

Homesafe campaign under way at Reese

Operation Homesafe was launched today at a kick-off breakfast held at the Reese Officers Open Mess.

The annual affair, which was attended by military personnel and members of the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission, is designed to unite the civilian and military efforts towards making the period from now until Jan. 2 a safe holiday season.

The approximately 50 people in attendance heard remarks by Wing Commander Col. Walter H. Baxter III, Lubbock Mayor Morris Turner, and Citizens Traffic Commission head Nolan Swain.

Commending those in attendance for their strong efforts on behalf of safe driving, Colonel Baxter reminded that it would take more than prayer to bring everyone safely through the holiday season. Stating that he would be "personally involved" in the Reese campaign, he continued that he expected every supervisor to do the same.

Mayor Turner issued a proclamation designating the period from Dec. 5 through Jan. 2 as "Home Safe With Care Month" and called for redoubled efforts on behalf of a safe holiday driving season.

According to Chief of Safety Division Maj. Claudis M. Cosstephens, there are quite a few activities connected with the campaign that are intended to aid safe driving. Among these are unit incentive awards, a base-wide cartoon caption and poster contest, mandatory pre-departure briefings, the wing commander's holiday safety meeting to be held later this month, a trip planning center located at the Mathis Recreation Center, a vehicle inspection program, and "even the chaplain working for us on the base".

Colonel Baxter concluded, "I am confident that as a result of our efforts, we will be able to count our people on Jan. 2 and find everyone Home . . . Safe."

Graduation set today for Class 73-05

Forty-three members of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 73-05 are scheduled to pin on the silver wings of Air Force pilot in graduation ceremonies to be held in the base chapel at 10 a.m. today.

Featured as guest speaker for the event will be Col. Harold B. Coffee, vice commander of the 28th Bombardment Wing, and a command pilot with over 8,600 flying hours.

Air Corps

Colonel Coffee entered active duty in 1943, and graduated from the Army Air Corps pilot training program in September 1944.

In 1954 the colonel graduated from the B-47 Pilot Air Order of Battle program and was awarded the additional navigator-observer aeronautical rating. His first operational assignment in Strategic Air Command was in 1955 as a B-47 pilot with the 19th Bomb Wing. In 1957 he was assigned to the 11th Bomb Wing as a B-52 aircraft commander and subsequently promoted to wing chief of standardization. In 1966 Colonel Coffee was transferred to Headquarters SAC, as chief of the pilot's branch.

Educational Background

The graduate of the University of Maryland was selected to attend the Industrial College of the Armed Forces (ICAF), and graduated in 1970. He then attended George Washington University for completion of graduate studies. He subsequently was stationed in Southeast Asia, and flew 169 combat missions in a variety of aircraft. Following this tour of duty Colonel Coffee was assigned to his position as vice wing commander of the 28th Bombardment Wing (Heavy).

Among those students scheduled to graduate are two Iranian students, Air Cadets Abbas Abedin and Hooshang Haidarnejat.

Silver Wings

Others to be honored in the ceremonies are Capt. Jonathan J. Bortner, and the following second lieutenants: Richard C. Chabot, Daniel M. Delsobral, John E. Donaldson, Robert H. Everett Jr., Douglas S. Eyre, Craig K. Gardner, Robert E. Geiser, Francis K. Geisler Jr., Gerald A. Green, Michael T. Grundy, Steven C. Harris, Walter J. Hart III and Edward B. Hayden.

Also graduating are William P. Hickey Jr., Richard O. Holman, Stanley R. Kays, Peter W. Kirtz, Don R. Klos, Gary R. Kreitner, Allan J. Lavoie, David R. Lukens, Myron L. McClellan, Harry A. Maltby, Spencer B. Mamber, John C. Moore, Wilbur D. O'Quinn, Robyn S. Read and John A. Rubino III.

Also, William A. Saloga, Rex E. Schlagenhauf, Robert G. Shonkel, Allen B. Simmons Jr., David R. Spence, Joseph D. Spradley, Jon E. Steiner, Lee V. Stubsten, John E. Thompson Jr., John D. Watson, Stephen C. Wilkinson and George W. Ziegler.

Early out possible for eligible airmen

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—A voluntary early release is being offered to most enlisted people in the continental United States with separation dates between Jan. 8 and May 31, 1973. Some members with certain critical Air Force specialties are ineligible.

Persons scheduled for normal release during the latter days of January may apply for an earlier release date during the month. Airmen with February and March separation dates may depart active duty in January. April and May releases may be rolled up to February.

The early release program, which affects some 18,000 people, is designed to meet Air Force military personnel appropriations which were reduced $125 million by Congress. Officials say that substantial savings have already been made through reduced procurement and other apportionment strength reductions. The new release program is expected to save some $25 million during fiscal year 1973.

Base personnel offices have full details.

“... there will be those who will pull off some great feat such as burning down their own home”

By Maj. Claudis M. Cosstephens
Chief of Safety Division

Each December the air is filled with joy and the spirits of all rise with anticipation of Christmas. It is a time to remember the birth of the Christ Child, surround yourself with colorful decorations, celebrate with friends and relatives and express your feelings through giving of gifts.

Yes, this is a season when the people of this world really have an opportunity to demonstrate that they truly mean all those marvelous ideas expressed throughout the year.

As if this wasn't enough, Christmas is quickly followed by New Years. While our feelings are still riding the mountain peaks reached at Christmas, we are now given the opportunity to reminisce on the accomplishments of the past year, take a good look at ourselves and re-evaluate our goals for the coming year. Yes, this is truly the most wonderful time of the year.

Oh, how I wish all these things would be coming true this year for everyone throughout our great land. Unfortunately, this year as in every one in the past, this season will bring tears, pain, death and great financial hurt to some, through unnecessary accidents.

People will celebrate too much and then try to drive. Others will try to prove they can drive without rest. Then there will be those who will pull off some great feat such as burning down their own home, because they didn't think. Yes, the American people have and will find many ingenious ways to spoil, for themselves or others, the most glorious time of the year.

It is so easy to make the good things come true and avoid the bad. Don't let your happiness be based on chance but think about each activity; plan and leave Russian roulette to the fools. Remember, be courteous and considerate; your action may very well affect the joy and happiness of your fellow man.

The entire Safety Division staff wants to wish each and every one of you the most joyous holiday season of your life. We hope and pray that no one will have it all spoiled by some foolish accident. So, keep in mind our theme—“Our Holiday Prayer—Homesafe with Care.”

Happy holiday promised if safety tips observed

YOUR BEST GIFT: A FIRE SAFE HOLIDAY.

Fire is a year round threat to all homes. This unwelcome visitor never takes a holiday—not even on Christmas. During the season ahead it is important to take heed of the increased fire hazards in our homes. Let's not open the doors to the deadly flames which can transform a joyous celebration into a tragedy.

The holiday season is an easy time to be heedless, but celebration and decorations which introduce many added home fire hazards make extra care essential.

Trees, wreaths, candles and hanging decorations can all be fire inviters unless precautions are taken to insure safety. Here are a few safety tips that could make your Christmas more joyous.

a. The larger the tree, the greater the hazard, so don't choose one larger than you need.

b. Just before setting up your tree, saw off the trunk at an angle at least one inch above original cut and set in holder of water, keeping water level one inch above the cut.

c. Do not use candles on tree or nearby where the flame will contact tree or combustibles.

d. Do not use frayed electrical cords on or around your tree.

e. Insist on flame-proofed decorations and ornaments. Do not purchase them unless they are marked fire proof or fire resistant.

f. Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is home. From time to time inspect the tree and see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to burn brown, if so change the location of the lights.

g. Set the tree up away from all exits and heating units.

Remember: Fire safety is always in season.

Monitors hold workshop

A unit Social Actions monitor workshop opened at Reese Nov. 27 with Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, in attendance.

The purpose of the workshop was to give training to the monitors, through problem solving techniques, on how to handle the people problems that occur in their individual units.

Conducting the training were Capt. John Wesley and 1st Lt. Dave Allison, one of the Social Actions teams from Lackland AFB, Tex.

Colonel Baxter greeted the monitors and charged them with the responsibility of getting as much out of the workshop as possible. He noted that machines don't run without people, and, because of this, a great deal of energy must be directed toward people problems.

Participating in various group discussions throughout the week, Colonel Baxter met with each monitor individually to discuss problems that may exist within their particular unit.

The workshop was felt to be quite helpful by the monitors and considered to be a great success by all who participated.

Chapel plans Christmas party

The Reese chapel has announced the need for sponsors for 140 youngsters from three West Texas institutions at the chapel's annual Christmas party on Dec. 16.

According to Chaplain (Maj.) David Wood, project officer for the event, single airmen, officers and married couples are eligible to become "parents for a day". As such, they will accompany an underprivileged child from either the Buckner Baptist Home, the Great Plains Boys Ranch or the Coronado Home on the day of the party.

During the day, sponsors will meet their wards at the chapel at 10 a.m. From the chapel, participants will go to the base theater for the basewide Christmas children's party, where sponsors and their children will sit in a special reserved section toward the front of the theater.

Following activities at the theater, the group will have a catered lunch in the chapel center. Later in the afternoon, the group will witness a fire-fighting demonstration, visit the flight line and return to the chapel center about 2 p.m. for Christmas caroling, a movie and the distribution of presents.

Interested persons are asked to call the chapel, ext. 2237 or 2538 and leave their name, preference for a boy or girl sponsor-ee and the general age of the child desired. The chapel will later call each "parent" and give him the name and age of the child to enable him to choose a gift. The chapel suggests a $5 limit on each present.

BX plans observances

The Reese AFB base exchange has published a calendar of special events for December showing the special services offered through the Christmas holidays.

These services include a special family night Dec. 18 for patrons of the exchange with the base exchange picking up the tab for nursery fees at the base nursery.

Said BX manager Vaughn Mongan, "This is another way of returning profits made by the base exchange to its customers through free nursery service while the parents shop."

The family night will be the second big special night at the BX this month. On Monday, the BX sponsored a stag night at which men only were allowed to do their shopping for their wives and girl friends while receiving free gift counseling, merchandise specials, door prizes and a style show.

Mongan said that Santa Claus would visit the BX Toyland over the next two Saturdays and Sundays (Dec. 9-10, 16-17) and on Dec. 23, to hear kiddy requests and to have pictures taken if the parents desire them.

Mongan added that the calendar serves as a reminder for such things as sending out Christmas cards, picking up film and flash bulbs, getting the decorations up, pick up lay-aways and many other things that are easy to forget until the last moment during the holidays. He said the reminder calendars may be picked up at the main exchange, Reesette, Toyland or the Gift Shop.

Highlights scanned from squadron party

By Capt. Charles M. Thrash

The squadron party has come and gone. However, from the way a few people looked Monday morning it may take a couple of days for it to completely go away.

Some of the entertainment turned out to be more than a little strange. First Lieutenants Robert Siddal and Robert Lavinge turned in a racy performance of ballerinas dancing to the Nutcracker Suite. The Ladybirds, with Jan Browning as lead, Kathy McCay as right wing, Lorraine Brien as left wing, Maryann Erickson as slot, and Gay Geiger as narrator, performed several precision aerial maneuvers at floor level.

The last highlight was seeing Col. Walter H. Baxter, Col. Kirk A. Brown, and Lt. Col. Jack Herbert perform as the Bavarian Whistlers.

A special world of appreciation goes to three people who made the entire affair a success. First Lieutenants Dennis Williams and Ron Brock were the prime movers and organizers behind the party, and Capt. Skip Franklin provided the professional entertainment that kept us dancing and singing half the night.

The turnover rate for the squadron is continuing at a high level. The latest move with the big peo-

Variety noted at theater

By A1C Buddy Lerch

Base theater features this week run helter-skelter through the gauntlet of human emotion, making for interesting show-going.

Tonight

"Last of the Red-Hot Lovers", based on Neil Simon's hilarious Broadway hit, stars Alan Arkin, Paula Prentiss and Sally Kellerman. The story centers around a happily married, successful restaurant owner in New York who yearns to have an affair to liven up his humdrum existence. It is rated PG, all ages admitted, and some material in the show may not be suitable for pre-teens.

Tomorrow's Matinee

"War Between the Planets" is a futuristic plot about the pending destruction of the earth by an errant planet. The show stars Jack Stuart and Amber Collins, and is rated G, all ages admitted.

Tomorrow Evening

Incorporating ecology with science fiction, "Night of the Lepus" stars Rory Calhoun, Stuart Whitman and Janet Leigh. A rancher rides his property of coyotes with poison, only to find it overrun with rabbits with nothing to stop them. It is rated PG.

Sunday

"The Omega Man", the classic story about the last man left on earth after China and Russia engaged in germ warfare, stars Charlton Heston and Rosalind Cash. As a medical researcher in 1977, Heston was able to immunize himself against the effects. The feature is rated PG.

Tuesday

Continuing in the science fiction vein, "Blood From the Mummy's Tomb" is the story of a professor who keeps the perfectly-preserved remains of an Egyptian queen in his cellar, a trophy from an expedition years before. Another member of the expedition believes the mummy can be reincarnated through the professor's daughter, and goes about trying to prove his theory. The show stars Andrew Keir, Valerie Leon, and James Villiers, and is rated PG.

Wednesday

The theater hosts a double feature, with "Stand Up and Be Counted", starring Jacqueline Bisset, Stella Stevens and Gary Lockwood, and "The Anderson Tapes", starring Sean Connery and Dyan Cannon. "Stand Up" is a story about women's liberation and the problems of a big city fashion writer. "The Anderson Tapes" is the prize-winning plot about a $1 million robbery masterminded by Sean Connery. Both features are rated PG.

Thursday

A story about Apaches who leave their government reservation and begin slaughtering homesteaders, "Ulzana's Raid" stars Burt Lancaster as a grizzled Indian scout, Bruce Davison as a naive army lieutenant and Joaquin Martinez as Ulzana, the treacherous leader of the warring tribe. Violence may prove offensive in this R-rated adventure; patrons under 17 require accompanying parent or guardian.

All evening shows begin at 8 p.m., unless otherwise noted, and the Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m. The theater is open Tuesday through Sunday.

Bowling stats given as series nears end

By Capt. Roger Carter

This was the week of the show-down in the 54th Flying Training Squadron bowling league with four teams within one game of first place going into the final series.

The standings show Stamps-George 29½-14½, Sanford-Richards 29-15, Nebel-Jones 29-15 and Steffenson-Carter 28½-15½. Of course I have my favorite in the match. I just wish I could have traded my golf score for my bowling. We will report the results next week.

Snow had its effect around the flight line last week. F troop got so caught up in the coming holiday season and the meteorological decoration that they initiated a blinking scheduling board.

Class 73-02 is back in the news this week. Thanks to an extra $90 in their class fund and a couple of innovative ideas, a lot of children will be happier this Christmas. They donated $35 through Chaplain (Maj.) David P. Woods to the Great Plains Boys Ranch. The remainder of the money was invested in the Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots program. Great work, guys.

The Dazzling Deed of the Week goes to 2nd Lt. Rich Holman of the graduating Class 73-05. Sent to bring in the mobile crew, he toured the entire airdrome in a near vain search. After checking both RSU units on the north end of the field, the determined lieutenant continued his expedition to the south side. When finally he stumbled upon the anxiously awaiting crew, he was asked why he took such an indirect route. "But sir, I just landed about an hour ago and forgot to ask what runway was in use," was the reply.

Father Gene to depart for Germany

The Catholic Parish Council at Reese has announced the arrival of Chaplain (Lt. Col.) William Campbell to the base. He will be assuming the position of Catholic Chaplain (Capt.) Gene Gasparovic, who will be leaving for Zweibrucken, Germany, in the near future.

Chaplain Campbell is a priest from the Archdiocese of Boston, and is arriving from Terrejon, Spain.

The council also announced a "Hail and Farewell" banquet to be held Dec. 14 in honor of the two clergymen. The filet mignon affair will be held at the NCO Open Mess, with pre-banquet festivities scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. A brief program and dancing are also on the agenda.

Tickets for the activity are available from Mrs. Eileen Ringler at 792-1704, or interested persons may come by the base chapel.

Tryouts to begin for paddleball

Entries will open Monday for the paddleball doubles tournament at Reese and will continue until Dec. 22.

There will be two organizational meetings Dec. 22 at noon and 5 p.m. for all interested persons. SSgt. Ralph Bauer may be contacted for further details at the base gym, ext. 2207.

Gym officials have also announced that locker recertification is now in progress. Individuals should see gym officials for recertification to avoid having their locker privileges ended. This should be accomplished before Dec. 15.

There's An Easy Bargain IN EVERY MONTGOMERY VOLKSWAGEN

MONTGOMERY MOTORS 4101 AVENUE Q 747-5131

Montgomery Motors, the home of East Bargains on fine Volkswagens, announces our newest way for you to buy a Beetle. Now you can have one for a down payment of $100 cash or trade and $58.29 a month for 42 months. That works out to a deferred payment price of $2547.18 which includes a finance charge at an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 11.08%. Tax, title and license are extra. You get a little financial help from the car, too: an average 25 miles to the gallon, pints of oil instead of quarts and no antifreeze at all. Of course, if you're an EASY BARGAINER yourself and prefer paying cash, the cash price is $2122.

11th annual ski meet planned at Hill AFB

The eleventh running of the United States Air Force—Air Force Logistics Command Invitational Ski Meet has been scheduled for March 5-9, 1973.

The event will be held at the Snow Basin Ski area, Utah (Hill AFB). Letters of invitation have been sent to all Air Force bases as well as the Air Force agencies and stations around the world.

This year's meet is being held to determine individual, base and command championships worldwide. The three events of competition will be the downhill, the slalom and the giant slalom.

The 1973 meet is open to all active duty Air Force personnel. Selection of personnel will begin Feb. 1, 1973. All interested personnel should fill out a skiing resume sheet. These sheets require some biographical information but pertain mainly to competitive skiing experience. These resume sheets are available in the Information Office, bldg. T-1.

The top few personnel selected as a result of the resume will have their qualifications forwarded to Hill AFB for consideration.

Everyone accepted for the 1973 meet must compete in all three events. Each base and installation has been invited to send four competitors in March. Rules covering the competition will be taken directly from the latest federal skiing regulations.

Information pertaining to eligibility requirements, travel and arrival and billeting may be obtained by contacting Capt. Jim Fletcher, bldg. T-1, ext. 2169.

Intramural leagues battle for top honor

Two leagues have been formed for the intramural basketball competition at Reese and the league powers should soon be evident.

The American League held their games Nov. 28 and Nov. 30 and the Reese USAF Hospital team remained undefeated for both days of action. The first game saw the Hospital team plowing Class 73-07, Section II, by a 55-36 final tally. Their second victory on Nov. 30 was a little closer as the Hospital team beat the 54th Flying Training Squadron team, 60-46.

Other games on Nov. 28 saw the 64th Student Squadron narrowly stopping the team from the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron, 66-61. The second game of the evening hosted the 54th FTS in a victory over Class 74-02 by a 54-32 margin. Nov. 30 saw Class 73-08, Section II, tie a hard-fought battle with the 64th Student Squadron, 51-51. The nightcap went to Special Services Division as they blasted Class 73-09, Section II, 62-43.

The National League held their games on Nov. 27 and Nov. 29 with the undefeated power for those two days being Class 74-01. Their first victory was over Civil Engineering Division by a final score of 81-42. Their second victory was against the 64th Supply Squadron as they romped to a 74-53 victory.

The two other games on Nov. 27 saw Class 73-08, Section I, coming out on top of their bout against Class 73-09, Section I, 41-37. The 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron was declared the victor in a forfeit from Class 73-06, Section I, with the records showing a 2-0 win for OMS.

The two other games on Nov. 29 saw OMS soundly trouncing the 2053rd Communications Squadron team by 59-31. The final game of the evening hosted the 35th Flying Training Squadron in a 66-29 massacre against Class 73-07, Section I.

Roundup announces only two issues left in year

Readers and contributors to the Roundup are reminded that only two issues (Dec. 15 and 22) remain before the annual Christmas-New Year holiday break.

The Roundup will suspend publication for two weeks according to its contract with C.F. Boone Publications, 4007 Avenue A, Lubbock, to allow their personnel to take the holidays off. The regular Christmas issue of the Roundup will be the one of Dec. 22. The next issue will appear Jan. 12.

Contributors having news of basewide interest for the period between Dec. 23 and Jan. 11 should have it in to the Roundup office, bldg. T-1, by Dec. 18—preferably sooner—in order to insure being printed.

This period covers news to the Roundup only. Those having news of general interest over the holiday period should contact the Information Office, bldg. T-1, ext. 2410/2236/2169 for normal distribution to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Air Force Times and Air Force Home Town News Center.

NCO Wives announce activities

The NCO Wives Club has announced its monthly business meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the NCO Open Mess.

There will be a demonstration on making artificial feather flowers by Mrs. Charles Reed, a Wives Club member. Persons interested in joining may obtain more information by calling Mrs. Fred Schulz at 885-2114.

The Wives Club recently presented the Reese Youth Center with a check to be used for the Christmas party. The check came from proceeds made on the "Basket of Cheer" contest held recently. Winner of the basket was Mrs. Arlyn Tokar.

Tomorrow evening will find club members and their husbands at the annual NCO Christmas dinner and dance. "The Singletree", a new rock group, will provide music at the event.
