Four young children die in apartment fire

By KAY CRITES Staff Writer

The blackened shells of three lowrent apartments stand as mute testimony to the intensity of a fire Monday evening that killed four young chil-

After the fire was extinguished, the bodies of 8-month-old Jennifer Bennett, 3-year-old Rudy Bennett Jr. and 4-year-old twins Noell and Joel Bennett were discovered huddled by a door that would have led them to safety. They were the children of Yolanda and Rudy Bennett.

The fire broke out at Tall City Apartments about 6:48 p.m. Cause has not been determined.

was unaware of what was happening until she heard the father yelling.

"I didn't even know what happened until I heard the father hollering, and I jumped up because I thought it was a (family) disturbance. It wasn't until I got to my door and felt the heat that I knew it was burning," she said. "It was burning real intense.'

The flames from the fire melted the apartments' plumbing, and, once the fire was out, water was shut off to the apartment complex. Residents who remained in their apartments after the fire had only a trickle when they turned on the faucets.

"All I could hear," said Mrs. Vezeau, "was him (Rudy Bennett) hollering. He kept hollering for his wife.

According to reports, the parents were not at home when the fire broke out, but were nearby.

Velton Ackree, son of the apartment manager, said the mother told him she had been visiting a sister in the area when she heard a pop and her apartment was on fire.

The manager, Lewis Ackree, and his son left the apartment complex to have supper about 10 minutes before the fire broke out. "We didn't even know it had happened until we pulled back in just a few minutes ago," Ackree said Monday night. By that time the fire was already out.

Mrs. Louis Vezeau, who lives in apartments 10 and 11 across from the burned row of apartments, said she He asked me, 'Do you know where my

"He kicked one door open, and a neighbor next door (to the Vezeaus) tried to get in to get the kids. He came over and said 'give me a blanket,' and I wet a blanket for him. But it was just unsuccessful.

Mrs. Vezeau identified the neighbor who tried to rescue the children as Victor Ayers.

'Actually," she said, "we didn't realize anyone was home because we had seen them leave once this afternoon. We didn't even know anyone was at home until he started hollering for his wife, and she started yelling something about 'My kids, my kids

"But there was just not any way in the world they could have got in there and got to them," said Mrs. Vezeau. "It had to have burned real quick. They found them right there at the front door, but that door must have been locked or something because those two little twins should have been able to get out of there.

"The way those flames were going those poor things didn't have a chance Of the four rooms damaged, No. 18 was a storeroom. It was destroyed. Apartments 19 and 20 were joined and occupied by the Bennett family. They also are beyond repair, according to reports. Also damaged was apartment No. 21. The unidentified occupant of No. 21 and 22 spent Monday night at the Midland Hilton, according to a police officer at the scene Monday night.

Ackree said he had talked to the apartment owner, who is from out of town and planned to fly in to Midland Wednesday. According to the description given by telephone, Ackree said the unidentified owner planned to level the block of apartments containing the burned rooms.

"And those were the nicest apartments I had," said Ackree.

Ackree also said the Bennetts used to live in the other block - parallel to those that burned — but moved about

Polish court stalls farm union debate

WARSAW, Poland (AP) - The Polish Supreme Court today adjourned deliberations on the application of private farmers to form an independent union, temporarily defusing the threat of a new strike.

Presiding Judge Antoni Filcek said the date for the next session would be announced later. A ruling on the farmers' appeal of a lower court rejection of their application had been expected today.

Court sources said the decision to adjourn was partly to give the panel time to obtain official Polish translations of several international labor conventions. But they gave no further

Despite the adjournment, lawyers for the farmers said they were optimistic the court would eventually rule in their favor.

Between 800 and 1,000 farmers were on hand outside the downtown Warsaw court building when the high court began its session.

Many of those in the crowd carried small placards from the independent trade union, Solidarity, pledging support for the farmers. The crowd before the court building was smaller than expected. About 10 traffic policemen were on duty in the area, along with several others checking court access permits.

Thousands of farmers from Poland's 49 provinces converged on the capital Monday as 80 leaders of their would-be Independent Trade Union of Farmers met in secret to map strategy in the event their application was rejected.

Sources said that among the options was a farm strike that could lead to withholding of meat, eggs, milk and other food from state-run markets, a move that would further aggravate the nation's food shortage.

The threat of a farm strike comes at a time when meat and other food items are already in short supply, prompting the government to impose meat rationing for the first time since the end of World War II and to announce further rationing beginning in February

In addition, it would heighten tensions in Poland, beset by labor unrest that spawned Solidarity, the nation's largest independent trade union organization, and a government-union possible Soviet military intervention.

The Supreme Court is deliberating the farmers' appeal of a lower court ruling in October that they could not organize their own union because they are self-employed. Earlier this month, government sources said the court might not be able to approve the union unitl a law is passed declaring farmers to be workers.

The farm group claims the loyalty of almost a third of Poland's 3.5 million private farmers, and at an earlier organizational meeting asserted that the nation's 1.1 million workers on state-run farms should be allowed to

Unlike other nations in the Soviet bloc, Poland is unique in that most of its agriculture is in the hands of private farmers who own 80 percent of the land and produce three-fourths of the nation's food. Most agriculture in other communist countries is collecti-

The farmers maintain they are in effect employees of the national economy since they sell their products through state marketing outlets and therefore entitled to the protection of a trade union.

price subsidies in July sent prices soaring and touched off nationwide strikes that resulted in the formation of trade unions independent of government control, an unprecedented event in the Soviet bloc.

U.S. ready to send reply to Iran

TON (AP) - The tration, vowing Carter adminisnot to pay a penny before all 52 hostages are freed, is readying a formal reply to Iran's latest blueprint for releasing its American cap-

Assistant Secretary of State Harold H. Saunders, a key member of the U.S. negotiating team, said Monday night the message probably would be turned over to Algerian go-betweens at a windup session of talks here today

Saunders refused to elaborate on the U.S. response, although he indicated that no breakthrough is imminent in the eight-week-old, indirect negotiations with Iran.

U.S. officials insisted Monday the United States will not accede to Iran's latest demand for $24 billion in guarantees

In Iran, Behzad Nabavi, head of Iran's hostage negotiations team, said today that his government is willing to listen to any U.S. counterproposal which would be acceptable to the Algerian government and meet the four conditions Iran set for release of the hostages.

"As I said before, as far as we have concluded there is no other way for guaranteeing the undertak-ings of Americans," Nabavi told reporters at a news conference, adding that if no solution were found the hostages would be tried.

Nabavi also said he does not take seriously President-elect Ronald Reagan's description of the hostagetaking as a form of kidnapping.

I personally consider these threats as bluffs especially on the part of the new U.S. administration which wants to gain prestige by frightening revolutionaries of the world," Nabavi said. 'We consider the statements of Mr. Reagan as those of one who still thinks he is playing in a Western Reagan said Monday he had no regrets about his characterization of the Iranian captors a day earlier as 'barbarians," a description that was denounced by the speaker of Iran's Parliament, Hashemi Rafsanjani.

"What have they got to be angry about?" Reagan asked reporters in Los Angeles. "They're the ones who did the kidnapping Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, who defied a presidential ban on travel to Iran when he went to Tehran last June, said today that the president-elect's comments were immature and saber-rattling.

You rarely make it easier to deal with people when you call them 'criminals' and 'barbarians'. We ought to try to get together," Clark said in an interview on NBC-TV's 'Today'' show from New York.

'The idea that you can bully the Iranians into submission after all they've endured is psychologically unsound. Their whole being depends historically and psychologically on resistance and defiance, and you simply make it much more difficult when you engage in emotional name-calling," Clark said

In Washington, State Department spokesman John H. Trattner said Monday that the United States sees no need to offer guarantees beyond President Carter's promise.

'The word of the president of the United States is the highest authority that this country can offer," Trattner

But another official, who asked not to be identified, said the Tehran regime could get several billion dollars in assets immediately if the hostages are released. The official said unfrozen Iranian assets could be put into an escrow account under a neutral country's control. Iran would receive the money simultaneous with the freeing of the hostages, now in their 423rd day of captivity

"However," he said, "they are not going to get a penny until the Americans are out - all 52 of

Iran is insisting the money be deposited in the Algerian Central Bank as a guarantee that Iranian assets held in western banks before the U.S. Embassy takeover on Nov. 4,

1979, will be returned

Carter has called those terms unreasonable and said they are beyond his authority to implement. Vice President Walter F. Mondale said Monday he thought the Iranians might be marking time in hopes of discovering where Reagan stands

Friends line up to laud Linebarger

By ED TODD Staff Writer

"Old Elmo's a prince," said Ed Wilson, who numbers himself among the fans and friends of retiring Midland County Tax Assessor-Collector Elmo Linebarger. "He's a square shooter.

More than not, Wilson's comments typified verbal laurels cast Linebarger's way on Monday, when his old office staff threw a "Farewell to Mr. Mo" reception in the Midland Center.

'He's got a lot of friends," said Wilson, who has known Linebarger since 1949. "He's that kind (of fellow)."

The day marked the nearing of the end of Linebarger's days as the county tax assessor-collector. Linebarger, 69, who has held the job since 1965, is retiring and is being succeeded by his chief deputy, Frances Shuffield, who has spent 13 years in Linebarger's office and has chalked up 25 years in the tax field in Austin and Midland.

Ms. Shuffield was among the 146 friends of Mr. Mo who showed up and signed the register to honor the tax man. She'll be sworn in next Monday as Linebarger's successor.

"She'll make a good one," surmised Wilson, a retired crude-oil buyer who briefly worked for Linebarger to help him out of a jam a few years

Berte Haigh never worked for Linebarger, but said he felt secure in knowing that Mr. Mo was running the tax office.

"I have been intensely satisfied in knowing that Linebarger was down here," said Haigh, 90, former geologist in charge of University Lands. Rusty Gifford, who for years worked in the tax field for the city of

Chamber supports hospital in 'cold war'

By LANA CUNNINGHAM Staff Writer

The cold word war between Midland and Odessa escalated Monday as Midland Memorial Hospital solicited support from the Chamber of Commerce here in fighting the neighboring city's application for a cancer treatment machine.

The Midland chamber, in its monthly session, voted to support the hospital in its endeavors to keep the 6 MEV linear accelerator machine out of Odessa Medical Center. And during the session with Ray Branson, MMH administrator, some Midland chamber directors accused Odessa of trying to undermine Midland's Allison Permian Basin Cancer Therapy Cen-

Branson, appearing with John Grimland and Pat Estes of the hospital boards, explained that planning law requires the hospital to obtain approval from planning boards for any major project. Since the Allison Center was approved on a regional basis, its services are not to be duplicated by any other hospital in the 17-county area.

Odessa Medical Center, however, submitted an application to the regional Projects Review Committee to install a 6 MEV linear accelerator to replace its aging cobalt machine.

"WE GOT A CALL one day asking us to visit the Odessa hospital. We were informed that Odessa had an application in to duplicate a piece of equipment that we will have in the Allison Center," said Branson. "That 6 MEV linear accelerator is the workhorse of our unit. We expect it will do about 80 percent of the work we plan on doing.

Midland opposed Odessa's application at the committee hearing, and the panel voted not to recommend its approval, related Branson.

When the application went up to the next rung on the ladder, the Health Systems Agency-12 board, the vote was 11 to 8 to allow Odessa to have the machine

Now the fight goes to Austin before the state Health Facilities Commission. If it is approved there, MMH will take the case to district court, said Branson

"We want to make as strong a case as possible against Odessa's application," said the administrator in asking for the chamber's help. "This is a community concern.' By "community concern," Branson explained the cost of operating the Allison Center will be borne by Midland. Success of the center depends upon the number of patients who utilize it. If Odessa gets the 6 MEV machine, it could take a lot of business away from Midland and the taxpayers here will pay for it.

WE THINK THIS (Odessa's application) is a direct duplication of services and this is prohibited by law," said Branson. However, Odessa is trying to push through the application on the basis it is simply an upgrading of services, he added.

Bill Collyns of the chamber re-marked, "I've been fighting this same thing for 40 years. They've outdone us on many occasions. We need to use every bit of political influence we can to fight Odessa. We should make this an all-out community ef-Grimland agreed, saying that "it's time for Midland to start being more assertive rather than sit back and depend upon attorneys.

After a comment from one director that Midland is usually accused of not wanting to cooperate with Odessa, thus continuing the decades-long feud, director Reagan Legg remarked, "There's no way to work with Odessa unless there's about 18

FBI vendetta against Dallas police alleged

DALLAS (AP) - Former FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, incensed over insinuations of an agency coverup, directed a vendetta against the Dallas Police Department after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, a Dallas newspaper said

The Dallas Morning News quoted FBI documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act as saying Hoover ordered his agents to stop teaching at the Dallas Police Academy and refused to invite Dallas officers to the FBI National Academy in Washington for more than two years after the assassination. But only months after Police Chief Jesse Curry resigned in 1966, the newspaper said, FBI agents returned to the Dallas academy and a Dallas officer was invited to the FBI school. Curry said his blood pressure increased as a result of "the continued pressures and tensions of the office" when he resigned. He died of heart problems last June 22.

In 1964 and 1965 Hoover instructed Dallas FBI agent-in-charge J. Gordon Shanklin to tell Curry his agents "just don't have the manpower to take on additional training commitments at this time," the News quoted FBI documents as saying.

The boycott was triggered by a statement attributed to FBI agent James P. Hosty Jr. by Dallas police Lt. Jack Revill the day of the assassination, FBI memos show.

Revill, now assistant chief, said at the time that Hosty told him the FBI knew before the assassination that Lee Harvey Oswald was "capable of committing the assassination of President Kennedy." Hosty, however, denied making the statement. The next day, Curry said on television the FBI wanted to cover up information that it was aware of Oswald's presence in Dallas and had not notified police. He retracted the statement after Shanklin challenged him to prove it.

Later in 1964, Curry wrote Shanklin a letter stating that no FBI source 'ever asked me to 'cover up' the fact that the FBI knew Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas" before the assas-

On April 28, however, Hoover wrote Shanklin that he "and personnel of your office are to deal at arm's length with Dallas Police Department personnel. We will not extend training assistance, nor will we accept candidates from that department to the (FBI) National Academy.'

On Jan. 19, 1966, Hoover wrote Shanklin, Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson visited his office and "asked to discuss the serious breach between this bureau and the Dallas Police Department, if one exists."

"I informed Mayor Jonsson that a breach in relations with Chief of Police Curry and his department does exist," Hoover wrote. "I made it perfectly clear actions and statements by Chief Curry and some of his personnel with respect to the bureau clearly indicated they are incompetent, blabbermouths and, in some instances, Hoover said Jonsson assured him he would "lay down certain guidelines under which Curry will be expected to operate," including "orders that Curry shall be certain of his facts in any stat%meots made, establish tight discipline in his department and be circumspect in his remarks to the

He said training assistance would resume if the demands were met within two weeks. Jonsson said recently he recalls meeting with Hoover, but he did not remember "any comment about Curry or the Dallas Police Department. When it was announced that Charles Batchelor would replace Curry, Shanklin wrote Hoover that Batchelor "has been very cooperative with the bureau and he was not involved in any of the controversy arising over the assassination. Hoover responded that if Batchelor 'runs the Dallas Police Department with a firm hand, you may resume normal cooperative relations with that department. This includes the extending of training assistance locally, and the nomination of qualified candidates to future sessions of the FBI National Academy."

If Midland loses this battle to Odessa in Austin, Branson said he fears that MMH will be denied its future application to upgrade the CAT scanner to a full-body machine. Currently, it is a brain scan machine.

'It will only cost $100 to upgrade it to a full-body machine, but we can't do it without approval. It's called a new service and Odessa has a fullbody CAT scanner. Our emergency room serves 25,000 to 30,000 persons and that's enough to support a full CAT scanner," said Branson Jastrow explained the club needs "$35,000 from the community. They've (students) done the work in their own backyard:

The chamber heard a report from Bill Lancaster of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation dealing with the proposed Loop 250 and a Spur 217.

The county will be asking the highway department in Austin to extend Loop 250 south to connect with FM 308, said Lancaster.

The highway department is having problems getting Spur 217 built, said ancaster. Plans call for it to be a 4-mile road that connects into Midland Regional Airport from the north. Lancaster said Midland County Commissioners have refused to purchase rights of way — with the state paying 90 percent of that cost — and putting in curb and gutter. The highway department already has the money to put in the road and the state is waiting on the county The city has built a road within the airport to connect with the spur, and Lancaster said city officials feel that road will become one of the important entrances to the airport. Increased industrialization around the airport also calls for the spur that will divert traffic north, instead of all of it going onto Highway 80, according to Lan-

When the George R. Brown Challenge Program of contributions to Rice was begun some years ago, Moore, as a member of the Rice board of governors, immediately pledged 10 percent of the board's total commitment and paid $750,000 in advance.

Elmo Linebarger, the retiring Midland County tax assessor-collector, foresees himself on the Llano River fishing and enjoying his retirement years. Friends line up to laud Linebarger

Midland, said Linebarger is "one of the best qualified tax men in the state of Texas:

Over the years, Linebarger developed the reputation of bringing in 'just enough money to pay the bills," noted Gifford, "because if they (governmental budget makers) get more than that, they'll spend it.' Ed "Big Ed" Darnell, who was the Midland County sheriff for 36 years.

dropped by to salute his buddy. He and I have been great friends for many years," Darnell said of Linebarger. "He used to cut meat and I used to peddle bread" in Midland back in the 1930s and early 1940s. "I ran a bread wagon, and he sold meat. That was many years ago, when we were buttons

Bill Shaner, chairman of the Midland County Republican Party, char acterized Linebarger as "a Republican pioneer" in the county.

"He's done a great and valuable yeoman's job," said Shaner. "We're going to be proud of his successor, but we hate to see Elmo retire." Ms. huffield was elected under the Grand Old Party's banner

Euna Fay Rasure, one of Linebarger's clerks, simply described the tax man as a "good boss. We're just going to miss him. Ava Lee Fultz, a court bailiff who once worked in the tax office, said Linebarger was "just great." Dee Thompson suggested that Linebarger was good at more things than just bringing in the tax revenue and appraising property.

'He made the best venison chili I ever ate," said Ms. Thompson, the Midland County treasurer. "He was pleasant to work for," said County Auditor Johnnie Thompson. "He was always very agreeable. He don't pull no punches."

This was Mr. Mo's day. He could do no wrong. "He's what you would call a tax assessor's tax assessor," said Midland County Commmissioner Win Brown.

Brown's wife, Lou, said Linebarger "just forgot party lines and put his shoulder to the wheel. Everybody just loved him for it. Bill Collyns, editor emeritus of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, said he "dealt with Mr. Linebarger when he was a butcher and (later) a tax man. I've thought a lot of Elmo. I commend him for the work he has Commissioner Durward Wright lauded Linebarger as a "great guy." "If you could sum him up in one word, it would have to be 'fair,' "

If praises were weight on Linebarger's shoulders, he would be overburdened.

"He's done a marvelous job," said Midland County Judge Bill Ahders. 'He's run a tight ship.'

Ahders' predecessor, Judge Barbara Culver, who now presides over the 318th State Distict Court in Midland, said the county "was very fortunate" in 1965 when Linebarger was appointed tax assessor-collector to succeed J.M. Speed, who at age 81 died in office. Judge Culver was county judge when Linebarger was appointed to office. She cited Linebarger's expertise and dedication to office 1965 and "during this time of growth and expansion" of the city and county. "We've been very fortu-

Virgil Jones Jr., the tax assessor-collector for the city of Midland, said he has "always had a lot of respect for Elmo. He has always been congenial, very nice, sharing records."

Linebarger's chief deputy and successor said she hopes her boss really has a fantastic retirement and does all the things he wants to He's a fisherman by avocation.

"To me," Ms. Shuffield said, "it would be great thing to get away from the tax field.

State being sued over sterilization of patients

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) - A classaction suit filed on behalf of more than 7,200 state mental patients who were sterilized involuntarily seeks state compensation for their medical expenses and psychological assis-

The suit, which charges that Virginia violated the patients' constitutional rights, also seeks an end to sterilizations without informed consent and asks that the state notify people who were sterilized.

Filed Monday in U.S. District Court in Lynchburg by the American Civil Liberties Union, the suit names as defendants Gov. John Dalton, several state public health and mental health officials and six state mental hospitals and their directors.

Two doctors joined in the suit on behalf of physicians statewide who are willing to provide medical care if the plaintiffs can be identified. Sterilization, in a few instances, can be reversed.

State officials acknowledged earlier this year that as many as 8,300 Virginians had been involuntarily sterilized in state mental hospitals over a 50-year period ending in 1973, but they said it was legal at the

They also refused to notify the people who had been sterilized. In most cases, the patients were not told they were being sterilized and some other explanation was given for the operation

'What the state did was a tragedy," Judy Goldberg, director of the ACLU's Reproductive Freedom Project, said at a news conference

Patrick M. Raher, an ACLU lawyer, said notification is extremely important although the sterilizations may have occurred decades ago.

'All of these people have the potential for other medical problems as a result of sterilization," he said. Some studies have indicated a higher rate. of cancer in sterilized women, he

Many of the unwitting patients may be suffering severe psychological effects because "they are still blaming themselves for not being able to have children and have no idea they were sterilized," Ms. Goldberg said.

At the news conference was one plaintiff, a 45-year-old divorcee who used the fictitious name of Judith

She said she was placed in the Lynchburg Training School and Hospital in 1949 at the age of 15 after she gave birth to a son as a result of being raped by her stepfather.

Eye-spleen link may alter cancer treatment

DALLAS (AP) - An unusual link between the eye and the spleen has given researchers new perspective into the body's defense against cancer and could alter methods of combating the disease

Dr. Jerry Niederkorn, a University of Texas Health Science Center immunologisi, said two recent studies indicated removing a cancerous eye could foster the disease's spread throughout the body while removing the spleen could kill the disease entirely.

"It's too early to say, 'Let's change our treatments,' but it's an important step in research," said Niederkorn.

Eye cancer, which claims about 500 victims a year in the United States, generally begins with development of a small black tumor on the surface of the eyeball. When the tumor enlarges it can push the eye out of the

"It's not a very attractive sight and can cause some serious problems if not detected early," said Niederkorn.

Niederkorn is working with scientists from Harvard and the University of Illinois in studying the development and treatment of eye cancer in laboratory animals.

"The eye is a great organ to study. You can watch exactly what's happening," he said. "And what's happening is very exciting. Researchers injected laboratory animals with a virus that causes eye cancer, removed the stricken eye from half the animals and gave no treatment to the other half. Niederkorn said 93 percent of the animals that had the surgery developed cancer elsewhere in their bodies, while only 33 percent of those that escaped the scalpel contracted cancer in other parts of the body. He said in almost all cases here the spleen was removed from the animals, the disease did not spread. Niederkorn thinks the reason for that is the unique link between the spleen and the eye. 'There is a direct pipeline from the spleen to the eye," he said. The theory is that the eye, unlike the rest of the body, adapts to foreign matter - even cancer - instead of rejecting it. For example, Niederkorn said, a skin graft first put on the eye, then transplanted to any other part of the body, will not be rejected by the body's immune system because the spleen somehow "recognizes" it as part of the body after its acceptance by the eye.

Twin removed from brain

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) -Until recent surgery, Nick Hill carried inside his skull what doctors think was part of an undeveloped

The 21-year-old Bonners Ferry resident survived complicated brain surgery earlier this year in Spokane, Wash. The case has drawn the attention of the "That's Incredible" television show

Led by Dr. John Grollmus, a surgical team at Deaconess Hospital removed two fist-size masses from Hill's brain in operations last January and March. One mass was a tumor. But the other - consisting of bone, skin and hair — may have been a twin that never developed, doctors said. Prior to the operations, Hill said he suffered constant headaches. They have since stopped. A three-man TV crew filmed Hill and Grollmus last week in Spokane, and followed Hill to Bonners Ferry to eatch him working at Co-op Gas and Supply, and relaxing at home with his parents, Merle and Helen Hill, and five brothers and sisters

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market gave ground in a relatively quiet session Monday, unable to extend the rally of the past two weeks.

Oil and precious-metals stocks bore the brunt of the selling. A few defense issues, by contrast, managed to post The Dow Jones average of 30 indus-pace set for most of the year. New York's Chemical Bank cut its prime lending rate from 211/2 to 201/2 percent, matching a reduction posted by a couple of other large banks in the past week. The smaller American National Bank & Trust of Chicago went them one better, lowering its basic charge on blue-chip loans from 211/2 to 20 percent

Several banks, at the same time, reduced their broker-loan rates to the 19½-20 percent range.

American Telephone & Telegraph dropped 1/4 to 48 % as of the 4 p.m. close in New York; Federal National Mortgage was down 1/8 at 12 1/4; Chase Manhattan lost 3/4 to 471/2, and J.P. Morgan fell 3/4 to 52.

Among the oils, Mobil was down 23/4 at 81%; Texaco 1% at 48%; Superior Oil 11/4 at 2023/4; Gulf 13/4 at 42%, and Getty 11/2 at 90.

The decline in precious-metals issues matched a drop in the prices of gold, which was off $22.80 at $585.70 an ounce, and silver, which was down 96 cents at $15.65 an ounce, on the Commodity Exchange in New York.

ASA fell 31/4 to 651/8; Homestake Mining 4% to 651/2; Dome Mines 21/4 to 86%; Campbell Red Lake Mines 21/2 to 561/4, and Hecla Mining 2 to 351/8. Hecla was 1979's biggest percentage gainer on the Big Board, soaring from 51/4 to 46, but for 1980 it shows a net decline.

Two actively-traded aerospace issues were conspicuous gainers: Boeing, the volume leader on turnover of close to 725,000 shares, which rose 1 to 431/4; and General Dynamics. which added 1 to 401/4. Other defense stocks were mixed.

The daily tally on the NYSE showed more than two losers for every stock that rose in price, and the exchange's composite index dropped .84 to 77.44.

Standard & Poor's index of 400 industrials was down 1.68 at 153.64, and S&P's 500-stock composite index lost 1.54 to 135.03. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index took a 4.85 tumble to 349.37. The NASDAQ composite index for the over-the-counter market closed at 199.84, down 1.44.

Skiers 'rescue' liquor salesman

WHISTLER, British Columbia (AP) - When snow turned to mush on the mountain slopes in this Canadian province, some skiers decided to turn to the next best activity - bending elbows.

But as a long line formed outside the resort community's liquor store, the potential customers were told that store manager Dennis Lemarche was stranded at his home in nearby Pemberton by floodwaters which ravaged much of the area over Christmas weekend.

No one else could open the locked store Within minutes, the skiers took up a collection, chartered a helicopter and sent it off to fetch Lemarche. His arrival was met with cheers. Once sales were completed, celebrations began. And they went on, and on and on. After spending Saturday and Sunday with the partying skiers. Lemarche was able to return home Monday night.

EPA approves Coors first East Coast plant

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Environmental Protection Agency has granted the Coors beer company permission to build a giant brewery a mile from Virginia's Shenandoah National Park, the Washington Post reported in its Tuesday editions.

Coors' selection of land near Harrisonburg, Va., as the site for its first East Coast brewery has raised local concern about potential air pollution and other environmental issues. However, EPA officials have contended there is very little likelihood that the facility will prove environmentally objectionable.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

'Crisis' could mean two things

Dear Dr. Solomon: What is the meaning of "crisis" when used to describe a patient with myasthenia gravis? A neighbor of mine used the term when discussing her husband. I would think that the disease itself is a crisis. — Mrs. D.N.

Dear Mrs. N: There are two kinds of "crisis" in myasthenia gravis myasthenic crisis, which is a crisis of the disease itself, and cholinergic crisis, which results from an overdose of a drug used to treat the disease. In general, the term refers to a patient who develops severe muscle weakness, especially when it affects breathing The Myasthenia Gravis Foundation describes myasthenic crisis as a sudden inability to use the muscles needed for breathing and to keep air passages clear. At such times, a patient requires artificial respiration and immediate transfer to a hospital equipped to treat the condition. Many patients with myasthenia gravis have permanent tracheotomies through which they can receive mechanical respiraion in the event of an emergen-

Cholinergic crisis often cannot be distinguished from myasthenic crisis, even by a physician; yet the treatment for one is exactly the opposite of the treatment for the other.

Either type of crisis is an emergency that must be handled without

Dear Dr. Solomon: I was on my college football team 30 years ago and remained physically active for many years after by swimming and playing tennis. You can imagine the shock l felt when I was informed that I should undergo a bypass operation. I guess I'm asking for some reassurance but what I'm wondering is whether the physical conditioning I've worked to achieve throughout almost my entire adult life will be of any value in seeing me through the operation. - Craig

Dear Craig: You can rest assured that patients who are in good physical condition as a result of exercise do seem to have fewer problems with surgery, and that includes a more rapid recovery. In fact, Chicago's Swedish Covenant Hospital prepares some of its patients for bypass surgery by enrolling them in an exercise program before the operation.

Dr. Noel Nequin, the program's medical director, explains that the patients are first given a treadmill stress test so that an individualized exercise routine can be worked out. They then attend classes three times a week, engaging in warm-up exercises, walking or jogging, and stretching. An effort is made to have the patients participate in the program for at least six weeks prior to

Dr. Nequin believes that patients obtain both physical and psychological benefits from the exercise program. The physical benefits include a lowered resting heart rate, lowered blood pressure and heart rate during exercise, and a more gradual heart rate response. Moreover, when patients resume exercising following the operation, they feel as though the surgery was only a temporary interruption of their conditioning.

(If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D., 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, MD. 21208. Dr. Solomon cannot give personal replies but will answer as many questions as possible in his column.)

Another Disney television show may be in the works, however, said officials at Walt Disney Productions. And Disney has the right to sell the show elsewhere. The network on Mon-ture ran into trouble when CBS scheduled its highly rated "60 Mi nutes" news program at the same time. Studio stockholders were warned in February that the series might be dropped. The show premiered as

Meeting planned today on New Orleans strike

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Aides to Mayor Ernest Morial planned to meet today with bus and streetcar drivers to discuss deadlocked contract negotiations between the drivers' union and the company operating the city's public transporation system.

Negotiations broke down Monday when the union rejected a contract offer by New Orleans Public Service Inc., posing what the company called a possibile strike at midnight Wednesday.

We know that they have posted notices on the billboards at transit stations saying there would be a work stoppage," said NOPSI spokesman Don

Union spokesmen could not be reached for com-

NOPSI announced the impasse in negotiations, saying drivers had rejected a 9.5 percent increase in wages and benefits for 1981.

The company said the union wanted a wage-benefit package totaling more than 35 percent.

NOPSI said its offer would bring the operators' top hourly wage to $7.67 an hour. Figures made public by the company showed 658 full-time operators averaged more than $17,800 per year
