Air Traffic Controller Captures May Honors

For the second straight month an airman representing the 2053rd Communications Squadron has earned Airman of the Month honors here.

Sgt. Raymond L. Soehnge, an air traffic controller, has been selected as Airman of the Month for May. In nominating Sergeant Soehnge for the honors, his commander, Lt. Col. Walter L. Brower, praised his professionalism and airmanship in accomplishing his duties.

May's honoree is facility rated in both the control tower and in Ground Control Approach (Radar) and holds a junior rating from the Federal Aviation Agency. According to Colonel Brower, "this dual rating is an outstanding accomplishment on the part of a first term airman. By direction from higher headquarters, only airmen judged by their supervisor as having demonstrated outstanding, mature judgment and an aggressive professional attitude, be allowed to acquire ratings in both facilities. The acquisition of these ratings alone attest to his outstanding ability and the high regard of his supervisors."

During a recent air traffic control analysis inspection, the sergeant was cited individually and as part of a team for the outstanding professional manner in which he personally responded to the performance of duties. "To be readily seen is the flexibility afforded this facility by personnel of Sergeant Soehnge's calibre," the colonel stated.

Sergeant Soehnge has served in the U.S. Air Force three years, arriving at Reese from Keesler AFB, Miss. in September 1966. He is currently on orders for assignment to Southeast Asia.

The Houston native is a high school graduate and has three college credits. Sergeant Soehnge and his wife, Paulette, have two children, Diann 2 and Craig, 6 months.

Residents Issued Squirrel Warning

Hospital officials here are cautioning trailer park and Reese Village residents that the prairie dog and ground squirrel population in the area increases in activity during the warmer months. Parents are urged to warn their children of the hazards of trapping, chasing, teasing or playing with these animals. Even though no rabies has been detected so far this year, rabies and distemper is not uncommon among these rodents. A warning now may prevent a child from having to undergo the series of shots.

1969 Share In America Bond Campaign Set

The 1969 United States Savings Bond/Freedom Shares campaign at Reese AFB got under way yesterday and will continue through May 30 with the aim to sign up all military and civilian personnel at the base on a volunteer basis for such a savings program.

Project officer for the month-long drive at Reese is Lt. Col. Elmer L. Tuck, wing comptroller. The campaign officially was launched yesterday with a meeting of unit project officers and Colonel Tuck. The unit project officers were briefed on the campaign and given literature and other materials to help them in their jobs.

The campaign has the wholehearted support at all command levels. An Air Force regulation, 11-34, outlines the importance of the campaign and how it should be conducted.

A letter dated March 24 from the office of the chief of staff, Department of the Air Force signed by Gen. John P. McConnell, places the utmost importance on the campaign. It says in part: "This endeavor has been designated 'The 1969 Share In America Campaign'. As in previous campaigns, our objective is to provide all Air Force personnel with an opportunity to purchase these securities."

In his letter General McConnell quotes a statement from Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., Air Force Secretary, in support of the campaign. It says in part: "Your participation in the Savings Bond/Freedom Share Payroll Savings Plan is a demonstration of pru-

SAFOI Chief, Gen. Garland, Arrives Today

Maj. Gen. William C. Garland, director of Information, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force (SAFOI), is due to arrive this evening at Reese AFB. General Garland will participate in the Region 8 Annual Conference of Sigma Delta Chi (SDX) scheduled tonight through Sunday at the Villa Inn Motel.

General Garland, accompanied by Maj. Gil Whiteman, chief, SAFOI Speakers Bureau, is due arrive at 6 p.m. He will be quartered at the Villa Inn courtesy of the West Texas Chapter of SDX which is hosting the conference.

General Garland's part in the program will be an hour-and-a-half portion beginning at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at which time the general is expected to discuss the relationship between the military and civilian news media.

Others on the program include Texas Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes, Bill Arthur, editor of Look magazine and national president of SDX, Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and Lubbock Mayor W. D. Rogers Jr.

The general is due to depart from Reese AFB at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Village Residents To Be Given Reminder

Base and Village residents who are negligent in utility conservation will be gently reminded of their carelessness in the future as a result of the latest project of the Utilities Management and Conservation Committee.

Instead of requesting the violator to correct his mistake, the Security Police will distribute handbills reminding the resident of his negligence. The bills, designed to be hung on door knobs, will remind the resident of his error and urge him to help conserve and reduce the cost of wasted utilities. Items particularly stressed are watering on unauthorized days, leaving the water running all night and leaving outside lights on during the night.

3500th Sets New Flying Records

Another maximum effort by the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron has set another record for flying sorties, breaking the old record set last month.

The squadron, April 21, flew 241 sorties, registering another record of 324.8 flying hours. The old record was 316 hours and 215 sorties.

Selected from the medical field for regular commissions as first lieutenants are Captains Rex A. Amonette and William I. Kracke.

COMMANDER'S COMMENTS...

Bonds - A Key To Future Plans

By Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

Col. Clyde J. Morganti

Military men, whether they be officers or enlisted men, often think about the future in terms of what they are going to do when separation and retirement comes. Some of our dreams are realistically attainable, some are just myths, while others are feasible providing sufficient capital is available.

It often happens that when the serviceman is ready to separate, he has only limited funds—enough possibly to tide him over until a job can be found. He finds that the cottage on the lake or that new car he dreamed of is out of the question because he has limited savings and probably little assets to use as collateral for loan.

As you can see, savings is one key to our future plans. However, we all know that saving money is not the easiest habit to acquire. One of the easiest and most beneficial ways I know to provide savings is to take out an allotment to purchase U. S. Savings Bonds and/or Freedom Shares.

The Bond Allotment Plan gives us the privilege of buying higher-interest Freedom Shares in combination with E Bonds. Freedom Shares pay five per cent when held to maturity of 4½ years, and have all the tax and safety advantages of Savings Bonds which have a 4¼ per cent maturity return in seven years.

Now is an excellent time to think about Savings Bonds. On July 1, servicemen will be receiving a 12.6 per cent pay increase. One of the wisest decisions in your life may be to invest this pay increment in your future by setting up a bond allotment.

We have another good reason for thinking about bonds. Yesterday marked the beginning of the 1969 Savings Bond and Freedom Share Campaign on Reese AFB. Your unit bond officer will be contacting you this month to discuss purchasing bonds. He will not force you to buy bonds—the final decision must rest entirely with each individual. However, it may be to your financial welfare to listen to what he has to say about Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares, especially if you are having limited, or no success in saving money. Discuss with him your future plans, and I am sure he can come up with a Savings Bond/Freedom Shares program that will help you make your plans come true.

New Promotion System Explained In Detail

By 1st Lt. Joe E. Robison
Consolidated Base Personnel
Office, Chanute AFB, Ill.

(Editor's Note: The following is the first in a three-part series from ATCPS on the new Weighted Airman Promotion System.)

The Weighted Airman Promotion System (WAPS) is fast becoming a reality and will be fully implemented by June 1970. This new system is a revision of the entire promotion program and will provide the objectivity and visibility so essential in the airman promotion program.

This series of three articles will deal with the following aspects of the WAPS program: Why WAPS?—How does the new system operate and what factors are considered?—What are the effects of the system?

To answer the question "Why WAPS?" we must first look into the background of the new system and see how it developed.

A special Congressional subcommittee found that the criteria used by Air Force promotion boards could not be clearly and concisely explained under the present system, thus enabling each individual to determine his standing in relation to his contemporaries. Congress concluded that the system, in its present form, could not retain the confidence of the enlisted man.

With this in mind, the special subcommittee recommended that the Air Force revise its system to have weighted criteria used for promotion purposes. This weighted criteria for all enlisted grades, E-4 and above, would have certain established factors to which a specific number of points could be applied, determining an individual's promotion opportunity. The new Weighted Airman Promotion System will place a great deal of emphasis on test results in an individual's Air Force Specialty Code (AFSC). Periodic testing in a man's speciality (SKT), the Performance Fitness Examination (PEE) and the USAF Supervisory Examination for E-7s to E-8s will play major roles in the individual's promotion opportunities.

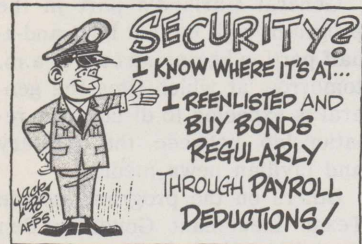

To bring the Air Force promotion system more in line with the other services, the Air Force has approved a revised promotion system that will use measurable and weighted criteria as a basis for selecting enlisted personnel for promotion.

While the new system will not be fully implemented until June 1970, it should be kept in mind that in the interim period the present system will continue in use. Promotion procedures must continue to function while the new system is being perfected.

Individuals will be required to take the SKT, PFE and USAFSE annually. It is imperative that each individual begin preparation in his particular area. Additional information will be released in the near future on the testing and preparation aspects.

Protecting Your Time?

By Lt. Col. Isaac Copeland
Base Chaplain

"You can ask for anything you like except time," Napoleon Bonaparte once remarked to one of his military leaders that he wished to reward. Not even an emperor like Napoleon could increase the amount of time allotted to any one individual on this earth, not even to himself.

An article by O. K. Armstrong in a recent periodical reminds us of a rather significant fact: "Time is a gift from our creator—personal, ever present, ever moving, like a never-ending procession. Where time is concerned, we can and should be in control. You guard your health, watch your weight, lock up important papers, bank your money, but how are you protecting your time?"

What a challenging question? It deserves a thoughtful and honest answer. How do you protect your time? There are many "time-robbers" among us and they may not have been so identified as yet. Since we live in an "analytical age," analyze your use of time during your duty day. Be honest and include everything that you do. Be sure to include such things as daydreaming, long-winded telephone conversations, extended coffee breaks, etc., and see how you are earning your pay. Then identify the "time-robbers" as such.

One more thought on the subject: Some great man reminded a group of young people on one occasion that "what you do with your free time more than any other factor would determine what kind of person you would be 20 years from now." Isn't it strange how cheaply we sell our future?

Capsule Law

Subpoena, Tool Of The Lawyer

(An AFNS Feature)

To find out what a case is about, a court must get evidence from witnesses and documents. Often the witnesses or document owners have no part in the lawsuit. A bystander may see an auto crash, or a bank or hospital may have records required to prove a case. To get this evidence into court a lawyer must subpoena it.

Witnesses are subpoenaed. Documents are ordered to court by serving their keeper with a subpoena duces tecum, which means "come to court and bring the document with you."

The court clerk issues the subpoena, which a process server then serves on the witness in civil cases. In criminal cases, a peace officer must serve the subpoena.

The subpoena sets forth the time and place where the witness must appear to testify. The court can hold a witness in contempt for not obeying the order. It can also have him arrested and brought to court.

Time Of Year To Take Steps To Prevent Pool Side Theft

By SSgt. Donald W. Keener
Security Policeman

That time of the year is getting close again, when the ole swimming holes open up. Did you ever go to a public swimming pool and spend two to three hours swimming, sunning and just having a great time. When you've had enough, you go to the check room and pick up your basket of belongings and head for the dressing room. Upon checking your belongings, you get the shock of your life! You find no wallet; someone has stolen your wallet—or maybe its your watch, or your ring or anything else of value you might have taken to the pool with you. If you haven't found yourself in this situation, then consider yourself lucky.

Over the past three summers there have been numerous thefts at the base swimming pools. The majority of people in the world are honest, but put temptation in front of some of the honest people and they will become dishonest. During the summer of 1968 there were a total of eight reported thefts at the base pools. This is a small number in comparison with a couple of years prior and could be contributed to the fact that Security Police investigators apprehended the individuals responsible for these thefts in the early part of the swimming season and apparently the word reached other would-be thieves, causing them to cease operations.

This is not to say what happened last year is going to protect you, the public, from thieves this year. The personnel of the Security Police Division would be very grateful if you would assist in protecting yourself from the dishonest by following a few suggestions.

When you go to the swimming pool leave all valuables at home or secured in the barracks. A purse or wallet is not needed at the pool, only your military or dependent identification (ID) card is needed to gain entrance, and if you drive you will also need a driver's license.

If you live off base and intend to shop at the base exchange or commissary after your dip, then lock your valuables in the glove box of your automobile and then lock the doors. Take only as much money as will be needed for refreshments and put it where you can keep an eagle eye on it.

If you observe someone in the dressing room or check room, and this person is acting strange, report it to the pool attendants and let them check the individual.

Where Are You?

(An AFNS Feature)

Air Force directives require that members must be able to be reached through the address shown on leave authorizations. Members who fail to comply can place themselves and their families in needlessly difficult, if not tragic, situations.

A member on authorized leave, who provided "Self, Tokyo, Japan" as his leave address could not be located for five days, while efforts were made to notify him of the death of a member of his immediate family. His family was greatly alarmed and worried, and by the time he was located, funeral services had been held.

If the leave address is not a personal one, some person or agency should be designated by the member, and arrangements made by him to keep that person or agency informed of his whereabouts at all times.

The responsible Air Force member will take this necessary precaution; however, leave approving and processing officials must also assure that a valid leave address is contained in the leave authorization.

First say to yourself, "I'd like to buy a bug a little bit at a time."

And if you've got $199.00 for a down payment, you can have the whole car and pay for it little by little ($56.53 a month for 36 months).

You also get some financial help from the car. Such as an average 27 mpg, and about twice the usual mileage from a set of tires. The bug takes 5 pints of oil instead of 5 quarts. And it doesn't take anti-freeze at all.

This whole money thing is easily arranged. Just start by paying us a little visit.

More than 40 persons attended an installation banquet of the Kuykendall Chapter of the Non-Commissioned Officers Association of America (NCOA) April 25 at the NCO Open Mess.

Those in attendance heard principal speaker Dr. Floyd Boze, Dean of Admissions for Texas Technological College, praise the noncommissioned officers of the nation's armed services as "the backbone of the services."

Dr. Boze is a colonel in the USAF Reserve and is U.S. Air Force Academy liaison coordinator.

Also addressing the group were James A. McConoghy, a member of the board of directors of the NCOA national organization and Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander at Reese. Other special guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Davis, Chaplain (Lieutenant Colonel) Isaac M. Copeland Jr. and Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Morganti and Mrs. McConoghy.

Suggestions Reap Cash

Recent proceedings of the Incentive Awards Committee has resulted in several Reesites being recommended for a total of more than $780 in cash awards for their suggestions.

Olena T. Timian, Information Division, was recommended a $15 award for "Invitation R. S. V. P. Cards," to improve office procedures and methods.

"Manufacture of Tray for Compressor Stator Vanes," approved for operational local use by Air Training Command, is expected to save $318 in man-hours for the base.

Sgt. Dennis A. Reich and Elric J. Bordelon, Field Maintenance, have been recommended a $20 award for the suggestion.

A $15 award was recommended for James Comeaux, Information

Division, for "New Method of Passing News to Area Media." The suggestion is expected to save $135 in man-hours and material for the base.

First Lieutenant Tiny L. Laster, fuels management branch, was recommended a $75 award for his suggestion, "Disposal of Waste JP-4 Fuel." The suggestion was reported as a cost reduction item.

A total of $415 will be shared by Roy W. McNeese and Jesse W. Paulk, Field Maintenance, for "Replacement of Steel Pin with Bronze Pin in Actuator Horns." "Addition to AF Form 561," submitted by Lester Orr, Civil Engineering, was approved and a $15 cash award recommended.

Robert H. Holland, Field Maintenance, was recommended a $155 award for his suggestion, "Elimination of Chronic Rollers." The suggestion is expected to afford an annual savings of $3,020 in man-hours and material for the base and it has been forwarded as a cost reduction item.

"Change to T.O. 2J-J85-1," submitted by J. D. Dowdy, Field Maintenance, was approved and a $25 award recommended.

Thomas E. Fullerton, Field Maintenance, was recommended an award of $15 based on intangible benefits in his suggestion "Rubber Tubing on M32 Battery Lid Bolts."

"Electronic Control Valve on Spraying Machine," submitted by Harvey Kiser, Civil Engineering, was approved for a $20 award.

Base Chapel Schedules Trip To Glorieta Retreat Camp

The foothills of the Rocky Mountains, 18 miles east of Santa Fe, N.M., at Camp Glorieta, has been selected as the site of this year's U.S. Air Force Spiritual Life Conference.

According to Air Force Regulation 265-1, each man is permitted up to five days permissive temporary duty (TDY) to attend such a retreat. The dates for the 1969 retreat are May 31 through June 4.

Each year the Air Force offers its personnel and dependents the opportunity to hear outstanding men in the field of religion, theology and related fields as well as an opportunity for fun and recreation.

The Protestant Chaplain Fund is offering to pay half the cost and transportation will be furnished both ways. Interested personnel are asked to contact Chaplain (Captain) Clyde F. Pressley Jr., ext. 538, fill out a registration form at the base chapel and pay the $5 registration fee. Deadline for registration is May 20.

Officers Open Mess

Tonight: The Storme will perform, bringing "soul", swing and rock sounds to the Open Mess.

Tomorrow night: Class 70-01 will present a special program entitled "Good Ole Days" featuring the Image. Old motion pictures will be shown including "Dog Days" with Our Gang, "The Great Train Robbery," Laurel and Hardy in "Two Tars," the Keystone Cops in "Wife And Auto Trouble", and the great W. C. Fields in "Circus Slicker" and "The Great McGonigle." Prizes will be awarded for the best ole time costume.

CASH      CHARGE      LAY-AWAY

By JAMES COMEAUX

The past two weeks we have covered rules and regulations governing play at the Reese AFB golf course. There is another facet of the game that deserves equal attention—etiquette—and this is what we will cover this week.

Etiquette is the common courtesies extended between golfers. Remember, golf is a gentleman's game, and etiquette plays an important part in it. The key word in considering etiquette is consideration. You must be considerate of the other player.

For instance, do not hit a shot that has the slightest chance of reaching players in front of you. Wait until they are well out of your range before hitting your shot. By the same token, stay even or behind players in your group hitting a shot. Your mere presence may influence their shots.

On the greens, exercise great care not to step in the line of a putt. Do not talk or make gestures while another is putting. Do not show impatience by running up and putting out of turn. Mark your ball and await your turn.

On par three holes, it is proper to wave up the next group to hit on the green after all of your group is on the green. This helps to speed up play. And speaking of speeding up play, if you are playing in a group that is taking excessive time, you should let the following group play through you until you are no longer pressed.

In the area of the tee, have consideration for the man making the shot. You should not be swinging a club, talking with someone or even making unnecessary movements while the player is swinging.

You should also replace all divots in the fairway, and repair all ball marks on the green.

One more word. The golf course itself is not the place to learn how to hit the ball. That is why there are driving ranges and practice areas. In too many instances players, who themselves are barely players, are seen on the course with their wives, girl friends, children and friends teaching them to play golf. This time-consuming task should be delegated to a professional, and at a driving range or practice area.

You should bear in mind the key word—consideration. Consider the other golfers and you will be observing etiquette on the golf course.

Pro-Am Tourney Under Way

The Reese AFB golf course is hosting a day-long pro-am golf tournament — and there's still time to enter.

Entry fee is $5, which covers green fees as well as merchandise prizes being given at least first and second-place winners. Just how many prizes will be given will be determined by the number of entries, but past experience shows that about 80 to 100 persons will be entered by day's end.

Under the rules of the tournament, a pro, or in the absence of a pro a class A player, is teamed with class B, C and D players to make up a four-man team. Then playing with each player using his handicap, the team's best ball is registered on each hole and the total used to determine the winning team.

Tee off begins at 8 a.m. and will continue through the day.

FMS Sweeps Into Intramural Bowling Lead

The Reese Intramural Bowling League has undergone some drastic changes over the past week with Field Maintenance Squadron taking over first place by virtue of a 3-1 win over the previous leaders, Hospital.

Similarly, Air Base Group won 3-1 over Organizational Maintenance Squadron to keep pace with FMS and remain a half-game out of first place. Hospital fell to third place, two games out, but is still very much in the running. The rescuts through Tuesday were as follows:

TEAM	W	L
FMS	72½	47½
ABG	72	48
Hospital	70½	49½
Supply	60½	59½
AFCS	60	60
OMS	51	69
Weather	49	71
01st	44½	75½

Individually, Jack McAdams rolled the high series, 665 and Marty Harbison the high game, 246.

Independent League

In the Reese Independent Bowling League, NCO Club just about nailed down the second-half victory winning 4-0 over Personnel. Daily's Crew, winner of the first-half of play, swept four games from Ground Power to move into second place. The standings as of Tuesday are as follows:

TEAM	W	L
NCO Club	43	9
Daily's Crew	28	24
Personnel	28	24
C.E. #1	24	28
Q.C.	22	30
POL	20	32
C.E. #2	18	34

Bantam Bowling League
The Reese Bantam Bowling League had the first and second place winners in the Lubbock Youth Bowling League rolled off Saturday at the Oakwood Lanes in Lubbock.

The Reese Rollers won first place while the Reese Banana Splits took home second place. A total of 24 teams participated in the tournament.

Gun Club Slates May 10 Shoot

All interested base personnel have been invited to enter the Rod and Gun Club's up-coming "Saturday Shoot-out", 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., May 10 at the small arms range.

The shoot-out will be limited to shotguns only, with shells furnished and refreshments being served. There will also be spot and trap shooting with prizes and trophies given at the end of the day's activities.

dent, personal financial planning as well as a concern for the nation's well being. Accordingly, I urge each of you to join the 1969 Share In America Campaign — for yourself and for your country."

The campaign also has the support of Air Training Command and Reese AFB. Officials here pointed out that the bond allotment plan gives the privilege of buying higher interest Freedom Shares in combination with the Series E Bonds. They pay five per cent when held to maturity of 4½ years, and have all the tax and safety advantages of Savings Bonds.

A monthly allotment of $13 buys a combination $25 Bond and $25 Share. They also point out how savings can grow using only the Series E Bond purchases.

Hospital Winner In Safety Contest

The 3500th U.S. Air Force Hospital at Reese has been notified that it was again selected as one of the winners in the 1968 Hospital Safety Contest.

Sponsored by the American Hospital Association and the National Safety Council, the contest compares safety records of the various hospitals in relation to the number of man-hours worked. The Reese unit competed in Group II, 100-199 employees, and reported a perfect record by operating with 100 per cent injury-free man-hours for the year. The hospital here was one of 91 of the hospitals completing the year with perfect records.

In a letter signed by Dr. Edwin

Place Large Debris Beside Garbage Can

Civil Engineers has asked residents of Reese Village and their Trailer Park to place all debris too large, long or heavy to be placed in standard garbage cans besides the garbage cans. These items will be picked up by the contractor on or before each Thursday.

The items may include old furniture, rugs, lumber, tree limbs and heavy cans.

Have A Suggestion?

The Air Force Suggestion Program offers equal opportunity to all. No one has a monopoly on money or labor saving ideas.

L. Crosby, director, American Hospital Association and Howard Pyle, president, National Safety Council, the Reese hospital was congratulated on the "outstanding achievement and for the safety-minded attitude which it demonstrates."
