

CLASS 53-C DONS BARS; 30 RECEIVE WINGS

Sixty aviation cadets received their commissions as second lieutenants this morning in the base theater during graduation exercises for Class 53-C. The ceremony included the awarding of pilot's wings and diplomas to the 30 members of Class 53-C-1.

After the invocation by Chaplain

(Maj.) Harold B. Howard, the graduates were given a short address by Lieutenant Commander William C. Mitchell, Pilot Training Group training officer.

Outstanding graduates of the class, who may at a later date apply for a Regular commission in the USAF, were: Second Lieutenants, Richard D. Anderson, Buddy V. Carter, Gerald C. Couch, Peter DeAngelis, Jerome T. Hayes, Stephen W. Kovach, Jr. and Maurice M. Saunders.

The next graduation will be held on Armed Forces Day, 16 May, when the student officers of Class 53-C-2 will be awarded their wings in ceremonies on the flight line as part of the Armed Forces Day observance.

A change of command ceremony was held at retreat Monday when Class 53-D took over from 53-C and the old cadet group officers presented the new group officers with their insignia. The new cadet group C. O. is A-C Billy Breedlove.

Letters from the commanding general, FTAF, notifying aviation cadets who have been designated as distinguished graduates, were presented to the cadets by Lt. Col. Vernon D. Boyd, executive officer of the Pilot Training Group.

Alabama ROTC Graduate

Grid Star Is ABG Adjutant

In answer to their hopes of adding even more athletic talent to their squadron, Hq Sq ABG has received a new adjutant, 2d Lt. Ollie F. Mims of Birmingham, Ala.

Lieutenant Mims was a football letter-man for the University of Alabama in 1950, 51 and 52. As starting right guard on the Crimson Tide's offensive team, this 185 pounder opened up many holes in the Syracuse line last New Year's Day as Alabama humiliated the New Yorkers 61-6 in the Orange Bowl game.

Lieutenant Mims received his degree from the University of Alabama in January 1953, and was tendered an award as a "distinguished ROTC graduate." He plans to enter pilot training in the near future, possibly a bad omen for the Communists who may anticipate playing Syracuse's role in a very different game.

Show Given By 'O'Wives

The Reese Officers Wives' Club staged a style show in the Officers Club Friday night to display some of the many fashions popular today.

The interior of the Club had been appropriately decorated for the occasion to the theme of "Main Street Magic." The models' ramp was adorned with street lamps and street plaques named after the participating Lubbock merchants who furnished the clothing.

Baskets of snapdragons decorated the Club. Greenery, lemon leaves and cut flowers, were interlaced in an archway over a patio scene.

Models chosen from the Officers Wives Club roster were Mesdames James L. Landers, W. E. Browning, Clyde Plemons, Guy Belzons, Jack Cahill, and William Burgen. Officers modeling clothing were Capt. Jack Cahill, First Lieutenants John M. Mazzulo, Jack Zaninovich, and 2nd Lt. James Hollingsworth.

Children models were Jenny Ours, Carol Hanes, Johnny Mazzulo, and Robin Killian.

Wardrobes of sports attire, street clothes, after-five fashions, and formals were furnished by Dunlap's, Godwin's, Hanna - Pope, Hemphill-Wells, Margaret's, Hackel's of College Avenue, and Walton's in Lubbock. Floral arrangements were available through the courtesy of The Green Thumb and Wakefield's.

Continuous music was played by Bernie Howell at the Club organ.

MAJOR TRADES RANK FOR JUDGE'S GAVEL

Maj. Ralph Johnston, Pilot Training Group commanding officer, has been selected for the post of Floyd County Judge upon discharge from the Air Force 4 May.

Major Johnston was picked by the Floyd County Commissioners' Court from a group of 11 candidates to succeed the late Frank Moore. He is a World War II veteran with five years' service and was re-called to the AF two years ago. He graduated from Texas Tech in 1941.

Hubbies Eat Chicken At Wives' Social

The NCO Wives Club held their regular social meeting Monday night at the NCO Club where they entertained their husbands with a chicken dinner and dancing.

The door prize, a bouquet of spring flowers, was won by Mrs. Clarence Shearer. Prizes given to outstanding participants in specialty dances were garnered by T-Sgt. and Mrs. J. B. Breeland and T-Sgt. and Mrs. J. C. Rowell.

Hostesses were Mesdames Mary Dale, Ida Dewar, Howard Galpin, Calvin Hobbs and Robert Wilson. The center table was decorated with a spring floral arrangement with yellow tablecloth and yellow candles.

Mrs. Murray Gordon, Club president, invited all wives of NCOs to attend the meetings held on the first and fourth Monday of each month.

Contests To Be Held For Hobby Workers

An arts and crafts hobby contest is in the offing for base personnel who are talented in creating the 1001 projects of hobby work.

The contest, as conducted by ATRC, will be held at different levels of competition. This gives each entrant a chance to win base prizes and continue competing up the ladder to the top — the command.

Ten categories of endeavor will be judged for quality of workmanship, attention to detail, effort, and originality. The categories are art, art reproduction, woodwork, carving metal arts, leathercraft and weaving, ceramics and plaster, models, plastic, and miscellaneous, consisting of gem cutting and glass blowing.

Further information may be obtained from Personnel Services. Exact closing dates will be published later in THE ROUNDUP.

Special Reese Sale Set by Sears Store

A special sale for the military and civilian personnel of Reese Air Force Base will be held by Sears Roebuck Co. on Monday, May 4th from the hours of 6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. in its Lubbock store.

Refreshments will be served and door prizes given away.

An advertisement in this issue of the Roundup features some of the sensational savings offered at this time.

Plans For A F Day 'Open House' Set

Final plans are rapidly shaping up for the mammoth "open house" celebration to be held here on Armed Forces Day, 16 May. Maj. William W. McDannel, AF Day project officer, outlined a full day of activities when Reese welcomes the public here for the annual observance.

Beginning at 1100 hours, the main gate will be open to visitors, followed at 1130 hours by a luncheon at the officers club in honor of Brig. Gen. L. G. Saunders, (Ret.), who will be the keynote speaker for the occasion. South Plains civic officials, who have been instrumental in Armed Forces Day planning, have been invited to attend the luncheon.

The day's events will get underway on the flight line at 1230 hours when graduates of Class 53-C-2 receive their pilot's wings after a short address by General Saunders. Aviation Cadet Maurice M. Saunders, son of the general and one of the outstanding members of his class, will be among the students receiving their wings.

Following the graduation, Reese personnel not actually engaged in the Armed Forces Day activities will pass in review. Flyovers by B-25's will also be witnessed by spectators at this time.

Other events on the schedule include an artillery demonstration by Army personnel from Fort Sill, Okla.; fly-overs by F-86's, T-33's, T-28's, and B-25's in formation; static displays located in the hangars and on the flight line; and the Sam Houston Rifles, crack drill unit of the Texas Tech AF ROTC, who will present a precision drill exhibition.

All sections will be closed to visitors except Link Trainer and Training Aids, who will remain open for inspection by the visitors. The base theater will also remain open throughout the afternoon showing continuous movies which should make a hit with the kids and visitors who become tired and wish to relax.

Weather permitting, AF Day committee officials anticipate a crowd of 20,000 or more. Last year's celebration was hampered considerably by rain and cold weather.

South Plains citizens will see a helicopter demonstration besides a chance to get a close-up view of jet and conventional aircraft on display. Other features include a fire suppression demonstration and an aircraft landing utilizing the Fisher Ground Controlled Approach (GCA) unit.

Loudspeakers on the flight line will be coordinated so that spectators will be able to hear actual radio procedures between aircraft and ground units.

Glee Club to Form At Service Club

The first meeting of the proposed Reese Glee Club will be held 5 May in the Service Club at 2000 hours.

The club will feature the lighter side in music with styling similar to that of Fred Waring. Among the many selections under consideration are "Deep River" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." It is hoped that later trips and tours to other bases will be arranged.

The director will be A-3C Jack Mort. Before joining the AF he majored in music at several institutions.

Personnel who are interested in joining the Glee Club may contact Airman Mort at the Service Club or A-2C R. L. Rice, ext. 384.

Charlie Moves; Dust, Too

The next to the last chapter was closed today on 53 Charlie as they graduated from cadet status and received their commissions as second lieutenants during ceremonies in the base theatre. One third of the class received their wings and are already clearing the base.

Charlie II and III will receive their wings on May 16th and June 2nd respectively.

Fifty-three Dog moved into First Class Monday night at retreat and are now sporting the distinctive "Skunk Stripes" of that class. Guess you might call them the "Top Dogs" now.

The new Group Staff took over Tuesday. A-C B. S. Breedlove, 53-D-3, is the new Group Major; A-C J. T. Husted, 53-D-2, Group Adjutant; A-C J. C. Nist, 53-D-3, Group Operations Officer; and A-C J. D. Prollock, 53-D-3, Group Supply Officer.

Easy Class moved up to second classmen this week also, and took over the duties of running the squadrons. New Squadron Commanders are: A-C W. G. Davidson, A Squadron; A-C H. A. Grossmueller, B Squadron; A-C Merkett, C Squadron; and A-C T. A. Wright, D Squadron.

Latest scoop has it that Golf Class will be reporting for Basic Flying training on May 16. (Happy day for Fox Class) Wonder if Golf will receive the joyous welcome from the Caprock as did Dog, Easy, and Fox Classes. What else but a hearty duster.

Not much else in the way of news from the Korral this week but tune in next week again for the latest. There's always something. Reminder: "Don't Let The Dust Get In Your Eyes."

One of the great stories of World War II was of the last mission of a bomber over Europe. The bombs had been dropped and the plane was about to return to its home base when it was struck by a shell and badly damaged. The question was whether it could possibly make its way back to England.

The worst calamity was that the navigator, who alone could plot the course, lay dying on the floor. The crew was over hostile land and could only guess their direction. No one knew this better than the dying navigator. In spite of his weakness and agony, he had himself lifted, and with his instruments he determined the course. As a climax to the telling of this story, the pilot added, "It brought us through."

This is a great tribute to a brave dying man. He could not save himself, but he could save others in his death. In the same way the great teachers of faith have set the course for us to follow; we do not fly blindly. Jesus Christ in his life and in his death charted the way to the homeland of the soul.

Our training in the home, in the church, gives a certain set of the mind and soul toward God — at least such is possible if we accept the direction pointed out to us. It is noteworthy that those who come to possess the Christian teaching of the home and church always seem to move in the right direction. It is true they may on certain occasions wander from the path, may be deflected by many influences, but the automatic pilot pulls them back on course. It is most amazing how far we can go if we just keep going in the right direction.

When all is said, the most important thing in life is our inner attitude of faith or fear in the secret places of the heart. If a calm confidence abides deep within us, no storms can shake our lives. We all need to possess the calm confidence that "The Lord is my shepherd."

Harry James Scores Hit in Lubbock

By S-Sgt. Jack Gibson
Fourteen hundred people can't be wrong, and it appeared the consensus of opinion that Harry James' band that played in Lubbock last Friday was the greatest band he's had in a long, long time. The "Music Makers" lived up to their name with drive and easy-going tastefulness in every arrangement they offered for the dancers. Ballads, jump numbers and solo-jamming, all were done with expert musicianship.

Harry's trumpet and Buddy Rich's drums sparked the evening's festivities with both smooth, quiet popular tunes of the past and present, and some unknown selections that had Rich "knocking himself out" at the skins. It was hard to believe any one man could play so fast for so long, but for a full five minutes, at a minimum, Rich had the entire Club entranced by his expert stick work. There's been no loss of ability on Harry's part either. Running the gamut from "Two O'Clock Jump" to "Ultra" to "Manhattan" his horn-tooting sounded better than ever before. He even went back into the dusty file and pulled out such great standards as "Sleepy Lagoon," "Flatbush Flanagan," "The Mole" and "When Your Lover Has Gone," all of which were played with a cleanliness and technique seldom heard from any band, let alone one that had only been on the road for four days.

The vocal spotlight was monopolized by a new girl singer whom Harry stole from the night clubs of Los Angeles. The name is one to remember — April Ames — for she has the taste and intonations of a combined Savannah Churchill Mary Ann McCall and Wini Brown. There was only one regret: she didn't sing enough to suit us. A tip of the old chapeau is in order for the men of the Club who brought us a really top-flight band. Ditto to Harry and the men of the band for an equally great show and evening of dancing. Maybe we can get Artie Shaw for this month — we understand he's available. Hmhmhmhm?

Dear Mrs. Shea:
What current service papers would you suggest a young A. F. family reading?

Read your base newspaper weekly also the Wives' Club publication if there is one.

AIR FORCE TIMES. . . . broad coverage

AIR FORCE (magazine) Children like this, too. . . Teen-Agers

AIR TRAINING. . .splendid THE REGISTER. . .slants toward Navy sometimes.

ARMY, NAVY & AIR FORCE JOURNAL. . .funny thing about this one. 'Tis said, when you are young you read only the 'hatched and matched columns. . .the births and weddings. . .when you are old you read only the 'Snatched and hatched'. . .the obituaries of your friends and the births of your grandchildren'. Fair enuf for my money!

Dear Mrs. Shea:
Several of us mothers object to our children being called "brats" Army or A. F. If you use this in the column, please do not give my name.

Dear Mrs. X:
The term "Army brat" is always used affectionately by those who know and never in a derogatory manner. Just an "old Army" custom which dates back to early days of West Point when a cadet entered whose father was in the Regular Army. The West Point Howitzer says: "these Army children" always ride well, know all the Army answers and outside of being high-ranking and 'brats' are pretty regular kids." The A. F. appropriately calls its children "fledglings."

Civil War Colors —Blue and Gray Given to Antietam

Bayonne, N. J. (AFPS)—Battle-worn colors that flew over the Blue and the Gray in the battle of Antietam 90 years ago were presented here recently to the officers and crew of the Navy's aircraft carrier, USS Antietam, named for that battle.

The ceremony, held on the new canted flight deck of the Antietam, was attended by 400 guests. The flags were presented by Col. Martin A. Foery, representing New York's "Fighting 69th" (now the 165th Infantry) and Col. Henry Graham, representing the "Old 4th Alabama" (the 167th Infantry of today).

CAPT Samuel G. Mitchell, USN, commanding officer of the Antietam, accepted on behalf of the ship and said the flags will be carried in frames on the hangar deck as long as the ship is in active service. Then they will be returned to their National Guard units or passed on to a new Antietam.

"OVER THE FENCE"

By A-1C Jim Sunderland
Steve O'Neill's aggressive crew has once again captured the support of the average baseball fan. The Phillies have a more experienced team than the 1950 pennant winners, but have one drawback that will block their bid in 1953. Though Roberts, Simmons and Drews form an outstanding triple threat, the balance of the pitching staff will not carry the remaining small but important burden. The Phils will be battling for the top all the way, but only a Dodger backslide will put them up there at the finish.

Brooklyn has no Robin Roberts, but in Black, Erskine, Loes, Meyer, Roe and Podres, they have a solid hurling corps, with more depth than last year's team. Still unrivaled in defensive skill, speed, and batting power and to be boosted by newcomer Gilliam and great seasons from veterans Campanella, Snider, Robinson, and Reese, it is difficult to see any team edging them out in 1953.

The Giants' ace, Sal Maglie, has lost some of his sharpness and won't produce consistently this year. Though Jansen and Irvin are in shape again, Durocher's game will slip to third. But don't forget that The Lip has prodded teams into miraculous feats before.

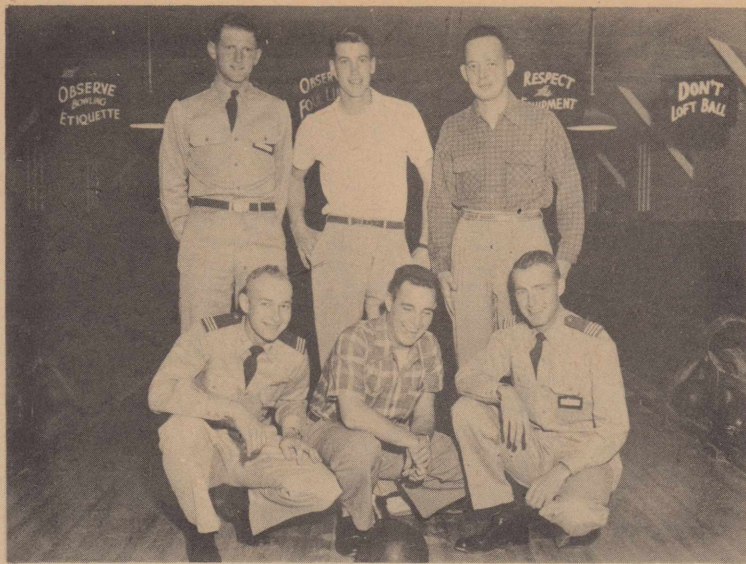

St. Louis will have to stave off

Air Force Cuts Tour For ROTC Graduates

This year's group of Air Force ROTC graduates accepted for flight training will find duty tours cut to three years including time spent in training.

Formerly Air Force ROTC graduates were required to spend three years on active duty after finishing flight training—altogether a period of about four years.

The new policy is expected to increase interest in flying training among ROTC graduates. A two-year duty tour for the graduate not qualifying for flight training remains unchanged. (AFPS)

Milwaukee and Chicago are a toss-up. Due to their new home, and new additions — Bruton, Pafko and Adcock — we'll take the Braves for fifth. Yet, if the proposed Cub-Dodger trade jells, Chicago could surge into the first division.

Cincinnati should land in seventh Pittsburgh, although a game team, is not enough improved to escape last place.

WITH JACK

Now that KCBD - AM and TV is now located in their new studios out on Avenue 'A', things are gradually getting back into the routine line again. It still is indefinite as to the exact starting time and day of the TV part of the station, but it wouldn't hurt to spin in on Channel 11 occasionally Sunday and thereafter to see if the test pattern is on yet.

The radio part of KCBD begins a new show twice a week for listeners, this Tuesday at 7:00. Show stars Eddie Fisher and Don Ameche and will air every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. By the way, out at the new place the coffee's good and it's free. How 'bout that?

The baseball season is, by now, under the skin of all fans and KSEL is carrying every Hubber game. Tonight the local lads play at Clovis, airing at 8:30. Tomorrow night they're at Albuquerque with airtime slated for 9:00.

Early risers can get their baseball scores from the preceding day almost hot off the diamond by tuning in to KSEL's scoreboard each a. m. at 6:15. In other events — The Jack Kirkwood Show is taking a hiatus for the summer and possibly longer beginning May 8th. A new Dixieland band show is now airing for 15 on Tuesday evenings at 7:45 p. m.

Next Thursday night will find

"Who's doing this—you or me?"

KDUB-TV, Channel 13, once again showing the program called, "I've Got a Secret." Station carried the program for a week and it was cancelled — now it's back.

In the event you'd like your history lesson dramatized, tune to KDUB each Sunday evening at 8:00 for the "You Are There" series. Prominent events in history are presented for your enjoyment just as though they were taking place at this minute. Very informative as well as entertaining.

The Thursday night roundup of listening on KFYO - ABC bears more than a mention in this column for those who enjoy good radio listening. Beginning at 7:00, you'll hear Jay Jostyn in the title role of "Top Guy;" at 7:30 the show compiled upon information from LIFE's "History of Western
