Carter issues report on rescue mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says even if the rescue mission in Iran could not have been completely successful, it would have been "a deeper failure" not to try.

In a solemn report to the nation Tuesday night, Carter vowed: "We will not forget our hostages and we will continue to take whatever steps are necessary and feasible" to secure

But he also said that freedom can be gained for the 53 hostages only if Avatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, Iran's Revolutionary Council and the militants are persuaded unanimously to let them go — a task he all but called

We cannot deal with inhumane people who have no respect for international law, who violate the tenets of their own religion and then persecute innocent people who are American citizens and deprive them of their freedom for six months," Carter said during a nationally broadcast news

Carter condemned as "a horrible exhibition of inhumanity" the public display in Tehran of the bodies of eight American commandos who died in the aborted raid

This has aroused the disgust and contempt of the rest of the world and indicates quite clearly the kinds of people with whom we have been deal ing in a peaceful effort to secure a resolution of this crisis," Carter de

For this "ghoulish action," Carter mostly blamed the militants in control of the U.S. Embassy - castigat ing them as terrorists -- but also assigned responsibility to Avatollah adegh Khalkhali, the Revolutionary Council member who presided over

Carter called the display of bodies a vivid indication" of the difficulties he faced in dealing with the Irani

He described Iran's leaders as peowho cannot speak for their own their position and even constantly change their identity."

The president said it would take "a unanimous decision by terrorists, the top officials, the Revolutionary Counand the Ayatollah Khomeini before this crime can be terminated" and the hostages held since Nov. 4 freed

Carter defended the rescue at tempt, which caused Setretary of State Cyrus Vance to resign, saying. There is a deeper failure than that of incomplete success, and that is the failure to attempt a worthy effort, a

This sentiment was shared by the returned raiders, even the wounded ones he visited Monday in Brooke Arms Medical Center near San Anto nio Tex said Carter

"They all shared a common message to me and to the American people," he said. "The first message was one of regret - deep regret - that they had failed to carry out the mission as planned. The second one was an expression of thanks to me for giving them the honor to attempt to deliver to freedom the American hostages. And the third was a request expressed almost unanimously by them to be permitted to try again." Carter was asked if he believed the commandos could have safely removed all the hostage from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, and responded "Obviously, an operation of this kind would have had some risk, but we were convinced that the hostages could be removed successfully and Even if the operation had met 'without complete success," Carter said, it would have ended a crisis that is destablizing the Iranian society

The president also disclosed that when the idea of a rescue mission was to be undertaken had the hostages been injured in any way," rather than in desperation to break the stale-

Despite his indignation at the "desecration of the dead," Carter said. 'We will continue to try for a peaceful solution." He said that allied economic sanctions "might very well be a factor that would bring the Iranians to realize it's much better for them to release the hostages unharmed and resolve this crisis

He gave no indication of success, however. In fact, his report was pessimistic in its acknowledgment that unanimity was required among Irans fragmented forces

The administration's approach until now has been to concentrate on persuading President Abolhassan Bani Sadr and other council moderates in hopes that the militants could be undercut with the Ayatollah's sup-

TI will expand its local plant

DALLAS - Texas Instruments Inc., has announced the establishment of a speech synthesis technology center at the TI Midland Odessa plant, which is south of Interstate 20 midway between the two cities

The new center will be managed by Dr. Bernie List, who also has the responsibility for developing and managing a new corporate wide speech synthesis strategy, according to TI group vice president James L. Fischer

In an address to TI stockholders at the annual meeting April 17, TI Presi dent J. Fred Bucy said speech synthesis is "one of the most exciting innovations in interface technology since the development of the cathode

The new technology reconstructs the human voice from stored digital data on a single silica chip that performs 200,000 additions and multipli cations per second. This, Bucy explained, provides computational capability that formally would have required four IBM 1800 Class computers.

The speech synthesis chips, invented by TI, already are being used by TI in products including a language tutor, "Speak and Spell" (TI trade mark) learning aid, the 99 4 home computer, and a speech module board for industrial applications

TI announced on April 18 that the "Solid State Speech" (TI trademark) technology is now available to end equipment manufacturers. The an nouncment also stated that TI was adding speech synthesis service to the TI regional technology center in Chicago, Ill., to help customers develop quality speech for vocabularies of their own products

TI said the Chicago center was a first step and that the service will be expanded to other geographical areas. TI also emphasized that major resource committments had been made to retain the company's substantial lead in the technology, including two speech synthesis chip processing facilities in the TI Midland-Odessa plant

The company pointed out that its speech technology is applicable to military and industrial markets as well as computer and consumer mar

Midland's teachers get 15 percent salary hike

By DAVID CAMPBELL Staff Writer

It wasn't exactly what the teachers wanted But it was close.

School trustees on Tuesday granted Midland instructors a salary adjustment from 25 percent above the state minuman salary to 32 percent above the state, representing an average 15 percent increase

To pay for that raise, Midland prop erts owners will receive a three-cent increase in taxes Also in the three hour session, the board heard a report regarding the establishment of an outdoor learning center and approved regular agenda In the original motion by Trustee

Ron Britton, Midland instructors would have received what they asked for at the April 15 meeting - 35 percent above the state minimum salary. That would have represented an Is percent increase in wages.

However, the board amended the motion for a 32 percent salary adjust ment above the state scale and approved it 5 to 1 with Britton dissent

Apparently, the compromise result ed when the board realized that granting the teachers' original proposal would require cutting all programs across the board by 10 per cent without raising the school tax

"I KNOW THE PROGRAMS and materials are not going to be sufficient with a (18 percent) salary raise," said Trustee Joyce Sherrod, a former teacher. She suggested the 15 percent hike would give the teachers what they wanted - an increase and still allow the district to continue with the programs and supplies the teachers require

Britton said he favored granting the teachers' original proposal in exchange for a better working relation ship between Midland instructors and the board

"I'll eat the comments and the calls from the taxpayers, my feelings and my property increases," the new trustee said "But next year I may be the other side's (the taxpayers) advocate if I don't see a change in the attitude of everybody working together," he cautioned teachers

If we are going to pay No 1 (salary) in the state, we ought to be No. 1 (academically) in the state, Britton added

Kerry Davis, spokesman for the teachers' group, afterward said the instructors appreciate the district's

"THE TEACHERS WOULD feel good about the 32 percent (above state minimum salary)," he said "It does show that the district is behind

"Of course we would have liked to have had the 35 (percent above state minimum) We (teachers) realize that what we like and what we get is very different in many situations," Davis added The teachers' spokesman also said the salary adjustment would not re quire cutting any of the district's pro-

Earlier, trustees delayed action until May 27 to study the feasibility of establishing a pilot program involving an outdoor learning center

Nonmanufacturing posted a net gain of 240 over the previous month due to some increases in all sectors

The largest gain occurred in business and personal service, followed by construction, as some new orders were received. Wholesale and retail trade, along with mining, also showed advances due to some new orders.

The number of nonfarm wage and salary jobs this March was 2,270 higher than March 1979. Manufacturing was up 230, primarily in durable goods. Gains in fabricated metals, professional-scientific goods, and other durable goods overbalanced a drop in nonelectrical machinery.

TEC said the estimate of nonmanufacturing jobs in March this year was 2,040 workers above last March's figure, or 5.9 percent growth. That growth, it said, is a result of the economic and general population

Significant additions also were recorded in services, finance and transportation-communications-utilities.

No major nonfactory segment report ed a loss of employment in the overthe year comparison.

A painful dilemma

"Give me your tired, your poor, ers and sisters from our door breathe free. The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door! '

Those words, adorning the Statue of Liberty, have served as a tireless reminder at the entrance to New York Harbor that all those individuals cast out elsewhere could find friendship and new hope in the United States.

Now those words take on new meaning as thousands of Cubans, atempting to escape from the dictatorial rule of Fidel Castro, ride small boats over the 90 miles to Florida. More than 3,500 Cubans have arrived in Florida since the mass exodus began a week ago; more are on the way.

The human tragedy began over the Easter weekend when 10,000 Cubans crowded into an embassy in Havana to signal their desire to leave that phony paradise.

Certainly the United States government is touched by the plight of the Cubans. But can this nation afford to accept thousands of refugees at this particular point in time?

From the humanitarian standpoint, there is no way we should turn the Cubans away. Our religious teachings tell us that it simply is not moral to turn our broth-your huddled masses yearning to when they come asking help and

We do not want to be labelled "fair weather friends." And to turn the Cuban homeless away at this point surely would label us as

But can this nation afford to continue to have an open-door policy for Cuban refugees or all the homeless and unwanted from the other nations of the world?

It's true that we have our own problems. The nation's economy is riddled with high interest rates and unemployment, threatening our ability to care for and ensure a sound future for those millions of Americans already residing inside these shores.

Can we take these people not knowing whether we'll be able to feed and clothe them, and provide them jobs so they do not become burdens on our society?

There are no easy answers. At one time in this nation's past the influx of Cubans would not have presented this dilemma. But at that time things were better. Now it's a matter of wondering who we care for most - these new refugees or our own poor and jobless - and where is America's first responsibility?

It's an unpleasant question this nation's leaders undoubtedly will be forced to address in the not too distant future.

Dubai's traders sidestepping ban on U.S. exports

By KATHLEEN BISHTAWI

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates (AP) - Dubai's traders across the Persian Gulf from Iran are artfully dodging the U.S. ban on American exports to their northern neighbor and the Iranian government's hostility to things American.

The local merchants will be delighted if America's European allies also order sanctions next month.

"It will be a hell of a good business," said one government official. "The merchants might not agree with Iran's policies, but they won't let that affect their commercial judgment."

The plan retains its basic elements, which call for hiding 200 huge missiles among some 4,600 horizontal underground shelters that would be built in remote desert valleys of Utah and Nevada. The objective is to make it difficult, if not impossible, for the Russians to destroy the missiles in a surprise attack.

However, under the altered concept approved by Brown, smaller transporter-launchers than originally planned would unload the missiles into the shelters without entering them and then go to a "garage" carrying a concrete rod of the same weight as the missiles. Puerto Rican statesman dead

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) -Luis Munoz Marin, Puerto Rico's four-time governor who forged the commonwealth association with the United States and launched the economic miracle called "Operation Bootstrap," died of a massive heart attack early today at the age of 82.

Doctors said it was his third heart attack since being admitted to Mimiya Hospital in San Juan on Saturday after suffering a stroke. His wife was at his bedside when he died about 3 a.m., they said. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Munoz Marin won Puerto Rico's first gubernatorial election in 1948 and was returned to office for three more terms until he stepped down in 1964. His economic programs transformed the island into the most prosperous territory in Latin America, and he battled to the end against statehood.

"Statehood perhaps could come in 100 years, " Munoz Marin said as recently as 1979. "But I don't see it on the horizon because it would kill Puerto Rico and the United States does not want to kill Puerto Rico."

In 1978, at the age of 80, he hit the campaign trail to fight what the current administration says is a rising tide toward making Puerto Rico the 51st state. Last winter he appeared with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy who was backed in the presidential primary by pro-commonwealth politicians. Munoz Marin was the only son of Luis Munoz Rivera, resident commissioner for Puerto Rico in Washington who got Congress in 1917 to grant the islanders U.S. citizenship and their own elected legislature. During that time, his son studied at Georgetown University.

After his father's death, Munoz Marin headed for Greenwich Village. where he wrote articles for magazines and wrote poetry in English and Spanish. In 1926, he returned to Puerto Rico as an advocate of independence. Soon, however, he became convinced that Puerto Rico was more in need of economic reform than independence and that close asociation with America was the best path. That became his platform when he formed the Popular Democratic party in 1938 and ran for the island's senate. He was elected in 1940 and for seven years was president of the senate. Then the United States granted Puerto Ricans the right to elect their own govenor and Munoz Marin won by a landslide in 1948.

He said his greatest contribution to Puerto Rico was winning acceptance by the United States in 1952 for a unique commonwealth status for the island. Under it, Puerto Ricans as American citizens, served in the U.S. armed forces and used U.S. currency and mails, but were exempt from

reads like movie script

By LAURINDA KEYS

LOS ANGELES (AP) - It's a Hollywood case if ever there was one.

The star is Dumbo, a circus elephant with movie credits. The plot, "Kramer vs. Kramer," the child custody movie. And the legal question, Marvin vs. Marvin, the celebrity palimony case.

While the attorneys argued the matter on Tuesday, Dumbo the elephant did handstands and curtsies for a circus in South Dakota, oblivious to the custody battle raging over her in federal court here.

Dollie Jacobs imported the pachyderm from Asia in 1949. At age 32, the animal is a valuable commodity, trained to work with two other elephants and gentle enough to give children rides. Moreover, Asian elephants are now on the Department of Interior's endangered species list, making it nearly impossible to import them. Dumbo and her two circus companions are worth about $100,000. Mrs. Jacobs died last year, in the midst of her suit to invalidate the 1974 sale of Dumbo to circus producer Paul V. Kaye. Mrs. Jacobs' daughter, Judy, who lived with Kaye for 12 years before their two-year marriage, is carrying on her mother's fight to win back Dumbo in a custody dispute that has elements of the Academy Award-winning film "Kramer vs. Kramer." Mrs. Kaye says her former husband hid Dumbo from Mrs. Jacobs, then obtained the elephant by threatening to mistreat or sell it if Mrs. Jacobs didn't sign the sales contract. 'She was just a sick, little old lady who didn't know where her elephant palimiony cases can be heard in California courts. Mrs. Kaye, who divorced her husband in 1977, obtained a court order in February preventing Kaye from selling Dumbo until the case is settled. Mrs. Kaye says she wants Dumbo awarded to her in the community property case if she doesn't get her back in the federal contract case. "I already paid him more (than Dumbo is worth) by working for him all those years," Mrs. Kaye said. But if necessary, she said she would pay Kaye for his interest in the elephant if only she could get the animal "back, in the family. 'She's my sister," Mrs. Kaye said of the pachyderm, noting that they were raised in show business together. The elephant starred in MGM movies with Clark Gable and Elizabeth Taylor. Mrs. Kaye played the role of 'Tinkerbell' at Disneyland for several years.

Kennedy needs even-steven' run

HOUSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward Kennedy ended a seven-hour capaign tour of Houston by saying he has to run even with President Carter in the remaining presidential primaries to have a chance at the nomination.

'We have to run even-steven to have a chance," Kennedy said in an interview Tuesday prior to leaving for Denver, Colo., after stops in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Houston

Kennedy took time in between his stops in Houston to endorse Sen. Edn jund Muskie, D-Maine, as a good choice to replace Cyrus Vance as Secretary of

"He's a man that will sift through the facts," Kennedy said, "make a thorough examination and then come to a responsible judgement. While not criticizing the rescue mission in Iran that claimed eight live's last week, Kennedy praised Vance as a man of "integrity and competence. Vance resigned Monday in protest of the mission, which failed after three of the eight helicopters taking part in the effort experienced mechanical problems and had to turn back.

Speaking at the Ressurection Catholic Church, where a vigil candle has burned for John F. Kennedy since he was assasinated in 1963, Kennedy told a largely Mexican-American crowd he would halt the "stop and frisk" activities by immigration officials. He also told the 600 persons jammed into the church that Carter's economic policies have resulted in an inflation rate "that you pay for, not the oil companies.

Ironically, Kennedy stood in the shadows cast by buildings belonging to several major oil companies earlier in the day when he said, "We will stop the profits of the major oil companies (from) going through the roof."

After his City Hall appearance, Kennedy met privately with black and Hispanic leaders. Both groups are considered crucial in Kennedy's at tempt to win the Texas primary this Saturday.

Ealier Tuesday in San Antonio, Kennedy visited the five men who were injured in the aborted rescue mission to free the hostages in Iran.

He told reporters he had thanked the four Air Force members and the Marine for "their courage and their bravery. In San Antonio, Kennedy appeared with United Farm Workers leader Cesar Chavez and told a predominately Hispanic crowd he would halt the searchand-frisk policies of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

He said the methods were "policies that have worked a particular hardship against Mexican-Americans and Hispanics," adding "if the United States is going to stand for human rights abroad-it ought to stand for human rights here in Texas and around the country.'

Bush surprised Carter nominated Ed Muskie

DALLAS (AP) - Republican presidential hopeful George Bush, hoping to close a sizeable gap before the Texas primary, hammered at Carter administration foreign policy but hesitated to speculate about the naming of a new secretary of state.

The former Texas congressman expressed surprise that Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, had been chosen Tuesday to replace Cyrus Vance, who resigned after the aborted attempt to free U.S. hostages in Ir an.

Bush said he considered Muskie to be "more on the domestic side of things," but added he would "refrain from further comment until I find out where he

He ended an 11-hour tour of the Dallas area, which include d a speech before 350 students at a community college, a tour of a local manufacturing plant and a private fundraiser, then moved his campaign to neighboring Fort Worth.

Bush, who trails former California governor Ronald Reag an in the polls by a considerable margin, refrained from directly criticizing his GOP opponent. He chose instead to lash out at the president, saying "Jirnmy Carter doesn't understand the world as it is ... but sees it the way he wis hes it were.'

The former CIA director charged the president's "vacillating" foreign policy often left allies uncertain of U.S. commitments at a '.ime when the nation was "entering the most difficult period of its history.

'Our allies don't know if we're going to keep a committment ... or leave theme out on a lurch ... stranded," Bush said in a speech to the Dallas County

Republican Men's Club. Later, Bush told more than 2,000 persons who packed a high school auditorium in the Dallas suburb of Richardson the nation's "word of honor" must be the cornerstone of U.S. foreign policy Bush said Carter's foreign policy tended to "pull back ... and make statements nobody believed." "U.S. foreign policy must be based on the following thing: keep your word of honor," he said. "We must not say we're going to do something, unless we do

The former United Nations ambassador also emphasized the need to upgrade our conventional forces and strengthen the CIA. "When you see maintenance problems, when you see three helicopters down on a raid that was correctly conceived but you see that raid fail because of mechanical failure, that's just the tip of the iceberis," he said.

Earlier, Bush said Rep. John B. Anderson's independent campaign was a 'phenomenon' created by disillusioned Democrats that would not "make a ripple" in the outcome of the November election.

'Doonesbury just can't win it for him," he said

Unit 'frustrated' by rescue attempt the Delta Group commando unit were grim-faced as Fort Bragg. they returned to Fort Bragg and one expressed frustration that their mission to rescue the American hostages in Iran was canceled.

"You've got a mission. You know you can do it, and somebody tells you to pull out," one of the men told reporters as the group walked through Fayetteville airport Tuesday.

If the others shared in his frustration with the pullback order, they weren't willing to talk to reporters about it.

The mission was aborted after three of eight helicopters were disabled. In leaving a rendezvous point in Iran, another helicopter collided with a C-130 transport, killing eight Americans.

The Delta Group, which also is known as Operation Blue Light, is made up of about 300 persons from all U.S. military services. Based at Fort Bragg, the anti-terrorist unit reportedly is controlled directly by Families of the casualties and at least one survivor of the raid were to attend the open air ceremony. An American flag at half mast waved in the morning breeze as preparations for the ceremony began in Hurlburt's Air Park.

Airman First Class William Tootle, 21, of Casselberry, Fla., was one of three Hurlburt airmen injured in Iran. He returned to Hurlburt Tuesday afternoon, saying he would be willing to go on another mission like the Iranian raid.

The Hurlburt dead were Capt. Charles McMillan, 29, Boise, Idaho; Tech. Sgt. Joel Mayo, 34, Bonifay, Fla.; Capt. Richard Bakke, 33, Long Beach, Calif.; Capt. Lyn McIntosh, 33, Valdosta, Ga.; and Capt. Harold Lewis Jr., 35, Mansfield, Conn.

On Tuesday, an estimated 2,000 persons attended a memorial service at New River Marine Corps Air Station near Jacksonville for three Marines killed in teered for the rescue mission. "They are now part of the mystique of our Marine Corps." Each man died "for a nation and a people he loved," Kalas said. "That is a hero's sacrifice."

"We were very disappointed the subcommittee did not have the courage to reject presidential policies which implement military solutions to our foreign policy problems," said David Landau, a leader of registration opponents outside Congress.

Senior members of the Senate Armed Services Committee — Democrats and Republicans alike spent 90 minutes at the Two Republicans who subcommittee's meeting, laying out arguments for registration.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said advance registration would save three months in mobilizing troops in an emergency.

Nunn and Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., the Armed Services chairman, said a draft probably will be needed.

However, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., cited a Selective Service report that said advance registration would save only seven days.

Sens. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., and Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., said registration was only a piecemeal solution to the more serious problem of keeping experienced personnel in the service.

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market turned downward today, confronted with another recession signal.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials dropped 4.43 to 806.66 in the first two hours. Losers held a 5-3 lead over gainers in the mid-day tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The government reported early today that the index of leading economic indicators fell 2.6 percent in March for its sharpest decline in 51/2 years. The index, which is de-economic trends, shows declines in five of the past six months. The March drop had been widely anticipated on Wall Street, but it nevertheless stood as fresh evidence that signed to detect developing business activity was headed into a slump. Middle South Utilities led the active list, up % at 12%. A 100,000-share block traded at 12% Getty Oil fell 1% to 74% in active trading. Underwriters put up for sale 4 million shares of the stock at 74 from the estate of the late J. Paul Getty.

The NYSE's composite index lost .30 to 59.87. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .99 at 251.33.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 12.95 million shares at noontime, against 11.41 million at the same point Tuesday.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Red ink smears business reports

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - You can't judge the health of business by oil company profits, and proof of it is coming just about every other day now in red-inked financial reports, layoffs and requests for bailouts. General Motors, biggest manufacturer of all, reported first quarter profits down 87 percent to $155 million, or 52 cents a share. Ford lost $163.3 million. Chrysler is expected to report a $400 million loss. Auto industry layoffs now exceed 200,000, and if the total stays below the 250,000 or so layed off in the recession of 1974-1975 everyone who studies the industry will be surprised. The future is bleak. Chrysler has been pleading and cajoling its bankers into line so that it can show the federal government it is still viable and worthy of receiving Washington's guarantees that the loans will be re-

Those close to the action feel certain that some government guarantees will be forthcoming, but the Transportation Department indicates it has reservations. The Chrysler operating plan, it states, is premised on optimistic assumptions for the sale, among other items, of large cars.

The skies aren't any friendlier to business. Pan American World Airways reported a record-high deficit of nearly $75 million for the first three months of the year. Fuel and fare regulation were blamed.

Pan Am wasn't alone, except in the size of its loss. American, United, Trans World, Braniff and Western also dipped into the red, in part due to seasonal traffic factors, but also because of soaring costs. Banking has problems. In Philadelphia, the nation's 23rd largest bank, First Pennsylvania, once known for its innovative ways, is in such financial trouble that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. has had to step in with $500 million of rescue funds. The bank lost $5 million on operations and another $1.4 million on securities in the first quarter.

FDIC officials maintain that First Pennsylvania's problems are unique rather than indicative of an industry condition, but strains exist in other institutions because of market conditions, including explosive increases in their cost of money, which is their raw material.

Savings banks and savings and loan associations have been hurt badly, being forced to pay increasingly higher rates to attract savings, while holding as assets low-rate mortgages made years earlier. Regulatory officials have warned that some of them might be forced to merge. The deteriorating condition of business is perhaps clouded in the public mind by a long string of oil company profit reports that appear regularly every three months, and by the fact that the year-to-year increase in corporate profits for 1979 exceeded 20 percent However, as with paychecks, the numbers are inflated. Inflation last year exceeded 13 percent and has been around 18 percent so far in 1980. Inflationadjusted numbers are more meaningful and maybe even ominous

Using that technique, many companies that re-ported big profits suffered real losses instead. Many companies failed to cover their dividends. What was called profit was really an illusion; and what they paid out as dividends was taken not from profit but

In other words, and assuming the inflation-adjusted figures tell a reliable story, some of the biggest companies in America are slowly being liquidated, consuming yesteryear's profits and investments.

Now with the country pitching into recession, and with American industry notoriously poor in dealing with a "shrink" economy, the sight of red ink and layoffs and bailouts could become commonplace.

Livestock auction report

The Southwestern Livestock Auction Co. ran through 625 head of cattle Tuesday in a market that . was generally steady with last week's prices. Feeder steers were $1 higher per hundredweight. Feeder heifers were steady. Packer cows were $2 higher and topped out at $46.50 per hundredweight. Packer bulls were steady. Here's a run own on the market:

Steers weighing 600 to 700 pounds were auctioned for $59.50 to $64.50 per hundredweight; 500 to 600 pounds, $64.50 to $68; 400 to 500 pounds, $72.50 to $75; 300 to 400 pounds, $82.50 to $95; under 300 pounds, $92.50 to $98.50 per hundredweight.

Heifers weighing 600 to 700 pounds were sold for $55 to $57.50 per hundredweight; 500 to 600 pounds, $57.50 to $59; 400 to 500 pounds, $59.50 to $62.50; 300 to 400 pounds, $62.50 to $70; under 300 pounds, $72.50 to $85 per hundredweight. Cows utility went for $44 to $46.50 per hundred-

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - His murderers showed up in shower stalls, his victims in potato sacks. But Sir Alfred Hitchcock, whose mastery of terror chilled movie audiences for half a century, died peacefully of natural causes at the age of 80.

The portly British-born "Hitch" was perhaps the film industry's bestknown director. A popular television series made his pouting profile instantly recognizable to millions of Americans. In more than 50 movies, Hitchcock created a legacy of suspense classics - "Psycho," "The Birds," "Rear Bindow" and "Spellbound." Yet he never won an Oscar for direction.

Hitchcock, plagued by kidney failures and arthritis, died at his home Tuesday after suffering ill health for a year. His family, including Alma, his wife of 54 years, was with him.

Despite a heart condition that necessitated a pacemaker, Hitchcock was preparing another thriller at the time of his death - "The Short Night," the tale of a real-life British traitor whose duplicity led to the deaths of 42 agents.

"There was nobody like him," said actor James Stewart, a favorite Hitchcock player. "I have lost a great friend, and the world has lost a man who made a tremendous contribution to our business. Hitchcock's first American-made film, "Rebecca" in 1940, won a bestpicture Oscar, and the movie Academy presented him with the Irving G. Thalberg award in 1968. Last year, Hitchcock was given the American Film Institute's Lifetime Achievement Award.

Alfred Hitchcock

Hitchcock's stylized treatment of his favorite themes - violence, suspicion, guilt and confession - his clever use of the tracking shot by a camera that was always moving and his genius for the clever plot twist gave universal recognition to the label, "Hitchcock film."

His work encompassed all manner of the macabre, but one scene from 'Psycho' may be remembered as the high moment of Hitchcockian suspense. It is the shower scene, in which innocent bather Janet Leigh is brutally knifed by Anthony Perkins. For weeks afterward, horrified moviegoers checked the curtains twice before showering.

"He always executed his suspense with taste; he never offended you" said Perkins. "You were scared by it, but pleasantly. The imposing Hitchcock persona drooping lower lip and ghoulish 'Good eeevening' set to the tune of "Funeral March of a Marionette" - became his signature on the TV series, "Alfred Hitchcock Presents." He delighted in the opening and closing appearances in which he poked fun at commercials.

"One of television's great contributions," he said in 1966, "is that it brought murder back into the home where it belongs. Seeing a murder on television can be good therapy. It can help work off one's antagonisms. And commercials will give you some.' The television exposure helped movie-goers who searched each film for the single appearance by the

if you haven't any antagonisms, the

In "The Lodger" in 1926, Hitchcock played a reporter because "we had to fill the screen." The appearances became a trademark.

The "Lifeboat" cameo presented a challenge because the movie took place entirely in a survival craft. He solved the dilemma with typical humor - appearing in a newspaper ad for weight reduction.

But Hitchcock shied away from the limelight. He limited his social life to small dinners at home where the cuisine and wine met his high standards. At a lunch in 1966, he spoke of his private terror — the sound of a hand smacking a ketchup bottle.

"As a result of this sound, some horrible looking red goo slowly emerges from the neck of the bottle and lays itself over some perfectly innocent French fried potatoes which never harmed anyone in their life." Born Aug. 14, 1899, the son of a London poultry dealer, Hitchcock was educated in a Jesuit seminary and at the University of London. He began his career in 1925. Americans soon claimed him as their own, nominating him for four Academy Awards, and he became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1955. England recognized him in January when he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II.

Of his 54 films, Hitchcock once listed among his favorites "Spellbound," "Lifeboat" and "Psycho." His last projects, including "Frenzy" in 1972 in which a victim wound up in a potato sack - and "Family Plot" in 1976, were commercially successful but not considered among his best.

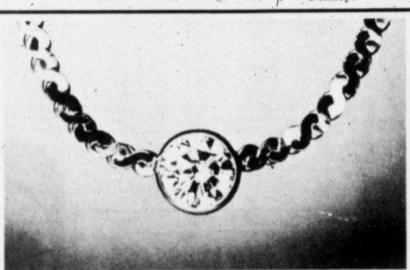

Despite the tensions of his films, he once blamed his constant battle with his weight on a placid temperament.

"That's very healthy and should mean a long life," he said, knocking wood. "It's better not to worry about unnecessary things.'

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills.

DEAR ABBY

Looks inherit, brains don't

By ABBIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading about a California businessman named Graham who has made a hobby of collecting sperm from Nobel Prize winners to be used to impregnate super-high IQ women whose husbands can't father children.

Nowhere has it been proven that kids inherit their intelligence from their parents. (How many Nobel Prize winners are children of Nobel Prize winners?)

However, it's a known fact that kids do inherit their LOOKS from their parents. How about collecting sperm from Burt Reynolds, Paul Newman Robert Redford and some other goodlooking men in order to breed some beautiful offspring?-JUST ASK-

DEAR JUST: Wonderful idea. But instead of giving it away, they should auction it off and give the proceeds to Planned Parenthood.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning what name the children will carry if the mother retains her maiden name after marriage: In Spanish-speaking* countries, the child takes both his mother's surname as well as his father's. Example: Senor Lopez marries Seniorita Gomez. Their son will be Carlos Gomez-Lopez. If they want to use the names of even more forebears; they can go back as far as they

A proud, well-born Spaniard of my acquantance carried his families' names on both sides for seven generations and ended up with 14

Using the surnames of both mother and father was considered a mark of honor. To use only the mother's name suggested that the mother was not married. It was important to be born legitimately because all children born out of wedlock were disenfranchised.

I don't know if the practice still exists, but when I lived in Cartagena, Colombia, the births were announced daily in the newspapers under two headings, "Legitimos" and "Ilegitimos." And incidentally, between 65 and 70 percent of all the births were 'ilegitimos.''-FORMER COLOM-

DEAR FORMER: Thanks for some interesting (and "legitimo") infor-

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, you stated that if a woman had sexual intercourse with a man who had gonorrhea, her chance of contracting the disease was 50 percent, or if she was on the Pill, 100 percent.

Since you do not customarily dispense irresponsible medical information, perhaps it was a typographical error on the part of the newspaper, but that statement is incorrect. The most recent studies indicate that among sexually active women, oral contraceptives reduce the relative risk of spreading gonorrheal infection to the tubes and ovaries by TWO-THIRDS.

I think you owe it to your readers to correct the misconception.-ELLEN G. BALCHUM, M.D.

DEAR DR. BALCHUM: It was indeed a typographical error for which I take full responsibility. Thank you (and all the other sharp-eyed informed readers) who wrote to point out the error.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - This midwest city has a new downtown landmark, a statue of former Mayor H. Roe Bartle created by sculptor Felix W. de

Bartle served as Kansas City mayor from 1955 to 1963, a period in which the city annexed about 235 square miles of land, built the Broadway Bridge, and became the home of the Kansas City Chiefs football

In addition to the bronze and black granite Bartle statue, de Weldon is perhaps best-known for "The Flag Raising on Iwo Jima" monument in Washington. His other sculptures include those of former U.S. presidents such as Harry S. Truman in the Truman Library, in Independence, Mo.

AT WIT'S END Barbie dolls

By ERMA BOMBECK

A reporter the other day was impressed by the fact that a 1959 Barbie doll in mint condition was sold at auction two years ago for a staggering $501.59.

Those naive little fools. They were looking at one of the treasures of the 20th century and let it go for a mere $501.59. Do you have any idea what the odds are against a 20-year-old doll having both

If collectors knew children at all, they'd cancel tours of the Mona Lisa, Cleopatra's jewels and the riches of Tutankhamen and in their place shroud Barbie in a display of glass and security and send her around the world for all to marvel at.

We bought our first Barbie in 1959, the first Christmas they came out. Our daughter was passing through the toy department when she said. 'Mommy! Mommy! There's a doll just like you." I picked up this doll with the two-inch bust, spaghetti legs and removable head who looked like she whipped through puberty in about 15 minutes and said, "Well, there are similarities." I followed this with the second dumbest remark I have made in my entire life, "Where are her clothes?"

Twenty years and $12,000 worth of wardrobe later, Barbie had turned into a senior citizen.

Her left knee was chipped. Her blonde ponytail had been cut with pinking shears. One arm hung about 1/4 inch out of the socket. Her live-in, anatomically weird boyfriend didn't look any better. His teeth had lipstick on them. A foot was gone and someone had painted a permanent "S" on his chest with black

Considering what they survived, neither of them looked bad. They had been stuffed in a trunk and dragged on a camping trip where they were left all night buried in the sand.

They had been run over with a lawn mower when they were abandoned in high grass. They had fallen between the car cushions and been lost for a month. Barbie's head was found in a beer cooler in the garage. Ken's teeth melted in the sun. Their cardboard house had been crayoned on and all their friends were under the bed naked.

Children's dolls take a beating - literally. You wonder how any of them survive. Oatmeal is forced into their rigid lips. Combs pull their hair until they're bald. Their eyes are closed manually. They're spanked, shaken, and tied into knots.

And when one of them appears 21 years later in mint condition, there is only one explanation - one of them fought back!

Three get NAMP awards

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - Comedian George Burns, syndicated columnist Jack H. Smith and presidential adviser Nelson Cruikshank were honored here Monday night by the National Association of Mature People.

The organization for persons 55 and older, which claims 100,000 members nationwide, named the three to receive its Evergreen Award for distinguished public service at the NAMP biennial convention that began Monday.

Burns and Cruikshank, President Carter's adviser on aging, were unable to attend. Smith, 67, of El Paso, writes the twice-weekly column "Time of Your Life" that appears in more than 100 newspapers.

"My honor in receiving the Evergreen Award is deepened by the gratitude I feel toward NAMP for recognizing mature people are and can continue to be constructive, well-adjusted forces in neighborhood, community and national life and not objects of pity or disuse," Smith said. Burns sent his regrets by telegram, saying he had a previous show business commitment that prevented him from attending.

Iris Society announces annual show winners

The West Texas Iris Society recently held its fourth annual Iris Show, "Good Grief, Charlie Brown, That's An Iris," at the Lancaster Garden

According to Show Chairman Willadene Henderson, "The show was a great success, with 30 exhibitors entered in horticulture, artistic and educational categories.'

Guests attended from Ohio, Missouri. New Mexico and Japan, as well as Dallas, Amarillo, Lubbock, El Paso, Austin, Odessa, Kermit, Crane, Abilene, Canyon and Midland.

The horticulture division was judged by American Iris Society judges Mrs. Jessie Wade of El Paso, Mrs. Louise Nichols of Amarillo and Mrs. Ida Frank of Canyon. The artistic division was judged by Mrs. Leanell Hardman of Midland and Mrs. Louise Henderson and Mrs. Wanda Sparkman, both of Odessa.

The "Queen of Show" was grown by Jane Cappadonna of Midland. She won the American Iris Society rosette for her tall-bearded iris named 'Summer Sunshine.

Linda Cranfill won the AIS Sweepstakes rosette, silver medal and certificate for the most blue ribbon (first place) entries in horticulture specimens. Jean Eads was runnerup and won the bronze medal and certificate from AfS. Mrs. Eads also won a blue ribbon and AIS special award rosette for her educational entry.

In the Artistic Design Division, Maria Spencer won the American Iris Socety Sweepstakes rosette for the most blue ribbons in this division.

Willadene Hendersonwas runnerup in the Artistic Design Division.

The Best Arrangement of the Show was won by Willadene Henderson for her arrangement entitled "Schroeder," suggesting the movement of music with open color interpretation. She was awarded the AIS rosette for this award.

In the Youth Division, Jay Marburger won Sweepstakes for the most blue ribbons in the Horticulture Division. Kathy Cranfill won the AIS rosette for the best specimen in show for her tall-bearded iris, "Tropical Butterfly." Kathy also won an award for her artistic entry entitled, "The Easter Beagle.

The Presidents Trophy is awarded by the West Texas Iris Society to a member of the society. Winner of this award, judged by the past presidents of the society and the current president, was Mrs. Henderson for her horticulture entry in the median iris named 'bWhoop 'Em Up." This iris was introduced and registered by Mrs. Dovie Brady of Dumont.

Other chairmen for this year's show were Anne Carroll, show co-chairman; G. Edward Jones, judges and clerks; Mrs: Carroll and Su Evridge, staging and property; Carole Headrick, awards; Jones and Barbara Larsen, publicity; Mrs. Eads, horti-culture entries; Arva Putnam, artistic entries; Mrs. Cranfill and Helen Davis, entry placement; Bonnye Bradley, hospitality; Darlene Hicks, educational entries, and Miss Spencer, English boxes entries. All other members of the society served on these committees.

Hunt-Volcker link being investigated by House panel

WASHINGTON (AP) - A House panel is pressing Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker to explain his role in arrangements for huge bank loans to the billionaire Hunt brothers after the collapse of their silver fortune.

Volcker has said he's aware of negotiations for an $800 million loan to Texans Nelson Bunker Hunt and William Herbert Hunt, but he has denied approving the plan to help them pay large debts stemming from their silver losses.

Other officials, however, indicate the Federal Reserve Board may have been more active, with Volcker indicating a loan would be a good idea to stem further trauma in the financial Volcker was called to testify today before the House Government Operations subcommittee on commerce, consumer and monetary affairs.

"We don't question that the Fed should be involved when markets are so unstable, but we want to know exactly how involved," said a committee staff member. "It remains unclear what Volcker's role was. Should Congress have been advised and should the negotiations and the Fed's role have been made public?" The staffer asked not to be identi-

The Hunts refused to appear before the subcommittee Tuesday, despite a subpoena commanding their testimony about the silver collapse, and the panel voted unanimously to seek a contempt of Congress citation against

The brothers are scheduled to testify voluntarily before a Senate Agriculture subcommittee May 2 and their lawyers said that scheduled appearance was one reason they chose not to appear before the House panel.

The Hunts had been speculating heavily in silver, dominating the market in the view of many analysts. But their financial position deteriorated when silver's price slid from more than $50 an ounce in January to below $11 in late March.

When they could not pay their broker more than $100 million due on their silver futures account, the market collapsed in panic. One report described the size of the Hunts' debt at about $1.7 billion. The loan under discussion, according to that report, would go directly to the Placid Oil Company, owned wholly by the Hunt family. The banks apparently would consider Placid assets as collateral for the loan.

The Federal Reserve Board describes itself as a "lender of last resort," and while it normally avoids direct intervention in banker-customer relations, it is known to get involved when financial markets are jeopardized

Board involvement takes on special importance because of its new rigid credit rules aimed, in part, at deterring bank loans for speculation.

Officials close to the board say extra steps are being taken by the banks to make sure any loans to the Hunts don't go toward speculation, but are limited to helping the brothers deal with their losses.

The subcommittee, which also plans to question Comptroller of the Currency John G. Heimann, is particularly concerned that federal agencies did not adequately monitor the silver market and were not prepared for the subsequent collapse.

Condominium explosion kills two

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - An explosion at a downtown Minneapolis condominium killed two people and injured three others, two of them critically, authorities said.

The Hennepin County medical examiner's office identified those killed Tuesday in the electrical transformer blast as Donald Amundson, 52, Bloomington, and Bernice Jorgenson, 46, Minneapolis.

Amundson was an assistant trouble foreman for Northern States Power Co. Mrs. Jorgenson was an employee of Coldwell Banker, which manages said the department received a call at 3: 18 p.m. and sent an engine company

Upon arriving at the scene, firemen confirmed a transformer housed in a concrete block structure outside the building was smoking. They immediately called NSP, Fust said.

"As the power company, the firefighters and some maintenance people were approaching the transformer and as the trouble was being diagnosed by the NSP personnel, there was an explosion without warning.'

There also were reports of a gas leak in the complex, and residents of the 139 units were evacuated. However, fire officials said those reports proved to be false

About two hours after the explosion, residents were allowed to return to their condominiums, although the electricity had been turned off throughout the complex.

Two firemen and a maintenance worker for the condominium were injured in the blast.

A spokeswoman at Hennepin County Medical Center identified the injured firefighters as Capt. Gene Hirt, 47, New Hope, in critical condition, and Dave Ulstrom, 46, Mora, who was treated and released. The condominium employee, Irving David Branchaud, 42, Brooklyn Center, was also listed in critical condi-

Fust said it would probably be several days before the cause of the explosion was known. He said it was believed to be accidental.

Two classes will be held each night, one from 6 to 6:30 p.m. and the other from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

"This is an excellent opportunity for children to start swimming lessons early with a chance to have individual attention and help since there will be an instructor for every one or two students," said Mrs. Car-

"The class will be especially helpful to those who will be taking regular lessons this summer as it will give them additional time to adjust to the

Ten wildcat projects spotted in five West Texas counties

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1980

Ten wildcat operations, including four in Runnels County, have been announced in West Texas areas.

Bruce A. Wilbanks of Midalnd No. 1 Maxfield will be dug as a 4,000-foot wildcat 12 miles east of Imperial in Pecos County.

It is 8,307 feet from south and 876 feet from west lines of section 40, block 9, H&GN survey.

It is 1/2 mile northwest of a 3,924foot dry hole and 5/8 mile north of the recently staked Wilbanks No. 1 State, a 4,000-foot wildcat. It also is 1 1/4 mile northwest of Clear Fork production in the Horsehead Crossing multipay pool.

HILLIN WILDCAT

Hillin Production Co. of Odessa spotted No. 2 J. W. Powell as a 4,700foot wildcat 8.7 miles southeast of Imperial.

Drillsite is 660 feet from northeast and 467 feet from southeast lines of section 98, block 10, H&GN survey.

It is 7/8 mile northwest of Lawrence No. 1 State, a Tubb discovery in the Hillaw field and 3/4 mile north of the Shearer (2,200) field.

ECTOR RE-ENTRY

Mobil Producing Texas & New Mexico Inc., No. 1 Sallie W. Ratliff will be re-entered as a wildcat in Ector County, four miles north of

Microwaves may heat human bodies

By DANIEL Q. HANEY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) - Using no more power than a lightbulb, small doses of microwaves can warm people just as effectively as microwave ovens roast turkeys, says a Harvard physicist.

Professor Robert V. Pound says that home microwaves can produce radiant heat that should be able to cheaply and safely supplement furnaces to keep people

The innovation, he said, "could contribute importantly toward alleviating the developing world energy crisis.

Pound, who outlined his idea in the latest issue of the journal Science, says this kind of radiation is no more dangerous than the heat waves from a fireplace al safety limits. or wood stove.

When a microwave generator is installed in a room, he says, the waves will heat the peo ple, not the air. So even when the air temperature is low, people will feel toasty

The only drawback, Pound said, would be that walls, ceilings and floors would have to be covered with metal foil in order for the microwave heating to be efficient. The foil, which could have decorative facing, would reflect the microwaves and bounce them around the room.

Furniture would also have to be designed so that it wouldn't absorb and thereby waste the microwaves.

Pound maintained in his article that microwaves might eliminate the need for space heating in some climates. while "in others, heating of buildings might be reduced to a level sufficient only to avoid freezing and discomfort from contact with cold ob-

Pound said that in a room where the air is 50 degrees, 60 watts worth of microwaves would make a person feel as though the temperature is 72. Two people would require twice as many microwaves.

Not everyone in the room may like the same temperature. So those who want to be cooler could wear clothing with metallized threads that screen out some of the microwaves. Russian scientists have found that workers exposed to microwave radiation for many years suffer abnormally slow heart beats, chest pains. insomnia, headaches, irritability and memory loss. However, American researchers have not duplicated the findings.

Pound said the heating radiation is safe because the microwaves would be very short - only one centimeter long. The waves in a microwave oven are 12 centimeters. These very short waves would penetrate only the skin, and Pound said they fall within feder-

YOUR BIRTHDAY TO-DAY: Actor Glenn Ford shares both your birthday and your love of the open countryside. Great success is within your reach this year, and you find career, business more exciting and rewarding than in recent past. You love a challenge and enjoy competition. Friends both admire and envy the selfreliance you exhibit. In romance, you tend to give more than you get. If looking for spouse, choose carefully.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Good friends come through for you in those little ways that can mean so much. Your morale and productivity improve considerably. Finish tedious project as quickly as possible.

20): Tend to business and personal correspondence. Pay bills on time. Home life should be tranquil now. You have special opportunity to show your devotion to one who may feel neglected.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your quick wit can make the sensitive a bit nervous. Joke about own foibles, not associate's quirks. In romance, you seek deeper emotional com-

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Appealing proposition could be more risky than you realize. In domestic situation, be honest about admitting past mistakes. Loved one wants to believe what you have to say. Try not to make promises you cannot keep. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You are meant to be a leader, not a follower. Career takes precedence over romance today. You may need to put in some extra hours at work. Keep updated copy of resume handy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If possible, delay any meetings to sign documents, contracts. More information is needed to clarify issue at stake. Hobby or sport activity can provide healthy outlet for excess energy or tension

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Hunch may not pay off where investment is concerned. Stick to facts, figures. Steady effort is needed to advance career now. Exercise discretion in ticklish social situation. Choose confidants wisely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): News from far away is encouraging but involves tricky time factor. Move ahead swiftly with plans to beat out any competition. You have knack for saying the right words to turn away wrath.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Some valuable assistance can be yours for the asking. Don't let pride keep you from admitting a lack of knowledge or expertise in specialized area.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Associate offers unexpected praise. Promotion or raise is possible. Proposed changes are likely to benefit you, so don't oppose them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Rely on your instincts today. Share special knowledge with one who has proved loyal tivities help career as well as social life

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Lay foundations for move you hope to make in late summer. Avoid speculative deals or gambling. Guard your savings. Friendly, nonjudgmental talk accomplishes much with loved one.

The player occupy ing the South chair must also have a modicum of skill to take advantage of his blessings. Consider this hand.

Just one note about the auction. North did not employ the Stayman Convention to check on the possibility of a 4-4 heart fit because his hand was perfectly balanced. Since there was no ruffing value, North simply made the power raise to the no trump game.

Steep decline in economy noted

WASHINGTON (AP) - The third steepest monthly decline in history in the nation's index of economic indicators was recorded in March, the Commerce Department said today, providing more evidence that the nation may face a deep recession.

The index fell 2.6 percent last month. It was the eighth decline in the past 12 months and the steepest for any month since September 1974 when it fell 3 percent as the economy was sinking into the 1974-1975 recession

"It means forces are very much tilted toward recession," said Feliks Tamm, a Commerce Department analyst

Tamm said there are many similarities beween the behavior of the index in recent months and its behavior during the last recession, although it does not yet give much indication of the severity of the expected new downturn.

The 1974-1975 recession was the worst slide in the economy since the Great Depression. President Carter and many other top administration officials, as well as many private economists, believe the economy entered a recession in February or

While Carter says the new recession will be mild and short, others see a steeper downturn, especially with the crippling decline in homebuilding activity and the plunge in domestic auto sales.

The index of economic indicators is designed to point to future trends in the economy. Tamm said it has been pointing to sluggish or negative growth for the past 17 months

The index declined 0.4 percent in February. It was unchanged in January, on the basis of a new revision, but declined during the previous three

The only other time the index fell by more than 2.6 percent was in September 1953, when it dropped 2.8

Tamm said that since last October, the average monthly decline has been 0.8 percent, which he said is "particularly inmportant" in reflecting weakness of the economy

Seven of the 10 individual statistics used in the index declined in March, led by stock prices and building permits. Also negative were the average work week, the job layoff rate, raw materials prices, the money supply, and new factory orders.

On the positive side were sales deliveries, cash and other liquid assets and plant and equipment orders. The index stood in March at 131.3 of the 1967 average of 100,

Meanwhile, government officials are hopeful that an improvement in the nation's trade balance will help keep the U.S. do har attractive overseas, despite the drop in interest rates that is now well under

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday the trade defcit narrowed to $3.16 billion in March, down sharply from the February deficit of $5.6 billion and the lowest monthly deficit in four months.

At the same time, several major U.S. banks on Tuesday became the latest to lower their prime lending rates to 18.5 percent, and there were with the result that the dollar has gained in predictions the rate will soon drop below 18 per-

Interest rates throughout the economy have been falling steadily in recent weeks, mostly because the recession trend in the economy is reducing demand

While declining interest rates are being welcomed by businesses, farmers and consumers, officials are worried they could be less welcome abroad.

Big prayer meeting attracts large crowd to National Mall

By H. JOSEF HEBERT

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was billed as "a great big prayer meeting" - rather than a demonstration or protest - and it attracted the largest crowd Washington has seen since the celebration of the Bicentennial

From dawn to dusk Tuesday, an estimated 200,000 impassioned American Christians raised their voices in song, prayer and repentance in a revival meeting its organizers said was intended to bring the nation and its leaders "back to God."

His voice booming out over the crowd gathered on the National Mall, the Rev. Pat Robertson, founder of the Christian Broadcasting Network, talked of "a crisis in our land" and said, "God of our fathers, you will save us - that is why we are here.'

Despite the threat of rain, the crowd began to assemble before sunrise. By noon, the clouds had gone and tens of thousands more people had arrived. While some stayed all day - 121/2 hours - others slipped in and out to visit nearby tourist attractions and shops

But they all proclaimed their ardent love of God and raised their hands to ask forgiveness.

The organizers said the people came from all 50 states. Banners gave witness to the claim: "Texas for Jesus," "Pittsburgh Loves God," "Mississippi for Jesus.

Although organizers had expected 500,000 or more - some predicted a million — the turnout was enough to jam early morning and evening rush-hour traffic. Many left chartered buses at an armory and ook subways to and from the Mall.

U.S. Park Police estimated the crowd at 200,000, eclipsing the 175,000 who attended a Roman Catholic Mass by Pope John Paul II last October. It was the largest gathering in Washington since a million people came to celebrate the Bicentennial four years

Although nearly every Christian denomination was believed represented, most of the participants were Christian fundamentalists and the rally was organized by a group of evangelists known for their conservative political views.

Representatives from 20 mainstream religious organizations, including the 32-member National Council of Churches, criticized the event, saying it was "arrogant" to try to "assert that one's position on a political issue is Christian and that all others are un-Christian, secular, humanist, immoral or sin-

Robertson denied that the event was political or as some critics charged - that its leaders were trying to establish a political power base. "Christians have a right to be heard to speak on issues, to run for office, and be involved in public affairs," he

Many of the more than 60 speakers alluded to controversial political and social issues. Spokesmen for the "Washington for Jesus" organization acknowledged many of the rally leaders had strong and conservative views opposing abortion, homosexuals, the Equal Rights Amendment, and gun control, while favoring increased defense spending, school prayer, and efforts "to preserve the family unit."

In his keynote sermon, Adrian Rodgers, pastor of the 10,000-member Bellevue Baptist Church in Memphis and president of the 13-million-member Southern Baptist Convention, said America has grown

"The scream of the great American eagle has become but the twitter of a frightened sparrow,' Rodgers declared. "America must be born again or join the graveyard of the nations.

"Amen," replied the crowd.

Security stressed at refugee centers

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) - Security at docks and Cuban port of Mariel. Ten boats carrying more than refugee processing centers has been tightened amid disclosures that dozens of Cubans from the "Freedom Flotilla" have admitted criminal pasts ranging from petty theft to murder.

Dade County Sheriff Bobby Jones said Tuesday that more than half the 200 "high risk" refugees interviewed by his department - single men under 40 without relatives in this country - had acknowleged criminal records.

through our intelligence that (Cuban President Fidel) Castro had been loading up the boats with some people of questionable backgrounds," said county manager Merrett Stierheim.

Meanwhile, Gov. Bob Graham warned that seizing the sealift boats could lead to tragedy and the Coast Guard, putting human life ahead of official policy, offered to cooperate with Cuba in assuring safe passage for refugees.

"The Coast Guard does not want to encourage the illegal and highly dangerous boatlift," Cmdr. Samuel J. Dennis said Tuesday. "Our primary mission is to minimize the loss of life.

300 Cubans docked Tuesday, and the total number of refugees in the 10-day exodus was expected to top 4,000 today

A beefed-up force of immigration officers, FBI agents and National Guardsmen tightened security at docks and processing centers. There were also reports that mental patients and possibly Cuban intelligence agents were planted among the refu-

A National Guardsman said troopers have been ordered to stop any refugees attempting to escape -'or we're in big trouble

The U.S. Coast Guard has asked its Cuban counterpart to cooperate in providing safe passage for the ragtag armada across the 90-mile Florida Straits.

Coast Guard Adm. Benedict Stabile asked authorities on the communist-controlled island to cable information on departing boats to allow American officials to keep tabs on their progress.

Rebels keep hopes alive

By BOB DILLON Sports Writer

Senior righthander Wade Cartwright was tremendous Tuesday afternoon.

He set Abilene down on a neat three-hitter at the Lee diamond as Midland Lee posted a 6-3 victory over the Eagles to keep pace with the Abilene Cooper in the wild second half of the District 5-4A baseball race. Cooper also won, nipping Midland High, 11-10.

So now, going into Saturday's final games, both Lee and Cooper stand 5-1. and of course, if Cooper beats Abilene, it won't matter what Lee does with Midland High since the Cougars would automatically be crowned 5-4A champions for the second straight year. A Lee victory and Cooper loss. however, would give Coach Ernie Johnson's crew the second half title and a playoff with Cooper for the overall championship. Cooper won the first half with a 6-1 record.

CARTWRIGHT GAVE up two infield singles and one solid single by Ray Romero and then threw no-hit ball the final five innings.

"Wade has been getting stronger and stronger in each mound apperance and now we have two good throwers with him and Alan Koonce,' said Johnson afterward.

Koonce continues to hit the ball well. The junior went three-for-three including a tremenous 360-foot homer over the fence in left-center in the third inning. The ball landed in Johnson's backyard and was really hit!

Lee handed righthander Mack Rogers his first mound loss of the year after the senior had chalked up an 8-0 record and the Rebs got off to a good start with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first after Cartwright pitched himself out of a jam in the top

Abilene threatened when leadoff batter Mike Harrell legged out an infield single. Cartwright then hit Mike Blackwell with a pitch, but bore down to get Freddie Johnson on a sacrifice which moved the two runners into scoring position. Bobby Oles popped out to shortstop Randy Velarde and Seth Smith grounded out to first to end the threat

LEE'S TWO runs in the first came after one was out. Cartwright walked and was moved to second on a sacrifice by Velarde. Jeff Hicks singled in Cartwright and scored moments later on a hit-and-run by Koonce with his hit going into left to make it 2-0.

Abilene tied the game, 2-2, in the second, thanks to two Rebel errors. Stokes legged out an infield hit, went to second when Cartwright tried to pick him off first, but threw the ball away. Romero singled in Stokes and went to second when leftfielder David Corrales bobbled the ball. Gary Drew sacrificed him to third and he scored on a squeeze bunt by Jim Millikin. Cartwright struck out Harrell to end the inning.

THREE RUNS crossed the plate for Lee in the bottom of the second. Tom Morrison walked and pinehrunner Randy Pepper skipped on down to second when a pickoff by Rogers went astray. Gary Wood was safe on a fielder's choice when Rogers elected to try and get the runner at third. Stokes then dropped Barry Corley's popup and Corley then rammed a single into left to score Pepper to* make it 3-2. Cartwright was safe on a bunt single and Velarde rapped a triple into right-center to score two more runs and a 5-2 lead.

The Eagles got another unearned run off Cartwright in the third inning. Blackwell walked, went to second on a throwing error by Cartwright on a pickoff attempt. Johnson struck out and Oles was safe on an error by Velarde at short. Blackwell scored on a groundout to second and Stokes struck out to end the uprising

With it 5-3, Koonce stepped up to the plate and powered a 2-0 pitch over the ABILENE WAS shut down the rest of the way, but did threaten in the top of the fourth only to come away empty-handed. Romero was safe on an error by Hicks at first, but was forced at second on a grouder. Millikin was safe on an error by Velarde and Harrell moved the runner down with a sacrifce, but Blackwell tapped back to the mound to end the inning.

The Eagles got a runner to second in the seventh inning. Cartwright struck out Millikin and got Harrell on a groundout to Velarde at short where the junior made a great throw for the putput. Blackwell walked, went to second on a wild pitch, but the game ended when Johnson looked at a third

Lee is now 15-10 on the year and 5-1 in league play while Abilene is 4-2 and 12-8 going into it's game with Cooper Saturday in the Key City.

Midland plays merry tune with 15 runs and 20 hits

BY TED BATTLES Sports Editor

Someone up in the stands watched as the Midland Cubs broke loose for five first-inning runs and remarked, 'What'd they do, bring back last year's club?

The answer was "No, they just brought in the club that was supposed to be here in the first place.

Whatever the vintage, the Midland Cubs were a delight to watch in what would have been a terrible game for a neutral or Amarillo Gold Sox fan, but was just what the doctor order for the Midland faithful.

The Cubs' batters played a merry tune on the Cubs Stadium scoreboard to post a 15-1 victory over the Gold Sox, pounding out 20 hits, to support Jon Perlman's route-going pitching performance.

Midland will try to make it two in a row at 7:30 p.m. tonight with Steve Viskas, 1-2, going against Troy Dixon, up from Reno with a 3-0 record and 2.00 ERA in his Texas League rookie Manager Randy Hundley was so pleased with the Cubs four-game slump breaker, he didn't know which facet of Midland's game to begin with. "Any time you get 15 runs and 20 hits, you've got to be impressed."

But then there was also Perlman's pitching and a defense the kept Lee Velarde's perfectly manicured infield vaccumed like company was coming. 'Perlman had good stuff and even though he gave up 11 hits, he did a good job of scattering them.

HUNDLEY added, "We have good arms on this club, but they have not been pitching up to their capabilities, but a defense like we had tonight can cure a lot of pitching ills. If a pitcher doesn't have good defense behind him, he begins to pitch defensively, winds up getting behind batters and that leads to trouble."

Perlman's route-going game was not only the Cubs' second of the year, but came a night after the first complete game by Henry Mack, unfortunately a losing effort.

The Cubs made short work of Gary Pickert, the third year Amarillo pitcher out of Emporia State College, handing the veteran his first defeat. Gary survived the first inning, but lead off singles in the second by Scott Fletcher and Tom Grant sent the lefty to an early shower.

It was Fletcher who touched off the

with a two-run homer over the left field fence. BEFORE the night was over the Cubs were to add a couple of four run innings with Fletcher and Javier

Fierro leading the way with four hits while Owen knocked in four runs with his homer, a sacrifice fly and a dou-Tom Grant and Mel Hall had three hits each and Randy La Vigne had a so-so three-hit night. It was so-so because whenever he wasn't singling he was hitting into double plays, three of Fierro singled three times and hit a solo homer in the eighth to knock in three runs and teamed up with third baseman J.W. Mitchell to make Midland's left side look like a million dollars defensively. Mitchell started two double plays and went into the hole to rob Jerry Johnson and John Alvarez of hits while Fierro robbed Frank George in the eighth, but his best play came on catcher Doug Gwosdz, coming in fast to short-hop a difficult ball and gun the runner out at first only to have the ball fall out of first baseman Joe Hicks' glove.

He will report today and Hundley hopes he will be ready to pitch. "He worked seven innings in Florida the other day," Randy said. Clark was 16-5 at Quad Cities last year, got an invitation to spring training from the Chicago Cubs this spring, but hurt an ankle running and never got to throw a pitch in competition...La Vigne made the night's best outfield play stabbing, ranging to the centerfield side of the scoreboard to rob Joe

NFL loves Texas gridders

By The Associated Press

A bumper crop of Southwest Conference athletes drew the attention of National Football League teams that harvested six of the SWC elite in the first round of the NFL draft.

It was the most SWC players ever taken in the first round, and more were picked from the SWC than from any other major conference this

In addition, three Texas natives who played outside the SWC went in Tuesday's first round, including the No. 1 pick, Oklahoma running back Billy Sims

The Detroit Lions chose Sims, a native of Hooks who won the Heisman Trophy as a junior.

"I really don't want to go to a 2-14 team," Sims said, referring to Detroit's 1979 record, "but that's the system and I think I can help them build a winner.

Texas wide receiver Johnny "Lam" Jones, a former Olympic gold medalist, was the first SWC player chosen. The New York Jets, picking second, took Jones and said they plan to team him with speedy Wesley Walker, giving the Jets perhaps the two fastest pass-catchers in pro football. "I know I have to work on my catching and blocking," Jones said. 'The only pressure I'll have is what I put on myself. I'm just going to go up there and do the best I can, give 100 percent and hope that's enough. If that's not enough, I'm in trouble.'

Texas A&M running back Curtis Dickey was the next SWC player to go, picked fifth by the Baltimore Colts, who said they may also use him as a receiver.

"I thought I was going to San Francisco at first," Dickey said, "but I had no preference.

Dickey left his College Station apartment almost immediately, but not before roommate Jacob Green, a. defensive end, was chosen 10th by Seattle.

"I'm really happy with the pick," said Green, rated high for his passrushing ability. "Seattle has a fine team which is already winning and just on the verge of being a playoff contender. "I don't know if I can start for them," he added, "but I know they had a lot of confidence to draft me where they did so I think I can contribute. Between Dickey and Green, the Atlanta Falcons picked seventh and chose Nebraska tight end Junior Miller, a Midland native. In position 13, the San Francisco 49ers pulled a mild surprise, taking

Rice running back Earl Cooper. "I'm really excited about going to the West Coast," said Cooper, a 6-2, 230-pound fullback at Rice who probably will play tailback for the 49ers,

Defensive back Johnny Johnson of Texas was drafted in the 18th spot by the Los Angeles Rams, after a complicated trade with Cleveland. 'For them (the Rams) to give up

Midland College honors athletes

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Midland College took time out from a busy schedule Tuesday to celebrate its most successful year in sports with its annual athletic

The Chaparral basketball team posted its best record in the history of the school with a 27-6 record and the runnerup position in the Region V tournament, the tennis teams are again seeking national tournament berths, the women's golf team won its first tournament and has a shot at a national championship in May while the men's golf team was fourth in regionals after just missing its second straight conference title. There was room for celebration.

Basketball player Robert Tate and golfer Alan Coe received special recognition for their performances this year.

Tate, the heart of the Chap cagers, was named as most valuable player after being named all-conference, all-region and MVP in two post-season all star games. Tate had an 18.4 scoring average and has earned a full scholarship to Cal-State Fullerton. He also shared with Coe a special Student Senate Award, which goes to the athletes for best contributing to

Coe, who was the MVP of the golf team after leading in stroke average and being named all-conference, is on double scholarship at MC, one for academics. Coe missed winning the conference medalist honors by one

In addition to Tate, freshman Kevin Willingham was given the Fighting Chaparral Award for inspirational play while freshman Scotty Tutwiler was named as the team's top defensive player. It was also announced that Kenneth "Big Time" Young and Chucky McGill have signed to play basketball next year at the University of Baltimore. Tim Shelby was also recognized for being named to the second team all-conference team and Charles Johnson for being named to the third team, the only freshman to turn the trick:

McGill, Tate, Young and Shelby are the only members of the basketball team to be lost next year to graduation. Ten players return from the No. 8 nationally ranked squad next season. The tennis team left today for Gainesville and the region tournament, hoping to win national tournament berths. The women's national tournament will be held at MC May 10-15. Sam Rivera, who is MC's No. 1 singles player and brother of former all-conference Chap Jose Rivera, was named by coach Brian Gilley as the most valuable men's player while Russ Houck won the Fighting Chaparral Award. Rudolfo Rico, who runs 15 miles a day, was named as the most inspirational player. Teresa Landry was the MVP for the women while the team's only sophomore, Debbie Smith, was given the Fighting Chaparral Award. Brenda Burgess was the most inspirational. Jim Julian was named as the winner of the Fighting Chaparral Award for the men golfers while Coe was the MVP. However, Delnor Poss, athletic director and coach of the men's golf team, had special praise for Denny O'Connor for firing a 68 at the region tournament while making the all-conference team and all-region team. Former Midland Lee golfer, Grant Spencer, also was named to the all-region team. Debra Kargetta, who posted a Chap record of 71 to help MC win its first women's golf tournament this year, won the Fighting Chaparral Award while sophomore Wendy Goodwin was named as the MVP. The women golfers have their eyes set on the national tournament in Florida this year, and should be in the running for the title. The Academic Award was shared by MC baskett all trainer Nuffie Car-rasco of Kermit and Rankin golfer Jamie Gossett. Both recorded perfect 4.0 grade point averages. Cheerleader Chris Smith was given a Fighting Chaparral Award.

Midland High's James "Doc" Dotson was given a special distinguished trainer award for help during the season while George Smith, Dr. J. D. Martin and Dr. Robert Hollmann were each given the Chaparral Spirit Award by the coaches and players.

Pack falls from 5-4A chase

ABILENE - Midland High blew an 8-0 lead here Tuesday and fell to the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 11-10, in a District 5-4A baseball game.

Midland took a 7-0 lead in the top of the first and led 8-0 with another run in the second before the Cougars came storming back.

The Pack also had leads of 9-4 and 10-7 before Cooper tied the game with a three-run outburst in the bottom of the sixth and scored the winning run with two out in the seventh. With one out, Todd Jenkins was safe on a throwing error by Bulldog shortstop

Eddie Portillo, the only error of the game by MHS. Shane Awalt came up with his fifth hit of the game, an infield single and pitcher Doug McLean got Kirk Russell to ground out to third, but Jay Zumwalt singled in Jenkins with the winning run.

Cooper is now 5-1, the same as Midland Lee in the second half of the 5-4A race and a win over Abilene Saturday will move the Cougars into the playoffs no matter what Midland

Turner of Carrollton in the bi-distrist playoffs next week. Turner has clinched the 6-4A crown. Turner

Lee does against Midland High. The 5-4A champion will meet R.L.

Permian, OHS capture 5-4A baseball victories

Odessa Permian and Odessa High took District 5-4A baseball victories Tuesday as the 1980 season nears its ending this weekend.

Permian edged past San Angelo's Bobcats, 4-2, while OHS took a 10-5 win over hapless Big Spring. Ricky Reynolds had the only extra-base blow of the game for Permian with a double as Jay Doelling went all the way for the win which evens Mojo's 5-4A mark at 3-3 going into the season finale with OHS Saturday.

OHS, meanwhile, is now 4-2 and tied with Abilene for second place behind co-leaders Midland Lee and Abilene Cooper which own 5-1 marks.

Billy Rumbaugh slammed a homer for OHS, his fourth in 5-4A play.

stifles Reds By The Associated Press

Ken Forsch

It was a poor start for Ken Forsch but a great finish. And he wasn't too sloppy in the middle, either.

Forsch walked the first batter he faced, then proceeded to stifle the Cincinnati Reds on just three hits to hurl the Houston Astros to a 3-0 victory Tuesday night.

The first inning was really tough," said Forsch. "I didn't think I was ever going to get loose. Then my arm sort of came around, though, and I never even got tired in the late innings It was the first complete game of the season for the 6-foot-4, 215-pound right-hander who said he was bothered by the chilly night air. Cesar Cedeno provided the power for the Astros with a two-run homer that bounced off the foul pole screen in left field. "I knew it was out when I hit it, if it didn't go foul," said Cedeno.

Cedeno was benched last week for his weak hitting. When he returned to the Astros' lineup, he was moved down to the seventh spot. "That's a big thing for us, if he can start producing a few runs for us.

said Houston Manager Bill Virdon. "He's never been down there before (batting seventh), but sometimes it takes a little change to get things started.

Forsch, who ran his record to 3-0, was in trouble only once - when Cincinnati threatened to score in the fifth inning. But Forsch struck out Ken Griffey with the bases loaded toend the inning.

Pirates 5, Expos 4 A double by Bill Madlock in the 10th sinning scored pinch runner Matt Alexander to give Pittsburgh its victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday. Dave Parker's three-run homer in the first inning gave Pittsburgh a 3-1 lead and Easler drove in the other Pittsburgh run in the third.

Warren Cromartie homered for Montreal

Cubs 6, Cardinals 4 Steve Dillard doubled home the game-tying run in the ninth, then scored on Barry Foote's pinch single to pace Chicago past St. Louis.

Doug Capilla, 1-0, picked up the victory with Bruce Sutter registering his seventh save by hurling a scoreless ninth inning.

Dodgers 5, Giants 0 Right-hander Dave Goltz hurled his second straight shutout - this time a six-hitter - as streaking Los Angeles posted its ninth straight victory. The Dodgers exploded for four runs in the first inning, capped by Ron Cey's three-run homer.

It's the Dodgers" longest winning streak since they won 12 in a row in

North Stars stun Philadelphia Flyers

(AP) - Since the National Hockey League playoffs began, the Minnesota North Stars have found a home away from home in the rink of any team they visit. In the preliminary round, they completed a three-game sweep of Toronto in Maple Leaf Gardens. In the quarterfinals, they finished the defending champion Canadiens in Game Seven at the Montreal Forum Sunday night. And Tuesday night in the Spectrum, where the regular-séason champion Flyers had lost only five of their 45 games this season, the North Stars held on for a wild 6-5 triumph in the opener of their semifinal series. But it was not always so, as Minnesota Coach Glen Sonmor was quick to point out after North Stars left wing Steve Christoff had set a record for most playoff goals by a rookie (eight) and the teams had combined to set another standard by scoring five goals in a 3: 20 span of the first period. Earlier this season. when the North Stars had won only five of their first 21 road games, Sonmor asked each of his players why the team fared so poorly on for-eign ice. "I found I was hearing the same phrases from every player: We were too tense. not aggressive enough, we were sitting back too much, we were playing without enthusiasm, "I met with the players and said, 'These are your words, not mine. Now we've got to do something about it. We may not be rewarded immediately, but it will come." It has. The North Stars finished with 11 road victories, 20 losses and nine ties, and in the playoffs, they have won five of their six contests away from the Met Center. Before Tuesday night's game, Sonmor said, "Wedecided to let them know immediately they're not going to intimidate us that we were going to have as many good, authoritative takeouts as they would. We went out right away and let them know we weren't going to back down one bit.

The strategy worked. Christoff scored the first of his two goals just 4:19 into the contest, and after Al Hill tied it at 5:23 with the power-play goal that snapped a string of 23 consecutive Philadelphia failures with a man advantage, defenseman Paul Shmyr made it 2-1.

Brewers shake mini-slump

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Brewers ended their mini-slump with a bang ... seven of them, in fact

After scoring just eight runs while losing four games in a row, the homer-happy Brewers slugged seven balls over the fences of Cleveland Stadium while clobbering the Indians 14-1. The seven home runs set a club record and tied Baltimore's 1967 American League mark by one club in a night game

"Our off-day Monday gave the club a chance to regroup," said Ben Oglivie, who drove in five runs with two homers, a double and single and triggered the explosion with a two-run shot in the second inning. "I knew we would break out of this slump. It was just a matter of time. I saw the ball good tonight and a game lithis will help us break out."

All 14 Milwaukee runs scored on homers. Following Oglivie's secondinning smash, Paul Molitor and Sixto Lezcano homered in the third, Larry Hisle connected in the fourth, Sal Bando unloaded in the fifth and Oglivie and Bando homered again in the eighth

'We havn't been scoring many runs lately," said Manager Buck Rodgers. "I knew we were ready to break out of this slump soon. He (loser Bob Owchinko) pitched well, but he just met us on the wrong night.

Rangers 10, Tigers 5 Richie Zisk belted a two-run homer and Mickey Rivers went 4-for-5 as Texas bombed Detroit in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. The Rangers jumped on Jack Morris for a run in the first inning and four more in the second, during which Morris took a line drive off his leg and left the game. Zisk's homer in the third was a tremendous blow that landed high in the upper left-field seats.

Blue Jays 3, Royals 1 Otto Velez drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and a solo homer in the sixth. That enabled Jim Clancy, who scattered six hits, to post his first complete-game victory in exactly a year. His last one came on April 29, 1979, against Milwaukee. It also was his first victory since last May 4 after two injuries to a tendon in his ankle sidelined htm for the majority of the 1979 season.

The triumph was the fourth in a row for the first-place Blue Jays, the surprise leaders in the American League East after three last-place finishes. They remained one game ahead of the Willie Randolph and Reggie Jackson clouted New York home runs and reliever Rudy May put down a sixthinning threat to record his first save since 1974. Rick Dempsey drove in all the Baltimore runs with a two-run homer off Luis Tiant in the first inning and a solo shot off May in the eighth. Randolph hit a two-run homer in the fifth to erase a 2-1 Baltimore lead. Jackson's leadoff homer in the sixth finished Scott McGregor.

A's 6, Angels 4 Mickey Klutts singled to drive in two runs in the sixth inning and Mike Norris pitched a five-hitter. Norris, who has allowed only 14 hits in 32 innings this season, struck out six and walked five as the A's made it six in a row against the defending AL West champs. The A's took a-1-0 lead in the second inning on Mike Heath's sacrifice fly. They added a run in the third when Rickey Henderson walked and scored from first on a hit-and-run single by Dwayne Murphy

Red Sox 11, White Sox 1 Jim Rice and Tony Perez hit tworun homers and Dwight Evans drove in three runs to back Bob Stanley's strong pitching. Rice connected in the third inning, Perez delivered in the sixth and Evans socked a two-run triple in the eighth. Meanwhile, Stanley allowed four hits in eight innings and recorded a career-high seven strikeouts.

Mariners 5, Twins 3

Joe Simpson highlighted a threerun ninth-inning rally with a tiebreaking single. The Mariners were paced by Bill Stein's 4-for-4, three-RBI performance. Stein hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning to break up a pitchers' duel between the Twins' Jerry Koosman and the Mariners' Floyd Bannister, then singled home the tying run in the ninth against Mike

And in ballparks across the nation, National League and American, men wearing pinstripes as well as polyester have been put on notice.

"I'd like the whole pie," says Lamar Johnson, one of the White Sox' chief "torpedoes," with a .377 average, a league-leading 17 runs batted in and four homers going into last weekend. "I need every hit I can get because you never "They're a good hitting club," says Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner, whose Pirates watched their 2-0 edge evaporate in a 5-3 loss Friday. 'Don't let anyone tell you different."

THE HITMEN are doing in pitchers on the South Side, where the White Sox hang out, and they're roughing them up on the North Side, where the Cubs make their den. And, while no longer carrying the violin cases that was once their hallmark, Chicago's hit men are performing on the road.

As a result, the Sox lead AL West leader Oakland by one-half game while the Cubs have pulled a few percentage points ahead of the defending World Champion Pirates in the NL

Some of our guys are off to fast starts," says Buckner. "But what's so surprising about our hitting? This is pretty close to the same club that led the league two years ago."

Reggie at 34 is mellowing By THOMAS BOSWELL

The Washington Post NEW YORK - Mark Twain said that politicians. old buildings and madams become respectable with

Reggie Jackson would like to make it a four-

After years of straining to be the straw that stirs the drink, it has dawned on Jackson that, perhaps, he is the drink that is getting stirred.

When you go the movies and get sued, when you walk to your car and get accused of battering a child, when you foul off on a sacrifice bunt and get suspended for insubordinaton, it makes you wonder who's getting stirred. It makes you wonder who's in

When you jog in from the outfield and your manager is waiting in the dugout to punch you, or else you step in a hole and disable yourself for a month, it makes you wonder about your luck. About your approach to things.

Jackson has not staked out his new position - his new image, as he perhaps unwisely choses to call it - in any single way, but rather in dozens of ways.

"I must take off my black hat... I have to control my tongue...I have to substantiate my thoughts rather than just raise hell...you have to sell yourself and politic a little in this life... I have to stop getting into things too deep...I don't want to offend...It's good to feel wanted and be respected...part of the trouble with Billy (Martin) is that I misunderstood his wants.'

THESE snippets of conciliation, these bon mots of a once-burned, twice-shy man, are extracts from Jackson's recent conversation - all said within 15

If the New York Yankee slugger suddenly has to go to the disabled list, no one should have to ask why. It'll be a slipped disc. This is a man who is spending a lot of time bending over backwards.

Jackson, just a few days before his 34th birthday, seems to be a man in the midst of a long, gradual, yet uneasy personal transition.

His locker at the Yank clubhouse is in the corner, almost hidden, as though he were an animal gone to earth. He no longer seems to seek attention in the little ways that ballplayers notice and resent No one ever mastered the tricks of the limelight

"He hustles, runs everything out, hates to embarrass himself. He'll take a guy out on a double play or run into a wall, make a sliding catch. His whole career he's missed games because of hustle' injuries.

"Most important, he can reach a special level of concentration in the key situations that win games just like Frank Robinson. And, kinda like Frank when the score's 9-2 either way, his concentration lapses and he gives away at-bats or makes a mean-

Rosie's crown turns to pumpkin

BOSTON (AP) - Jacqueline Gareau of Montreal officially is the 1980 Boston Marathon women's champion and new record-holder, but Rosie Ruiz can return next year for another shot if she wants it.

The Boston Athletic Association awarded victory to the 27-year-old Gareau eight days late Tuesday in disqualifying Rosie on the grounds she did not run the entire race April 22.

In disqualifying the 26-year-old New York office worker, however, the BAA bid her welcome to return in 1981 and prove she belongs among the world's top women distance runners.

"I can truthfully and honestly say without hesitation that today has been the second saddest day of my life, only to be surpassed by the day I had to leave my father in my native country (Cuba) 18 years ago," Ruiz told the Associated Press in a telephone interview Tuesday night.

Will Cloney, director of the Boston Marathon since 1946, said a week-long investigation showed "beyond any reasonable doubt" that Ruiz did not cover the 26-mile, 385-yard course. However, he extended her "an open invitation" to enter again without the usual qualifying restric-

Cloney said that during the investigation BAA officials were "able to chart the women's race from about the midpoint in Wellesley to beyond Kenmore Square, less than one-half mile from the finish.

He said Gareau was the leader among 17 women checked at Wellesley, and more than 10,000 photos taken by four high speed cameras showed her in front about a mile from the finish.

"Miss Ruiz does not show in any sequence in the photos," Cloney

Ruiz, was clocked at the finish line in 2 hours, 31 minutes, 56 seconds, which would have made it the third fastest women's time in history. Gareau was timed in 2:34:28, bettering the course record of 2:35:15 by Maine college senior Joan Benoit in 1979.

"I want to thank Mr. Cloney and all of the officials of the BAA from the bottom of my heart," Ruiz said. "I know they have deliberated for the past nine days and they have taken every possible evidence for and against me and given it all careful consideration.

'I wish to retain my medal because I believe it is for the honor that comes with winning the big one, Boston, an honor I feel I rightfully deserve. As for the proof of what I did, it will come on the streets of New York City, when I show all these people that I am a world class runner.

Asked if he considered Ruiz "a liar, fraud or cheat," Cloney, who met with Rosie Monday, said:

"I would never use those words about another human being. If she did anything wrong, it was on the spur of the moment. I'm not a doctor, not a psychiatrist, but I'm convinced Rosie thinks she ran the race and won the

Crowned with a winner's laurel wreath and assured by Cloney she will be honored with men's BAA winner Bill Rodgers in a couple of weeks, Gareau smiled and said:

"This has been the longest weekend. I am proud to be the first." Cloney said that Ruiz told him Monday she would not return the winner's medel. However, he added: "I hope that on reflection Rosie would decide it would be the sportsmanlike thing to do.

Ruiz qualified for Boston with a credited time of 2:56:28 in the New York Marathon last fall. However, New York officials disqualified her on the basis of "very strong evidence."

Ruiz said she would return to training Wednesday, and go back to her job next week

Dodgers rip Diablos, 19-2

By The Associated Press

It's hard to tell from the score, but the San Antonio Dodgers had to come from behind Tuesday night to take a 19-2 Texas League baseball victory over the El Paso Diablos.

In other Texas League games. Tulsa beat Arkansas, 8-5, and Shreveport shut out Jackson, 4-0.

Tom Bhagwat's leadoff homer helped El Paso jump off to a 2-0 lead before the roof caved in on the Diablos in the fourth inning when San Antonio scored 10 and continued the onslaught in the fifth inning with 8 more runs.

Tom Byers provided a great deal of San Antonio's offensive power as he had 4 hits in 6 trips to the plate, including 2 doubles and drove in 4

Cha Chu Gonzalez had a two-run homer in the ninth inning to boost the Tulsa Drillers to an 8-5 victory over the Arkansas Travelers. Nick Capra had earlier homered for the Drillers. Dave Penniall had a homer for Ar-

Al Hargesheimer held the Jackson Mets to only 4 hits as the Shreveport Captains took a 4-0 shutout victory.

Draft doesn't excite Pokes

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, who built five Super Bowl teams on the National Football League draft, had to resort to 50-to-1 shots Tuesday when they couldn't work a trade for Thomas Henderson, Ed (Too Tall) Jones and Butch Johnson. Relegated to the 78th and 80th choices because they traded No. 1 and No. 2 round picks to Baltimore for John Dutton, the Cowboys took chances on a running back and a linebacker coming off knee injuries.

THE NAMES of linebacker Bill Roe of Colorado and running back James Jones of Mississippi State sent Cowboy publicists scrambling for those schools respective media guides.

The 6-foot-3, 221-pound Roe was a second team Associated Press All Big Eight selection. He made 161 packles and ran 69 yards for a touchdown with an intercepted pass. He had knee surgery his junior year.

sured the Cowboys that "professional boxing is not in my future plans." Jones is 5-11 and 200-pounds. Although Mississippi State ran the Wishbone offense last year, his talents are more suited to the Cowboy I

Roe also boxes but laughingly as-formation in the tailback position. Jones said "I'm not a blazing fast back but I do a lot of cutting and I can run over people if I have to." Jones can also throw the halfback pass, a trait Coach Tom Landry dearly loves. Jones completed two halfback passes for touchdowns in 1978. He was injured his senior year and played sparingly

'BOTH ROE and James Jones have excellent chances of making it in the NFL," said Landry. "Roe will give us some depth at linebacker-a position where we needed a lot of

"Jones will fit into the tailback role behind Tony Dorsett. There is no question that we got both of these players because they are coming off knee injuries. Most teams were afraid to take a chance on them. When you get down as far as we were in the draft, you don't have much choice."

"I'm happy and surprised to be with the Cowboys," said Roe. "I think I can help them. I'm pretty good in pass coverage.

Asked the status of Henderson and Ed Jones, Landry said "I know Ed Jones is going to come back to football. But a lot of talking has to be done

"As for Henderson, I guess we could trade him for a 1981 draft choice. That would be an attractive deal to a lot of people. He could play a year for them without the other team paying for him. I'd like to borrow some money that way."

ABOUT THE draft Landry concluded, "It was kind of discouraging. There was just no way you could get excited:

He added: "If we had to miss out on a draft, this was a good one to miss. There just weren't that many can't miss players.

In the 20-year history of the Cowboys, they never had to draft as far back as they did Tuesday.
