R. D. Jones Married To Colorado City Girl

Miss Virginia Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Woodward of Colorado City, Texas, became the bride of R. D. Jones of Quitaque in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was read by Rev. R. Y. Bradford, pastor of the First Baptist church of Colorado City.

Wedding vows were repeated before a host of friends and relatives. White and pink gladioluses against clustered greenery provided the background.

The bride wore a dusty rose dressmaker suit with white sheer blouse. Her accessories were black patent. She carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias.

Matron of Honor was the bride's sister Mrs. L. O. Thomas. She wore a powder blue suit with cherry coke patent accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Attending the groom as best man was Wayne Hunter of Turkey.

Before her marriage Mrs. Jones was a graduate of Colorado High School, a member of the Sigma Gamma Chi, and a student at North Texas State Teachers College where she was a member of the Gammadion Society.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jones of Quitaque was a graduate of Turkey High School. He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army for more than two years with the Infantry. He saw action overseas in France and Germany. He was a student at North Texas State College after his release from the Army in November, 1945.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Woodward home. The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Punch was served from a crystal service. Assisting in the dining room were Misses Fern Gurney, Elizabeth Hague and Margie Caddell. Meredith Woods was in charge of the brides book.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home after September 10 at 1401 Bolivar, in Denton, where both will attend school.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jones of Quitaque, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hunter of Turkey, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Thomas, Carolyn and Glen Allen of Pasadena, and Miss Fern Gurney of Cisco.

Our Water Supply

While other towns and cities all about us have been rationing their water supply through the drought months, Quitaque can boast of a generous supply. According to the water supervisor, Bill Middleton, during the month of August, Quitaque water works had the biggest month's operation during its entire history. This was partly due to exceptionally dry hot weather, and partly to the fact that the people of Quitaque are used to using lots of water.

Inasmuch as there is an abundant supply no effort has ever been made to use it sparingly. Twice the amount of water could have been used, Mr. Middleton reported, and there would still have been plenty. Not many towns or cities can make that statement.

Mr. Middleton submitted the following interesting figures on the month's operation:

Daily per capita consumption was 172 gallons, which is exceptionally high. We furnished 204 customers with an average of 19,353 gallons for which we billed them an average of $3.88 each.

The percent of loss, or unaccounted for water was 7 1/2 percent, which is about one-half the average of most first-class water works systems.

We purchased from the West Texas Utilities Co. 7276 kilowatts, which is a consumption of .6 kilowatt per thousand gallons per 100 feet head.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Herrington moved this week to the house which was vacated when the Buster Mullins moved to Clovis, N. M.

Quitaque Schools Ready To Open Monday Morn

The following statement to the Post, from Supt. R. H. McAdams, announced plans for opening of school Monday, Sept. 9:

The opening of the 1946-1947 session of school will be held in the auditorium at 9:15 o'clock next Monday morning, Sept. 9. The public is invited to attend, thus showing interest and encouraging those on whose shoulders the main task for conducting a successful school year has been laid.

Prospects for a good school are bright. We are led to say that from these everyday facts. We have an excellent school plant, well equipped; we have teachers able to teach well and who will do that thing; we have parents and patrons interested in education for their young sons and daughters; we have a board of trustees who are giving of their time and thought freely to the job of doing what the community elected them to do; we have an able and experienced administrative staff who will direct the work of the school sound educational lines, and last and most important of all we have a body of pupils who will respond well to proper direction and sympathetic understanding of the problems to be encountered and overcome along the varied road leading to right education.

In every way our times have departed far from the normal, and the business of having school in all ways normal is no exception to the general restless, changing conditions in which we all find ourselves. At no time in our history have teachers been so scarce. Facing that, we are hardly put to it in the effort to staff our schools. Teachers with the minimum of training have to be accepted. Yet many of these teachers have, and will continue to give a fine account of themselves in the class room.

Due to an unavoidable delay in making contracts with some of the boards of trustees of our good neighboring schools, we were quite late in securing the information that would supply us the knowledge of the number of teachers that we could have under the State Equalization Law, and the same situation made it impossible for the board of trustees to know how to act in the matter of purchasing a school bus, or placing an order for one. Therefore we shall have to employ what patience we can until these things have time to work themselves out to a satisfactory solution.

Application has gone forward to the State Department of Education for the operation of the school lunch room, and it is planned to begin serving the pupils on the second Monday of the school, Sept. 16.

The teaching and administrative staffs as now constituted are:

High School: Joe W. Bailey, Mrs. Jim Baird, Mrs. Tom Persons, R. H. McAdams. Commercial teacher yet to be selected.

Elementary School: Mrs. J. R. Stroup, Mrs. C. A. Hawkins, Mrs. H. G. Gardiner, Mrs. A. L. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lewis.

Administrators are: R. H. McAdams, supt.; Joe W. Bailey, principal high school; E. P. Lewis, principal grammar school.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

THE VALLEY OF TEARS

By E. B. Thompson

In the book, "Maverick Town: The Story of Old Tascosa," Mr. John L. McCarty says:

"Between the western fringe of the cross Timbers and the Staked Plains lay a buffer region bordering the Pease River, a never-never country of wild, red, broken hills, where game was scarce, water alkaline, and life almost impossible. Across it crawled the bitter trail which led to the Valley of Tears on the Quitaque, the last stop on the road to oblivion for grieving mothers and children who were captives of the Comanches; for it was here that the children were taken from their mothers, and all relatives separated, so that there would be less chance for escape and that child captives might sooner be absorbed by the tribe."

We live in that valley. It is not only fertile, but beautiful to look upon. Where once wild tribes paused for water, rest, and the separation of their human captives, sturdy homes, and stretching acres bear a tribute to hardy pioneers who saw the worth of the land, and claimed its lasting values. Where once the red man quenched his thirst, refreshing water still flows from the everlasting springs at the head of Quitaque and Los Lingos. While the bones of the Comanches have long since bleached dry in the baking sun on the Plains, along with the carcasses of the buffalo herds he slew for his daily meat, the cow-man and the plow-man have captured the New West for their home.

Life is good in these middle-years of the twentieth century in that valley on the Quitaque. About the only tears we should really shed here are those which should fall from our eyes when we realize that we have not been as thankful for its many blessings as we should be. And certainly we should stain our faces when we sin, and fall short of the glory of God, who has given us life, liberty, and happiness in this favored and lovely country.

Washington, Sept. 3—Spare stamp 51 in ration book No. 4 is good for five pounds of sugar through Dec. 31. The stamp became valid Sunday.

On that day also stamp 49 was supposed to expire, but because of sugar shortages in many cities, OPA extended its validity through Sept. 30, so that consumers may cash it.

Mrs. P. O. Woods returned home last week from an extended visit in California. Her daughter Mrs. Jim Woods brought her home in her car, and enroute the senior Mrs. Woods became ill and was taken to the Stanley hospital at Matador, where she was reported feeling some better the first of this week. She was brought home Thursday evening and stood the trip fairly well, but is very weak, her daughters stated.

Yeggs Crack Safe Of J. C. Wooldridge Co.

Yeggmen blew the safe of J. C. Wooldridge Co. at Quitaque Wednesday morning between 4 and 5 o'clock, and received about $77 for their trouble. Manager Gus Gibson reported Thursday morning.

The job was pulled by professionals, evidently, as gloves were worn and no fingerprints were left. Neither were there any footprints.

Officers Calloway and McNeil of Memphis, members of the State Safety Patrol, assisted Deputy A. L. Morris in the investigation, but nothing tangible in the way of clues had been uncovered Thursday morning.

The safe had been moved from the front of the building, office railing, etc. being torn away, to the work room behind where the knobs and combination were knocked off, the door battered with a sledge hammer and then treated a heavy charge of nitro-glycerin or other powerful explosive which riddled the door to pieces of scrap.

So powerful was the detonation that pictures were jarred from the wall of the telephone office about 75 feet west of the lumber yard office.

Only cash was taken from the safe, valuable papers belonging to the company and about $1500 in bonds belonging to Manager Gus Gibson and his family, were scattered over the floor of the work room where the strongbox was blown open.

Officers are still working on the case and running down everything that might possibly lead to a clue or apprehension of the culprits.

Rattlesnake Bite Fatal To 3-Year Old Boy

Bobbie Rich, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rich, died at the Matador hospital Monday at 6:15 after being bitten by a rattlesnake late Saturday evening. The Riches live about 8 miles east of Turkey on the I. D. Mullin farm. Mrs. Rich and her two small children had started to town in their car, when something went wrong with it, and they had to get out and walk. While going through some weeds the boy was bitten.

The body was shipped to Fort Worth by the Stewart Funeral Home, where the funeral was to be held Wednesday.

The Riches moved to Turkey from Fort Worth sometime in June.

The little boy is survived by his parents, a small sister and other relatives.

"I Give You Texas"

By Boyce House

Oratory: Platitudes with gestures.

Once upon a time there was a merchant in a small town who turned in an order for some printing and said, "Just take your time; I am in no hurry." And now you tell one.

Bill Herrington, merchant in Rising Star, says he knows how it feels to be defeated and elected in the same election. Quite a few years ago, he was running for Tax assessor and he stayed up late on election night but at last decided he was a loser by about 20 votes. So he went home, slept late and when he went back up town, he found that the trend had reversed itself and he had won by about 20 votes.

About ben Adhem said, "Write me down as one who loves his fellow man." Similarly, write me down as one who when introduced to someone, never makes some attempt at humor concerning his name. (Example, if the name is Jones, "Oh, one of the Jones boys, eh?") Probably the reason for my forbearance is that the name of "House" lends itself to such witticisms as 'Cottage,' 'Shack,' and 'Cabin' or, "Is your first name full or rough?"

When a company goes broke, an official called a receiver goes into action and he is well named, for, when he gets through receiving, there is usually nothing left to receive.

Suppose that you knew that this would be the last day of your life; how would you live it? Wouldn't you speak kindly to all you met and give everyone a cheery word? Certainly you would be considerate and courteous because you would want to implant sweet memories in the minds of your family and friends. Why not, then, live each day in that spirit?—live it up doing good, just as a flower sheds perfume and a bird sings happy songs each fulfilling its part in the divine order of things by contributing to the beauty, the music and the joy of the world.

When the end does come, whether near at hand or far off, a tear of true sorrow on the cheek of one you have helped will be worth a lot more than any fortune you could amass, only at last to leave behind.

Here is something that is written as a parody on Luke 14: 16: 24 but it is worth thinking seriously about. It appeared in the Tulsa Herald and is entitled, "What Is Your Excuse?"

A certain church prepared a service of worship and invited whosoever would to come. And it sent forth a letter, saying to all its friends and members "Come for the minister and choir and sexton have made all things ready." And the majority began with tiresome repetition to make excuse.

The first said, "All week I labor hard and unceasingly. On Sunday, I must needs rest in bed until noon. Or, if I should arise at a respectable hour, there are many odd jobs to be done about the house; and, as a last resort, there is the Sunday paper. I pray thee have me excused."

And another said, "I have bought a car and on Sunday my family doth make a great clamor to be taken into the country. I am aware that on rainy Sundays when the remaineth in the garage, I do not go to church either. But then I have some other excuse."

And another said, "I have children and behold! By the time they are dressed and fed and dispatched to Sunday School I have reached the end of my Sunday morning enthusiasm; and to get myself ready is more than I can manage. I pray thee, have me excused."

And another said, "I would fain come, but alas! when I was young and tender, my unwise parents did compel me to go to church once, twice, even thrice a Sunday. And I became 'fed up' on church and I have not yet digested the contents of this 'forced feeding.' Accept, I pray thee, this my valid and intelligent excuse."

And another said, "The members of my family are peculiar; they must needs eat on Sundays, the same as on other days. And if I go to church, will the minister send someone to prepare our dinner? To sit down to dinner an hour late is impossible, for we are not or a mind to subdue the call of the stomach to the needs of the soul. To prepare the roast on Saturday is out of the question, for my crosies will accept no excuse for my absence from the weekly bridge party. I pray thee, have me excused."

And many other excuses of equal impressiveness did the people make and yet did these same people raise a great hue and cry and make a bitter lament when war and crime and corruption and all manner of evil did flourish greatly. And with one accord they began to make complaint, saying, "Why is not something done about these things?"

More Rains Sunday Boost Crop Prospects

Rain in varying quantities fell over the area Sunday afternoon and night. Very light in Turkey and Quitaque, Flomot area received an inch and upwards. W. H. Jouett's gauge at Tampico showed 2 33 inches, with about an inch falling at Parnell.

Tulla received two inches with the rain getting lighter as it approached the caprock. A nice rain fell at Silverton with about .30 falling at Quitaque and a similar amount at Turkey.

Crops have really snapped out of it the past two or three weeks and it doesn't look like the same country as of a month ago. Barring an early frost, production will be greatly increased.

Farm and Ranch

By Layne Beaty

This writer saw a large portion of west Texas a week ago. He believes the extreme dryness of some portions is matched only by the unrelenting optimism of the residents. "If we get rain in two or three weeks," they say, "we'll make cotton and feed this year." And they will. When the Plains area has a good year, it usually is a very good year.

Both cotton and grain sorghums are spotted, with all stages of growth in a single field, a common sight. Cotton insects are not a major problem in west Texas, as they are in other sections.

And with cotton selling at $35 a pound currently, and cottonseed at $60.00 per ton, the Rio Grande Valley comes up with its best crop in years, estimated at thirty million dollars. Insect damage has been nipped in the Valley as a result of the plowing under of stalks and leaves immediately after the harvest. Experts say this would be beneficial any place where the harvest precedes the first frost by any considerable length of time.

County agents in West Texas and many of their 4-H club proteges are pessimistic about their club calf feeding projects this year with grass scarce and feed high.

Those migratory labor reception centers which citizens of many Texas communities have built to shelter the folks who come in to help with the crops, are featured in a current issue of a popular magazine, along with the extension services recruiting and placement programs for farm workers.

For years, people have wondered how "Tad" Moses came by that nickname, when his real monicker is Dayton Moses, Jr. "Tad", who used to edit a widely circulated stockman's magazine in Ft. Worth, and now supervises publications for the Texas agricultural experiment station, says when he was a baby he crawled by pulling himself along with his arms, much like a baby tadpole. He was therefore called "Tadpole" in his earlier years, and the first part of the name stuck. Few of his thousands of acquaintances know his correct handle.

To those who are awaiting delivery of their New Oldsmobiles

Series "70" Club Sedan. GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional at extra cost.

A Word of Appreciation . . . and a Suggestion, too!

We know how anxious you are to get your new Oldsmobile. And there's nothing we'd like better to do, right now, than to say to every Oldsmobile buyer: "Your car is here. Come get it!"

But frankly, it just isn't possible to do that. There still aren't enough new Oldsmobiles to go around. Due to shortages in materials and unavoidable limitations on production, the output of new cars still is behind schedule. And our allotments are far below the figures that we originally anticipated.

We want to assure you, however, that everything possible is being done, both here and at the factory, to get your car in your hands promptly. And we'd like to take this occasion to thank you sincerely for the patient and considerate way in which you have borne with us during this period of waiting.

Meanwhile, we have an important suggestion: Don't neglect the car you drive today.

The war has taught us all the importance of careful upkeep and regular service. While you're waiting for your new Oldsmobile, therefore, be sure to take advantage of our factory-authorized Oldsmobile service program. We are offering every kind of modern automotive service—from lubrication to major overhauls. Regular servicing of your car will safeguard your investment and assure you of safe, dependable transportation until that great day when your new Oldsmobile is here!

THE SMOKE of battle has cleared in the past year, but not that of American industry—nor of the atomic bomb. The stacks of factories (right) are pouring forth their cumulus of spent energy as the productivity of American genius is transformed from the uses of war to the ways of peace. And out over the distant tropical atoll of Bikini the atomic cloud (left) has risen, as much a promise of civilization's physical reconstruction as a threat of its future annihilation. (Official U. S. Navy photos)

Now is the time to seed Hairy Vetch, Alfalfa and Improved Pasture to permit ample growth before cold weather. Joe Mercer has one hundred acres of land floated and re-floated for seeding to alfalfa. GIRL SCOUTS LACK UNIFORMS BUT READY FOR INVESTITURE

The Girl Scout movement is making nice progress here with the girls learning quickly and enjoying the work. They are just about ready for their investiture ceremony, but some of the girls do not have their uniforms.

Before the girls can become real sure-enough Girl Scouts, they must have this ceremony and plans are to have it in the near future. The girls should get the money for their uniforms to the Scout leader, Mrs. J. T. Persons, as early as possible so that she can order the outfits. Cash must be enclosed with the order and Mrs. Persons is anxious to get the order off next week if possible. Cost of the uniform complete is $6.15. Of course the girls need some cooperation from their parent, in this instance, but it is hoped that everyone will cooperate so the investiture ceremony can soon be held. Take the money to Mrs. Persons, or to the school house Saturday afternoon where some responsible person will be to take care of it.

DIVERSIFICATION

Mr. and Mrs. Lockett Payne of Lamesa and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Young and Sandra of Hobbs, N. M., visited relatives here and at Turkey this week, prior to a vacation trip to California.

When Lockett was here a few weeks back, he said it had been so dry at his place at Lamesa that at that time he had not put a seed in the ground. He said he took a couple of inches of rain back with him from here, and someone sent him a nice rain a few days later, so he planted 120 acres of black-eyed peas. The peas are doing so well, he said he would make better off that acreage than he would on a staple crop, however he had a good stand of late feed.

Lockett said large cattle trucks drove in from East Texas canneries for the peas, bringing Mexicans to pull them. He said the Mexicans could go down a row gathering peas like it was a row of cotton. He is getting 3 1/2 cents a pound for the peas in the field.

Lockett said his was a small acreage of blackeyed peas for that section as some farmers had several hundred acres planted in peas.
