"The daylight is gone—But before we depart,
One cup shall go 'round to the friend of my heart,
The kindest, the dearest,—oh, judge by
The tear
I now shed while I name him, how kind and how dear."

Is there a friend here that you have neglected? Is there a father or a mother here that you have not visited lately? Maybe a parent that look for a letter from you day after day that does not come? What do they talk about when others visit them? They talk about their children, about their grandchildren; and then tears flow because you and I do not visit them. Oh! They do want to see you. They want to see friends, old timers, young people, and babies that remind them of their very own. How do you plan on teaching your children to respect you and love you in your old age unless you care for and look after the aged near you?

"The plaintive note of the whip-poor-will
Is calling from far away.
Night draws her curtain down the hill
Where deepened shadows lay.
The wanderlust is mine no more,
Though I've scaled the crowning height,
And moored by bark on a frowning shore,
I'm heading' home tonight."

E.W. Patten

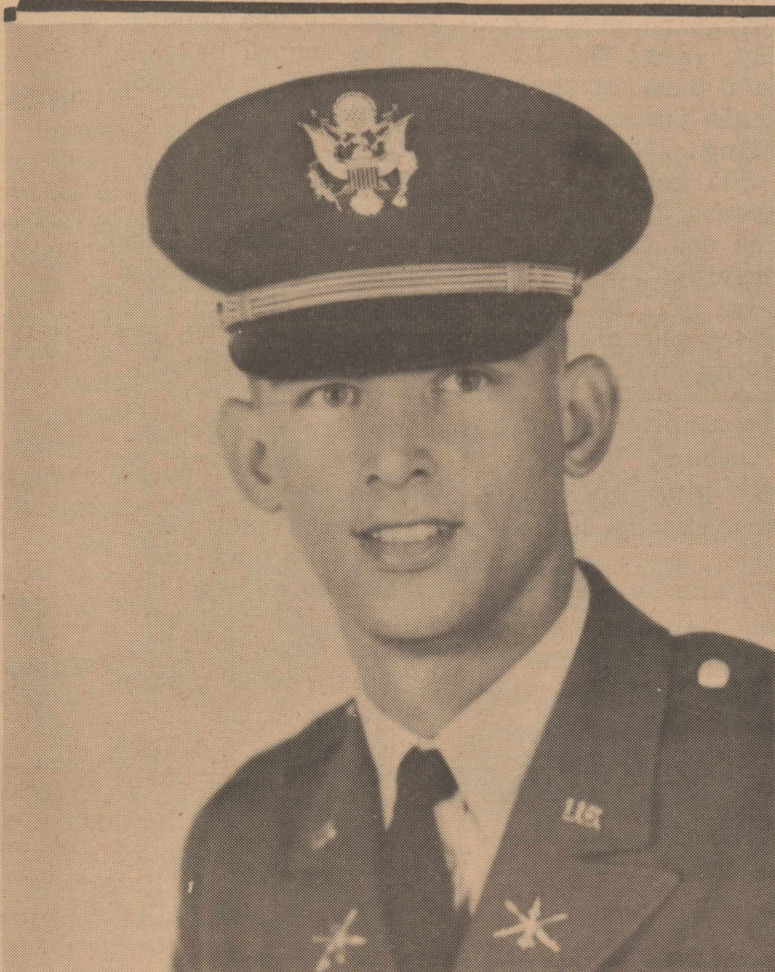

While we are all heading home let us all remember that just a few short breaths separates us from old age, Remember those among us that are old.

Farm hand

ATTENTION: Mr. Farmer

One of the largest bodies of water to be found anywhere in the United States is located in western Gaines County. Part of the vast Ogalala formation, each well drilled in this body of water will produce upwards of one thousand gallons of water per minute and is estimated to continue doing so for at least fifty years.

The soil in western Gaines County is not of the best, according to Soil Conservation standards. Composed of sandy loam, (mostly sand) and numerous outcropping of rock, fertility is very low. Because of this, the price per acre for this land is well below that of other areas, primarily to the north where blackland is the basic soil.

To overcome the lack of fertility and make use of the vast amount of available water, Gaines County farmers are the pioneers of the most elaborate water systems found anywhere in the world. The purpose of these systems are to apply an exact amount of water at a specific time without pushing the water through the soil below the root zone. This system, in turn, enables the farmer to use a vast amount of chemical fertilizer. The chemical fertilizer applied to sandy loam will be completely utilized by the growing crop, provided the water is applied in a proper manner, and the end result is production on a par with any other type of soil. Sometimes, much greater.

The only drawback to this type of water application, regardless of the net efficiency, is initial cost. To prepare a quarter section for irrigation, a well is drilled, a pump is installed, and a motor is used to lift water to the top of the ground. This alone is sufficient to irrigate some types of soil. In Gaines County, this is only a starting point. In connection with the irrigation pump, a system of aluminum pipe must be installed to distribute the water evenly. The total cost of the system can vary as much as fifteen thousand dollars, depending upon how elaborate or how mechanized the requirement.

The basis, or yardstick, for any water system is a sprinkler line 320 ft. or one-quarter of a mile long. The terminology is a quarter-mile of pipe. This quarter mile of pipe was, in the past, moved across the land by hand. After running in one location for twelve hours, the pipe was moved (approximately) fifty feet laterally, or sideways, and allowed to repeat the process. Thus in a manner of a few days, one-two-three-ect. inches of rain could be applied to a tract of land; the amount to be applied depending entirely upon the necessity of the growing crop. Application rate could easily be varied by the size of the sprinkler head and the frequency of the move.

This system would appear to be near-perfect, and it was for as long as labor was available to move the pipe. Here is where the rub comes in. Our Good Neighbor policy to the south, which allowed migratory labor to come from Old Mexico was ended,

GAINES CO. 4-Hers show Swine.

Robbie showed the best boar. Carolyn placed eighth and Robbie Evans placed fifth with his boar. Five lucky boys and girls are awarded a gilt in the program and one boar is given. Any interested person may contact the County Agent's office for information on how to participate.

due primarily from pressure applied to the Government by Organized Labor. Thus, without manual labor to move pipe on a regular schedule, mechanized methods have been employed.

These mechanized units are where the enormous variation in price can be seen. All designed for the same purpose, to move a quarter mile of pipe fifty feet laterally, the cost starts as about five hundred dollars, and can exceed eighteen thousand dollars. The choice is made by the farmer in the type of crop to be grown, and the frequency of the application rate.

LIBRARY WEEK

April 16 - 22

"Reading Is What's Happening" is the theme displayed in your libraries as they observe National Library Week, April 16-22. Seminole tries to serve people who enjoy reading and people who need information from books through several libraries. It has the Gaines County Library, located in the basement of the County Court House, three school libraries, and several church libraries. Mrs. Bud Winks, assisted by Mrs. Gene Ikard is at the County library. Miss Elizabeth Grubbs and Mrs. Bonnie Brown are in the Junior-High Library. The High School Librarian is Mrs. Janelle Sullivan assisted by Mrs. P.A. Morgan. The F. J. Young Elementary Librarian is Miss Wanda Watson. (Mrs. Don Melton is in the Young Library during Miss Watson's illness. This article, prepared by Miss Grubbs.

The Elementary Junior High School library serves 1265 pupils in grades 1-8. The circulating library contains book that will appeal to a wide range of young readers. So here you will find everything from "Mother Goose in Hieroglyphics" (Houghton, 1962) to "Biography of an Atom" by J. Bronowski and Millicent E. Selsam (Harper, 1965). In addition, there are reference books, encyclopedias, magazines, daily newspapers, a film collection, phonograph records, and a picture file.

To assist the young readers in their selections of materials is the librarian, Miss Elizabeth Grubb, and the library clerk, Mrs. Bonnie Brown. And they are using the other theme of National Library Week which challenges all of us to "Explore Inner Space---Read."

MENTAL HEALTH GROUP HEARS MRS. PAUL CONDIT

The Mental Health Group of AAUW had its last meeting of the season, Thursday, April 13, in the home of Mrs. Nora Salter. Mrs. F. J. Young and Mrs. John Thompson were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Paul Condit, graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., in Physical Therapy, spoke on Rehabilitation. A challenge for the Individual and the Community. Rehabilitation, making a handicapped person aware of his potential, is divided into three age categories. In the children's group, accidents alone account for thirty percent of disabilities. The middle group, twenty to forty years of age, are many times disabled due to accidents, strokes, heart disease, multiple sclerosis and arthritis. Chronic diseases in older people prove their biggest disability. To restore the injured part to maximum potentiality is the aim of physical therapy.

Mrs. Condit brought out that there are no personality characteristics which distinguishes a disabled person from a normal one while some attitudes may change, the personality does not. A therapist must learn her patient before physical therapy starts. She must know what motivates the individual and be aware of limitations.

In conclusion, we were reminded men live by four things: work, play, love and worship. A physical defect may impair one's ability to enter into all of these but there's no disability that can destroy desire to do them. No one is so disabled that he can't do some work, play in some fashion, invest love in someone and find some way to worship. Remember God does not forget this handicapped. How can we?

Twelve members and guests were served refreshments.

Mrs. J. Lewis McCrummen, chairman of the group, presented Mrs. Condit a token of appreciation.

The auxiliary lines coming from it will begin near the gin about three miles east and will serve the Elam, Moore, and Ward farms, then south serving the Ridens, Cobb, Thompson, then on through the Norman's, and to the Cope farm. Then west and south to the Planters gin, serving the Jackson, Clanton, and Anderson farms; south-west serving Clyde Jones, L. G. Few men during their lifetime come anywhere near exhausting the resources dwelling within them. There are deep wells of strength that are never used.

Jim and Jean Inman were in Odessa during the week-end, attending the Spring National Drag Racing Championships.

The Seminole High Indian Band rated a Division II in concert and a Division III in sight-reading at the University Interscholastic League Music Contest in Odessa Friday. These ratings are equivalent to "excellent" and "average" respectively. They go with a Division II rating in the marching contest held in Big Spring in November. Judges at Odessa were Harry Haines, Norman High School, Norman, Oklahoma, Oakley Pittman, Southern Methodist; and Mark Hindsley, University of Illinois.

Snyder and Ft. Stockton were the only AAA bands in this music region to win a sweepstakes award this year. Sweepstakes is First Division in all three categories. Cecil Douglas, director, said, "this was the best band, in my opinion, that we have taken to contest since I have been high school director and we came back knowing that we had done our best." Future events for the band includes a stage band tour to Colorado City, Winters, Albany, and Cisco, and the all-banks concert in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. May 11.

REED, CHARLES O. III AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL FOR HEROISM

Awarded: Air medal with "V" Device
Date action: 24 February 1967
Theater: Republic of Vietnam Reason:
For heroism while engaged in aerial flight in connection with military operations against a jps;e ffrce: First Lieutenant Reed distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous actions on 24 February 1967 in th Republic of Vietnam. On this day, an urgent message was monitored by First Lieutenat Reed's aircraft requesting an immediate dust off for the 4th Battalion who had two seriously wounded troops. First Lieutenant Reed answered the call and volunteered to attempt the dust off, although low on fuel. After picking up the battalion commandr and surgeon, First Lieutenant Reed's aircraft proceeded to the LZ area but had to orbit until friendly forces could reach the LZ. When the ground unit reached the LZ and smoke was identified, it was reported that the area was not secured and parts of the friendly unit were in contact with the enemy. A long shallow approach was made to the area and heavy automatic weapond fire was immediately received. As the bottom canopy was reached, the rotor blades had to cut a clear area from the trees. Once on the ground, the patients were loaded and a straight up hovering take off was executed to utilize the hole cut in the canopy and once again the aircraft was taken under heavy hostile automatic weapons fire. After having delivered the patients to the Soui Da medical facility it was determined that the aircraft had less than ten minutes of juel remaining and that a twenty minute delay could have resulted in the death of both patients due to loss of blood. First Lieutenant Reed's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army.

WAYNE WICKER
M. Wicker, 609 S. W. 18

Capt. Wayne Wicker is with the U. S. Army, stationed in Nha Trang. He is an advisor to the Vietnamese in the Transportation Division. Nha Trang is 180 miles Northeast of Siagon. Last week there was an explosion in Nha Thang harbor and the British Tanker "Amastra" was damaged while unloading oil. The U. S. Military said an "external explosion" struck the vessel, but there were no casualties. The headquarters announcement did not give the cause of the explosion, but the term "external" suggested the blast might have been caused by a mine. The release of this gave some anxious moments to Mr. and Mrs. Wicker.

The Captain's wife, Glenda and daughter, Stacy, are residing in Newport News, Virginia, while Wayne is overseas. He is a graduate of Littlefield High School and both, he and his wife, received degrees from Hardin Simmons University in Abilene.

Tommy Patton, Navy Airman 3rd Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Patton has been in Vietnam since Oct. The Pattons recently heard from Tommy and he is to arrive in the Philippines to be in sick bay. The doctors think that Tommy has two collapsed vertebrae. Also, the Pattons have heard from Jerry, their son who is a Navy Airman 3rd Class, stationed at Sanford Base in Florida that he is being transferred in May to Millington, Tenn. Jerry will be an instructor. Associate with men of good quality if you esteem your own reputation; for it is better to be alone than in bad company.

Jimmy Holton was in Seminole over the week end, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holton. Also had a nice visit with a former schoolmate, Ronnie Norton. They had not seen one another for several years.

CO-OP GIN STOCKHOLDERS MEET

Stockholders of the Seminole Co-op Gin have been called to meet at 6:30 p.m. April 22, 1967 at the Seminole High School Cafeteria, according to Board President Robert Jameson. The gin has completed its third year of operation with a total for the season of some 6305 bales ginned and 2854 tons of seed marketed.

The Association's audit report which will be presented at the meeting shows that the gin made net savings of some $80,000.00 for the 132 producers who own it. This figures a net saving of over $12.00 per bale.

This home-owned business paid out $42,290.32 in wages and salaries to people in the community, reports manager Gary Weaver. An additional $34,819.95 was spent locally for taxes, insurance, utilities, repairs and supplies and advertising. The total cash released in the community by the gin amounts to $114,110.27, including the $37,000.00 cash refund which will be paid to the stockholders at the meeting.

During the past three years, this co-operative has ginned a total of 18,703 bales and has returned to the producer some $83,500.00 in savings. The Association's plant has been steadily improved and it is now one of the best in the area.

So Many Walk . . .

Grace Noll Crowell

*God, let me find the lonely ones
Among the throng today,
And let me say the word to take
The loneliness away.
So many walk with aching hearts
Along the old highway.*

*So many walk with breaking hearts,
And no one understands;
They find the roadway rough and steep
Across the barren lands.
God, help me lighten weary eyes
And strengthen nerveless hands.*

*God, help me brighten dreary eyes,
And let my own grief be
A sure reminder of the grief
Of those who walk with me.
When words fail, hands fail, let me go
In silent sympathy.*

Howard and Bea Underwood have lived in Seminole twenty-eight years. Howard worked for Amarada Oil Company and later was in business for himself, operating the Valley Steel Company. Ill health forced his retirement seven years ago. The Underwoods reside at 201 S. W. 'K'. She has been associated with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for 37 years. Prior to their moving to Seminole in 1939 they lived in Ranger. Many changes have come to Seminole during their years here. They recall few paved streets, one school building, and less than one half the number of people now living here. Mr. Underwood's brother, Roy, and his mother, Mrs. N. E. Watkins both lived in Seminole prior to their deaths. Mrs. Underwood has a sister, Mrs. Jack Stone, and a brother, C. M. Jennings, residing here. Neices and nephews are Lee Ann, Rolf, Mark, and Stacy Stone. Sherry Jennings, a neice, is a student at Texas Women's University.

As chief operator for the company here she has an average of 12 operators under her supervision Mrs. Jim Stockton (Helen), who has been her assistant, will be the chief operator when Mrs. Underwood leaves.

One of Bea's most vived memories in her tenture of service here was the use of the magnetic or battery phones when she moved here. They switched directly to the dial system in 1951, skipping the manual system. They will be moving to Waxahachie, Texas where she will assume position of Group Chief, May, 18. Her record with the Company is regarded with a great deal of pride by her supervisors. Bea & Howard are members of the Westside Church of Christ.

This ends an era in Seminole History-The passing of the operator-type service to a more modern and effiecient Direct Distance Dialing System which is scheduled for cutover on June 18 of this year.

They will always find the 'Welcome Mat' out here in Seminole. Seminole wishes you the BEST.

WINTER YEARS

The morning dawns
 And like the Spring
 Turns full glory
 And Summer brings
 When the Fall--
 The glorious Fall
 Turns beautiful Winter
 When we recall
 The days gone by
 The yester year
 With all the joy
 And with the tear
 May Heaven bless
 Our Winter days
 And impart to us
 In loving ways
 Freshness of Spring
 And Summer bloom
 Fullness of Fall
 But no Winter gloom.
