Senior Center Coming

The first problem was money. The second was utilizing an existing building. But both have been solved and Midlanders will have their own Senior Center by this summer. Sunday's Reporter-Telegram will explore what that facility will include.

Computers and Students

What do students and computers have in common? In Sunday's Reporter-Telegram, Staff Writer David Campbell finds what he missed as a student for being born too early.

Possibly Unpopular Plans

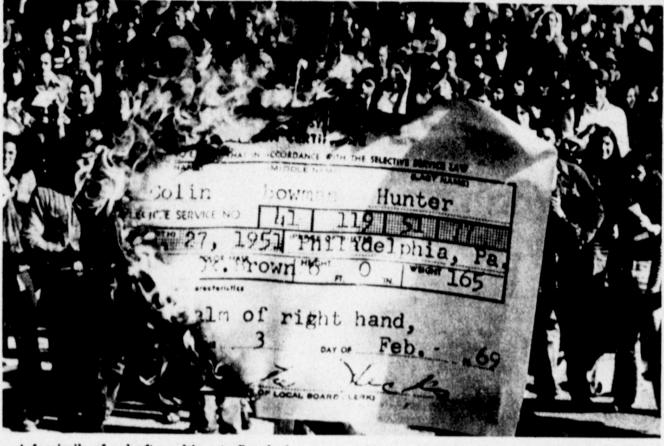

There's barbed wire and lots of running ahead for commissioned officers with the Midland County Sheriff's Department. Read about Sheriff Dallas Smith's latest, and possi-bly unpopular plans, in Sunday's Reporter-Telegram.

U.S. gives Chinese special trade terms

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's "get tough" stance with the Soviet Union is entering a new phase with the announcement of possible sales of military equipment to China and congressional approval of special trade relations with the world's most populous nation.

The two moves came only one day after Carter publicly warned Russia, in a nationally televised State of the Union address, to stay out of the oil-rich Persian Gulf area.

In addition, the House voted 386-12 on Thursday to back Carter's call for a possible boycott of the SummerlOlympics.

These actions demonstrated that administration resolve to halt further Soviet intrusions is backed by congressional support for at least some steps to punish Russia for its occupation of Afghanistan.

Carter has urged U.S. athletes to boycott the Games unless they are moved from Moscow, postponed or canceled in the event that Soviet troops are not withdrawn from Afghanistan by Feb 20.

Pentagon officials revealed, meanwhile, that Chinese officials had been told the United States is willing to sell them military equipment - but not weapons.

The U.S. officials, who asked not to be identified, said Defense Secretary ly after a flap about the presence of Soviet combat troops in Cuba. It also came amid complaints from some powerful congressmen that the Soviets, unlike the wchinese, refused to guarantee free emigration to Jews. Although it was acknowledged that the number of Jews leaving the Soviet Union had substantially increased, opponents insisted that the Soviets must offer assurances that the increased immigration stemmed from a formal policy that would continue.

The Soviets balked at offering such formal assurances. U.S. law limits most-favored status to nations that promise to allow free immigration of their citizens.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., told the Senate earlier this week that the United States had a "significant stake in the continued existence of a strong, independent China."

"The People's Republic of China is playing a central role in the geopolitical balance of power in the world, including the struggle to deter Soviet aggression and expansionism," Jackson said.

On the House side, Rep. Richard Schulze, R-Pa., although opposing the trade bill for other reasons, said the Carter administration was "desperately searching for new alliances" as a result of the Soviet action in Afghanistan

Senate expected to follow House in Olympic stand

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate is expected to follow the House in supporting President Carter's stand on the Moscow Olympics, but not before WASHINGTON (AP) - Carter administration officials say they don't anticipate any serious resistance from young people who will be ordered to register for the draft a few months from now.

But for the time being, they are remaining noncommital on the question most directly affecting half of those young people: Whether the 16 million women between age 18 and 26 will be subject to registration like their 16 million male contemporaries.

Without referring to either gender. one high official, who asked to remain nameless, said: "They're not being conscripted for some highly unpopular war. They're not being conscript-ed at all, and I don't think we should assume young people are any less patriotic than their parents."

Nonetheless, officials of the U.S. National Student Association and a coalition of 42 peace, civil rights, religious and student groups pledged

Experienced teachers to be given pay break

By DAVID CAMPBELL Staff Writer

Experience counts...and it doesn't cost that much.

Midland school board members voted Thursday to advance teachers who have seven or more years of experience outside the school district two steps in the salary schedule each year until they reach the level of their experience.

The advancement in the schedule will cost the district $67,500. And this won't raise taxes for the taxpayer, according to board member Marshall McCrea.

Before the change, teachers with seven or more years of experience outside the Midland school district could not use that time to advance in the salary schedule.

The school board said it wants to recruit experienced teachers to Midland. The move to drop the old policy is believed to be a means to attract those teachers to the Tall City.

The original proposal would have granted newly-employed teachers full credit for all professional experience outside the district.

For teachers employed under the old policy, the original proposal would have allowed instructors to advance one additional step each year until they reach a position equal to the total years of experience inside and outside of the district.

According to Dr. James Mailey, Midland school superintendent, the original proposal would cost the district $180,000. And that would represent about a two cent increase in school taxes.

The new policy will go into effect next year, the board said.

Dr. Ruby Morris, director of special education, reported on the current Thursday to picket, protest, demonstrate and hold campus teach-ins to register their opposition to President Carter's call to readiness.

As if on cue, students at Stanford University in California burned a facsimile of a draft card Thurday at a rally.

"If registration becomes a reality, we will call for a massive national protest on the day registration is resumed," said Barry Lynn, a spokesman for the Committee Against Registration and the Draft, a lobbying group that claims to represent various activist organizations.

Frank Jackalone, chairman of the National Student Association, said, 'We don't believe the youth of this country will tolerate such an invasion of their civil rights.'

But the White House clearly thinks they will.

One official acknowledged that the registration requirement would add a measure of uncertainty to the lives and planning of the nation's young people but insisted: "It doesn't intrude on their jobs or their activities as students. The notion of simply being ready seems eminently sensible and one they can accept.

The official noted that Carter has the authority to resume registration of males between the ages of 18 and 26 and only needs to ask Congress for the estimated $10 million the process would require and for some "clean-up legislation" to streamline the registration procedures abandoned in 1975 by then-President Gerald R. Ford.

To institute an actual draft that would order people into the armed forces, however, would require special legislation that the official conceded would be "highly controversial.

Harold Brown told the Chinese during his recent visit to Peking that the United States is "prepared to consider on atcase-by-case basis" such sales. The Chinese share a long border with the Soviet Union.

Although no decision has been made on what specific military goods might be sold, Defense Department spokesman Thtmas B. Ross said the equipment could include trucks, communications gear and "certain types of early warning radar.

A Pentagon official called the new sales policy an "incremental change" of position and a continuation of closer relations between the two countries.

He added, "You cannot, however, take it out of the context of the world situation. The Soviet occupation of Afghanistan sped up or catalyzed the decision."

References to the Afghan situation were laced through the debate in both the House and Senate on the tion giving most-favored-natio status to China, a governme country once refused even to a edge.

next week.

There were only 12 dissenters - as opposed to 386 in favor - when the House approved a resolution Thursday supporting a possible U.S. withdrawal from the summer Games.

But quick Senate concurrence was stymied when the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee ignored a White House appeal for full congressional approval before this weekend.

Instead, said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, his Foreign Relations Committee will stick to its plan to hold hearings on the resolution next week.

The resolution urges the U.S. Olympic Committee to honor Carter's request and seek to have the Olympics moved from Moscow or canceled if Soviet troops are not out of Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

It would urge athletes from the United States and other nations to boycott the Olympics if they are held in Moscow while Soviet troops stay in Afghanistan. The White House had asked congressional leaders to complete approval of the resolution before the USOC's executive board meets on Carter's request this weekend in Colorado.

Church, while predicting Senate approval, stuck to his plan for hearings next week. He said, "it is my strong belief - and I anticipate that of the Foreign Relations Committee - that the Soviet Union has made itself unfit to host the Olympic Games."

Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia already has predicted approval of the resolution by the Senate.

A possible boycott also won support Thursday from AFL-CIO President Lane Kirland, who charged that the U.S. Olympic Committee was arrogant in opposing Carter's proposal.

If you're tempted to take that trusty bottle of white shoe polish and write a message to a friend across the windshield or windows of his car - DON'T DO IT - or that friend may end up with a ticket.

Police Chief Wayne Gideon said the fad has become so bad that Midland police soon will begin issuing citations for the offense.

According to state law, "No person shall drive a motor vehicle with any sign, poster or other nontransparent material upon the front windshield, side wings or side or rear windows of such vehicle which materially obstructs, obscures or impairs the driver's clear view of the highway or any intersecting highway."

"It's become a tremendous fad where kids take white shoe polish and paint over the windshields on a car," Gideon said.

"It's becoming quite dangerous, not only to the operator of the car but to other people on the streets due to someone not being seen. Gideon said his officers had attempted to resolve the problem by warning drivers and explaining the law to them. But that it hasn't seemed to do much good.

"We have attempted to stop them and ask their cooperation, but frankly we have not been very successful. I'm afraid we're going to have to take sterner measures.

"I think the law is pretty clear. And it is obvious we are going to have to take sterner measures in order to prevent someone from being hurt. We would like to ask the cooperation of the kids and parents," he said.

"By no means do I think it is limited to teen-agers. Exuberant sports fans and others do it, and also it's done in connection with wed-

"But I am affaid we will have to start fining all of these people," Gi-deon added.

Fine for this offense can be as much s $200. While conviction for the traffic offense won't affect insurance rates with standard policies, a spokesman for a local insurance company said it could cause the applicant to have trouble getting insurance and force rates for new policyholders to increase.

"As far as underwriting for insurance, all tickets are taken into consideration. Therefore, it could cause difficulties in getting insurance through regular channels. It could cause the applicant to have to go through the Texas Automobile Insurance Plan for assigned risks," the spokesman said.

On the assigned risk program, any traffic violation other than felony violations, parking tickets and expired inspection stickers carry a 15 percent surchange. Writing on windshields could result in higher rates under the assigned risk plan, according to the spokesman. 'It's kind of a fad for them (students), especially before a ball game," said Glenn Hixon, assistant principal at Midland High School.

"They write notes to each other, and I know that every week or so I or one of my sons has to get out and wash my car off.

'Every kid in probably both high schools carries some white shoe pol-ish," Hixon added.

"They write on everything, but mostly on cars," said Henry Kitzman, assistant principal at Lee High School.

"It's not something we promote or encourage. It's just something the kids do. I have seen a number (of vehicles) that have been written all over and looked like it would be hard for them to see out (through the windshied)," he said.

"I can see that he (Chief Gideon) has a point," Kitzeran said.

status of special education instruction in Midland. About 1,460 handicapped students are enrolled in some type of special education class, according to the report

Budget for special education pro-grams amounted to $1,555,570 for 1979, Mrs. Morris reported.

John Murphy, president of the Midland Association for Retarded Citizens, expressed concern that the school district should look into what is needed to continue occupational therapy for mentally retarded students once they enter the first grade.

Parents of these students, Murphy contended, say they believe the school system has not developed a program where these students can continue this therapy

Also, the school board was asked to investigate the possibility of establishing a summer school program for mentally retarded students, especially in the area of speech therapy.

Speech therapy students tend to regress in their development skills during the summer, Murphy said.

The need is there, he said, but there are too many legal difficulties preventing the establishment of a summer school program.

In another action, board members approved advertising for bids to purchase 500 student lockers for Midland High School. Dr. Mailey estimated the lockers will cost the district $20,-000

Installation of these lockers should be completed by the 1980 fall semester

Also, the city and school district each will pay $6,260 to resurface eight tennis courts at Midland High School

Sally Feldt asked board members if the school district would repair the public address system at Midland High School. She said the system, which is used to address students and teachers in all classrooms, has been inoperable for some time.

Although board members did not set a timetable to complete repairs on the system, they indicated something will be done to remedy the problem.

A course designed to teach students how to build a house was suggested by Don Hellinghausen, president of the Midland Housing Association. The course would prepare students to enter the house building trade and would instruct non-trade students how to remodel or construct a house.

Federal government sees the light on solar research, development

By ED TODD Staff Writer

Twenty percent of the nation's power-generating needs by the year 2000 will be satisfied by solar-energy plants, George Pappas of the U.S. Department of Energy told members of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday noon in the Midland Hilton.

"Right now," said Pappas, "the government is the largest consumer of solar devices.

Pappas is associated with the Special Projects Division of the U.S. Energy Department in Albuquerque, N.M.

In readying for the solar age, the federal government is committing $500 million to solar research and development, he said.

He said that 40 percent of the cost of solar devices is in the heliostat system, which "captures" some of the heat of sunlight and follows the sun's movement from horizon to horizon

Pappas outlined the types of energy-generating devices which will be supplementing and, presumably, replacing and kilowatt-generating plants. Pappas, after presenting a color-slide program on solar energy, indicated that solar-energy plants would require far more of the earth's land space than do conventional power plants and would create some degree of clutter. "There was quite a bit of environmental concern" about the space needed for the solar devices, such as parabolic solar collectors, and about the sight of acres upon acres of solar collectors

"It would not be wise for people to stare at solar collectors with binoculars," Pappas noted of the potential eye-damaging effect of such gazing. And he said it would be equally imprudent to look directly into the sun.

As for the space required to power a city by solar energy, Pappas said 15 square miles of solar devices would be needed to power a city the size of Midland.

President Carter's firm stance on foreign policy Wednesday night struck a responsive note in most Midlanders who listened to the broadcast State of the Union address.

Most Midlanders contacted in a random telephone survey Thursday agreed with the steps the president outlined and, if anything, wanted more action than the chief executive promised.

Echoing the attitude of many in the survey, Rita Buckley said she approved of the tone of the speech. "I'd like to believe him. I just hope he's going to do what he says.

The president's call for an American boycott of the Olympics also met with her approval. "I feel sorry for the children, but it's about time we realized we have to sacrifice something. We've got to start realizing it's going to be a pretty tough road," she said

Ms. Buckley said she had watched the American image deteriorate abroad when she took high school students on summer European tours beginning in 1970.

Cooler, windy weather forecast

Saturday should be perfect weather for tumbleweeds - cool and windy.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport is predicting tonight and Saturday should be partly cloudy and windy. Winds from the west should be blowing through the Tall City at 20-30 mph.

Temperatures for Saturday are expected to reach the upper 50s. The low for tonight should dip to the mid 30s.

Trivia fans will probably remember last year's precipitation total for today was .16 inch. However, the Weather Service has noted this year's precipitation rate is .42 inch for today a little behind the average of .59 inch

Also, for trivia purposes, the record high for today is 82 degrees set in 1950. The record low is 13 degrees set in 1940.

"I saw our respect in Europe decline. People would walk across the street to laugh at us," she said.

"I'm really glad to see somebody finally stand up and do something."

One Midland woman, who preferred to remain anonymous, also agreed with the new tough posture taken by the president, especially in reinstating draft registration for young men 18 to 26.

"I have two sons, one in the Army and one not. I felt they never should have dropped the draft in the first place.

She sounded a note of caution however, adding, "I don't want it to snowball into a war, but I always felt it was foolish to think the Russian people care about detente Midlander Ronald Weaver took the tone of the speech as a positive sign. "The president probably took a firm stand for the first time in three years," he said, "but I have some doubts in my mind about how effective it will be Reinstating draft registration, he said, is "not going to make any difference. If they're going to have a draft, they ought to have a draft.

"Just registering people will only cost taxpayers money setting up offices," he added without adding to the country's military preparedness.

John Basse summed up the feeling of most in the survey when he said, "I heard a lot of talk. Now I want to see some action.'

While he favored reinstating draft registration, Basse said he felt the government had no place calling for an Olympic boycott.

"If they're going to tell them what to do, they ought to support them."

The threat of military intervention to protect the Persian Gulf area, he said, is necessary. "If it happens, it happens," he said of the possibility of war. "I feel there's a price to be paid, and it's our duty to keep our country the way it should be.

One dissident note was added to the voices of support in the survey.

One woman, who also asked not to be identified, noted, "I'm not too happy about reinstating the draft as my husband is 22 years old. "At this point," she said, ?'I'd almost opt for a move to Canada."

Board members said they will investigate the feasibility of developing such a course.

Board members also passed a joint election agreement to hold school elections with the county, city, hospital and college districts.

Other action by the board includes purchasing a security fence topping at the bus barn on 801 S. Moran St. for $3,270, and approving the use of Midland High School's auditorium.

Two Amarillo men arrested after drug investigation

ODESSA - Two Amarillo men, arrested in Odessa at 2:22 a.m. Friday, were in Midland City Jail this morning

According to an Odessa Police Department spokesman, the men ages 29 and 35 - were arrested following a two and a half to threemonth undercover investigation by narcotics officers from the Odessa Police Department in cooperation with officers from the federal Drug Enforcement Administration.

Substances suspected to be narcotics and involved in the arrests of the two men are estimated to have a "street value" of $75,000 to $100,000, the Odessa police spokesman said.

Officers who were involved in the case included Officer Ed Alcorn of the Drug Enforcement Administration, and Sgt. Jim Dodson and Detective Terry Tyree, both narcotics officers for the Odessa Police Department.

Midlanders held after arrest on traffic violation

Two Midlanders, arrested Thursday afternoon on a traffic violation, were found to be in possession of a controlled substance, according to po-

According to reports, officers stopped a car at 3:31 p.m. in the 400 block of North Mineola. The driver and passenger were arrested and two purses in the car were removed to be taken to the Police Department. After finding a pistol in one of the purses, the driver of the car, a woman, told officers that the purse belonged to the passenger, a man.

The passenger said the purse was his sister's, but he kept things in it. At the Police Department booking desk, two dexedrine, two desbutal and seven unknown pills were discovered in the man's purse.

The flight was hijacked over ATLANTA (AP) — Two hijackers Greensboro, N.C., at about 1:51 EST, believed armed and claiming to be said Delta spokesman Jim Ewing. Black Muslims commandeered a Delta Air Lines jet carrying more than 60 persons from Atlanta to New Dennis Feldman, a spokesman for the FAA in Washington, said the plane apparently was being refueled in Havana and was to return to Miami. Aviation officials in Miami said they had not received a flight plan from Havana.

The FAA said the jet carried 52 passengers and 12 crew members, but Delta spokesman Dick Jones said in Atlanta there were 62 persons aboard - 51 passengers and 11 crew.

Feldman also said before the plane landed in Havana "our information is that there is a man in the cockpit with a gun.'

However, a State Department spokesman who declined to be named said a hijacker told the crew he had a bomb

The flight began Thursday in Los Angeles and stopped in Dallas before arriving in Atlanta, taking off from there at 1 a.m. for Kennedy Interna-

Feds guard informant in Wood assassination

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) -Federal officials are guarding a confidential informant who has provided important new clues in the unsolved assassination last May 29 of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr., according to sources quoted by the San Antonio Express. The informant is an admitted killer. but some federal investigators have overcome their skepticism and now believe he has important information about the identity of the hired assassin, said the sources, who requested anonymity.

Depot in Utah, a move that has raised U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd, who has strong opposition in Utah and Colorahelped lead the fruitless seven-month investigation, refused Thursday to The report was based on a fivecomment on the report. Connally campaign welcomes Stoltz

The John Connally for President Committee has named Deane Stoltz as co-chairman of the Midland County campaign.

The appointment was announced by Jim Campbell of Pampa, state organization director, and Raymond S. Tapp of Lubbock, district chairman for the 19th Congressional District.

"We are extremely pleased that Deane Stoltz has agreed to accept the co-chairmanship for Midland County," Tapp said. "We are depending on him to help carry this county for John

There have been no arrests in that case or in the Nov. 21, 1978 attempted assassination of a federal prosecutor heavily involved in drug investigations. The confidential informant, sources told the Express, has not yet told his whole story because he is seeking leniency from government officials. The informant, the newspaper said, has asked for official forgiveness of his own crimes - including a murder conviction - and a cash payment that far exceeds the $125,000 reward offered in the case.

The information thusfar revealed by the informant strengthens the belief of many investigators that Wood's assassination was a hired killing, sources told the newspaper.

But the informant has not yet revealed who was behind the slaying or who actually killed the judge, the sources added.

Cleric, focus of right-to-die case dies

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) - Brother Joseph Charles Fox, the 83-year-old cleric who became the subject of a right-to-die controversy while being kept alive by a respirator, has died at Nassau Hospital.

Hospital spokesman Larry Kennedy said Fox, in a coma for more than three months, died Thursday night, still attached to the respirator.

"His heart stopped beating and the electric cardiogram went flat," Kennedy said.

Fox first suffered cardiac arrest and slipped into a coma while undergoing a hernia operation Oct. 2.

In December, a state Supreme Court justice ruled that Fox could be disconnected from the respirator. In New York, the Supreme Court is a trial court. It was the first such ruling in New York State, and last week the case reached the Appellate Division in Brooklyn. A five-man court had been expected to decided the case within three weeks. Fox was member of the Marianist community which ran Chaminade High School here. The brother taught German for 55 years at the school before his retirment in 1970 and had continued to be the community's gardener. The Marianist community is affiliated with the Society of Mary, a Catholic teaching order with 2,200 members worldwide.

Fox' religious superior and long time friend, the Rev. Philip Eichner, had requested that the respirator be disconnected after being advised by doctors that the cleric was "in a permanent vegetative state."

Eichner's lawyer, William Levy, had argued that "the lower court has properly ruled on the law and the facts as it was adduced at the trial and that Brother Fox is in a comatose state and should be permitted to have the life support system removed."

Over Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon's objections, a state Supreme Court justice in Mineola granted Eichner's request on Dec. 12. Dillon then appealed to the Appellate Division in Brooklyn.

Vietnam War vet won't let death stop him from testifying about Agent Orange's use Hartz doesn't want death to keep him from having his day in court.

So the 33-year-old Vietnam War veteran, who is dying of brain cancer, is prepared to videotape testimony for testimony next week at Philadelhis lawsuit alleging the wartime herbicide Agent Orange was to blame for his illness.

Hartz was one of three veterans who filed the suit against several chemical companies claiming exposure to the herbicide in Vietnam caused their illnesses. The two other plaintiffs already have died of brain tumors, and Hartz is expected to die

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Charlie Court in New York, possibly in several years.

For that reason, U.S. District Judge George C. Pratt ruled that the Chester County man could videotape his phia's federal courthouse. "I feel bad, but I'll be there," Hartz told a reporter Wednesday.

The father of four had returned to his Spring City home this week from Alabama, where he hopes to move. His wife, Judy, agreed with the decision to record the testimony "Our attorneys think it is important to do this because of Charlie's health, had a pretty rough month, I suppose the taping session will be pretty depressing for him."

The chemical companies, which opposed the taking of Hartz' testimony, say there is no link between exposure to Agent Orange and the veterans' illnesses.

Hartz's lawyers argued that the videotape would better serve jurors trying to weigh his story.

"Counsel for the chemical companies felt that taping Charlie would be unnecessarily showy and stagey, and that it would cost too much," said

COPING WITH YOUR INCOME TAX

Energy credits sweeter this year

EDITOR'S NOTE - This is the fifth in a series of - Insulation for floors, ceilings, roofs, hot water can qualify only for $200 in subsequent years. five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income heaters and pipes. Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1979 tax returns.

By GLENN RITT Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Last year, nearly 6 million system more efficient. taxpayers claimed $600 million in tax breaks for such energy conservation schemes as installing storm system that replaces a gas pilot light. windows and building windmills.

With oil prices still climbing and the Middle East a perpetual powder keg, these energy credits appear usage even sweeter this year.

And Congress could expand the conservation incentives by the time taxpayers sit down to prepare their 1979 forms

At the moment, there are two distinct energy breaks:

You can reduce your taxes by up to $300 for household improvements such as replacing your thermostat or weather stripping your doors.

You can also claim a tax credit of up to $2,200 for more ambitious endeavors - installing what the law calls "renewable energy sources." These include devices that transmit some solar, wind, or geothermal energy to heat, cool or provide hot water for a residence

That must be your "principal" residence, the IRS cautions

Household improvements: These include

- Exterior storm, or thermal, window and doors. Caulking or weather stripping for exterior windows and doors.

 A furnace replacement burner that reduces the one time. amount of fuel used. - A device to make flue openings for a heating cooperatives.

An electrical or mechanical furnace ignition

An automatic, energy-saving thermostat. - A meter that displays the cost of energy

A taxpayer can claim 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on these energy-saving moves, or a maximum of $300, the IRS says.

A credit is subtracted from your total taxes, not your total income

Here's an example: Your tax bill is $5,000, but you spent $1,000 to install storm windows last February. You can claim 15 percent of that expense as an energy credit of $150 and pay total taxes of $4,850.

There's a bit of fine print attached to this credit: - You can't claim it for installing carpets, drapes, wood paneling or exterior siding, even if they do help save energy

Nor can you qualify for installing a heat pump, fluorescent lights, wood-or peat-burning stoves, or replacement furnaces and boilers.

The maximum $300 credit applies to the entire period you own your home; not to each year you live there. If you take a $100 credit one year; you driving, on top of record-high gasoline prices.

You must be the first person to use the energy conservation item and it must be expected to last at least three years.

- You cannot claim less than a $10 credit at any

The credits do apply to owners of condominiums or

Renewable energy sources:

This credit is computed by taking 30 percent of the first $2,000 and 20 percent of the next $8,000 spent for solar, geothermal and wind devices.

As with energy conservation expenses, the full $10,000 limit can be spread over several tax years. A new $10,000 limit applies for each principal residence you occupy

These larger projects must be expected to last at least five years.

This credit does not apply to solar devices such as extra-thick walls, windows, skylights, greenhouses and roof overhangs.

Congress is considering expanding these credits to include heat pumps and other solar schemes, the IRS advises

Taxpayers may also be able to take some deductions for home heating expenses.

If such changes are made by Congress, the IRS will distribute a separate form, in addition to the already-published 1040 form. There's one other way the government is inducing energy conservation. No longer can taxpayers deduct state and local gasoline taxes. That will further increase the cost of

TAX TIPS Tax credit available for child care expense

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series of tax tip articles provided by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Over the past years, there has been an increase in the number of working mothers and single-parent families. Consequently, the cost of child care has had a significant bearing on the family budget.

A tax credit is now available to parents who pay someone to watch their children while they work. The child care tax credit enables parents to cut their taxes by $400 for one child and $800 for two or more children.

Computing the credit is not difficult. Figure 20 percent of the first $2,000 spent during the year on child care for one child. For two or more, figure 20 percent of the first $4,000 spent.

The "Child Care Credit," officially titled the Credit for Child and Dependent Care expenses, has two major most claimants parents of small children, the credit is also available to working persons who must pay for care of a disabled spouse or other dependent.

expenses to enable you to be gainfully employed; file a joint return if married; and have made the child care payments to persons other than your spouse or person you can claim as your dependent. You may use payments you made to relatives who are not your dependents, even if they lived in your home.

Taxpayers making child care payments and working part time or attending school full time are also entitled to the child care credit. However, one of the parents must be working at the time.

These and other questions concerning your 1979 tax return will be answered in the Taxpayer Education program. This public service course, sponsored by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Internal Revenue Service will be offered Feb. 5 and 7 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Allison Fine Arts Building at Midland College and at Wilkerson Hall, Room 108, Odessa College.

Museum boards re-elect officers

The governing bodies of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame Thursday re-elected their officers and added one new member to the board of trustees and five to the board of executors.

Maruice Bullock was re-elected chairman of the board of executors and Ted Kerr was re-elected secretary. Stanley Moore, who was vice chairman, was re-nominated for that post, but withdrew his name. That post will be filled by appointment at a later date.

Officers of the board of trustees which serve as officers of the executive committee re-elected are: Russell Ramsland, president; Ford Chapman, first vice president; Richard Donnelly, second vice president; John Younger, secretary; Tom Welch, assistant secretary; Tom D. Fowler, treasurer, and Kenneth M. Jastrow, assistant treasurer.

Homer T. Fort was re-elected executive vice president.

The new member of the board of Trustees is Ted Collins Jr.

The new executors are Earle M. Craig Jr., Roy E. Campbell, Ed H. Blackaller, Robert B. Holt and Herschel O'Kelly of Odessa.

Re-elected to five-year terms on the board of executors are Clyde Burton, Kermit; Bullock, Audra B. Cary, W. H. Collyns, Robert A. Dean, Berte R. Haigh, Charles Klapproth, James H. Mailey, Jack M. Moore, B. Joe Pevehouse, Frank Ratcliff, W. Arthur Yeager, and Joe B. McShane, Monahans.

Re-elected to three-year terms on the board of trustees are H. W. Davidson, Joe Mabee, Vaughn C. Maley, Joseph I. O'Neill Jr., and Ramsland.

The two boards recognized three volunteer workers for outstanding service to the museum during the last year. All three are members of the Santa Rita Club, a volunteer organization that performs many duties for the museum.

An Award For Service was presented to Mrs. Richard Powers, chairman of the Gift Shop Committee. She was recognized for having worked more than 1,000 hours for the museum.

Awards For Service also were presented to Mrs. Jim Pulling and Mrs. T. Scott Hickman. They were recognized for outstanding work in revamping the docent's manual.

In his financial report to the boards, Fort said the museum spent $345,000 in 1979, including $75,200 for capital items and $280,000 for operating expenses.

Fort said the museum's income was $735,400. "Of that amount, about $435,000 was earmarked by donors for the north wing project that is underway or for the endowment fund or other special purposes.

The executive vice president said the museum's operating/capital budget, including the north wing, for 1980 is $305,500, or about 12 percent less than was spent in 1979.

Fort said the museum's endowment fund grew to $498,000 last year. At year-end 1978 it was $273,700.

Ramsland said the north wing building would be finished by August, and that the exhibits possibly could be open for public viewing early in 1981.

A resolution recognizing the late George Abell's outstanding contributions to the museum and his many contributions to the betterment of life in the entire Permian Basin was adopted unaninimously by both boards. Abell was one of the founders of the museum. Ed Rowland, assistant director of the museum, reported that the gift shop was enlarged last May at a cost of $18,000. He added that sales increased over 1978 by 25 percent, with the profits increasing by 59 percent. Rowland said the west wing was rearranged to provide a more logical storyline, and that a taped tour in Spanish was produced with a grant from ARCO Oil & Gas Co.

The assistant director also said new education programs were introduced last year.

NEW YORK (AP) - Texaco Inc., the nation's third-largest oil company, has announced a 1979 earnings gain of 106.4 percent, saying big earnings are necessary for big expenses in energy exploration.

Also Thursday, fifth-ranked Gulf Oil Corp., announced a 68.4 percent earnings increase.

"Whatever we have earned is not unreasonable or obscene," Gulf Chairman Jerry McAfee said. "Because we deal in big numbers, they are subject to misinterpretation."

Return on shareholders' equity for Gulf was 16.3 percent in 1979, while Texaco's was 17.7 percent. The average U.S. manufacturing company earned 16.7 percent on shareholder's equity in the first nine months of 1979 according to the Federal Trade Commission.

The two werelthe latest oil companies to announce profit increases for 1979, a year when the companies say a world oil price explosion resulted in sharply higher profits, with much of the earnings gains coming from oper-

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission said Monday operators reported 27 oil discoveries and 65 gas discoveries during the first half of January.

In the first two weeks of 1978, the commission said, operators reported nine more gas wildcats and seven fewer oil wildcats.

The commission said the oil discoveries included seven in West Central Texas; four each in North Texas and the Midland area; three each in Southeast Texas and the San Angelo area; two in the Refugio area; and one each in South Texas, East Texas and the Lubbock and Panhandle areas.

Gas discoveries included 21 in South Texas: 11 each in West Central Texas and the Refugio area; eight in Southeast Texas; five in North Texas; three in the Panhandle; and one each in East Central Texas; East Texas and the San Antonio, San Angelo, Midland and Lubbock areas.

Operators reported 155 dry holes in the Jan. 1-15 period, the commission said.

Inc. tallied earnings for the quarter ended Dec. 31, the first quarter of its current fiscal year, of $75.9 million, or $2.44 a share, up 49.7 percent from $50.7 million, or $1.33 a share. Revenues for the company, ranked 15th, rose to $1.99 billion from $1.48 billion.

In Cleveland, Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) boosted its stock dividend by 25 percent as analysts predicted that its 1979 earnings will shatter the $1 billion mark. That would more than double the earnings from 1978 for Sohio, which has grown from a regional refining and marketing operation to the nation's 14th largest oil company by riding the Alaska oil boom Sohio, with earnings of $450 million in 1978, reached $735.1 million by the end of 1979's third quarter.

World oil prices nearly doubled in 1979, pulling along with them prices on ohe 30 percent of U.S. oil production not under federal controis.

The controls are due to expire in 1981, but a "windfall" tax agreed upon this week by congressional conferees would collect $227.3 billion of new U.S. oil revenues over the next decade.

Texaco's U.S earnings rose by $257.8 million or 61.9 percent in 1979 to $674.2 million. Overseas earninxs soared by 148.8 percent, or $436 million, to $1.08 billion after "large losses" in foreign refining and marketing operations last year.

Gulf domestic earnings rose by $218 million to $732 million in 1979, a 42 percent gain, and overseas profits rose 117 percent, or $319 million, to $590 million.

Odessa presents new road plans

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Odessa officials Wednesday urged the Highways and Public Transportation Commission to approve Odessa's proposed South Loop, from IH 20 at SH 30 to IH 20 at East Loop 338.

Estimated cost of the project is $3,480,000 as a two-lane, two-way roadway; $6,810,000 as a four-lane, divided facility; or $9,110,000 as a four-lane, divided highway with an interchange at US 385. The length of the project is 13 miles.

Cost of the interchange is $2,300,000, according to Department of Highways and Public Transportation estimates

Ector County Judge Gary L. Watkins assured the commission the county is ready to provide its share of right-of-way costs and funds for utility adjustments.

Reps. Jay Gibson, Odessa, and Dick Slack, Pecos, also appeared to give their endorsements.

Roy Elsner, president of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, said the east, west and north segments of the loop already are in place.

He said Odessa would like a two-land, two-way facility immediately.

Judy Miller, director of planning for Odessa, commented on the city's growth, saying Odessa has just completed a $20.4 million hospital addition and has a new shopping mall opening next month, with indications of general residential growth on the north and east sides of the city.

The only areas for further industrial expansion are on the south side, she reported.

Inside the loop, when it is finished, will be the world's largest inland petrochemical complex and many other diversified industries, she told the commission

She said the loop has been part of Odessa's master plan since 1970.

The commission thanked the group for its presentation and promised to study the request.

Dutch Harbor lure not true says union

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) - The lights of Dutch Harbor cut through the rain and mist of Alaska's remote Aleutian Islands, luring unskilled workers with promises of "big bucks" for working overtime in the nation's richest fishing port.

But labor leaders say the Asian immigrants and others who come to process the $100 million worth of king crab and fish sold on the Dutch Harbor docks run into some of the nation's worst working conditions

Critics say workers are paid wages below the legal minimum, receive inadequate medical care and may lose all their earnings if they do not complete six-month, 7-days-a-week contracts with fish proces-SOTS.

State and federal inspectors say complaints are exaggerated, some of the assailed practices are quite legal and that tough conditions are just a fact of life in the windswept, treeless Aleutians.

"I don't believe anybody in Dutch Harbor is out to violate the law," said Don Wilson, an Alaska Department of Labor investigator.

WILSON SAID THERE ARE no more problems in the fish processing industry than with "migrant laborers picking lettuce" in the Lower 48 United States, and that both involve transient populations and their attendant problems.

"Asians that come here migrate to the seafood industry because they understand it," Wilson said. Why not? I thought we were trying to help the boat people. Why not get people (who are) satisfied to work in those conditions because that's inherent to their way of life? Most Americans won't do that work ... "Face it, why go to an isolated area where the weather is cold and damp - and work in an industry where it's laborious, tedious, wet and smelly -Boars 300-650 lbs., 18.00-20.00, 150-250 is., 25.00. for wages you could make serving in a fast-food joint?" Wilson asked. "They come out to make the overtime, to make those big bucks." But a union official says "that approximately 50 percent of the workers at Dutch Harbor are minorities, such as Filipinos, Vietnamese or South Americans," many of whom speak little or no English and may be completely unfamiliar with U.S. labor laws Larry Cotter, president of the Alaska Council of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, also said workers get no wages until debts against their accounts are paid off. Those debts include the cost of gear such as oil skins and boots, room and board and the $580 roundtrip air fare from Seattle, nearly 2,000 miles away, where most of the workers are hired. "What happens is that cannery workers are held in bondage by the companies because they cannot afford to get back out of the Aleutians," Cotter said.

Like the oil boom towns that sprang up overnight. Dutch Harbor mushroomed as king crab profits soared. In 1976, $48.3 million in crab and other fish products were landed in the Dutch Harbor area. By 1978, the figure was $99.7 million.

The 3,000 workers who flood the area at the peak of each fishing season are paid Alaska's minimum wage, $3.60 per hour. The "big bucks" are made working days of 12 and 18 hours.

Scott McKinney, 20, and Jeff Pitts, 24, both of Seattle, were working 17-hour days on a crab processing boat owned by Trident Seafoods of Seat-

They said when they complained that their wages were averaging below minimum, Capt. Charles Bundrant handed them survival suits and told them to jump into 20-foot seas to be picked up by another boat and taken back to shore.

BUNDRANT, WHO SAID the two were paid "as per agreement," explained that jumping from the boat is normal procedure for transfer to another vessel in rough waters, and that he has done so many times himself.

Rod Andersen of Burley, Idaho, filed an affidavit with the ILWU in Juneau claiming that he left Dutch Harbor seeking medical care when crab guts and hot water splashed into his eyes. When he tried to claim back wages from the Seattle firm which hired him, he was told he had nothing coming because he had quit.

One point of contention is Alaska's return transportation law, which requires that an employee hired out of state be returned to the place he was hired. It is a violation of that law if an employer subtracts the cost of the employee's air ticket from his pay, causing that amount to drop below the minimum wage.
