Michigan, Oregon lead campaign today

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Special Correspondent

President Carter and Ronald Reagan took another step toward the top of their presidential tickets today, but you couldn't tell it to listen to their Michigan held its Republican primary today, along with a meaningless Democratic vote in which neither Carter nor Sen. Edward Kennedy was gan, conceding a victory will be tougher in Oregon. Kennedy sought headway in the Northwestern state as a prelude to the final, big round of primaries June 3rd.

Carter emerged from the White House Monday for a tour of his campaign headquarters where he told staffers, "I do not intend to lose," not at the convention and not in next fall's general election.

"I will be out campaigning between now and the end of the primary season," he said. "And then we will be preparing eagerly to meet Ronald Reagan or whomever the Republicans choose.

Kennedy dismissed Carter's statement as a "smokescreen" aimed at obscuring the senator's own efforts to raise economic issues. And Kennedy

"We'll continue our battle," he said on a swing into New Jersey. Like clockwork, every Monday, Kennedy and Bush sing a familiar duet, voicing weekly declarations that they will continue their campaigns to overtake the virtually certain nominees.

Bush, who earlier said Michigan and Oregon represented his only chance to fashion a comeback, hedged his bets and declared that he will go on no matter what happens.

Carter was the pollsters' favorite in Oregon; Reagan held the advance public opinion edge in both states. But the contests were in unpredictable territory. Michigan's was an open primary and the outcome of the GOP primary could hinge on normally much to lead a Democrat to that party's ballot since delegates were awarded in caucuses last month, with Kennedy winning 71 and Carter 70.

Neither Carter nor Kennedy entered the "beauty-contest" primary, leaving the ballot to California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., a campaign drop-out, and minor candidate Lyndon La Rouche.

With 22 of 35 primary elections over, Reagan and Carter seem to have little to do now but run out the primary clock.

Reagan needs only 20 percent of the Republican delegates still to be chosen in order to wrap up a nominating majority. Carter needs 26 percent of the Democratic delegates the rest of

Kennedy and Bush will have to try and woo away delegates so as to hold

Carter and Reagan short of a nominating majority in the votes that count, the roll calls at the Republican and Democratic national conventions. There's not much chance they can do

The Oregon primary will apportion 39 Democratic delegates and 29 Republican nominating votes. In Michigan, 82 GOP delegates are at stake.

Reagan has 841 of the 998 delegates that will make a GOP nominating majority; just 157 more will put him over the top. Bush has 192 delegates. Carter is 302 votes away from a majority. He has 1,364 delegates, Kennedy 771. That AP count is based on binding commitments or the declared preferences of delegates. Other surveys project additional strength for Carter and for Reagan.

Listed on Tuesday's GOP ballots are Reagan, Bush and Rep. John B. Anderson, who has quit the Republican race to run as an independent. The vestige of Anderson is a problem for Bush, who fears votes that otherwise would be his will go to the congressman. "A vote for Anderson is a vote for Reagan," he said Monday.

In Maryland a week ago, Bush lost by 7 percentage points, and Anderson drew 10 percent of the vote.

Reagan narrowly lost the 1976 Oregon primary to then-President Gerald R. Ford, and Carter lost the last Oregon primary to Idaho Sen. Frank Church, running narrowly ahead of the write-in vote for Gov. Brown.

Clouds of heavy smoke and ash continue to pour from Mount St. Helens today, blackening the sky over the central United States. Here, the dark mass

More flooding feared; Ash spreads eastward

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) - Torrents of hot mud clogged a river below the convulsing Mount St. Helens volcano today, threatening to flood several tiny towns, while an awesome cloud of billowing volcanic ash spread as far east as western Kentucky and Tennessee.

Bob Christiansen of the U.S. Geological Survey said a fresh flow of mud, pumice and ash cascaded into the valley of the North Fork of the Toutle River on Monday, forming a 200-foot-high barrier at the outlet of Spirit Lake. The mud and debris would not be able to hold back rising

The National Weather Service said the volcanic cloud. which closed more roads than any blizzard in the Midwest, was expected to reach northern Virginia by early tonight. However, the weather service said the cloud. wafting at between 25,000 to 41,000 feet, might not be visible in the eastern states because of weather condi-

The cloud dropped gritty fine powder, about the consistency of loose graphite, up to seven inches deep on some communities in the Northwest.

At least six persons were known dead following the eruption of the mountain Sunday in an explosion that ripped off the top 1,300 feet of the peak, sending forth steaming mudflows and blasting thousands of acres of pristine forest with fine, glassy particles.

Meanwhile, the daily routine of much of eastern Washington ground to a standstill as businesses and schools plaints and fine ash particles disabled hundreds of auto-

Hundreds of miles of state highways were closed as clouds of ash threatened visibility. The State Patrol said the closures exceeded those in the worst winters in Washington history

The Columbia River between Oregon and Washington was closed to ship traffic as a 25-foot underwater bar of mud reduced the river's depth near Longview and boat Captains waited for a 20-mile logiam of debris to pass down the river.

On Monday, Mount St. Helens continued to spew forth ash and steam in a pyrotechnic display scientists said could last for years.

The mountain sent billows of ash and steam 15,000 feet into the air Monday and black clouds of ash drifted east. A meteorologist in Boise, Idaho, said the fallout could reach New England.

The Red Cross estimated 3,000 people were evacuated from the lowlands surrounding the southwest Washington volcano, which began puffing March 27 after a silence of more than 120 years

Portions of Castle Rock and the tiny communities of Lexington and Silver Lake were evacuated late Monday as waters rose up the fragile debris dam on Spirit Lake. The cities of Kelso and Longview, some 35 miles to the west, were put on alert.

Deadline has come and gone; Land for postal facility sought

The Postal Service is in trouble It's looking for a piece of land in west Midland to build a new substation. But even though the deadline for offers has come and gone, not one Midlander has stepped forward and offered to sell his land to the federal On April 16, the Postal Service advertised that it was looking for a site to construct a new Village Station Post Office. Those site offerings should have been in the Dallas office by last Friday, said Carl Hyde.

But on Monday, Robert J. Blaes, realty management and acquisition specialist in Dallas, advised Hyde he had received nothing from Midland.

"We weren't even talking about money yet," said Hyde

The site must be 250 feet by 300 feet with 130,000 square feet minimum, almost the size of a city block. The land must be in an area bounded by Golf Course Road on the north, Big Spring on the east, Powell Street on the west and Wall Street on the south. Blaes has extended the deadline for the next two weeks.

said Hyde. Mailing address is Blaes, Field Real Estate and Buildings Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Drawer 239, Dallas, 75221, telephone 214-767-5492.

After that. Blaes will come to Midland in search of a site. If he finds a spot, said Hyde, Blaes will look up the owner and talk with him about selling the land. This is the first time Hyde can recall not getting an offer from someone "Surely, there's someone with property to sell," said Hyde in expressing his puzzlement over the lack of offers. "Or, even if there's a few houses on the land we would be willing to move them. Apparently, people would rather have their land right now than money, or maybe no one owns that much property. "Even if they have a piece of gold on it (the land) we (Postal Service) would be willing to talk," Hyde added. The current Village station at 2309 W. Louisiana Ave. has become too crowded and that section of the city has outgrown the facility. Plans show the new facility

Odessa physician-surgeon files suit against doctors, hospital managers

By ED TODD

An Odessa physician surgeon, who claims that his professional standing. practice and reputation have been damaged by fellow physicians who discriminated against him on the basis of his race and national origin. India." has filed a $600,000 suit against eight doctors and six members of the Odessa Medical Center Hospital's board of managers.

The plaintiff-surgeon, Dr. Inayat I. Lalani, is demanding a jury trial in federal court in Midland to exact actual and punitive damages from the eight "doctor defendants," who were on the hospital's medical staff when Lauderdale, Dr. Thomas D. Meek, Lalani alleges he was caused to be suspended from surgical privileges.

Lalani, in the suit-petition filed in his behalf by Andrews attorney Dan Sullivan, claims that the "doctor defendants tortuously" interfered with his business and professional relations and "entered into a conspiracy to boycott" him. The hospital is operated by Ector County.

Defendants named in the suit are W.I. Allen, Narita Holmes, James Haiduk, Nell Geers, Ignacio Cisneros and Rudy F. Juedeman, all members of the hospital's board of managers, and Dr. Paul J. Edmondson, Dr. Nathan C. Galloway, Dr. William H.

Lalani, who had "enjoyed full surgical privileges at Medical Center Hospital from 1974 until May 18, 1978. said he was suspended "on improper and unfair grounds" after he "had engaged in a lengthy operation without an assistant.

He alleges that other surgeons had 'engaged in similarly lengthy 'solo operations' (and) with less justification than Dr. Lalani," and those doctors "were not suspended or repri-

"Such discipline was reserved for Dr. Lalani, who the defendant doctors wished to oust from their midst," because he was not subservient to the Anglo clique, as are "these 'house Indians'" whom the white doctors "tolerate" as "security against claims of anti-Indian discrimination," the petition charges.

Lalani, who deems himself a "highly skilled and successful surgeon of Indian origin," alleges that his civil rights, guaranteed by the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, and his right to due process were violated in the following manner:

-"The doctor defendants were from the start hostile to Dr. Lalani on account of his race and national ori-

-"Defendants have traditionally tolerated. Indian doctors as security against claims of anti-Indian discrimination. These 'house Indians' have traditionally been docile and subservient to the clique of white Americans which effectively governs the hospital... Dr. Lalani was admitted to (hospital) privileges that he would prove equally subservient and that his practice would not outstrip that of his Anglo competitors, particularly defendants Edmondson, Meek and Zeeck, who specialize, as does Dr. Lalani, in surgery.

-"Dr. Lalani did not prove to be sufficiently docile..., and he took umbrage at the examples of anti-discrimination.

-"Defendants jointly determined to have his career in Odessa cut short...by reason of their hostility. To this end, the doctor defendants systematically refused to send any referrals to Dr. Lalani and embarked...upon a program to cause Dr. Lalani to be deprived of his surgical privileges in the hospital."

Lalani practiced general surgery in Andrews from 1972 to 1974, when he established a practice in Odessa.

Big Spring woman released on bond in death of girl

Spring woman, Nelta Thompson, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of 10-year-old Kay Lee Thomas, has been released on a $75,000 bond set shortly after the girl was mortally wounded early Saturday, said Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard.

The girl, an apparent acquaintance of Mrs. Thompson, died Monday morning in a Lubbock hospital of a .38-caliber wound to the temple, the sheriff said.

The sheriff said the pistol Mrs. Thompson was carrying discharged and fired into a car, where the girl was sitting, as the woman apparently was getting into the car. She was leaving her son's residence, where a family argument was taking place.

Charges of aggravated assault against Mrs. Thompson were filed with Peace Justice Lewis Heflin of Big Spring on Saturday and bond was set then. Murder charges were refiled with the justice after the girl died Monday morning.

Lubbock Justice of the Peace Charles Smith ruled that the death of the girl was a homocide. The shooting occurred in the Hilltop housing addition just northeast of Big Spring.

Love Canal residents hope message received

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) -After detaining two federal officials for about five hours, angry residents of the Love Canal area say they hope they got their message across to the Carter administration.

If not, "what they've seen here today is going to seem like a Sesame Street picnic," said Lois Gibbs, president of the Love Canal Homeowners

The residents want the Carter administration to declare their neighborhood a disaster area so the remaining 700 families can be moved away at federal expense.

Mrs. Gibbs said she had received no assurances that their demands would

The two Environmental Protection Agency employees, Frank Napal, a public affairs officer, and Dr. James Lucas, deputy director of an EPA health effects research laboratory, were in Niagara Falls to answer homeowners' questions about the chemical contamination of the area.

Residents would not allow them to leave the meeting as a crowd gathered outside.

After the five hours, the two men were led through a booing, jeering crowd of about 200 people in front of the association headquarters.

As lights for television news cameras glared, Mrs. Gibbs told the crowd she believed the association had made its point. She said she had learned that U.S. Rep. John LaFalce, D-N.Y., met with President Carter about the situation. "It reached the White House," she said. "That's all we were really trying to do."

Tension, fear and anger have intensified in the Love Canal area since the EPA's announcement Saturday that chromosomal abnormalities had been detected among 11 of 36 residents studied in a research project.

The abnormalities were early warnings that cancer, birth defects, miscarriages and other health problems could occur.

Meanwhile, the EPA in Washington denied reports that the White House has rejected proposals that the Love Canal residents be relocated.

Barbara Blum, deputy administrator of the EPA, described the reports as "absolutely false" and said two the said th

The Buffalo Evening News said it had learned that the EPA wanted to begin moving people out of the area when the chromosome announcement was made

But the newspaper reported the White House ruled against an immediate evacuation in lieu of a review of the evidence.

The Hooker Chemicals & Plastics Corp. used the Love Canal as a chemical dump site from 1942 to 1953. The chemicals were buried in drums and capped with clay. Several years ago, people living in the area began complaining of illness and the odor of

In August 1978, after some of the chemicals began oozing to the surface, the state Health Department declared an emergency.

The state bought the homes of 235 families living on streets next to the canal and relocated them. The state also launched a cleanup project that involved the construction of draining ditches to siphon off leaking chemi-

Police car hits Midland woman

A 63-year-old Midland woman was listed in critical condition and transferred to Odessa Medical Center Hospital this morning after a car-pedestrian accident involving a police car.

According to reports, Ingrid Hays, of 2602 Country Club Drive, was walking across Cuthbert around 4 a.m. today at the intersection of Cuthbert Avenue and Ward Street.

Lt. H.M. Wicker, head of the traffic division, said the woman had been to Albertsons and was apparently walking from the south side of the street across to the north side.

Officer Ronald Wayne Gray did not see the woman in time. He swerved to the left, missing her with the front of the car; but a right hand door caught the woman, knocking her into the curb. Wicker said that, according to the officer's report, the woman just seemed to appear out of nowhere.

She was treated at Midland Memorial Hospital emergency room for head and chest injuries before being

Death penalty overturned by high court

WASHINGTON (AP) - Laws defining "outrageously vile, horrible, or inhuman" murders as capital offenses cannot be the basis for imposing the death penalty unless the victims actually suffered "serious physical abuse" before death, the Supreme Court says.

In striking down a Georgia death sentence Monday, the nation's highest court put all states on notice that their capital punishment laws must avoid vague or open-ended phrasing.

'A capital sentencing scheme must...provide a meaningful basis for disginuishing the few cases in which the penalty is imposed from the many cases in which it is not," Justice Potter Stewart wrote.

If a death penalty is based on a finding that the crime was particularly outrageous, then "evidence of serious physical abuse of the victim before death" is required, Stewart

The decision does not represent any substantive backing away from the Supreme Court's endorsement of capital punishment's constitutionality when properly imposed. But it is sure to influence future state court rulings on whether life imprisonment or death is the proper punishment in individual cases.

Under Georgia law, one of the categories under which a convicted murderer may be sentenced to death is if the crime is found to be "outrageously or wantonly vile, horrible or inhuman in that it involved torture, depravity of mind or an aggravated battery to the victim.'

Stewart said no such proof of outrageous acts was present in Robert Godfrey's 1977 shotgun slayings of his wife and mother-in-law. Godfrey's death sentence was overturned by a 6-3 vote of the justices.

It remains to be seen whether Godfrey must face another possible death sentence under new proceedings or whether he will be resentenced to life Also unclear is just how many death row inmates in Georgia and across the nation will be affected by Monday's ruling. It appears that only nine of the 98 persons on Georgia's death row, as of April 20, were sentenced on the basis of circumstances similar to those overturned in Godfrey's case.

In a friend-of-the-court brief supporting Georgia's sentencing Godfrey to the electric chair, Missouri state officials said their death penalty law contained a section identical to the disputed section of Georgia's law.

Mrs. Betterton, 46, who was shot twice with a .22-caliber rifle, has lost the sight of her right eye as a result of the shooting. Clark was shot seven times in his stepmother's house.

Betterton apparently harbored a "smouldering hatred" for his stepbrother, who purportedly had a ten-dency to "pick" on him, according to Martin.

The indictment charging that Betterton had attempted to murder his mother was to be dismissed in the plea-bargaining arrangement. Earlier Monday, a 65-member jury panel had been gathered in the courtroom for attorneys to select a 12-person jury had Betterton elected to have his case tried before a jury.

However, the panel was excused until 9 a.m. today, when a jury was to be selected in yet another case.

"Plea-bargaining agreements have been worked out between the district attorney and various defendants," said Judge Culp, who also noted that 'Sometimes these plea-bargaining agreements fall through in the last minute.

And, the judge said, the mere presence of a jury panel and the threat of an impending trial causes "people to start to negotiate and settle their differences."

Missile launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) -Stargazers witnessed a spectacular display of fireworks as a British Polaris missile was successfully launched from here, Air Force officials said.

The Royal Navy missile thundered away Monday night from Pad 29 at Cape Canaveral Air Force Station trailing orange sparks and white smoke behind it.

As it headed upward, the sky was suddenly highlighted by alternating bursts of orange, green, yellow and white light. At one point, the intense light from the missile's exhaust created a four-spoke halo resembling

The Polaris, usually launched from a submarine, was sent up from a land pad as part of a series of tests. The British Navy buys the missiles from the United States and tests the system at the U.S. Air Force range here.

Japan announces sanctions, continues oil talks

continued negotiations with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime on oil imports and prepared to resume building the $3 billion Bandar Khomeini petrochemical plant.

The sanctions will follow the basic line set forth Sunday by the Common Market, which said all contracts signed after the 53 Americans were seized in Iran Nov. 4 will be suspended to speed the release of the hostages.

South Korean Cabinet members resign

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - Prime Minister Shin Hyonhwack and the other 18 members of the South Korean Cabinet resigned today, two days after Lt. Gen. Chun Doo-hwan and his military associates took full control of the country.

Several thousand demonstrators again took to the streets of Kwangju, 150 miles south of Seoul, but paratroopers used tear gas to disperse them. Riots in Kwangju Sunday and Monday led to as many as 800 arrests and two deaths.

Seoul was quiet, as it has been since the new martial-law proclamation Sunday. But busloads of riot police and trucks full of armed soldiers backed by armored personnel carriers were stationed at strategic points and intersections.

The Cabinet said it resigned to assume responsibility for "a series of events," including violent anti-government demonstrations by thousands of students in Seoul and five other cities, that took place while President Choi Kyu-hah was on a tour of the Middle East last week.

But informed sources said several cabinet members had been considering resigning to protest the military takeover. Meanwhile, opposition party leader Kim Young-sam defied the ruling military clique's new ban on political activity today by calling a news conference and then smuggling out a statement to reporters when they were barred from his home. Kim, the leader of the New Democratic party and one of four prospective candidates in the presidential election that had been promised next year, was confined to his home by an armed military guard and all visitors were turned away. But he smuggled out a statement calling the expansion of martial law last Sunday "a violent act which betrayed the national goal of restoration of democracy.'

The legislature had been scheduled to meet today and was expected to adopt a New Democratic resolution terminating martial law, which the constitution specifies can be done by a majority vote. On Monday, the pro-government Democratic Republican Party, the majority faction, announced it was calling off the session, and the New Democrats did not have enough seats to convene a meeting. But that apparently was not enough for the military leaders.

Martial law was proclaimed last Oct. 26 after the assassination of President Chung Hee-park, but his successor, President Choi, promised Park's authoritarian constitution would be revised before the end of the year and democratic elections would However, Gen. Chun, the leader of the military establishment, reportedly opposes liberalization of the constitution, and after the violent student demonstrations last week demanding acceleration of the democratic reforms, he and Gen. Lee Hee-sung, the martial law commander, pushed through a cabinet decree early Sunday expanding the state of martial law and in effect making President Choi a figurehead.

The martial law command then banned all political activity including comment, closed all schools and universities and arrested 26 political leaders, including Kim Jong-pil, head of the Democratic Republican Party, and Kim Dae-jung, the most popular anti-government leader in the country. Both were expected to oppose Choi in the presidential election, along with Kim Young-sam.

The command issued a statement today saying it would allow political activity to resume and the schools and universities to reopen "in the near future, as soon as stability is restored and the campuses are normalized." It accused the 26 political leaders who were arrested of "plotting strong anti-government strug-

Soviet Tom-foolery

How stupid the leaders of the Soviet Union must think we Americans are.

As Afghanistan lies writhing in its own blood, the Soviets come now bearing flowers and promises, and seeking an international summit to defuse world tensions.

Of course the Soviets were careful to avoid an admission of guilt for being largely responsible for the increasing tension between it and other nations, including the United States.

When the Soviet tanks rumbled across the Afghanistan border, surely the Kremlin realized world tensions would mount, that there would be a price to pay.

History spells that out very clearly. As Secretary of State Edmund Muskie noted, while speaking before Soviet dignitaries and others attending the 25th anniversary of the end of post-World War II Allied occupation of Austria, Nazi Germany had to pay the price for its invasion of Austria.

Surely the Soviets do not believe they can now call for a peaceful solution to the Afghanistan invasion without withdrawing fully and completely. Already they have overthrown the existing government in that country and installed another regime, one more Kremlin-oriented. Secretary Muskie, on his first diplomatic foray last week, apparently was not fooled by the thinly-veiled Soviet deceit, obviously aimed at gaining world respect for Afghan President Babrak Karmal.

He said his talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, to have occurred Friday, likely would be a "diplomatic minuet" which would not result in any significant changes in Soviet poli-Muskie appears to be taking with a grain of salt the Soviets' sugar-coated olive branch. That's good. When you deal with the Soviet Union you have to expect to encounter deceit, half-truths and outright lies.

Constructive steps can be taken to counter mounting world tensions and head off resumption of the costly Cold War of past decades. But to achieve that end the United States and the Soviet Union must sit down across the negotiating table with real intentions of achieving those goals. From all indications Muskie is intent on not being duped by Soviet double talk. That's a plus for him already.

Few believe claim Soviets are using gas

WASHINGTON - I've already reported that the Russians are using poison gas to flush the ragged Afghan rebels from their mountain hideouts. Now there is alarming evidence that the Russians have developed a new 'nerve" gas capable of incapacitating its victims long enough for troops to move in for the kill.

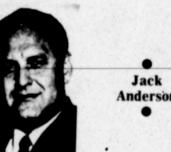

The Carter administration apparently has the evidence in hand, yet so far has failed to make it public. The result is widespread skepticism of the U.S. charges, not only among Third World nations but even among our allies. Like the shepherd boy who cried "Wolf!" too often, the United States may find its claims doubted evidence against the Soviets.

What seems to have happened is that Congress and the White House have been given conflicting interpretations of the available evidence by the various intelligence agencies. For example, at a recent top-secret Defense Intelligence Agency briefing for Congress, some of the Pentagon experts expressed their opinion that the Soviet Union has been using a newly developed gas that paralyzes its victims. Yet they could offer no evidence of follow-up attacks by infantry or artillery that would fit the scenario they had worked out. Meanwhile, the Central Intelligence Agency briefings have stressed that there is no hard evidence that will either confirm or belie the allegations of chemical warfare by Russian troops in Afghanistan, much less the appearance of a new "nerve" gas.

Another area that has produced numerous reports of gas attacks is Southeast Asia. Laotian tribesmen have repeatedly given U.S. represen-tatives detailed accounts of deadly poison gas attacks. But here again, convincing physical evidence has

"The fact is that there is no physical evidence," a State Department official told my reporter Lucette Lag nado. "The evidence we have is large-

One congressional expert explained: "There will always be doubt until there is an actual canister, or a body, or a physical sample on which chemical tests can be performed with verifiable results. We do not have a body. We did have (evidence), but it was too old.

that the U.S. government is "making a fuss even though we do not really have the proof we need."

In short, the consensus of opinion in the intelligence community is that the reports of Soviet gas attacks merit as thorough investigation. Where there's that much smoke, they feel, there may well be a fire - but meanwhile, the United States shouldn't sound the alarm without proof.

Things aren't so bad

The word from Moscow is that the Russians are determined to get along hereafter without American grain. Intelligence reports quote Kremlin leaders as saying they'll purchase their grain from other suppliers, cut back on the Soviet diet and feed their cattle corn stalks before they'll buy grain again from the United States.

As evidence that they mean what they say, they have barred Americans from their grain negotiations scheduled later this month in Moscow. They will negotiate instead with sales representatives from Argentina, Australia, Brazil and Canada, which are stepping up production to State Department analysts had warned from the beginning that the grain embargo would have no effect on the Kremlin. Declared a top-secret analysis: "The stringencies that would face the regime are unlikely to be desperate, nor the extent of U.S. power to withhold goods so great as to compel the U.S.S.R. to substantially alter any important element of its domestic or foreign policy in response to outside pressure.

Carter's embargo, meanwhile, has cost the United States a whopping $2:6 billion in lost grain sales. This has lowered grain prices for the American farmers, steepened the recession and worsened the U.S. balance-ofpayments problem.

MUDDIED UP: 'After three years, Jimmy Carter still dreads the necessity of working with Congress. When an aide suggested a certain course of legislative action recently, the president asked if there weren't some way of bypassing Capitol Hill. The legislative process is "like throwing a ball into a mud puddle," he observed. "It takes a long time to get back to me, and when it does it's not in the same shape as when it started.' UNDER THE DOME: Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd has confided to fellow Democrats that he could become the minority leader. He fears President Carter will be knocked out of the White House by a vote that could also sweep several Democrats out of the Senate ... Disgruntled farmers have found a sympathetic ear on Capitol Hill. They're telling their troubles to Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., who is in line to become the next Senate Agriculture Committee chairman .

There are many members of Congress who can whistle "Dixie," but Rep. Jim Scheuer, D-N.Y., is one of the few legislators who can play the harmonica. He not only was the mouth-organ champ of New York City in his precongressional career, but he also made the Hohner harmonica firm's Hall of Fame ... Rep. Thomas Jefferson Steed, D-Okla., one of the House's ablest story tellers, is heading for the hills of home after 32 years in Congress ... Such is Steed's influence on the powerful House Appropriations Committee that three other members are following his lead -Reps. Ed Patten, D-N.J., Bob Giaimo, D-Conn., and Bob McEwen, R-N.Y.

incensed about that film which tells the story of a princess who fell in love and fell out of favor with the royal family which promptly shot her. The Saudis claim the film maligns their country but they really ought to be flattered. I didn't know they had mastered firearms.

The last time I was sitting around the Gulf of Aqabah having a drink at the Holiday Inn, 75 trucks were stacked up at the Saudi border. It seems the king had come home and they were having a party and since they can't have a party and do something else at the same time, this modern state simply closed its borders for three days.

Speaking of the Middle East, President Carter is on the ball in that area, too. Just the other day when the PLO ambushed some unarmed Jewish religious students in Hebron and killed five, including two American citizens, the state department immediately condemned Israel for deporting three

You see the logic. If Israel deports three mayors that will make the Palestinians who just murdered the students so unhappy that they won't talk about peace. How can any reasonable person expect the Palestinian Arabs to accept peace if the Israelis deport their mayor everytime they murder unarmed Jewish students. That's being intransigent.

There is even something good to be said for the planned rescue of American hostages in Iran. No doubt President Carter was careful to limit the number of helicopters on the mission in order to avoid ecological damage to the Iranian desert from the prop

INSIDE REPORT:

Giant Soviet nuclear submarine could sink SALT pact

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - U.S. spy satellite pictures conclusively show that part of the giant, new nuclear submarine, presumably of the Typhoon class, launched by the Soviet Union in Sverdminsk two weeks ago is concealed by a tarpaulin cover, in probable violation of the SALT II treaty.

Naval experts here say the back portion of the submarine - the largest underwater vessel ever built has been entirely concealed ever since the launch. They suspect this reason: to prevent U.S. satellite cameras from photographing the ship's missile launching holes.

Although not ratified by the U.S. Senate, both the Russians and the U.S. have said they will abide for now by the terms of the new treaty. That document imposes an "obligation" on both sides "not to use deliberate concealment measures associated with testing." That means missile launchers, land or sea, may not be concealed during the testing phase. High-resolution cameras could penetrate the tarpaulin cover, intelligence experts say. But those cameras were sacrificed in 1979 by budget cutbacks in the U.S. defense pro-

CARTER'S FRIEND CAREY

Gov. Hugh Carey has replaced his fellow New Yorker, Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, as No. 1 on the White House hate list, not just because he has called for an "open" Democratic convention but because he broke an early promise not to cause trouble for President Carter.

Anxious to hold the national convention in a state with a governor friendly to Carter, Democratic National Chairman John White interviewed Carey before New York City finally was picked as the 1980 convention site. Carey told White he not only liked the president but intended to endorse him. The endorsement never Carey boosters have been whispering for months about the governor as Vice President Walter Mondale's running mate on a "third force" compromise ticket. But there is no grand conspiracy behind Carey's call for both Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy to release their delegates. New York insiders consider it an impulsive statement that Carey probably wishes he had not made.

CHRISTOPHER EXIT?

Deputy Secretary of State Warren

Christopher, one of former Secretary of State Cyrus Vance's most loyal allies, came within a hair of quitting when he read about President Carter's gratuitous insult of Vance in Philadelphia May 9. Christopher's aides said he could not understand why Carter felt com-presumed weakness in contrast to successor Edmund Muskie's "much stronger and more statesmanlike' foreign policy posture. Christopher was also nursing another grievance against Carter: that Carter had passed him over despite the speculation that he, not Muskie, would be picked to succeed Vance.

But Christopher swallowed his announced decision to remain until Muskie gets acclimated. Some State Department officials believe he may in the end change his mind about leaving and remain with Muskie through this year at least. Stock market stable

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market showed very little change today, struggling to maintain the momentum of its spring rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, coming off a run of five consecutive gains, was up a token .08 at 830.97 by noontime today.

But declines slightly outnumbered advances in the mid-day tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. The Dow Jones industrial average has climbed more than 90 points from its low on the afternoon of March 27, the day when the collapse of the silver market reached its climax.

Since then, stock prices have responded favorably to a steep decline in interest rates. But considerable debate continues on Wall Street over whether the market has yet fully recognized the effects of the developing recession on corporate profits and dividends.

Texaco dropped 1/2 to 33 1/4. The company announced that an exploratory well in the Baltimore Canyon off the New Jersey coast turned up no commercial quantities of oil or gas.

Diamond Shamrock led the active list, up ¾ at 28% in trading that included an 827,400-share block at 27%. That large trade was part of a deal in which the company acquired the privately-held Fallek Chemical

The NYSE's composite index slipped .05 to 61.34. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .11 at 259.13.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 13.89 million shares at noontime.

Businesses find cheaper loans

NEW YORK (AP) - The cost of business loans has fallen to 16 percent at some banks, but an increasing number of corporate treasurers are finding far lower rates elsewhere.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., the country's fifth-largest bank, cut its prime rate 1/2-percentage point to 16 percent Monday and some smaller banks matched the lower rate. Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third largest, lowered its rate to 16½ from 17 percent. The moves, however, probably sur-prised few of the nation's big companies. They have been borrowing at a 91/2 percent interest rate lately in the commercial paper market.

term IOUs to other companies and large investors with idle cash, has fallen more rapidly than the rates charged by banks. Business borrowing at banks, for example, fell $1.37 billion in the week ended May 7 to $154.43 billion, while commercial paper outstanding in the U.S. jumped a record $3.85 billion to $126.3 billion in the same period.

"Banks are losing market share to the commercial paper market," said David Jones, an economist for Aubrey G. Lanston & Co., a New York investment firm.

Strings concert scheduled today

About 240 elementary school strings students will be performing in the "Strings in Concert" program tonight at 8 o'clock in the Midland High School auditorium.

Separate performances by fourth, fifth and sixth grade orchestras will be included, with a grand finale featuring all three orchestras.

The finale will include a patriotic medley composed by Marion Stone, a local strings teacher. Dr. Thomas Hohstadt, director of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale, will. be conducting the finale.

Special guests for tonight's concert are the Midland Symphony Board, members of the school board and principals and teachers of the Miciland Independent School District. The public is invited to attend the free performance.

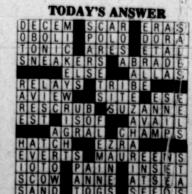

Bond set for man in heroin case

Bond for John Chaves Mendez, 60 of San Antonio, was set at $30,000 Monday on charges of possession of heroin with intent to distribute, according to a spokesman for the I) rug Enforcement Agency.

Mendez was arrested on an Od essa street at 2:15 a.m. Sunday. He had slightly less than two ounces of a substance believed to be heroin in his possession, said the spokesman. The investigation and arrest inc luded officers and agents from the DEA, Ector County Sheriff's Office, Midland Police and Department of Public Safety.

U.S. economy weaker than earlier estimated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy was weaker in the first three months this year than earlier estimated, growing at a mere 0.6 percent annual pace, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department's measure of the nation's inflation-adjusted output earlier had been reported as growth of 1.1 percent, on an annual basis. The figure indicates that the economy is heading into recession from a weaker base than had been anticipated, suggesting that forecasts of a relatively deep downturn may be correct.

The first-quarter growth figure was down from the 2 percent growth in the final three months of 1979 and was the poorest showing since the nation's output fell in the second quarter last year, when truckers struck and gasoline was in short supply

An annual rate figure indicates what would occur over the course of a year if economic conditions for a single quarter continued for three more quarters. In another report, the Commerce Department said after-tax profits of the nation's corporations rose 5.9 percent from the final quarter of 1979 to an annual $155.5 billion in the first quarter of 1980. After adjustment for inflation, however, after-tax profits were down 12.7 percent to an annual $70.1 billion. It was the third consecutive quarterly decline in adjusted profits.

President Carter has said he expects the recession, which many economists believe began in March or April, to be "mild and short."

But others — including the corporate financial advisers to the Business Council and several of the nation's leading private forecasting companies believe the downturn will be the worst since World War II, with the exception of the 1974-75 recession. The "real" gross national product - the inflation-adjusted value of all the nation's goods and services — was revised downward for the first quarter because consumer spending, inventory investment, residential purchases and government purchases were not as strong as preliminary data had indicated, the Commerce report said.

Upward revisions were included for net exports and business investment, the

Before adjustment for inflation, the nation's output for the first quarter of 1980 was just over an annual $2.5 trillion, up a modest 2.4 percent from the performance in the final quarter of 1979.

After inflation was taken into account, output totaled an annual $1.442 billion in the first quarter, compared with $1.440 billion in the fourth quarter.

Inflation, as measured by the implicit price deflator, was an annual 8.9 percent in the first three months this year, up from 8.1 percent in the final quarter last year, the report showed.

The economy had grown at an annual rate of 1.1 percent in the first quarter of 1979, then fell at an annual 2.3 percent in the second quarter. It began growing again, posting gains of 3.1 percent and 2 percent annual rates of growth in the The corporate profits picture was somewhat gloomy. .

Book profits before tax were valued at an annual $257.1 billion in the first three months this year, up 5.8 percent from the fourth quarter of 1979. Before-tax profits had grown 0.3 percent from the third quarter to the fourth

Negotiators agree to end general revenue sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) - House and Senate negotiators agree today on the need to end general revenue sharing for states in the drive to balance the 1981 budget, but remain in sharp disagreement on other key issues, such as defense and jobs programs.

The elimination of funds for state revenue sharing Monday night reversed last week's Senate vote to keep the $1.7 billion program alive by shiftng $700 million from "categorical" grants that a state must spend for fecierally mandated purposes.

The conference committee's action came as a blow to state and cities which lobbied strongly for at least partial restoration of the program that gives states discretion over how to spend the federal money

But Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., House Budget Committee chairman, In recent weeks, this market, in said it was "unseemly" to continue revenue sharing to states — many with which large companies issue shortthe budget.

Despite agreement on revenue sharing, the negotiators still face wide grown as interest rates there have differences on Senate demands for sharply higher defense spending and for cleep cuts in social programs in the budget for fiscal 1981, which starts Oct. 1.

"We're a long way from home," said Giaimo as the conference committee adjourned late Monday night. "I think we're still terribly far

The biggest difference between the two sides remained defense, with the Senate refusing to reduce its $155.7 billion military spending figure more than $300 million.

The House side agreed to raise its defense amount from $147.9 billion to $152 billion and indicated it might be willing to go higher.

The House offer meant that Congress will almost certainly exceed President Carter's $150.5 billion request for defense in fiscal 1981. Meanwhile, the House fought to prevent big cuts in jobs programs, food stamps, mass transit and other domestic programs that the Senate During the defense debate, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, the Senate Budget

Committee's new chairman, accused Carter of weakening U.S. military strength and consistently backing down to threats from the Soviet Union. In a caustic review of Carter's defense posture, the South Carolina Democrat compared the president's policies toward Moscow with unsuccessful attempts by former British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to appease Nazi Germany prior to World War II. Hollings, who succeeded Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie as com-rnittee chairman last week, ridiculed Carter for embracing Soviet Presiclent Leonid Brezhnev during their summit last year. "When he (Carter) kissed Brezhnev last June...he thought just like Chamberlain," Hollings said. "Chamberlain didn't think he was an ap-peaser. He was reflecting public opinion. Probably Jimmy Carter felt he was reflecting public opinion. The conferees hoped to finish work on the compromise budget this week so final House and Senate votes could be taken when Congress returns next week from the Memorial Day holiday.

By MARTHA WENTWORTH and DEBBIE FOSTER

Bright and early Friday morning, the new and old Junior Council members were up at the youth Center to elect their new officers for the 1980-81 school year. The four outstanding members that were chosen for these offies are Debbie Foster, president; Kari Watson, vice-president; Shannon Ashford, secretary; and Cathy Hickman, treasurer. Good luck in leading everyone to a fun and exciting next year.

Tuesday, May 15 in the library, wishes of good luck for the future were exchanged between the old and newly elected Student Council Officers. As the 1980-81 officers were installed, both sad and happy feelings were felt by everyone present.

We would also like to congratulate all those that were chosen for next years President's Cabinet. Good luck in conducting hard working committees next year.

their dates to the cafeteria Thursday night for the an-nual Sports Banquet. During this time, varsity coaches from every sport honored their varsity lettermen. Diane Strickling and Wade Cartwright were chosen as the boy and girl outstanding athletes of the year. CONGRATULATIONS!

Speaking of food, fun, and excitement, the band also had their annual banquet Saturday night. Terrific Travis Stice and Teresa Brown were named boy and girl of the year. All of Rebeland extends a special thanks to the 1979-80 Rebel Band for those great half-time shows and keeping the spirit high during the year!

Attention: Anyone interested in going on an exciting trip to Acapulco with Coach Browning should get in touch with him anytime before May 28. Get ready to join in the fun with the Six Million Dollar Man contest, the Bikini contest, and the Tan contest. It's going to be great!

Hay rowdy Rebels, the Senior all night party is coming up May 30, 11:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. at the National Guard Armory. Fancy yourself and bring a date out to live entertainment, hourly prizes, and some fantastic food. The "Highlighted" prize to be given away to some lucky senior is a marvelous, magical, magnificent Moped. This party, given annually for all Midland and Lee High School seniors is planned and given by the senior parents. It is an evening seniors won't want to miss. Tickets bought early are $7 (sold during lunch hour outside cafeteria door - May 19-23) or at party door $9.

Tune in next Tuesday, for another chapter of the continuing 'Rebel Youth Center Chatter.' Martha Wentworth and Debbie Foster P.S. Mr Wade ... Please let Hud pass!!! Scott you're a nice guy!

B.C. Comments: Congratulations to the Junior Council officers for the next year. Through their leadership and with your efforts we will have a great next year.

All membersof Junior Council (except this year's seniors) bring cookies to the Youth Center Sunday, May 25 between 2:00 and 4:00 for the reception for the seniors following the Baccalaureate Service. Also, I need some senior girls (women) to go to Lee Freshman school to sell Youth Center cards on Thursday and Friday of this week. If you are interested see me by Wednesday.

There will be an "end of school" dance this Saturday night from 9-12:30. Cost is nothing if you have a Youth Center card for the current year, and to our new 'sophs, your new card will get you in; and if you do not have a card bring a dollar!!

No award

By ERMA BOMBECK

Something good happened at the Academy Awards ceremony last month that should not go unnoted.

Justin Henry, the eight-year-old

Justin Henry, the eight-year-old who was nominated for his performance as the custodee in "Kramer vs. Kramer," didn't get the award for the best supporting actor.

I was holding my breath until the results were announced. Can you imagine what the entertainment industry would do to an adorable little boy who peaked at age eight?

First, a book publisher, knowing the value of stars who write books, would publish Justin's memoirs. He would go on book tour . . . making hot chocolate with Dinah, singing with Mike, telling his favorite riddle to Merv, and revealing to Donahue how he really felt about legalizing junk food.

A movie would ensue in which he would be played by Gary Coleman.
Rumors would fly. He would be linked romantically with every child starlet in Hollywood and the National Enquirer would run a picture of him dancing until 10 o'clock at night with an older woman . . . Kristy McNichol

His agent would talk him into doing a "centerfold," assuring him it would be "fun." Out of that would come a poster, followed by a T-shirt.

He would drop out of grade school, rationalizing, "I can make a statement through my films."

For awhile, he would be "hot." He'd be the first on the Carson show and would leave immediately pleading, "My mother won't let me out after dark." (Even when he guest-hosted, the show would run only 30 mi-

He would be tapped for the center square on Hollywood Squares and mentioned as a possible younger replacement for Ron Ely on the Miss America pageant.

He would become irritable with the pressure and fire his agent for passing him a piece of sugarless gum in front of his friends.

He'd want to run away from home, but would be thwarted when he realized he wasn't old enough to drive a car or cross the street alone. His reputation as "difficult to handle" would spread and he'd get the news from Rona one morning, "Justin Suffers Cuteness Burnout."

Justin Henry was spared the nightmare. For the moment, I'll remember him in that big seat, bathed in innocence, and never really knowing how wonderfully talented he really is. Maybe it's best that way.

Juvenile Court Judge Scott Moore awarded custody of the infant girl to her 16-year-old mother Monday, after refusing to hear arguments from attorneys for the midwife, who is trying to obtain custody of the baby.

Kidnapping charges against Ken Revell, 33, were dropped after the girl admitted she concocted a story about receiving a fake death certificate from the Arlington midwife to cover up her attempts to put the child up for adoption. Revell had been arrested after the girl told Tarrant County district attorneys' investigators she received a faked death certificate bearing the name of her child, "Mimi" from Revell.

The baby was placed in a foster home after the arrest, but child welfare workers and District Attorney Tim Curry agreed to return her to her mother after the girl said she wanted to raise the baby.

"I'm just glad I got her back," said the blue-jean clad mother, who was accompanied to the courtroom by her grand-

After Moore's announcement, Revell and his attorney, Mike Frederick, said court papers aimed at terminating the teen-aged mother's cus-tody, have been filed.

Revell and his wife, Francille, are attempting to adopt the child he delivered at the midwife office he set up three Double your savings growth with your own Survival Kit.

State and federal income taxes can take as much as 70% of the interest a person's savings earn. A single person who earns $25,000 taxable income pays as much as 40% of his savings interest in federal taxes alone. This makes planning your financial future, or retirement, almost impossible

The Survival Kit defers state and federal income tax on the interest your savings earn. Your savings grow dramatically faster, because the interest is left to compound and earn interest on

In effect, the Survival Kit lets you use what otherwise would be tax dollars, to build your financial future, or provide for your retirement

The Survival Kit can offer you this lifesaving advantage in growth because it is a group annuity plan underwritten by American Life and Casualty Insurance Company. But it is nothing like the traditional annuity plan which holds funds at a low, fixed rate of return.

Instead, the Survival Kit combines the advantages of a modern, high-return certificate savings account with the advantages made possible by this group annuity plan. In addition to the allimportant deferral of taxes, you gain surprising withdrawal privileges, a variety of estate-planning benefits, and the option of choosing between lifetime retirement income payments or any other form of withdrawal that meets your needs. You are the one who decides how to withdraw your funds, and when.

Call us today for full information on all the ways the Survival Kit can improve your financial future. *Depending on your tax bracket and length of time savings are held in your Survival Kit.

Compare the growth of $10,000 in a Survival Kitim versus conventional 8% certificate savings. $109,319 in 60,000

30% TAXPAYER
$44,453 greater increase even at a 30% tax bracket.
That's what would happen for a saver, age 32, who deposits $10,000 at 8% and saves to age 65 in the example above. Come in today for the Survival Kit that can dramatically increase your savings.

In his bols Bridge Tip some two years ago, Gabriel Chagas wrote about the intra-finesse - a combination finesse-smother play within a suit. The situation crops up more frequently than one might imagine. Here's an example from the recent Mixed Pair event at the Spring North American Championships held in Fresno, Calif.

The only point of any note in the auction was the South's bid of two clubs was forcing-he was hoping North would show three-card spade support. West's double served no useful purpose-it was not even lead-directing, 49 50 since he would rather have partner lead his own best suit than a club. The declarer was Dave Treadwell of Wilmington, Del. West listened to his own bidding and led a club. Declarer was by no means impressed with his contract -he had to lose at least a trick in each red suit to the aces, so he could not afford two trump losers as well. One way was to play East for the king of trumps. However, since West had, at most, a jack in the suit he doubled, it seemed probable that he held the high cards in the other

If West had the king of spades, there were two ways to limit the spade losers to one. The simplest was to play West for a doubleton honor. The alternative was to hope that he had the king and another honor once guarded, and rely on the intra-finesse. Since it is a much prettier play, and much more likely to be fodder for bridge columns, Treadwell chose the latter. He won the king of clubs and led a trump to the eight and ten. West shifted to ace of hearts and another.

Declarer won the king in his hand and led the queen of spades. Whether or not West covered, the defenders were not going to get another spade trick, for East's jack was pinned. Now declarer needed only to find the ace of diamonds onside to bring home a well-played, if fortuitous, game.

Japanese resume oil negotiations

By JONATHAN C. RANDAL The Washington Post

TEHRAN - Japanese oil companies have resumed negotiations for purchases of more than half a million barrels a day of Iran's high-priced crude, Iranian government oil sources said Monday.

The talks resumed despite Japan's agreeemnt in principle to apply the same sanctions adopted Sunday by the nine nations of the European Common market. Last month Iranian oil minister Ali Akbar Monifar said Iran would refuse to sell oil to any nation applying Oil purchases officially were exempted from the European sanctions. But a gentlemen's agreement amounting to informal sanctions has discouraged buying Iranian crude for the past month. The main objection has been that Iran's $35 a barrel price was far higher than that charged by other members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries for Considerable optimism was expressed by National Iranian Oil Company circles that the dozen Japanese companies now negotiating would be compelled to accept the full Iranian asking price. The price led to suspension of sales negotiations with the Japanese firms in mid-April. Resuming sales of the 530,000 barrels a day once sold to Japan would amost double Iran's crude exports and provide badly needed foreign exchange to keep the sagging economy going.

Buoying Iranian oilmen were the latest price increases by Saudi Arabia and Mexico, source said.

Although Iran says it exports nearly 1 million barrels day, oil analysts can trace only 611,500 barrels a day in term contracts, and Iranian officials say no more tan 100,000 barrels a day is sold on the spot market .

Japanese companies, British Petroleum and Royal Dutch Shell together purchased more than 800,000 barrels a day until March 31. Now about a third of Iran's oil exports are believed to go to communist countries. China, the most recent customer, signed up for a 30,000-barrel a day deal.

Refugee flow not over until 50,000 more arrive

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) - U.S. officials say there's finally an end in sight to the month-old "Freedom Flo-tilla" that has delivered more than 62,000 Cuban refugees. But the end may not come until another 50,000 have arrived here.

'Now it's a war of attrition," said State Department spokeswoman Joanna Capman.

No boats have gone to Cuba in nearly four days, with U.S. Coast Guard cutters firmly turning back the handful that have tried. Cuban authorities have ignored President Carter's call for all boats to return empty and allow U.S. governmentchartered ships to take over transportation - and selection - of refu-

Most returning boat captains say Cuban authorities won't allow them to leave Mariel harbor until their vessels are loaded with passengers, so U.S. officials now are playing a numbers game.

"If we could control the southbound traffic and the exodus continues from Mariel, we would eventually reach a point when there are no boats left,' said Coast Guard Cmdr. Samuel Dennis of Key West.

Officials estimate that more than 2,500 boats have left here for Cuba since the first "Freedom Flotilla" boat departed April 20. So far, more than 1,600 have returned.

However, U.S. officials have noted that since the U.S. began preventing boats from leaving here, Cuban au-thorities are allowing fewer boats to leave Mariel empty.

Of the first 1,500 boaters to return, about two-thirds carried refugees. But about 80 percent of returning boats since last Wednesday have carried refugees.

"It's hard to predict what's ahead," said Allen Lisle of the Federal Emergency Management Agency. "We have no control over the number of people coming. We'll get what they send us."

Federal officials expect as many as 50,000 more refugees before the flotilla ends.

Jorge Gonzalez, a Puerto Rico resident who returned Monday with 34 refugees packed onto his 30-foot boat, estimated about 700 boats remain at

Quebec voters decide today whether or not to secede

MONTREAL (AP) - The voters of Quebec province answer a historic question today — should they stay Canadians or begin the process of secession?

The Quebecers were asked in a yes-or-no referendum to give the government of their mostly Frenchspeaking province a mandate to negotiate "sovereignty-association" - political independence but continued close economic ties — with the English-speaking rest of Canada.

The referendum is the culmination of generations of friction between Canada's two founding peoples.

Generally sunny weather was predicted across the big province. Voting hours were from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. EDT, and a massive turnout of perhaps 90 percent or more of the 4.3 million eligible voters was predicted.

About 3.5 million or 80 percent of the voters are French-speaking, and the ballots were in both French and En-

The last opinion poll showed the "yes" side with a narrow lead, a reversal of previous surveys. Provincial Premier Rene Levesque, whose Parti Quebecois was formed 12 years ago to crusade for Quebec separation, told reporters Monday he felt a late surge in support over the past week, "like a dam breaking."

However, many political analysts believed that most of the many undecided voters in the opinion polls would cast "no" ballots.

Millions across Quebec and Canada had been caught up in the fiery debate over the province's future. Neighborhood "yes" and "no," or "oui" and "non" committees sprang up committees sprang up throughout the province. The Montreal newspaper La Presse printed an eight-page section Monday devoted entirely to letters-to-the-editor discussing the emotional issue.

Israel may reconsider expulsions

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Supreme Court, expressing criticism of the military's haste in deporting three leading West Bank Palestinians following the ambush-killings of six Jewish settlers, agreed today to consider an appeal against the expulsions by the wives of the deportees.

The court ordered the government to explain within 45 days "why the deportation orders should not be re-

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS AND PARTIES:

You are hereby notified of the opportunity for written public comment concerning the Construction Permit Application No. C-6719 by PPG Industries to construct a continuous-strand fiber glass manufacturing facility in Midland, Midland County, Texas. The proposed location is between U.S. Highway 80 and Interstate 20, six miles southwest of downtown Midland. This facility proposes to emit the following air contaminants: nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxide, carbon monoxide, particulate, and fluorine.

A copy of all materials submitted by the applicant is available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board Region 6 office at 835 Tower Street, Odessa, Texas 79760, and at the Texas Air Control Board, 6330 Highway 290 East, Austin, Texas 78723. All interested persons shall have until June 19, 1980 to inspect these materials, submit written comments to the Executive Director and/or request notification of the proposed agency action. All comments received in writing by the above date shall be considered by the Board in making its decision on the application. All comments will be made available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board office in Austin.

DRILLING SUPERVISORS

We are a rapidly expanding independent energy company involved in petroleum exploration and production, crude oil refining and natural gas processing. We have an immediate need for four Drilling Supervisors possessing 2 to 3 years experience as a drilling or production foreman. A complete knowledge of drilling completion and workover operations, coupled with good exposure to casing operations is essential. Responsibilities will include evaluating down hole problems as well as bringing wells on stream, and supervising a number of rigs at the same time.

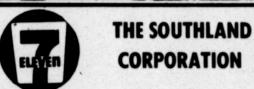

The above position provides excellent salary and benefits coupled with the decided advantage of living and raising a family in the heart of Ark-La-Tex country with its quiet lifestyle, minimal traffic and outstanding recreational facilities. Qualified and interested candidates are invited to call or send resume to Steve Hinds:

Duane Sutter of New York and Philadelphia's Jack McIlhargey crash into the boards with linesman Ron Flynn during first period action of NHL

Stanley Cup playoffs in Uniondale, N.Y. Monday night. The Islanders won, 5-2. (AP Laserphoto).

Islanders down Flyers for 3-1 playoff edge boiled down to the third period. The New York Islanders had taken a 2-0 lead in the fourth game of their National Hockey League championship series, then had watched the Philadelphia Flyers cut it to 2-1 with those 20 minutes left to play.

So, while the fans jammed the hall-ways at Nassau Coliseum, waiting in line at the refreshment stands and rest rooms, the Islanders were in their clubhouse, pondering the period that lay ahead.

"If you can't win one period in your own building, you don't deserve to win the Stanley Cup," thought center Butch Goring.

"When you're in that situation, when you know if you have a good third period you're going to be up three games to one in the series, it isn't too tough to get ready," added left wing Clark Gillies.

THUS PREPARED, they lined up, walked under the stands to rink entrance and played one of their best third periods of the playoffs.

They skated off the mushy ice in a muggy building with a 5-2 victory and now they find themselves just one triumph from the first Stanley Cup of their eight-year history.

They did it on a goal and two assists by Gillies, a goal and one assist by Bryan Trottier, more solid goaltending by Bill Smith and the maturity that kept them from losing their heads when the Flyers began to rally.

"We've done it on a lot of poise, a lot of conditioning and a lot of hard work," said Bob Nystrom. "We've been well-coached and we've come up big in the playoffs.

"The big story is we played awful hard, capitalized on our breaks and Smitty (Smith) played very well," said the New York right wing.

THAT WAS it. There were no fancy, complicated explanations this humid night because none could better summarize the contest. The Islanders had beaten the Flyers for the 12th time - against four ties and just one loss - in their last 17 home games against Philadelphia. Now one more victory on the road, where they have been at their best in the playoffs, stands between the Islanders and the title. "Everybody knows it's just one more win," said right wing Mike Bossy, "but everyone knows we're not playing that fifth game at home. We're playing in Philly and that makes it a bigger obstacle.

But this year, unlike so many others in their troubled past, the Islanders their path. Starting Thursday, they have three chances to win one game - no matter where.

"Right now, they're looking at the Stanley Cup and we're looking at the cat's butt," said Flyers center Bobby Clarke. "They did more things better than we did, so I guess they deserved

FOR THE third consecutive game, the winning team took an early twogoal lead. Bossy scored on a power play at 7:23 and Goring at 13:06, with Goring's tally snapping a string of nine New York goals scored during power plays or shorthanded situa-

John Paddock halved the deficit for Philadelphia, setting up the key third period. Trottier made it 3-1 at 6:06 with a screened 20-foot wrist shot between the legpads of Flyers goalie Pete Peeters, then Ken Linseman brought Philadelphia within a goal at 11:53.

But then the Flyers - pressing for a tying goal that might have shifted the momentum - played reckless, irrational hockey.

"WE PLAYED our best game tonight," offered Coach Pat Quinn, "but maybe we didn't play with our heads as well as we could have."

That resulted in a pair of two-on-one breaks that put the game - and the victory champagne - on ice. Bob Bourne fed Nystrom a perfect pass for a 10-foot shot just 42 seconds after Linseman scored, and Gillies ended all doubt with a 20-foot wrist shot at

"We struggled through but we did what we had to do to win," said Coach Al Arbour. "We didn't play superb out there, but we hung tough."
They need hang tough just one more time to finish the eight-year journey they started as one of pro hockey's most terrible teams.

"It's been a long, tough road so far," said Gillies. "To be one game away is what you work for. You better believe I'm excited."

Volcanic ash forces postponement of two Pacific League games

By The Associated Press Two Pacific Coast League baseball games were "volcan-oed out" Monday.

The Albuquerque Dukes were scheduled to leave Albuquerque Monday, fly to Denver and Spokane, then go to Vancouver for their game. But when they arrived at the Albuquerque International Airport, they learned that the Spokane airport had been closed due to volcanic ash from the eruption of Mount St. Helens. The Ogden at Spokane game also was postponed due to vol-

Drillers sweep Cubs

Win series finale in 13 innings, 6-5

By TED BATTLES

Apparently no one told the Tulsa Drillers and Midland Cubs that the marathon was Sunday night. A bit late, perhaps, but the Texas League rivals staged their own version Monday, going 13 innings before George Wright's two-out single with the bases loaded provided the Drillers with their winning runs in a 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

MEL HALL poled a homer in the home 13th, but unfortunately no one was on base at the time, which typified the kind of night it was for Mid-before heading for El Paso this morning to make way for the East Division leading Arkansas Travelers, who invade Cubs Stadium for five games starting at 7: 30 p.m. Steve Viskas, 3-2, will be Manager Randy Hundley's nominee to put the brakes on a six-game Midland skid, although Jon Perlman pitched well enough Monday to get the job done.

Midland led 4-2 going into the ninth when Perlman made his only bad pitches of his nine-strikeout, eight-hit 11-inning stint. With one out, Wayne Tolleson doubled and Amos Lewis homered over the scoreboard in left to tie it and force the extra innings.

Perlman was victim of two tainted runs in the early innings, or the Lewis homer wouldn't have made any difference. In the first, Cha Cho Gonzalez singled and then Paul Klimas hit a double play grounder that would have

The Cubs went in front in the seventh when Tulsa starter Chuck Lamson loaded the bases with three walks and then Tom Grant greeted reliever Steve Nielsen with a two-run single. Hall bunted into a force at third, but Joe Hicks was hit by a pitch and the bases were loaded. However, Lazorko, who went on to notch his second win in four decisions with five innings of two-hit relief, got Mike O'Berry on a double play grounder to second.

Texas, Hogs in finals Arkansas downs Horns, 8-7 in SWC tourney

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Both Arkansas and Texas have clinched berths in the NCAA post-season baseball tournament, but plenty was riding on their battle today in the finals of the Southwest Conference meet. The winner will host the Central NCAA regional tourney, while the loser will have to hit the road and compete in the Midwest regionals.

Arkansas stayed alive and forced today's 1 p.m. showdown game by beating Texas 8-7 Mon-day night on Randal Carter's three-run homer in the bottom of the seventh. That gave both teams one loss in the meet. Earlier in the day, the Razorbacks got two homers and five RBIs from Kevin McReynolds to hold off Texas Tech 6-5 in the losers' bracket of the double-elimination tournament. Texas beat Tech and Arkansas defeated Texas A&M in Saturday's first day of play in the tournament, and the Longhorns became the only unbeaten team on Sunday by defeating Arkan-sas while Tech was eliminating the Aggies.

Arkansas picked up their dual victories Monday despite three errors against Tech and four miscues against Texas. Arkansas outhit Texas 9-7.

The Razorbacks, trailing 7-5, opened the seventh with Luis Zambrana drawing a walk off the Longhorns' first reliever, Doug Laufer. Mike Hamer came on in relief at that point, but Reggie Thomas greeted him with a double that put runners at second and third, and Carter followed with a 375-foot homer over the left field fence.

Bob McHale, 1-2, came in to quell a Texas rally in the seventh and held on for the victory. He allowed no hits in the 2 2-3 innings he pitched.

Arkansas took a 4-0 lead in the first off Texas starter Dave Siler, John Hennell, Ronn Reynolds and Doug McClure each knocked in a run, and another came in on an error as Siler gave up five straight hits without getting an out. Thomas singled and later scored on a double play to pad Arkansas' lead to 5-0 in the sec-

Texas loaded the bases in the fourth, scored a run when Kevin Shannon walked and added two more on Spike Owen's single. The Longhorns took their 7-5 lead in the seventh as Owen, Shannon, Chris Campbell and Robert Culley picked up RBI McReynolds was 3-for-3 against Tech in Monday afternoon's game. He hit a two-run homer in the first inning, a three-run homer in the third, and then hit a triple in the sixth and scored what proved to be the winning run. The Raiders walked him intentionally his other trip to the plate.

Until Monday, no SWC player had hit more than two homers in an SWC tournament. His two blasts raised his total for the meet to four.

LOS ANGELE	S (AP) — For th

first time in awhile, the Los Angeles Lakers were stymied. They couldn't get into their own celebration.

On "Lakers Day" in Los Angeles, a crowd of some 10,000 jubilant fans crowded around City Hall Monday, preventing the National Basketball Association champion Lakers from making their scheduled appearance on the City. Hall steps with Mayor

Tom Bradley.
Instead, following a ticker-tape parade through downtown, the Lakers made a brief appearance from the City Hall roof after more than an hour's delay.

As the thousands of fans chanted "Lakers, Lakers, Lakers" and "Magic, Magic, Magic" in a call for rookie star Earvin "Magic" Johnson, the team remained barricaded behind a wall of police officers in the mayor's

"We have never experienced this large of a turnout in anything the city has every done," said Los Angeles police Lt. Dan Cooke. "I don't think anyone anticipated this crowd ... no one in their wildest dreams could have expected that kind of crowd for a basketball team.

"We were concerned for the safety of the Lakers because there was wall-to-wall people in front of the (City Hall) door.

Finally, the Lakers were led by police escort through the crowded corridors to an elevator and onto the

"We're going to change our clothes and put on some dark glasses," quipped Lakers' owner Jerry Buss as he headed for the elevator. Other Lakers were smiling despite the deluge of people.

A huge roar went up as team captain and star center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar appeared at the edge of the roof and held aloft the trophy award-ed the team after it won the championship over the Philadelphia 76ers last Friday night. Bradley spokesman Tom Sullivan said it was the first ticker tape parade in Los Angeles since a similar occasion on behalf of President John Kennedy after his inauguration in 1960.

Bradley proclaimed Monday as "Lakers Day" in honor of the team that brought Los Angeles its first major pro sports championship since the Lakers won the NBA title in 1972.

Disastrous strike nearing deadline on Thursday

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball faces a potentially disastrous player strike at midnight Thursday over stalled contract negotiations, but the issues aren't the traditional ones usually found in a labor-management show-

Salaries and money are not at the heart of the current disagreement. The basic collective bargaining agreement over which the two sides are squabbling sets down the conditions of employment but does not deal with player salaries except for the minimum each major leaguer must be paid. In the agreement signed in July 1976, the minimum salary was set at $19,-000 for that season and 1977 and moved to $21,000 for 1978 and 1979. That item is the only one in the basic agreement dealing directly with money.

Individual player salaries are negotiated between players and their clubs and are not a strike issue. There are almost as many contract variations as there are major league performers. Some players are paid over the 178day season. Others prefer a 12-month salary arrangement and some even take their entire salary in a single payment at the start of the year.

Some players have built-in strike protection in their contracts with clauses that call for them to continue to be paid in the event of a player walkout. Pete Rose of the Philadelphia Phillies and Rod Carew of the California Angels reportedly have such agreements.

Also protected during the strike are the major league umpires, who will continue to be paid even though they are not working. That provision was included in the settlement of their seven-week strike last season. Managers and coaches share in the pension benefits of the players association but are not members of the union. Ostensibly, they will continue drawing their salaries as will other front office personnel.

Negotiators are near agreement on most but not all of the matters dealt with in the basic agreement. Those issues, besides minimum salary, include player pensions, health and safety questions, salary arbitration language, the disciplinary system and other similiar

The issue over which the two sides are deadlocked is compensation for free agents. That simply is a demand by the owners that they receive replacement players for free agents who sign with other teams. The players fear that agreeing to such a provision would put a significant dent in the free agent system and reduce player movement to trade arrangements. Specifically, they fear any limits on their free agency.

Federal mediator Kenneth Moffett will make one more effort to break the deadlock Wednesday when he summons the two sides back to the bargaining table, 34 hours before the strike deadline of midnight Thursday.

Only once before in the history of baseball has the game had a general strike. That was in 1972 when the start of the season was delayed 13 days and 86 games were canceled because of a walkout over pension and health plan improvements.

Guidry blanks Tigers

Left-handers Ron Guidry of New York and Ken Kravec of Chicago have been struggling for much of the young season but everything fell into place Monday night in a pair of 1-0 vic-

Kravec, who led Chicago with 15 victories a year ago but hadn't pitched in 12 days, yielded four hits before getting ninth-inning help from Ed Farmer as the White Sox nipped the Minnesota Twfns.

"I felt that all I had to do was pitch," said Kravec, 2-3. "I didn't fool around. All I threw were fast balls and curve balls. The warmer weather helped because it was easier to stay didn't feel comfortable, but tonight I had my rhythm and I finally felt smooth

Second-inning doubles by Reggie Jackson and Graig Nettles provided the only run Guidry needed. Guidry, who has lost only once since last year's All-Star Game, had a no-hitter for five innings and then worked out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the sixth by fanning Alan Trammell and getting Steve Kemp to hit into a dou-

"He had a good fast ball, especially in the sixth," said catcher Rick Cerone. "He just reached back. He was just awesome. He moved the ball around tonight. He usually just rears back, but tonight he hit the corners. That made him that much more effective."

Meanwhile, the White Sox scored off Minnesota's Jerry Koosman in the third inning when Bruce Kimm drew a leadoff walk and went to third when catcher Sal Butera threw wildly to second attempting to force him on Harold Baines' bunt. Kimm scored on a double by Alan Bannister, who was mired in a 2-for-36 slump.

Royals 6, A's 5 Darrell Porter drilled a two-out single following an intentional walk to George Brett to score Rusty Torres with the winning run in the bottom of the 11th. Torres singled to open the 11th and was sacrificed to second. One out later, loser Dave Hamilton intentionally walked Brett but Porter singled for his second game-winning hit in three games. The Royals rallied for three runs in the ninth to tie the score, with Dave Chalk contributing a two-run double and Willie Wilson delivering a game-tying single.

Angels 3, Rangers 2 Rod Carew and pinch-hitter Todd Cruz rapped 13th-inning doubles to give California only its third triumph in the last 11 games. Cruz connected off Dave Rajsich after Carew opened the inning with a double off loser Jim Kern, who pitched 51-3 innings in relief of starter Gaylord Perry. Bobby Grich of the Angels tied the score with a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

Orioles 4, Indians 1

Steve Stone allowed six hits before needing last-out help from Tim Stod-dard and was backed by a 15-hit Baltimore attack, all singles. Stone lost a bid for his first shutout in almost two years in the ninth inning on singles by Miguel Dilone, Mike Hargrove and Ron Hassey. Tim Stoddard, who has saved all five of Stone's victories, then retired Toby Harrah on a first-pitch forceout.

Blue Jays 7, Red Sox 2 Otto Velez slammed his ninth homer of the season, a three-run blast in the fifth inning, and Al Woods drove in two runs with a single and a solo homer to back Jim Clancy's six-hit pitching and keep Toronto one-half game behind the first-place Yankees in the AL East. Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Dwyer hit solo home runs for Boston. Velez leads the league with nine homers and 29 RBIs.

Mariners 4, Brewers 3 Seattle pushed across the winning run on 12th-inning singles by Julio Cruz, Jim Anderson and Dan Meyer. Meyer also drove in Anderson with the tying run on a sacrifice fly in the eighth. Home runs by Robin Yount and Larry Hisle staked the Brewers to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Shane Rawley hurled the final 32-3 innings for Seattle and pitched out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam in the ninth.

Injunction could cause problems for Indy 500 INDIANAPOLIS (AP)

- The Indianapolis 500, remarkably free from the controversy that marred its running a year ago, may not have entirely clear sailing before Sunday's race.

Car owner Wayne Woodward, whose McLaren racer was leased by Jerry O'Connell as a substitute for Tom Sneva's wrecked machine, says he may seek an injunction because Sneva has decided to drive a different car in the race. The injunction, he said, would keep Sneva out of the starting lineup.

The Olympic year of Errico convicted of bribery charges

NEW YORK (AP) - Former jockey Con Errico. accused of being the key figure in a conspiracy that enable gamblers to win some $500,000 on fixed horse races, has been convicted of bribing jockeys to throw nine races at Aqueduct and Saratoga in 1974 and Errico, 58, had been accused of engaging in "a pattern of racketeering activity." He showed no emotion after the jury of six men and six women returned the verdict at 8:47 p.m., CDT, Monday fter deliberating for about four hours.

But asked outside court how he felt, Errico said,

"It's like winning a race and you get disqualified."
Errico was found to have bribed jockeys Jose Amy and Ben Feliciano in races which netted more than $600,000 for big gamblers who were described by the government as associates of Errico.

OLYMPICS

Five nations said they will send teams to the Moscow Summer Olympic Games amid new support for the boycott.

Austria, the Netherlands, Ireland, Belgium and Sweden voted to send teams to the Games. The decisions by Austria, Belgium and Sweden came as no surprise while the Irish and Dutch decisions were contrary to their government's wishes.

Meanwhile, the Italian government said it would support the U.S.led boycott. Italian Premier Francesco Cossiga said, however, the final decision would be left to the Italian Olympic Committee, which meets today to decide the question. OLYMPICS Rans Batted In

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediator Kenneth Moffett asked management and the players to return to the bargaining table Wednesday in an effort settle the continuing baseball contract dispute.

Moffett recessed talks after two fruitless negotiating sessions Sunday. The players have threatened to strike at 12 a.m. Friday morning unless a new basic agreement is reached.

NEW YORK (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Bob Weich, who beat Chicago 4:2 with a complete game and three-hit Pittsburgh for 82-3 innings in a 3-6 victory in his only two starts last week, was named the National League Player of the Week.

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit shortstop Alan Trammell who hit .60 with a 8-for-13 performance in the Tigers' four games during May 12-18, was named American League Player of the Week.

Trammell, hitting .71 for the season, had two doubles, 11 total bases, drove in two runs and scored five.

lot of runs when I pitch." On Monday, "the guys" supplied their rifle-arm right-hander with a fistful of runs and the hot Palmer went on to his 11th straight victory as a starting pitcher over two seasons, with an 11-8 decision over the Atlanta Braves. Actually, Palmer allowed Atlanta only one run and five hits in eight innings before Montreal Manager Dick Williams decided to give his relief pitchers some work in the ninth. The Braves scored seven runs before Woodie Fryman preserved the tri-umph, Palmer's 13th in 14 decisions

"If David still had the shutout I would have let him pitch the ninth," said Williams. "But I thought with the lead we had, it was a chance for our relievers to get a little work. They almost got more than we bargained

Two engineers to enter TMI containment building

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two engineers were to enter the radiationsaturated containment building at Three Mile Island this evening, the first people to venture inside since a nuclear accident shut down the plant nearly 15 months ago.

Technicians were to complete a minute release of krypton gas several hours before the engineers enter the huge building housing the crippled TMI reactor.

The building has been sealed since March 28, 1979, when the worst accident in the history of the U.S. commercial nuclear power industry filled it with potentially lethal levels of

The release of about .01 of a curie of krypton began at 8 a.m. Monday and was scheduled to end at 8 a.m.

William Behrle, 36, and Michael Benson, 27 — protected by double layers of clothing and carrying their own air supplies — were to enter the building about 24 feet above basement level.

They planned to walk single file about 100 feet in and back on a concrete floor, which will shield and separate them from the surface of the radioactive water inside the containment unit.

They won't be able to see the reactor itself, officials said.

Until today, the closest anyone has been to the reactor was a brief visit into an airlock leading to the containment area.

Robert Arnold, the chief of recovery operations at the plant, has said he would prefer the venting of krypton-85 gas in the containment before manned entry. A decision on the possible venting is still pending before the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. But Arnold said that with their protective gear, the workers will be able to safely enter the plant.

The operator of TMI, Metropolitan

Edison Co., and the NRC staff both advocate venting to remove an estimated 57,000 curies of radioactivity from the plant. While no one has been inside since the accident, a television camera was inserted recently, and other remote devices have measured radiation and collected samples of spilled reactor cooling water.

Behrle and Benson will measure radiation and take photographs inside the containment, as well as look for "hot spots" and their cause.

The results of their visit are expected to help Met Ed develop mainte-nance and cleanup plans. The information will also be used to determine the length of future entries and the kinds of equipment needed by those entering the structure.

The krypton released Monday was vented from an airlock that adjoins the containment building. Another 25 curies will be vented when the engineers exit the building after their 15to 20-minute stay.
