Plane missing

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) - An aboard apparently ditched in the Tyrrhenian Sea, port sources on the island of Ustica reported early Saturday.

They said the missing craft was a DC-9 operated by Italy's domestic airline, Itavia.

A passenger ferry, the Clodia, reported spotting two emergency lights possibly attached to life vests in an area between the islands of Ustica and Ponza, but an Itavia spokesman said they could not have been from the building in Houston. Firefighters said they had no reports of injuries from the three-alarm blaze that started about 6 p.m Friday in the highrise structure on Houston's west

"I don't know of anyone injured right now," Fire Chief E Rogers said "None of the firemen were injured, but some of the people looked a little sick after breathing the smoke."

Firefighters said they did not know how many persons were still in the building when the fire broke out.

The fire was extinguished at about 6:30 p.m. Pirefighters said they could give no dollar estimate on the damage, but they described it as extensive in the two offices.

Homes evacuated

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) -Residents of about 350 homes in a housing development here were evacuated Friday night after natural gas leaked into their water system.

Charles Franklin, a spokesman for Baltimore Gas & Electric Co., said the cause of the leak in the Pleasantville development was not known, and some residents reported gas was coming from their water fau-

Franklin said electricity was shut off in the area.

Franklin said that a power outage in the area which affected some 2,300 homes earlier in the evening was apparently unrelated to the leak. The company initially thought the two incidents were connected.

The gas company warned de-velopment residents not to turn on water, gas or electricity. It also told residents in the area to refrain from lighting candles and to open windows and doors.

Firelines jumped

EAGLE, Colo. (AP) - The largest forest fire on record in Colorado did an about face Friday, jumping firelines on the south end of the blaze and burning another 1,000 acres in the White River National Forest northwest of here.

"The fire jumped the line on the south end and burned an additional 1,000 acres, and we're back up to 8,000 acres," said Bob Miller, a national forest spokesman. Earlier, officials estimated the fire had burned 8,000 acres, but revised that figure downward to 7,000.

"It was caused by a shift of winds that pushed the fire south. Everybody (about 60-70 firefighters) got out all right but we lost the line. The bulk of the crews are in that area now reestablishing the line," Miller

The fire had been burning to the northeast since it broke out Wednesday about 22 miles orthwest of Eagle. It was be-ieved starter by campers. Venting prepared

Muskie promises Thailand arms

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) - Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie promised Friday that American transport planes will begin ferrying emergency arms shipments into Thailand next week to help counter the Vietnamese offensive on the Thai-Cambodian border, Thailand's foreign minister reported.

Thai, Red Cross probe capture of Americans

ARANYAPRATHET, Thailand (AP) - Thai and International Red Cross officials Friday investigated the reported capture of two American photographers and two Red Cross officials by Vietnamese troops along the Thai-Cambodian border. Vietnamese soldiers and Free Khmer anti-communist guerrillas clashed near Nong Chan refugee camp, 20 miles north of this border town, and several mortar rounds landed in the virtually deserted Thai camp, Thai military authorities said. There was no word on casualties, and the border region was relatively quiet after four days of gunfire exchange. The Thai military command in Bangkok said Vietnamese forces were "basically" out of Thai territory. Vietnamese troops crossed from Cambodia into Thailand earlier this week, apparently to punish Thailand for allowing guerrillas opposed to the Phnom Penh government to operate along the border.

Little relief seen for searing heat

By The Associated Press

A searing heat wave bearing down on Texas has claimed at least nine lives and forecasters offered little hope for relief as temperatures soared into the 100s again Friday.

The mercury rose to 113 Friday at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport, matching the reading that set a new record high for the cities Relative humidity was mercifully low - a mere 22 percent in Dallas, a dry 17 in Abilene, where temperatures reached 107, and an even dryer 15 percent in 116-degree Wichita Falls. Authorites said the blistering temperatures contributed to the deaths of seven persons in Dallas this week. The heat also caused one death in Fort Worth and another in Austin. Medical examiners in Austin said 73-year-old Willie Mae Dunn died of heatstroke Friday. Dallas police said it was 110 degrees inside the closed home of David Michaelson, 72, and his sister, Sadie, 86, when the bodies were discovered at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. The air conditioning was broken and neighbors told police a repairman had come to the house earlier in the day, but left when no one answered the door. Alejandro Parra, 50, collapsed on the job as a landscape worker and died later at his home. Gertrude Forrester, in her 60s, was found dead in her un-airconditioned east Dallas home by a neighbor. Nearby residents said she last was seen alive Tuesday afternoon when she asked a neighbor for a soft drink and complained of being dizzy. Arthur Wygandt, 59, collapsed while unloading a truck and died before he reached a Dallas hospital. Helen Isley, 49, died at Parkland Memorial Hospital on Friday, where she had been taken Thursday suffering heat stroke symp-

The other dead were identified as Clyde Millican, 78, of Dallas and Odell Lang of Fort Worth. Ten other persons, including the Michaelson's 67-year-old brother, were admitted to Dallas hospitals with heatstroke sympt Although one National Weather Service forecaster said temperatures could drop below the 100-degree level next week, even meteo gists disagree on what this hot spell could mean for the rest of the Forecaster Al Moller pointed to the summer of 1978, when Dallas-Fort Worth registered 100 for 18 days in a row.

"... Everybody was thinking August was going to be that hot, but August was cooler than normal," he said. But NWS meteorologist Dick Elder said the June heat wave means an even hotter July and August.

"It's never been this warm this early in the summer," he said. "the type of weather pattern we've been seeing lately is usually the type that we see only in August."

Midland's mercury reaches upward, ties record 106 degree temperature

Midland tried hard, but just couldn't do it Friday.

The hottest the Permian Basin city could get was a "measly" 106 degrees. It wasn't even hot enough to set a new record - just tie it. Compared to the sizzling temperatures else-where in Texas, Midland was cool. Friday's 106 degrees equalled the high set on this date in 1945. Mid-landers could take some comfort they are not competing for the state's record high of 120 degrees set Aug. 12, 1936, in Seymour. However, Wichita Falls, Seymour's neighbor to the north, set an all-time record high Friday of 116 de-grees with a low temperature of 80

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport apparently is playing the same record daily on forecasts. For Saturday and Sunday, it's the same of thing hot and dry.

High today and Sunday should be 165 degrees. But the mercury should cool down to near 70 degrees tonight.

Southwesterly winds should blow across the Permian Basin at 10-30 mph today, reducing to 5-10 mph to-known to American POWs as the Cita-del or the Plantation. The mortician said he doubted that the POWs were aware of any bodies ored there during their captivity, ace most of the remains were sent there in later years. He said he knew of no other bodies elsewhere.

Lt. Gen. Eugene F. Tighe, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, told the hearing that other sources and information corroborated the information supplied by the mortician. but that so far the Vietnamese have refused to acknowledge that any additional unidentified American servicemen - dead or alive - are in

The subcommittee hearing was conducted by Rep. Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., who headed a group of con-gressmen who visited Hanoi last January and confronted the Vietnamese with the report of American remains being held at the one-time POW complex. Although the group passed with-in 200 yards of the building, the Vietnamese refused to let them visit it. Wolff said.

The Pentagon says about 2,500 Americans still are unaccounted for as a result of the fighting in Southeast Asia and many of those have been declared presumed dead, though their bodies have not been found. In addition to the POWs released in the early 1970s, the bodies of 72 Americans have been returned to the United States and another 40 bodies have been identified but not yet returned.

Showers from Michigan and eastern Indiana to western New York and the Virginias are forecast for today by the National Weather Service. (AP Laserphoto Map)

Youth freed; Probation not revoked

A 17-year-old Midland youth was freed from Midland County Jail Friday afternoon after the state district attorney's office failed to get his 10-year probated sentence for rape revoked in a hearing that afternoon before 238th State District Court Judge Vann Culp.

The accused, Benny Montgomery, had pleaded guilty March 14 to the rape of a junior high school girl on Midland's east side. He was placed on probation for 10 years in a pleabargaining agreement, and was re-

But he was re-arrested five days later - on March 19 - on grounds that he had attempted to rape the same girl.

The state, through Assistant District Attorney David Joers, was seeking to use that alleged incident to get the defendant's probation revoked and the man sent to the penitentiary for 10 years.

But Montgomery's defense attorney, Harris Kerr, claimed his client had no criminal intent when he visited the girl on the preceding day,

March 18. "It think it is clear the man went in there to apologize (for raping her in the first place)," Kerr maintained.

Joers disagreed. "I think it was evident the young lady hollered," countered the prosecutor.

Kerr noted that Montgomery had been in jail for 100 days. But he was charged again and jailed within an hour after being released.

Joers contented that Montgomery should have been sentenced to prison following his conviction.

"He never should have gotten probation in the first place," the prosecu-Egypt's foreign minister, Gen. Kamal Hassan Aly, told told the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram the Israeli plan "completely contradicts the Egyptian position" and contradicts the clauses of the Camp David accord."

Aly's remarks appear to reflect Egypt's restrained but growing impatience with what it sees as Israeli provocations before the Washington talks.

McKINNEY, Texas (AP) - Candice Montgomery, a 30-yearold mother of two jailed for questioning in the gruesome ax murder of a fellow member of her church choir, was released

Mrs. Montgomery was jailed Thursday night after surrendering to Collin County sheriff's deputies eight hours after a warrant was issued for her arrest.

She was released Friday afternoon after Bob Hendricks' law firm posted $100,000 bond, said Collin County Sheriff's Lt. Joe Stewart. Hendricks, a McKinney attorney, also is the state representative from Collin County. Justice of the Peace Glen Swaner set bond at $100,000 after he issued the warrant Thursday afternoon. A bond reduction hearing was scheduled for Friday morning, but Mrs. Montgomery's attorneys canceled at the last minute, said State District

Betty Gore, who sang in the First Methodist Church of Lucas choir with Mrs. Montgomery, was killed by an ax-wielding assailant in her Wylie home June 13. The attacker hacked the 30-year-old mother repeatedly then apparently washed off her blood in the family shower.

Neighbors discovered the mutilated body in the blood-spattered utility room. The Gores' 1-year-old daughter Bethany was found crying but unharmed in her crib.

The Gore's 5-year-old daughter was staying with Mrs. Montgomery in her Fairview home the day of the slaying. "That she would be guilty of what they say she is, is incomprehensible," said the Rev. Ron Adams, pastor at the Lucas church. "She's not capable of committing murder. She's a very creative, very talented, very highly intelligent person. Dallas County medical examiners said Mrs. Gore's skull was

The amateurs will be using their own mobile power supply to run the transceiver and will rig up their own antennas about two hours before the excercise

One antenna will be affixed atop the 65-foot wooden Interstate 20 in far central south Midland

Once the Midland amateurs key in, they will join thousands of hams in a contest to see who can contact the most stations State-side and overseas, said Fort. The Midland amateurs intend to reach from 8,000 to 10,000 other "hams" manning "Field Day gives us a chance to test ourselves under semi-emergency conditions," said Roger C. Rose, chairman of the exercise here, "but it mixes fun and a contest in with it."

The preparedness aspect of Field Day means that Midland has a fall-back communications system in case of power and telephone failure. Rose said During the yearly rash of thunderstorm and tornado warnings, amateurs in radio-equipped cars report sightings through a net operation to the U.S. National Weather Service

The Field Day project at the base station is open to visitors - hams or not.

Rose said that there is no accurate count of the number of radio amateurs in Midland, but said that he estimates the totals at 150. More than 80 of that derrick in front of the musuem, which borders number are members of the Midland Radio Amateur

Peggy's palazzo brings visitors to Grand Canal

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN AP Special Correspondent

VENICE, Italy (AP) - There are the Picassos, of course, and the Klee, the Chagall, the Dalis and other modern masterpirices, but it is the front and back gardens that evoke the greatest reaction from visitors to Peggy Guggenheim's famed palazzo on the Grand Canal

The back garden brings a gasp, a sigh and sometimes tears.

flurry of flash bulbs. After St. Mark's Square and the Rialto bridge, it may well be the most photographed sight in Venice, although unsuitable for any but

French postcards. In a quiet corner of the back garden is her grave she died last Dec. 23 at age 81 — and the inscription: 'Here rests Peggy Guggenheim.'

Close by appear to be more graves and the inscription: "Here lie my beloved babies," followed by their names and dates: Cappucino (1949-53) Pegeen (1951-53)

Peacock (1952-53) Toro (1954-57) Foglia (1956-58) Madame Butterfly (1954-58)

Gypsy (1961-75) Hong Kong (1964-78) Cellida (1964-79)

Tourists are numbed, stunned, some even weep openly, at the thought of her beloved babies all dying so young, most in their infancy, until the thought occurs or someone (usually one of the guards) whispers that these were her dogs, her beloved Lhasa Terriers and Shi-Tzus. Who would name a baby Madame Butterly or Hong Kong? - not even Peggy Guggenheim, who was known for her unconventional behavior, as the front garden attests.

The front garden, right on the Grand Canal, features the famous bareback (and front) horseman called "The Angel of the Citadel," a bronze by Italian sculptor Marino Marini.

Collector Guggenheim tells about it in her delightful autobiography, "Out of This Century." She wentt to Milan to borrow a Marini work for an exhibition in her garden but "ended up buying the only thing available," the horseman.

The statue's nudity and anatomical details caused some embarrassment, and it was prudently neutralized on occasions when the cardinal-patriarch of Venice and other dignitaries passed along the canal in front of her villa - and she had to receive "stuffy Tourists passing Venier dei Leoni, her 18th century palazzo of white stone, still climb on the seats and lifejacket batches of the vaporettes - the canal ferries — to get a look at the horseman.

Now, with no one living there, the palazzo is open six afternoons a week to visitors, instead of three when Peggy Guggenheim was in residence, throwing her marvelous parties, playing house mother to young artists and writers like Alberto Giacometti and Truman Capote, hiding from the tourists in her bedroom with the unique bedstead Alexander Calder made for her.

"If you would only throw all these awful pictures into the Grand Canal, you would have the most beautiful house in Venice," Princess Pignatelli, the notable jetsetter, once told her. Modern art has come a long way since then but few of the thousands passing weekly in admiration among the Henry Moores, the Miros, the Jacques Lipchitz and the lackson Pollocks know much about the remarkable woman behind this collection.

As a child, Peggy Guggenheim accompanied her father to Europe every year until he drowned returning home on the Titanic. Educated in Eruope, she became a friend of James Joyce, Ezra Pound and Isadora Duncan during the '20s, when she adapted her highly individual lifestyle. In 1938, with the help of her artist friend Marcel Duchamp, she pened a gallery n London. "Without knowing it," she confesses to having started up her collection by buying up the works of artists who did not sell just to console them. At the outbreak of World War II, she set out for Paris to borrow enough modern art to start a museum, but ended up buying everything in sight: "I put myself on a regime to buy one work of art a day.'

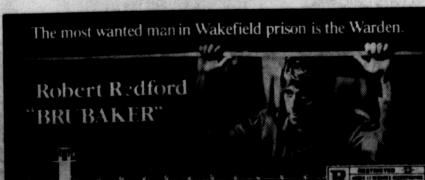

With the German invasion imminent, the Louvre changed its mind about storing her collection of cubists, impressionists, surrealists and other moderns: "They decided it was not worth saving." The canvases were first stored in a barn near Vichy, then spent weeks on a railroad flatcar awaiting safe passage to Grenoble: "I went and covered them with tarpaulins." Her dilemma worsened: "I could not remain in France under German occupation," she wrote in a catalogue later, "or I, being Jewish, should have found myself in a concentration camp, but I would not leave without my pictures." A friend shipped them to America "as household goods, adding some casseroles and blankets and an old car which was stored for lack of petrol in a garage."

After the war, when she settled in Venice, the Italian government tried to levy a 15 percent import tax on her by now priceless collection, most of which had cost her $40,000. Peggy brought them in over an Alpine pass at 4 o'clock in the morning through a customs post manned by "some very ignorant and sleepy douaniers (excise collectors), whose demands were very modest."

Successful author enjoys teaching aspiring writers

By PHIL THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) - Most writing, thinks author John Gardner, is "a lot like carpentry. There are so many gimmicks you can use - if you know the ways.

With some 30 books to his credit the latest is "Freddy's Book" Gardner knows the ways, and he is more than willing to pass along the tricks of the writing trade.

Thé 46-year-old Gardner says one of the reasons he teaches creative writing at the State University of New York at Binghamton - even though it's "tough to write and teach at the same time"— is that:

"You can help aspiring writers so much by showing them how to do it. It's so easy to change people's lives in writing by showing them how to do things - such as getting a character through a door - that you can save them 10 years.

"That's why you teach - to help." A soft-spoken, amiable man, Gardner points out that he used to teach medieval and classical literature but eventually decided "there were hundreds of people who could teach these things well but only a few who could teach creative writing well, so I decided to do what I had to do.'

He says he teaches writing "about two long days a week" and devotes the rest of the time to his own writing, stopping "only when I have to do something or my guilt gets me to Gardner says he began writing when he was about 8. "My mother was an English teacher, my father was a reciter of poems, so at some point it seemed natural for me to write a poem.

"I showed the poem to my mother and she was delighted. I'd never received such praise before, so I wrote another poem, then a short story and I've just kept on writing."

Over the years: Gardner has writ-books, poetry, plays, novels, diatribes" and has been so productive that he isn't quite sure how many books he has to his credit although he thinks it's about 30. Of all the forms he has worked in, Gardner's favorite is the novel.

ten "scholarly books, children's

"It's so big," he enthuses. "It's the universe. You can pour all of your life experiences into it, although after you finish one you have to live a while to gather more experience. It takes a long time to write a novel."

He says that when he writes his aim is to produce "a fine novel. But there are different kinds of fine novels. There are those that are fine for the moment but are not lasting and there are those that stay fine for all

Asked what type he writes, Gardner says with a smile that "no writer can say if his work will last. Sure, I'm trying to write for literary history, all serious writers are, whether they admit it or not. But I feel that if what I have to say is important for our time then it ought to be important enough for human beings for ever.

"If you write several books and a few of them are great ones then the lighter ones will ride into history with them. If you don't, of course, then you'll just be a footnote.

"The truth is that this cannot be your first concern. That concern is to write very well-made, beautiful works of art from your own standard and if this standard is right the books will survive."

Gardner says his standard is "to create a vivid and emotional dream in the reader's mind so that he feels a fine, uninterrupted experience. A book which fulfills and rewards."

Gardner is currently working on and has been off and on since 1974 -"a long book I may never finish called 'Shadows.' It uses the technique of the mystery story and it's a hard book to

Locks as hobby grow into career

MENOMONIE, Wis. get locked inside. (AP) - Call him John name, but it fits like an often-used key.

Lock, who is really 32year-old John Stary, has parlayed his lifetime fascination with locks into a career as the official campus locksmith at the University of Wisconsin-

"I eat, drink and sleep locks," he says, wearing a shirt with "John Lock" embroidered on the chest.

Besides the 60,000 locks and the 1,500 keys he hands out to staff members, Lock has a collection at home of 800 padlocks, 200 regular locks and thousands of keys. "When the weekend comes around, I'm at an auction or a flea market wheeling and dealing for locks," he says.

Lock, who picked his first lock with a flattened nail in high school, says he has never met a lock he couldn't pick, though it took up to two years to pick some of his antique Lock, a Stout dropout, says he had a big box of locks that he picked every night, presumably instead of doing his homework. "It's something you have to keep doing or you lose your touch," he explains.

Much of his job involves repairing broken locks.

"Most of the time if a lock breaks, everybody thinks it's an emergency so if a lock is acting up, it's something you have to do right away," he

Consequently, his hours are irregular. "I've been down here at 2, 3, 4 o'clock in the morning, opening dorm rooms for people," he says. This can lead to some touchy moments, he says - for example, when a man has sneaked a woman into his room, or vice versa, and they

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A special House committee Friday recommended that state agencies be required to set up grievance procedures and systems for evaluating their employees before they can grant merit pay raises.

"Merit pay has been discarded by the Legislature and abused by the agencies. We had to tie it to some measurement," said Chairwoman Mary Jane Bode of the House Select Committee on State Employee Productivity. "The Department of Human Resources and the comptroller have good programs. We know it can be done," Ms. Bode

Once again the committee supported a state employee proposal for salary increases of nearly 29 percent over a 32-month period, with better workers also getting merit random committee survey felt there was a "good chance" they would be promoted if they performed "especially well."

Nearly half — 48 percent — "believe people in their organization are becoming fearful of losing their jobs." The committee recommended an emergency pay raise of at least 5.1 percent, effective Feb. 1, as well as annual pay hikes of 13.6 percent and 10.2 percent proposed by the Texas Public Employees Association.

The annual pay increases would cost taxpayers $264.2

The increases are part of a TPEA package totaling up to $443.2 million, which also includes cost-of-living adjustments for retired employees, state payment of employees' entire Social Security tax, and merit pay increases - all supported

Tax board sets Midland meeting

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The State Property Tax Board will hold a public meeting from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. July 23 in Midland to assist local officials in complying with Texas' "truth in taxation" laws. The meeting is one of 12 regional meetings being held in July across the state.

The meetings also will devote time to aiding school districts in making application for state reimbursement of revenue lost due to implementation of the Tax Relief Amendment.

Pitchers Kenny De La Garza (8) of Western Mallard Exploration and Anthony Dickens of Eastern First Savings & Loan Cubs hooked-up in quite a duel Friday night during American Little League city championship tournament at Henderson Field. Eastern prevailed in the contest, 5-4, forcing a championship game today between the same two teams. De La Garza fanned eight batters but was still tagged with the loss while Dickens, who whiffed seven, didn't even figure in the decision. (Staff Photo)

Eastern's First Savings rallies for 5-4 victory to force another game

The Eastern First Savings & Loan Cubs used the stellar pitching of Anthony Dickens and Rodney Sims and some timely hitting for a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over Western Mallard Exploration Friday night at Henderson Field during championship round play in the American Little League city tournament.

Eastern tangles with Western today (10 a.m.) at Henderson for the title of the double-elimination event. Earlier in the tourney, Western had defeated Eastern, 4-0.

But Friday, it was sweet revenge for the Cubs as they prevailed in a tense, exciting and well-played contest. The Cubs broke loose for three runs in the last inning to overtake Western, which had tallied four in its half of the sixth for a 4-2 lead.

Pitching, however, was the highlight. Sims, who came on for Dickens with one out and a heap of trouble in the sixth, was the winner, yet you can't discount the performance of Dickens. The strapping youngster whose size and delivery remind one of a junior J.R. Richard whiffed seven batters and walked none, allowing five hits.

Not to be outdone was Western hurler Kenny De La Garza, a gritty little righthander who was tagged with the loss. Although he allowed just seven hits while fanning eight and walking one, seven errors by he and his teammates spelled d-e-f-e-a-t.

Over the first four frames, only one run came in as Eastern staked a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the sec-

Eddie Riley, a lefthanded slap-hitter who led Eastern batsmen with three safeties and two runs-battedin, smacked a double to deep right to open the inning. When the next hitter, Fred Dawson, lined out to De La Garza, Riley was almost doubled-up at second. But the Western pitcher threw the ball into center and

In the fifth, Eastern tacked-up what appeared to be a piece of the rock. Leadoff hitter Raul Pena reached third when Western left fielder Bullet Neatherlin lost a routine fly ball, which, after recovering, he threw away. Tommy Yorkman then delivered an RBI single through the middle, scoring Pena. Finally, in the sixth, the Western Big Red Machine, which had been sputtering like a mo-ped, hit high

With one out and after a single by Anthony Deande and a double by Burt Fisher, Dickens made his exit and Sims made his entry. Chuck Ankerholz greeted Sims with an RBI single before Sims walked De La Garza to load the bases. Jon Waldrep, who topped Western with three hits and three RBI, responded with a booming double to right that brought in all three runners.

The fat lady hadn't started to sing quite yet, howev-

A throwing error, a single by George Matta and Riley's two-run double made it 4-4. Then Dawson plopped a Texas Leauge single into shallow left, chasing Riley home with the winner.

Cruz' triple downs Cincy

HOUSTON (AP) - Jose Cruz hit a two-run triple in the eighth inning, and the Houston Astros survived NL boxes Cincinnati's four-run first inning to beat the Reds 5-4

Rafael Landestoy, batting for winning starter Joe Niekro, 8-6, opened the eighth against Frank Pastore, 9-4, with a double. One out later, Denny Walling walked and with two away, Cruz got his third hit of the game, a triple that hit the base of the wall in straightaway center field.

In the Reds' first inning, Junior Kennedy singled and Dan Driesen doubled for one run, then Ray Knight's single drove in Driessen. Knight moved to second on a wild pitch, and George Foster walked. Johnny Bench singled, and Dave Concepcion and Pastore hit RBI singles.

The Astros got two runs in the bottom of the first when Terry Puhl and Walling singled, Joe Morgan hit a sacrifice fly, Cruz singled Walling to third and Cesar Cedeno hit an RBI grounder.

Pirates rally to beat Expos

MONTREAL (AP) - Pinch-hitter John Milner stroked a two-run single to highlight a four-run sixth inning that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 victory over the Montreal Expos Friday night.

Easler made it 4-3 when he scored on a wild pitch, and Milner, batting for winning reliever Enrique Romo, 4-3, followed with a single up the middle. Milner later scored the Pirates' fourth run of the inning, racing home from first when shortstop Chris Speier fielded Omar Moreno's infield hit and threw the ball past first base.

Mets end Carlton's string

Cardinals trump Cubs in 12th

CHICAGO (AP) — Garry Templeton tripled in the 12th inning and scored on a single by Keith Hernandez to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday. Kim Seaman, 2-0, got the victory by getting the last four outs. Willie Hernandez, 1-7, took the loss.

The Cubs had tied the score 2-2 in the eighth when, with two out, St. Louis starter Pete Vuckovich walked Steve Dillard and pinch-hitter Cliff Johnson. Lenny Randle then singled in the tying run with only the fourth hit off Vuckovich. George Hendrick's run-scoring double with two out in the eighth off Dick Tidrow scored Ted Simmons, who had walked, to put the Cards ahead 2-1.

Bobby Bonds opened the game with his fourth homer of the year, off Doug Capilla, making his first start this year. It was the 35th time in his career that Bonds had homered as a leadoff man, extending his own major league record.

The Cardinals did not get another run off Capilla, who departed in the fifth for a pinch batter after the Cubs had tied the score.

Yankees' catcher Rick Cerone gives it all-out effort, going into stands for foul ball, but it was naught as Cleveland beat New York in Friday night game. (AP Laserphoto)

Dodgers' Reuss no-hits Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jerry Reuss of Los Angeles pitched the first no-hitter of the 1980 major league baseball season Friday night as the Dodgers defeated the San Francisco

Reuss, a 31-year-old left-hander ac-quired by the Dodgers from Pitts-burgh prior to the 1979 season, struck out one batter without issuing a walk

— but he lost his shot at a perfect game when shortstop Bill Russell made a throwing error to first on Jack Clark's routine grounder in the first inning. Clark was the only runner to reach base against the 6-foot-5, 217-

Reuss had an easy time of it against the Giants. There were no one hardhit, fair balls and only six were hit beyond the infield

In the eighth inning, leadoff batter Larry Herndon hit a medium speed grounder to the left of third baseman Ron Cey. He dove to spear it, scram-bled to his feet and threw Herndon out

Tribe's Waits scalps Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) - Left-hander Rick Waits, who brought a 5.18 earned run average into the game, scattered seven hits for his first shutout of the season as the Cleveland Indians beat the New York Yankees 2-0 Friday night. It was the first Yankee Stadium triumph for the Indians, who dropped all six games here last season, since the finale of the 1978 regular season. In that game, Waits defeated the Yankees to send the American League East into a tie and set up the dramatric one-game playoff in which the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox.

Waits, 6-6, walked one and struck out one in outdueling Rudy May, 5-3. May allowed six hits in seven innings in his first 1980 strart after 19 relief appearances.

Bosox nip Birds on Hobson hit

BOSTON (AP) - Butch Hobson's two-out single in the sixth inning brought home Fred Lynn with the winning run as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 Friday night.

Boston starter Chuck Rainey, 8-4, allowed two runs in the first inning but then held the Orioles in check until giving way to Tom Burgmeier in the eighth. Burgmeier finished up to earn his 13th save.

But Rainey avoided further trouble by getting Terry Crowley to ground into a double play, scoring Dauer, and striking out John Lowenstein.

Parrish homer sparks Tigers

TORONTO (AP) - Detroit's Lance Parrish smacked a three-run homer in a five-run first inning and the Tigers rode the eight-hit pitching of Jack Morris to their eighth straight victory, a 7-2 triumph over the Toronto Blue Jays Friday night.

It was the sixth complete game of the season for Morris, 9-6, who struck out five and walked four.

The Tigers routed Blue Jays starter Jesse Jefferson, 2-5, in the first inning. Parrish's 10th homer of the season supplied three of the runs. Richie Hebner's RBI single and a fielder's choice grounder by Champ Summers accounted for the other two before Mike Barlow came on in relief of Jefferson.

Cubs defeat Diablos

EL PASO—Midland's Cubs defeated El Paso's Diablos, 11-7, here Friday night to win the Texas League series, 3-2, and up their record to 3-2 for the second half West Division race. Midland will open a five-game series against the Amarillo Gold Sox in the Panhandle tonight.

Borg thunders toward 5th in row

By GEOFFREY MILLER WIMBLEDON, England (AP) -Bjorn Borg thundered on toward his fifth straight Wimbledon tennis title Friday, but some of his main rivals had to struggle on the rain-affected

The Swedish star moved confidently to the third round with a 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 win over Shlomo Glickstein of Israel. It was Borg's 30th consecutive singles victory at Wimbledon, one short of Rod Laver's record.

But John McEnroe, seeded second, admitted he was not at his best. The left-hander from Douglaston, N.Y., served erratically, missed with volleys and labored to overcome Terry Rocavert of Australia 4-6, 7-5, 6-7, 7-6,

"I couldn't do the right things because the bounce was so variable on the soft court," McEnroe said.

Vitas Gerulaitis also came from behind to trim Sashi Menon of India 6-7, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

The best part of three days' tennis has been lost this week because of rain. The sun came out Friday and the tournament committee got through 23 men's singles and 21 women's, as well as a lot of doubles. but the program was still behind schedule.

Borg and his rivals face five-set matches each day to catch up on the backlog. Strength and fitness are likely to play a bigger part than ever in the second half of the tournament.

Three big-serving Americans, all seeded, took time to adjust to the soft surface and dropped a set before win-

Roscoe Tanner, No. 5 and last year's defeated finalist, moved uneasily to a 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 7-6 success over John Fitzgerald, a 19-year-old Australian who came through the qualifying competition

Stanislav Birner of Czechoslovakia 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Stan Smith, No. 15 and the chamhion in 1972, knocked off Peter Feigl of Austria 4-6, 6-1, 7-6, 6-1. The last 32 included 14 Americans in the men's field.

Short fuse once again gets Nasty in trouble

By WILL GRIMSLEY WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Alas, poor

It's true that most of Ilie Nastase's problems may be the result of his own short-fused, combustible temperament, but the Mad Romanian continues to run into pitfalls as he strives to climb to the top again as one of tennis' finest tal-

Erosion of his magnificent game has been one of the real tragedies of sport that has seen him slowly slide from No. 1 in world rankings six years ago to 64th today.

Nastase, U.S. Open champion in 1972, fourtime winner of the Grand Prix but a virtual washout on the pro tour for the last few years, came to Wimbledon with high hopes of making a bid for the title he has never

Campbell takes lead with 68 in Seniors

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) - Bill Campbell, winner of the U.S. Senior Amateur title last year, carded a 4-under-par 68 Friday to take the lead at the halfway mark of the first U.S. Golf Association Senior Open Championship. Campbell had a tworound total of 2-over-par 144 at the Winged Foot Golf Art Wall Jr., the 1959 Master's champion, shot a birdie-3 on the par-four final hole for a 71 to move into second at 145. One stroke behind was Julius Boros, two-time winner of the U.S. Open and also a cause Nastase was informer PGA titleist, shot 2-over-par 73 for 146.

Davis leads coaches' play

McALLEN, Texas (AP) - Tom Davis of Boston College shot 77 Friday for a tournament total of 142 and first place in the 10th annual National Basketball Coaches Golf Classic. Davis dominated the 16-man field for his third straight victory, finishing the 36 holes 17 strokes ahead of runner-up Ken Fortenberry of Southwestern Louisiana.

Bank humiliated Tose

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Leonard Tose's lawyer said Friday the owner of the Philadelphia Eagles was "humiliated and embarrassed" when a bank took financial control of the football team for 11 days in 1977. The lawyer argued against dismissal of his $23 million antitrust damage suit.

We say it was an abusive takeover," charged Joseph Alioto, former mayor of San Francisco who is representing Tose in his conspiracy complaint against three Philadelphia banks and three individuals, including the Eagles' former financial ad-

"They conspired to stop Mr. Tose from getting access to the banking market," he said.

Yankees scratch Jackson

discuss the incident publicly. He told intimates that Passmore had been pressing him for an interview - even at his hotel - and he had merely gestured to the reporter to leave him

The incident gained added importance bevolved.

For years he has been the stormy petrel of tennis, fined close to $100,000 for unbecoming conduct on the court and suspended in virtually every country the game is played.

Since 1974, when he was rated No.1 in the world rankings, he has steadily gone downhill on the performance ladder. He disappeared from seedings and became just another journeyman, sometimes losing in the first or second round

His marriage cooled. "I was getting sick of his behavior," Nastase's wife, Dominique, told the London Daily Express.

Hintnaus, Green post Olympic Trials victories

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) - Pole vaulter Tom Hintnaus and quartermiler Bill Green scored victories Friday night in the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials at the University of Oregon's sunbathed Hayward Field.

With the weather finally turning warm after four consecutive days of rain and cold, Hintnaus - a senior at the University of Oregon and, of course, a favorite with the capacity crowd of approximately 17,000 soared over the bar with a career best of 18 feet, 41/2 inches.

Veterans Dan Ripley and Mike Tully tied for second place at 18-21/2. Steve Smith, the former pro who gained entrance into the trials through two court rulings earlier in the week, also cleared 18-21/2, his career best. But he wound up fourth on fewer clearances than Ripley and Shot putter Brian Oldfield, another former pro who got into the trials on a court decision, also finished fourth in his event.

Unheralded Peter Shmock won the shot put at 68-4, one-quarter inch ahead of veteran Al Feuerbach.

Colin Anderson finished third at 68-1/4 and the playful, confidennt Oldfield - who had consistently been over 70 feet this year - was a disappointing fourth at 67-41/4.

Green, a freshman and the No. 2 quarter-miler at the University of Southern California, posted an upset victory in the 400-meter dash, while Chandra Cheeseborough of Tennessee State University took the women's 200 in a wind-aided 22.70 seconds.

Promoter Don King has promised both fighters the winner will meet the WBA champion Mike Weaver...

Pate stretches Memphis lead to two strokes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Jerry Pate, playing in sweltering heat that had some players literally staggering from the course, fired a 5-under-par 67 and stretched his lead to two strokes Friday in the second round of the $300,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

Pate, who scored his third secondplace finish of the year in last week's Canadian Open, completed two trips over the hilly, 7,249-yard Colonial Country Club course in 133, 11 shots

"Basically a solid round," Pate said. "I feel like my game is in good shape. Putting is certainly a strong point or I wouldn't be 11 under par. But I'm driving it well and I'm hitting the ball solid. I feel like I can get it close to the hole almost every time."

Tony Marburger scores birdie-eagle at Hogan

BY REX WORRELL Hogan Park Golf Pro

Tony Marburger scored an eagle this week at Hogan Park, starting his round on the back nine with a birdie on the 165-yard par three 10th hole and scoring his eagle two on the 415-yard, par four 11th, using a smooth eight-iron shot into the hole.

He finished the back nine with a 36. Sons, Scott and Rob, watched the birdie-eagle feat. Congratulations,

The Hogan Park Men's Golf Association held an individual tourney last weekend with Don Pyle winning the championship flight with a two-day 147. beating out Jim Howell with a birdie on a fourth playoff hole. Boogie Childers was third at 148 and Jesse Madrid fourth at 154.

Frank Gray won the first flight with 154 with Clarence Young, 155, second; Tony Marburger, 162, third; and Joel Jackson, 163, fourth. Charles Warren's 154 won the second flight followed by Duane Tomberlain, 158; Jimmy Thorne, 161; A.J. Weatherl, day with pairings: 162. In the third flight, Joe Childress took first with 163, Jeff English, 167, second; Warren Hairford, 168, third; and Ric Bell, 172, fourth. Vince Conklin took the fourth flight with 181, Jim Rogers and Richard

Don't forget the July 4 weekend partnership. The Hogan Park Men's Association will hold a three-day, two-man partnership July 4-6. The format is a two-man scramble on July 4 while July 5 is a two-man low ball and July 6 at Two-Man scramble. Flights will be formed after the July 5 round. Free drinks will be furnished each day. Volcano's dome not growing?

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) - Observers who spotted the lava dome in Mount St. Helens' crater for the first time in a week Friday said it might have stopped growing, raising the possibility that pressure was building in the volcano. Observers in a U.S. Forest Service plane caught a glimpse of the dome in the morning before heavy clouds socked in the crater, said Vin Tuscher, a spokesman for the Federal Emergency Management Agency. Scientists earlier said that if the dome stopped growing, it could mean pressure was building inside the volcano. But Tim Hait, U.S. Geological Survey geologist, said Friday that the airplane observers were only estimating the size.

"If it (the dome) stops degassing and stops growing, perhaps the pressure could start to increase," he said. "But we have to be real careful. Essentially we haven't seen the dome in a considerable time, and we can't really tell whether it's stopped grow-

Baltic Sea beaches closed

WARSAW (AP) - Health officials have shut down almost all Baltic Sea beaches in eastern Poland because the water is too heavily polluted with sewage, the newspaper Zycie Warszawy reported Friday.

The closed beaches include those at the cities of Gdansk and Gdynia, an area where 2 million tourists had been expected this summer.

The newspaper quoted Marian Idzkowski, director of the district epide-) miology station, as saying a glass of Baltic Sea water must be diluted in about 100,000 glasses of clean water to make it suitable for bathing.

Piotr Krzyzanowski, deputy chief of the Gdansk anti-pollution office, was quoted as saying the area desperately needs huge government investments in new sewage-treatment facilities. But the paper said he was pessimistic about a quick solution to the prob-

Knapp to take over as organist, choirmaster

By a unanimous vote of the church board at the First Christian Church, Darryl Knapp will take over as the church's fulltime organist and choirmaster on Tuesday.

Knapp, 26, is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in piano performance. He has recently completed his masters in organ performance at the Manhattan School of Music in New York City. During his three years of study in New York, Knapp studied organ under Frederick

A native of El Paso, Knapp was, in 1971, the principal organist at Trinity Presbyterian Church in El Paso. In 1973 he served as scholarship accompanist for the First Methodist Church in Lubbock. During 1974-75, he was the assistant organist and choir director at Forrest Heights United Methodist Church in Lubbock, where he became the organist and director of music for the two years following his graduation from Tech.

While in graduate school, Knapp served as the organist and director of music at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, East Northport, N.Y., the assistant organist and handbell director of the Riverside Church in New York City and the organist and director of music at the First Presbyterian Church, Mineola, N.Y.

His plans include getting married in August to Nancy Young of Lubbock. Miss Young has a degree in piano performance and was employed teaching piano at Dunbar High in Lubbock.

Jewish philosopher says society suffers from 'functional segregation'

NEW YORK (AP) - American society is suffering from "functional segregation," says a noted Jewish philosoper. He sees it as bringing about a steady decline in moral values.

Just as individual personality is warped if it fails to integrate various facets into working balance, Rabbi Sol Roth says modern society is crippled by not interrelating its various

'Our institutions of nearly all kinds have a tendency to functional segregation," he said in an interview. Each tends to operate only for its own purpose in isolation from the

And that, he added, leaves them lacking an integrally balanced perspective.

Roth, elected this week as president of the Rabbinical Council of America. the national organization of Orthodox rabbis, said the functional split exists in education, medicine, science, morals, art, religion and other "The idea of social synthesis, of integrating the insights of various disciplines, gets little application in modern America," said Roth, a philosophy professor at New York's Yeshiva University.

For example, he noted, it's now commonly held that science should be concerned only with science, art only with art, education only with knowledge, apart from moral values.

University presidents these days when they're asked about sexual behavior of students in co-ed dorms say the university's function has exclusively to do with knowledge and nothing to do with morality.

"Obviously in a pervasive situation like this, the whole effect is that values grow weaker. To merely communicate knowledge or information in any field is to abdicate the concern for values.

"In consequence, morality has been steadily eroded in America."

Roth said there are "no programs emphasizing moral values" in the various non-religious fields, such as in education.

Students are simply left to decide what to do," he said, leaving the young pursuing various specialties in a situation resembling that of primitive man in regard to morality.

"I don't expect universities to teach religious values, but there is a desperate need for them to teach moral values," be said. "It's a function that's not being fulfilled."

Roth, who has been rabbi of the Jewish Center of Atlantic Beach, N.Y., for nearly a quarter century, as well as teaching philsoophy, said the functional segregation also afflicts

THE NEWSPAPER BIBLE

Love...The highest law

If you love your neighbor as much as you love yourself you will not want to harm or cheat him, or kill him or steal from him. And you won't sin with his wife or want what is his, or do anything else the Ten Commandments say is wrong. All ten are wrapped up in this one, to love your neighbor as you Love does no wrong to anyone. That's why it fully satisfies all of God's requirements. It is the only law you need.

Another reason for right living is this: you know how late it is; time is running out. Wake up, for the coming of the Lord is nearer now than when we first believed.

The night is far gone, the day of His return will soon be here. So quit the evil deeds of darkness and put on the armor of right living, as we who live in the daylight should! Be decent and true in everything you do so that all can approve your behavior. Don't spend your time in wild parties and getting drunk or in adultery and lust, or fighting, or jealousy.

But ask the Lord Jesus Christ to help you live as you should, and don't make plans to enjoy evil.
