Seizure may have gripped fatal pickup's driver

MONAHANS, Texas (AP) — Investigators are considering the possibility that the 16-year-old driver of a pickup truck may have blacked out just before the vehicle swerved into a crowd of young girls, killing two and injuring 11 others.

"It was possible he had some kind of seizure and blacked out at the wheel," said Monahans police Sgt. Jim Vaughan, who spoke to the driver shortly after the noon recess accident. "He told us he had a history of some

The driver, identified as Monahans high school student Israel Talavera, was hospitalized, Vaughan said. The victims were identified as Patricia Odell and Shawna Richardson, both 13-year-old students at Monahans Junior High School. The truck went into a group of girls standing on the curbside and just scattered girls everywhere," Vaughan said. Witnesses told him the truck was travelling between 50 and 55 m.p.h when it went out of control, clipped a telephone pole and rammed into the crowd.

Witnesses said several students saw the careening truck and were able to run to safety while others shoved their friends out of the vehicle's path. "There was kids laying everywhere and people were crying and screaming," said Lowell Richey, a high school student who stopped to help after the accident. "Pat was bleeding real bad and the other girl was thrown onto the top of a bus nearby. The injured girls were transported to a Monahans hospital in ambulances, fire department vehicles and the police chief's private car, Vaughan said. Vaughan said late Thursday the driver had not been arrested and investigators were discussing the possibility of charges with the Ward

"It's too early to tell now," he said. "It may be possible that the kid did black out.'

Monahans Junior High School principal Francis Apple was hardly able to discuss the accident.

"Both girls were top students," he said. "We had a terrible afternoon. We had 13 kids down. It's tragic when anyone dies, but when they are that young he said, his voice breaking.

"It was just a real tragedy and so sad," said Lathan Walker, Superintendant of the Monahans-Wickett-Pyote Independent School district.

Dr. James Cam of Ward Memorial Hospital said both victims had "severe head injuries," and the rest of the injuries were confined to "bone fractures, lacerations and soft tissue injuries (bruises).

"Except for those two girls, none of the others were dangerously injured.

OPEC panel approves quarterly hike plan

LONDON (AP) — The six-member long-term strategy committee of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries today approved a plan for quarterly oil price hikes pegged to currency-market fluctuations, inflation and economic growth in the Kuwaiti Oil Minister Ali Khalifa Al-Sabah said the panel's recommendation would be presented to an "extraordinary" meeting of oil ministers from all 13 OPEC nations before June.

OPEC's ministers were unable to resolve their differences over prices at their last meeting, held in Caracas, Venezuela, in December. Much of the disagreement centered around charges that members tack on to the traditional OPEC base price: the price of light crude oil from Saudi Arabia

The price spiral followed the sevenweek shutdown of Iran's oil industry last winter during the country's revolution. Since the shutdown, consuming countries have built up an oil stockpile of 5 billion barrels, 1 billion barrels above normal, Calderon estimated.

In another matter, the strategy panel agreed to recommend that OPEC begin talks with consuming nations on technology exchanges and on searching for more oil and for alternative energy sources.

Iranian differences cloud fate of embassy hostages

President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr's ability to persuade the militants to give up the U.S. hostages in Tehran has been thrown into doubt after the captors got support from Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and renewed their demand for the return of the Diplomatic sources at the United 37 years in power. Nations said the stand taken by the militants Thursday made it clear Bani-Sadr needed more time to marshal support from the various power groups in Iran, and that this was delaying sending the five-member U.N. investigating commission to Tehran.

Iranian Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said the panel might not arrive in Tehran until early next week. The group originally was to arrive on Wednesday, but U.N. Secre-tary-General Kurt Waldheim postponed the trip and the panel's cochairman flew from Switzerland to New York to meet Waldheim today.

The co-chairman, U.N. Big Spring man arrested here in murder case

Midland police early this morning arrested a 19-year-old Big Spring resident wanted in Big Spring in connection with a Thursday night murder.

A spokesman at the Big Spring Police Department said the murder victim, 19-year-old Dean Mojica of Big Spring, had been stabbed several times and apparently had been run over. The body was found about 10: 30 p.m. Thursday on an unused road in north Big Spring.

There is no indication of what led to the killing, according to Big Spring police. Mojica and another man apparently met at a "northside beer joint" Thursday night and then left together. There was no argument at

"I don't know what transpired after they left there together," the Big-Spring spokesman said.

At 12:54 a.m. today, Midland police officers were alerted to watch for the man, who was awaiting trial for assault at the time of the killing and who was carrying a knife and possibly a"

Approximately two to five minutes after the message had been put on the air, a Midland officer entering Big Spring Street from Air Park Lane noticed a car facing north stopped on the east side of Big Spring Street.

At the time, according to the officer, the car spun around, raising a cloud of dust and headed south on Big Spring. Near Oak Street, the pursuing officer verified that the car matched the description given by Big Spring police. The officer called for backup and continued following the car.

The car stopped at a red light at the Cuthbert Street intersection, and several patrol units arrived. When the light turned green and the vehicle cleared the intersection, police pulled the car over and took the man into

One of the officers reported he noticed blood on the right front tire, hubcap and the front license tag.

Big Spring authorities were notified and picked up the man early this morning.

Permian Airways flights continue

The Midland-based Permian Airways' daily scheduled flights to Big Spring have not been terminated, contrary to earlier reports, according to a spokesman for the airways.

A report, which the airways termed "totally false," indicated that Permain would discontinue its service to Big Spring due to lack of an on-site certified weather observer. Federal Aviation Administration regulations prohibit an airliner from landing during inclement weather when instrument-landing approaches are required without a certified weather observer to communicate to the pilot

"Our only problem has been the lack of a weather station (observer),' the Permian spokesman said, and noted that "we are in the process of taking care of that, and it is in the process of being solved.

"Our service to Big Spring is very, very popular," the spokesman said. John Andrews, Permian president, was out of town and was not available for comment.

Permian has been providing daily services from Big Spring to Dallas, Midland and elsewhere since Dec. 10. At present, Permian provides scheduled flights in its nine-passenger airplanes to Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock, Midland, San Angelo, San Antonio, Big Spring, Dallas, and Hobbs, Ruidoso, Carlsbad, Roswell, N.M., and Oklahoma City.

MEXICO CITY (AP) - Mexico's oil riches are tral America and the Caribbean.

President Jose Lopez Portillo has been welcomed warmly and has been building solid alliances throughout the area with open-ended oil contracts, technical assistance and favorable loan terms.

BUT MEXICO also is using its new economic clout to reverse a longstanding non-interventionist policy.

"It has only been very recently that we started a more active foreign policy to affect changes that we could not do from inside the country, Lopez Portillo told his foreign service recently.

His activist stance for Mexico has not conjured up images of the imperialist "colossus of the north," Central America's traditional viewal view of Mexico since the 1820s when it tried to absorb the entire region after winning independence from Spain. Instead, his economic and diplomatic gestures are seen as stablizing influences for the area's trouble spots.

FOR COSTA RICA, a new oil contract means 30 to 50 percent of its oil needs will be met by Mexico. In 1979, Costa Rica's gasoline prices soared from $1 to more than $3 a gallon after it was forced to buy oil from Venezuela, its main source, on the expensive spot oil market. Although Mexico's current selling price of $32 a barrel for oil is the same as Costa Rica paid last summer, the long-term contract allows the government to plan for increases rather than being forced to spend its foreign currency reserves on the spot mar-

President Rodrigo Carazo of Costa Rica praised Lopez Portillo for working out the new oil deal and said his aid was "incalculable."

JAMAICA SIGNED 10,000-barrel-a-day oil agreement last month that Prime Minister Michael Manley said would meet "most of" his country's oil needs. But Mexico also agreed to give preference to Jamaican bauxite, from which aluminum is obtained, on the world market.

Lopez Portillo cut diplomatic ties with Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza two months before he was toppled by the Sandinista National Liberation Front last July. The move, one of the first departures from Mexico's non-interventionist policy, was a severe blow to Somoza and won prestige for Mexico in Latin America.

FOLLOWING THE Sandinista victory, Mexico canceled a $17 million debt, donated a $4 mil-lion fertilizer plant, provided dozens of doctors and tons of medicines to Nicaragua.

In a 7,500-barrel-a-day oil deal, completed in January, Mexico also provided oil and geothermal exploration equipment and experts to Nic-

On a visit to Nicaragua in January, Lopez Portillo agreed to explore importing more Nicaraguan products.

MEXICO'S OIL revenues in 1979 totalled nearly $4 billion, up from $1.8 billion in 1978. Although experts say much

Tito doctors say they're using artificial kidney

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - President Josip Broz Tito's doctors said today that an artificial kidney machine was being used to keep Yugoslavia's 87-year-old leader alive.

Owing to the weakened function of the kidneys, chemodialysis has been successfully implemented in the past few days," the medical bulletin said. "Other intensive measures of treatment are being applied as well. The general state of health of President Josip Broz Tito is without substantial change.

Tito's left leg was amputated Jan. 20 in an effort to resolve a circulation blockage. After what appeared to be a robust early recovery from the operation, he developed digestive, kidney and heart problems and has been

Up to now there had been speculation, but no official confirmation, a dialysis machine was being used.

As a result of Tito's illness, the No. 2 man in the Yugoslav hierarchy, Lazar. Kolisevski, has been authorized by the president to conduct routine business on his own with foreign governments, officials said. It was the first time Kolisevski had assumed such authority while Tito was still in the country. The disclosure was widely seen as a Yugoslav effort to demonstrate the collective leadership apparatus can function smoothly without the president if necessary. A government spokesman said Thursday that Tito's condition had become so grave he could not even sign messages he had earlier approved for transmission to foreign leaders.

Spokesman Mirko Kalezic told the national news agency Tanjug that Kolisevski, who is vice president of the nine-man collective state presidency, had relayed messages of his own along with some from Tito to the ambassadors of the United States, the Soviet Union, Cuba and Guinea.

Tanjug said the Tito messages expressed the Yugoslav leaders' concern about world problems and the decline of detente. Their wording reflected official Yugoslav concern over the Soviet intervention of Afghanistan and East-West tensions over European arms arrangements, it said without elaboration Another message from Tito to Indian leader Indira Gandhi was to be delivered by Yugoslav Foreign Minister Josip Vrhovec on a visit to her country. But his trip to India and three other Asian countries was canceled last week because of Tito's illness and no new date for the trip has been

Madame Ho dies, aged 75

PEKING (AP) - Ho Lien-chih, widow of Communist Party "elder statesman" Tung Pi-wu, has died of liver cancer in Peking, the People's Daily reported today. She was 75.

It said Madame Ho, who joined the Communist Party in 1933 and had been a guerrilla leader, died Feb. 7 and was honored at a memorial service Thursday at Peking's Babaoshan

The paper said she had been Tung's secretary and cared for him meticulously. She also had criticized the Communist Party radicals who held power from 1966 until their arrest in 1976, it said.

Tung, who died in 1975 at the age of 89, was one of the party's founders and a party vice chairman, and served as chief justice of the supreme court. He was not among the veterans purged by the radicals.

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - Bluechip stocks took a steep drop today in selling blamed on concern over inflation and credit conditions.

Trading was active. Analysts said the market was unsettled by fears that the nation would soon have to adopt some stern measures to try to control inflation.

In a speech that received considerable attention on Wall Street, money-market expert Henry Kaufman of the firm of Salomon Brothers called on the government to declare a national emergency to deal with inflation.

More bad news is expected from Washington Friday in the monthly report on the consumer price index.

Brokers said investors were also disappointed that American Telephone & Telegraph decided Wednesday against any dividend increase. AT&T directors had voted 10 cents a share increases in the payout at their February meetings in each of the past four years.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 18.34 to 868.52, its largest loss since it tumbled 26.45 points last Declines outnumbered advances by more than a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume totaled 51.53 million shares, against 44.34 million the day before. The NYSE's composite index lost .58 to 66.03. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 2.57 at 297.52.

Carrillo's ranch to be city park

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) - The breeze whistles ghost-like through the wisteria and Spanish daggers. Coyotes howl at night, and rattlesnakes twist across the ground like they own it, as they did before there was a Cisco Kid.

Cactus, brush and mud caked hard as rock stretch as far as an eye can see - it's three miles to the nearest ranch, five to the Pacific and 30 to San Diego. The only way out is a dirt road that winds skyward for a mile and washes out with every rain.

A CROSS ON THE HIGHEST hill stands where actor Leo Carrillo, whose hideaway this was, buried Conquistador, the Palomino horse he rode in the 1950s television series "The Cisco Kid."

Carrillo, who had been the original Cisco in the movies, played the faithful sidekick, Pancho, to Duncan Renaldo's Cisco on television.

Carrillo loved the place, which he called Rancho Los Quiotes, "Ranch of the Spanish Daggers," and sometimes jokingly Pancho's Retreat. Along the edge ran Camino Real, path of the first Spanish priests and soldiers with whom Carrillo's great-great-grandfather rode in 1769.

When Carrillo died in 1961 at the age of 81, his will left the estate to the public. His only child, an adopted daughter named Marie Antoinette, lived there until she died in 1978.

NOW THE CITY OF CARLSBAD looks after the buildings and 10 acres of land with plans to restore the ranch and create an early-California park.

When Keith Beverly, a 27-year-old employee of the city parks department with a degree in natural resources management, moved in a year ago to guard and restore the ranch, the place was abandoned and in disrepair.

"I'd listen for the cracks in the walls, it was so lonely," Beverly recalled of the first six weeks while he fixed the place up so his family could move in. The Beverlys' son, Kevin, was 3 when they moved in. And Anne Beverly, who was pregnant, was frightened by the ghostlike atmosphere and isolation - Carrillo had never even installed a telephone.

BEVERLY SAID THE BREEZES seemed to carry echoes of the mariachi bands Carrillo hired for his weekend parties with Clark Gable, Carole Lombard, the Beerys, Andy Devine, Jack Oakie, Deanna Durbin and, of course, Renaldo.

"I told her it was a unique experience, the chance of a lifetime," Beverly remembered telling his

"But I'd like it the rest of my life," said Beverly. Carrillo started buying land for his ranch in 1935 Eventually he amassed 1,707 acres.

HE HIRED MEXICAN LABORERS and carei supervised the building of sturdy adobes. The r ranchhouse has two huge oval fireplaces in N, 20-by-40-foot living room and one in each of EN bedrooms, separated from each other by a archway over a breezeway and courtyard c

The ceilings were held up with the rough with red tile on the roofs of all five bui 12-inch Mexican tile on the floors.

The city is expected to claim another se of land to add to the 10 it now has. The remainder of the estate is in the hands of private developers.

The Beverlys, who grew up in Eastern cities as children of Marine Corps colonels, had rented a home in San Diego before moving here. It may be years before Anne Beverly can buy the "normal family home" she wants.

BUT THE RENT HERE is only $1 a year, and Beverly is paid his regular salary for what has become a 24-hour job, 7-day job. At least three times a week, Anne Beverly drives the six miles into Carlsbad with daughter Kate, now 6 months old. Kevin goes there for nursery school "so he can get some exposure to people his own age," his mother said. The Beverlys hope to get a horse. Once Carrillo kept six horses on the place.

"It's an unbelievable place for a boy to grow up if he's in Southern California in 1980," Beverly said. He nodded toward his wife and added: "I think down deep she likes it, too."

Final 'windfall' roadblock could be eliminated today

WASHINGTON (AP) - How to help lower-income Americans cope with energy prices is the last issue blocking final action by congressional conferees on a "windfall" tax on the oil industry.

The roadblock could be removed today, clearing the way for a final vote in the House and Senate that would send the tax bill to President Carter for his signature in mid-

The Senate-House conference committee came within a whisker of final agreement Thursday, but deliberations over the energy-aid questions broke down after Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., a key House delegate, left the meeting.

President Carter's energy program calls for federal assistance to help lower-income families pay the rising fuel costs that will result in part from his decision to end price controls on U.S. crude oil. The conferees must decide two big questions on such assistance: -How should more than $3 billion a year for poor Americans - those generally with annual incomes under $10,000 — be distributed after 1981? -What, if any, program should be created for 1981 and 1982 to help working families with incomes up to $22,000, who generally do not qualify for welfare? On the first question, House members want to use the 1981 formula which channels money through the welfare system - for all future years. Senators insist no such action be taken until after the program has had a chance oo work for several

DRILLING REPORT

On the second matter, House conferees rejected a Senate plan for a $40-3-year tax credit — subtracted for every household, regardless of energy costs. The maximum credit would have gone to those earning up to $20,000 and would have phased out at $22,000.

The tax credit proposal, opposed by the Carter administration, would amount to an across-the-board tax cut for any household with income under $22,000 a year.

Still to be considered is another option, weighted toward households that use heating oil. It would allow at ax credit of up to $200 a year for families carning up to $200,000 with the credit phasing out at $22,000. The size of the credit would depend on heating-oil expenditures.

The panel already has agreed that $70 illion — 25 percent of the estimated $227.3 billion the "windfall" tax will produce in the 1980S — should be set aside to help lower-income families cope with rising fuel costs. The question is how to allocate it.

Sixty percent of the total tax, or $136 billion, would be earmarked tentatively for income-tax reductions. The remainder would finance development of new energy sources, improve the transportation system and provide incentives for conservation. Before hitting the roadblock on the
