Two Defend Rodeo Championships

Two defending champions, John B. Fuller, civilian, and A/1C Jack Key, are among 43 entrants in the annual Reese Rodeo. Entries ended at 5 p.m. Tuesday, with 12 entrants in the light sedan driving class, 14 in the half-ton truck class, 3 in the ton and a half stake and platform truck class, 7 in the 29-passenger bus class, and 7 in the semi-trailer refueling unit.

Fuller for several years has been winner of the refueling unit competition, also winning FTAF and ATC competition. Airman Key is defending his half-ton truck championship.

All entrants were briefed Wednesday on what they will be expected to do and on what areas will be considered by judges. Today, first practice is permitted on the new course near the base hospital, where competition is scheduled. Practice is also set for next Monday and Tuesday, with preliminary competition set for July 10 and 11. Finals are planned for July 17 and 18.

Reese personnel will judge early competition, but judges in the finals will be safety officials from the Texas State Highway department and City of Lubbock traffic department.

All competitors will receive certificates, and other awards are planned for winners in each of the five classes. Rodeo competition will be restricted to each base this year, with no contests at higher echelons.

CHECK URGED

Members of "By Rocket to Adventure Reading Club" were urged this week to check their booklets weekly to record progress.

"Base Library has a Count-Down every Monday morning," Helen K. Fuller, base librarian warned. "Some club members are behind in Rocketry Production." They'd better check with us each week."

Commanders Call Film Features Research

"Holloman — Frontier of the Future" is the title of the Commander's Call film for July. A 28-minute color film report shows the Air Research and Development Command progress at Holloman AFB near White Sands, N. Mex.

The Air Force cameras take you behind the scenes at the development center to witness the launching of the Matador missile, supersonic sled demonstration, night rocket launching.

The cameras also take you high above the New Mexico desert to witness a F-102 equipped with Falcon rockets stalk a drone B-17 and destroy it.

This film is mandatory for all Commanders Call and can be secured from the base film library in building S-37 or by calling A/1C Mitchell at Ext. 479.

Renovation of the base gymnasium is in progress, with re-location of some windows, alteration of the ceiling, and refinishing of the floor as major objectives.

3-2-1-GO — Air Force F-100-D Super Sabre jet leaps from mobile launcher at Edwards AFB, Calif., demonstrating how fighter bombers can become airborne from remote sites without using runways. The F-100-D used the thrust of its own engine plus the kick of a 130,000-pound thrust rocket to get into the air and accelerate to 275 mph in less than four seconds.

Major Upturn Shown In Education Moves

Ordinarily the "dead quarter of the year," the last three months produced more registration for education courses than any quarter since that ending in September, 1955, J. F. Reeves, Reese education specialist, said Wednesday.

The education office was swamped with USAFI enrollments Monday, the last day the $2 per course fee was effective. Starting Tuesday, July 1, the course fee went to $5. Most of the day several persons were waiting in line for assistance in registering for a course in the Reese education office. Enrollment

Reese re-enlistments took a sharp turn upward during June, moving from May's 11.1 percent of eligibles to 24.2 percent. Eligible to re-enlist were 33 NCO's and airmen, with 8 extending tours.

Total registration for USAFI courses during the April-June quarter was 57. ECI enrollments totaled 158, including 113 enlisted men, 26 civilians, and 19 officers.

Reeves also reported a major upturn in applications for GED. Tests for certificates of high school equivalency were started by 46 base men, with tests for college GED certificates initiated by 14 men. During the quarter 22 Reese enlisted men received certificates of equivalency for high school work.

Figures just released by ECI showed Reese among ATC leaders in new enrollments for May. During the month 5 officers, 51 airmen, and 6 civilians started courses.

SERVICE PLANNED

A brief noonday devotional service for all Protestants, military and civilian, will be started next Monday, Chaplain William Franks announced this week. The service is scheduled from 12:45 to 12:55 p.m., Monday through Friday in the Chapel.

Enough material is contained in the tires of the Boeing KC-135 jet tanker-transport's landing gear (eight main gear wheels and two nose wheels) to produce 100 automobile tires.

Personnel Asked To Observe Safety

A renewed plea that "all personnel traveling this weekend take extra precautions to avert accident" was issued late Wednesday by Joe Lopez, ground safety director.

"Most of us hope to have a carefree and pleasant weekend, and many of us to be able to visit with relatives and friends far from the base," he commented. "Highways will be filled with moving automobiles and there is danger of too much speed and crowding of good driving practices. It is very important that all of us use extra caution in our driving, and watch the other fellow more closely."

Lopez pointed out that Reese supervisors are hopeful that each holiday period this year is without accident of any sort. So far during 1958 the record is clear.

"That shows that Reese people are thinking of safety, an action which is highly commendable," Lopez said. "There is little reason why the situation should change."

Counsel was given on proper handling of fireworks, safe practices in swimming and boating, and on all phases of safety. It was estimated Reese people will travel about a half million miles this weekend.

Use of fireworks on the base and in Reese Village is forbidden.

Retroactive Pay Set For July 11; Checks Out Early

Pay day for civilians came even earlier than expected this week, as the accounting and finance office distributed checks today which were scheduled for next Tuesday.

"We expected to start paying on Friday, July 18, instead of Tuesday," Maj. Frank Fleming, accounting and finance officer, said. "However, our workers have speeded up so that we will start this week. Friday is a holiday, so we are paying a day earlier — on Thursday."

The major received instructions on the increased pay for civilians late Monday of this week. He and his staff began to work on the increase immediately.

"Work to establish the new rate has begun and the higher pay will be in effect as of June 29, 1958," the major said. "Checks to cover retroactive pay, Jan. 12, 1958, through June 28, 1958, will be issued July 11, we expect. Instructions on how to handle the increases present some problems which must be solved. But there will be no delay. That means checks on the 3rd, 11th and 18th."

Major Fleming said today's pay, at the old rate, will permit civilians to have additional funds for the holiday weekend.

Renovation Starts; BX Shifts Sections

Renovation of the Base Exchange was started this week, necessitating alteration in BX operation. A new ceiling, lights, and interior painting are included in the project, scheduled to last about a month.

During the renovation, cigarette, candy, drug, and stationery departments will operate in the cafeteria. Clothing and household departments will be open in toyland and the laundry pickup station, T-16. The laundry will move over to T-126, with the dry cleaners, temporarily.

The cafeteria has been re-wired.

Floods Featured In Air Force Film

The Air Force News Review which will be shown at all Commander's Calls during the month of July arrived at Reese this week.

This film featuring the latest Air Force developments has scenes of the F-104 setting the new worlds altitude record by more than two miles. Sequences at the Sacramento Peak Observatory in New Mexico shows scientists seeking to find out how solar activities influence the earth's communications setup.

Shots of airmen in Louisiana's Barksdale AFB fighting raging flood waters, USAF operations in Spani, and tests of Ryan Firebee Target Drone and F-102 Delta Dagger are also included.

SHOP MOVES

The woodworking hobby shop is being moved to Building T-543, at the corner of 5th and C streets, to provide better facilities, including larger space and better equipment. The new opening date has not been set.

SECTION SHIFTS

The base traffic management section became a part of the Commercial Transportation section this week in a better management move.

ATC Variety Show In Theater Tonight

"Command Performance," the ATC variety show, will make its Reese appearance at 8 p.m. today in the base theater with a near-capacity crowd expected to attend.

Advance notices on the show indicate talented performers will present amusing and entertaining acts aimed at raising troop morale.

The cast includes 25 male and 3 female airmen who will appear as soloists and in groups, offering comedy, popular music, and a few classical numbers.

Performers are from several ATC bases and were selected for the tour started June 6 on the basis of competition for places in the Air Force-wide contest.

There Openeth A Way

By Chaplain Willis L. Stowers

We live in an age when the world is tremendously illogical and filled with many false preachings. A large portion of the people of the world are satisfied with their lot and are unwilling to make the effort to live on the heights. Especially is this true in the spiritual realms of living. It has taken centuries of sacrificing and suffering and world tragedies to bring the people to the point where it has been possible to even formulate some sort of a charter for world peace. Even yet, the world is not ready to pay the price of peace.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune. Omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and miseries. On such a full sea are we now afloat, and we must take the current when it serves, or lose our ventures."

So wrote the immortal Shakespeare in his Julius Caesar.

The Psalmist said, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the Hills." The poet, John Oxenham, in words alive with vitality, spoke hopefully, "To every man there openeth a way, and ways, and a way; and the high soul climbs the highway, and the low soul the low. And in between on the mystic flats, the rest drift to and fro. And to every man there openeth a high way and a low, and every man decideth the way his soul shall go."

Though we may fail to reach the top of the high place; though we may fall short and be hurt; the very effort to live in the heights, causes a miracle to take place in our lives, bringing that which is positive and giving to us a new spirit and a new motive and high purposes. This our world needs today, through us.

Keeping Liberty Everyone's Job

One hundred and eighty-two years ago the population of 13 British colonies in the eastern part of North America decided it had had enough of the inequities of British rule.

And so, on July 4 of that year—1776—56 representatives of those colonies, among them Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Adams and John Hancock, signed a Declaration of Independence. It was the United States' birth certificate.

We celebrate July 4 not only because it is our country's birthday, but because it marks a day on which a group of incredibly foresighted men founded a society upon ideas and democratic principles theretofore reserved for idealists only.

And what is this American mind? It is the conviction that "all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just power from the consent of the governed . . ."

Jefferson and his colleagues knew that democracy rested with the people. They knew that "government of the people, by the people," as Abraham Lincoln was to say almost 100 years later, was the key to any truly free society.

These men, and other great men to follow, put government and freedom in the hands of the people. Making government work and freedom last is everyone's job. Vote! (AFPS)

Trouble Finding Mechanism Nearly Ready

An ARDC study on an electronic checkout device that can find a malfunctioning part in a "century series" aircraft or missile system and tell a maintenance mechanic what to do about the trouble is nearing completion by Convair.

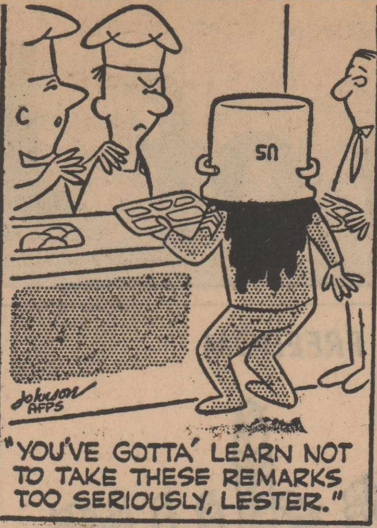

Termed RACO (Rapid Automatic Checkout) by Convair electronic design engineers, the device as now visualized would not only isolate a troublesome aircraft or missile component within seconds, but also tell a semi-skilled technician what part to adjust or replace.

ARDC study indicates the RACO unit could be plugged in on the flight line to an interceptor like the F-106 Delta Dart.

By pressing a button, a technician could run system checks on the craft, determining defects, and the RACO unit would flash maintenance instructions by screen or microfilm projection.

Sox Lead League Play For Week

The Red Sox captured two games and the Braves and Giants one each during the last four Little League games.

Last Thursday the Giants topped the Dodgers, 10-1. The highlight was a home run by Clifford Kreitz, his first in league play this year and the first collected by a Giant this season.

In a game featured by four doubles, the Red Sox upset the Braves, 19-4, Friday night. Al Johnson was winning pitcher, Jim Richardson the loser. The winners scored eight runs in the sixth. Rudi Rushing, John Sharek, and Johnson doubled for the winners, Jerry Gardner for the losers. Sharek had two-for-two and led scoring with five runs.

The Braves spotted the Dodgers 10 runs in the first inning and then came back to win a 15-12 contest Monday night. The winners scored in every inning, assisted by a home run by Roddy Lins and a three-for-three and walk for Jim Richardson. Lins was winning pitcher. Kent Goto contributed three-for-four to the losing cause.

Tuesday night it was 11-0 for the Sox over the Giants. Vic Correll pitched a two-hit game and was backed by good infield defense. Charles McElroy at second

Tupua, Tafoya Hurl No-Hitter Each In Softball Play

Saupo Tupua loosened up his arm last Tuesday to pitch a one hitter to lead the '02nd Maintenance, 10-0, over Air Police in base intramural softball play. His teammates picked up nine hits to make 10 runs.

A second one-hitter, pitched by Tafoya, Thursday, didn't turn out so well for his Installations team — Hospital downed them, 10-4.

Other games of the week saw PTW win over '05th Maintenance, 6-5; AACS push away ABG, 11-6; ABG nose out the '05th, 7-6; the O-Naught PTS edge by PTW, 12-10; and the 01st PTS lose, 5-4, to PTG.

Three Teams Bowl Four Straight Wins

Winning four, dropping none this week, PTG strengthened its grip as league leader in the Reese summer bowling league. The '05th Maintenance "A", tied with PTG for first last week, lost four to drop back into a fourth place tie.

Also winning four games apiece during the week were the '02nd and '01st Maintenance teams.

The wins put the '02nd up a notch into third place, and moved the '01st into a two-way fourth place tie with the '05th Maintenance — first time during the season that the '01st has been in the upper four.

High game of the week went to Ed Meyers for toppling 200 pins and high series was picked up by Rich Tafoya, who posted a 543 mark.

Both high team game and high team series were racked up by the '02nd Maintenance; high game, 829; high series, 2443.

A/2C Gary M. Rinehart of ABG is going to Japan, departing in August.

S/Sgt. Ora B. Parrott, PTW Headquarters Squadron Section supply man, has been re-assigned to England.
