"We must do our part to protect the public dollars entrusted to us"

By Maj. Leo B. Hunt

Financial Management is the responsibility of every member of the Air Force team. Rising tax burdens affect each of us as well as our friends and families outside of the Air Force. Unlike those who work outside of government, we can do more than voting against higher taxes—we can influence how the government spends the tax money.

Nearly everyone at Reese has some control over resources which are paid for by taxes. Although most people influence the spending of only a few dollars, the total amount is staggering, even at Reese.

Utilities are expensive for the base—over a quarter of a million dollars each year. Each of us can help reduce this cost by turning out lights, keeping water from running in the streets, having Civil Engineers repair leaky faucets, and using heating and air conditioning to the minimum extent needed for comfort.

Most of us use supplies in our jobs, such as pencils, paper, pens, aircraft parts, vehicle parts, tires, fuel, and so on. Reese spends over $2,600,000 each year for supplies. Only you know for sure whether all of the supplies you consume are really necessary for your work.

Our greatest cost at Reese and in the Defense

Budget, is the cost of personnel. At Reese we will spend $29,467,000 this fiscal year for pay, allowances, and benefits for civilian and military personnel. Does Reese get over $29 million worth of work from the personnel assigned here? Few people think we do. Are you one of those people who fail to give a dollars worth of work for a dollars worth of pay? Are you satisfied that you help the taxpayers save money? Are you satisfied that the Air Force gets full value for the money spent? What about your own home—how much government property can be found there such as pens, pencils, tape, paper or tools?

The American people rightfully demand better management by government. We must do our part to protect the public dollars entrusted to us. We should be honest with ourselves in deciding whether we really need certain supplies or equipment, in delivering all of the work we're paid for, and in leaving government property on the base for official use.

As public servants, we can do no less than demonstrate integrity in our jobs. Each of us, with only a little effort, can save tax dollars, and make them available for tax savings or better services from the government. Won't you do your part—it's your money too!

It's time to search your conscience... now

Rats rush to certain quick death by deserting a sinking ship. There is a revised version of a popular song again making the rounds entitled, "Nobody Wants You When You Are Down and Out." Then there is the old adage about fair weather friends...

We all perhaps have had someone let us down at a time when seemingly we needed him most. However, we toughed it out and somehow came through it all with a few scars and our spirit and determination still intact.

To accomplish its mission the military is structured to rely upon each man. This point is underscored when it is given the signal to take the field and demonstrate what it is paid and equipped to do—defend the nation.

When the military has to take the field in a life-death struggle, it needs a united, 100 percent effort from all people. It has no time for deserters. It's way too late for one to jump the team for a newly discovered troubled conscience.

Lt. Cdr. John S. McCain III knows what it is like when the going gets rough. He spent more than five years in a North Vietnamese prison. He offers some advice for all in the military. He says that if you do not know what your country is doing, find out. If you not like what your country is doing, get out before the chips are down.

He reasons that once you become a prisoner of war, you do not have the right to dissent, because what you do will be harming your country. You are speaking as a member of the armed forces of the United States, and you owe loyalty to the commander in chief. Search your conscience, now.

Carelessness causes 12 senseless accidents

During the first six months of this year, Air Training Command (ATC) personnel were involved in 12 senseless firearms accidents.

All of these accidents resulted from unauthorized and careless discharge of privately- and government-owned vehicles. In one instance, an ATC security police sergeant, while engaged in horseplay on duty, accidentally shot himself with a .38 caliber service revolver.

Last March, a staff sergeant decided to practice his "quick draw" and accidentally shot himself in the leg with a privately owned .22 caliber pistol.

These, and the more than 1,000 firearms-related deaths reported by the National Safety Council in 1971, indicate the need for more responsible handling of firearms.

To avoid needless injury and death, ATC officials suggest the following firearms safety checklist:

- Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.

- Always carry your gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.

- Never point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot. Avoid horseplay when handling a gun.

- Unattended guns should be unloaded. Keep guns and ammunition stored separately beyond the reach of children and thoughtless adults.

- Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water when at target practice. Be sure backstops are adequate.

Commander's CARE Line

Editor's note: The Roundup will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. Reese personnel are encouraged to use the CARE Line to air any questions or comments they may have about services or situations at Reese. Dial C-A-R-E.

I'd like to know why any other time when I go to the gym when a physical training class is being conducted, I could lift weights or whatever and sometimes even get into the activities with the student pilots but today I was asked to leave. A couple of new people working there said that it wasn't the thing to do. I would appreciate it if you would look into and clarify this matter. If you rule that we cannot work out with a P.T. class, we'll adhere to that rule but I'd like to know the way it's going to be. Thank you.

The policy of the gym is to give the physical training program first priority in the gym and related areas. The gym personnel are authorized to deny access to any gym facilities whenever student training classes are in session and it is judged that unchaperoned dependents may hinder the training or create a safety hazard. This policy also applies to assigned base personnel engaged in free play or unscheduled use of the gym facilities.

Commissary meat 'hoarding' brings comment on restraint

A problem of "hoarding" meat at the Commissary has brought about a comment from Services Officer, Maj. Hugh F. McCrary.

"There is no shortage of meat from any of the suppliers to the Reese commissary", the major remarked, "People believe there is so they go out and buy more than a reasonable amount."

Effective immediately, checkers at the commissary will determine what they believe to be an unreasonable amount of meat in a purchase and require that the commissary patron return a portion of it. The tendency of "hoarding" is drastically reducing the selection of meat at the facility.

The major continued, "I strongly urge patrons of the commissary to exercise restraint in the purchase of meat. There is no shortage in the supply and we don't expect any," Major McCrary concluded.

Berl's wife severely reprimanded him for coming home "Half Drunk" the previous evening. Wanted to know what his excuse was this time. Berl said, "I'm sorry, I guess I ran out of money."
When the marriage ceremony was over, Berl and his lovely bride went to a resort hotel to spend their honeymoon. Bedtime came and his bride retired. Berl stood by the window gazing at the moon and stars. "Dear," his bride called, "why don't you come to bed?" Answered Berl, "Mother told me that tonight would be the most wonderful night of my life, and I'm not going to miss a minute of it."
"You down there!" shouted the father from the head of the stairs, "it's one thirty in the morning! Do you think you can stay all night?" "Thank you, sir," said Berl, "but I'll have to phone home first."

Quiet honeymooner returns

By Capt. Charles Thrash

I must apologize for not having an article in last week's Roundup. But I was in San Francisco gathering news for this column. I just happened to take my new bride with me, so you can understand why I won't be relating to you too many of my activities. I will admit that I had a lot more fun honeymooning than I would have had composing this article. Congratulations are in order for the 1st Lt. Bill Stealy's. They reopened the Baby Boom when little "Wild Bill" joined the world. Bill says that the mother and kid are doing great, and if you didn't get a cigar first time around, go down to "A" Flight and pick one up.

If you haven't signed up for the Officers Club Golf Tournament yet, you had better get on the stick. Today is the last day, and you can put your name on the list in the squadron hall and give your money to the people at the golf course clubhouse. For the entry fee you get greens usage, free meals, and a chance to win some good prizes.

On the sports scene there is still a need for slow pitch softball players. You don't need a lot of talent, just a little desire. There is a schedule posted by the squadron snackbar, so get your shoes and bat and join in the fun. Who knows... a Yankee scout may be in the stands.

The Gee-Whiz Award this week goes to 2nd Lt. Bob Huron of Class 74-05, Section II. Bob was nearing the completion of a simulator training ride when his instructor noticed that they were about to "crash". It was then that the instructor discovered that Bob had gone to sleep. Seems the long day of physical training and flying had won the battle that day. And for you that are wondering—no, this is not the first time this has happened in the training command.

Theater readies to open

Senator George Mahon, House Appropriations Committee chairman, will be one of the featured guests at Reese for the opening of George B. Simler Theater, Aug. 10.

Other distinguished guests will include Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, Air Training Command commander and Lt. Gen. Duward L. Crow, Comptroller of the Air Force. General Crow is also Chairman of the Board for the Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) Motion Picture Service.

AAFES Officials

H.L. Tabor will also be at Reese for the ribbon-cutting ceremonies that day. Tabor is the acting chief of the AAFES Motion Picture Service. Accompanying him will be Tony Scanapico, regional director of the AAFES Motion Picture Service. In addition, many local dignitaries have been invited to the affair as well as Reese officials.

The theater will be dedicated in honor of the late Gen. George

B. Simler who perished in an aircraft accident just prior to assignment as Commander of the Military Airlift Command.

Star to Appear

One of the outstanding attractions for the theater opening and premier of "Tom Sawyer", will be the appearance of Hollywood starlet, Angel Tompkins. Miss Tompkins will arrive at Reese Friday morning for the purpose of touring as many of the base's facilities as time will allow.

She will bring approximately 200 photographs along that she will autograph and distribute during the tour. As a note of interest to all Reese personnel, Miss Tompkins will be eating in the wing dining hall at noon on the 10th. Her tour will then continue. She will also be appearing on the stage at the movie premier that night.

Native Californian

The slender blonde is a native Californian who has starred in many theatrical and movie productions as well as television.

She has won several beauty contests on the way to the top in her own "rocket to stardom." Her current movie is "Little Cigars", scheduled for a showing at Reese Aug. 19.

All Reese personnel and their guests are invited to the opening of George B. Simler Theater, Aug. 10.

'Old Pro' returns to write on

By Capt. Bugs Forsythe

The erstwhile colleague and humble servant of you in the 54th, the "Old Pro," has graciously offered to come out of retirement this week to lend a few words of literary largesse.

*Have a question?
Call Commander's
CARE Line
Dial C-A-R-E*

If nothing else, this should serve to dispell once and for all those dastardly rumors that the "Old Pro" was "Beau" Sender (now of NKP, Thailand). Yes, the "Old Pro" is still here at Reese, and says that although he is beginning to feel like a permanent fixture here, he knows that his implicit faith and trust in the AF Form 90 and the personnel system in general will soon be once again justified by a rewarding and challenging assignment. I give you the "Old Pro".

Pro Speaks

Greetings fellow fliers and masters of the intricacies of all that concerns aviation. I wish to thank Bugs for this opportunity to once again to boggle your minds with a few profound, if not profane, words of wisdom.

Since my departure from writing this column, our fleet of wiley Talons has been equipped with a truly marvelous gadget—the Angle of Attack system. For only the approximate price of three fully-equipped Continental Mark IVs, you get a device that, when all the kinks are worked out, will reduce the now-complicated traffic pattern cross-check to a mere jingle:

My gear is down, I'm coming around;
Red over white and a bright green light;
Give me the nod to hit the sod.

A Serious Note

To close on a serious note, I'd like to relate an idea from the book, "Tigers Airborne: A Creative Analysis of the Aerial Fighter Operation" by Col. Ernest E. Riccioni, who addresses many of the issues and problems which each of us should be intimately familiar with. The idea relates to personal integrity.

"There is a general weakness on the part of all men to confuse what they think, or what they are doing, or what they are ordered to do with what is right. It remains the ethical and rational commitment to serve the country best by never confusing a fashionable idea with an operational requirement. The officer (and NCO) has the obligation, in serving his country, to remind a superior if any disparity exists between the going fashion of thought and that which is militarily sound. The soldier-officer must overcome this insidious trap, else he will someday fail to overcome the enemy." Think about it.

Council discusses topics under Domestic Actions

Col. William E. Brown, recently arrived at Reese, began the July 19 meeting of the Reese Domestic Actions Council by informing members present of the current Department of Defense policy on Domestic Actions, and offered his assistance to the council.

Lt. Col. Frederick Dederich, council chairman, appointed Maj. Joseph T. Whitaker, Capt. William T. Parker, TSgt. Phillip Johnson Jr., and SSgt. Antero Gonzales to serve as a steering committee for the council.

The possibility of initiating a Sickle Cell Anemia testing program was discussed. Second Lt. Hollis E. Booker was appointed to investigate the matter. Additionally, Lt. Col. L.D. Kelley, Maj. Joseph T. Whitaker, TSgt. Phillip Johnson Jr. and SSgt. Antero Gonzales were appointed to pursue the possibility of implementing a treatment program for Pseudofolliculitus.

Lieutenant Booker then briefed the council on the functions of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC), a non-profit manpower training agency which provides skills for those who have the initiative to move out of the unemployed or underemployed status. Lt. Col. Norman N. White proposed and the council approved a move to visit the center.

The council voted to meet on the first Thursday of each month at 10 a.m. in the wing conference room, bldg. T-1, beginning yesterday.

Fits and starts are what our business is all about
Of course you know your baby's shoes should fit. But did you know he'll need several different kinds of shoes? Creeping, toddling and walking. As a child's steps become steeper, his shoes should become sturdier. We give your child the right shoe, with the right fit, at the right time. We call it "Progression Fitting." Sizes from B to EEE.

The well-bred family car from British Leyland.

Marina

The Marina is well-bred because it comes from an exceptionally well-bred family of cars. The result being that the Marina has rack and pinion steering like the Jaguar's. The race-toughened engine of an MGB. A rugged transmission and disc brakes like the Triumph's. And the same parentage as the tough Land Rover. Test drive the Marina as soon as you can.

Intramural teams wage fierce battle in slowpitch

As the Air Training Command (ATC) softball tournaments approach, the Reese intramural teams are making their own battles prove the local champions.

The Intramural Slowpitch Softball League is presently in its second week of competition. All-Star players have been selected from the base's 10 teams to represent Reese in the ATC Slowpitch Softball Tournament which began at Lackland AFB, Tex., yesterday. The Reese Varsity (fastpitch) team will travel to Keesler AFB, Miss., Thursday to compete in the ATC Fastpitch Softball Tournament. Each tournament will last four days.

At present, the leaders in the slowpitch league have made themselves known with impressive marks. The 2053rd Communications Squadron is presently tied for first place with the 64th Supply Squadron. Each team has a perfect 5-0 record. Third place belongs to the Fuels section of Supply (POL) with another perfect slate of 4-0. The 35th Flying Training Squadron is another squad with a perfect record at 3-0. They are in fourth spot.

UPT Class 74-05 holds fifth position solidly with a 2-0 record. Sixth position belongs to the 54th Flying Training Squadron with their 1-1 record and seventh spot is held by the team from Special Services with their 2-2 record.

The Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO) team is in eighth place with a 2-4 record. Detachment 11, 24th Weather Squadron is in ninth spot with their 1-3 slate and the Reese USAF Hospital is presently bringing up the rear with their 1-4 record. The season is still young and the standings could change at any time. All of these games are played on the intramural ballfield located on War Highway behind the Reese USAF Hospital.

Flickerball tops student schedule

Undergraduate Pilot Training Classes 74-04 and 74-05 presently lead the new student pilot intramural program in flickerball, one of six sports included in the competition.

Class 74-04 has an 8-win, 4-loss record, while Class 74-05 holds an 8-and-4 record. Class 74-02 currently holds third place with 4-and-6 record.

Entering its fifth week of competition, the new program is designed solely for the use of student pilots, and it is implemented during one of their regularly-scheduled physical training periods.

Sports included in the competition are basketball, volleyball, softball, soccer, touch football and flickerball. Flickerball is the only one of the six sports currently in progress.

A trophy will be awarded the class which excels in each of the sports, and a special trophy will be presented to the class with the best overall win/loss record for the year.

The new program is administered by the Physical Training Section, headed by William J. Webster. Military personnel in the section include SSgt. Robert Restelli, A1C Dan Wennerlind and A1C Mark Geairn.

Top-Three NCOs issue challenge to field graders

The Reese AFB Top-Three Noncommissioned Officers have recently challenged the Reese AFB Field Grade Officers to "gracefully accept defeat" in a game of slow-pitch softball, according to SMSgt. John H. Rupert, 64th Air Base Group first sergeant and spokesman for the "Top-Three".

The time and place have yet to be set, if the challenge will be accepted. However, Sergeant Rupert asked that "the Officers Open Mess Ballroom be eliminated as a consideration as a suitable site" since "our income is not sufficient to reimburse the Officers Club for the damage caused by flying officers."

No comment was available from any representatives from the Field Grade Officers at press time.
