to be drilled as a 17,500-foot wildcat in Ward County, 3.5 miles west of Wick et.

It is 1,320 feet from north and 1,320 feet from east lines of section 60, block F, G&MMB&A survey.

The location is 1.5 miles northeast of Montoya gas production, one and seven-eighths miles northeast of Devonian gas production, and one and five-eighths miles northeast of Ellenburger gas production.

PECOS PROJECT

J. M. Palmer of Midland No. 1 John Hancock Life & State is to be dug as an Ellenburger wildcat in Pecos County, eight miles northwest of Girvin.

Scheduled on a 5,000-foot contract, it is 660 feet from south and 2,640 feet from west lines of section 6, block 11, H&GN survey. It is 1/2 mile southeast of the Boys Ranch (Tubb) field which produces oil at 3,308 feet.

ANDREWS AREA

J. Cleo Thompson of Dallas No. 1-10-22 University is a new 4,700-foot wildcat in Andrews County, 10 miles southwest of Andrews.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 10, University Lands survey. It is one location west of depleted production in the Fuhrman-Mascho pool and 1/2 mile southwest of production in the south side of the field.

SCURRY TEST

HMH Operators of Midland announced location for a 7,700-foot wildcat in Scurry County, 15 miles southwest of Snyder.

It is No. 1 Lillie Brown, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14, block 3, H&GN survey and one and one-quarter miles northwest of a 7,690-foot dry hole. It also is five miles east of the Sharon Ridge multipay area.

LAMB EXPLORER

Mabee Petroleum Corp. of Midland No. 2 Frank Rogers is to be drilled as a 4,250-foot wildcat in Lamb County, 1.5 miles west of Littlefield.

The location is 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 20, league 663, State Capitol-Lands survey. It is one location northwest of a 1,420-foot dry hole and one and seven-eighths miles west of the Littlefield (San Andres) field which produces at 4,030 feet.

BORDEN WILDCAT

Maralo Inc. of Midland will re-enter a 7,560-foot dry hole in Borden County and deepen it as a wildcat to 10,200 feet.

The project is No. 1-5 Coleman Farms, 749 feet from south and 733 feet from east lines of section 5, block 32, T&P survey and 12 miles northwest of Gall.

The hole was plugged in 1972 by Dorchester Exploration Co.

It is one mile southwest of the depleted discovery well of the Borden (Fusselman oil) pool.

RUNNELS TEST

Hamco Exploration & Development Co. of Dallas No. 1 Tom Poe is a 4,600-foot wildcat in Runnels County, four miles west of Winters.

It is 2,000 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 57, TCR survey, abstract 100 and one location southeast of the Wilmett, Southeast (Gardner lime) field which produces at 4,700 feet.

EDDY EXPLORER

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1 Truitt-Ranch Unit is an 11,000-foot wildcat in Eddy County, 14 miles northwest of White City and two and one-quarter miles northwest of the Rock Tank (Morrow gas) field.

The site is 1,625 feet from south and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 26-22S-24E and 1.5 miles northwest of a 10,875-foot dry hole.

UPTON GAINS WELLS

The Old Upland multipay field of Upton County gained two Bend producers by John L. Cox of Midland.

The No. 1-57 Amacker was completed five-eighths mile southwest of production to pump 22 barrels of 42-gravity oil and 10 barrels of water, through perforations from 10,157 to 10,204 feet, after an acid treatment of 15,000 gallons.

Total depth is 10,350 feet, where 5.5-inch casing was set, and location is 2,091 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 57, block Y, TCR survey.

Also completed was the No. 1-26 Half Estate, one-half mile northwest of production.

On 24-hour pumping potential test it made 12 barrels of water, through perforations from 10,247 to 10,291 feet, with a gas-liquid ratio of 705-1.

The producing interval was acidized with 5,000 gallons.

Total depth was reached at 10,355 feet, where 5.5-inch casing was set. Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26, block Y, TCR survey.

Both projects are 13 miles northwest of Rankin.

GLASSCOCK RE-ENTRY
Sohio Natural Resources Co. of Midland has filed application to re-enter and plug back to 6,480 feet for recompletion its No. 4-B W.A. Bigby.

Recompletion attempt will be to extend Clear Fork oil production in the Glasscock County portion of the Spraberry Trend Area field, three and three-eighths miles northeast of production.

The project is a former Calvin (Dean) and Spraberry producer in the Spraberry Trend Area field, originally drilled to 8,480 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey, 23 miles southwest of Garden City.

SCHLEICHER TEST

Rke Lovelady, Inc. of Midland will drill No. 2-22 university as a south-west offset to the re-opener and lone producer of the University 101 (Ellenburger) field of Schleicher County.

The test is 1,000 feet from south and 2,000 feet from east lines of section 22, block 54, University Lands survey, 15 miles northwest of Eldorado.

Contract depth is 8,500 feet, with ground elevation of 2,506 feet.

WARD PROJECTS

Edwin L. Cox of Dallas has announced plans to drill the No. 6 Edwards in the Crawar (Tubb and Gloria) field of Ward County.

The project is a location east stepout to Tubb oil production and one mile north and slightly east outpost to Gloria oil production.

The field, which extends into Crane County is 11 miles southeast of Monahans and location is 467 feet from south and 974 feet from east lines of section 3, block B-20, PSL survey.

Contract depth is 5,300 feet.

MGF Oil Corp. of Midland filed application to drill the No. 2-32 University one location west of production in the War-Wink (Delaware 5085) field of Ward County, nine and eight-tenths miles northwest of Poyote.

Location is 550 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 32, block 17, University Lands survey. Contract depth is 5,300 feet.

REEVES TEST

Gulf Oil Corp. of Monahans will drill the No. 11-S E. Ligon-State as a three-eighths mile southeast stepout to Cherry Canyon production in the Wortham, East field of Reeves County.

The site is 1,320 feet from south and 2,150 feet from east lines of section 16, block 7, H&GN survey, 17 miles southeast of Pecos.

Scheduled depth is 6,700 feet.

WINKLER DUAL WELL

The Apollo (Ellenburger and Fusselman) field of Winkler County gained its fifth Ellenburger producer three-eighths mile southwest of another well. It also, completed as a Fusselman producer, surrounded by production in that pay.

HNG Oil Co. of Midland filed potential test on its No. 142-GU University Block 21, three miles west of Wink.

The Fusselman finished for a calculated absolute open-flow potential of 5.6 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 16,250 to 16,320 feet, after an acid treatment of 20,000 gallons.

The Ellenburger completed for a calculated absolute open-flow potential of 3,871,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 18,773 to 18,929 feet, after an acid treatment of 30,000 gallons.

Total depth was reached at 19,150 feet and plugged back depth is 18,989 feet. Five and one-half inch liner was hung from 14,366 to total depth and seven and five-eighths inch liner was hung from 17,412 to 15,277 feet.

The well is 1,500 feet from south and 1,120 feet from west lines of section 14, block 21, University Lands survey.

EDDY OUTPOST

Mewbourne Oil Co. of Tyler has spudded the No. 1 Marathon-State as a five-eighths mile northwest outpost to Morrow gas production in the Avalon multipay field of Eddy County.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,315 feet from east lines of section 30-20S-27E, 26 miles southwest of Loco Hills.

Scheduled depth is 10,800 feet and operator is now running temperature test at 492 feet.

GARZA WELL

W. Ridley Wheeler Estate of Fort Worth filed application to drill the No. 1-G H.V. Wheeler as a twin to a depleted Upper-San Andres well in the Hackberry field of Garza County.

Test will be made in the Hackberry (Glorieta) field, four miles south of Southland.

The site is 2,280 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 1249, AB&M survey. Contract depth is 4,300 feet.

3,000-foot project set

Texaco Inc., operating from Midland staked its No. 2-DF State of Texas as a 3,000-foot project in the War-Wink, South (Wolfcamp) area of Ward County, seven miles northwest of Poyote.

It is 933 feet from north and 1,707 feet from east lines of section 14, block 18, University Lands survey and 5/8 mile southeast of production.

CRANE TEST

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 580 W. N. Waddell is a re-entry project in the Sand Hills, Northwest (Wolfcamp) area of Crane County, 19 miles northwest of Crane.

It was plugged in 1971 in the Running W (McKee) field. It will be tested above 6,200 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 7, block B-21, PSL survey and 1.5 miles southwest of Wolfcamp and Tubb production.

YOAKUM TRY

Getty Oil Co. No. 1-D J. H. Beshears is a test in the Brahaney (Devonian) area of Yoakum County, four miles southeast of Plains.

Slated to 11,500 feet, it is 2,173 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of section 514, block D, John H. Gibson survey, and one location north and slightly west of a Devonian well.

DAWSON TRY

Rial Oil Co. of Midland No. 1 Fannie Hunt is a new test in the six-well Adcock (Spraberry oil) pool of Dawson County, 15 miles northeast of Lamesa.

The 7,700-foot test is 660 feet from south and 1,800 feet from west lines of section 11, block 34, T-7-N, HE&WT survey.

EDDY PROJECT

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1-L AV Eddy-State is a 11,300-foot project in the Winchester (Morrow) area of Eddy County, 14 miles north of Carlsbad.

It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 27-19S-28E.

Contracts canceled

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Libyan Oil Minister Ezedin Ali Mabruk said today his country has canceled some oil supply contracts beginning Jan. 1, but would continue supplying companies and countries that make investments to look for more oil inside Libya.

"If consuming countries want to use our oil, they have to invest in exploration to look for it," Mabruk said.

Carter proposal survives its initial test in Senate

By MIKE SHANAHAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's proposal for creation of a powerful new agency to expedite high priority energy projects survived its first test in the Senate today.

By a surprisingly wide 58-39 margin, the Senate voted to table, or kill, a modified version of the board proposed by environmentalists and states-rights advocates.

Other challenges to Carter's version of the proposed Energy Mobilization Board were expected to follow.

But the first test vote was a clear defeat for Sens. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., who said the new agency would have too much power to override local opposition and environmental concerns.

Carter's allies in the Senate had predicted a much closer vote, but concern for the need to reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil overcame worries over giving too much authority to a new agency.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, criticized his opponents saying "punctilious concern for the environment and states rights has dominated this debate."

He said the risks of not giving the board strong powers were great and could only heighten the risks on increased dependence on foreign oil.

Jackson said earlier that the vote would be extremely close.

He urged approval of a four-member board with authority to designate an unlimited number of high priority projects.

The mobilization board measure approved by Jackson's committee was nearly identical to a proposal made by Carter in his July 15 television speech on ways to reduce U.S. dependence on imported oil.

In an interview, Jackson said Senate environmentalists and states' rights advocates had mounted a surprisingly serious challenge to a version of the mobilization board approved by the energy committee.

The vote, he said, "is going to be extremely close."

Sens. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and William Roth, R-Del., urged creation of a board with weaker powers that would have to go through the federal courts to force local and state agencies to move faster.

It would also be empowered to designate only 24 priority projects at a time, compared to the unlimited number proposed by the president.

Those who supported Carter believed the worsening energy crisis demanded strong federal government action to overcome local opposition to the construction of oil refineries, pipelines and synthetic fuel plants.

In opposition were environmentalists fearful of new health hazards from synthetic fuel plants and those who believed local communities should have ultimate authority to decide if they want dirty energy-producing projects in their neighborhoods.

Nearly every environmental organization, plus all the municipal, county and state government associations, opposed Carter and supported the weaker mobilization proposal urged by Muskie.

Jackson said weaker legislation "would gut" the idea of speeding up construction of energy projects delayed by government inaction.

Moreover, he said, the mobilization board goes hand in hand with a $20 billion synthetic fuels program supported by Carter and still to be considered by the Senate.

Without the board, Jackson said, there might be funds available to build synthetic-fuel plants, but they would be stopped cold by the inaction of state and local governments.

Meanwhile, the Carter administration said it would support a $5.8 billion proposal for loans to low- and middle-income persons interested in saving energy.

Assistant Energy Secretary C. William Fischer said Carter prefers a loan program over a cash grant proposal made by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and John Durkin, D-N.H.

And in another energy development Tuesday, the Senate Finance Committee rejected two new attempts to weaken Carter's proposed "windfall profits" tax on the oil industry.

It appeared the committee was preparing to give Carter about 80 percent of the windfall-profits tax that he wants. The tax would be levied on additional oil industry revenue generated by the proposed decontrol of domestic oil prices.

Dispute between Atascosa County, DPS troopers still unresolved

JOURDANTON, Texas (AP) — The dispute between Atascosa County officials and the Department of Public Safety over two controversial state troopers has become a stalemate with no apparent quick and easy solution, both sides have indicated.

Atascosa County's six state troopers spent a second day Tuesday locked out of their county-owned command post and answering only emergency calls inside the county. Meanwhile, the county judge and the DPS director have unsuccessfully attempted to resolve the situation.

The DPS vacated the building and suspended regular traffic patrols Monday after refusing to bow to county demands to transfer patrolmen Earl Conaway, 32, and Albert Rodriguez, 26, who have spearheaded a recent crackdown on drunken drivers.

That crackdown has led to drunken driving charges against sons of two prominent local politicians, including the county commissioner who sponsored the Sept. 19 eviction resolution.

Officials in the rural South Texas county maintain that Conaway, who is black, and Rodriguez, a Mexican-American, have "harassed" residents. They say such "harassment" prompted the order, not the drunken driving arrests of prominent citizens or racism.

County Judge O.B. Gates has met in Austin with DPS Director Wilson Speir and both have indicated more meetings would take place. But both said Tuesday that no solution has been reached.

"The situation has not been resolved," Speir said Tuesday. "We are maintaining contact with Atascosa County officials and looking into the matter further. I don't know what we will do or how long it will take."

Wanted: DPS troopers for Kaufman

KAUFMAN, Texas (AP) — There's quite a contrast between Atascosa and Kaufman Counties in Texas. Both counties are concerned about their law enforcement situation involving Department of Public Safety troopers, but that's where all resemblance ends.

In Atascosa County, officials want to get rid of all their DPS troopers. In Kaufman County, they say they don't have enough.

Kaufman County is down to one full time DPS patrolman, after a rash

Gates was, more optimistic, but agreed there would probably be no quick solution.

"I think things are in good shape now. Both parties are working together, which is what we thought all along. It will be awhile before things are back together. With things like this, you don't put them back together overnight," he said.

The six troopers worked out of their Atascosa County homes Monday and Tuesday, confining their routine traffic patrols to adjoining counties, said DPS Capt. Randol Gilmore.

of resignations during the spring, and has made several requests for more, all to no avail.

"Send us all the troopers you can get from anywhere you can get them," said Kaufman County Sheriff Roy Brockaway Tuesday. "We'll trade even with Atascosa County."

Brockaway has put all his investigators on county patrol duty since five of the six Kaufman County DPS troopers quit to take private security jobs in Dallas.

Dennis Kucinich advances to mayoral runoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Beleaguered Mayor Dennis J. Kucinich survived Cleveland's non-partisan primary election, but faces an uphill battle against Lt. Gov. George V. Voinovich to continue his turbulent mayoral career.

In balloting Tuesday, Voinovich captured 37 percent of the vote in the five-way race, while the incumbent Kucinich received the support of only 28 percent of the electorate.

That was enough, however, to advance the brash mayor, who turns 33 Monday, to the Nov. 6 runoff against Voinovich for the $50,000-a-year post.

Both the chairmen of the Cuyahoga County Republican and Democratic parties called the results a repudiation of Kucinich and his confrontation politics.

But the scrappy mayor, who survived a recall attempt by a mere 236 votes last year, promised to brawl with his 43-year-old Republican opponent.

"We're the underdogs, not only to the Republicans, but to the money powers who are using their cardboard candidate to try to take control of our city," Kucinich told supporters Tuesday night. He challenged Voinovich to debate "toe-to-toe" in Cleveland's neighborhoods.

Kucinich, who has suffered an ulcer since taking office 23 months ago and has weathered two municipal defaults and two police strikes, compared the primary to a football game.

"We're trailing at the end of the half, but the only thing that counts is being ahead at the end of the fourth quarter," he said.

Only 42 percent of Cleveland's 300,000 registered voters cast ballots, and Voinovich led Kucinich in 22 of the city's 33 wards, including all 13 of the city's predominantly black wards.

The final unofficial returns showed Voinovich with 47,743 votes to 36,515 votes for Kucinich, a Democrat who won office in 1977 without party support.

Eliminated in the balloting were City Council Majority Leader Basil M. Russo, with 21,962 votes, and state Sen. Charles L. Butts, with 19,431, both Democrats; and Thabo L. Ntweng, a machine press operator and Socialist Workers Party candidate, with 1,546 votes. Ntweng was the only black in the race.

"It's a substantial victory for George Voinovich," said county GOP Chairman Robert E. Hughes. "I expect the issue will continue to be Dennis Kucinich and his style and personality."

Voinovich said he would promote himself as being "mature, proven and experienced in leadership" to lead the Lake Erie port city of 600,000 out of default and improve services to neighborhoods.

He referred to Kucinich's battles with the business community and banks over the city's default on $15 million in loans last December. Ohio's largest city defaulted on another $3.3 million in loans from its own coffers Aug. 31, and faces a default on $14.1 million in internal loans on Saturday.

New witness discusses hiring, firing of McCrory

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — David McCrory's boss injected new testimony into the Cullen Davis murder-solicitation trial and chief prosecutor Jack Strickland indicated his intentions to explore the new material and find out why it wasn't presented earlier.

Art Smith, president of the Davis-owned Jet Air Corporation, took the stand late Tuesday to discuss the hiring and dismissal of McCrory during 1978.

McCrory is the star state witness in the trial, testifying Davis tried to get him to arrange the murders of several people that summer, including Davis' divorce judge Joe Eidson.

Instead, McCrory says, he went to the FBI and informed on Davis, leading to the millionaire's arrest Aug. 20, 1978.

Smith said he hired McCrory as a sales representative, at Davis' request, and paid him a salary of $20,000 despite a lack of previous experience.

"He was a friend of Mr. Davis and he asked me to give him every consideration," Smith said.

Later, though, Smith complained to Davis that McCrory was not working out. "He said if McCrory didn't straighten out and express a willingness to work, fire him," Smith recalled from the witness stand.

Smith also told of unsuccessful attempts to reach McCrory at home the morning of Aug. 18, a time when McCrory says he was home.

House fire, damage confined to bedroom

Children playing with a lighter apparently started a house fire at 410 Edgewood Drive about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Midland Fire Department officials reported.

Fire at the one-story, brick home occupied by Shirley Aycock was confined to the bedroom, reports indicated.

Heavy damage to the bedroom and moderate smoke damage to the rest of the house resulted from the blaze, according to the firefighters' report.

The fire took seven firefighters about five minutes to extinguish, firefighters indicated.

In another incident, a fire reported about 6:28 p.m. at 1001 S. Dallas St. resulted in slight damage to the side of a boat owned by David Walker, firefighters reported.

Cause of the blaze was not known, reports indicated.

Two firefighters extinguished the fire in about two minutes, according to reports.

Rabies contract OK'd

ODESSA — During an emergency meeting Tuesday, Bator County Commissioners voted to start negotiations for a contract which may help solve the county's growing rabies problem.

Commissioners voted three-to-one to negotiate a contract with Dawn Tripp and George Ashworth of Odessa to provide a facility for rabies testing and information to the public concerning the rabies threat.
