Community Chest Drive Goes 'Over Top'

City Awards Citizenship To Students

Twenty-nine Reese foreign students this week are honorary citizens of Lubbock.

Mayor David Casey of Lubbock presented certificates during a city commission meeting, giving honorary citizenship to three officers from Ecuador, two from Japan, and two from Turkey, three Vietnam enlisted men and eighteen aviation cadets. The latter group was composed of two from Ethiopia, seven from Iran, and nine from Pakistan.

New Lubbock citizens from Japan are Maj. Kenichi Harada and Capt. Mutsuo Kimura. From Turkey are Captains Sermet Senoz and Turgut Tutlu. From Ecuador are 2nd Lieutenants John H. Portugal, Roberto R. Yerovi and Vincente Alberto Vinuesa.

Cadets Abate Merld and Gebresilassie Tadesse are honorary citizens from Ethiopia. Cadet Salvador A. Abadesco is from the Philippines. Honored from Iran were Cadets Mohammad-Taghi Shahlaie, Ali Mansoori, Khosrow Moini, Gholam-Reza Skoni-Basmanj, Mashallah Emrani, Cyrus Honari and Hossein Zarpour-Barfjany.

Pakistan Aviation Cadets holding honorary citizenship certificates are Munir A. Azam, Irshaed A. Agha, Mohammed A. Choudhry, Tariq Masood, Raziddin Ahmed, Jalaluddin Akbar, Shah Z. Khan, Mahmood A. Butt and Mohammad Saleem.

Vietnam new honorary citizens are SSgt. Nguyen Zan Toi, A1C Luu Van Trong and A1C Ho Van Nguyen.

Some of those honored were unable to attend the commission meeting because of conflict with the training program. Their certificates were sent to them.

Protestant Youth Retreat Scheduled

Plans for a three-day spiritual life retreat for Protestant Youth of the Chapel are in preliminary stages. At 5:30 p.m. this Sunday all members of the youth group and their parents will meet in the Chapel Annex to discuss the retreat and to formulate definite plans. All parents, as well as members, are urged to attend, said Chaplain George Worner.

Four NCO's Retire Here; Have Total Armed Forces Service Over 85 Years

Four NCO's, each with more than 20 years service, retired this week at Reese. Three will remain on the South Plains.

MSgt. Charles M. Sorenson, sergeant-major of Air Base Group until he recently moved to help establish the NCO Academy, is going to Pelican Rapids, Minn., to become an insurance adjuster; SSgt. Peter M. Bolash of the Air Police pass and registration section is remaining in Lubbock; MSgt. James Shewmake of Brownfield is going into the irrigation business in Lorenzo; and TSgt. Nicholas Gravor of Columbia, Pa., is remaining in Lubbock.

Sergeant Sorenson was at Reese from October, 1958, until his retirement. He served two tours overseas during World War II and spent three years on Okinawa later. His daughter, Carol, is

Vietnamese Airmen Learning Aircraft Maintenance In Training On Base

Three Vietnamese enlisted men are hopeful of returning home in December on completion of airframe training at Reese. Back home they will be working with American equipment moved in under the Mutual Assistance Program.

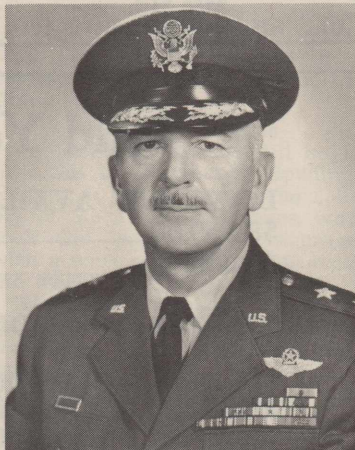

The three airmen, SSgt. Nguyen Zan Toi, A1C Luu Zan Trong and A1C Ho Van Nguyen came to the United States eight months ago to become proficient with American machinery and techniques. They spent five months at Amarillo AFB prior to coming to Reese.

Through complete workdays of study and on-the-job training they are learning as much as possible about maintenance of aircraft frames. They are becoming familiar in the shop and on the flight line with metal fatigue, patching, drilling machines, riveting and various other types of maintenance. They also are becoming proficient in layout of maintenance work.

"Back home we all were assigned to H-19 helicopter work," says Airman Nguyen. "Sometimes work was difficult because of lack of equipment. But we are getting more new equipment and when we return we will be able to do a much better job on Vietnamese aircraft which will help keep the peace."

Sergeant Toi and Airman Trong have been in service seven years, Airman Nguyen four years. All three are high school graduates and underwent training in English before coming to the United States.

GENERAL MOONEY

ATC General Visits Reese

Maj. Gen. Henry K. Mooney, assistant vice commander of Air Training Command, today paid his first visit to Reese AFB, visiting Pilot Training and Maintenance and Supply activities and touring the base.

The general arrived at mid-morning and left shortly after noon for Mather AFB, Calif.

Gen. Mooney, who moved to ATC headquarters Sept. 1, is a 1931 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point and has been a pilot since 1932. He is a command pilot, current in the B-47 Stratojet and the KC-97 aerial tanker. He also holds a rating as senior aircraft observer.

He served three years in the Panama Canal Zone and in 1943 commanded all Army, Navy and Army Air Force troops in Galapagos, earning the Legion of Merit.

During World War II he flew 23 combat missions over Ploesti, Schweinfurt, Munich, Vienna and other targets, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

Contributions, Contributors Larger Than Previous Years

Another successful Community Chest drive comes to an end today on the base with the "over the top" label.

A larger number of contributors than last year joined the drive, and money turned in totaled more than that expected, said Lt. Col. Wayne Wills, drive chairman.

"The project officers did a tremendous job," commented the colonel. "They showed much initiative and response from everyone was good."

"This base always has come through when the welfare of our people and those in neighboring communities has been involved. The 1960 Community Chest campaign has written another chapter in base history which is bright, one of which all of us are proud."

Several organizations had outstanding records in aiding the campaign. The 3500th Pilot Training Squadron was the first squadron to reach 100 per cent participation and the Hospital was the first group to hit the goal.

Project officers are turning in final reports and a check for Reese contributions will be given the Lubbock Community Chest next week. Twenty-three welfare organizations will benefit from funds collected.

Seven Named As 'Regulars'

Seven Distinguished Graduates of the Reese pilot training program have been selected for the regular Air Force, with date of rank on confirmation by the U. S. Senate. President Eisenhower has approved the appointments.

The seven, all members of Class 60-H, graduated last June, are 2nd Lts. Louis G. Rever, Dennie L. Sides, Richard C. Spencer, Francis A. Bales, Jr., John Granskog, Clarence W. Hough and Wayne L. Jennings. All were commissioned on graduation.

Lts. Sides, Granskog and Hough are assigned here as instructor pilots and will begin that duty on graduation from BIS.

INSTRUCTOR ASSIGNED

Second Lt. Robert B. Adams, former electrical engineering major at the University of Cincinnati, has come to Reese as an instructor pilot. He is a graduate of Greenville AFB pilot training.

Post-Accident Action Brings Victim's Praise

High praise for first aid action of Capt. Ben A. Barone following an automobile accident in Lubbock on June 30 has been received by Col. L. C. Hess, base commander.

John K. Knight of Lubbock wrote that he was bleeding profusely near where his car was in collision when the captain arrived.

"There is no doubt that his actions contributed heavily to my recovery, present well-being and possibly to the fact that I am able to write you this day," Knight's letter said.

Capt. Barone controlled bleeding, covered the injured man with blankets, had him shaded from the sun and performed other aid. He held back blood until the ambulance attendant took over. Knight required more than 100 stitches for his wounds.

"I cannot properly express in words my gratitude to this officer," Knight wrote Col. Hess. "I can truthfully say that his performance was remarkable. If Capt. Barone is a representative cross-section of Air Force personnel, we have nothing to worry about."

Lieutenants Arrive For Instructor Duty

Three second lieutenants who have just completed combat crew survival training at Stead AFB have arrived at Reese as instructor pilots. They are 2nd Lts. Donald V. Drouin, Arthur B. Ward and Patrick T. Friend.

Lt. Drouin is a former education major at UCLA. Lt. Ward is a former engineering major at the same school. Lt. Friend is a former student of Hastings College, Neb.

FIRST GRADUATE—Mrs. Wanda Hess, left, presents a certificate of completion to Mrs. Pike Page, first graduate of the Family Services orientation course. Thirty certificates were presented following the two-day session in which a variety of subjects affecting Reese families were discussed. "This has been a fine course; it has answered many questions and given us much material we didn't know," commented Mrs. Hess.

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

The "TIG Brief" which is published every other week by the USAF Inspector General's office is one of the best internal publications I know of for the Commander, Staff Officer and Supervisor. Its objective is to provide timely information of direct concern to the operational effectiveness of the U. S. Air Force.

This condensed and concise publication also contains a wealth of information on anticipated and actual problem areas, deficiencies, recommendations to improve management, policy guidance and inspection techniques as well as check lists on many subjects. It is an excellent management aid.

Every person in a supervisory capacity should pay close attention to each issue of this valuable publication. It will help to carry out responsibilities more efficiently and in accordance with present, new and revised laws and regulations.

U. S. Fighter Is Faithful

If I become a prisoner of war, I will keep faith with my fellow prisoners. I will give no information nor take part in any action which might be harmful to my comrades. If I am senior, I will take command. If not, I will obey the lawful orders of those appointed over me and will back them up in every way.

Faithfulness is another virtue that burns brightly in the breasts of U. S. Fighting Men. Article 4 of the Code of Conduct prescribes specific standards to be met in subverting Communist questions and efforts to divide.

This article takes on special significance among a group of POWs. They stand or fall upon its solidarity. If one breaks ranks it becomes more difficult to stand firm. Confidence in each other is destroyed. It further jeopardizes mutual assistance and chances for escape. And, what is even more demoralizing, it paves the way for the enemy's greatest asset — divide and conquer.

These facts seem obvious enough now, but when one is actually confronted with such a situation without ever having given it prior consideration, he is apt to be at a loss in trying to cope with it.

The U. S. Fighting Man's Code of Conduct program gives one the opportunity to consider these possibilities in the light of actual past experiences of prisoners of war. It also makes available countermeasures. The best defense is based on strict adherence to the standards proclaimed in the Code of Conduct.

Our Neighbors Are Honored

One of the strongest actions in efforts of the United States to further and maintain its standing in the world picture has been a People-to-People program aimed at bringing better understanding. The program has been an important part of armed forces actions over a long period. Opportunity for bringing the better understanding through People-to-People activities is present every day for Air Force and other servicemen and their families.

Reese Air Force Base and Lubbock in recent days have taken a major step in extending public understanding. Base students from seven foreign countries last week were made honorary citizens of Lubbock and were given certificates to treasure always. Some of them were scheduled for appearances on television to express views and for South Plains viewers to see and hear them.

Some of the foreign students were guests at the United Nations Day dinner held in the Lubbock Coliseum.

This weekend Reese will be host to about 25 braceros, farm workers from Mexico. These men will visit several places on the South Plains as a part of the Lubbock South Plains Lions Club goodwill activity.

The better people of all nations understand each other, the less chance there is of friction between nations. Reese AFB for years has trained pilots of foreign lands. They have treated them well and as friends.

Activities last week and this week add to international goodwill. As long as foreign students are trained here, residents of this base will have great opportunity to make friends and neighbors for our powerful nations.

ATC, Missiles Emphasized

For people assigned to Air Training Command and those interested in missiles, the November issue of the Airman Magazine holds special interest.

There's a lead article on how the Air Force, through ATC, develops new and vital skills in training missilemen.

Another article entitled, "Don't Laugh at a Gooney Bird," tells the story of the veteran C-47 aircraft assigned to Reese and other bases and used by commercial airlines for certain tasks.

The airman desiring to become an officer and to further his education is told many salient facts in a story about the Airman Education and Commissioning Program through which a college education and officer status may be obtained.

There's an article on a Medal of Honor winner, Maj. Richard Bong, a yarn on how the turkey got its name and a timely editorial on Veterans' Day.

Sixteen pages of the November Airman are devoted to pictures and discussion of members of the USAF missile family, mentioning the Atlas, Thor, Jupiter, Snark, Skybolt, Hound Dog, Quail, Bomarc and GAR family.

In the section entitled "Airman's World," a short item discusses training of foreign students, especially Ethiopians, at Reese and Luke AFB's. Another interesting section provides slants on space activity.

Copies of The Airman Magazine are being distributed to all units at Reese. Commander's Call programs emphasize the publication as extremely good reading for everyone connected with the Air Force. One the base the magazine is one of the most widely read.

INSTRUCTOR ADDED

First Lt. John G. Wirthman, graduate of Vance AFB pilot training, has been added to Reese instructor pilots. He is an electrical engineering graduate of St. Louis University.

'02nd Claims New Record

The 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance Squadron this week laid claim to a record number of "01" level airmen eligible for the "31" level AFSC test.

Maj. Joseph Burdick, squadron commander, said that the 61 young airmen are eligible through on-the-job training and will take the 43131C test.

"This record number," he said, "represents many man-hours, both on and off duty, by trainees, trainers and the OJT supervisor, SSgt. Charles Gray. The off-duty time includes many hours spent by the trainers in preparing lessons and checking work completed by each student."

Each of the 61 is enrolled in an ECI course and study rooms have been set up in the squadron.

"I know of no unit or at no time that such cooperation or record has been set," commented Major Burdick.

One of the 61 eligibles is A2C Ernest Thomas, who obtained a score of 137 in the Airman Proficiency Test. Members of the squadron claimed that the high score was the highest made in the Air Force, "revealing the airman's desire to learn and fine work of his trainers." Airman Thomas also scored the highest grade of 10 students in a recent T-33-4 Mobile Training Detachment class for beginning aircraft mechanics.

DENTIST ARRIVES

First Lt. James M. Keefe, recent graduate of the Gunter AFI training, has begun duty in the base hospital. He is a former student of the University of Santa Clara and the Creighton University School of Dentistry.

LIEUTENANT ASSIGNED

Second Lt. Daniel B. Couch, previously assigned to Greenville AFB, has begun new duty as instructor pilot here.

SMALL ARMS BRANCH announced this week that duck blinds have been set up at Reese Lake for the oncoming duck season (Nov. 11), and also for geese, which is presently open.

Already, personnel of the base are inquiring about reservations for the blinds on the 11th, however, the policy is that no one will be able to make reservations until 72 hours prior to opening of the duck season. An advanced three-day notice to the Small Arms Branch (T-255) for duck blind reservations will also be required throughout the season.

Ducks and geese have already started to move in to the South Plains area.

A SIGHTING-IN shoot at the Base Rifle Range will be held at 1 p.m. next Tuesday for all base military and civilian personnel. The shoot is to allow deer hunters to track their rifles in for adjustments. Deer season opens Nov. 16.

Woman's Chatter

By Mrs. Patrick Durning

A coming attraction for next week is the Protestant Women of the Chapel luncheon. It is the regular luncheon on Tuesday in the Chapel Annex. Guest speaker, Tom Cannon, Lubbock juvenile officer, will discuss juvenile delinquency.

Mrs. Joseph Burdick has been typing the OWC cookbook and gives credit to Mrs. Lewis Britain for compiling it. The book was ready for sale at the OWC Bazaar Thursday.

Duliece Stewart, 13, daughter of CWO and Mrs. Flagle Stewart, composed a song she sang on the Walsh Talent Variety Program on KDUB-TV, Lubbock last Sunday. Winner each week until Jan. 29 will compete for prizes totaling $250. Winners are selected by the number of postcards sent in voting for them.

Mrs. Sara Arnette of Winnsboro, S. C., has left after spending two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Col. and Mrs. John W. Arnette.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Mansell McElroy plan to leave Reese earlier than expected because of change of orders. Concurrent travel is not possible, so Mrs. McElroy will stay in Bryan, Tex., until her husband returns from Iceland in about a year.

Houseguests at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Daniel M. Johnson are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson of Everett, Wash.

A farewell bridge for Mrs. McElroy was held at the Officers' Club with Mmes. Harold Babb, John Arnette and Richard Conn as hostesses.

Mrs. Ernest Bedke was honored at a baby shower given by Mmes. Donald Patch, Donald Dederick and Patrick Durning.

On Oct. 20 the McElroys were honored at a progressive dinner given by Colonels and Mmes. L. C. Hess, James D. C. Robinson, William A. Martin, Harold Babb, Lt. Colonels and Mmes. Charles Sawyer, and Hanford Wright, and Majors and Mmes. Lewis Britain, Alex Goodkin, Ben S. Gibson and Joseph Burdick.

First Lt. and Mrs. David Reiner and Capt. Donald Tarver have returned from Primary Instructor School at Selma, Ala. On the way to Reese, they visited the Captain's relatives in Louisiana.
