Clark attends 'U.S. crimes' session in Iran

Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr opened a "Crimes of America" conference today with a tirade against America, and former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, one of the participants, condemned the aborted U.S. mission to rescue the hostages as "lawless and contrary to constitutional government."

"It is inconceivable that constitutional government could ever delegate to a single person — president or prime minister — the power to risk killing many people half a world away in a foreign country," Clark said of President Carter's attempt to rescue the 53 American hostages April 25. Eight of the U.S. servicemen in the mission were killed when two of the

"I hope that the conference and our participation in it can secure the early release of the hostages which I think is an important human concern for all people," said Clark, who arrived in Tehran with nine other Americans in defiance of a Justice Department ban.

He spoke in an interview with a Western reporter as the hostages spent their 212th day of captivity.

There were rumors in Far East money markets that three or more of the hostages had been shot, but the militant students holding the hostages denied the report. In Washington, a spokesman on the State Department's Iran working desk said several hours later, "It's the first I've heard of it." There was no confirmation from any source.

Bani-Sadr, in his opening remarks to the conference, said Iran was virtually governed by Washington and the Pentagon for years and urged condemnation of U.S. efforts in his country.

He attacked colonialism and said many countries have been faced with "conspiracy of superpowers bargaining over their destinies." He said the superpowers have carved out spheres of influence and that Iran was

In a message to the four-day conference, Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Rohollah Khomeini called on delegates to "condemn the (U.S.) oppressors." Most world governments "support the oppressor against the oppressed but we expect from you justice and good faith," Khomeini

He said the Iranian government would produce evidence showing American intervention in Iranian affairs and the alleged crimes of deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and his father, Reza Shah. Islamic militants demanding return of the shah seized the U.S. Embassy in Tehran Nov. 4 and have been holding the hostages ever since.

Some 100 non-governmental delegations from 50 countries are attending the conference, called by Bani-Sadr following the aborted U.S. rescue Delegates include representatives of the ruling political parties of Syria, Algeria and Libya, and several Third World guerrilla movements.

Ambulance attendants injured while responding to accident

A Midland ambulance responding to an accident Sunday involving a truck-tractor semi-trailer and a pickup apparently went out of control on a rain-slickened Midland street and crashed through a hedge and fence, injuring the two attendants.

In all, four individuals were taken to Midland Memorial Hospital from those two accidents.

The first mishap occurred at 8 p.m. at the intersection of County Road 60 East and County Road 1150 North.

At that location a pickup driven by Leonard George Porter, 44, of Midland was involved in a collision with a truck-tractor semi-trailer driven by 19-year-old Robert Lee Cowan of Mid-

According to investigating officers Ken Pittman and Matt Andrews, the accident occurred as Cowan was southbound on County Road 1150 and Porter was eastbound on County Road 60. Officers said Porter's vehicle struck the truck-tractor semitrailer broadside.

Porter and his stepson, Joseph F. Clark, 7, of Midland, who also was in the vehicle Porter was driving, were both admitted to Midland Memorial

Both are in serious condition in the hospital's critical care unit. Porter is suffering from a skull fracture, facial and scalp lacerations. The Clark youth sustained a concussion, facial and scalp lacerations, according to hospital officials.

The two were taken to the hospital by the first ambulance dispatched and a backup ambulance dispatched to the scene following the wreck of the first backup ambulance.

In the wreck of the ambulance, according to emergency service officials, the driver, 32-year-old Roy Haberman, and the other attendant, 22year-old Robert Chaney, were in-

Officials said the two men were traveling down Garfield Street in order to connect with FM 868. From there they planned to travel to the site of the accident at the intersection of County Road 60 and County Road

But, as they approached the inter-section of Garfield Street and Golf Course Road, the vehicle skidded when the brakes were applied and went into a broadslide on the rainslickened streets.

The ambulance left the roadway, crashed through a hedge, toppled a brick wall on the other side of the hedge and struck a parked car sitting in a driveway. That vehicle reportedly was only slightly damaged.

The ambulance, however, suffered heavy damage in the mishap, according to emergency service officials.

Haberman and Chaney were treated for minor injuries at Midland Memorial and released.

Tighter security ordered as Cuban refugees riot

FORT CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — President Carter today ordered security tightened at the Fort Chaffee relocation center where state troopers opened fire as more than 1,000 angry Cuban refugees pelted police with rocks and stormed the front gate.

Three Cubans were shot Sunday evening as the troopers drove them back onto the base. More than a dozen people were injured, hundreds of civilians were evacuated and several buildings were set afire before police and soldiers quelled the rioters with tear gas and clubs about 8:30

White House press secretary Jody Powell said today Carter sympathizes with the refugees' problems, "but it does not extend to condoning that sort of thing.'

The White House dispatched a deputy assistant to the president, Eugene Eidenberg, to the scene along with Tom Casey of the Federal Emergency Management Administration.

Powell said Carter has "taken steps to increase security," but did not elaborate.

"Obviously, we are watching the situation carefully," Powell said, adding it was hoped that authorities could increase the rate at which the refugees are processed. He said Fort Chaffee has a higher rate of single males with no family than other refugee centers, and so did not believe the trouble would spread to the other cen Gov. Bill Clinton said the riot could have been provoked by agents of Cuban president Fidel Castro. At a news conference this morning, he said 35 to 40 "agitators" had been identified and were being held in the base stockade. He said the security force at Chaffee would be increased

Some Cubans have complained that it is taking federal workers too long to process their entry into U.S. society. The Sunday night violence came in the sixth day of tension at the 72,000-acre Army Reserve base, now serving as a relocation center for more than 18,000 of the Cubans who have fled by boat to the United States. And it was the second violent confrontation of the day.

One refugee was in critical condition at Saint Edward Medical Center in nearby Fort Smith and two others were in serious, but stable condition, all with gunshot wounds. Another refugee was in critical condition with stab wounds. About 15 troopers had minor injuries.

Clinton, who planned to call in 200 to 800 more National Guardsmen, said he believed there were agitators among the refugees, some of whom could be Castro agents. "They want Fidel Castro to be able to laugh at us," he said. "We don't want to give them that satisfaction. Eidenberg said this morning that refugees identified as agitators would be sent to a federal detention center.

"Those few who, for whatever reason, cannot play by the rules will be separated and detained," he said. The violence began at about 6 p.m. Some 1,000 refugees marched toward the main gate of the camp, then 200 to 300 vaulted a four-foot high stone fence near the gate and ran toward Barling, a community of 3,000 people less than a

Confronted by troopers with nightsticks, the Cubans retreated to a rise and began throwing rocks at officers crouched behind police cars.

The police opened fire, and the refugees retreated over the camp's wall. Inside, federal police and soldiers used tear gas and clubs to subdue the refugees.

Two mess halls and two storage buildings were damaged by fires set by bands of refugees roaming the base, said Maj. Brian McWilliams, an Army spokesman.

Some Cubans also battled other refugees who wore white armbands to show support for officers. Some refugees fled into a wooded area on the base to escape the fighting, McWilliams said.

Refugees dismantled cots and used the wood and aluminum frames as clubs.

Bill McAda of the Federal Emergency Management Agency said 200 to 250 federal employees and other civilians were evacuated. Six area residents also were arrested at a roadblock near the relocation center when they refused to disperse. Hundreds of local residents had gathered there, angry over inadequate security and upset because the roadblock kept them from reaching their homes. The locals have been alarmed by the incidents at Fort

"Everybody knows we're getting Cuba's trash," Barling resident Wayne Elliott said a few days ago from his front porch, where he carried a 12-gauge shotgun. Another resident, Billy Cole, said local ammunition shops have been selling out since the Cubans arrived.

State Police Capt. DeLoin Causey appealed to th night to clear the roads. "Give us a chance to control it. If we can't I will welcome your help. I can't guarantee you that we can keep 20,000 of them under control, but we're sure going to try."

Earlier Sunday, at about noon, 50 to 100 refugees broke out of camp and came within 100 yards of Barling before Army troops and state police wielding nightsticks turned them back. Three military policemen were injured in the rock- and bottle-throwing during that attempted escape. One suffered a broken foot, and other two suffered minor injuries.

Frustrated by delays in processing, the refugees shouted "Libertad" as they marched to the camp's front gate. Some 300 poured onto Arkansas 22 past a dozen military police in riot gear.

After attempts by three state troopers and several Spanish-speaking soldiers to ytop them, a trooper began pushing refugees with his nightstick. But an Army major jumped between him the mob, shouting, "Don't hit them! Don't hit them!"

Officers cut the Cubans off with a series of roadblocks, but some broke through police lines.
Other refugee-related developments over the weekend

- A final surge in the six-week "Freedom Flotilla" seemed to be building today as officials received reports of up to 60 ships streaming from Cuba toward Key West. The Coast Guard said one ship reportedly carried up to 3,000 refugees. The new report came after a quiet weekend with few refugee arrivals. -The Peruvian Foreign Ministry reported Cuba had agreed to let 442 Cubans refugees in the Peruvian Embassy in Havana come to Lima. More than half, 268, were due Sunday and the rest in a few days. The Cubans sought refuge at the embassy on April 4, after President Fidel Castro's government lifted po-lice protection and announced anyone who went there was free to leave the country

West Bank mayors maimed, others wounded in explosions

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Two West Bank mayors who champion the Palestinian cause were maimed today when their booby-trapped cars blew up, seven other Arabs were wounded in a hand grenade attack on a crowded main square of Hebron, and an Israel explosives expert suffered serious face and chest wounds trying to dismantle a bomb in another West Bank city, officials said.

Bassam Shakaa, mayor of Nablus. had both legs amputated, his lawyer, Felicia Langer said. Kerim Khalaf, mayor of Ramallah, had part of his left foot amputated, a a spokesman at the Ramallah hospital said. The two were rushed to hospitals after their cars exploded when they tried to start Khalaf's blue Cadillac was left a twisted mass of metal and wire, the driver's seat blown away, and "he was screaming inside the car for someone to help him, to take him to a hospital," a cousin said.

A bomb also was found in a garage owned by Ibrahim Tawil, the mayor of Ramallah's twin city, El Bireh, and a police demolition expert was seriously wounded when the bomb exploded while he was examining it.

Israeli troops immediately imposed tight security on this town five miles north of Jerusalem, anticipating trou-ble from Palestinians on the already riot-torn West Bank of the Jordan saying the attacks were "unfortunate," ordered a complete investigation, Israel Radio reported. But West Bank Palestinians immediately assumed that Israeli extremists were responsible. "This was timed and organized to hit our leaders," a spokesman said at Ramallah hospital where Khalaf was under intensive care.

Yasser Arafat's PLO said in Beirut, Lebanon, the car bombings were "part of the systematic campaign of terror Israel's occupation authorities have been conducting against Palestinian nationalists."

Jewish extremists have been threatening attacks against Palestinian Arabs. One extremist, Americanborn Rabbi Meir Kahane, was taken into preventive custody two weeks

Kahane's aide, Yossi Dayan, said he "sympathized completely" with today's bombings. However, he did not claim responsibility for the attacks; which he said could have been carried out either by "good Jews" or by Palestinian provocateurs. Even though Kahane is in prison, Dayan said, "It seems the underground goes on operating without him. The West Bank, seized by Israel in the 1967 war, has been seething for weeks over Israel's intransigence in the Palestinian autonomy talks with Egypt. Exactly 30 days ago Palestinian ambushers killed six Israeli settlers in Hebron.

4-year-old Midland boy dies, four injured in one-car mishap near Iraan

IRAAN - A 4-year old Midland boy died and four other Midlanders were injured Saturday night in a onecar rollover two miles west of Iraan, according to Department of Public Safety officials.

Jimmy Gebhart, of 1604 S. McKenzie St. in Midland, died in Odessa's Medical Center hospital from injuries received when the vehicle, driven by Orville N. Shahan, ran off the road, hit an embankment and flipped 300 feet, landing in an upright position, DPS officers said.

The accident occurred at 7 p.m. Saturday.

All of the victims were found inside the car, according to DPS reports. Shahan, 50, whose address also was listed as 1604 S. McKenzie St., remains in satisfactory condition in Iraan General Hospital, according to

Two occupants of the vehicle, Henry Gebhart, 8, and Randy Shahan, 4, remain in stable condition in the intensive care unit of Odessa's Medical Center Hospital, a hospital spokesman said.

Police to again question only witness to Jordan shooting

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Police investigators trying to find out who ambushed Urban League President Vernon Jordan — and why — say they will interview again the woman who was the only eyewitness to the sniper attack.

The woman, Martha C. Coleman, a 36-year-old divorcee, "wants to cooperate completely with us," Kenneth Van Ryan, city police chief of detectives, said Sunday. She and her lawyer will meet with local authorities on Tuesday, police said. It was not clear if the FBI would also interview the woman, who talked briefly to authorities after the Thursday morning shooting and then went

President Carter, visiting Jordan at Parkview Memorial Hospital Sunday, said the shooting could prompt renewed efforts to improve conditions for the country's minorities. "This is obviously a time for us to recommit ourselves to the protection of poor and minority groups," Carter told reporters outside the hospital's intensive care unit. "It certainly is a reminder that we need to redouble our efforts."

Carter talked with local police and FBI officials during his 50-minute visit to Fort Wayne, but said he didn't have "any information I want to di-

Sugar price boosts grocery bills

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Consumers with a sweet tooth are out of luck. An Associated Press marketbasket survey shows sugar prices went up sharply last month, helping boost family grocery bills by half a percent.

The AP drew up a random list of food and non-food items and checked the prices at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each month since then. Among the highlights of the latest

-The marketbasket went up during May at the checklist store in eight of the cities surveyed and decreased in four. It was unchanged in one city -Detroit. On an overall basis, the average marketbasket bill was half a percent higher at the start of June than it was a month earlier. That compares with a 1 percent increase during

-Comparing prices today with those at the start of the year, the AP found that the average marketbasket bill went up 3.1 percent. In the same five months of 1979, the survey showed the bill up 4.3 percent.

-Sugar was to blame for May's price rises. The price of a five-pound sack of sugar went up at the checklist store in 12 cities and was unchanged in the 13th - Boston. The average increase in the price of sugar at the checklist stores last month was 16 percent; the average rise since the first of the year was 52 percent.

The price of sugar in the AP survey - over $2 for a five-pound sack in most cities checked - is higher than it has been in about five years. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that in the first quarter of 1980, the wholsale price of a pound of U.S. sugar was about 241/2 cents and the average retail price was just under 28 cents - the highest since the third quarter of 1975.

The price boosts are due to a drop in supply. According to the USDA, world sugar production declined by 2.4 percent in the 1978 crop year. Production during the 1979 crop year - which began last Sept. 1 - is expected to drop by an additional 5.5 percent. When sugar was removed from the marketbasket total, the AP found that grocery bills at the checklist store declined - by 1.2 percent - instead of rising last month. -Non-food items, which accounted for much of the April price rise found by the AP in its marketbasket survey. remained stable during May. The * non-foods account for 23 percent of the total number of items checked by the AP, but they accounted for only 18 percent of last month's price boosts. -Shoppers looking for bargains in the area of protein found savings on eggs and pork chops. The price of a dozen eggs dropped at the checklist store in eight cities last month, while pork chops declined in six cities.

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases in May than in April. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

Pope attacks dissidents

PARIS (AP) - Pope John Paul II unleashed a sharp attack on Catholic dissidents, then prepared to end his four-day visit to France today by traveling to the Normandy town of Lisieux to say Mass and visit the famed Carmelite nunnery there. From Lisieux he travels to nearby Deauville where he leaves for Rome. The first highlight of the pope's day Sunday was an open-air Mass for half a million people at Le Bourget Airport just north of Paris. Intermittent bursts of rain failed to mar the spirits of the faithful as they listened to the pope denounce "totalitarianism and imperialism," and gently chastise the French for drifting away from the Church.

He then met with French bishops and launched his attack on Catholic dissidents, both the conservative and the reform-minded, for their "extreme and erroneous viewpoints." Both the liberals seeking relaxation of the church ban on divorce and contraception, and the traditionalists who refuse to accept Vatican reforms, threaten to drive the silent majority away from Catholicism, the pope warned.

It was believed to have been the most direct attack so far by John Paul on the movement of Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre, which refuses to accept such Vatican reforms as abolition of Mass in Latin. The pope suspended Lefebvre from his priestly duties, but the archbishop continues to speak out against the Vatican, claiming its reforms are turning Catholicism into Protestantism.

Sunday night, John Paul pursued his global crusade to revitalize the Church through youth, addressing 50,-000 young people in a Paris sports stadium and charmed them with jokes and chitchat in his excellent

A new cathedral, completed in 1954, is located next to the convent and dominates the Valley of the Auge from a hill overlooking this Normandy town of 26,000 imabitants 100 miles west of Paris. Deaths ruled murder-suicide

ANDREWS - An Andrews woman died here Saturday of a gunshot wound to the head and her estranged husband, after reporting the shooting to a neighbor, turned the gun on himself

Police reported Jesus Escarcega, 29, of Andrews, broke into the northeast Andrews home of his wife, Virginia Escarcega, 33, in the early morning hours Saturday and shot her. She was pronounced dead at 2: 29 a.m. of a single bullet wound to the head.

When police arrived at the scene, said Police Chief Frank Russell, they found the Escarcega woman's body lying on the couch. Escarcega was semi-conscious kneeling at his estranged wife's head. He was taken to Permian General Hospital where he died at 4: 25 a.m. of a bullet wound to the head. Justice of the Peace Jay Williams ruled the deaths homicide-suicide, Police were called to the scene after Escarcega told a neighbor he had shot his wife and the neighbor notified the police. Russell said Escarcega apparently had returned to his wife's home and shot himself in the head. Police said the couple's 4-year-old daughter was found unharmed and asleep in a bedroom at the home. Escarcega's vehicle was found in the alley behind the victim's home. A back window had been broken out of the woman's home, police said.

Russell said there were sighs of a struggle in the home and the woman apparently had tried to telephone someone.

Governor's Mansion needs $2 million

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Rita Clements says she has collected four $100,000 donations from wealthy Texans who want to help furnish the mansion the state provides for its first family.

However, she said support from all Texans is needed to help raise $2 million to furnish the Governor's Mansion, which is now undergoing extensive renovations.

"We won't have any idea of just how much money we raised for a week or so, but I really feel like we're off to a good beginning," she said

Mrs. Clements, working with Friends of the Governor's Mansion, attended recent fund-raisers in Dallas, Houston and Austin. The guest lists included some of the state's wealthiest citizens. She would not name the four $100,000 donors, but said they will be identified within the next few months.

Friends of the Governor's Mansion is a non-profit private corporation, and contributors do not have to be named. "We want to see 10 individuals or corporations contribute $100,000 aimed at all Texans. "In the last several months as I've gone around the state speaking to a number of groups. I found them offering $25 and $100 donations. This is where we can have all Texans participate, and we'll need all the help we can get to reach the $2 million goal," she said. The $2 million will pay for antique furnishings for the mansion, which is situated in the shadow of the Capitol, just across the street to the south. All furniture will be from the mid-19th century, when the mansion was Structural renovations are also under way at the mansion, and Mrs. Clements said builders are ahead of schedule. The 1979 Legislature approved $1 million for the renovation project.

"We feel the people of Texas will be very pleased with the restoration and renovation ... keeping in mind we want to be of absolute museum quality and historic interest," she said. While the mansion will house museum pieces, it will remain a residence

Aides say the Massachusetts senator won't even discuss the possibility of defeat in private.

And over the weekend, while Carter was making conciliatory gestures to Kennedy aimed at unifying the Democrats, his rival was having none of it.

When asked Sunday about supporting Carter in November as the Democratic candidate, Kennedy replied:

"I'm planning to be the nominee. If you start thinking about coming in second place, you never come in first

The fact is Kennedy is distinctly in second place.

Even if he won all 696 delegates being awarded in the eight primaries Tuesday, he still would be behind the president in the number of delegates to the Democratic national convention. And with the Democrats' proportional awarding of delegates, it's impossible for Kennedy to win them

Although Carter is not as assured of winning the Democratic nomination as Ronald Reagan is of winning the Republican nod - Reagan's last major opponent has quit the race the president seems virtually unbeat-

Ohio, where 161 delegates are at stake, is likely to push Carter over the top. The president made his only acknowleged political trip of the campaign to the state last week, and his campaign has spent $400,000 there, well over four times its budget for either New Jersey or California.

Kennedy concedes it would be tough for him to win Ohio, which was the state that gave Carter the nomination in 1976, but he says he expects victory in California, which is awarding 308 delegates, and in New Jersey, which

That would bolster Kennedy's argument that Carter does not deserve the nomination because he cannot carry the populous, industrial states that traditionally have elected Democratic presidents. He has said, though, he will not quit the race even if he loses the biggest prize, California.

He is campaigning in two California cities, San Jose and Los Angeles, today, while Carter is remaining at the White House.

The president visited wounded civil rights leader Vernon Jordan Jr. in Fort Wayne, Ind., Sunday and defended his administration's economic policies and role in Iran in television interviews. He also said of his opponent: "My feeling toward Senator Kennedy is one of respect ... and I believe we can heal the differences and go forth to a victory."

For Reagan, of course, the nine Republican primaries Tuesday are a cakewalk. Even before George Bush dropped out of the GOP campaign a week ago, Reagan had the nomination virtually in hand. He picked up 20 more delegates over the weekend in party meetings in Missouri, Minnesota and Virginia, giving him 1,068,

Muskie the salvage man

It didn't take long for Secretary of State Edmund Muskie to find out just how big his new job is. So far, frankly, we've been impressed with the former senator from Maine.

Just last week Muskie kicked up some dust in Paris when he criticized French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing for meeting with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev.

French Foreign Minister Jean Francois-Poncet retorted that his country "doesn't need anyone's authorization to talk to whoever it wants to, whenever it wants to."

That's true. But the point Mr. Muskie apparently was attempting to make is that the so-called allies of the United States are expected to be allies, supportive friends.

What the transaction revealed is the real damage done to the United States by the past three and a half years of almost non-existent foreign policy.

It would be easy to blame the creation of the bag of worms solely on former Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, but that just isn't the case. Mr. Vance had his shortcomings, not the least of which was his conciliation-at-any-cost approach to foreign affairs.

That scrupulously polite and dangerously meek style of diplo macy earned Vance the respect of his European allies and the Soviets personally, but foreign officials knew he was ineffectual because the policy he represented was ineffectual.

It's at that point that we have to shift at least a portion of the blame for the deterioration of this nation's foreign policy to President Jimmy Carter. It almost goes without saying that the reason we are not respected by our allies or our adversaries is because this nation's foremost leaders have been floundering in that sea of conciliation.

Carter appears to be changingsomewhat now in his approach to foreign affairs. He's taken a tougher approach with the Soviets, a refreshing change after three and a half years of naivete. Still, it's Edmund Muskie who undisputedly will represent the voice of the United States to other leaders throughout the world. That voice must be clear, forceful, unwavering.

From his first indications we believe Muskie is on the right track. The United States does not have to be inhospitable for the sake of being contrary but neither can we afford for our allies and adversaries to interpret our mild manner as a lack of resolve, an unwillingness to respond to a

Burned out intellectuals offer society decadence

Years ago the brilliant Italian director, Frederico Fellini, created a motion picture in which he painted a portrait of our present decadence by presenting a nightmarish version of ancient Rome.

The movie revolted me, but weeks later its accuracy finally penetrated my thick skull. I was in the lobby of a medical clinic in Whiting, Ind., waiting for my son to get a tetanus shot, and the television set was on.

First, there was a semi-conscious young man in a scraggly beard doing simple strums on a guitar and muttering simple, repetitive lyrics. Then an old fat woman, heavily made up and trying to act 30 instead of 60, tittered and giggled as she asked inane questions of an amiable lump of an actor whose conversation made that of a New York cab driver seem intellectual by comparison. All three were really big stars.

How had Fellini depicted decadence? He had defined it as banality, boredom, vulgarity, grossness, selfindulgence, perversion, and mindless violence. Can you think of a better description of our culture today?

Celebrities make public confessions of their sexual perversions with the self-righteous air of a Christian martyr. New York City, once the intellectual capital of the world, now offers naked girls dancing in cages for lonely old men, porno shops which cater to the rich, and the juvenile vulgarity of "Saturday Night Live."

In Los Angeles, our second cultural center, the motion picture industry

In middle America, the magazines at the corner grocery store are so explicit that pornographers have been forced to go to bizarre extremes in order to compete. Only recently, a fashionable bookstore had a large display of expensive books on cocaine, hallucinogenics, hashish, marijuana and home-made bombs and

The tragedy is that the majority of the American people are not decadent. American youth is crying for moral leadership and we are giving them birth control pills and student discounts at the abortion clinics.

There is an explanation. The communications industry is concentrated among a relatively few corporations in two cities, New York and Los Angeles. The intellectuals, with some exceptions, in that industry are burned out; yet, because of the near monopolistic control, it is their decadent view of life which is presented to Americans in films, books, television shows and magazines.

As I said, there are exceptions. The young genius, George Lucas, who produced "Star Wars" is one of them. Have you ever wondered why this movie was the single most successful motion picture in history? Do you know why it drew millions and millions of American youngsters into the theaters? It was not the special ef-thwart them. Ayn Rand once wrote a brilliant description of the methods used to kill the human spirit in order to enslave the human body. The formula is this: (1) make people feel guilty; (2) kill aspiration; (3) kill their sense of values; (4) kill their capacity to recognize greatness by enshrining mediocrity; (5) kill their capacity for reverence by teaching them to laugh at everything; and (6) kill their joy in

WASHINGTON-MERRY-GO-ROUND

Was '80 census merely a costly bungle?

WASHINGTON - Has one of the oldest functions of the U.S. government the national census every 10 years been a costly bungle its 20th time around? Investigators for a congressional committee fear it may have been just that.

In a draft report not yet released to the public, the staff of the House subcommittee on the census regretfully concludes that "doubts about census accuracy have never before been as great." At a time when electronic computers and widespread publicity have replaced the more primitive methods of earlier head counts, this is a shocking possibility.

The 1980 census is "in grave danger of producing poor results at a high cost," the staff report warns bluntly. And because census figures determine not only how more than $60 billion in federal aid will be distributed, but how the states' representation in Congress will be allotted, the indirect cost of "poor results" would be far-reaching indeed.

In essence, the House report faults the Census Bureau for not growing in competence with the size and importance of its job. While the bureau's procedures haven't deteriorated, they apparently haven't improved, either. As the House report puts it, the Census Bureau has "not been fully responsive to the increased need for the speedy and accurate collection of census information." Part of the problem was unforeseeable - a fire at the Census Bureau last August that destroyed 40 percent of its computer capability. The damaged computers have been replaced, but this means the bureau 'must enter the 1980 census period with equipment which has never been tested in a census," the report explains, adding: "Program adjustments might be required. If this were to occur, it might impair the bureau's computing capacity at the very time when it will be most needed."

Undercounting is a longstanding problem the bureau has not yet licked, the report notes. "In spite of the bureau's best efforts ... there is a great danger that the undercount may prove to be a worse problem than it was in 1970," the report states. Ten years ago, the undercount averaged about 2.5 percent.

The undercount in some cities will be higher this year, preliminary evaluations suggest, and "there will be substantial disparity between the coverage of whites, blacks and Hispanics," the report states.

A Census Bureau spokesman told my associate Tony Capaccio it's far too early to estimate the accuracy of the 1980 census, and cautioned against putting too much reliance on reports of failures in test counts.

MEMO TO THE PRESIDENT: In past columns, I have called for a Manhattan Project approach to developing new fuels as a substitute for oil. Now I have learned that such a plan has been submitted to the federal government. It was drafted by John Z. DeLorean, one of the big brains of the automobile industry.

"If the government is really serious about ending its dependency on foreign oil," he urged, "it must develop alternative fuels for use in cars, trucks and farm vehicles. Those fuels must be usable in current engines. The government's involvement must provide the framework for continued development by the automotive industry; in short, the decisions must be practical, commercial and com-

"This modern Manhattan Project must: (1) Be conceived and conceptualized as a national priority; (2) Be established under congressional charter to permit independence and flexibility; (3) Be financed with $250 million from windfall profits or other sources; (4) Have the salary structure and tax incentives to recruit 100 key persons from management and engineering, each of whom is essential to the success of his own compa-

DeLorean set these goals for a crash program: "(1) Select alternative fuels for vehicle use; (2) Make these fuels adaptable to contempo rary engines; (3) Design and prototype the next generation of vehicles which could utilize the engines ... (4) Provide the automotive industry with tested working principles and vehicles which can be manufactured competitively."

POWDER TRACKS: Two major explosives manufacturers — DuPont and Atlas Powder - asked the Federal Bureau of Mines for permission to put telltale "taggants" in their products so terrorist bombs could be traced to their sources. But when the industry as a whole began lobbying against inclusion of the tiny identifying particles, DuPont and Atlas quietly withdrew their requests. The industry now claims the taggants aren't safe, but a confidential Bureau of Mines report concluded more than 18 months ago that they are both safe and effective. The real reason for the industry's opposition, according to insiders, is that the taggants cost money and would cut into corporate WATCH ON WASTE: Housing allowances for families of our service personnel overseas cost more than $200 million last year - about a 70 percent increase over 1978, and a 500 percent jump in just nine years. But government inspectors have found that the Defense Department's way of calculating these costs may be wasting money. The allowances are comptuted on the basis of housing costs here in the United States which, in some cases, have risen substantially faster than those abroad.

INSIDE REPORT:

Taxpayers fear counter-revolution by governing class

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES - The tax counterrevolution is on the brink of a triumph here that will be portrayed nationally as proof that the public does not want its taxes cut after all, but it in fact will prove the tenacious grasp of the governing class on the money flow. All polls and nearly all politicians gree that sentiment has been rising teadily against Proposition 9, which would cut in half state income tax rates; its defeat in the June 3 election is widely expected. How is this possi-ble in California, home of the tax revolution, just when ordinary Americans need every last dollar in heir wallets?

The answer is that the governing class — politicians, administrators, educators, public employees unions — have made their point to the taxpayer: If you cut our tax sources, we will cut your vital services. Whether or not taxpayers consider such cuts necessary in the face of rising govern-ment revenue, they consider them highly probable.

The tax counter-revolution's fear campaign might be countered by insistently repeated arguments that California's tax system is a money machine continuing to generate reveque even as rates are cut. But strangely, there is almost no media campaign for Proposition 9. The most visible effort is increasingly eccentric and ineffective campaigning by 77-year-old tax-cut crusader Howard

Defeat of Proposition 9 Tuesday

Novak will be interpreted nationally as a dying tax revolt, not only by the governing class but by conventional Republicans uneasy about Ronald Rea-gan's embrace of Kemp-Roth federal tax reduction. Although Reagan personally will vote for Proposition 9, senior aides suggest he should back away from tax reduction. "I think this issue is losing its steam," one key

Reagan adviser told us. None of this seemed possible scarcely two months ago. Proposition 13, cutting property taxes, had passed overwhelmingly in 1978 under Jarvis' leadership; Proposition 9 was running well ahead in the polls.

What's more, evidence pointed to confirmation of economist Arthur Laffer's theory that tax rate reduction does not seriously deplete revenues but maintains them through higher business activity. Despite depletion because of the Proposition 13 property tax cuts, the state government surplus is now conservatively estimated at $2.5 billion. Indeed, the California money machine no later than 1982 will boost property tax receipts above their pre-Proposition 13

Nevertheless, the California tax cuts pose a threat to the governing class by diminishing the share of the economy dedicated to government. The result has been the counterattack nationally by public employees unions, who have poured $1 billion in contributions to fight Proposition 9.

The resulting television campaign has avoided Chicken Little scare tactics that backfired in the 1978 fight. The major argument has been that since the income tax rates are cut evenly across the board, the rich will benefit disproportionately. But polls indicate this reversion to class warfare has had little effect.

What has been effective were privately circulated threats by educa-tors at all levels. David S. Saxon, president of the University of California, wrote a letter to students threatening that passage of Proposition 9 would result in higher student fees and severely reduce programs. Simultaneously, schoolchildren throughout the state brought home similar notes warning of diminished educational quality if their parents voted to cut taxes. According to public opinion analysis, the average Californian has reached this conclusion: There are plenty of wasteful government projects that could be cut, but venge-ful administrators instead will slash away at schools, police and fire pro-

In contrast, big business is uninterested in personal tax reduction. "Our friends in the lobby aren't for this and neither am I," one conservative state senator confided. The result: an empty warchest. Proponents of Proposition 9 are nearly mute, with only $100,000 spent on television compared with nearly $700,000 by its foes. A pro-tax cut commercial by Mayor Pete Wilson of San Diego is seldom seen, and one cut by Professor Laffer never got on the air. The campaign consists mainly of occasionally profane, often intemperate harangues by

That is not enough to counter popular fear of the governing class striking back. Future tax-cutting efforts will require a campaign far more vigorous than the passive effort here - and perhaps something more: attempts to sell the public on Laffer's theory that cuts in tax rates will not drastically reduce revenue, thereby rendering indefensible the threats of the governing class.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON Sunburned eyes painful, serious

Dear Dr. Solomon: I enjoy outdoor activities during the summer months, but find that my eyes are almost constantly bloodshot. Last summer I had a particularly painful episode after a day at the beach, when my eyes were swollen shut. Is there anything that can be done to prevent this or treat it if it occurs again? - Do-

Dear Dolores: Sunburned eyes are a hazard of prolonged exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays. The best way to avoid this painful condition is to limit the time you spend out in the hot sun - especially at the seashore, where water and sand reflect and intensify the effect of the sun's rays.

A similar problem is common among skiers, and Dr. Lawrence Winograd, a Denver ophthalmologist, has treated many cases of sunburned eyes. Another condition that may result from long exposure to the sun is temporary night blindness, amd Dr. Winograd suggests that people driv-ing home after a day at the beach should therefore take special care.

The best protection for the eyes is a pair of shatterproof sunglasses large enough to cover the sensitive skin around the eyes. Gray, green or brown lenses are best; others may interfere with color perception.

Swimming in a chlorinated pool or in salt water also tends to irritate the eyes, although the condition generally is not serious. The irritation usually clears up in a short time; cool compresses or eyedrops can help. The same treatment is suggested for eyes that have been exposed too long to wind, but any kind of medication should be used only according to di-

Dr. Winograd warns that first aid for the eye should be limited to the use of eyedrops or rinsing with cool water. If an injury is serious, the eye should be covered with a sterile pad and the patient taken to the nearest physician or hospital emergency room for treatment.

Dear Dr. Solomon: My father lives in another city. Although I do not see him as often as I would like, we speak. by phone every week. Recently he told me he has learned from his doctor that he has kidney disease. I would like to know what this means and the consequences. — Mr. L.A.

Dear Mr. L.A.: It is not possible to define "kidney disease" with any pre-cision. There are many diseases that involve the kidneys, but they differ from each other according to the cause of the problem and the part of the kidney affected.

In general, however, should a person's kidneys stop working, the amount of water, salt and other substances excreted in the urine will not match the amount taken in. As a result, the volume of water in the body increases and edema (swelling of the tissues) results. In the absence of treatment, the composition of the body fluids continues to change until death occurs.

The treatment and prognosis depend on the type of disease and the part of the kidneys affected.

THE NEWSPAPER BIBLE

Oh, what a joy it is!

Yes, what joy there is for anyone whose sins are no longer counted against him by the Lord."

Now then, the question: Is this blessing given only to those who have faith in Christ but also keep the Jewish laws, or is the blessing also given to those who do not keep the Jewish rules, but only trust in Christ? Well, what about Abraham? We say that he received these blessings through his faith. Was it by faith alone? Or because he also kept the Jewish rules?

For the answer to that question, answer this one: When did God give this blessing to Abraham? It was before he became a Jew-before he went through the Jewish initiation ceremony of circumcision.

It wasn't until later on, after God had promised to bless him because of his faith, that he was circumcised. The circumcision ceremony was a sign that Abraham already had faith and that God had already accepted him and declared him just and good in His sight-before the ceremony took place. So Abraham is the spiritual father of those who believe and are saved without obeying Jewish laws. We see, then, that those who do not keep these rules are justified by God through faith.

And Abraham is also the spiritual father of those Jews who have been circumcised. They can see from his example that it is not this ceremony that saves them, for Abraham found favor with God by faith alone, before he was circumcised.

It is clear, then, that God's promise to give the whole earth to Abraham and his descendants was not because Abraham obeyed God's laws but because he trusted God to keep His

So if you still claim that God's blessings go to those who are "good enough," then you are saying that God's promises to those who have faith are meaningless, and faith is foolish.

But the fact of the matter is this: when we try to gain God's blessing and salvation by keeping His laws we always end up under His anger, for we always fail to keep them. The only way we can keep from breaking laws is not to have any to SEATTLE (AP) - The phone has been ringing off the hook with officials wondering if Seattle is a safe place for the June 8 meeting of the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

The callers don't apparently know Seattle is one of the few places in the Northwest that escaped fallout from the eruption of Mount St. Helens. Even Portland, Ore., 175 miles to the south, got dusted.

"Most people east of the Mississippi think Seattle and Portland are twin cities," said John Gunther, executive director of the conference. "Some of the mayors said they wanted to come and take pictures from Seattle of the volcano. I told them to look at a map."

"We're not saying this is the smallest baby ever born, just the smallest one to survive normally," said Don Brackenbury, a hospital spokesman.

Russell, who now weighs eight pounds, was in an incubator four Tejani said the baby's only medical problem now was a cold, but that during his months in intensive care Russell survived a serious fungal infection and an inability to breathe on his own or take in and digest food normally.

Ms. Williams said her happiest moment came when Russell "made a fist, yanked the respirator off (his face) and breathed on his own."

Tejani said the boy's development seems normal at this stage but he will continue to be monitored closely for a

Patient kept alive with artificial heart

TOKYO (AP) - A team of Japanese doctors disclosed today that they had kept a woman alive for two days with a fist-sized artificial heart after she suffered irreparable damage to her own heart.

Doctors at the Mitsui Memorial Hospital in Tokyo said the patient, a housewife in her 50's, died of kidney failure last Sunday after a U-shaped plastic pump attached to her side kept her bodily organs supplied with blood

Doctor Shoichi Furuta said the artificial heart was implanted May 23rd with permission of the patient's family after the woman, who had undergone heart surgery two days earlier, failed to respond to conventional "balloon pumping" to raise her blood

The artificial heart was attached between the left auricle and the aorta to fulfill the functions of the left cham-

Harvard report shows gas consumption cut needed

By WILLIAM GLASGALL

NEW YORK (AP) - U.S. gasoline consumption should be cut by 20 to 25 percent to help reduce the "extreme vulnerability" of the United States to political and economic pressures by oil producers and others, says a Harvard University report.

'The Iranian hostage crisis shows how hamstrung American foreign policy and American influence in the world have become with the transfer of so much political power into the hands of oil producers," said the report, released Sunday.

"One or more significant supply interruptions in the next few years are highly probable," it said, adding the United States is "woefully unprepared" despite the shocks of the 1973 Arab oil embargo and the seven-week cutoff of Iranian oil prduction in the winter of 1978-1979.

The report, "The Dependence Dilemma: Gasoline Consumption and America's Security," was based on a symposium held at Harvard last March and was written by Daniel Yergin, director of the international energy seminar at the university's Center for International Affairs in Cambridge, Mass.

According to Yergin, "our foreign policy has become hostage, not only to various producers' rational foreign policy goals, but also to the whims, ambitions and paranoid fantasies of other groups."

Savings resulting from a 20 to 25 percent cut in U.S. gasoline use would have the same effect as adding ... a new Kuwait - or a new Iran - to the world oil market," Yergin

That could "change the balance in the world oil market, help to cap prices and be a major step toward bringing inflation under control," he Such a cut also "would increase our margin of safety when the next 'accident' interrupts part of the flow of oil" and "would provide more flexibility for U.S. foreign policy, both in 'normal' times and in a crisis," he said. The United States imports about half its oil. Gasoline accounts for one-third of the oil consumed in the United States, and "one out of every nine barrels of oil used in the world every day is burned as gasoline on American highways," the report

U.S. gasoline use has fallen about 8 nearly doubled following a series of world oil price hikes. "There are good reasons to think that the problems gasoline shortages created in the 1970s were but previews of the coming attractions of the 1980s — not in every year, but at various times," he said.

U.S. motorists used 6.5 million 42gallon barrels of gasoline a day in April, down from 7.1 million barrels a day in April 1979 and 7.4 million barrels a day in all of 1978, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

The Harvard report suggested, however, that U.S. gasoline use could be slashed to 5 million or 5.5 million barrels a day if auto fuel mileage and driving habits continue to improve, and if new taxes are levied to spur conservation.

Energy savings of 20 to 25 percent already have been accomplished in other sectors of the economy "with relatively minor efforts and relatively small penalties," Yergin said.

Many of the Harvard symposium's participants recommended cutting gasoline use by setting an auto economy goal of up to 40 miles per gallon after 1985, up from the 27.5 mpg average mandated by federal law for that

Africa refineries attacked by blacks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Black nationalist guerrillas attacked three South African synthetic fuel refineries, wounding one guard and causing explosions in at least eight fuel tanks with damages estimated at more than $7 million, authorities said today.

Refinery officials said production was unaffected by the explosions late Sunday night. Fuel tanks remained ablaze early today, they said.

No group claimed responsibility but black nationalist guerrillas were blamed for the attack. Police, civil defense and security forces cordoed off and were searching facility areas.

"It is clear that we are faced with a sophisticated attack," said William de Klerk, minister of mineral and energy affairs. He told reporters the explosions showed that South Africa was the object of an organized assault aimed at causing damage and disrupting stability and order.

J.A. Stegman, the managing director of Sasol, South Africa's coal, oil and gas corporation, said "terrorists" were responsible for the explosions at Sasol One, a coal-to-oil synthetic fuel refinery in Sasolburg, 45 miles south of Johannesburg. He said at least five storage tanks were blown up at the facility, which produces 10-15 percent of South Afri-

Explosions also occured at the Natref refinery, a conventional complex 2 miles away from Sasol One. security guard was wounded in the shoulder at Natref when he confronted unidentified men who fired at him. At least three tanks - including two holding volatile aviation fuel — blew up.

A third plant six times the size of Sasol One, located some 120 miles from here in Secunda, is still under construction but partilly operating. There, one explosion rocked a processing plant at the coal-to-oil refinery. Sasol spokesmen said no fires b and damage was slight.

Last Jan. 25, three blacks guerrillas seized 17 white persons at a bank in the capital of Pretoria and percent in the past year as gas prices threatened to kill them if a black nationalist leader was not released from prison. Preakness foul hearing begins in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) - A public hearing on the controversial decision of the stewards at Pimlico Race Course who disallowed a foul claim by Preakness runnerup Genuine Risk was to get underway today before the Thoroughbred Board of the Maryland Racing Commission.

The hearing was to begin at 10 a.m. at Pimlico Race Course, to hear testimony on the appeal filed by Diana and Bert Firestone, owners of the filly.

At issue is a decision by Pimlico's three stewards who rejected the foul claim against Codex and his jockey, Angel Cordero, lodged by Jacinto Vasquez, Genuine Risk's jockey in the May 17 Preakness Stakes.

In his foul claim, Vasquez contended Cordero purposely steered Codex toward the outside and then bumped the filly as the field neared the top of the stretch during the race. The jockey also claimed Cordero hit Genuine Risk across the face several times with his crop. That claim was also rejected by the stewards.

Robert W. Banning, chairman of the five-member board, said on May 20 that until all appeals in the case are concluded, the Preakness purse would not be distributed.

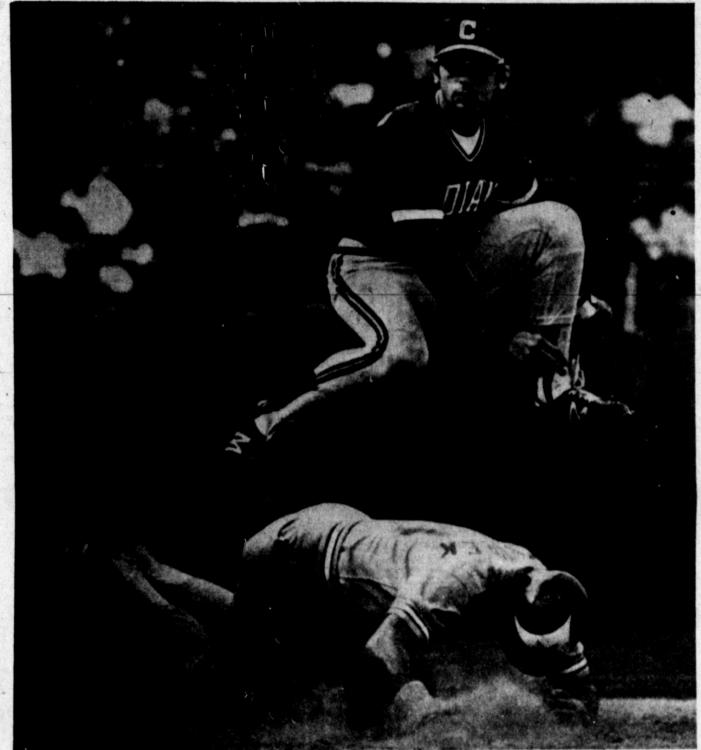

The winner of the second leg of the Triple Crown race is to get $180,000 and $40,000 goes to the runnerup.

At the time of the race, J. Fred Colwill, chief of the stewards at Pimlico, said the stewards were convinced they made the correct decision in disallowing Vasquez's claim.

"But if we had the opportunity to do things over," Colwill said then, "we would post the inquiry sign immediately after the finish."

Colwill said he had suggested to the other stewards, Edward R. Litzenberger and Clinton Pitts Jr., that they look at films of the race, but Vasquez claimed foul just as they were about to light the inquiry sign. Genuine Risk, this year's Kentucky Derby winner, was the first filly to win that race in 65 years.

Clever Bug claims Kansas

RUIDOSO DOWNS (AP) - Lightly regarded Clever Bug ran the best race of his brief career, scoring a wire-to-wire victory Sunday in the $504,500 Kansas Futurity, the first of the three major stakes races for 2year-old quarterhorses at Ruidoso

Ridden by 21-year-old Nicky Wilson, Clever Bug broke on top next to the rail in the 350-yard sprint and scored a length victory over previously unbeaten Baby Hold On.

The victory was the fourth in five starts for Clever Bug and earned owners Vaughn and Mary Watkins of Madison, Miss., the winner's share of $166,333. The gelding speedster now has earned almost $200,000 in his first season on the track.

Clever Bug broke from the gate cleanly, then hugged the rail in covering the 350 yards in 18.34 seconds. The winner returned backers $16.40, $6

Putnam powers pair as Rangers rip Oakland

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Texas manager Pat Corrales has suffered with second-year first baseman Pat Putnam through some miserable moments this season, but he shared some joy Sunday night. "Great tonight, wasn't he?" Corrales said of Putnam, who hit a solo homer, a three-run homer and a single and walked in his four trips to the

His second home run gave Texas a 7-0 lead in the third, and the Rangers cruised to a 7-3 victory over the Oakland A's. It snapped a four-game los-ing streak for Texas and a threegame winning string for Oakland.

"He's had some tough luck," Corrales said of Putnam, who was mired in an 0-for-21 slump before breaking loose in this series.

His three hits Sunday gave him 6-for-11 in the three-game series against the A's.

"I had been benching him, but last week on the road, I had him take extra batting practice, and he started hitting the ball up in the seats. That's when I started using him. He didn't have any confidence for awhile, and the more I played him, the worse he got," Corrales said.

"I've been struggling for so long. I had only five RBIs for the year going into this game, so I've got a lot to make up," Putnam said.

DANNY DARWIN, 4-1, was less than dazzling, but got the win, scattering 12 hits over eight innings before Sparky Lyle came in to pitch the

Matt Keough, 6-5, got the loss. Al Oliver blasted a line drive off the right field foul pole for a 1-0 Texas lead the first inning, and Putnam followed with a one-run shot into the right field seats in the second inning. Problems in fielding sacrifice bunts ruined Keough in the third, when the Rangers sent eight men to the plate and scored five runs, the last three on another Putnam homer into the right field bleachers.

After Bud Harrelson led off with a single, Mickey Rivers sacrificed, but reached safely when Keough dropped the ball.

Bump Wills then dropped down another bunt, and it was recorded as a base-loading single when Keough grabbed it only to find catcher Jeff Newman, first baseman Wayne Gross and third baseman Mickey Klutts all surrounding him, and nobody at first

After that, the ceiling fell in on Keough. Oliver hit an RBI single, Buddy Bell hit a ground out that scored another run, and Putnam hit his third homer of the year and second of the game for three more runs.

A's manager Billy Martin said the first baseman is supposed to be on the bag on a bunt like Wills', but he put no blame on Gross, since he usually plays at third base and wasn't familiar with what to do.

"If the ball wasn't bunted in my direction, I'm supposed to get back. I messed it up. It was a new play to me, but I should have asked somebody," Gross said.

Every little break helps

Although they finally had to face the inevitable, the Midland Cubs got a break during the last homestand when they didn't have to face Arkansas pitching ace Joe Edelen, who missed his turn because of an injured

"You've broken all of your fingers," a shocked sympathizer said looking at the bent and twisted digital extremities.

"It's not as bad as it looks," Edelen said. "I'm double-jointed, but it doesn't help my pitching any."
Although the Cubs have fared better on the current road trip, they were thankful for any little favors during the 1-9 homestand, the most disasterous since the Cubs' maiden season

Edelen may have fingered one of the young Cubs' problems. "Most everybody on this team has been here two years and some even three.'

The Cubs, on the other hand, came into the Texas League season with a roster composed almost entirely of Class A graduates and many, like Scott Fletcher, Tom Grant, Mel Hall, and Dave Owen, were out of the New York-Pennsylvania league, Class A, but in reality an advanced rookie

Hawaii's Kiddie Korps stays unbeaten

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Hawaii, a team of youngsters on their school's first trip to the College World Series, shut off St. John's with excellent defense and good relief work to become the first undefeated club to advance to the third round of the 1980 National Collegiate Athletic Assocaition baseball championship.

The Rainbows turned three double plays Sunday to stifle Redmen rallies and Coach Les Murakami pronounced the 7-2 victory "the best birthday present ever."

In other games, Michigan edged California 9-8 in a wild 11-inning firstround game. Then Cal, led by Lyle Brackenridege's four-for-five hitting, eliminated Clemson 6-4 and stayed alive in the double-elimination tour-

"It was a real shame both teams couldn't win," said Michigan Coach Bud Middaugh, who used up most of his pitching staff to win the game. 'You can't think about tomorrow in the College World Series," Middaugh said. "You can only think about

Michigan catcher Gerry Hool, who threw out three runners, won the game for the Wolverines with a three-run double with two out in the 11th. Jim Paciorek sent the Wolverines ahead 4-3 in the seventh with a tworun homer. But Cal regained the lead, 5-4, in the bottom of the eighth on back-to-back RBI singles by Rob Jessen and Brackenridge.

George Foussianes singled in the tying run in the ninth and Cal was unable to convert a bases-loaded, one-out situation in its half of the

The Anadarko, Okla., native went on, "I played here in 1975. I was a third baseman then. I remember the series well since I hit five home runs. One of them came off Bruce Sutter. One of those things he throws didn't sink and hung up high."

Edelen has been a pitcher for three years and it came about as a result of Bob Kennedy, the Chicago Cubs executive vice-president who once was the Cardinals farm system boss.

"He called me in and asked me what I felt my assests were. I told him my hitting and my arm," Edelen said. "I told him I thought I could hit, but he suggested I give my arm a

Kennedy has a unique knack for analysis. It was Bob who changed Dave Kingman from a flailing .200 hitting home run belter to a fencebuster with a respectable average and impressive RBI totals by correcting a flaw in his stride.

Although Edelen is still laboring in the Texas League, he has been listed on the St. Louis roster two years and hopes his pitching takes him to the top in the not too distant future. He can't. wait too much longer. He has been a pro since signing out of high school for seven years.

Meanwhile, the Midland Cubs continue to shuffle personnel and will come home Friday with a different look than when they left. In fact, a good many of the players even pack razors when they travel.
In addition to infielder Mike Wilson, the Cubs have added first baseman Gary Krug, a .300 hitter for Midland in the parts of two seasons he has spent in Midland. Gary has been playing AAA ball in Mexico.

There's no hope of making up lost ground in the first half race, but improved pitching on this road trip, plus the new additions, might make the Cubs a factor in the second half

ATLANTA (AP) -Sore-armed Atlanta pitcher Preston Hanna has denied a published report quoting him as saying the Braves forced him to take medication he did not want.

"I never said that the Braves gave me drugs to play on," The Atlanta Constitution quoted Hanna as saying Sunday while the Braves were in

Hanna was quoted in The Atlanta Journal on Friday as saying coaches convinced him to take cortisone, codeine, phenylbutazone and Percodan a lot of faces the Milwaukee Brewers.

If you get by Paul Molitor, the American League's top hitter with a .364 average, there are still Robin Yount and Cecil Cooper, who are tied for fourth in the league at .343. And if you gt by them, you must still face Ben Oglivie, hitting .320 and leading the AL in home runs with 12, and Gorman Thomas, last year's home run champion.

You can also understand why the Boston Red Sox are glad to see the Brewers leave town. With Molitor, Yount, Cooper, etc., doing their

The Red Sox had a 5-0 lead, sparked by home runs by Carlton Fisk and Butch Hobson, when Milwaukee broke loose in the seventh inning.

Boston starter Steve Renko blanked Milwaukee on two hits for five innings. But the veteran right-hander was forced to retire because of a blister on the middle finger of his right hand.

Yankees 11, Blue Jays 7-Eric Soderholm cracked five hits, Bobby Brown slammed a three-run homer and Graig Nettles added a two-run shot as New York stopped Toronto to sweep their three-game series. "I can't remember a 5-for-5 day," Soderholm said, "but I think I could hit .350 against just left-handers."

Soderholm was in the lineup against Toronto's left-handed starter Paul Mirabella, 4-4, and scored the first Yankee run after singling to start the two-run fourth. Brown's three-run homer and Nettles' two-run shot were included in the 13-hit assault on three Blue Jay pitchers to make Tom Underwood,

Five sacrifice flies by both teams also tied a major league record set by the Red Sox and Washington Senators in 1965.

White Sox 6, Royals 1-Britt Burns and Ed Farmer combined to pitch a seven-hitter while Mike Squires and Lamar Johnson provided batting support to lead Chicago past Kansas City. The 20-year-old Burns, 7,3, gave up five hits before leaving the game in the eighth after developing a cramp in his right hip. Squires doubled in the third and eventually scored on an infield single. He also singled in the eighth and scored on a single by Johnson, who also scored twice

It is clear from an examination of the list of nations set to attend the Moscow Olympics that the division of sports and politics, no matter how desirable it might seem, is little more than a pipe dream in today's world.

At last count by the International Olympic Committee, 85 nations had formally accepted the invitation to participate in the Summer Games at Moscow and 29 had followed the lead of the United States and rejected. There were 27 other nations that the IOC hadn't heard from and most - if not all - of them probably won't be there.

Understand first that the decision on whether to attend rests, in all cases, not with governments, but with individual Olympic committees or sports federations. Governments can recommend a course of action but it is the committees who must decide on

And, of course, in many countries amateur athletes are, in effect, government employees. Or, at least, their training and expenses are paid for by the So an Olympic committee that is underwritten, subsidized and for all practical reasons run by its government is rather likely to follow the advice of that government, wouldn't you think? Looking at the list, you get the picture. Olympic committees made their own minds up, but very rarely did their decision stray from the will of their governments, especially in the cases where the country's teams were government-subsidized. The maverick Olympic committees, who operate on their own and did not need to take the lead from their governments, were free to follow their own consciences and in large measure did exactly that.

When Pierre de Coubertin, the French nobleman, officiated over the rebirth of the Games just before the turn of the century, his hope was to create a nonpolitical celebration of sport. But as soon as you have national teams marching in uniform with flags flying and anthems playing, there is a tendency to ignore the good intentions of de Coubertin and compete for your country. That de Coubertin's ideal had failed was obvious as early as 1908 in London when Martin Sheridan, an American discus thrower, bristled at the idea of dipping the country's flag in tribute to King Edward VII at the opening ceremonies parade. "This flag dips for no earthly king," Sheridan said. And every U.S. Olympic flag bearer since then has followed that credo.

Ask former Olympians who were medal winners what they remember best about the experience and almost all of them will mention the surge of national pride when the flag went up and the anthem was played. That's human nature.

Imagine the Olympic committee of Cuba telling Fidel Castro that, no, thank you, it would not be attending the Moscow Games.

The U.S. Olympic Committee is not immune from financial pressure, either. Its enthusiasm for boycotting Moscow picked up momentum when the Carter administration suggested that if USOC agreed to stay home, Congress might be obliged to support a $10 million funding program to replace lost revenues resulting from the decision.

Perhaps the final irony in all of this boycott business comes from the alphabetical list of nations declaring that they would indeed attend the Games in the Soviet Union.

The first country on the list is Afghanistan.

SAN FRANCISCO ready to hit. Pitchers re-(AP) - Is arrogance necessary if one is to become a successful baseball player?

San Francisco Giants' left-hander Bob Knepper thinks so, and who's to argue after his six-hit, 6-2 victory over the Houston Astros Sunday.

Knepper, 4-6, said his change of attitude occured after the Astros had taken a 2-0 lead in the third. The "new" Knepper allowed only one hit the rest of the way, retiring 20 of the final 21 batters.

"I had trouble at the start because I needed to be more aggressive,' said Knepper. "I decided to become arrogant. I relaxed and I started to pop 'My problem is that I

Veteran knukckleballer Joe Niekro, 5-4, had an opinion contrary to Knepper's after absorbing the loss. "Candlestick is my least favorite park to

Berra's slam paces Bucs

Dale Berra might not be exactly a chip off the old block — but he does get good wood on the ball from time to time. Sunday was one of those times.

The son of Hall of Famer Yogi Berra knocked in five runs, four with a grand slam homer, to help the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets 13-3.

"It's the biggest home run so far for me, and 'I always get a little more excited when we play against the Mets be-cause my dad managed and coached them for so many years."

The younger Berra played shortstop for the Pirates Sunday only because Tim Foli is on the disabled list. He made good use of his time, also collecting an RBI single and a double for his day's work. Before this command performance, Berra had collected only four RBI for the season. "And he used our television to do that," said Mets Manager Joe Torre with a smile. "Yogi was probably in the clubhouse (in New York)

Family Trial

Cousin Andrew (guest star Bruce Davison) goes on trial for murder and Lou Grant (Ed Asner, pictured) and the Trib staff feel the strain of covering the story because of Donovan's close relationship to the defendant, in the conclusion of a twopart episode of "Lou Grant," to be rebroadcast Monday, June 2, on CBS. Even as Andrew continues his erratic behavior in jail, Donovan argues that the legal system is better equipped to punish crime than prevent it. Peter Levin directed from a script by series producer Seth Freeman

What action do you take? A .- East's bid has relieved you of the obligation to bid over the double. But would that be a wise course of action? Despite the fact that you have only seven points in high cards, the auction indicates that they are all working. If you pass, the auction may end in two diamonds when you could make a partscore, even game, in hearts. Advise partner that you are not broke by bidding two hearts.

What action do you take? A .- We are not among those who believe in lying in wait with this sort of hand. If you delay taking action, you might not have a convenient bid on the next round. You can convey to partner that you have some scattered values, but not enough for a redouble, by bidding one no trump now. That will enable partner to decide whether to bid, defend or double should the opponents compete further.

What action do you take? A.-Despite the fact that you have only three-card support for partner's suit, this is an excellent hand for a simple raise to two spades-an ace, a king-jack and a singleton. Partner has asked you to judge your diamond holding for game purposes, and a singleton is an ideal holding. We would bid four spades without the slightest doubt that partner will make the contract.

The Spokane Indians had to move an entire homestand to Ogden, Utah.

The problems are even more complicated because of the split season format of the PCL and the league's scheduling of longer series this year in attempts to cut traveling between cities to save on expenses.

"We've just had to let the chips fly where they will," said PCL president Bill Cutler. "It could happen to any club. No one could have known that Mount St. Helens was going to erupt like it did...

"But the travel expenses were up 30 percent from the year before and we decided it was in the best interests of everyone to cut down on travel."

Tose suit trial begins today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - A civil trial was scheduled to begin today in a $12 million antitrust suit in which the owner of the Philadelphia Eagles accuses First Pennsylvania and four other banks trying to force him into bankruptcy.

Eagles Owner Leonard Tose charged in a 1978 complaint that First Pennsylvania Bank and its former chairman, John R. Bunting, bank vice chairman John C. Pemberton and Herb Barness, Tose's former minority partner, conspired to gain control of the National Football League team.

Tose contended that loans made by the bank were called to force him into bankruptcy and thus give Barness majority ownership.

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Mount St. Helens Eagles back to Tose for $3.1 million. Under the sale and an unusual amount of rainouts this season have agreement, his name was dropped from the antitrust
