Completed Safety Cooperation

June Final Month In ATC Contest

A plea for complete cooperation in safety activities on the base was issued this week by Capt. Bernie C. Mullins, ground safety officer.

The captain pointed out that June is the final month of the fiscal year, and thus the final month of the 1956 Air Training Command Commanders Award competition for cash prizes.

"This year ATC has set aside $25,000 for first place in the competition," Captain Mullins said. "In addition, there are $15,000 and $10,000 in cash for second and third places. Reese has been well up on the list for the entire year, but just out of the money. If the base has a good month, one without reportable accident, then we have a very good chance to finish higher and to share in the cash."

Captain Mullins pointed out that Reese led ATC bases in 1955 until the final weeks, when a couple of accidents dropped the base to second place. There was no cash award last year for second position.

"All personnel of Reese AFB are to be congratulated on their fine cooperation in our safety work in recent months," the captain said. "We hope this cooperation will be

Air Policemen have been instructed to patrol the village streets frequently and to give tickets where they are warranted.

Permanent residents of the village also are being urged to use the carports and garages which have been provided, instead of parking their automobiles on the streets.

Colonel Hodges said, "this 'neverending chore' of maintaining a continuously superior military forcein-being as a deterrent ot all-out war is relatively new to America. Thus far we have been successful. How long only history can tell."

According to the Lubbock officer, America has already conceded to Russia in terms of quantity of aircraft—and could be handing her the edge in quality as well.

"The red dictators control the timetable," he continued. "They can select their weapons systems and lay on 'crash programs' to achieve them. The danger is that they can do this in areas that could be decisive. That's what we must guard against."

They include 800 for master sergeant, 1,650 for tech sergeant, 9,400 for staff, 21,000 for airman first and 23,000 for airman second. Promotions must be made by June 20.

A student quota is included in the above figures. It will permit promotion to master sergeant for two, to airman first class for 23, and to airman second for 3,100

A promotion freeze still exists in certain first three grade AFSC's; 35 for master, 40 for tech, and 24 for staff. The May list of frozen AFSCs is carried over into June with a few deletions and additions. Deleted from the list (open for promotion) are: M/Sgt.--909, Optician; T/Sgt.--564, Plumbing; S/-Sgt.--651, Electrician; 771, Air Policeman and 909, Optician.

Added to the frozen AFSC list are: M/Sgt.--702, Administration; 821, Investigation; T/Sgt.--534, Airframe Repair; 552, Building Crafts; S/Sgt.--251, Weather Maintenance, and 531, Machinist.

Bonds Sell Themselves

When 2nd Lt. David Vehling was named Savings Bond project officer in the 3501st Pilot Training squadron, he was just a little nonplussed. He had never tried to sell anything in his life.

But, like a good member of the Air Force, he set out to do the best he could to carry out his assignment. He studied available information and, without difficulty, sold himself on Savings Bonds. Then it was just a detail to sell others.

"I just show them what a good thing it is, and then ask, 'How many?" " Lieutenant Vehling commented. The first week he sold 34 bonds, a figure much larger than anyone else.

The lieutenant has demonstrated a sound principle of life. He was sold on a good thing, and then it was easy to sell others.

An idea has been kicking around in the minds of the world's best political theorists for hundreds of years: just governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed. The idea is the cornerstone of our Declaration of Independence, although Thomas Jefferson, who emphasis on the religious life for was largely responsible for the document, was not the first to express the idea.

Down through the 170 years or so of our existence, we Americans have given life to this idea every time we entered a voting booth or held a town meeting. "Consent" came to mean the will of the majority; the "governed," every citizen.

During these 170 years, we have seen governments based on other notions tumble like the walls of Jericho. Absolute monarchies-government by the "consent" of one man, the king or tsar-have all but disappeared. Other totalitarian varieties-government by "consent" of a Fuehrer or Duce—have also been given the gate.

Some totalitarian forms are still around but their lives and the lives of their leaders always are in doubt. This must be so when a government mutes the voice of its people.

We servicemen-no matter how far from Washington or the state capitol-will have an opportunity to express our "consent" by voting this year. If our way of life is to rest on a firm, democratic base, we must cast a well-considered vote. (AFPS)

Development Program Library's Books Assist In Otticer

By Mrs. Helen K. Fuller

In the training of officers at | COMMAND MISSIONS Reese Air Force Base, a major part of the development program deals with reading of good books. Every officer is required to read and report on books during his stay on the base while learning to become a good pilot.

The Reese library is working closely with this program and is constantly obtaining good books, volumes which will benefit these officers in training and prepare them to serve better. The library is filled with volumes which will entertain and instruct.

New copies of various titles on the Professional Reading list for Air Force officers have been received recently.

Among these are:

SONG OF THE SKY by Murchie. Just as the great ocean waterways led adventurous men to make new conquests, the great ocean of the sky is challenging real men today. They are being challenged only with the stars themselves.

This is a big book because it has the whole realm of the sky to range over from the lower depths where man first tried his wings to the upper reaches where only jets and rockets may probe.

To find his path in the trackless night man has harnessed the stars, radio waves, and the magic forces of life itself.

The history of this search for knowledge and an exploration of what we now know form the basis of this book. The author deals with technical matters of meteorology and aerodynamics in poetic prose as he unfolds the wonders of the sky.

The way Mr. Murchie found nature aloft does not conform to standard textbooks, but his work with the pioneers who are gathering material for the future. Every chapter is underlaid with years of actual flying experience.

learn that here is best."

General Truscott shows great talent in making every operation vivid. Without burdening with detail, he imparts a knowledge of strategic and tactical considerations in every situation that he describes.

Some of the livlier portions of the book deal with well-known personalities. There are lively and intimate first hand impressions of the men with whom he dealt. He is ruggedly honest in his impressions of the generals with whom he served.

All these qualities make this book a stimulating, informative military memoir that none will want to miss.

There are other titles that will interest you on the Professional Shelves.

By Lord Helpus and Count MeOut

For well over a year Airman Ziegler has written a kolyum on sports. Now he's on leave and someone else must comment. Two fine old Englishmen, Lord Helpus and Count MeOut, have been secured at great expense to dribble in this kolyum. Neither speaks English so he can be understood. So we must have an interpreter. So, for a couple more weeks the readers must get their best sports dope from a couple of dopes, speaking through interpreters.

Class 57-B, arrived here not long ago, has some mighty fine sports fellow. There's Cadet John S. Barton of Auburn and Birmingham, who ran such a good cross-country and two-mile that he became Southeast Conference champion in both races. Then 2nd Lt. William J. Graves won his track letter at Texas, and 2nd Lt. Gene Toolson won his at Utah State. Second Lt. Harry E. Dawley is a golf letterman at The Citadel and 2nd Lt. Thomas E. Fox lettered in golf at the University of Massachusetts... Second Lt. Andy Hutchinson won three football letters at The Citadel, while 2nd Lt. Max Hooper lettered in basketball and baseball at the University of Illinois

Should there be many bad mistakes in this kolyum, the reader is asked to forgive. The Slam-Bang Construction company has been renovating, re-building, and beautifying our offices. When the boys get done the place will be so much better. But while carpenters pounded, painters painted and filled the air with aromas, and the lights were disconnected part of the time, your reporters have worked on. But it was hard to keep the minds in channels, particularly for the lord and count. Please forgive serious errors.

And, speaking of serious errors, Lord Helpus has been so worked up since Monday night that no one could understand him for sure. It seems he saw the softball game and watched the umpires. The lord contends the umpire with glasses needed them badly, and the umpire without spectacles needed them worse. That's what Lord Helpus says. Count MeOut contends the calling was nearly as bad as he had seen.

The Reese softball team in the Lubbock league is doing fairly good. The Rattlers have a game at 9 o'clock tonight in the South Mackenzie diamond with Miller Daniel as the opponent. Tuesday night at 9 o'clock the Nite Owls are opposition.

The Reese golf team took on the Goodfellow golfers yesterday at San Angelo, but results were not known at press time. The Goodfellow base commanders leads his base's team as No. 1 golfer. The colonel didn't do so well when the Goodfellowers played at Hillcrest country club a couple of weeks ago. Tomorrow the Webb AFB golfers will meet the Reese golfers on the Levelland course and the following Saturday, Capt. Alex Nagy and his crew will return the visit.

Reese's sharp-eyed pistol shooters are getting in shape for the Southwest conference matches June 11-16 at Sheppard AFB. Rumor has it that some of the shooters who didn't make the team earlier have issued challenges to members of the team and will hav a shoot to see if changes will be made. Lord Helpus is watching this closely.

Softball games in the base intramural league recently saw the 05th upset Installations, 15-3, while the Flight Line Instructors slipped by the Pilot Training group, 5-4. A few rhubarbs marked the last encounter, most of the uproar being over difference of opinion on where the ball passed the batter.

Second round play in the base tennis tournament was underway this week. First round matches saw 2nd Lt. Albert Reinschmidt win over 1st Lt. Walter Sleeman, A/3C upset 1st Lt. Robert D. Bunce, A/3C Robert E. Doyle take 2nd Lt. LeRoy Mulch, and 2nd Lt. Donald D. Roberts win over A/2C Leonard DePalma.

A bunch of the Reese Village kids have their hearts set on playing Little League ball. Arrangements have been made for their assignment to teams in Wolfforth, where games are played Tuesday and Friday nights. All that is needed is for the kids who want to play to wheedle their daddies into carrying them to Wolfforth. There the Lions club, league sponsor, will see that all kids are assigned to teams, provided with uniforms, and cared for in other ways.
