March 20, 1968

Uncle Joe Mathews, that lived in Peacock, Texas, was good for young men to grow up around. He's dead now but the impressions live on and on.

I recall one night beating him in dominoes and blocking the game with sixes. After counting his spots he gave these words of wisdom, "Boy anyone can run cows and calves and fives on me and get by with it, but nobody can run steers and sixes and stay".

After trying steers at least two times in my life, truer words were never spoken.

Then there was another time where Uncle Joe was playing dominoes on the sidewalk and some traveling salesman parked where we were playing marbles. (There was three games going pitch, dominoes, and marbles. You signed up for all 3 games and played till you got beat. Then wait for your turn again). Uncle Joe told the man, you can't park there some boys will be back to play marbles. They have gone to the windmill to get a drink. He hollered back to Uncle Joe, I guess you think you can move me. Uncle Joe answered, I can start and I'll have some help in a minute.

He told me later--- be sure your right and if you can't whip them, you can always get good help. * *

The average salary of teachers in Texas is $300 a year less than, an offer the New York garbage men turned down.

According to the NEA report, Texas spends $492 per pupil to educate its youth. Again ranking low, Texas was 39th in the nation, spending $197 less than the national average. Texas schools have 2, 644, 000 of the nation's 45.5 million students enrolled in elementary and secondary grades. * *

Vince Gage and James Phillips at their place of business on the Hobbs Highway. After four years in this location and enjoying good business they want to express their thanks.

Phillips and Gage, in the past 4 years, have sold 1227 cars. They want to say Thanks to everyone in the area for the success of the business and stand ready for further business. "We sold 370 cars the first year." The farthest away the partners have sold cars---Vince Gage sold one in Paul, Idaho; James Phillips sold one in San Diego, California.

The worst repossession the firm has suffered was a car sold for $600 which was caught in the flood in Sinton, Texas. After the water went down it brought $10. No payments had been made on it.

The partnership tries to keep 25 to 30 units on hand at all times for their customers. "We will have a lot more new cars of every kind this year and will try to find anything from a Rambler to an Essix."

When school bells ring next fall for the start of the new school year, a face familiar to Seminole pupils for over two decades will be missing from the local scene. Mrs. W.D. Webb, cafeteria manager, is retiring at the end of the 1967-1968 school year after twenty-four years of service with the Seminole Schools.

Kate, as this pleasant, dark-haired, brown-eyed lady is affectionately known, first went to work in the school cafeteria in 1944. The hot lunch program had been in existence in Seminole less than one year and the cafeteria building was a former beer parlor which had closed when the county voted dry during World War II. Moved to the campus, this structure, known as "El Patio" during its night clubbing days, was used until 1951 when the cafeteria in the primary building was completed.

In 1947, Kate was promoted to manager of a staff of seven ladies who fed about 550 pupils daily. In her twenty years as manager, she has seen this grow to a force of sixteen, including some part-time help, feeding over 1200 pupils each school day in two cafeterias, one on the central campus and one at the F.J. Young Elementary School.

Kate remembers that she was hanging out her washing one day in the summer of 1947 when the Superintendent, Ted Edwards, came into her backyard to offer her the job as cafeteria manager. She had originally planned to stop working that year in order to devote more time to her family, but after first hesitating, she wound up as manager because the kids at school needed her too.

When asked if she could make some kind of estimate as to the number of meals served under her managership, she replied, "Why, I can tell you exactly, let me look in my book here as I have kept a running count since my first day". After checking the latest figure, she revealed that through March 13 of this year, 4, 023, 347 lunches had been served to Seminole school kids since that day in 1947 when she became manager.

Kate was born in Parker County near Weatherford and in 1920 was married to W.D. Webb. For the first eight years of the marriage her husband worked for the railroads, but in 1928 he left railroading and moved the Webb family from Texline to northwest Gaines County where the Webbs farmed and ranched until 1944 when they moved to Seminole. Mr. Webb died in 1962 after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Webb is the mother of nine children: Mrs. Roaslie Jones of Seminole; Mrs. Frances Klahn of Abilene; Mrs. Betty Estes, who died in 1962; Mrs. Dorothy Belknap of Midland; Bill, of Seminole; Mrs. Mary Lois Hood, Iowa City, Iowa; Sammy of Seminole; Mrs. Sue Gwaltney, Madrid, Spain; and Mrs. Joann Cargill, Brownfield. The Webb girls were all known as local beauties and Kate laughed that things got a little tense around the Webb household in 1939 when four of the five class nominees for Tepee Queen were her daughters. At that time the eighth grade was eligible to submit a nominee. However, she said that when the youngest of the four, Dorothy, won, the others were all good sports and were proud of their little sister too. Later in 1954, the School annual was dedicated to Mrs. Webb. She felt that this was one of her high points in life.

When asked what she planned to do on retirement, she replied with a twinkle in her eye. "Well, I think that for about a year I'll just sit in a chair with my arms folded and rock". Those who know her energy and enthusiasm take this with a grain of salt for they cannot imagine Kate sitting and doing nothing. Ceramics is a hobby Mrs. Webb thoroughly enjoys and she turns out professional-looking ash trays, vases, and lamps in her workshop built on to her home. In addition to her ceramic work, she plans to do some more traveling and presently plans another visit to Spain in December of this year.

Looking back, Kate says that everyday of her cafeteria work was a highpoint. "I just enjoy seeing all

And the safest bet in town is that Kate is going to be missed up at the school too.

Coach Huffman, a widely known humorist and after-dinner speaker, entertained and inspired the audience with both witty and serious words. "There is a right and a wrong today just as there was in our fathers' time, and if there ever was a time for teaching character, that time is now," he said in criticizing today's drift toward a relative morality and non-committment. Huffman said that each teacher ought to continually ask himself, "Can I lead, can I inspire, can I face the issue and tell pupils what is right and what is wrong?"

Superintendent James Bramlett served as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Board Secretary, Leon Foote. Rayford Bates, Vice-president of the Board, introduced the speaker. Entertainment was provided by a group of Seminole High choral students with Joe Coffman and Marilyn Shook singing two duets and the boys' glee club following with three numbers.

In addition to the pin awarded Mrs. Story, Board President Raymond Golden presented service pins to the following: Virginia McCrummen, twenty-five years; E. J. Lewellen, Alfa Simmons, and John D. Thompson, twenty years; Julia Doscher, John Freyburger, Opal Griffith, Raba Jones, L. G. Miller, and Sybil Thomas, fifteen years, Dorothy Decker, LaRue McClellan, Christine Nelson, Wilma Stanley and Lillian Timmons, ten years; Frank Able, Oretta Ball, Dorthy Golden, Clara James, Gaye Marler, Bessie McGuire, Jerry Montgomery, Sally Morgan, Pauline Pharis, Nesbie Underwood, and Sandra Ward, five years.

Mrs. Kate Webb, cafeteria manager, who is retiring this year after twenty-four years of service was also recognized.

Some Where-Viet Nam

2-4-68

We opened up the club for food at noon on the second of February. We had about 400 loaves of bread, 900 hamburger buns and 600 hot dog buns, all of that was gone by closing time at 8:30 p.m. The next day, I had 200 cases of frozen sandwiches out and 100 cases thawed, to cook, but the G.I.'s were so hungry that they were buying them by the dozens. Some had not eaten for three days.

What are the feelings in the States about all this mess and the loss of our ship in Korea? Do they really not care or are they just not aware of the price their, and unfortunately our children, will have to pay if we don't stop this thing before it gets out of control?

Back at last, to my little hole in the wall. Of course, I had to have tea and fish with the salesman, I didn't enjoy it, in the least, as I've not learned to eat a raw fish yet.

I had seventeen letters waiting for me when I got back. Sure have enjoyed reading them too. The pictures were so nice; our little ones don't seem to have changed much and they looked real neat in their new dresses and suits.

2-16-68

How is the sand blowing tonight? This was some day at the club. (The writer takes care of ). I wish you would tell the people over here you are not suppose to work on Sunday. I do take the time to go to church, even if it means walking out on some of the paperwork.

Thank you for the Valentines.
