IN THE SHADOW OF THE CAPITOL

(By Boyce House)

As Austin's most artistic piece of statuary, the cowboy on the Capitol grounds receives the vote of this scribe. The horse is shy most realistically at a rattler and there's a clump of cactus in the foreground. The rider looks like a sure-enough cowboy and not the drug store variety. Probably the setting influenced my judgement, for the statue is in a grassy hollow, shaded by a circle of trees and at the base are actual growing plants from West Texas.

Did you know that Byron Utecht, Austin correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, rode with Pancho Villa in Mexico? He ought to do a book—or, rather, another as he has written one on the working of the legislature.

Vann Kennedy, International News Service representative in the Capitol, is known to his friends as "Congressman" because of the savvy of his discourse and he, in turn, refers to his friends as "my constituents."

Your chronicler visited four home towns of his boyhood recently. Recognized the oak tree in the yard at Brownwood from which I jumped to the ground and, (would you believe it) the tree is much smaller than it was 30 years ago!

Passed by the school house at Uvalde where I attended the cornerstone-laying dedication in the long ago—and now the building looks old, worn and tired.

The mountains were the only things remembered at Alpine—and at Taylor nothing looked familiar.

Glimpsed over the State—Phil Baxter, composer of "Piccolo Pete" and "Ding-dong Daddy from Dumas" in Brownsville with his orchestra for a dance—Jakey Atz, (for so long the manager of the Fort Worth Cats) in Harlingen where he will manage the ball team this year. Senator G H Nelson of Lubbock, aspirant for the Lieutenant Governorship, mingling with the West Texas county judges and commissioners at Brownwood.

Representative Coke Stevenson of Junction, in the Lieutenant Governor's race, in Fort Worth, his big white hat in evidence.—And, speaking of hats, Ralph Yarborough of Austin isn't superstitious at all but

Marker Planned For Goodnight Grave

Goodnight, Texas—The burial place of Col. Charles Goodnight, cowman and plainsman, is to have a marker.

An organized movement to erect a suitable memorial to the fearless plainsman, whose cattle were the first to come into the Texas Panhandle, was launched last week with the organization of the Goodnight Memorial Fund and selection of a committee to administer it. W H Patrick, pioneer Clarendon banker and long-time friend of Goodnight, was named chairman of the fund, and his daughter, Mrs Harold D. Bugbee of Clarendon, was named treasurer. Vance Johnson of Amarillo was named secretary. The president and secretary will serve with J T Christian of Claude, former JA ranch cowboy; Cleo Hubbard of Goodnight, who was reared by Goodnight; and J Claude Wells of Memphis on the executive committee.

The committee made plans to erect a monument at Goodnight's grave identical with the one Goodnight placed at the grave of his wife, Mary Ann. A six-foot iron fence will enclose the burial plot and a suitable bronze plaque calling attention to the Goodnights' contribution to Panhandle progress will be erected between the monuments.

A goal of $1,000 has been set. Already slightly more than $100 has been raised through voluntary contributions which followed newspaper notices calling attention to the absence of a monument on the Goodnight grave.

"Contributions of any amount will be appreciated," said Mr Patrick. "Checks should be made out to the Goodnight Memorial Fund and sent to the secretary or to members of the general committee in the various towns of the Panhandle."

Harold D Bugbee, Clarendon artist, has contributed 25 lithographs of a portrait study he did of Goodnight shortly before the cowman's death, to be given to persons sending in the first 25 contributions of $5 or more.

Chairman Patrick has asked Bob Stevenson of Silverton, G C Hutcheson of Tulia, J B Russell of Quitaque, J S Wynn of Pampa, S S Montgomery of Memphis, Sam Isaacs of Canadian, Clyde Warwick of Canyon, Judge J L Southwood of Panhandle, Tom Cole and E C Britain of Amarillo, Col. R P Smythe of Plainview, Mrs Wesley Lane of Wayside, J E Hill of Hereford, J F Mead of Miami, O T Nicholson of Shamrock, Deskin Wells of Wellington, Orville Finch of Dahart, Harold Bugbee, Sam M Braswell and G T Burton of Clarendon to serve on the general committee. Each member of the committee will receive contributions to the fund and forward them to the treasurer.

Last Rites Spoken For Mrs. Mary Rhodes

Last rites were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Quitaque Baptist church for Mrs Mary Rhodes who died about 9 o'clock Friday night at the home of her son, T J Reeves, living on the Scheid farm west of town. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J Taylor Smith, Baptist pastor, assisted by Rev. G L Keever, pastor of the local Methodist church. Interment was in the Quitaque cemetery.

Surviving besides the son with whom she was living, are three daughters living in Arkansas. Mrs Maroon, Mrs Rike and Mrs Bryant. All children of a former marriage.

City's Drinking Water Graded Excellent

Analysis of Quitaque's drinking water by the state health department shows that it ranks among the best in the state, in fact only a very few such supplies having the purity of our drinking water, according to Dr George Cox, head of the department.

Following is a report from the department, received Tuesday by Mayor J W Ewing:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that we are able to advise you that your city drinking water supply has received an A or excellent rating. This has been largely due to the improvements which you have effected and represents a great increase in the factor of safety.

"Therefore, in testimony of this satisfactory situation, we are herewith authorizing your city to erect on all your public highways a permanent marker notifying your citizens as well as the traveling public that the public water supply of Quitaque has received the approval of the Texas State Department of Health. Our signed Agreement permitting this arrangement is attached to this letter. This public approval is a distinct honor for your city water supply; and, in fact, has been awarded to only a small number of supplies within the state so far. Any public announcement that you may care to make of this compliment which is being paid to your city would meet with our approval."

PROMOTED FROM UNCLE TO GRANDPAP

An 8-lb son was born Saturday evening to Mr and Mrs Alton Johnson at Amarillo. Mrs Johnson's mother, Mrs Jim Tunnell left Quitaque last Friday to be with her daughter and Mr and Mrs John A Johnson and Mr Tunnell went up Monday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mrs W E Scheid.

Heretofore it has been "Uncle Jim" Tunnell; henceforth it will be "grandpap". This is the first grandchild on either side of the family.

Curtis King of Silverton was in Quitaque Monday.

Mmes. Woods and Sons are daughters by a former marriage. He is also survived by two brothers and one sister.

Mr Thompsos lived in this area for many years and then moved to Oklahoma, returning here last fall.

Special Easter Musical Service Sunday Evening

Next Sunday is Easter. What does it mean to you? What difference does Easter make to you? Does Easter have any great spiritual significance to you and me?

This is an appeal to every member of the church and church school and every friend of the church to make Easter a great spiritual inspiration to every one of us. All the services of the day will be planned with this aim in mind. Come to all the services. Bring your visitors. Let's honor Him Who lived for us, Who died for us and Who arose and lives forever that we too may live for Him and with Him.

The Sunday evening service will be an entirely musical one. Come and enjoy it.

Special revival services beginning April 24. Dr Thos A. Barcus, presiding elder of the Clarendon district, is to be our preacher and leader. We want you to expect a great spiritual blessing in these services. Plan for it. Work for a great meeting, expect a great blessing for ourselves individually, for the church as such and for the community.

Sammy Baugh Weds Childhood Sweetheart

Sweetwater, April 10—Sammy Baugh took to wife today the sweetheart of his school days.

Miss Edmonia Smith became the bride of the football star and professional baseball player whose athletic career budded several years ago at Sweetwater high school here.

In the presence of the immediate members of both families, Dr Gary Smith, father of the bride, read the ceremony in the living room of the Smith home, which was decorated with spring flowers. There were no attendants and no music.

Following a reception at the home, the couple left by automobile for Columbus, Ohio, where Baugh will join the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association.

Mr and Mrs W H Hopkins, Jr., of Spring Lake spent the week end with her parents, Dr and Mrs E C Price.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

BY THE BRISCOE COUNTY AGENT

There are no Aggie Briefs this week, so we should have a "hot" story from him next week.

Incidentally, we learned from a reliable source that NO soil conservation checks have been received as yet, but they are expected around May 1.

Don't fail to read Finley White's Aggie Briefs next week, for he will (or should) have plenty to tell you. As far as we know he has let you down only once—and that was his sage advice about doffing the long-handled. Well, we've all done that very same thing too soon previously anyway, so White's little error is easily overlooked.

Hotel Fire Kills Man At Paducah

Paducah, April 10—Hubert Inman, 41-year-old former Paducah barber shop owner, met death here early Sunday afternoon by suffocation after the mattress of a bed in his hotel room had ignited and filled the room with smoke.

The smoking room attracted attention of hotel owners. When firemen crashed into the room they found Inman on the floor near the door. He was given first aid immediately but could not be revived.

Only small damage was done to the hotel by the fire. Firemen said that the mattress was ignited by a cigaret. Mr Inman had only one burn on his right shoulder.

Inman conducted a pool hall in Quitaque from June 1934 to June 1936, he and his family residing in the Tibbetts home. They later moved to Silverton where he operated the Silex Coffee Shop.

He was a member of the Quitaque Baptist church.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church of Paducah Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rev. F E Swanner conducting the services. Interment was in the Paducah cemetery.

Survivors are his wife and son, his mother, Mrs M Inman Whatley of Iowa Park, two brothers, Oscar of Iowa Park and Lester of Paducah; three sisters, Mrs Letitia Ellis of Iowa Park, Mrs May Maddox of Wichita Falls and Mrs Floy Moore of Vernon.

Primary B YPU Class Has Easter Egg Hunt

Miss Charity Cain entertained her primary B Y P U class with a party and Easter egg hunt at her home Monday afternoon.

Games were played and the members of the class and their guests followed their leader to a beautiful grassy spot where Mrs Tanner and Mrs Cain had hidden the eggs.

Those attending were Betty Rae Atkins, Ima Lee Morris, Kenneth Stone, Walter Monroe Gray, Teddy Dunavant, Jo Ella Sullivan, Charles Tanner Derwood Norris, John Bailey, Joyce Tanner,

News Of Baptist WMU Circles

Circle no 1 of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs Sid Bogan for Bible study, the lesson being the last half of First Chronicles with Mrs Dunavant as leader.

Following the program the ladies pieced a quilt.

Circle no 2 met at the home of Mrs J C Rhoderick for Bible study with Mrs Jimmy Stroup as leader. Nine ladies were present. Following the lesson the hostess served refreshments.

Ladies of both circles brought eggs to complete a case which was packed and sent to Buckner Orphans' home. The society is now trying to fill a box with garments, either old or new, to be sent to the same institution in the near future.

Next Monday both circles will meet at the church for Royal Service, circle no 1 in charge.

VERNON'S SNOW WHITE WILL BE COAL BLACK

Vernon—The senior class of Vernon's negro high school, after considerable thought selected its annual class play.

It will be "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The Snow White roll has not been cast.

Mr and Mrs T H Stewart, Jr., spent last week end in Lubbock with her parents. They were accompanied by Miss Bible and Miss Cooper who visited the former's sister, and Miss Lorene Oliphint who was a guest of Miss Myrtice Hadaway.

Plenty of Fun For Fight Night Fans

The feathers and fur surely did fly Tuesday night at the high school gymnasium when the Owls from Silverton invaded the Panther lair. When the fights were over the Panthers had won 6 and the Owls 3.

Gene Grundy, Quitaque, defeated Billy Gregg, Silverton, 2 ABy Boyce won from Polk Hall of Quitaque. In the third fight Odell Johnston defeated Kelton Newman of Silverton. In the fourth fight Gilvson won from Bob Lee of Quitaque. In the fifth Harold Jacks, Quitaque, knocked out Minyard Long of Silverton in about thirty seconds of the first round. The sixth fight between Mills of Silverton and Cupell of Quitaque, Cupell won by decision.

The seventh fight was between Gatewood of Silverton and McCutcheon of Quitaque, McCutcheon won by the K O route when the fight was about 20 seconds old. The eighth fight was between Lee of Silverton and Patrick of Quitaque. This was a hard and fast scrap. Lee won on the decision of two to one.

The ninth and final fight was between Bogan of Quitaque and McGavock, Silverton. This McGavock is as game a fighter as we have seen, but Bogan won by decision. These all were good fights, the fans surely got their money's worth. They were all still wanting more when the last fight was finished.

It was necessary to postpone the Fight Tournament from April 15 and 16 until April 29 and 30 because of the district meet being changed to April 15 and 16, and the regional meet is scheduled for April 22 and 23. However, in the meantime the local fighters will journey to Tulia Friday night and the Tulia team will return the fight here sometime soon perhaps next week (watch date). They are also looking for another dual meet with some team before their first annual boxing tournament.

Reports of Blizzard Results Varied

The blizzard that was gripping (and also gripping) this area last Thursday when The Post went to press was productive of everything but moisture, which was very scant. Sub-freezing temperatures prevailed and a stiff north wind tormented this section for about 58 hours without even a let-up. Lots of snow fell but whipped by the high wind it accumulated in drifts.

According to reports the fruit crop is a total loss but the damage to wheat has not yet been determined, however the area particularly adjacent to Quitaque doesn't go in very stout for wheat.

Jim Taylor, in town Tuesday, stated that he lost 20 calves in the storm.

Many cars encountered trouble from snowdrifts, one of the school buses driven by Dee Lowry getting stuck in a snow bank enroute to Gasoline.

The Fort Worth & Denver motor train ran into a 10-foot snow bank between the tunnel and Sterley and was tied up two days. A relief train was sent out to get the "doodlebug" out of trouble but suffered the same fate. Finally a total of four trains were tied up at this spot, it was reported, and an engine with a snow plow had to be dispatched to the scene to clear the way for traffic.

A fine April shower and an Easter spell par excellence, if you ask us. But we had rather skip those kind of things.

The storm in the Quitaque area apparently was not as severe as in neighboring communities, according to reports.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs Sue Burton celebrated her 88th birthday Sunday, April 10. Relatives and friends called during the afternoon to offer their congratulations and share a birthday cake and punch served by Mrs J W Hadaway with whom Mrs Burton makes her home.

Mr and Mrs Nixon of Paducah who formerly lived in Quitaque also called on Mrs Burton. They were in town for the occasion and to visit former neighbors and friends.

VERSATILITY

In an article last week about the versatility of Rev. G. L. Keever, our Methodist pastor, Mrs. Editor produced an idea which should be interesting as a small feature, even though she did not think of the matter in the light of a "follow up." Thinking over the vocations and avocations of our people we find there are several who are rather versatile, and we will give one each week as long as the supply lasts.

In some instances these "jacks of all trades" are better at their hobby than they are at their chosen work but the hobby does not furnish enough employment to be sufficiently lucrative to restock (or even stock) the larder.

This week we have George Owens, the ice man, for our subject. George owns and operates the ice plant, assisted by his son Gaston. Father and son are both noted song birds in their local bailiwick and are active in church work and lend their voices in any occasion when needed.

But during the lull season in the ice making and selling business, George is a barber and applies his trade with expert skill.

That is one thrill we received just after locating in Quitaque—being shaved by the ice man. We had been "skinned" on several and various occasions by the ice man, but this was our first experience of being shaved by one. And he didn't skin us.

And George maintains his high standard of work regardless of whether his patron is an ice consumer or a mechanical refrigerator.

Seventy Years a Musician

By Daniel I. McNamara

WALTER DAMROSCH, dean of American musicians, climbed as a tiny child upon the piano stool of his parents' home in Breslau, Silesia, more than seventy years ago, to embark upon an unparalleled musical career. Today at seventy-six, symbol of American musical culture the world over, the tall distinguished-looking, vigorous and alert Damrosch bridges a gap between the classicists of the last century and the modernists of today. His proudest boast is, "I am an American musician."

Walter Damrosch's earliest memories of his father, later the famous American conductor Leopold Damrosch, are of his being host to the elite of European musicians. The Damrosch home was a rendezvous of artists. Here were entertained Wagner, Liszt, von Bulow, Clara Schumann, Joachim, Auer and Rubinstein. Wagner was godfather for another Damrosch boy, his namesake, who died in early childhood.

The elder Damrosch brought his family to America when Walter was nine and soon became a leading figure in the New York musical scene. Walter's education was extended by trips to cultural centers of the Old World, during which he renewed his childhood acquaintances with Wagner and Liszt. He was twenty-three when his father was fatally stricken while conducting a series of Wagnerian operas at the Metropolitan, and the young man took over his baton, promptly to become recognized as the leading exponent of Wagnerian opera in the New World.

Conductor at the Metropolitan, impresario of his own German opera company, conductor of the New York Oratorio Society and of the New York Symphony Orchestra, composer, author, lecturer and educator, he has been a leader of American music for more than five decades. He has been honored with doctorates by New York University, Princeton, Columbia, Brown, Pennsylvania, University of New York State and Washington and Jefferson College.

He is president of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

His radio broadcasts on music appreciation have been received with growing acclaim for ten years. Now, with a weekly audience of more than seven million, these lectures are generally regarded as his crowning educational achievement.

One of his four grand operas, "The Man Without a Country," first performed May 12, 1936, was selected for reproduction by the Metropolitan as a feature of its 1937-1938 season.

A vigorous exponent of Americanism in music, Damrosch has conducted premieres of many American compositions. He is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

Recently, upon being felicitated on completion of an important musical task in the midst of many duties, he remarked with characteristic energy, "So much more remains to be done that I long for at least one hundred more years of life."

When Folks Buy an "8"
To Save Money
That's News!

And over 4,000 have done that very thing! For years only the biggest, most costly cars had 8 cylinder engines. When the Ford V-8 engine was introduced, people welcomed the finer performance that 8 cylinders provided, but kept their fingers crossed on economy, figuring 8 cylinders HAD to use more gasoline.

But the news spread that Ford V-8 cars were giving just as good mileage as cars that did not offer 8-cylinder advantages. Good design, not number of cylinders, determined economy.

Reports soon rolled in from owners averaging 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. More than any Ford car had ever given! A new standard of economy—a low price—and the smoothness of 8 cylinders! That was NEWS!

America bought 300,000 Ford V-8 "60s" the first year and is still buying. If you'd like to know why—if you'd like to save money ALL ways—see and drive the 1938 version of this thrifty, modern car.

THE SENIOR NEWS

What do we go to school for? Most people would answer this question by saying "to learn." Then I ask the question "what is the use of learning if you are going to forget it?" Maybe you wouldn't call it forgetting, entirely, but merely a slip of the mind when Inetha Chandler forgot the other day which was the plural of the two "was or were"? Imagine a senior who does not know her verbs! Inetha promises not to forget again—especially if she thinks it will be advertised.

Did you hear the juniors bragging about their queen going to win? Now just listen to the seniors. We think we are going to win. We know that there can be only one winner and we seniors believe we have typical queen of the Quitaque high school. Examine each student carefully and we assure you that after all your examinations you will agree with us that Jimmie has all it takes to be a Queen. With all her beauty, we think she can become prettier with a jacket to match our basketball and foot ball players'.

Mrs. Scheid: My husband has no bad habits whatsoever. He never drinks and he spends all his evenings at home.

Mrs. Smithee: Does he smoke?
Mrs. Scheid: Only in moderation. He likes a good cigarette after he has had a good dinner, but I don't suppose he smokes two cigarettes a month.

Folks Are Funny

By E. V. White, Dean
Texas State College for Women

Being open mouthed will not make you open minded.

Beatrice visiting in the Edgin community over the week end. We wonder why?

Jimmie missing a trip by it being somebody else's fault.

Inetha Hawkins received a letter from Hardin-Simmons University Monday but the envelope was empty.

Believe It Or Not

Beatrice helps me out a lot with the news each week.

All the senior boys' books were lost by accident Monday morning.

Jimmie is going to be elected "Queen."

Beatrice and Anna Belle have debated twice and won both times.

Inetha Chandler did not drive but 120 miles Sunday. Did you have a good time, Inetha?

Mrs. Stewart, to Mr. Stewart: I've just read an article about electricity and it says that before long we shall get everything we want by just touching a button.

"It won't do us any good," her husband replied.

"Why not, dear?"

"Because nothing would ever make you touch a button. Look at my snort."

JUNIOR NEWS

As sure as volley ball has disappeared, the Opportunity Hall has come. This is for those unfortunates who find it hard to be silent when they should, or to talk when they should talk. Anyway, the unfortunates don't like it.

Billy Brown and Sterling were visitors in Sulverton Saturday night, and Billy went to Tulia Sunday night.

Some people go east, some go west for pleasure over the weekend. At least that's the way they do here.

If we'll work on, we'll get the Queen sweater for Shirley Jo. For instance today, Monday, we're third in the lead! Come on, juniors, where is ye old class spirit!

Johnny Cowin in the news Monday morning—likes some sophomore—in a good humor—must have eaten something queer before coming to school.

LaRue finds writing notes one of the best ways of transporting news to Rosalind.

All of the lucky (or unlucky) scholars who will go to the district meet find they have a few more days during which they can breathe nervously, bite their finger nails, and hope before going to Childress.

Monday the junior girls met to discuss plans for the great banquet we are giving for the seniors soon. From what we decided, you seniors are assured, or should be, of a lovely banquet.

Inez, Inez! Shame on you! I found out about you. What power you have over these Turkey boys!

Shirley Jo Powell was a visitor at Turkey Sunday.

Elene and Inez were visitors in Turkey, Parnell, Estelline and Memphis Sunday.

Seems like everybody is drowsy, sleepy, lazy, or angry today, and that geometry test didn't cheer anybody up, either.

Opportunity Hall

There is a new hall opened in the high school from 3:30 until 4. If you haven't been invited to visit it perhaps you will yet, however it seems very well occupied at the present.

Philosophy

You have to be a contortionist to get along these days. You have to keep a level head, both feet on the ground, your back to the wall, your shoulder to the wheel and your nose to the grindstone.—Quoted.

Eyes

You've heard of making eyes and exchanging eyes. Some people wonder how it is done. Well, some of the most modern novelists seem to disregard the fact that the character's eyes are supposed to be substantial. For instance:

Her eyes roamed carelessly round the room.

With her eyes, she riveted him to the spot.

He tore his eyes from her face and they fell on the letter at her feet.

Marjory would often take her eyes from the deck and cast them far out to sea.

His eyes lingered at the sight for one blissful moment.

Her eyes swam in deep pools of water.

Peggy's eyes accentuated her grief.

Edwin Drake (to guest rider): That's an attractive town we're coming to, wasn't it?

W E: Then this is absolutely final? Reba: Quite. Shall I return your letters?

W E: Yes, please. There's some very good material in them that I can use again.

He: My treasure.
She: My treasury.

Lighthouse no good for flog, said Ching. Lighthouse, he shine, whistle he glow, flog bell he ling, and flog, he come just the same. No Likee.

Shug: Do you wanta hear something great?
William: Sure, what?
Shub: Rub two bricks together.

Mrs. Seneid: He got expelled for cheating.

Mrs. Smithee: How come?
Mrs. Scheid: He got caught counting his ribs in biology exam.

I am a kind of half-way law abiding citizen and I am not agin the Govt. But everything has its place. And the Govt., if it would stick by the army and the navy, it would have its hands full—except maybe the post office. But even in the P. O., I have seen the blotter there, and I have tried the pen.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE CAPITOL

By Boyce House

he has dug up the hat he wore two years ago when he campaigned for District Judge and swept every box in the district, and will wear it in his campaign for Attorney General.—Wade Swift, now an officer in Odesa, knew Judge Roy Bean personally.

More signs of the times: On the highway entering Hondo; "This is God's country; don't drive through it like h—!"

And on a store front in Dallas: "The Store without a Name" but really, it does have one and that's it.

One of the most picturesque individuals to be seen in Austin is Col. E. Walters who comes down from Oklahoma occasionally to conduct the auctions of oil and gas leases on University of Texas lands. He stands several inches above six feet, weighs perhaps 225 pounds and has a voice that on a clear day, probably would carry better than two miles. His gold watch chain has links ponderous enough to hold a small log in place and he is proud of an engraved gold medal given him by Chief Bacon Rind.

The Colonel hails from a town with the almost unbelievable name of Ske-dee and on the back of his business card is a poetic gem entitled "Down in Oklahoma" from which we quote:

"We are down in Oklahoma
Where you never have the blues,
Where the bandits steal the autos
And the marshal steals the booze;

"Where longhorns horn the horns
And give leather breeches a boost,
Where they shoot men just for pasture
And the chickens never roost;

"Where they always hang the jury;
Were they never hang a man;
If you call a man a liar,
You get home the best you can."

Tag on a silver service set in a Corpus Christi jeweler's window: $1,950.00. Apparently, the recession has receded as far as that city is concerned.

And the Roy Bean legend marches on. The Pecos Chamber of Commerce is housed in a building patterned after the famous Law West of the Pecos' edifice. Mentally, when District Judge Ralph Yarborough visited Langtry recently in his campaign for the Attorney Generalship H T Dodd, (postmaster and notary public) told the Austin man he was the highest jurist ever seen there (except, of course, Judge Bean himself).

The justice of the peace at Castroville has a sign above the door of his office, "The law up and down, across the Medina, in and around Castroville."—"Believe It or Not" Ripley has written to George Baker, Fort Stockton editor, for information regarding beautiful Comanche Spring which flows 35,000,000 gallons a day and makes possible the irrigation of 6,000 acres.—Charles Moore, Marfa editor plans an article on General Pershing, who formerly had headquarters in Marfa, and the sketch should prove interesting and timely in view of Pershing's recent recovery.—"Swim in drinking water," reads a sign at the municipal pool in a beautiful park at Boerne.—State Auditor Tom King is a man of sentiment as well as statistics. During a visit to his native state of Tennessee, he discovered a picture of another noted former Tennessean, Sam Houston. The photograph showed the full-length figure of the liberator of Texas and King had a large number of copies made which he gave to friends.

And Mark McGee of Fort Worth quotes a man in far West Texas as saying: "I wish it would rain; not on my account for I've seen it rain, but because of my seven-year old boy."

PATCHING ADONIS: After 15-round victory over Tommy Farr, Max Baer undergoes a little touching up. Baer won the decision by a wide margin. With this start, Max expects to show up with a grand comeback in the next few months.

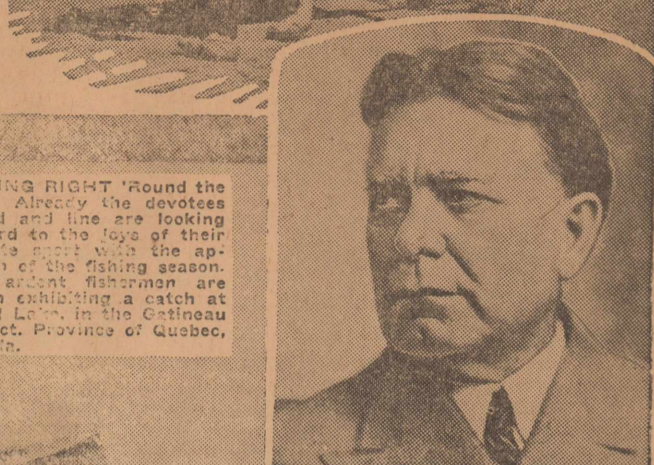

TROTTING SEASON OPENS with an imposing card, and plenty in the purses, at Aiken, S. C., on March 26. Photo shows Dunbar Bostwick driving Boyne, one of the better bets in this classic.

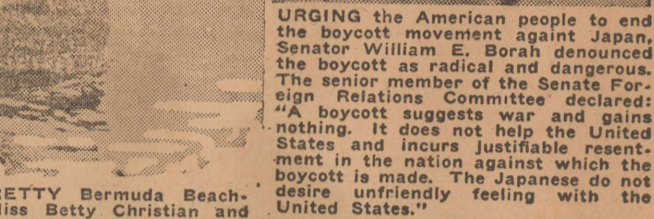

FISHING RIGHT 'Round the Bend! Allevy the devotees of rod and line are looking forward to the joys of their favorite sport with the approach of the fishing season. Two expert fishermen are shown exhibiting a catch at Island Lake in the Gatineau District, Province of Quebec, Canada.

"GLAMOUR" girls have found a new use for Chore Girls. Here is lovely Olive Cawley, seen in Walter Wanger's "Vogues of 1938," wearing a cap fashioned with her own dainty hands out of one of those knitted copper pot cleaners you see in all the 10c stores. These glittering copper mesh caps are all the rage with the younger girls for evening wear, and are very much in favor for sports and motoring.

URGING the American people to end the boycott movement against Japan, Senator William E. Borah denounced the boycott as radical and dangerous. The senior member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee declared: "A boycott suggests war and gains nothing. It does not help the United States and incurs justifiable resentment in the nation against which the boycott is made. The Japanese do not desire unfriendly feeling with the United States."

TWO PRETTY Bermuda Beach-Belles: Miss Betty Christian and Miss Janet Ferguson of Montclair, N. J., choose the coral beach sands of Bermuda and a beach boat for play, while March plays lion-and-lamb tag in colder climes.

dead and behold He goeth before you into Galilee; there ye shall see Him. lo, I have told you."

In the quietness of the morning as I think on these little words "He is risen," I know within my heart He is risen—for I can feel His spirit of peace. It saves me—that eternal living spirit of mine, so corrupted by sin. I believe in the risen Savior because He keeps me and I want to do His will that I may help others to find that Risen Christ. He will give them that same gift He gave me—a new birth. Happiness of saved soul that can conquer everything. Temptation that no human can overcome without the risen Christ's help and love. When you have to go into the Gethsemane of life; your best friends go to sleep after you have asked them to wait with you; the risen Christ is there, you'll find Him waiting with you. He does not forsake you on Calvary either.

He is risen on this Easter of 1938. Seeking a world that His Father so loved that He sent Him to suffer for its redemption. If you do not know this risen Lord I want you to know, it was for you and you alone that all this came about. He died and conquered death to save your lost soul.

The helpless soul that cannot master itself. Hear the words of the angel "He is risen" and someday you will have to meet Him—prepared or unprepared.

And I says, brother, you have come to the right place. But I have nothing against the women, I says; but the hats, we can gas about them.
And you sometimes see farmers put hats on their horses—but you cannot blame the horse for his sky-piece.
And with women's hats, they are in the same boat, and I am on the women's side—I am for the women ver-

"He Is Risen"
(By Mable C. Bogan)

I wonder this Easter morning if we are asking in our hearts "Where did they take my Lord?" Do we believe He has risen? Can't we find Him? In that tomb of doubt maybe He has been buried and you have gone back seeking Him again. You who have been associated with Him before and your ungodly ways have caused Him to have to separate from you in that sweet peace. The same angels, I believe, would answer, "He is risen" and would tell us "He is gone on to reveal Himself to others who are seeking him today." Of course today He works through the Holy Spirit.

Yes, "He has risen." That wonderful Easter message! God showed man power that had never been demonstrated before. The Roman seal placed over the tomb. Somebody rolled the big stones away breaking the seals, that no man dared to break. Matthew 28 tells us of an earthquake—Power from the Creator—aiding in the work, helping the angel of the Lord to remove the great stones. He was sitting on the stone when the women came seeking the Lord. "Fear not," he said, "I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come and see the place where the Lord lay. Go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the
