Congress gets Carter's 'prudent' budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter today sent Congress a 1981 budget totaling $616 billion that proposes major new spending for the military while putting a partial lid on domestic spending, despite his own predictions of sluggish economic growth and high unemployment.

The budget does not include any tax cuts, which Carter warned could worsen inflation, already projected at 10.4 percent this year. He declared the budget is 'prudent and responsible" and "will prepare America for the new decade." It provides for a deficit of $16 billion, making it the 12th consecutive budget to show red ink. Formally signing the budget document in a Cabinet Room ceremony this morning, Carter said the new spending plan calls for the smallest deficit in

While emphasizing he was making no prediction, the president contended that if the economy were to avoid an expected recession, with unemployment remaining at present levels, the new budget actually would show a surplus. This, however, would depend on the unlikely event that Carter would not seek additional money later in the year for spending not envisioned in the budget. On Capitol Hill, some members of Congress praised the budget's increased emphasis on defense, while others said the spending plan was politically year, followed by a slow economic recovery continuing through 1981.

"The president's budget better gauges the public mood than it does the nation's needs," said Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill., a member of the House Budget Committee. "While you're upping defense, you're cutting aid to the handi-offending anyone in an election year."

Members of the House Armed Services Committee, including Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., predicted that Congress will approve at least as much as Carter is seeking in military spending, and possibly more.

Charles L. Schultze, the president's chief economic adviser, said the Carter budget foresees a mild recession in 1980, making it the first presidential budget ever "to forecast a recession." The recession is expected in the first half of the Total spending in the budget is equal to $2,775 for each American, an increase of $235 in per capita spending over fiscal 1980, for which total outlays are estimated at $564 billion. Carter said virtually all of the increase is due to

The 1981 budget represents a reordering of the administration's priorities, increasing defense outlays by $15.3 billion to counter a Soviet military buildup and other global turmoil, while proposing overall restraint on domestic expenditures to help control inflation.

"The uncertain and sometimes hostile world we live in requires that we continue to rebuild our defense forces," the president said in his budget message to Congress. "I cannot ignore the major increases in Soviet military spending that have taken place inexorably over the past 20 years."

The budget also includes increased spending for intelligence activities, one official said, but the amount was not made known as outlays for intelligence

Budget includes record U.S. defense spending

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter said today the United States must spend a record $142.7 billion next year on strengthening its defenses "to contain Soviet aggression" and assure U.S. security in the face of growing Russian military power.

Carter's budget message to Congress had the ring of the Cold War years, when U.S. policy was built around the concept of "containing" communism within its borders.

The president told Congress he could not ignore "the implications of terrorism in Iran or Soviet aggression in Afghanistan.

Only last week, Carter asserted in his State of the Union address that the United States would consider a Soviet effort to gain control of the oil-rich Persian Gulf area as a threat to U.S. vital interests and that America would act to repel such an effort.

"Our forces are adequate to protect us against today's threats, but Soviet Carter told Congress in the message explaining his budget for fiscal 1981. which begins Oct. 1

"Our forces must be increased if they are to contain Soviet aggression and continue to assure our security in the future. This will require a sustained commitment over a period of years," he said

Defense Secretary Harold Brown indicated the administration may come back to Congress later to ask for still higher military spending "in light of events that have occurred in the world after the fiscal 1981 budget was finalized in late December.

At a briefing, Brown said "a clear picture of increasing Soviet pressure was there before Afghanistan."

Brown said an adverse trend in relative U.S. and Soviet military power has worried U.S. officials for a considerable time "as has the prospect of Soviet attempts to take advantage of that...military buildup" either by exerting political pressure or by military action

"Those have now begun to happen in more visible ways," Brown added, referring to the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan as "the very first direct use of Soviet military power outside the (Warsaw pact) bloc.

As for the SALT treaty, Brown said the Carter administration has "by no means abandoned the idea" of ratifying this agreement to limit strategic nuclear weapons on both sides.

But he said that "we would have to consider substantial expansions" in U.S. nuclear weapons programs if the Soviets "expand their capabilities or begin new programs that would be

Carter's request for record defense spending probably will be welcomed by many members of Congress be-cause the Afghan invasion, following the Iranian revolution which exposed the weakness of the U.S. position in the Persian Gulf, has brought a sharp swing in mood. Also, public opinion polls reflect a surge in citizen support for greater defense preparedness.

The $142.7 billion spending request is $15.3 billion bigger than the fiscal 1980 total and represents "real growth" - after inflation is considered - of about 3.3 percent.

Carter at the same time asked for budget authority totaling $158.2 billion, up $19.5 billion. The budget authority figure is larger than the fiscal 1981 spending estimate because some of the authorized outlays in that section are part of ongoing programs and would come in future years. "The increased level of defense resources proposed for 1981 would help preserve strategic deterrence, improve the combat effectiveness and readiness of our NATO forces, and enhance our capability to deter conflict worldwide through the rapid deployment of forces," Carter's message said

The president proposed spending advances all across the spectrum of U.S. defense programs, including strategic weapons such as the new MX mobile intercontinental ballistic missile, additional Air Force and Navy fighter and attack planes, more new warships and significant production of the Army's new XM tank if it

A major focus in the new budget is a start-up of two hardware programs designed to give U.S. forces the abili-ty to reach distant areas such as the Persian Gulf quickly in emergencies, and to fight when they get there.

Carter proposed about $294 million for the first two of an eventual fleet of about 14 depot ships, which would be loaded with Marine combat gear and stationed at strategic ports abroad, and for development of a new longrange CX transport plane, which could carry heavy equipment such as tanks over thousands of miles.

Islamic nations urged to join in condemning of Soviet action

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) -Pakistan's president and a succession of foreign ministers called on a meeting of most of the world's Islamic nations to join in condemnation of the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan and retaliatory measures against the

"This is the first instance since World War II when a superpower has made a sovereign and independent Moslem country the target of its attack.... In plain words, if this precedent is allowed to perpetuate itself, then what has happened in Afghanistan today can happen in another country tomorrow.'

Zia urged the Moslem states to consider "ways and means" for their 'collective defense rather than the defense of individual nations. History bears witness that only by collective and concerted action can nations withstand the challenges that are

The foreign ministers of Gambia, Malaysia and Morocco also condemned the Soviet intervention before the hall was cleared of reporters. A total of 34 Moslem nations and the Palestine Liberation Organization are attending the conference, while Afghanistan, Syria and six others stayed away.

Afghanistan's Soviet-backed gov ernment announced it would consider decisions made at the Islamabad conference "null and void." However, Afghan President Babrak Karmal made a new overture to the Moslem guerrillas fighting communist rule by promising "full freedom and immuni-' to religious and tribal leaders who fled the country after the first communist coup 21 months ago.

The new communist government, Afghanistan's third, also announced it was taking down all leftist slogans and pictures including red signs proclaiming worker solidarity.

There also have been unconfirmed rumors the Soviets will replace Karmal soon with someone who has a reputation as a devout Moslem more independent of Moscow. According to the rumors, the Soviet troops will spend about a year rebuilding the decimated Afghan army and at least a year more wiping out the last pockets of rebel resistance.

Meanwhile, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was visiting Syria and in a speech there charged that the United States is "the worst enemy of Islam and Third World na-

He said the United States wants "to try to convince the Islamic world that it wants to protect them against socalled Soviet ambitions at a time when it protects Israel and its occupation of Islamic lands and holy places.

Iran's biggest threat is presence of Soviet troops, Bani Sadr says

Abolhassan Bani Sadr, the apparent victor in Iran's presidential election, was quoted as saying today the problem of the American hostages in Tehran could be easily resolved and that Iran's most immediate threat was from Soviet troops in Afghanistan, who "are at our

Bani Sadr, Iranian finance minister and former foreign minister, said Iran would give all types of aid, including military assiltance, to Afghan rebels fighting Soviet troops, according to the French newspaper Le Monde. But he said he disapproved of U.S. aid to Pakistan and rejected as "unacceptable" Washington's promise of military and economic aid to fend off any Soviet moves toward Iran once the hostages are released, tyhe

Certainly we intend to resist Russian expansionism, but we are not going to give that to the Americans as a pretext for retaking a foothold here," he was quoted. "Washington will truly help us confront our neighbor to the North by declining to interfere in our affairs, to intrigue and to plot against our revolution.

Le Monde said Bani Saadr would not elaborate on his position regarding release for the approximately 50 hostages, now in their 86th day of captivity, until he had discussed the matter with Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini

The 79-year-old Khomeini, hospitalized for what his doctors called a minor heart ailment, was reported in satisfactory condition today and was being transferred out of an intensive care unit where he has spent the last five days.

Before freedom could be considered for the hostages, "the American government must first of all issue a declaration acknowledging the crimes it committed in Iran through the imperial regime, as well as our right to begin proceedings against the shah and his followers," Le Monde quoted Bani Sadr. "The problem of the hostages can then be easily re-

That statement was similar to others he made over the weekend since claiming victory in the election

Le Monde also quoted him as say-

He did not support a compromise framework on the hostage situation which had been discussed by U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, claiming it was "blackmail."

He did not elaborate. He pledged to continue the revolution's fight against both Soviet and American imperialism. But he said the most immediate threat was from the Soviets, who have had an estimated 85,000 troops in Afghanistan since late December.

'The Russians are at our doors. If they succeed in reaching the warm seas - the Persian Gulf - they would control not only Iran but the whole of the Middle East and the Indian subcontinent," he said.

"That is why I judge that it is our duty to furnish as fast as possible multi-form aid — financial, military, food and diplomatic - to the Afghan

He rejected out of hand Washington's promise of military and economic aid to Iran once the Americans are released. "A dependent country is particularly vulnerable to the dominating power. More quakes predicted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Scientists are warning that Northern Cali fornians can expect more earthquakes following nine sizable tremors in the last four days.

Earthquake sequences of this type are relatively common," said Dr. Robert Uhrhammer, a researcher at the University of California Seismographic Station in Berkeley. "We think the sequence will continue for several days or possibly weeks.

The others will probably be smaller and further apart in time. We have no way of telling for certain, but it is likely that the worst is over."

The latest tremor rattled the Livermore Valley 30 miles east of San Francisco - site of Thursday's big earthquake - at 2:58 a.m. Sunday, causing widespread minor damage but no serious injuries, authorities

The earthquake registered 4.0 on the Richter scale, not so violent as the 5.6 quake that shook the area at 6:33 p.m. Saturday At Valley Memorial Hospital in Livermore, where nearly 40 persons were taken after Thursday's quake, six earthquake related injuries were counted Saturday night.

Hospital spokeswoman Margy back sprains or bruises and no one was admitted for treatment.

Sunday's quake was the ninth since Thursday to register a magnitude of at least 4.0 — including six aftershocks between Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. There also have been about 100 minor jolts.

Laurence Wells, who was working in a railroad tower in Fremont at the Odell said the injuries were mostly time, said the Sunday shaker "was quite a bit different.

"The one Saturday was a big jolt and then shaking," he said. "The Sunday morning one was just a rapid shaking from start to end and a lot shorter than the other one. It definitely made me jump.'

Woman hurt in one-car crash

A Midland woman was listed in satisfactory condition this morning in Midland Memorial Hospital after she was injured late Sunday in a one-vehicle accident at 1000 W. Marlin St.

Alma Rosa Castillo, 18, 1505 S. Jefferson St., was admitted to the hospital shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday with a broken ankle.

Ms. Castillo was injured when the vehicle she was driving south on Johnson Road ran off the roadway, struck a street sign and a tree, and damaged a sewer pipe, according to police reports.

Two other persons were slightly injured later Sunday when two vehicles were involved in a collision at 1212 W. Cuthbert Ave.

Jeffary C. Hayes of Monahans and Charles Brooks, address unavailable, were treated and released from Midland Memorial Hospital for injuries sustained in the mishap.

According to police reports were injured about 9:14 p.m. Sunday while Hayes was driving his vehicle east on Cuthbert Avenue and another vehicle, driven by Jeffrey A. Smith, 800 N. F St., was westbound on Cuthbert Avenue.

Cash stolen from service station

Burglars reportedly took $340 in cash from a Midland service station

Roy Elmore, 3603 Thomason Drive, reported the burglary of the Exxon service station at 2601 Garden City Highway to police shortly after 10 p.m. Sunday.

According to police reports, entry to the service station was gained through a south bay window.

Stone, 50, is accused in the shotgun slaying of Roxanne Casas, 15, as she sat in a truck in his driveway near Dimmitt in the Texas Panhandle. Mrs. Stone, 49, has been Martin told State Dis-trict Judge John T. Boyd he had driven past the Stones' house 10 minutes before he was alerted to the shooting.

On his return, he said, Stone approached him with a shotgun in his hand. He said Mrs. Stone also was outside, pointing to two cars and a pickup on the highway that she said had been harassing them. Martin and a Texas Department of Public Safety trooper confiscated a shotgun and three unspent shells from Stone. A later search netted five spent shells and a rusty old shotgun.

Carter has support

Iowa's recent presidential caucus contained a message for the Soviet Union, although Leonid Brezhnev and his comrades may be too confused at this point to understand.

In the state's balloting, voters did more than merely indicate a preference for President Jimmy Carter over challenger Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachu-

What President Carter's trouncing of Sen. Kennedy in Iowa should signal to the Soviets is the fact that despite the penchant of Americans to complain about an incumbent leader, that leader still maintains broad public support in wrestling with current international problems.

It's really easy to understand how the Soviets might be confused. Opinion polls throughout President Carter's term of office have told the entire world what type of job rating we Americans give him. He's criticized on newspaper editorial pages and on television and radio commentaries.

It's often Carter and not the Congress who bears the brunt of our complaints about the nation's ills; we blame our president for not solving our problems

What the Soviets fail to comprehend, perhaps, is that it is our God-given right in this land of the free and home of the brave to complain about our president and to point out his shortcomings. It is our cherished right, a right unlike that enjoyed by any other nation Hampshire." of people in this world.

Our national constitution guarantees our freedom of speech and right to unfettered expression. It gives us our right, if you please, to complain about our president and the job he's doing.

The vote of Iowans shouldn't be construed to be any more a reelection endorsement for Carter than are the comments appearing here. Many months of primaries will pass before the Democratic and Republican nominees of the American public are chosen.

What the Soviets should understand from the voting in Iowa is something they've apparently failed to grasp: That he's still our incumbent president and he has broad support from Americans in dealing with problems on an international scale, especially Soviet aggression.

We have the right as Americans to complain about our president, our members of Congress, our way of life, our high taxes, our staggering inflation.

When challenged the American people throw up a solidified front unlike any seen in any other nation around the world.

The Soviets should understand that well. If they don't and if Soviet aggression, such as the invasion of Afghanistan continues, they'll come face-to-face with the fundamental reality that when the United States is challenged it responds to that challenge with ac-

A lot of grief in the world could be alleviated if the Soviets would study American psychology a little more carefully

Mark Russell says

After Iowa, here's what the candidates are secretly thinking. Teddy Kennedy: "Well, what do you expect from a state where they don't read anything but the Reader's Digest."

Ronald Reagan: "I was born in Iowa and I should have done better and if the people I grew up with were still around, I would have.

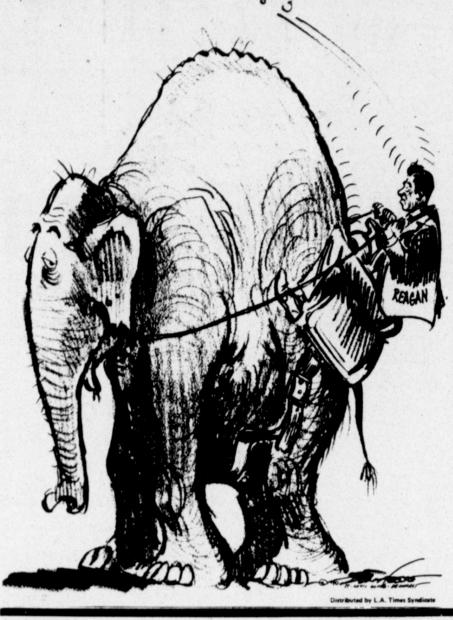

Howard Baker: "I thought I would wow 'em with that film of me telling off an Iranian student. But I'll do better - he's now on my staff and we've tightened up the act for New George Bush: "We did it - we said we were gonna do it - and we did it. I wonder what the Iranians would charge to burn me in effigy.'

Jimmy Carter: "As I was saying, the affairs of state are keeping me busy in the White House. And y'all know the reason. When you're hot you're hot; and when you're not you're Teddy."

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senate report warned of invasion

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - By his own admission, Jimmy Carter was caught off guard by the Afghanistan invasion because he trusted his summit partner, Leonid Brezhnev, who had blandly denied that the Soviets had aggression in mind. Afterward, Carter lamented that the Soviet leader had lied to him

Certainly, the evidence was available to the president that the Soviets were preparing to strike across the Afghan border. Last September, a top-secret report of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee laid out the probability of a Russian military move there with remarkable clarity.

The report, prepared by three staff members, was distributed to key senators on the committee. Its contents were also communicated to the White

I have obtained a copy of the stillsecret Sept. 21 report, titled "Developments in Afghanistan and Possible Increased Soviet Intervention." If the president had read it, he might have been less taken aback by the Russians' Christmas-week invasion. The Senate report notes first that the bloody coup which replaced one Soviet puppet with another earlier in September gave the Kremlin essentially two choices: Increase its commitment in Afghanistan or let a Soviet-backed regime go down the

The reason the Russians faced this tough decision, the report explained, was the deteriorating situation in Afghanistan. Noting "widespread but uncoordinated insurgencies...in all parts of the country," the report added: "Extensive Soviet material support, together with several thousand military cads,' have enabled the regime to retain a tenuous hold on power. The government's position

The report cited intelligence warnings of "the somewhat increased readiness of one Soviet airborne division in a Soviet military district adjacent to Afghanistan," and speculated that the Russians were concerned about the possible need to protect or evacuate the 5,000 to 6,000 Soviet advisers and dependents.

continues to erode, however.

But the report also raised the possibility that the Russians' increased military readiness in the area might reflect "an unfolding coherent plan to intervene massively to support (former Afghan President Hafizullah) Amin." In this instance, of course, there was a massive intervention, but one that resulted in President Amin's overthrow and execution.

The committee report listed five factors that were "pushing Moscow toward deeper military involvement" in Afghanistan:

1. Traditional Russian designs on its neighbor dating back to the

2. Hopes that a Marxist ally might add to Soviet influence on Pakistan, India and Iran;

3. Desire for a buffer against Red China; 4. The need to show the United States that the Soviets would not let its hands be tied by detente, and "The creeping military logic" that the Afghan rebels could be beaten by a little more Russian involve-

Three factors "influencing Moscow to be very cautious" were also listed in the report: Soviet fears that they'd be unable to control Amin, that they might get bogged down in a Vietnam situation, and that the United States might show "assertiveness" by taking counteraction elsewhere, or maybe killing SALT II.

In addition to the senate committee report, another knowledgeable source gave the Carter administration a solid early warning of the Soviet attack. In October, Pakistani Foreign Minister Agha Shahi told both the senate committee and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance "flat out that the oviets were building up for a move into Afghanistan and then Pakistan," sources told my reporters Dale Van Atta and Hal Straus.

Yet Jimmy Carter ignored the COPTER CRISIS - Iraq trains some of the world's most vicious terrorist groups, and has been properly condemned for this by the Carter administration. But behind the scenes, the State Department is quietly helping the Iraqis close a deal for six high-performance helicopters that could be used to further terrorist activities.

The "executive" choppers — Italian-made Sikorsky S-61s with American-produced General Electric engines - are luxury models that make those in the presidential fleet look like stripped-down jalopies. Each has a kitchen, a bathroom, a lounge with plush upholstered couch and a small conference table.

The contract specifications indicate use by top officials. But it would be no great trouble to convert the highspeed helicopters for use as weapons carriers, hit-and-run taxis for platoon-sized terrorist squads, low-level strafing or military observation.

Yet the Commerce Department. just recently embarrassed over its technology transfer policies, okayed the sale of the six potential military copters, and Foggy Bottom bureaucrats have added their seal of approval to the smelly deal.

After a similar export approval for Libya, another friend of international terrorists, Sens. Abraham Ribicoff. D-Conn., Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., and Richard Stone, D-Fla., were ready to ram through a strict law embargoing the sale of militarily useful equipment to countries supporting terrorists. To forestall such legislation, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance promised to inform the senators when such deals were cooking.

Vance is now trying to persuade the senators to okay the Iraqi sale. His argument is that the French will supply the helicopter engines if we don't, and that, anyway, Iraq is showing signs of hostility to both Iran and the Soviet Union - and, as the Arabs say, "the enemy of my enemy is my At this writing, the senators have not agreed on an answer for the State Department's hardware salesmen.

Sen. Kennedy's problems reveal shrinking violet

ORLANDO, Fla. - Sen. Edward Kennedy has a problem. For him, it's an old one, but for those Democrats who can abide neither President Carter nor the thought of voting Republican, it is a newly discovered

The poor guy is a dummy.

CHARLEY REESE

Anybody who makes President Carter look articulate and wise by comparison is in bad shape. From the moment Kennedy stepped from being the sphinx-like great hope of liberalism to being an actual candidate, his political future has grown progressively darker. By now it is obvious that Ted Kennedy: (1) cannot use the language the way his brothers did to inspire and to crystalize issues; (2) cannot organize a campaign; (3) cannot think clearly if left to his own resources, and (4) mistakes volume for eloquence. Who would have dreamed that one day a yawn-producing president would be challenged by a yawn-producing Kennedy?

When I say the senator is a dummy, I do not mean that he has a low I.Q. He just doesn't appear to bother with thinking about issues or philosophy. He is an actor who reads the scripts placed in front of him, a not unusual phenomenon in American politics. So what you need to know about Kennedy is not what he thinks, because he doesn't, but what the people around him think. And that's his problem. The people around him are the respectable left (that's opposed to

Morris Dees, a very smart attorney who sits on the dividing line between respectable and radical left, is a good wether vane. Mr. Dees is one of the better political fundraisers. When I saw him beating the bushes for Carter in 1976, I knew that despite Carter's campaign rhetoric, he was going to be a liberal president. Dees, and most of the other McGovernites have, as I predicted, switched to Kennedy.

This is another problem for the senator. Carter at least had sense enough to hide his McGovernites during the campaign, but Kennedy, apparently devoid of any ideas of his own, is letting them play Edgar Bergen to his Charlie McCarthy

These McGovernites are a mirror image of the doctrinaire conservatives. They would rather be "right" than elected and so despite every indication that the American public has swung right, they are steering Kennedy left.

Dees probably played a part, for example, in drafting the Kennedy gun control bill, S. 1936, the most massive assault against the Constitution since the War of 1812. There is no way the facts can justify such an abuse of civil liberties or the creation of such a bureaucracy as this bill proposes. While the bill reflects the perpetual hysteria of the anti-gun nuts, the point is that neither Jack nor Bobby would have allowed someone to push them out front on such a narrow issue in the middle of a campaign.

Kennedy has another problem. With American hostages in Iran and Soviet tanks in Afghanistan, he will have a sweet time explaining his antidefense voting record to the American people who are just waking up to discover how weak politicians like Kennedy have made us Here again, the McGovernites around Kennedy are all disarmament buffs. Even American Jews, who have traditionally voted liberal and Democrat and who despite Carter for his Arab favoritism, have come to realize that it is futile to vote support for Israel if there is nothing in the U.S. militaruy pantry.

The Yom Kippur War proved that so long as the Soviet Union arms Israel's enemies with the latest weapons, Israel cannot survive a major war with U.S. logistical support. The modern weapons of war have too large an appetite for men and ma-

The earlier Kennedies would have hopped over these obstacles like a hurdle jumper, but the senator is fading fast.

INSIDE REPORT:

John Anderson: He became a 'trendy' candidate

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - John Anderson's 20-year journey from Goldwaterish young congressman to trendy presidential candidate neared its destination the evening of Jan. 10 in a posh East Side Manhattan apartment when he received from multimillionaire General Motors heir Stewart Mott the maximum $1,000 check for his campaign. Mott, a left-of-center activist renowned for lavish political contributions in the pre-$1,000 limit days, had singled out Anderson as his favorite Republican running for president. So had other liberals crowding into the East Side apartment for the fundraiser, as well as their West Coast counterparts at a Beverly Hills reception a week later. Anderson vaulted from obscurity following the televised Republican candidates' debate in Des Moines Jan. 5, but not so much as the candidate of the desiccated Republican left as of the frustrated Democratic left. Since liberal Democrats can advance his empty prospects for the Republican nomination not one inch, Anderson's burst of acclaim underlines that the new ideological polarization of the two parties makes him an anachro-

In the debate, Anderson displayed the tough articulation that has won admirers in Congress for two decades. So non-liberal a critic as William F. Buckley's National Review praised Anderson's courageous support of the grain embargo, in contrast to his pusillanimous rivals. But national praise for Anderson — which we heard all over Iowa the week after the debate - came from newsmen and Democrats. That was proved by Iowa Republicans in the Des Moines Register poll who gave him only 1 percent support for president and, more revealing, rated him a loser in the debate. What the Democrats and editorialists found so attractive in Anderson was that he sounded so much like a Democrat. While his party presents a united front on tax reduction and a tough foreign policy, Anderson dissents on

Only 35 people had expressed predebate interest in the Jan. 10 Manhattan fund-raiser, but over 200 showed much interest it was moved from millionaire Stanley Sheinbaum's up (requiring two sittings). The Jan. West Coast affair generated so home to the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Sheinbaum is no less a leftish activist in Los Angeles than is Mott in New York. But whereas Mott also backs

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy for president, Sheinbaum is only for Anderson. Describing himself to us as a latterday Diogenes "looking for a thinking man," Sheinbaum wrung his hands in despair over President Carter and disappointment with Kennedy before finding Anderson.

He is not alone. Sheinbaum's cohosts in the Anderson fund-raiser were Norman Lear and Grant Tinker. socially conscious Hollywood liberals famed for television production but not for fraternizing with Republi-

This hardly could have been expected by the magnetic Rockford, Ill., lawyer who entered Congress in 1961 at age 38. His liberal rating, as measured by the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), for the first three years was zero. In 1964 (when he ducked a visit to his home district by that ferocious Eastern liberal Nelson Rockefeller) Anderson's ADA rating rose to 7.7 percent. In 1966, it subsided back to zero.

His votes began to change in the late 1960s. In 1978, Anderson voted the liberal line 64.7 percent of the time, but if he had been present for all the ADA-selected roll call votes his percentage would have surpassed 70 percent - extraordinary for a Republican, but exceptional even for a Democrat these days. Apart from percentages, Anderson's appeal to the Motts and Sheinbaums is framed in his national security positions: against the B-1 bomber, against the MX mobile missile, against a nuclear powered carrier, against Carter's proposed 5 percent defense spending boost. Although his unmatched oratory held the House spellbound Aug. 10, 1978, when he called for the Kemp-Roth 30 percent tax reduction, this tie to regular Republicanism was strictly vestigial: Anderson now opposes Kemp-Roth.

That irritates Rep. Jack Kemp, who braved disdain from fellow conservatives to campaign for Anderson in 1978 against a right-wing congressional primary foe. But it was not Kemp who saved him. The United Auto Workers, helped by many Democratic precinct chairmen, ran a re-registration campaign to bring Democrats into the Republican fold. The difficulty of duplicating this re-registration feat in a presidential election year, an intimate of Anderson told us, is one reason he is running for president instead of Congress.

Large areas of Soviet Union remain closed to world

By THOMAS KENT

MOSCOW (AP) - Gorky, dissident leader Andrei D. Sakharov's new home in exile, is one of scores of "closed" Soviet cities that foreigners can enter only with special permission.

The network of closed cities embraces millions of Soviet citizens who may set eyes on a foreigner only when one gets a rare special travel permit. Some citizens of other Communist countries may occasionally get to closed cities, but Westerners are almost totally banned.

In retaliation, the United States and some other Western countries have imposed similar bans on citizens of the Soviet Union. They are barred from Detroit, Cleveland and some other American cities without special permission, and in Britain they need official approval to travel more than 35 miles from the center of London.

Gorky is a transport and industrial center of 1.3 million people on the Volga River, located in a 300-mile strip of land to the east of Moscow that is off limits to foreigners. Most closed areas are believed to contain secret military or industrial installations, but little is known about them.

In Gorky, Sakharov may be permitted to receive Soviet visitors and to communicate by mail and telephone. But he cannot be visited by foreign' friends, interviewers or diplomats.

Other closed cities in the Soviet Union are the major industrial centers of Omsk and Chelyabinsk in western Siberia, Sverdlovsk in the Ural Mountains, the Pacific seaport of Vladivostok and the Black Sea port of

With Gorky, these cities have a total population of 5.3 million people. Also closed are a strip of Soviet Central Asia up to 500 miles long, the Chinese border and the entire Far Eastern peninsula of Kam- Russians.

The United States imposed its travel bans on Soviet citizens beginning in 1952. Its closed areas include Southern California, the site of major U.S. Navy and other defense facilities; parts of the Pacific Northwest involved in the aerospace industry, and southern areas of the country near military bases. The U.S. government has offered to open all the United States to Soviet visitors if the Soviets will end their restrictions on Americans. But so far, there has been no indication of any changes in Soviet policy.

Western diplomats believe not all the Soviet closed areas are bristling with secret installations, but that large areas have been closed off to help disguise where important installations actually are.

In January 1978, the Soviet Union opened about 20 formerly closed cities in what foreign analysts saw as a response to the 1975 Helsinki agreements on travel and cultural exchanges. But foreigners are sometimes prevented from traveling to open areas ostensibly because of lack of transport or hotel space.

Unlike in many Western countries, it is virtually impossible for foreigners to travel undetected in the Soviet Union. Tickets and hotel reservations usually must be booked at a central office. Police posts on the roads leading out of Moscow are manned by patrolmen alert to the distinctive license plates of foreigners. Some Americans complain that in the United States and other Western border areas near Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania, a patch of countries, such safeguards de cot exist. A Soviet diplomat theoretically central Russia totaling 150,000 square miles, a circle of land around Mocould book his own trip to a U.S. closed area through almost any travel scow, parts of the Soviet Far East stretching for more than 1,000 miles agency since most Americans know, nothing about travel restrictions on

Brown favors registering women

WASHINGTON (AP) - Defense Secretary Harold Brown says he has told President Carter he still favors registering women if men are required to register for the draft.

Carter administration officials said last week they have not yet decided whether to include women in the planned revival of peacetime draft

Brown told reporters during a weekend briefing on the fiscal 1981 defense budget that he continues to believe, as he testified before Congress last year, that "if you registered men, you should register women." He called this a "matter of equity."

'That is still my view and the president is aware of it," Brown said. "He'll have to make his own decision on that."

Army Secretary Clifford Alexander said Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that he also favors registering women as well as men, stressing that "this is a personal opinion."

Bernard Rostker, the newly appointed head of the Selective Service System, said the decision on whether to register women "hinges on a lot

He declined to name those factors, saying, "Ask the White House. We are in the role of carrying out policy."

Brown noted that a move to register women would involve "the additional complication of requiring new legislation."

viewing of President Carter's proposed 1981 budget offers glimpses of the myriad impact of federal spending on Texas.

Although there is no breakdown on a state-by-state basis to show how much of the proposed outlay of about $615 billion would be bound for Texas, a budget appendix released today provides information on topics as diverse as a helium plant in the Panhandle and Lady Bird Johnson's pen-age of $100 per person. The increase in human resources program relative to physical resources spending such as highway construction and the development of general revenue sharing programs to state and local governments have helped equalize the disparity among regions, the analysis said.

One branch of the federal government that holds particular interest for Texas is the Immigration and Naturalization Service and its border enforcement programs.

The budget proposes a 1981 outlay of $347 million for the INS, an increase of $12 million.

'The administration's proposals do not provide for the full border patrol increase authorized in the last session of the Congress because the administration does not believe that this increase would, by itself, make a significant contribution to border enforcement," the budget said. "Illegal immigrants are drawn to the United States by high wages, and there are no federal restrictions against hiring those who are in the country illegal-

Large budget increases would not be productive until laws are changed to remove incentives for illegal immigration, the budget said.

It added that no one knows exactly how much federal money spread among several agencies goes strictly for border enforcement, but the information will be developed during the

Follow the Bible

By Alfred Sheinwold

"Cast thy bread upon the waters," the Bible instructs us, and Toronto expert Karen Allison followed instructions in the Charity Pair Championship of the North American Tournament in Cincinnati last November. The defenders led three rounds of clubs, and Miss Allison made her charitable contribution for the day; she cast away the ace of diamonds instead of ruffing the third club.

WEAK DEFENSE East's best defense was to lead three rounds of trumps. but he led a spade, hoping for a trick in that suit. Now declarer finessed with the queen of spades, cashed the ace and ruffed a spade in dummy. She could then easily limit the penalty to 50 points. It may seem somewhat melodramatic to discard an ace in order to go down one at a part score, but low contracts are the soul of tourit bridge, and the Canadian expert earned a top score by losing only 50 points The best defense would be easy if declarer ruffed the third club, cashed the ace of diamonds and then led a

EDS lawsuit against Iran in judge's hands

DALLAS (AP) - The task of deciding whether the Iranian government should pay a Dallas-based computer firm the $23 million balance on a September 1976 contract now is in the hands of a federal

During two weeks of testimony, defense attorneys tried to prove H. Ross Perot's company obtained a $41 million contract to provide a computerized national health care program to Iran through promises of kickbacks.

The bribes, the Iranians argued, were funneled to deposed Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi through the Mahvi Foundation, which allegedly was to receive $1.7 million from EDS over a two-year-period for securing the contract.

Mortezanassiri, an Iranian attorney, told U.S. District Judge Robert W. Porter the Middle Eastern nation acted within all legal limits when it terminated the agreement.

"If fraudulent acts had induced parties to enter the contract, it invalidates the contract under Iranian law," replied Mortezanassiri, one of three Iranian citizens appearing before Porter.

The judge said he had heard no previous evidence during the non-jury trial to prove the allegation, but allowed the testimony to make a record for appeal.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly sympathize with FRUSTRATED IN ARI-ZONA. I am 68 years old, 5 feet 1, weigh 210 pounds and have been a widow for five years.

From my description, you know I am not exactly a glamour-puss, but would you believe that these dumb wives have the nerve to be jealous of me and the dried-up prunes that are their husbands?

Women I've known all my life dropped me like a hot potato when I became a widow. I don't think I come on too strong and I certainly am no threat to anybody's marriage.

My husband was a handsome, friendly "kissing bug." He always hugged and kissed my girlfriends who were divorced or widowed, but I always invited them to our parties, and we all had a great time.

I say the WIVES are paranoid! Don't they realize that they, too, could become widows with the blink of an

Thanks for letting me blow off some steam, Abby. I hope other widows will write to you about this. -LONE DUMPLING

DEAR DUMPLING: They did.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe that you called FRUSTRATED IN ARI-ZONA "a touch paranoid."

What do YOU know about what a widow or divorcee has to put up with? You have had no experience along that line, and I pray you never do. I am 72, and have been both a widow and a divorcee in the last 10

Calligraphy registration due Friday

Calligraphy, the fine art of beautiful handwriting, is not a widely practiced art in America, but Roswell N.M., is the home of one of the nation's leading calligraphers, Alice Blue Girand.

She took a course in calligraphy during her freshman year at the University of New Mexico, taught by Ralph Douglass, an old family friend and author of the leading textbook on calligraphy in the U.S.

"I enjoyed it so much, I took seven semesters of calligraphy courses," said Mrs. Girand.

Mrs. Girand will be holding a callig raphy workshop for beginning and advanced students Feb. 18-22 at Museum of the Southwest, sponsored by Las Manos, service auxiliary to the museum.

Registration fee of $40 is due by Feb. 1. Materials will be furnished at additional cost.

Mrs. Girand has written a book in calligraphy entitled "The Prayers I Love," which takes the art back to its most famous use — religious texts.

Do you remember seeing museum reproductions of illustrated Bible manuscripts done by monks during the Middle Ages? That's calligraphy. Invention of the printing press and movable type snuffed out the beautiful art, said Mrs. Girand. It was revived in the 1900s by Edward John-

Today calligraphy is used mostly for diplomas, invitations, documents, greeting cards and "anything frameable," said Mrs. Girand.

As far as Mrs. Girand knows, her books is the only one which utilizes calligraphy for "something other than a book about calligraphy.'

years. It is absolutely true that married women are jealous of their husbands in the company of single women. And you should see some of those old crocks. Believe me, I wouldn't have one for a gift! ALONE AND SATISFIED IN

DEAR ABBY: I think you owe FRUSTRATED IN ARIZONA an apology. Widows and divorcees are not "paranoid" -- there is very real antagonism against them.

I moved to Phoenix 15 years ago as a 37-year-old divorcee, having previously lived in Cincinnati, New York, San Francisco and Cleveland, and I can't begin to tell you how shabbily I was treated! I just stopped going to parties where there were married Phoenix has fewer eligible men than any city I've ever lived in, which makes it wonderful for married men. They do pursue, hence their wives are leery of every unattached female, and with good reason. But it's not very pleasant for the unattached female.

In Phoenix, the wives are friendly as long as their husbands aren't around. Talk about paranoid - it's the wives, not the single women, who are paranoid!

If FRUSTRATED is living in one of the retirement communities, she'll find more widowers than widows. Sun City is called "Sin City" by the locals.

That should tell you something! -NOT PARANOID

DEAR ABBY: You are dead wrong when you called FRUSTRATED IN

ARIZONA, "self-conscious, insecure and a touch paranoid." I am 67, still attractive and have been a widow for four years. I have tried the senior citizen-mobile-home living, and FRUSTRATED was right. The jealousy and hate on the part of wives drove me back into living in an apartment, where the young people living around me ask for my help and call me their "second grandma." I love it. Here I am not bothered by jealous wives whose husbands love to flirt. Most married women make life very unpleasant for widows. - BEEN

Study reaffirms moderate drinking by alcoholics

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) - While total abstinence is still considered the safest cure for alcoholism, a new Rand Corp. study appears to reinforce earlier claims that some alcoholics can drink moderately without wrecking their lives.

The report, released Thursday, followed up a 1976 study that was harshly condemned by many treatment groups when it suggested "some alcoholics can return to moderate drinking with no greater chance of relapse than if they abstain totally.

The new study injects two qualifiers - age and dependency - into the controversy without backing away from the original report.

You can say the earlier findings are modified (by the new study)...but it is certainly not a reversal, said David J. Armor of the Santa Monica research

The research involved some 800 men admitted to federally funded alcoholism treatment programs in 1973. The first report was based on a study made 18 months after they began treatment. The same group was used in the followup study four years after admission.

But the researchers and the National Institute for Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, which paid for the study, disagree on some of the findings

The NIAAA said the study "reinforces our contention that abstinence must be the appropriate goal in the treatment of alcoholism."

Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market was little changed today, pausing after a three-week rally.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.62 at 874.49. But nearly all of the decline was due to ex-dividends, or dividend-payment adjustments, in the prices of three stocks in the average

Gainers outnumbered losers by about a 6-5 margin in the broad tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed In the economic news, the government reported that productivity declined 1.6 percent in the fourth quarter of last year. The price of gold declined more than $40 an ounce to around the $620 level in Europe President Carter, meanwhile, submitted his budget proposal to Congress for the fiscal year that starts next Oct.1. Analysts said investors found no major surprises in it. Oil stocks were active following the expected news that Saudi Arabia had raised the price of its light crude from $24 to $26 a barrel.

Texaco was up \% at 35\%; Exxon \% at 58\%; Phillips Petroleum \% at 54\%; Standard Oil of Indiana 1/4 at 87%, and Tesoro Petroleum % at 21%. Chrysler, which announced a new merchandising plan for its cars last week, rose % to 9 in active trading. The NYSE's composite index rose 31 to 65.58. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 2.57 at 269.36. Big Board volume totaled 21.98 million shares at noontime, against 19.87 million at the same poino Friday.

USOC makes plans for U.S. sports team

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) - The U.S. Olympic Committee, supporting President Carter's wishes to move the Summer Games out of Moscow, has begun to make contingency plans to hold a national sports festival as an alternative to the Olympics.

There is even talk of a July Fourth ticker tape parade to honor American athletes who have trained for years to participate in the quadrennial Games that are now embroiled in international politics.

At the same time, however, the USOC refrained from making a decision on Carter's request that no American athletes be sent to Moscow because of the Soviets' military occupation of Afghanistan.

The USOC executive board, with 68 of its 86 members attending, voted unanimously Saturday to support Carter and to ask the International Olympic Committee to transfer, postpone or cancel the Moscow Games unless Soviets troops are withdrawn from Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

President Carter, returning to the White House Sunday evening from Camp David, Md., where he spent the weekend, was asked if he was pleased by the board's action.

'Yes, very much so," he replied. The USOC will present Carter's proposal to the IOC before the start of the Winter Games, which open Feb. 13 in Lake Placid, N.Y.

USOC representatives are testifying today before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Carter's recommendation. The House voted overwhelmingly last week to back the president.

Meanwhile, the USOC voted Sunday to continue efforts to develop an Olympic team which most likely would compete this summer in Colorado Springs, the site of two previous National Sports Festivals, although Montreal and Philadelphia were mentioned as possible sites.

White House counsel Lloyd Culter has said the Carter administration was prepared to ask Congress for funds to help pay for any expenses incurred by a national sports festival or moving the Olympics to another

Probe continues in reported rape

ODESSA - Odessa police are continuing their investigation into the reported aggravated rape Jan. 17 of a 17-year-old Odessa woman.

The woman, who reported the rape to police Friday, said a man, about 30 years of age, knocked on her door while she was sleeping, forced his way into the residence when she opened the door and raped her.

She said he held a knife on her while he attacked her. Police have no suspects in custody at this time.

Odessa man in jail on indecency charge

ODESSA — An Odessa man remained in Odessa City Jail this morning in lieu of $5,000 bond, charged with indecency with a child.

Fred Leon Richardson Jr. was arrested after a 14-year-old Odessa girl told police that a man exposed himself to her last Thursday while she was walking in an alley in the 4600 block of Winchester Street.

Richardson was charged before Peace Justice Charles Gee.

TAX TIPS Many car expenses may be tax deductible

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 11th in a series of tax tips articles provided by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Ac-

Taxpayers can deduct non-reimbursed expenses incurred while using their automobiles for business, moving, charitable and medical pur-

Taxpayers who maintain records of actual costs can claim operating expenses and fixed expenses, such as depreciation and insurance, for the business use of their automobile. Entitled to an optional mileage allowance method, taxpayers can deduct 18.5 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 10 cents per mile for each additional mile when their automobiles are used for business.

However, taxpayers using their automobiles for moving, medical or charitable purposes may deduct only 8 cents per mile. Parking and toll fees may be claimed in addition to the mileage rate.

Some moving expenses connected with job-related relocations may be deductible on this year's income tax

Those expenses which can be de-ducted include the cost of travel to the new location; moving household goods and personal effects; pre-move house-hunting trips; temporary living costs at the new location and certain expenses related to the disposition of an old residence and acquisition of a new home.

The distance between a taxpayer's new job and old residence must be at least 35 miles farther than the former home was from the former job.

These and other questions concerning your 1979 tax return will be answered in the Taxpayer Education Course to be held Feb. 5 and 7 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Allison Fine Arts Building at Midland College and at Wilkerson Hall, Room 108, Odessa

To register for the program, send your name, address and location preference to Taxpayer Education, Box 870, Midland. Registration fee is $1 per person or $1.50 per couple. Mailing deadline is Feb. 1. You may also pick up registration forms at the Administration Building, Room 156, Midland College.

Most mobile home residents brushing off asbestos threat

Michael Austin, a relocation coordinator from the Arizona Division of Emergency Services, said the residents' refusal to move surprised state officials who arranged for their evac-

Austin said he detects an easing of the "sense of urgency" the residents had about leaving their homes after a visit to the subdivision last week by Gov. Bruce Babbitt.

Babbitt had warned the residents to leave because of the danger posed by asbestos, which is believed to cause

But many persons contacted by the state said they do not want to leave "either because it was too much of a hassle or because they didn't think the risks were too great," Austin

Eight families have moved to the Hanson park and now live in stateowned mobile homes that have been used for flood victims throughout Arizona. Seven more families were expected to move by Monday, he said.

Most of the residents who want to stay are elderly, single or childless married couples, Austin said. All the families who have children already have moved or plan to, he added.

Four families, on the other hand, have indicated they will remain in their homes during the demolition

Cholesterol answers far from complete

Dear Dr. Solomon: What's the latest on the cholesterol controversy? My wife has been serving so many salads I'm beginning to feel like a rabbit (although I must admit I enjoy them). But sometimes I yearn for some of the rich foods that used to be my everyday fare. Is it all worthwhile? - Sam. Dear Sam: I can't offer any guarantees. I can only tell you that your wife appears to have the right idea. An international panel of heart and nutrition specialists was recently convened by the American Health Foundation. They recommended a reduction of serum cholesterol levels in an effort to reduce the risk of fatty arteries and premature death from coronary heart disease.

On the other hand, some physicians point out that no study has actually proved that lowering cholesterol evels will prevent heart attacks.

The panel distinguished between high-density and low-density lipoproteins. High-density lipoproteins are desirable because they carry cholesterol away from tissues, including artery linings. Low-density lipoproteins, however, are undesirable because they transport cholesterol into the walls of the arteries. Americans were advised to reduce their consumption of fat and cholesterol and increase their consumption of fruits, vegetables and grain products. An optional diet is one based on low-fat dairy products and lean meat.

An increased emphasis on exercise would also tend to reduce cholestero levels. It was noted that this would require radical changes in the diet and habits of most Americans. Although the final word on the relationship between serum cholesterol and coronary heart disease has not been spoken, it seems only prudent to limit the intake of foods known to behigh in cholesterol.

Dear Dr. Solomon: What makes a food "go bad," and why is it danger-ous to eat such foods? — Ellie.

Dear Ellie: Food spoilage can be caused by bacteria, molds, fungi or yeasts. Ptomaine poisoning is a most uncomfortable digestive disorder resulting from bacterial contaminants

The deadly botulism is caused by ingesting a nerve toxin. This is produced by a bacterium that grows on foods that were inadequately processed, preserved, refrigerated or cooked, and which grows in the ab-sence of oxygen. These bacteria are especially dangerous because they can grow and produce toxin without giving the food any outward sign of contamination, such as foul odor.

Another way in which food can deteriorate results from the exposure of foods to oxygen, which causes an undesirable change in color and flavor. This oxidation, while less harmful than bacterial contamination, can cause some foods, such as butter, to turn rancid.

New Basins discovered

NEW YORK (AP) - The U.S. Geological survey has discovered five huge undersea basins off Alaska believed to contain mwjor petroleum deposits, the New York Times reports.

Survey scientists said the regions are in the outer continental shelf, off the western coast of Alaska in the Bering and Chukchi seas. Two of the regions lie beneath waters that are owned, or might be claimed by the Soviet Union, thus complicating exploitation of those sources, the Times said in Sunday editions.

Dr. Charles Masters of the Geological Survey said recent seismic ex-ploration "leads us to believe that the areas may have enormous petroleum resources."

One area, the Navarin Basin, has sediments up to 40,000 feet thick and Masters said it is geologically comparable to oil-rich areas of the Gulf of Mexico.

Geologist Oswald W. Girard Jr. estimated that the Navarin Basin held one billion to four billion barrels of oil and that other areas might have similar amounts, the Times said.

However, scientists warned that even if oil is found soon, it would be years before the areas could be commercially tapped. "Production problems will be severe, since drilling in these areas higher prices often don't try to attain would stretch our technology to the limit." Masters said. The area is covered by ice in win-

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Oil production from the large govern-ment-owned Wilmington oil field was reduced intentionally in the late 1970s by state officials hoping to cash in on higher oil prices in future years, a newspaper says.

Officials of the city, which owns the field in partnership with the state, consented to the plan, according to a copyright story published Sunday in the Long Beach Independent-Press State officials said the cutbacks were necessary because low oil prices and high operating costs during that time were making the Long Beach Unit of the field unprofitable. The newspaper said records reveal that the cutbacks at the Long Beach

Unit - which accounts for about onefifth of California's oil production lasted from late 1975 to early 1978. Crude oil prices were held in check by federal controls during that time. City officials admit production was reduced by as much as 19 to 22 million barrels a year during that period, when official U.S. policy was to increase domestic production and reduce foreign oil imports, the newspa-

That much oil would have been worth $98 million at the average 1979 decontrolled prices of about $22 a barrel, it would have commanded about $440 million.

The article said, however, that documents indicate much of the extra oil may never be recovered because oil can be lost if a well's production is not maintained at capacity.

Although the article says the city supported the state in holding back development of the fields, only the state would reap any resulting financial gains because the city receives a flat fee under agreements governing drilling in the state and city-owned Long Beach Unit. Under the pacts, the state Lands

Commission finances drilling operations by the THUMS Long Beach Co., a consortium of Texaco Inc., Humble (now Exxon Corp.), Union Oil Co. of Californa, Mobil Corp. and Shell Oil THUMS and other companies then buy the oil, with the state getting about 96 percent of the profits and a flat $9 million going to the city. The state curtailed production by denying operating funds sought by THUMS, the newspaper says. It cites a 1975 letter in which Soate Controller Ken Cory, chairman of the Lands Commission, said funding $4.93-a-barrel price at the time. But at necessary to the continued operation of the field.

Truly Unique Design

Wall-to-wall carpeting, new dishwasher, range/oven, garbage disposal, washers and dryers, plus a fireplace.

Extraordinary Value

With home prices spiraling, Idlewilde Village is a great value, affordably priced, within the budget of most homebuyers. If your income was less than $30,000.00 in 1978 or 1979, you may be able to buy under a unique mortgaging program.

Featuring >

. 95% financing . Approximately 91/8% interest . 30 year loan

Apartment dwellers paying as little as $225.00 per month may be surprised to learn that they may be wasting over $600.00 per month by renting, instead of buying.

Don't Delay

Stop by our office at 4501 W. Wadley for a free computerized personal budget analysis, or write P.O. Box 5185, Midland, Texas 79701.

Duplex ownership gives many people the opportunity to buy their first home, with the tenant helping pay the mortgage.

... But Hurry, these homes will not be available for long!

NFC finds game they can capture with regularity

HONOLULU (AP) - "I can remember when we seemed to lose this one just about every year, too," Coach Tom Landry said. "Well, now that we've got this one under control, it would be nice to get the same thing going with the Super Bowl.'

The "we" Landry talked about is the National Conference. "This one" is the Pro Bowl - which the NFC won Sunday by beating the American Con-

LANDRY, WHO usually coaches the Dallas Cowboys, had lost his first two AFC-NFC Pro Bowl encounters, in 1973 and 1974, when the AFC won three in a row. Now, though, the NFC has won three straight and six of 10 since the interconference series began.

It's about the only thing the NFC can seem to win with regularity. The AFC has won seven of the last eight season series (the eighth was a tie) and seven of the last eight Super Bowls, too. "I think the NFC was a little more intense than we were," Pittsburgh wide receiver John Stallworth of the AFC said after the game. "Maybe they felt they had something to prove because the AFC won the Super Bowl Terry Bradshaw, though, displayed a cavalier attitude. Unlike a week earlier, when he won Most Valuable Player honors for his superb quarterbacking of the Steelers in their 31-19 Super Bowl victory over Los Angeles, Bradshaw wore the goat horns here for throwing two interceptions, both of which preceded NFC touchdowns. "Players don't come here to win; they come here to play," Bradshaw said with a shrug. "It's not that important.

BUT IT was very important to Chuck Muncie and Archie Manning of New Orleans and the rest of the NFC stars. After all, $5,000 is not something to be ignored. That's how much each winning player received, twice what each

Muncie was the runaway choice as the MVP in his first Pro Bowl. The Saints' running back, who led all rushers with 71 yards in 12 carries, scored touchdowns on a 1-yard dive at the start of the second period and on an 11-yard sweep early in tha fourth quarter. And Muncie's halfback option pass to Dallas wide receiver Tony Hill accounted for a third NFC touch-

"I'm gonna use the money to pay off the bills my wife and I have been running up here," Muncie said of his winning share. And Manning, who completed a sparkling nine of 10 passes for 112 yards — including a 13-yard scoring strike to Detroit's David Hill just 75 seconds before Muncie's toss — added: "I had a lot of motivation for this game. I brought my whole family over here and I needed the $5,000 to break even.

It was virtually an all-Saints show, another star of the game being New Orleans safety Tom Myers. With the NFC leading by 10 points at the start of the fourth quarter, Bradshaw completed passes of 17 yards to Cleveland's Mike Pruitt and 18 yards to Stallworth to put the AFC at the NFC

THEN, AS Stallworth slanted across the field, Myers stepped in front of him at the 7, picked off Bradshaw's pass and ran it back 40 yards. Six plays later, Muncie scored from the 11, the NFC lead ballooned to 37-20 and the second of Earl Campbell's two short TD runs didn't hurt a bit.

"There's no doubt in my mind that was the turning point," Landry said Myers' interception. "We had lost the momentum and they started gaining it. If they'd scored it would have been an exciting last few minutes.

Myers said he'd been beaten previously by Stallworth on the same play. "This time Bradshaw threw the ball earlier and at the moment he let it go I just took the chance he wasn't going to go deep. So I went for the

The game started off quietly, the only first-quarter scoring coming on field goals of 37 yards by Washington's Mark Moseley and 19 yards by louston's Toni Fritsch, who also kicked a 29-yarder for third quarter.

Muncie began the second-period scoring with his 1-yard run, three lays after Manning hit Philadelphia's Wilbert Montgomery on a 26yard pass. And Pruitt made it 10-10 by taking a 1-yard TD pass from Brad-

MANNING'S TD pass ended an 80-yard drive highlighted by two 14-yard completions to Philadelphia's Harold Carmichael and a controversial 1yard pass interference call against Pittsburgh's Donnie Shell on another pass to the Eagles' towering receiver. Then Muncie made it 23-10 at the half with his floater to Tony Hill, three plays after linebacker Harry Carson of the New York Giants intercepted Bradshaw.

The score went to 30-10 in the third quarter when the Eagles' Wally Henry, outshone on kick returns most of the day by Denver's Rick Upchurch, took a punt and sprinted 86 yards for a touchdown. It was just four yards shy of Billy Johnson's Pro Bowl punt-return record.

But in a game which in recent years had become ho-hum affairs (NFC victories by 13-7 and 14-13 scores the past two seasons), the NFC's 37 points and the two-team total of 64 broke scoring marks set in 1973 when the AFC won

Richardson wins AAU marathon

SARATOGA, Calif. (AP) - Frank Richardson of Ames. Iowa, won the National AAU marathon Sunday over a course that may have been a little shorter than the prescribed 26 miles, Times were fast in the event, with Richardson clocking two hours, 13 minutes, 54 seconds to take the men's division, while Sue Munday of San Jose took the women's division in 2: 43: 17.

Bay Area runner Judy Leydig claimed that an error by police directing the runners resulted in the course

"Nobody knew it until after the race, when we started checking over maps, but for a man it probably shortened it by a minute and a half to two minutes, and maybe three minutes for a woman," she said.

being shortened.

Runnerup among the men was Hatsuo Okubo of Tokyo in 2:14:08, while second for the women was 15-year-old Linda Vanusen of Redwood City in

Some 2,600 runners from 37 states and four foreign countries participated in the race.

USOC begins alternate festival contingency plans

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) - The U.S. Olympic Committee has voted to support President Carter's wishes to move the Summer Games out of Moscow and has begun to make contingency plans to hold a national sports festival as an alternative to the Olympics.

At the same time, the USOC refrained from making a decision on Carter's request that no American athletes be sent to Moscow because of the Soviets' military intervention in Afghanistan.

THE USOC executive board, with 68 of its 86 members in attendance, voted unanimously Saturday to support Carter and ask the International Olympic Committee to either transfer, postpone or cancel the Summer Games in Moscow if the Soviets did not withdraw their troops from Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

President Carter, returning to the White House Sunday evening from Camp David, Md., where he spent the weekend, was asked if he was pleased by the executive board's action backing his demands on the Olympics. "Yes, very much so," he replied.

The USOC will present Carter's proposal to the IOC before the start of the Winter Games, which open in Lake Placid, N.Y., Feb. 13.

Representatives of the USOC were scheduled to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to testify on President Carter's recommendation. The House voted overwhelmingly last week to support Carter's position.

THE USOC voted to continue efforts to develop an Olympic team which most likely would compete this summer in Colorado Springs, the site of two previous National Sports Festivals, although Montreal and Philadelphia were mentioned as possible sites.

George E. Killian, president of the National Junior College Athletic Association, suggested that this year's U.S. Olympic team should be given a "ticker tape parade up Broadway in New York," whether or not the athletes go to Moscow

Killian, who is also president of the American Basketball Association -USA, said he felt something should be done for the athletes. "With our men, it is a one-shot deal," he said. "Most likely the ones who could make the team would turn pro and their amateur career would be over.'

HE SAID he could think of no better tribute to the American athlete than a New York ticker tape parade.

'Then if they want to compete against all comers in a sports festival, that's their business," he said.

When asked what he thought of a ticker tape parade before a sports festival, USOC executive director F. Don Miller replied: "Personally, I like it, and would like to have it on the Fourth of July

"I think it would make a great impact," he added. "It would create the awareness that the athletes really deserve."

Watson wins playoff

Short three-footer almost cost winner San Diego title

SAN DIEGO (AP) - "I thought I had it won on 17, then I thought I had lost it on 18," Tom Watson said.

Neither happened. He had to go to an extra hole to subdue D.A. Weibring in a sudden death playoff Sunday for the title in the Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

THE PLAYOFF, a one-holer which Watson won with a two-putt par against Weibring's bogey, was more or less routine. Little of the rest was.

Watson had a wild series of adventures in the cool, cloudy, breezy weather. He'd started the day with a two-stroke lead, later trailed by three, again led by two, was tied, led again, then was tied.

The last lead was established on the 17th hole. Watson's 35-40 foot birdie putt paused, tantalizingly, on the lip of the cup. It sat there for a couple of seconds while Watson turned his back in disgust. Then it dropped, sending Watson leaping into the air and scampering around the green.

BUT HE gave it back on the par-5 18th. He put his second shot over the green, chipped back poorly, then three-putted for bogey 6, missing a three-foot second putt that sent it into deserved it," Watson told wife

But he didn't. He was on in two and two-putted for par.

Weibring, 26 and rapidly establishing himself as one of the game's most promising young players, drove behind a tree. He had to play out, pitched up to about 3-4 feet, then missed the par-saving putt.

"I'm not disappointed," he said. "I'm annoyed at blowing that little putt, but losing to the best player in the game is something else. It was a great day for me."

IT APPEARED he was right on all

It was a great day in that he fired a spectacular, 7-under-par 65 that included a birdie-eagle finish.

And there seems little doubt that he lost to the best player in the game.

It was Watson's first start of the season and put him off in full flight toward a fourth consecutive Player of

"I'm very happy," said Watson, who shot a last-round 70 and matched Weibring's 275 total, 13 shots under

"If I'd lost in the playoff, I'd have par on the 7,002 yard South course at Torrey Pines.

> "It's a perfect start. I'm one-forone. My game got progressively better each round this week. I'm looking forward to the Crosby."

> THAT EVENT, which Watson has won twice, starts Thursday

The victory was Watson's 17th on the American tour and won him $45,-000 from the total purse of $250,000. Weibring, whose first victory came in last year's Quad Cities Open, won

Lon Hinkle briefly took three-stroke command with a stunning eagle-birdie-birdie-birdie burst beginning on the second hole. "It looked like he was going to shoot 59," Watson said.

But he backed off on the back side, shot 71 and was third at 278, three shots back. It was another two strokes to Andy North and Keith Fergus, tied at 280. North had a 69, Fergus 71

Midland's John Adams, making the field for the first time this year, had a final round of 73 for a 290 four-day total. Adams earned $645 in the tournament after finishing 15 strokes off the winning pace.

Bulldogs, Rebels eye 5-4A victories

A five game losing streak by the Midland High girls has just about all but eliminated the Bulldogs from the District 5-4A basketball chase, but if they still hope for that slim chance of turning things around, it will have to happen tonight.

MHS hosts Odessa Permian's girls in the Midland High gym at 8 p.m. today, hoping to snap out of the doldrums. Both teams are coming off emotional losses to cross town rivals. Midland High lost last Thursday to Midland Lee, 51-35, while Permian fell to Odessa High, 59-42. Permian made a strong run at the first half title before falling to Midland Lee.

Lee, on the other hand, can just about sew up the 5-4A championship with a victory today at 8 p.m. at Odessa High. The Rebels, the winner of the first half, have won eight games in a row. They need only a tie for the second half crown to advance to the

However, OHS is 2-0, the same as Lee, in the second half chase and could throw the loop into a tailspin with a victory over the Rebels tonight. OHS and Lee are the only undefeated teams left in the second half chase and tonight's winner will own sole leadership. A Lee victory would give the Rebs a one-game lead over the field with only four games left to play. The Rebs then would have to lose at least two games to drop the

Buckeyes defeat Virginia Cavaliers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - It was billed as a showdown of two of the nation's best college centers, Herb Williams and Ralph Sampson.

But fourth-ranked Ohio State's 70-65 nationally televised basketball victory Sunday over No. 17 Virginia evolved into a battle of the little Sampson, the Cavaliers' heralded 7-foot-4 freshman, had the upper hand with Williams, Ohio State's 6-10 junior. Sampson accounted for 14 points, 10 rebounds and six shot blocks. Williams' corresponding figures were 13, five and two.

Kelvin Ransey and Carter Scott easily made up for that one-point difference. They outscored starting Virginia guards Jeff Lamp and Jeff

"We had the advantage in our quickness," said Scott, whose 21 points led the Buckeyes to their 14th victory in 17 games. It erased some of the sting of a 72-71 home upset by Wisconsin 17 hours earlier.

Ransey, hitting double figures for the 80th straight game with 18 points, scored eight in less than a minute, leading Ohio State into a 66-59 advantage with 1:43 left.

'The best thing that happened to us was to lose Saturday night," contended Ransey, voted the game's Most Valuable Player. "I've been in a slump the last four or five games. I just relaxed, shot my normal shot and prayed a lot today.

Ransey and Scott scored all but two of the Buckeyes' 19 points in a sevenminute stretch, resulting in a 69-63 Ohio State lead

"I don't want to see any better than Ransey," said Coach Terry Holland, his Virginia squad now 16-4. "He was a big factor. Ohio State has great quickness in the backcourt.

Since Ohio State leads the Big Ten and Virginia is an Atlantic Coast Conference contender, the players were asked to compare the two leagues.

"We got the breaks," said Ransey. 'They're capable of beating any Big Ten team. But I don't think they're used to that physical type of ball. Added Williams, "Virginia would do fairly well in the Big Ten. They are no slouch, even if they are in the The Cavaliers thought the big difference was the officiating. "They're much more physical here," said Virginia's Jones. "Guys in our league would've fouled out. I never had been bumped like that." Holland said, "I had always heard the Big Ten was more physical.

There's no doubt about it. Ironically, Virginia stayed in the game at the foul line. They sank their first nine free throws before Jones missed with eight minutes left. Meanwhile, Ohio State did not shoot a foul in the first half and muffed five of its first six free throws.

But then the tide changed. Ransey sank six straight fouls and Scott added three of four in the last two

Lilly gains pro Hall

CANTON, Ohio (AP) - The lives of Bob Lilly, Herb Adderley and Deacon Jones continue on parallel courses.

They were all pro football draft choices in 1961. They all blossomed into defensive stars. This summer they all will enter the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

The three will be joined by long-time Oakland Raiders center Jim Otto as inductees into the sport's shrine in Canton on Saturday, Aug. 2, moments before the Green Bay Packers and the San Diego Chargers perform in their annual Hall of Fame exhibition game.

Their inductions will increase the number of members to 106.

The shrine's 29-member board of selections elected Lilly, Otto and Jones in their first year of eligibility, five years after their retirements from the game. Adderley made it in his third

Lilly, who was an All-American while playing at Texas Christian, was the first-ever draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys 19 years ago. For 14 seasons, he stood out as a defensive end and defensive tackle for the Cowboys as they became a dominant force in the National Football League.

Adderley, a defensive back from Michigan State, also went in the first round in 1961 to Green Bay. He becomes the sixth Packer, counting the late Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi, to be elected to the hall.

The Los Angeles Rams waited until the 14th round to draft Jones after his obscure college career. The defensive end played for one season at South Carolina State in 1958, sat out 1959 and performed for Mississippi Vocational in 1960.

Tom Watson has his eyes closed as he bends over in disbelief as his short putt on the 18th green failed to fall Sunday in the Andy Williams San Diego

Open. Watson was forced to win the tournament in a playoff over D. A. Weibring. (AP Laserphoto)

SAN DIEGO (AP) - An in-depth report by the San Diego Union says the FBI isn't finished investigating possible violations at the University of New Mexico and in many other areas of the college basketball world.

The probe began when law enforcement agencies discovered a gambling operation in the Albuquerque area had used a computer at the plant of a government defense contractor.

Authorities said a wiretap then duced evidence that New Mexico basketball Coach Norm Ellenberger and his assistant, Manny Goldstein, had conspired to pay $300 for a fraudulent transcript that would keep starting basketball player Craig Gilbert eligi-

Quoting "reliable law enforcement scources," the Union said the probe was broadened to include the University of Southern California.

The newspaper quoted another "reliable source in Los Angeles," as saying "the FBI has been on campus there (at USC) for some time.' In addition, the FBI is reportedly investigating some teams in the Western Athletic Conference.

The newspaper, citing a variety of "reliable sources" throughout its report, also said that law enforcement officials anticipate a perjury indictment of New Mexico president William E. Davis, unless Davis recants

The testimony concerned charges that basketball player Larry Belin continued to practice with his team after losing his eligibility, and that Davis was aware of what was going

General Manager Harry Sinden of the Bruins said Sunday night the governors, one each from 21 clubs, will meet in Chicago, a central location, at noon Wednesday and "we will present our side, the full

Sinden reacted heatedly to the suspensions and more than $30,000 in fines Friday night after Ziegler met with the Bruins in Boston, then flew to Atlan-

Terry O'Reilly, a veteran forward noted as much for his fiery leadership as his ability, was suspended for eight games. High-scoring Peter McNab and defenseman Mike Milbury were set down for six

Ziegler made his findings after studying films and interviewing the Bruins for their part in going into

BOSTON (AP) - The Boston Bruins, admittedly the stands and taking on fans after a game with the expecting little more than "a vote of sympathy," are New York Rangers Dec. 23 in Madison Square going before the National Hockey League's Board of Garden. Four New York fans have filed a $7 million Governors to try for at least a reduction in stiff suit against the Bruins and others as a result of the altercation

'We're going to try to let the league know what happened, what didn't come out in Ziegler's release," Sinden said. "The big issue is our going over the boards. But what would have happened if it (incident) happened on the way to the dressing Sinden admitted he "reacted to the whole scene rather strong" late Friday night.

'It was the degradation of our team and three of its finest people as culprits in a situation where many were at fault," he said. "I overreacted over hate. What Ziegler was saying was that everybody acted all right but the Bruins. That was tough to take."

annual Philadelphia event. Only Rod Laver, onetime Australian Davis Cup ace and former top-ranking player in the world, had won here four times. In fact, Connors has won 26 of 27 matches in this tournament, losing only in 1977, when he finished second to Dick Stockton. In this year's weeklong competition he hadn't lost a set until McEnroe won the second in the best of five match Sunday. The reward for winning was $40,000, but more important to Connors, who has won millions during his tennis career, was beating McEnroe, rated

Connors attempted to low-key the two-week-old groin pull he complained of all week, and which he The 27-year-old Connors is off to a fine start in said had him thinking of quitting during his semifiattaining such lofty heights. He won his second nal. He said the media made more of the discomfort "I go out and play anyway," Connors said after his

Connors, who won seven titles and earned $669,605 Connors' triumph was an unprecedented third last year, said 1979 wasn't a bad year by all standards but those he sets for himself. He explained that last year was one of adjustment for him as a newly triumph over McEnroe. "I'm not a martyr. I'm just married man and parent. 'Now I have learned to separate my two lives, my family and my tennis," Connors said. "I had a lot of things on my mind. It was a big adjustment."

McEnroe had his customary arguments with officials. Connors for the most part was unperturbed, complaining only twice. Connors, who was as controversial as McEnroe at the loser's age, said he just learned through experience how to handle these things.

"I don't let what they (opponents) do bother me. I do what I have to do on my side of the court. But I know and understand his problems. There is a lot of pressure. Sometimes he plays better when he gets steamed up." McEnroe teamed with Peter Fleming to win $13,-000 and the doubles title with a 6-3, 7-6 victory Sunday over Brian Gottfried and Raul Ramirez. Fleming served an ace to win the second set tiebreaker 7-4.

Connors won the singles match in the 10th game of the final set after McEnroe rallied to break Connors' serve in game nine, and had a chance to even the match by holding serve. But Connors snapped back to win the first three points of the last game, lost one, then closed it out by forcing a McEnroe netted ball error.

Those last two games were the best of the match." said Connors who praised McEnroe as an excellent server with good volleying strokes. "It was a big match for the start of the year ... but we'll (he and McEnroe) meet a lot before the year is over. Connors, who was top-seeded, said he played his best tennis of the week against the No. 2 seed,
