The sizzling Southwest heat wave, the worst in 25 years, lost a little steam as temperatures in Texas dropped below 110 degrees.

But the death toll climbed to 63, roads buckled and fields dried out across the blistered region, and forecasters said it may be extra hot all

And as the three-day July 4 holiday approached, some officals worried that tinder-dry fields and woods might be set ablaze by vacationers.

Texans shrugged off the heat and ventured out into the noonday sun Monday as temperatures fell for the start of a new work week. In Dallas-Fort Worth, 107 degrees seemed almost like spring after two days of

"It's really not so bad," said Sandra Bryant as she ate lunch in Dallas' Thanks-Giving Square park. "I was a little warm last week.

Meanwhile, Army officials at Oklahoma's Fort Sill rescheduled strenuous activites for cooler hours after the death of a lieutenant who collapsed during an exercise aborted because of heat. In Lawton, autopsy results indicated a 1-year-old boy found dead in his grandmother's home had succumbed to heat before being mauled by rats, officials said.

Authorities in Temple, Walters, Madill, Tulsa and Broken Arrow asked residents to cut back on water use or face rationing, and other officials worried about a threat of accidental fires during the long holiday

In Colorado, firefighters contained the largest forest fire on record as rains fell on the five-day blaze, and two smaller fires were controlled. More than 1,000 firefighters were flown into Colorado to help fight the 10,050-acre blaze conflagration near Emerald Lake.

In Arkansas, as temperatures reached 102 in Little Rock, the Poultry Federation said 2 million broiler chickens and 300,000 breeder hens had been killed by heat. Road crews worked through the weekend to repair 14 sections of highway that popped open under the scorching sun.

The heat wave has been blamed as a contributor or cause in the deaths of 45 people in Texas, 10 in Oklahoma and eight in Arkansas.

The height of the heat wave had Dallas air conditioning repairmen working 14-hour days as cooling units conked out across the city. Beer, ice and electric fan sales skyrocketed, as did electricity usage. Overheated cars coughed and died on every major roadway.

'Just about all you can do to keep cool is dream, just think about getting home to a cold shower," said James Bramblett as he worked at a downtown Dallas construction site.

Carter will attend Ohira's memorial service

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter will interrupt his summer vacation and travel to Japan next week for a memorial service for the late Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira, officials here and in Tokyo say.

A White House official, who asked not to be identified, said Carter decided Monday to attend the July 9 service for Ohira, a close ally of the United States who died of a heart attack June 12.

The president plans no other stops on the trip and will return after an overnight stay in Tokyo, the offical said.

Japanese Foreign Minister Saburo Okita said U.S. Ambassador Mike Mansfield informed acting Prime Minister Masayoshi Ito of Carter's Carter is scheduled to go to his hometown of Plains, Ga., July 4 and leave directly from there for Japan on July 8. He will return to Sapelo Island off the coast of Georgia, the administration official said.

Begin reported in 'fair' condition

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin is reported in fair condition after suffering a slight heart attack during a parliamentary debate in which his coalition government defeated a bid to force early elections.

The U.N. Security Council, meanwhile, condemned plans to designate the Arab sector of Jerusalem part of Israel's capital.

On the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River, Israeli troops demolished the homes of three suspected Arab guerrillas and walled up rooms in two other buildings. A military spokesman said one of the homes belonged to a Palestinian accused of killing an Israeli secret service agent. The Palestinian, Bassam Mohammed Habash, was killed Saturday in a shootout with security forces, the spokesman said.

Begin, 66, was taken by ambulance from the Knesset, Israel's Parliament, to the Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem Monday after suffering increasingly intense chest pains during the debate on the future of his shaky government.

After spending a comfortable night, Begin was undergoing tests today to

"I believe he will recover from this and be much better," Gottesman Begin suffered a severe heart attack in 1977 and has been hospitalized several times since for minor heart ailments. He also suffered a minor stroke last year.

There was no word on how long he would be hospitalized.

Begin was in the hospital's cardiac intensive care unit when the Knesset gave him what amounted to a personal vote of confidence by defeating an opposition motion that would have dissolved the Parliament and advanced the November 1981 elections more than a year. The vote was 60-

The motion was proposed by the tiny, dovish Shai Party and was supported by the Labor Party, the chief opposition faction.

Begin had lobbied hard against the measure, which came to a vote a week after two members of his coalition defected, trimming his parliamentary strength to 63 of the 120 Knesset seats.

Parents may plead for clemency

Their son accused of sexual misconduct with Iranian girl

By The Associated Press

Marine Sgt. Michael Moeller's parents say they are considering a trip to Tehran to plead for clemency for their hostage son, threatened with a trial and a possible 10-year sentence on charges of having sexual relations with an Iranian woman who became pregnant and was hanged by her brother for disgracing the family.

Meanwhile, Iranian President Abolhasssan Bani-Sadr warned today that Iran's Islamic revolution was "threatened from inside." In a speech delivered at a religious school in Tehran, he said "In the previous regime life, property and business of people were violated in the name of monarchy and today, they do the same in the name of fighting with anti-revolutionaries, He accused U.S. officials of trying to undermine his government, "sink me in trivial issues so that I fail to manage our vital economic battle against the U.S. pressure." Bani-Sadr said some Iranians he did not identify by name were working with America, trying to "create obstacles to stop me from expanding our vital economic crusade against the United States." An Iranian Justice Ministry investigator, Ali Akbar Parvaneh, told a reporter Monday that the 28-year-old Moeller, of Loup City, Neb., might escape a trial if the dead woman's parents agree to "forgive" him. Parvaneh suggested Moeller's parents fly to Iran to try to persuade her parents to drop the charges.

Parvaneh said earlier that Moeller definitely would be put on trial even if Iran's Parliament decides to free the

"I'm not going to say yes or no. I have to think about this and I'd definitely have to have confirmation from the State Department," she said.

State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said the United States has received no confirmation that Moeller faces trial. However, the department said it would consider an exemption from President Carter's ban on travel to Iran if the Moellers decide to make Moeller, a Marine guard at the occupied U.S. Embassy, is accused of having seduced a 23-year-old Iranian student, identified only as Amaz A., prior to the seizure of the embassy by young militants last Nov. 4. Parvaneh said Moeller denied the charges.

Having sexual relations with an unmarried woman is a crime punishable by up to 10 years imprisonment under Iran's Islamic law. Iranian authorities learned of the alleged affair when the woman's brother surrendered to police last March and said he had hanged her after learning she was five months pregnant.

The woman's diaries claimed she was seduced by Moeller, the investigator said. He told a reporter this was one entry about the affair:

"It happened at this room. I lost it last night. Does my fate depend on some drop of blood? No, no, he is obliged to protect me. He is obliged to live with me.'

But, said the chairman, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, Carter will wait until the administration finishes its mid-year budget and economic review later this month before deciding whether to support tax cut legislation before the November election.

Bentsen and other congressional leaders conferred with the president at the White House this morning after Senate Democratic leaders held off Republican demands Monday for a $36 billion tax cut by offering renewed promises of their own plan.

Carter "certainly did not rule it out," Bentsen said of a 1981 tax cut. "It's obvious he wants to look at the July figures.'

Bentsen told reporters that no figures for an administration-supported tax cut were discussed, although it has been reported that it would be worth between $20 billion and $30

Bentsen said the major achievement of the meeting was an agreement to coordinate efforts by the administration and the Democratic majorities in the Senate and House to explore the possibilities of a tax

He said that Carter told the group that if there is to be a tax cut, it should be "carefully targeted."

"It was a good exchange, quite helpful," Bentsen said. "I certainly think you're going to have a tax cut this year," he said. For the second time in five days, the Senate on Monday rejected the GOP tax cut plan that the likely Republican presidential nominee, Ronald Reagan, has proposed as a challenge to Carter's economic policies. Woman killed, another. hurt in shooting here

An Odessa woman is dead and a Midland woman was listed in stable condition this morning at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa after a shooting Monday evening. A Midland man was taken into custody in connection with the incident. Police became aware of the shooting when notified that a shooting victim was at the hospital emergency room. Mildred Cornett, 27, of Midland told police that about 5 p.m. her husband kicked in the front door at 1715 E. Oak St., Midland, and shot her and Norma Jean Loring, 31, of Odessa.

Apparently, the Cornetts are in the process of getting a divorce, according to police reports. The house had been awarded to Mrs. Cornett during a recent hearing, and family members told police it had upset Cornett.

Mrs. Cornett was shot in the left side, just under the arm pit. She was transferred to Medical Center Hospital Monday afternoon. Ms. Loring was shot just below her right breast. She was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital emergency room, where she died shortly thereafter.

Peace Justice John Biggs pronounced her dead.

barrels-a-day level. Other OPEC members, however, go into effect today have cut production since last December by about 2 million barrels a day, leaving the cartel's daily output at about 28 million barrels.

Industry sources said Monday that Kuwait had informed oil company buyers of a $2-a-barrel increase to $31.50, while Libya and Nigeria each announced 28 cents-a-barrel price increases to the new $37 ceiling.

Algeria raised prices about 28 cents a barrel but also said it would continue to charge a $3-a-barrel "exploration fee" on top of the new $37-a-barrel official price for its high-quality oil. At $40 a barrel, Algerian oil is OPEC's most expensive.

Iraq, the second-largest OPEC member, last week told buyers of a $2-a-barrel increase to $31.96.

Industry observers said they don't expect the past year's world oil price spiral - in which prices more than doubled - to continue because industrialized nations have built up an oil surplus.

Hot afternoons to continue

Fair skies with continued hot afternoons are in the Permian Basin forecast for Wednesday as firecracker season opens.

The high for Wednesday is expected to be near 100 degrees, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport. Tonight's low should be in the low 70s.

Tuesday's high of 99 degrees provided some relief from the 100-plus degree weather of the past week. The high of 99 also fell short of the 1946 record high of 105 degrees.

This morning's low of 73 degrees was quite a bit warmer than the 1967 record low of 60 degrees.

Winds tonight should be southerly at 10-15 mph shifting to a southwesterly direction at 15-20 mph Wednes-

Jury deems Minor is mentally incompetent to stand murder trial

By ED TODD

Herbert Lee Minor Jr., a 30-yearold Waco man indicted for capital murder in the beating death of 73year-old Ardeshia Wortham in her southside Midland home last September, has been deemed incompetent to stand trial due to his mental retar-

The verdict, handed down by a 238th District Court jury, came three months after another jury in the same court had found the defendant fit for trial. But 238th District Court Judge Vann Culp ordered a new competency trial based on a motion by Minor's court-appointed defense attorney, Ted Kerr. The motion alleged that errors in law and in admissions were made before the jury in that first trial last March. In the more recent verdict, the jury determined that Minor was incompetent to stand trial, was mentally retarded and that there was "no substantial probability" that he ever would be competent to stand trial.

Following this last verdict, Culp ordered that Minor be committed to the maximum security unit at Rusk State Hospital in East Texas.

"THIS WILL RESOLVE once and for all the issue of whether this guy (Minor) is really competent or not, said District Attorney Vern Martin.

Following his commitment to Rusk the Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation is to determine which state mental retardation facility "is suitable for the longterm placement" of Minor, said the order signed June 26 by Culp.

In his order, Culp required that if Minor is dismissed from the institution, the court must be notified within 14 days of his dismissal.

In such an instance, another court hearing could be held to determine if Minor is competent at that time to stand trial for capital murder.

Minor was the second of nine children and had been socially promoted to the sixth grade in school, though he reportedly had only a second grade reading level. Early test responses did not suggest "the presence of a firmly established personality or character disorder" in Minor.

DR. BILL HENRY, a psychiatrist, and Dr. Mark McElhaney, a psychologist, both with The University of Texas School of Medicine in Galveston, said last March that testing in November 1979 indicated that Minor was mentally retarded. In 1965, Lubbock psychologist Dr.

Robert P. Anderson reported that Minor, then 15, "cannot function without supervision.' "He can be influenced and needs a structured environment to help. him build better self-control.' Robert Luckey, a psychologist at Abilene State School where Minor was confined from 1966 until 1973, determined that Minor's mental evaluations indicate he is "within the mild range of mental retardation."

"Herbert is reportedly a product of a culturally deprived home situation.

Because of this lack of supervision and his inferior intellectual resources, this patient has been involved in numerous anti-social acts."

the psychologist reported. Luckey, who characterized Minor as a "moron," said that his responses "suggest that he has no unused intellectual potential significantly beyond the mentally retarded range.' In January 1973, Minor was transferred to Mexia State Hospital and was placed in a "re-socialization"

Minor was described there as have ing a "bad temper but was able to control it."

AT MEXIA, Minor's "behavior had shown improvement," and he was transferred to an open dormitory. He 'went on unauthorized departure" within a week but was returned the next day. A month later, on Oct. 23, 1973, Minor again left the state school and was subsequently discharged from the facility. "It is quite apparent that Herbert has no intentions of returning nor does Mrs. Harris (his mother, Rosemary Harris of Waco) have any intentions of persuading him to do so," reads a discharge report signed by Malcolm Lauderdale, superintendent of Mexia State School. Minor reportedly was working at a Waco, service station.

In 1976, Minor was convicted in Odessa for indecency with a child. About four years earlier in Abilene, he was convicted of attempted burglary of a habitation.

Minor was arrested for the capital murder of Mrs. Wortham on Sept. 9, while being held in Midland City Jail on a traffic violation.

The indictment against Minor alleges that he entered Mrs. Wortham's home at 303 S. Calhoun St. to commit theft, ransacked the house, attempted to rape her and bludgeoned her to death.

Minor, the indictment alleges, caused the woman's death "by beating her with his hands, with a bathroom plunger stick and by applying electric shock to her body.

Minor has been held in Midland County Jail in lieu of posting a $50,000 bond for more than nine months.

Two Midland banks were the target of prank bomb threats Monday afternoon. The First National Bank and Western State Bank received calls within minutes of each other, warning of a bomb somewhere in the build

The calls, which came in about 2:30. p.m. Monday, caused both buildings to be evacuated by police until after the 3 p.m. deadline.

According to police, a woman called in both threats. However, the calls turned out to be a hoax, as the deadlines passed without incident.

Pope opens Brazil visit with appeal for human rights

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) - Pope John Paul II opened his visit to Brazil with an appeal for respect for the fundamental rights of all persons and a warning to Brazilian priests not to let "socio-political" concerns get in the way of their spiritual mission.

The pontiff arrived in Brazil's inland capital Monday for a 12-day tour of 13 cities in the world's largest ' Roman Catholic nation. After a meeting early this morning with prisoners at a Brasilia penitentiary, he was flying 450 miles to the southeast for a brief stop in the industrial city of Belo Horizonte, then on to scenic Rio de Janeiro, on the Atlantic coast.

The pope's visit put him in the center of a conflict between politically active Brazilian bishops and priests and the military-backed government and its conservative supporters. The pontiff gave strong sup-port to the Brazilian clergy's concern for human rights and improvement in the economic condition of the impoverished masses. And his insistence on the primacy of the clergy's spiritual mission stopped short of the condemnation of clerical political action that the government and its supporters hoped for.

"I pray to God that every Brazilian respected the fundamental rights of all humanity," the pope declared at an open-air Mass for a throng of 500,000 persons led by President Joao Figueiredo, the fifth army general to head the government since a rightwing military coup in 1964.

He called on the Brazilians to build a "just society, overcoming imbal-ances and inequalities." And he paid tribute to Brazil's bishops, who sponsor programs to encourage political and social activism by the masses and have issued a series of statements critical of government policies. But he warned that the church's mission cannnot be reduced "just to socio-political matters."

Scores of people in the vast crowd fainted after standing for hours waiting for the pope's arrival.

In a speech Monday night to Brasilia's diplomatic corps, the pope reiterated his opposition to violence as a vehicle for social and political change, coupling it with a censure of strong-arm governments that use vio-lence against their domestic opponents in the name of national securi-

Investigators prowl discos for violations

DALLAS (AP) - A half-dozen consumer affairs investigators are doing the town in Dallas discos, dancing and drinking on the city's tab. They aren't looking for hookers or drugs. They're looking for discrimi-

"It's not a 'disco squad' as such," said Walter Higgins, investigative supervisor at the consumer affair's office. "There are six men and women on my staff who go anonymously to several different discos ... to see if they're following the ordinance.'

The ordinance in question was passed by the city council in December and requires clubs to post dress codes outside to prevent discrimination against minorities through arbitrary dress codes.

Members of the squad are between ages 27 and 35 and have worked "all kinds of consumer cases," Higgins said.

'We have blacks, Mexican-Americans and plain vanilla," and go to "at least two" discos during their monthly outings, Higgins said. "They wear their own clothing. We don't pay for that," he said. "I don't know what they wear. I suppose it's something outlandish. They do buy drinks. The only reason we advise them to drink is to blend in. They couldn't very well do that if they bought a glass of milk or a you're going to enforce it: shopping around to see if the places are follow-The investigators go out about once a month, but in the six months since the ordinance was passed, they have filed no cases. "We've seen some borderline cases, but nothing we could actually file a case on," Higgins said. "But it's a pretty hard thing to prove. It's hard to say they discriminate against blacks when you see blacks there (in the Officials from Papagayo, a northside club, are scheduled to appear at a Thursday pre-trial hearing to respond to charges they keep minorities out by using a dress code. The charge was the result of a consumer complaint and is the first filed under the ordinance.

Politicians and taxes

It's almost comical to watch the Republicans and Democrats in Congress vying for the credit for an election-year tax cut. All the subtlety has been abandoned. That was the scenario, at least, last week when Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan outlined his proposal for a 10 percent reduction in individual income taxes, ostensibly to be followed later by still more reductions if he wins election.

Republicans in the Senate immediately lined up behind the Reagan proposal and pushed it to a vote while Senate Democrats indicated they would present their own economic plan by early Sep-

Everybody, it seems, wants to be able to claim credit for a tax cut now that it's election-year. Certainly we will not argue with the decision to slice taxes in this nation. Our runaway rate of taxation at almost every level of government is becoming increasingly discouraging and difficult to tolerate.

We, too, believe a tax reduction is in line. It's our opinion that in any given situation the taxpayers know better how to spend their own money than does government. Furthermore, if the government requires less money in the form of taxes, that's more capital remaining in the private sector for expanded business development, personal prosperity and economic stability

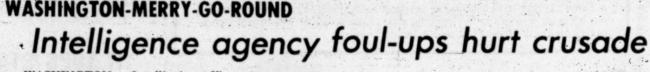

But that kind of thinking requires an adjustment in our political system. Our elected representatives have to realize they cannot give everyone everything he or she wants or they'll end up spending dollars they don't have. Rather, they are charged with the responsibility of filling the greatest needs for the majority of the people in this nation.

That means setting some priorities on what we all deem "essential" services and determining to what degree we will provide those services.

It also translates into living within our means and recognizing the destructive force that exists in governmental extravagance and overtaxation.

It also entails electing representatives who are cognizant of our concerns, compassionate of human needs and, yet, realistic about our ability to provide ser-

What we need are members of Congress who are a little less interested in taking credit for a tax cut and a little more interested in earning credit for a cut.

WASHINGTON - Intelligence officials are prowling the halls of Congress, trying to convince the lawmakers that the laws governing intelligence activities should be tightened. Congressional access to this information, the spooks argue, must be strict-

There was one awkward flaw in the super-duper badge system, though: If someone walked past a checkpoint with no badge at all, the alarm didn't go off. The embarrassed congressman asked why, and St. Peter said, "Well, Congressman, we get a lot of ministers here, but you're the first member of Congress we've

Only voters can cure nation's sick economy

The American economy is sick and only we, the people, can cure it by exercising our political power.

First, however, we must diagnose the illness. We must know what are the conditions of health and what are the conditions of sickness. We can find the answers in history.

The United States represents only 6 percent of the world's land area and less than 7 percent of the world's population. Contrary to the propaganda of the envious little Marxists, the great explosion of material prosperity did not occur because our land was simply richer in resources than others. It is not and never was.

Yet at one time we plain Americans owned 85 percent of the world's automobiles, 60 percent of the life insurance policies, 54 percent of the telephones, 48 percent of the radio sets, 46 percent of the electric power capacity, 35 percent of the world's railway mileage and 30 percent of the improved highways. Before World War II we consumed 75 percent of the world's silk, 60 percent of the world's rubber and 50 percent of the world's coffee.

This blossoming of material prosperity, the most successful war on poverty ever waged in the history of mankind, occurred under two conditions. They were the cause of the prosperity. One was a weak central government which allowed individuals to do the best they could at anything they wanted to try. The other was a weak central government which allowed the people to keep nearly all of what they earned which meant they could save and buy tools which is the only way to increase productivity.

History is as plain as Jimmy Durante's nose. A free society succeeded; every planned economy in the world, past and present, failed. It is absolutely insane, therefore, for us to reject proven success and to adopt proven failure. Yet that is exactly what we are doing.

To cure our economy's sickness then we must cut taxes to allow people to keep nearly all of what they earn and we must reform radically the regulatory process in order to free people to do the best they can at anything they want to try.

Today, taxes consume about 42 percent of our income. All of these taxes are levied by people we elect from the city council to the Congress. That's why high taxes is a problem we have the power to cure. The Kemp-Roth bill, which would cut income taxes 30 percent, would be a good beginning. A simple reform of estate taxes would be granting every person a $25 million exemption. We could eliminate the tax on interest earned by savings. It is in effect taxing the same income twice. So is the tax on dividends. We should reduce or eliminate the capital gains tax. Reduce the corporate income tax. The present heavy tax system not only drains wealth from the private sector, but distorts the economy by forcing people to make decisions on the basis of tax laws rather than on the basis of productivity.

The point to remember about taxes is that they are levied on wealth already produced. In other words, taxes do not decrease the cost of anything; they add to it and every penny is paid by the people. Look at your own situation. Look at the money you earned which goes to the government instead of to your family. The proper question to ask is, who can spend that money more productively? The people who earned it or the politi

The only way we can correct this abuse is by ruthlessly defeating every politician who refuses to vote for genuine tax reductions.

We must also elect people who will abolish the present regulatory system and start over. Those who favor a state-controlled economy found that they could not sell this ideology to the American people. Therefore, they came in the back door and gained control of our economic lives in the name of consumer and environmental protection.

The choice is clear: either we free our income from the cancer of excessive taxation and our economy from the octopus of government regulation or we join the rest of the world in poverty. The issue is not scarce resources, but scarce liberty.

Miss Goodfellow was chosen third chair in the top band which was conducted by H. Robert Reynolds, band director at The University of Michigan. She was also in the orchestra. Miss McCarter was among the 11 trombones in the top band...

WITH SUMMER TEM-PERATURES soaring above the 100s, pet owners should avoid leaving their animals shut up in the car for more than a few minutes-if at all.

When temperatures inside a closed auto soar to 140 degrees or more, the pets inside quickly succumb to often-fatal heat stroke, said Dr. Robert Playter, head of the small animal clinic at Texas A&M's College of Veterinary Medicine.

"People should just use common sense," he explained. "I don't think they realize how quickly a car heats up in this weather when the windows are rolled up. The best advice is not to do it."

When penned in the back yard or elsewhere outside, pets should have a shady retreat and plenty of water available to them, he added...

.. PLANNING TO STAY in Midland this Fourth of July weekend? Don't forget the 18th annual sideway parade Friday in Wadley-Barron Park at the corner of Cuthbert and A Streets.

The parade, sponsored by Col. Theunis Dey Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will include age groups of pre-school, grades 1-3, 4-6 and micellaneous. Participants will enter the grade level they were in when school was out in May.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. at the corner of Harvard and A Streets. Registration gets underway at 9 at the same location. There will be no advance registration, said Gayle Dodson, parade chairman.

Immediately after the parade, winners will be announced at the Gazebo, located in the park.

Several categories of awards will be given for the vehicle most representative of July 4. The Downtown Kiwanis Club will man the concession stand and will conduct old-fashioned games after parade activities.

All families are uged to bring their children and a picnic

DEAR ABBY Funeral footage belongs in can

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We recently had a tragic automobile accident in our town in which a high school girl was killed instantly. Three friends in the same car were seriously injured. One died this morning.

A week ago, when the funeral of the girl who was instantly killed took place, I took it upon myself to take movies of the funeral

It was my intent to write to the girl's parents (I do not know them) and offer them the film footage as a gesture of interest in their loss so that those of their family who were unable to attend could review the happenings that took place at the funeral. Also, in later years the parents might appreciate having the movies as a remem-

Do you think my offer of this film would rekindle heartache, or do you think it would be regarded as a token of sharing a loss-as it was meant to

Someone at the funeral commented as I was taking these movies that it was "tacky." This, of course, was tacky, what about all the funeral footage we view on the television news?— MASSACHUSETTS

AT WIT'S END Another game

By ERMA BOMBECK

It's a game we play. Every time the phone rings during MASH my husband and I fake one another out. Last Monday, I won and he took the call.

The tone of his voice made me tune out Alan Alda as he gasped, "Oh, my God! You're not serious! When?" He covered the receiver and shouted to me, "Get on the extension. We're grandparents!"

My first reaction was how could that be when none of our children was married.

My second reaction was would my mother buy the old Science-Fair-Project-That-Got-Outof-Hand theory.

The caller was our neighbor who explained that our Yorkshire terrier, who was never allowed out of the yard, got out, and her spinster poodle, who was too old to get pregnant, did, and in a Sears box in the utility room were three poodles in Yorkshire terrier bodies - a virtual billboard for Planned Parenthood.

"What month was Murray born in?" she asked.

"June." "I should have known," she said. "A Gemini. They never finish anything they start.'

"Just a minute," I said. "Are you implying that Murray is not willing to accept maternal responsibilities?"
"Who are you kidding? Every female dog in the neighborhood has "That's not true. He lives a monk's existence behind a six-foot wall." "You've heard of the tunnel of love? He invented it."

'I think your 'little mother' doesn't have her act together and has neither the stability nor the unselfishness to raise these puppies. If you will bring them over here Murray will raise them as a single parent."

The first night, we photographed them from every angle. Murray moved from one to the other getting to know them. He was going to make a wonderful father.

The second night he refused to share his food with them. When they spilled water all over his bed he crouched behind a waste can. He subsequently trampled them, bit their tails, rejected them, barked in their ears and tried to abandon them.

By the end of the week the puppies were demanding, cried all night, frolicked all day and were driving him crazy. When we returned them to the mother, our neighbor snapped, "What happened to Kramer vs. Kramer?"

Dustin Hoffman wouldn't have been such a hero either if his child hadn't been paper-trained.

DEAR MASS .: Everyone deals with his grief in his own way, so I don't know how the family of the dead girl would feel about seeing movies of their daughter's funeral. Personally, I think filming grief-

Barbara Buckley to attend Miss Universe pageant

By SANDI BREEDEN Lifestyle Writer

Barbara Buckley, Miss Texas USA 1980, will end her reign Aug. 18 when she crowns her successor, but there is much excitement to come before she hands over the title.

Ms. Buckley and the other Miss USA delegates are leaving today for Seoul, Korea, for the Miss Universe Pageant along with Miss USA title winner Shawn Weatherly of Sumter,

The live international telecast can be seen in Midland from 9-11 p.m. July 7 on CBS.

"Before we knew who would be Miss USA, a representative of a Kore-an publishing firm invited all of us to the pageant at Seoul," said Ms. Buck-ley, explaining why for the first time all of the delegates will be involved in the Miss Universe pageant. "The publishing firm will be paying the expenses, not the United States," she Although only Ms. Weatherly will be a contestant in the pageant, Ms. Buckley said she and the other delegates will be involved in the production of the pageant.

While being enthusiastic about going to Seoul, Ms. Buckley also reminisced about her reign and talked about her future.

"I had never been in a pageant before the Miss Texas USA pageant," said Ms. Buckley. "I had no idea how involved they were. It's a lot harder to do than it looks. You get nervous.
"But I liked it," she added with a smile. "I'm an actress and I like performing and that's what the pageant is - selling yourself. You've got to show your personality just standing."

Ms. Buckley said she did not think she had a chance at winning the title she now holds, but said her attitude was "might as well try it. My main purpose in being in the pageant was to meet the judges." Ms. Buckley said two of the judges were from Los Angeles and several of the judges were "important people in the Texas film industry." What was the hardest thing about being Miss Texas USA? "Everyone expects you to know everything and you don't want to disappoint them," said Ms. Buckley

The pageant is not just a beauty pageant, stressed Ms. Buckley. "Miss USA is not welcomed at every country. She has to know politics and she must be able to relate to the people of the different countries."

Being part of the pageant hasn't caused her to change, said Ms. Buckley. "As far as I'm concerned, I am the same person I was before the pageant. You have to let people know you are not the preconceived person they think you are."

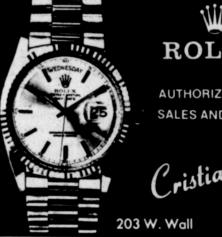

What are the future goals of the graduate of Angelo State University where she majored in drama? "After the pageant in August, I will be moving to Dallas and will probably be starving," she said. "This title has let me get my foot in the door of my career, but next year will be the hardest because it will be the first year I will really be on my own."

Ms. Buckley has performed at the Kennedy Center of Performing Arts in Washington D.C. and at the National American College Theatre Festival in 1978, while attending Angelo State. She will be performing in the Summer Mummers melodrama production in Midland this summer.

Schmidt honors Soviet war dead

MOSCOW (AP) — In a solemn ceremony outside the Kremlin wall, West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt today honored Soviet troops killed fighting Nazi Germany in World War II. The German leader later was to hold a second round of talks with Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev.

A Red Army band played the West German and Soviet anthems and an honor guard marched in goose step during today's 15-minute ceremony at the red-granite Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Schmidt earlier honored about 100 German prisoners of war who died in Soviet captivity and were buried with a group of Japanese POWs in a cemetery in suburban Moscow.

West German sources said Schmidt's departure, originally set for 7:30 p.m. local time tonight, was being set back 11/2 hours. Observers said the delay suggested negotiations on Afghanistan and on missile deployment were moving slowly.

But West German officials said later Schmidt and West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietriech Genscher would be meeting with Soviet Defense Minister Dmitri Ustinov before holding a separate session with Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosy-

The officials also said a German-Soviet, 25-year economic agreement would be signed by the Soviet and German ambassadors, Vladimir S. Semyonov and Hans Georg Wieck. The agreement is expected to provide for German technological help in the development mf Soviet natural resources, including new Siberian gas fields. The Soviets already provide 14 percent of West Gzrmany's natural gas. On Monday, Schmidt publicly called on Brezhnev to withdraw all Soviet troops from Afghanistan and agree without conditions to negotiations to reduce medium-range missiles in Europe.

Brezhnev urged the West to stop "ever-new at-tempts to spur on the arms race" and said the subject of missile deployment in Europe would be taken up in his talks with Schmidt today. He made no mention of Afghanistan in his speech at the state dinner at which Schmidt called for the troop withdrawal, but at their first meeting earlier Monday, Brezhnev called for international pledges not to support the Afghan foes of the pro-Soviet communist regime in Kabul.

Schmidt said before his arrival Monday that helping to start a new round of Soviet-American talks on missile reduction was his most important objective in his talks with the 73-year-old Soviet president and Communist Party chief during his two-day visit to

Union organizers restricted

HEREFORD, Texas (AP) - A state district judge has set strict limitations on union organizers trying to enlist farmworkers in High Plains onion fields.

Judge David Wesley Gulley issued a temporary restraining order Monday that restricts pickets and union organizers in Panhandle vegetable fields, bans secondary boycotts and prohibits Texas Rural Legal Aid lawyers from encouraging farmworkers to

The order, sought by 17 Deaf Smith and Castro County growers, came after union officials said they would press Panhandle farmers to organize despite the failure of last week's walkout on onion growers.

"I can't say we've been defeated, because people are still talking to people. We're still organizing," said Antonio Orendain, director of the Texas Farm Workers Union.

Maleah Harris is still happily surprised with the changes that have occurred due to her recent weight

Numerous flattering remarks have kept her aware of the remarkable improvement in her appearance. Not only is she twenty seven pounds lighter in less than one month, she also has a clearer complexion and

According to Maleah, she has always had a weight problem. "I developed bad eating habits when I was a little girl" explains Maleah. Working with her husband in their barbecue restaurants has not helped that problem since she was always tempted by the excel-lence of the food and especially the desserts.

These poor eating habits caused Maleah a great feeling of anxiety when she would make attempts to lose weight. She would lose five or ten pounds and gain it right back because she had not developed new eating

Psychic Link

The Harts (Robert Wagner and Stefanie Powers, rear), with the help of Max (Lionel Stander), invade the psychic world of a fortune teller and a cheap detective in order to trap a murderer whose victim had a psychic link with her twin sister in "Sixth ense," on ABC's "Hart to Hart," Tuesday, July 1, on ABC.

The happily married couple work together to solve cases. Pooling their various resources, they enter the underground world of crime.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TO-DAY: Kristy McNichol's brother Jimmy shares your birthday, and in the months ahead, he will come into his own as a teen celebrity. Your star is also on the rise, and a new self-image could emerge that will enhance your career efforts. Take the time to become an expert on at least one subject. A love of good food and drink could adversely affect your health if some new self-discipline is not shown. Think in terms of long-range goals, and set regular sums of money aside for a future business enterprise. In love, look lively! Newcomer finds you ir-

The fortunes in bridge ebb and flow-it is a battle of wits, and to triumph, you must be completely alert to opportunities as they arise.

The bidding is worth dwelling on for a moment. South opened one no trump despite the fact that he held a good five-card major in order to save himself rebid problems. After the Stayman convention elicited the fact there was a spade fit, North's hand merited a game invitation-no more, no less. Since South had an absolute maximum because of his fifth spade, he had no second thoughts about accepting. West led the top of his heart sequence, and declarer won in his hand. Declarer drew trumps in two rounds, ending in dummy, and led a low diamond. That was excellent technique, for if East played second hand low, West would be forced to win the trick; making the club suit safe from attack. But East was an expert defender. He rose with the ace of diamonds and shifted to the jack of clubs. The tide of battle had swung to the defenders, and they were attacking declarer's soft spot. Contact with someone who lives at a distance could prove beneficial to an artistic enter-

GOREN BRIDGE

If South had covered the jack with the queen, West would have won the king and returned a club, and the contract would have been doom-

Fortunately, declarer was able to take immediate counter measures. He rose with the ace of clubs and led another diamond. West won, but the contract was secure. The queen of clubs was safe from attack, and declarer would sluff a club on a long diamond.

All very well, you say. But what if East has both diamond honors? Declarer is no worse off. When East wins the second diamond he will revert to clubs, and now declarer goes in with the queen. If the finesse would

Supermarket bills up by 3 percent

By the Associated Press

Supermarket bills jumped by about 3 percent last month — the biggest increase in more than three years, according to an Associated Press marketbas-

Another rise in the cost of sugar was to blame for part of the June increase, but higher prices for other items ranging from hamburger to detergent helped put the squeeze on shoppers.

The AP drew up a random list of commonly purchased food and non-food items and checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each month since then.

The latest marketbasket check showed that the bill increased during June at the checklist store in 11 cities, rising an average of 3.8 percent. The bill decreased in only two cities — Detroit and Seattle dropping an average of just over half a percent. On an overall basis, the marketbasket bill at the checklist stores was 3.1 percent higher at the start of July than it was a month earlier.

The increase was the worst since May 1977, when prices also rose 3.1 percent, according to the AP

More than 40 percent of the total number of items checked by the AP increased at the checklist stores during June. Four of the 14 items on the list — pork chops, peanut butter, detergent and sugar — went up at the checklist stores in more than half the cities surveyed.

The cost of food rose more slowly than prices in general during the early part of 1980, but economists have been warning that the situation will change as the year wears on.

One reason for the low rate of food price inflation has been a relatively abundant supply of meat—particularly pork and poultry. That was good news for consumers who found bargains at the meat counter. But it was bad news for livestock producers, counter. But it was bad news for livestock producers, many of whom said they were losing money and took steps to cut their losses. Hog farmers, for example, are beginning to reduce their breeding herds and that means less pork and higher prices ahead.

The AP survey showed that during June, the price of a pound of center-cut pork chops increased at the checklist store in nine cities. Chopped chuck went up at the checklist store in six cities. The checklist store in six cities.

at the checklist store in six cities. The only bargain among the meats checked by the AP was frankfurters, which dropped in price at the checklist store in seven cities.

Sugar prices, meanwhile, have been increasing because of a decrease in the worldwide sugar crop and the trend continued in June. The price of a five-pound sack of sugar — already at its highest level in about five years as of the start of June — went up at the checklist store in 10 cities during the month. When sugar was removed from the market-basket totals, the increase in grocery bills at the checklist stores during June was 2.2 percent nearly a full percentage point less than the increase when sugar was included.

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed far more increases during June than during May.

No attempt was made to weight the AP survey results according to population density or in terms of what percent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents.

them to place the contents of the cash register in a paper sack. While Mrs. Matthews filled the sack held by one of the men with the entire day's receipts, the other man began tying Matthews' hands with a length of cord.

When Matthews resisted, he was reportedly pistolwhipped by the robber, who struck him and knocked him to the floor after he resisted a second time, deputies said.

Another scuffle erupted and Matthews suffered a cut on his face when he shoved the armed bandit from behind as he was leaving the store. Mr. and Mrs. Matthews both had their hands tied.

No unexpected radiation measured in TMI venting

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Continued venting of radioactive gas from Three Mile Island has produced no unexpected rise in radiation levels away from the nuclear power plant, officials say.

"The levels we've measured so far are what we had predicted. They are insignificant in terms of producing any negative health effects," Erich Bretthauer, TMI project manager for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, said Monday.

Plant spokesman Blaine Fabian said more than 2,900 curie of krypton-85 had been vented from the radiation-filled reactor containment building by late Monday.

About 57,000 curies of krypton and hundreds of gallons of radioactive water were released into the containment building 15 months ago during the nation's worst commercial nuclear accident.

Officials expect to complete the krypton removal, which began Saturday, in two to four weeks. The purge will enable workers to clean up the containment building and do further

After faulty readings on particulate monitors set off two alarms Saturday, the NRC ordered Metropolitan Edison Co. to sample for radioactive particles every 15 minutes during vent-

John Collins, chief on-site official for the NRC, said Monday the tests have not detected any particles of cesium, strontium, cobalt or other radioactive isotopes.

"It confirms what we've been saying all along. The concentration of particulates in the containment building is very low," he said.

Off-site monitoring is being conducted by Met Ed, the EPA, the state Department of Environmental Resources and a group of trained local citizens.

One of the citizen volunteers, Brian McKay of Newberry Township, said routine checks since the venting began have shown basic normal background radiation with some periods of slightly higher readings.

McKay said 20 to 25 people have called him each day for information on radiation levels and, if they bave left town, for advice on whether to

The other 10 candidates trailed far behind. 'We believe the people's choice will be reflected in Congress' decision," said Siles. "It is inconceivable that a party that has such a ead over the next challenger would not be able

NEW YORK (AP) - "Dodger Blue" was the primary color in the National League All-Star starting lineup announced by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Tuesday as four Los Angeles Dodgers were selected to the mid-season classic.

Second baseman Davey Lopes, the leading vote-getter in the majors, headed the Dodger contingent which includes first baseman Steve Garvey, shortstop Bill Russell and outfielder Reggie Smith.

Joining the four Dodgers on the NL squad for the July 8 game at Los Angeles are catcher Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds; third baseman Mike Schmidt of the Philadelphia Phillies and outfielders Dave Parker of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Dave Kingman of the Chi-

"Obviously, we have some outstanding players on this team and the fans have shown it by the way they have backed their club," said Dodgers Manager Tom Lasorda.

And did they ever back their club. Twelve players in the senior circuit received over two million votes and seven were Dodgers.

The American League team was announced Monday. It was headed by California first baseman Rod Carew and included Milwaukee second baseman Paul Molitor: Kansas City third baseman George Brett and New York shortstop Bucky Dent and outfielder Reggie Jackson. Boston Red Sox outfielders Fred Lynn and Jim Rice and catcher Carlton Fisk complete the Lopes, the Dodgers captain, drew 3,862,403 votes to end the three-year reign of Carew as the leading vote-getter for the All-Star Game. Lopes had over two million more votes than Pittsburgh's Phil Garner, his nearest rival at second base.

"I'll be there," said Lopes, who earlier this season felt he wasn't performing up to All-Star caliber. "I'm gratified that many people put the time into voting. It's nice to know you're that popular."

Jaeger dumps Wade to advance at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) -Youth and experience locked horns at Wimbledon Monday. Honors ended up about even.

Andrea Jaeger, just 26 days beyond her 15th birthday, carried the flag for youth, trouncing Virginia Wade, the experienced 1977 champion, 6-2, 7-6.

Tracy Austin, something of a veteran at 17-years-old, joined Jaeger in the last eight of the women's singles by defeating 24-year-old Terry Holla-

But you can't keep a good oldie down — as Billie Jean King and Evonne Goolagong proved just before Jaeger started to frustrate Wade and the partisan center court crowd.

KING, 36, winner of a record 20 Wimbledon titles, clawed her way back from the brink of defeat to oust 17-year-old Pam Shriver 5-7, 7-6, 10-8 in a 2 hours 40 minutes thriller on the bumpy court number two.

Goolagong, the 1971 champion, lost the first set to the impressive 18-yearold Hana Mandlikova but recovered to win 6-7, 6-3, 6-1.

Jaeger, the youngest Wimbledon seed ever, displayed a maturity far beyond her years in matching Wade, then overpowering her.

"She was probably more nervous than me," the chirpy schoolgirl said afterward

Wade, however, felt that it is too early to talk of Jaeger as a possible Wimbledon champion.

"Not this year, Fdon't think she is ready yet," said the British player. "Andrea is fast, hits the ball early, has good timing and changes pace well. But she plays quite a few "nothing balls" and if I had played well I would have beaten her," Wade

"I don't think Andrea could possibly beat Chris Evert Lloyd." Jaeger meets the two-time Wimbledon champion in the quarterfinals.

AUSTIN, seeded to meet defending champion Martina Navratilova in the women's singles final, grows with confidence with every match she

Tennis officials aren't worried

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Top tennis officials of Wimbledon and the United States Open shrugged off on Monday a reported threat of a boycott unless the men touring pro-fessionals can dictate how the tournaments are run.

Such a threat was raised at the French Championships in Paris earlier this month when the ruling council proposed that conduct of Grand Prix events be extended to the traditional classics.

The idea would call for the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP) to have all tournaments put under the control of five supervisors Wimbledon, now in its final week, has permitted no intrusion by supervisors. The U.S. Tennis Association allows supervisors at the U.S. Open but only in a supervisory capacity. The USTA maintains control.

A number of players, the most prominent being Roscoe Tanner and Marty Riessen, have hinted at a boy-cott of the U.S. Open and possibly Wimbledon next year if the demands are not met.

Tracy Austin, above, and Martina Navratilova, right, met the Wimbledon challenge Monday, as each won during fourth round play in women's singles. Austin is grimly determined as she destroys Terry Holladay while Navratilova seems to enjoy a hair-raising win over Kathy Jordan. (AP Laserphotos)

King, as gutsy as ever, saw Shriver throw away five points for a 5-2 lead in the final of their taut, sometimes ill-tempered match.

"Pam was serving so well that for a time she was dominating me," King said. "She is resilient and kept control

Navratilova overcame a poor start to down fellow American Kathy Jordan, the No. 10 seed, 6-4, 6-2.

The women's quarterfinal lineup (seeding positions in brackets): Martina Navratilova (1) vs. Billie Jean King (5)

Tracy Austin (2) vs. Greer Stevens

Chris Evert Lloyd (3) vs. Andrea Jaeger (14) Evonne Goolagong (4) vs. Wendy Turnbull (6).

ONLY three fourth round men's matches escaped the rain that fell in late afternoon, and has been a problem throughout the tournament, ending play for the day.

Roscoe Tanner, beaten finalist last year, ousted fellow American Nick Saviano 7-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, while sixthseeded Gene Mayer beat unseeded Australian Colin Dibley 3-6, 7-5, 4-6,

Brian Gottfried, unseeded here for the first time in four years, continued his fine run by winning through to the quarters with a 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 victory over Phil Dent of Australia.

Gottfried has not dropped a set in his four opening matches.

Seaver's problems Texas League continue to mount

Tom Seaver's problems continue to mount. The seven-time all-star was rocked for seven hits and five runs in four innings Monday night and tagged with the loss as the San Francisco Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds 8-4; Seaver's record is now 3-5, his earned run average a dismal 4.76.

"I can't keep pitching this way," Seaver said. "I have a sore shoulder and it's not getting any better and it's not going to if I keep pitching.

"It's not frustrating. It's depressing. I love what I do. In other National League games, the Atlanta Braves beat the Houston Astros 5-4 in 11 innings, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Montreal Expos 7-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 and the San Diego Padres trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3.

Milt May hit a three-run homer off Seaver in the first inning and Jack Clark tagged him for a two-run shot in the third as the Giants staked rookie Bill Bordley to an early 5-0 lead. Bordley was making his first appearance since being called up from Phoe-

Bordley, like Seaver a former college pitching star at Southern Cal, went on to post his first major league victory with relief help from Gary Lavelle, who worked the last three

Jose Cruz tied the game for Houston with a ninth-inning home run and put the Astros ahead with another homer in the 11th, but Glenn Hubbard's tworun homer in the bottom of the 11th gave the victory to Atlanta.

Houston Manager Bill Virdon took the loss in stride, as befits the manager of a first-place team. Despite the loss, the Astros still lead second-place Los Angeles by 2½ games in the National League West.

"There's always the chance you'll lose one that way in this stadium," Virdon said of Hubbard's home run. "But there's always the chance you can win one here that way, too.' Phillies 7, Expos 5

Philadelphia scored all its runs in the fourth inning, which was highlighted by a grand slam by Keith Moreland and a two-run homer by Pete Rose. Both came against Montreal starter Bill Gullickson, 0-2, who had difficulty keeping the ball low.

Aussie tracksters leave

MELBOURNE (AP) - The bulk of Australia's Olympic track and field team left for Europe Tuesday, allegedly incognito.

Nearly every member of the squad carried their official bag with the five Olympic circles and green and gold piping.

Tight security surrounded the flight to Paris, with airline officials not disclosing to the public that the athletes were due to leave.

standings and on the scoreboard. The Brewers kept winning Monday night, downing the Oakland A's 5-2 for their third victory in a row and ninth in the last 12 games. Tommy John struggled to his 11th victory of the season with seventh-inning help from Rich Gossage. The Yankees scored in the first inning on a triple by Willie Randolph and a sacrifice fly by Bobby Murcer. They made it 5-0 in the third when they routed Boston starter Bob Stanley, who had not lost to New York in four previous career decisions. Randolph started it with a walk, Murcer, Graig Nettles, Reggie Jackson and Bob Watson all singled and Bobby Brown delivered a sacrifice fly.

The Red Sox loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the ninth before Gossage struck out cleanup hitter Tony Perez on three fast balls.

"That's the best I can throw," Gossage said.
"Anytime you can get velocity and hit the corners you are going to win."

'That's the fastest I've seen anybody pitch to me this season," said Perez.

John Castino drove in five runs with three singles and his fifth homer to back the strong pitching of Darrell Jackson. Jackson allowed all the Kansas City runs on four hits while striking out seven and walking six before he was relieved by Mike Bacsik to start the eighth. The Twins jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first inning and every run was unearned because of three Kansas City Errors, two by shortstop U.L. Washington. victories in the league at 11 by hurling seven shutout innings. He allowed five hits before the Blue Jays jumped on Tippy Martinez and Tim Stoddard for seven runs in the final two innings. The Orioles backed Stone with a 15-hit attack, including three by Kiko Garcia and Rich Dauer and a solo home run by Doug DeCinces. "I'd thrown four straight complete games and my arm got a little tired," said Stone, explaining why he asked out after seven innings. "I didn't think I was going to tie any consecutive complete-game records so I thought it was a good time to take a rest.' Angels 10, White Sox 6

Joe Rudi's tie-breaking two-run pinch single in the ninth inning lifted California to a 10-6 victory over the White Sox, who were guilty of five errors. The Angels loaded the bases in the ninth on a pair of walks and a single by Carney Lansford against Chicago relief ace Ed Farmer before Rudi looped a single to center to break a 6-6 tie. Bobby Grich also added a two-run pinch single for a pair of insurance

Rangers 11, Mariners 5

Rusty Staub's bases-loaded triple was the big blow in a six-run third inning and Dave Roberts hit a two-run homer in the ninth. Ferguson Jenkins was the winner, although he came out in the seventh inning after experiencing soreness in his right elbow. The Rangers teed off on Seattle starter Mike Parrott in the third, handing him his ninth consecutive setback after an opening-game victory.

Tiger bleachers 'cool'

DETROIT (AP) - "We're Cool," a banner in the center field bleachers of Tiger Stadium proclaimed.

The atmosphere indeed was cool in the bleachers, re-opened Monday night for the first time since a rowdy display June 16 forced Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell to shut them two weeks ago.

Campbell said he would permanently shut the bleachers — which hold more than 10,000 fans at $2 a head - if the fans did not shape up.

"Boy the atmosphere is really different around here tonight," one beer patron exclaimed while waiting in line

Amarillo's homers kill Cubs

AMARILLO - Amarillo's Gold Sox unleashed a five home run barrage to level the Midland Cubs, 17-8, for their 10th victory in the last 13 games in Texas League action here Monday night.

The first place Sox began their cannonading early when DH Frankie George powered a three-run homer to left off starter and loser Randy Clark during a four-run first. In the threerun second, "Eye Chart" Gwosdz hit a solo homer and Jerry Johnson followed with a two-run job for a 7-0

Amarillo struck for eight runs in the fifth to take a 16-3 lead as Ozzie Alvarez hit a solo homer and an rbi single and Gregg Pastors delivered a two-run double. George completed the assault with a solo homer in the seventh, his 10th of the season.

Eric Show, 6-3, got the win, although tagged for eight Midland runs. The Cubs got three in the fifth on an rbi single by Jared Martin and a couple of bases loaded walks. Then in the sixth, Tom Grant hit a two-run single and Gary Krug belted a threerun homer in a five-run uprising that chased Show and brought on Gary

Reddens win MCC golf tournament

Buddy and Dottie Redden took first place after a card playoff with Bill and Jane Thomas in Sunday's Midland Country Club Women's Golf Association play. Both couples fired net 64s.

This month play was changed from mixed foursome competition to a twosome format in which each partner drives from the tee, plays a second shot with the partner's ball and then pick a ball to hit into the hole with alternate shots. A full handicap is employed.

Jack and Becky Huff took third place after a card playoff with John and Rusty Euston after tying with net 66s.

Nine thousand city employees from sanitation workers to bus mechanics - went on strike today in Detroit, and New York's police, firefighters and other key workers vowed to walk out on Thursday if their wage demands are not met before then.

In another major labor dispute, 39, 000 copper workers began a nationwide strike this morning against seven companies in nine statzs. With no formal negotiations scheduled, picket lineshwere manned in New Jersey, Maryland, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Montana, Utah, Nevada and Washington.

The impact on consumers of the copper strike — by smelters, miners and other workers - was not clear as the strike began. Two of copper's biggest uses are as wiring in house construction and automobiles, two industries already slumping.

Union officials, who noted that the copper workers have struck for every contract since the mid-1960s, said the key issue is the size of a cost-of-living adjustment. The copper workers now average $10.23 per hour.

Detroit's sanitation workers, bus mechanics, office employees and hospital workers struck at midnight as

A walkout by police and firefighters in the nation's sixth-largest city— was averted Sunday when they filed for arbitration, which automatically extends their current agreement.

Mayor Coleman Young has warned city workers that if they are on strike for the Republican Convention, which begins July 14, they "would live to

New York's police, firefighoers, sanitation workers and five other uniformed services gave a roaring authorization Monday night to strike on Thursday if there is no agreement.

The original deadline for the strike by 42,000 workers was midnight Monday, but it was pushed back when both sides moved closer to a contract, union leaders said.

The unions representing all of the city's major protective forces say they are committed to winning raises greater than the 8 percent increases received by New York's 215,000 civilian workers last week.
