First aftershocks shake midsection of California

MAMMOTH LAKES, Calif (AP) -Aftershocks rumbled through the midsection of California this morning, a day after two major earth quakes rattled California from San Diego to San Francisco and created havoc at this Sierra Nevada resort near the epicenter

One big aftershock registering 4.7 on the Richter scale struck this area in the Sierra Nevada at 5 25 a m. PDT today, according to the U.S. Seismographic Station at Berkeley

Alex Cunningham, director of Cali fornia's Office of Emergency Ser vices, warned Sunday that after shocks could continue for several days and said "people should take prudent action

He said federal officials told him that based on past quakes, "the likelihood is that aftershock activity will continue over the next several days and people should take precautionary measures

The quakes knocked down power lines, ruptured some water mains, disrupted telephone service and triggered rockslides throughout the area surrounding Mammoth Lakes, a popular resort some 300 miles north of Los Angeles, Mono County sheriff's deputies said

Cars were bouncing on the ground," said Todd Jensen of Crowley Lake, about 15 miles southeast of Mammoth Lakes "Some of the people who live at the lake said their refrigerators were flipped over

Sheriff Martin Strelneck said late Sunday that rescue teams were continuing to search the area for people stranded by slides. He said the quakes caused no major damage to the region's utilities or public buildings, but did damage the roof of the local hospi

Sunday's eruption good sign or bad?

By BRUCE BARTLEY

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) - The eruption that sent two new showers of ash from Mount St. Helens could be an unpleasant harbinger of things to come - or could prevent a repeat of last week's devastating blowout, sci-

We may be lucky if we have the volcano clearing its throat like this once in a while rather than building up to one big blast," said U.S. Geological Survey geologist Tim Hait as the volcano sent muddy ash showers over western Washington and Oregon on Sunday

Every time the volcano clears its throat, it relieves a little pressure.

Rescue helicopters were grounded, and holiday travelers were stranded and spattered with muddy rain as the unpredictable mountain turned day to night with another mighty belch of volcanic ash.

No injuries were reported from Sunday's blast, but it was the most violent since the volcano blew its top May 18, killing at least 18 people. Another 72 people are officially listed as missing.

Hait and other scientists said the latest eruptions which sent plumes of ash up to 40,000 feet above sea level - followed a normal pattern for a Cascade volcano. They said such blasts could continue for some time or

'My guess is that individual bursts like the one we're seeing will not occur continuously for months or weeks, but might occur for a day or so several times in the coming months," said geologist Dan Miller.

Sunday's eruptions came from two points on the moutain's northwest and southwest corners, according to pilots who flew through a shroud of clouds around the mountain

Ash was sent into the rainy air and fell as mud over a 200 mile path in northern Oregon and southwest Washington Traces of ash were reported at the northern tip of the Olympic Peninsula and near the Canadian border. The heaviest concentration was in the nearby Longview-Kelso area, about 35 miles southwest of the peak.

Thousands of Memorial Day tourists were caught by ash at coastal resorts in Washington and Oregon.

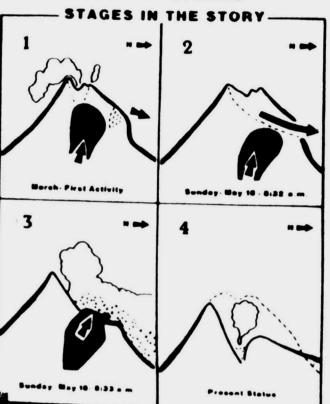

The gritty showers brought traffic on Interstate 5 — the main north-south route through Washington - to a halt. Eight people were injured in a 12-car accident in Ritzville, Wash, when winds churned up ash from last week's blast, and air traffic was at a standstill in Portland as the latest f. llout drifted over Oregon's most populous region.

Portland Mayor Connie McCready urged residents to stay indoors and off the streets.

It's a good experience," said Sheriff Herbert Newton of Pacific County on Washington's Long Beach peninsula "I don't like it, but it shows us we're still like a tiny ant on the surface of the earth. I think it's going to make some

The ash fallout was not as severe as the one last week that forced businesses and schools to close in eastern Washington, Idaho and western Montana. Cleanup in those areas continued Sunday as winds took the newest ash the other direction

The rain has helped considerably, but it hasn't been hard enough to wash the streets clean," said Ron

Edgar of the Spokane Air Pollution Control Authority.

Wind-whipped ash briefly stranded a number of National Guardsmen headed for clean-up efforts in Spokane, Moses Lake and Ritzville. A scheduled meeting in Spokane of the president's scientific advisory committee on the effects of last week's blast was canceled because not enough of the scientists could get there.

Eleven teen-agers at the Maple Lane School for delinquents in Tenino, Wash., al tage of the limited staff on hand because of the falling ash,

Only one mudflow was spotted from the latest eruption. It stopped short of the Swift Reservoir south of the peak, scientists said. Massive flows May 18 ruined Spirit Lake and clogged rivers with tons of mud and debris.

Hait said geologists are analyzing the molecular structure of the falling ash to see if it is from fresh magma or left over from the eruption a week ago. Scientists were assuming the magma was fresh because of the volume ejected Ash showers occur when fresh magma, or molten underground rock, pushes its way up through a cooling "plug" left in the crater after an initial explosion.

Bush withdraws; Kennedy appears determined

By The Associated Press

Ronald Reagan effectively wrapped up the Republican presiden tial nomination today when his only rival. George Bush, withdrew from the GOP contest in the face of a financial squeeze and Reagan's insurmountable delegate lead

jected again a suggestion that he might become the vice presidential running mate to the conservative for mer governor of California vada and Arkansas Carter and Reagan, who both inched a little further ahead of their rivals in party meetings over the weekend, were expected to clean up even more in the primaries Tuesday There are GOP primaries in Kentucky. Nevada and Idaho, and even before Bush's withdrawal Reagan was heavily favored in all three Few doubt that Carter and Reagan especially Reagan - have their parties' presidential nominations sewed up But by some counts, Tues day's awarding of 95 Democratic and 65 Republican delegates will push neither officially over the top.

By The Associated Press tabulation. Reagan finshed the weekend with 919 of the 998 delegates needed for the GOP nominaton, and Carter had 1,408 of the 1,666 he needs for renomination as a Democrat. For the underdogs, it was Kennedy, 796 Democratic delegates. Bush, 255 Republican delegates

Despite the big leads of Reagan and Carter, the chairmen of the two parties declined today to advise Kennedy and Bush to withdraw from the Democratic Party Chairman John

C. White and GOP Chairman Bill Brock, appearing in a joint interview on ABC-TV's "Good Morning, America" program, also discounted the threat of Rep. John Anderson, who dropped out of the GOP race to seek the presidency as an independent.

Brock predicted that polls showing Anderson running a strong third now will change by the fall and that support for Anderson will wane.

White said Anderson's support will last about as long as an orchid in the middle of July. The victory forecasts for Carter and Reagan, the feeling that they both have the nominations unofficially wrapped up, and the fact that at leas, the Democratic contest won't be officially decided until next week - all these leave most eyes more on the June 3 vote

Indeed, low voter turnouts were forecast in Kentucky and Nevada, the only states to hold both Democratic and Republican contests Tuesday.

Nevada Secretary of State Bill Swackhamer cited a "lack of interest" for the expected poor turnout. adding: "Most people feel the two front-runners have it locked up.

Anderson calls for improved benefits for Vietnam veterans

DALLAS (AP) - John B Ander son, the independent presidential candidate, today called for a broadlyexpanded program for "the unique needs" of Vietnam war veterans, including a 10-year extension of educational benefits and quick evaluation and treatment for victims of the pesticide Agent Orange.

"Whatever one may think of the war in Vietnam," Anderson said, "a respect for common decency requires that we honestly face the plight of that war's victims — and those victims include our own veterans."

In remarks prepared for a Memorial Day speech to a Vietnam veterans group, Anderson said, "we want to forget about Vietnam, we wish that the war had never happened. We often feel resentful at those who remind us of it."

But, he added, "today we should dedicate ourselves to reversing a half-generation of neglect.

The Republican Illinois congressman said the neglect is "shared by both political parties, by the federal government and by many of our fellow Americans."

Specifically, Anderson urged that those who served in Vietnam be given a 10 year extension of Veterans Administration educational benefits, including cost-of-living increases.

Those who served during the years of the war, but not actually in Vietnam, would be eligible for a 3-year extention

Anderson also urged that the VA "reach out and contact" those who might be victims of Agent Orange, diagnose their illnesses and treat Benefits would also be extended to the children of veterans affected by the pesticide, sprayed by Air Force planes on to heavy Vietnam jungle to defoliate trees hiding the movement of North Vietnamese ground forces.

In his speech, Anderson also proposed that the VA be provided funds to help states provide direct housing loans for veterans at interest rates below the current high home mortgage interest rates. For Vietnam veterans still facing severe emotional problems, Anderson urged additional funding for VA counseling services and authorization for troubled veterans to make use of non-VA community health centers or private mental health facilities.

"There should be an outreach program to get in touch with the millions of Vietnam era veterans who have lost hope and have become disenchanted with our current Veterans Administration," Anderson said.

More generally, the congressman said he doubts that the VA is paying enough attention to Vietnam veterans and urged a study of the agency's policies toward Vietnam veterans.

"These proposals will cost money, he said, "but a generation of neglected veterans could prove even more expensive to both our society and our military.

After holiday, Congress faces stiff 'Battle of the Budget'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress faces a tough fight over a compromise $613.3 billion 1981 balanced budget that would give the Pentagon a record peacetime spending increase.

With the battle lines already drawn, the struggle begins in earnest Wednesday when Congress returns from a long Memorial Day weekend. The compromise, reached last week by a House-Senate conference committee, is opposed in the House by conservative Republicans and by an influential bloc of liberal-to-moderate Democrats.

House Democratic leaders concede that the vote on final passage, expected Thursday, will likely be close and that Republican votes could be cru-

The original House version of the budget - with a smaller defense allocation - passed May 7 by a 225-193 vote that included the support of 22 Republicans. Additional GOP votes may be needed for passage now because some Democrats who supported the original budget are opposed to the House-Senate compromise ver-

Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Budget Committee, predicts that 40 to 50 Republicans will vote for the budget because of the high defense number and its promise of no deficit.

However, an increasingly powerful group of junior Republicans have vowed to fight the package on the floor. They say Latta's prediction is far too high.

The GOP opponents, including Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., complain that the budget's overall spending level is too high, that it offers no tax cut and that its projection of no deficit is unrealistic.

Liberal-to-moderate Democrats have objected to the budget because it gives defense $153.7 billion while slashing domestic programs. The defense figure represents a $6 billion bigger increase than ever before recorded in peacetime.

In the conference committee, House negotiators agreed to raise the House defense spending figure by $5.8 billion, while Senate negotiators came down only $2 billion from the defense figure originally set by the full Sen-

The domestic cuts contained in the compromise apparently would force a halving in the number of public service jobs under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act from 200,-000 to 100,000

The cuts also would hit mass transit and other transportation programs hard. Low-income energy assistance would be held to current-year spend-

In other congressional action this week, the House is scheduled to consider a recommendation from the ethics committee to censure Rep. Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., for allegedly improper financial dealings.

Texas area forecasts cloud; through Tuesday. No important température changes. Highs today and Tuesday upper #0s. Pan handle to near 104 Big Bend valleys. Lows tonight mid 30s Panhandle and far west to low 70s southeast except North Texas: Partly cloudy in eastern sections today and Tuesday, mostly fair in west and central regions. Scattered thunderstorms in the extreme west during late afternoon spreading into central portions by nightfall. Continued hot west and central, seasonably warm east. Highs today 91 to 100. Lows tonight 71 to 76. Highs Tuesday 91 to 98.

South Texas: Partly cloudy, warm and humid through Tuesday, Scattered showers and thunderstorms in western sections tonight and Tuesday. Highs today near 90 in coastal sections to the upper 90s in the south west Lows tonight 70 to 80. Highs Tuesday low to mid 80s.

Upper Coast: Southerly winds around 10 knots today and tonight continuing southerly 10 to 13 knots Tuesday Seas 2 to 6 feet today and tonight. Isolated showers Tuesday.

Temperatures remain high

Hot temperatures remain in Tuesday's forecast with partly cloudy skies hovering over the Tall City.

Extended forecasts

West Texas: Partly cloudy with only minor tem-perature changes Wednesday through Friday Lows 50s north to near 70 southeast. Highs 80s north to near 100 Ris Rend.

North Texas: Partly cloudy and warm Thunder thowers possible Thursday and Friday Highest temperatures in the 60s.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport is predicting Tuesday's temperatures should be in the mid-90s as the Memorial Day weekend winds down. Tonight's low should be in the mid-60s with 5-10 mph southerly winds.

Sunday's high of 93 degrees fell short of the record high for the date of 101 degrees set in 1953. This morning's low of 65 also didn't threaten the record of 48 set in 1950.

There is no precipitation in the forecast, so the monthly total of 1.75 inches and the annual total of 3.39 inches should remain unchanged.

You'd never know it to look at the state's thermometers but there was a weak cold front stretching across Texas today. It reached from the Red River, just west of Wichita Falls, into the Big Bend

But it did not lower temperatures significantly. In fact, a record high of 97 degrees was reported Sunday at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport. The front's only impact was to spawn isolated thundershowers that dissipated before dawn but threatened to recur by nightfall.

As the sun rose, promising another scorcher, skies were generally fair behind the front and were partly cloudy to the east of it, with some early morning fog reported along the Gulf Coast.

Western Container planning new facility in Big Spring

BIG SPRING — Big Spring Industrial Foundation President Winston Wrinkle has announced that Western Container Co. will be establishing a facility here after $4.5 million in bonds are sold to a bank June 13.

The bonds are being purchased by First National City Bank in Houston. The company plans to start production 60-90 days after the bond sale, Wrinkle said.

Western will set up operations in a new 90,000 square-foot hangar in Big Spring Industrial Park.

In preparation for the facility, Texas Electric Service Co. is installing heavier electrical wires and transformers capable of handling the high electrical load required in making plastic two-liter soft drink bot-

Trucks will make several deliveries of the bottles over an eight-county

Parrish contends he worked undercover for state, local and federal authorities in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Baltimore. But investigators involved in the case declined to discuss Parrish.

'Baby Doc' doesn't want son to take seat

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) - President Jean-Claude Duvalier says he would not want his son to inherit the presidency-for-life which his father passed on to him.

Haiti's 27-year-old president said in a pre-nuptial news conference that his father, President Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier, "had to do it for me in order to prevent civil war. But for my son, I wouldn't like that."

Duvalier is marrying Michelle Bennett, a divorcee with two children, on Tuesday. This will be his first marriage. The couple received reporters and photographers beside the swimming pool at his ranch outside Portau Prince on Sunday. The president spoke in French, and Miss Bennett, the ex-wife of a Haitian businessman, translated into English.

Duvalier became president-for-life in 1971, when his father died. He was known as "Baby Doc" because he was only 19. His father had been in power since 1957, had made himself president for life and before he died put through a constitutional amendment insuring his son's succession to the same title

Asked whether he foresaw any role in public life for any children he might have. Duvalier replied that "the world changes too often," and it would be impossible to predict what would happen in 20 years. But his bride said she "probably will take an active concern in social concerns; whenever the president is too busy to go somewhere I might be able to represent him.

Her future role has been the subject of consider speculation since the president's mother, Simone O. Duvalier, holds the title of First Lady of the Republic and has exerted considerable influence. Foreign sources say she will retain that title while her daughter-in-law will be given the new title of Madame President.

Duvalier's marriage plans were announced last month shortly after he made a number of changes in his cabinet and got rid of a number of aging officials who had served under his father. Among the changes was the creation of the post of secretary of state for the presidency and the appointment to it of Henri Bayard, who had been out of favor with Mrs.

One foreign source said the marriage was the step "that finally asserts Jean-Claude as a man." This source added that the new Mrs. Duvalier could do much for her husband if she can arouse warmth among the poverty-stricken peasants.

Duvalier denied reports that his mother opposed the marriage. "People anywere in the world are prone to distort," he said. "There never was any protest on the part of my mother.'

Miss Bennett is the light-skinned daughter of a wealty businessman, while the Duvalier family's support comes from the dark-skinned peasants of the countryside. Her former father-in-law, Alex Pasquet, tried in 1961 to overthrow President François Duvalier.

Electrician arrested

Mitchell Blane Ellis, a 22-year-old self-employed electrician, was in Midland City Jail this morning following his arrest by Midland police Sunday night on a felony warrant issued out of Odessa.

Ellis' arrest was ordered after he had failed to appear in court in Odessa on an outstanding felony warrant for possession of methamphetamine, a stimulant. His bond has been set at $25,000. He is also charged with unlawfully carrying a weapon.

He was arrested about 8 p.m. Sunday at his parents' apartment at 2601 N. A St., according to police reports.

Refugees at large after escape

BASE, Fla. (AP) — A handful of Cuban refugees who broke out of the "tent city" processing center here were still at large today after two nights of escapes and attempted escapes that left at least six people injured, authorities said.

Eglin officials said between 50 and 100 refugees fled the base during rock-throwing melee Saturday, but most were recaptured quickly. Another 11 refugees were unsuccessful in an attempt to creep past beefed-up security patrols Sunday.

"There's a handful out there," said Maj. John Toner. "We really don't know exactly how many."

Five servicemen and one Cuban received minor injuries Saturday night after a grievance session at "Camp Liberty" erupted into a 30-minute melee, Toner said. Outnumbered military guards were pelted with stones, cinder blocks, broken mirrors and pieces of glass. Some 2,000 refugees stormed the camp's southeastern fence after the grievance session failed to satisfy the Flotilla" boats.

EGLIN AIR FORCE Cubans, who have become increasingly restless as the processing drags on.

Dozens of refugees fled through an adjacent baseball field. Most were rounded up by Air Force security police, the Florida Highway Patrol and Okaloosa County sheriff's officers.

Lt. Col. Harry Johnson attributed the violence to "desperate people look-ing for relief. The problem is in rising expectations ... They just want to get out."

Although security pa-trols at Eglin were increased after Saturday's incident, another 11 refugees tried to escape from the center by scaling fences Sunday. 'All were either prevented from escaping or were returned to the camp after getting over (the fences)," said Maj. John Fergus, who added there were no violent in-Officials say 8,392 refu-

Some 550 boats have been "red stickered" since President Carter's May 15 call for an end to the flotilla. Besides losing the use of their boats, the captains face possible heavy fines. Authorities have also arrested two captains who tried to go to Mariel after Carter's order.

Rekindle the flame

Today's Memorial Day observances throughout the United States take on a new importance in light of recent world developments.

That tiny thread of peace we all cling to has become increasingly frayed in recent months. The Soviet Union's invasion and brutal subjugation of Afghanistan, the hostage crisis in Iran, the ominous buildup of the Soviet military machine and the realization that our own military prowess is below par has shocked this country into nuclear age awareness once again.

The United States has taken military preparedness too lightly for too many years. We, like Rip Van Winkle, have failed to stay awake and the scenery 'round about us has altered while we were nodding.

We were lulled to sleep, perhaps, by our own distaste for war and the instruments of war, a mood aggravated by too many years in a no-win conflict in Southeast Asia and the controversy surrounding that war, expressed here at home.

The chilling promise of former Sóviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that someday the Soviet state would dominate the world has long since been forgotten, a march of false peace. Today we'll all take time out of our busy schedules to remember, for a brief moment, the heroic men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice that our way of life could continue.

It truly is ironic, perhaps, that the instruments of war can serve to keep the world at peace - at least for a period of time. Men are frail and weak; they soon forget the lessons they've been taught on the world's battlegrounds.

Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, in ordering his units to conduct suitable services for the war dead in 1868 may have summed up the importance of remaining eternally mindful of the threat of war when he said, "Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic."

It's time today to ask ourselves where the "ravages of time" are leading this nation. Are we leaning too far in a direction that one day soon could prove irreversible? We have been asleep too long and the flames of eternal vigilance are growing dim. Our dead of all wars must not have perished in vain.

CHARLEY REESE Despicable Fidel Castro put one over on Carter

When Jimmy Carter was running for President in 1976, I called a former governor of Georgia to find out what kind of guy he is. One of the things the former governor said of Carter is, 'He'll out-McGovern, McGovern."

He was referring to Sen. George McGovern, the dove of the Dakotas. He was right too. Sprinkled throughout the federal government in policymaking positions are the leftist followers of McGovern. It shows best in the current Cuban business.

Fidel Castro, the Soviet Union's Spanish-speaking lap dog, has ruined Cuba. Starting with an island nation that had one of the highest standards of living in Latin America, Castro has turned it into a tropic gulag in a state of economic depression. At the same time, Castro has spent 20 years railing against the United States, working to subvert other free nations, building up a Soviet military base 90 miles from our shore, and sending Cubans by the thousands to do the Soviet Union's dirty work in Africa and the Middle East.

It is perhaps an understatement to say that Castro is an enemy of the United States.

That being the case, you would think our State Department and our president would take a God-given opportunity to embarrass the bearded dog. When 10,000 people flee to a foreign embassy to escape a communist paradise, that is an embarrassment. When thousands brave the storms in the Florida straights to gain freedom, that is an embarrassment.

Charley Reese

When a dictator who claims to have the answer to poverty has his poverty exposed and when a nation which claims to be the friend of the Third World murderously shoots up a Bahamian boat in Bahamian waters, that is an embarrassment

Did our guys seize the opportunity? Heavens, no. We run to the United Nations to condemn a peaceful Israeli settlement. We stand up in the Organization of American States and condemn a faithful ally, former Nicaraguan President Somoza, but can our leftist administration find it in its heart to condemn Castro? No.

In fact, our State Department tells the American press that we want to avoid a confrontation.

As for President Carter, he has made himself look even more ridiculous, first forbidding the boat shuffle, then okaying it, then forbidding it, and now making Castro, pretty please, if we may screen the refugees in Cuba before they leave.

President Carter is, to use one of his favorite words, a disgrace.

Castro has for years provided the best example available of the disgusting double standard which American leftists, both in government and in the news media, operate by.

Fidel Castro, who is, according to his own sister, a murderous psychopath, receives better treatment from the American press than former President Nixon

Not long ago, all the top brass of the Washington Post and several other liberal luminaries in the media hopped up to New York for a private, social dinner with Castro

The same State Department which doesn't hesitate to embarrass anticommunist governments like Chile or Israel, treats Castro like the re-incarnation of Queen Victoria.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Pentagon documents cite Iranian training

WASHINGTON - Confidential Pentagon documents show that hundreds of Iranians were still getting military training in the United States more than five months after the U.S. hostages were seized in Tehran indeed, up to three weeks before the aborted rescue mission.

The presence of Iranian military trainees was made public when they were finally sent home in April after President Carter broke diplomatic relations with Iran. But the extent of the training program was carefully withheld from the public. The secrecy raises questions about the Carter administration's strangely ambiguous handling of the Iranian crisis. One Defense Department report that month, 219 Iranian nationals were attending Air Force and Navy schools. Another 219 Iranian midshipmen were attending U.S. universities, and 109 Iranian civilians were enrolled in ROTC units at various U.S. high schools and colleges.

Of the Iranians attending Air Force and Navy schools, the Pentagon document states, "The majority of these students were enrolled in pilot and navigator training.'

Thus, less than a month before the disastrous military rescue attempt while the U.S. commandos were under intensive training - the United States was also continuing to train members of the armed forces who would have been called on to resist the rescue mission. In fact, the Iranian military trainees were sent home in plenty of time to put their newly acquired skills to use against the same Air Force and Navy that had tutored them.

The Pentagon report was prepared by the Defense Security Assistance Agency for Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., who wanted to know why Iranian nationals were still being given military training long after the embassy seizure.

The document never did explain this satisfactorily, but a Pentagon spokesman told my associate Gary Cohn the training was continued for two reasons: 1) Neither the Pentagon nor the White House expected the hostage situation to drag on for so long, and 2) the Iranians had paid in advance for their training, and the Defense Department didn't want to renege on its contract.

DEATH OF A BUSINESS: Mobil Oil tried unsuccessfully to bully the Public Broadcasting Service into scrapping "Death of a Princess," a film the company's Saudi Arabian supplier didn't like. But it's having more success strong-arming a Mobil service station operator who's selling product the company doesn't like.

Herb Staretz operates a six-pump Mobil station in Passaic, N.J. Or at least he thought he did, until he made the mistake of selling gasohol, the gasoline-alcohol mixture that is anathema to Big Oil.

On March 3, Staretz began selling gasohol at one of his pumps, with signs stating clearly that "This is not Mobil product." Three days later. Mobil's area sales manager paid Staretz a visit and told him the company was "prepared to go to the wall" tive fuel. Staretz was pointedly informed that to stop him from selling the alterna-

Mobil has gone to court to prevent other dealers from marketing gasohol with pumps leased from the company. But in this case, Mobil took more direct action: On April 24, it simply notified Staretz that his franchise would be terminated.

For trying to help ease the nation's dependence on foreign oil, Staretz could be out of business by July 31.

MEMO TO DEMOCRATS: You may have the impression that Jimmy Carter has triumphed in the Democratic primaries. This has not been the true verdict of the voters. In state after state, a majority of Democrats have made it clear that they don't want Carter in the White House for another four years. The president has been credited with winning primaries that he really lost. He defeated Sen. Ted Kennedy, it's true, in such states as Maine and New Hampshire, Maryland and Nebraska. Yet in each of those states, Carter wound up with less than half the Democratic votes. Such key states as Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania gave him only 46.6 percent, 41 percent and 46.8 percent of the vote, respectively. No elected incumbent president in modern times has done so poorly in his party primaries.

Indeed, tens of thousands of Democrats have trekked to the polls to vote "no preference." Hundreds of thousands have stayed home because they couldn't accept the available choices. If the Democratic convention heeds the majority, it will replace Carter as the party nominee. If it does not, Ronald Reagan probably will be the next president.

WHITE HOUSE PIPELINE: As a matter of courtesy, the White House traditionally gives members of Congress the word when a federal project is undertaken in the member's district. This allows the congressman to make the announcement and get a little credit among his constituents. But the favor has been rescinded for many House members who happen to support Sen. Edward Kennedy. They now learn about federal grants in their districts from the newspapers.

- Normally, when the president or vice president is going to make a speech out of town, the congressman in whose district the event will take place is informed so he can plan accordingly. But Vice President Walter Mondale's office neglected to tell Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., that Mondale was going to San Jose re-cently. The first Edwards knew about the visit was when the local school board called the day before to ask if "Hail Columbia" was an appropriate song to play for the vice president.

Carter's Ohio threat will extend past June 3 primary

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - The disgust of the president's most prominent endorser in this economically ravaged former steel city that gave him a 1976 landslide reflects a bitterness toward Jimmy Carter through industrial northern Ohio threatening him in the June 3 primary.

While Youngstown's Democratic organization is aligned with Sen. Ed-ward M. Kennedy, Carter's Ohio managers point to Mayor George Vukovich as the president's man here. But, to use Lenin's phrase, the mayor supports Carter as a rope supports a hanged man. "I wouldn't say I was really supporting him," Vukovich told us, "between you and me, I'm

His disgust stems from a sense of betrayal and neglect that is endemic here. The complaint of Youngstown Democrats from the mayor to the lowliest precinct worker: Carter has repaid Youngstown for its huge plurality in 1976 with neglect; we will repay him in kind on primary day. That the president has nearly enough delegates for nomination means noth-

Carter faces somewhat lesser resentment in Cleveland and Toledo, where (as in Youngstown) the Democratic county chairmen back Kennedy. He also could lose Akron, Dayton and perhaps Columbus. That adds up to a possible Kennedy upset in Ohio, which if coupled with Kennedy victories in California and New Jersey the same day, could create an unhealthy, climate for the president at Madison Square Garden in August. Rural southern Ohio, whose small towns are subjected to tireless visitations from Chip Carter, will give the president the same 60 percent-plus vote he enjoyed in neighboring Indiana. But this area does not have nearly enough Democratic voters to overcome a Kennedy sweep in the Accordingly, Carter's campaign last week began the remorseless repetition of anti-Kennedy television commercials that aborted the senator's rise in Pennsylvania. The difference in Ohio is a spirit-sapping recession that began long before the national slump. Unemployed steel, rubber and auto workers form a dagger pointed at Carter's throat. In Youngstown, where failure to replace the now departed basic steel industry has reaped despair, unemployment is around 12 percent and rising.

Just four years ago, this was Carter country. When he needed Ohio to pin down his 1976 nomination, the 19th Congressional District gave him 60 percent (to 14 percent for second-place Frank Church). The district delivered him the same 60 percent in November against Gerald Ford, the third largest Carter victory margin in the nation. But he has never visited northern Ohio as president.

Don Hanni, the tempestuous Mahoning County Democratic chairman, two years ago pounded the table over cheeseburgers in the White House mess to demand help for this stricken area. When no help came, Hanni endorsed Kennedy even before he ran. While postponing formal organizational endorsement to avoid undercutting his candidate for sheriff, Hanni will pass the word for Kennedy a few days before the primary.

John Knapp, a precinct committeeman who owns a saloon called the South Side Civic Club, told us "Hanni is my godfather" and he awaits his direction. But he added that "the boys" who drink at his bar are anti-Carter anyway. Indeed, a night spent among Democratic activists here indicates Hanni will not have to push very hard. At a Democratic candidates night rally, not one hand out of 135 people present was raised when we asked for Carter supporters. A meeting of 6th Ward committeemen split 4-to-1 against Carter. Out of 24 committeemen at a 5th Ward meeting, 22 backed Kennedy. "Carter don't even know we exist," complained one 5th Ward committee-

That is precisely the complaint of Mayor Vukovich, who as court clerk in 1976 was an early booster of Jimmy Who. "Since then," he told us, "they haven't done anything for us." Vukovich's 11-page letter to the president in mid-March, detailing the torment of Youngstown, went unanswered. The last straw was the icy stare from federal bureaucrats when Vukovich tried to restore $3.5 million in desperately needed urban grants denied for non-compliance with regulations. The neighboring town of Warren won similar grants, after which its mayor, Daniel Sferra, endorsed Kennedy.

"The president has the Monopoly board in this game," one of Carter's Ohio operatives told us, "and whatever happens, he's going to be around to help and punish at least until next January." But for Youngstown, the carrot and the stick have long since lost all validity.

These Democratic activists say they are for "ABC" - Anybody But Carter - and are lukewarm about Kennedy. Could this Democratic bastion embrace Ronald Reagan? All the party people say it is possible. Jimmy Dunne, district leader of the 6th Ward, told us the rest of his family would vote for Reagan in a Reagan-Carter choice. The threat posed here to the president will not end June 3.

During the trial, the prosecution entered as evidence a statement from Jurek saying he had taken the girl from the park to Hell's Gate bridge, about four miles away. The statement said the girl began to scream and Jurek choked her until she fell to the ground unconscious. Then he threw her into the river.

Adams, interviewed in his City Hall office where he serves as city and school district tax collector, said, "justice hasn't been done. I very much want to see Jurek die.

"Frankly, I have a feeling that this is not over yet, I mean the death of Wendy. When Jurek dies I think I will feel it will at last be over and done

He said, "It is unfortunate it has taken all of these years. I feel if the death penalty had been used all along, there is a real good possibility Wendy would be here today."

Adams, has hands clinched and his head bowed, said, "even today you hope it is a bad dream and you will wake up, but it never turns out that "I remember the day before she was killed. We returned from a camping trip. We had the tent set up and she and her brother had a big beach ball and I had cautioned them about letting it get too far out in the water. But they did. They lost it. I sat them in the tent for 30 minutes as punish-

Adams said his wife, Jane, 36, has good days and bad days.

Adams said never once did he have to get Wendy out of any trouble, and "never even had to go to school because she had done something wrong. She was an average child and she loved everybody.

South Korean rebels request mediation by

KWANGJU, South Korea (AP) -The anti-government rebels controlling Kwangju said today they wanted the United States, as a "firm ally" of South Korea, to help mediate a solution to the crisis. They also said 261 persons were killed in rioting last week, more than double the toll pre-night moved the government forces to within three miles of the center of the city, where the insurgents have their command post in the provincial government building.

Although some troops moved inside barricades abandoned by the students who led the uprising against military rule last week, there was no fighting. The city of 800,000 in the southwest corner of the Korean peninsula was quiet but tense.

The martial law reported Sunday night the talks by telephone had bro-ken off because of dissension between "hardcore radicals" among the students and the 12 older business and professional men and clergymen who formed a citizens' committee to negotiate with the military leaders.

The students had told reporters the citizens' committee was too moderate and "they are not negotiating for Kwangju and Seoul were rife with rumors Sunday that military action to recapture the city was imminent. The Foreign Ministry advised all foreigners to leave Kwangju as soon as possible. But "it's our best guess that they are going to slowly tighten up, moving bit by bit every night," a spokesman at the rebel headquarters told a reporter by telephone.

Some student leaders said they were "really short of ammunition" but the city had enough fuel and food for about two weeks of siege.

The number of foreigners in Kwangju was not known, but the U.S. Embassy said there were about 20 Americans, including missionaries and two or three Peace Corps mem-

The rebellion stemmed from demonstrations in Seoul and other cities by university students demanding an end to martial law proclaimed after the assassination last Oct. 26 of President Park Chung-hee, the ouster of the new military strongman, Gen. Chun Doo-hwan, and a speedup in the schedule for promised democratic re-

Those demonstrations stopped when martial law was expanded on May 18, and the military leaders closed the universities, suspended the National Assembly and banned all political activity. But Kwangju's students took to the streets after the military arrested native son Kim Dae-jung, one of the leading national anti-government political leaders, and by last Wednesday 200,000 people had joined the uprising.

Carriers coming home

By R.D. GERSH

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) - They sailed for nine months and 75,000 miles and watched the aircraft leave for an aborted rescue mission in Iran. Today, the men of the USS Nimitz, USS Texas and USS California are coming home.

The 7,000 Navy men are returning to a hero's welcome from their commander-in-chief, President Carter, and 50,000 relatives, friends and well-wishers expected at the Norfolk Naval Base.

The welcome came one day after aviators from the Nimitz returned to Some Navy and local officials called the outpouring of support and interest in the return of Indian Ocean battle group unprecedented in the vears since World War II. Carter was to address the men on the Nimitz, with his remarks broadcast to the two cruisers and the families on shore. The battle group left Norfolk in early September for a routine Mediterranean cruise but was diverted to the Indian Ocean in January following the seizure of American hostages in Iran and the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan. The Nimitz did not have a port call after it left Italy on Jan. 3. The RH-53D helicopters used in the attempted rescue of the hostages, an attempt that left eight American servicemen dead, flew off the Nimitz while it sailed within sight of Iran. HM16, the squadron that maintained the helicopters and left seven of its eight aircraft in the Iranian desert, flew home May 18. Three squadrons from the carrier's airwing returned to Naval Air Station Oceana in Virginia Beach on Sunday and other air teams went to home bases on the West Coast and in Florida.

European, U.N. leaders visit Iran

By The Associated Press Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr addressed members of Iran's new Parliament as three European Socialist leaders and a U.N. envoy visited Tehran to assess the situation of the U.S. hostages.

Khomeini told the deputies, who meet for the first time Wednesday and are to decide the fate of the 53 hostages, to adopt a foreign policy that follows "neither East nor West" and to stay united.

"You should discuss, not fight," he said in a recorded speech broadcast Sunday by Tehran Radio. "Even the discussion should be conducted in a mild Islamic manner. "You should not start by dividing yourselves into factions, as they used to do in former Majlis sessions.

The Islamic Republican Party, which is dominated by hardline Moslem clergymen, commands a majority in the new Parliament, or Majlis, and many of its representatives are expected to insist the some of the hostages be tried as spies.

The state of the s

Bani-Sadr in his speech accused the U.S. government of "continuing to interfere in our domestic affairs" and attacked the Soviet government for intervening against the Moslem rebels in communist-ruled Afghanis-

He told the Kremlin it was treating the Afghan nation as a "minor and that you are its guardian to protect it against an aggressor. But what greater oppression than the fact that you refuse to regard a whole nation as worthy of deciding its own destiny."

The Kuwait newspaper Al-Anbaa said Bani-Sadr told its correspondent he received information the U.S. government sent three groups to Iran to kill the hostages to give Washington a pretext to intervene openly in Iran. But he said the government "ordered sufficient precautions to protect the lives of the captives," the paper refused to comment, but one said privately the claim was ludicrous.

A State Department official also expressed doubt that the 50 hostages who had been in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran were dispersed among 17 cities, as Tehran Radio reported, after the unsuccessful attempt to rescue them on April 25. The official said there was "no independent evidence" that the Americans, now in their 205th day of captivity, had been moved. Chancellor Bruno Kreisky of Austria, former Prime Minister Olof Palme of Sweden and Felipe Gonzalez, the chief of the Spanish Socialist Party, arrived in Tehran Sunday on a 'pure information trip" on behalf of the Socialist International, Kreisky

The three met with Bani-Sadr and "discussed all aspects of the revolu-tion," Kreisky reported. Palme added: "We discussed all relevant questions."

The three were meeting with other officials today and indicated they would leave Iran tonight.

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim's envoy, Syrian U.N. Ambassador Adib Daoudy, met with Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh and sald the U.N. fact-finding commission that visited Iran earlier this year might be allowed to return to Tehran to complete its mission. He did not elabo-

Daoudy and the other four members of the commission were in Tehran at the end of February and early March to hear evidence on Iran's charges against the ousted shah, but they left when Khomeini and the militants refused to let them visit the hostages as a step toward arranging their release.

Tehran Radio announced 11 more persons were executed, bringing to 63 the number put to death since Wednesday. The broadcast said five were convicted of drug charges, three were Iraqi agents, two were Kurdish rebels, and one had shot revolutionary guardsmen.

Female-owned businesses show marked increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - The number of female-owned businesses in the United States increased by nearly one-third from 1972 to 1977, but sales receipts continued to lag, the Com-merce Department reported Friday.

Data from surveys taken in 1977 showed that there were 702,000 businesses owned by women that year, about 30 percent more than the number counted five years earlier.

Receipts totaled $41.5 billion, up 72 percent from 1972.

Still, female-owned businesses represented only "7.1 percent of all business firms in the nation, excluding large corporations, and 6.6 percent of all receipts," the report said.

It added, "large corporations are excluded because the proportion of women-owned firms could not be determined from public records."

The female-owned businesses may be smaller than male-owned companies in good part because many are of the "cottage industry" variety, said Donna McCutcheon, a statistician at the Commerce Department. The report, for example, said the women owners "are likely to be first-time entrepreneurs."

Just under half of the business women worked in their own homes, and only about one-third had parttime or full-time employees.

Last Tuesday, the Lunch Bunch witnessed a "Lincoln-Douglas form" debate between Ernest Angelo Jr., former mayor of Midland, and Paul Raymond of the Lee High School de-Choosing the affirmative of "Shall We Trade Energy for the Bomb? Angelo maintained that the United States should re-assume its leadership in the production and export of nuclear reactors. He said proliferation of nuclar weaponry could be avoided by not allowing export of the reprocessed material (the source of power for nuclear bombs). He affirmed the export of non-military nuclear energy sources to the less developed countries would enhance their growth. Raymond, in taking the negative side, argued that the use of expanded research and development of solar energy offered a better way to avoid the proliferation of nuclear weaponry, as well as any dangers that might attend the expansion of nuclear reactors used as energy sources. Solar energy sources are bested adapted to less developed countries, he stressed.

The debate was monitored by Robin Rily, debate coach of Lee High School.

A bibliography of some of the many sources used by the debaters was pre-pared by the library staff, and is available to all patrons.

The Lunch Bunch meets at 206 S. Colorado (the old Amerian Legion Building which is now owned by the County). Coffee is available through the courtesy of Luby's Cafeteria as a public service. The Friends of the Library has sponsored this series of spring programs.

DEAR ABBY

Marriage is illegal for half brother, half sister

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: All through grade school, Peter, the boy who lived next door, was my childhood sweetheart. He moved away when I was 12, and we lost track of each other.

Six months ago we met at a Reagan rally and recognized each other immediately. (I'm 22 and Peter is 23.) We had a wonderful time talking about old times, and you might say it was love at second sight. We've been inseparable ever since. We are planning to marry, but here comes the bizarre part. When I told my mother about our plans to marry, she told me something that really shook me up.

She said that the man I always thought was my father is NOT my father. My father was Peter's father. That makes Peter my half brother. My mother is now divorced from the man she was married to when I was born, and Peter's father (and mine, according to my mother) died three

DEAR STILL: Marriage between sister and brother (half as well as whole blood) is considered incestuous and therefore illegal in California and every other state, unless they've changed the law since yesterday.

DEAR ABBY: Through you, I hope to express my gratitude to those in the counseling profession who have dedicated their lives to helping others.

I am 23 and will soon graduate in a helping profession. I am a survivor of several suicide attempts. After working for three long years getting to know myself, I finally discovered that I like myself and really want to live. Most of my life I was unable to say that. I attribute my survival to my therapists, without whose steadfast support and faith I would have been dead. They never gave up on me despite my self-hatred. Now I feel like a beautiul butterfly that has finally come out of my cocoon of despair uncertain but ready to fly! I will be forever grateful to my therapists who showed me tht I could open the door

I hope you will find room in your column to let those in the often thank-

Without your cooperation, your thera-pists could not have saved your life. I recommend counseling so often I'm sure some readers regard it as a cop-out, but oftentimes it is the only helpful solution. It's heartening to observe that so many who have been "saved" from suicide, alcoholism, drug addiction or a life of crime themselves have chosen to dedicate their lives to saving others.

Contest elicits variety of new uses for zippers

NEW YORK (AP) - Suggesting concepts from the highly whimsical to the utilitarian, entrants in a recent contest aimed at putting a little extra zip into the industry came up with new and creative uses for the zipper.

The New York City Office of Economic Development and the Slide Fastener Association, the industry's fact-finding arm, ran the broad-scale "Zipp-In" contest for both professionals and students.

The objective was to aid the industry, both its 14 producers and the many more smaller parts makers and assemblers. All contest winners received prizes and their entries were made available without charge to po-

According to figures published by the Slide Fastener Association, total zipper sales reached 1.864 billion units

"If the imagination and creativity of the contestants is any indication, we can expect the variety of zipper applications to proliferate in the coming decade," said Bill Ehrenkrantz, vice president of YKK, a major American zipper manufacturer.

"When the possible combinations of metallic, non-metallic, colors, lengths and tooth sizes are considered - from a tiny zipper in a pocket or a baby's snowsuit to large industrial zippers in tents and recreational vehicles - the variety and versatility of zipper applications is mind-boggling," he

Among the prize-winning suggestions are these:

-Convertible handbag with zip-on expandable storage area, worn at the shoulder or hand-grasped in its com-

-Men's all-in-one jumpsuits with zippered expandable pockets and detachable storm boots with heavy industrial zippers.

-Zippknits - a single garment with a variety of looks; zip through the day and evening by zipping on and off the component pieces: shirt, pants, cuff, bodice, hood; utilize pieces of different colors for even more versatility. -Infants' overalls or pants with separating zipper; facing behind the zipper protects the baby's skin, makes changing easier and faster and eliminates gaps that occur between snap closures.

-Umbrella with zipper compartment for easy storage of rain gear. -An ensemble of coordinates that can be simply zipped together in a number of ways to create a variety of garments, with upper and lower pieces connected by lapped zipper applied, empire-style, directly below

-Infant-through-adult sleeping bag, which uses zippers to accommodate child's growth. First section is a baby bunting, which later converts to the foot section; a second section with side zippers attaches to the bunting to form a larger bag, and so on up to a full five sections.

That's how Judy Mazell, founder of Food Awareness Training (FAT), and nutrition adviser to the stars, rapturously describes her affair with food. She swears that "food takes me off this mundane plane and into another state of consciousness!"

Loving a good meal like she does, it's not surprising that her 5-foot-5 frame once hosted 165 pounds. The surprise is learning that her weight now stays at 105 not by limiting calorie intake but from eating certain food combinations at certain times.

"I was the original junk-food junkie," she says matter-of-factly. "I'd been overweight all my life. I was diagnosed as having a non-functioning thyroid and was hooked on diet pills. With food combining I've rebuilt my body and my thyroid now functions in the high-normal range."

HER WEIGHT BREAKTHROUGH came about five years ago when she read Herbert Shelton's book "Food Combining Made Easy." She experimented, lost weight, and discovered a way to eat that quickly became natural. She no longer worried about breaking a diet.

Eventually, she gave up her career s a Chicago comedienne to design diets for others. Today she markets her expertise in Beverly Hills, Calif., at $250 per client. Her roster includes "Dallas" star Linda Gray, Sally Kellerman, singer Maria Muldaur, Dick Martin, Buddy Hackett and many

Nicknamed "The Pineapple Lady," she insists her clients eat lavish amounts of fresh fruit in order to utilize the fruits' natural digestive enzymes. She claims that fruit eaten on an empty stomach at the beginning of the day will help "burn up" calories eaten the day before. Her plan also includes separating food groups (i.e., proteins and carbohydrates) rather than trying to eat balanced meals, a subject which brings out the evangelist in Judy.

"We're a country of people that pride ourselves on eating balanced meals, but meanwhile, arteriosclerosis is on the rise in teen-agers, it's not uncommon for 48-year-olds to drop dead of heart attacks, cancer is on the rise, heart disease is on the rise and the only illnesses that we're able to fix are those helped by antibiotics.

"Obviously, something is askew with our balanced meal. Even though some people don't get fat from it, they're still getting unhealthy.'

Judy's diet is her philosophy about so-called overeaters. "There is nothing terrible about loving food. "Eaters are fun-loving, they're open, they've got lots of energy, and they're real creative. They're all these bigger-than-life people, a lot different than non-eaters who shrink back and whine 'Who me? I don't need anything.' "But eating has a negative side-effect - getting fat. So we maintain our sanity, our pride and our self-respect by always being on a diet, thinking that diet means deprivation when all it means is food that's habitually con-

Judy knows that her clients each have favorite foods like pizza or sundaes that they inevitably abandon diets to have. She says it's unrealistic to expect someone never to eat these Sickness? Or just plain sin?

Since earliest times men have seen the earth and sky and all God made, and have known of His existence and great eternal power. So they will have no excuse (when they stand before God at Judgment Day

Yes, they knew about Him all right, but they wouldn't admit it or worship Him or even thank Him for all His daily care. And after awhile they began to think up silly ideas of what God was like and what He wanted them to do. The result was that their foolish minds became dark and confused.

Claiming themselves to be wise without God, they became utter fools instead

And then, instead of worthiping the glorious, ever-living God, they took wood and stone and made idols for themselves, carving them to look like mere birds and animals and snakes and puny men So God let them go ahead into every sort of sex sin, and do whatever they wanted to-yes, vile and sinful things with each other's bodies

Instead of believing what they knew was the truth about God, they deliberately chose to believe lies. So they prayed to the things God made, but wouldn't obey the blessed God who made these things. That is why God let go of them and let them do all these evil things, so that even their women turned against God's natural plan for them and indulged in sex sin with each other.

And the men, instead of having a normal sex relationship with women, burned with last for each other, men doing shameful things with other men and, as a result, getting paid within their own souls with the penalty they so richly deserved.

So it was that when they gave God up and would not even acknowledge Him. God gave them up to doing everything their evil minds could think of Their lives became full of every kind of wickedness and sin, of greed and hate, envy, murder, fighting, lying, bitterness, and gossip.

They were backbiters, haters of God, insolent, proud braggarts, always thinking of new ways of sinning and continually being disobedient to their parents.

They tried to misunderstand, broke their promises. and were heartless-without pity.

They were fully aware of God's death penalty for these crimes, yet they went right ahead and did them anyway, and encouraged others to do them, too. Romans 1:20-32

Sedatives useful drugs that can be dangerous daughter tells me that her physician has prescribed a sedative for know what sedatives are, why they are prescribed

Dear Mrs. R: Sedatives are a type of drug that induces sleep. Taken in small doses, they can ease tension and anxiety; if used without close medical supervision, however, a patient can become depen-dent on them. One barbiturate, phenobarbital, is widely used as an anticonvulsant

A person who takes sedatives because he has trouble falling asleep or cannot deal with anxiety eventually may become dependent on them. Because of this, persons subject to excessive stress, or even those who cannot bear ordinary stress, are susceptible to becoming addicted.

Sedatives taken in large amounts can be dangerous. The individual's judgment and perception become impaired, speech is slurred. and he may appear confused; sometimes the behavior is misinterpreted as resulting from excessive use of alcohol. Ordinarily, large quantities of sedatives can cause the user to go into a coma. Suicide or accidental death is a possible result of an overdose of sleeping pills.

For those severely dependent on barbiturates. sudden withdrawal can cause a serious reaction, including the triggering of convulsions that can lead to death. Less serious symptoms include confused thinking and hallucinations. Because of this, barbiturates 'nerves." NEW YORK (AP) - If that desk job of yours is getting you down, if you daydream about collecting ginseng, surveying soil or raising rabbits or earthworms for a living, there's a new book that can tell you how to make your fortune and get a healthy tan besides.

But the book, "Work-ing Outside: A Career and Self-Employment Handbook," written by Peggy Hardigree and published by Harmony Books, issues a warning to anyone thinking of dusting off their L.L. Bean hiking shoes to look

If you don't have a Survival Kit you're paying too much tax.

Taxes do more than just hurt. They cripple the growth of your savings. They make it impossible to plan your financial future or your retirement with any degree of certainty.

The Survival Kit defers state and federal income taxes on your savings interest. So your interest remains in place to earn more interest. Savings growth increases dramatically. Depending on your tax bracket, your savings can grow twice as fast. Or even faster

With your own Survival Kit, you can defer taxes on the interest earned by all your long-term savings. Even if those savings are held in other institutions. Look at the chart to see how much more effectively you can plan your financial future, or your retirement years, with a Survival Kit.

The Survival Kit can offer you this lifesaving advantage in growth because it is a group annuity plan underwritten by American Life and Casualty Insurance Company. But it is nothing like the traditional annuity which holds funds at a low, fixed rate of return.

Instead, the Survival Kit combines the advantages of a modern, high-return certificate savings account with the advantages made possible by this group annuity plan. In addition to the allimportant deferral of taxes, you gain surprising withdrawal privileges, a variety of estate-planning benefits, and the option of choosing between lifetime retirement income payments or any other form of withdrawal that meets your needs. You are the one who decides how to withdraw your funds, and when.

Forms aren't worth cent, taxpayer says

By SOLL SUSSMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Internal Revenue Service sent a Houston employer climbing the walls because of its bull-headed response to a one-cent discrepancy in tax forms.

The employer received four pages of forms to fill out because there was a penny's difference between the W-2 statement and the employment tax return. "Somebody is loco! I revolt! They can have my penny but not my time - no forms for me. Come see me in jail sometime," the employer wrote to

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas. The irate constituent said that the government probably went into the hole just from the cost of forms, postage and filing.

"But now they want me to fill out this cussed paperwork, send my one cent and spend 15 cents doing it. Then, they can waste more taxpayer time and money reading and filing them," the letter Bentsen's office declined to release the constituent's name in order to protect privacy.

Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Texas, says the rioting in Miami last week represented an explosion of the usual urban problems complicated by the influx of Cuban and Haitian refugees.

The absence of strong local black leadership also was a big factor, he said.

The Houston congressman was in Miami from Monday to Wednesday as a delegate from the Congressional Black Caucus. Leland said he plans to meet with grassroots leaders, business and industry leaders and elected officials in his district to discuss the parallels between Houston and Miami. "Our criminal justice system in Texas - particularly in Houston - must be analyzed in terms relevant to Sneva's tailpipe Sunday. At 200 miles per hour on the front straightaway of Indianapolis Motor Speedway, the flying Texan whipped alongside Sneva the way you'd put your family sedan up next to a slowpoke puffing uphill.

Then, faster than you can say "A.J. Foyt is really steamed this time," Rutherford jerked his car back in front of Sneva to get ready for the scary entrance to Turn One, a deadend Sunday for six cars who bounced off the Bye-bye, for sure. On a gorgeous Midwest day of sun and soft breezes with 350,000 spectators high on the thunder and sweet-sour fuel and rubber smells of racing, Johnny Rutherford and the Jim Hall-built ground effects Chaparral were by far the best. Rutherford won the $300,000-plus first-place share of the $1.3 million purse by 30 seconds over runnerup Sneva, who was so happy with rising from the 33rd and last starting position that he confessed he never thought of winning. "Rutherford was too strong all day," Sneva

Gary Bettenhausen was third, 100 yards behind Sneva. and former winner Gordon Johncock was fourth. It was a alap back to Rick Mears, the defending champion, who seemed a threat to repeat until a tire went flat with 20 laps to go. Even Mears said the flat tire made little difference: "No, I couldn't beat Johnny today. He was working the best."

Rutherford's victory, anticipated since he won at and A.J. Foyt 173. Steaming in inglorious defeat, Foyt, the only four-time winner, snarled into the public address system his disenchantment with United States Auto Club rules that effectively slowed the Indy cars maybe 15 mph on the straightaways.

"It's a shame to see these restrictions," Foyt said after three hours of running in mid-pack. "We were like turtles out there. I don't think people like to see a race where everybody's going 30 miles per hour."

The Texan, 42, as cocky as anyone brave enough to drive these matchboxes while strapped between 20-gallon tanks of explosive fuel, first tried to explain the wave by saying what it wasn't.

The defending champion, Mears, was never a factor, according to testimony from both Rutherford and Mears. Yet with only 22 laps to go, Mears was running 12 seconds ahead of the eventual winner.

"But something was going wrong," Mears said. "I radioed my pit to tell them.

Willenburg, Wright win RHCC Stampede

Ranchland Hills' Jerry Willenburg and James Wright, Odessa, responded to final round pressure with a 35-33-68 to win the RHCC Stampede golf tournament with a three-round score of 206 Sunday, beating out Bob Young, RHCC, and Craig Campbell, Midland CC, by one stroke.

Young and Campbell put together a pair of 33's for the day's low round of 66 to take second in the championship flight with a 207. Al Boudreaux, RHCC, and Larry Snyder, MCC, carded a final round 68 for 208, good for third place.

Bill Hollis and C.E.Boyd, who shared the lead with Willenburg and Wright going into the final 18, shot a 71 to finish with a 209 and in a tie with Rick Peterson and Gary Littlejohn at Wayne Lutke and Johnny Warren posted the second lowest round of the final 18, a 67, but finished well back in the field with a 213, thanks largely to a triple bogey on the final hole the first day, which gave the pair a 76.

Defending champions Mike Mullins and Bill Hightower, Jr., had a tepid 68 on the final day, but after rounds of 70-74 they wound up at 212. In the second flight, Bob Hellinghausen and Craig Stevens had rounds of 70-71-71-212 for first while Claude Mitchell and Ed Barfield took the third flight with a 218. INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The car of tomorrow, Jim Hall's ground effects Chaparral, officially became the car of today Sunday when Johnny Ruth-erford drove it to his third Indianapolis 500 victory.

"Everything went just the way we wanted it to all month," said the Midland, Texas, owner and designer. "In fact, things were going so well that we were a little afraid as race day drew near.

ing, or the wing effect. The 15-foot-long machine, with its 106-inch wheelbase, weighs 1,510 pounds - without Rutherford in it. The engine is capable of producing 700 horsepower at 9,500 revolutions per minute, but it wasn't able to go at that speed because of U.S. Auto Club regulations which limited the car to only 48 inches of boost on the turbocharged

'We can't go as fast as we'd like," Hall said. "But the car has been designed to work with the existing rules. Our best lap today was around 196 mph. That's all it will go under the Hall said he thought going into ground effects one year ahead of others in the sport has paid off.

Tossed beer can, yellow light set up winning gamble

By WILL GRIMSLEY
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Veteran Johnny Rutherford credited a vagrant beer can and subsequent yellow caution light in helping him take his third Indianapolis 500 victory Sun-

"It was a little touch and go out there at the finish," said the 42-yearold Texan. "But I checked with my crew and they said they thought I could make it.

Rutherford, whose Chaparral is geared to go 31 to 32 laps on a full tank of fuel, made his last pitstop with 31 laps to go.

Shortly before the finish, while running just ahead of Tom Sneva and Gary Bettenhausen, someone tossed a beer can onto the track, bringing out the yellow caution light under which all cars slow down and remain in

"I called the pit and asked could I make it to the end," Rutherford

Jim Hall, who was on the other end of the line, said "I think you can." "Are you sure?" Rutherford asked.

"Yes," the crewman replied. "So I took it from there," Rutherford said.

Afterwards, he admitted without the caution light, which helped con-serve his last bit of gas, he might have been hard pressed to finish the race with the fuel on hand.

The tough driver from Fort Worth, Texas, who won this race in 1974 and again in 1977 and finished second in 1975, said: "It was long day. With all those crashes out there I was dodging pieces all day. The crew did a fantas-

Rutherford, who joins Wilbur Shaw, Maurie Rose and Al Unser as three time winners just behind Foyt's four victories, said there was only one uncomfortable experience during the entire humid afternoon.

Bargain Brouhard proves good bet

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

There aren't many low-priced bar-gains in these inflationary times, but Mark Brouhard is turning out to be a good buy for the Milwaukee Brewers.

Until Sunday, when he belted his first major league homer, a three-run shot that gave the Brewers a 3-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins, Brouhard's main claim to fame was that he hit a ball measured 617 feet in the air and 682 in total distance while playing for Salinas of the California League in 1978.

Brouhard came to the ballpark Sunday figuring to ride the bench again, even though he doubled Saturday night for his first major league hit and made a spectacular catch in right field. Instead, he got his first major league start because right fielder Sixto Lezcano is in a slump.

"I got to the park and I didn't even look at the lineup," said Brouhard, who turned 24 last Thursday. "I just went out to the outfield to do my work during batting practice. Then, (coach) Frank Howard said, 'Hey, take it easy, you're working today.' I ran all the way in to look at the lineup card. I thought it was a misprint. I didn't believe it.'

The Brewers paid $25,000 last fall to draft Brouhard from the California Angels' organization after he hit .350 for El Paso, narrowly missing the Texas League triple crown. If the Brewers don't keep him all season, they must offer him back to the Angels for $12,500.

And the crippled, slump-ridden Angels undoubtedly would grab him. They need all the help they can get after bowing to the Kansas City Royals 7-3 for their 12th setback in 17 games and ninth in a row at home.

Meanwhile, Toronto rookie Lloyd Moseby duplicated Brouhard's feat by hitting his first major league homer — he also singled, doubled and drove in four runs - as the Blue Jays snapped a five-game losing streak by downing the New York Yankees 9-6.

Brouhard hit his homer off Minnesota's Roger Erickson in the fourth inning following singles by Ben Oglivie and Dick Davis. Lary Sorensen scattered six hits as the Brewers won their third game in a row.

Harry Dalton, the Brewers' general manager, held the same job with the Angels when they picked Brouhard in

"We were surprised when he was available for the draft and equally surprised he was still available when he was," Dalton said. "He was No.1 on our list."

Dalton got another surprise last fall when the Angels didn't protect Brouhard. "I couldn't believe he was available in the draft," Dalton echoed.

While Brouhard has been with the Brewers all season, Moseby, 20, reported to Toronto on Saturday. He made his presence felt with a two-run double off Tommy John in the first inning and then snapped a 2-2 tie in the third with a two-run homer as John again failed to gain his 200th major league victory. Meanwhile, another newcomer, Luis Leal, won his first big league appearance by holding the Yankees to three runs in 72-3 innings despite yielding 12 hits.

"I've been watching Tommy John since I was in high school," Moseby said. "He threw the ball in my wheelhouse. I was going for a base hit, just trying to make contact, and it went out of the ballpark."

The Blue Jays battered John and Ed Figueroa for 15 hits, including a three-run homer by John Mayberry.

Royals 7, Angels 3 George Brett doubled twice and homered, scoring two runs and driving in three to back the five-hit pitching of Larry Gura, who tied his career high with seven strikeouts and beat the Angels for the 10th time in 11 career decisions. Brett doubled in the Royals' three-run sixth inning to drive in the first run off Dave LaRoche, making his second start since 1974, and added a two-run homer in the seventh.

Indians 3, Red Sox 2 Boston's Chuck Rainey breezed into the eighth inning with a two-hitter and a 2-0 lead but Joe Charboneau and Rick Manning singled and Cliff Johnson, batting only .196, hit a three-run pinch homer to turn the game around. Winner John Denny allowed eight

Phils' Bull loose in China shop again

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer Greg Luzinski is behaving like the proverbial bull in a china shop these days.

Breaking up pitchers left and right, Philadelphia's broad-shouldered outfielder continued his aggressive behavior with a home run and double Sunday to lead the Phillies to a 6-2 victory over the Houston Astros

I'm seeing the ball good and hitting it hard," said the "Bull" of the Phillies. "It's that simple. Everything I hit is finding a hole. I've always said that home-run hitters always get in grooves and I guess I'm in one."

With Sunday's performance, Luzinski has now hit in six straight games during which he has connected for 12 hits in 22 trips. Among the hits are five home runs and three doubles, and he also has driven in eight runs. Luzinski's fifth-inning home run Sunday followed a shot by third baseman Mike Schmidt and was the sixth time this season that the two sluggers have both homered in the same game. Both now have 12 home runs, tops in the major

The long-ball display by Schmidt and Luzinski capped Philadelphia's scoring for the day. The Phillies actually scored all the runs they needing with three in the second inning, two on Bake McBride's single. Winner Dick Ruthven, 5-3, scattered eight hits in eight innings before getting ninth-inning reief help from Dickie Noles. The victory was the fourth straight and eighth in the last 10 games for the Phillies.

"The Phillies are going real well, and we're not going real well," said Houston Manager Bill Virdon. "They're obviously hitting the ball and their pitching has been good."

Giants 5, Pirates 2

Darrell Evans drove in three runs with a homer and a single and Vida Blue scattered seven hits to lead San Francisco over Pittsburgh. The Giants, winners in seven of their last eight games, scored three runs in the first inning off loser John Candelaria on RBI singles by Evans, Willie McCovey and Larry Herndon.

Candelaria, 2-3, also yielded a two-run homer in the fifth by Evans, his sixth of the season.

Blue, 7-2 with his second victory this season over Pittsburgh, yielded the first Pirate run in the fifth on Bill Madlock's triple and a double by Phil Garner. Lee Lacy singled home another Pittsburgh run in the sixth. Cubs 2, Dodgers 1

Chicago beat Los Angeles as Dodger shortstop Bill Russell committed a two-out throwing error that allowed two runs to score in the ninth. The Dodgers held a 1-0 lead going into the last inning as the result of Steve Yeager's infield RBI single in the second inning

The victory went to reliever Bruce Sutter, 3-3, while Steve Howe, 1-2, the third Dodger pitcher, took the loss.

Russell's throw pulled Steve Garvey off first base and the ball bounced off Garvey's glove. "If I had come up with it clean, it would have been a tough play for the ump to call," said Garvey. "The ball trickled away. By the time I got it and turned to throw, the winning run was home. I knew he (Lenny Randle) would be going, it's one of those things you pre-think."

Expos 7, Reds 4

Gary Carter's two-run homer capped a five-run fifth inning, helping Montreal beat Cincin-nati. Larry Parrish also homered as the Expos took two of the three-game series.

The Expos' big inning overshadowed Johnny Bench's three RBI performance for Cincinnati.
Padres 11, Cardinals 5

Ozzie Smith and Jerry Mumphrey hit tiebreaking singles in the eighth inning and Barry Evans smashed a grand slam homer in the ninth, leading San Diego over St. Louis and extending the Cardinals' losing streak to 10 games.

Rollie Fingers, 5-4, the third Padres pitcher, gained the triumph, while John D'Acquisto blanked the Cards over the last two innings to pick up his first save. Roy Thomas, 1-2, the third of five St. Louis pitchers, took the loss.

"It was a lucky situation," said Evans of his grand slam. "I wasn't even expecting to hit. There were two out and Jerry (Coleman) told (Von) Joshua to bunt because he had a bad hand. But (Pedro) Borbon walked him and then I was fortunate enough to get a good pitch to hit." Mets 3, Braves 0

John Stearns doubled home Frank Taveras with the go-ahead run and Mike Jorgenson followed with a two-run homer in the eighth inning as New York defeated Atlanta behind the threehit pitching of Craig Swan.

Phil Niekro, 3-6, held New York to five hits until the eighth when Taveras doubled with one out for his fourth hit of the game. With two down, Stearns doubled home Taveras, and Jorgensen then hit a high fly ball down the right field line that squeezed just inside the foul pole.

Rangers pound Oakland hill ace for 7-3 victory

OAKLAND (AP) - Oakland's Mike Norris was way off top form, an almost impossible standard he set for himself. "He's been so effective, it had to happen sometime," said A's Manager Billy Martin.

The Texas Rangers collected 10 hits and six runs in six innings against Norris, who took an 0.52 earned run average into Sunday's game, and beat the A's 7-3.

"We didn't come up with the big plays in the field and I didn't come up with the big out pitches," said Norris, whose current ERA, 1.21, still is most impressive. While Norris was having troubles, the Rangers' Jim Kern indicated he's returning to full strength. The 6-foot-5 right-hander, the American League's best reliever last season, got his second save of the year by pitching hitless ball over the final 2 2-3 innings. "I think the arm is back to form," said the reliever who was forced to take a 10-day layoff recently. "I had tried to pitch through an arm that I hyperextended three times. I had to go to Dr. (Robert) Kerlan in Los Angeles to get it straightened out and then start all over again."

Kern posted 29 saves and a 1.57 ERA last year. Before saving Sunday's game for Doc Medich, 4-2, Kern had an ERA of 3.66 this season.

Norris, 5-3, retired the first two batters Sunday before Al Oliver and Buddy Bell singled and John Ellis belted a two-run double. It was the first time this season a team scored two runs in an inning off the pitcher. Norris' usually reliable screwball, he explained, "was sinking but it wouldn't screw."

Oliver said, "He's having a fantastic season, but regardless of how good anyone is, they're going to have some

Connor leads Vidmar in gym

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Thanks to first place finishes in three events, Oklahoma's Bart Conner holds a half-point lead over UCLA's Peter Vidmar in the U.S. Olympic gymnastics trials.

Conner, the favorite in the absence of injured world gold medalist Kurt Thomas, finished first in the side horse, rings and parallel bar for a score of 58 after Sunday's compulsory round.

Vidmar, all-around winner in the United States Gymnastics Federation national championships earlier this year, was second with 57.5 points but did not place first in any events.

Colorado Mouse may baseballers roar against networks

DENVER (AP) - The Colorado High School Activities Association may be a mouse compared to professional football and network television, but the group's leader says it will "roar" as loud as it must to fight what he believes are illegal broadcasting practices.

That includes taking CBS, NBC and the National Football League to court if necessary, says Activities Association commissioner Ray Ball.

Ball contends that the televising of a Saturday NFL game last year was a violation of a 1966 amendment to the Sherman Antitrust Act spelling out the circumstances under which a pro game may be televised on the same day that a prep or college football championship is held.

Ball claims the networks had sufficient notice of the high school game and therefore violated the federal the NFL and the networks. Ball claims the High School Activities Association, which is the governing body for all high school sports in Colorado, lost between $25,000 and $30,000 at last year's Class 4A championships because the Denver-Seattle contest, which was played at the same time, was broadcast by KOA.

Ball said KMGH also has shown NFL games in conflict with high school events. The Sherman Antitrust Act, passed in the 1890s, was amended in 1966 to exempt NFL television contracts.

One of the strings attached was that telecasts were prohibited beween 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Saturday from the second Saturday in September to the second Saturday in December — when a high school or college game was scheduled within 75 miles of the television station. Under that law, the date of the prep game must be published before August 1.

On July 11, 1979, The Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News carried notices saying the Class 4A finals would be Dec. 8, "in the Denver metropolitan area.

Ball contends that was sufficient notice for KOA-TV to know they could not broadcast the Denver-Seattle NFL game that Saturday. But network officials said the law also required specific notice of where the game was to be played and argued the

Oniate voted Most Valuable

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Freshman Greg Oniate of Hawaii, who barely missed a perfect batting series, was named the most valuable player of the NCAA Central Regional baseball tournament, which Ha-

The Hawaii players included second baseman Thad Reece, outfielder Rick Bass, catcher Collin Tanabe and pitcher David Smith. Oniate, 5-foot-5 and 195 pounds, was chosen as the designated hitter and most valuable player after collecting five hits in six times at bat - including three doubles - and driving in three runs.

The only out Oniate made came Saturday on a diving stop of his line drive by second baseman Jay Tucker of Louisiana Tech, who rolled over and threw Oniate out by a step at first.

Also making the all-tournament team were shortstop Spike Owen, outfielder Mike Zatopek and pitcher Keith Creel of Texas; first baseman Robert Johnson and third baseman Jim Liggett of Pan American; and outfielder Johnny Giordano of Louisiana Tech.

Sandoval wins marathon trials

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario (AP) - Two of the three fastest runners in the 1980 U.S. Olympic Marathon Trials went to the mountains to reach the top. The other sweltered in artificial heat.

Tony Sandoval, a 5-foot-8, 115-pound medical student who took his first breath in the 7,000-foot elevations of New Mexico, cruised to victory in Saturday's trials after a winter of high-altitude

Benji Durden, who wears rain gear and sweat clothes to train in the sultry weather of his Stone Mountain, Ga., home, finished second and Kyle Heffner, another high-altitude trainer from Littleton, Colo., was third. For all three, the Summer Games in Moscow are out because of the U.S. boycott over the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan. But they won an official designation as members of the U.S. Olympic team and a trip to Japan for the Fukuoka International Marathon in December. At 22 miles, Sandoval trailed Durden by more than 70 yards, but he began an incredible 4:45 mile that pulled him even. It was downhill from there for Durden, who struck out at 21 miles and succeeded in grinding down everyone but Sandoval.

Both Durden, 28, and Heffner, 25, who trained in Estes Park, Colo., came in under 2: 11: 00 to cut three minutes or more off their personal records.

Wood's murder remains mystery

BY GREG THOMPSON

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The federal judge's assassin did his work quickly, efficiently, profes-

It's been a top priority federal case for a year, but the baffling sniper slaying of "Maximum John" remains unsolved. Those who wanted the tough judge dead thus far have gotten away with a "clean Frustrated top federal investigators are convinced last May 29's assassination of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr. was a drug-related, contract job. They've been unable to break the case, and there are some indications the trail is growing cold.

There also have been no arrests in the Nov. 21, 1978, attempted assassination here of then-Assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr.

One case is rarely mentioned without the other in discussions at the newly named John H. Wood Jr. United States Courthouse here. And the speculation on both cases centers around the Southwest's billiondollar illegal drug trade.

"I believe they're connected. It has always been my theory that different persons did the shooting in Wood and Kerr, but the same people willed both of them," said U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd, one of several Western District prosecutors and judges still under constant armed guard.

"Those people have a multimillion-dollar stake in drug trafficking. They had a lot to lose," he added. "When you go to the trouble of having someone assassinated, you must want them out of the way very badly. They succeeded in both cases. Judge Wood is dead, and Jim Kerr no longer works in this

Kerr, 39, had spearheaded Boyd's intensive investigation into international drug smuggling operations based in El Paso. Automatic rifle fire riddled Kerr's car as he drove to work, but the prosecutor escaped injury by ducking behind the dashboard. Kerr since has had 24-hour protection from federal marshals, and has left Boyd's office to take another law enforcement job. Federal officials refuse to reveal his whereabouts.

The strapping, 6-foot-3, 200-pound Wood, 63, was climbing into his car to leave for work when a sniper pumped a single .243-caliber slug into the base of his spine. He was dead in moments. "In my 20 years of criminal prosecution, some as a state district attorney in El Paso, I've seen a lot of murder cases. But I've never seen one in which we started with less evidence," said Boyd. The FBI mobilized for what Director William Webster later said was its largest investigation since the disappearance of Teamster leader Jimmy Rewards totaling $125,000 were offered. Dozens of agents have followed countless leads, some outside the United States. There have been hundreds, perhaps thousands of tips. "Every convict in prison knows the solution to it. All he wants is to get out first," said Boyd. A federal grand spent 18 months investigating the Kerr attack and then the Wood killing. It heard from more than 100 witnesses. One mystery witness wore a paper sack over his head. Bandido motorcycle club members, some identified in court as the prime suspects in the Kerr attack, appeared in full regalia. A convicted contract killer testified, as did a reputed New England organized crime figure who is a close friend of convicted drug smuggler Jimmy

Other witnesses had links to El Paso's Chagra family - the focus of much of the Wood

Wood had been scheduled to preside over Jimmy Chagra's drug conspiracy trial. Kerr was to be the prosecutor. Chagra's attorneys bitterly, but unsuccessfully, fought to have Wood removed from the Chagra is already serving a 30-year prison sen-tence and faces another drug trial in Boston. Flamboyant attorney Lee Chagra, Jimmy's older brother and one of Kerr's frequent courtroom foes, was slain a month after the Kerr attack.

Joe Chagra, a third brother and Jimmy's attorney, still maintains that the Wood slaying was the worst thing that could have happened to Jimmy Chagra. He said his brother, in effect, has been already tried for the crime.

"If he'd been tried by Judge Wood, at least he would have been tried for what he was charged with, not (as if it was) for the judge's murder," Joe Chagra said last week.

Despite the massive effort, both the Kerr and Wood investigation continue to draw frustrating blanks. Boyd readily admits his disappointment.

The regular grand jury expired this month. A special 36-member panel is expected to take its place next month, authorized under laws allowing the investigation of organized crime.

Sources close to the case say federal officials are hoping to reap dividends from a heavily guarded, confidential informant, who has shown he could have significant information in the case.

But sources said the informant wants $300,000 further protection and official pardons for several serious convictions, including murder.
No agreement had been reached by late last week,

There are subtle indications the trail has grown cold, despite official denials from Boyd and FBI Special Agent-in-Charge Michael A. Morrow.

"This has been a huge investigative effort. It has momentum. It's going forward. I'm not disappointed," said Morrow.

But one informed source flatly told a reporter, "The FBI doesn't have ---.

U.S. Marshal Rudy Garza said the 24-hour protection of many judges and prosecutors would continue "indefinitely." He said it's already cost some $3 million. Two federal judges still wear bulletproof vests when they leave the courthouse.

What do you bid now? A .- You must resist the temptation to rebid two spades. With all your points in prime cards, you really have a fine supporting hand for partner, so you don't want to make any bid that might sound at all discouraging. Keep partner interested in the proceedings by raising his suit. If partner has spade support, he will surely show it over your club raise, but he won't show it over a two spade rebid if he has a minimum.

What do you bid now? A .- You have a very good hand, and slam is not out of the question. However, to cater to the possibility that hearts might be a superior trump suit - partner could easily have four or more hearts on this auction-you should show your second suit now. If you cue-bid instead, you will never be able to convince partner of your heart length later. Rebidding three hearts will also leave your side much better placed to handle further competition from the opposition.

Hundreds driven from hotel rooms as fire broke out

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Hundreds of guests were driven from their rooms in the plush Fontainebleau Hilton Hotel when a fire broke out in the 17-story north tower of the sprawling, 1,200 room complex, authorities said.

A dozen guests and six firemen were treated at the scene Sunday for smoke inhalation and two persons - a fire lieutenant and an elderly woman - were hospitalized. Neither injury was serious, officials Authorities said there were about 400 guests in the north wing. Two other towers were not affected. While firemen sprayed fresh air through each floor of the north wing, the guests were relocated in other sections of the hotel. Some slept on floors and couches in the main lobby.

There were no immediate damage estimates. The cause of the blaze was under investigation, officials

"The damage is not extensive," said Jack Gold-strich, an assistant to the owner. "We'll have to keep guests out of there for a few days, but we expect a full hotel on Wednesday and we hope to be ready for

Miami Beach Fire Chief Bud Goltzene said the fire began in a storage room full of tables, chairs and linens. Thick smoke was funneled up the air shafts and into the tower's 384 rooms through the air conditioning system, he said. The blaze was contained in the storage room after

Jury begins deliberation in parachute murder case

FORT BRAGG, N.C. (AP) - Eight members of a military jury were going to court today to begin deliberations in the murder trial of Army Pfc. Alvin Williams, who is charged with cutting the static line of an officer's parachute.

Capt. Lawrence D. Hill died March 26 during a routine proficiency jump over Fort Bragg when his parachute failed to open. Williams, a 20-year-old parachute rigger, contended he did not tamper with the parachute.

The charge carries penalties of dishonorable discharge or life imprison-

Six or more jurors must agree on a verdict of guilty to hand down a conviction. The same jury would then sit for a second hearing to determine

In court-martial proceedings Satur-day, Williams said he did not sabotage the parachute worn by Hill.

He said Army Criminal Investigation Division agents dictated a confession as he wrote it down, adding he signed the confession at the end of a long day of interrogation after agents pleaded with him to confess and pro-mised him he would not to go jail.

"They told me if I confess to cutting the static line, that's not murder and I won't go to jail," Williams testified.
"They promised me nothing would happen to me."

Earlier in the week, the two CID agents, David Miller and Jeanette Johnson, testified Williams said he cut the static line because of frustra-

Ozark to resume flights

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Ozark Air Lines clerks will begin taking reservations Tuesday for resumption of the carrier's flights to 66 cities on June 2, an 2 airline spokesman said.

Ratification of a three-year contract calling for 33 percent wage hikes to the airline's 700 mechanics was announced Saturday following vote tabulations in St. Louis and Chicago. Additional details of the agreement were not announced.

An Ozark spokesman, Charles R. Ehlert, said the company will resume about 75 percent of its service next week, offering half-fare prices at some cities until full service is resumed July 1.

Landsat-3 doing more than spying these days

United States are doing more these days than just spying from on high. Landsat-3 is showing Pakistan where to build a new port, Kenya how to protect its cattle from lions and Bolivia where to find lithium that could help fuel the cars of the future

Landsat-3 completes a series of orbits every 18 days from a track 560 miles in space, sending sends back signals that can be converted into pictures of the earth's surface.

Engineers interpret the photos to help find water, gauge the size of crops and calculate where minerals may lie. The resulting data goes to 400 programs in the United States and 30 other countries.

Although many poor countries say they are worried about the spy potential of satellites, the United States takes the position that all information on natural resources like that gathered by Landsat-3 should be available to anyone.

A multinational company, with expensive analysts and laboratories, can buy the pictures and learn more bout a country's resources than its own government knows. That knowledge becomes a valuable bargaining weapon when the company is making a deal with a government to develop the resources. The information itself is a bargain.

Bolivia spent about $10,000 to discover what AID says are the most dense lithium deposits in the world on a remote salt flat where only a few goatherds had ever ventured. A U.S. company has invested $136 million in further exploration.

Lithium, the lightest of metals, has many uses in electronics and in nuclear reactors. If power for peaceful uses can be produced from the fusion reaction now used only in nuclear weapons, lithium may become an important source of fuel. Experiments with electric cars and trucks also use lithium in high-voltage batteries.

Kenya's problem is more immediate: the trade-off between protecting game and cattle. This is the beginning of the rainy season when zebras, giraffes, gazelles and other game - pursued by lions and cheetahs — move north from Tanzania into Ken-yan grazing land.

Factory official executed for 19-year-old gold theft

PEKING (AP) - A Chinese factory official who stole almost 900 ounces of gold from his place of work 19 years ago was executed after he tried to sell some of it last month and was caught by a bank teller who recalled the theft case, the People's Daily reported today.

The newspaper said the Intermediate People's Court of Shenyang in northeast China, held a rally recently to sentence Guan Qingchang, 54, to death. It did not say how or when he was executed. His wife, Huang Shuzhen, also was sentenced to death but put on two years' probation, it said. It gave no explanation for the leniency shown in her case.
On April 15, the paper said, Mrs. Guan had gone to the Shenyang People's Bank to sell 64.4 ounces of the gold, worth $15,510 following a recent boost in China's purchasing price for gold. That much gold would be worth over twice that amount at current prices on bullion markets in the West - where the total 900 ounces would be worth approximately half a

The paper said bank clerk Guan Fengfu became kind ordinarily in the possession of private citizens. He remembered the 19-year-old theft case and called authorities, it said.

The clerk received a reward of $533 and was promoted to a higher pay grade, the newspaper

It said the verdict brought celebrations at the factory, where a number of other workers suspected of possible involvement in the theft had been beaten by zealous radicals trying to solve the case during China's 1966-76 Cultural Revolution.

It said Guan, the deputy chief of his factory's planning section, broke through a wall into the packing department to steal the gold and covered his tracks by appearing prominently at the factory's public bath before and a workers' dance after the robbery.

After his wife was detained at the bank, she said the gold had been her grandfather's, and Guan himself told police it had been his father's, the

But, it added, he finally had to confess, since the entire amount by then had been discovered under his wife's clothing trunk.

Connecticut drops suit agains major oil firms

By MARK SULLIVAN

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) - Connecticut dropped its $750 million suit against the nation's major oil companies because of mounting costs and slim chances of winning, state Attorney General Carl Ajello said Friday.

Ajello said the state will be able to get back the money it has invested in the seven-year legal battle. Under terms of an agreement reached with the oil companies, they will pay the state $209,000 in return for its dropping the court action.

Connecticut was one of seven states that filed antitrust actions in 1973, charging 23 oil companies and subsidiaries with a price-fixing conspira-

Ajello said the state could probably have gotten no more than $900,000 if it won the case and that fighting it all the way could cost as much as $1 million.

"It had become apparent to me some time ago that at some point the burdens of this would become insurmountable," he told reporters in his office. "I don't think with the exposure and the expense involved it would have been worth continuing.'

The suit was filed by former state Attorney General Robert Killian, who charged the major companies with a year conspiracy to control the in-

Six others states filed similar cases, which were consolidated in federal court in Los Angeles. Ajello said negotiations to end Connecticut's phase of the action have been going on about a year and were completed Monday in Los Angeles.

The state of Kansas also has dropped out of the case. Florida, California, Oregon, Washington and Arizona are keeping their cases alive for State Rep. Charles Matties, R-West Hartford and a member of the Connecticut Gasoline Retailers Association, criticized Ajello's decision.

"I think this proves the old belief that if you have enough money ... and can drag things out in the courts, you can delay justice."

Ajello said he did not have the lawyers or money to continue. He said, for instance, at one point he sent two assistants to file a pleading in the case and the state of Florida sent one attorney seven states considering some type of proposal to tax oil income.

Connecticut has already passed a 2 percent tax on the gross receipts of big oil companies operating in the state and California voters will go to the polls June 3 to vote on Proposition 13, a measure imposing a 10 percent surtax on oil-company profits.

In both states, supporters point to record oil industry profits as a key reason for passing the levies.

"Sure big oil companies have a right to a reasonable profit. But this year they are eating up more than their share," proclaims a television ad supporting California's tax. As six pigs slurp hungrily at a trough, the announcer says, "Let's stick it to Big Oil. They've been sticking it to us for Big oil is worried. Charles J. Di-Bona, head of the American Petroleum Institute, cites the growing state trend to copy the federal "windfall" tax as the biggest problem currently facing oil companies.

"It's a reflection of the fact that states are acting more and more like small congresses with fulltime staffs and all kinds of means for communicating with each other," he said. "As a consequence, a piece of legislation introduced in one state often spreads quickly to other states.

Other states considering some type of oil profits tax are New York, Maryland, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Kentucky.

Backers of the California proposal say it would raise $200 million annually from between 25 and 30 oil companies operating in the state.

Only profits made on sales in California would be taxed and corporations that earn less than $5 million would be exempt. The tax revenue would go for mass transit and alternative energy sources.

The Connecticut tax, expected to raise $60 million, is almost identical to a 2 percent gross receipts tax being pushed in New York by Gov. Hugh Carey. The New York tax would raise

In most states, opposition to oil tax proposals is strong. But if the Connecticut measure survives a court challenge and California's Proposition 13 passes, supporters expect momentum to grow.

"It is hard to think that the states are going to sit back and suffer the ravages of high energy prices without feeling they should recoup some of that ill-gotten gain from the oil com-

'Big oil' now under siege

from state governments

The coalition, formed two years ago to work on such issues as utility rate reform, is the major national group pushing for state oil taxes.

The group's Connecticut branch played a key role in passing that tax and national leaders say they have organizations in 23 other states.

The coalition argues that such taxes are the only avenue non-oil and gas producing states have to get their share of the big profits resulting from President Carter's decision to decontrol domestic oil prices.

Government economists predict that decontrol will result in $1 trillion in added oil company revenues over the next decade. The federal Treasury will siphon off $227.7 billion as a result of the "windfall profits" tax Carter signed into law last month. Technically, the tax is on the extra revenue, not profits, from decontrol. Without the tax, the industry would keep more of those revenues as prof-

With royalties rising, the oil and gas producing states are expected to collect $128 billion in added revenues because of decontrol during the

'That leaves the consuming states holding the bag, struggling to cope with the near crisis situation that inflated energy prices are causing," said William Winpisinger, head of the Machinist Union and president of the

A controversial element in the Connecticut, New York and California tax proposals is a provision attempting to prohibit the oil companies from passing the tax onto consumers. Oil industry officials claim the prohibition is unconstitutional and plan to challenge it in the court suits. They also argue as they did unsuccessfully before Congress that the tax will mean less exploration for new oil and gas finds and thus less energy for the country. But whether the states will heed that warning any more than Congress remains to be seen.

Algeria increases crude price

By The Associated Press

Algeria raised the price of its crude oil $2 a barrel on Thursday, becoming the last major supplier of oil to the United States to take that step, a newsletter reported.

Petroleum Intelligence Weekly said the West African country raised the price of its best oil, known as bonny crude, to $36.71 a 42-gallon barrel. It said the increase is effective Thurs-

Nigeria is the second-largest supplier of crude oil to the United States. Last year it shipped about 1 billion barrels a day to the Unied States.

In New York, a spokesman for Mobil Corp, a major customer of Nigeria, said Mobil had not been notified of the increase.

The report of a Nigerian increase came one day after Venezuela and Qatar joined in the latest round of increases, which began with Saudi Arabia last week and has now spread to all major U.S. suppliers.

Analysts expect the price hikes will boost retail prices of gasoline and home heating oil in the United States by as much as 3 cents a gallon. Venezuela, the third-largest supplier for the United States, boosted the price of its oil by as much as $3.50 a barrel, leaving its highest quality oil at $34.25. About a quarter of Venezuela's petroleum exports are residual fuels, a refined product used mainly to fire boilers for commercial heating and electricity generating.

When Saudi Arabia, the largest exporter of oil and the biggest U.S.

supplier, raised its price by $2, to $28 a barrel, the action was interpreted as an effort to move toward a unified pricing system. But the actions of the other members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries have
