NEWS IN BRIEF

Earnings up

NEW YORK (AP) — A surge in overseas oil-producing, refining and marketing earnings, on top of a sharp increase in world prices, helped make Exxon Corp. the first industrial company to earn more than $4 billion a year.

Exxon, the world's largest oil company, on Friday reported fourth-quarter earnings of more than $1.3 billion, up 60 percent over last year's figure, and a net income for 1979 of more than $4.2 billion, a 35 percent gain.

Exxon thus became only the second U.S. company to earn $4 billion in one year and the first industrial company to do so. American Telephone & Telegraph Co. earned more than $5 billion in 1978.

OCAW to meet

DENVER (AP) — After rejecting the latest offer by two industry leaders, the president of the oil workers' union on Friday summoned his national bargaining committee to a meeting to "evaluate" the first nationwide refinery workers strike in 11 years.

But the meeting was called off because union president Robert Goss was unable to return to Denver when a blizzard whipped across the eastern plains of Colorado and brought traffic to a near-standstill at Stapleton International Airport, said Jerry Archuleta, spokesman for the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

Goss was expected to arrive in Denver on Saturday, Archuleta said.

Termination 'legal'

DALLAS (AP) — Iran's revolutionary government acted within legal boundaries when it terminated a $41 million contract to purchase an advanced data processing system with a Dallas-based computer, an Iranian attorney testified Friday.

Mortezanassiri, a former professor of international law at Tehran University, claimed an escape clause in the September 1976 agreement with Electronic Data Systems Inc. allowed a unilateral termination of the agreement.

But when asked by EDS attorney David Bryant if "old laws" were recognized by the "new government," Nassiri replied: "Based on documents, I could say the new government actually is enforcing the old laws, although the civil and criminal process in Iran is being altered in accordance with Islamic law."

Man convicted

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — After more than six hours' deliberation, a jury Friday sentenced a San Angelo man to 75 years in prison for burglarizing a home.

The trial of Johnny K. Murray, 24, was marked by the defendant's unruly behavior. On Wednesday, he kicked a witness in the groin while leaving the courtroom for a noon recess.

Murray smiled and shrugged when the verdict was read.

On Thursday, Murray testified twice in his own defense, claiming he knew of a shooting but that he was innocent.

When Murray refused to answer further questions about the shot fired at a San Angelo police officer, State District Judge Curt F. Steib sentenced him to 60 days in jail for contempt of court.

House for sale

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — For $4.5 million, you can hang your hat where John Wayne hung his for 16 years.

Actually, it might not cost that much for the bayside home. McNab-Irvine Realty Co., which is handling the sale for the late actor's executors under the auspices of a probate court, said Friday the price is only an asking figure, and that the company is accepting bids. Executors would make a final decision.

An FBI agent interviews one of the passengers on Delta's Flight 1116 in Miami International Airport Friday evening. The flight, en route from Atlanta to New York, was hijacked early Friday morning. The plane landed in Cuba, where the hijacker is being held. (AP Laserphoto)

Cuban authorities hold hijacker and his family

MIAMI (AP) — A man who hijacked a jet with 65 people aboard and demanded to be taken to Iran was taken into custody Friday in Cuba after the passengers snuck off the plane. None of the passengers or crew was injured and they returned to the United States Friday night, federal officials said.

The man, who was accompanied on the flight by his wife and two daughters — 7 months and 2 years old — surrendered nearly 14 hours after hijacking the Delta Air Lines L-1011 over North Carolina, according to Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Fred Farrar in Washington and Delta spokesman Dick Jones in Miami.

Earlier, the FAA had said that two men, claiming to be Black Muslims, had hijacked the plane.

Arthur Nehrbass, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Miami, where the plane landed at 6:36 p.m., EST, identified the man as Samuel Alden Ingram Jr., 29, of Atlanta.

Nehrbass said Ingram, his wife and their children were being held in Cuba and he didn't know whether Cubans would return them to the United States.

"We're still putting the story together," Nehrbass said. "The crew tells us the Cuban authorities were very cooperative. Some of the passengers are exhausted, but otherwise everyone is alright."

The plane's passengers and crew were debriefed by federal authorities before going through Customs and continuing on to New York, the flight's original destination. The plane left Miami shortly after 9 p.m., EST, and landed at Kennedy Airport at 11:03 p.m.

In Miami, Capt. Don Vickers made a brief statement to reporters, but did not answer questions.

He said the man told him that he had a weapon and wanted to go to Havana. Nehrbass said the weapon was a gun.

After the plane arrived in Havana,

Vickers said, "the man was met by Cuban officials. He told them he wanted to refuel and go to Iran." He said he didn't know why the man wanted to go to Iran.

The Cubans and the crew, Vickers said, "convinced (the hijacker) it couldn't be done."

After the passengers sneaked off the plane, he added, "we (the crew and the Cubans) convinced him to give up and (we) said he wouldn't be harmed."

One of the passengers, Lynn Martin, 19, of Dallas, said in Miami: "He (the hijacker) did not threaten the passengers. The captain told us he was armed, I don't know with what."

She said the hijacker was in the cockpit while his wife and daughters were asleep in their seats while the plane was on the ground in Havana.

Lisa Overton, 21, of Long Island, said the passengers — women and children first — sneaked out of the plane through a hatch in the galley. From there, she said, there was a six-foot drop to the ground, and the passengers huddled under the plane until a truck came to take them away. The evacuation took about 15 minutes.

"The hijacker did not know the evacuation was taking place," she said.

Many passengers praised Cuban officials, saying the authorities fed them and allowed them to buy cigars and liquor.

Others complained about their treatment in Miami.

South African police storm bank, kill gunmen, hostage

SILVERTON, South Africa (AP) — Police acting under a "no mercy" policy stormed a suburban bank Friday and killed three black gunmen who had seized 25 hostages in a bold attempt to gain freedom for political prisoners.

A 19-year-old woman hostage was killed and 17 hostages and four policemen were wounded in the gun battle and by the explosion of a grenade thrown by one of the black militants, hospital officials said. South Africa Broadcasting Corp. initially said two women hostages were killed, but hospital officials confirmed the death of only one.

It was the first time in this white-ruled country that black nationalists have seized hostages in an attempt to free jailed black leaders.

Police Minister Louis Le Grange

said heavily armed police charged into the bank on the ground floor of a three-story building after the gunmen began shooting the hostages at the bloody end of a seven-hour siege. But one of the hostages, P.S.J. Bierman, said it seemed as if the blacks and police began shooting at the same time.

Le Grange did not elaborate on his claim that the blacks had started shooting their captives, and doctors said the slain hostage, Cindy Nanderson, suffered both shrapnel and bullet wounds. They said an autopsy would be required to determine the cause of death and ballistic tests presumably would reveal if the bullets that struck her were fired by the bank raiders or police.

They said most of the other victims suffered shrapnel wounds from the grenade. Le Grange stated the "no mercy" policy, telling reporters after the shootout:

"Let this action of the police be a warning and an example to all terrorists who have thoughts of aggression against innocent people and the state. We will take harsh action and no mercy will be shown to them."

He said senior police officials had negotiated with the gunmen during the siege, but the blacks' demands "were never even considered."

Photographers were allowed into the smoke-filled branch office of the Volkskas Banking Corp. to film the bodies of the gunmen and one said, "They looked like mince meat."

Le Grange said when there were reports the gunmen were shooting the

Bani Sadr leads as Iranians vote for new president

By The Associated Press

Torn by internal dissent and warned against foreign "plots," Iranians voted Friday for a new president, one who U.S. officials hope will change the tone of the U.S.-Iranian showdown over the embassy hostage crisis.

Reporters in Tehran for British newspapers said Finance Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr appeared to have taken a commanding lead among the eight candidates. Iran's official Pars news agency reported Bani Sadr had received up to 80 percent of the votes cast in some districts in Tehran.

Bani Sadr, a member of the ruling Revolutionary Council, was removed as foreign minister two months ago after he took a moderate line favoring release of the American hostages.

Education Minister Hassan Habibi, also on the Revolutionary Council, was picked as a strong contender when a group of orthodox Islamic clergy announced support of his candidacy over the weekend. Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, who has insisted the hostages won't be freed until the deposed shah is returned, also is a candidate.

Ailing revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini remained under treatment for heart trouble at a Tehran hospital. His office issued a statement describing the voting as "enthusiastic" across most of the country, Tehran Radio reported.

But the government broadcasts, monitored in London, also reported that balloting did not take place in at least two cities in Kurdistan, where anti-Khomeini Kurdish leaders called for a boycott of Iran's first-ever presidential election.

Ayatollah Mohammed Kazem Shariat-Madari, a key Khomeini rival, apparently also was boycotting the balloting. The official Iranian news agency said he had not voted by midday.

In another development, it was reported that a firing squad executed two alleged members of a radical Islamic group convicted in the assassination of two close Khomeini associates.

Some 20 million Iranians were eligible to vote. Definitive election results are not expected before Monday.

Carter administration officials say they hope whoever emerges as president will be a "better negotiating partner" than Iranian officials have been so far in international efforts to win the release of the approximately 50 American hostages held by Moslem militants at the U.S. Embassy. Friday was the hostages' 83rd day in captivity.

Diplomatic contacts to end the crisis are centered at the United Nations, where Security Council members were to resume private consultations on the situation later Friday.

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim is trying to work out a "package deal" whereby the hostages would be released in exchange for a U.N. investigation of the alleged crimes of ousted Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi. The embassy militants continue to insist, however, that they will not free their captives until the ex-shah, now living in Panama, is returned to Iran.

Khomeini, who was admitted to the intensive-care unit of a Tehran hospital early Thursday with an undisclosed heart ailment, cast his ballot at the hospital, Tehran Radio said.

The 79-year-old Moslem clergyman and his doctors have sought to reassure the public that his illness is not serious. Khomeini's office issued a statement Friday afternoon congratulating the electorate on its "revolutionary enthusiasm" and urging even greater numbers to go to the polls, Tehran Radio said.

But it also quoted an Interior Ministry official as saying that "things were not as they should be" in Kurdistan. It said supervisory election councils were not formed in the cities of Baneh and Dastgerd, indicating boycotts were under way there.

The Kurds are one of several ethnic minorities seeking greater autonomy from Khomeini's central government.

The apparent boycott by Shariat-Madari, who like Khomeini resides in the holy city of Qom, 100 miles south of Tehran, may be equally important.

Shariat-Madari has become figurehead leader of the dissident movement in northwest Iran's Azerbaijan region, and his individual boycott of the December referendum that approved Iran's Islamic constitution led to weeks of bloody fighting between Khomeini proponents and Azerbaijanis.

Shariat-Madari said the constitution vests too much power in Khomeini and denies minority groups autonomous rights they deserve.

Unemployment hits lowest point

Unemployment in Midland fell in December to its lowest point in the six years records have been kept here, giving Midland the second lowest unemployment rate in the state.

Midland's unemployed fell to 1,000 or 2.1 percent of the civilian labor force, a 28.1 percent drop from November and a 34.2 percent decrease since December 1978, according to statistics gathered by the Texas Employment Commission.

The 2.1 percent recorded here compares favorably with the 5.6 percent national unemployment rate and the 3.6 percent rate for Texas overall.

The ranks of the employed rose to 46,060 in mid-December as many of those looking for jobs found them in the expanding local job market, the TEC said. Total employment was up 1.8 percent over November and 6.1 percent of December 1978.

According to the TEC, most segments of Midland's economy were growing during December. Only construction work showed a slight drop caused by winter weather and high interest rates. Government employment held steady, the TEC noted.

Wholesale and retail trade led the gainers with a boost from holiday buying. Oil workers followed with a good advance caused by the increasing energy search.

The TEC noted the Midland area continues to experience an across-the-board shortage of labor because of the excellent job market.

Bryan-College Station recorded the state's lowest unemployment rate in December with only 1.6 percent unemployment.

Police gave this account of the raid on the bank just three blocks from a police station in this township on the outskirts of the nation's capital, Pretoria:

The black nationalists, aged 30 to 35 years old, entered the bank at 1 p.m., and pulled Soviet-designed AK47 rifles and at least one hand grenade from packages they were carrying.

About 60 persons were in the bank when the blacks shouted they were taking over, and more than 30 managed to escape through windows and a back door in the minutes of panic that followed. At least three shots were fired but no casualties were reported.

The hostages were ordered to lie face down on the floor. One, 18-year-old Leona Vlasie, said the gunmen treated them "in a friendly fashion."

Finchers to celebrate 50th anniversary in son's home

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Fincher of Midland Sunday will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary in the home of their son, Arnold Fincher, 3300 Neely Ave.

Fincher and Dolores Wood were married Jan. 24, 1930, at Lovington, N.M. The first 10 years of their married life were spent around Brownfield in the ranching business.

In 1941, the couple moved to Houston, where Fincher worked two years in the shipyards before they returned to West Texas and settled in Martin County to open a welding shop and to do some farming. The Finchers moved to Midland in 1966 and farmed from that time until he retired in 1975.

The honorees have two other sons, Kenneth Fincher of Midland and Arvil Fincher of Houston; 7 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

Senior citizen protects his property, has man arrested

By GREG THOMPSON

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Fred Green may be getting on in years, but he still has to protect his property. So when he caught a young burglar in the act, Green persuaded him — with a warning shot through the man's trousers — to surrender to police.

Fred Green is 89 years old.

"I don't want to hurt anybody, I'm a Christian man," Green said Friday. "But I have to protect my property."

"I wasn't scared of him," Green added. "I had the difference there in my hand. I would have had to kill him if he'd tried to wrestle that pistol away from me. I told him that."

Green, who said he owns several rent properties in his East San Antonio neighborhood, told police he saw a man leaving one of his vacant houses Thursday morning.

"I store things in that house. There was a lot of silverware in there. I just know he was in there looking for any that was silver plated," said Green.

Green told police he returned to his own home nearby and got his 75-year-old, .38-caliber pistol. After finding several items out of place in the vacant house, Green went back outside and saw the young man standing nearby.

"Halt. I want you to come back to the house and talk to a few policemen," Green said he told the man.

"I pointed the pistol at him and said, 'I'm not going to hurt you, but you go on over to my house and wait for the police,'" Green recalled.

"He started coming at me. He wanted to take that pistol from me. I backed off, but he kept coming at me. I told him I wasn't going to kill him, but I was going to shoot his legs.

"He kept coming, so I fired at his legs. I didn't hit him. The bullet went through his right pants leg," added Green.

Thus persuaded, the burglary suspect was marched to Green's residence to await police. According to the police report, arriving officers discovered the suspect calmly sitting on the porch while Green hovered over him with a pistol.

Louis Torres, 24, was charged with burglary in connection with the case. He remained in the Bexar County Jail on Friday in lieu of $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Rudy Esquivel.

McCartney heads home after 10 days in jail

TOKYO (AP) — Ex-Beatle Paul McCartney headed for home Friday, apparently none the worse for his 10 days in a Japanese jail cell for a marijuana investigation.

The 37-year-old rock and roll superstar boarded a jetliner after Japanese prosecutors decided to charge him with marijuana possession — a charge that could have led to a seven-year prison sentence.

McCartney spoke briefly to a swarm of fans, reporters and photographers who saw him off on a Paris-bound Japan Air Lines plane that was to take him as far as Amsterdam.

"I'm okay," he shouted into the pandemonium. "Japanese rock fans are great!" Japanese reports quoted the British pop star as saying "life in jail wasn't too bad" and "if possible I'd like to return."

As a two-time violator of Japan's drug laws, it was unlikely he would be able to come back.

Kyodo news service said he sang a song as he boarded plane, but no one was able to identify it.

The plane made a stop in Anchorage, Alaska. McCartney left the plane but would not talk to reporters. He asked an airport agent to relay his regrets to his fans there. The agent, Joyce Horne, said McCartney also asked about marijuana laws in Alaska, where possession of a small amount for personal use in one's own home is legal.

McCartney had been questioned repeatedly about the 7.7 ounces of marijuana customs officials said they found in his luggage when he arrived at Narita airport Jan. 16 to begin a concert tour with his group Wings.

Japanese authorities said they decided to release him because he had "been punished enough." He had "shown signs of repentance and apologized," they said, and had told them the marijuana had just been for his "private use."

The prosecutors took into consideration another factor, Kyodo said — "cancellation of his scheduled 11-concert performance." The cancellations cost millions in ticket sales.

McCartney, still handcuffed, was taken from the Tokyo Metropolitan Police headquarters Friday evening.

After a one-hour drive to Narita Airport, 40 miles northeast of Tokyo, he was questioned for about three hours at the airport law enforcement office before his handcuffs were removed, Kyodo said.

Cronkite blasts new 'lifeboat ethic'

By KEN HERMAN

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Newsmen Walter Cronkite, presenting a gloomy checklist of the nation's problems, said Friday Americans seem to have adopted a "lifeboat ethic" that eliminates individual responsibility and sacrifice.

"They call it a new meanness — a stinginess of spirit as well as of purse," the CBS anchorman said.

Cronkite was the keynote speaker at a symposium on the 1980s sponsored by the Lyndon B. Johnson Library at the University of Texas, where Cronkite attended college.

"We may be developing what someone has called the lifeboat ethic, a tendency to take care of ourselves and let the rest swim, or whatever. The 'rest' of course disproportionately are black, Hispanic or members of other minorities," he said.

Cronkite said the "me psychology" might be the largest obstacle in America's drive toward energy self-sufficiency.

He said the humiliation now being suffered by the United States in Central Asia could have a unifying long-range effect on the nation.

"To that extent, the ayatollah and the commissars may have done us a great service. Not only have they united us as nothing has done in 20 years, they have wakened us. They slapped us in the face just as the country seemed to be slipping into a narcissistic stupor, bemused by the illusion that there were such things as purely domestic issues on which we could focus our attention and politics," he said.

"If the mess in Central Asia does not produce catastrophe we may one day be able to say with the people in those commercials, 'thanks, we needed that.'"

Cronkite's gloomy checklist include his "four horsemen of the modern Apocalypse" — population, hunger, pollution and nuclear proliferation. He cautioned the spread of nuclear power could put atomic weapons in the hands of men such as Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini — whom he called a "backward old fanatic" leading a horde that is "hell-bent for the Dark Ages."

"The 1980s have not gotten off to an auspicious beginning. Indeed, the decade promises to be one of those interesting times the ancient Chinese used to wish on those they cursed," he said.

Cronkite said it is time for the United States — fresh from a decade where the country's international role changed — to pursue a role as a world leader.

College board asks spending hike

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements' appointees on the Texas College Coordinating Board took a beating Friday as the board recommended massive increases in state spending for higher education in 1982-83.

The board said the Legislature should cover at least part of the spending hike by raising tuition at tax-supported universities but did not suggest a specific amount.

Board members approved formulas that all state-supported colleges and universities must use in requesting money from the 1981 Legislature. Yearly expenditures for formula items at senior colleges would increase by $140.9 million — or 22.3 percent — in 1982 and another $93.5 million — or 12.1 percent — in 1983.

Money for faculty salaries would rise by 20.1 percent in 1982 and 12.6 percent in 1983.

In addition, state aid to community junior colleges would jump by $50.7 million in 1982 and another $22.6 million in 1983.

In all, formulas approved by the board would — if adopted by the Legislature — boost state expenditures by more than $300 million over current levels.

Board chairwoman Beryl Milburn of Austin attempted to hold faculty raises to 12.6 percent a year and restrict increases in all other expenditures to 9.5 percent — a figure she said conformed to President Carter's anti-inflation guidelines.

She said the formulas the board ultimately adopted would cause college expenditures to rise 36 percent in just two years.

Six of the seven Clements appointees to the board voted for Mrs. Milburn's motion, which failed, 7-8. The only Clements appointee voting against the Milburn proposal was Dr. Mario Ramirez of Rio Grande City.

"A 36 percent increase is totally out of line with reality. It brings into question the credibility of the Coordinating Board. It will place an enormous burden on the taxpayer," Mrs. Milburn said.

She told reporters she devised her proposal "entirely on my own" and without consulting Clements, who has called higher education the most wasteful sector of state government.

She said that she would "feel free to express" her personal opinion of the increases if asked by the Legislative Budget Board or House and Senate committees.

It was one of the first issues that clearly drew a line between the seven Clements appointees and persons appointed by his Democratic predecessors to the 18-member board.

Mrs. Milburn said she doubted the Legislature would accept the board's expenditure recommendations and probably would fund higher education at a much lower level.

The board recommended that the Legislature raise senior college tuition, which has not been changed since 1971 and, with small differences, is essentially what it was in 1957.

It offered lawmakers a number of options, together with the amount of new revenue each would raise, but did not take a position in favor of any particular alternative.

Vice-chairman Tom Rhodes, the governor's former campaign treasurer and budget director, said he favored doubling tuition of Texas residents and increasing that paid by non-residents by 50 percent.

Resident tuition now is $4 per semester credit hour with a $50 per semester minimum. Non-resident tuition is $40 per semester hour.

Board figures indicate that doubling resident tuition would increase revenue by $28 million a year while raising non-resident tuition by 50 percent would bring in another $9.7 million.

The board said new revenue from a tuition increase should not be applied to construction and some of it should go toward merit salary increases.

Marshall Formby of Plainview was the only board member to vote against increasing tuition.

"I kind of glory in the fact we have low tuition, where poor boys and girls can go to school," he said.

The board adopted a resolution saying it "supports and commends" Clements for his cost-cutting efforts but declined to promise flatly, as the governor wished, to reduce its staff by 5 percent.

It said, however, it has cut its staff from 185 persons to 177 workers since January 1979 and expected to pare that to 175 employees by Aug. 31.

Board member Wayne Thomas announced a board committee planned to start reviewing all degree programs now offered and would be looking at "the effectiveness, quality and need for each program in each institution."

Oil sheen moves away from coast, sources say

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Coast Guard buoys indicate oil sheen and tar balls floated in a 9,000-square-mile area near the Texas coast with southerly currents.

Coast Guard Capt. Gerald Hinson said the oil does "not constitute any particular threat to the United States."

The oil, which originated with the uncappped Ixtoc 1 well in the Bay of Campeche, was sighted earlier this week by routine Coast Guard reconnaissance flights about 60 miles southwest of Brownsville, at the southern tip of Texas, Hinson said.

"Actually, there were a number of sightings of

Wood death probe continues

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A confidential informant, now heavily guarded by federal officials, has provided important new clues in the unsolved assassination seven months ago of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr., the San Antonio Express reported Friday.

U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd, who has helped lead the fruitless investigation, has refused to comment on the report carried in Friday's edition. FBI officials also refused comment.

TAX TIPS

Parents earning less than $10,000 due big tax break

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth in a series of tax tip articles provided by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Single or married parents earning less than $10,000 in 1979 may receive an income tax break this filing season.

You are eligible for an "Earned Income Credit" (EIC) of up to $500 if you meet certain requirements. First, you must have earned some income during 1979. Earned or adjusted income must not exceed $10,000. Salaries, wages, tips and other forms of employee compensation classify as earned income. Married persons can apply for EIC only if they file a joint return.

If not married, you must have been responsible for contributing at least 50 percent of the expenses of maintaining a home in the U.S. You must have a child living with you full-time, except while away at school or on vacation. The child must be claimed as your dependent unless you qualify for unmarried head of household filing status because of the child. In this case, the child need not be your dependent unless the child is married at the end of the year.

Figure EIC due you by using the worksheet and the new Earned Income Credit Table, provided in your tax package.

In order to receive EIC, you must file a tax return. The amount of EIC will be subtracted from the tax you owe the federal government. If EIC is in excess of your tax liability, the excess will be refunded to you by check. If you received any advance earned income credit payments from your employer, you are required to file a tax return.

These and other questions concerning your 1979 tax return will be answered in the Taxpayer Education course, sponsored by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Internal Revenue Service, to be held Feb. 5 and 7 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Allison Fine Arts Building at Midland College and at Wilkerson Hall, Room 108, Odessa College.

To register for the program, send your name, address and location preference to Taxpayer Education, Box 870, Midland 79702. Registration fee is $1 per person or $1.50 per couple. Mailing deadline is Feb. 1. You may also pick up registration forms at the Administration Building, Room 136, Midland College.

Braniff prepares for summer vacationers

DALLAS — Braniff International has started gearing up for summer travelers with a new schedule to Europe and a brochure on sights in the West.

West Texas travelers can choose a trip to Europe from 25 flights offered by Braniff out of Dallas-Fort Worth and Boston. From D-FW, Braniff has scheduled five Boeing 747 flights each week to Frankfurt, three to Paris, two to Amsterdam and one to Brussels in addition to non-stop service to London.

Braniff also offers daily service from D-FW to Europe through the Boston gateway plus five Concorde departures each week.

The airline's peak season 1980 summer schedules will be in effect from June 1 through Oct. 1.

For travelers who prefer to stay in the U.S., Braniff has designed a 1980 Travel Planner of tours to the West. It lists the best vacations in West Texas to offer and price breakdowns which enable the traveler to select cities, hotels and optional tours at the lowest available prices.

Included are city tours to California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and Washington and cruises to Alaska.

The brochure outlines escorted motorcoach tours and fly-drive programs. Prices of the tours range from $111 to $321 for single occupancy, depending on the city and hotel selected. Air transportation is additional.

Destinations include San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego in California, Seattle, Wash., the Grand Canyon, Disneyland, Yellowstone National Park and Hollywood.

The Travel Planner is free to prospective travelers at travel agents or Braniff's local sales office. Midland's office is located at 200 N. Loraine, Suite 350.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE

Leave Door Open

By Alfred Sheinwold

One of my friends locks only one door of his car, just in case he has left the keys inside the car. You follow this principle in some bridge hands.

Today's South took the king of clubs and led the deuce of diamonds to dummy's queen. When East discarded South got back with the ace of hearts to lead the ten of diamonds. West covered, and dummy won.

The ace of spades let South lead the eight of diamonds, but West played low. South let the eight of diamonds ride, but couldn't get to dummy for the rest of the diamonds. Down three.

LEAD TEN

South should leave one door open to dummy at the second trick by leading the ten of diamonds to dummy's queen.

South gets back with an ace, and the next player passes. You hold: ♠ K 2 ♥ K 5 4 ♠ J 9 6 3 ♣ A 9 7 2. What do you say?

DAILY QUESTION

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. You are too strong for a response of two diamonds or one notrump, but not strong enough for a jump response. Bid a side suit first and await developments.

School administrators ban issue of newspaper

ban issue of newspaper

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Richwood High School administrators have blocked publication of the latest issue of the student newspaper because it contained an editorial and a cartoon they didn't like.

Ed Utley, English teacher and newspaper adviser, said Thursday that the "paper has been delayed for revision." He declined to be more specific.

Todd Copplevitz, editor of the Shield, said Principal Robert Baietto called him into the office earlier this week to complain about an editorial criticizing the board of education's handling of a suspension case involving a 15-year-old sophomore.

The student was given a 10-day suspension when marijuana was found in her locker. Later, the board ordered her reinstated and her record cleared, saying it had discovered new evidence that cleared her of any wrongdoing.

The editorial repeated other media accounts from the Peoria area saying that the new evidence was an admission by another student that the marijuana had been planted in the locker. The student editorial was critical of the board for having suspended an innocent student while taking no action against the person who allegedly planted the drugs.

Lawrence Propp, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, met Thursday evening with students to prepare legal action against the board.

The Shield was to have been published Friday. School administrators have declined to discuss the case, saying only that publication has been halted indefinitely.

Rev. Theodore H. Graalmann

Rev. A. Dean Kelm

Grace Lutheran to mark its 50th anniversary

The 50th anniversary of Grace Lutheran Church will be celebrated Sunday in special services at 3000 W. Golf Course Road.

The Rev. A. Dean Kelm, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Odessa and vice president of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will be the featured speaker at a service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

In a service at 3 p.m. that day, the preacher is to be the Rev. Theodore H. Graalmann of Brenham who served the Grace Lutheran parish from 1935 to 1940.

Members of the congregation and their guests will attend a luncheon Sunday noon in the Grace Lutheran fellowship hall. Special entertainment will be provided by puppeteers and teen singers of the parish.

Kelm, the speaker for the Sunday morning service, grew up in the Grace Lutheran congregation. He is a former pastor of churches at Kermit and Andrews.

His sermon title is to be "Anniversary Adoration," with text from Matthew 6:33.

The liturgist will be the Rev. Mark A. Mueller, associate pastor of Grace Church. Mrs. W.B. Johnston will be the organist and the adult, junior and Cherub choirs, under the direction respectively of Villa Silivinskas, Mrs. David Blaschke and Mrs. Ed Mycock, will present special music. Instrumentalists for the musical portion of the service will include Miss Silivinskas, cello; Dale Sterling, trumpet; Ann Zacharias and Mrs. Will Walker, violins.

Acolytes will be Keith Clay and Todd Crawford. Graalmann, the guest preacher for the 3 p.m. Sunday service, will speak on "Blessed To Be A Blessing," with text from Genesis 12:2.

The Rev. Donald V. Hafemann, senior pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, will be the liturgist. The adult choir of the parish will sing "Jesus, Lead Thou On." Mrs. Bruce Barthel of Amarillo, a former member of the congregation, will be the guest organist. Suzanne Johnston will be the flutist. Acolytes will be Keith Clay and Todd Crawford.

Although Grace Lutheran Church was formally organized on Jan. 30, 1930, the history of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in West Texas goes back to 1899 when the Rev. C.D. Hoeh arrived in Cisco as a missionary minister.

It was the Rev. E.A. Heckmann of Abilene who held first LCMS services in Midland in 1922 in the home of Mrs. A.C. Straub. Later, the Rev. J.F. Meier of Sprenburg held home services about every six weeks, and then the Rev. A.A. Ruff of Lorraine served as supply pastor in Midland. He was followed by the Rev. C.F. Juergenson.

In 1928, the Rev. W.G. Buchschacher accepted a call to the pastorate at Big Spring, and he began to serve Midland twice a month. Services were first held in the old Presbyterian church on West Wall avenue, and later in the Episcopal church near the courthouse.

Under Buchschacher's leadership, Grace Church came into being in January, 1930 with five voting and 15 communicant members. Charter members include Gus Meissner, congregational president; Gerhardt Synatschek, elder; J.S. Schow, elder and secretary; John Riethmayer, elder; and Charles Lowke, treasurer.

In 1935, the Rev. T.H. Graalmann was called to Big Spring to take charge of the field, which included regular services at Lorraine, Big Spring, Midland and Wink. In 1941, the Rev. R.L. Casper became supply pastor from Big Spring, and in 1943 the Rev. O.H. Horn took charge of the scattered parish.

In 1944, the Grace congregation purchased property at the corner of West Wall and J streets and construction of the parish's first permanent home began in August, 1946. The Grace Lutheran edifice was dedicated in May, 1947.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Gilbert Becker was ordained and installed as first resident pastor of Grace Church in February, 1945. He remained as pastor until September, 1953. In early 1954, the Rev. Richard Daerber was named pastor, and he remained so for the next seven years. In early 1962, the Rev. Allen Brutlag was installed as pastor and served the congregation for the next several years.

The Rev. Donald V. Hafemann was installed in April, 1966, and still is serving as pastor of the congregation. The Rev. Mark A. Mueller was installed as associate pastor of Grace Church on Dec. 2, 1979.

In May, 1966, the congregation chose an expansion committee and hired architects to begin planning a new church home. Finally, on June 30, 1968, a ground-breaking ceremony took place at 3000 W. Golf Course Road and construction began on the new Grace Church building. A cornerstone ceremony was held in November, 1968.

The new church home was completed in April, 1969, at a cost of approximately $275,000. Dedication services were held on April 13, 1969.

Big Spring's First United Methodist will hold special dinner, meeting

BIG SPRING — The First United Methodist Church of Big Spring will hold a special dinner and meeting Monday night to launch the 1980 fund drive for McMurry College in Abilene.

Similar fund-raising events will be held in forthcoming days and weeks in other area cities, including Pampa, Plainview, Floydada, Littlefield, Odessa, Monahans, Seymour and Clovis, Artesia and Hobbs, N.M.

Presiding at the 7 p.m. Monday event in Big Spring will be Ted Johnson of Midland, who is a member of the McMurry College board of trustees and McMurry annual fund chairman for the Big Spring District of the United Methodist denomination.

McMurry College is a four-year college owned and maintained by the West Texas and New Mexico conferences of the United Methodist Church.

Missionaries to hold services

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Dickerson, missionaries to Brazil, will conduct Sunday services at the Midland Foursquare Church, 415 Alta Ave.

The Dickersons served as youth ministers for the Midland church before going to Brazil about four years ago, said the Rev. Pete Adcock, host pastor. He is inviting the couple's friends in the city, as well as the general public, to attend the Sunday services.

Both are native Texans. Mrs. Dickerson was born and raised at Canyon and her husband is a native of Texarkana. He received his seminary training at L.I.F.E. Bible College at Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

During the Sunday worship services at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m., the couple will be showing photographs and describing their missionary work in Brazil.

MEET THE MINISTER

Stovall celebrates 28th year as Memorial South's pastor

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Staff Writer

The Rev. Jimmy Stovall is in his 28th year as pastor of Midland's South Memorial Baptist Church.

The longtime minister has been a West Texas resident since 1950, moving to Ector County from Fort Worth that year. He came to the pastorate of the Midland church in October of 1952.

Stovall had ministerial training at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. Later, he served as pastor of Oaklawn Baptist and Central Baptist churches in Fort Worth.

Stovall, whose pastorate is one of the longest — if not THE longest — in the city and county, is looking forward to his 30th anniversary and the years beyond at South Memorial Church. "Midland has been good to me and my family," he said. "Especially do we praise South Memorial Church for its kindnesses through the years."

He said he and his wife bought a home here several years "and we plan to remain in this great Tall City of wonderful people. Most of our ministerial life has been invested here and we like it very much."

South Memorial Baptist Church was the fourth Southern Baptist church to be organized in Midland, after First, Calvary and Bellview Baptist churches. Located at 1700 W. Carter Ave., South Memorial Church is debt-free and in sound financial condition, Stovall proudly points out.

Stovall said approximately 1,300 people have affiliated with the church during his ministry and he estimates he has officiated at several hundred weddings and funerals during his tenure here.

The minister said he is especially proud of South Memorial's youth organization which has a community missions outreach. Among the group's projects is the serving of meals on a regular basis to shut-ins and invalids.

The church also has a strong Sunday school department, he said.

Stovall has been active in the Midland Baptist Association through the years. He serves as chaplain for the South Side Lions Club and for the Golden Ager Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Stovall have a four children. Their daughter, Mrs. W.R. Anderson, lives at Hurst. Their sons are Richard Stovall and Bob Stovall, both of Midland, and Jimmy Stovall Jr., of Birmingham, Ala.

Judge says no religion, school mix

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A federal judge says the teaching of parochial school students by Traverse City public schools "fosters an excessive entanglement" between church and state and is unconstitutional.

U.S. Circuit Judge Albert J. Engel said the 8-year-old dual enrollment program, "while having a secular purpose, has the primary effect of advancing religion."

He ordered the school systems to stop operation of the program after Sept. 1.

About 460 students from a Catholic high school are enrolled simultaneously in the public system, taking approximately 40 percent of their classes from public school teachers in an special annex on the second floor of the Catholic school.

The program began in 1971 when financial problems threatened the closing of the city's Catholic high school and a middle school.

Unprepared to accept 600 students into the public system, school officials leased the annex, removed the religious objects and posted signs declaring it a public school.

Shortly after the new system started, a group called Americans United for Separation of Church and State filed suit to halt it.

In his ruling Wednesday, Engel said the system "enables a part-time school to provide a full-time education to its students."

"In short, the annex program has provided the greatest benefit which the state could bestow upon a sectarian school — the financial ability to continue its educative functions without bearing all of the otherwise prohibitive costs of doing so," he said, adding supervisors and some teachers were hired from Catholic schools.

He said the program has been run with near-unanimous public approval by administrators careful to preserve limitations on church-state involvement.

Rev. James C. Suggs to speak at MAC meet

The Rev. Dr. James C. Suggs, executive secretary of the Texas Conference of Churches, will be featured speaker Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the Midland Association of Churches.

The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, West Louisiana Avenue at Powell Street. It will be open to the congregations of all member churches of the Midland Association of Churches, and to all other interested residents of the community. Reservations for the dinner meeting may be made through member churches or through the St. Luke's Church office.

Suggs has been executive director of the Texas Conference of Churches since early 1978. The TCC is an ecumenical organization composed of 13 Protestant denominations and the Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox churches. The scope of its activities is indicated by the names of its four major program divisions — church and society, Christian unity, education, and communication.

Suggs, a native Texan, formerly was president of Christian Church Services, one of the general administrative units of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) with offices in Indianapolis, Ind. He is a graduate of Texas Christian University and its Brite Divinity School. In 1977, he was awarded an honorary doctoral degree in divinity at Bethany College in West Virginia.

At the Tuesday night meeting, annual reports will be presented by committee chairmen of the Midland Association of Churches, and new officers and chairmen will be installed, to serve until next January.

Outgoing officers are Dr. Robert B. Smith, president; Mrs. Roger Arley, first vice president; Mrs. Floyd Hansen, second vice president; Mrs. Alvin G. Boyd, secretary, and Russell Withrow, secretary. Outgoing chairmen of committees are: Dr. Gordon Garlington III, social action; the Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, Christian education; the Rev. David C. Baker, public meetings; Ray Gwin, finance, and the Rev. Jerry Wyatt, public relations.

Bellview Baptist planning to hold mid-winter revival

A mid-winter revival is planned next week at Bellview Baptist Church, 1710 N. Big Spring St.

According to the Rev. G.A. Magee, host pastor, the revival will begin Sunday and continue through Feb. 3, with services at 10:50 a.m. and 6:40 p.m. each Sunday and 7:15 p.m. weekdays. All events will be open to the public.

Special nights have been scheduled during the revival, Magee said. The Sunday evening service is themed "Old Fashion Music Night." Monday night will be "The Battle of the Banners" and the emphasis on Tuesday night will be on youth, with a special youth supper planned. Wednesday is themed "Good Neighbor Night," and on Thursday there will be a children's supper. The emphasis on Friday night will be on senior adults, with emphasis on Feb. 2 to be on single adults.

Magee said that a special meal will be served at noon daily next week, followed by a short devotional service. The noon services will conclude by 1 p.m.

Evangelist for the revival will be Walter Ayers, a former Southwest Conference football player who has conducted more than 800 revivals and spiritual crusades during the last 23 years. He has been acclaimed as one of the nation's finest preachers by church leaders and athletic leaders.

We're growing! growing! growing!
Everybody likes to see things grow, and we are especially enjoying the growth of our church. Well no, we're not a giant size church by any means...we're growing. Everything alive and healthy should be growing and our church is alive and healthy. God keeps blessing us with new people and new ministries until we are among the fastest growing churches in town!

ARE YOU A UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST WITHOUT KNOWING IT?
Do you believe that religious truth cannot be contrary to truth from other sources?
Do you believe that each person is capable of self-improvement and is not condemned by original sin?
Do you believe that striving to live a good life is more important than accepting religious creeds?
Do you believe in a practical application of universal fellowship?
THEN YOU ARE PROFESSING UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST BELIEFS!

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?
When you have a problem to solve, or a decision to make, how do you go about resolving it? If you are a Christian, one of the first things you will want to do is find out what God has to say about your particular situation in His Word. Then you will be in a position to make a Christian decision according to the will of God. Is this also the way your church selects a course of action? We do.

Jones calls return rumor

DALLAS (AP) — Former Dallas Cowboy Ed "Too Tall" Jones says reports he would leave boxing may have originated with former teammate Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson.

"I was told Hollywood Henderson mentioned the two of us going to some team in a package deal," Jones told WFAA-TV in Dallas. "I haven't even spoken to Thomas for quite some time ... If it was true, he probably was joking with some guy in the Super Bowl. I think (the rumor) got started out in Los Angeles."

Norm Hitzges, sports producer for KABC-TV in Los Angeles, quoted a source close to Jones when he broke the story during his weekly talk show Friday morning on KERA radio in Dallas.

Hitzges said that in February, after two scheduled fights, "Jones feels he will have fulfilled his financial obligation to his adviser. They will have undertaken."

He said his source told him the turning point in Jones' decision to return to the Cowboys was when Jones stayed over in Dallas after fighting in the city and watched the Cowboys beat the Washington Redskins.

"He said when (John) Riggins ran 66 yards over right end on a play that seemingly won the game for Washington, Jones couldn't take it any more. That was his end they ran around," Hitzges said.

Jones, who left the National Football League to become a professional boxer, also told WJDX radio in Jackson, Miss., that all he has on his mind is tonight's fight there with Rocky Gonzalez of San Antonio.

"I'm sure all 20 teams would like to see me back in uniform. I'm only concentrating on one thing right now. That's boxing and I'm enjoying it," he told the station.

And David Wolfe, Jones' manager, told KRLD radio that if Jones "were planning to play pro football, we wouldn't be engaging in any fights now."

Wolfe said Jones will go to California after the Gonzalez fight and one in Atlantic City, N.J. He said Jones is planning for a nationally televised bout next spring.

A spokesman for the Dallas Cowboys said Jones has not been in contact with the organization, "as far as we know of."

"But he's still the property of the Cowboys, and there would be no problem. I hope the report is true. He's on the reserved retired list, and it would just be a matter of reactivating him. I'm sure he'd be welcomed with open arms," said Greg Aiello, assistant public relations director.

Hitzges declined to divulge his source, but said the same source gave him 17 days' advance notice of Jones' decision to quit the Cowboys after the 1978 season.

Bulldogs overcome Rebels

Victory gives Midland High share of first half title

By BOB DILLON
Sports Writer

Midland started slowly, but finished with a flourish Friday night. Coach Jack Stephenson's Bulldogs fell behind 18-8 at the end of the first period, but stormed back to down the Midland Lee Rebels, 66-51, before more than 3,000 basketball fans in the Chaparral Center.

The victory for Midland gives them a share of the first half championship with a 6-1 reading, the same as Odessa Permian which downed Odessa High, 72-57, Friday.

Coach Paul Stueckler's Rebels came out running and took advantage of the cold-shooting Pack to gain an 18-8 lead in the first period, mainly on the shooting of Tim Fisher, who had eight points. The 6-foot-1 senior was shut down the rest of the game and failed to score another point in the final three periods.

While it must have been frustrating for Fisher, Midland's talented junior center Herbert Johnson was having a tough time scoring in the first half as the 6-9 postman only connected on three of 14 shots, but he finally wound up with 15 points to share high-scoring honors with teammate Perry Bolger.

BALANCE WAS again the key for Stephenson's outfit with four players in the double figures. Besides Johnson and Bolger scoring 15 each, Anthony Carroll and Darrin Matlock were also scoring well with 10 and 12 points, respectively.

David Keys came off the bench to pour in 14 points for the Rebels while teammates Norris Lane and Tim Walker chipped in with 10 each.

The victory for Midland gives the Purple Pack a season reading of 24-5 going into the second half of the race which opens in Odessa Tuesday when they face the Panthers. Midland beat Mojo, 78-70, in the first half of the race.

After falling behind by 10 points after one period, the Pack began hitting and outscored Lee, 25-10, in the second period to take a 33-28 lead to the dressing room at intermission.

Midland outscored Lee 33-23 in the second half to win going away. The triumph gives MHS a 20-19 lead in the overall series instead of tying it at 19-19. In checking the records, it was 19-19 going into Friday's game instead of Lee holding on to a 19-18 edge.

PAT HICKEY and Bolger got the Pack off to a quick start in the third period. Hickey hit a 10-footer and Bolger followed with a three-point play to increase the lead to 38-28. The closest the Rebs were to come the rest of the way was eight points.

Midland held on to a 48-36 advantage going into the final eight minutes and although Lee scored 15 points, MHS was coming up with 18 of its own to post the big victory for the defending district champions.

Keys had kept the Rebels close in the second period when he scored nine of the Rebels' 10 points, but once Johnson began hitting, it was all over. A steal by Hickey midway in the final period seem to be the final stroke, giving Midland a commanding 54-38 lead with 4:10 left in the game.

The Pack even got out in front as much as 20 points when two free throws by Booker Mackey made it 64-44 with 1:28 left on the clock.

MIDLAND MADE it a clean sweep for the evening, winning the sophomore game, 88-58, and the junior varsity contest, 88-75.

Coach Eddie Shirley's MHS sophs racked up their 13th victory of the year against one loss with Scott Lunderback paving the way with 19 points. Pat Dixon followed with 13 points and Preston Robertson had 12 more as the Bulldogs took a first period lead of 22-6 and never looked back. High for the Lee sophs were Andre Van Buren and Van Gravitt with 19 and 14 points.

The JV game was different with Midland overcoming an eight-point lead by Lee with less than two minutes left in the first half. It was 50-50 at intermission and a big third period in which the Bulldogs outscored the Rebs, 24-7, was the difference.

Justin Morrett scored 15 points for the Pups while Steve Henry, Wade Johnson and Dixon added 10 each. Big guns for Coach Randall Smith's crew were Darius Barry and Kenneth Brown with 16 and 15 points. Jerry Oudems chipped in with 11 more.

Although it looks as if Midland Lee's Brent Sanders (51) has just "headed" the basketball toward the hoop, it wasn't the case during the Lee-Midland High game Friday night at the Chaparral Center. Midland High's Herbert Johnson (14) watches the ball in flight. (Staff Photo by Bruce Partain)

Permian defeats OHS; Bobcats, Eagles win

Odessa Permian, Abilene and San Angelo Central all posted District 5-4A basketball victories in boys action Friday night to wind up the first half of the race.

Permian, playing without 6-6 Brad Kerley, who was out with the flu, still took an easy 72-57 victory over Odessa High's Bronchos in the OHS Fieldhouse to earn a share of the first half crown with Midland High while Central and Abilene High took a 59-48 victory over Abilene Cooper in the Taylor County Coliseum.

Scott Wynne poured in 20 points for Permian while Ken Wigley added 17 more to the attack as Panthers wind up sharing the first half crown with Midland High with a 6-1 record. Robert Roland added 15 points and Duane Adams 12 more for Mojo while Danny Cruzan had 16 for the Bronchos and Rayford Wright 14.

Charles Bishop led San Angelo with 20 markers and Brian Miller 13 more while Jessie Doss was high for the hapless Steers with 10 points.

J.C. McGee led Abilene to its win over Cooper with 18 points while Ken Henry ripped the cords for 21 points for Cougars.

Permian is now 17-7 on the year while OHS is 6-16 and winds up 2-5 in the first half of the race. San Angelo, meanwhile is 17-10 and 4-3; Abilene 12-12 and 4-3 while Cooper stands 11-10 and 3-4. Big Spring is 6-16 and 0-7.

Ziegler firm with brawlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Terry O'Reilly of the Boston Bruins was slapped with an eight-game suspension and teammates Peter McNab and Mike Milbury were suspended for six games by the National Hockey League Friday night for brawling with spectators at New York's Madison Square Garden last month.

The NHL said the suspensions would begin with the Bruins' game in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

The penalties were handed out by NHL President John A. Ziegler Jr. Friday night after meeting with the Bruins players in Boston earlier in the day.

The action came three days after four fans who attended the game filed a $7 million damage suit against nine Bruins players, the Boston club, the New York Rangers, Madison Square Garden, the NHL and the City of New York.

In addition to suspending O'Reilly, McNab and Milbury without pay and fining them $500 apiece — the maximum permitted under NHL bylaws — Ziegler warned the rest of the league that a repeat of any such action could result in a lifetime suspension.

"From this point forward, each and every player and all club personnel are on notice that any such future involvement may result in revocation of their privilege to be employed in the National Hockey League," Ziegler said in his written decision.

Four other Bruins — Craig MacTavish, John Wensink, Gilles Gilbert and Al Secord — were fined $500 but not suspended while every other Boston player in uniform for the Dec. 23 game, except goalie Gerry Cheevers, was fined $200. Cheevers left the ice at the final buzzer and was in the dressing room when the altercation spread into the stands.

The $200 fines were assessed against Dick Redmond, Ray Bourque, Rick Smith, Gary Doak, Brad McCrimmon, Bob Miller, Rick Middleton, Stan Jonathan, Bobby Lalonde, Dwight Foster and Tom Songin.

Ziegler's action is not expected to be admissible in the court suit filed by Emanuel Kaptein of Clark, N.J.; his two sons, John of Belle Mead, N.J., and James of Clark, N.J., and Jack Guttenplan of Long Branch, N.J.

The suit charges the four fans were attacked by Bruins players after an argument between Boston and New York players on the ice at the end of the game.

The players named in the suit are O'Reilly, McNab, Secord, Milbury, Jonathan, MacTavish, Wensink, Miller and McCrimmon.

The suit claims that James Kaptein was "struck in the face with a hockey stick" wielded by Jonathan and then attacked by O'Reilly, who allegedly climbed into the stands and "proceeded to beat and pummel" him.

When John Kaptein attempted to aid his brother, McNab and Milbury allegedly climbed into the stands and "choked and assaulted" him, the suit claims, adding, "Milbury removed plaintiff John Kaptein's shoe and proceeded to beat him with it."

Secord allegedly "hit and pummeled" John Kaptein and other Bruins attacked both brothers and stepped on them with their skates "while various league and Garden security personnel merely observed and made no attempt to prevent or stop such actions."

Fans are finally discovering junior college basketball

Thanks to the national rankings and two hard working coaches, junior college basketball may be making the turn in West Texas. At least that seems to be the case with Western Texas College of Snyder and Midland College.

It may be too early to tell just yet what kind of lasting effect these two teams will have on the overall Juco cage attendance, but there are signs that the league is catching on with the fans.

The league has always provided an exciting brand of basketball, but more often than not, teams have shown their amazing slam dunks and dead-eye marksmanship to a bunch of empty seats. Hopefully, that's changing.

High national rankings for WTC, No. 1 in the land by undisputed decree, and Midland College, No. 5, have done a lot to help bring the fans to the gyms across the conference. And when the two teams face each other, things are happening — real humans are sitting in the seats.

Thursday in Snyder over 2,000 fans found their way to the spacious Scurry County Coliseum to see these two teams play. It was the largest home crowd in history of the Westerners. And when you think that Snyder has a population of less than 15,000, it's remarkable.

And a lot of credit has to go to the school's coaches, who have promoted their product to their respective cities. Jerry Stone of MC and Nolan Richardson of WTC think big things are happening for their squads.

Stone was impressed with the turnout Thursday at Snyder, and despite the loss to the Westerners, he sees some good things coming out of the game.

"I was really impressed with their fans," Stone said. "People were in the stands an hour before the game and they were really pumped up. I think we are going to fill Chaparral Center when they play in Midland. A lot of Midland people came to Snyder for the game, and that was a good thing to see.

"Our attendance has grown this year and I think the best is yet to come. We had nearly 2,000 fans for the Odessa College game in Midland earlier in the week and then we come here and get a crowd like that."

"The national rankings has generated a lot of excitement. But even that has its drawbacks. I know our fans expected us to blow out Odessa College and Frank Phillips in our last two home games, but I was just glad to get out of there alive. Everyone wants a shot at Western Texas and Midland College and we can't just play well when we face the Westerners. And there is no way our players can be as high as they were Thursday for every game. This is a tough league and if the people keep coming, they are going to see that."

Stone is naturally worried about a let down Monday when his team faces Clarendon College at 8 p.m. in the Chaparral Center. But another big crowd could be on hand since MC has announced that the game will be "Fan Appreciation Night" and everyone will be admitted free to the game.

Thursday's big crowd at Snyder also had Richardson doing cart wheels.

"When I came here three years ago, we were playing before 40 and 50 fans in the place. I thought it would be better to introduce the fans to the players instead of the other way around. But I think you can see that is changing. We had 1,800 fans in a game before Midland came to town. People are coming back after they see us play now."

"I think I'm a better seller than a coach," Richardson continued. "I've been going around to every organization in town and I have one simple message. I tell them to come see us play, just once. That's all. They have taken me up on that and now they are coming back. I think we will take a lot of fans to Midland when we play over there. Our kids can sell themselves if you can get anyone to take one look at them. Jerry (Stone) feels the same way because I've talked to him about it. We just need one look and they will come back."

Both coaches would really like to fill Chaparral Center Feb. 25 when the two teams meet again, and it really shouldn't be out of the question for 5,000 fans to turn out. If a city the size of Snyder can draw 2,000, then Midland should be able to draw 5,000. Who knows where things would go from there.

USOC meetings to begin under stout political pressure

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee meets today under heavy pressure from President Carter and the Congress to seek a transfer, postponement or cancellation of the Moscow Summer Games and, failing that, to refuse to send American athletes to the competition.

The 86-member USOC executive board will meet behind closed doors for two days at a regularly scheduled session, but the agenda has been virtually abandoned since Carter made his Olympic request to retaliate against the presence of Soviet troops in Afghanistan.

CARTER, WHO first hinted at an Olympics boycott on Jan. 4, asked the USOC last Sunday to petition the International Olympic Committee, which has sole responsibility, to transfer the Summer Games to another site or multiple sites or postpone or cancel them if the Soviets are not out of Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

Acting quickly, the House of Representatives voted 386-12 Thursday to endorse the President's recommendations.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee postponed action on a similar resolution until next week. But Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, favors the proposal and predicted full Senate approval.

USOC President Robert J. Kane, although personally opposed to a boycott of the Summer Games, told the House Thursday he believes his organization would be guided by Carter's recommendation and the actions of Congress.

"I can't imagine that, with the national interest involved, the United States Olympic Committee would ever be in a position other than in accord with the Congress of the United States or the president," he said.

"Athletes on the whole are as patriotic or more patriotic than non-athletes," he added.

AT THE USOC executive board meeting, Kane said, he will "raise all the facets of the problem — and there are a few. We will deal with all the facets as we know them."

Lloyd Cutler, White House general counsel, has been invited by the USOC and will attend the two-day meeting to present President Carter's views.

Kane said the USOC would press for the relocation of the Summer Games at a Feb. 9 meeting with the IOC, four days before the 1980 Winter Games open in Lake Placid, N.Y. But he considers the chances of it being accepted "very slim because of their attitude so far."

Kane said IOC President Lord Killanin believes the Soviets have not technically broken any IOC rules by going into Afghanistan.

"They (the IOC) don't consider the movement into Afghanistan any different from our part in Vietnam or France's going into Chad," Kane told a House committee.

THERE IS certain to be a diversity of opinions expressed at the USOC meeting.

An Associated Press poll of members of the USOC's Athletes Advisory Council, of which 15 sit on the executive board, strongly favored sending a team to Moscow. Kane has said the views of the athletes carry much weight in any decision made by USOC.

"Use of an Olympic boycott is not in the interest of world peace," said the statement read by Bob Giordano of Bellville, N.J., a weightlifter. "The very foundation of the Olympic Games began as an instrument of fostering peace."

The athletes said the most effective sanction "would be a total economic boycott of the Soviet Union." They said if an economic boycott should fail, then the athletes would consider non-attendance at the Olympic Games useful.

"We must use actions that achieve results, not symbolic gestures which only vent emotions," the statement said.

THE ATHLETES represented, in addition to weightlifting, cycling, shooting sports, water polo, volleyball and team handball.

John B. Kelly Jr. of Philadelphia, first vice president of the USOC, said earlier this week: "My opinion is that the USOC and the athletes will support the decision of the president and the State Department and the government. I feel they will. I would hope that (the government's decision) would give us a few outs if, indeed, the Russians do back down."

AS THE USOC prepared to meet on the Olympics question there were these developments in other countries on Friday.

CANADA — Prime Minister Joe Clark said his government is prepared to seriously consider a boycott of the Moscow Olympics and could take steps to prevent Canadian athletes from participating.

Clark told a news conference the government could withdraw financial support from athletes and exert other unspecified pressures to keep them home. But he said he still hopes the International Olympic Committee can be convinced to move the Summer Olympics from Moscow if the Soviets don't withdraw their troops from Afghanistan.

AUSTRALIA — The Australian Olympic Federation decided to pass along Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser's boycott call to the IOC.

One official of the federation said that since no country had yet called for a boycott it decided to pass the issue along to the international body.

BRAZIL — Silvo Padilha, president of the Brazilian Olympic Committee, said, "I am totally opposed to the boycott, which I see as an action contrary to the Olympic principles." The Brazilian government said it was "carefully studying the matter."

Protest may hit Lake Placid

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — Even though the White House pointedly has endorsed the Lake Placid Winter Olympics, Soviet intervention in Afghanistan is beginning to have an impact on next month's Games.

A small but growing number of people have tried to cancel their tickets to events where Soviet athletes will compete, and a Florida man wants to buy full page ads here with a message in Russian for spectators to wave.

Security officers say they may step up protection for the Soviet delegation, while organizers link a drop in contributions and ticket sales to the Afghanistan intervention.

"We've had a few people calling to try to cancel or exchange tickets, but we're not in a position to do that," said Michael Coogan of the Lake Placid Olympic Organizing Committee's admissions office.

"One man spoke to me on the phone the other day and was pretty indignant about it," Coogan said Thursday. "He called again last night and said he was going to complain to his congressman and to the press."

A talk show host in St. Petersburg, Fla., said he would try to raise roughly $7,000 to run color ads daily with an unspecified anti-intervention message in Russian printed over a flag of Afghanistan.

Lee Mandel, who chairs a call-in show on radio station WPLP, said he got the idea after fans clipped out bank-sponsored ads and turned an area stadium into "a sea of orange" to support the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

"Whenever you see a camera and you are in view, hold up your sign," he said. "I'm thinking of this in terms of international propaganda which of course Russia is so good at."

All the international television feeds will come from ABC, which paid for exclusive U.S. rights to the action and agreed to film all the events.

That could pose problems for Soviet television, if ABC pans a tightly packed crowd at a Soviet hockey game.

"Even if it is censored there, certainly the point would not be lost on the rest of the world," said Mandel.

Steelers' Lambert is Dracula of pro football rippers

The Los Angeles Times Syndicate

NEWPORT BEACH — The first time you see Jack Lambert, you're tempted to ask what he did with the fangs. Is that really tomato juice he's drinking or something he bit out of the neck of Earl Campbell? Was his coffin comfortable last night and what time does he turn into a wolf? The pro from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. If hair starts growing out of his face, get a mirror. Or get out.

All middle linebackers are a little crazy but Jack Lambert is the Dracula of the lot. Bela Lugosi gets the part. Lambert didn't come out of a college, he escaped from the laboratory.

He is carrying a glass of red juice in one hand and a glass of amber fluid in the other. Ginger ale. It's sovereign for the "tough of the flu" he is feeling this morning. The kind you get sitting too close to a bar rag.

He is wearing a hat emblazoned "Pittsburgh Police." "Did you get that before or after you were booked?" someone wants to know. Lambert doesn't even smile. "I do a lot of pistol shooting down at the police station and I have some very good friends on the force," he explains evenly.

LAMBERT IS the NFL's resident Jack the Ripper. A girl in a London fog had a better chance with the original than a guy carrying a football has with the Pittsburgh counterpart in the neutral zone. Four years ago, on national TV, in front of 80 million people, the viewers saw an enraged Jack Lambert pick up a Dallas safety man, Cliff Harris, hold him aloft, then send him crashing to earth like a guy throwing mail off a train. And Cliff Harris didn't even have the football.

A referee instantly shouted "You're out!" and football was almost treated to its first Super Bowl starter being thrown out of a game for roughness. The official later changed his mind. Some say because he looked over and Cliff Harris was still alive. That's one way you know Lambert didn't really mean it.

Jack Lambert plays football the way Attila the Hun sacked villages. When he's in there, the middle of the line looks like a shark frenzy. A man with a football drives him into the kind of towering rage most people reserve for wife stealers or kidnappers. The resultant reaction looks like a reformer busting up a saloon, or a cop jumping through a skylight into a crap game.

Jack Lambert is a man with a deep sense of what is right — and a 15-yard gain isn't. He's outraged when anyone trespasses on his property, whether it's a bar stool or the 50-yard line. He should wear "Violators will be Prosecuted" instead of No. 58 on his Pittsburgh Steelers uniform. And teams would do well to hang a "Do Not Disturb" sign on Lambert's sphere. Even if it's a bar stool, except that the last time Lambert attempted a zone defense there, he wound up with four stitches. Some NFL teams have been attempting to find the perpetrator ever since. Not to punish him, to sign him.

"Middle linebackers," the late Curly Lambeau used to say, "are people who start out in life tying tin cans to dogs' tails. They develop a fondness for train wrecks, and they can be spotted in the crowd because they're the ones smiling when everyone else is crying. Their idea of a good time is a mass funeral." Other coaches think you can detect a middle linebacker at birth. Other babies put bowls of porridge on their own heads. A middle linebacker puts it on yours.

MIDDLE linebackers have to have very bad tempers. They have to be easily offended and have little patience with intruders. They play the game in a cold rage. Their area of influence is not as clearly defined as other players, and they regard a successful enemy play anywhere on the field as a personal affront. Lambert flung Harris to the ground simply because his own placekicker had missed a field goal, and somebody had to be punished. They are football's avengers. Dick Butkus was a middle linebacker, for instance. So was Ray Nitschke. So, no doubt, was Genghis Khan. To play the position you have to have all the compassion of a Chinese war lord of a Mafia hit man. You play the game at a low smoulder. You scowl a lot, and growl even more. It's suicidal. Other guys have "assignments." Your assignment is the ball. A middle linebacker swoops like a hawk over a chicken. And he takes no prisoners.

Which is why you're surprised when you meet Jack Lambert. In thongs and jeans, he looks rather like that disc jockey on TV's "Station WKRP." Harmless. Dissolute, even. He's tall (6-4) but not big (212). He has long blond locks, talks in a soft baritone whisper. (He leads the Sugar Bowl interviews in "Whadeesays?") That stuff in the glass is indeed tomato juice, not somebody's Type O. He looks for all the world like an undergraduate at Kent State (which he was) and not the center of a defense so formidable that running on it is considered in the NFL as hazardous as swimming a piranha river in South America.

IT'S NO accident Pittsburgh started winning its Super Bowls when Jack Lambert joined this defense as a rookie in 1974. "Before him, the Pittsburgh line was tough. With him, it also became crazy," arrival coach explains. "The junkyard dog began to froth at the mouth, too."

At game time, Jack Lambert is like Lon Chaney when the moon comes out. It's as if the nice man next door, who always comes home with the briefcase and a lollipop, suddenly began getting down on all fours and barking — and his teeth grew.

Jack Lambert accepts the image. If it makes a running back get up on his tippy toes when he crosses Jack's no man's land, this Ripper approves. And he admits it takes him hours after a game before he can come down and trust himself in polite company where you can get 1 to 10 for doing what he does to Roger Staubach or Golden Richards. Besides, he is emotionally spent. "It takes me an hour just to get my shoes off."

JACK LAMBERT made 116 tough tackles this year. And resented every one he didn't make. He was in on 46 others. His fingerprints were on the necks of hundreds of other ballcarriers. He intercepted six passes, giving him half as many receptions as his tight end.

By his own admission, Jack Lambert has proposed to "227 girls." They all said no, he sighs. "I'm no day at the beach," he protests, "but I'm not that bad looking."

It possible they don't believe he is Jack Lambert. It is the notion here that the real Jack the Ripper spent his whole life in pubs bragging he was Jack the Ripper. And everyone said "Sure, sure, Jackie. Drink up." And maybe someday Pittsburgh's ripper may try to tell a bartender he was Jack Lambert and the barkeep will say "Sure, sure. Listen, Mister, the real Jack Lambert was between 7 and 9 feet tall and had these funny eyes and furry ears and white fangs, and he used hang Earl Campbell by his heels while he felt around for the ball. You don't look to me like you could hang a mirror, so give it a rest, will you."

Tom Watson chips for an eagle Friday during the Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament, but he had a shaky finish to yield the lead to Bob Hope winner Craig Stadler. Midland's John Adams also made the cut for the final two rounds of play. (AP Laserphoto)

Stadler surges to Williams lead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tom Watson surrendered a share of the lead with a shaky finish and Craig Stadler emerged with sole control of the top spot Friday in the second round of the $250,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

Stadler, a winner two weeks ago in the Bob Hope Desert Classic, had a second consecutive 68 and a 36-hole total of 136, eight shots under par.

Watson, golf's Player of the Year for the past three seasons and opening his 1980 campaign in this event, played well behind Stadler and was in a tie for the lead with two holes to play.

But Watson bogeyed the 17th, taking three from just short of the green, then three-putted for par-5 on the 18th, missing a 4-foot second putt.

That left him in a tie for second at 137 with Bobby Walz, Ray Floyd, D.A. Weirbring and longshot Terry Mauney. Watson shot a 69, Mauney 70, Walz and Weirbring 71's. Floyd birdied five of his last six holes for a 67.

Midland's John Adams ballooned to a 75 Friday after having a 70 on Thursday. But Adams was among the group at 145, the cutoff point for the final two rounds. Adams is nine strokes off the pace of Stadler, but is insured of making some money in this tournament.

Stadler and Floyd played the easier 6,667-yard North course at Torrey Pines. The other leaders were at the more difficult 7,002-yard South course, which will be the site of the last two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

"All in all, it was a good round," Watson said. "I made quite a few good, short par-saves puts. Actually that was the key to my round."

"I had to finish like that. I had a good chance to finish par-birdie and I finish bogey-par. That's just what I did yesterday, too. Hopefully I'll get away from those kind of finishes the next couple of days."

"I like my position. I'm only one back and there's a lot of golf left to be played."

Bill Calfee, the first-round leader, slipped to a 73 and was tied at 138 with Keith Ferguson, who had a 71 in the cool, windy weather that produced a few scattered raindrops on the picturesque courses overlooking the Pacific.

"It was a pretty solid round for me," said Stadler, a bearded man whose stocky build has won him the nickname "Walrus" among his fellow pros.

"It could have been a whole lot worse and it couldn't have been much better."

He dropped a 30-foot birdie putt on his first hole, then saved his big move for the end. He birdied the 14th after chipping to five feet, wedged to eight feet and made the birdie putt on the 16th and then chipped to three feet for the birdie-4 on the final hole that left him in the lead.

Watson had it 1-under but was scrambling at times before he reeled off a string of three consecutive birdies starting on the 13th. That gave him a piece of the lead, but his uncertain finish dropped him back into a tie for second.

After hitting top, Steelers go again

HONOLULU (AP) — They reached the top of the mountain, conquered all there was to conquer. Now they're being asked to go out and give it their all just one more time.

"It's tough, trying to get up for a game like this after a game like that. No question about it," Pittsburgh Steelers' running back Franco Harris said Friday, looking ahead to Sunday's Pro Bowl all-star game and reflecting back on last Sunday's Super Bowl. "But once you get around the guys again, get into the football environment, it gives you a lift."

"Being so high for so long, then knowing that the Super Bowl is over, yeah, you go through sort of a big crash," Harris said. "But then, coming here and being with the rest of the players, you say to yourself, 'Well, I guess I've got to do it one more time,' and being out on the field just automatically gets the adrenaline pumping."

Harris is one of seven Steeler starters on the American Conference team that will try to end the National Conference's two-year hold on the Pro Bowl title. The other Pittsburgh starters are safety Donnie Shell, linebacker Jack Lambert, defensive end L.C. Greenwood, defensive tackle Joe Greene, center Mike Webster and wide receiver John Stallworth. Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, the Most Valuable Player in the Steelers' 31-19 Super Bowl victory over Los Angeles, and cornerback Mel Blount are Pro Bowl reserves.

"I feel every time I step on a football field I've got to give the best I've got," said Shell. "I've got to find the intensity for a game like this 'cause it's not automatically going to be there like it is for a playoff game or the Super Bowl. I know it's down there somewhere in me. I've got to get it out and go with it."

Lambert, perhaps one of the most intense players in the National Football League when he sets foot on the field, says he thinks the AFC-NFC rivalry is, to some degree, a real one and not just something manufactured by sports writers. The AFC has won seven of the past eight Super Bowls and 10 of 14 overall. And in 1979 the AFC won 36 of 52 interconference games.

"I think most of the NFC guys get sick and tired of hearing about how much better the AFC is. I don't have that problem," Lambert said with a wolfish grin, "but I'm sure there are a lot of guys who'd like to prove they're just as good."

Lambert also pointed out that every player in the game wants to prove he's deserving of Pro Bowl status. "Obviously there's not that much at stake in this game, but the thing to remember is that there's a lot of pride here. We've been chosen by our peers."

That's what's on Greene's mind, too. "It's a different setting than the rest of the games you play each year," said the veteran of nine previous Pro Bowl appearances, the most of any player here. "You're with the guys recognized as the best in the league. It's always a fun time to get together and showcase our individual talents."

"It's a different setting from regular-season games and playoffs because those are strictly team concepts. Here we try to combine both, the team concept and the individual play."

UTPB women ranked in poll

The University of Texas of the Permian Basin women's tennis team has been named in the nation's Top 20 women's squads in a preseason poll conducted by College and Junior Tennis magazine, in conjunction with the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association.

Woody Kupper, director of student life and coordinator of campus recreation at UTPB, said UTPB is tied for 20th place with North Carolina in the January poll.

Southern California took the top spot followed by Stanford and Brigham Young.

Other Texas teams beside UTPB mentioned were Trinity University, fifth; SMU, 12th; TCU, 14th; and Texas, 15th.

College and Junior Tennis magazine will conduct its poll of eight regional ITCA members semi-monthly during the spring season.

Guthrie gets ride

ATLANTA (AP) — Janet Guthrie, the first woman to drive in the Indianapolis 500 auto race, will drive a car owned by Lindsey Hopkins Jr. of Atlanta in this year's race, Hopkins said Friday.

He said David Klym will be Guthrie's crew chief and that she would have a car and a backup.

For Guthrie, it will be her fourth attempt at the May classic. In her first try at Indy, she failed to make the field. Her second attempt earned her a top 10 finish but she went out early last year with mechanical problems.

"She's been there. She knows the track," said Hopkins Friday. "I feel fine with her driving. She's a good gal, better than a heck of a lot of the boys up there. I watched her last year at Milwaukee and she drove a fine race."

Buzzer bomb is a record

By TED MEIER Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It took a quarter century, but George Linn's heave of 84 feet, 11 inches in 1955 finally has been broken as the longest measured shot in basketball anywhere.

Les Henson of Virginia Tech did it with a bomb of 89 feet, 3 inches against Florida State last Monday at Tallahassee, Fla. It was first announced Henson's wild toss at the buzzer was a 93-footer, but that was corrected the next day when it was measured.

Linn swished in his long shot for Alabama against North Carolina in the Alabama Field House at Tuscaloosa on Jan. 4, 1955. Alabama beat the Tar Heels in that game, 77-75.

THESE ARE the only two measured long shots on record so Henson's must be regarded as a world record. The other notable long shots were just estimated.

Henson grabbed the rebound on a missed Florida State shot with one second to play. He whirled and let fly. The ball swished in as the buzzer went off giving Virginia Tech a 79-77 victory.

"It was a one in a million shot," Henson said afterwards. "I'll never make a shot like that again."

"Just incredible. I still can't believe it," commented Charlie Moir, Virginia Tech's coach.

Terlingua goes after third straight victory

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Midland's Terlingua, a daughter of 1973 Triple Crown winner Secretariat, is scheduled to face 10 rivals today as she shoots for her third straight victory in the $67,550 El Encino Stakes at Santa Anita.

Terlingua will be ridden by Darrel McHargue and was assigned 121 pounds for the 11-16-mile event. The winner will earn $40,550 if all 11 entries go to the post.

It's In The Air and Prize Spot figure to be Terlingua's top challengers in the race for 4-year-old fillies. It's In The Air will be ridden by Laffit Pincay and was assigned top weight of 124 pounds while Prize Spot will race under 121 pounds including jockey Sandy Hawley.

The only other entry who will carry more than 118 pounds is Our Sutti Pie, who will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker and was assigned 121 pounds.

Terlingua has won her only two starts of Santa Anita's winter meeting. She captured the Las Flores Handicap on Dec. 30 and set a stakes record with a 1:20.4-clocking in the seven-furlong La Brea Stakes a week later.

On Sunday, Valdez will make his seasonal debut in the $82,350 San Pasqual Handicap for 4-year-olds and up.

Valdez, one of the nation's top 3-year-olds in 1979, was assigned top weight of 125 pounds for Sunday's 11-16-mile race. It will mark his first appearance since he finished third to Spectacular Bid in the Meadowlands Cup last November.

Mets get bold new blood

NEW YORK (AP) — Pledging to win back the fans of New York, the new owners of the New York Mets took over the National League franchise Friday and were introduced at a packed Shea Stadium news conference.

Rangers roll over Eagles

GREENWOOD — The Greenwood Rangers and Rangerettes came away big winners Friday night, notching victories over Sterling City in District 13-B basketball action.

The Rangers, ranked second among the state's Class B teams, did nothing to endanger their lofty perch, bombing the Eagles, 69-29. Joe Mobley rifled in 16 points to pace the Rangers, 3-0 in 13-B and 23-2 overall, while Tommy Somers and Vendell Woolfolk each notched 12 and Tommy Pyle added 10. Loren Cantrell scored 16 for Sterling City, 2-1 and 15-5.

The Rangerettes, meanwhile, bombed Sterling City, 59-17, giving Greenwood a 3-0 district ledger and a 20-7 overall reading. Lisa Mobley and Nancy Ortiz each scored 10 for Greenwood while Charlotte Pitcock had nine.

In junior varsity play, Todd Brooks' 22 markers paced Greenwood to a 71-30 decision. Greenwood teams are back in action Tuesday night at Garden City.

Lee gym girls defeat Odessa

The Midland Lee girls opened the District 5-4A gymnastics run with a 91.05 to 61.8 victory over Odessa High, the defending state gymnastics champions.

Jennie Roper and Dayna Dixon led the way for the Rebels. Roper won the vault with a score of 7.2 and placed second in the All-Around with a 31.0. Dixon was third in the All-Around with a 29.75.

The Rebel girls travel to San Angelo Friday for their next district engagement at 5 p.m.

Tors rip Cubs, set up showdown

LAMESA — Eddie Arredondo, Pepe Lucio and Johnny Castro combined for 36 points Friday night as the Lamesa Golden Tornados defeated Brownfield, 54-44, in a District 3-AAA boys' basketball game.

The victory gives the Tors a 2-0 3-AAA record heading into Tuesday night's pivotal district home game against the powerful Snyder Tigers. Overall, Lamesa is 15-6 while Brownfield stands 9-12 and 1-1 in district.

Andrews takes first half title

ODESSA — The state-ranked Andrews Mustangs annexed the first half championship of District 2-AAA Friday night with an 85-75 victory over the Odessa Ector Eagles.

Brian Templeton drilled 29 points, Jerry Alaniz 26 and Keith Brooks 19 as Andrews ended the first half 5-0. The fifth-rated Mustangs are 24-2 overall.

Game scoring honors went to Ector's Ike Kimbrough with 34. Marcel Smith and Bruce Allen each added 10 for the Eagles, 4-1 and 14-10.

Howard Hawks face Amarillo College

BIG SPRING — Howard College will take a four game win streak into its WJCC game in the Panhandle Monday against Amarillo College. Coach Harold Wilder's Hawks defeated NMMI, 93-90, Thursday night, the first time HC has beaten the Institute in Roswell in five years.

Mike Wallace scored 31 points, marking the 10th time in the last 12 games the WJCC's scoring leader has surpassed 30 points in a game. Earlier in the week, Wallace scored 32 as Howard beat New Mexico Junior College. The Hawks are 13-8 for the season and with a 4-4 league record, still hopeful of earning a spot in the regionals at Midland in March.

Marfa escapes Rankin on foreign hardwood

RANKIN — Try as they might, the Rankin Red Devils just can't seem to shake their jinx against the Marfa Shorthorns. Friday night was no exception as the two teams went into triple overtime before Marfa escaped with an important 59-54 District 6-A boys' basketball victory.

Roger Sanchez scored 20 points and Omar Mediano collected 19 as the first half champion Shorthorns jumped to a 1-0 mark for the second half.

Rankin, 0-1 this half after a 3-1 mark including a loss to Marfa in the first session, received 18 points from Sam Cobb, 16 from Terry Turner and 14 from Rodney Johnson.

In the junior varsity game, Rankin grabbed a 63-36 victory as Bo Rose scored 16 points and Dennis Fibak 14.

Badgers trip Braves

IRAAN — Billy Ray Terry scored 19 points and Terry Harris and Jerry Stacy combined for 23 more as McCamey tripped Iraan, 46-35, in a District 6-A boys' basketball game Friday night.

Joe Scioneri scored 18 and Chico Banner added 11 for Iraan. In the girls' game, Iraan defeated McCamey, 49-36. Amy Lafoon scored 22 points and Stacy Garner added 12 for Iraan while Mary Ebarra netted 14 for McCamey.

Owls win 9-A first half title

BIG LAKE — The Reagan County Owls claimed the first half of the District 9-A basketball race with a 54-42 victory over Mason Friday night.

Coach Barry Voss' Owls finished the first go-round with a 5-0 ledger and stand 19-5 overall. James Phillips netted 18 points for Reagan County while Byron Bittner added 14.

John Watson had 15 and Tommy Haines 11 for Mason, 1-4 during the first half.

In the girls' game, Mason defeated the Owls, 52-45. The Puncheders ended the first half 4-1 and are 20-2 overall while Reagan County dropped to 2-3 and 14-9. Miranda Armstrong led the Owls with 18 points.

Reagan County begins second half action Tuesday night at Junction.

Award surprises Kingman

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave Kingman, the Chicago Cubs' sulking slugger, credits Lake Michigan for his tremendous success last season but insists he is mystified at being named Chicago Player of the Year.

"Yes, I'm mystified," said Kingman, "considering I was voted the award by the Chicago Baseball Writers."

Kingman all but completely shut off the press last season and insisted that was part of the reason for a great year in which he hit 48 home runs, drove in 115 runs and batted .288.

"I attribute being able to fish on the lake after a game for my success," said Kingman. "It's my recreation and enjoyment and helped me keep my sanity."

"Also, it was my third year as a regular. I didn't have any contractual problems and no outside distractions and there will be none this year," added Kingman, who had a tough time pulling himself away from San Diego and his fishing to come to town to accept his award at the writers' annual dinner scheduled Saturday night.

"I benefitted from having the peace of not having to go through interviews all the time," said Kingman. "Some guys love it. I don't get any enjoyment out of it. When spring training comes along, we will get together and hash out our differences."

"It's simple and easy for me not to talk to the press," said Kingman. "I don't care about the publicity. I'm a private person and the press violated my privacy. I solved the problem last year by making a uniform decision."

Kingman insists he has learned to keep baseball in its proper perspective.

"Baseball is a job to me and I try to do my best," he said. "It used to be a 24-hour a thing with me. It used to rule my life. But no more. That's not my personality. Pete Rose can do it. I can't. Everybody is different."

"What I'm trying to do is to concentrate on the simple things that are not complex," said Kingman. "What I'm trying to do is keep baseball within the confines of Wrigley Field. After that, Lake Michigan is a great escape for me."

Spurs whip Supersonics

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — George Gervin and James Silas teamed up in the final period to spark the San Antonio Spurs to a 125-116 National Basketball Association victory over the Seattle Supersonics here Friday night.

Gervin finished the night with 39 points, including eight in the final quarter and Silas scored 13 of his 32 points in the last period.

San Antonio's fourth straight victory boosted the Spurs to within one-half game off the Central Division lead and halted a Seattle winning streak at eight.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors advanced to the semifinals Friday night and was joined by unseeded John Sadri, who continued his week-long run of upsets in the $250,000 U.S. Pro Indoor Tennis Tournament.

Connors will play the winner of Friday night's quarterfinal between Billy Scanlon and Gene Mayer, while Sadri qualified to go against the survivor of a match between second-seeded John McEnroe and 10th-ranked Jose-Luis Clerc of Argentina.

The 27-year-old Connors, seeking an unprecedented fourth championship in this tournament, had little trouble ousting Wojtek Fibak of Poland 6-2, 6-2 in their round-of-eight competition.

Connors broke Fibak, seeded No. 9, in the seventh game when, after a long exchange, Fibak netted a deep forehand shot by Connors.

Connors finished the set with an overhead forehand smash that caught Fibak flatfooted.

Mustang shotputter fined

Mike Napper, a student from Chicago, was struck about an inch below his eye with a BB pellet. Napper had to go to a hospital emergency room to have the pellet removed from his face.

Two other students were struck by pellets, but did not require hospital treatment.

Carter admitted firing the BB gun, SMU security guards said.

"This was a very serious incident. But I believe Michael Carter, that alcohol was not involved, that he was sitting at his desk, heard the carolers and only meant to sting somebody, like popping them with a towel," Caswell said.

"But Michael Carter is very lucky and Michael Napper is very lucky, too," Caswell continued. "Carter's intent was not to maim or injure anyone. But it was a stupid thing to do."

Carter says he was sorry about the incident.

"It was a mistake. The campus police came to my room, and I told them I did it. I told the guy (Napper) I was sorry," Carter said, refusing to comment further on the incident.

Carter, who set numerous national records with the shot during his high school career at Dallas Jefferson High School, had the second best 16-pound shot put in America last year, 67.9.

He also is considered a prime candidate for the Moscow Olympics.

Cleanup begins at Livermore lab

Earthquake felt from Monterey to Reno

By FRANCES D'EMILIO

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Amid shattered windows, upended furniture and broken chemical bottles, workers returned to the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory on Friday to try to stanch radioactive water seeping from a tank cracked by a powerful earthquake.

Thousands of workers reported to the 640-acre nuclear weapons laboratory complex to begin the cleanup after Thursday morning's quake, which registered 5.5 on the Richter scale.

An estimated 50 gallons of water contaminated with radioactive tritium had leaked from the 30,000-gallon storage tank onto a concrete floor by late Friday morning, said Mike Ross, a lab spokesman.

He said the rate of spillage had slowed considerably from the quarter-minute rate immediately after the quake.

The amount of tritium — an isotope of hydrogen — in the water was equivalent to about half the concentration permitted to be discharged into public sewers under federal regulations, Ross said, stressing the leak posed no health hazard.

He said damage at the laboratory included 29 trailer-offices which were knocked off their jacks; possible structural damage to a four-story office building; and extensive debris from falling light fixtures and tiles.

About 28 people were treated at the laboratory for cuts and bruises after the quake, Ross said, and one man suffered a heart attack later in the day. Most of the 7,200 workers were evacuated briefly Thursday. Most returned to work Friday.

The temblor unleashed most of its force on the Livermore area, about 35 miles east of San Francisco. It was felt from Monterey, about 150 miles south of San Francisco, to Santa Rosa, 50 miles north, and up to 260 miles to the east in Reno, Nev.

Six aftershocks of between 5.2 and 3.6 on the Richter scale shook the area Thursday and Friday, but did no damage, officials said.

At least two dozen people were hospitalized in Livermore after the main quake, which crippled electric and telephone service and caused major damage, cracking roads and buildings throughout the city. Eighty-two people spent the night on cots furnished by the Red Cross after their homes were damaged.

The earthquake might have been considerably worse had it occurred along one of the state's major fault lines, said Will Perry, director of Emergency Services in Contra Costa County.

"The longer the fault, the higher the energy release when it slips," said Perry, a member of the state Seismic Safety Commission.

Perry said the faults in the area around the quake's epicenter just north of Livermore are short, unlike the San Andreas fault, which runs virtually the length of the state.

Officials said the quake occurred on the Antioch Fault, a relatively short fault which is not linked to major faults in the area.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs, with each increase of one number indicating a ten-fold increase in magnitude. A quake of 6 can cause severe damage.

Tass reports Sakharov's resettlement

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets said Friday that dissident leader Andrei Sakharov would not be prosecuted and scoffed at the White House for its "bombastic and highflown" expressions of support for him.

In a commentary, the Soviet news agency Tass called Sakharov a "slanderer and renegade" and portrayed the measures taken against him as humane and fair. "Sakharov was not exiled," Tass said, "he was moved outside the city limits of Moscow" and "resettled" in Gorky, 250 miles east of the capital.

Tass said Sakharov's Western "wellwishers" were not moved by sympathy for him, "but were infuriated that they can no longer count on him as a source of slanderous information on the Soviet Union and its policies."

Tass confirmed a statement made earlier in the day by a high Soviet official, Vitaly Kobysch, that Sakharov would not be criminally charged, and that he would be allowed to continue his work.

Kobysch, chief of the United States section at the international department of the Communist Party Central Committee, said: "Proceeding from humane notions and taking into account his previous merits, he (Sakharov) will not be charged."

Kobysch also said that Sakharov, a brilliant nuclear physicist who played a major role in the development of the hydrogen bomb in the Soviet Union before he turned to dissident activity, would be free to continue his scientific work.

Two expatriate Russians now living in the Netherlands, Dr. Mikhail Shtern and his son Victor, announced plans for an international tribunal to focus world attention on the banishment of Sakharov, a Nobel Peace Prize winner.

The elder Shtern told a news conference in The Hague, "Sakharov's name stands not only for the fight for human rights in the Soviet Union, but he is also the personification of the Russian conscience. We want to help him to continue his activities and we want to tell the Soviets to leave him alone."

The two Shterns said the international tribunal will open its sessions in the next few weeks probably in Amsterdam. About 100 invitations have been sent to public figures, including exiled Soviet author Alexander Solzhenitsyn, former U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, French existentialist writer Jean-Paul Sartre and American writer Saul Bellow, all Nobel prize winners.

The Shterns said the tribunal would not have a judicial character but would be run on conference lines with public sessions. It is to be known as "The Sakharov Tribunal of Conscience."

There had been speculation Sakharov might face criminal charges, possibly for treason, after the government newspaper Izvestia published a strong denunciation of his activities Wednesday.

Among other things, the paper said that Sakharov was "used as a channel for intelligence services of imperialist powers to worm out important state secrets of the Soviet Union."

Soviet defector says U.S.S.R. should be forcefully punished

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prominent Soviet defector said Friday that Russian leaders could steer their "cruel and dangerous society" to world domination unless forcefully punished for throwing military might into Afghanistan.

Arkady Shevchenko, a United Nations undersecretary general when he defected in 1978, made a rare public appearance to give a House Intelligence subcommittee a chilling account of life in his homeland and to comment on recent Soviet actions.

Unless the Soviets are punished "in specific, concrete and forceful ways for their aggression in Afghanistan, the world will find itself in the not-far-distant future under the dominance of Moscow," he said.

Boycotting the Olympic Games would be a "serious blow to the Kremlin," he said, since Soviet leaders hold "a long-cherished objective to have such a huge, political show in Moscow."

He elaborated on the Soviet-Afghanistan situation and on possible U.S. steps in a later secret hearing.

But he gave his first personal explanation of his defection in a hearing room crowded with reporters and onlookers, including one from the Soviet news agency Tass.

As Shevchenko rose in the Soviet diplomatic ranks, he said, he decided his nation's foreign policy "was not a policy of peace but a policy of aggression, expansion and enslavement of other people."

Back at home, he said, "tragically for the Soviet people, there are clear and unmistakable signs that Stalinist measures are beginning to revive in order to curtail the growing discontent of the people."

Midland's Westside Optimists given club's highest honors

The Westside Optimist Club of Midland and its past president, Danny Storch, have received the two highest awards made at the club level by Optimist International, according to James E. Creed, president of Optimist International in St. Louis.

The club received the Honor Club Award, a medallion attached to the club banner, and Storch was given the Distinguished President Award. The awards were made for exceptional leadership and accomplishment.

The Distinguished President Award, a citation and suitably engraved wristwatch, is given only to the presidents of clubs qualifying as Honor Clubs.

The awards for outstanding work as a community service organization were presented to Storch at the second quarter board meeting in Stephenville Jan. 19.

"We are very proud to learn of our winning these awards, and particularly proud of our president of last year, Danny Storch, who head-

JA firms hold trade fair today

A dozen booths will display information and wares of teen-age manufacturing companies in the Junior Achievement Trade Fair at Dellwood Mall today.

Members of the Junior Achievement companies will be selling a wide variety of items in the all-day event including planter boxes, lamps, trivets, picture frames, boot jacks and fire extinguishers.

Each group will be in competition for awards for top sales in units and dollars and for displays of company information and free enterprise.

In addition to the Midland JA companies, two groups from Hobbs, N.M., also will participate.

Alf Landon discharged

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Former Republican presidential nominee Alf M. Landon left the hospital Friday, saying he felt somewhat weak after two days of tests.

"I can't say I'm right smart pert, but I'm mighty glad to get out," said the 92-year-old Landon as a nurse wheeled him from Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center here.

ed the club when this activity record was achieved," said current club president Jim Foster.

Texas district. Storch went one step further and influenced the Seminole Optimist Club toward winning the Honor Club status their first year in existence," Foster said.

The Westside Lions Club, chartered in 1968 with 25 members, now has 40 members in the North Texas District of Optimist International.

Truly Unique Design
Wall-to-wall carpeting, new dishwasher, range/oven, garbage disposal, washers and dryers, plus a fireplace.

Extraordinary Value
With home prices spiraling, Idlewild Village is a great value, affordably priced, within the budget of most homebuyers. If your income was less than $30,000.00 in 1978 or 1979, you may be able to buy under a unique mortgaging program.

Featuring 9.5% financing, Approximately 91/8% interest, 30 year loan

Apartment dwellers paying as little as $225.00 per month may be surprised to learn that they may be wasting over $600.00 per month by renting, instead of buying.

Don't Delay
Stop by our office at 4501 W. Wadley for a free computerized personal budget analysis, or write P.O. Box 5185, Midland, Texas 79701.

Duplex ownership gives many people the opportunity to buy their first home, with the tenant helping pay the mortgage.

Teen-age girl, brother say Bundy 'resembles' suspect

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A teen-age girl and her older brother testified Friday that Theodore Bundy "closely resembles" a man who approached her in Jacksonville the day before murder victim Kimberly Leach disappeared in nearby Lake City.

And a Jacksonville sporting goods store owner told a circuit court jury that the convicted killer had purchased a large hunting knife at his store in early February 1978.

Prosecutors contend that Bundy stole a white van in Tallahassee, approached the Jacksonville girl on Feb. 8, 1978, and kidnapped and killed the 12-year-old Leach girl the following day.

Leslie Ann Parmenter, 14 at that time, said a man driving a white van approached her in a parking lot near her junior high school. She said he wore a blue coat with a plastic badge that read "Fire Department" and bore the name "Richard Burton."

"He said somebody had pointed me out to him... It was like he was unsure of himself," Miss Parmenter told the jury.

The man sped away in his van after her brother arrived to pick her up, the blond teen-ager said.

She said she couldn't positively identify the man as the defendant. But when asked if she saw anyone who "closely resembles" him, she pointed to the gray-suit-ed Bundy.

Her 22-year-old brother, Danny Parmenter, told the jury that after he drove up in his pickup, "I stuck my head out the window and asked him what he wanted."

"He didn't answer so I got out of the truck and walked over there," Parmenter continued. "He time of the Leach slaying was already in the van ing with the door closed... He acted very nervous, rolled his window up on his van and drove off."

Danny Parmenter said he took the van's Florida license tag number, 13D-11-300. That's the same number other prosecution witnesses have said was on a white van Bundy was driving at the time of the Leach slaying.

Testimony centers on shotgun

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — The man who examined a shotgun and shells confiscated after 15-year-old Roxanne Casas was slain testified Friday "it is my opinion that the five fired shotgun shells were fired from the shotgun."

Glen Johnson of the Texas Rangers also said he found that 35 pellets from Miss Casas' head were the same No. 6 pellets that were in the shotgun.

He added the shotgun ejected eight feet to the right and two feet ahead of the person firing the gun.

Johnson also said he found more glass fragments in Stone's driveway when he went to the house Nov. 2 to make some measurements. The glass was similar to that in the truck's shattered windows, he said, but he could not make a positive identification.

Johnson testified in the trial of self-professed witch Loy Dean Stone, who is accused of the Halloween 1977 shotgun slaying of Miss Casas as she sat in a pickup in his driveway. Stone, 50, and his wife Louise have pleaded innocent to the charge. Mrs. Stone, 49, was granted a separate trial.

The Stones both are members of the Church of Wicca, a witches' group that believes in reincarnation and psychic powers. They do not believe in Satan.

Dr. Bill D. Murphy, the physician who examined Miss Casas, said she had no pulse, blood pressure or heartbeat, and that her eyes were dilated.

Murphy, who also examined two other teen-agers injured in the shooting, said he believed both Miss Casas and Maria Trevino were shot from their wounds 10 feet because of powder burns in their wounds.

Under cross-examination, Murphy he arrived at the hospital at 9:15 p.m., half an hour after the pickup carrying the teen-agers arrived.

Castro County Sheriff Granville Martin testified earlier Friday he did not tag the shotgun he took from Stone, but that he could identify it, despite the fact it is similar to hundreds of shotguns.

Attorney Travis Shelton, who is defending Stone, questioned Martin in a skeptical tone about the sheriff's ability to identify the gun without a tag.

"You're guessing that that's the gun, aren't you sheriff?" Shelton asked.

"No, I am not guessing," Martin replied. "I know the gun, sir. I'd taken it from Mr. Stone."

Martin said he took the shotgun from Stone the night of the slaying.

"In the county, there could be 100 or maybe 500 shotguns" similar to the one taken from Stone, Shelton ventured.

Martin agreed.

Shelton then took the sheriff to task for not examining the pickup truck for evidence. Martin said he turned some shotgun pellets over to the Department of Public Safety for examination, but testified he could not remember where he found the pellets.

"You remember this gun awfully well, sheriff, but you don't remember turning over some pellets," Shelton said.
