Important New Courses Listed In ECI Program

The Extension Course Institute, USAF, recently activated two new courses, one in the transportation career area and one in personnel.

The new courses are Motor Transportation Supervisor, and Personnel Specialist.

The former is a three-volume course carrying 45 hours and 15 points. The course explains the types of duties of the motor transportation supervisor and discusses specific problems that must be solved in setting up a new motor pool.

The Personnel Specialist Course is an 11-volume course carrying 162 hours and 54 points. It gives detailed information about the duties of a personnel specialist, covering such job areas as personnel records, personnel control and accounting.

Protestant Meeting Registration Time Nearing Deadline

Maj. Willis L. Stowers, wing chaplain, Thursday reiterated a suggestion that all interested Reese persons attend the Protestant Spiritual Life Conference July 10-14 at Estes Park, Colo.

"July is a good time to retreat to the snow-capped mountains of Colorado and that's the place for conference," he commented, pointing out that reservations should be made no later than next Monday.

No leave time will be charged for the trip to Estes Park and the cost will be $24 for each adult, he said. Special recreational programs have been planned, along with lectures and discussions by selected Christian leaders.

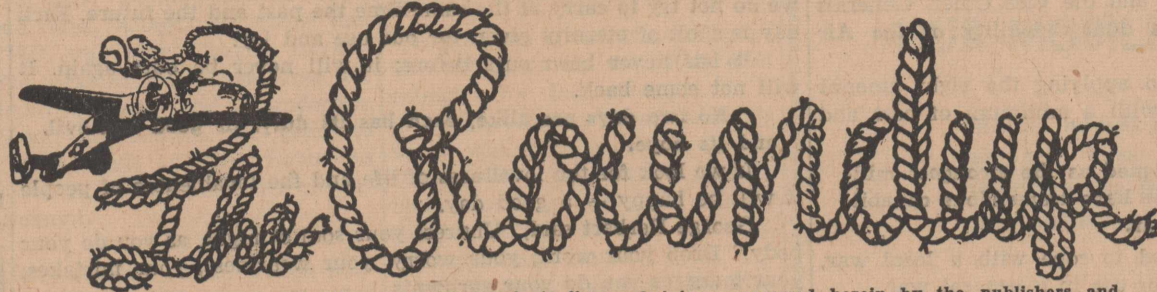

Base Made Explorer Scout Journey Stop

Reese this week became an overnight camp for Explorer Scouts bound from their homes to encampment on the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. A total of 77 persons, including scouts and their leaders, were scheduled for brief stays on the base.

On hand Wednesday were 24 Explorers and leaders from Houston, while Thursday night's 26 boys and leaders were from Memphis, Tenn. Tonight a dozen persons from Marion, Ind., are scheduled for an overnight stay, while 17 Dallas boys and leaders are booked for Saturday night.

Under the program, the visitors are traveling by automobile and bus, arriving at Reese in the early evening. After the evening meal and a tour of the base, each group is housed overnight in a barracks and is given breakfast before continuing on to the ranch. An Explorer leader and two Scouts are meeting each delegation and acting as hosts.

Early Civilian Pay Day Set

Civilian payday will come four days earlier, starting July 18, Maj. Frank Fleming, finance officer, said this week.

Civilians have been paid on Tuesday, but after the change they will receive pay the preceding Friday.

"Payday is changed, due to the increased efficiency of the accounting and finance civilian payroll section," the major commented. "In addition, civilians are being given the advantage of having their pay for use over the weekend."

The major warned, however, that some sections may not get their pay early if the payroll clerks are late with turning in attendance records.

"The change can be successful only if time and attendance reports are submitted by responsible personnel to the accounting and finance office before 10 a.m. on Mondays when due," Major Fleming said. "The sooner we get these reports, the sooner we can get to work on the payroll. There really should be no reason these reports are not turned in shortly after 8 a.m. the Mondays they are due. I see no reason, either, for attendance reports to be held until Tuesday. If they are held, the civilians in the section which is late just won't get their checks on time."

The major said Friday pay will be sent to banks or hand carried to various offices after 2 p.m.

He added that if and when the bill to raise civilian pay becomes law, a one-time supplemental payroll will be set up and checks for retroactive pay will be issued as soon as possible. The new law, when signed by the President, provides about a 10 per cent pay raise for civilians, with retroactive pay to the first pay period of January.

A MILLION, NO LESS! — When S/Sgt. Kenneth Baker received a check for his third Reese Credit Union loan this week he found union loans moved over a million dollars. Here he signs for the check issued for the union by Laura Grimes. (Photo by Santangelo.)

Reese Credit Union Loans Pass Million; Deposits Vary Among 1506 Members

The Reese Credit Union Tuesday passed one million dollars in loans since its organization in 1951.

S/Sgt. Kenneth F. Baker of personnel received a loan to air condition his automobile, and a check showed the amount placed total loans just over the million dollar figure.

"It's my third Credit Union loan here," Baker commented. "I've needed extra money quickly three times; and each time the Credit Union has loaned it without delay and easily. I've certainly been glad I decided to become a union member."

M/Sgt. DeWitt Simons, Credit Union president, pointed out that processing of applications requires a few hours, and "actually by the time the check to Sergeant Baker was issued we had boosted loans to about $1,008,000."

Loans for 1958 now hit almost $170,000, with total assets of the union more than $200,000.

"We have a total membership of 1,506," Simons said, "and people just deposit any amount they feel like."

He cited that interest last year was $5.25 per $100 share and that registration fees are 25 cents.

Club Schedules Its June Birthday Party

A party for all personnel having June birthdays will be held at the base service club next Thursday, Mrs. Daphne Hargett, club director, said yesterday.

"We urge everyone to turn out and receive a gift," she added. Beginning at 8 p.m., refreshments and entertainment will be provided for all.

New Manager Of Dining Halls Arrives; Any Changes To Be Slow

Changes in service of wing dining halls will be made slowly as required "but we'll do everything we think needed to give proper service," Bill Labadie, manager for the J. V. Moan Commissary company, said this week as he arrived to assume management July 1.

"This is a new project for me and my company," he pointed out. "There are always complaints, along with praise. We will consider everything as it comes up and when there is basis for the 'beef,' then we will act to eliminate the trouble."

Labadie said no major change in personnel or service is expected under the new contractor until he and his aides have had opportunity to study the situation and to see what is required to follow the master menu.

"Our contract calls for us to provide service in the dining halls; we plan to give the best service we can," Labadie declared.

The new manager holds a bachelor's degree in education from St. Joseph's college, Rensselaer, Ind. He spent two years in food service in the Army and five years in Ohio operating hotels, restaurants, and banquet halls. He then had his own restaurant two years, worked four years for the Sylvania Electric company, and for the past year has been manager for a Moan dining hall at Nellis AFB. He is married.

Managing the Officers and Cadets field ration dining hall will be Robert D. McCullough, cook there under civil service since January, 1956. "Mac" is a former Army cook.

The Moan company has operated dining halls and restaurants for 20 years.

Base Drops To Eighth In Contest

Pointing out that Reese has dropped a place in the ATC Commander's Vehicle Award category, Maj. Richard D. Conn, project officer, this week called on base personnel to join wholeheartedly in the current "Drivesafe" program.

"Reese has been attempting to reach a place in the vehicle competition where we can share in cash awards," the major said. "We have not made the progress desired, but we can do a good job by averting serious accident and cutting down on first aid cases this month. Summer brings more accidents, so we must be alert at all times. Reese has a good record; let us keep it good, maybe improve it some."

The latest report shows Reese has slipped from seventh to eighth place in the ATC Vehicle Award competition. Sheppard leads, considerably ahead of Keesler, in second spot. Then comes Greenville, Lowry, Amarillo, Connally, Craig, and Reese.

New Class Of 70 Students Arrives

Students from 35 states, Honolulu, and three foreign nations are represented in Class 59-D, just arrived for basic multi-engine pilot training at Reese.

The states of Washington, Texas, Louisiana, and New York have four students each. A student officer from El Salvador, four aviation cadets from Vietnam, and three cadets from Honduras will train under terms of the Mutual Assistance Program.

There are 42 colleges and universities with former students in the class, Penn State having three, and Louisiana State University and Brigham Young University two each.

Nineteen of those in 59-D received commissions through AFROTC training in college.

Of the 33 officers, all but 6 are college graduates; the 6 completed high school but did not go to college. The 29 United States cadets include 4 college graduates, 15 who went to college but were not graduated, and 10 high school graduates without further formal education.

The class was sent to Reese on completion of primary pilot training in civilian contract training schools of Malden, Bartow, Graham, Spence, Moore and Hondo air bases.

SHIFTS MADE

Lt. John Carrington, assistant wing operations officer, is being re-assigned to James Connally AFB to serve as instrument pilot instructor.

M/Sgt. William A. Willis of the education office has been re-assigned to Iceland, reporting July 17.

M/Sgt. Julius H. Vaughan of M&S leaves late in June for duty with a fighter interceptor unit in France.

Air Force Can Fight Dual War

Can the Air Force fight only one kind of war — the so-called general war — or can it fight effectively in smaller wars?

The answer, of course, is that the Air Force is especially capable of fighting either kind.

Both the Air Force Chief of Staff and the Vice Chief, Generals White and LeMay, have stressed this dual capability of the Air Force in recent statements.

"Airpower is particularly suited to applying the right amount of force at the right place and time with a minimum of cost and effort," said General White.

Our strategic air forces are designed as the strongest military deterrent to general war, yet also have tremendous capabilities for use in a less than general war.

Our tactical air forces are designed to cope with a local war, yet also have tremendous capabilities for use in a general war.

"The Air Force general war forces contain built-in local war strength," says General LeMay. "Deployed forces, tactical and strategic, can perform local war missions with speed, power and finesse."

The Air Force, says General White, "has examined local wars from the standpoint of possibility, the conditions apt to prevail, and the dangers involved in the conflicts themselves. Our tactical air forces, used independently or in conjunction with other arms, provide a potent force which is particularly well suited for such actions. We have perfected a procedure to quickly employ selected efforts from these forces, wherever required."

Live Day At A Time

By Chaplain Willis L. Stowers

Jesus taught us to live one day at a time, "Give us this day our daily bread." In these times of stress and uncertainty how important a lesson to learn! As our days are, so will our strength be, provided we do not try to carry at the same time the past and the future. Each day is a bit of eternity given for our use and joy.

It has never been ours before; it will never be ours again. It will not come back.

No two days are alike; each has its duty, its good and evil, and its hope.

If we look for the loveliness of life and the loveliness of people it will be happy — a good day.

George Herbert said, "Undress your soul at night, as you do your body." Drop your work, your worry, your weariness, your mistakes, your fears, as you do your garments.

Shut off the future too. When we try to live tomorrow before it comes, we wake up tired and unfit to face it.

Morbid regret and future fear ruin life. It is today lived intently, earnestly that makes the future and fulfills the past.

Ask for bread today — bread for the body and for the soul. Give thanks for the gift of a day. Remember, we have to live with ourselves and we need to set our inner lives in order; use the little prayer Jesus taught us.

So, live and love — learn that life is greater than we may think and longer than we dream. God forgives, renews and sustains. In his great hand we live. All is well!

VANCE WINS

First place in the Air Force-wide Library Publicity Contest has been won by Vance AFB, which will be awarded $350 for library expenses, in addition to the John Cotton Dana award of the American Library Association. The Reese library two years won the John Cotton Dana award but did not enter this year.

News Of Air Force Touches Varied Area

IMPROVEMENT — Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, termed the recently enacted pay increase as only one of important improvements necessary to guarantee a professional force. He said improved living conditions and minimizing of individual hardships are needed, also.

MACE — The TM-76 Mace guided missile made its public debut June 10 at Holloman. The Mace is a refinement of the TM-61 Matador missile which has been in the Air Force inventory several years. It can be operated from forests and deserts without having to be at a known distance from its target.

TRANSFERS — Three ATC bases devoted to tactical fighter crew training will be transferred to TAC on July 1, with missions and functions unchanged. They are Williams, Luke and Nellis.

NON-RATED — Non-rated officers serving on extended active duty currently have better opportunity for assignment to the flying training program. These officers now have a separate quota for spaces in pilot training and will not have to compete for space with OCS, ROTC, and AF academy students.

OCS APPLICANTS — A drop-off in applications makes current prospects for gaining admission to the Air Force OCS as good as any time in the past four years. Quotas are up; applications are down.

BIRTHDAY — The WAF organization is celebrating its 10th birthday during June and is being congratulated by high officials. The WAFs came into being in June, 1948.

M/Sgt. Harry J. Fain, who came to Reese with re-activation of the base in 1949, returns soon to his old duties as sergeant major of Pilot Training Group, being re-assigned from the 3501st PTS. He has been with the squadron since return from the Far East more than a year ago. M/Sgt. John Lescher, present group sergeant major, is being re-assigned to recruiting duty in San Francisco.

James C. Watkins, wing executive officer (right) while A/IC William Price helps Holmes display it. The squadron achieved a 1 cent per capita rate for a three month period in the administrative category of the safety program.

TWO TIME FLAG WINNERS — The 3500th Transportation Squadron captured the ground safety green flag for the second straight month. Col. James C. Watkins, wing executive officer, congratulates 1st Lt. David L. Satchwell, acting commander for the Transportation Squadron (left) as A/IC Paul Gross and T/Sgt. Frank Ball of the base motor pool display the ground safety flag. Chapel Team Splits Two Game Series With Amarillo AFB

Reese Chapel "re-enlisted" Keith Wren for a one night tour to lead the club to a 1-0 victory over the Amarillo AFB softball team last Saturday. He was procured because the chapel had used up all its pitchers on previous nights.

Wren, former Reese-ite, and now pitcher for the First Baptist team in Lubbock church league play, pitched an 18 strike-out game to put Reese out in front. He gave up two hits.

The game was one of two scheduled exhibition games over the weekend for the benefit of base personnel and to give the team practice.

Reese made its single counter in the bottom of the sixth as Seaman Gray walked, stole second and third, and took home on an overthrow.

Pitching duties for Amarillo were split by Conyers and Cody, the latter relieving the final two innings. They allowed one hit.

The Cards turned against Reese as they paired off against Amarillo, Sunday night, losing 6-4 in the series closer.

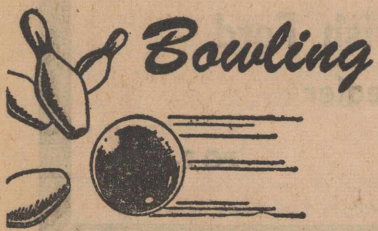

Going into the top of the seventh, the score was 4-3, Reese. Amarillo lead-off batter Cappelli went to first on an error; Lewis singled to put him on second. Another error placed runners on second and third; then Montanis tripled to score both runners, making it Amarillo 6, Reese 4. Reese failed to recover.

Cody, starting pitcher for the winners, allowed five hits and his relief, Beckam, gave up one. Reese's Tupua gave six hits to Amarillo.

Big inning for Reese was the fifth, which opened with the score 4-2, Amarillo. Black opened play with a three bagger, Hartzell bunted for the score and made first. A single by Estes, and a wild pitch put Hartzell over the plate for a 4-3 Reese lead.

Missing play for the night was catcher Holmes, who will be out of action a week due to injuries suffered in play.

Next game for the Chapel is tonight at 7:30 at 24th and Ave. Q ball park in Lubbock.

Bowling

Taking four while losing none, M&S moved up into the number four spot in the base intramural bowling league this week. Other league leaders held their places.

Holding the top notch is PTW with a 17-3 win, loss record; '05th Maintenance "A" and PTG are tied for second as M&S is breathing hard to move up from fourth place with a 14-6 record.

Bill Chappell rolled both high series and high game, 576 for the former and a 223 high game.

PTW set a 867 high team series, and also toppled 2423 pins for high team game.

The Reese Pitchout...

By A/1C George Burkhardt-Meier

Reese-manned Woody Tire Co. team put itself into the lead of the Lubbock City League (baseball) by winning, 8-2, over the Merchants Motor Freight Sunday. Game was pulled out of the fire by Neimeyer who relieved Kelsay in the bottom of the sixth with bases loaded to retire the side. He pitched a one-hitter and struckout 10. Vancourt tripled, Itz doubled, then singled twice. Woody collected eight hits, gave three errors and pulled off its first double play of the season. Sealy's also doing mill-work for a Judo class; if you're interested give him a buzz.

Sox, Braves, Giants Top Little League

Little League men had a buzzing session last Friday as the Red Sox broke a 4-4 third inning deadlock with three doubles and a homer to down the Giants, 8-4, on a three run rally.

The Sox came to bat in the bottom of the third with Clay Walker doubling off and Rudi Rushing stepping up to homer and score two runs. A double by Correll set up the third run driven in by Sharek, who also doubled. Final run for the Sox came in the fifth.

Pitching for the game held up well as Correll, for the winners, struckout 9 of 28 batters, allowing 4 hits and passing 6 men. Losing pitcher, Weaver, struckout 10 of 21 batters faced, walking only two.

A somewhat looser game last Thursday saw the Braves drop the Dodgers, 17-7. Roddy Lins singled three times in four bats and James Richardson had a double.

Pitching for the Braves were Lins, Richardson and Morgan. Kent Goto went the distance for the Dodgers, allowing but two hits, one each to Marty Stebbins and Terry Benevent.

Coming in on relief duty, Robinson, Giant pitcher, quelled a first inning scoring spree by the Dodgers with a one hitter for an 8-4 Giant win, Monday night.

Leahy, Giant starter, walked the first three men up and hit the fourth. Robinson came in to walk two and strikeout three straight to retire the side — but not before the Dodgers picked up four runs.

Robinson went on to pitch a one hitter, as he struckout 14 men.

The Giants lived it up in the

PTW Tops Leaders In Intramural Play

Spearheaded by hurler Jaska, PTW swept by league leading '01st Maintenance, 6-2, Friday in intramural softball play. Jaska turned in a three hitter as his teammates made the most of hits and errors. Said one PTW spokesman, "Maybe we can get going now."

Last Wednesday, the '02nd toppled Hospital as Tupua, their pitcher, turned in a no-hitter while striking out 10 men.

A two-hit performance by Snow put AACS over the O-Naught PTS, 15-2; and PTW dropped ABG, 11-3, in games last Monday.

Other games of the week saw PTG win over the AP's, 8-6; the AP's beat M&S, 5-1; O-Naught PTS quell ABG, 7-5; and PTG nose out Installations, 11-10.
